How "One" Builds A Reputation

Exacting Standards and the Work of Experts Go Into the Building of "Studio One's" Long-Standing Reputation for Excellence

MOOTHLY, WITHOUT apparent effort or strain, the drama called "A Bolt of Lightning" unfolded itself before ten million televiewers on Monday, November 12 of last year, as "Studio One" celebrated its 100th production as an hour-long dramatic series over KNXT and the CBS-TV network.

Like "A Bolt of Lightning" (the rousing story about American patriot James Otis) each program in the successful series demanded approximately ten full weeks of constructive preparation.

Let's follow the course of the 100th production in the work-packed days before it was finally recorded by the relentless cameras in CBS-TV's Studio 42, the mammoth stage on the third floor of New York's Grand Central Terminal Building.

For a small army of technicians and artists, every Monday evening is an objective attained after weeks of planning—the final climax to countless operations essential in producing an hour-long TV show with such exacting standards.

Two or three weeks ahead of each performance, Richard Rychtarik, senior scenic designer for the big show, completes his basic floor plans of all the sets to be used. This often means as many as nine large-scale drawings—nine separate sets—for one show. Copies are dispatched to producer Worthington Miner, the director; and to the CBS carpentry shop where forty-nine carpenters and laborers start the scenic construction under supervision of Bill Mensching. For that November 12 drama, flats to be painted in accordance with the feel and background of pre-Revolutionary Boston were built as wood frames, covered with enamelline duck—ever inch fireproofed before it leaves the shop.

Work Progresses

As each unit of flat is completed, the set painters take over. They mix and apply their colors precisely as specified by designer Rychtarik. Even in black-and-white television color is an important factor—not only in camera's acceptance of elementary colors and various degrees of grays, but to set the mood of the show in the responsive minds of the actors themselves. Water paint is used to finish the flats. It's quick, and looks well.

February 22, 1952

While the sets are being prepared for "A Bolt of Lightning," costume designer Julia Sze is hard at work on her vital phases of the production. She starts, in this instance, with research on the period—using the vast resources of the New York Public Library—and making her preliminary sketches of the early-American costumes to be made or rented from one of the large costuming houses. During the week preceding the telecast, actors make scheduled appearances for fittings, with designer Sze's professional eye following each performer's dress through its final alteration and approval. Sze, too, must be ever alert to color. The lacy cuff-ruffs used by men of 1750, for example, must be dyed a baby blue—because of the objectionable halos which are created on the television screen when the TV cameras pick up dead white in their sensitive lenses.

Even the make-up used by each member of the cast must be planned far ahead. Bob Jiras heads this important department for all productions of "Studio One" and has a staff of experts to aid him.

To maintain authenticity, every chair, table and what-not—on every set—had to belong unmistakably, in this drama, to the middle and latter eighteenth century in America. That artistic assurance is the responsibility of Jane Waterman, who devotes her days exclusively to insuring this quality for productions. Whatever early-American "prop" is needed, it is decorator Waterman's job to find it, rent it, see that it is covered by insurance—and make sure that one of five CBS-TV dispatching trucks picks it up and delivers it to the right studio at the right time.

Lighting Planned

In the televised drama, the play plot is rivaled in importance by the light plot—a vastly complicated diagram of the entire studio area, 8,500 square feet, which must be under illumination controlled by the lighting director. Saturday evening, before Monday's show, as stage hands are getting up the trucked-in scenery to represent old Boston, three electricians prepare the complex lights for their all-important assignments in the drama—to simulate night and day in all their phases, indoors or outdoors, dark or moonlight, fair or stormy, as the script of the play demands, at half a moment's notice.

In an air-conditioned room adjoining the main studio, another somewhat more placid and reflective operation is going forward. Eugene Cines, head of the Record Library, is choosing special background music from thousands of records from all parts of the world.

On Monday—for the first time—all these far-flung and separate activities merge. They all come together under the coordinating supervision of Producer Tony Miner. The sets are in place, the lights are ready to come on. The studio is alive with actors, cameramen, boom handlers, sound experts, electricians, stage hands, make-up artists, wardrobe supervisors, floor managers. All are ready for their individual assignments, all aware of their specific places in the pattern, all sensitive to the delicate teamwork which must begin when Director Paul Nickell says — "Hit It!"

EVERYONE SEES THE STARS AND MARVELOUS SETS that help make the CBS-TV television show an outstanding part of our dramatic fare, but few see the behind-scenes group who contribute even more greatly. Producer Worthington C. Miner, standing, looks on at the TV monitor screens. Set designer Richard Rychtarik sits in the foreground. Director Franklin Schaffner is third from left on level above. The time reads 2 minutes after 9, Eastern time, and the show is under way.

All Her Dreams Came True . .

Likes—Swimming, bike riding, and ping pong

T'S ALMOST a waste of time to ask Lucille Norman, the lovely musical star of CBS's "Holly wood Musie Hall," what are her ambitions—her dreams. They have all come true.

A handsome husband, Bruce Kellogg (who gave up his promising dramatic career to be her business manager) ... a lovable five-year-old daughter, Pamela Jane ... a beachhouse, a smart Hollywood apartment ... and a coveted vocal-acting career in radio, TV and movies.

Plus all of these reasons why most women look at her and say. "What more could you ask?" Miss Norman, who is not yet thirty years old, has more beauty and grace than most of the other vocalists in either the classical or pop category.

No Egoist

You might easily imagine that this radio songstress is inclined to be conceited. But she is far from it. When asked what she thinks when Page Four women say "I envy you," her only comment was: "It always surprises me. My life is no different from any other woman's. I'm only in a different type of work, that's all."

Lucille is not pretentious when it comes to herself, but she will talk for hours about her little daughter and her wonderful husband. Pamela Jane is "doing great" in ballet. Miss Norman knows it takes time and energy to be a mother. She believes that "raising a child is the most difficult thing in the world." She gives her husband credit for her career. success because "everything Happened after he took over my at the way others were presenting my singing."

Her Philosophy

Miss Norman's philosophy of life. which has saved her from being a self-centered star when she had all the apparent reasons to become one, started many years ago. It was a Rosalind Russell movie, "Roughly But Lucille Norman Is No Egoist Speaking," which gave her a lot of the solid ideas she uses today in finding happiness. She remembers, too, when her grandmother told her a long time ago "to follow the spiritual side of the Bible." Maybe religion seems out of place in a life which appears to be as glamprous as Miss Norman's, but she does not hesitate to say that it plays a big part in her daily living. Not long ago she accepted the teachings of an idealistic religion. She has discovered since then, "I don't fear going on for a performance any more."

Singing was not in the saddle when Miss Norman did her most recent film with Randolph Scott, "Champagne Bandits." She said about it, "I loved every minute of it . . . and I learned how to ride, too."

If there is any one performance which the gracious singer dreams of doing, it is a truly worthwhile musical on the screen. She wants "to run the gamut of singing different-type tunes in one picture."

Is She Temperamental?

Is Miss Norman temperamental during rehearsals? We kept our eyes opened expecting some Hollywoodtype outburst from the blonde beauty who has a career which is the envy of much older troupers. On the contrary, we saw how smoothly the orchestra played, under the direction of Wilbur Hatch, and how much they enjoyed doing musical arrangements for Miss Norman.

Perhaps another reason Miss Norman is too busy "to worry about myself" is that, as she remarked, "There's a heck of a lot of work to being a vocalist. It's not all fun."

A Long Way to Go

Speaking of fun reminded the popular vocalist: "My husband and I are always planning a trip to Europe, but we never seem to be able to make it. If we take a vacation we'll probably get only as far as Lake Tahoe."

Does she feel that she has anything more to learn about her profession? "Oh, yes. I have a long way to go . . . and everyone always has more to learn, no matter how far they have come."

LAWRENCE WELK INDULGES in a few Hulantics with Lei Aloha and Moana, featured TV dancers with Harry Owens's Royal Hawaiian aggregation. Welk and his popular orchestra present their weekly video show over KTLA direct from the Aragon Ballroom on Lick Pier in Ocean Park.

Benny, Phil Harris or any one of a daily dozen other famous-faces strolls toward a booth.

But the most blase bunch on earth toward the famous are the whiteclad waiters at this restaurant. To them an odd-thousand-dollar-a-week comedian is just another to feed, and probably another check to okay.

Out of Character

Yet when Lawrence Welk one day sat in the Derby over luncheon, it was one of these indifferent white-coated gentlemen who moved up with all the diffidence of a first-time autograph seeker to ask the popular maestro . . . "Aren't you Lawrence Welk?" The unusual fan went on enthusiastically to explain that he and his family never missed one of Welk's Aragon telecasts.

This Occurs Only When the Possessor of Such a Personality Is Oblivious of His Gift. Lawrence Welk Still Thinks It's Just His "Champagne Music" That Sells!

This sort of thing happens almost every time Welk goes out. More amazing than this is the orchestra leader's genuine surprise and pleasure at being recognized. He still, despite the new attendance records and broken return-engagement records set by his "Champagne Music." fails to realize he is what Hollywood calls "a personality."

The son of an Alsatian immigrant (who was a farmer by trade and a musician at heart), Welk started almost as a toddling youngster to learn music. Many a sour note was heard as he reached up a small hand to prod at his father's old-fashioned February 22, 1952 accordion. Although he had never taken a lesson, by the time Lawrence was thirteen he had learned to play the instrument passably well. It was a beautiful instrument with sparkling rhinestones on it (result of many months of penny-saving on the part of his family) which proved the inspiration for young Welk to start studying ardently and practicing in every spare moment he had away from farm chores.

But unfortunately when Welk, as a grown-up and the leader of the "Biggest Little Band in America," hit the road, he didn't immediately hit the big time. It took several years of Yankton, South Dakota, radio and one-night stands at such palaces as Bernard's Pavilion in Broken Bow,

By Jane Pelgram

Nebraska, before the champagnebubble music floated out on a national radio hookup.

Not Hard

Emergence into the big time came when Welk and his tired musicians drove up to a swank hotel in Milwaukee, ready to check in for a little rest and some hot baths. A big-name band was just leaving, after a successful stand at the hotel's popular Terrace Room.

"... It occurred to me that the musicians in my orchestra were just as good as the boys in anyone else's band, big name or no big name. And certainly they would enjoy getting off the road for a few weeks. So before I knew what I was doing I'd told the band to hold it a minute while I went to see the manager about getting booked into the Terrace."

A story book would have the band being turned down flat, with a contrite manager later crawling to Welk to plead that he fill in at the last moment of an emergency. Then Welk and his boys, savoring triumph, could have gone on to unheard-of popularity.

What actually happened was that (Please Turn to Page 34)

THIS IS "ONE MAN'S FAMILY." Russell Thorsen plays big brother "Paul"; Arthur Cassell plays the little brother; former comedienne Marjorie Gateson is "Mother Barbour," and James Lee plays "Claudia's" twin brother.

BERT LYTELL IS the father half of the understanding parents on this popular weekly series seen on Channel 4. But "Father" doesn't always see eye to eye with "Mother Barbour" on their children's problems.

VERY FEW SHOWS ON TV would dare a bedroom scene. But the "Barbours" are so well established as a family that producer-writer Carlton E. Morse can put them into real-life situations with no censoring.

CLOSE-UPS ON KNBH You'll See More On Channel 4

PRINCIPALS OF the "Dave and Charlie Show" are Dave Willock, left, and comical Cliff Arquette, who plays "Charlie." Setting of the show is "Charlie's" next-to-the-tracks fiving room, and it was the real Mr. Willock and Arquette who built most of the props. (NBC-Ball photo.) THE ATTENTIONS of songstress Dinah Shore, also seen on Channel 4, please "Charlie" mightily. "Dave" is disgruntled, a role familiar to the young friend on this comedy half hour. (NBC-Holloway photo.) MOST OF THE MARVELOUS old clocks, pumps, stoves and pictures that make "Charlie's" house a television treat were either made by the two show principals or tracked down during antique-shop sprees. #### Welk's New Signoff

Isham Jones, famous writer of songs, has penned special lyrics to his old favorite "Why Can't This Night Go On Forever?" to be used as Lawrence Welk's new closing theme each time

KTLA presents "Lawrence Welk's Champagne Music," 9:30 p.m. Fridays.

From where we sit, it looks as though the popular maestro who packs 'em in at the Aragon Ballroom won't have a real closing theme. Now flying the Laura Scudder Fine Foods banner on his telecasts,

Lawrence Welk

Welk, Roberta Linn, Dick Dale, Gene Purcell and all of them will go on and on. He has already set a new record for long contracts by signing a second six-month pact with the popular beach ballroom.

Four Candles for "Beany"

As long-time observers of the Hollywood TV scene we have seen hundreds of bright young men create hundreds of video program ideas—some bright, some dull. Only a few of these have managed to get their idea past the brainstorm stage, while the others are still trying, or have resignedly gone back to work.

One of the former is Bob Clampett, whose "Time for Beany" (KTLA, 6:30 p.m. Monday through Friday) celebrates its fourth birthday on February 28.

Clampett has been around Hollywood all his life, as a cartoonist, idea man, writer, director. When he left the Leon Schlesinger short-subject studios some ten years ago after directing "Looney Tunes" and "Merrie Melodies," he retired to a garage with a determination to stay at it until he had created the puppets he knew could be devised. When he emerged he was stony broke but he had won.

The results finally arrived on Channel 5 as "Beany," "Cecil, the Seasick Sea Serpent," "Captain Huffenpuff" and others. They have won countless awards including one from TV-Radio Life. "Beany" still is about the most popular kids' program on the Western channels; it's now seen on sixteen stations including New York, where it began this month. The twist is, this Hollywood-born program is viewed in N.Y. under sponsorship of a Florida orange-juice company.

What's to Damage?

A couple of weeks ago stations KNBH and KTTV telecast portions of an old silent motion picture, "Safety Last," starring Harold Lloyd. Five days later the boom fell in the shape of two suits asking a total of $300,000 damages for asserted copyright infringement and $50,000 attorney's fees! The filer—the Harold Lloyd Corporation.

If we were Harold Lloyd, would we feel damaged through having these bits of film run? Maybe our future profits or prospective employment interfered with? We don't know what Mr. Lloyd has in mind or what his plans are as of now, so perhaps that is why we couldn't figure out "what's to damage?"

Deserving of Recognition

In cooperation with TV-Radio Life, Harry Koplan has started a tangible tribute to folks over sixty who are deserving of recognition for some work or activity.

Each Thursday night on KLAC-TV's "You're Never Too Old," Koplan reads a letter nominating a person or a couple for an award. The letter chosen to be read each week wins for the nominee an attractive loving cup on which is inscribed his or her name Hinson and his panel of experts on K N B H's "Home Building Clinic." KNBH, in cooperation with the Building Contractors Association, presents this telecast as a public-service feature. Its primary concern is dispensing worthwhile information to the harassed home-enthusiast.

Recent airings found one couple appearing on the show to be concerned with landscaping the grounds of their new home, another were perturbed by high taxes; (and again, who isn't these days?); and one home-building pair were concerned with wiring their guest house. Experts appearing on the panel offered detailed, proficient advice to the queriers.

Every week the program takes up a specific problem and solves it. The show's a must for home builders and it provides a storehouse of invaluable information for the potential builder. #### We Point With Pride ... To the tasteful manner in which TV's first wedding on skates was carried out during KTLA's "Frosty Frolics" of a week ago, when Shirley Lander's vows to Richard Bile were caught by the cameras. Dr. Franklyn Kelly conducted the service, with the entire cast of "Frosty Frolics" acting as bridesmaids and attendants. While it constituted a departure: the dignity lent the ceremony kept it from becoming at all "stunty."

To Ruby Keeler's appearance on Ken Murray's recent Scturday night (8:00 p.m. KNXT) salute to the movie industry. As danceable and adorable as ever, she showed up as real star stuff on a medium scarcely heard of when her name was up in lights.

To the straightforward, un; afraid answers given by guest panelists on ABC-TV's "American Town Meeting," seen Sunday night at 6:30 p.m. George Denny, Jr., moderator and originator of this telecast as well as of the twenty year old broadcasts, picks his highly informed guest panel; ists well.

... To the way KNBH's Sunday-night-at-10:30 "World Digest" picked up news of the most recent Elizabeth. New Jersey, plane crash; then even without the use of film clips filled in the disaster coverage. The crash had just happened, and TV didn't wait for pictures, and for a good scooping by radio and newspapers, to relate news.

To the inclusion of a film clip showing the Narrows Bridge collapse, as it occurred in Tacoma, Washington, on a recent and otherwise dull KECA-TV "You Asked for It." True, the telecast presents what the viewers ask for, but searching amid the stacks of mail for suggestions like this seems to us to turn the show into a more watchable half hour.

We View With Alarm

... A recent KNXT presentation of "Studio One," titled "Pagoda." Designed principally as a showcase for Sono Osato, the story turned out as a potpourri of Chinese props and Caucasian gropings toward the Oriental which merely resulted in a ludicrous hour of nothing. We never did know who was on first, and bet that half our fellow-viewers had a tough time deciding who had done what to whom!

The manner in which Vincent Price seemed to us to dress up his role on KNXT's "Lux Video Theater" recently, by a kiss-candied reading of lines which made his part fall on our ears as just so blasted languid that sleep seemed imminent—for both him and this viewer.

Al Jarvis's going along with what seems to us unusually slow contestants during the song-titleguessing spot on his afternoon KECAoffering. While this is an exception more than a general-ity (e.g., "The ity (e.g., "The Little White Cloud That Cried" spot), it seems to us that Al should cut down the time limit for the athomers who can't get with it. Once the other viewers not lucky enough to be on the phone with Al have solved the game, it's over for them. So's their attention, and what Al doesn't want, and certainly doesn't deserve on his entertaining show, is wandering viewer attention!

sponsor's product. That would do away with his having to pick up a slip of paper and read from it. Or was he reading something else while he told us the facts he actually knew? We don't want to be mistaken.

"The Continental"

Tuesday, 11:00 p.m. CBS-TV, KNXT, Channel 2

Renzo Cesana reappeared recently in "The Continental" casting he essayed pretty successfully on a local TV station. Renzo uses the camera lens as a visitor to his apartment, offering romance and ad-vice to the little woman at home, who, through TV's magic and elec-tronics, is literally as near the romancer as is the ground glass in that lens. On the old show Renzo caused controversies right and left with his uninhibited advice to husbands and wives, and read letters from lonely ones who actually turned to him for fun.

The new show, on another network, comes to us by way of kinescope, and it shouldn't have happened to Renzo.

All intimacy and immediacy are gone. "The Continental" is reduced to a dinner-jacketed figure removed from the camera by as much as twenty feet at times. He is badly lighted, and seemed to us frightened to death. Maybe knowing a full nation of viewers can see you does that. In any event, he acted more like "Huck Finn" in a first meeting with "Becky Thatcher" than like a continental lover wooing an apartment visitor oh.so-dangerously.

The elaborate set and real champagne in the glasses should have lent to Renzo's show. Instead, long pauses between his seemingly edited remarks, and long distances between him and the supposed-to-be-spoken-to housewife reduced the big splash of "The Continental's" return to a sorry fifteen minutes of kinescope film depicting a tired-looking, pale-faced man making with the foreign flavor from too far away.

This is a classic example of what can happen to a local show getting "the treatment." It doesn't always improve the product .-- J.P.

Even As You and I

Even the "walking encyclopedia" forgets, just as do you and I.

Because of John Kieran's amazingly retentive memory, a myth has sprung up to the effect that he never has been stumped, and that his knowledge encompasses all fields. This, however, is not true.

His devoted but skeptical son, John Kieran, Jr., tipped this myth when asked by a condescending acquaintance whether he was as smart as his father. Kieran, Jr., re-plied. "No, sir! But I do know where I was yes. terday, and who was with me, which is generally more than father does.

of fact, if you ask him what day of the week it is, you have only one chance in seven of getting the right answer."

Another family anecdote about Kieran's apparent "absentmindedness" and lack of knowledge is the time he said to his horrified daughter: "Who is this Sinatra? I met him today, and he strikes me as a nice fellow. I understand he sings.

(You can see John Kieran remember all the things he does know Sundays at 5:45 p.m. on KNXT's Channel 2!)

By Dorothy Gardiner and Dick Gar-ton, stars of KTLA's "Handy Hints," Monday through Friday, 6:15 p.m.

Each week we pick the best Handy Hint sent directly to TV-Radio Life, 6361 Selma Avenue, Hollywood 28, and use it, with your name and address, use it, with your name and address, in this column as well as on the air over KTLA, Friday evening at 6:45. A lovely gift will be sent to everyone whose hint is used here as KTLA-TV-Radio Life Hint of the week. 1

Here is this week's winner: Mrs. Lucy Martin, 4539 Eagle Rock Blvd., Eagle Rock, Calif.

The hint is:

A handy box can be made by fasten-ing casters to the corners of a fruit lug. It can be used for hauling the clothes basket to and from the line. You can add screen door handles to the sides and it becomes a play wagon for the children. Also, you can tie a rope to the handle and you can haul cleaning supplies from room to room. You'll find this box will become quite handy in your home.

THE NEXT TIME YOUR PEARLS BREAK, TRY THIS: STRING YOUR PEARLS ON TROUT LEADER. This way, you'll never have to worry about them breaking and you won't have to bother with a needle either.

WITH VIRGINIA WEST

There's always something new on KECA-TV.... This time we'd like to call your attention to the "Tootsie Hippodrome," the new Sunday show seen at 12:15 p.m., for Sweets Company of America, Inc. . . With John Reed King as emcee the quarter-hour quiz program is designed especially for teen-age viewers, and features as entertainers top acts from the carnival midways of America. . . . We think everyone will enjoy "Tootsie Hippodrome." . . . Another recent addition to your weekly Channel Seven viewing is the exciting drama series titled "Rebound" seen on Friday nights at 9 o'clock. . . Sponsored by the Pack-ard Motor Car Company, "Rebound" ard Motor Car Company, brings viewers a new type of dramatic offering with novel endings, similar in style to the famous short stories of O. Henry.

> KECA-TV's popular day-time "Frances

Langford - Don

Ameche Show."

seen Monday thru Friday from noon to one o'clock, has a new sponsor

for three 15minute segments weekly

MARY McADOO

ers Company. . . Speaking of daytime shows, here's a recent picture of Mary McAdoo, whose "At Home" show is heard every Monday, Wednesday and Friday at 2:30. We know you're a in the KECA-TV lineup. . . . For ex-ample, for the politically minded viewer, there's "America Votes," now seen on Tuesday nights from 9 to 10. To help you keep up with events and problems of these present days, to know the leaders of your community better, we recommend "America Votes." . . . Then there's the new television version of America's Town Meet-ing, seen every Sunday afternoon at 3:30. Here you see and "get acquainted" with important figures in politics ... science ... and other fields ... the men and women who help to shape your destiny . . . and mine. And during this election year, ABC is already working on plans for giving you, the viewer, complete coverage of both the big party conventions in July, and of election results in November.

PICK of the PIX by Aubrey Dahl

The Screen Actors Guild and the Independent Motion Picture Producers Association have recently signed an agreement, covering about seventy films made since 1948, which stipulates that actors shall receive 12½ per cent of their original pay when the picture is sold to television. This ar-rangement is long overdue, of course, and should prove a boon to film players, but I can think of many performances for which the actors were lucky to collect the first time.

The following are not necessarily the "pick of the pix," since the movie menu is pretty skimpy this week, but might more properly be labeled "flicker fare warning."

"The Hairy Ape." Based on the fa-mous play by Eugene O'Neill, this ver-quite so hoary.

sion takes considerable liberties with the original, but, even so, manages to tell the story fairly well. A ship's stoker, played by William Bendix, hears himself referred to as a Wm. Bendix Wm. Bendix Susan Hayward, and in his efforts to prove he's as good as she is, invades her apartment where he soon becomes convinced that they occupy approxi-mately the same level. In the play, the stoker winds up dead in a zoo monkey house, strangled by a real hairy ape. The picture's ending is not

"Betrayed." This tale of murder and romance features Kim Hunter, before her smash hit in "Streetcar Named Desire," Dean Jagger, before his Oscar-winning performance in "Twelve O'Clock High," and Robert Mitchum, before. A creaky plot involving a young lady married to a murderer and the brash young man who tries to help her, keeps the picture from going any-where, but the presence of the aforementioned personalities makes it reasonably acceptable.

"Hell's House." A very early Bette Davis-Pat O'Brien epic about bootleg-ging and reformatories. Interesting only because it offers Miss Davis in the unrewarding role of the hero's blonde girl friend, a character she es-says with scarcely a hint of the unique facets of personality which were to give her such continued success.

"Tanks a Million." One of the half-dozen or so Hal Roach comedies about the army, with William Tracy and Joe Sawyer. Most of you who idly turn the dial looking for a movie have prob-ably seen this one, since it's been played on local television several times already, but if you haven't, it might amuse you with its simple, di-react might he face turns of humor rect, pie-in-the-face type of humor, always good for a laugh and usually missing from present-day movie comedy fare.

MANY TV AND RADIO PEOPLE ATTENDED the Christopher Awards dinner at Beverly Hills Hotel's Crystal Room. Among interested guests were the Jerry Colonnas, Tom and Elyse Harmon, Greer Garson, Deborah Kerr, Fred Brisson, Tom Lewis and his ever-gracious wife, Loretta Young, Ruth Hussey and her husband, Bob Longnecker, and Mr. and Mrs. Finlay Currie, a most charming couple (he played St. Peter in "Quo Vadis").

FATHER KELLER, WHO FOUNDED the Awards in 1945, followed the presentations with an absorbing inspirational talk in which he outlined the spiritual aims of the project and sin-gled out instances of heart-warming donations to the Christopher fund. Twenty-five thousand in prizes was presented in the creative fields of pictures, books, TV production, radio, newspapers and magazines. "Cavalnewspapers and magazines. "Caval-cade of America" was honored for its "Path of Praise" broadcast of last November 20 and NBC-TV was ac-claimed for "Amahl and the Night Visitors," first TV opera which was viewed at Christmastime. It did this reporter's heart good to see radio and television receiving recognition on equal footing with older media. I hope Father Keller and others connected with the affair were sufficiently pleased with the first Hollywood presentation of the Christopher Awards that the ceremonies will originate here again.

LAST WEEK TV-RADIO LIFE LOST a staunch supporter when Mrs. Bess A. Hoy passed on. A fascinating wo-man, she had traveled into every nook and cranny of the world and enriched many occasions with recollections of her experiences. She was a long-time friend of writer Jean Holloway's family, and liked to relate stories of Jean when she first arrived in New York determined to make good on her own. Her pride and confidence in the wellknown writer's success were tremen-dous and I am sure will be missed, along with Mrs. Hoy's other unforgettable qualities.

CARL DUDLEY AND DON MCNA-MARA showed me through Dudley Pictures' fine plant in Beverly Hills the other day. Most of you remember Don from his KFI days; Dudley is a cousin of movie actress Doris Dudley; he's done some pretty interesting stuff on his own.

BOTH CARL AND DON WENT TO HOLLYWOOD HIGH, where they had a nodding acquaintance. Dudley recounts an almost unbelievable saga of travel and antics in Tahiti, Australia and England . . . knowing nothing about script-writing, he wrote scripts for pictures and what's more, short subjects, finally, almost accidentally, went out on an assignment to do a 16-mm. film for one of the railroads and was convinced that this was an important business.

STARTING IN A SEVEN-BY-NINE OFFICE, Dudley began writing and producing color film and today his firm is outgrowing its third set of quarters. "This World of Ours" and "This Land of Ours" are two of the company's top outputs. Carl's old friend, Don, is now heading the TV operations for the concern which is operations for the concern, which is planning all kinds of TV fare from half-hour shows to commercials. Incidentally, Dudley is doing the Desilu "I Love Lucy" commercials, and from

THE MACKAY-BERRY RHUBARB

Just can't let the week go by without commenting about the recent fra-cas on KTTV's Monday night wrestling show.

It seems that many viewers ob-jected to the way "Wild Red" Berry interrupted Roger Mackay, after I had presented him with TV-RL's "Most Popular Wrestler" trophy. The whole incident was an excellent example of what a powerful influence public opinion has on TV.

After the presen-tation that night, everybody was happy.

Roger had a big grin on his face looking at the trophy. "I've wanted something like this all my life," he declared. As a representative of TV-Radio Life, I was satisfied that our magazine had been given its full chara of credit share of credit.

Bill Welsh was all smiles, and even "Wild Red" flashed one of his infrequent grins. In the locker room, Red and I kidded each other about the slip of the tongue he had made when he mentioned the name of another magazine.

Even the sponsor was happy with the entire proceedings.

Then, during the entire following week, the storm broke loose. Letters poured into KTTV. Poor Bill Welsh (a helpless victim, trapped in the middle of the mess) was flooded with criticism. I even got a post card.

As a consequence, last Monday Bill had to make a public apology to Roger and me, in order to satisfy the irate public.

So any time you think that the viewing public has no authority in determining what goes on the TV screen, just remember this little inciden'.

It was enough to convince me what an influence you have on TV. And that's exactly the way it should be.

FISTIC FIASCO

With the exception of Rocky's fly-ing fists, the Marciano-Savold fiasco from Philadelphia last week was one terrific flop.

Savold had nerve, but nothing else. His manager would have saved the thirty-five-year-old fighter from a ter-rible beating, and millions of TV viewers from six rounds of boredom, by throwing in the towel as soon as Rocky flung one of his lethal lefts.

After watching that post-fight cigar clambake, headed by the usually re-liable Mel Allen, I've decided to switch to marijuana.

When and if they meet, Marciano will flatten Jersey Joe Walcott like the proverbial pancake. There's only one guy around town who will be any match for the "Brockton Block Buster." And that, of course, is Ezzard Charles.

Ezzard is not getting any younger either, and if he doesn't hustle, he too will end up in the slaughterhouse alongside Savold and thirty-eight other Marciano victims.

There was one bright spot that night in the boxing picture: the amateur bouts from South Gate Arena tele-cast by KTTV. These kids didn't pick up the pay checks that the pros did, but they sure gave the crowd its money's worth.

Elmo Roper Airs Election Issues

As head of a coast-to-coast public-opinion-research organization, Elmo Roper, public-opinion analyst, will begin a series of weekly reports on the major issues of the 1952 elections over NBC radio network, February 17. He will analyze the grass-roots reports of his 300 "samplers" on analyze the grass-roots reports of his 300 "samplers" on his fifteen-minute weekly radio reports. Roper said he "will dig out what Americans think the major issues of the 1952 campaign are, and which candidate's approach to each of these issues the majority approves." It looks like radio is starting early to keep in step with the rapid-fire pace set by the fighting politicians.

Roper's radio comments and his telecasts will be part of NBC's pre-convention and pre-election political cover-The public-opinion analyst will be a member of age. NBC's news staff at both the Republican and Democratic conventions in Chicago next July, and will stand by to analyze the up-to-the-minute returns on election night next November.

"Irma" Gets Citation

Although "My Friend Irma" does not appear on her broadcasts to be the brightest young businesswoman around, she was awarded a citation by one of the coun-try's best-known organizations of business and professional women, as the "most resourceful business wom an of the year." The women's group, known as "Sat-urday's Children," is one of the New York City branches of the National Federation of Business and Professional Women's Clubs. The citation was in-spired by the offer on the part of Marie Wil-son, star of "Irma," to

Gene Norman Goes to KLAC

Gene Norman, the smooth-voiced disc jockey you have Gene Norman, the smooth-volced disc jockey you have heard for years on KFWB, has made a contract switch and from now on will be heard from 8:00 p.m. to mid-night over KLAC, beginning February 18. Larry Finley will take Norman's spot for the time being, his show originating from the Savoy from 10:00 p.m. to 4:00 a.m. Norman's station change came as a result of working out conflicts with the deejay's TV and jazz-concert commit-ments. Don Fedderson general manager at KLAC-radio. ments. Don Fedderson, general manager at KLAC-radio, said Norman's signing "completes the line-up of disc jockeys on our station."

Comics Will Fade Off Radio

Listeners will suffer next season when signs of the airwaves economy are felt in their living rooms. Tight radio budgets, with money going from radio into video, will force old-time favorites Crosby, Hope, Bergen, Benny and Skelton off the airwaves to devote full time and talent to television. Benny is the only funny man who has not decided to quit radio for sure next season. Big-time sponsors who put these comedians on the air have definitely scheduled their money for television, because the advertising pays off in much bigger returns, so they say. This news only leaves us wondering if maybe some big spon-sors and some top talent aren't forgetting the power of a great many radios still being used throughout the country.

Hollywood Stars Broadcast

When the Hollywood Stars take to the ball field their games will be carried by KFWB. KFWB will carry the home games live and re-create the contests while the team is on the road. Mickey Heath, former player, man-ager and coach, who recently moved here from Milwaukee, where he called the games for nine years, will be at the mike.

Eisenhower Is "Perfect Husband"

With people who know their husbands, it's Eisenhower two-to-one. The five-star general and aspirant for the GOP nomination has just been named "The Perfect Hus-band" in a nationwide survey conducted by George Fen-neman through his ABC network program, "The Perfect Husband." "Perfect Husbands" in other divisions were before Varues for redie TV. Fred MacMurray for weight Robert Young for radio-TV, Fred MacMurray for movies, Leo Durocher for sports and Henry Ford, Jr., for business.

Your Cue Shows You May Like "Mysterious Traveler"

Sunday, 1:00 p.m. KHJ

A recent broadcast of the "Mysterious Traveler," one of Mutual's Sunday mystery lineup air shows, proved that when radio drama is good it can be very good. "Mysteri-ous Traveler" will hold your attention and never fails to tell an intriguing tale based on supernatural science fiction or straight detective.

On this particular air show, "Stranger in the House," a story was told of a young couple who bought a house in Vermont only to be haunted by the ghost of a beautiful woman who had been murdered in the house years before. It was the young husband who was of particular interest to this ghost, who was always leav. ing a trail of narcissus perfume. When the man of the house displayed signs of madness his wife called in a doctor. This led to more contention, as the husband was frequently interrupted in his intimate conversations with the feminine ghost. After the house burned down and the husband was taken away everyone believed that the ghost had been thoroughly eliminated. Later, however, when the couple were driving along in their car, the scent of narcissus returned and the husband, under the ghost's influence again, murdered his wife.

It was a good story line and was especially well scripted. Lyle Sudrow, the husband, and Bryna Raeburn, the wife, used control in enacting very emotional scenes. Both per-formers gave an excellent dramatic performance, which is seldom equalled in any but the top dramatic shows on radio.

Maurice Tarplin does a good job each week as the "Mysterious Traveler," the only consistent member of the cast. It is written, directed, and produced by David Kogan and Robert A. Brown, and originates from New York City. -A.G.

laughable on last week's NBC "Big Show" that Tallu herself could not keep from laughing. Joan knows how to make the most of good lines, uses good comic timing and never seems to be unaware of the fact that she has a vast listening audience who expect her to always be funny. ... To Jack Benny's air-show interpretation of the confusion found only in a railroad station. Maybe it's an old gag, but some-how Benny and his gang make it sound just ridiculous enough to entertain listeners. Which only goes to prove that Benny had better not leave radio, although he claims that's what he plans to do, or else a lot of good entertainment will be missed.

Music Man for Martin and Lewis

Dick Stabile, musical director for comics Dean Martin and Jerry Lewis, KFI, 9:00 p.m. Friday, is kept busy mak-ing music and being the perfect foil, on and off stage, for the verbal jibes of NBC's zany comedy team.

Stabile was born May 29, 1909, in Newark, New Jersey. When he was fifteen he joined the Joe E. Brown show, "Captain Jinx," as a sax man, after six months of lessons. From there he went to "Good News," then to "Strike Up the Band," where he introduced George Gershwin's "The Man L over " with a brilliant say sale. Man I Love," with a brilliant sax solo.

From 1929 to 1936 this musical director toured with Ben Bernie, playing such spots as the Chicago World's Fair, College Inn, and other swank locations. He formed his own band in 1936, recording through the years, and then in 1942 he signed with the Coast Guard and for three years was a Chief Petty Officer in the music department. When he left the Coast Guard he again formed his own band, and it was while playing in Hollywood in 1947 that he was teamed with Martin and Lewis. Since then he has done all their radio, TV, theater, club and motion-picture work and only last month inked a seven-year pact with them.

Stabile is married to the former Trudy Ewan, a professional singer. They have two children, Richard Steven, four, and Martin Lewis, two.

"Floating Studio"

If you want to talk business with Southern California's newest radio station, KBIG, these days you may reach its staff at any one of three locations: headquarters and main studios in Hollywood, transmitter and studios currently building on Catalina Island, or somewhere in between the two. The "in between" stage is the new forty two-foot express cruiser La Belle, fully equipped by the John Poole Broadcasting Company for communication with any part of the mainland at any time.

Now being used to transport personnel and make fieldstrength measurements of a temporary transmitter, the KBIG Chris-Craft also will be available for special-event pickups when the station begins broadcasting with 10,000 watts on 740 kilocycles in April.

Glamorous-and Talented Too!

Fran Carlon plays the heroic reporter and assistant to ace newspaperman Steve Wilson of the Illustrated Press, whose civic - improvement campaigns have been the exciting theme of CBS Radio's "Big Town" weekly dramas since the series' inaugura-tion in 1937.

After years of portraying light - hearted teen-agers on the air, versatile Mary Shipp now plays Miss Spalding, night-school teacher who serves as inspiration for the bewildered Luigi Basco (J. Carrol Naish) in CBS Radio's comedy "Life With Luigi."

Terry Cooke, c/o Radio 4BH, Adelaide St., Brisbane, Queensland, Australia.

I would like pen friends in your country, can you help? I am eighteen years old and work in radio and am also a record collector. I would prefer friends with the same interests, of either sex.

Russell Koster, Van Nuys, Calif.

Would like a program schedule on FM radio and also some pictures and a story.

We have a story on FM coming up in our Anniversary issue.

A Teen-ager, North Hollywood, Calif.

I have some comments on TV I would like everyone to know. Harry Babbitt, oh boy, isn't he wonderful. He's the nicest man I've ever known on television. It would be a dream if I could talk to him. Please have less or none beer com-mercials. There would be less trouble at home if there were no beer commercials.

Less trouble, granted; but also fewer sponsored TV shows.

When we got our set a year ago, we were wrestling fans, but with so many other really good programs, why bother? But why must these people take dirty wrestling so seriously? Who would watch real wrestling in which one hold is kept for even an hour? How dull. In the last year, TV has improved so, we really enjoy it.

As president of the James Family Fan Club, now five years old, honoring Harry James, the famous horn-tootin man of the Sunday evening Harry James TV show, I feel sure that amongst the readers of your swell TV-Radio Life mag, there are many fans that would like to join our club. For information regarding membership send a three cent stamped envelope to the above address.

After reading a recent issue, I have come to the conclusion that you have a writer on your staff with very little taste for talent. I read the reviews on the Frank Sinatra show. Well, I think you're all wet. I happened to see the show reviewed and thought it was very good. . . .

In the East Coast magazine they say Sinatra is giving Milton Berle a real run for his money. Out here in the West we are lucky enough to be able to see both shows. Then we have to run into some "Meat Head" reporter, who doesn't know a good show from a grade "B" Western. Isn't America a wonderful country?

Who does one of your writers think he is saying Liber-ace uses faulty grammar? No one notices what kind of grammar he uses when he plays the piano and turns on his charm. You can be jealous but it doesn't have to show. Whoops, my dear! Your grammar is showing!

I just wanted to put my two cents worth in and tell you I think your magazine is the best TV and radio magazine there is. I enjoy all the pic-tures and also think the way you list the radio programs in the square at the end of the page of the radio "highlights" is very smart.

I think Jack Webb is wonderful. On the radio he sounds as though he were right in your living room. And on TV he acts wonderful.

TV-RADIO LIFE

It's a peculiar fact that at certain times certain territories produce a crop of great wrestlers. Years ago the Bohemians in Nebraska predominated the wrestling scene with such greats as Stecker, Pesek, the Duseks and the Pintos.

Later the scene shifted to Oklahoma with the giant Indian grapplers, Roe-buck, StrongBow (of course), McLain and Jennings, Now Minnesota is the recognized hotbed of wrestler production. The land of 10,000 lakes seems to have cornered the market on contem-porary wrestling greats — Nagurski, Gustasson, Pazandak, Johnson and Levy—all different nationalities coming from one seething place.

Now campaigning here in Southern California are Polish Joe Pazandak, better known as The Champ, and Leonard "Butch" Levy. "Butch" is without doubt the greatest Jewish heavyweight wrestler the profession has ever known. Not only is he a great wrestler but a fine all-around athlete. He is rated as an all-time great in both professional and collegiate football and had the honor of playing here in Los Angeles with both the Rams and the Dons. Although he is big, weighing around 245 pounds, he has the speed of a lightweight.

Principally through the power of KTLA's transcriptions of the wrestling matches from Long Beach, local fans are robbed of another prominent wrestler-Mr. Moto. This Nipponese strongman is leaving this week for an ex-tended tour of the East which will occupy four or five months time.

To me, Mr. Moto is one of the most Page Thirty-tour unusual wrestlers I have ever met. He is one of the greatest catch-as-catchcan grapplers ever to come out of the Land of the Rising Sun. He doesn't win all of his matches, he doesn't lose all of them, he doesn't have a fan that I know of-and yet he remains a top box-office attraction both here and throughout the nation.

Wild Red Berry

Lil Berry told me something very in-teresting about her husband, Wild Mild Red Berry. Periodically Red takes time out for a thorough physical check-up. Not long ago, he went to the famous Mayo Clinic. After much ex-aminations the doctors said "Your body is just chout the most broken up. body is just about the most broken up, scarred mess we have ever seen—but the manager greeted Welk courteously, evidenced his complete familiarity with the "Champagne Music," and hired the maestro and his boys on the spot. He was only mildly puzzled at never before having been ap-proached by the maestro's agent!

Lawrence Welk likes people sincerely likes them. And if there was ever a human quality that affected others more pleasantly than even the bubbling brew after which the sparkling syncopation of the Welk band is named, this is it. you have the constitution and condition of a sixteen-year-old boy."

I was talking with Mrs. Jim Mitchell the other day. She said that Jim's famous pipe collection now numbers around 4000 and that she has given him the house to accommodate them and moved out into the garage.

Yes, friends, the Johnny Demchuk you see at local arenas is the same fellow who worked here several years ago. Johnny has been ruling the roost of the junior heavyweights around Columbus, Ohio, for some time.

Dr. Lee Grable

Dr. Lee Grable, sensational young wrestling hypnotist, told me confi-dentially that he plans to leave us soon to return to his home in Arizona and sweep down into Texas for a couple of months.

The suave Doctor of Philosophy is a popular speaker at luncheon and dinner clubs everywhere. His demonstrations of mass and individual hypnotism leave guests gaping.

A Cowboy With Know-How

How Dude Martin Jumbed From Bronco-Busting to TV Production

By Sara Hannah

OUR COVER MAN

Age—36 years Height—6 feet 3½ inches Weight—186 pounds

Born-On a ranch in Merced

County, California Astrological sign—Aries, March 23

Hobby—Hunting Likes—Western music and philosophy

Most memorable person—Jack Strinbeck, his first sponsor, who taught him about show business when he would have a horse all his own . . . not of the day when he would have a TV show all of his own. And he certainly was not, at that tender age, harboring ambitions of being video executive producer at KTTV.

Was it easy, this jump from a riding cowboy to a TV singing cowboy? Dude's comment was, "You have to be very lucky to get away with it."

Bay-Area Experience

Before bringing his Dude Martin Variety Show with a "Western flavor" to the 9:00 p.m. Wednesday spot at Channel 11, Dude spent almost twenty years in the field of Western music. He roamed the coun-try on personal appearances with his musical cownexes and became well musical cowpokes and became well known as a radio personality. During most of this time he originated his broadcasts from San Francisco. In the Bay Area he gained the enviable record of never being off the air for a week and of never being unsponsored during his eighteen years in the business.

When you talk with Dude Martin today, it's a tossup as to whether the conversation will concern "mood setting," "across - the - room sound," "video camera positions" or "folk tunes with a Western beat." As KTTV's top producer he spends much of his off-camera time solving programming and sales problems.

Knows His Business

If there are any who doubt that February 22, 1952

this singing cowboy knows his business you have only to be around when he remarks, "For success in any medium you have to have two things. A show that will sell your sponsor's product, and a show that people are interested in watching. And you've just got to remember that the sponsor is not an evil you have to put up with, because if you don't sell products you won't be around very long.'

Dude can just as enthusiastically talk about his Western variety tele-cast and its performers. When asked about his comic, Hank Penny, Dude said, "He's a very great personality. A natural comedian, who has the heart for being a great comic. Hank is very serious about this business of being funny. He's what I call the biggest hard-luck guy in the busi-ness . . he hurts himself on every show."

Dude thinks his singers, Sue Thompson and Dick Stewart, have "tremendous appeal and are a rare combination with top rating with the bobby-sox crowd." His formula for putting on a good show goes something like this: "Get a gang together that acts like they're having fun. Keep the show moving. And make it a family-type show, with something that will appeal to every member of the family."

A Shy Guy

This executive-producer Westernman admits: "I always want to be on-camera part of the time, but I get almost as much kick out of prepar-ing other shows and viewing them as I do out of getting into the act myself."

Dude appears slightly shy to those who meet him, but at the same time an extremely warm, friendly person who just doesn't know how to be pretentious. He insists that he doesn't do anything special when he's not busy with video, because "there is no such time." His hobby is hunting, but he said, "I've not been hunting since going into tele-vision. I used to spend a third of my time at it."

After taking that gigantic leap from the rodeo show to television production, Dude has a very modest recipe for success. "I have been interested in all phases of show business. I always took fliers off into other channels of the business. But there's just no substitute for experi-ence. I love all of it."

DUDE MARTIN IS a show-business cowboy who knows more than how to strum a guitar and sing a bad-lands ballad. He is seen regularly on Channel 11, Wednesday, 9:00 p.m.

HANK PENNY has the laugh on Dude Martin. Also seen on the KTTV Dude Martin Show are singers Sue Thompson and Dick Stewart.

TV Turns Time Topsy-Turvy

-But Not for Don Ameche

By Ted Hilgenstuhler

"NO, NO!" SHOUTS a listener as Don and Fran sing a duet. Fran, of course, is one of the nation's most popular songstresses, and Don also has a pleasant voice, although he himself admits that he won't be giving Mario Lanza any competition this year.

> URING THE past five years, television has disrupted the daily routines of millions of people.

Viewers stay up at crazy hours to watch a late movie, or take time out in the afternoon to catch a favorite show. And although TV has been a godsend for many an entertainer, many of them have complained that the new medium is more fatiguing and nerve-wracking than any other medium.

With this in mind, it was a pleasant surprise to listen to stage, screen, radio and TV veteran Don Ameche.

A Normal Life

At the present time, he and Frances Langford are co-starring in a daily variety video show emanating from New York.

Immediately after one of his daily telecasts from The Little Theater, a converted ABC-TV studio just off Times Square, Don stood in the middle of the stage, said a few words of thanks to the departing audience, puffed on his cigarette, and then explained how he felt about his new job.

"For the first time in many years. TV has given me the chance to lead a normal life again, with regular hours. Just like the average businessman, I work from nine in the morning until five at night.

"It's a lot of hard work putting on a full-hour variety show, but I love it. Working with Fran, of course, makes it doubly delightful."

Off-Camera Comments

other for several years, but they made their first big hit as a team doing the popular radio sketch called "The Bickersons." It was only natural that TV would grab them sooner or later.

While interviewing Don, Frances Langford was also introduced. However, she was obviously more interested in her handsome hubby, Jon Hall, who met her backstage immediately after the noon-hour performance. They have been married since 1938, and are still extremely devoted to each other.

Don is married to the former Honore Pendergast and the couple own a beautiful home in Shawnee, Pennsylvania. They have six children, four sons—Donnie, seventeen;

Ronnie, fifteen; Tommie, eleven; Lonnie, ten; and two adopted daughters, both five.

Before leaving The Little Theater, Tony "Pizza" Romano, the popular band leader and singer, had a few words to say. Tony is a native Californian from Fresno.

"Say hello to the folks on the Coast," Tony remarked. "I certainly would prefer to work out of Hollywood, and I understand TV is really building up out there. Maybe we'll soon get a chance to do some shows from there. I sure hope so."

Conversely, Hollywood would also like to see Tony, Don and Fran, and their entire cast, originate from the Pacific Coast. It is the type of show that any city would be proud of.

Young Old - Timer

Triple Treat Donald O'Connor Keeping Up With Fast Company

By Mildred Ross

ONALD O'CONNOR's the nicest kid we've ever worked with and destined to be a great star in television." This statement reflects the opinions not only of "Colgate Comedy Hour's" producer, Ernie Glucksman, and musical director, Al Goodman, but also of many others in the industry.

O'Connor is keeping up with vaudeville's old-timers more successfully than most of us keep up with the Joneses. At the age of twentyeight, he is a youngster alongside the Bennys, Burnses and Berles, although he's been in show business for more than a quarter of a century. The old-timers hold Don in the highest esteem, while he admires them and respects their constructive suggestions. George Burns, Jimmy Durante and Eddie Cantor have on many occasions spoken to Don like Dutch uncles offering their younger counterpart the benefit of their wisdom.

Background

The cliche of having been raised in a trunk fits Don like a glove. His parents were troupers; his dad, John E. "Chuck" O'Connor, was one of Ringling Brothers' greatest acrobats. Year in and year out the O'Connors trouped back and forth across the country. At thirteen months of age, Donald joined the family act with his toddler's version of the "black bottom"... at three he started tap dancing and at four added singing to his repertoire.

In 1938, while appearing at a Hollywood theater with the act. he was spotted by a movie executive and signed for the role of Bing Crosby's kid brother in "Sing You Sinners." Winning a contract at Paramount, Don made eleven pictures in one year.

Accustomed to barnstorming across the country, the family soon grew restless, and teen-ager Don deserted Hollywood temporarily to join his family on bookings that extended for a two-year period.

February 22, 1952

Don was making "Francis Goes to West Point" on the Universal-International lot, where we met him in his dressing room. It was a far cry from the flea-bag hotels and backstage holes in the wall of Don's earlier trouping days. The "dressing room" was a tastefully and completely furnished three-room bungalow, consisting of a fully equipped kitchen, dining alcove, living room, wardrobe room (including a barber chair) and shower.

While we lunched on some delicious ravioli whipped up by Don and his actor-buddy, Phil Garriss ... and the boys can really cook ... our conversation somehow drifted to religion. Instead of dodging the subject as most people do, especially those in the limelight, Don discussed it freely and frankly.

Unassuming

Don's quiet manner belies his

THE YOUNG OLD-TIMER is chagrined by the spry oldtimer Ed Wynn, during a guest appearance on the "Colgate Comedy Hour." FLASHBACK OF Donald O'Connor, who was a seasoned trouper at the age of five, and as he appears today . . . a versatile singer, dancer and actor, energy and vitality seen when he's on camera. His flamboyant comical characterizations are hidden beneath a self-effacing off-stage demeanor. Although he was brought up in show business and lacked the conventional home life, Don has become neither calloused nor blasé by the ups and downs of show business ... a tribute to his charming mother.

The young old timer has no objections to his own children appearing behind footlights. He has plans for his daughter's (Donna, now five) television debut in the near future. Momentarily they're rehearsing a "socko" routine and dad and daughter may some day soon be sharing bows, carrying on the family tradition.

THE BEST IN THE P IN THE P

BIG RIB ON THE TIDE SHOW FOLLOWED Dinah Shore's debut on her own TV series. Helping to make a production number from Dinah's "Shrimp Boats" rendition was Jack Smith, right, shooting a stuffed duck from Frank DeVol's head.

Radio's Answer to TV

Is Supplied by Pranksters Who Gleefully Heckled New Video Click, Miss D. Shore

singing star of CBS's popular Jack Smith -Dinah Shore - G i n n y Simms Show, debuted her new television program recently, she dramatized the difference between the radio and TV mediums with a comedy skit built around the song "Shrimp Boats." "You can't just sing the song and let it go at that when you're on television," she explained. "You have to be in costume surrounded by jumping props and dancing girls. In, TV every song is a production. On the radio you just sing and there isn't any production." Thus it was with some relief after her strenuous bow into TV that Dinah returned to her radio show and the less complicated chore of warbling into a mike. But Dinah hadn't reckoned with her radio coworkers. As soon as she started singing the first chorus of "Shrimp Boats," they set about surprising her with radio's answer to television's "song productions."

As her co-star, Jack Smith, forced her to continue her number despite the mayhem that broke loose about her, Dinah and her "Shrimp Boats" were appropriately showcased. Posters advocating vacations at the beach were noisily tacked up around her, producer Bill Brennan set up a restaurant on-stage called "Dinah's Shrimp Bowl," engineer Harry Essman supplied the atmospheric sounds of the surf, wind, boats, and a foghorn, music conductor Frank DeVol in slicker, boots, and sou'-wester carefully aimed an ancient firearm and bagged a stuffed duck which fell at Dinah's feet surrounded by a shower of feathers, the members of the band joined lustily in the echo passages answering Dinah's frantic attempts to deliver a sweet chorus, and Jack Smith hauled up a fifty pound argebra on stranges the a fifty pound anchor on stage as the show's secretaries, Nancy Reid and Vivian Cooper, came down the aisles of the theater carrying trays and shouting their wares, "Shrimp! Get your fresh shrimp!"

"When radio decides to do a production number," grinned Dinah after her giggling had subsided, "it sure makes a production out of it!"

February 22, 1952

l. Why don't you play your har-monica on your TV show?

I do play it once in awhile - not because of any requests. . . I just like to hear it myself.

2. Do you dream of retiring in your old age to a small Hoosier town?

I'm not going to wait - I go back now as often as I can.

3. What does Indiana have that can't be had in any other state?

I could say Hoosiers, but beyond that there's a dry, humorous attitude about life in general that I consider typical of Indiana.

4. Do you write your own TV scripts? If so, do they take much preparation?

Just about everything but the dramatic portion and then I gotta fiddle around with that. I never get a chance to fix all the things I'd like to, and sometimes I'd like to hop out to California before the kinescope gets there and fix it up.

5. What is your most memorable performance on the stage?

"Inside USA" on Broadway was a high spot for me.

6. If you were not a humorist, what would you rather be? Why?

A vagabond combined with a writer. Then I could travel and writer. Then I could be see. . . . write about the things I'd see. . . . I'd All Hoosiers like to travel. . . sail around the world, maybe a couple a times, and write it up, and maybe somebody'd buy it.

7. If you had not been from Indiana, what state would you choose as your home state ... and why?

It'd be hard to make up my mind but I'd probably pick any of the Midwest states, I feel so much at home in them.

8. Do you think the pace of TV comics will eventually "kill them off"? If so, why?

It may not kill us off but it'll sure slow us down. . . . Actually, we do need more time to prepare our material

9. Is Herb Shriner your real name . . and did people ever call you Herbert?

Yes. Once in awhile when I was a kid someone'd call me that, but he'd never get away with it twice.

10. How do you believe a person can develop a good sense of humor?

Even those who are born with it have to continue to cultivate it ... mostly by reading and observing.

11. Among the great American humorists of the past, from which one did you learn the most?

Hoosier Comic Answers Twenty Questions On Making People Laugh

Is Born . . . Not Made"

HERB SHRINER, Hoosier comic, has set a new pattern for television comedy. His humor has been one of the outstanding developments to come out of 1951 video offerings. He is shown here with one of his stars, Naomi Riordan, on his ABC-TV 9:00 p.m. Thursday telecast.

No one particular one - whichever it was probably would be among these: Kin Hubbard, Will Rogers, Mark Twain, Ring Lardner, Stephen Leacock and George Ade.

HERB SHRINER: "A Real Clown

12. Do you believe there is a scarcity of good "humor" in America today? Explain.

There's always been a scarcity of good humor.

13. Who is your favorite comic . . . and why?

Groucho Marx. . . . He makes me laugh.

14. What's the funniest book you ever read ... and why?

Kin Hubbard's things ... and all the others, Mark Twain, Leacock, Ade, Rogers.

15. What do you like to do when you're not busy with your professional work?

Gq out sailing with my wife and daughter and wish I had more time to do it more often. Or maybe rummaging around in out-of-the-way places.

16. Do you plan to go on the road with a personal-appearance show again? If not, why not?

Yes. As soon as I feel that tele-vision has reached a broad enough scope. As a fellow who worked in front of vaudeville audiences before, I'd like to see it happen soon.

17. Do you believe a clown is born or made? Why?

A real clown is born. Certain types of people can't help but be funny whether or not they're in show business. You've met them around, in business, in the Army.

18. Do you have any extensive collections of books, jokes, records? Explain.

Always been a collector of almost anything, because there were always a lot of collectors a round home. Humor books, good music records, clocks (running and otherwise), tools and almost anything photographic, to name a few, have always been my collecting targets. .

19. Does your little girl, Indy, laugh at your jokes or do you have a special type of humor to amuse her with?

I tried some jokes on her the other day—she's six months old—and wasn't sure whether she was laugh-ing or crying until I found a pin sticking her.

20. Did your wife's "sense of humor" have anything to do with your meeting and marrying her?

Her name is "Pixie," and she has a personality to match it, so maybe that has something to do with it.
