After Accepting New Jobs, Changes Of Heart Becoming More Common

by Jeff Silberman

Industry pundits were justifiably surprised when Mike Tierney, shortly after beginning his new PD gig at KPWR (Power 106) Los Angeles, decided to return to his previous employer. VH1. Before the dust had settled over that move, WNKS (Kiss 95.1) Charlotte, N.C.'s Adam Smasher decided not to do nights at KZZP Phoenix. Something similar happened to Mike Danger, whose promotion to APD MD at WPXY Rochester, N.Y., came after it had been widely rumored that he would become the new PD of WWHT (Hot 107.9) Syracuse, N.Y. And now Jason Hillary has decided to stay at KKPN/KBTE Corpus Christi, Texas, rather than take a previously announced PD job at WJLK Asbury

While there have always been PDs or air talents who had a change of heart after accepting a job, those situations used to occur once or twice a year, not several times within the space of a few weeks. But with a talent crunch already in evidence (and likely to be exacerbated by the elimination of starter positions), owners are putting a greater emphasis on retaining talent. It all adds up to the end of the "have opening, will travel" career mentality.

"Like everything else, it's a supply-and-demand issue." says Emmis senior VP of programming Rick Cummings, who is overseeing Power 106 after Tierney's change of heart. "As the mom-and-pop stations got bought up in consolidation, everyone in the major markets became world-class operators. Considering the prices [groups] paid for those stations, [station executives] are on a pretty short fuse. They have to get [ratings] performance imme-Continued on page 7

Emerging Hits, Trendsetting Stations Spotlighted

Two Chart Features Debut, Airpower Retooled

by Silvio Pietroluongo, Airplay Monitor chart administrator

Airplay Monitor is proud to introduce two new features in this week's issue, along with the retooling of our Airpower criteria. This new information allows Airplay Monitor to better highlight both emerging hits and the programmers who are helping discover them. It will also provide the industry's most accurate indicator of when a song is truly broken.

The retooled feature is our criteria for Airpower status, which previously recognized those songs that had reached a certain level of spins. The recent inclusion of audience charts in Monitor allows us to create a formula for Airpower that recognizes not only the most-played songs, but also the ones that are reaching the widest audience. Airpower status will be awarded when a title reaches the top 20 on both the airplay chart and audience chart in the same week for the first time. The title, however, must have increases in both detections and audience impressions to qualify for Airpower, whether in the first week the title appears in the top 20 on both charts or any subsequent week.

We found that the new formula significantly improves the chances that an Airpower title will eventually become a top 10 hit. And by no longer tying Airpower to an arbitrary number, we can now take into account the fluctuations in detections that occur as we adjust the chart panel size on an almost weekly basis. The new formula determines Airpower criteria on the basis of a song's performance compared to all other songs within that particular week.

Our new First Impressions feature, located on each of Monitor's weekly Power Playlists for individual stations, lists the top three songs in most formats (the top two in AC) that have received six or more detections at each station for the first time that week. First Impressions will highlight those songs that are receiving significant airplay for the first time but, in many cases, are not yet highly enough ranked to show up on a station's Power Playlist. While this airplay has always been reflected in Monitor's most new stations" ranking, First Impressions makes it easier to find and use. It's designed for the people who've told us that, while they regard Airplay Monitor as the only accurate barometer of real airplay, they wanted a better tool for judging airplay on brand-new titles. We'll also list First Impressions stations for all songs on the Impact page, replacing the New Airplay This Week listing.

You can also find our new Airplay Leader feature on the Impact page. Whenever a song reaches Airpower status, we'll spotlight the first station to play that title 150 times (100 in AC and rhythmic top 40). In the event that more than one station qualifies, the stations will be listed in order of cumulative detections up to that date. In an increasingly conservative programming environment, Airplay Leader is our way of spotlighting those stations that helped find the hits.

And in the coming weeks, we will introduce the Airplay Leaderboard, which will rank stations in order of how many times they have appeared as an Airplay Leader on Airpower titles. The Leaderboard will acknowledge those stations that have repeatedly paved the way for songs on their road to Airpower status.

We are confident that these new features will make Top 40 Airplay Monitor a more useful and valuable tool for both programmers and record labels. Please call me at 212-536-5154 or E-mail silvio@airplaymonitor.com with any questions or comments.

Another PD Decides To Stay Put

Just as Airplay Monitor goes to press with a lead story about programmers and air talent who've accepted new jobs, then changed their minds, Jason Hillary has accepted a last-second offer to stay as PD of KKPN/KBTE Corpus Christi, Texas, rather than head to the PD slot at WJLK Monmouth/Ocean, N.J. AC Chart Action Makes Martin Ubiquitous CRAZY L1FE: To date, Ricky Martin's "Livin' La Vida Loca" (C2) has appeared on every top 40 chart save one. This week, Martin rectifies that situation by charting on the adult contemporary detection chart. Twenty AC stations are playing Martin's across-the-board smash; the title is up 24% in detections and 11% in audience at AC.

Madonna's "Beautiful Stranger" (Maverick/Warner Bros.) debuts at modern adult this week, her second chart appearance at the format. "Stranger" is the first title from the upcoming "Austin Powers" sequel to chart at top 40. It can only intensify as the movie's June 11 release date approaches. Madonna's "Frozen" peaked at No. 23 at modern AC in spring '98. "Stranger" debuts on the mainstream top 40 detection chart at No. 35 and moves 34-25 on the mainstream audience chart; 96 mainstream top 40s are playing the song.

The second song from Elton John's "Adia," "A Step Too Far" with Heather Headley and Sherie Scott (Rocket/Island/Mercury), debuts at AC this week on the audience and detection charts. 52 AC reporters are playing the song, which is up 114% in detections and more than 97% in audience.

Z100 ANNIVERSARY LOOMING

Summer is here, and that means another anniversary party/on-air reunion is coming up at WHTZ (Z100) New York. Former jocks should contact newly promoted OM Kid Kelly at 201-867-5000 to help the station celebrate its 16th birthday between July 30 and Aug. 2.

And while we're on anniversaries, a special tip of the hat to WXKS-FM (Kiss 108) Boston, celebrating its 20th birthday this weekend.

Station Concerts Top Outdoor Fun, 'Powers II'

Station concerts reclaimed the Topical Barometer crown, which it will likely hold throughout the summer, well ahead of summer movies—specifically, the "Austin Powers" sequel—and outdoor activities.

While modern rock KXTE (Extreme) Las

Vegas and top 40 WPXY Rochester, N.Y., are tying in "Austin Powers II" ticket giveaways with grand-prize trips to London, where winners will catch a big concert, top 40 CKIK Calgary, Alberta, will host a Shagadelic Shindig at a local club immediately after the premiere. The club will be decked out with a full retro theme, complete with go-go dancers, etc. Says Michael Godfrey, "It'll be groovy, eh?"

On Memorial Day weekend, adult top 40

KHMX (Mix 96.5) Houston gave away videos of "Saving Private Ryan," while country WQYK Tampa, Fla., ran the oldies standby, the Top 500 Songs of All-Time weekend. "We ran ads in The Tampa Tribune asking people to send us their top 10 and had a grand prize of $1,000 for those who voted," says Mike Culotta. "The response was great."

Obviously, the "Phantom Menace" buzz has cooled considerably, and some stations are playing on its backlash. Yet several are still getting considerable mileage with creative contests. Album rock KEGL (the Eagle) Dallas duct-taped a male intern, dressed as Princess Leia, to a telephone pole and gave out clues to where "she" was. Everyone who found "her" won movie tickets. Loren Condron offers clever remarks on "why a duct" tape.

Country KSON San Diego toyed with the idea of giving tickets to people who'd be the least likely to see "The Phantom Menace." "Being cold-hearted radio geeks, we first considered sending homeless people and then getting their critiques," Greg Frey says. "Hilarious, but misguided. Instead, we stationed morning producer Doug Sterling at a central location and asked listeners to drive by and donate money to buy tickets. We raised enough in one morning to buy 200 tickets, which we gave to two local youth groups.'

Top 40 KKRZ (Z100) Portland, Ore., will send one lucky winner to Tunisia, where the movie's Tatooine scenes were shot. Qualifiers get a "Star Wars" leather jacket, with the winner going to a resort in Africa, "not in the middle of the desert!" says Wendi "Force-ter."

A definite top 10 staple this summer will be amusement parks. Country WBEE Rochester toasts a local theme park's opening day by taking 20 lucky winners to the park (before it opens to the public) to test-drive the rides. We'll do call-ins and really make a 'scream' on the roller coasters," Stephanie Hogerman says. "On the same day, our morning co-host will head for the water park for sprinkler games and the dunk tank

PROMO TOPIC OF THE WEEK: THE STATIONS THAT SWAG YOU

In radio, swag, like diamonds, are forever. Tshirts and hats are the most prevalent swag, but items range from lip balm, key chains, and water bottles to refrigerator magnets, bubbles in mini-champagne bottles for New Year's Eve, boxer shorts, polo shirts, tank tops, jogging suits, Halloween candy, and radios that can only be tuned to your station. Most irreverent swag came courtesy of Jason Gani when he worked at WBHT (Hot 97) Wilkes-Barre, Pa. "We gave away 'Leprecondoms' to 'keep your little fellow safe when he's searching for that pot of gold."

Most of the stuff is sold for profit, although many stations sell special items for charity or just to cover their cost. Prices for the usual stuff average $10 for T-shirts and $14 for hats. Garret Doll at country KYGO Denver is trying to get labels to sponsor their hats by embroidering artists' names or signatures on them. Others cited several ways to make the swag special:

• WBEE's Hogerman suggests using quality cottons or 50/50 fabrics. "Things printed on white last longer. Pigment-dyed fabrics fade. Use colored ink, not colored shirts, to give away.

They cost less, too!"

• "Add excitement to your logo," WPXY's

Tristano Korlou says. "If it's cool looking, people will want to wear it and show it off."

Country KEEY Minneapolis' Diana Buckmann changes T-shirt designs every year and creates limited-edition swag for special events. "Our commemorative state fair T-shirt, featuring a country lineup, always sells out," she says.

QUICK HITS

The mystery music montage is alive and well at R&B WJTT (Power 94) Chattanooga, Tenn., whose Power Mystery Music Sweeps are quick snippets of five songs. Whoever names the artist and title of each song wins cash. Better yet, the pot increases by $100 every time someone guesses wrong. Rumor has it that Wayne Collins even changed his name to Benjamins.

KEGL's Condron also keeps us abreast of the station's Topless Summer. Caller No. 9 who hears the "topless tune of the day" can win a topless trip for two to Mazatlan, Mexico, and qualifies to win a topless Jeep Wrangler. Tristano Korlou describes WPXY's Hairiest Man Contest: "In the summer, more and more guys walk around with no shirts on," he waxes eloquently as he gets it off his chest. "Our morning show encourages lady listeners to send in pictures of their hairy men. The pictures will then be put on the 98PXY Web site. The one that receives the most votes will win a pair of VIPs to our Summer Jam concert, plus a free wax job. All entries receive movie premiere passes to see the ultimate hairy man, 'Austin Powers: The Spy Who Shagged Me.'

Three Senators Seek To Clip FCC's Wings

FCC Chair Bill Kennard may have received a more cordial welcome on Capitol Hill during last week's (May 26) Senate hearing, but at the same time three high-level Republicans were looking to clip the FCC's wings. Senators John McCain, R-Ariz.; Orrin Hatch, R-Utah; and John Ashcroft, R-Mo., introduced a bill that would streamline the government's merger review. The Telecom Merger Review Act mandates that if either the Department of Justice or the Federal Trade Commission has reviewed a proposed merger and found no need to intervene, the FCC must remain hands-off. If the FCC does gets involved, it would have only 60 days to complete the review. The senators' complaint is that the FCC typically re-reviews proposed mergers, even after DOI or FTC approval, adding months to the process and millions of dollars in costs.

The commissioners defended the process, arguing that their reviews supplement, and do not overlap, DOJ scrutiny. During most of the hearing, radio issues were overshadowed by long distance and the Internet, although Sen. Byron Dorgan, D-N.D., asked the FCC to explain what its decency standard is and how it is set. Dorgan also asked Kennard to list the words not allowed on the radio. "I'm not sure that would be appropriate," responded a flustered Kennard.

Elsewhere, the FCC has flagged Capstar's purchase of CP KBED (102.9 FM) Shreveport, La., from Port City Communications, citing concentration concerns.

The FCC has also shut down another pirate radio station, this time in Lancaster, Pa. Radio Vida was operating from a church basement.

CAPITAL: INFINITY BUY BOARDS, CHANCELLOR SELLS

CBS/Infinity CEO Mel Karmazin is expanding his outdoor division, while Chancellor Media is taking steps to exit the business. CBS/Infinity is paying $8.3 billion for Outdoor Systems, which combined with TDI creates the largest outdoor media company in the world. Outdoor Systems owns 112,000 display faces in 150 markets in the U.S., Canada, and Mexico. It also owns 125,000 subway displays in New York.

Meanwhile, Chancellor CEO Tom Hicks says his company is taking a significant step toward becoming a radio-only corporation, with the sale of its billboard business to Lamar Advertising, which will pay Chancellor $1.6 billion in stock and cash for Chancellor's 42,500 billboards. As part of the deal, Chancellor will continue to own a 30% stake in Lamar for at least the next year. The DOJ must approve both deals, and both companies say its review should be completed by the fall.

Citadel will sell 10 million shares of its common stock, worth $146 million. Proceeds will. in part, pay for Citadel's purchase of stations in Charleston, S.C.; Binghamton, N.Y.; Muncie, Ind.: Kokomo, Ind.: Portsmouth. N.H.; Portland, Maine; and Wilkes-Barre, Pa. Half of the shares will be sold by the company, the other half by shareholders. Among those cashing out is the venture capitalist firm Baker, Fentress & Co., so Citadel is replacing board member Scott Smith of Baker, Fentress. In his place, former banking giant Ike Kalangis joins the board. He now advises a number of institutional investors.

Even though Greater Media is not publicly traded, it can still cash in on Wall Street's bull run. The company has hired SEI Investments, an asset management company, to invest Greater Media's employee-pension-plan

NEW MEDIA: CD, GM TALKING AGAIN

CD Radio says it has reopened discussions with General Motors on building cars with CD Radio receivers, six weeks after it broke off talks, when it said a deal between GM and competitor XM Satellite Radio was imminent. But an XM representative says that despite this new development, their two companies are still talking. "Satellite radio is a hot, emerging industry. This is just the beginning; there are a lot of major players who want to become involved," said XM's Vickie Stern. CD Radio holds its annual shareholders' meeting June 22, and a deal with the car company could ease shareholders' fears over its 25% drop in recent

INSIDE THE SEC FILINGS

Public companies must eventually show their hand, and Capstar is no different. In its recently released annual report to the Securities and Exchange Commission (SEC), Capstar reveals the outcome of several lawsuits filed against it. One suit, brought by Cardinal Communications over the sale of sports KTCK Dallas, was settled with Capstar writing a check for $2.9 million. Another suit centers on Capstar's purchase of Triathlon Broadcasting. The action, brought by former Triathlon shareholders, alleges Capstar helped Triathlon cut a deal that would favor Triathlon senior officers over rank-and-file shareholders.

The SEC filing also reveals pay for top officers. CEO Steve Hicks is given a base annual salary of $577,500, with a guaranteed 5 percent pay increase each year, a benefit afforded no other Capstar employee. Most others make roughly $300,000 and are subject to Citadel has also recently released its annual report, showing CEO Larry Wilson made $358,000 in 1998, with another $214,000 in bonuses. Like Hicks', Wilson's contract has a built-in 5 percent raise clause.

SALES: RADIO ONE BUYS BOSTON MOVE-IN

Radio One is buying country WCAV Boston from KJI Broadcasting for $10 million.

New Northwest Broadcasters is buying country KIDX, country KGHL, and classic rock KRSQ Billings, Mont., from Marathon Media for $3.9 million.

Angela Perelli Shoots For The Stars In Programming KYSR Los Angeles

Few things can change as dramatically as perceptions in radio. While Angela Perelli programs one of the most successful and influential modern adult stations in the country, KYSR (Star 98.7) Los Angeles, it's hard to believe that when she took the post several years ago, the station was still a long shot, even when Chancellor snapped it up in 1997. After all, Star was trying to find a niche between two titans of their respective formats, top 40 KIIS and modern KROQ.

"There were questions about whether [modern adult] was a viable format and if there was a big enough hole in the market for it," she admits. "We weren't performing that well at the time. We were [viewed as] a cute station that everyone liked, but did we have the muscle to make a true mark?

"So we did a music test, and the music was really popular," Perelli continues. "Then Chancellor gave us the money to invest in people who could take us to the big time—from the marketing and production directors to a new morning show. To really compete with the huge heritage stations here, we needed a little more ammunition."

'Our goal is really within our reach'

Angela Perelli Program Director KYSR Los Angeles

Owner: Chancellor Ratings: 2.9-2.9-3.1-2.5-3.0

Star's growth went relatively unnoticed by its major power rivals for a while. "Luckily, we weren't going up against one of them head to head, like [KLYY] Y107 is in trying to push KROQ off its [modern] hill," Perelli says. "For a long time, no one took us seriously, so we were able to do our own thing, steal a little bit from everybody and create our own hill. We knew we were on our way when they started caring about who was coming into our Star Lounge [the station's on-air performance venue] or promotion."

Chancellor's deep pockets helped land some high-profile air talent—most important, morning stars Jamie, Frank, and Frosty. "We talked to several different shows," Perelli says of the lengthy talent search. "Instead of inventing a morning show, we wanted to get one with a history of success with women 25-34. As someone once said, 'The biggest predictor of future success is past performance.' Jamie, Frank, and Frosty had an 18 share with women 25-34 in Denver. That was a huge selling point."

Incredibly, even in a market as sex-obsessed as Los Angeles, several local pundits didn't think Jamie's raunchy verbal sexploits would succeed here. "I remember their first review in the L.A. Times," she recalls. "[The critic] thought Jamie should stop talking about who she slept with. Yet this town was built on scandal, gossip, and sex, and people here want to talk about their sex lives.

"This was our [target demo's] big secret. Men who stumble onto the show may be mortified by it, but women are candid and open about sex. We give women that forum, and Jamie can get away with it because women are used to talking about it. They don't like to hear men talk about it. Sex sounds totally different coming out of a women's mouth, even though it's polarizing to those who feel she's not setting a good example."

ting a good example."

The heat generated by Jamie, Frank, and Frosty can also make one forget that the rest of the air staff is uniformly high profile. Ex-KQKS (KS107.5) Denver morning co-host Leah Brandon brings a similarly candid mentality to nights, while afternoon host Ryan Seacrest is getting tons of exposure, both figuratively and literally, from drop-ins on local TV morning newscasts to being prominently featured in the trendy Los Angeles magazine.

"We really wanted fun people who are young, hip, look like what they sound like, and who you'd want to hang out with" she says. "We definitely want to get our people out, and they all do the whole 'L.A. thing' of their own networking, which helps us get promotions and guests. Ryan has his own connections because of his TV background, but all of our talent develops relationships with the local morning TV shows and gives them story ideas, so they end up covering us a lot. It's far better publicity than paying for it."

That high profile helps the station overcome periods when its core music, the female singer/songwriters, isn't at its peak in terms of popularity. "From what we've seen, their appeal is lower than it was a year ago," she says. "Of course, if one of those artists came out with a huge hit, we'd still really play it. But the oversaturation of that sound has made people wanting more upbeat, fun, and relatively meaningless music. Of course, in the summer people naturally look for more tempo and fun music anyway."

Here's a current hour on KYSR: Third Eye Blind, "Semi-Charmed Life"; Everlast, "What It's Like"; Berlin, "No More Words"; Sugar Ray, "Every Morning"; Sarah McLachlan, "Angel"; Fatboy Slim, "Praise You"; Gin Blossoms, "Hey Jealousy"; Shania Twain, "That Don't Impress Me Much"; Alanis Morissette, "You Learn"; Tal Bachman, "She's So High"; and New Radicals, "You Get What You Give."

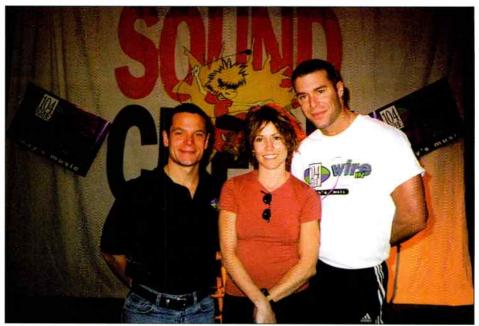

As noted in Monitor's special modern adult issue two weeks ago, Perelli and her format counterparts have offset the Lilith lull with pop records by Ricky Martin, Cher, and others. "It's a balancing act," she says. "We don't ever want to miss a hit, but I think we still take more of our music from the modern side. We never dip into boy bands and the teen pop stuff. The style of music that's popular right now is upbeat male pop from Sugar Ray, Smash mouth, and the Goo Goo Dolls. Star has always been a rock-leaning adult station."

So Perelli isn't worried about sharing more artists with KIIS. "Up until now, [the sharing] hasn't been that huge where we had to worry about it," she notes. "We can live with the occasional 'Titanic' and Shania Twain. For [edgier] hits by Offspring and Will Smith, we use them in morning show promos and production elements. That way, if people who like those artists hear those elements, they'll think we play their songs. People who don't especially like those songs won't notice them in that context."

Even now, Perelli admits to being surprised at Star's success. "Chancellor's initial goal for us was to be in the top five 12-plus, and we thought they were crazy," she says. "Yet in the April extrapolations, we were the No. 5 English station in the market, which is amazing. It shows us that our goal is really within our reach. It reminds me of a take on the old saying, 'If you shoot for the moon and land on the roof... you're still higher than when you started.' With the addition of a top-flight morning show to our solid music position, we can keep growing."

Too Many Teen Acts? Or Too Many Ballads?

Two years ago, top 40 PDs were pleasantly surprised by how well the new wave of teen-based acts were performing with listeners of all ages. Over the past year, some began to feel that the teen acts were hits only with the young end and were starting to erode with adults. Now, although it's not across the board, concern from some PDs and consultants that the young-end acts aren't testing at all has surfaced. There is also concern that focus group respondents talk about teen acts in roughly the same way that adults used to talk about rap in the early '90s. Certainly, when you ask modern AC programmers what it is that sets them apart from their mainstream top 40 competition, now that they're playing Cher and Ricky Martin, the answer is almost always, "Well, we're not playing 'N Sync and the Backstreet Boys," suggesting that it's just a matter of time before somebody tries to make an on-air positioner out of it.

Before the hysteria spreads, remember the following: It's generally accepted that when listeners complain about repetition, they're talking about repetition of songs they don't like, not their favorites. When they say there's too much DJ talk, they're complaining about extraneous talk, not about back-selling or other needed info. So maybe there's something else going on here, too.

Here's my guess. When the teen acts broke through, they did so with uptempo records that filled a clear need at both mainstream and rhythmic top 40. By the time many of those acts got to their third or fourth single, about nine to 15 months later, they'd done the thing that most artists do at that point in their career: they tried to cement their across-the-board appeal with ballads. In the case of 'N Sync and the Backstreet Boys, they released two mid-to-downtempo singles, although the latter have returned with a medium-to-up record.

As a result, the teen groups have, perhaps unintentionally, filled the AC ballad niche for top 40 listeners. If you look at the mainstream top 40 chart, roughly two-thirds of the ballads come from teen acts, with just a handful from modern or modern adult artists. It's an easy mantle to inherit. Hot AC has long turned away from most of its traditional ballad artists, thus ensuring that top 40 PDs are even uneasier about those acts. Country was, for a while, supplying ballads, but, at this writing, there hasn't been a country ballad in a few months.

Traditional industry thinking is that a ballad will usually be an artist's home run—the massappeal record that transcends genre, gender, age group, etc. And from "Careless Whisper" to "Ironic" to "Don't Speak," that's often been the case. And while there's always been an appetite for big production ballads from generation to generation, it is, to my mind, an overabundance of ballads more than any other type of record that threatens both mainstream top 40's "makes you feel good" image and an act's long-term hipness. And there's evidence that listeners agree.

From REO Speedwagon to Journey to Poison, artists have managed to strip whatever rock image they had through an overabundance of ballads. More than euro-dance, more than the Spice Girls' "Wannabe," more than sample-driven rap records, or any other genre, it's big production ballads that sound pretty much the same regardless of whether they become hits in 1975, 1983, or 1999. And it's ballads that tend to sound more like each other than uptempo teen records. It's also ballads that PDs tend to run to whenever they're worried about "extreme" records on their station, thus ensuring a 180-degree swing from too much edge to too little.

This is not a call to action against any current title; the sales and requests these records generate have earned them their place on the radio. And it's never my intention to replace radio's usual hysteria about one genre by turning it against another. But it is a plea for careful music management, particularly when it comes to maintaining top 40's energy level. Many PDs would be comfortable following "I Drive Myself Crazy" with "Back 2 Good," viewing this as a teen act followed by an adult-appeal rock record, not two ballads in a row. Few would be comfortable with "I Drive Myself Crazy" into "Baby One More Time." In my mind, the latter delivers the format's expectation, while the former violates it. It's also a plea to artist managers and A&R people. The recent tendency for "extreme" titles to test well at top 40 represents an obvious need for some energy at the format. The success of "Livin' La Vida Loca" shows that top 40 listeners are just as happy to have it from Ricky Martin as Mighty Mighty Bosstones.

diately on demand. To do that, you need to get the best talent you can find, and you have to keep it. That makes it tougher to attract people than it is to keep them.

"There's no question that the quantity of premium talent is dwindling, and if you ever get a hold of [talented personnel], it would be smart to keep them, because they'd be harder to replace," says KZZP Phoenix PD Dave Cooper. "Secondly, many programmers don't always understand the value of talent until other [stations] make a run for them. Because of the [increased] competitive environment, the value of a staffer rises according to how many parties want that person. The fact that these talents are getting [last-second] countering offers is due to stations that now realize the value of what they have and what they have to pay to keep them.

"A lot of it has to do with the marketplace," KPWR GM Val Maki adds. "In most cases, retaining employees is more important than recruiting them. There's so much to lose if you have someone who you know is a good or great thing. You want to hang on to [proven air talent] as opposed to rolling the dice and maybe making a mistake. Mike Tierney is a very talented programmer who VH1 apparently felt was too important to lose.

John Reynolds had just gotten the PD seat warm at WNKS when Smasher told him about the KZZP offer. Before Smasher made his final decision, "we had a chance to get to know each other," Reynolds says. "He got to see my vision of the station and where things were going. We discussed what I saw ahead for his role at the station. I presented that to him because I felt it was important to hang on to him. You see [the amount of available] talent out there, and it makes you want to keep them.

The chance to grow within Infinity/CBS was the main reason Danger turned down the WWHT PD offer to stay at WPXY. "A few different things factored into my decision," he says. "I feel my work here isn't quite done. I'm still young. I'll have more opportunities to program in the future. To leave without being 100% positive of my situation seemed like a risk not worth taking. There is something to be said for (the) stability of working at Infinity.

The large-group influence also benefits Reynolds, in that Kiss staffers who feel like moving up to larger markets can be transferred to a sister station. Furthermore, Reynolds has access to similar-minded personnel at other Infinity stations.

A smaller group like Emmis appears to be at a disadvantage when competing for talent against the superpowers. "In the mind-set of some people, we are [at a disadvantage]," Cummings says. "Someone like [former group PD] Steve Smith [who recently left to join Chancellor Media] could be driven to a huge company because of the perception of going farther faster. Then there are others, like [WKQX (Q101) Chicago morning host] Mancow Muller, who perceived that he'd have a better ride and a more enjoyable career with a company like ours. It cuts both ways.

Both Cummings and Maki point out that the Tierney turnabout was unusual, because he had been on the job for a week before he changed his mind, apparently while packing to move to L.A. "Pick an emotion—we had them all when he didn't return," Cummings says. "I don't think it was a grand scheme in his mind. He came in with the intention being at Power, then something happened when he was in New York. What makes it all the more frustrating is that there are very few worldclass PDs who have the entire package, both left and right brain. Considering the platform we've built at Power, we have the ability to get that talent, and now we have to go through the same slow process we went through before. At this point, we'd rather get a terrific leader and strategist than anything else, which may mean the next programmer may come from a different format.

RUMORS AND INNUENDO

Smasher's hire at KZZP was officially announced several days before his about-face.

TOP 40 AIRPLAY MONITOR JUNE 4, 1999

Danger's acceptance of the WWHT job was never officially announced but had been widely rumored. Did that buzz have any influence on their situations? "Initially, I was neutral about it," Danger says. "I didn't feel it helped or hurt, but it did make more people ask me if I was staying or going, which made my decision a little bit tougher. I had people giving me reasons why I should stay and go, as if every-body's an expert on my career. Outside of telling [WPXY PD] Clarke Ingram that I had an offer on the table, I really didn't want people knowing my business.'

Smasher says, "You get a lot of calls like that, but for the most part, I chose not to talk about it. You always want to keep you cards close to your chest, so it didn't affect my situation. But I always let both parties know what was hap-

Reynolds says, "It can be awkward if you're trying to protect everyone's privacy. It depends on the circumstances of how and why it's presented. If you keep reading about it, it can get too familiar and practically become accepted as fact."

"I have had no personal knowledge of anything going awry because of the rumors that always flying around," Cooper says. "Adam didn't pull out until the last minute. We had been negotiating for a month. Apparently, when he gave notice about going to Phoenix, they sat down and made a better offer. As far as the publication of rumors, I didn't worry, because when I want to hire someone, I want an open and honest dialogue. I never trust a trade rumor.

DRAINING THE TALENT POOL?

Those four incidents aren't the only evidence of a talent seller's market. Besides the PD openings at Power 106 and WWHT, there are weeks-old vacancies at numerous majormarket outlets

KKRZ (Z100) Portland, Ore., PD Tommy Austin, who was seeking a morning host at press time, notes that talent is even more scarce during the spring book. "Ironically, when the [spring] numbers come back, a lot of stations will knee-jerk and fire good people, he says. "I might be able to pick up quality talent they didn't appreciate. The thing is, we need to find someone good now.

Even so, Reynolds asserts that the impact of the talent crunch depends on the market. "If you're in a smaller, less-competitive market, then you can give some people the chance to grow on the air. However, it's hard to develop raw talent in a top 15 market. You don't have the luxury of time to do that in competitive situations where you need seasoned people to Smasher says, "The talent pool is getting slimmer. It's hard to create new talent now that many companies are using automated systems like Proffit to cut corners on nights and overnights, which is where air talent starts and develops.

Reynolds says, "That's one of the ironies of the Proffit system. Although you save on talent by voice-tracking, you also lose slots where people develop and polish their skills. When those slots don't exist, [potential talent] doesn't have as many opportunities as there used to be. It's a double-edged sword."

Furthermore, Cooper says, "there is a limited amount of talent available in the industry now compared to the '80s. Some of that has to do with the competitive environment in the major markets. Some of that does have to do with it being more difficult to break into the business. Also, a lot of it has to do with potential talent being drawn to other areas, such as the Internet. If you and I were just starting out today, we'd have career options created by the Internet and other industries that weren't available in '70s and

In the end, Reynolds realizes that he may have kept Smasher this time, but "Adam will get more offers," he says. "That wasn't the first one, nor the last. The important part of hanging on to quality talent is to always give them better reasons to stay than to go.

Songs ranked by audience, computed by cross-referencing exact times of airplay with Arbitron listener data. Records showing an increase in audience over the previous week, regardless of chart movement. A record that has been on the chart for more than 20 weeks will not receive a bullet, even if it registers an increase in audience. If two records are tied in total audience, the record being played on more stations is placed first. Records become recurrents and are removed from this chart in conjunction with the Mainstream Top 40 Airplay chart.

A SHORT TIME AGO IN A MAGAZINE CALLED BILLBOARD:

"The buzz is intense on this affecting ballad, through which Island/Mercury is determined to at last break European superstar quintet Boyzone. This Andrew Lloyd Webber/Jim Steinman song could be expected . to be a bombastic power ballad that opens the skies with fury. Not the case here. "No Matter What" is simple and graceful, with its drama invoked through the mature, confident vocals of the group - so beautifully delivered that this track immediately stands apart from anything you've heard recently over the top 40 airwayes. "No Matter What" is not another oozy boy-band ballad - these guys have been at it a long time, and their sophistication is plenty evident. Top 40 and AC have a track in their hands that could be the love song of the summer. Please listen with no preconceptions?

BOYZONE - "NO MATTER WHAT".

Songs ranked by number of detections. Records showing an increase in detections over the previous week, regardless of chart movement. A record that has been on the chart for more than 20 weeks will not receive a bullet, even if it registers an increase in detections. Airpower awarded to songs appearing in the top 20 on both the Airplay and Audience charts for the first time with increases in both detections and audience. Greatest Gainer awarded to the record with the largest increase in detections. Most New Stations awarded to the record registering six or more detections at the most stations for the first time this week. If two records are tied in number of detections, the record being played on more stations is placed first. Records below the top 20 become recurrents and are removed from the chart after 26 weeks.

Songs ranked by audience, computed by cross-referencing exact times of airplay with Arbitron listener data.

Records showing an increase in audience over the previous week, regardless of chart movement. A record that has been on the chart for more than 20 weeks will not receive a bullet, even if it registers an increase in audience. If two records are tied in total audience, the record being played on more stations is placed first. Records become recurrents and are removed from this chart in conjunction with the Rhythmic Top 40 Airplay chart.

Songs ranked by number of detections. Records showing an increase in detections over the previous week, regardless of chart movement. A record that has been on the chart for more than 20 weeks will not receive a bullet, even if it registers an increase in detections. Air-power awarded to songs appearing in the top 20 on both the Airplay and Audience charts for the first time with increases in both detections and audience. Greatest Gainer awarded to the record with the largest increase in detections. Most New Stations awarded to the record registering six or more detections at the most stations for the first time this week. If two records are tied in number of detections, the record being played on more stations is placed first. Records below the top 20 become recurrents and are removed from the chart after 26 weeks.

A record that has been on the chart for more than 20 weeks will not receive a bullet, even if it registers an increase in audience. If two records are tind on total audience, the record being played on more stations is placed first. Songs ranked by number of detections. Records showing an increase in detections over the previous week, regardless of chart movement. A record that has been on the chart for more than 20 weeks will not receive a bullet, even if it registers an increase in detections. Airpower awarded to songs appearing in the top 20 on both the Airplay and Audience charts for the first time with increases in both detections and audience. Greatest Gainer awarded to the record with the largest increase in detections. Most New Stations awarded to the record registering six or more detections at the most stations for the first time this week. If two records are tied in number of detections, the record being played on more stations is placed first. Records below the top 20 become recurrents and are removed from the chart after 26 weeks.

Songs ranked by number of detections. Records showing an increase in detections over the previous week, regardless of chart movement. A record that has been on the chart for more than 20 weeks will not receive a bullet, even if it registers an increase in detections. Air-power awarded to songs appearing in the top 20 on both the Airplay and Audience charts for the first time with increases in both detections and audience. Greatest Gainer awarded to the record with the largest increase in detections. Most New Stations awarded to the record registering six or more detections at the most stations for the first time this week. If two records are tied in number of detections, the record being played on more stations is placed first. Records below the top 20 become recurrents and are removed from the chart after 26 weeks.

The chart, reprinted from Rock Airplay Monitor, is compiled from a national sample of data compiled by Broadcast Data Systems, 68 modern rock stations are electronically monitored 24 hours a day, seven days a week. Songs ranked by number of detections. Records showing an increase in detections over the previous week, regardless of chart movement. A record that has been on the chart for more than 20 weeks will not receive a bullet, even if it registers an increase in detections. Alroywer awarded to those records that attain 1,100 detections for the first time. Greatest Gainer awarded to the record with the largest increase in detections. Most New Stations awarded to the record registering six or more detections at the most stations for the first time this week. If two records are tied in number of detections, the record being played on more stations is placed first. Records below the top 20 become recurrents and are removed from the chart after 26 weeks. ©1999 Billboard/BPI Communications

Compiled from a national sample of data supplied by Broadcast Data Systems. 111 mainstream top 40, 35 rhythmic top 40, 74 adult top 40 and 65 crossover stations are electronically monitored 24 hours a day, 7 days a week. Songs ranked by number of detections. Records showing an increase in detections over the previous week, regardless of chart movement. A record that has been on a chart for more than 20 weeks will not receive a bullet, even if it registers an increase in detections. Airpower awarded to songs appearing in the top 20 on both the Airplay and Audience charts for the first time with increases in both detections and audience. Greatest Gainer awarded to the record with the largest increase in detections. Most New Stations awarded to the record registering six or more detections at the most stations for the first time this week. If two records are fied in number of detections, the record being played on more stations is placed first. 1999 Billboard/BPI Communications.

"I listened to the Thunderpuss 2000 remixes of Amber's 'Sexual (Li Da Di)' over 20 times in a row and I am convinced that this will be a future power at B96. This is an awesome pop/dance track!!!"
