Broadcaster Taxes Absent From GATT Finance Proposal

NAB 'highly optimistic' funding idea dead

There is no spectrum royalty tax in the Clinton administration's GATT financing proposal, which was made public Tuesday (7/19) by the Senate Finance Committee. NAB, however, was still somewhat cautious about declaring victory

'We had been guardedly optimistic. Now we've upgraded our prognosis to highly optimistic that the administration has dropped the spectrum royalty idea," said NAB spokeswoman Lynn McReynolds.

Senators Still Skeptical

The administration's package of spending cuts and tax hikes, designed to cover $12.3 billion in GATT-related revenue shortfalls, drew more criticism than praise from lawmakers. Sen. Max Baucus (D-MT), who thinks GATT's long-term financial benefits should make the funding package unnecessary, nonetheless called the package "basically flim-flam." Sen. Malcolm Wallop (R-WY) referred to it as "smoke and mirrors," and Sen. Robert Packwood (R-OR) said the spending cuts in the plan are "illusory."

Even so, no Finance Committee member indicated outright opposition to the funding package. In a letter to the committee, Treasury Secretary Lloyd Bentsen said the administra-

"Out-of-home listenership radio's unique selling proposition - continues to grow, and grow attractively," VS&A President John Suhler told R&R.

Suhler said radio's exclusive out-of-home audience is increasingly attractive to advertisers. "It offers advertisers lower unit costs and a more targeted advertising medium since it provides a wide range of niche formats," he noted.

Expectations Exceeded

Radio's 1993 growth rate turned out to be 8.6% - considerably higher than the 6.8% Suhler had predicted. But he doesn't think the high rate of growth the industry experienced as the economy emerged from recession can be sustained. Still, Suhler expects radio's growth rate to run well ahead of most other media's growth rates.

VS&A projects that local radio revenues will grow at an annual

Court Invalidates FCC Fine Schedule

NAB says Commission EEO policy also flawed

A federal appeals court threw out the FCC's fine schedule after deciding it wasn't properly implemented. The decision prompted the NAB to request that the Commission also discard its new EEO policy, which was adopted in a similar way.

The federal appeals court for the District of Columbia ruled in United States Telephone Association vs. FCC that the Commission set up an unfair fine system in 1991 (revised in 1993) by issuing a ruling on forfeitures under the guise of a policy statement, which requires no public comment.

Fines: Not Policy

"Indeed, no agency to our knowledge has ever claimed that such a schedule of fines was a policy statement," wrote Judge Laurence Silberman. "It simply does not fit the paradigm of a policy statement: namely, an indication of an agency's current position on a particular regula-

Broadcasters will pay higher FCC user fees in 1995 if legislation currently making its way through Congress passes as expected.

Although FCC user fees were just signed into law last year, they will climb to $116.4 million next year after Congress agrees on the Commission's budget for 1995. The fees will make up a considerable chunk of the agency's overall budget, which could be between $166 million and $200 million.

Service Charges

"Fees will go up," declared FCC Director/Legislative Affairs Judy Harris. It's uncertain now how much more broadcasters will pay, and that likely won't be decided until next year, she added.

Broadcasters and others regulated by the FCC are just now paying the first round of fees about $60 million worth - for the FCC's 1994 budget.

Stations Urged To Enforce Sexual Harassment Policies

Stations not only need to have policies against sexual harassment, but must also implement them to avoid lawsuits, a lawyer who successfully sued a Gannett station told the Washington, DC RTNDA chapter.

"You have to let your employees know - and let them know more than once - that if there is a problem, you want to know about it right away," said attorney Neil Katz. "Let them know that you do not believe in discrimination and that you won't allow discrimination to occur.'

Judge Blocks Transfer Of KACE/Los Angeles

The sale of KACE/Inglewood (Los Angeles) to Cox Enterprises has been blocked by a Los Angeles County Superior Court Judge.

Cox announced last week that it had agreed to buy KACE from All-Pro Broadcasting. But KBOB/ West Covina (Los Angeles) owner El Dorado Communications sued All-Pro, claiming that it had a binding deal to buy KACE and KAEV/ Lake Arrowhead (Riverside-San Bernardino) for $13.5 million. Cox reportedly agreed to pay $11.5 million for KACE alone.

Hearing Coming Up

El Dorado President Tom Castro said Judge Robert O'Brien granted his company's request for a temporary restraining order prohibiting All-Pro from selling or entering either station into an LMA. "[All-Pro owner] Willie [Davis] and Cox can't do anything," Castro told R&R.

A hearing is set for Friday (7/22), at which time El Dorado will ask the judge to convert the order to a temporary injunction, which would block any sale until the case is tried. Davis, through a spokeswoman, declined to comment on the lawsuit.

'Understanding' Violated?

Superior Court documents obtained by R&R show that El Dorado had a "memorandum of understanding" to buy the two stations. The memorandum required the parties to negotiate in good faith to agree on a definitive contract. Meanwhile, All-Pro was allowed to negotiate with other potential buyers, but could not sign any agreement with them during the 60 days the memorandum was in effect.

El Dorado's lawsuit claims that it complied with all the terms of the memorandum, including escrow payments of $2.1 million by June 29, before the 60-day period ended. The suit says All-Pro informed El Dorado on July 5 that it had not complied with the memorandum terms and that the deal was off. Two days later, according to the suit, Davis informed El Dorado he had accepted another offer.

El Dorado's suit asks that the court order All-Pro to sell it the two stations and pay damages and court he U.S. Small Business Administration has repealed its "opinion molder" rule. allowing radio station owners and buyers to receive government-guaranteed loans.

SBA Opens Door To Radio Loans

"The repeal of the opinion molder rule will open the door to small business ownership and expansion to many deserving businesses," said SBA Administrator Erskine Bowles

After being barred from SBA loan programs for the past 40 years, radio stations are now eligible for both the Greenline Revolving Line of Credit and the General Business Loan Guaranty Program. NAB, which lobbied for the repeal, estimated that 90% of radio stations will be eligible for SBA loan guarantees.

"Small radio operators have long been one sector in need of better financial avenues. These are the operators that are looking for less than a couple million dollars," commented Allied Capital Lending Corporation President Kathy Marien, whose Washington, DC-based SBA loan firm is preparing to get into radio lending. Marien, who spent many years in radio lending before joining Allied, said the SBA's decision should also open radio ownership to more women and minorities.

Gammon Challenged

oward Anderson has turned up the heat in his battle with Tom Gammon by petitioning the FCC to revoke Gammon's licenses for KIXW/Lenwood, CA and KIXF/Baker, CA.

Anderson, who owns KHWY/Essex, CA, claimed Gammon used two employees as "fronts" to win two new FM licenses and circumvent the FCC's pre-duopoly ownership limits. Both licenses were turned in after Anderson challenged applications to transfer them to Gammon.

Anderson now wants the FCC to revoke Gammon's licenses for the alleged attempt to deceive the Commission. Gammon declined to comment.

Rivals Challenge Duopoly Count

ompetitors WAZY/Lafayette, IN and WGLM/West Lafayette have complained to the FCC that Schurz Communications miscounted stations in its duopoly bid to acquire WIIZ/Battle Ground (Lafayette).

WAZY and WGLM claim there are 16 stations in the duopoly market created by the signal contours of WIIZ and Schurz's current combo, WASK-AM & FM/Lafayette. That would make the deal subject to the 25% audience cap imposed on markets of 15 or more stations.

In their petition to deny the sale, the two competitors noted that WASK-AM & FM already exceed 25% (28.1% in the Fall 1993 Arbitron) and would go to 32.4% with the addition of WIIZ

'We are absolutely standing behind our original count [14 stations]," said Schurz Communications President/GM Hal Youart. "Our assignment fully complies with the Commission's rules. Their petition does not raise any issues that warrant the delay or denial of our application.

"The stations filing against us are our competition; their protectionist tactics were obviously to impede our intention to compete."

Think Tank: Radio In Info Superhighway Fast Lane

Wireless, non-wireless roles reversed in '90s

Although even experts aren't sure how to define the "information superhighway," most agree that radio and other wireless communications will play a major role in it.

While much of the attention to date has been paid to the merging roles of telephone companies and cable TV providers, the success of cellular phones and excitement over planned FCC spectrum auctions for personal communications systems have increasingly focused attention on portable communications technologies, including radio.

In a symposium at Mitre Corporation's suburban Washington headquarters, Harvard University professor Brian Kahin, who heads the JFK School of Government's Information Infrastructure Project, noted how basic industry structures are being reconsidered.

"In some sense, we've flipped the roles of wireless and non-wireless systems," Kahin said. "It used to be that TV came over the air and telephone over the wires, and now it's sort of reversed. I think you're going to see a role for radio."

Defining Roles

Just what role, though, is still in doubt. None of the industry, government, and academic leaders at the symposium sponsored by the Institute of Electrical and Electronics Engineers was prepared to go out on a limb and predict just how the information superhighway will be constructed.

Because of its lack of definition, the superhighway currently has great appeal for everybody, noted Corporation for National Research Initiatives President Robert Kahn. His nonprofit organization was created to provide leadership and funding for research and development of the National Information Infrastructure, the Clinton administration's official name for the superhighway. Kahn said that as the NII becomes more defined, it's going to generate a number of clashes between groups iracles can happen! "Joan, while clutching her 'Blue Dot,' defied all odds by winning our radio contest to meet Michael [Bolton] at our station, 93.3FM in Tampa," says WFLZ morning star M.J. Kelli in the National Enquirer. "Thousands of callers tried to win, but Joan had the power of the Dot." The tabloid says its celebrated Blue Dot channels psychic power through the Enquirer's very pages.

By the way, Esquire reports Coca-Cola pulled out of sponsoring Bolton's summer tour right after he lost the Isley Bros.' plagiarism suit.

The Near-Naked & The Near-Dead

In the 20,000 words he churned out on cover star Madonna for Esquire, Norman Mailer always refers to himself in the third person and points out (twice!), "There has not been a single photograph ever published of Madonna with her legs spread."

Among her own gems: "Since the David Letterman show, the news is that I've lost my mind ... I always consider myself an absolutely motherless child, and I'm sure that has something to do with my openness . . . Emptiness is the largest single factor in my life."

The National Enquirer reports Madonna and hoopster Dennis Rodman plan to have six kids and are hard at work on the first one. No marriage is planned, however.

Salt-N-Baby

"Having a baby makes you stronger," says Salt in Us, which visits with her, Pepa, and Spinderella on tour. "You look at your kid and say, 'Look what I can do! Look what I have! I don't need to take this crap from some man.' Having a baby fills up an emptiness, something that some stupid boyfriend could never do."

The Globe reveals "The Salt-N-Pepa Diet - How Rap Beauties Lost 75 Lbs - And Still Got Their Ice Cream Fix."

Elsewhere in its "Women We Love" issue, Esquire cheers for Vanessa Williams and Sonic Youth's media darling/femme fatale: "What is sex?" pants Eric Bogosian. "It's the flat, cold, let's-fuck-but-youbetter-be-good voice of Kim Gordon."

User Fees

The FCC says it needs more money to offer better service to the industries it regulates. Following the White House's recommendation, it intends to do that by making its "clients" pay for better service. Other federal agencies, such as the Securities and Exchange Commission, are also moving toward self-funding.

"Pay-as-you-go government is politically popular right now," Harris said.

Some see the fees as an opportunity to raise funding levels with no accountability. "The bureaucracy could take on a life of its own," said NAB spokeswoman McReynolds.

Broadcasters had a hard time finding any allies in their fight against the fees last year. Other industries regulated by the FCC "tend to be monopolies," McReynolds said. "They don't like the fees, but they didn't actively try to do anything about it.'

Although the NAB supports adequate funding for the FCC, it believes a user fee hike would be unfair. "We aren't happy about it one bit," McReynolds said. "They must think the industries regulated by the FCC are a bottomless pit. Maybe some are — the ones that can pass on the cost to the consumer."

O'Shea told R&R, "The past 18 months of putting this deal together have been the most explosive growth period I've ever experienced. We're all very excited about this 'triopoly' being the springboard for some other markets.

"Bob Case has been with me for most of the 14 years I've been at KUBE and has been my right-hand programming person. I'm delighted to give him a chance to grow. Michele has also been here since 1981 and is one of the finest people managers I've ever come in contact with. Tierney told R&R, "Programming KUBE is almost beyond what I'd dreamed for my career. New Century is committed to building itself around great programming, and I look forward to a great run at KUBE." In addition to his Seattle experience, Tierney has also worked in WQHT (Hot 97)/New York's promotion department.

tion would negotiate with Congress to "reach a mutually agreeable financing package for GATT."

"Everything is still open," noted Sen. Pat Moynihan (D-NY), the committee chairman.

Bentsen's letter could signal that the administration has dropped the idea of a spectrum royalty tax on broadcasters. The royalty, which would have raised $4.8 billion over five years, was the biggest single tax among GATT financing proposals developed by the White House Office of Management and Budget and discussed behind the scenes with key lawmakers from both parties.

The spectrum royalty idea encountered stiff resistance on Capitol Hill, with NAB urging broadcasters to lobby members of Congress. The rovalty was never officially proposed by the White House and appeared to fade from the scene as the administration searched for less controversial ways to cover the GATT shortfall. Bentsen's letter Tuesday worked the first time the administration had publicly stated what it was proposing for the funding package, and the spectrum royalty didn't make the list — much to the relief of many broadcasters.

rate of 7.6% for the next five years, much stronger than the 4.2% rate for the past five years. That would put local revenues at $10.6 billion in 1998, compared to $7.3 billion in 1993.

National spot radio is expected to grow at an annual rate of 5.9% through 1998, up from only 2.6% over the past five years. That would put national spot revenues at $2.1 billion in 1998.

Network radio is only expected to grow at an annual rate of 3.3% over the next five years, but that's more than double the 1.5% rate for the past five years. If Suhler's projections are correct, network radio will be a $540 million business in 1998.

Music Boom Continues

While the record industry is moving out of the exceptional growth spurt brought on by the introduction of the CD, Suhler expects the industry to maintain strong growth.

"A few years ago, conventional wisdom said that when the 25-andunder music buyers grew up, they would buy less music," Suhler noted. "That hasn't been the case. Baby boomers, in fact, are contributing to the expansion of the industry as they continue to buy."

For the past five years, the record industry enjoyed a phenomenal annual growth rate of 9.9% as consumers not only bought new music introduced on CDs, but also upgraded from vinyl to CDs. That replacement phase is drawing to a close, and Suhler isn't convinced that any new digital technology (DAT, DCC, or Mini-Disc) is poised to stage a rerun of that scenario. But he said the public's appetite for new music remains strong.

VS&A projects recorded music sales in the U.S. will grow at an annual rate of 8.2% over the next five years. That would take sales to $14.9 billion in 1998, up from $10.0 billion tory issue."

NAB, which had filed briefs supporting USTA, was quick to applaud the ruling. "We are pleased with the Court's finding that the forfeiture schedule is, in fact, a substantive rule and should have been put out for comment," said NAB President/ CEO Eddie Fritts.

The FCC has 30 days to respond to the ruling. For now, it's uncertain how the Commission will handle fines. Most observers expect it to revert to the case-by-case method used before the 1991 policy statement.

EEO Challenged

Hot on the heels of the court ruling, NAB formally requested that the FCC withdraw its new EEO policy — a policy statement issued January 31.

"The USTA decision sounds the death knell for continued application of the EEO Policy Statement," NAB Exec. VP/General Counsel Jeff Baumann said in his request to the FCC. "In light of this decision, we are asking the Commission today to rescind its EEO policy statement and the enforcement actions already undertaken."

The EEO policy remains in effect, though, until either the FCC or a court rules otherwise.

Representing the Clinton administration, White House Office of Science & Technology Policy Senior Policy Analyst Mike Nelson said the superhighway would be "a system to deliver to all Americans the information they need when they want it and where they want it - at an affordable price." That broad definition appears to leave the door open for innovative new services from radio and every other communications industry.

Praising Rhone's "depth and diversity," Morris added, "During her 20 years in the music business, she has demonstrated outstanding leadership skills, a thorough command of industry issues, and an uncanny ability to identify musical trends and promising new artists. Sylvia and I have worked closely together over the past decade, and I look forward to continuing that relationship."

Rhone began her music career in 1974 at Buddah Records, moving to ABC and Ariola before joining Elektra in 1980 as a Northeast regional promo rep. She was promoted to Director/Marketing-Special Markets in '83, then jumped to Atlantic in '85 as Director/National Black Music Promotion. She rose to VP/GM of the department the following year and to Sr. VP in '88. Two years later, she was named CEO/co-President (with COO/co-President Vince Faraci) of the nascent EastWest label. When EastWest merged with Atco in 1991, she became Chairman/CEO of the joined labels and, later, of EastWest Records America.

your mother or sister." He said stations should implement a plan that calls for not only a written policy regarding sexual harassment, but strict enforcement.

WTOP/Washington reporter and RTNDA chapter President Nancy Siemer agreed that mutual respect creates a better working atmosphere and an environment less conducive to sexual harassment and discrimination.

Siemer also expressed concern that some women managers may make the work environment worse, rather than better, by turning on women below them. She theorized this may happen because successful women sometimes feel greater pressure to hold onto their status after overcoming negative experiences in which men tried to block their career advancement.

Masters

WLZR President/GM Tom Joerres said, "This opportunity to promote from within the company was obvious because of Keith's successful track record and his familiarity with Milwaukee from a previous stint in the market."

Masters said, "I'm thrilled that Tom Joerres has given me this opportunity to stay with the Saga family and program a highly successful station with familiar faces and landscapes."

With the combined forces of these two stations, we'll be a stronger operation. Being an on-air PD will help me to address the creative side of Q102 and help me to develop the airstaff to their fullest potential."

Prior to leaving for a brief stint at FMQB six weeks ago, Kalina had been at WIOQ for five years. A market veteran, Kalina has been MD at WCAU-FM and an air personality at WIP and WZZD.

STREET TALK.

Elektra/EastWest Merger Rumors Emerge

he obligatory 16 tons o' tongues have been waggin' since Sylvia Rhone copped the nod to chair a combined Elektra and EastWest. How exactly will this quasi-merger work?

So far, ST hears both labels will continue as free-standing promotion entities, with some consolidation of support positions. EastWest Exec. VP Craig Lambert seems destined for increased duties at both labels. Could a presidential title be in the offing?

Meanwhile, Rhone reportedly told attendees of Elektra's Monday morning marketing meeting that "there will be no changes."

Lt. Gov. Ditches 'LS For Politics

Illinois Gov. Jim Edgar persuaded WLS (AM)/Chicago to let Lt. Governor Bob Kustra out of his contract to host a station talk show so he can stick around the Statehouse. Kustra will also remain on the Republican ticket for re-election. Kustra apparently had second thoughts about his career change while filling in as the state's top official during Edgar's recuperation from heart bypass surgery.

WLS Pres/GM Tom Tradup succinctly told the Chicago Sun-Times, "No former, current, or future politicians ever again."

Nothin' but rumors, rumors, rumors 'bout a CBS-Group W radio deal to go with that TV pact the two companies announced last week. Teaming the two groups' big-market all-News outlets is an obvious duopoly play — but it would be mighty complicated under current FCC rules. (Think of all the waivers required for markets where they have radio and TV).

However, that could change — perhaps as soon as next month — when the FCC comes out with new TV ownership rules that are expected to

Rumors

- Will former KFRC-AM & FM/SF PD Brian White become PD at crosstown Hot AC K101?
- Will CBS Radio simulcast the new post-Letterman Tom Snyder gabfest?

simplify radio duopoly purchases where TV cross-ownership is involved.

All this curb chatter could be meaningless, though, if Disney, Turner Broadcasting, or some other deep-pockets bidder decides to make a play for CBS in the wake of its failed merger with QVC. Meanwhile, CBS supremo Larry Tisch told a TV critics meeting Tuesday (7/19) that the network was not for sale.

Schreiber Split Spurs Country Mystery

After 18 years with RCA/Nashville, Dir./
Regional Promo Carson Schreiber resigned late last week. ST hears he'll become VP/Promo for an established label making an entry into country ... and he'll remain in L.A. Schreiber ain't sayin', but the label announcement is expected later this week — with some of — but not all — the itchy trigger fingers pointing to Geffen.

WKTT/Manitowoc-Sheboygan, WI
4-10pm air talent Andrew Thomas was electrocuted while erecting an antenna for a remote broadcast on Thursday (7/14).
Office Mgr. Larry Penke told ST that Thomas, 22, was preparing to secure the upright antenna to the station van when the stick touched some power lines. WKTT
AE Nancy Kortbein suffered third-degree burns on her hands in the accident.
Funeral services for Thomas were held Monday (7/18).

S.I.N. & Redemption

You may recall how last month Emmis implied it would refuse to deal with any label working with dance tipsheet S.I.N.'s planned Dance station, WNWK/Newark (ST 6/24). In an update, Emmis VP/Programming & Power 106/L.A. PD Rick Cummings and Hot 97/NY PD Steve Smith sent the following letter to S.I.N.'s Vince Pellegrino and the labels:

In order to clarify our position initially set forth in our June 15 letter to you, we believe it to be appropriate to assure you that Emmis Broadcasting never intended to, and will not, sever any relationship it may have with any record company or record label who may conduct or wish to conduct business with WNWK in any capacity or manner. Such companies and labels are free to do business with anyone they wish.

However, Emmis itself will terminate its relationship with S.I.N. magazine and reiterates its demand that you and S.I.N. magazine refrain from using WQHT's (Hot 97) or KPWR's (Power 106) call letters or slogan information in any trade publication or advertising, and comply with all applicable FCC rules in the operation of your new venture.

Content: The Mortar Between The Music

What major markets already know, medium and small markets are quickly discovering: Music is the most important programming element, but the on-air content between the hits separates you from the rest of the market.

be worthwhile. Otherwise it's better not to do anything.

"I recall listening to the great AM Top 40s of my childhood, like WCFL and WLS [in Chicago] and Content can include daypart features, like "5 O'Clock Whistles" or "Smash Or Trash." But three PDs attest that air talent's verbal content and on-air positioning are the real keys to standing out in the ever-tightening awareness battle.

The ability to tell a quick story in a creative, spontaneous manner is a concept I'm working on with my airstaff.

-Ric Swann

Ric Swann KQCR/Cedar Rapids, IA

Swann's market houses just under 150,000 12+ listeners, but at KQCR he can hear more than 20 signals - including other CHRs - from nearby markets. With that much music duplication, he adjusted the music last week to a more pop-alternative brand of CHR and used promos to call attention to the change.

"We're still 'All Hit Q103,' but now we're running promos emphasizing what we do play — a Gin Blossoms cut, for example, then a cut from Miami Sound Machine, who we don't play. The idea is to highlight that we've changed and are a hip 18-34 station for '94, while still playing the pop/dance hits like the Janet Jacksons of the world."

Swann says that part of the content/image change involved bringing in a new station voice - Mark Driscoll - who's integrated into sweepers and some produced jingle beds. That includes a top-of-thehour ID with a "donut" for a live talk-up from the talent and a "what's happening" jingle and donut where personalities showcase their appearances - rather than just talking up a record.

Swann delegates responsibility to ensure the air talent's content is localized. "Night talent Michelle Steele puts together a 'talk-up sheet' filled with information about what's going on in the market. All the jocks use it as part of their show prep."

Produced listener testimonials and morning show recap promos also are part of Q103's newly restructured on-air content. Swann advises, "Listener comments can't sound canned or scripted — they must be realistic, or it trashes your attempts to promote a listener benefit. Also, the morning show recap of a bit must CKLW out of Detroit. Their jocks didn't talk at their listeners, they talked to them and painted pictures along the way. The ability to tell a quick story in a creative, spontaneous manner is a concept I'm working on with my airstaff. They must watch local TV news and read local newspapers. When taking requests, they must talk to listeners to find out what's on their minds and going on in their backyards."

Brian Bridgman WDCG/Raleigh

Bridgman says focusing everything toward the 18-34 female target is Gl05's first priority, but suggests ways to bond with listeners. "Music is the reason they tune in, but what surrounds the music Brian Bridgman is the reason they stay tuned in. I encourage our morning team, Bob & Mike, to start bits that extend beyond mornings. Recently, one of their cats gave birth; listeners were calling in all day to name them. This kind of content allows your audience to embrace your station as human-

Music is the reason they tune in, but what surrounds the music is the reason they stay tuned in.

"When we gave away a Coke Mustang convertible, we had listeners qualify to be one of four finalists to live in the car until only one was left. Each jock 'adopted' a listener, became their personal cheer-

Making Content Count

Here's what to keep in mind when adding content to your station:

- Decide if it's a "tune-in" or a "tune-out."
- Keep it localized; learn the market.
- Have features/promos/contests reflect the station's image.
- Relate on an entertaining basis.
- Work with talent to bond with listeners' emotions.

leaders, and did remote 'call-ins' with them - letting the rest of the audience experience the promotion vicariously.'

Bridgman believes the idea behind good on-air content is for the airstaff to develop their own personalities and let the audience into their lives. "That's how you entertain the audience when the music isn't playing. The content must be entertaining and compelling. If the promos are overproduced, they're a negative; if entertaining, they'll set you apart especially when you're offering things money can't buy. A good example was our recent 'Two for the show, three for the front row' contest: Two Janet Jackson songs in a row was the signal to call, but three in a row meant that front row seats which couldn't be bought — were the prize."

Bridgman has asked morning show producer Karen Farmer to develop and voice "Karen's Quickies" — local entertainment pieces running around the clock, once per daypart. "The sweepers should be localized as well. A good example is one that reads 'Gl05, hits so big we had to widen the beltline' a local highway."

Students Of The Market

DCG/Raleigh's Brian Bridgman suggests that PDs and their staffs become students of the market.

"Localize your station, then localize it more - it should almost sound foreign to an outsider. In the South there's a pronounced accent, so we use listeners who sound local in onair promos.

"Compile a calendar of every annual local event, locate every public park and gathering point, and tie your live breaks into this information. The most successful station's on-air content is what's local. That's how the morning shows that play less music and talk more than their competition have less of a 'talky' image they say the right things."

Ruby Cheeks WRQK/Canton, OH

Rock 107 fights for local identity with signals from Cleveland, Akron, and Youngstown. Cheeks says besides the rock-leaning CHR music her station plays, the first line of uniqueness is her airstaff and their "attitude."

Ruby Cheeks

A veteran of WMMS/Cleveland, Cheeks says, "No one else in the area projects the energy, attitude, and irreverence our jocks give off.

I want real people. If we screw up, we're prepared to poke fun at ourselves. —Ruby Cheeks

I'm blessed with a young airstaff willing to learn there's a fine line between energy and 'puking' on-air, and that you can have an attitude of irreverence without sounding condescending or obnoxious. I'm also teaching them to be personalities by being themselves. I want real people. If we screw up, we're prepared to poke fun at ourselves.

Cheeks recalls one of the most important aspects of WMMS's success: the entire station was geared toward being a reason to tune in. "My staff is trying to make Rock 107 so exciting that listeners will fear they're missing something if they don't listen. We accomplish this by talking about the music and the artists themselves. We're aggressively breaking those 'radio rules' to win. The idea behind it is to become a full-service station that caters to 18-34s, so Rock 107 must become a vital part of the community and those listeners' lifestyles.

"They say a station's personality or 'stationality' is an extension of the PD's personality. That's too analytical for me. Winning radio is supposed to be fun and entertaining, not brain surgery."

Summer promotions entertain listeners while raising money, encouraging peace

Several UC stations nationwide have been benefiting their communities by promoting positive activities, including weekend summer dances, charity basketball games, world records, and musical performances for peace. Here are the details.

WJHM (102 Jamz)/Orlando is known for its continued community involvement with Central Florida's youth. This summer's no different: 'JHM has formed a partnership with several organizations — including Coca-Cola — to host adult-supervised weekend dances to keep kids out of trouble.

Entitled "SummerJamz," the partnership also includes Safe Summer Celebration Inc. (SSC), which provides HIV, violence, and substance abuse education. Local youths are

City of Orlando/Community & Youth Services and the Orlando Sentinel's "Rave" — a newspaper section written by and targeted to kids — also are involved with SummerJamz.

"When downtown Orlando implemented a curfew on June 1, we knew as the No. 1 station we had an obligation to help keep Central Florida's youth out of trouble," says WJHM Promotions Director Carlos Pedraza. "Knowing the city of Orlando was actively putting summer youthoriented programs together, we explored the possibility of forming a partnership with all the organizations listed above - organizations that focus or put emphasis on youth. Following several meetings, WJHM formally created this partnership and three SummerJamz sessions for the month of June."

Kids may attend the SummerJamz dances simply by bringing a Coca-Cola "Red Hot Summer" bottle cap or paying $1.02. All proceeds from hen the Ouachita Coca-Cola Bottling Co. threw a party in conjunction with KYEA (K98)/Monroe, LA to celebrate the 100th anniversary of Coca-Cola's first bottling, the station set a world record by creating the largest ice cream Coke float.

It took 265 five-quart containers of ice cream and 2032 gallons of Coke to create the giant beverage. According to K98 PD Rockey Love, "Coke is a very good sponsor with us, and we wanted to do something special for them. Coke has always been very active in this area, especially with the African-American community. It was a great day, and our listeners had a lot of fun."

Other activities at the event — which also was sponsored by Well's Blue Bunny Ice Cream and Susie's Pools & Spas — included the Coca-Cola Road Show, live music, and bottling plant tours. And the 10,000 listeners in attendance were treated to free Coke and Coke floats, of course.

The Influence Of Callout Research

With many Alternative stations rotating currents more frequently, callout research has become a valuable tool for determining song rotations and detecting burn. Three former CHR PDs explain their strategies.

WNNX (99X)/ Atlanta PD Brian Philips uses callout research to help decide when accelerate, slow down, and rest songs. "We do a weekly callout of 20-30 titles.

Brian Philips

In our music meeting, we look to see how songs stack up against each other for audience appeal. We don't test a record until it plays over 100 times - although we find hitting something hard early can be 80%-90% familiar in about a week and a half.

We use the core and cume burn ranking to determine how we rotate and when to get off records. We look for the play-it-more score to outweigh burn. The worst thing I can do is overplay a record. Our audience is so sensitive to songs being overplayed. To leave two or three records in power rotation an extra couple of weeks, because we didn't use callout, would be enough to bring our station down. We want to know exactly when to back off or accelerate."

Philips says research and gut are factors in resting records. "Usually it's validated by the research, but we might put something away even if research doesn't completely condemn a record with burn. If we feel strongly a song has been overplayed, we'll put it away. But it could come back with a good test. If we are short a current and it had a solid test, it could go back in as a current a few weeks later, but usually they return as a recurrent. Sometimes they never come back.

"Callout isn't quite as important as it was for me at mainstream CHR, because the audience is more active and heavier music consumers. There are so many more factors with this music — sales and requests take precedence over callout."

Joel Folger

"The pendulum has swung full circle for me in terms of callout research," says KDGE (The Edge)/Dallas Station Manager Joel Folger. "At one point in my career, I used it like the bible and followed it to the 'T.' It's still valuable in this format, but it's important to balance gut instinct and hardcore facts. There are a lot of reasons for that. Sometimes callout has a restricting affect, because you can become less aggressive with new music when you are always looking over your shoulder to see if it worked.

"Sometimes you have to play records that half of the people don't like, because they are big buzz records. One of the reasons you become a P1 with listeners is because you take chances. It's a fine balance of taking chances and the facts. I'm taking a broader look at the whole picture - record sales and what other key stations are doing."

Folger looks at callout research every other week. "Callout is a great tool for determining power rotations - currents moving up and your hottest recurrents. I like to see a twoweek trend or a combination average of two weeks. There are three key factors: familiarity, burn, and score ranking songs by demo and sex."

Folger shares a couple of scenarios for shuffling burn records: "If a current song is showing high burn, we might just decide to rest it. But three weeks later, I might put it back after a good test. When a song isn't working, rather than adding something with no familiarity, we might bring something back for a week or two until something [current] is ready to move up."

Rick Michaels

"I use research as a guideline only," states WENZ (The End)/Cleveland PD Rick Michaels. "You have to remember you are only using a small cross-section of your audience. You can't get too engrossed in the numbers and not use gut too. I do biweekly callout on records after they have developed for at least five or six weeks. There needs to be some familiarity before you research it, otherwise vou're wasting your money.

"I have a very diverse way of doing callout, which is broken down into four cells — men 18-24, men 25-30, women 18-24, and women 25-30. Each cell lists: dislike a lot, dislike, neutral, like, and like a lot. The most important thing I look for is burn. Burn tells a good story. I have a separate burn category many companies just show percentage of burn — that's divided into three categories: Would you like to hear the song more, about the same, or less. That's how I judge my burn.

"I don't believe in burning my powers into the ground. I draw my line a lot shorter than other programmers. When a record starts to burn I back off a little. Unless the demand returns, I move it to a burnprotected category, where it's surrounded by two familiar records. These records are only rotated every day or day-and-a-half. It remains in this category until it becomes an oldie, usually six months.'

Michaels uses callout to keep tabs on crosstown AOR WMMS. "I make sure 50% of my survey audience cumes 'MMS on a regular basis, since we're sharing a lot of the same music these days. We share a lot of cross-cume. I want to see what they are liking and disliking in comparison with my core. It doesn't affect me when it's close, because it's still positive for our core too. It helps me decide when to power a record or slow it down. I also look at sales and phone activity. The most important thing is to play records that are positive for your audience, but ones they aren't sick of."

- Artist: MC 900 FT. Jesus
- Track: "If I Only Had A Brain"
- LP: "One Step Ahead Of The Spider"
- Label: American
- Essentials: Dallas-based Mark Griffin is MC 900 FT. Jesus derived from a vision described by televangelist Oral Roberts. "One Step Ahead Of The Spider" involves more musicians and live instruments than his previous two IRS releases. Griffin went back to his roots - the University of North Texas conservatory, where he attended grad school between 1981 and 1982. Band members -Earl Harvin Jr. (drums). Dave Palmer (piano), Chris McGuire (saxophone), Drew Phelps (bass), Mike Dillon (congas/percussion), Nikhil Pandya (tablas), and Rajiv Chakravarti (tamboura) are alumni of the conservatory's jazz program. The self-produced LP was recorded over the course of 14 months, whereas the last album was completed in four months. Guest appearances include Living Colour's Vernon Reid, who plays guitar on "Stare and Stare,"

and Analisia Ripke of the Dallas band Wig, who sings backup vocals on "But If You Go" and "Gracious Pepe."

- Artist POV: "I felt this intense pressure to go beyond what I had done before," explains Griffin. "I have a short attention span. I gathered a lot of new ideas from the first two albums and being out on the road. I wanted to try out jazz and a live musician approach - there's still sampling and beat box crossover within a jazz context on the record."
- Label POV: American VP/AIternative Promotion Mark Neiter notes, "Even a brainless promotion guy like me could see that Mark Griffin is a credible artist who made an addictive song that would react at radio."

WLZR Rocks Milwaukee's SummerFest

Live concert broadcasts highlight festival for rock fans

The long Milwaukee winters give birth to an annual rite of music, food, and fun known as SummerFest. The 11-day, city-sponsored event features 12 music stages. For the third straight year, WLZR sponsored the rock stage and broadcast concerts live from that venue nightly.

"You can't buy the kind of image we're able to obtain during these Il days," says former WLZR PD John Duncan, who has since left to program WRDU/Raleigh. "This is the most elaborate rock radio broadcast I'm aware of. The idea originated in 1983 when I was at [crosstown] WQFM. They sponsored the rock stage for a few years and did the live broadcasts, but dropped it in the late '80s. When WLZR started sponsoring the rock stage in '92, we restarted the live tradition."

When a popular act performs, Duncan explains, limited space means that some people won't get to see the band, but the live broadcast brings the excitement right through the speakers. "The rock stage area is designed to hold 5500, but there were twice as many people jammed in to see Candlebox. Security was threatening to close down the show because it was getting wild, with people hanging from the rafters to see the show. The band had to stop a few times and ask the audience not to push in because there was no more room. The excitement of the crowd translates into radio magic when it's live on the air."

And there were plenty of popular acts: Duncan says this year's SummerFest lineup included Yes, Meat Puppets, Brother Cane, Metallica, Santana, Jimmie Vaughan, Los Lobos, Poco, Dixie Dregs, Danzig, Eleven, Buddy Guy, Great White, Peter Frampton, Cry Of Love, Lemonheads, Bodeans, Roger McGuinn, Traffic, Sonia Dada, Anthrax, Primal Scream, Stabbing Westward, Smithereens, Bonnie Raitt, Bruce Hornsby, Robin Trower, Dio, Redd Kross, and Stone Temple Pilots.

In addition to the nationally known acts, the festival also gives hometown artists the opportunity to gain an audience. "Local bands play during the day while the headliners come in at night. Tickets are $7-$8 per day, and there are anywhere from 50,000-125,000 people on the grounds at any given time."

While live broadcasts are certainly exciting for listeners, they can also provide plenty of thrills for broadcasters - especially when their plans are disrupted by circumstances beyond their control. "Sometimes you have to wing it," Duncan admits. "One night this year, Great White was scheduled to play, but we had torrential rain. The entire grounds were closed, but there were about 200 diehard fans standing in the rain and lightning chanting 'Great White' over and over. Nobody was allowed to play, so we asked the band if they wanted to come to our remote trailer — the 'Fortress Of Rock' - and do a live acoustic set on the air.

"They agreed. So we went to the stage where the wet fans were holding vigil and told the crowd that the show was canceled, but Great White was going to do an acoustic set at our trailer. The fans ran there to watch the 35-minute live set.

"Throughout the day, we have performers come to the Fortress of Rock and do acoustic sets. When we designed the trailer, we included the ability to accommodate acoustic performances. We have all the best equipment along with an array of acoustic and electric guitars, so any artist who comes to the booth to do an interview can pick up a guitar and play. The daytime acoustic sets and interviews are a bonus, and they also give us an opportunity to promote the evening's show."

FORMAT SYMPOSIUM — While much of the Conclave was devoted to general radio issues — including the evolution of computer technology, morning shows, developing air talent, marketing and promotion, research, and production — the Rock panel discussion covered topics such as fragmentation, promotion, music, radiolaritist relations, and the charts. (L-r) WNOR/Norfolk's Jay Philpott, consultant Dennis Constantine, SMN's Lee Abrams, WAQX/Syracuse's Steve Brill, and KGGO/Des Moines's Phil Wilson were the panel's moderators.

CONCLAVE CHAT 'N CHOW — As with most industry gatherings, one of Conclave's integral functions is to give programmers in different markets the opportunity to network and share ideas. An intimate dinner one evening provided the forum for an exchange between these industry experts: (back row, I-r) WDHA/Morristown PD Lenny Bloch and Ace Entertainment's Ray Gmeiner; (middle row) KRZZ/Wichita MD Greg Bergen, WTFX/Louisville morning host Gonza Greg, Jayhawk's Marc Perlman, WTFX morning producer Melise Everlof, and KRZZ PD Michael Lee; (front row) WKLQ/Grand Rapids OM Tom Marshall, Elektra's Michelle Meisner, American's Donna Chadwell, and WKLQ's Dave Wellington.

KEYNOTERS — Westwood One syndicated personality Tom Leykis and NYNEX corporate spokesperson Mary Alice Williams served as keynote speakers at last week's Upper Midwest Conclave in Minneapolis. Williams offered keen insight into radio's place in line on the information superhighway's on-ramp, while Leykis amused the audience with radio war stories from his career.

KWNR ACES VEGAS

One-Of-A-Kind Trumps Triple Threat

Few things frighten PDs of stand-alone Country stations more than the thought of a Country duopoly as a competitor — an enemy that's able to simultaneously attack and defend a broad range of demos.

KWNR/Las Vegas has been under such an attack for the last two years, and it has truly beat the odds. Not only did it hold off the onslaught of its three-headed Country competition, but it came very close to beating the KFMS-AM & FM-KEYV triumvirate in the last Arbitron.

Before we get to that story, here's a little background. KFMS-AM & FM have been Country for almost 15 years, many of which have been spent as the market's top 12+ and 25-54 station (FM). KWNR debuted as a Country outlet in September '90, edging KFMS-AM & FM in 25-54 about 18 months later. Since then the battle has been close, with the lead often changing hands.

Almost two years ago, KFMS owner Broadcast Associates purchased KEYV as a duopoly partner and flipped it to an 18-34-targeted Country. The music on KEYV wasn't necessarily any different than the music on KFMS; the main difference was the attitude of its personalities. Ironically, since KEYV's debut, KFMS's numbers have suffered while KWNR's have held steady in some books and spiked in others (see "Table Stakes").

Playing With A New Deck

Gary Moss

Gary Moss says he didn't stand pat in the face of new players. "When KEYV came on, [its owners] didn't try to skew one station older and one younger; they tried to make both of them appeal to a younger audience. To do that, they began to be more like us by playing more new music. So we went in the same direction. We felt we owned that image and didn't want anybody to 'out-new-music us' or do anything to jeopardize the image we've worked hard to build."

Indeed, "New Country" is not only KWNR's prime positioner, it's one of the cornerstones upon which the station was built. Moss believes his station was one of the first — if not the first — to use the phrase, beginning in September '90 when KWNR debuted. He says they've hit it very hard since then and it has served them well: "The 'New Country' handle is so strong that it's very difficult for either KFMS or KEYV to own a position that's stronger in the minds of the listeners." (KFMS's slogan is "Continuous Country," while KEYV uses "Hit Kickin' Country.")

NEW COUNTRY 0.5.5

Just as important as the phrase is KWNR's commitment to it. "We're very intent on living up to what we call ourselves," says Moss. "We're very focused musically; 80% of what we play comes from the past new residents. "Having an impact on all of these newcomers means marketing is a year-round job. You have to constantly be in their face, so we have a good mix of media running all the time.

"The good news about having so many new people move here monthly is we don't have to fight the old radio station loyalties that build up in most markets, especially with Country stations. People who move here are looking for a station to call their own, so it's an open battlefield regardless of a station's heritage. That benefited us immensely in the early days of KWNR."

Promoting a radio station in Las Vegas, arguably the entertainment capital of the world, also is a tough proposition. Moss says all of the entertainment competition — casinos, seven pro sport teams, University of Nevada/Las Vegas sports, and a world title boxing match every four years. We're current, recurrent, and recent gold-based, with a few records from the late '80s thrown in for spice."

People who move here are looking for a station to call their own, so it's an open battlefield regardless of a station's heritage.

Moss describes the station's music as medium to uptempo, adding, "We're definitely not a flamethrowing Country station."

Because he's faced with a pair of competitors, Moss does a lot of seemingly little things to make sure KWNR is different than the others. For instance, since both KFMS and KWNR use jingles heavily, he doesn't use them at all. The airstaff also has the freedom to put a lot of callers on the air. Moss uses listener testimonials in promos to sell the station: "It's more believable to listeners to have other listeners giving the testimonials about KWNR's benefits."

Marketing In Vegas

Las Vegas is home to more than a million people. It's also the fastest-growing city in America, with some 2000-4000 folks moving in each month. Because of that, marketing and promotion are constant jobs—tasks as unique as the city itself.

Moss says there are pluses and minuses to the tremendous influx of month — forces him to look at promotions differently than do PDs in other cities.

"We focus on lifestyle promotions that give the locals an alternative means of entertainment, meaning things to do that don't involve going to casinos," he says. "Our promotions also have to cut through all the others. Hundred-dollar-bill give-aways seem to lose a bit of luster when places all around you are giving away millions, houses, and trips around the world."

Stable Staff Key

Like so many of his successful counterparts, Moss says a stable air-staff contributes greatly to the station's winning ways. There hasn't been a change in the fulltime airstaff in more than three years.

To win in Vegas, however, personalities must be more than stable — they also must be talented. Says Moss, "Las Vegas is truly a 24-hour-a-day, seven-day-a-week city. Because of that, we keep the programming consistent around the clock and on the weekends. It means our overnight and weekend personalities have to be as strong as our daytime people."

Table Stakes

WNR/Las Vegas is playing against a stacked deck but winning despite formidable odds. It stands alone against a Country trio: KFMS-AM & FM simulcast a mainstream Country format, while coowned (up until last week) KEYV targets 18-34 with Country.

Here's how the Winter '94 Arbitron hand was dealt. In the demo rank pairings, the leading station's rank is followed in parentheses by the number of shares by which it leads the competitor listed.

12 + Ratings

KWNR jocks use the phones a lot. And while they may not be as far out as some of the "Young Country" talent, they definitely have a prevalent attitude.

Mornings belong to John Potter, whom Moss describes as "edgy, a personality who appeals to the younger demos as well as to the meat-and-potato demos of this format." Potter is consistently No. 1 or 2, often beating Howard Stern (on KFBI). Potter's sidekick is Roy West, who doubles as News Director. Handling middays is Mark Stevens, with Bob Bishop on afternoons, Deb Spring at night, and Jason Steiner doing overnights.

Autonomy = Success

Moss also credits a large part of the station's success to the autonomy

Moss stresses that autonomy allows him to program the station more consistently. "It's important for all PDs to stay focused on their position, especially in a stand-alone situation against a same-formatted duopoly. It's impossible to be all things to all people. You have to have a clear view of the audience you're trying to attract and stay within the programming boundaries they accept."

A New Game

As this was being written, it was announced that Terry Jacobs's Regent Communications, which already has an agreement to buy Soft AC KRLV/Las Vegas, had purchased KFMS-AM & FM from Broadcast Associates, which will retain allowed staffers on every level. "We're not owned by a chain; we're not consulted. KWNR is the only station Southwest Radio/Las Vegas owns. There's not a lot of red tape to go through when we want to do things. That allows [VP/GM] Mike Ginsburg to stay focused on sales and marketing and me to stay focused on programming. ownership of KEYV. However, Regent has entered into a sales LMA with KEYV.

Moss wonders whether Regent will keep KEYV Country or switch it to create a spectrum of formats that would combine to make a very attractive 18+ sales buy. Will they take a gamble . . . or go with the safe bet? Obviously, it's too early to tell how the market will be affected — so stay tuned.

New River Runs Through Nashville

With strong backing and a major label distribution deal in place, River North/Nashville is ready to translate the multimillion-dollar successes of its sister Christian labels to the growing country market.

Backed by Chicago-based Platinum Entertainment, River North is the latest venture for Platinum President Joe Thomas. Thomas also oversees gospel labels CGI and Light Records and pop/contemporary label River North, which recently signed Peter Cetera. Thomas started the Nashville label — which the company had been considering for some time — in fall 1992 and released its first single by flagship artist S. Alan Taylor, "Forever Dance," this spring.

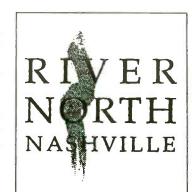

Former McClusky & Associates/ Nashville Sr. VP/Promotion Eddie Mascolo first became involved with Platinum when he did some consulting work for River North/Nashville. Later appointed the label's VP/GM, Mascolo states he'd never really entertained the idea of running a label before this opportunity arose.

"It's quite exciting," he says. "It's actually something I'd never thought about. I never thought I'd be in a position to head a label, but this is going to be great. We have state-ofthe-art studios in our Chicago headquarters and a great setup with our distribution situation through Poly-Gram."

Bobby Young, formerly VP/Promotion at McClusky/Nashville, will step into the same position at River North with added artist development

Small Staff, Roster

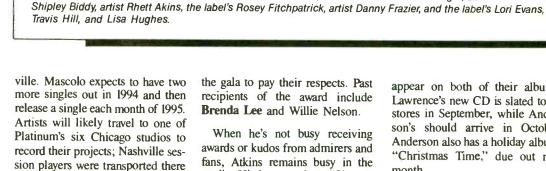

Three regional promotion staffers WYAY/Atlanta MD Michael

Brooks, BNA regional Carl Brown, and Sony/Nashville promo staffer Matt Corbin - and Promotion Coordinator Maria Thompson (who formerly held the post at Mercury/Nashville) joined River North last week, but Mascolo says the staff and roster will remain small. "We have S. Alan Taylor, who has a new single out now, and Steve Kolander, who's a little left of center musically. We'll probably sign a band and a more traditional, really country artist, too. We'll be pretty diversified musically."

The label has also inked a deal with Holly Dunn and will release her first single in March. Other probable signees for the near future include Ronna Reeves and the Delta Mudcats, a rockin' country band much like the Kentucky Headhunters who were signed to RCA/Nashville several years ago.

Thomas, who produced Taylor's and Kolander's albums, will head up A&R duties for River North/Nash-

The label plans to move into its permanent offices by January, according to Mascolo, who says a location has already been selected and the papers are close to being signed. Wynette will try her hand at musical theatre in December when she steps into the lead role of Miss Mona in the Las Vegas production of "The Best Little Whorehouse In Texas."

FEMALE PDs SPEAK OUT

Shattering The Glass Ceiling

According to FCC statistics, women hold 32.6% of all jobs in radio — with one-third of those holding positions at the PD level or above. And minority women comprise only 6% of radio jobs at the same level.

Monica Logan

Nineteen years ago, I was hired by a Los Angeles station as a first-time PD. With only my KFRC/San Francisco MD post as a credential, I considered myself fortunate to have secured a great opportunity. But I remember being troubled by the fact I was being paid much less than my male predecessors. At the time, it seemed to me that women must be twice as smart and work twice as hard to earn about half the salaries of their male counterparts. But I accepted this as a fact of life. Have women's opportunities in programming really improved since then?

'Rules Of The Game'

today's leading female PDs.

Here's a reality check from two of

A 14-year veteran of radio and an NAC pioneer, KACD/Los Angeles PD Monica Logan-Thomas has journeyed from the jock booth to the music library to operating a successful programming consultancy. When asked whether she has had to work harder than a man to advance, Logan-Thomas asserts that every programmer eventually must face challenges associated with his or her career choice.

"Like many other women in radio, I've been told by a GM that he'd only hire a man as PD, or [I've been given] the Catch-22 that I had to have major market programming experience before I could get a major market PDship. I've never felt that was a reflection on me personally, just the rules of the game.

"Because I have been eager to move up the ladder, I've been will-

"Like many other women in and out of radio, I have an entrepreneurial side. In my case, I've been fortunate enough to tap into the highly competitive world of radio consulting. I started my own business, Smooth Sounds, to work with medium and small market stations interested in implementing the format and giving them the opportunity to ly, as I am. There is also the shared concern for the effect a move will have on your spouse's career, whether he or she will have to give up or be able to secure a lucrative job.

"I've come up through the ranks from announcer to PD. And through the years, there have been those who have been supportive and non-sexist. I believe one earns that level of consideration by creating a high standard of quality work and delivering it consistently.

Former KRLY/Houston GM John Hiatt and former KRLY PD Steve Harris gave me my first fulltime announcing job. And John Gehron, ex-GM of [NAC-formatted] WNUA/Chicago has been not only a positive force for the NAC format but very vocal in acknowledging my role in that station's success. Also, Gannett President Jay Cook and GM Brenda Adriance of KOAI/Dallas gave me my first shot as [an NAC] PD at the Oasis."

Achieving Goals

Pondering whether her career has been tougher because she's a woman and an African-American, Logan-Thomas says, "It's been more challenging and difficult getting people to believe in the [NAC] format and its validity. But I've had to convince them of my credentials, too. I can honestly say that, in most cases, those who have given me programming autonomy have achieved their goals and beyond.

"In one sense, I've had an advantage over some other women in radio. In nearly every case, potential employers have approached me and this has given me something of a negotiating advantage - one I wouldn't have had if I had gone to them looking for a job.

'cut to the chase' in a start-up situation.

"As far as my earning power as a woman is concerned, I probably haven't been paid quite as well as men in the same jobs. Certainly one hears about and has a good sense of what other PDs are earning. There is a belief — one that just won't go away - that men somehow need more money than women. Have you ever had a boss say 'But he's got a family' when you've tried to negotiate the same salary as a male colleague? What nonsense! Well, I have a family and need money, too.

"When I think what the future holds for women and minorities in this format, I am a bit concerned. Of course, people like Lawrence Tanter [when he programmed n response to the "Format Pioneers: Breaking The Mold" series featuring the John Sebastian interview (R&R 7/8), Sony Warner Radio Network Exec. Producer Paul Goldstein sent the following letter:

'Setting The Record Straight'

I'm writing to set the record straight with respect to your article about John Sebastian and KTWV (The Wave)Los Angeles.

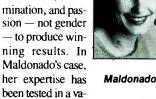

The Wave debuted in winter '87 with a 1.9 share 12+. Chris Brodie and I together guided the station out of the 1.7 12+ low in spring 1988 to the corporate goal of a three share 12+ in summer 1988. John took control of the Wave's programming after the summer '88 three share and added to the numbers.

KUTE/Los Angeles] and WJJZ/ Detroit MD Rosetta Hines were early believers in this music and are still successful with it. But I can count on one hand the African-American NAC programmers in major markets. This is especially ironic when you consider in most cases that it's African-American listeners who have taken NAC ratings 'over the top.'

"My advice to women and minorities wishing to advance their positions is: roll with the punches; try to be in the right place at the right time; make yourself available to the decision-makers; and network, network, network. If my experience can make it easier for my daughter or anyone else to accomplish their professional goals, then it will be worth the effort."

Winning Attitude

WNND (The Wind)/Raleigh PD Shirley Maldonado believes it takes focus, determination, and passion — not gender — to produce winning results. In Maldonado's case, her expertise has riety of radio settings: AC, CHR, sales, syndication, and major market NAC.

"The fact that there are only a handful of female programmers in NAC points to the enormous potenyears at the Source network. After a brief sales stint at WRKS/New York, Maldonado returned to her first love, programming, as MD of WPOW/Miami.

"My first PD job was with WXDJ (The Breeze)/Miami under GM Tony Novia. When the owners entered into an LMA agreement and changed the format to Spanish, crosstown WLVE picked up the Breeze and brought me in as a consultant to assist in the transition. Six months later, Tribune Broadcasting's WQCD (CD101.9)/New York offered me their OM slot.

"[During my tenure], solid marketing, excellent facilities, talent support, and a commitment to research, [all combined to produce] steady ratings growth over my threeplus years at the station. In fact, we went from 3.2 to 5.3 (25-54), which ranked us third with adults in New York.'

'Just Do It'

Of her current assignment, Maldonado says, "WNND presents a different kind of challenge. While Raleigh is significantly smaller than New York, the appetite for this format is just as large here. And for the past five years, owner/GM Marvin Cedar has been a fan and big supporter of the format.

"Starting out, I believed my professional growth, success, and financial compensation would be based on my ability to produce results. And that has proven true. In terms tial for growth [available to women]. But women have to be careful not to be our own worst enemies. By this I mean that women must come to the table with the right attitude, one that is focused and professional."

Maldonado's first radio job was Program Assistant at hometown outlet WYNY/New York. She was later promoted to MD and then left the then-number one AC to spend four of salary parity, I believe I've always been paid fairly in radio. Once I did take a little less salary coming in with a promise of greater rewards upon achieving ratings gains. But I was confident I could deliver those results, and I did.

"It takes focus and a burning determination to break through the glass ceiling, but it can be done. My advice to women? Just do it!!"

A LOOK AT 'LOVE SONGS'

Specialty Show Hosts Require Special Talents

Several previous columns have addressed nighttime programming options. While "Love Songs" (or some variation thereof) is the selection of choice, it isn't always easy to find the right host for these specialty shows.

Michael Clemens

After presiding over WMYX/Mil-waukee's weeknight 8pm-midnight Love Songs program for its entire 10-year run, Jim Morales is re-

Jim Morales is relinquishing the mike to become OM. The search is on for a replacement, but he's not involved. "Since I've done the show for so long, I'm just too damn close to it," he says. "I may not know what I think I know. This is the safest way to make the correct decision."

The Right Fit

As head of the search committee, WEMP-WEZW & WMYX Asst. Program Manager Michael Clemens knows what he wants: "The host should sound authoriative and intelligent — but not aloof — and caring but not contrived.

"Listeners call the show to share their personal relationships. It's important that you build audience trust. You walk a fine line of exploiting that information without turning it into a soap opera."

It's been more than four months (3/8) since WMYX began searching for Morales's successor. Finding a person who combines everything in one package seems to be a tricky proposition. "There aren't that many people who have lots of [Love Songs-hosting experience]," Clemens remarks. "We'd like to find someone who's ready for the next level and won't require a lot of coaching. It's almost as difficult as hiring a morning personality."

Costly Campaign

WMYX isn't limiting the scope of the talent hunt to trade paper ads, either. Clemens points out, "We've driven to several different areas of the state to listen to shows, and we've sent fliers to every area university and employment agency.

"We've spent more than $1000 in advertising for this position, and while we're getting people with good delivery, they lack a certain amount of romance. There are also people too far on the other end, who let their dedications go on and on. Many people these days cringe at Casey Kasem's long dedications, because that's a style from a different era."

Equal Opportunity

Women are receiving as much consideration as their male counterparts, but, notes Clemens, "There aren't as many women on the air as there should be. Trying to find experienced female announcers is very tough. Unfortunately, we haven't received many female applications."

Some candidates have been eliminated because they're hesitant to program the show's music. "They'll rests with the show's mood. "During the day, ACs play a variety of contemporary 'pop' hits that a large majority of people in a workplace will appreciate," Clemens remarks. "Love Songs is much more personal and one-on-one. It may be used as a romantic background setting for a date."

Timetable

be picking the records," Clemens explains. "With the exception of a few currents, the host will be looking at four blank sheets of paper.

"We've talked to some 10-year veterans with major-market experience who have never programmed their own music. The thought of doing that scares them."

WMYX's Love Songs draws the same demo as the station's daytime programming does. The difference

cy. "There are many good announcers we would have considered for middays and afternoon drive," Clemens notes. "We've been pretty disappointed, however, that we can't find many people who would sound believable as a Love Songs host. Many sound more melodramatic than necessary. We have less than 10 tapes that make us feel semi-comfortable, but we'd like to make a decision by the end of the month."

Wanted: Ringmaster To Draw Out Voyeurs' Best Qualities

he Love Songs host is at least 50% of the show," states KJSN/Modesto, CA PD Gary Michaels. "He's the ringmaster who brings everything together. Listeners of these shows are like voyeurs, and it takes a special empathetic host to draw out their best qualities."

For the past 18 months, the Jhani Kaye-consulted station has aired "Nite Lite" weeknights from 9pm-midnight. "People listening to the show are loyal to the station," Michaels notes. "I'm trying to reinvent the concept and nuke the show I put on five years ago when I programmed [crosstown Hot AC] KOSO."

Singles Wanted

For the past eight months, Barry Cole, 39, has hosted Nite Lite. Previously a station parttimer, the 20-year radio veteran was looking for a fulltime position. "He has a very warm, caring personality and the right delivery and style," observes Michaels.

"It's better if the host for these shows is single, because it's a very tough show for someone who is married. Most wives are jealous, and there's lots of romanticism connected with this show. There are many opportunities for hosts to be [propositioned]."

Big Shoes To Fill

Finding good Love Songs talent isn't easy. "There are many 'Radio Rons' out there," says Michaels. "From 100 tapes, you might find two or three that fit. Next to a good morning man, it might be the toughest job to fill.

"It's important that the host be willing to take direction. They also must enjoy people and have good phone skills and etiquette. We want them to know how to ask the right questions to find out what attracts people to each other."

While the bulk of Nite Lite's audience is 18-34, Michaels points out, "We just had a couple on the air celebrating their 35th wedding anniversary. The show's becoming more broad-based because of the depth and variety of music we play. Sometimes we'll play Johnny Mathis, Lenny Welch, or the Association."

Seeking Personalities, Not Just Announcers

"I hate to say this, because it sounds like an insult, but it's pretty easy to find good [announcers]," says WFMK/Lansing, MI PD Ray Marshall. "It's damn difficult, however, to find good personalities."

Having recently hired a new host for the station's "Love Lite" show, he's concluded, "Doing this type of show isn't many people's cup of tea. Announcers seem to accept it reluctantly. There are many good ones out there. The biggest frustration was having to say 'no thank you' to a lot of good people. In many cases, the passion that's needed for this show just wasn't there. We probably could have hired some smashing midday or afternoon talent.

"Next to morning drive, evening is the most important daypart to have a strong personality. Stations will rise to certain levels of success, but if you want to push yours over the top, personality will make the absolute difference."

Setting The Mood

Marshall waded through approximately 50 tapes and resumes before hiring Carey Conley to host the four-year-old show, which airs Sunday-Friday 8pm-midnight. "While he's only 26, Carey is very aware of the world around him, and he's very mellow. It's easy for him to relate to that vision. Every announcer who thinks of himself as a personality could do a show like this. The road-block is that many of them don't think this type of show is worth doing."

Neighborly Feel

Conley arrived from UC WDZZ/Flint, MI and succeeded Carolyn Marcs, who remains with 'FMK as a copywriter. Bringing him aboard was another part of Love Lite's evolution. "The show was originally

"He's in charge of the whole shooting match. It's very personality-involved, which is something he brought to the show. It had been more music-oriented with Carolyn. The show now has a neighborhood feel to it. People sound familiar and comfortable, and there's a group of regular callers."

Sweet Somethings

Marshall hopes his audience level will expand at night. "We're a 'Lite Rock' station during the day. People listening during the evening won't be disappointed. The goal is to convince adults who aren't watching television that we're doing something special on radio.

"People don't usually write letters to radio stations. We're now getting lots of letters and taking many requests and dedications. There have even been marriage proposals, and we're kicking around the idea of doing a Friday night dating show."

Some may knock shows of this ilk for sounding a bit mushy, but Marshall opines, "Sometimes a little syrup makes things taste just right. It's the wisdom of knowing when to use it"

Every announcer who thinks of himself as a personality could do a show like this, but many of them don't think this type of show is worth doing.

things, and he has a flat-out love for

"It's important that I remind him about the mood the show creates and how we want people to use the show. It's up to him to get listeners to share called 'Lites Out' and had more of a New Age/Jazz slant," recalls Marshall. "Carey's approach to the show is quite different, and our numbers are just as strong — if not stronger — than they have ever been.

RANDALL BLOOMQUIST

Promotions: Cashing In On Fun, Topicality

Talk may be a format built around such sober things as breaking news and hard facts — but that doesn't mean Talk promotions have to be staid, sterile, and predictable.

In fact, say PDs who have a flair for hyping their stations, the best promotions are the ones that tap into some of Talk's other programming pillars - topicality, listener involvement, and controversy.

Juicy Giveaways

As WLS-AM & FM/Chicago OM Drew Hayes puts it, "You've got to be constantly seeking ways to promote your programming. If you get stuck on giveaway promotions, you're sunk."

According to WFLA/Tampa OM Gabe Hobbs, the most successful Talk promotions are timely, unusual, and media-friendly. "A major goal of every promotion we do is to draw the attention of other media," he says.

Of course, one of the stop points was right across the street from a local television station, which was notified in advance and subsequently gave the stunt a spot on its evening news. (KFI/Los Angeles grabbed its piece of the O.J. spotlight by giving away free Orange Julius drinks a block from the courthouse where the Simpson hearing was under way.)

Catching The Media Wave

In recent months WFLA has cashed in on other headlines by:

 Auctioning off station coffee mugs smeared with lipstick from the visiting Genifer Flowers. (Highest bid: $210. Biggest media hit: a halfwhich men named Richard matched

According to Hobbs, such events help reinforce WFLA's image as a "topical, entertaining, fun radio station that definitely isn't boring."

While promotions of this type can be expensive — Bobbitt and Flowers weren't cheap - Hobbs points out that there are ways to defray such costs. For example, he says 'FLA struck a deal to split the cost of Flowers's visit with a local television station, which received the right to interview her - after WFLA was finished with her, of course.

WGST/Atlanta was also looking to foster an image when it launched the "Snowball Open" golf tournament in December of 1989. Created in just 72 hours to raise desperately needed funds for a local charity, the event exuded the "angels with dirty faces" attitude that 'GST likes to pro-

His second favorite: the station's 1992 "Cheap Gas" event. "At the start of the Gulf War," he explains, "gas was headed for two bucks a gallon in the Chicago area. We made a deal with a local station to sell gas for 89 cents (the station's frequency is 890) for one day.

"We had a two-mile line that we turned into a street party; there was chicken from one of our fast food sponsors and drinks from a soft drink sponsor. It was a great promotion. We

You've got to be constantly seeking ways to promote your programming. If you get stuck on giveaway promotions, you're sunk.

Drew Hayes

WFLA's most recent effort, "Free O.J.," met all those criteria. Shortly after O.J. Asked about WLS's best-ever promotion, Hayes quips, "Hiring the incumbent Lt. Governor of Illinois to host a show for us. We got front-page

Need person whose primary mission in life is to entertain, and be part of unique Chico lifestyle. He must respect the audience (no shock jocks), be quick with a comeback to his partner, must be voracious consumer of current culture, a forceful personality but not brash or harsh. He can laugh at himself, but has plenty of excuses just in case

"I've worked with Chris Porter and Mike Henry in three different markets since 1986...in Houston, Washington and Albany. Each and every time our projects were completed successfully, on time...and the respective stations had great books. These aren't your typical research geeks - they're radio guys."
