Role Of Production Directors Grows Along With Spot Load

by Marc Schiffman

When PDs gathered at last month's National Assn. of Broadcasters Radio Show to discuss the impact of heavier spot loads, one panel moderator, WXCD Chicago PD Bill Gamble, suggested that the production director was, as a result, becoming almost as important an element of a station as the morning show.

The production directors we spoke with for this story agree that the work load is getting heavier and the nature of the job, in a consolidated radio world, is changing, with some people not only doing more spots, but working for more stations in a market, doing projects for other stations in the chain, and expanding their role beyond the studio.

Modern KXTE Las Vegas production director Taylor says, "I don't recall ever being so busy. We're constantly writing spots, rewriting spots, making sure the client likes them. It is directly [a reflection of] the bigger spot load.

Album WEBN Cincinnati creative services director Joel Moss says, "When the consolidation snowball started, producers found less and less time to really hone the creative spots . . . The commercial load has picked up considerably, and while the production staff has increased," it hasn't grown at the same rate of spot demands, since "part of that consolidation is to have fewer people' overall.

Moss adds, "You not only need to be creative, but to be able to handle the hours. We've yet to find out how the burnout equation changes here as we move further along in the universe.

Doug Daniels does production for modern WQBK, classic rock WXCR, and sports WTMM Albany, N.Y. The post-consolidation drive for additional revenue, he says, has led to more sales and, as a result, his production load "is probably increasing ever so slightly." So has his role in station life. "In years past, the production director would stay in production and get instruction from the PD, sales guy, and GM. Now I'm in on the meetings to discuss the fall or the spring promotion. I take part in jock meetings. I work closely with the sales staff and the traffic department. In this day and age, the production director isn't just the production director.'

Taylor, too, is multi-tasking, taking a greater role in promotion and working closely with PD Dave Wellington. She says her job has grown to "kind of an APD position, which is great, because it gives me hands-on experience in all aspects of the station. I'm seeing that a lot more." As with other production di-

On Nov. 2, months after morning star Mancow left and rumors started brewing, Chancellor flipped active rock standard-bearer WRCX (Rock 103.5) Chicago to an R&B oldies format similar to the one heard on KCMG Los Angeles and longtime rocker KTXQ Dallas. PD Dave Richards, APD/MD/middayer Jo Robinson, and the staff exit. (Meanwhile, The Dallas Morning News reports that former KTXQ staffer R.J. Lane is now in sales at N/T rival WBAP.)

Crosstown classic rock WLUP (the Loop) aired promos on WRCX (cut by the latter's production department) directing listeners to WLUP. Loop PD Greg Solk says his station has been "sliding ever so slightly a tad more current" over the past couple of months and now includes the likes of Candlebox, Kenny Wayne Shepherd Band, and Creed on its list.

Elsewhere in Chicago, market veteran Bobby Skafish moves from P/T to early evenings on triple-A WXRT, inking a multi-year deal with the station. Other shifts will be shortened as a result.

BUSINESS: JORDAN RETIRES: KARMAZIN CROWNED CEO

The expected retirement of CBS chairman/ CEO Michael Jordan came earlier than expected with the announcement he will leave the company at the end of the year. The Hollywood Reporter says that CBS president Mel Karmazin is taking the CEO title and the CBS board is selecting a new chairman, possibly Karmazin, Jan. 1.

Album KQRS Minneapolis and the Community Action

Against Racism organization reached agreement Oct. 29 on an apology for comments made earlier this year by morning man Tom Bernard. A printed apology will run in local papers and be translated into Hmong to run in Asian papers. GM Mark Steinmetz will read an apology on the air the morning of Nov. 5. Future plans have KQRS and CAAR working on a public-service campaign to fight racism.

On the digital radio front, Sid Bass' Prime 66 Partners has closed on its $100 million purchase of 5 million shares of CD Radio, giving it a stake of roughly 20% in the direct satellite digital broadcast upstart.

SJS Entertainment will now operate under the name SFX Radio Networks. SJS was acquired by SFX Entertainment earlier this year.

Mountain Music IV

Triple-A KMTT (the Mountain) Seattle has just released its fourth collection of artist performances recorded live at the station. The efforts of Indigo Girls, Sarah McLachlan, Morcheeba, Alana Davis, and 11 others will help the station raise money for the Wilderness Society.

"The House Of Blues Radio Hour" and "Blues Breaks" will be leaving the Westwood One networks when their agreement expires at the end of this year.

PROGRAMMING: WMMS LIVES!

Album WMMS Cleveland is not folding after all. A month after promising to bury the Buzzard, followed by a monthlong "sign-off," the station now claims that audience response forced it to continue its heritage rock format.

Chris Shebel, former PD of modern adult

Chris Shebel, former PD of modern adult WDRV (the River) Pittsburgh, returns to Chicago, where he once anchored middays on WLS. He'll program Big City's WCBR/WBRO, currently simulcasting R&B oldies with sisters WXXY/WYYX, pending a new format.

Classic rock WLRO (Arrow 101.5) Lexington, Ky., PD Neal Thomas crosses the hall to program country WVLK.

PEOPLE: PALUMBO TO WYSP MD

Album WYSP Philadelphia programming assistant Nancy Palumbo gets her MI) stripes.

Triple-A CIDR (the River) Detroit undergoes several changes this week. Morning man Jeff "Zippy" Crowe and afternoon jock Thom Kikot both exit. Adult top 40 CHUM-FM Toronto middayer Dale Smith joins

CIDR for mornings. CIDR P/T Rich Griffin goes to afternoons. The station switches positioning statements from "Quality rock" to "Smooth rock."

Triple-A WXRV (the River) Boston MD/morning man Mike Mullaney crosses the street to modern adult WBMX (Mix 98.5) as APD.

WXRV PD Joanne Doody is seeking an MD with on-air abilities, possibly for mornings.

Album KRNA Cedar Rapids, Iowa, night jock Tommy Lang picks up MD duties from PD Joe Nugent. The station also recently got a new morning show in former Mancow producer Kevin Redding, Jessica Dol, from morning co-host at album sister KBAT Odessa, Texas, and Mike Ewyer, who joins for his first radio job.

Classic hits WZMX Hartford, Conn., adds

Classic hits WZMX Hartford, Conn., adds Nancy Barrow to the morning show.

Modern WPLT Detroit night jock Lenny Reid exits. Reach him at 248-269-9543. Across the street, album WRIF morning co-host Drew Lane returns to the air after five months off to recuperate from back surgery.

Zack leaves the production department of Jacor's Cincinnati stations, which include album WEBN and classic rock WOFX, to join modern WPLY (Y100) Philadelphia as creative services director. He replaces John Castino.

Top 40 KQKQ Omaha, Neb., night host Jeff Degan joins modern KNRX Kansas City for nights. The move reunites him with PD Sean Smyth. The two previously worked together at modern KGDE Omaha. Also at KNRX, Ian McCain, who arrived for middays in August, assumes production duties from the exited Dave Horn.

Album WROQ Greenville, S.C., night personality Zak Tailor crosses to album rival WTPT for nights, replacing the exited Rob Hamilton.

Album WTFX Louisville, Ky., replaces exited promotion director Kelly Burton with Dan Vonderheide from Meridian Broadcasting's Fort Myers, Fla., stations.

Modern AC KOZN (the Zone) Kansas City PD Paul Kriegler gives APD Jo Jo Turnbeaugh MD stripes following the departure of Drew Bennett. Kriegler also recruits Hondo from modern KMYZ Tulsa, Okla., to do nights. Speaking of the Zone, instead of the now-standard "Acoustic Christmas" concert, the station is readying an "Acoustic Christmas" album, featuring live versions of the format's biggest hits, some of them recorded at the station.

Kravitz's 'Fly Away' Gets Most Ears

If this issue's modern rock chart were based on gross impressions rather than detections, Lenny Kravitz's "Fly Away" would land at No. 1. Only "Fly Away" and Hole's No. 1 track, "Celebrity Skin," which is No. 2 on the modern rock listener chart, exceed 15 million listeners. Last issue, the Hole track had slightly more listeners than Kravitz.

Cake's "Never There" (Capricorn/Mercury) becomes the group's highest-charting modern rock track at No. 3; "The Distance" peaked at No. 4 on Nov. 23, 1996.

Two of the modern adult format's image artists log milestones on that chart this issue. Alanis

Two of the modern adult format's image artists log milestones on that chart this issue. Alanis Morissette logs her first modern adult No. 1 with "Thank U." Morissette's debut album was released prior to the advent of that chart; her first modern adult appearance was "Uninvited," from the "City Of Angels" soundtrack. It peaked at No. 3 June 6. Likewise, R.E.M.'s "Daysleeper" is that group's first appearance at modern adult.

ROCK 1S BULLET SHY: An unusually soft mainstream rock chart yields only 11 bullets this week, nine below the year's average, and sees two re-entries below 300 spins for the first time in the chart's history.

The Kenny Wayne Shepherd Band enters the heritage chart at No. 39 with "Everything Is Broken" (Revolution/Reprise). It's the fourth title to chart from "Trouble Is..." The first three, "Slow Ride," "Blue On Black," and "Somehow, Somewhere, Someway," all hit No. 1, making the group the only act to have more than two No. 1's at heritage rock. "Blue On Black" goes to recurrent after 42 weeks on the chart, making it the third-longest-charting record this year, behind Days Of The New's "Touch, Peel And Stand" (46 weeks) and Creed's "My Own Prison" (44 weeks).

PROGRAMMING NOTE: Keep in mind when looking at album WNEW New York's chart that the station kicked off its 10-day gold-based "Evolution Of Rock" special programming Oct. 30.

PERSONNEL FILE: TVT names former Island VP of East Coast promotion Jeff Appleton VP of promotion. Appleton has worked at 550 Music and Atlantic in senior rock promotion capacities . . . After only a few months as Maverick VP of promotion, Ric Lippincott exits the label. Lippincott can be reached at 818-347-8919. His predecessor at Maverick, Terry Anzaldo, is named head of promotion at Beyond Music/E.B.T; he and twin brother Anthony are also launching an artist development firm, Good Guy Entertainment . . . Rounder Records national triple-A and Americana radio promotion gal Leslie Rouffe heads to Songlines Ltd. to head up the Americana division, effective Jan. 4 . . . David J. Urso joins Joe Isgro's Private I Records as head of promotion.

MONITOR PROFILE

WROQ's Carson Finds Local Success By Keeping Music Local, DJs Involved

WROO Greenville, S.C., PD Ken Carson had just short of two decades of radio experience when he signed on with the heritage rocker some six years ago. During that time, he has given the station a huge overhaul, culminating in a 7.5-8.6 rise 12-plus in the spring book.

One area that Carson quickly cleaned up was the music. "When I arrived six years ago, the station had a dark image in town. No one would admit listening to the radio station. It was the only rock station in town [and] had a playlist of 1,600 records [and] 42 currents, and it was all over the place," says Carson. "I immediately narrowed down the playlist prior to research, auditorium tests, and so on.

Going over that research, Carson was "shocked to find that the core artists for this market were not being played...The Allman Bros. Band, Marshall Tucker Band, Molly Hatchet. There was not a single Stevie Ray Vaughan song on this radio station," he says. "The consultants that were here prior to my arrival had this national picture and tried to plug in a national format, a generic format, into this market, and they screwed up the radio station. They never took the time to find out what people were exposed to in this market and the history of radio in this market.

Ťoday, Carson characterizes WROQ as "a classic rock station that is approaching the year 2000, which means that we play new music. It's 90% classic, but we do have a playlist of currents. And we have broken bands like Kenny Wayne Shepherd; Gov't Mule, which has a huge influence in this marketplace; Jonny Lang; and Corey Stevens. We will play an occasional Trag-ically Hip, Seven Mary Three-type band. So we are not classic rock in the purist sense. We are a classic rock station that understands our marketplace.

Carson is proud of the way the station now handles depth. "We heavily dive into lost classics. We have a lost classics line, and we are constantly allowing listeners to expand our library by finding these lost classics, which are played almost every hour on the radio station. On this radio station, you will hear an 'oh, wow' track every hour of the day," he says.

Here's a recent 5 p.m. commercial-free hour on WROQ: Van Halen, "Panama"; Doobie Brothers, "Long Train Running"; Indigenous, "New That You're Cone"; Poeten, "Smallis'". "Now That You're Gone"; Boston, "Smokin'"; John Fogerty, "Centerfield"; Blackfoot, "Highway Song"; Aerosmith, "I Don't Want To Miss A Thing"; James Gang, "Funk #49"; Bryan Adams, "Run To You"; Bob Seger, "Night Moves"; Pearl Jam, 'Alive"; Pink Floyd, "Have A Cigar"; and Kiss, "Psycho-Circus."

Carson also oversaw the installation of John Boy and Billy in mornings. "We were the first affiliate for John Boy and Billy. We were the testing ground for their syndication and had immediate success," Carson says.

Outreach in the Greenville market isn't easy. 'To drive from one end of our metro to the other will take you about 70-80 minutes," Carson says. "It's a rural four-county metro. So, you have to be visible in a very wide area." Early on, that meant Carson sent his jocks out daily to a "different corner of our market, on the streets."

Carson had long used TV to blanket the market with his message. "We've spent hundreds of thousands of dollars in TV, which has been very successful for us," he says. Then consultant Fred Jacobs turned him on to those digital billboards that can give a readout of what is playing on the station as a driver goes by. Given the breadth of the market, Carson took three. "Our key cities are Greenville, Spartanburg, and Anderson. So we put up a digital billboard in each one of those cities on the main drags, and they are still running." While the technology is available for Selector to drive the digital-billboard readouts, Carson keeps the controls with the on-air jock, because we can customize the board at any mo-

The boards sell more than the music. "Not only do we promote our giveaways and contests on the boards, but we also give clues to the answers to questions, so that we give commuters an added opportunity to win our contests by paying attention to the boards," says Carson.

Carson prides himself on talent development. "I've been in this business for 23 years and talk to jocks every day who say that they never get any coaching from their PDs...lt is blasphemy as far as I'm concerned, for PDs not to pay attention to their product. And the coaching of air staff is crucial to our business. P/Ts are not given a shift on my radio station every week unless they come in and go over an aircheck. Full-timers come in every week like clockwork and go over airchecks with me. Creating consistency on the air is impossible without regular coaching."

Carson devised a critiquing system years ago that he feels is key to his air talents' success. His performance evaluation is "a form that we both fill out while listening to the aircheck. It's a form that contains 15 areas that I'm interested in them working on: local references, cinematics, show prep, phones," etc., he says. Each week, Carson and the jock each grade the aircheck in the 15 categories. "At the end, we put down three positive observations, first of all, and then three areas where improvement is needed... and then we compare notes.

"At the end, I give them three areas I'd like them to concentrate on. It's there in front of them. They can take it in with them when they go on air and say, 'This week, here are my three objectives," he says. "The best thing about this is it becomes a game with them, because they know what I'm looking for, and they put it into the show. At first, they're doing all these things just on that aircheck tape. Then it becomes addicting. There's a snowball effect here . . . You want to form positive habits with your announcers.

Carson says it's a lack of direction that creates talent voids that are filled with automated overnights, of which he's not a fan. "Greenville [is] a world away from Monterey, Calif., and another world away from Baltimore. There are unique nuances to this marketplace, and unless you as a PD go into your market and find out what these people want, what these nuances are, you're not going to succeed. People will naturally go to the station that is a part of their community and relates to them in every way.

The other area where Carson believes many stations fall short is community involvement. "PDs forget that their station is a part of the community and do not make their [jocks] go out, get involved in community events, hold charitable events for the station, tie in charities into their ongoing events, and get their personalities involved in community service." he charges. "Every one of my personalities is involved in this community, and it is essential to building a heritage station in your market.

Role Of Production Directors Grows Along With Spot Load

rectors we spoke to, Taylor finds herself negotiating the oft-conflicting demands of sales and programming. "It can be ugly, but it's diplomatic. Any production director should have a hands-on feel for sales and programming," she says. "You have to know both sides of the story."

SHARING THE LOAD

Like many we spoke with, Daniels says, "I'm not doing 100% of the production . . . If I want to work from 8 in the morning until 10 at night every day, I can do that. But if I want to be real and have a life and if I want to have any sense of what's really going on around here, you have to delegate." Daniels taps all the jocks at his stations, despite a growing belief in some quarters that jocks treat production as an afterthought and/or that on-air voices shouldn't be associated with spots. "It's amazing that everything seems to happen and does so when it's supposed to," he says.

When it comes to delegating authority, Daniels gives "very explicit instruction" on what he wants to hear in the spot. "We're fortunate to have a talented and creative air staff," he says. "Any one of them could be a production director if they wanted to. We try to have everybody have the complete experience.'

That stretches to writing, too. Daniels, one of the jocks, and some of the AEs are sharing the writing. "That's a challenge. That's where you actually have to come up with a great idea for this particular product and client, and then you have to actually take it from your mind and put it on pa-per," says Daniels. "We bounce a lot of ideas around here. It's an open forum . . . production by committee."

Album WKLS (96 Rock) Atlanta production director Rich Van Slyke has a similar take. "Jacor's really big at sharing the writing," he says. So, he'll get input from director of rock programming Gene Romano, PD Pat Ervin, marketing, or even another Jacor station.

When it comes to coaching production talent in Cincinnati, Moss points to recent arrival Cousin Deke, who does nights at WEBN and "is starting to do more image work for 'EBN, says Moss. "I've been helping him find his mind-set and develop his skills. We do talk a lot about resource material, things to actually use, and then I just let him produce, see what happens, and we talk about it afterward.

KXTE's Taylor says to her production people, "Have fun with everything that you do, because you can hear it." If a person is struggling with a spot, she maintains, it's going to sound tortured on the air.

DIVISION OF DUTIES

The rise of the creative services director, wholly separate from the production director, is a new wrinkle in the production studio equation. In Atlanta, WKLS' Van Slyke gave up commercial production and is now focusing solely on imaging. "Imaging is becoming so much more important these days," he says.

"In a given hour, we will air seven or eight songs and 10 pieces of production and the jock will only do two or three breaks."

Daniels says the stations in Albany had a separate imaging director, but when that imaging director left, those duties fell to Daniels. Still, Daniels hands a lot of the imaging to his pro-

KXTE's Taylor uses two people in the station as assistants. One does commercials, and the other does imaging. "You have to have one common thought," she says. "Without some sort of control, it can get very chaotic. You need that one common vision.

WEBN's Moss, however, gets along just fine without close coordination of the creative and commercial production departments. He says that any attempt to coordinate an overall sound between the production and creative departments would be a luxury in this day and age. "With the amount of work that the commercial production department needs to attend to, we're just fortunate they get it produced and on the air," says Moss.

CRAFTING THE SOUND

There's quicker turnover on imaging elements, though, leading to a heavier work load on that front, too. "Imaging for a modern rock station gets old fast," says Daniels.

WKLS' Van Slyke adds that even in album rock, Romano likes "having a lot of elements in there, so you're never hearing the same element too often. Burnout is a huge concern for Romano.

Van Slyke says that since Romano's arrival at WKLS, "we completely changed the style of our produc-tion." Van Slyke has created a library of some 600 elements. WKLS now has three voice guys on retainer, as well as a local female talent who does a lot of IDs. Add Van Slyke's voice, and "on our station, you go a whole hour [and] you'll hear a mix of all five of these voices," says Van Slyke.

SUPER-PRODUCTION DIRECTOR OF THE FUTURE

Van Slyke predicts the role of the production director "will go even farther as technology makes it possible to prerecord breaks. It'll change the job of the on-air personalities. We're looking at somebody in major-market A doing breaks that will run on small-market station B. When you're not live, you're doing production. You have the ability to edit your breaks [and] to mix sound effects and music beds. And this is the biggest one of all: You have the ability to do stuff over again. I think it's going to improve the sound of radio all across America.

De facto group production directors are already in the field, especially at Jacor, where WEBN's Moss says that they're "integrating new technology and delivery systems, so multiple stations are using the same servers. Just in the last month, I put four stations on the

Better Be Real For Kid's Party

On any given week over the past few years, you can find chart evidence of hip-hop's influence on the rock world. But while the fusion of guitars and rhymes seems to have been accepted by the rock community, hip-hop artists aren't always down with the liaison. Enter Kid Rock, who's been putting out hip-hop records since 1990, after being discovered as a teenager by the famed New York hip-hop crew Boogie Down Productions. A contract with Jive ensued, leading to a Too Short-produced debut and a tour with hip-hop superstar Ice Cube. Now on Atlantic, "Devil Without A Cause" finds Rock's old-school rhymes joined by a live band that dishes out hard rock riffs à la Rage Against The Machine or Alice In Chains.

When you're trying to fuse something, it's important to make both sides credible. I don't want to get caught in this whole rap/rock thing because I can see it being a fad, like 311 or Kottonmouth Kings, or bullshit like that," says Rock.

Kid Rock

More Whodini than the Who, Rock, born Bob Ritchie to a white, middle-class suburban family in Romeo, Mich., 30 miles outside Detroit, left his hometown as a teenager for the city projects, where he hung out at block parties learning to break dance and cut on the turntable. "I immediately cut out a piece of felt and put it on my mom's stereo, grabbed a couple of her Beatles records, and just completely fucked up her stereo learning how to scratch," recalls Rock, who plays guitar and drums. After hearing Run-D.M.C.'s Like That," Rock was hooked, attending every hip-hop festival that came to town.

In a day when the Beastie Boys were the only white group to have hip-hop credibility, Rock says, he was under no illusions about being perceived as co-opting a black, inner-city music. "When I was young, I learned real quick coming from the little-assed town has came from. I eventually found my way to the ghetto by being who I was and doing what I did. The reason I got so accepted in Mount Clemens [Mich.] where I lived and hung out as the only white kid for years . . . was not only because I was good on the turntable but I had a pair of Vans shoes on and a T-shirt," says Rock. "We'd rent buses and take trips . . . and I'd be the only white kid on the bus, running around in my Vans shoes, skateboard stuff, and it was almost like, 'This kid's cool, he's just himself.' Even on all my records you can pretty much hear I'm just talking about myself.

Rock believes hip-hop has gotten more racially polarized over the years, beginning with the more politically oriented message rap that began striking a chord around 1989 via Public Enemy. "I gave my heart and soul to the hip-hop thing. I was nothing but hip-hop. I was so ecstatic to be on Jive Records, to work with Too Short and tour with Ice Cube and hang with the Geto Boys and be down with D-Nice and A Tribe Called Quest," says Rock. "But after busting my ass for so many years, I just don't feel a part of it any more. After enough people being like, 'Fuck you, we don't want you here,' I was like, 'I don't want to be here.' "

Despite his rap heritage, Kid Rock realizes "Devil Without A Cause" may put him in league with those rockers he holds in such contempt. "I said it five years ago, and I'll say it again," announces Rock. "I'll come out and show all these motherfuckers who want to rap and rock exactly how to do it. I'm probably the best motherfucker at [it]—I'll be tacky and say it. I'll challenge anybody, any day. You want to battle? Let's do some old school hip-hop shit with our guitars and turntables.

Prophet system. Some stations are more automated than others.'

Moss points to Jacor's Bill Millikin, who "does the [hot AC] format production. He's basically supplying work parts or completed pieces for all of them." When Jacor took over KIIS Los Angeles, it was production talent in Tampa, Fla., that helped with the imaging. When Jacor signed on new triple-A KACD/ KBCD L.A., the production department at triple-A sister KBCO Denver provided elements. Rock production vet Mike Madrigal is based in Jacor's sports KXTA L.A., doing elements for that market and other Southern California Jacor properties.

"When groups consisted of seven AMs and seven FMs, they were all pretty much independent," says Moss. "Now with 200-400 radio stations, there's got to be some way to consolidate work.'

Much as programmers have complained about air talent, Van Slyke says that he sees the quality of production talent in the market dwindling. "There's going to be a certain amount of creative, talented people coming in to the work force, but they're being diverted into new media-video games, computers, the Internet. The new radio production talent are people who just happen to love radio and grew up wanting to be on the radio.

Making Production Time More Effective

'With the amount of work that the commercial production department needs to attend to.

we're just fortunate they get it produced and on the air'

-Joel Moss

We asked production directors for tips on getting more out of studio time.

WKLS Atlanta production guru Rich Van Slyke says that when it comes to managing volume, "pick one project each day that is going to be your masterpiece and then get the other ones out of the way as quickly as you can and spend your time on that one masterpiece."

He also advises experimentation. "Try things that you really don't think you can do, because you'd be surprised. I didn't think I could sing. Now I make my own music. I didn't think I could be a station voice, but I found two stations that signed me up." He's even found time to put together his own sound-effects CD.

KXTE Las Vegas production director Taylor offers three points to keep in mind in the studio-"organization, organization, organization. Especially now, there's so much juggling going on. Then have fun."

WQBK/WXCR/WTMM Albany, N.Y., production director Doug Daniels says, "Carry around a notepad. You never know when that idea is going to strike. Keep your eyes and ears open, and be aware of what's going on around you... And have a lot of fresh DATs on hand."

Album WEBN Cincinnati production director Joel Moss quips, "Get eight hours of sleep."

Records showing an increase in detections over the previous week, regardless of chart movement. A record that has been on the chart for more than 20 weeks will not receive a bullet, even if it registers an increase in detections. Airpower awarded to those records that attain 300 detections for the first time. If two records are tied in number of plays, the record being played on more stations is placed first. Records below the top 20 are removed from the chart after 26 weeks.

Records showing an increase in detections over the previous week, regardless of chart movement. A record that has been on the chart for more than 20 weeks will not receive a bullet, even if it registers an increase in detections. Airpower is awarded to those records that attain 250 detections for the first time in triple-A and 800 detections in modern adult. Titles below No. 20 are removed from the chart after 26 weeks. If two records are tied in number of plays, the record being played on more stations is placed first. @1998, Billboard/BPI Communications.

Records showing an increase in audience over the previous week, regardless of chart movement. Rankings broken down by mainstream, modern, and triple-A formats (on right side of this page) correspond to charts printed in this week's Monitor and therefore rankings do not exist for recurrents and records below No. 40 (No. 20 for triple-A). Audience computed by cross-referencing exact times of airplay with Arbitron listener data. ©1998, Billboard/BPI Communications.

Records showing an increase in detections over the previous week, regardless of chart movement. A record that has been on either chart for more than 20 weeks will not receive a bullet, even if it registers an increase in detections. Airpower awarded to those records that attain 800 detections (mainstream) or 1,100 (modern) for the first time. If two records are tied in number of plays, the record being played on more stations is placed first. Records below the top 20 are removed from the chart after 26 weeks.
