VOICE of a FRIEND

with the Confidence long-time Friendships give 1929 marked Hal O'Halloran's first announcing with WLS. Naturally, he's an old friend to our listeners and especially to the youngsters, his favorites.

Chick Hurt, Jack Taylor, Smokey Lohman, Alan Crockett, the four Prairie Ramblers. The Ramblers started on WLS in 1931; their songs and music are as familiar as they are welcome throughout our four states.

In ADDITION to the pure entertainment value of Hal O'Halloran's hearty "Hello", his songs and friendly jokes; and the instrumental genius, vocalizing and comedy of the Prairie Ramblers is the plus value of their long years with WLS listeners; their hundreds and hundreds of personal appearances. Midwest America has been hearing Hal O'Halloran since 1929, the Ramblers since 1931, so it's only natural our listeners should look on these folks not only as entertainers, but as old friends as well.

That's the way it goes all day and every day on WLS. Announcers, comedians, singers, musicians, newsmen—they're all accepted as friends in the listening homes of our four-state area. Which makes WLS itself The Voice of a Friend. Friendship rests on mutual confidence. Confidence generates response. Response equals results for the advertisers who use WLS — the Voice of a Friend in Midwest Amercia.

Yankee's "Good Neighbor" Policy Creates ACCEPTANCE

Another winter — more time at home for Yankee listeners.

They are the listeners all over New England who dial their local stations for more listening —hours of music, drama, news and its analysis, sports — the infinite variety of superior Yankee Network entertainment which those hometown stations can give them.

There is neighborly acceptance of the local station, a friendly response that only a local enterprise, serving hometown merchants and taking part in the hometown activities, can command.

This is The Yankee Network's "Good Neighbor" policy — getting close to the people, close to the audience in each market, linking these many community audiences and markets together to make New England's great Yankee audience of 2,055,010 radio homes.

There are twenty-one of these "Good Neighbor" stations. They give closely knit primary coverage of the entire area — the closest approximation of 100% coverage you can buy.

—but then WCCO's 50,000 watts reach out across 139 counties of the Northwest and give us a long back fence. Despite the miles, these Northwest friends seem very close to us—and we to them, judging by the warm, neighborly letters they write..letters built of intimate, human facts about their everyday lives, problems and ambitions..letters that take us straight into their homes and hearts.

As neighborly as their invariable greeting that runs—"Dear WCCO..."

As friendly as the rough brown paper on which a Fairbault, Minn., farmer wrote: "Our radio is the same one that picked up Lincoln's Gettysburg address, but it works good and it's usually tuned to WCCO because that's the station we like best. The corn crop is pretty good and the hogs are coming along first rate. Hoping you are the same, I remain"

As heart-warming as the thank-you from a mother in Marshall, Minn., when WCCO arranged for her to talk with an American Ranger (guest of a CBS program) who knew her son, had seen him injured in combat, and was able to assure her of his safe recovery.

As inspiring as the V-mail letter from a wounded Air Forces man—and former WCCO listener—who tuned us in while flying over the South Pacific in a hospital plane and found it "like a touch from home".

As grateful as the letter from the Biwabik, Minn., parents we notified by phone to let them know their serviceman son would be heard that same day on a CBS-WCCO broadcast.

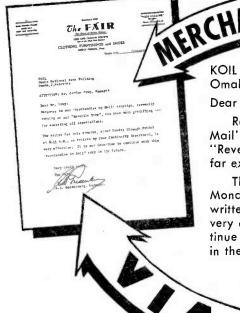

These are little letters, simple letters—yet WCCO never fails to acknowledge them all, fully and with equal friendliness, offering help and information when we can.

It's one of the many extra services that have brought us closer to our listeners, and made us even more genuinely a "Good Neighbor to the Northwest".

"Hobby Therapy" is probably the best description one can give to the fine work being done by Mrs. A. Sherman Hitchcock on her weekly WTIC broadcast, "How To Enter Contests And Win." Beginning nearly five years ago, the program was designed and has been very successful in helping WTIC listeners win prizes in national contests. The war, and particularly the great increase in the number of hospitalized veterans, gave enterprising Mrs. Hitchcock another idea. She is now encouraging her listeners to interest convalescing service men in contesting as a hobby for creating mental stimulation and serenity of mind. From all reports, the plan has met with heartening success, and has inspired some very generous praise from physicians.

These war veterans are now discovering what thousands of Southern New Englanders already know—Mrs. Hitchcock's "Contest Club Of The Air" gets them in on the "pay-off." Prizes awarded to her followers range from $25 War Bonds to a mink coat, airplane, and a check for $10,000. Results like that make contest activities profitable as well as pleasurable.

WTIC's role in this worth-while undertaking is, perhaps, an unusual one for a radio station to assume, but we believe that our continuing interest in the health, happiness, and well-being of our community of listeners is more than reciprocated by their loyalty to us—and to you who use our facilities.

FCC Ponders New Clear-Channel Policy

May Act Before Conference At Rio

A REVISED clear-channel policy, which may bring new allocations principles affecting all standard broadcast stations, is being considered by the FCC prior to the inter-American radio and communications conference to be held in Rio de Janeiro June 1-2. This meeting is to be held in preparation for the next world telecommunications conference, which is expected after

The mooted question of Class I-A clear channels and whether they should be duplicated on a coastwise basis or "broken down" entirely is inevitably drawn into the picture. With 10 applications now pending for duplication and with many others in process, awaiting only the lifting of the war-imposed freeze orders, the FCC is understood to be desirous of determining its policy before considering applications on their individual merits.

Hearing Possible

If a proceeding is decided upon. it will be with relation to paragraph 3.25 of the FCC's Rules and Regulations covering clear-channel stations. A hearing would be called, it is presumed, on amendment of the rule to determine whether there should be fulltime duplication on any or all of the existing 24 Class I-A channels. The whole subject of clear-channel duplication has been discussed by the FCC at recent meetings. Staff proposals on possible procedure are being explored.

If a hearing is held (and one is regarded as likely), it will be at a reasonably early date, allowing sufficient time to determine the policy this Government will support. The question of extending the North American Regional Broadcast Agreement (NARBA) for another two years in its present form already has arisen, and the Rio conference would be a convenient place to clear it.

If the determination is to alter the NARBA allocations structure, which became effective in 1941 for a five-year tenure, then notice could be given and the question discussed at Rio. Any change in our allocations structure would affect the NARBA agreement and would permit other signatory nations, such as Canada, Mexico and Cuba, to assign Class I-B (duplicated clear) and Class II stations on any clear channels which might be broken

At a rules hearing such as that now considered, it would be a question of reducing the issues to matters that would bear upon future allocation policy. Testimony would be invited on the desirability of duplicating channels. The Clear Channel Broadcasting Service, made up of individually-owned clear-channel stations, as in the past would fight any duplication proposals tooth and nail. It would stress the importance of rural and remote service, not now available to substantial areas.

The primary question would be, it appears, whether there is a need to duplicate channels to provide additional service, or whether that additional service would go only into metropolitan areas now adequately served. Also there would be the question whether East and West Coast duplication could be accomplished without interference of a character that would impair secondary service to outlying areas.

Effect of FM

Perhaps the most important transition in future standard broadcasting allocations will stem from the substantial development expected in FM. With upwards of 325 applications now pending for FM stations and with an estimated 1,500 applications expected the first year following the war, the need for duplicating clear channels and for providing additional standard facilities obviously would be greatly reduced.

FM proponents predict that FM stations in due course—perhaps five years—will take over a substantial portion of the urban coverage job. If that ensued, there would be ample standard facilities for clear-channel operation by standard stations. FM stations are not counted upon for great secondary coverage. Thus, there eventually would enter the prospect of licensing more rather than fewer clear-channel stations with substantial power to provide service in non-FM areas sparsely settled or otherwise economically unable to support stations of their own.

Rule 3.25 (a) sets forth the 24 clear channels in the I-A category on which only one Class I station may be assigned fulltime, but with one or more Class II stations operating limited time or daytime only. The Class I-A stations may not operate with a power of less than 50,000 w.

Other Applicants

Originally, there were 25 Class I-A channels under the Havana Treaty (NARBA), but the 850-kc channel was removed from the group when WHDH Boston was given a fulltime assignment on the frequency with 5,000 w, making KOA Denver a Class I-B station. Consequently, WJW Cleveland was given a fulltime assignment on the frequency with 5,000 w.

On the 770-kc channel, where WJZ New York, Blue Network key, is the dominant station, KOB Albuquerque now operates under a special service authorization. It is applying for regular assignment on the frequency, however. Also applying for such assignment on the same frequency are KXA Portland and KECA Hollywood, Blue Network-owned station. WEW St. Louis is applying for a special service authorization to operate fulltime on the frequency.

KOB originally was assigned to 1030 kc, on which WBZ-WBZA Boston-Springfield are the dominant stations on a synchronized basis. That channel, however, now is clear in view of KOB's shift to 770 kc.

Other pending applications for duplication on clear channel's are those of KTBS Shreveport on 640 kc; KOIN Portland on 660 kc; WKAT Miami Beach on 820 kc; KDYL Salt Lake City and KGA Spokane on 880 kc; WFCI Pawtucket, R. I. on 1200 kc, and KARM Fresno on 1030 kc, seeking the former assignment of KOB.

State Dept. Protests to Cuba Over Clear Channel 'Squatting'

OPERATION of Cuban stations on clear channels assigned to stations in this country, in contravention of the Havana Treaty (North American Regional Broadcasting Agreement), has resulted in protests from the State Dept. to the Cuban Government and a suggestion by Cuba that the Treaty provisions, which became effective in 1941, be revised.

'Squatting' on Channels

Two Chicago stations-WGN of the Chicago Tribune and WMAQ of NBC-for several months have been experiencing interference during certain nighttime hours because of the "squatting" of Cuban stations on their channels. CMKJ of Holguin has been operating on the WGN clear channel of 720 kc. while CMHQ of Santa Clara for several months has broadcast on WMAQ, 670 kc clear channel.

Last June 17, it was learned, the State Dept., following representations from the FCC, notified the Inter-American Radio Office (OIR) in Havana, clearing house and repository under the Havana Treaty, that the terms of NARBA were being violated through operation of Cuban stations on Class I-A clear channels in this country. On Nov. 15, following complaints from the stations, the FCC again brought the matter to the Department's attention and formal proceedings were instituted by the Telecommunications Division of the State Dept. through the American Embassy in Havana.

On Jan. 16, the Embassy notified the State Dept. that the Cuban Coordinator of War Communications had suggested that an agreement be entered into with this country on the use of I-A frequencies by Cuban stations. That, it is understood, is the present status of the conversations. The request that the Cuban stations suspend nighttime operation has not been complied with, presumably pending disposition of the Cuban suggestion for an "agreement".

In official quarters in Washington, such a proposal is regarded as out of line, since the Havana Treaty already specifies that there shall be

British Article Tells Radar Secrets deWOLF SEES GLOBE

Development, Elements In Its Operation Revealed

SHROUDS of censorship which have kept from public gaze, and the enemy's, the full truth about the new wonder-weapon, Radar, have been pulled aside by the British publication, Wireless World.

In its February issue, the jour-nal recounts the development of radio location and hitherto secret elements in its operation. It is revealed that:

1. Radar is effective to at least 35 miles.

2. Size of the object under observation can be measured to some

3. First location maneuvers can be made by rotating the receiving aerial of the apparatus.

4. If a plane is under observation, its approximate elevation can be determined.

5. In actual observation, a "picture" or "graph" appears on a cathode-ray tube installed in the receiving equipment.

6. It is effective in observing stationary and moving targets.

Measures Transit Time

After reviewing the history of experimentation in the field, R. L. Smith-Rose of the National Physical Laboratory, author of the article, states: "A complete station consists of a combination of a transmitter and receiver. The transmitting or sending portion emits radiation over a broad arc in the approximate direction it is desired to explore. When this radiation strikes an object having an appreciable conductivity or dielectric constant, some of the energy is reflected or scattered back towards the receiver which is installed moderately close to the transmitter.

"If the latter emits the radio waves in short trains or pulses, the time of transit of these to the reflecting target and back to the receiver can be measured, by displaying the received signals on the screen of a cathode ray tube."

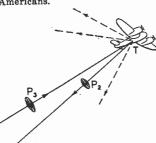

Six charts illustrating Radar's application accompany Mr. Smith-

Rose's treatise. One purports to show the type of reflection seen on a cathod-ray tube screen when contact has been made with an object under observation. It is stated that an experienced observer may be able to guess the nature of the target from the echo pulse seen on the tube screen.

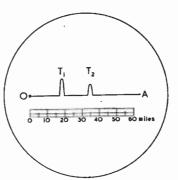

The article is preceded by an editor's note which states, in part: "For security reasons, Wireless World has hitherto been unable to publish the essential facts of RDF, Radiolocation or Radar-the various terms applied to the location of distant objects (more particularly, enemy aircraft), by wireless methods. It is now possible for the first time to describe the fundamental principles of the appara-

Wireless World offers this definition of the medium: "Radiolocation or Radar may be described as the art of using radio waves for the detection and location of an object, fixed or moving, by the aid of the difference of its electrical properties from those of the medium adjacent to or surrounding it."

It was reported in Washington that the War and Navy Depts. shortly would issue a joint release, with a two-week advance notice to all publications, possibly describing features of Radar contained in the British journal and, perhaps, offering further details. No confirmation of this report was forthcoming, although it was evident in inquiries made by BROAD-CASTING that many U. S. officers who have guarded the Radar secret throughout the war were chagrined that British censorship had permitted passage of the World article. Another report current in the Capital suggested that a new liberalization in the broad treatment of the whole subject of radio location was planned as a cooperative move between the British and Americans.

THE USE of pulses of radio waves P1-P4, emitted at regular intervals to determine the distance of the target T from the sending and receiving aerials, A, A³, by measuring the time of travel of the pulses along the path A1 TA2.

TYPE OF ECHO display seen on screen of cathode-ray tube. The fluorescent spot sweeps along the time base OA in synchronism with the transmitted pulses. The received echoes from two targets are seen at a distance from O corresponding to the time taken for the pulses to travel to and from the targets T1 and T2. The time-base can be provided with a range scale as shown.

KSTP Capitulates To Petrillo Terms

THE SEVEN-MONTH long strike of musicians at the Minneapolis studios of KSTP was ended last Friday when Stanley Hubbard, owner of the station, capitulated to Petrillo demands which had been denied by the Sixth Regional War Labor Board. The station agreed to the $52.50 rate for a 22-hour week, retention of a quota system calling for a minimum of eight staff musicians, and employment of musicians exclusively for platter

Mr. Hubbard announced that he had no alternative but to surrender because "it has been made quite clear to us that the Government is unable to assist us". He declared that "Petrillo has demonstrated to the world that he has more power' than all of the government agencies through which KSTP had sought recourse to arbitrate the disput. "The remedy," he said, "lies in the hands of the legislative branch of our Government and that is where immediate relief should be worked out".

"As long as matters are as they are at present," he explained, "we have no alternative but to at least temporarily accept this situation. We, therefore, have capitulated and accepted Petrillo's terms . . . acceding to his demands that we employ men under contract regardless of whether or not we need them. If the Petrillo system of forcing an employer to contract for men he does not need and to pay royalties directly to the union because union employes are employed in the manufacture of his commodity is adopted by other unions, it means the fin-ish of American business."

YALTA CONFERENCE GIVES RADIO SCOOP

RELEASE of the first announcement of the Crimea conference of the Big Three at 4:30 p.m., Feb. 12 gave radio almost an exclusive until the following morning, as afternoon newspapers in many cities were not published because of the holiday. Following their broadcasts of the announcement at 4:30, NBC, CBS and Blue all devoted the following quarter-hour to an analysis of the results of the Roosevelt-Churchill-Stalin meeting by their commentators in Washington and London. Mutual did not broadcast the announcement on the network, but WOR New York and many other MBS stations put it on locally at the time of release.

None of the networks broadcast other special programs, nor were any commercials canceled except Jones, on NBC, 4:30-45 p.m. The major portion of news programs throughout the evening was devoted to the conference.

Ask Ad Cooperation

THE WAR will not be over on V-E Day; the battle of Japan will be tougher and require more of America's productive capacity than was formerly anticipated; civilian bond buying, fat and paper salvaging and other home front activities must continue, and advertising must also continue to do its part in driving home to the public the necessity for its wartime cooperation, 200 executives of national advertisers and their advertising agencies were told last Thursday at a meeting in New York sponsored jointly by the Assn. of National Advertisers and the War Advertising Council.

CAB Meeting Approves Progress of BBM

Better Publicity, Church Policy Favored

By JAMES MONTAGNES

APPROVAL of progress made by the Bureau of Broadcast Measurement, the need for a more vigorous policy of telling listeners the work of the privately-owned broadcasting stations, a comprehensive survey of the entire subject of religious broadcasting and programming in general, highlighted the 11th annual meeting of the Canadian Assn. of Broadcasters at the Chateau Frontenac, Feb. 12-14.

Close to 300 persons registered for the sessions, the sixth held since Canada went to war, making it one of the largest attended CAB conventions. Though all phases of the United States industry were represented in the delegation which came to Quebec, the effect of the convention travel ban in the United States was noted in the smaller number of U. S. broadcasters present this year.

Religion

Suggestions for three Sunday religious broadcasts controlled by the stations on a sustaining basis, made by CAB program committee Chairman Gerry Gaetz, CKRC Winnipeg, brought a volume of protests from station operators all over Canada. The plan was to eliminate broadcasts direct from the church, and instead have three programs urging people to attend church and children to attend Sunday school, with a devotional service suggested for 10-10:30 a.m., a children's service at 9 a.m., and an evening service from 6-6:30 p.m. A showing of hands indicated that few evening church services are now broadcast in Canada, but many morning services are. Facts given the broadcasters included surveys made by CHML Hamilton showing that 70% of the rural audience listens regularly or occasionally to church broadcasts, by CFCY Charlottetown, that the isolated population relies regularly on its church services, by CFRB Toronto, broadcasts (mich CFRB airs) are listened to by only a small audience.

W. S. Hedges, NBC New York, and Kolin Hagar, WGY Schenectady, told Canadian broadcasters of U. S. decisions to leave the problem largely up to local ministerial organizations. Harry Sedgwick, CFRB, and CAB board chairman, pointed out that various religious groups in Canada have been making attempts through the Canadian Broadcasting Corp. Board of Governors to have all commercial programs taken off Canadian stations Sunday evening from 7-8 p.m. local time, and some have advocated strongly to cancel all Sunday commercial programs. He urged broadcasters to sit down and endeavor to solve problems locally wherever possible, with the CAB to distribute plans formulated for religious broadcasting by U. S. church and network groups.

Publicity Plans

Canadian broadcasters unanimously agreed at the Tuesday morning session that they should publicize their public service and community efforts more. It is planned to develop a handbook on the work of privately-owned broadcasting stations for public and service club presentation, to establish a standardized form for reporting the time and value given daily in public service and charitable promotions on the air, with a breakdown showing types and length of programs, these to be sent to the CAB at Toronto monthly. It was pointed out that such organizations as the National War Finance Committee of the Canadian Government at Ottawa did not have a complete record of time given by Canadian stations for war bond drives, because a large number of Canadian stations simply neglected to compile such statistics though they gave urging the Government to amend the British North American Act (Canada's constitution) to guarantee freedom of press and radio and the distribution of news gathered by these media, and to join with other nations in the campaign for freedom of news gathering.

Reporting on the establishment and work of the Canadian Radio Technical Planning Board, R. M. Brophy, Canadian Marconi Co., Montreal, president of the CRTPB, pointed out that FCC allocation plans directly affect Canada, and that Canada does not yet know what FM space it is to have. The CAB is represented on CRTPB panels on allocations, on FM and television, and on standard broadcasts, Glen Bannerman, CAB president and general manager, explained.

Panel Members

CAB stations supplying engineers to sit on these panels to date are W. J. Carter, CKLW Windsor-Detroit; E. Swan, CKEY Toronto; L. Spencer, CKAC Montreal; George McCurdy, CKGB Timmins, Ont.; and W. A. Duffield, CKY Winnipeg. Others are to be asked to sit on panels as the organization gets under way. It is understood that some plans are being formulated for joint experimental work on television by the CBC and CAB member stations.

The treasurer's report showed receipts for the past year of $50,-972 and expenditures of $37,179.

Guest speaker at the CAB annual dinner Tuesday was Canadian Broadcasting Corp. war correspondent Peter Stursberg who told of the job of gathering news of battle from his experience on the Italian and western European war theatres.

Greater development of each privately-owned broadcasting station as a community station, a more thorough search for local talent, as well as more careful scrutiny of commercial continuity and broadcasting regulations, were urged on CAB member stations in the fourth annual report of president and general manager Glen Bannerman at the opening session of the CAB convention.

"The strength and continued existence of the privately-owned station depends upon the position it holds in the community," Mr. Bannerman told the convention. "Some stations are doing a grand piece of work in identifying themselves with the community. Yet there are stations where there is room for improvement, and others who have not discovered this great opportunity to plant their roots firmly and strongly."

Insidious Danger

Speaking of the fact that many of the privately-owned stations are now members of the two national networks, he pointed out that "therein lies an insidious danger. It is easy to let the network do all the work and to let the network wire be your program director. If you do this and fail to keep a proper balance between network and the local community interests and locally produced programs, another station in your community will earn the loyalty of the people there and one day you will be out of luck. You may even have to fight the network to prevent it from encroaching on time that should and must be devoted to the community. Keep your eyes on the community interest and avoid too much network time."

CHIEF radio censors of the two countries, Chas. Shearer (1), Canadian, and John E. Fetzer, U. S., discuss their mutual problems at the recent meeting in Quebec.

Referring to a survey recently made by the CAB among 35 member stations on public service programs, which includes community programs, he mentioned that an average of 28% of the total weekly broadcasting hours of these stations went for public service broadcasts.

Over dramatization of commercial continuity, especially where the product story ties up with a war phase or pseudo news, should be carefully checked, Mr. Bannerman said, since it is not playing fair to the listeners with loved ones involved in the struggle.

Year's Review

Reviewing the year's work, Mr. Bannerman pointed to the big step taken towards standardization of rate structure, the gaining of power increases to 5,000 watts after many years of petitioning, the cooperative work of all in the broadcasting and advertising industries in getting the government to alleviate hardships of the 8% sales tax on recordings imposed late in 1944, the presentation against higher music copyright fees before the Copyright Appeal Board, the public service broadcasts from Ottowa, Report from Parliament Hill, and the setting up of the Bureau of Broadcast Measurement (BBM). He also stressed the closer co-operation between the CBC management and the CBC board of governors and the CAB, and urged the CBC to discuss regulations applying to privately-owned stations with the CAB before promulgating them.

FCC to Hear Overton WDSU Charge

Sec. 315 Airing Sets Precedent; Weber Optimistic

BY UNANIMOUS vote the FCC last week designated for hearing on March 21 charges by Sen. John H. Overton (D-La.) that WDSU New Orleans violated Sec. 315 of the Communications Act, relating to political broadcasts, during the last political campaign.

Citations were issued for E. A. Stephens, H. G. Wall and Fred Weber, co-partners doing business as Stephens Broadcasting Co., to determine whether they have violated Sec. 315 of the Communications Act as charged by Sen. Overton. Mr. Stephens was one of three opponents of Sen. Overton in the Louisiana Democratic primaries last summer.

First action of its kind ever taken by the Commission, the hearing was ordered following four months of correspondence with Sen. Overton. Commissioner Norman S. Case, a Republican, was designated as presiding officer. He will act upon any motions or petitions filed in connection with the case prior to the hearing, which has been set for 10:30 a.m. on March 21. In view of its significance and precedent-setting aspects, the hearing is expected to draw wide attention.

Three Alternatives

Under the Communications Act Act the FCC had three alternatives, based on Sen. Overton's complaint and investigations. One was revocation of license without hearing; the second was to issue an order to WDSU to show cause why its license should not be revoked; the third was the avenue pursued—designating the complaint for hearing, which is tantamount to a public inquiry into the charges.

In a memorandum to the WDSU staff last Wednesday, Mr. Weber, part-owner and general manager, said the station had the "sincerest confidence that the FCC will recognize that equal time opportunity was afforded by WDSU to its fulest capacity to all candidates and that the contention to the contrary by Sen. Overton will be proven false."

James Lawrence Fly, former FCC chairman, had previously advised Sen. Overton that "it does not appear . . . that there has been a violation of the Act." More letters. from the Louisiana Senator followed, however, and last week's action came after the complainant wrote Chairman Paul A. Porter a lengthy letter on Jan. 19, stating: "In my opinion, the violations and misconduct revealed by the investigation of the Commission in connection with operation of WDSU during the Senatorial primary campaign of last summer are so grievous that for the Commission to delay action . . . would constitute a miscarriage of justice."

Sen. Overton first complained to Mr. Fly last Oct. 6 in a letter charging that WDSU refused to sell him time for his campaign. That communication said the Senator had arranged with Joe Oswald of KWKH Shreveport to arrange for eight weekly broadcasts on a statewide hookup, that all stations had cleared time except WDSU and that Mr. Weber advised that no time was available between 4:30-10:35 p.m. Sundays through Fridays. Mr. Oswald is commercial manager of the Shreveport station. John D. Ewing, owner and Shreveport publisher, is an applicant for a station in New Orleans.

Asked Log Check

His next letter, dated Nov. 6, after Mr. Fly advised there was no violation, requested the Commission to check the WDSU log from July 1-Sept. 12 to ascertain what, if any, political addresses, speeches or statements were permitted over WDSU between 6-10 p.m. On Dec. 19 E. K. Jett, then interim chairman, sent an analysis of the log to Sen. Overton, advising: "The facts disclosed in this analysis and in the program logs of Station WDSU are being brought to the Commission's attention for appropriate action."

That analysis disclosed, Sen. Overton wrote Chairman Porter, that "nine broadcasts-all, with one exception, being approximately 15 minutes duration — were delivered over WDSU by Mr. E. A. Stephens or, possibly, other speakers in his behalf between the hours of 6 and 10:35 p.m. on week nights of Monday through Friday; and two on Sunday evenings within the time denied all other candidates.'

"I respectfully submit that such conduct on the part of the station," wrote Sen. Overton, "its owner and operator, is a clear violation of Sec. 315 of the Commissions Act which Mr. Fly quoted to me in his letter dated Oct. 12, 1944."

Sen. Overton challenged the Commission's grant of last fall, renewing the WDSU license to Nov. 21. 1945, "while the FCC was continuing its investigations as to the probable political favoritism and other misconduct of this station. ... I consider that the subject matter brought by me to your attention raises serious questions as to whether the continued operation of this station will be in the public interest and whether the owner or owners of the station are qualified to continue its control in the public interest."

Mr. Weber had no comment, other than his memorandum to the WDSU staff, text of which follows:

WDSU staff, text of which follows:

You will hear it stated that a hearing concerning WDSU has been set by the FCC for March 21. 1945. This hearing is the result of a complaint by Sen. Overton that equal time opportunity on WDSU was not given last summer to his campaign in the Democratic primary in Louisians for U. S. Senator. Our information, reported by our Washington attorney is that the Commission has not named this a hearing for the renewal or revocation of the license of WDSU. It is reported that the FCC has asked for a hearing so that any further facts may be presented to amplify the report furnished by WDSU to answer the complaint by Sen. Overton. WDSU has the sincerest confidence that the FCC will recognize that equal time opportunity was afforded by WDSU to its fullest capacity to all candidates and that the contention to the contrary by Sen. Overton will be proven false.

WBAX Hearings End

HEARINGS in the Wilkes-Barre. Pa., case, involving application of John H. Stenger Jr., licensee of WBAX. for regular license, and annlications of three others for WBAX facilities (1240 kc). were to be concluded Saturday (Feb. 17) before Hugh B. Hutchinson, FCC examiner. August W. Grebe. office manager of WBAX since July 1. 1941, testified that the station had paid all old indebtedness, showed a net operating profit in 1944 of $36,604, and Mr. Stenger's net worth was $41,849.57. WBAX was placed on temporary license in 1941 because of several judgments against the station. Other appliagainst the station. Sales of Spokane Stations Expected

Ed Craney and Haas Interests Reported Buying KFPY

CHANGES in ownership of Spokane's top stations-KHQ, NBC outlet, and KFPY, Columbia offiliate-are expected within the next fortnight.

Control of KFPY would pass from Mrs. T. W. Symons Jr., 2/3 owner, and Arthur L. Bright, vicepresident and general manager and 1/3 owner, to Ed Craney, Montana and Oregon broadcaster, and the Queen City Broadcasting Co., operating KIRO Seattle, headed by Saul Haas, under a transaction completed last week and subject to FCC approval. While no formal announcement has been made, it is understood that the sale involved in the neighborhood of $450,000.

Wasmer to Keep KGA

KHQ, owned by Maj. Louis Wasmer, is expected to be sold shortly, in compliance with the FCC's duopoly regulation. Maj. Wasmer, who is about to go on inactive duty after some two years in the Army Air Forces, will retain his ownership of KGA Spokane, Blue outlet. It is understood several groups have been negotiating for KHQ and the FCC last week approved a temporary extension of authorization to permit consummation of a deal.

Informal notice of the KFPY transaction, it is understood, has reached the FCC, though the precise details are lacking. One report was that Mr. Bright had sold his 1/3 interest to Mr. Haas and his KIRO associates and that Mr. Craney had purchased 1/3 of Mrs. Symons' holdings, with the remaining 1/3 to be disposed of (presumably to Mr. Craney). The other report was that Mr. Cranev had acquired all of Mrs. Symons' holdings in the station and that the overall price was "under $500,000".

Mrs. Symons also is half-owner of KXL Portland, with Mr. Craney holding the other half. Whether that station is in any wise involved in the transaction was not revealed. Mr. Craney also operates KGIR Butte, and the Z-Bar Net-

Mr. Haas has enjoyed meteoric success in radio, having acquired KIRO as a 250-watter a decade ago. The station now operates with 50,000 w and is the Seattle CBS outlet. A prominent New Deal figure in the Pacific Northwest, he is the Collector of Customs at the port of Seattle and has been Democratic campaign manager during the Presidential and Congressional campaigns in the Northwest area.

1886 Rabbi Aaron Kronenberg 1945

RABBI AARON KRONENBERG, 59, president of WBYN Brooklyn and a pioneer of racial and religious programs, died Thursday at his home in Brooklyn. He had been ill since 1943.

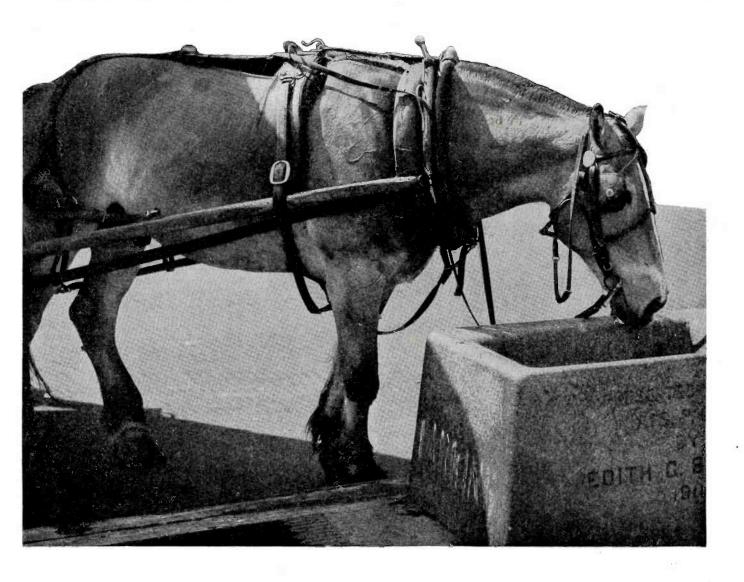

Rabbi Kronenberg made his first broadcast from the old WCNW Brooklyn in 1926. He was widely known for his appeals on behalf of welfare organizations of all denominations and for his radio sermons. Until he became ill, Rabbi Kronenberg rarely missed a daily broadcast in Yiddish in nearly 19 years. His last radio talk was on Dec. 31, 1944.

In 1941 Rabbi Kronenberg became president of WBYN when four stations, WARD WBBC four stations, WARD WBBC WVFW WLTH, were consolidated. He formerly operated WARD. A native of Warsaw, Rabbi Kronenberg came to this country in 1905. He was a member of the Council of Orthodox Rabbis of America, board of directors of the Hebrew Home & Hospital for the Aged, Brooklyn, and was active in the Pride of Judea Children's Home.

Surviving, besides his wife, Mrs. Rae Linden Kronenberg, are two sons, Capt. Samuel Kronenberg, AAF, and Oscar, and a daughter, Mrs. Jean Berger.

SENATE Appropriations Committee last week reported favorably an appropriation measure (HJ Res-85) to provide funds to complete the quinquennial Census of Agriculture. The bill, appropriating $6,784,000, passed the House Feb. 7.

... but you can't make him drink

That old saw about the horse and water still holds true... particularly with smart time buyers. There was once a time when you could show him a radio trough full up to the brim with glamour call letters, power, and "acceptance"... and he'd water his whole budget.

But not any more!

Maybe that's one reason W-I-T-H, the successful independent in Baltimore, has come so far, so fast. For W-I-T-H delivers the goods at the lowest cost per dollar spent than any other station in town. If you want to check a sound sales idea . . . use Baltimore as your test city. And to make sure you give it every chance to prove out . . . use W-I-T-H.

There are a lot of sales performance facts to prove our W-I-T-H point...but there's nothing so satisfying as seeing it work for your own product.

SOUTH

Most marketing experts agree that the South is now the nation's greatest "area of opportunity." If you feel that's true in your industry, we suggest you consider South Carolina as a starting point.

South Carolina is easy to cover. One station—WIS at Columbia—reaches virtually the entire State, daytime. The WIS service area has 74% more radio homes than New Orleans, 185% more than Atlanta, 208% more than Birmingham.

We'd welcome an opportunity to tell you how and why this 5000-watt station, at 560 KC, has a stronger signal (actually delivers more microvolts) over a larger area than is possible even to many 50,000-watt stations. Drop us a line—or ask Free & Peters.

FCC Denies KNAK Rehearing Petition On Regional Grant to Hinckley-Hatch

PETITION alleging violation of the FCC network regulations, filed by the Granite District Radio Broadcasting Co., licensee of the new KNAK Salt Lake City, seeking rehearing in the grant of a construction permit to the Salt Lake City Broadcasting Co. for a regional outlet in Salt Lake City to operate on 910 kc with 1 kw power, was denied last week by the Commission.

KNAK, which began operations Feb. 11 on 1400 kc with 250 w power, unlimited time, complained that the Hinckley-Hatch group was granted a construction permit Oct. 30, 1944, "which included an arrangement based upon a violation of the Commission's Rules, par-ticularly Sec. 3.102." Stockholders in the Salt Lake City Broadcasting Co. are Abrelia S. Hinckley, wife of Robert H. Hinckley, director of the Office of Contract Settlement, former Assistant Secretary of Commerce, and until recently chairman of the Civil Aeronautics Authority; and George C. Hatch, former manager of KLO Ogden. Utah, and his wife, Wilda Gene

Sees no Violation

Petition alleged that Wilda Gene Hatch is the daughter of A. L. Glassman, president and principal stockholder of KLO, and that KNAK was prevented from obtaining Mutual service because of an exclusive contract between KLO and Mutual which embraced both Ogden and Salt Lake City. KNAK contended that Salt Lake City is not within the primary coverage area of KLO, therefore Sec. 3.102, relating to territorial exclusivity of network contracts, was violated.

In a memorandum opinion the Commission held, however, that "KLO does render a primary service to Salt Lake City within the meaning of Regulation 3.102" and that there was no violation. Construction permit was granted the Hinckley-Hatch interests without a hearing Oct. 30, 1944, only a short time after application was filed [BROADCASTING, Nov. 6]. Application included letters from both the Mutual and Intermountain networks advising the petitioners that should the FCC grant a license, the respective networks would provide

Both the Hinckley-Hatch and KNAK applications were denied by the Radio & Radar Division of the War Production Board on the grounds that neither station would help to promote the war effort. The WPB later reversed the earlier order with reference to the Hinckley-Hatch request and granted construction [BROADCASTING, Feb. 5]. KNAK went ahead with its work, however, since expenditures for new construction were within the $200 limit placed by WPB and therefore no special authorization was required.

In a special three-hour program beginning at 7 p.m. Fcb. 11, KNAK formally went on the air without a network affiliation. In Salt Lake City the Blue outlet is KUTA; CBS affiliate is KSL and the NBC station is KDYL, with Mutual at KLO.

Effective Feb. 12 KNAK began operations from 7 a.m.-10 p.m. Howard R. Johnson is president, L. M. Johnson vice-president; Francis W. Shaelling, secretary-treasurer. Stockholders include C. Nello Westover, Otto Fisher, Mrs. L. A. Miner, Paul Q. Callister. R. K. Christensen, formerly of Washington, has been appointed program director.

WLEU LOSES FINAL APPEAL BEFORE FCC

SUSTAINING its presiding motions officer (Harry M. Plotkin, assistant general counsel and chief of litigation), the FCC last week denied petition of WLEU Erie, Pa., for authority to intervene and enlarge the issues in the grant of a construction permit to WERC Erie to change frequency from 1490 to 1230 kc [Broadcasting, Feb. 12].

On motion of WJTN Jamestown, N. Y., and WCED DuBois, Pa., however, the Commission set aside its grant and designated the WERC application for hearing, making WJTN and WCED parties. WJTN later withdrew. The case is still pending, with WCED an intervenor.

WLEU contended the wartime freezes caused voluntary withdrawal of its petition filed Dec. 2, 1941, to change frequency from 1450 to 1260 kc and to increase power from 250 w to 5 kw days and 1 kw nights, although there was never any intention of abandoning the application. An earlier petition of WLEU to set aside the WERC grant and reconsider, filed last October, had been denied.

In the petition denied last week WLEU contended that the grant to WERC "under the circumstances is equivalent to taking property without due process of law," inasmuch as WLEU had invested a considerable sum in planning the change from local to regional and had withdrawn its application in furtherance of the war.

Picture of a team about to warm up for the Battle of the Century

Some day the war is going to be over. Then: reconversion.

You've heard a lot about reconversion. But most of the worry-in-print has been about the business of turning bicycle plants back into bicycle-making.

But there is another side to the reconversion picture. That's the problem of getting peace-time goods distributed so cheaply that manufacturers can keep prices down and sell so much that our economy won't fall apart. Because if it should fall apart, we would have a lot of unemployment, and if we have a lot of unemployment nobody will buy anything, and . . . well, we have been to that party!

Cutting distribution costs is where we come into this picture-the sponsors and the agencies and ourselves.

All three of us are going to have to roll up our sleeves and fight a vital battle for industry and the public on the post-war's most important eco-

Our objective is clear. Radio must be made more efficient, more economical, than ever before —and we're not overlooking the fact that the wise use of radio has always been the most economical way to sell goods.

How are we going to improve radio? First, let us recognize that the advertisers and agencies have done a remarkable job. By competing for audience they have helped to make radio a national habit and their joint efforts and ours have raised radio ownership from 10,250,-000 homes in 1929 to 33,100,000 homes in 1945.

THE SHOWS PRODUCED BY ONE AGENCY ALONE REACH AS MANY PEOPLE IN A YEAR AS ALL THE FILMS OF ALL THE STUDIOS IN HOLLYWOOD.

Our own first job is to provide maximum physical facilities to reach these millions. Today the Blue reaches over 21,000,000 homes. The number is increasing. Recently we announced the addition of six important stations. As we prepare this advertisement, two more great stations have joined the Parade to the Blue: WCAE, which has established the biggest local audience in Pitts-burgh, and WFBR, which covers the Baltimore market like a blanket.

The second job is to help where help is sought in building Blue commercial programs.

Take the problem of talent. By using sustaining time to develop shows the Blue's new program department is uncovering low-cost talent that promises to deliver large audiences. Winners must be developed from the beginners. It is also pre-testing new programs on our own time to remove a percentage of the risk that's always involved when a new show goes on the air. That's service to both agencies and advertisers.

After the war, the radio networks will be one of the greatest forces in the nation in helping us all land on our feet.

Our post-war eye, while it is on our competitive position, is more particularly on our potential ability to help the U.S. industry to new levels of prosperity and a common agreement that if we will only continue to improve our way of life, it cannot be matched anywhere in the world.

You can write that one down.

Blue Names Jaeger, Smith, Rynd V-Ps; Kintner to Head Washington Operation

C. P. JAEGER, general sales manager of the Blue Network; Fred Smith, director of promotion, publicity and advertising; and Charles E. Rynd, formerly treasurer, were elected vice-presidents of the network at a meeting Feb. 12 of the board of directors of American Broadcasting Co., owner of the Blue. Board also created a new department, news and news features, to be responsible for all news and news features broadcast on the network and for national and international news coverage. Robert E. Kintner, vicepresident, will have charge of this department, with G. W. (Johnny) Johnstone continuing as director of news and news features.

Mr. Kintner will also be in charge of the Blue's Washington office, which the board voted to reorganize and expand. He will maintain his headquarters in New York, spending only a few days a month in Washington. The publicity department, with Earl Mullin continuing as manager, will henceforth report to Mr. Smith instead of to Mr. Kintner as formerly.

Mr. Rynd in his new position will act as coordinator of the intra-departmental operation of the Blue. In addition, the sales service, office management, recording and purchasing departments will continue to report to him. C. Nicholas Priaulx, vice-president in charge of finance, was elected treasurer, succeeding Mr. Rynd.

Mr. Jaeger, who joined the Blue's commercial program department in 1942, subsequently transferring to sales, was previously vice-president of Transamerican

Blue Changeover

BEGINNING Feb. 18 the Blue's station breaks identify the network as "The Blue Network of the American Broadcasting Co.," signaling formal change of name which became official last December when the FCC approved assignment of licenses of Blue owned stations to American Broadcasting Co. [Broadcasting, Dec. 25]. Change-over for listeners is being effected gradually. New identification has been used since Jan. 22 at the opening and closing of the Blue broadcast day only.

Broadcasting & Television Corp. Mr. Smith, formerly an assistant to the Secretary of the Treasury, has a varied advertising and promotion background. Before forming his own public relations firm, Smith & Selvage, he was with BBDO. Mr. Rynd joined NBC in 1935 as assistant sales traffic manager. In 1942, when the Blue was organized as a separate company, he became manager of its sales service department and was subsequently named treasurer.

Woolfoam Spots

WOOL NOVELTY Co., New York, plans to expand its spot radio cam-paign for Woolfoam, a powder for cleaning woolens to eight or ten stations by the end of February. Now running on WBEN Buffalo and WJR Detroit, the drive will be resumed on KSTP Minneapolis and on stations in Boston and Providence and will move into several new markets in various parts of the country via radio, with musical jingles, participations and pro-grams of all types. New campaign calls for the use of local papers in 100 cities. Agency is Redfield-Johnstone, New York.

Tobin and Stowe Criticize Censors

Army Using 'Inexperienced' Boys, Commentators Claim

CENSORSHIP of news, both in military theatres and within the United States, was assailed by two prominent news commentators during the past week.

Richard L. Tobin, Blue commentator and associate professor in the Columbia U. Graduate School of Journalism, charged that censorship in the ETO, which he covered as a correspondent for the New York Herald Tribune, "was in the hands of inexperienced boys."

William L. Shirer, in "Propaganda Front", a syndicated column which appears regularly in the Sunday Herald Tribune, lamented the alleged slowness of the Army Review Branch, Washington, in passing on copy submitted by accredited correspondents returned from operational theatres to the United States.

'Enemy Agent'

Mr. Tobin, speaking at a luncheon held Feb. 13 at the Men's Faculty Club, Columbia U., praised senior censors in the ETO but said there were too few of them. "Their assistants," he said, "seemed, however, to regard the average American correspondent as an enemy agent who was out to trick them, hurt their own professional standing in the United States and give away military secrets whenever possible."

In his Sunday column Mr. Shirer related that his colleague, Leland Stowe, had waited five days for review officers in the Pentagon Building to release a script he had written for broadcast about the Greek controversy. Mr. Shirer took issue with the alleged circumstance which found a British officer calling on Mr. Stowe a few days after his script had been submitted and urging him not to broadcast it. As finally released, he said, it contained few deletions.

Conference Discussion

FOUR network commentators—Raymond Swing, Blue; William L. Shirer and Quincy Howe, CBS, and H. V. Kaltenborn, NBC, discussed the results of the Big Three Conference in the Crimea on the Feb. 15 broadcast of Town Meeting of the Air, spousored on the Blue by Reader's Digest Assn.

to the recurrent CBS winners in Radio

America's leading radio editors and critics awarded first place in 5 classifications to regular CBS network programs during 1944, in Radio Daily's Eighth Annual Certified Poll.

They awarded second place in 11 classifications to regular CBS network programs.

THE FIVE CBS WINNERS WERE:

Favorite Symphonic Program N.Y. Philharmonic-Symphony Orchestra

Favorite Dramatic Series (as produced by C. B. De Mille) Lux Radio Theatre

Favorite Dance Band (Swing) Harry James

Favorite Feminine Vocalist (popular) Dinah Shore

Favorite Children's Show Let's Pretend

Daily's national program poll

Thus Lux Radio Theatre wins first place for the eighth consecutive year—ever since Radio Daily inaugurated its poll. The New York Philharmonic-Symphony Orchestra has won every year except 1938. Harry James wins a first for the third straight year. So does Dinah Shore—on CBS all of 1942 and 1943 and 65% of 1944. Let's Pretend was elected America's favorite children's program in 1939, tied for first place in 1943, and won again in 1944.

AND IN ADDITION TO THOSE CBS "FIRSTS":

Frank Sinatra (so far, 2"seconds")

Ted Husing (so far, 3 "firsts," 5"seconds")

Sammy Kaye
(so far, 3"seconds")

Kate Smith (so far, 2"firsts," 5"seconds")

Radio Campaign Is Credited With Manning Merchant Fleet

War Shipping Official States Task Would Have Been Impossible Without OWI and Station Help

RADIO stations throughout the U.S. and the OWI Domestic Radio Bureau did an outstanding job in 1944 in urging experienced seamen and officers to return to the sea, according to H. Chase Stone, assistant deputy administrator for recruitment and manning, War Shipping Administration. In a letter to the OWI, Mr. Stone stated it would have been impossible to keep the nearly 4,000 U.S. merchant ships sailing without radio's assistance.

Addressed to Willett Kempton, assistant chief of station relations, OWI, the letter credits radio's drive with netting approximately 10,000 officers and men, or enough to man 200 ships. Radio, Mr. Stone said, largely averted the delay of even a single ship during the Christmas

Text of the letter follows:

I want to take this opportunity to thank all radio stations in the United States and the Domestic Radio Bureau of the Office of War Information for the outstanding job accomplished during 1944 in urging experienced seamen and officers to return to sea.

We are fully aware of the exceptional demands made for radio time in behalf of the war effort. The treatment accorded the Recruitment and Manning Organization, in view of time limitations, makes us doubly grateful and appreciative. Without the assistance of the hundreds of radio stations and the Radio Bureau of OWI we simply could not have kept nearly 4,000 American merchant ships sailing to all combat areas.

For your information, as well as for all radio stations, the recruitment appeals and other Merchant Marine radio time netted us approximately 10,000 officers and seamen during 1944. In other words, this number of officers In other words, this number of officers and seamen was sufficient to operate a total of 200 ships capable of carry-ing about 2,000,000 tons of supplies to the battlefronts.

During the recent Christmas holiday season we experienced not one single ship delay for lack of qualified men to operate the ships. We attribute this outstanding record largely to the appeals made in our behalf by OWI Domestic Radio Bureau and the congesting redio stations operating radio stations.

Again, I want to say thanks for a job well done, and I hope we may anticipate the same kind of excellent cooperation during this year.

REINSTATING a policy which was dropped just recently after being in effect for many years, WFBL Syracuse is prohibiting the broadcasting of phonograph records. This is being done in the interests of better quality music broadcasts, it was explained.

WPB FREEZE POLICY REMAINS THE SAME

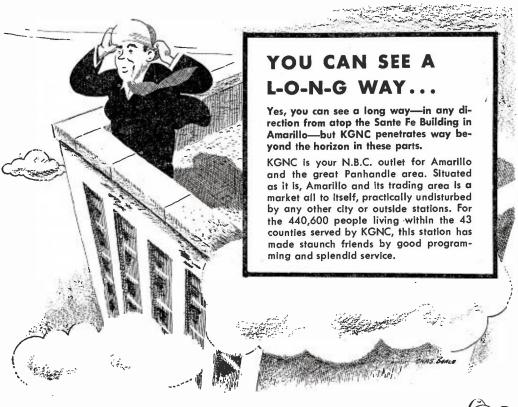

ALTHOUGH it has reversed itself on two applications for new station construction, War Production Board has made no formal change in the policy it adopted last month which virtually freezes authoriza-tions for new broadcast facilities tions for new broadcast facilities in primary service areas. An official of the Construction Bureau said that in overruling previous WPD denial of applications for stations in Salt Lake City and Macon, Ga. [Broadcasting, Feb. 5], there were "mitigating circumstances" involved.

The Board's action, however, has encouraged applicants who had received conditional construction permits from the FCC prior to the Jan. 16, 1945 freeze order but had been denied authorization by the WPB. All of these applicants have requested reconsideration of their cases or are expected to appeal. They include two stations for Sacramento and others for Harrisburg, Pa., and Petersburg, Va. Two ap-plicants for studios for existing stations (KFAB Lincoln and WGES Chicago), previously destations nied, also have appealed.

In conformity with its policy of favoring new stations in communities having no primary service and where manpower conditions permit, the Board granted authorpermit, the Board granted authorization for the construction of a 250-w outlet in Henderson, N. C. Applications from Cleveland, Tenn., and Conway, S. C., which have received conditional permits from the FCC, are likely to be approved on the same besie on the same basis.

Meanwhile, several applications for new stations have been received by the FCC for consideration under its new freeze policy. These include local outlets requested by the Brock-way Co., South of Massena, N. Y.; and by John M. Spottswood, Key West, Fla.

E. JOSEPH BABKES, formerly in charge of scheduling distribution of radio test equipment for the War Production Board, has been named radio purchasing agent for Lear Inc., with headquarters at Grand Rapids, Mich., where production of Learadio for aircraft is now centralized. Prior to his three years with the WPB, Mr. Babkes was a radio engineer with the Babkes was a radio engineer with the Army Signal Corps at Fort Monmouth, N. LOOK AND LISTEN

As an old-timer in radio, WSM goes back to the days of the battle of sight versus sound, the printed word versus the spoken word, the daily newspaper versus the radio station

Yes, there was a time when both newspapers and radio stations made faces at each other. Some papers wouldn't print the daily station program log. And some stations set up their own independent sources of news.

These were great days—for the promotion departments. There were those to prove that human beings received ideas only through the eyes. And there were those wired for sound able to demonstrate that human beings acted only upon what they heard. Then one day Munich came. That was in 1938. There was more press coverage and more radio coverage of this event than was ever given a single event in history, up until that time. And with what result?

The records show there were more newspapers sold that day than ever before, and there was more listening to radio than ever before as well!

These hard figures from the circulation department simply confirmed a conviction long held by WSM: that the American listener is neither deaf nor blind—nor dumb.

He knows a good thing when he sees it. He knows a good proposition when he hears it. His eyes and ears are wide open, more so today than ever before. He both looks and listens.

And nearly five million people in the broad area served by our clear channel look upon WSM as their most reliable source of good listening.

Things worth hearing. This is WSM.

REPRESENTED NATIONALLY BY EDWARD PETRY & CO. INC.

One World, One Voice

ANY DAY now, we may awaken to find the European phase of World War II at an end. There will be unbridled hell-raising—and with ample basis. But radio's job in the European theatre won't be finished.

Allied forces won't withdraw overnight. As long as our men are in the field, they will be provided radio service. That's part of the modern military operation. There will be the task, too, of conditioning the home front, for every parent, relative and sweetheart will expect his dear ones home on the next boat.

Then there will be the concentration of operations in the Pacific, already well under way. In the field of international diplomacy, radio also becomes a vital factor, for freedom of radio communications is part and parcel of the fight for freedom of news. Radio thus will be at the peace table in a dual role—a working news medium to convey the deliberations to a waiting world, and as a topic on the agenda along with the press.

In its role as an intelligence medium, radio's job in occupied Europe—when that happy day dawns—may be less spectacular, but just as important as a morale builder. Requirements as to censorship and free flow of intelligence will (or should be) liberalized. There should be more programs originating from Europe, and more of them going over. More individual radio correspondents should be accredited for direct or delayed reporting of local or regional interest.

Today there are some 400 "home town" recorded interviews a week from the European theatre broadcast over our stations. In the Pacific theatre, where recording equipment and personnel is limited, there are some 60 such interviews a week. These activities will be stepped up.

What radio has wrought in this war is being told with every move of our military forces. The map has shrunk to a day's hop from almost anywhere. And the voice of radio from anywhere is instantaneous. Inevitably, after the peace is written, it will be the radio voice that must hold together this new One World.

Seventh Man

RADIO'S most persistent Congressional critic for about a decade has been Rep. Richard B. Wigglesworth (R-Mass.). He sits on the House Appropriations Subcommittee which handles the FCC budgets. He was a minority member of the House Select Committee to investigate the FCC. He's a hard worker and a bitter opponent.

There has been little objectivity to Wigglesworth's radio crusading. Thus, it came as something of a surprise the other day when he told the House during a discussion on the FCC's 1946 budget that former Commissioner T. A. M. Craven was "the ablest member of the Commission as formerly constituted."

There was never any reason to believe that Mr. Wigglesworth felt anybody on the Commission was worth his salt or that it ever had done anything worthwhile.

Mr. Wigglesworth's remarks, however, do focus attention on the existing vacancy on the FCC. The last two appointments—Paul A. Porter as chairman and E. K. Jett as a member—were applauded, and properly so. Each had had prior radio experience and each had seen other Government service.

The existing vacancy is for the post left by Comdr. Craven last July when he joined the Cowles Broadcasting Co. as operating head. Another merit appointment—a promotion from the FCC ranks more particularly—would surely win favor in Congress and on the FCC itself. Appointment of a lame duck or a political hack in these turbulent times would be little short of mischievous.

Jimmy—No. 1 Hate

LIKE THE Caesar of his ancestors, James Caesar Petrillo has a lust for power. In his bruising, blustering, dictatorial way, he has achieved what he must regard as the pinnacle of labor success. He has allowed nothing to stand in his way and holds unquestioned title to having defied more Governmental orders than any labor leader.

Now Jimmy leads in another hit parade. In a recent poll conducted among GI's in the European War Theatre, the AFM president displaced John L. Lewis as the No. 1 labor hate. We wonder how proud and arrogant Jimmy feels about that?

It's the same Jimmy who has told Congress and the President that he bowed to none when it came to prosecution of the war. That was his answer when public officials asked him to lift the recording ban so that records and transcriptions could go overseas. That ban, however, wasn't lifted until all recording companies under duress capitulated to his private unemployment pool which he figures will bring $4,-000,000 a year to his union to do with as Czar Jimmy sees fit.

It's the same Jimmy who has blacklisted the National Music Camp at Interlochen because he doesn't want school children to perform sustaining programs in competition with the AFM closed corporation; the dictator who forces stand-bys for performances by travelling radio units at military bases; who bans musicians on all television programs without explanation; who threatens networks and stations with death-knell reprisals if they hire NABET platter-turners as instructed by NLRB. The same Petrillo who has been denounced by other labor union leaders as employing tactics that are "antisocial and despotic" and as giving all labor a black eye.

Rep. Monroney (D-Okla.), who ranks high in Congressional councils because he gets things done, has introduced a bill which would make labor unions subject to the same antitrust statutes that govern business. The measure, we predict, will have more support than when he introduced it in the 77th Congress.

Chapter and verse, the Monroney measure would rectify those inequities foisted upon radio and other pursuits by the Petrillo onslaughts. It would bring an end to "makework", private WPA's and his other inventions.

The temper of Congress appears in favor of corrective legislation. The sins of Petrillo may be visited upon all labor. The Monroney measure deserves support, not only of industry, but of those labor unions which have sought to maintain a reasonable and practicable employe-employer relationship.

KENNETH WILLIAM CHURCH

HE sooner the better" is the philosophy of Ken Church, new executive vice-president of WCKY Cincinnati. His open war on procrastination led him into a rapid succession of advancing jobs, until he reached his present position with WCKY this past Dec. 1.

While working on the St. Louis Post Dispatch he became associated with Thomas Patrick Convey who was doing promotion for the first radio show in St. Louis. The show led to the establishment of KMOX. Ken was in on the original conferences which gave birth to KMOX. In 1932, after CBS acquired full control of the station, Jack Van Valkenburg, then manager, hired him to take over the sales department.

Later, he was made assistant general manager and commercial manager, posts he held until October 1941, when he joined WKRC Cincinnati. He was with WKRC until this December when accepted his present post with the 50,000 w L. B. Wilson station.

Ken is the chief claim to fame of Rocky

Ken is the chief claim to fame of Rocky River, Ohio, where he was born March 2, 41 years ago. The family later moved to Indianapolis where he attended Shortridge High School, then on to the U. of Indiana.

He was studying medicine at the university when he suddenly found himself looking at the wrong end of a surgeon's knife. He was under it. Without warning his appendix had acted up, and to such an extent that the doctor told him he would be all right only if he rested for a year.

After 90 days of doing nothing he decided it was high time to ignore the doctor's order. He got himself a job on the St. Louis Globe Democrat. His family had moved to St. Louis from Indianapolis in the meantime.

The pay was $11 a week plus commission for selling room and board classified ads by the door bell method. By covering his territory like a mailman, Ken made $28 the first week. After a few months, the paper transferred him to the automobile department.

One successful coup there brought him to the attention of the competing Post Dispatch. He accepted their offer of a better job, and it was while there that he got in on the beginnings of KMOX.

Despite a nasty accident several years ago when a horse threw him and "drop kicked" him on the way down, Ken still takes to the bridal paths when time allows. Next to the subject of horses, Ken likes to talk about his gun collection and his own rare animal, a long-haired Dachshund. He picked up the gun interest while a captain in the Missouri and Ohic

These Spartans wear pants...

Way, way back in August, 480 B.C., a band of tough, hardy soldiers from Sparta gave Xerxes and his Persians the battle of their lives at a pass around Mt. Oeta known as Thermopylae. The Spartans were chitons under their armor.

22 centuries later, in January, 1781, a group of tough, hardy South Carolinians from the rich, rolling Piedmont tableland, beat the British at the battle of Cowpens. The Spartan Regiment, as they were called, wore a mixture of mufti and 18th century G.I.

Today, citizens of Spartanburg County are still called Spartans. These Spartans wear pants...with pockets that bulge with the fruitful rewards of affluent agriculture, cotton textiles, plastics, and wood industries. Spartans and their neighbors in the 16 county WSPA Primary Area have an effective buying income of over half a billion dollars*!

But then, as we've been telling you, the 16 county WSPA Primary Area is "one of the best-balanced sections in the entire country"!

And WSPA swings the balance your way.

Where do most town folks shop? On the main street, of course. And where do most western folks "shop" for their radio entertainment? On the main street of western listening ... the NBC Western Division.

Just as the leading stores are located on Main street, so the outstanding radio programs are found on NBC. Summer and winter this Network has more top-ranking shows than any other, presenting for entertainment the best in variety, comedy, music, drama, news coverage, education...reason, indeed, that NBC has most of the listeners most of the time here in the West-just as it does in other parts of the nation.

The Western Division of NBC has helped widen this main street of western listening, contributing a long list of stellar programs which originate here in the West. Is it any wonder the NBC Western Division offers time buyers an advertising media that is hard to equal?

... once used to frighten evil spirits

Primitive forms of the trumpet have been found in prehistoric excavations, and African natives still use similar instruments carved from antelope horns or elephant tusks to frighten evil spirits. The Egyptians, familiar with the trumpet as early as 1415 B.C., attributed its invention to the god Osiris.

Start of the "brass section"

The Romans were the first to make the trumpet a "brass" instrument. Used mainly as a bugle by the Roman army, the trumpet was fashioned entirely of brass, had a conical bore, and was about 4 feet long. By 1500, the trumpet had assumed the shear we know today. About the

By 1000, the trumpet had assumed the shape we know today. About the same time, composers were writing parts for the trumpet in chamber music, and one score, dated 1607, calls for a muted trumpet.

Early "hot lick" artists

Early artists did not utilize the entire range of the trumpet—some specialized in flourishes, others in high notes. A trumpet score with both high and low notes called for two trumpeters, since "high" trumpeters found that playing low notes impaired their ability to reach the unusually high notes called for in the music of the Bach era.

the music of the Bach era.

Valves were introduced about 1820, and five years later Prussian bands began using E flat horns. It is the E flat, or soprano trumpet that is most widely used today, since modern composers favor the highest registers of the instrument.

The modern trumpet ranges from 200 to almost 10,000 c.p.s. You will find the bell-like qualities and true tonal perspective of the trumpet most nearly captured by:

Radio to Promote Red Cross Drive

Army, Navy Offer Material For Use of Stations

RED CROSS Radio Day Feb. 28 will open the $200,000,000 War Fund Drive incorporating both network and individual station participation. The Drive will continue through March.

The four major networks plan to devote some portion of each commercial or sustaining program on the opening day to the Red Cross drive. In addition, OWI has scheduled 16 network programs. CBS will climax its day's activities with a half-hour dramatic program 11:30-12 midnight by William M. Robson.

Net Coordinators

Similar to techniques followed during War Bond drives, the networks have appointed coordinators to work with the National Red Cross Radio Section. Network coordinators are: CBS, Roy Langham; NBC, Dwight Herrick; Blue, Tom Velotta; Mutual, Tom Slater. Red Cross representatives are: Maurice Robinson, assigned to work with CBS; Julie Dickinson, formerly with OWI and Lord & Thomas, NBC; Max Ehrlich, former New York freelancer, Blue; Loretto Larson, formerly with Arthur Myerhoff & Co., Chicago, Mutual.

Radio activities for ARC are supervised by F. Bourne Ruthrauff, vice-president and partner of Ruthrauff & Ryan, on leave to the Red Cross as executive director of publicity in charge of media, and by James Hart, chief of the Radio Section. All radio plans have been formed in cooperation with OWI.

Martin Codel, former part-owner and publisher of BROADCASTING, has been appointed volunteer director of radio for the campaign in the North Atlantic Area Office of ARC, working under Herb Carman, director of public relations.

Since the bulk of Red Cross funds is directed toward the comfort, welfare and recreation of the armed forces, the public relations offices of the Army and Navy in all parts of the world have been instructed to supply directly promotion material to local stations and Red Cross chapters. In cooperation with Red Cross personnel in the various theatres of war, both services are preparing live programs and front-line recordings to tell the Red Cross battlefront story. Some programs will be relayed by shortwave for rebroadcast while others will be recorded and flown to the U.S.

Col. Edward M. Kirby, Chief, Radio Branch, Bureau of Public Relations, War Dept., and Lt. Comdr. Charles Dillon, Officer-in-Charge, Radio Section, Office of Public Relations, Navy Dept., are directing the worldwide efforts of their respective services in behalf of ARC.

Available for local sponsorship, a series of 14 transcribed quarterhour dramatic programs, titled

50 kw Diathermy

BACK in New York last week en route to the Pacific area, Paul von Kunitz, formerly chief engineer of WINS New York, now with the OWI, told how he used the OWI's 50,000 w transmitter in Algiers to give himself and two U. S. Army men diathermy treatment to hasten recovery from internal injuries received a year ago during construction of another station in Africa. Mr. Kunitz wired two tin plates, attached to plywood panels, to the end of the rhomboid antenna used for the station. "Each plate was held to my chest and back by an Italian prisoner of war," he explained, "and during each treatment I could hear clearly the OWI psychological warfare pro-grams beamed to Germany and Italy going out over the transmitter."

Unfinished Business, featuring top radio talent, has been produced by ARC national headquarters, to be distributed to local stations through Red Cross chapters. First program features messages by Bob Hope, Jack Benny, Bing Crosby and Dinah Shore. Full AFRA and music clearance has been obtained.

OWI messages will commence Feb. 26 and continue through March 25. Starting Feb. 19 and continuing until start of actual allocations, OWI special assignment division is placing predrive messages on several network programs. Local coverage will be handled through cooperation of local chapter radio chairmen and OWI regional representatives with individual stations. Front-line recordings and similar material will be made available.

Part of considerable promotion planned by Doughnut Corp. of America for the ARC campaign consists of a series of 12 five-minute transcribed dramas relating true stories of Red Cross girls in the battle areas. Discs are being distributed nationally to bakers for placement on local stations or for inclusion with regular programs.

SPECIAL OWI SPOTS AID COAL SHORTAGE

A 29-YEAR-OLD production record in the two big Appalachian mining areas was broken, the Solids Fuels Administration for War revealed, as a result of OWI appeals to workers living in scattered sections throughout the fields, broadcast on 12 stations blanketing the areas.

Emergency spot announcements were telephoned by the OWI Friday, Jan. 26, to the stations urging all workers to report over the weekend for an extra-long work week. The heavy turnout of workers, despite bad weather which made travelling difficult, eased considerably the tight fuel situation which threatened stoppage of important war plants.

Stations airing the special messages were: West Virginia—WJLS Beckley, WCHS WGKV Charleston, WSAZ Huntington, WLOG Logan, WBRW Welch; Kentucky—WCMI Ashland, WHLN Harlan, WLAP Lexington; Tennessee—WBIR WNOX WROL Knoxville.

On Security Board

RESEARCH Board for National Security has been established by the National Academy of Sciences, with the purpose of continuing the close cooperation between civilian scientists and the armed services that has existed during the war. Among those serving on the Board are Maj. Gen. Harry C. Ingles, Chief Signal Officer, U. S. Army; Oliver E. Buckley, president, Bell Telephone Labs.; Zay Jeffries, vice-president, GE.

CAB Meeting Approves BBM

ing back into the stations more money than is being paid in interest on capital invested, Mr. Bannerman said, and "that's the way it should be, for only by giving the best service possible to its listeners can any broadcasting station hope to continue and develop with the growing art."

He urged broadcasters to guard "against one-sidedness from special interests and pressure groups, no matter from what strata of our social world they may come. . . Today is a testing time for both publicly-owned and privately-owned broadcasting systems. If either or both lose touch with the fundamental requirements of the listening public, then radio will fail to play its rightful part in the life of the nation."

A standardized radio libel and slander act has been prepared and submitted to the various provinces of Canada, Jos. Sedgwick, CAB counsel, told the meeting in his report. Himself a member of the committee which prepared the draft law in which radio will be mentioned, he said radio was being treated in the same way as newspapers and that stations would be absolutely liable for defamation. The draft law has been submitted to the stations for their comments, and suggestions are being made to cover negligence beyond the station's responsibilities.

Sincere, factual statements in commercials are preferred by Canadian listeners, according to the pilot door-to-door survey in the principal cities of Canada, E. W. Reynolds, vice-chairman of the Joint Committee on Commercial Continuities, reported. Dramatized commercials came next in popularity, then jingles, and testimonials were the least liked as they were not considered sincere.

The survey was made by Canadian Facts Reg'd, Toronto, as an undertaking of the committee which is made up of CAB members, advertisers and agency executives. It followed a survey made among station managers earlier, and asked the same questions that managers had been asked. The CAB membership decided to continue to support the committee and its work, suggested other angles for it to probe in the furtherance of better commercials, and voted $2,000 to pay expenses of more surveys among listeners for 1945.

BBM Meeting

More publicity on the CAB Code of Ethics was voted unanimously by the convention. It was decided to print the code so that it may be displayed prominently at all member stations. As the result of a suggestion by Ben Pollett of Compton Adv., New York, the code will be summarized for broadcasting by member stations from time to time to further publicize the fact that private broadcasters are regulating themselves.

Annual meeting of the Bureau of Broadcast Measurement (Canadian BMB) was held Monday afternoon, preceded by an open meeting to present the BBM report to all those attending. How well the BBM idea is going over in Canada, where it started a year ago, is shown by the fact that more than half the Canadian stations, or 49 in number, are members of BBM and already have had their first reports printed on the controlled mail ballot method. Practically all Canadian advertising agencies, 43 in number, are members of BBM, along with 40 advertisers and 7

Canadian radio station representatives, Lou Phenner, president of BBM reported.

A detailed history of BBM, the reasons for its establishment and a summary on the meaning of its report were given by Adrian Head of J. Walter Thompson Ltd., Toronto, followed by a description of the mechanics of obtaining the data by Walter Elliott, research counsel of BBM. More than one hour and a half of questions were leveled at the BBM board of directors by the audience.

It was pointed out by BBM board members that the first year's work has not brought a finished product. Many individual situations require study, such as population and geographical conditions affecting reception as in the Montreal district and in British Columbia.

Walter Elliott in explaining the mechanics of obtaining data reported that 400 ballots had been sent on a population proportionate basis to each of the 216 counties and census divisions in Canada, and that 75% of the ballots had been answered after three follow-up letters within a month. From the figures, primary, secondary and tertiary coverage maps have been assembled.

J. Harold Ryan, NAB president, told Canadian broadcasters and industry members what had been accomplished by BMB to date as a result of the current district meetings. He and Fred Gamble, AAAA: Barry Rumple, NBC; Paul Peters, NAB; Dr. F. Stanton, CBS, sat with BBM board members and answered questions of Canadian industry members.

At the closed business meeting of BBM, a new board was elected, consisting of Lou Phenner, Canadian Cellucotton, Hamilton, Ont.; A. Usher, RCA-Victor, Montreal; C. Vint, Colgate-Palmolive-Peet, Toronto; A. Head, J. Walter Thompson Ltd., Toronto; H. M. Tedman, J. J. Gibbons Ltd., To-ronto; J. A. MacLaren, MacLaren Adv. Co., Toronto; H. N. WAKEFIELD LEAVES SOON FOR LONDON

FIRST MEMBER of the FCC to go to a war theatre will be Commissioner Ray C. Wakefield, who leaves shortly for London with an Ameri-can delegation to negotiate Government cable rates with the British communications authorities. The assignment is expected to take several weeks and may carry the delegation to other points.

Arranged by the State Dept., the conference will have no immediate radio aspects, since no problems have arisen regarding radioteleg-raphy or broadcast pickup accommodations or rates.

Others in the delegation will include Harvey B. Otterman, assistant chief, Dept. of State Telecommunications Division; Marion H. Woodward, chief of the FCC's International Division; Lt. Col. Orla St. Clair, Signal Corps, and John R. Hyland, Western Union. A rep-resentative of commercial cables now in London will be assigned to the delegation.

expected at an early date, the CAB went on record that its member stations confine political broadcasts to a minimum of a half-hour at a time, preferably 15 minutes, and that there must be at least a half-hour between all political broadcasts on any station, whether those broad-casts are for local or national political groups, whether carried locally or through any of the Canadian networks.

KOA LEADS THE WAY IN LISTENER LOYALTY!

In NBC's 1944 Nationwide Survey of Listening Habits, radio families in seven of Colorado's largest cities, named KOA as the station "listened to most" at night by 59% to 79%.

In Denver alone, KOA leads the "Network B" station in "listened to most" by 150%—and all network stations in Denver combined by 62%.

Radio families in Wyoming's four largest cities named KOA as the station "listened to most" by 74% to 91%.

New Labor Bill by Monroney Would Block Petrillo Tactics

REFLECTING strong sentiment in favor of legislation to tackle the Petrillo problem on a broad front, Rep. Monroney (D-Okla.) last week introduced a bill (HR-2121) "to confer jurisdiction in the U. S. courts in cases involving work stoppage for illegitimate and non-labor purposes". The measure, originally introduced before the 77th Congress, would amend the Antitrust Act to restrict monopolistic practices on the part of labor as well as management.

Rep. Monroney told BROADCAST-

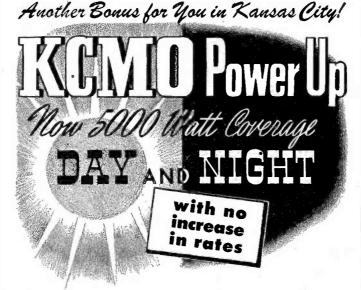

Ing his bill would cover the various AFM demands upon radio which have been brought before the War Labor Board and National Labor Relations Board for determination but that his overall objective is to curb monopolistic or coercive tactics by any labor organization. He said that when he previously offered the bill he was more concerned with problems in other industries. Mr. Petrillo's activities, he thought, would no doubt stimulate interest in the measure which has been referred to the House Judiciary Committee

Specifically, the bill would prevent the current dispute now before the NLRB involving platter turner jurisdiction at the NBC and Blue Networks. A provision in the bill prohibits any organization from inducing or requiring an employer "to deal with, to recognize or to employ members of one labor organization instead of members of another labor organization when the latter has been designated exclusive representative of the appropriate labor unit for the purpose of collective bargaining pursuant to the National Labor Relations Act and provided such latter union is free from domination or interference in its formation or administration by the employer. . . . Thus, the bill strikes at the AFM defiance of the NLRB certification of NABET as the bargaining unit for turntable operations.

Another provision hits directly at make-work, featherbedding, minimum quota, and standby practices of the AFM. This section of the bill makes it unlawful "to induce or require any employer to employ, or to pay any wages, salary, or other compensation to any person when such person is in fact in excess of the number of persons reasonably required to perform the work in which the employer is engaged".

A third provision is apparently aimed at efforts of unions to fore-

For this increased power is a bonus to KCMO advertisers . . . there has been no increase in KCMO rates. With power, programming, and promotion now second to none in Kansas City, KCMO delivers more listeners per dollar than ever before.

stall technical progress in order to safeguard employment. It prohibits activities by organizations to require an employer to impose "unreasonable restrictions upon the use of any materials, machines or equipment" but permits restrictions related to the welfare of employes "if they are required in good faith as part of a temporary program to retard technological unemployment by providing an orderly change in the methods of production or distribution or to forestall the imposition by the employer of a speedup system".

Effective Handling

Rep. Monroney's bill was regarded in many quarters as a more effective handling of Petrillo practices than the Vandenberg bill (S-63), which recently passed the Senate, and similar measures which are confined to narrow fields of AFM activity. The New York Times compliments Mr. Monroney for having "the courage and clearsightedness to introduce a bill that seeks not merely to curb Mr. Petrillo personally but to curb some of the antisocial practices in which the latter has been one of the chief offenders.

"Here at last", concludes the Times, "is a measure that would strike at the evil of make-work practices which are still tolerated in spite of a national labor shortage, and at a time when every misuse or waste of labor postpones the day of victory in war."

Meanwhile, the House scheduled hearings for Feb. 22 and 23 on the Vandenberg bill before the

It could not be learned whether any witnesses would appear in opposition to the measure but it was expected that Dr. Joseph E. Maddy, director of the National Music Camp, Interlochen, Mich., which was recently blacklisted by the AFM, would testify in support of the bill.

Acting with dispatch, the NLRB also scheduled oral arguments on the NABET-network-Petrillo platter turner dispute for March 6 before the full Board in Washington. The hearing will provide the AFM its last opportunity to contest the recommendation of Howard Meyers, trial examiner, that the Board issue an order requiring the networks to confer platter turner jurisdiction on NABET regardless of AFM strike threats.

Rival Musicians Union Is Proposed by NABET

Petrillo. president of the American Federation of Musicians, is attempting to "Hitlerize" the broadcasting industry following his successful appli-cation of Hitler's divide-and-conquer theory in the recording field, the February issue of Broadcast Engineers' Journal, publication of the National Assn. of Broadcast Engineers & Technicians, urges broadcasters to deal with the AFM as they did with ASCAP a few years ago.

"It should have occurred to many," NABET suggests, "that there is an urgent need for a competing musician's union. The public was forced to pay for the antics of ASCAP until the industry developed and gave us the BMI, which provided the healthy competition in the field of copyright music."

Third District Assumes Lead In Percentage Joining BMB

CLOSE COMPETITION marked the NAB district meetings last week, when at the last moment District 3 meeting in Pittsburgh became the leader among stations subscribing to BMB at one meeting, with 88% of those present signing. This just nosed out the 86% achieved at the District 11 Minneapolis meeting.

The Pittsburgh meeting, led by Director Roy F. Thompson, WFBG Altoona, with the assistance of Roger Clipp, WFIL Philadelphia president and BMB secretary-treasurer, and John Tully, WJAC Johnstown, a member of the NAB research committee, elected George Coleman, general manager, WGBI Scranton, district director. D. E. Robinson, vice-president in charge of research, Pedlar & Ryan, New York, and a member of the BMB board, gave agency support of the plan, drawing upon his background as one of the original members of the Joint Committee on Radio Research formed by the ANA, AAAA and NAB in 1934.

Mr. Clipp, Dr. Leon Levy, WCAU, Roy Thompson, WFBG, and Mr. Tully had committed themselves to the BMB plan before the meeting. Complete list of District 3 subscribers includes: Delaware-WDEL Wilmington; Maryland—WCAO WFBR Baltimore, WTBO Cumberland, WFMD Frederick, WJEJ Hagerstown; Pennsylvania

TO HONOR the men, women and programs in radio that have made outstanding contributions to human relations and the concept of harmonious collaboration among Americans of all faiths, the annual Brotherhood Week Awards of Distinguished Merit were announced last week by Dr. Everett R. Clinchy, president of the National Conference of Christians and Jews. Awards are granted in accordance with the objectives of the National Conference to promote justice, amity, understanding and cooperation among Protestants, Catholics and Jews in the U.S.

Many Citations

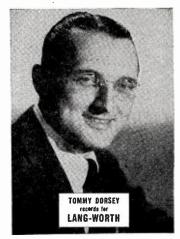

For the oustanding national network program series the award went to They Call Me Joe presented by NBC on the University of the Air as a program in cooperation with the Armed Forces Radio Service. Citation to They Call Me Joe declared that the program "has made a significant contribution to the maintenance of wholesome relations because it dramatized among Americans of all creeds and origins a spirit of Brotherhood."

The award for the outstanding single broadcast went to the dramatization Untitled by Norman Corwin, and presented by CBS; for the outstanding network religious program, the citation went to Hymns of All Churches, presented by General Mills over NBC; for outstanding work by an individual station, WMCA New York was cited, "because of its contributions to national unity in such programs as New World A'Coming, Adventures into the Mind, and other efforts consciously fostered to encourage understanding and harmony among all groups of the American people."

For the individual in radio contributing to the ideal of better understanding, the judges cited Kate Smith, "because her radio programs throughout 1944 embodied the message of understanding and goodwill among all Americans."

Judges for the awards were the officers of the National Conference including Dr. Clinchy, Roger Williams Straus and Arthur H. Compton, co-chairmen of the Conference; Willard Johnson, assistant to the president, and Robert A. Ashworth, director of Brotherhood Week, Feb. 18-25.

the WAR TIME REPEAL wa WAITS GERMAN FALL

WAR TIME repeal has been dealt a death blow for the present in South Dakota, while in Nebraska there's a move afoot to restore standard time. In Washington, however, there appeared little likelihood that either House of Congress would look with favor on restoring standard time until after VE-Day.

In South Dakota, a House-passed bill to repeal war time, died in the Senate State Affairs Committee. A similar bill is pending in Nebraska.

Network affiliated stations in Nebraska reserve the 12 noon-1 p.m. period for local programs, designed particularly for farm audiences. Should Nebraska revert to standard time, the stations would lose considerable revenue and deprive their audiences of local broadcasts.

On Thursday Sen. Wherry (R-Neb.) introduced a bill (S-557) to restore standard time. He also presented a concurrent resolution (S.Con.Res-9) to designate a definite date terminating war time. Both measures were referred to the Interstate Commerce Committee.

Another bill was introduced last week to repeal war time (HR-2151), presented by Rep. Norrell (D-Ark.), and referred to the Interstate & Foreign Commerce Committee. Rep. Lea (D-Cal.), Committee chairman, said however, that his group likely would not consider such legislation "at least until after Germany falls".

Smith Lauds Air Role In War Bond Campaigns

RADIO'S success as an advertising medium in promoting Bond sales has attracted attention in every city and hamlet in the country," BROADCASTING was told last week by Robert J. Smith, whose resignation as chief of the War Finance Division, Radio Section, has been announced by the Treasury. His successor is Eugene Carr, assistant to G. A. (Dick) Richards, president of WJR WGAR KMPC. Mr. Carr has been given several months' leave to handle radio for the forthcoming Seventh War Loan.

New Techniques

"War Finance Committees, including the most prominent businessmen in every community," Mr. Smith said, "have had dramatic demonstration of its power. Radio artists and enterprisers have been stimulated to create new techniques and patterns of operation and new investors encouraged to participate in the industry." He also pointed out that in performing a social and patriotic obligation, radio has unconsciously strengthened its prospects for postwar expansion and jobs for veterans.

"The job is still unfinished," Mr. Smith said, "and Gene Carr . . . will need the continued cooperation of the industry."

WMPS ALSO ADOPTS NEWSCAST POLICY

WMPS Memphis has notified all sponsors of news programs broadcast over its facilities that effective Feb. 19 such productions will carry no middle commercials, unless the message is purely a patriotic one in the direct interest of the war effort.

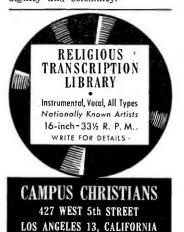

The plan applies to network cooperative shows as well as to locally originated programs. WMPS is

The policy was announced in letters forwarded by H. R. Krelstein, vice-president and general manager of the station which is operating now under the new ownership of Plough Inc. Station was purchased from Scripps-Howard Radio Inc. under FCC duopoly order.

Action of the Memphis station pursues that taken by WJR Detroit and KSD St. Louis. Meanwhile, the St. Louis Post Dispatch, affiliated with the latter station, is continuing its editorial campaign urging all networks to eliminate middle commercials from news broadcasts and commentaries.

Announcing the new policy, Mr. Krelstein stated: "News is more than just a commodity being served up to the listeners. News influences, informs and enlightens the public. Thus, news should be treated with dignity and solemnity."

no operation on Class I-A channels of one nation by any other nation party to the Havana Treaty unless specified mileage separation and technical considerations are met.

The suggestion was advanced that directional antenna designs, material and priorities be provided so the Cuban stations can suppress their signals to this country. This proposal, however, was seen as entirely unacceptable, since there is no provision under the Treaty for the proposed operation.

In the case of WGN, it is reported that there have been complaints to the station from outlying listeners who have surmised that the interference was willful "sabotage".

In past years, and more particularly prior to the Havana Treaty, interference from stations below the border which "squatted" on American wavelengths was not unusual. In recent months, however, there has been practically no difficulty with stations in Mexico and that Government has been described as most co-operative in its radio administration. The new Cuban operations appear to be causing more interference than at any other time.

Francis Colt De Wolf, chief of the State Dept. Telecommunications Division, and Harvey B. Otterman, assistant chief, have been handling the exchanges with the OIR and Cuban officials via the embassy.

Porter Tells Radio to Improve Or Face Cleanup by Congress

A WARNING that networks and radio as a whole must "clean up", particularly with reference to news broadcasts, or Congress will do it in the form of restrictive legislation was sounded by FCC Chairman Paul A. Porter in an interview published last Wednesday in the St. Louis Post-Dispatch, owner of KSD St. Louis.

Interviewed by Edward A. Harris of the Post-Dispatch Washington bureau, Mr. Porter commended the lead of the St. Louis publication in advocating freeing newscasts of interruping commercial plugs and objectionable sponsors. He termed significant the fact that the Post-Dispatch stand has been endorsed by BROADCASTING, which the Pulitzer paper termed "the recognized spokesman for the radio industry."

Mr. Porter emphasized that the Commission lacks authority to exercise control over program content, except to bar the use of obscene language and lotteries, but he warned that unless voluntary controls are exercised by radio itself, Congress may take action to insure good taste in news dissemination on the air.

Overall Question

Heralding the Post-Dispatch stand as reflecting the views of the people, Chairman Porter said leading broadcasters had expressed concern over "excessive commercialism" on the air. "This leads directly to the overall question of whether broadcasting will develop primarily into an exclusively entertainment and advertising medium or whether, in addition, it will go into the education and public service field for which stations are licensed," said the FCC chairman.

Broadcasters, he added, have developed a "kind of new dimension in the reporting of news". He pointed out that in rural areas a large segment of the population depends primarily on radio for its indiscriminately in news broadcasts or temper them in good taste," said Chairman Porter. "Listeners, as our mail shows, are becoming disturbed by the increasing trend to the former practice. If public sentiment mediums like the Post-Dispatch are successful in getting the radio industry to impose voluntary standards in the broadcasting field. then these mediums will have performed a fine service to listeners and broadcasters alike."

"The issue is whether radio stations will cry out advertising wares

Because of the high level of economic activity, radio is enjoying its greatest era of prosperity, the chairman continued, but he warned that radio must think, also, in terms of public service as well as commercial enterprise. "The Post-Dispatch is calling broadcasters to account," he said. "In effect it is reminding the industry that announcers are guests in the homes of the listeners and that they should respect that hospitality."

N. Y. Libel Bill

IRWIN STEINGUT (Kings county), minority leader in the New York Assembly, on Feb. 9 introduced a bill to extend the provisions of the libel section of the State penal law to include broadcasting as well as publications. A similar bill died in committee last year.

Trimount Plans

TRIMOUNT CLOTHING Co., Boston, sponsor of Dorothy Thompson on the Blue every other 13 weeks since March 1942, in resuming her commentaries for another cycle March 4, is understood to be shift-ing to a Sunday night spot on MBS, possibly 9:45-10 p.m. Period is now occupied by the Jerry Cooper Show for Miss Swank, New York, which may shift to another time, according to the agency, William H. Weintraub & Co., New York. Miss Thompson is now heard sustaining on the Blue, 8:15-8:30 p.m. Shift was not confirmed by networks or Emil Mogul Co., New York, agen-cy for Trimount, Clipper Craft Clothes.

WJNO Open House

NEW STUDIOS of WJNO West Palm Beach, Fla., will be dedicated Friday (Feb. 23) with a special program, 7:30-8 p.m., presenting city and county officials and prominent visitors at West Palm Beach. This week (Feb. 18-24) is "open house" at the new studios, 1500 N. Flagler Dr. WJNO moved its transmitter from Okeechobee Rd. to the new Flagler Dr. site at the request of Army Air Forces to eliminate a hazard caused by the station's tower, which formerly adjoined Morrison Field. New site combines studios, offices and transmitter. WJNO, owned by Lt. Marshall Heminway, now on active Navy duty; his brother, Lt. John H. Heminway, on duty with the Army, and Stephen P. NAB WOMEN START WORLDWIDE PLAN

TO INAUGURATE its 1945 campaign, "Women of the United Nations", the Assn. of Women Directors of the NAB held a meeting at the Hotel Roosevelt, New York on Feb. 17. Dorothy Lewis, NAB coordinator of listener activity, presided over the afternoon session. Following the luncheon at 3:30 p.m., Mrs. Roosevelt broadcast on CBS, and Queen Wilhelmina of the Netherlands was expected to go on the air.

With the cooperation of the 45 United Nations, Inter-American Commission of Women, the CIAA, and 25 major national organizations, a project of national scope was started. Each United Nation is supplying a series of spot announcements for 700 women broadcasters and the 25 national organizations will submit three spots, to be assembled and released by NAB.

Ruth Chilton, president, AWD, and commentator of WCAU Philadelphia, presiding over the morning session, which began at 10:30 a.m., lead a panel discussion including leading women commentators. Guest speakers for the meeting were Col. E. M. Kirby, chief, Radio Branch, War Dept. Bureau of Public Relations; Elizabeth Long, director of Women's Activities, CBC; and others. Miss Chilton presented Mrs. Roosevelt with an AWD award. Herbert Lehmann, UNRRA director and Rep. Emily Taft Douglas, of Ill. also were scheduled to address the meeting.

Gum Co. Plans

CLARK Bros. Chewing Gum Co., Pittsburgh, is understood to have appointed Duane Jones Co., New York, to handle advertising. Agency is reported to be lining up a network program for the company which formerly sponsored John J. Anthony's Good-will Hour on MBS.

FAMED FIGHTING FIRST Marine Division stepped out of the mood of battle to write Valentine greetings—in verse—to those back home. This Battle Broadcast team recorded the Leathernecks' poems in a tent sound-proofed with blankets, and had the wire recordings flown to USMC Public Relations Headquarters for station distribution. Correspondents are (1 to r): Pfc. David Piel, former manager of Yale U. station, WOCD; S/Sgt. Thomas P. Carson, formerly with GE; Pfc. Roger L. Roberts, who was an announcer-technician for KLS Oakland; 2nd Lt. Edward J. Burman, former announcer with KQW San Francisco; Corpl. Alvin G. Flanagan, who recorded Peleliu invasion, and was at WOR New York, KDKA Pittsburgh, WSB Atlanta before entering the service.

James Kopf

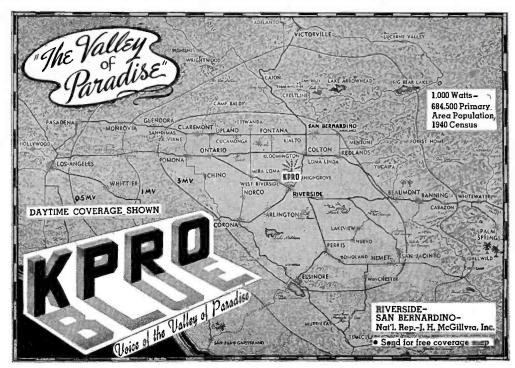

JAMES KOPF, 38, of the sales department of KTSM El Paso, died last week after a long illness. Mr. Kopf's brothers, Harry C. Kopf, vice-president and general manager of NBC Central division, and Richard Kopf, Chicago manager of Paul Raymer Co., went to Texas for the funeral. He is survived by his wife, a daughter and sister.

REPRESENTATIVES of BBDO's 11 offices will meet Feb. 23 at the Waldorf-Astoria in New York for an all-day session to review the year's activities and discuss future plans. The meeting is an annual affair.

Law Behind Technique In Radio, Says Otterman

"LEGALLY, radio has not kept pace with radio from the technical aspect," Harvey Otterman, assistant chief of the Telecommunications Division of the State Dept., stated last week before the Inter-American Defense Board and went on to say that perhaps it doesn't need more regulation domestically but it "could certainly be benefited by clarification of the law in some respects."

Touching on postwar planning, Mr. Otterman stated "reasonable internationalization" is being thought about in the administration of radio.

Additional Allocations Data NEWS SPONSORSHIP Invited by FCC Announcement

Video, FM Interests to Submit New Information; RTPB Works on Recommendations Below 25 Mc

IN LINE with its open-mind policy regarding allocations above 25 mc, the FCC last week announced that persons appearing at oral argument Feb. 28 may submit "any additional relevant material that has been developed" since the allocation hearings closed Nov. 2.

That announcement came after television and FM interests informally advised the Commission they had unearthed information which might have some bearing on future allocations. Customarily oral argument would be confined to the record, but in the case of allocations-a major policy step-the Commission will keep an open mind until after all available evidence has been submitted [BROADCASTING,

Although deadline for filing briefs is Feb. 21, none had been received as BROADCASTING went to press and Commission legal and engineering departments were prepared for a last-minute rush. Commissioner E. K. Jett, who has been serving as unofficial chairman pro tem of the allocations proceedings, at the behest of his fellow-Commissioners, had urged that briefs be filed early [BROADCASTING, Jan. 16].

Charles R. Denny Jr., Commission general counsel, said last week the Commission hoped to announce the order of appearances in the oral argument late this week. Argument opens Feb. 28 and continues through March 2. Mr. Denny suggested that all those who have filed for appearances plan to be in Washington for the three-day session.

Several additional requests for oral argument have been filed since the original list was published in the Feb. 5 BROADCASTING. These include: Leonard L. Asch, Capitol Broadcasting Co., licensee of WBCA Schenectady, who opposes the proposed allocation of FM to the 84-102 mc band; Maj. Edwin H. Armstrong, inventor of FM; J. E. Brown, Zenith Radio Corp.; Society of Plastics Industry, William T. Cruse, executive vice-president. RTPB Panel 2, meeting in New York last Wednesday, voted not to submit briefs or to appear for oral argument, inasmuch as the individual panels in disagreement with the FCC proposals will act.

FIVE MORE stations have been added to the upstate New York farm network program conducted by Rym Berry for Babson Bros., Chicago, makers of dairy farm Chicago, makers of dairy farm equipment. The new additions are: WWNY Watertown, N. Y., WOSH Oshkosh; WSAU Wausau, WKBH LaCrosse, and WIBA Madison, Wis., bringing to a total of eight stations which now carry Rym Berry's chats "across the barnyard gate" to farm listeners. Selection of a New England station has been proposed for future expansion of the dairy farm coverage in the East. Rym Berry has been on WHCU Ithaca, WGY Schenectady and WSYR Syracuse.

Dr. Jolliffe turned the meeting over to F. M. Ryan, vice-chairman, for a discussion of allocations below 25 mc. Panel 2 agreed to consider such allocations on a worldwide basis rather than confine its work to a national basis. Each panel affected will be asked to collect data on the overall requirements of each radio service, to provide Panel 2 with information of value for international consideration.

William J. Halligan, president of Hallicrafters Co., Chicago, last week commended the FCC on its proposal to move FM to the 84-102 mc band. Police and amateur experiences in the 30-60 mc area show long-distance interference, he said. FM above 80 mc will assure the public a high fidelity service free from static and man-made disturbance, and from any danger of interference from a distant FM transmitter on the same frequency, he asserted.

Mr. Halligan discounted the economic phase as "not too serious", contending only a comparatively few transmitters operate in the 42-50 mc band. Sets normally become obsolete, he added. Those still in operation could be converted at a small cost. Cyrus T. Read, Hallicrafters sales engineering director, disclosed that his firm for five years has been building sets to receive AM, FM and radiotelegraph signals on any frequency from 27.8-143 mc.

REVISED BY KFI

WITH KFI Los Angeles having issued a ukase against expression of private opinion on locally sponsored news commentary programs, William B. Ryan, KFI general manager, has advised clients that commentators may embrace the status of news analysts if their qualifications justify such an appellation. Station recently shattered all precedent when agencies and sponsors were notified that after March 1 local commentators expressing personal opinions and interpretations would be personae non gratae. [BROADCASTING, Feb. 12]. Statement of policy as issued by Mr. Ryan reads in part as follows:
"Effective March 1, KFI Los Angeles will inaugurate a new policy in the broadcasting of spon-sored news programs. Direct wire reports, commonly known as 'spot news' will be supplemented by programs featuring news analysis. Commentators expressing personal opinions and interpretations will be discontinued."

The news editors of the station, it was announced, will concentrate on analysis of all news material to the end that the listening pub-lic may be fully informed about important events of the day. Furthermore, newscasters and news analysts must be KFI employes.

For the present KFI will look to NBC, with which it is affiliated, to furnish its listeners with a sufficient number of qualified commentators. In announcing this policy, the KFI management stated that it was the result of long and careful analysis of news programming.

WORK of the CIO Political Action WORK of the CIO Political Action Committee in educating labor in the use of radio and the action of the United Automobile Workers Union, CIO, against WHKC Columbus, O., are credited with a changed radio policy towards labor that has resulted in union programs on NBC, CBS and the Blue, according to an article, "Is Radio Going Liberal?" in the New Republic for Feb. 12. Authors are Emil Corwin, former PAC radio director, and Alan Reitman, chief of the PAC labor desk. labor desk.

KXA-WJZ Accord Is Declared Invalid

Simultaneous Operation at Night Not Authorized

OPERATION of KXA Seattle after local sunset, even by permission of WJZ New York, dominant station on the 770-kc clear channel on which KXA is a secondary station, would be a violation of Sec. 3.23(b) of the FCC Rules & Regulations, the Commission last week advised American Radio Telep. Co., licensee of the Seattle station.

KXA late last month filed with the Commission a proposed schedule of operation, to become effective Feb. 1 for one year. Attached was an agreement signed by Keith Kiggins, vice-president of the American Broadcasting Co., licensee of WJZ, stipulating that WJZ had no objections to the schedule which called for operation of KXA from 10 p.m. to midnight (PWT) Monday; 10 p.m.-3 a.m. Tuesday through Saturday, and 10 p.m.-3 a.m. Sunday, in addition to the station's regular hours of 6 a.m. to local sunset. The Commission wrote KXA as follows:

sion wrote KXA as follows:

Under the provisions of Sec. 3.23(b) of the Commission's Rules & Regulations. Station KXA is licensed to operate during daytime hours until local sunset, and in addition, during those nighttime hours when Station WJZ is off the air.

It appears from the schedule which you have filed that after signing off at sunset, you intend to resume broadcasting each evening at 10 p.m. and continue until 12 midnight. PWT. by virtue of an agreement with WJZ. Any simultaneous operation of KXA and WJZ during nighttime hours would not be consistent with the provisions of Sec. 3.23 (b) and would not be within the scope of your existing license.

within the scope of your operating cense.

Since an extension of your operating rights can only be nermitted by Commission action, and not by contract with other licensees, you are advised that this operating schedule is invalid insofar as it purports to authorize KXA to operate after local sunset simultaneously with WJZ.

This Campaign Put "Vitality" Into FOOD ... and Into FOOD SALES!

When the Sun-Maid Raisin Growers of California commenced, back in 1921, the advertising theme "Had Your Iron Today?" they helped start a trend that has vitalized food sales ever since. Today, scores of every-day foods are profiting from Sun-Maid's pioneering by promoting their therapeutic values.

In the DISTRIBUTION DECADE

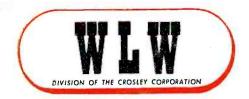

Advertising Must Give New VITALITY To Sales!

SELLING is going to have to be stepped up beyond anything we have yet known, if we are to avoid disastrous economic dislocation in the Distribution Decade after Victory! For to maintain a safe employment level, we as a Nation will have to consume 40% more industrial production than in our greatest prewar year.

There will be manpower, manufacturing facilities, money and materials aplenty to produce goods. The problem will be to distribute these goods efficiently, economically and speedily. That means accelerated sales—and a new opportunity and responsibility for Advertising.

The alert advertising men who are perfecting plans for the Distribution Decade will find that we at The Nation's Station have not been idle, either. When the time comes, we will have much to tell you about the great 4-State Market that is WLW-land!

WKY Covers 45% MORE than Oklahoma's Second Station!

T IS not enough to say that WKY covers the largest radio audience in Oklahoma.

WKY covers the largest drug market, the largest food market, and the biggest and best-buying market for any product in Oklahoma.

Sixty-one percent of the $28,523,000 spent in Oklahoma's drug stores in 1943 was spent in WKY's primary coverage area (morning). Forty-two percent of this amount was spent in the primary coverage area of Oklahoma's second station.

Furthermore, per capita drug sales in the WKY area were $26.42, compared with $21.55 in the second station's area.

WKY, therefore, covers an area in which sellers of drug and toiletry items should be especially interested, an area which no other station in Oklahoma but WKY can deliver.

That WKY delivers this area, with only slight variations, morning, afternoon and night, is a fact proved by the statewide study of Oklahoma listening conducted by Dr. F. L. Whan, University of Wichita, on whose impartial findings the coverage areas referred to above were also based.

Most important of all, WKY can back up these statements by the experience of past and present advertisers who know that WKY delivers sales across the counter-in greater number and at lower cost than does any other Oklahoma station.
