The Ear Inspires the Pen

Vivien Bean Griffith, 1511 Corona Drive, Glendale, Calif.

Sirs: After listening to Lawrence Tibbett on the "Hit Parade," I feel inspired to reach for my pen and yap, "What's wrong with his singing popular songs?" He's doing all right—and believe me, it's a huge relief to listen to a trained, true voice giving a melodious interpretation of some of our really enjoyable popular songs. I've groaned with these so-called "crooners" wavering on a high note, drooling over each note, slurring others. Deliver me from anybody but Bing Crosby and, of course, of all people, Lawrence Tibbett.

Lois Irene Shepard, 409 East 14th Street, Long Beach, Calif.

Sirs: In response to the letter of another reader, regarding the Barbour, I too, enjoyed the program when Jack Clifford, Claudia and all were single and living at home. But, after all, life progresses, and as Mr. Morse is trying to make the story life-like, what else should he do but have the people marry and have children. Deliver me from the characters who, decade after decade, remain the same age. Take "Helen Trent," who has been just past thirty-five for as long as I can remember.

Mrs. Edith Larob, 645 Hillview Avenue, Los Angeles, Calif.

Sirs: Would like to see an article and pictures of all the cast of "Glamor Manor," my favorite program. I think it is one of the funniest and fastest-moving programs on the air. I particularly enjoy Cliff Arquette who, in my estimation, is very clever and versatile, and has a likeable way of ad-libbing.

We hope you didn't miss our September 10, 1944 issue of Radio Life, in which we printed a picture and feature on clever Cliff Arquette. Also, in our July 30th edition of last year, we brought our readers two pages of pictures of the "Glamor Manor" cast when the show was in Hollywood.

Mrs. Leon Jacob, 1130 South Hicks Avenue, Los Angeles, Calif.

Sirs: I'm so glad to have two of my favorite programs back on the air again—"Hawthorne House" and "The Gospel Singer." Where is "Miriam" of the former program?

I wish Joan Davis and "The Thin Man" weren't on at the same time. I want to hear them both. I think "Aunt Jennie" has the best daytime serial, although I wish the stories were a little longer.

We're told that "Miriam" of "Hawthorne House" was killed in an automobile accident in the story. It is probable that the actress portraying the part had to leave the program for a private reason, so the author obliging "killed" her character.

Maurine Friend, 12100 Utah Avenue, Hollywood, Calif.

Sirs: I surely miss "Scramby Amby" and "Dr. Kate." What has become of these fine programs? I truly dislike such foolish programs as "Vic and Sade" and "Lum and Abner." We all enjoy fine musical programs, and they are soothing to troubled nerves.

Both "Scramby Amby" and "Dr. Kate" have been discontinued, and at present, there is no sign of their return.

Richard Newman, 498 South Barre Road, West Los Angeles, Calif.

Sirs: I think it would be a good idea to take the original cast of the screen play, "Janie," and put them in a radio series, something like the "Aldrich Family." I think it would be very entertaining.

A. R. Owens, 1617 Park Avenue, Los Angeles, Calif.

Sirs: I note a letter from one of your readers, objecting to the presence of children on "One Man's Family." Why, for me, the children, especially the very natural and charming little "Margaret," make this program one of real value. The scenes between Margaret and her grandfather are exquisite. Without them, I should never listen to the program. There are plenty of all-adult programs for those who prefer them.

Dorothy Aldrich, 105 East Garvey Avenue, Wilmar, Calif.

Sirs: We want to thank you for the grand story and pictures of Stuart Hamblen, in a recent Radio Life. His program with his "Lucky Stars" is a favorite of my whole family. After seeing Stuart's picture, we feel we know him better now. Our family also enjoys the Jack Benny and the Jack Kirkwood shows, and as writer of this letter, I want to say, too, that Mrs. Georgina Townsend, 409 Tenth Street, Santa Monica, Calif.

Sirs: May we not have pictures and write-ups of Jane Cowl and her organist, "Hank," who, on Mutual, give us the finest Monday-through-Friday fifteen-minutes on the air? Jane Cowl's voice is pure melody, and the way Hank embroiders what she says is simply masterly. I get many a chuckle from his expert handling of organ effects to paint the picture she has made of words. She wrote "Smilin' Through" and is the originator of the Stage Door Canteen, besides being a famous actress, so needless to say, her scripts are executed with fine timing and dramatic effect, and her whole 15 minutes filled with fresh material sparkling with wit, humor or pathos.

We are always in hopes of finding the opportunity to have a face-to-face chat with such New York radio personalities as Miss Cowl, in order to bring you the intimate, human glimpses of them that Radio Life likes to do. However, if it seems that no such opportunity is going to arise for us here, we'll put our New York contacts to work on this story you suggest.

How To Be a Successful

Disc Jockey

TALL, GENIAL IRA WORKS ALMOST FIFTEEN HOURS a day as "disc jockey" for Station KFAC and special events man for an agency.

Ira Cook's Formula Is Hard Work Coupled With "Surprises"

Monday through Saturday, 10 p.m.
KFAC

IRA COOK'S formula is presenting the latest and best of popular records — band and vocal — coupled with an element of surprise. "It's a surprise, all right! Every night!" laughed tall, genial Ira. "We're never sure who our guests are going to be until they drop in."

Since 1941, "Lucky Lager Dance Time" has been a favorite with young and old. It was developed to appeal to war workers, but the interest of its ever-increasing fans jumped it in its first year from seventh to second place among recorded-platter programs covering that period.

Ad Lib Interviews

Ira, who believes "names" make news, brings favorite recording stars to the microphone, and interviews them in a completely fresh and original style. "We—the names and I—get together and just talk. It's all ad lib on the air and only lasts a couple of minutes, so nobody has time to get scared or tongue-tied. The only people I've seen nervous are announcers."

A recent change was made by Lucky Lager when it moved from KFAC's studios to Radio Row. It is now broadcasting from Music City, at the corner of Sunset and Vine. "Because we are now in the heart of Hollywood, many friends drop by on the spur of the moment and appear on the air with me. Names in our guest book include Andy Russell, Dick Haymes, Bob Haymes, Spade Cooley, Vaughn Monroe, Frankie Carle, Helen Forrest, Frances Langford, Ella Mae Morse, The Merry Macs, King Sisters, Andrews Sisters, Pied Pipers, King Cole Trio, Hoagy Carmichael and a host of others."

Born in Duluth, Minn., where he attended high school, dark-haired, dark-eyed Ira Cook came to California for a pre-medical course. Having won a degree at Stanford, he switched to radio in 1938 and started as an announcer on KMTR. Since his honorable discharge from the army a year ago, he has been busy building a name for himself as an authority on popular recordings and musical trends.

His day usually starts around nine a.m. and ends with his last broadcast at 12:00 a.m. the following day. He writes scripts, selects records, emcees and conducts interviews with top bandleaders, singers, musicians, songwriters and special guests on "Lucky Lager." He also handles special announcing, public relations and exploitation for a prominent advertising agency.

Asked what his ultimate goal is, he laughingly answered sinking into a chair, "Just to see that I get everything done—on time."

◀ ETHEL SMITH is red-headed, stands five feet two, and weighs 115 pounds. She loves evening dresses that glitter, has "one for every night of the week and two extra for holidays."

Tibbett, who is here on a Pacific Coast concert tour. "There isn't anything," she said, "that you can't learn in ten easy years!"

While she was attending Carnegie Tech, she learned how to play regular pipe organ, also took up foreign languages. One day in 1939 she walked into a radio studio and first touched a Hammond electric organ. The instrument's immediate response thrilled her. "It's made just for me!" she cried. (She now thinks seamless stockings were also invented for her special enjoyment.)

Progress

Already an expert of pipe organ, Ethel went about the job of mastering the electric instrument, which requires an altogether different technique. After practicing on the customers of the Bavarian cafe in Miami, she returned to New York and "managed to play summer resorts in the summer and winter resorts in the winter to keep up my golf swing" —Ethel says playing the organ requires intense coordination between head, hands, and feet, so she's consequently a good athlete and has "wonderful pictures of my backswing taken in Brazil!"

Her first trip to Brazil, taken in 1937, unknowingly molded her whole career. It was at the time of the first Pan-American Conference and the S.S. American Legion had been chartered to take the diplomats south. "They wanted a sober, reliable person to take care of the nightly program for the passengers." Miss Smith was selected to shepherd a group of entertainers aboard and keep the diplomats in good humor.

Every night after the show the gentlemen invited her to dance. The not too light-footed statesmen ruined every pair of evening slippers she owned.

While the conference was meeting, Ethel took a side trip to Buenos Aires and fell in love with South America and its music. In 1941, when she was back in New York playing organ, and the manager of Buenos Aires' Casino Copacabana offered her a job, it didn't take Ethel much time to make her decision. She trotted southward and stayed until Pearl Harbor—taking the last boat northward bound.

Back Home

"I caught a cold on the pier in New York while the inspector read my diary," she remarked. "Of course they had to be careful, but I finally told him 'Gee! I'm freezing here. You don't have to enjoy what you're reading!' Then I went home and promptly tore the diary up."

FOR TWELVE DOLLARS a week and sauerbraten, Ethel Smith started playing the Hammond organ in a little Bavarian restaurant in Miami—a restaurant "with a Hammond, but no business" and a boss who was anxious to please his chef, a lover of Viennese waltzes.

"I played during the lunch hour," Ethel recalled to Radio Life. "I got into the Vienna woods at twelve o'clock and I didn't get out until two. Every few minutes the chef would peek into the room where I was playing and exclaim, 'Ach! So schoen!'—with two 'umlauts,' the vivacious musician added.

Emerging from the "Vienna woods," Miss Smith always relished her sauerbraten, often supplemented by red cabbage. "I used to eat myself unconscious," she sighed.

Ethel Smith, the girl who jumped from fifty dollars a week to pay in four figures, is currently being heard on George Washington Hill's "Hit Parade," substituting for Lawrence America was the scintillating Latin rhythms, combined with her artistry at the electric organ. Back in New York she played for Mrs. Vincent Astor and Prince Serge Oblensky. Said Mrs. Astor: "That is the most captivating music!" Said the Prince, noting Ethel's footwork, "Those are the most captivating legs!"

Immediately the clever organist was offered a position at the Rainbow Row for twice what she was getting at the St. Regis. But she stayed where she was, and that's where George Washington Hill found her. After coming for several nights to watch Ethel perform, he offered her a job on his "Hit Parade."

"So I made my debut in Carnegie Hall—it was the first night that the 'best tunes of all moved to Carnegie Hall'—instead of playing Bach, I played 'I Had the Craziest Dream,' but I threw a little Bach in the arrangement.

"That was February 12, 1943," Ethel remembers. "Mr. Hill wanted me to wear a white lace gown, so I chose one dripping with sequins. I was hardly able to play in it, and then Carnegie Hall is such a dirty place! The next morning I took the dress back and ordered three petticoats cut off the voluminous skirt!"

Ethel admits she's crazy about clothes. "I think I prefer tailored things," she smiled, "but I wear the other kind all the time." She has seven evening dresses — "one for every night of the week and a couple extras for holidays," and her favorite colors are chartreuse, blue, white, and gold. She likes glitter and sequins, laughs about the recent experience when Georgie Jessel's little girl watched Miss Smith perform. After the program, the child's nurse approached the organist and remarked that her charge had been dazzled by the musician. "Gee!" replied Ethel, "She must be wild about music!" "No," replied the nurse, "she's wild about sequins!"

Ethel, since being catapulted to fame via her brilliant organ arrangements of Latin American numbers, especially the samba, has appeared in several movies. Her first was "Bathing Beauty," followed by "Twice Blessed." She's now working at Disney's as leading lady to Donald Duck, and carries an important part in "Early to Wed" with Van Johnson and Esther Williams.

She has a home off the Sunset Strip and also an apartment in New York, is unmarried, and wants to keep right on with her crowded career. "Now I'm reading 'Forever Amber' in my spare time," she grinned with a grimace that accentuated her short little nose and her brown eyes. Her naturally red hair has been toned down to blondish-auburn for pictures, but she seems to have the energetic disposition and wonderful sense of humor bestowed on the brightly-tressed.

◀ GEORGE HAYES BECAME "GABBY" twenty-five years ago, wore false whiskers at first, but found them "too much trouble." Now he hasn't shaved in almost ten years. His picturesque Western outfit, which he dons for all his movie and radio appearances, is over fourteen years old.

RADIO-DIALERS hear him as a cantankerous old cowhand character on the Andrews Sisters' "Eight to the Bar Ranch" every Sunday afternoon over the Blue. Moviegoers have seen him in a total of one hundred and forty-three Westerns, and "Hopalong Cassidy" fans know him well as "Hoppy's pal, 'Windy'." Outfitted in tattered pants and vest, a frayed flannel shirt, worn boots and a battered old hat, "Gabby," his face almost hidden by his long unshorn gray hair and whiskers, has long been a familiar figure to entertainment-seekers.

"Gabby's" fans would be surprised if afforded the opportunity to meet the man behind those whiskers. Rather than glowing over horses or George "Gabby" Hayes has been in the theatrical business for forty-four years. Until he came to Hollywood in 1929, to appear with Eddie Dowling in the movie, "Rainbow Man," he had never seen the West, and even today, he freely admits that he is never on a ranch, except for the express purpose of filming a Western.

With his wife, Dorothy Earle, he lives in a nine-room home in Hollywood's Sunset Plaza. When he has time free from broadcasting and

Bing's Birthday

The Old Groaner, Bing, of course, apparently spent a very quiet birthday. On May 2, his forty-fourth birthday anniversary, he was busy at the usual six o'clock family gathering time. If you recall that was the night he guested on crooner-swooner Sinatra's program. "Nothing special planned," he commented in regard to parties and the like.

The bobby-sockers, on the other hand, went wild at the co-appearance of their two favorites. Starting to line Vine Street as early as 3:30, they appeared at least thousands strong at admittance time to the KNX theater.

Unknown to them, across the street at NBC were appearing three of the biggest star names. Clark Gable, Bob Hope and last but far from least, little Miss Margaret O'Brien. The occasion was the Army's "Mail Call." Hoping to catch a glimpse of the glamorous favorites, your reporter dropped into rehearsal. We were greeted by a lone soldier who informed us the cast had broken for dinner. We missed them—but you're right. The bobby-sockers didn't. That fabulous sixth sense they possess drove them right to the back gates of NBC in time to catch the stars on their way out.

Wrong Ameche

Rumors flew thick and fast last week on Radio Row. "Don Ameche is going into the Army." "Don Ameche has gone into the Army." "Don Ameche is overseas."

In reality, Don was right here. Chase and Sanborn weren't out an announcer at all. It was his brother, Jim, who was having a physical.

Garage Can

Arch Oboler thinks this story about himself facetious, but we find it amusing.

When Mr. Oboler and his wife left to go to New York to launch his present Mutual-Don Lee series, they left their two-and-a-half-year old son, Guy, at home on their Corona ranch. The only way the parents can gracefully take leave of their infant son is to let him think they are stepping into the backyard to empty the garbage can. Little Guy probably wondered what was detaining his parents when they were gone for two months.

Mr. and Mrs. Oboler would sign all of their telegrams and letters to Guy and his nurse, "The garbage collectors." Somehow Guy realized his well-meaning parents were pulling the wool over his eyes. And when he got used to the idea, he must have decided things weren't so glum after all. Because when the writer and his wife got home last week, they happily rushed into the house in search of their son. He was nowhere to be found. They uncovered him in the haystack, sitting with his dog and contentedly sucking his thumb.

By the way, next month an "Oboler Omnibus" is to be released nationally, recording some 30,000 words of the prolific writer.

Any Rides Today?

Fanny Brice is known to her colleagues as a very clever and talented woman. She can cook. She can sew. And how she can act! But she can't drive a car.

Recently a Friday rehearsal was called for her CBS "Toasties Time" show. That was fine, except Miss Brice's chauffeur-butler was busy roasting a lamb. This didn't stop the star. She hitchhiked to the studio.

Traveler

CBS' Frank Sinatra bids adieu to the U. S. after his broadcast of May 16, to head for the European war zones on an entertainment tour with songstress Fay McKenzie and possibly, film comic Phil Silvers.

Mother's Day

Nelson Eddy has scheduled a special treat for listeners to his CBS Sunday musicale. On Mother's Day, his own mother will appear on the program and join her famous son in a duet, "Love's Old Sweet Song."

He Went

Joe E. Brown, who was recently bringing the home front laughs as emcee of the Blue's "Stop or Go," is on the go again, once more entertaining American fighting men abroad. At the present time, he is in the Philippines.

Anniversary

Lum 'n' Abner, proprietors of the "Jot 'em Down Store" on the Blue, (and in real life, Chet Lauck and Norris Goff, California and Nevada ranch-owners) are celebrating the completion of their fourteenth year on the air. Don Searle, vice-prexy of the Blue, presented each of the boys with a silver mounted bridle and a fancy saddle blanket.

Long-Awaited Present

"Better late than never" is one old adage that Mrs. Carmen Dragon will always believe in—for it netted her this week a prize she's wanted for a long, long time.

Two months and a few days after her birthday (the same as Lincoln's) she received her belated gift from her husband—a house on the beach. Mrs. Dragon's favorite passion in life—next to her family—is the ocean but for the past number of years she's lived in the San Fernando Valley—miles away.

Well aware of this, Carmen, popular musical director of Fanny Brice's "Toasties Time" ailer and recent winner of the academy award for the musical, "Cover Girl," started searching some time ago for the right place.

He found it last week. A well built, six-room cottage high on a hill at Malibu La Costa. It's a white stucco, trimmed in red tile, and has nearly a half acre of ground for the two Dragon offspring, Douglas, five, and Darryl, two, to play on—that is when the whole family isn't in the ocean.

In Hospital

Ken Niles' seven-year-old daughter is recuperating in the Children's Hospital for badly cut feet. The youngster was wading in a creek near her home, when she stepped upon broken glass, severing tendons in her feet.

Worst Moment Dept.

Roy Rogers' worst moment is described by Roy as a time when Trigger, the Mutual-Don Lee singer's trick horse, played a practical joke on his master at a most unpropitious time.

Going overland to movie location, the trailer carrying Trigger and Roy met with a collision. Partially dazed, Roy climbed out of the wreck to find his beloved horse lying inert in the road. Roy was stunned, so stunned he could only kneel nearby in the dust. A nudge at his neck brought the singer up quickly. There was Trigger, as fit as a colt, standing over him. The horse had been "Playing dead" . . . a trick Roy had taught him, and one done in public time upon time.

Not So Dumb

William Bendix, star of the Blue's "Life of Riley," was telling producer Don Bernard about the new home Bendix just bought near Hollywood to accommodate his growing family (the Bendixes recently adopted a baby girl. Said Bendix in the fa-

"You mean 'nursery,' don't you?" inquired Bernard.

"I know how to pronounce it," retorted Bendix, "... I tried to sleep in the room next to it."

Conference Sidelight

A Havana cigar made an able substitute for a pipe of peace at the United Nations Conference of International Organization at San Francisco according to Mutual-Don Lee commentator Alexander Griffin.

In the course of an early meeting, Cuban Ambassador Guillermo Belt handed to Francisco Najera of the Mexican Embassy a fine Havana. Najera, as if fearful of its possible explosive qualities or perhaps in politeness only, passed it on to the Mexican consul, who gave it in turn, to Gala Plaza, Ambassador from Ecuador, who passed it in turn to the Ecuadorean consul from whom the peripatetic perfect went—as you may have guessed—back to Cuban Ambassador Belt.

Thank You, Very Much.

Nancy Martin of the Blue Network's "Breakfast Club" who recently was married at New Martinsville, West Virginia, to Sam McEldowney, currently is occupied with writing "thank you" letters to listeners who deluged her with wedding gifts.

Among the gifts received (and still arriving) are twenty salt and pepper shakers, fifteen trays, one-hundred and forty pot holders of every design and make, five wool blankets, two tilt-top tables, three bride's books, a set of ceramic jewelry, a home-made afghan, an electric iron and mix-master, pyrex dishes, candlesticks, com-

With JACK LAWSON

CAPITOL is crowing these days. And well that company should. With many click discs twirling on juke boxes all over the nation, they can take a bow for bringing out a number of top wax artists. For example, Capitol's Jo Stafford was voted the Finest Singer of the Year by thousands of radio listeners in Martin Block's New York poll. Anita O'Day was chosen The Outstanding New Star of 1945 by twenty-two top jazz critics for Esquire Magazine, and Downbeat named her Top Girl Vocalist with a Name Band.

SO MUCH for the femme side of Capitol's young stable. The King Cole Trio was picked tops among small combos in three polls—those of Downbeat, Metronome and Look. Downbeat calls the Pied Pipers the Favorite Vocal Group of the year. Not only these, but Capitol has given a break to many other fine recording artists and bands. Latest band to hitch up with Capitol, by the way, is Carlos Molina's.

BENNY GOODMAN, whose latest Columbia waxes are "Sweetheart of All My Dreams" and "Ev'ry Time," has a new slant on showmanship in music. When Benny does a show, the lights go out, the audience sees nothing but Benny's dazzling fingerwork as he plays the clarinet. Secret is fluorescent gloves that sparkle in the dark.

FRANK SINATRA steps into the Nelson Eddy class with pressings of such faves as "Old Man River" and "Stormy Weather," his latest offerings.

VICTOR'S NEW complete album looks like a Sears & Roebuck catalog. We still think Victor turns out the best classical recordings and we're rapidly acquiring quite a collection of them.

Little kids in our neighborhood, whose parents can't seem to find toys worth a darn these days, are becoming record enthusiasts. Our youngest has quite a collection in his own right and plete sets of china dishes, glasses, figurines, after-dinner cups and saucers, money, flowers, table cloths, sterling silver, cigarettes and a large supply of kleenex.

In addition, both Nancy and Sam received hundreds of letters of advice on marriage, most of which, Nancy states, warn that 'both shouldn't lose their tempers at the same time.'

Irene Rich, who left the ether waves a year ago, is now in New York City to discuss plans for returning to radio.

NEXT WEEK

Janet Waldo, Orson Welles, Hal Peary, Eve Arden, and Henry Blair are the personalities you'll find coming to life in the May 20th issue of Radio Life. You'll discover intimate stories about all of them, in addition to pictures which fit the articles. "Ear Inspires the Pen" and all the popular features will also keep you in tune with what's happening on the kilocycles, so you can't afford to miss the upcoming issue. Buy yours early, and as the supply is limited, pass your copy along when you're through with it.

Lorry Greenamayer, 117 Bimini Place, Los Angeles, California.

Heard on the Jack Kirkwood show:

Jack: I slept in the ice-box last night.

Bill: Weren't you frozen stiff?

Jack: Yeah, but I'd rather be frozen stiff than cold sober.

J. Bowman, 4422 Mullenn Avenue, Los Angeles, California.

Heard on Chase and Sanborn:

Edgar: Charlie, what happened to your mechanical man?

Charlie: Aw, Bergen, he just goes nuts and bolts on me.

Mrs. J. McCoy, 4410 Penna Avenue, La Crescenta, California.

Heard on "Breakfast in Hollywood":

Corny: Do you know the difference between a hair dresser and a sculptor?

Tom: No.

Corny: Well, the hairdresser just curls up and dyes, and the sculptor makes faces and busts.

Mrs. E. F. Gillette, 102 Twelfth Street, Santa Monica, California.

Heard on the Jack Carson show:

Lady: I'll take that lobster on the end of the counter.

Jack Carson: Shall I wrap it up?

Lady: I guess you'd better. He doesn't know me well enough to follow me home.

Miss Fanny Schuelein, 4062 Wilshire Blvd., Los Angeles, California.

Heard on "Blind Date":

Girl: Did you ever go out with somebody you hadn't seen before?

Sailor: It's like picking out things in Sears-Roebuck's catalog.

Girl: Don't tell me you like things picked from a catalog.

Sailor: Why not? Uncle Sam picked me out of a hat.

Phyllis Nelman, 2640 South Bronson, Los Angeles, California.

Heard on the Eddie Cantor show:

Harry: You should put your shades down at night.

Eddie: Why?

Harry: I saw you kissing your wife last night.

Eddie: The joke is on you. I wasn't home last night.

Mrs. Isabelle Noble, 4366 Westlawn Avenue, Venice, Calif.

Heard on the "Supper Club":

Pick: What is a bacteria?

Pat: It's the back of a cafeteria.

Mrs. A C Fudge, 10404 South Dillon, Los Angeles, California

Heard on "Tom Breneman's Breakfast":

Corny: Do you know why the little Easter bunny always has a shiny nose?

Tom: No, why?

Corney: Because he carries his puff on the wrong end.

NO SUGAR, PLEASE

Jack Carson, star of his CBS show, has reduced a cool 26 pounds in recent months. He likes the "new" Carson so well that he intends to stay that way. His reducing was simply done by taking smaller portions at meals, cutting out sweets and taking plenty of exercise.

INFORMATION, PLEASE

Ken Murray, emcee of Columbia's "Which Is Which" quizzer, received a letter from a G. I. in Hawaii with this request for information: "You seem to know all about Hollywood, so I wanted to ask you one question. Do you, by any chance, know Lana Turner's address?"

Radio Roundup

from KFI

It doesn't matter how seriously you are addicted to or how right down disinterested you are in the lives, works and loves of Hollywood's screen folk, there is plenty to please you on that bright little show, HOLLYWOOD

Jack Latham

FAN MAGAZINE over KFI daily except Thursday at 10:15 a.m. Emcee Jack Latham, who incidentally is a news editor on this station, presents guest stars and technicians from the cinema capital frequently on the program as well as reporting the current news highlights about the movie business in general. And just in case you're a person who likes to know a bit about the voice that is greeting you over the air, we've gathered together a few pertinent facts about Mr. Latham. He's a quiet chap in his early thirties who began his career in radio in Seattle, Wash., in 1935, as staff announcer at KXA. Two years later he became Program Director for that station, remaining in the position until March of 1942 when he joined the KFI staff. Jack is a travel enthusiast who has been once around the world and has visited every one of our 48 states. His hobby is collecting unusual recordings of popular bands. He's married and the father of one child. The family pet is a white poodle who answers to the swell name of "Jaunty Juliette."

As United Press Correspondent, Ralph Teatsorth will tell you, naval battles just don't happen. They are carefully planned operations resembling a great game of "cat 'n' mouse." In Saturday's broadcast of SOLDIERS OF THE PRESS (11:00 p.m.) Teatsorth will describe in detail a naval engagement which will graphically illustrate the work of our men at Midway, Coral Sea and more recently in the East China Sea.

There's a wonderful variety of vocal selections, sung just the way you like them when RONNY MANSFIELD comes to the mike every weekday morning at 9:45. This young tenor, who has more than a bit of the Irish in his voice, conducts an informal program which includes songs both light and serious plus a refreshing patter that can renew the most defunct faith in the talkie type of radio feature. Ronny entered radio while in his teens and his talents have taken him to many major stations throughout the United States. He came to KFI direct from WLW in Cincinnati last year.

MOVIE SONS

Michael Ward and brother, Bill, sons of emcee Perry Ward on Blue's "What's Doing Ladies?" are carving a movie career for themselves. Eight-months old Michael will be seen as the son of Claudette Colbert and Orson Welles in the forthcoming "Tomorrow is Forever." Three-year-old Bill was in the recently released psychological thriller, "Experiment Perilous."

TRIBUTE

Stage-hands working on CBS' "Screen Guild Players" program have their own way of commemorating the memory of stars that have appeared on that program and have since passed away. Backstage they have erected a "final call board" which now lists such names as Connally, Lombard, Robson, Barrymore, Oliver, Veidt, Howard, Dinehart, Cregar and Velez.

FAVORITE FAN

Arthur Treacher, who "battles" for Jack Carson on their CBS comedy show but who rates the homage of Sherman Oaks as honorary mayor of the community, is gifting his mother in England with a complete scrapbook of the pictures taken of a recent installation dinner at which Treacher assumed his mayoralty post.

A HORSESHOW

Bing Crosby finally got paid for the guest appearance he did on Johnny Mercer's "Music Shop" last summer. Johnny himself brought the payment around to NBC's Hollywood Radio City. It's a clock made from one of the shoes worn by Don Bingo, one of the Groaner's famed horses, when he won the Suburban Handicap at Belmont Park.

ENTERTAINED

Walter Tetley of the NBC "Great Gildersleeve" program has entertained more than three hundred service men at his Encino home during the past year, with many of the boys coming from Birmingham Hospital.

"NORA HOWLS"

Shirley Ross was rehearsing a song she had to broadcast on the Bob Burns program as an imitation of Nora Bayes and she was intentionally coming it up. At the finish, Bob drawled, "That wasn't Nora Bayes — that was Nora Howls."

Arlene Francis, witty emcee of "Blind Date", has again been selected as "the best mistress of ceremonies for 1944."

NOT SUPERSTITIOUS

Ronny Mansfield, singing star of KHJ's "Gracious Living," insists he is not superstitious, but when he bought his house in North Hollywood on Friday, the thirteenth, he had the escrow papers dated Saturday, April 14.

Walter Tetley, of the NBC "Great Gildersleeve," has written a series of dramatic shows for the San Fernando Boy Scouts.

MUSICAL ASSIGNMENT

Richard Aurandt has replaced Lloyd Del Castillo as organist on the Columbia Pacific Network's "That's A Good Idea." Aurandt is also heard each Monday as musical director of "Hedda Hopper's Hollywood."

Bill Goodwin of the Frank Sinatra program has been voted the favorite radio actor of the National Youth Movement in its annual poll.

SAN FRANCISCO BOUND

Hedda Hopper, star of her own CBS program, has moved temporarily to San Francisco to report on the activities of the United Nations conference, and the regular Monday airing of her chatter-program will come from the Bay City for the next four weeks. Accompanying her are Ken Niles and Dick Aurandt.

As American As Her Name

Her vivacity and energy are characteristic of the petite (she's five-foot-two-and-a-half and weighs 115 pounds). Her hands look small for someone who commands two keyboards, but she admitted to wearing a size six and a quarter glove. She loves to buy gloves, is constantly losing one of a pair. She wears her nails short, with only natural polish on them.

Wears High Heels

When she's at the organ, her agile foot skipping from pedal to pedal, Ethel refuses to wear the customary low-heeled shoes most musicians use. Seemingly, her vanity and sense of the congruous dictated that she should wear fancy high-heeled slippers—"thin soles and leather, if possible." Consequently, she had to develop a special technique to accompany her shoes.

"High heels are nice to look at," Ethel enthused, "and slippers feel good. Besides, wouldn't I look awful in an evening dress dripping with sequins and some brown lazy loafers!"

CONCERT PASTELLE

Following the popularity of its "Musical Digest" concerts, 6:00 to 8:00 p.m. nightly, KGFJ has introduced another hour of classic music from 11:00 to 12:00 noon week days under the name of "Concert Pastelle." This makes three hours daily of classic music being featured by this station.

MORE HONORS

Honors for her superior acting are still being heaped on Agnes Moorehead, Lionel Barrymore's co-star on the CBS "Mayor of the Town" show. This week she was paid tribute and presented with a scroll by the Hollywood Foreign Correspondents Association for what that organization adjudged the "best performance by a supporting actress during 1944" in motion pictures. The award, given for Miss Moorehead's work in "Mrs. Parkington," was presented at a special dinner this week.

CACTUS CARL

"Cactus" Carl Blume, cowboy m. c., has teamed with Dick Hakens, the short member of "The Three Stooges," to produce a song hit, "Two Tears Met," steadily climbing the ladders of success. "Cactus" Carl is one of the town's busiest m. c.'s, appearing on KGFJ daily at 1:30 p. m., and daily at 10:30 p. m. on KMPC.

Radio Gains A

First Lady

By Betty Mills

Sunday, 7:15 p. m.
Mutual-KHJ

IT'S NICE to be back in Hollywood," said Helen Hayes comfortably settling herself in a restaurant booth. "I'm afraid I've been an ungracious guest, though, because I've caught an awful cold. I hope I can leave it here before I start touring in the northern part of the state."

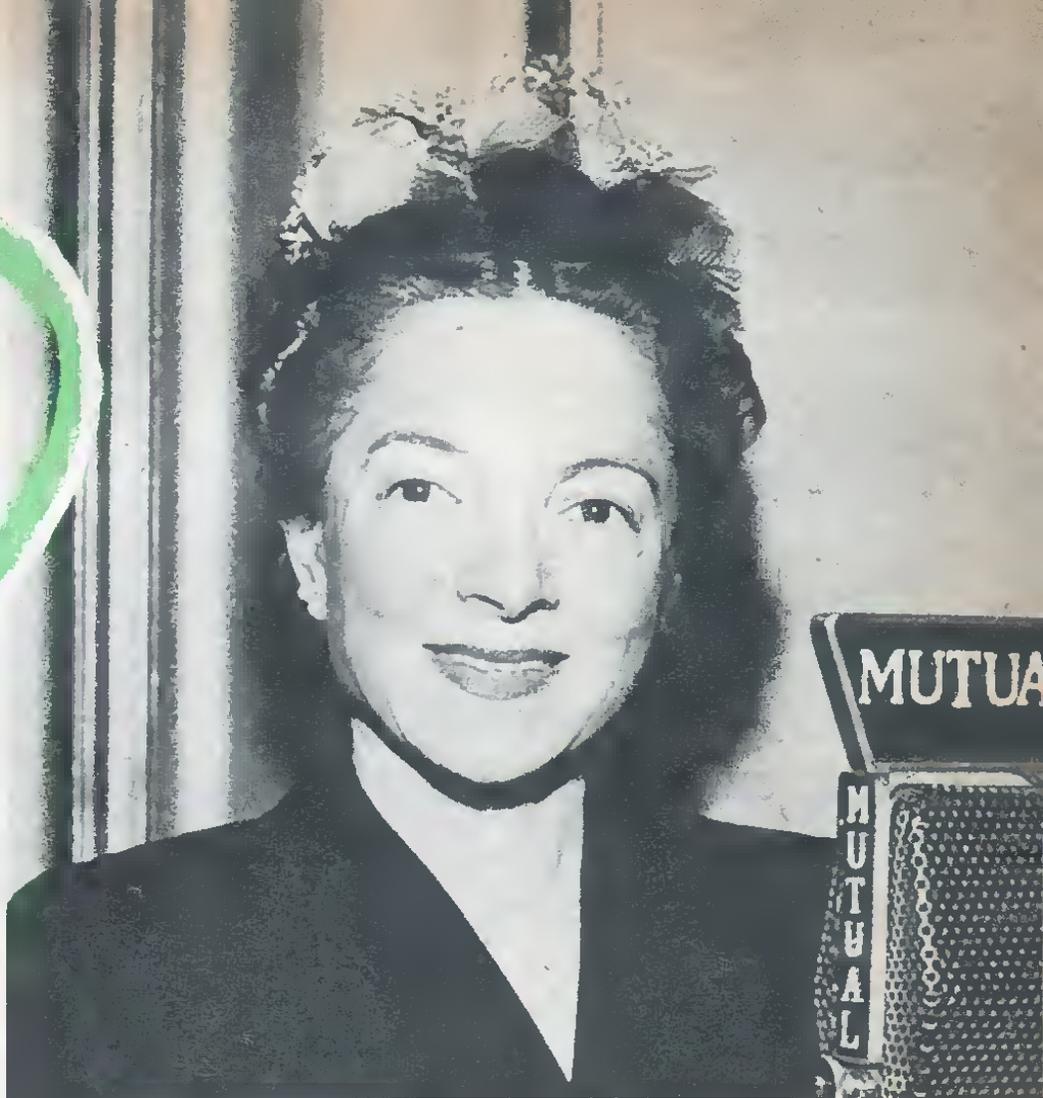

Tiny Miss Hayes pulled her leopard coat closer about her legs and adjusted the polka-dotted scarf at her throat; at the same time muttering something that sounded like "hate to be sick."

"It's ridiculous—this cold, I mean. Before we reached Southern California I carefully warned the 'Harriet' cast not to discard their winter clothing completely. Then I, in turn, sent my winter things home. This"—pointing to her smartly tailored brown-checked jacket, brown skirt, and leopard coat—"is the only warm thing I have. And it fails me at times. Oh, well, it gives all of my friends a chance to knit sweaters for me. But I'm afraid by the time they'll have them done, I'll be on my way."

While on tour in Los Angeles with the "Harriet" company, the distinguished First Lady of the Theater was broadcasting her current radio series from the Mutual-Don Lee Studio. This newly inaugurated series marks her first return to the air as star of her program since the "Helen Hayes Theater" in 1942.

Radio Relaxes

How, we wanted to know, did Miss

▲ "THIS IS HELEN HAYES" COMES TO HOLLYWOOD. After an absence of three years from the air, Miss Hayes began a series of broadcasts early this year with programs designed to encourage the enlistment of nurses in the Army Nurse Corps.

Miss Helen Hayes, Now Star of Own Air Show, Visits Cinema City; Is Fond of Long Walks, Zoos and Hats; Wants to Know Who Van Johnson Is

Hayes have time to carry on her weekly radio show? Especially at present with so much of her strength devoted to touring and nightly performances?

"You see, my dear," she pointed out, "radio is a relaxation to me. It's a relief to be able to come to a new part and a new story every week. In that way it's a diversion from the tiring work of being one person night after night. I thoroughly enjoy it and am grateful of having an opportunity such as this to help with the war effort."

On her current "This Is Helen Hayes" program, the actress dramatizes actual experiences of nurses in the service. We found that Miss Hayes goes about developing her radio characters in much the same way as she does her stage heroines. Once she feels that she knows her character, she rarely changes her style of delivery. She works tirelessly for perfection, and never deviates from her finished method. She has a split-second sense of timing.

There is only one flaw in this harmonious picture. She can't remember that she opens the program with the words, "This Is Helen Hayes," and one time had literally to be pushed up to the mike. She becomes so wrapped up in the work of her fellow performers and the drama of the story that the tears will openly

◀ JON HALL SHARES his wife's love of music. In fact, it is he who is the avid record-collector in the family. "I just sit back and listen," the songstress laughs. She and Jon also like to see mystery movies. (The Halls are pictured with Patty Thomas, dancer, who accompanied Frances overseas.)

It wasn't. There was no moment to find her lounging on the patio of her attractive West Los Angeles home. Tuesday, she was broadcasting from a Naval base; Wednesday, she was entertaining at an Army camp; Thursday and Friday, she was working before the movie cameras in the picturization of "People Are Funny"; Saturday, she was singing at a hospital in Santa Barbara; the following week, she was to start work on a new film at RKO.

No Leisure

We finally settled for Friday, when we could talk to her between "takes" of her song number in "People Are Funny." We asked her, and her sister-in-law, Louise Locher, who is her close companion and secretary, "what does Langford do in her leisure time—if she ever has any?"

"She doesn't," laughed Miss Locher, "but if she did, she'd stay in bed until eleven every morning—then get up and eat her customary big breakfast of grits, eggs, toast and coffee."

"I eat anything and everything," grinned Frances, settling herself in a chair on the sidelines of the set, as comfortably as she could in the fragile yards of the filmy, flowered net evening gown she was wearing for the picture. Her small, five-foot, three-inch figure belied her hearty appetite, and she insisted, "I try to gain weight. It's good for me."

Still speaking of breakfast, she confessed, "Until I've had mine in the morning, I don't like conversation."

"Frances," put in Louise, "always likes to eat on the kitchen table—and, except when they have guests that aren't family or close friends, she and Johnny (husband Jon Hall) always eat in the breakfast nook."

The Halls like to spend their evenings at home, and have little taste for nightclubbing. "They go out about once or twice a month because it is expected of them," explained sister Louise. "Then Franny always comes home and says with sigh of relief, 'Well, I'm glad that's over!' Now we can stay home for a while!"

Like Musical Friends

When they entertain, Frances and Jon enjoy the company of a few close friends (several of them servicemen), all of whom enjoy music.

"We like people who like music," Frances smiled. "Jonny has a wonderful record collection. He loves it, so he goes to all the work of finding the records, and I can just sit back and listen to them."

Langford.... At Leisure

By Shirley Gordon

When Not Globe-Trotting to World's War Fronts, Frances Langford Likes to Spend Quiet Hours at Home, Listen to Records, Go to Mystery Movies, Read Historical Novels, Sleep Till Eleven A. M.

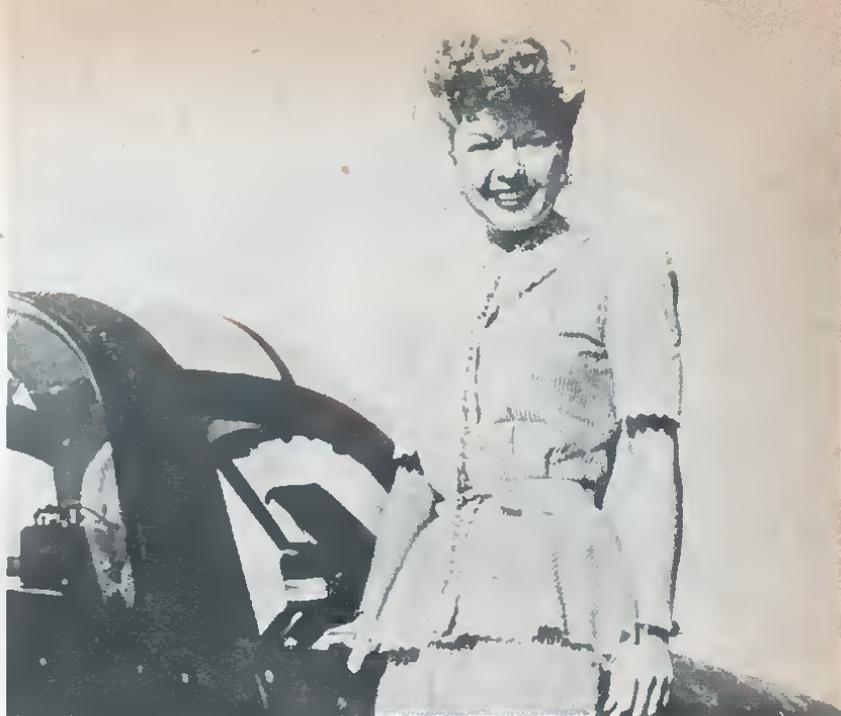

Tuesday, 7:00 p. m.
NBC-RFI
Sunday, 5:00 p. m.
NBC-RFI
beginning June 3rd

GRATEFUL GIs in almost every theater of war throughout the world share the cheering memory of a smiling, honey-haired slip of a girl who suddenly dropped down from the sky one day to come to them like an angel from heaven—or, even better, an angel from home. With the Bob Hope troupe, NBC songstress Frances Langford, who will star on her own air show this summer, has canvassed both the major and out-of-the way service camps throughout this country, journeyed through Alaska, trekked across the Atlantic to tour England, Iceland, Tunis, Algiers, Bizerte, and flown out over the Pacific to its many lonely island outposts.

Back in the States, she continues to tour Army and Navy bases across the continent and visit, at every opportunity, the wounded veterans housed in the nation's service hospitals. She takes time out merely "to make a living."

When Radio Life resolved to bring its readers a view of Langford at leisure, we knew it wouldn't be easy.

WITH BOB HOPE and Tony Romano, guitarist, Frances Langford has journeyed to far-flung war fronts to bring entertainment to the men who need it most. "Radio is easy—when you broadcast from a STUDIO," smiles Frances. "But we have fun touring the camps and hospitals, too, and we have the best audiences in the world!"

FRANCES FELL IN LOVE WITH FLYING while overseas entertaining troops. She sometimes acted as co-pilot while the ship was in the air. "Airplanes," she beams, "they're for me!" She also likes sailboating, is "scared at the sound" of husband Jon Hall's new motor boat.

Miss Langford, surprisingly shy and soft-spoken (her Southern accent very much in evidence), was working diligently on crocheted pieces for a bedspread as we talked to her. "It keeps me from getting nervous" she explained.

Once so timid about appearing in public that she had crying spells before going on-stage, the singer has conquered this complex to a great extent, but still doesn't warm up to people easily. "She takes her time feeling people out at first," Miss Locher told us, "but when she knows them better, she becomes at ease and 'chatty.' She's much better than she used to be. When I first met her, she was terribly shy."

Frances is still unwilling to view herself on the screen. "It's fun making movies," she said, "as long as I don't have to see myself in them." She never views the "rushes" (the completed sequences of the picture which are shown to its cast and crew at the close of each day's work). "If I ever saw them," she frowned, "I wouldn't come back to work the next day."

About radio, she declared, "It's easy—when you broadcast from a studio." Langford, with the Hope show, does it the hard way—broadcasting from remote Army and Navy camps throughout the country. "But we sure have fun, too," she smiled then, "and the best audiences in the world!"

Loves Planes

Out over the Pacific, Frances fell in love with flying. "I've flown a lot, but it isn't official. I sometimes acted as co-pilot, but never handled the controls for take-offs or landings.

Airplanes, though," she smacked her lips, "they're for me!"

She is equally enthusiastic over boating. Currently, husband Jon has a new speed boat which is being demonstrated for Navy use. "But just the sound of its motor scares me," she shivered. "After the war, we'll go back to sails."

Frances' other likes include reading historical novels (most recently, "Immortal Wife"), and seeing mystery movies. She likes to work outside in the yard, but seldom has the time to do so any more.

"I don't like to cook," added Frances emphatically, "and I don't like to do housework.

"She doesn't like to shop either," smiled sister Louise, "I usually do it for her. She seldom dresses up. She lives in slacks—has a closetful of them, all colors."

ON GUADALCANAL, Frances and Patty Thomas, dancing member of the Bob Hope overseas company, pose for pictures with two stalwart Solomon Island natives. When not circling the globe, Miss Langford likes simply to "stay home." She doesn't care for nightclubbing, doesn't like to dress up, "lives in slacks."

◀ JACK IS THE YOUNGEST OF THE FAMOUS EDWARDS FAMILY, which plans to resume its skits when brother, Sam, returns from the army.

"If it's the real Edwards you want to know about," he told Radio Life with a smile, "you won't find tinsel and glamor. You'll find a homebody, with a craving for Mexican food, a passion for Mexico, a rancho rita, and a yen to travel."

As for the "smattering of talent," he guesses he came by his acting career by heredity. "When I was a kid my mother wrote a radio show for my brother, Sammy, and me. Sammy didn't want to act, but consented to do the singing. We ended up by being one character who sang and acted. In reality I read the lines and Sammy sang."

Most Confusing Time

"When the fan mail poured in congratulating us on the show, Sammy told Mom that maybe he'd give her a break and join the cast as another character. As he was doing my singing for me, I had to do his singing for him. To top it, we became ill at the same time and my sister, Florida, had to go on for both of us. That was the most confusing time I've ever had in radio!"

At present, the Edwards are separated with Sammy away in the army. But when he returns, they plan to resume the adventures of their happy clan. "Mom's busy keeping house. Florida, of course, is still in radio. Me, too," he facetiously pointed out.

"I'm planning to do some writing some day. But first of all I'd like to travel and see the world. Think I'll work my way on a fruit steamer."

"But while I'm here and waiting for that day," he remarked with a wink, "I'm doing my darnedest to portray every type of role. If you were to ask me how to get into radio, I'd tell you by acting in everything you could. You learn only by doing it."

His present ambition is to play the role of Caligula in the forthcoming picturization of Lloyd C. Douglas' "The Robe." "I know I could do it," he earnestly said, "if they'd give me a chance. But they probably won't think I look the type. In radio, it's funny. You look like the listener pictures you. When they do see me, some of them say, 'You're so young'—which is a nice tribute. You see, I like to appear older."

Collegiate-looking Edwards wrinkled his brow, stooped and began walking with an imaginary cane. "This," he croaked, "is what I mean."

"It's true," he concluded, "that I do want to write and produce a good radio show. And I'll always want to act. But I think the most important thing is to be a real person. I hope I never have so many irons in the fire that I forget that."

Smattering of Talent

By Jane Gilbert

Just Because He's Jack of All Trades, It Doesn't Make Him the "Poor Man's Welles," Says Edwards

WHEN SOMEONE once referred to young Jack Edwards, Jr. as the "poor man's Orson Welles" he laughed out loud. "Just because I act, can sing if I'm forced to, design clothes because I like to, want to write and produce, believe me, I'm no Welles. It's a wonder someone hasn't branded me a 'smattering of talent.'"

Twenty-five-year-old Jack, youngest of the famous Edwards Family, is known to radio dialers for his work on the "Bullock's Show," "Screen Guild," "Aunt Mary," and many others. (He has just completed the role of "Clyde" on the "Dreft Star Playhouse" dramatization of "An American Tragedy.") He has twenty-some years of "theater" behind him. Yet he describes himself as a "simple guy with simple likes."

fall down her cheeks or she may laugh out loud. From the first minute of rehearsal she creates a mood and doesn't lose it until the show goes off the air.

"After I leave Los Angeles," Miss Hayes said, "I'm going to San Francisco, Portland, Seattle—and then, at last, home. I have June the ninth—the day we're through — marked in big red letters on my calendar. Home to my family—" with a happy shake of her head. "We all manage to shed our duties and get home for a vacation at the same time."

Has Big Plans

Then, she told us, she was going to rest. She looked forward to romping with her daughter, Mary, and her adopted son, James Gordon—and the dog. She planned to catch up on her gardening (she had to do all of her spring planting by mail), some reading and loads of visiting with her husband.

"I've been having a very nice time while I've been here. My cold has kept me somewhat hindered, but I've managed to get in my walks. I'm very fond of walking, you know, and I love to visit zoos.

"Then I've purchased a few hats. I do love hats. You'd never know it now," she laughed pointing to the coronet braid adorning her head. When asked if this present coiffure had been influenced by her "Queen"—("Victoria Regina" and "Mary of Scotland") era, she frankly answered "no! I couldn't do anything else with it. Do you think my friends will think I've gone eccentric when they meet me like this?"

Looking at Miss Hayes' fresh, piquant face it was hard to believe that she was the mother of a fifteen-year-old daughter or that behind her lay thirty active years in the theater. Once described by Alexander Woolcott as possessing "a nice face, brown hair that looked like brown hair, and a turned-up nose," Miss Hayes still adequately fits the description, even to her slim, girlish figure.

Described by her associates as being prompt, good-natured, and able to outwork all of them, she constantly amazes people by the amount of energy she puts forth. This was amply illustrated in creating the eighty-eight year span of "Victoria" in two-and-a-half hours a night for four years. She is gracious, down-to-earth, and lives by the rule of simplicity.

"Oh, my yes," Miss Hayes happily smiled, "it's good to be in California again. I'm quite thrilled about tonight. Norma Shearer is giving a dinner party for me and it will give me a chance to see friends I haven't seen in ages. In the years I've been away, Hollywood hasn't changed, but the people have. I don't get to attend many movies and there are so many new faces and names that I don't know. I just remember the 'old' people," she laughed.

"Do you know a young fellow by the name of Van Johnson? I don't seem to be familiar with his work except that I do remember in Chicago his name was in lights across the street from my hotel room. Norma, bless her heart, has planned to show me one of my old movies after dinner because he requested it. Just imagine," with a grimace, "if I hadn't been prepared. What a shock!"

"Miss Hayes," we concluded, "is it true, that you are going to 'walk through' the new Crosby-Bergman picture, 'The Belles of St. Mary'?"

"No," the actress answered. "It was all a gag. I was having lunch with Leo McCarey and he thought we would kid Bing by my walking through a scene. It was only for his benefit. Somehow the rumor circulated that I was coming back to pictures. I don't know how it started because I didn't say anything.

"I'm afraid I'm much too busy finishing 'Harriet,' looking forward to getting home, and being a radio actress to try to undertake any extra duties. Besides, now that I'm in California, I've got to soak up some of this sunshine."

movie-making, he goes to Palm Springs.

"Ma and I just like to lie around in the sun," "Gabby" explained. "I don't do any exercise when I'm not working because when I'm making Westerns, I have to be as rough as any young fella, and it's hard work. Westerns are really strenuous."

Fifty-nine years old, "Gabby" was born in Wellesville, New York, the son of a hotel operator. At the age of eight, he took part in amateur theatricals, and in 1902, while still in high school, he ran away from home to join a stock company. Later, he learned to dance, worked in burlesque for twelve years, then went into vaudeville, soon headlining bills on both the Keith and Orpheum circuits. Meanwhile, in Chicago, on March 4, 1914, he married Miss Earle, then a busy Broadway actress.

Hayes created his "Gabby" characterization twenty-five years ago, and, at first wore false whiskers. He found them "too much trouble," however, and the ones he wears today are all his own. He hasn't shaved in almost ten years, and the picturesque cowboy garb that he wears for his role is over fourteen years old.

Radio Debut

His appearance on the Andrews Sisters series is his first fling in radio. Before the program's initiation on the airwaves, "Gabby" was skeptical about his humor being right for radio. "I was scared, at first," he chuckled.

"Now," he added, "I'm gettin' used to it. In fact, I'm even beginnin' to enjoy it."

He doesn't consider his "Gabby" characterization in any way exceptional. "Anybody," he frowned, "can do this old fella I'm doin'."

Of his long and varied career in the entertainment field, he declared, "If I had it all to do over again, I'd do it all just the same."

Before the war, "Gabby" liked to travel extensively and to go trout-fishing. Now, when he travels, it is to service hospitals for what he terms a "spiritual dry cleaning." "More folks," he figures, "should go to see those wonderful boys. Then they wouldn't be complainin' about the things they can't get."

At home, "Gabby" listens to the radio "religiously." "I bet," he said, "that I have more radios than any man in America." Asked how many, "Gabby" wrinkled his brow and replied, "I don't know—but I have 'em in my bedroom, my kitchen, my living room, my cars—well, everywhere."

He listens to almost every type of program on the air (from Bing and Hope to the Boston Symphony), calls listening to the radio his "hobby," regrets that he has to be down to the broadcasting studio to be on the air himself on Sundays, because it makes him miss some of his favorite programs!

that Frances has "a drawerful of jewelry, but seldom wears it, except her rings—currently, a large emerald one, a recent gift from Jon." When she picks up the paper in the morning, Frances turns to the movie page, becomes engrossed in the gossip columns. Asked if Frances sings around the house, Louise shook her head, "No—she whistles."

"That's the way I practice," Frances laughed.

Asked if there was anything which annoyed her, the singing star became thoughtful, then answered, "Hospital tours have cured me of griping. Nothing bothers me much any more. I don't know what Christian Science is, but Jonny says I employ it all the time.

"I guess if there's anything that annoys me it's too much talking or too much noise. I've been around so much noise at times during the past few years."

What would Frances do if she could have exactly the kind of a vacation she wanted? Frances looked pensive and sat in silence for several seconds, her brow furrowed. "Golly," she said finally, "I guess I'd just stay home!"
