New WXRK OM's Cross-K-Rock Odyssey

■ by Bram Teitelman

When Robert Cross was programming modern rock KFMA Tucson, Ariz., he tried to find young people "who had a lot to prove that just hadn't had the chance to prove it and throw them in a little over their head, and it really paid off. I told them that Tucson was not the end of the road for them—that radio is a fun, easy job and a great way to spend your life. If you surround yourself with great people and give them good direction, great things will happen."

During Cross' tenure, KFMA went from the 2share range to the 5s. The station also created an entire roster that went on to bigger things: Stryker, current PD Libby Carstensen, KTCL Continued on page 42

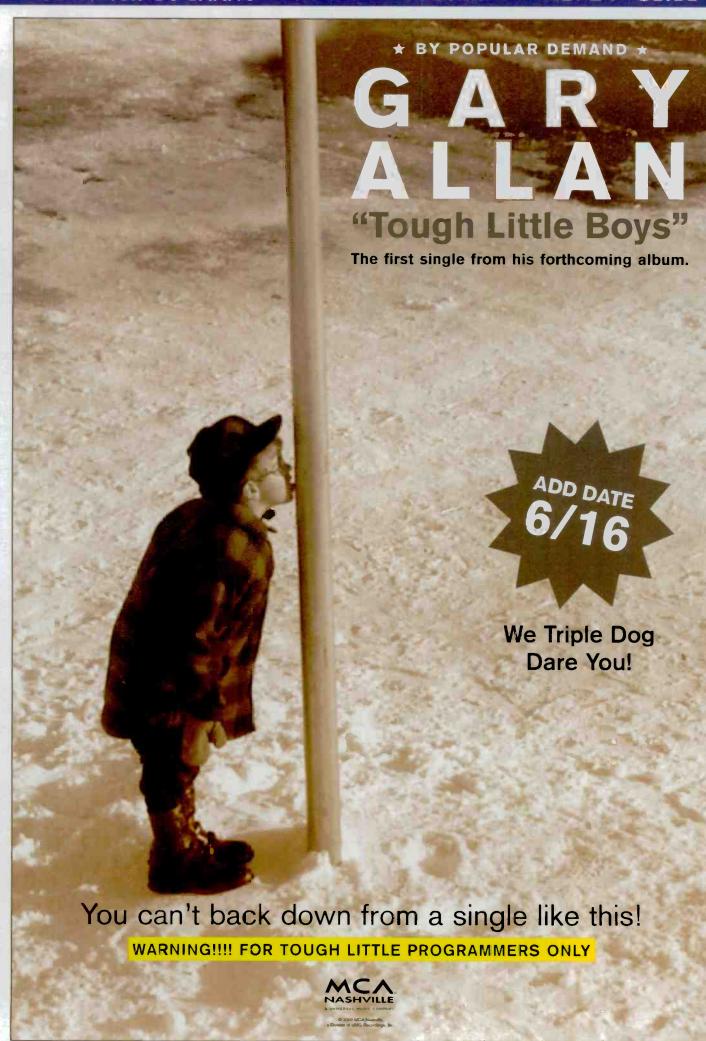

Suddenly, Canadian

AT40 Really Rocks ■ by Sean Ross

Five years ago, WMVX (Mix 106.5) Cleveland helped spearhead a new boom in gold-based stations that fused '70s classic hits, the MTV '80s, and the presentation of an adult top 40. Unlike most hot ACs, those stations targeted males and females in equal proportion. Those stations achieved respectable success, and they helped ensure that most markets would again have someone playing classic hits in some fashion.

But nothing that happened with WMVX and its brethren could have predicted what's taking place now with a series of similarly targeted Canadian stations. Last March, CHUM Group's CFMW Winnipeg, Manitoba, segued from AC to a classic hits/adult top 40 hybrid as "99.9 Bob FM" and went from a 7.4 to a 14.4 in two books. Its success was followed by a similar switch at Rogers' CKKS Vancouver, which became "97.9 Jack FM" last December and surged 4.3-10.7 as the market's No. 1 music FM in the spring book. (The station has since picked up both the calls and '70s jingle package of the market's heritage top 40, CKLG.)

Since then, Rogers has debuted new "Jack FMs" on its stations in Calgary, Alberta, and last week on top 40 CISS (Kiss 92.5) Toronto. That move came days after the launch of a second "Bob" on CHUM's CKKL (Kool 93.9) Ottawa—a heritage top 40 that had been in double digits as recently as a book before but has since been dented by a new rhythmic rival. In the case of Ottawa and Toronto, those changes took place amid rumors that other stations in the market were readying similar formats. "It's now in five of the top nine Continued on page 4

Disney/Duff Divorce, But Play Stays

Last fall, the Los Angeles Times took a look at the heavy airplay that Lizzie McGuire star Hilary Duff was receiving on ABC's children's top 40 network Radio Disney, despite a lack of support elsewhere. The story raised the issue of whether ABC should have disclosed its connection to Lizzie, but Radio Disney PD Robin Jones contended that Duff's "I Can't Wait" was there on its own merits.

Six months later, despite a high-profile split between Duff and Disney, Duff's "What Dreams Are Made Of' and "Why Not" remained the No. 2 and No. 4 most-played records, respectively, on Radio Disney for the week ending June 9. "I Can't Wait" recently came out of power, but it is still receiving 25 plays per week after a year. It has received 2,855 plays on Radio Disnev so far.

LAWMAKERS SEEK DEFEAT OF FCC RULE

Billboard reports that members of Congress are pursuing three avenues to defeat the June 2 FCC ownership rule changes. One is to pass a law to knock down the new TV ownership cap, which allows a company to own stations reaching 45% of homes across the country, and restore the 35% limit. Lawmakers say they will attach the provision to the FCC annual appropriations bill.

The second is to amend that pending legislation to include language that would roll back the new rule that permits cross-ownership of a newspaper and a TV station in the same market.

The third involves calling on a seldom-used stratagem that would expedite, in essence, a congressional veto of the agency rules. A "resolution of disapproval" requires 30 Senate sponsors to bring the measure to the Senate floor for an "up or down" vote. If approved, it would then move to the House floor for the same vote. The measure would then go directly to the House calendar, thus bypassing usual House committee approval. In committee it would face opposition from Telecommunications Subcommittee chairman Rep. Billy Tauzin, R-La.

Observers say all of the measures face an uphill fight, especially in the House, where the plan would have to be approved by such Republican House leaders as majority leader Rep. Tom DeLay, R-Texas. The bill would either have to be signed by George W. Bush or survive a presidential veto.

In other FCC news, the commission debuts its Parents' Place, a section on its Web site designed to "help parents deal with, decipher, and monitor the communications that their children can access." The area, located at fcc.gov/parents,

THE M 🔘 VE Layoffs Hit MCA

MCA Records laid off up to 75 staffers June 9, sources say, as part of its anticipated merger with Geffen Records, Billboard Bulletin reports. That was followed by word on June 10 that MCA senior VP Craig Lambert had exited.

Among those released from MCA's R&B division are senior national director of urban promotion Azim Rasheed; executive assistant Kim Thomas; regionals Valerie Marable (Northeast), Deric Berrien (mid-Atlantic), and Roxanne Arango (Carolinas); street team director Dan Smalls; and national director of urban administration Lajuana Johnson.

In MCA's A&R department, the only remaining staffers are Joel Mark and Charlie Adams. Department VPs Tom Sarig and Marc Nathan exit. Reach Nathan at 818-487-3811.

The cuts amount to about one-third of MCA's staff. MCA Nashville was not affected by the layoffs and will retain the MCA name.

CC, CITADEL NAMED IN R.I. FIRE SUIT

A lawsuit that was filed on behalf of eight Connecticut victims of the Station nightclub tragedy near Providence, R.I., names both Clear Channel and Citadel as defendants, the Providence Journal reports. The suit seeks more than $100 million in damages from 27 defendants on behalf of four people killed and four that were injured. The paper says seven of the dead and injured plaintiffs won tickets to the ill-fated Great White show through Citadel's top 40 WQGN (Q105) New London, Conn. Clear Channel's heritage rock WHIY Providence, R.I., which promoted the show, is also named as a defendant.

BUSINESS: BIG D SAYS NO TO SALE

The Dallas City Council has nixed the $60 million deal that would have moved city-owned classical WRR to the frequency of R&B oldies KRNB in a swap that also included classic rock KDBN, according to The Dallas Morning News.

"TV One" is the tentative name for the new African-American-targeted channel from Radio One and cable TV giant Comcast. Actor/producer/director Tim Reid is named senior executive supervising producer. The channel is expected to launch in at least 21 of the top 25 markets in January 2004.

Emmis chairman/CEO Jeff Smulyan joins the National Assn. of Broadcasters radio board of directors. Meanwhile, Emmis/Phoenix VP/market manager Marv Nyren is named regional VP, adding oversight of Emmis' Indianapolis cluster. And former Infinity Radio president Dan Mason is nominated to the board of Spanish Broadcasting System.

PROGRAMMING: WSM DECLARES WAR

Country WSM-FM Nashville's new PD, Lee Logan, has dropped the station's "Live 95" identity and repositioned it as the new 95.5 WSM-FM, with the slogan "Nashville's best country." Logan marked the launch with some guerrilla tactics, installing 3,000 campaign-style signs with the station's new logo all over the city. Logan also had an 8-foot-by-8-foot version of the logo painted on the driveways of the major Music Row labels and those of competitors WSIX and WKDF. Staffs of the rival stations also arrived to find "going out of business" signs posted in their driveways. After a conversation between the GMs of WSIX and WSM-FM, the latter sent a crew to power-wash the logo off the WSIX driveway.

Meanwhile, former WSM-FM PD Kevin O'Neal has filed a lawsuit against the station's current and future owners, Gaylord Entertainment and Cumulus Broadcasting, respectively, according to The Tennesseam. The suit reportedly seeks $1 million in damages and reinstatement and alleges the two companies conspired to fire him because he has diabetes. The lawsuit says Gaylord fired O'Neal March 20, just days before the announcement that WSM-FM would be sold to Cumulus, because Gavlord said he "failed to work in a harmonious manner" with management and other employees. O'Neal contends that management viewed his dia-

Floetry's Ode To A New Spin Record

Floetry (DreamWorks) breaks the detection record at adult R&B as "Say Yes" reaches 1,137 spins in a single week. That surpasses the 1,115 Musiq's "dontchange" amassed on Dec. 14, 2002. As is often the case when spin records fall, the new record-holders get some help from the addition of three reporting stations to the panel, all of which have "Say Yes" among their three mostplayed songs and add a combined 84 spins to the track's total. The stations are WRNB Dayton, Ohio; WDZZ Flint, Mich; and WVBE Roanoke, Va.

Ashley Gearing becomes the youngest female artist in history to appear on the country chart, with "Can You Hear Me When I Talk to You" (Lyric Street). Gearing, who is three weeks past her 12th birthday, tops previous record-holder Brenda Lee, who was more than three months past her 12th birthday when she first appeared on this chart in 1957. The all-time record-holder, Billy Gilman, broke Lee's record when his "One Voice" bowed the same week he turned 12 back in 1998.

Perseverance pays off for Virgin as "Stuck" by Stacie Orrico climbs 13-10 in its 16th week on the mainstream top 40 chart. It's the longest trip to the top 10 since Evan & Jaron needed 20 weeks with "Crazy for This Girl" in January 2001.

Joining the aforementioned new adult R&B reporters this week are new rhythmic outlets KBTQ McAllen, Texas, and KYWL Spokane, Wash.; new modern rocker KQRA Springfield, Mo.; and adult top 40/modern AC KCDA Spokane. Modern rock KRBZ Kansas City is no longer a modern AC station. There are now 53 rhythmic top 40 reporters, 43 adult R&B stations, 45 modern ACs, 87 adult top 40s, and 90 modern rock reporters.

Stations returning after being temporarily removed are country WCKT Fort Myers, Fla., and KHAY Oxnard, Calif., as well as these other Oxnard/Santa Barbara, Calif., stations: KBBY (AC), KTYD (heritage/mainstream rock), KJEE (modern rock), and KCAQ (rhythmic top 40).

Suddenly, Canadian AT40 Really Rocks

markets," says consultant Pat Bohn, president of Pat Bohn Associates, who works with the Rogers stations. "By summer, it will probably be in nine of the top nine markets.'

The Bob and Jack boom has revitalized not only the classic hits/adult top 40 hybrid but also the anti-radio stationality of the Bobs, Alices, and other similarly named stations that proliferated in the mid-'90s—but ran their course in many markets after the novelty wore off. CHUM's Bob stations spoof traditional liners by playing "'80s, '90s, and whatever." The Jack outlets are positioned as "playing what we want."

So why has a format that became a respectable niche player in the U.S. become a magic bullet in Canada?

"Timing was everything," says Howard Kroeger, director of operations for CHUM/Winnipeg, who helped develop the format with Audience Research International's Mike Dorn and former CHUM VP of programming Ross Davies. "In this country, the population bulge lies between 35 and 44, which is our prime demo. And around age 37 to 38, those 20-year reunions start to happen and the Police and Pretenders albums come out.' Kroeger says the genesis of the format, for him, was being at a friend's 40th birthday party where classic rock rival CITI was playing instead of one of his stations. The ensuing discussion suggested that there was a hole for a younger-targeted station that played Meat Loaf, Kansas, and Boston without Jimi Hendrix and the Doors.

"Canada's baby boom is anywhere from six to 10 years behind the U.S., which puts the guts of our baby boom in the '80s," Bohn says. While that doesn't mean the format wouldn't work in the U.S., demography 'does play into why it's such a fast rise here."

"The 35-44 demo was the first in this country to grow up on FM," CKKL PD Chris Gordon says. "At the time, top 40 was still on AM [by government decree], and much of the Bob/Jack music was being played on rock FMs that had wider playlists due to the [government] regulations."

Perhaps for that reason, female musical tastes are harder, and it's easier for a station to skew 50/50 male/female. Pat Cardinal, PD of CKLG and modern sister CKVX, says, "Canada in its entirety is more like the American Midwest, whether you're in Vancouver; Halifax, Nova Scotia; or any place in between, except for Quebec."

'THE GEORGE COSTANZA FORMAT'

It's also easier for a Canadian FM to cover multiple franchises. While Kroeger notes that Winnipeg has 16 FMs, Cardinal says, "We're not getting snipped by an '80s station, an oldies FM, a classic hits station, three hot ACs, and a triple-A. So there are some pretty large constituencies that can be put together in Canada.'

"There's just more opportunity here, with a few less licenses to put together something that is a mile wide and an inch deep [musically]," Bohn adds. Cardinal calls it "the George Costanza format, where you do the opposite of everything you think you should be doing, in terms of how the music's rotated and how we package the radio station, and it works out beautifully."

O.M.D., "Forever (Live and Die)"

Certainly, many U.S. broadcasters would raise their eyebrows at the size of the libraries, which were, for many years, even larger in Canada by regulation, Nielsen BDS monitors of CFWM show the station playing 770 titles over the course of a week, while CKLG and CKIS play about 1,050. A power gold on CFWM spins about eight times per week. On CKLG, that's how fast the recurrents turn around; gold titles top out at six spins per week. By comparison, the current edition of WMVX spun about 530 titles for the same period, while KMXP Phoenix played 375.

But Kroeger says that with the exception of a handful of disco titles used for spikes and special programming, as well as some of his Canadian titles (government regulations require 35% Canadian music for most FMs), those songs all show research strength.

"This whole format is about programming a potential train wreck, Kroeger says. "You'll have 'Wild Thing' by Tone-Loc, 'Hotel California' by the Eagles, 'Soak Up the Sun' by Sheryl Crow, and Supertramp in a music sweep. But the format works because it addresses the variety issue. Listeners get music from so many places these days that their palates have become broader.'

THE MAGIC BULLET

In the same way that the hard-rocking city that inspired "Cleveland Rocks" turned out to be a better home for a hard-rocking hot AC than most others, you might have also expected Winnipeg, with its strong rock'n'roll heritage, to be the best possible home for this format.

But Kroeger says that "Winnipeg is a good test market. There's a population of about 750,000. If the format did well here, there's a good chance it was going to do well in other markets." If anything surprised him, Kroeger says it was that the format turned out to have 25-34 strength as well as 35-44 appeal.

More than one year after its debut, CFMW now sits at a 10.5 12-plus. It remains No. 2 12-plus, behind the market's N/T powerhouse and the No. 1 music station. In doing so, it has proved to be far more durable than its American all-'80s counterparts. Cardinal says that "looking at the performance of Winnipeg and [seeing that] it wasn't going away," combined with "talking to people who weren't in the business about the type of music a station like this would play," helped spur CKKS' move. Kroeger says he knew that a Bob-like format would be huge in Vancouver, which has a musical heritage of its own, but that CHUM didn't have an appropriate home for it on one of its own stations.

Now the upside for Bob and Jack is seen as great enough that stations are trying to lock it down in their market before anyone else does. The CISS change, Bohn says, came together in less than 16 hours. In its first days, that station had a more modern rock feel than some of its counterparts, which Bohn attributes to the heritage of modern rival CFNY.

The flip side of Jack and Bob's success is that it has claimed one heritage top 40 and two rhythmic top 40s (in Toronto and Calgary). In that regard, it recalls the American top 40 doldrums of the early '90s that helped give rise to such harderrocking hot ACs as KHMX Houston and WPLJ New York. "Top 40 is certainly going through a down cycle," Cardinal says. But until it rebounds, he adds, "these are big, mass-appeal radio stations, and the changes that are happening are creating opportunities for other stations.

H=Heavy (55+ Detections), M=Medium (25-54), L=Light (Under 25). Airpower awarded to songs appearing in the top 20 on both the Airplay and Audience charts for the first time with increases in both detections and audience.

*Initial impact: songs appearing on this page for the first time in summary form. Airplay Adds are songs with 6 or more detections at new stations this week. The Airplay Leaderboard ranks taste-maker stations that have been the most successful in identifying future hit songs as measured by the amount of AIRPOWER titles for which they were Airplay Leaders. Refer to each format's Power Playlists page to see this week's Airplay Leaders.

H=Heavy (55+ Detections), M=Medium (25-54), L=Light (Under 25). Airpower awarded to songs appearing in the top 20 on both the Airplay and Audience charts for the first time with increases in both detections and audience.

Initial impact: songs appearing on this page for the first time in summary form. Airplay Adds are songs with 6 or more detections at new stations this week. The Airplay Leaderboard ranks taste-maker stations that have been the most successful in identifying future hit songs as measured by the amount of AIRPOWER titles for which they were Airplay Leaders. Refer to each format's Power Playlists page to see this week's Airplay Leaders.

ongs ranked by number of detections. Songs showing an increase in detections over the previous week, regardless of chart movement. A song will also receive ulter its percentage loss in detections does not exceed the percentage of monitored station downtime for the format. A song that has been on the chart for mor lan 20 weeks will generally not receive a bullet, even if it registers an increase in detections. Airpower awarded to songs appearing in the top 20 on both the Airpia disclaimed to the song with the largest increase in detections of the properties of the song with the largest increase in detections of a time most stations for the first time this week. A song with a gain in detections over the precision should be a song as a song the song again in detections over the precision should be a song with a song with a decline over the same period. When tied songs are each gaining detections or each losing detections, the son eign played on more stations is placed first. Songs below the top 15 become recurrents and are removed from the chart after 26 weeks.

Dullet if its percentage loss in detections does not exceed the percentage of monitored station downtime for the formar. A song that has been on the chart for more than 20 weeks will generally not receive a builet, even if it registers an increases in detections. Airpower awarded to songs appearing in the top 20 on both the Airplay and Audience charts for the first time with increases in both detections and audience. Greatest Gainer awarded to the song with the largest increase in detections. Most Airplay Adds awarded to the song registering six or more detections at the most stations for the first time which again in detections over the previous week is placed first if flied with a song with a decline over the same period. When tied songs are each gaining detections or each losing detections, the song being played on more stations is placed first. Songs below the top 15 become recurrents and are removed from the chart after 26 weeks.

H=Heavy (30+ Detections), M=Medium (15-29), L=Light (Under 15). Airpower awarded to songs appearing in the top 20 on both the Airplay and Audience charts for the first time with increases in both detections and audience. In Initial impact: songs appearing on this page for the first time in summary form. Airplay Adds are songs with 6 or more detections at new stations this week. The Airplay Leaderboard ranks taste-maker stations that have been the most successful in identifying future hit songs as measured by the amount of AIRPOWER titles for which they were Airplay Leaders. Refer to each format's Power Playlists page to see this week's Airplay Leaders.

ongs ranked by number of detections. Songs showing an increase in detections over the previous week, regardless of chart movement. A song will also receive a utilet if its percentage loss in detections does not exceed the percentage of monitored station downtime for the formart. A song that has been on the chart for more han 20 weeks will generally not receive a bullet, even if it registers an increase in detections. Airpower awarded to songs appearing in the top 20 on both the Airpia) and Audience charts for the first time with Increases in obt detections and audience. Greatest Gainer awarded to the song with the largest increase in detections. Acts Airpiay Adds awarded to the song registering six or more detections at the most stations for the first time this week. A song with a gain in detections over the preious week is placed first if tied with a song with a decline over the same period. When tied songs are each gaining detections or each losing detections, the song eling played on more stations is placed first. Songs below the top 15 become recurrents and are removed from the chart after 26 weeks.

BANKS, WBLS CELEBRATE FIVE YEARS TOGETHER

by Dana Hall

On June 18, WBLS New York and the syndicated Doug Banks Morning Show will celebrate five years together and a partnership that has outlasted all competing morning shows in New York R&B radio. In fact, apart from the stretch that Ken Webb had in the early '70s, it's the longest-running morning show on WBLS. The celebration, a black-tie event at which more than $1 million will be given away, will bring together listeners, celebrities, and the music industry.

To salute this accomplishment, Airplay Monitor spotlights the Banks show, its crew, and its past five years on WBLS. We kick off this salute with a conversation with the two principals responsible for making the show successful in New York-Doug Banks and WBLS PD Vinny Brown. They discuss the changes and challenges the show has experienced, as well as the reasons the partnership has worked for five years.

How has the show changed in the five years it has been on WBLS, both in New York and nationally?

Banks: First, you have to look at how we came into the market initially. We're not an angry show with an attitude. We're just us. And for New York, that was something different. I think it gave us an advantage. People took notice because we were positive, and they stopped to listen.

On the national level, because of the competitiveness of the New York market and because we have people on us to strive to do better, we were able to increase our competitiveness in all our markets. Being in New York has changed this show for the better. We would not be the show we are today if we weren't on WBLS.

Our expectations and what was expected of us, being in the No. 1 market, were higher. We've always been a personality-driven show, but we had to up that even more to be on WBLS. There were more issues for us to discuss as well. We are a much more aggressive show, both in content and musically.

Brown: You have to acknowledge the two main components of the show—that being Doug and DeDe [McGuire]. Through the five years they've been on together, they've grown individually and as a team; they've matured and changed. But even through those changes, they've also sustained their credibility and consistently been a fun, lively, good-feeling, and

And that says a lot, considering their schedules. I don't know how they do all that they do, with the traveling, the long hours, getting up at 3 a.m., being "on" for five hours or more, and then having to please so many different entities.

Banks: It's all about your level of commitment. There are probably a lot of really talented jocks out there in mornings or other shifts who think, "I'd like to be syndicated. I want to make that dough, and I want to be heard from coast to coast." But you have to be careful what you wish for. We're on 49 stations, and every one of those PDs wants his or her morning show to sound like and reflect their radio station, and rightfully so.

What's the biggest challenge the show still faces by being in New York?

Brown: Well, being syndicated-making any syndicated show work in a market and making it work locally. Also, the availability and presence of the talent in the market-Doug and DeDe have done an exceptional job here with that. I would bet that most people listening to the show on WBLS know it's a national show, but they probably think it's being syndicated from here, as opposed to Dallas. And in fact, we have them broadcasting from our studios at least twice a month. We make a point of having them here to do functions and events as often as humanly possible, and for a show as large as his ... we've had Doug everywhere, from a barbecue joint to Brazil.

Banks: Yeah, and that Brazil trip was a lot of Brown: At the same time, we're not trying to fool or trick listeners into thinking Doug is here. But we do want them to feel that he and his cohost are part of the community—that they know New York and all that it stands for. They know the neighborhoods and the local scene.

Banks: And it's something I have to constantly remind myself of . . . A few months ago I went to see the Nets play the Mavericks [in New Jersey], and I was dressed head to toe in Mavericks gear. Well, more than a few people walked up to me how I customize the New York feed and asked that I do the same for them. But then again, I also have some stations [that] haven't [had to change] their package in four or five years, because it's working fine for them as is

Brown: You have to consider what the competitive scenario is of each market. Some affiliates may not have the same concerns or market situations that a [market like] New York or Chicago

How do you think your show is different from others, both local and syndicated?

Banks: Every show tries to be a little difone, but at the same time we're all in the business of selling the music. For us, it's the most important aspect of the show, so it has to be the right mix of both personality and music, and I think we have that. Can I compare our show to, say, [rivals WRKS] Kiss or [WWPR] Power 105? No, because we're different stations with different goals. What we do here probably wouldn't work on Kiss, and what they do wouldn't work here.

Brown: There are also different expectations by the audience as well. What they expect to hear from Doug Banks on WBLS is not what they expect to hear on Kiss or [rival WOHT] Hot 97. And there are other factors as well: Is this personality compatible with the other personalities on the station? Is it an alternative to what else is offered in the market? Does it connect with our core target audience?

Banks: For most stations, if you have a great morning show that's personality-driven, that usually helps the rest of the station's dayparts. The thing about WBLS is that each and every daypart is personality-driven. Personality reigns all day and all night on WBLS.

Vinny, how involved are you in giving feedback to the Banks show on music and Brown: Doug is very cooperative in allowing me to speak my mind and give my input. He works for ABC, not me, so only by permission do they allow me to make my suggestions. And quite frankly, they could just say, "Yeah, thanks, whatever," but they listen, and what makes sense professionally they take to heart.

Banks: All my PDs make suggestions, and I listen. I used to say I work for one PD; now I work for 50! If we're on a conference call with all the programmers who carry the show, any suggestion they make is out of a desire to make their station better. So, when Vinny Brown makes a suggestion to me, I take it to heart the same way I would if Sam Nelson in Savannah, Ga., may suggest an idea.

Brown: And any suggestions that I may make [are] not made to selfishly help WBLS alone. It's to make the show better for all the affiliates. I think I am sensitive to the needs of PDs in general.

Doug, is there any particular new young talent coming up today who you think could be the next Doug Banks in 10-15 years?

Banks: Well, I hope it doesn't take 10-15 years, because I can't keep doing this for that long, or I'll die. But actually, right now, because of the way radio has changed and the fact that there are more stations running syndicated programming, there are [fewer] opportunities for young talent to develop and get to where I am.

Brown: There is talent out there, but the question is, Do they have the stamina and the wherewithal to satisfy a syndicated scenario?

Banks: I agree—it goes way beyond talent. You have to have the commitment and drive. I have a drive to be the best and the commitment to win. Personally, it's a big sacrifice to be syndicated. I can't remember the last time my wife called me Doug-she actually has several other names for me.

Brown: What I see now is that a lot of young people in radio want to be at the top, but they're not willing to necessarily do what it takes. How many jocks have said to their PDs, "Do what? I won't do that unless I'm getting paid." But it's people like Doug who continue to do what it takes, even though he's technically already made it to the top.

Banks: Once you get to the dance, you're not done. Once you get over that hump and you feel like you've made it, that's when all the really hard work begins.

DOUG BANKS & VINNY BROWN

and said, "Oh no, Doug, you're a Mavericks fan? Tsk tsk." So being local in every way is something I have to think about whenever I am here.

Doug, what kind of special attention do you have to give the New York market?

Banks: First of all, I do give it special attention because being in this market helps the show overall—it helps us keep that competitive edge. There are some things I might have to do here that I don't have to do for other stations. I do an earlymorning feed for New York, and Chicago heard

THE TEAM THAT BRINGS BANKS TO 'BLS ... AND YOUR TOWN

DOUG BANKS

Born in Philadelphia, then reared in Detroit, Doug Banks started his radio career while still in high school—he joined top 40 WDRQ at the age of 16, doing late nights on the weekends. He was even offered a full-time gig in Miami, but Banks and his mom decided it would be better for him to finish high school. In fact, Banks wanted to be a lawyer, not a DJ, until he got a call from KDAY Los Angeles.

Banks would go on to work in Chicago briefly (his first time), then back to Los Angeles at KFI, then KLAV Las Vegas, followed by KDIA San Francisco before establishing himself in Chicago. While he was doing mornings for the legendary WBMX, WGCI-FM stole Banks for nights in 1986. By 1987, he was WGCI's top-rated morning man. He stayed until 1994, when he moved to afternoons and inked a deal with ABC Radio Networks to syndicate his show nationally.

By 1997, ABC and Banks decided that mornings was where the show could shine, targeting 18-34 as a younger-skewing complement to ABC's Tom Joyner Morning Show. The show began airing in mornings on WBLS New York in March 1998.

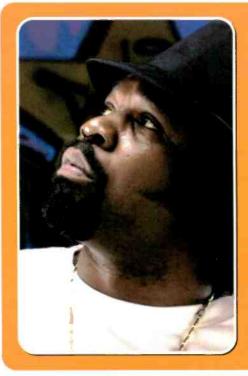

DEDE MCGUIRE

While the Seattle native has been part of The Doug Banks Morning Show team for five years, DeDe McGuire's radio career began 10 years ago at a country station in Killeer, Texas. Although initially hired as the receptionist, her great voice and personality were quickly recognized by management. McGuire went on to work on-air and program crosstown KIIZ, then did stints at KTFM San Antonio and KKDA (K104) Dallas, where she was one of the first female jocks to hold down afternoons. Her career then took her to WPNT Chicago, where she tried her hand at a late-night dating show for two years before heading to top 40 WIOQ Philadelphia as MD/afternoon drive personality.

From BET's Comic View to your local comedy club, Rickey Smiley has paid his dues to become one of the most successful funnymen around. Smiley's comedy career began in his hometown of Birmingham, Ala., where he participated in amateur nights at a local comedy club. After graduating from Alabama State in 1992, Smiley began touring with a variety of celebrities, including gospel great Dottie Peoples, comedian George Wallace, and singer Will Downing. Prior to joining The Doug Banks Morning Show, Smiley often appeared on radio stations in various formats around the country along with his signature characters, such as church lady Ms. Bernice Jenkins.

EOEO BUDDA

CoCo Budda found radio through his love of hip-hop and community involvement. Budda, once signed as a member of the group Royal Flush to Rap-a-Lot and later Epic, also devoted much of his spare time helping everyone from pregnant teens to drug abusers. He was even credited with stopping a gang war from erupting on the streets of Houston, where he spent most of his teen years. His activism led to on-air work on R&B KKDA (K104) Dallas. After joining The Doug Banks Morning Show, Budda found himsexf working a morning show and night show simultaneously. Budda says, "At first, I didn't like radio. Now that I'm in radio, I understand it a lot better and see how radio can be used to educate people."

Songs ranked by number of detections. Songs showing an increase in detections over the previous week, regardless of chart movement. A song will also receive a bullet if its percentage loss in detections does not exceed the percentage loss in detections does not exceed the percentage of monitored station downtime for the format. A song that has been on the chart for more than 20 weeks will generally not receive a bullet, even if it registers an increase in detections. Airpower awarded to songs appearing in the top 20 on both the Airplay and Audience charts for the first time with increase in detections and adulence. Greatest Gainer awarded to the song with the largest increase in detections. Most Airplay Adds awarded to the song with the largest increase in detections. Most Airplay Adds awarded to the song with a gain in detections over the previous week is placed first if tied with a decline over the same period. When the songs are each gaining detections or each losing detections, the song being played on more stations is placed first. Songs below the top 20 become recurrents and are removed from the chart after 26 weeks.

Songs ranked by number of detections. Songs showing an increase in detections over the previous week, regardless of chart movement. A song will also receive utilet if its percentage loss in detections does not exceed the percentage of monitored station downtime for the format. A song that has been on the chart for mon han 20 weeks will generally not receive a bullet, even if it registers an increase in detections. Airpower awarded to songs appearing in the top 20 on both the Airpia and Audience charts for the first time with increases in both detections and audience. Greatest Gainer awarded to the song with the largest increase in detections for a first of the first time with increase in more detections at the most stations for the first time this week. A song with a gain in detections over the pre-lous week is placed first if tied with a song with a decline over the same period. When tied songs are each gaining detections or each losing detections, the son being played on more stations is placed first. Songs below the top 20 become recurrents and are removed from the chart after 26 weeks.

Country PDs Carefully Tread The Surge Of 'God Songs'

Terrorism, war, economic hard times, and a certain amount of bandwagon jumping are among the factors country radio programmers cite for the rise in religious-themed songs getting play in the format right now.

Randy Travis' recent chart-topper, "Three Wooden Crosses," is joined by such spiritual singles as Jeff Carson's remake of MercyMe's "I Can Only Imagine," Phil Vassar's recent "This Is God," Sherrié Austin's "Streets of Heaven," Buddy Jewell's "Help Pour Out the Rain (Lacey's Song),"

Clay Walker's "A Few Questions," and Jimmy Wayne's upcoming single, "I Love You This Much."

So far, programmers haven't had to create special rotations or music scheduling categories for what some term the "God songs," but they are programming them carefully. And while they're keeping an ear open for potential listener complaints, so far programmers say most of the songs are drawing only positive feedback.

"People are looking for answers and comfort and find both in religion," consultant Joel Raab says. "The reason [these songs are] getting played is that they work—generating positive response. The other reason for the proliferation of religious-themed songs is that many of them are just simply so strong irrespective of their religious overtones."

"Terrorism and war have magnified for Americans the fragility of life," WYNK Baton Rouge, La., PD Paul Orr says. "Where there was arrogance, [now] there is an air of God."

"It shouldn't surprise anyone that Christianthemed titles are breaking through," WKIS Miami PD Bob Barnett says. "I've long preached that 'spiritualism' is one of the four legs on the country music stool," the others being patriotism, family values, and "respect for the legends who paved the way. Any time one of the legs isn't represented adequately, the stool wobbles.

"While song themes appear to always come in waves," Barnett adds, "spiritualism— however you want to define it—and patriotism never go out of fashion in country music."

"The interesting thing about most of these songs—with a few exceptions, like 'This Is God'—is that they are really more about death than Christianity," notes Bob Moody, VP of programming for Regent Communications. "A tragic, untimely demise is an ancient country theme. Since it's hard to have somebody just die and stay dead, religion tends to get included."

"The songs may have some Christian themes, but they're not songs that preach," WCTK Providence, R.I., MD Sam Stevens says, explaining their appeal. "People are able to see the positive message for themselves in the song just from listening, as opposed to it being a view forced upon them.

"It is very obvious that we're at a time where God, family, and country are top of mind," Stevens adds. "Lee Greenwood's 'God Bless the USA' was our No. 2 testing song overall from our last [music] test. Country music is America's music, and this country was founded on Christian principles. It really creates a good synergy between the two, and I've liked what I've heard."

Consultant Larry Daniels cites a more earthly reason for the proliferation of spiritual songs. "The moment some subject or style soars to the top of the charts, others will follow; some because they feel inspired, others because it's just business and they want to take advantage of the current trend."

CHRISTIAN AC'S INFLUENCE

Consultant Mike O'Malley says the growing popularity of the Christian AC format is also a factor. "We're also seeing the rise of 'faith-based entertainment' with Christian acts filling large venues. Christian music is one of the fastest-growing genres, and Christian radio is experiencing good growth across a broad segment of the population.

"Over 35% of all baby boomers cume Christian radio, and about one-third of Christian radio's audience is comprised of people who claim to be born again," O'Malley adds, citing a 2000 Barna Research study.

"While it's not as much as with other formats, country does have some reasonable shared audience with contemporary Christian stations," O'Malley continues. "About one in five contemporary Christian P2s also listen to country, while about one in nine contemporary Christian P1s also cume country," according to a 2000 Arbitron P1/P2 study.

"Smart country stations are careful to keep their programming family-friendly and positive," O'Malley adds. "Besides creating a 'safe haven' for family listening, it creates an environment where Christian-themed music like this fits."

HOW MUCH IS TOO MUCH?

Whenever there's a proliferation of any one kind of musical trend, concerns arise about saturating the market. But programmers say there's no sign of audience saturation, yet.

"Whenever a theme wave hits, the listening audience is usually quick to dictate how much they will tolerate," Barnett says. "It's best to play only the cream of the crop. A listener correction is usually pretty clear if a radio station goes too far with any theme. You'll definitely get phone calls or e-mails."

"I'm not worried about having too many of these on the radio," KIIM Tucson, Ariz., PD Buzz Jackson says. "The cream rises to the top, and right now the cream is really the Randy Travis song. The rest of the songs have either run their course or are just starting to chart, so they're in very light rotations. If more come along, or if they all get into meaningful rotations at about the same time, then we'll sound-code them to give us some separation."

While Orr says that "WYNK has not created any 'God' categories" in its music scheduling software, he does allow that "we're making adjustments for religious-themed songs."

Raab thinks that "songs of similar types need to have separation so that we don't sound like Christian Lite one half hour and mainstream country the next."

NO LINE IN THE COMPLAINTS DEPT.

"I have asked clients if there have been any complaints, and universally the answer is no," Raab says about the proliferation of these songs. He thinks the songs reflect the core values of the Country's Erratic Support Of Female Acts

It has been almost 15 months since a solo female artist dominated our country airplay chart, prompting speculation that the female artists in the format have lost some of the ground that they gained during and after country's early-'90s boom period.

While most of country's new male artists were largely panned by critics as Garth clones during that time, their female counterparts were widely thought to be making the format's most compelling and interesting music. With the unfortunate fact that some of those female artists are no longer viewed as viable hitmakers, it will likely become far more challenging for country radio to attract a mass-appeal audience without them as time passes.

What seems to be turning heads these days is a trend toward second chances for artists who had promising starts, followed by eroding fortunes. But for female artists, there is a dramatic lack of consistency in how they're treated at radio.

Arista Nashville saw potential in bringing Deana Carter back to the party, and while she has received mostly high marks for her new album among critics, country programmers have yet to collectively rally behind the project in a way that might fulfill the commercial promise she quickly built for herself with her first two albums on Capitol.

Since her first three solo albums on MCA Nashville, Wynonna has arguably been a tough sell at radio, although she is enjoying a vigorous climb with her new "What the World Needs," which is the youngest single inside the top 20 with only seven weeks on the chart.

Terri Clark narrowly missed a No. 1 single with the highly relatable "I Just Wanna Be Mad," a song that was so successful, it landed her a prime-time performance during the recent Academy of Country Music Awards broadcast. The follow-up single, "Three Mississippi," is still working to crack the top 30 after 14 weeks on the chart.

Shania Twain has been penalized by radio for offering a new album that sounds too much like her previous efforts, Many programmers have been dismissive of singles from Faith Hill's new album saying they sound too pop. And while LeAnn Rimes remains one of country music's most identifiable figures, country radio refuses to afford her a consensus hit.

For a time, the format has seemed content to allow the Dixie Chicks to do the heavy lifting for females in the superstar ranks. But considering that the Bush controversy has marginalized the trio's impact for the time being, now would be an excellent time for programmers to reevaluate the importance of its female stars.

ON THE ROW

ACM To Offer Romeo Exec Post

The Academy of Country Music (ACM) board voted June 4 to offer the organization's executive director position to Bob Romeo, currently executive VP of TBA Entertainment's fairs and festivals division and ACM board chairman. Romeo will replace Fran Boyd, who resigned from the position late last year.

Veteran record promoter Shari Reinschreiber joins Audium Records' promotion team as East Coast national manager. She most recently had been working records for All About Country and previously was a regional at Lyric Street Records.

Meanwhile, Lyric Street has signed 12-yearold singer Ashley Gearing to a recording contract. Her single, "Can You Hear Me When I Talk to You," received substantial airplay based on word-of-mouth endorsements from country-radio programmers months before she landed a deal. DreamWorks Records promotion executive Jimmy Harnen wrote the song along with Rick Manwiller.

Columbia artist Buddy Jewell has signed with the Fitzgerald Hartley Co. for management.

"Country listeners are, as a lifegroup, more religious, more conservative, and [more] patriotic than the average Americans, so it's a natural," Raab says. "However, you can reach the saturation point, and we're a little bit past it right now. Some of these songs are going to have to wait their turn."

"As far as I'm aware, we haven't had Christiancontent-related complaints about 'Three Wooden Crosses' or 'Help Pour Out the Rain,' " KMPS Seattle MD Tony Thomas says. "They both connect with listeners because they're well-written story songs about values important to our audience and sung with a lot of heart.

"We had good responses to a test spin of the Sherrié Austin song, but I did hear some negatives when we gave the Jeff Carson single a test spin," Thomas adds: "A couple of e-mails said, '"I Can Only Imagine" had too much of a gospel message to fit with the other songs we play.' One listener said she was 'forced' to listen to a Christian station at work and didn't want to hear 'those' type of songs on KMPS."

At WCTK, "there has been absolutely no problem with audience reaction," Stevens says. "If it's a good song, we'll play it. The Randy Travis is a great example. We started playing it last December and had nothing but positive response. Even the new Sherrié Austin has the phones ringing."

"We're still waiting for our first 'God' complaint," says Orr, who nevertheless doesn't really expect to get any. "I believe most people think of themselves as good and want to be inspired," he adds. "We have room for 'Three Wooden Crosses' from Randy Travis and 'All My Rowdy Friends Are Coming Over Tonight' by Hank Williams Jr."

"I can't recall ever having received a complaint from a listener for playing a religious song on a country station," Daniels says, adding that he has received complaints about playing too many drinking songs. "That's the great thing about the country format," he adds. "It's about everyday people and the things we do—the good, the bad, the ugly. We've done it all and we pray for forgiveness."

Songs ranked by number of detections. Osongs showing an increase in detections over the previous week, regardless of chart movement. A song will also receive a bullet if its percentage of monitored station downtime for the format. A song with the benefit of more than 20 weeks will generally not receive a bullet, even if it registers an increase in detections. Airpower awarded to songs appearing in the top 20 on both the Airplay Adds awarded to the song registering six or more detections at the most stations for the first time this week. A song with a gain in detections over the previous week is placed first. Songs below the top 20 become recurrents and are removed from the chart after 20 weeks.

H=Heavy (45+ Detections), M=Medium (25-44), L=Light (Under 25). Airpower awarded to songs appearing in the top 20 on both the Airplay and Audience charts for the first time with increases in both detections and audience.

Initial impact: songs appearing on this page for the first time in summary form. Airplay Adds are songs with 6 or more detections at new stations this week. The Airplay Leaderboard ranks taste-maker stations that have been the most successful in identifying future hit songs as measured by the amount of AIRPOWER titles for which they were Airplay Leaders. New WXRK OM's Cross-K-Rock Odyssey

Denver MD Hill Jordan, WXRK New York P/T Danni, and former PD/recently hired KROO Los Angeles air talent John Michael. "It's proof that the theory works," Cross says. "That station's very successful, because after I left, John employed the same theory.

Tucson was not the end of the road for Cross either. After spending several years in the programming department of KROO Los Angeles under the tutelage of senior VP of programming Kevin Weatherly, Cross was recently named OM of sister WXRK (K-Rock) New York. Cross says Weatherly has "perfected" the concept of surrounding yourself with good people "on a huge scale . . . To use a dumb analogy, Kevin conducts the station like a symphony. He doesn't tell you how to play the oboe. He just hires a good oboe player, and a good cellist, or whatever, and conducts it. He's also a master of music flow and momentum. He does a great job of riding the wave of any given trend in music.

It's something I'd like to think I learned a lot about from him."

Working at WXRK also gives Cross access to another veteran programmer, WNEW (Blink 102.7) OM Steve Kingston. "He has run [WXRK] since I can remember," Cross says. "There are few people who know more about K-Rock/New York than Steve Kingston." While Kingston is now concentrating on Blink full time, Cross says that "he's definitely there whenever I have a question for him."

and [MD] Mike Peer and all the rest of the people here are great, and I cannot wait to work with them. They're intelligent, they get where I want to go, they want to go there too, and it's just a matter of how long it takes us to [do that]. Cross' OM appointment has stirred talk of WXRK getting a new PD as well. "I guess the position's open, but on my list of things to do, it's pretty far down there," he says. "I need a creative services person right now, and I need a late-night jock. The station has been understaffed for a while now. because Blink has started and some people have gotten great opportunities in other cities. My first priority is staffing up and getting the music right. Mike Peer is doing a great job, and I want him to be here for the success I hope we'll have."

'WHAT HOT 97 IS TO HIP-HOP'

As far as what Cross has heard of other New York radio, "[top 40 WHTZ] Z100 is an amazing station," he says. "I haven't had that > much of a chance to listen to them yet. I love [R&B WQHT] Hot 97. It's the most kick-ass radio station; next to [KPWR] Power 106 and KROQ in Los Angeles, it's my favorite station. I am a hip-hop fanatic. I love urban radio stations, because they're so immediate and so in touch, and the music they play is so relevant. You hear them everywhere, and it's for a reason. Hip-hop culture is so vibrant, and they do a great job of addressing that. Hot 97, like Power 106, is a model for how to put an amazing pop culture product on the radio, and I'd like to be to rock music what Hot 97 is to hip-hop.'

Since there isn't an active rocker in New York. WXRK will continue to cover both the modern and active sides. "You can call it active if you want, you can call it modern rock if you want," Cross says. "I don't think people that buy CDs say, 'I'm an active rock listener, and I want active rock.' It's whatever people in New York between the ages of 18 and 34 want to hear, and I'm going to try to provide that. If that's the White Stripes, it's the White Stripes; if it's Godsmack, it's Godsmack. It will definitely be a rock station. One of the things I picked up from Kevin is that KROO can get away with playing some really interesting music because they keep an overall rock feel to the radio station It never loses sight of the fact that it is a rock radio station, and people in Los Angeles have identified it as a rock radio station. I hope to be able to address the music in New York that needs to be addressed, while keeping an overall accessible rock feel to the radio station.

With Howard Stern, Cross inherited not only a high-profile program but also the most powerful, successful, and influential morning show on the air. "It's almost like having a syndicated show, like the way Loveline is to KROO," Cross says. "It's definitely a self-contained entity. I'm happy to have it in the building, because it's so cool. The hardest part of increasing a station's ratings is having a great morning show, and we have the best coming out of our studios. I know a lot of people in modern rock complain about having Stern, wondering how they program music after him. But being in New York, Stern is an asset-and-a-half. There is nothing more New York than the Howard Stern show. Howard sets the agenda in the city and nationally for morning radio. K-Rock needs to be to music what Howard Stern is to morning radio."

4 P.M.

Beastie Boys, "No Sleep Till Brooklyn" Trapt, "Headstrong" Green Day, "Brain Stew" Deftones, "Minerva" 311, "Beautiful Disaster" Chevelle, "Send the Pain Below" Red Hot Chili Peppers, "Otherside" Linkin Park, "Somewhere I Belong" The Offspring, "Gotta Get Away Audioslave, "Set It Off" The Strokes, "Last Nite" Incubus, "Pardon Me" Eminem, "Sing for the Moment"

REPRESENTING THE 2-1-2

Coming from the most influential station in the format, Cross says that while "KROQ does an amazing job of being very in touch with Los Angeles, and it sets the agenda nationally, I don't think they set out to do that. I think they're so good at programming to the city and their listeners that the music they support and the vibe they have catches on because it's so successful there. Their national recognition is almost a by-product of how good they are locally.

"KROQ is so in touch and so good about being what their listeners expect and delivering that on a consistent basis," Cross continues. "I would like to bring that to K-Rock/New York. That doesn't mean playing the specific songs that they play or having the attitude that they have—I mean being relevant, local, and representing for New York and having a very in-touch sense of what's going on in popular culture and reflecting that on the radio. New York is a city that deserves it. It's a city that sets trends in every area outside of radio: music, fashion, architecture, you name it. My issue with K-Rock/New York—and this isn't to take away from anything that anyone here has done—is that it hasn't lived up to the city's expectations of a pop culture source. I come from a different perspective, and I want to bring that perspective to New York and really give the kids here something that they can turn to on a consistent basis."

So far, Cross hasn't changed WXRK at all. "I visited New York on a number of occasions, but I've never lived in New York," he says. "And I don't know the musical history of the city or the culture yet. It's a matter of soaking in it for a while and figuring out what they've done right here, how we can capitalize on that, and what we can do better. It's definitely not [a matter of going in with] guns blazing. [Promotion director] Marie [Rodrigues]

THE BRINGBACK FILE

RECORDS THAT WORK BUT AREN'T BEING WORKED

Lacuna Coil, "Heaven's a Lie" (WAAF Boston)

A gothic-flavored song anchored by heavy guitars, lush keyboards, and alternating female and male vocals. Evanescence's "Bring Me to Life." right? Sorry. Active WAAF Boston is the first commercial station spinning "Heaven's a Lie" from Century Media's Italian sextet Lacuna Coil. "We have a relatively new metal show on Sunday nights called WAAF's Harder Faster, hosted by our metal director, Mike Shu," PD Keith Hastings says. "He has been aware of the band for some time and had spun them on the show. Both he and [MD] Mistress Carrie brought the record to me and said that they thought it was something special, and I agreed. So we kept it in the music meeting for a few weeks, found a slot for it, and we've given it a shot."

While the song has some similarities to the Evanescence tune, Hastings, who didn't play "Bring Me to Life," isn't concerned. "We heavily considered playing Evanescence but decided [that] with WAAF's rock position in the market, knowing that I'd hear the song on [moderns] WBCN, WFNX, and probably [top 40 WXKS] Kiss a lot, it made no sense for me to try to be the fourth man out on that record. I thought that it was much more of a pop or modern record. [Lacuna Coil] clearly is not. My thought was that it's a good song, it's a very well-produced record, and it's a band that has got rock substance to it that just happens to have female vocals."

Hastings says that so far, "Heaven's a Lie" has gotten a positive response, judging from the phones and e-mail the station has received. "Early indications are that we're going to be dealing with this for some time. It's off to a really good start."

H=Heavy (30+ Detections), M=Medium (15-29), L=Light (Under 15). Airpower awarded to songs appearing in the top 20 on both the Airplay and Audience charts for the first time with increases in both detections and audience. ★ Initial impact: songs appearing on this page for the first time in summary form. Airplay Adds are songs with 6 or more detections at new stations this week. The Airplay Leaderboard ranks taste-maker stations that have been the most successful in identifying future hit songs as measured by the amount of AIRPOWER titles for which they were Airplay Leaders. Refer to each format's Power Playlists page to see this week's Airplay Leaders. 48

H=Heavy (21+ Detections), M=Medium (14-20), L=Light (Under 14). Airpower awarded to songs appearing on the top 20 on both the Airplay and Audience charts for the first time with increases in both detections and audience.

Initial impact: songs appearing on this page for the first time in summary form. Airplay Adds are songs with 6 or more detections at new stations this week. The Airplay Leaderboard ranks taste-maker stations that have been the most successful in identifying future hit songs as measured by the amount of AIRPOWER titles for which they were Airplay Leaders.

Putting The FCC Back In Commission

How does the FCC move forward when it finds itself at odds internally and with the industry it regulates?

It's not a good week to be an FCC commissioner. Within minutes of releasing its revised ownership rules June 2, the FCC suddenly found itself attacked from all sides: assailed by Clear Channel for allegedly turning the clock back to pre-Telecommunications Act times, scolded by Infinity's Mel Karmazin for not allowing enough deregulation, and attacked as a tool of big media by almost everyone else. And that's when the FCC commissioners weren't attacking each other or telling Congress, "OK,

Having walked away from the hearings with the knowledge that they will continue to own eight stations and five FMs in major markets and that any market cluster that has been retroactively defined as a monopoly will still be grandfathered, it's hard to imagine the big owners really being all that upset. Whatever happened June 2 was not a return to regulation. But it has been a while since owners were forced to keep skimmer tapes, provide a quantifiable amount of news and public affairs programming, or hire jocks who could pass an engineering test. So maybe they've forgotten what that feels like.

And before you can take Congress' anger at the new regulations at face value, it's worth recalling that in the years immediately following deregulation, then-FCC chairman Bill Kennard often found himself hauled down to Capitol Hill for having the audacity to suggest that a given deal gave an owner too much power within a given market. Congress has consistently undermined the FCC's ability to regulate radio. When members of Congress did realize the extent to which consolidation had changed the radio business, something that happened largely because the story spilled over to the consumer press, it was a fait accompli.

The issues that the FCC attempted to deal with on June 2 clearly are not going away. How, then, does the commission move forward at a time when it finds itself at odds internally and with the industry it regulates?

1. You would hope that at this moment, the FCC's three Republican and two Democrat commissioners are finally coming to the realization that their ability to govern effectivelyalready under siege for the past decade—is more threatened than ever. Clearly, the current ideological divide needs to be bridged long enough for the FCC to decide what its mission is. At this moment, the only apparent agreement on the commission is that WKRK Detroit's talk hosts should not have described the "Cleveland Steamer" in such great detail.

2. When compromise doesn't work, and the reaction to the new rules shows that it clearly hasn't, it's time to lead. The job of the commission was once to protect the public interest and provide for the equitable distribution of a scarce resource in a fair and consistent manner-and so it should be again. It was never to ensure that broadcasters were able to make a profit (although you certainly hope they would be able to). Has the proliferation of cable, Internet, and satellite competition made terrestrial radio any less precious a resource? Not if the indifference that terrestrial broadcasters still show them as potential competitors is any indication.

3. That said, there's very little sense that anyone at the FCC has any real connection with radio. There currently is not an FCC commissioner or any FCC staffer of significance with a radio background. And even in an environment that has forced many broadcasters to look at non-radio options for continued career growth, few, if any, of this publication's readers ikely view the FCC as a potential platform. Which is too bad. While the commission needs to be able to regulate radio at a remove, there also ought to be radio expertise brought to bear in that regard, as opposed to just radio industry lobbying brought to bear from outside.

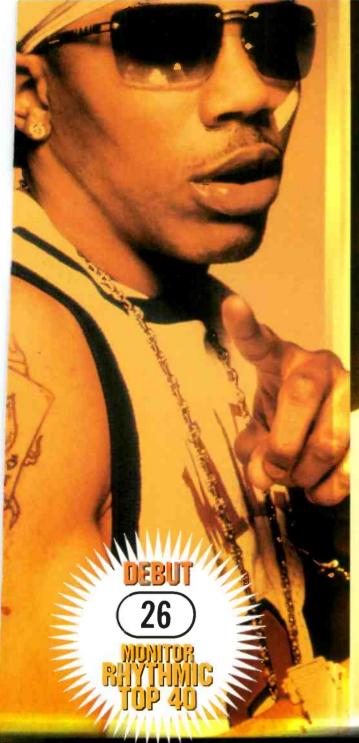

4. Even the sagest FCC decision on ownership limits within a given market will not address the real issues that affect music radio and our industry. That will require an FCC definition of what constitutes consideration in exchange for airplay and how it should be disclosed on the air. Until then, those broadcasters looking to bring the now infamous "supermarket" model to the airwaves remain unchecked, at least by regulation. And chart reporting stations owned by individual entrepreneurs have shown themselves no less enthusiastic about courting label and independent promotion revenue than their group-owned counterparts.

No decision on TV and newspaper crossownership or the number of stations that Clear Channel can own in Minot, N.D., will affect the number of influential major-market top 40 stations already owned by Clear Channel, the R&B chart influence of Radio One, or the rock chart influence of Infinity. While Airplay Monitor has repeatedly taken issue with the frequently expressed consumer press equation that "consolidation + independent promotion = less diversity," there's nothing in the FCC's current action plan that even puts it to the test.

In fact, it's hard to know how the FCC would even go about addressing an issue that it has spent so many years hiding from. The independent promotion structure that now exists does so, in part, because of a commission staff that was neither willing to confirm nor deny publicly that it had, as indies claim, vetted and approved their current practices.

Since the early '90s, new FCC chairmen have gone through roughly the same cycle in their relationships with their constituency: a shortlived honeymoon, followed by an increasingly adversarial relationship with broadcasters (usually over indecency), followed by an adversarial relationship with Congress and eventual gridlock, with some court activity thrown in for good measure. The magnitude of this backlash should force all parties involved to look at whether radio can ever be effectively regulated in the public interest again.
