SHIRLEY TEMPLE:

A Million Dollar
Baby Grows Up

COMING OUT OF the ETHER

With BERNIE SMITH

You never know what'll happen next in this dizzy world. Ask Bob Hawk about it. Seems like Bob decided the other day to invest in a restaurant. He picked out the location, signed a lease and hired a sign painter to draw up a shingle that said, "The Griddle." The sign painter made a mistake, which often happens, and Hawk wound up in the girdle business!

But that's liable to happen to anyone. I've wound up behind the eight ball with some comedians because I've spanked 'em several times for off-color gags. With persons like Miss A. S. G., of North Hollywood, however, I rate pretty high. She's a goveness, and for her radio is both a joy and a pain. Fortunately most of her charges discard questionable material on their own judgment. She had some trouble with one young lady, however, whose viewpoint wasn't so good, mostly due to poor radio selection.

On the other hand, W. C. A., of Glendale, has no trouble at all selecting good programs. He's pretty definite in his likes and dislikes. One of the latter seems to be Mickey Rooney, who is "a terrible flop on radio." "I've heard parrots do better imitations," observes W. A., "and you can get more melody out of a boiler factory."

I agree, sir. Mickey is fine in front of a camera. But unfortunately a microphone won't broadcast funny faces.

Then there's Mr. E. H. B., of Pasadena, who has taken exception to the oral antics of some of our better known serial announcers. Says Mr. B.:

"To my notion, there's one lot of radiolarians who might profitably spend some time improving their style... the boys and girls who have summat to sell... particularly those who offer edibles and who wax oratorical and dramatic over their merchandise. I heard one of 'em who seemed to be trying to embarrass the "diction'ry" by using up all the synonyms in Mr. Roget's Thesaurus telling

Cal Tinney, Ritz Carlton, Philadelphia, Pa.

Sirs: I liked that line, "The World's Slowest Newscaster." I don't talk as slow now as I used to—mixing in with city people has kinda upped my blood pressure. Why, when I first talked on the radio back in 1932 I talked so slow that lots of times I got home in time to hear my own broadcasts...

That article in Radio Life about me just suited the folks around the farm. I say "farm"—I've got 58 acres, or what you would call a ranch in California. I don't exactly farm it; I just keep it for the three boys to fall on whenever they can't stay on the horse. Which is often, but no fractures yet.

Yessir, folks, the article is appreciated and well done and we live just outside Dublin, in Bucks County, Pa., so if you want to take potluck with us, drop in. I could give you more to eat in Oklahoma—I know more people to borrow from there—but we are getting acquainted here.

H. S. Kitzmiller, 1205 Prospect Street, La Jolla, Calif.

Sirs: KECA has a program, 6:30-7 a. m., that makes good listening at that hour, but probably not many people outside of Los Angeles hear it, unless they are dial-chasers, and who is at that time of day!

"Poor Poska's Almanac" starts with a whimsical little tune on the chimes. If that does not serve to wake his clients, "reveille" will. If they are still undisturbed, Al Poska's slap-happy comments will surely "get them", up, if only to turn him off, if they're that kind of people.

Poska is the first early-bird announcer we have ever heard who really sounds as though he were having a grand time and didn't especially care if no one were listening; and that is an accomplishment at that awful hour, in our opinion.

(Yes, Al Poska is one of those rare persons who gets up in the aye-m smiling and singing and whistling!)

Mrs. V. C. McGowan, 4628 La Mirada, Hollywood.

Sirs: Our family have been reading Radio Life for quite some time. We enjoy it very much and would be lost without it. We have been listening to the Samuels Family over KGFI on Monday nights for a long time. Who is the young lady who plays the role of Patsy Samuels and who plays Chuck Doolittle? We enjoy them so very much. Thank you and here's hoping for continued success of Radio Life.

(Patsy is played by Betty Nieman and Harold Sprinkle does Chuck.)

Miss Shirley Temple

Introductions in the case of the young lady smiling at you from the cover of this week's Radio Life are probably unnecessary inasmuch as the smile is that of the fabulous Shirley Temple. The star of the Sally Benson's "Junior Miss" series over CBS each Wednesday, Miss Shirley is shown in her latest pose. If you want to be brought up to date on the charming young lady turn to page 6 of this issue for John Whitehead's story on the million-dollar baby of films who is now one of radio's rising young stars.

Tooth-Comb Axis News

Exercising precautions in the handling of Axis-inspired communiques from the war fronts that are over and above even those restrictions ordered by the government, KHJ's director of program operations for the Don Lee network, Van C. Newkirk, last week issued an order to all of his news writers and commentators that becomes a pattern for all radio news rooms throughout the nation.

Van Newkirk, who started at KHJ as a schoolboy answering telephones in the days of the carbon microphones (17 years ago), ordered the following points to be adhered to in the handling of all foreign newstories:

1. No story originating from an Axis point to be used unless it is done in connection with an Allied story on the same subject. (Basis for this discrimination is the information received here that Tokyo-originated news is controlled and issued through Japanese bureau of propaganda.)

2. No newstory originating at an Axis point is to be used following its counterpart issued from Allied headquarters. (General belief is that the last information given over the air is the information most often retained by listener, and for this reason if an Axis story warrants mention, the Allied story is to follow it rather than precede it.

3. Alter figures slightly in all Axis stories in order to destroy any possible code message being relayed to agents of foreign powers in this country.

4. No newstory originating at an Axis controlled point is to be used on the air without extreme clarification and qualification, i. e. (a) The following dispatch taken from the enemy government controlled Japanese news service states . . . (b) Tokyo originated news is government controlled and issued through the Japanese bureau of propaganda.

Riggs on Upswing

Onetime member of the Kate Smith Hour, Tommy Riggs and his delightful little illusion, Betty Lou, returned to the fold of the Songbird of the South during the past fortnight with decidedly improved material.

Riggs only last week won a long-term contract to appear on Kate Smith's show. The new ticket came as the result of two guest spots performed by Betty Lou and her boy friend in previous weeks.

Before returning to become again a regular fixture of the Kate Smith radio family, the former Ohio State undergraduate met with a high degree of success as the star of his own network commercials. However, in recent months Riggs' popularity appeared to go on the decline, and until Kate Smith's astute Ted Collins brought the young man with the double voice back for guest appearances, the radio public had almost forgotten.

Rumor Sharpshooter

A veteran of World War I, during which he served in France as a Marine sharpshooter, Bob Burns has developed into radio's leading "sharpshooter" of rumors.

Sage counsel that has become national since he dropped it into his comment on a recent Arkansas Traveler CBshow is such advice as . . . "Don't go around crying 'Where is our Navy?' If you really want to know join it and find out."

Last week at his broadcast in which he featured an "in person" anniversary salute to Amos 'n' Andy's 16 years on the ether waves, Bob wore a button in his coat lapel which carried the inscription, "How do YOU know?"

Fibber's Dad Passes

For the first time in the seven years that they have been airing their delightful chatter from radio's most famous mythical small town, Wistful Vista, Fibber McGee and Molly on March 17th were not heard on NBC's far-flung network.

Instead the Wistful Vista listening faithful heard a half-hour broadcast concocted almost overnight by government radio officials in Washington, Reason for the rare absence of radio's top-ranking comedy team was the death in Kansas City on March 14th of James W. Jordan, 90-year-old father of Jim (Fibber McGee) Jordan.

Fibber, who went east by train to attend his father's funeral at the Jordan home in Peoria, Ill., arrived back in Hollywood last Saturday in time to resume his weekly broadcasting schedule with Molly and cast for Johnson's Wax, which had donated its regular airtime to the government the Tuesday previous. KFI, 6:30 p.m. Tues.

DeMille's Big Week

Last week was "the biggest week of my life," were the words of Cecil B. DeMille, producer-director of the Lux Radio Theater, as he sat in the study of his spacious Hollywood manse on the Sabbath after receiving plaques, trophies, good-luck charms, dinners, etc., in recognition of his thirty years of achievement in Hollywood.

DeMille's "biggest week" began on Sunday, March 15, when he did a turn on Edgar Bergen's NBC comedy show. Tuesday saw him receive a giant 7-ft. by 4-ft. testimonial plaque on his own Radio Theater from the Screen Directors' Guild. Wednesday found him basking in the spotlight outside the new Paramount Hollywood theater where his latest film gigantic, "Reap the Wild Wind," was world premiered. And the remaining days of the week had DeMille jumping from breakfasts to luncheons to dinners—all held for the express purpose of honoring his 30th anniversary in Hollywood.

Almost lost in the furore of 30 years as a top-ranking filmagnate was the fact that DeMille was completing six years as headman of the Lux Radio Theater, where each Monday for the past six year period the haughtiest of Hollywood celebrities have flocked, glad of the opportunity to appear on the DeMille-directed show, glad to read their lines as C. B. has wanted them read. Many of the biggest stars in the business have leaped at the chance to perform on the air for DeMille; many have humbly consulted him so that their role might be well done. KNN, 6 p.m. Mon.

Lester's Fade-Out

Jerry Lester, Broadway comic who started out as a guest on Bing Crosby's Kraft Music Hall a year ago and clicked so heavily that he was made a regular on the hour-long music comedy, terminated his association with the Crosby show as of March 26.

Lester, who in the past three or four months has been "wasted" with never more than a few lines to handle on the broadcast, has been shunted into the background on the Music Hall series since the Danish comedian, Victor Borge, debuted on the program.

His screen career assured now that his "bit" in the Judy Canova film, "Sleepytime Gal," has been acclaimed, Lester will play a three-month theatre date, starting at the Earl theater in Philadelphia early in April. KFI, 6 p.m. Thurs.

Blondie Writer Here

Arrival of the week in Hollywood was tall, blond, bespectacled John Lynde Greene, IV, writer of the "Blondie" radio series on CBS, who before meeting Penny (Blondie) Singleton and Arthur (Dagwood) Lake, last week had never seen his radio "brain children."

Greene has been turning out the "Blondie" scripts for the past year at his home in New York despite the fact that he has never seen or talked to the pair who bring his characters to life on the airwaves. The New Yorker succeeded Ashmead Scott, Bob Burns writer, on the "Blondie" script a year ago after the series had been on the radio for two years. KNN, 7:30 p.m. Mon.

Men of Their Word

Arch Oboler, the playwright and a man of his word, learned two week-ends ago that Lieut. James Stewart, the Army Air Corps' No. 1 actor, is also a man of his word.

Oboler worked all night to get the script of "A Letter at Midnight" to Lieut. Stewart on the day he promised it.

To keep his word that he would star in the play on Oboler's "Plays For Americans" broadcast Sunday, March 15, Stewart stood by in flying

Finally, the former Academy prize winner had to hop aboard an all-night train that didn't get him to the studio until three hours before the NBC broadcast.

Stewart went on the air with less than three hours rehearsal and gave one of the best performances of his radio career, although he tossed all the bouquets to radio actress Mercedes McCambridge, who played superb support to his starring role.

Voices of Distinction

Herbert Marshall, the New Old Gold star whose name is synonymous with talk about good speaking voices, last week sat himself down in a studio dressing room at Radio City and named the following personalities as possessing the most distinctive voices he has ever heard on the air:

President Franklin D. Roosevelt—for its clarity, tone and power.

Winston Churchill—for emotional quality and dramatic diction.

Paul Robeson—for sheer intensity and richness.

Marlene Dietrich—for mystery and feminine power.

Walter Winchell—for tempo of the time, for energy and for picturesque style.

Irene Dunne—for grace, breeding and native American charm.

Gracie Allen—for humor and a kind of musical casual insanity.

The late Will Rogers—for truth, practical philosophy and complete sanity.

Films Lure Maestros

Kay Kyser's success in the flicker factories after a meteoric rise to heights on radio has paved the way for continuous flow of bandleaders to Hollywood for motion picture work.

More and more since Kyser's initial success on film, followed by Glenn Miller and other "name" bands, the movie producers have been drawing upon the talents of radio batoneers.

Major reason for signing radio names to lucrative film contracts is that through this procedure a wealth of already established names capable of drawing boxoffice admissions can be obtained without long and expensive buildups on the part of the studios.

Latest to be signed on strength of radio popularity is Xavier Cugat, Latin-tune-purveyor, whose orchestra will be featured in the next untitled Fred Astaire-Rita Hayworth musical at Columbia.

Another new Hollywood entry is Harry James, recent winner of the Spotlight Band accolade with his interpretation of "I Don't Want to Walk Without You," who arrives for a Palladium engagement in April as well as a film feature at Universal with

April will also find Sammy Kaye on tap here for a top-line role with his band in the Sonja Henie film, "Ice-land."

Jimmy Dorsey's film debut in Paramount's "The Fleet's In" is currently showing. The Dorsey contract contract for five weeks' work in the picture called for $64,000.

Sammy Kaye will get $59,000 for his Henie chore, which shows pretty well what the movies think of these radio names for drawing power on film.

Banjo Battle Rages

Last week the big guns began to roar back and forth across radio's musical front as Lieut. Comdr. Eddie Peabody's "banjo battle" began to assume nationwide proportions.

The banjo king who recently launched the banjo battle with a statement that the banjo is being boycotted by radio orchestra leaders was put "on the spot" by an array of top maestros such as Kraft Music Hall's John Scott Trotter, Chest-erfield's Fred Waring and others—all of whom attributed the lack of banjos in the country's finest orchestras to the fact that there is a shortage of banjo-ists.

"Give us some good banjo players," shouted Russ Morgan and Gene Krupa, "and we'll put 'em to work."

Eddie Peabody

Xavier Cugat, en route to Hollywood for the summer, was quoted as follows:

"I'm not sure about the merits of a banjo in a dance orchestra, but I've heard Eddie play his banjo many times. Ah, I wish I could use him in my orchestra. Maybe, if he could give two weeks notice to the Navy, huh?" (Peabody is Comdr. at Great Lakes Training Station of U. S. Navy.)

Peabody, who appears each week on the National Barn Dance via NBC, didn't get much help in his campaign for more banjos from Bing Crosby's rotund maestro Trotter who came right out with the statement that "The banjo is great in a small band, but musically the guitar is better for radio."

Gracie's Defense Unie

Radio's top-ranking example of the triumph of matter over mind, Gracie Allen, who has tried her hand at everything from surrealist painting to campaigning for President, has turned fashion designer.

Although Radio Life has not yet been able to photograph Gracie in her new role, first details of the new screwball creation were revealed early this week.

It is the Grace Allen Defense Uniform, designed especially by the comedienne star of the Burns and Allen show for women engaged in all types of defense work.

"I want to stress particularly," declared Gracie as she stood in the wings of Radio City's Studio B Tuesday afternoon, "the fact that my all-purpose uniform enables a woman to be ready for any and every conceivable emergency which might arise in the line of duty."

"The basic design of this defense uniform is, needless to say, utterly basic. A plain crew-neck jacket, buttoning down the front and made of a new wool twill, tops a pair of skintight slacks made of the same material. The novel headgear consists of a helmet surmounted by a small autogiro propeller with special motor attachment."

Gracie's parting note of explanation was to the effect that by wearing her newly designed uniform a defense worker is prepared for anything. She has even provided a pocket in which to keep waterproof Boy Scouts in the event one should want to light a fire!

KFI, 6 p.m. Tues.

Rubin Treks East

Benny Rubin, one of radio's cleverest comics who has had to be content with bit parts on West Coast radio shows since the advent of the Hopes, the Skeltons, etc., was off on the first leg of a nationwide personal appearance tour this week.

Expecting to be on the road three months, Rubin opened March 16 in Cincinnati. Rubin has been appearing in non-identification roles on the Skelton and Ransom Sherman shows locally.

Actress Shirley Temple, Radio's Junior Miss, Is a Big Girl Now

SHE WAS ONCE the undisputed box-office queen of the silver screen. She was the million-dollar baby the George F. Temples of Santa Monica raised to be Hollywood's most fabulous star. She was only a short time ago looked upon as a "problem child" by filmdom's high-powered brains who couldn't figure out how she was going to get past that "awkward age."

I'm here to report that the "million-dollar baby" is growing old (she'll be 14 next month!) gracefully. Yes, and charmingly, too.

How do I know? Well, yours truly spent a half-hour with Miss Shirley Temple the other afternoon in Studio H of KNX's Columbia Square... and when you've whiled away 30 minutes with someone you've never met before, there's a 100-to-1 chance that you'll come away with some pretty definite impressions.

As we sat in the studio waiting for David Rose to finish rehearsing his "mood music" for the new dramatic serial based on Sally Benson's popular "Junior Miss" stories in which Miss Shirley is playing the title role, we talked about the life "Junior Miss" Shirley is leading these days.

And a very busy life it is, too. Although, except for her weekly radio appearances and a movie now and then, it's a very normal existence.

The following personal observations should bring you up to date on the 13-year-old star of Junior Miss:

She is well-poised but completely lacking in arty mannerisms and the affectations you might expect from a juvenile star.

She is interested in her height, and has markings on the wall of her bathroom at home where she measures herself every few weeks. She stands 5-ft. ½-in. tall in her stocking feet.

She is a little plump like so many 13-year-olds, and tips the scales at 100 pounds.

She is an A-9 (freshman) at

MILLION DOLLAR BABY GROWS UP

By JOHN WHITEHEAD

This is a typical early-morning picture of that typical Junior Miss, Shirley Temple, as she leaves her home for daily classes at Westlake School for Girls where she is a freshman.

Westlake School for Girls where she gets B-plus report cards.

(When asked whether she excelled in any particular subject her answer was "I have my ups and downs like everyone.")

She doesn't go in for sports very much, except that she likes badminton and bicycling.

She likes dancing very much and attends the regular monthly dances which her school and Black Foxe Military Academy have together.

She is allowed to "go out" to afternoon movies and parties with boys, but always with the proper chaperonage.

Her mother likes her to "dress up" in formals when she goes dancing, but she has a preference for sport clothes. ("Isn't it funny," declared Shirley, "mother always likes me in formals because they make me look 'so fragile'.")

Of the three formal dresses she has her favorite is an iridescent pink evening dress which she happens to be wearing in her new picture for Edward Small, "Miss Annie Rooney." She added that "it has a pink net silk top that I especially like."

Her birthday is April 23, to which she hastily added: "the same as Shakespeare!"

She has studied the piano but dislikes the long hours of practice just like the 13-year-old next door to you. ("When I explain that I have 'given it up temporarily' mother always adds 'but you're going back to it soon,'" explained Miss Shirley.)

She doesn't believe that a person who plays the piano well is always "the life of the party" as advertised. In fact, she expressed herself as judging "the person who gets up and plays the piano at a party is a show-off, don't you think?"

Her favorite color is red. When we talked together last Wednesday she was wearing a 2-piece jersey of Chinese red, with pleated skirt and long sleeves. She wore a small red bow atop her reddish-brown mop of hair and a little red lip rouge to blend with her simple, but fetching ensemble.

JOHNNY on the SPOT

PERSONAL NOTES TO THE STARS:

● ● ● H. Allen Smith: I enjoyed watching you put together your "Swap Night" aircast the other Wed. eve. When I heard you turn Yankee Trader several Saturday nights ago from Noo Yawk and bring people from all walks of life to your mike to trade "swops" I had no idea the interest such a program could arouse. It was nice to hear that the young fellow who was on your program a few weeks ago and who offered to swap "my fighting spirit in the Navy for an operation I need before they'll take me" was given that operation by a Manhattan hospital (which paid all expenses) and is now fighting the enemy from a battleship somewhere in the Pacific.

● ● ● John Scott Trotter: Glad to hear you are "talking up" the talents of Nathan Scott, youthful NBConductor-Composer . . . Bill Gargan: Nice to know that we will have a chance to hear you from time to time as Sgt. Quirt in the Capt. Flagg series . . . Glenn Miller: Welcome to Our Town. Those Moonlight Serenades via KNX are going to sound mighty good coming from H'wood these next six weeks while you're making that film at 20th-Fox. P. S. That was a smart move of yours to nab Don Wilson for that speling spot on G. Miller's quarter-hour sessions. He's great!

H. Allen Smith

● ● ● Paul Neighbors: Good news about your being paged by KNX Producer Al Span for a guest spot on the new Sat. nite "Look Who's Here!" on the 28th. Funny about you playing and singing at the Tropics right across the street from Radio City and never getting a tumble from the Blue and NBC biggies who let the Columbia Squarers, two blocks away, "discover" you for a network break . . . Bill Henry: I didn't know until you returned from your 7,000 mile tour of the east and south the other day that 'way back in 1919 you helped Donald Douglas organize the Douglas Aircraft Co., and served as its first vice-prexy and secretary . . . Victor Borge: Your odd type of comical patter has been a little dull on recent Crosby shows. Why don't you revive your "Upper Language" stint. Now, that had a kick!

● ● ● Mrs. George F. Temple: You deserve an unceasing flow of bouquets for the superb job you've done in bringing up Shirley to be such an unspoiled, well-poised Junior Miss. Yours truly came away talking to himself about your dotter. She's that nice! . . . Halcheater's: You have no idea how much the stars who receive Radio Life's Salute rave about your floral tributes.

● ● ● Betty Hutton: You're fortunate your contract ran out on the Bob Hope show. Your style of vocalizing has to be seen to be appreciated, and your air appearances were only losing friends among those people who will go big for you on the screen . . . Edna Skelton: The Neighbors who spent a recent Sabbath with you and Red at your Westwood cottage are still talking about the wonderful time they had—and they rate you absolute tops as a hostess. P. S. I'm still going to call you about that story on Red for Radio Life.

● ● ● Walter Winchell: I don't like the report one bit that in order to silence those with pro-Axis leanings who are yelling for your scalp, the U. S. Navy will order you to active duty. A move like that, forcing you to discontinue your broadcasts and columns for the duration, would please the Hitlerites no end. America has enough fighters for uniforms without calling on our No. 1 fighter on the home front. And I do mean you!

● ● ● Lum 'n' Abner: Congrats on your new movie contract which calls for your services in a new funfest titled "Courtin' Time." Hear your first pic, "Dreaming Along," cost a mere $175,000 to make and grossed $510,000 at the boxoffice . . . Dennis Day: Everybody likes that new tune, "Private Buckaroo," which you sang several weeks ago on the Benny show. Do it again, me lad . . . Bill Thompson: You've got good taste. That Sharon Douglas, who acts on Junior Miss, Three Sheets to the Wind, etc., is a honey.

● ● ● Claude Kennedy: Those nightly quarter-hours you air from KMPC from Lindy's at 10:45 are big-time. Never have we heard so much good music from a piano, a bass and violin. And your sweetheart of song, Maxine Conrad, is mighty easy on the ears, too . . . Tommy Lee: Just saw the 1942-43 edition of "Who's Who" and we elated to find your creative efforts for better broadcasting rewarded. Your pioneering with Harry S. Lubcke in the television sphere at KHJ as well as your introduction of the new static-free Frequency Modulation last year have been especially notable.

Script No. 2,000

Chester (Lum) Lauck and Norris (Abner) Goff, the quaint-talkin' pair who keep things lively at their Jot 'Em Down store in Pine Ridge over KFI every Monday, Tuesday, Thursday and Friday at 8:15 p. m., will tap out next Tuesday their 2,000th script since they started in radio 10 years ago.

Chester and Norris write their own material and are one of the few radio teams which the networks allow to broadcast without first checking the script. In 10 years on the air the boys estimate they have written close to 5,000,000 words of dialogue for their Alka-Seltzer programs.

Carleton Alsop

★ ★ WHEN CARLETON ALSOP, well-known to radio audiences as the director-producer of such popular daytime series as "Career of Alice Blair" and "Meet Miss Julia", dropped out of sight little more than a year ago after marrying the leading lady of one of his true-to-life dramas—Martha Scott—a lot of people wondered what had happened to the career of this brilliant man.

Radio Life found the answer this week at the American Red Cross Blood Donor Center in Los Angeles where the same Carleton Alsop is directing the taking of blood from patriotic citizens for use on America's far-flung battle field.

Now steeped in more drama than he ever found in one of his radio scripts, Carleton Alsop devotes his full time to one of the most vital phases of Uncle Sam's Victory drive. The forfeiture of his lucrative radio career is of little concern to this man, who like millions of other patriotic Americans, is devoting his talents now to the job of safeguarding the American Way of Life.

"GOOD TASTE"

By EDWARD G. ROBINSON

Edward G. Robinson is heard Thursday 6:30 p. m. via KNX-CBS as Steve Wilson, aggressive managing editor of the crusading Illustrated Press on the Big Town dramatic series. As a citizen Mr. Robinson has some worthy comments to make in the following space.

Let us streamline the expression, "good taste" for military reasons, or something akin to military reasons. In other words, as individuals in a nation, let us exercise "good taste" in our conversations concerning the war.

In a democratic state such as ours, some people fall into the lamentable habit of talking loosely — without knowledge of the complete facts. They convert rumors into "eye-witness truths". They turn phony whispers into torrents of "facts". And, in so doing, inadvertently they collaborate with enemy propagandists who are seeking to cause confusion and mistrust throughout our land. Of course, their intentions are the best in the world but frequently the results of their gossip-mongering are horrific.

Let us exemplify "good taste" as we exercise that American prerogative of free speech. Let's keep our lips buttoned until we're sure the words we have in mind are not harmful words — words which in some way might hurt our victory effort—perhaps tip off alien agents to information they should never hear. Let's not criticize our leaders unless we're sure we know ALL the facts about the matters involved. And finally, let's assume that they know more about the situation than arm-chair strategists like ourselves.

"Good taste" is an American characteristic. Let us all apply it to our conversation about the war.

IF I WERE A Housewife

By ONA MUNSON

Ona Munson does not manage a home, but the same amount of tireless, uncomplaining effort which has brought her honors in radio and motion pictures, if turned toward the business of home-making, would result in a beautifully managed domain. Thus, she qualifies to voice her opinions in the accompanying article.

American Housewife Has Vital Role To Play in Kitchen, Home

BECAUSE I'm fundamentally a career girl, I can just hear a lot of women saying: "What does she know about running a house?" I think there's plenty of similarity between taking care of a job and managing a home.

If I were a housewife, I'd consider home-making a career in itself, not a side-line.

For instance, in order to make a success of my job, it is imperative that I look well-groomed and attractive—not only at the "Big Town" broadcasts, but all the time! If I were a housewife, I'd feel the same compulsion. I don't think anything is more distasteful to a man than to see a wife, who used to be the last word in chic, become slovenly and unkempt — trailing around the breakfast table in a mussed up house-coat or bathrobe, with wisps of hair sticking out from under her over-night net and her feet slap-slapping around in bedroom slippers. What a send-off for a man's day at the office! Granted that clothes and toiletries cost money, there's a trick called "clever budgeting," by which any woman can look neat and trim.

Then, there's the matter of punctuality. Would I ever dream of showing up late for a "Big Town" broadcast? Just let me try! If I were a housewife, I'd consider my husband an employer in this respect and budget my time as well as his money. You'd never catch me sleeping through the morning and spending my afternoons playing bridge just to evade housework, cooking or working for the Red Cross or Bundles for Bluejackets!

To hold any job, a person must improve consistently with it. This applies to home-making as well as any other kind of career. After the honeymoon is over, too many women slip into a "get-by" sort of routine. If I were a housewife, I'd keep punching every minute—alert to time and labor-saving devices, newest trends in decoration, nutrition, and clever little touches men notice, but seldom mention, but which, just the same, make a house a home.

Any working woman must possess a sense of humor. No one has time for hysterics or temperament and in the career of home-making, I think balance is more important than almost any other place. If I were a housewife without this asset, I'd go about in a determined way to develop it.

In order to be interesting to other people, one must be interested in what's going on—listen to newscasts, read periodicals, and be able to discuss world affairs intelligently. If I were a housewife, I'd certainly want to be right up in front with my ideas of what's going on. But I'd see to it that my husband managed to get a word in, too. You wouldn't find me monopolizing the conversation with my employer . . . why then, with my husband?

The only way the war is affecting some women is in the kitchen. If I were managing a home, right now I'd try to do something about the rising costs of food and other commodities, —not by bickering or grumbling about the administration, but by realizing that we've got a war to win, and that the home-maker can cooperate through expert management.

Instead of chrysanthemums and dahlias, we should start growing edibles in the garden patch. Every housewife can plan a conservation program for saving gas, electricity, paper, and other essentials needed for victory. If children in

The KFAC parties for the men in the service prove ideal for the beginning of new friendships as the sailor-boy above will testify. The unidentified brunette lovely above was much in demand.

By EVELYN BIGSBY

I CAN'T BELIEVE IT!", exclaimed the perplexed sailor. "I'm having fun and I'm absolutely sober!"

He was speaking between dances at one of the weekly parties given by KFAC for service men. Unique in several ways, these informal social events have one distinctive aspect. Lucky Lager sponsors two hours of the dance music, which is piped into the studio from the record turntables.

But believe it or not, nothing but soft drinks is served from the refreshment buffet table!

Every Wednesday night for the past two months, KFAC has cleared the floor of its main studio for a party. The U.S.O. sends out 35 enlisted men and an equal number of carefully-selected girls for partners. Then the fun begins.

On a recent night the complement of young ladies came from an exclusive section of the city. The girls' chaperone surveyed the young men, all devoid of officers' insignia, and exclaimed in a raised-eyebrow-tone: "My word! Do the girls really dance with ordinary sailors?"

"I'm sorry," said Don Otis, KFAC musical director who originated and directs the parties. "These affairs are given for the boys, NOT the girls!"

The lady stood corrected. It wasn't long before the society girls thawed out to mingle with Uncle Sam's rank and file. Of course, they had a swell time!

It's a gay, fun-loving atmosphere as the men in uniform gather around a buffet table heaped high with pastries and sandwiches. KFAC parties are unique in that no alcoholic beverages are served to the young people who attend.

The "eats" are much-appreciated accompaniments to the dancing. Edith Reback and Marie Hodson of KFAC fix large platters of sliced cheeses, buttered bread ready for sandwiches, home-made cookies, and meats. Recently, Wilson and Company donated a luscious ham, which was prepared for sandwiches. A Jewish sailor, enjoying the party tremendously, rushed up to the table. He grabbed a slice of bread, clamped a slice of ham on top, then a layer of cheese. Before affixing the final "cover" of bread, he wedged in a second slab of ham. "To heck with precedent!", he exclaimed.

There is always a cake for the service man celebrating a nearby birthday anniversary. Candles are placed in a V design. Although the confection is not cut at the party, no one guarantees that the boy gets back to camp with his gift cake intact.

The KFAC parties are becoming so popular that once service men have attended, they pull every available string to get leave on subsequent Wednesday nights. Noting a tinge of jealousy on the part of uninvited officers, the station now plans to designate one night a month for commissioned men.

KFAC, by its inauguration of these affairs, has blazed a trail for other independent stations in Southern California. Powerful networks, with financial resources and abundance of talent, are in enviable position when it comes to entertaining men in the armed forces. It remained for an independent unit to strike an answer the home have a tendency to lose things, mothers should make an added effort to bolster their youngsters' memories. Last year, Johnny might have lost a pair of galoshes and penalized his mother's budget by a few dollars. Today such a loss may mean going without foot-covering during the rainy season.

I'm certain there's no necessity for any kind of hoarding—careful planning and budgeting will help the "on-her-toes" housewife through the most difficult shortages.

Whatever work we're doing now, whether it's rehearsing "Big Town" in front of a microphone or peeling potatoes, we're doing it for morale and to win the war. When the Allied nations do win, the loyal, hard-working housewives of America can take a large share of the credit for victory. I firmly believe that our millions of homes are our first line of defense, and that most American housewives are doing a grand job of fighting on that first line.

A Code of Ethics

"The private lives of individuals, in my opinion, belong to themselves even though they may be in the public eye."

Speaking at a roundtable discussion of radio censorship and the ethics of gossip commentators Don Gilman, vice-president of the BLUE Network in Hollywood, led off with the above statement.

As an afterthought Gilman continued, "... unless of course their private lives are a menace to public welfare."

Gilman's statement had been preceded by a heated discussion as to certain questionable items sometimes aired by commentators such as Jimmie Fidler and Walter Winchell, both noted for carrying their personal feelings about persons in the public eye onto the airplanes. When bluntly asked his opinion on radio's responsibility for such remarks by gossip commentators, the BLUE official said:

"Radio has an important responsibility in its news and comment programs in that the impact of the radio on the listener is far greater than the impact of news items in the press upon the reader. In reading our newspaper we have the right of selection. In radio, having once selected a station, we no longer have the right of choice in the items broadcast by the newscaster or commentator. Therefore, there is a great responsibility on radio to see that the right of privacy is regarded far beyond the legal responsibility involved."

Radio Life CONSUMERS' CLUB

Directed By Chef Milani

BY WAY OF EXPLANATION:

It's Easter time again and you're shopping around for that new outfit, and maybe (with an eye to war time economy) you are just seeing what can be done about last year's version of what to wear in the Easter parade. Well, then you can concentrate on food instead.

Chef Milani

All the foods at this time of year have a special significance or symbolism. As usual we all have an eye on how to get the most from the table the quickest.

I t's probably a good idea, but just in case you would like to know "why you're eating what you're eating," we have looked up the background and whatnot of some of our better known Easter foods. And here they are.

BUNNY BREAD:

One a penny, buns.
Two a penny, buns
One a penny, two a penny,
Hot cross buns!

If you have ever lived anywhere in England (except Scotland), you will know what that call means. It will be Good Friday morning and on every table throughout the country a platter of soft fresh buns marked with a sugary cross will be the main dish of the day.

These little mounds of bread are pretty much the same as any other, except that they are more highly spiced, and are marked with a cross. Perhaps their chief difference lies in their ancestry which goes back to both pagan and Christian times.

The great-great-grandfather-several times-removed of the hot cross bun was a cake used by the Chinese to worship the Queen of Heaven. Then along came the Romans who had a like ceremony of offering sacred bread to Diana, their Goddess of the Moon. This Roman custom was adopted by the English and given a religious meaning when they broke away from paganism to join the Christian faith.

This Easter when you visit your baker and get yourself some hot cross buns, you might even surprise your family by announcing:

One a penny, two a penny
Hot Cross Buns.

If you haven't any daughter
Then give them to your sons.

But if you have none of these merry little elves,

Then you may keep them all for yourselves.

EGGS A LA EASTER:

Besides the hats that cause so much comment from the male element, Easter also gives forth with eggs—laid especially by Peter Rabbit. Our considerate friend Mr. Rabbit sees that they are nicely colored, made of candy, or of varied sizes and decorations—whatever the young heart desires. Nice fellow, Mr. Rabbit!

Easter eggs, however, have a very definite meaning. To the early Christians the egg was an emblem of the resurrection. The early Romans instituted egg games to celebrate the feast of the twin gods, Castor and Pollux. Even the Persians have a legend dealing with the egg. According to them, there were two brothers who had a good deal of influence at the creation of things. One brother made an egg containing good spirits and the other an egg containing evil spirits. Then the two got mixed up in an omelet, and the result—well, we have both good and evil in the world.

You really absorb a lot of history when you eat an egg. And the professor of history is, well, possibly Mr. Rabbit!

A LAST WORD:

A HAPPY EASTER TO YOU ALL!

Shirley Temple

Her shoes were brown to match those twinkling brown eyes.

She never goes near a beauty salon. Her mother takes care of her hair which is usually worn neck length and in soft curls.

She has a flair for designing, and sketches dresses whenever she has time. She wants to become proficient at designing which she explains is "my favorite hobby."

She likes Westlake School for Girls so much that she misses it when pictures make it imperative that her studying be done at the studio.

She likes bracelets, rings, and little clips with her name inscribed. On her right wrist she wears a charm bracelet on which her name and address is engraved.

She has a yen for good music. Saw Walt Disney's "Fantasia" four times, although as a rule she sees very few shows.

She dimples deeply when you ask her how she keeps her peach-blossom complexion that way. She volunteered the information that she doesn't overindulge in candies or sweets.

"What's your ambition, Miss Shirley?" was my parting question as the radio producer called the cast together for a final rehearsal before airtime.

She looked me right in the eye and without benefit of a cue said almost fervently:

"I want to be a good actress."

★ ★ KXN, 6 p.m. Wed.

Sharon in Demand

Sharon Douglas, portrayal of lead in CBS' daily "The Second Mrs. Burton," last week was handed the juvenile romantic role in Tay Garnett's "Three Sheets to the Wind" over KFI-NBC at 11:15 p. m. Sundays.

Coming Out of the Ether

how good his candy was; only he left me feeling as if my mouth was so full of his gluey, gooey, chokit that I couldn't swallow!"

I know just how he feels. I couldn't swallow either, for a moment, when I received a note from Mrs. Mary S. Jones, of San Diego. I was too delightfully surprised! Mrs. Jones and I were two shining pillars of the now defunct San Diego Sun many years ago. I hadn't heard from her for at least eight years and would still be in the dark as to her whereabouts if she hadn't picked up a copy of this most admirable of radio magazines and seen my gloomy physiognomy peering at her.

Yes sir! Radio Life certainly gets around. I hope the sheriff in San Diego doesn't see it!
