Radio changes constantly.

Approximately 450 changes are posted to the M Street Database each week! Well over 20,000 changes have been made to this directory since the last year's edition.

Each week since 1984, we have published in the M Street Journal information about changes in radio. Changes in ownership, changes in call letters, changes in formats, changes in facilities... the lists of changes go on and on. This directory is the culmination of many years of work by a dedicated group of experienced broadcasters.

Almost everyone who has worked on this project has been an integral part of a radio station; most have years of broadcasting behind them, and still before them. As a book prepared by broadcasters for broadcasters, the product of our work contains more useful, usable and affordable information than any other source. This is the basic information a station owner, engineer, manager, announcer, time buyer--anyone who cares about radio--can use to find out what is happening in the business today.

The data within is part of a much larger database that has been compiled and refined over the past six years. We have selected for inclusion in this book the most frequently requested items. Customized reports of station or market data, mailing labels, and format information are available through our Alexandria office; call (703) 684-3622 or write to P.O. Box 3568, Alexandria, VA 22302 for details.

As with any set of information this large and volatile, some errors are inevitable; we have tried to make this compilation as accurate as possible, and it is an ongoing process. If you should notice information that is incorrect or missing, please phone or fax the corrections to us so that the next edition will be even more accurate.

The M Street Radio Directory contains estimates of audience shares from surveys taken by the above ratings companies. The figures we show are taken from the latest survey published before our deadlines. The particular survey used in each market is shown in The M Street RADIO MARTETS section, but not in the individual station listings. Ratings are not shown for stations that received less than a .1 share or stations who have changed their format since the survey.

The majority of these estimates were compiled through surveys conducted by either The Arbitron Company or the Birch/Scarborough Research Corporation during the period from mid-September through mid-December 1989. Some markets are not surveyed in the Fall. In these markets surveys are usually conducted from late-March to late-June. In markets which have no Fall survey, the M Street Radio Directory reports estimates from the Spring survey.

A number of radio markets in the Pacific Northwest are surveyed by Willhight Radio Research. Willhight's surveys do not always coincide with the Arbitron and Birch survey periods. The dates of the Willhight surveys are given in the MARKET section.

The term "ratings" is used to describe the audience estimates published in The M Street Radio Directory but "audience share" is a more accurate description. The published numbers represent the percentage of all radio listeners twelve years old or older (12+) who tune to a particular radio station in a theoretical "average quarter hour" on any day from Monday to Sunday between the hours of 6:00 A.M. and 12:00 Midnight. This figure highlights some relative strengths and weaknesses of the stations competing in a market, however it tells only a small portion of the story of competition in a market.

Taken alone, the audience share reveals nothing about the actual size of a station's audience. An estimate of the number of people tuned to all radio stations in an average quarter hour is needed to derive the audience size from the share. These more specific figures are not included, because of their volume, and because the ratings companies would have little to sell if we published them. Our inclusion of audience shares from the ratings companies is based partially on their hopes that persons needing fully detailed information will subscribe to their services

UNDERSTANDING RATINGS METHODS

By Steven G. Apel

Steven Apel is the President of Media Perspectives Research Corporation and a former Research Project Director for The Arbitron Company. Media Perspectives provides marketing and audience research as well as strategic consulting for radio broadcasters seeking to maximize ratings and revenues. He may be contacted at Media Perspectives, 2901 Elberta Lane, Marlton, New Jersey 08053, telephone 609-985-7474.

Since the earliest days of radio network programming and advertising, broadcasters have needed a precise means of measuring the radio audience. Audience ratings systems provide "tangible" evidence of radio listening that enables broadcasters to assess the performance of their stations and allows advertisers to compare the audience delivered by competing stations to allocate their media budgets accordingly.

An early system projected the size of the radio audience as a multiple of the amount of mail each program received. This crude system was soon replaced by surveys and polls that adapted scientific sampling principles to the task of counting an unseen audience. Crosley, Hooper and The Pulse pioneered the use of surveys to measure the audience for radio programs. However, the methods these firms employed were not well suited to deal with the dynamics of radio following the development of television.

Radio's evolution into a format medium and the resulting emphasis on demographic targeting of groups of listeners required a greater degree of precision in measuring the audience. Today, the majority of radio audience ratings in the United States are provided by The Arbitron Company and Birch/Scarborough Research. Despite the ability of these firms to provide demographic audience ratings, their measurements remain only estimates of the radio audience.

Radio audience estimates can be influenced by how the measurement survey used to produce them is conducted. As a result, broadcasters and advertisers need to understand the basics of ratings survey methodology. With such an understanding, advertising time can be bought and sold more effectively. Broadcasters can use the ratings to interpret their station's performance in delivering audience and devise strategies for improving this performance.

Information about an individual's radio usage is commonly collected through either a diary or personal interview. Arbitron uses a diary - a written record of listening that is kept by the listener for a week. Birch employs personal interviews in which listeners are asked to recall their radio listening during the preceding twenty-four hours. The BBM Bureau of Measurement, the primary provider of radio ratings in Canada, also uses a listening diary. Willhight Radio Research, which provides ratings for some markets in the northwestern U.S., gathers data via personal interviews. Neither the diary or the interview method provides a perfect measure of listening.

The diary method can capture highly detailed information about radio listening and track changes in listening throughout the day. Differences in weekday and weekend listening can be determined and a reliable weekly reach figure can be computed for each radio station. However, keeping a record of radio listening for a week can be a demanding task. Many listeners decline to participate in a diary survey for this reason. Those who keep a diary may use radio differently than those who do not. As a result, the estimates produced through the diary method may not be representative of the population at large.

The personal interview makes fewer demands on the listener and may encourage more individuals to take part in the survey. As a result, the personal interview is more likely to yield a representative sample of the population. However, these interviews are less likely to produce detailed information on radio listening. Listeners may not remember tuning in to some stations or may not recall the exact times they switched from one station to another. In addition, a series of one day recall interviews conducted with different listeners cannot produce a truly reliable measure of the number of people who listen to a station over the course of a week - the station's cumulative audience or weekly reach. This may result in a significant under-counting of audience.

An illustration of this under-counting is provided by the following example which uses a music intensive station named KMUS and a news/talk formatted station named WNTK which broadcasts play-by-play coverage of a local football team. Suppose a high proportion of sports fans are asked about their Friday radio listening and all report listening to KMUS. On Saturday, these individuals tuned to the football broadcast on WNTK. Since the interview did not cover Saturday listening, they are not counted in WNTK's weekly cumulative audience. Now, suppose people with little interest in sports comprise the sample asked about Saturday radio listening. Few report listening to WNTK for sports coverage. When interviews about Friday and Saturday listening are combined to produce an audience estimate, the cumulative audience of WNTK is calculated to be lower than it actually is.

In an attempt to moderate the effects a one-day recall interview can have on weekly come, both Birch and Willhight follow their detailed one day recall questions with probes about the stations people listened to on prior days. While this may reduce the potential for suppressing reported weekly cumulative audience for some stations the fact that weekly come listening estimates are produced through a different line of questioning than that which produces quarter hour listening estimates raises new issues of reliability and comparability.

In addition to producing different estimates of weekly reach, diary and interview methods can favor different types of programming. Historically, the less intrusive recall interview method has proven more effective in gaining the cooperation of younger listeners while diary reliant surveys have attracted a sample of older, more settled listeners.

Stations that target a young audience often attain a higher rating in a personal interview study than in a concurrently conducted diary study. Stations targeting an older audience usually fare better in diary surveys than in interviews. As a result, radio stations with Album Rock, Contemporary Hit and Urban formats that find primary appeal among listeners below age 35 tend to be more competitive in the recall interview driven Birch ratings. Adult Contemporary, Easy Listening, News and Talk formats which appeal to listeners age 35 and older gain higher ratings in the Arbitron diary system.

Although both diary and interview systems attempt to measure actual listening, there is no guarantee that this is always the case. Evidence suggests that some ratings produced by these systems are really a measure of listeners' awareness of a radio station rather than an indication of station use.

The potential for measuring awareness rather than behavior is greatest when personal interviews are used to gather listening data. The personal interview relies on an individual's ability to remember details of their previous day's radio listening - a "low commitment" activity to which little thought is given. When unexpectedly asked about this listening, an individual who is unsure of what station they used will often mention the name of the first station that comes to mind. When this occurs, a well promoted radio station can win credit for listening and gain ratings points which really belong to a competitor.

In diary studies, the listener's prior "agreement" to report radio usage lessens but does not entirely eliminate the risk that awareness rather than behavior will be measured. When listeners fail to complete their diaries at the time they are listening, the diary changes from an actual record of radio usage into a report of recall that is subject to the imperfections of memory. Just as with recall interviews, listeners may give credit to the stations they are most aware of while they fail to report other stations with a lower profile.

Another problem in capturing accurate information about radio listening is the un-aided response technique both the diary and personal interview methods employ. Both systems ask listeners to volunteer information about the stations they use. For a station to get ratings credit, the listener must accurately report the station's name. This task may prove difficult for some listeners who do not pay close attention to the radio.

ABOUT RATINGS

In the un-aided ratings process, listeners may neglect to report listening to stations they use as a second or third choice. In addition, listeners can get the name of a station wrong. Since each of these mistakes are costly to the broadcaster in terms of lost ratings, the broadcaster must help the listener achieve the necessary accuracy.

The selection of call letters and an on-air slogan that are appropriate for the format the broadcaster is offering along with continual reinforcement of this name both on the air and through outside promotion are needed to minimize reporting errors and gain ratings victory.

The call letters or name of a station must be easy to conceptualize and write in a diary or mention to a survey interviewer. Call letters or a slogan related directly to the station's programming or the benefits it offers help the listener to link listening behavior with the appropriate station. Including the radio station's frequency in on-air mentions and in promotion helps listeners to accurately report listening since many listeners identify stations based on dial locations.

Two elements are vital to ratings success. The first is good programming - a station without good programming cannot capture a sizable audience. The other is effective promotion - both on-air and off-air promotion is needed to assist listeners' in supplying information about their radio listening behavior to the ratings companies.

Informed users of ratings need to remember that radio audience estimates reflect a combination of individuals' actual use of radio stations, their awareness of radio stations and the method employed to gather information from radio listeners.

GUIDE TO USE

To help you get the most information from the station listings please read through this guide. The inside column shows a sample of what is being described in the outside column.

Please examine the samples at the right.

The listings are arranged in lines. We use six different types of lines always in the same order:

- City
- Call Letters
- Frequency
- Address
- Applications & Permits
- Market Information

City of License is followed by the stations in frequency order. AM stations first then FM stations.

Yakima

Call letters are followed by Power/Facility:

For AM stations the day power is listed first and the night power second (i.e. 5000/250w). Next is the AM antenna configuration:

- ND-D non-directional day
- DA-D directional days
- DA-1 same directional pattern
day and night
- DA-2 different directional
patterns day and night
- = station shares time with another station

KZTA 1000/w ND-D

FM stations list their effective radiated power followed by the antenna height above average terrain. FM stations whose ERP or HAAT is different for horizontal and vertical polarizations list the figures as (h) and (v). "DA" indicates a directional antenna is used.

KZTA 1000/w ND-D [SS]

Format codes follow the power/facility in square brackets. Please see the section FORMAT CODES for a complete explanation of our format classifications and their codes.

KZTA 1000/w ND-D [SS] 5s 7c 7c

The last items on the Call Letter line are the change codes. The last digit of the year of the change is followed by a code for the type of change:

- c call letter change
 - f frequency change
 - l city of license change
 - n new station on air
 - s station sale
 - t format change
 - p facilities change

The frequency line includes the owner of the station and the station's business office phone number. If we do not have a phone number the area code is given.

A "+" preceding the owner indicates the company (not necessarily under the same name) has a ownership interest in stations in other markets.

Box 2489, 98907 1510 Hartford Rd., 98907 [KIHS]

Addresses, up to two are shown. The city and state are assumed to be the city and state of license unless otherwise listed.

Any AM or FM affiliate in the same market is shown in square brackets following the station addresses.

The Applications & Permits line, if any, shows applications not yet accepted or rejected and construction permits not yet on air. Listings correspond to the facilities descriptions above.

Yakima Arbitron .9 Birch 2.3

The last possible line in a station listing is the Market Information. The primary market area served is followed by any ratings (see ABOUT RATINGS) and any secondary market.

This section lists each of the over 400 M Street RADIO MARKETS in the United States. A Station is generally included in a market if it is licensed to a city in that market or considers the market to be a primary focus of its marketing activities.

For each listing, the market name is followed by all states served, Metro and Total Survey Area populations (TSA), the M Street 1990 market rank (M St.), the Arbitron 1990 market rank (ARB), the number of Arbitron surveys per year (/#), the Birch 1990 market rank, the date of the rating surveys used for the market, followed by AM and FM stations in dial order.

Metro and Total Survey Area population figures are based on the 12+ population estimates of Arbitron, if an Arbitron-rated market; Birch, if the market is rated by Birch but not Arbitron; Willhight, if the market is rated by Willhight but not Birch or Arbitron; or M Street, if the market is not rated. M Street rank is based on total population estimates for the M Street-defined market area, which is defined by postal zip code rather than counties. The market definitions of Arbitron, Birch and Willhight are influenced by stations purchasing each company's ratings services, and do not necessarily coincide with each other or with M Street.

Arbitron and Birch estimates are for persons 12+ Monday-Sunday, 6 AM to midnight, average quarter hour shares from the Metro Survey area. Ratings for each market are for the most recent survey period available at press time since Spring 1989, from the following survey dates:

	Arbitron	Birch
Spring	Mar. 30 to June 21, 1989	Mar. to May, 1989
Summer	June 22 to Sep. 13, 1989	June to Aug., 1989
Fall	Sep. 21 to Dec. 13, 1989	Sep. to Nov., 1989
Winter	Jan. 4 to Mar. 28, 1990	Dec. to Feb., 1989-90

Willhight survey dates are given separately for each Willhight-rated market. Since each ratings service adds and drops markets from year to year, there will be some markets with 1990 ranks but no surveys yet conducted, and some markets with survey information but no 1990 market rank.

For more information on ratings and copyright information, see the ABOUT RATINGS section at the front of the book. Estimates are Copyrighted and may not be quoted or reproduced without prior written permission of the Copyright owner. For more information on the format descriptions for each station, see the FORMAT CODES section at the front of the book.

As with other sections of the book, M Street's RADIO MARKETS are a condensation of data collected and are revised on an ongoing basis by M Street. Please call or write us with updates, corrections, or inquiries for customized applications of our market data.

$49,920 A Year Isn't Free

In today's age, you can save money and still get the desired results.

Let's talk satellite and its cost to you. Drake-Chenault/Jones has a set market price based on population. Like you, we appreciate rate card integrity. During this past year several of the satellite-delivered formats, specifically, commercial carriers have chosen not to charge for their services.

Really?

Let's put the phrase "free satellite" to rest once and for all.

- These satellite networks sold $112 million worth of your air time in 1989...this doesn't appear to be free air time.
- Drake-Chenault/Jones sold none of your air time.
- Let's do a Drake-Chenault/Jones exercise. Let's use, for an example, a rate of $20 for a 30 second commercial. For the sake of this exercise we are not interested in showing you any time period except your most sought after two days of the week, Thursday and Friday drive times. These two commercial satellite networks require you give them 2 minutes/hour or 4-30 second commercials x 6 hours drive time on Thursday x 6 hours drive time on Friday.

48 commercials x $20 = $960/week or $3,840/month or $49,920/year worth of free satellite.

End of conversation. Let's talk.

NATIONAL RADIO NETWORKING IN THE UNITED STATES

by Greg Monti

Greg Monti of National Public Radio is Technical Manager for the project that is refurbishing and enhancing public radio's eleven-year-old satellite interconnection system.

Network radio is as varied in its structure and programming as is local radio. Some networks exist to distribute a single program. Others offer a few hours of specialty programming daily. A few schedule hourly news reports as well as commentaries and play by play coverage of major sporting events. Some provide stations with all the programming needed to fill an entire twenty-four hour broadcast day.

Forty-seven companies provide some form of national radio network programming. They operate a total of eighty-eight individual network audio services. A number of other companies, not listed here, offer regional, state and sports network services.

Following unprecedented growth in their ranks throughout the early 1980's, numerous consolidations have reduced the number of companies playing the national network game as we enter the 1990's. Several announced ventures never began service; others failed after a short time on the air. Since the 1989 edition of the M Street Radio Directory, Capital Cities/ABC, Inc., purchased Satellite Music Networks and the Transtar Radio Networks merged with the United Stations Radio Networks.

Network programming generally falls into four categories:

- newscasts (news reports of less than fifteen minutes duration)
- features (short programs other than newscasts)
- long-form programming (complete programs of 30 minutes to several hours in length)
- format delivery (programming that can fill a station's entire broadcast day)

All national radio networks in the United States are delivered to local stations by satellite. Some use a digital transmission service provided by GE American Communications from either Vernon Valley, New Jersey, or Culver City, California, that is commonly abbreviated "DATS" and is delivered on Satcom 1R. Others use analog transmission, either single channel per carrier (FM SCPC) or FM subcarrier (called "FM squared" when provided by United Video). Generally, FM SCPC radio networks are located on Westar 4, on Galaxy 2 or on Satcom 1R. Subcarrier operations are scattered among many satellites with many on Spacenet 3.

Here is M Street's current compilation:

ABC/CAPITAL CITIES owns both the ABC RADIO NETWORKS and SATELLITE MUSIC NETWORK. The seven ABC Radio services provide mainly news and features. The ten SMN services, acquired in 1989, provide formats.

News and Talk Services:

- ABC INFORMATION network is used by news, talk, full-service and other stations. The most popular program in all of network radio, "Paul Harvey News," is carried by this network.
- ABC DIRECTION and ENTERTAINMENT networks tend to affiliate with other adult-formatted radio stations in markets where Information is already in use.
- ABC CONTEMPORARY network is intended for contemporary hit formatted radio stations.
- ABC ROCK network is often found on album rock stations.
- ABC FM network is targeted to stations which appeal to 18 to 34 year old adults.

- ABC TALKRADIO provides long-form telephone talk programming.

Format services:

- STARSTATION is adult contemporary.
- COUNTRY COAST TO COAST is modern country.
- STARDUST is adult standards.
- HEAT is contemporary hits.
- HEART AND SOUL is adult urban contemporary.
- PURE GOLD is rock oldies.
- KOOL GOLD is a second rock oldies format emphasizing music of the 1950's and early 1960s. It consists mainly of the live programming of Adams Communications' KOOL(AM) Phoenix.
- Z-ROCK is heavy metal album oriented rock.
- THE WAVE is new-age music, also called new adult contemporary.
- TRADITIONAL COUNTRY is produced by KNIX(AM) Tempe, Arizona, a station owned by Buck Owens.

SHORTWAVE

The Power to Reach a Planet.

Shortwave broadcasting is not for the feint hearted. It's a place where 50,000 watt transmitters are considered toys. Where audiences are measured in the tens of millions. And where those who own the stations have the power to sway the opinion of entire nations. Many consider the fall of communism in Eastern Europe a direct result of foreign shortwave broadcasts. Think of it. A kind of radio station that can change history.

Interested? Here's two great ways to find out more.

PASSPORT TO WORLD BAND RADIO

A complete guide to international shortwave radio, includes an exhaustive frequency guide that shows you who's on the air, where and with how much. $14.95 plus 2.80 UPS shipping.

WORLD RADIO TV HANDBOOK

The professional directory of shortwave radio -- mini profiles of shortwave stations around the world, including key personnel, addresses, schedules, and more. $19.95 plus 3.05 UPS shipping.

Make your check or money order payable to DX Radio Supply, P.O. Box 360, Wagontown, PA 19376. PA res. add 6% sales tax. All sales are final.

WASHINGTON THIS WEEK

It Ain't Over, Even When the Fat Lady Sings. The call letter change of WKJY-1550 Parsons TN to WKJQ this week ends the latest instance where an FCC reversal caught - and cost - a broadcaster. WTBP-1550 had been granted the calls WKJY last Spring by the FCC, even though another WKJY had existed for years in Hempstead NY. The FCC misplaced a card file containing the record of the existing station.

Last week, WIOI-FM Brunswick GA was stung when the FCC reversed an earlier decision allowing WIOI to place a high-power booster 60 miles away in Jacksonville FL. The booster had substantially altered WIOI's marketing and increased the station's value. Earlier this month, an FCC-approved settlement agreement allowing the contesting parties to sell to Rowland Broadcasting was reversed at the FCC's initiative - after Rowland hired staff and signed programming contracts for the new FM it had "irreversibly" been granted. These and other examples raise an interesting question: when, exactly, does an FCC decision become final?

WASHINGTON THIS WEEK (Cont'd)

FCC Releases Revised New Rate Card. The FCC has issued several revisions to its new fee schedule. New rates will take effect "as early as June 1." Fees not listed in the previous fee schedule include:

Remote control (AM)	$ 35
Call sign modification (AM/FM/TV)	55
STA (other than to remain silent) (all)	100
Extension of time to construct or replace CP (AM/FM/TV)	200
Petition for rulemaking for city of license or channel (FM/TV)	1565
Ownership report (AM/FM/TV)	35

Other fees in the new schedule were listed in the June 5, 1989 MSJ (Vol. 6, #23).

ELSEWHERE

Thomas Root, the Washington communications lawyer involved in a bizarre plane flight and shooting last summer, was indicted last week on 33 counts of fraud, filing false and altered documents, forgery and obstruction of justice in dealings with the FCC and with clients trying to obtain new Docket 80-90 FMs. Alleged incidents include double-billing clients, forging FAA clearances and letters to and from the FCC, and misrepresenting negotiations for land leases.

Atlanta's New FM? This week's rulemaking proposal to move WHMA-FM-100.5 to Sandy Springs GA is part of an elaborate plan by new WHMA-FM owner Tom Gammon to convert the station into a major Atlanta FM. The shift, if approved, moves WHMA-FM nearly 90 miles east into Atlanta; creates a new Anniston FM; limits the upgrade potential of several other Atlanta area FMs; and downgrades WSSL-FM-100.5 Greenville SC from Class C to Class C1. The uproar over WHMA-FM's potential move includes protests and outrage among local listeners upset at "losing" Anniston's only FM; reluctance to sanction the move in Fulton County, which is trying to block the efforts of Sandy Springs to incorporate; and resentment among several Atlanta FMs. Cap Cities/ABC, owner of country rival WKHX on adjacent 101.5, has pulled all business from Gammon's former company, American Media Brokers, to protest the move. While the FCC has approved moves of such distances before, they have never involved existing stations, major FM facilities or major markets; the move if approved would increase WHMA-FM's value by 400-500%.

APRIL BFM CALENDAR NOTES

Quarterly Issues/Programs Lists for Jan.-Mar. should be in stations' public files by Apr. 10. Federal taxes for stations filing calendar year individual returns are due Apr. 16. By Apr. 15, stations with tower lights must conduct and record quarterly tower light inspections.
