Monitor Kicks Off Decade Recap With Radio History Of Early '90s

by Sean Ross with Dana Hall, Frank Saxe, Marc Schiffman, Jeff Silberman, and Phyllis Stark

If the '80s were the decade when radio finally started operating like a business, the '90s left many broadca-ters wondering if business had completel overwheimed radio's creative aspect. This decade dio's most turnultuous since the 50s—the time of transition from network shows to music radio. And it ended with many broadcasters expecting a new-media-induced change of the same magnitude.

This week, Airplay Monitor begins a three-week recap of the '90s, recalling the decade's programming highlights with the help of key industryites. We'll also look at Monitor's exclusive national Arbitron ratings for the decade, as well as a 10-year picture of format growth and decline with the help of The M Street Journal folks. And to give you an early start on decade-end programming, we've also got the top 20 hits of each year according to Billboard and Airplay Monitor. (Reported sales and airplay info are used for 1990-93 in most formats and 1990-Continued on page 5

Big City Pays Rival For 'Eighties' Handle

We begin our post-Thanksgiving weekend in the true holiday spirit of litigation. (This is the radio business, right?) The Chicago Sun-Times reports that one person talking turkey over the holidays was adult top 40 WTMX (the Mix) Chicago VP of programming Barry James, who reached a settlement with Big City Radio, owner of '80s oldies WXXY Chicago. James had applied for the state service mark for "the Eighties Channel" and several related domain names under his real name, B.J. McCarty, before Big City could do so for WXXY. Last week, lawyers for both parties released a statement that said, "As of Nov. 24, the dispute regarding the Eighties Channel slogan has been resolved, and Big City Radio is the sole and exclusive owner of the Eighties Channel mark." No terms of the settlement were released.

Meanwhile, The Pittsburgh Tribune-Review reports that a racial discrimination lawsuit filed by two WBZZ (B94) air personalities against the station and its parent companies is finally going to court. Ronald Chavis, a 20-year industry vet, and Troy Garrett, a production director and overnight voice for 11 years, were let go in 1997 and 1995, respectively. At the time of their dismissals, then PD Keith Clark told Chavis that his "voice no longer fit the [station's] format" and Garrett that he was let go due to low ratings and "a poor work ethic." The duo assert that they were both replaced by white males and are asking the court to order WBZZ's owners (at the time, EZ Communications and ARS) to rehire them and compensate them for lost wages, benefits, training, and seniority, as well as award them punitive damages, pay for legal fees, and issue an order barring companies from discrimination against African-Americans.

At the trial, which was set to begin Nov. 29, WBZZ lawyers will argue that the station went through an "entire presentation overhaul... which involved a revamping of its music, jingles, logos, and overall sound, among other things. Also, Garrett's dismissal was due to "failure to take control of his show \dots his disinterest and lack of enthusiasm \dots and his failure to abide by the same standard and responsibilities applied to his peers at the station.'

PROGRAMMING: STEVENS SHOCKER

After 27 years, during which he was PD at both WZNY (Y105) and AC sister WBBQ Augusta, Ga., Cumulus market OM Bruce Stevens exits. Also exiting is WBBQ's 30-year p.m. host, Dickie Shannon, amid rumors of a format adjustment at WBBQ.

Former KLCA (Alice 96.5) Reno, Nev., PD Bob Walker takes the PD post at KQMB (Star 102.7) Salt Lake City, replacing Mark Waldi.

Also in Salt Lake City, rhythmic top 40 KUUU has a new sister station: Christmas 107. Marathon Media has signed on former modern rocker KSNU, which is playing holiday hits until a new format debuts in late December. Also running all holiday music stunts are WYGY Cincinnati, which says it will return to country after the holidays, and AC KSRC (Star 102) Kansas City, which also plans to return to its format Dec. 26.

In another format flux, WGRX Baltimore has dropped its all-current country format and is stunting in anticipation of a Dec. I change. Also heard stunting is Cumulus sign-on WRQQ Nashville, which is playing Led Zeppelin and Doors tunes, amid market rumors that there's another change to adult top 40 on the way.

WKSZ (Kiss 95.9) Green Bay, Wis., PD Miles Ryker returns to his hometown as APD of classic hits WLOL Minneapolis.

Adult top 40 WYCO (Y108) Wausau, Wis., interim PD/MD/afternoon host Derek James drops interim from his title.

AC WFAS White Plains, N.Y., is now simulcasting on sister WFAF Mount Kisco, N.Y., which drops jazz and the call letters WZZN.

MANAGEMENT: MORE FOR KNORR

Top 40 WXKB Fort Myers, Fla., GM Maureen Knorr adds oversight of adult standards sister WJST, replacing Joe Bell, who joins country WKIS Miami in the same capacity.

PEOPLE: KUBE'S A.M. NIGHTS

KUBE Seattle has debuted the "Bobby O, Tiffany, And Night Time Playas" morning-showstyled night shift featuring returning night personality Bobby O, former crosstown KKBY traffic reporter Tiffany Warner, and street reporter Eddie Francis, who won KUBE's 1999 Wanna Be a DJ contest. They replace Keith Rhodes, who segues into production.

AC WEBE Bridgeport, Conn., P/Γ (and station vet).Storm N. Norman is upped to mornings, replacing Chris Evans, who exits. WNVZ (Z104) Norfolk, Va., flips Mike Klein to nights and Michael Mann to middays.

KMZQ (Lite 100) Las Vegas morning co-host Laura Gannon exits.

Former KSLZ (Z107.7) St. Louis night guy Danny Wright is back at the station, doing swing. CKIK (Power 107) Calgary, Alberta, board op Krash Kincaid moves up to full-time swing.

AC CKSY Chatham, Ontario, shuffles its lineup: P/T Heather Manners is upped to middays/ promotions, replacing OM/PD/MD/middayer Walter Ploegman, now in afternoon drive, replacing Cordell Green, now PD/middays at modern rock sister CQFM. Also, adult top 40 CHYM Kitchener, Ontario, P/T Carla Donnell joins CKSY as assistant MD/nights, and D'Arcy Burnard lands her first radio gig for late nights. Meanwhile, AC CFBK Huntsville, Ontario, afternoon host Craig Ross joins CQFM for nights. Adult top 40 WQCY (Q103) Quincy, Ill., adds

Bob and Sheri in mornings, replacing Ryan Gatenby, who joins top 40 WSPT Stevens Point, Wis., for mornings. Also, WBVS Joliet, Ill., middayer Jill Tyler joins WQCY as MD/middays.

Top 40 WZBZ (B105.5, the Buzz) Atlantic City, N.J., PD Ted Miller seeks female air talent for a

Pay-for-play knows no borders, as Norway's top 40 Radio Atlantic has been suspended from that country's airplay chart for offering playlist slots to record labels. Monitor sister Music & Media's Kai Lofthus reports that no record companies have so far responded to Radio Atlantic's fax, which offered 70 spins for roughly $500 and the "album of the week" slot for $7,000. PD Rolf Pedersen says the suspension is a "total overreaction," adding,"We just have to face the fact that everything is for sale in the record industry.'

LOCAL PROGRAMMING WILL OUT?

Here's an interesting factoid from The M Street Journal, whose 10-year tally of growth (and attrition) at various formats is part of this week's decade-end spectacular (see page 12). Next time somebody declares that localism will distinguish conventional broadcasters from new-media competition, remember that one in every four stations is now using 80% or more network programming, while one in three is either using network programming or simulcasting another station

LOCAL WILL OUT? PT. II

Over the holiday weekend, WDJX Louisville, Ky., PD Barry Fox heard from a part-timer who was calling from his cell phone from outside the studios. Apparently, he was locked out of the building with the fire alarm screeching. Also apparently, a power surge tripped the alarm, which naturally attracted the fire department, which took some CDs and T-shirts, presumably to test for arson. The good news, according to Fox: "Thanks to Prophet and voice-tracking, there was no dead air!" He also mentioned WDJX's Shake Your Bon-Bon-a-Thon promotion, where the listener who shook his or her bonbon the longest won front-row tickets to see Ricky Martin.

No Holiday Weekend Slowdown On Charts

Traditionally, Thanksgiving weekend means fewer bullets on the charts, as the airwaves are dominated by countdown shows and holiday-themed programming. But in an era when PDs are starting to realize that today's hits may hold more interest to listeners than library titles, this year appears to be an exception, as there is no appreciable loss in the number of titles increasing in either airplay or audience. In fact, a number of titles that were unbulleted last week are showing gains this week, particularly on the rhythmic top 40 chart, where four songs that were decreasing last week earn a bullet. Brian McKnight's aptly named "Back At One" (Motown) returns to the No. 1 slot, while Santana's "Maria Maria" (Arista), Jessica Simpson's "I Wanna Love You Forever" (Columbia), and Snoop Dogg's "B-Please" (No Limit/Priority) all regain their bullet. Three songs on the modern AC chart and two apiece on the adult top 40 and AC charts do likewise, including Savage Garden's "I Knew I Loved You" (Columbia), which increases 30% in modern adult airplay, and Barenaked Ladies' "Get In Line" (Elektra) which increases 9% in adult top 40 airplay.

Savage Garden has the distinction of being the first (and only) act to have a song appear on a Monitor chart for 100 weeks. "Truly Madly Deeply" (Columbia) first charted at AC in January 1998. On reaching the upper echelon of the chart, it has never dipped below the top 20; therefore, it has yet to be relegated to recurrent status. The song peaked at No. 1 in April 1998.

Lonestar's "Amazed" (BNA) takes Airpower at AC, where it's in its 13th chart week. It has been in the top 20 of AC airplay for the past eight weeks but had yet to hit the top 20 of the AC audience chart. With a First Impression at WLTW New York, "Amazed" increases 43% in AC audience.

Cumulus Picks Up Connoisseur's Outlets

Cumulus Media expands its Midwestern presence with its $242 million purchase of Connoisseur Communications' 35 stations in nine markets. The deal, Cumulus' largest to date, was signed Nov. 28, after weeks of discussions between Cumulus and Connoisseur CEO Jeffrey Warshaw. What role, if any, Warshaw will have in Cumulus is not yet known. Cumulus will own and operate 299 radio stations in 58 markets. Its new stations include top 40 WHOT Youngstown, Ohio; top 40 WWCK Flint, Mich.; top 40 WZOK Rockford, Ill.; and adult top 40 WSHZ Muskegon, Mich.

CAPITAL: WALL STREET GIVES THANKS

The Thanksgiving holiday had radio giving its thanks to Wall Street, as two more groups filed IPOs. Beasley Broadcasting filed papers with the Securities and Exchange Commission to raise as much as $150 million. The other group filing an IPO is Regent Communications, which aims to raise about $91.5 million in its stock offering. According to its SEC filing. Regent shares will open for trading on Nasdaq at a price between $6.50 and $8.50.

As it exits the radio business, Sinclair Broadcasting is leaping into the Internet. In recent days, it has laid out more than $70 million in two Web sites. In a deal valued at $69.4 million, Sinclair has taken a 50% equity stake in Beauty Buys.com, a Web site selling fragrances, cosmetics, and vitamins. Sinclair has also acquired a 16.5% equity stake in Synergy Brands, the company behind the site, for cash and additional spot time.

CAPITOL: EEO TO RETURN

Nearly two years after the courts ruled that the FCC's EEO rules were unconstitutional, FCC Chair Bill Kennard says that when the commission meets Dec. 15, it "will consider new EEO rules to widen the circle of opportunities in the broadcast industry."

SALES: KEYMARKET GROWS AGAIN

Keymarket Radio buys top 40 WZKT and N/T WESA Pittsburgh from Farr Communications for $3.5 million.

Cumulus buys Spanish KFQX Abilene, Texas, from Powell Meredith Communications. Cumulus owns crosstown country KBCY, top 40 KCDD, classic rock KHXS, and AC KKHR.

92 in top 40. The remainder is based on BDS-monitored airplay.) There'll be different special features each week leading up to our traditional year-end special, which arrives Dec. 17.

(As we begin this week's oral history of programming developments from 1990 to '93, we realize that despite trying to tell as much of the story as possible, it's hard to tell it all. Any key developments you may regard as absent here are likely to be covered in subsequent weeks; they are not, in any event, deliberate sins of omission. And your feedback is welcome.)

The '90s began with broadcasters trying to shake off the effects of a late-'80s station-buying spree whose high prices couldn't be supported in a soft economy. What the industry would come to know as duopoly existed as early as 1987-88, but it was a subsequent LMA at Capstar's WJDX Jackson, Miss., that spurred an industrywide urge to merge.

The early LMAs were carefully structured to avoid the appearance of premature transfer of control, but not everybody accepted their legality. In 1991, EZ Communications asked the FCC to stop the LMA of two St. Louis rivals, while WRCN Long Island, N.Y., would ask the FCC to investigate the arrangement between WNEW New York and WWHB. Within a few years, EZ had its own LMAs and WRCN was part of a cluster, too. So was a Jackson station that had challenged the WJDX deal. By early 1992, that market had four LMAs. And in 1991, Billboard reported that the FCC had shut down two pirate stations that were operating their own LMA.

In 1992, amid calls by broadcasters and the NAB to make these cohabitations legal, the FCC relaxed its duopoly rules and allowed group owners 30 FMs instead of 12. As the industry tried to sort out these new arrangements, there were GMs shared between nonco-owned stations and PDs shared between markets, such as WYSP Philadelphia's Tim Sabean, who commuted to sister WXRK New York.

From the start, the '90s were an "in-your-face" era for broadcasters. Lawsuits were already common. "World famous" KROQ Los Angeles became infamous for airing a murder hoax that emboldened other broadcasters to see how far they could push the envelope without jeopardizing their licenses. Stations also tried to see how far they could push Arbitron; while the ratings service began flagging stations in 1990 that used diary language on the air, it took WWFE Miami's call for listeners to photocopy and mail them diaries for a station to actually get de-listed. In 1992, Arbitron would announce that its "Portable People Meter" was coming, but it would be decade's end before the end of the diary loomed as a reality.

TOP 40: CASUALTIES OF WAR

The big story at the beginning of 1990 was clearly the war between WFLZ (the Power Pig) Tampa, Fla., and heritage rival WRBQ (Q105). The ferocity of the battle (at the beginning of the year, WFLZ unveiled its "Screw the Q" T-shirt) spread throughout the country. And by April 1990, WRBQ stunned the industry by dropping its traditional adult-leaning approach for a young-end rhythmic format like that of its rival.

Leaning rhythmic would clearly be a mistake for Q105. And many programmers came to see it as a bad move for top 40 in general. "Top 40 was misled by a lot of things, including the fact that there was an audience for what, today, we call hip-hop radio stations," recalls consultant Dan Vallie. While time would bear out that there was clearly a demand for that music, Vallie says, it wasn't a good move for stations whose listeners were expecting a broader mix.

By 1990-91, top 40 was losing stations at a rapid clip, among them WRQX Washington, D.C.; WLOL Minneapolis; KZZP Phoenix; WBJW Orlando, Fla.; KKBQ (93Q) Houston, a key station in the format's early-'80s revival; and KHYI (Y95) Dallas. Many markets lost their only top 40. Those that lost a second top 40 often saw its listeners leave the format, rather than listen to the remaining top 40. And a few stations were yanked off the air altogether by creditors, a symptom of top 40's in became, essentially, hot ACs, citing an inability to sell younger demos. While the format's fans dismissed them as victims of "25-54-itis," both Vallie and Sinclair's Frank Bell cite those less-rhythmic stations like WKRZ Scranton, Pa., or WXLK Roanoke, Va., as the ones that were able to endure the format doldrums.

In 1993, Billboard reported that with top 40 declining, labels were being forced to build their stories elsewhere, a tactic that continued even after the format rebounded. But even in 1992, two key developments in the format's resurgence were already taking place. One was the debut of Gannett's soon-to-be-heavily-cloned KHKS (Kiss 106.1) Dallas. The other was WHTZ's move, at year-end, to a more MTV-like, young-end approach, including the addition of the sex-talk show "Lovephones."

The decade began with a spate of soft AC newcomers, most of them exiles from the rapidly imploding easy-listening format. While easy stalwart WPAT-FM was New York's No. 1 financial woes in those pre-duopoly days.

EASY GROWTH FOR AC

Infinity's Greg Strassell, a WLOL veteran, recalls being told that the station was sold. "All 30 people were out of a job in 90 days, and the only station that had the cash to buy it was Minnesota Public Radio. It was a sign of the times prior to radio becoming a healthy business. Public radio could have duopolies, but commercial broadcasters were in such bad shape that they couldn't afford to buy the station."

Critics claimed that rhythmic music was hurting top 40, but in the early '90s, there wasn't much else to play. When there was more than one or two legitimate uptempo pop hits at the same time (as there were in spring '91, when the format had "I Touch Myself," "Losing My Religion," "Joyride," and "Baby Baby"), it was a big deal. It was for that reason that some mainstream top 40s, such as WAVA Washington, D.C., and WHTZ (Z100) New York and rival WPLJ under Tom Cuddy and Scott Shannon (just arrived from KQLZ [Pirate Radio] Los Angeles following the disintegration of the rock 40 format), began highly publicized experiments with '80s titles. For WPLJ, those songs would work well enough to spur a move to adult top 40.

There were other early '80s experiments. KRBE Houston stopped talking over intros and offered "hits without the hype." In early 1991, WYTZ (Z95) Chicago became, for a week, Hell Radio, in an attempt to emulate WFI.Z's aggressive approach to the format. By the end of the year, it, too, had left top 40.

By 1992-93, the defectors included WEGX (Eagle 106) Philadelphia, KBEQ Kansas City, CFTR Toronto, and ABC's top 40 network. And while duopoly would eventually be credited with helping revive top 40, in the early '90s, it mostly allowed owners to move their top 40 station to a worse frequency. And often those stations (or the other class-A top 40s that sprung up in some markets to fill the gap) were also short-lived. The stations that hung station in fall 1989, that didn't stop others from adding vocals and going soft AC almost every week, among them KEZK St. Louis, WPCH Atlanta, WLYF Miami, WDOK Cleveland, and KODA Houston. By 1991, even the 35-Plus Committee, the trade lobby for upperdemo radio, was defunct.

Hot AC, a major presence in the mid-'80s, was less so by decade's end with only a few flagships like KFMB-FM (B100) San Diego, but several factors were conspiring in its favor. Besides the panic at mainstream top 40, there was the realization by many PDs that a new generation of 25-54 listeners had brought harder-edged tastes with them, as well as a demand for '70s and '80s gold that was missing from the radio.

Late in 1990, Guy Zapoleon would flip KNRJ Houston to adult top 40 as KHMX (Mix 96.5), although not without a monthlong stunt as a modern/top 40 hybrid that would turn out to be just as prescient down the line, while WYXR (Star 104.5) Philadelphia launched under Jack Taddeo and Gerry DeFrancesco.

Zapoleon saw the need for a harder AC station "when I realized I couldn't listen to another Lionel Richie or Gloria Es-tefan ballad that had no teeth. All my peer group were into Pat Benatar and music that had some bite." Taddeo recalls that most AC stations were playing "the hits of the '60s, '70s, and '80s; the words ' '90s' and 'today' weren't even in their vocabulary."

Less than a year later, WPLJ, after its short-lived Mojo Radio incarnation, segued to hot AC. WPLJ and KHMX would position themselves as "no rap"—in KHMX's case, "No kids, no rap, no crap": a shot at New Kids On The Block, whose prominence was starting to fade. Around the same time, Shannon's former WRBQ cohort Mason Dixon took a similar approach at WMTX (Mix 96) Tampa.

In early 1991, the Joint Communications team that helped develop KHMX would try the formula again at WROR Boston, but instead of '70s rock, there was '70s and '80s disco and R&B. The resulting station, WBMX (Mix 98.5), wasn't the first rhythmic AC. Gary Guthrie had tried the format in Milwaukee in the late '80s. There had been other late-'80s/early-'90s attempts at KKBT Los Angeles and WMXD Detroit, both of which opted for more conventional R&B formats, and WMXZ New Orleans under Smokey Rivers. But WBMX was the one that endured.

Joint would be involved in another significant launch in 1992 when hot AC WKQX (Q101) Chicago went "rock alternative." Q101 ended up leaving a bigger footprint in the modern rock arena, rather than providing a direct line to today's modern AC. But PDs were already realizing that some modern rock artists fit as well at AC as anywhere else. In 1990, Billboard reported that acts like Everything But The Girl, Michael Penn, and the Sundays were being worked to AC, sometimes even bypassing top 40.

ROCK ACTIVATES

In 1990, the gold-based adult rock station that had developed in response to classic rock was still the rule, but exceptions had popped up even by the late '80s. Some, like WWBZ Chicago and KBER Salt Lake City, had tight playlists but were harder than the rest. Others, like WIYY Baltimore, were noticeably more current. And some, like KNAC Los Angeles and ABC's Z-Rock Network, did both.

In 1990, they would be joined by several other format standard-bearers: WXTB (98 Rock) Tampa, which launched with an all-Led Zeppelin stunt; KUFO Portland, Ore.; and KIOZ San Diego, although this didn't stop KISS San Antonio—one of the stations that had never softened during the '80s—from switching, briefly, to oldies that year. In 1992, the new active rockers would be joined by WRZX Indianapolis and KRQC Kansas City.

KEGL Dallas PD Greg Stevens recalls KIOZ's change taking place "without much fanfare. I was doing the morning show, and at 7 a.m., we stopped playing the Doobie Brothers and started playing ... Lynch Mob and Metallica."

New triple-A stations were also signing on at the beginning of the decade, many of them begintless such as Cary Pall's ning as "rock AC" outlets, such as Cary Pall's WMMO Orlando, Fla., which was joined shortly thereafter by nearby WHPT Tampa.

Those who hoped that classic rock would wither and die, which included most album rock promotion execs, got some brief hope in 1991, when Denver, Pittsburgh, and Buffalo, N.Y., all lost classic rockers. But some of those stations would return to the format; the others would be replaced. Meanwhile, 1991 saw heritage rocker KGB startle the industry by deciding to protect the classic rock position, rather than fight KIOZ for the young end. In 1992, KGON Portland responded to KUFO by doing the same.

By the early '90s, rock radio's best-known morning host, Howard Stern, was a weekly presence in the trades. In 1992 alone, he announced a deal for the ill-fated "Fartman" movie, signed with E! Entertainment Television, and was sued by a Filipino group for stating that Filipinos ate their young. A Philadelphia man was charged with impersonating Stern producer Gary Dell'Abate "to bait area women into potentially dangerous liaisons. And by November, Stern was on his 10th affiliate, prompting PD (and station owner) Ed Levine to launch the "Sternbusters" consultancy. A few months later, The New York Post would claim that Jesse Helms had allowed the Infinity/Cook Inlet merger to go through on the condition that Stern not show up in mornings on WZGC (Z93) Atlanta, a story that circulates to this day whenever Z93 has a morning opening.

MODERN: HERE WE ARE NOW

Even before Nirvana, modern rock had already begun its transition from a format of entrepreneur owners to one endorsed by the big groups, thanks to Entercom's KITS San Francisco and Infinity's purchase of KROQ Los Angeles. But not every major owner was committed. Nationwide's KNRJ stunted for a month with modern before going hot AC, but despite positive listener reaction, Zapoleon took it for granted at the time that Nationwide would never try anything as out-there as modern rock.

CIMX (89X) Detroit and KNDD (the End) Seattle, two prominent 1991 launches, didn't have any such qualms. But many current powerhouses made stealth moves into the format, not declaring themselves modern outlets for some time afterward, among them WENZ Cleveland, WNNX (99X) Atlanta, and WKQX, where none existed," says Scott Shannon. "They continue to dazzle me," says WPLA Jacksonville, Fla., PD Rick Schmidt. "They do what stations are told to do: be effective in the three Ms—mornings, music, and marketing."

Los Angeles, an early hotbed of modern rock activity, remained so in the early '90s. It was at KROQ in 1992 that top 40 programmer Kevin Weatherly made his transition to modern rock PD. In 1991, KSRF (Mars 103.1) launched a short-lived but influential modern/dance hybrid that anticipated today's infusion of techno at modern rock radio.

Meanwhile, the hard-driving modern/album hybrid that KQLZ became after its "rock 40" days was, for many, the forerunner for today's active rock outlets. "The initial buzz was that something was happening, and we could see KROQ reacting quickly. I think we would have had a tough battle, but we never got that far," recalls former PD Greg Stevens. KQLZ went away in 1993, much to the relief of Gregg Steele, now of WZTA Miami but then at KNAC. But shortly after KQLZ's death, WRZX adapted a similar "rockternative" blueprint that it still uses today, in modified form. And at the end of '93, a similar format appeared in New York on WAXQ (Q104).

The year 1993 saw modern rock stations launching at a rapid clip, as well as Jacor's entry into the format with WAQZ Cincinnati. And with the format rocking harder, post-Nirvana/Pearl Jam/Stone Temple Pilots, some PDs were sensing that the format's late-'70s/early-'80s core artists wouldn't make the transition. In 1993, PD Sherman Cohen launched XHRM (the Flash) San Diego, with a lot of the Depeche Mode/Pet Shop Boys gold that was being phased out elsewhere. Cohen says that he and GM Chuck Howard were inspired by the adult demo strength of KROQ's flashback lunch.

COUNTRY: FRIENDS IN LOW PLACES, AND EVERYWHERE ELSE

By 1990, Randy Travis had been making hits for four years, and Garth Brooks had already exploded on to the scene. At that year's Country Radio Seminar, there were predictions that country might fragment, something the format's boosters had resisted for years. Already, there were attempts to do so. KQOL Salt Lake City had launched a country/oldies hybrid, soon to be followed by WTDR (Thunder Country) Charlotte, N.C.'s classic rock/country hybrid under Mark Tudor. At the other end, consultant Mike Chapman launched a country gold format on WBVE Cincinnati

Country gold wouldn't become a major player, although it would become a key issue again in 1994. As for the idea of a harder-rockin' country format, WTDR dropped the rock product quickly, but over the next few years, a new crop of superstars brought younger listeners to the format anyway. Second (or third) country stations sprung up to accommodate them. And in many cases, the incumbent country station became more currentbased in hopes of preventing those rivals from re-imaging them with such liners as "not your father's country station."

Some of the stations that became the template for the younger-skewing country station were already on the air by 1990, most notably KMLE Phoenix and KCYY (Y100) San Antonio. Others, like KWNR Las Vegas, launched shortly thereafter. Almost immediately, there was street warfare of the sort more commonly associated with top 40, including a squabble between WTDR and rival WSOC over artist endorsements in its TV spots.

The year 1990 also saw the launch of KFRG San Bernardino, Calif.—not the first "frog" station but the amphibian's major-market debut. Soon there were little tadpoles everywhere, with jocks named Roger Ribbit and James Pond. Sinclair's Frank Bell remembers researcher George Burns doing market interviews with a respondent who was "clearly inebriated. Burns asked where this station K-Frog came from, and this guy had a puzzled look and said, 'I don't know, man. It just kind of came out of nowhere. Suddenly there was this big frog face everywhere.' If we could reach this guy in that state, it showed how valuable the frog imagery was."

Although Froggy was often associated with the "hot new country" movement, KFRG was a little more gold-based than the norm. So, as it happened, were Alliance's Young Country stations, beginning with KYNG Dallas, which were, in many ways, full-service, foreground-personality AC stations that just happened to play country.

In the early '90s, country was 10 feet tall and bulletproof. "As long as you had the basic ingredients on the air, you were pretty much assured you were going to win. The format was that hot," recalls Bristol Broadcasting's Bill Hagy. "There was so much publicity about the formats and artists—and not just the superstars; the new people got lots of press. In the early '90s, you just couldn't get away from country."

By 1991-92, most markets had second country stations, and some, like Fresno, Calif.; Boston; and Syracuse, N.Y., were getting two within days of each other. In 1992, country overtook top 40 to become the third-most-listened-to format in the country, according to Billboard's national Arbitron numbers. Early that year, Billboard reported that teens, never a sought-after constituency for country PDs, were discovering the format anyway. A few months later, Billy Ray Cyrus' "Achy Breaky Heart" became the first major country-to-top 40 crossover in nine years, thanks to the line-dance craze.

Finally, in 1992-93, an even hotter wave of country stations began to show up, many of them as musically aggressive as any top 40. KKBQ (93Q) Houston, KBEQ (Q104) Kansas City, KTST (the Twister) Oklahoma City, and WYGY (Y96) Cincinnati were the most enduring, but relatively short-lived outlets WXRB (Rebel 104.7) Pittsburgh and WGGR Indianapolis were the most outrageous, sprinkling in the attitude liners that were previously unheard-of in country. WBOB (Bob 100) Minneapolis, which helped start a trend of "personalized" station handles that lasted through the decade, also provided some attitude, as did the Young Country outlets.

Not every country station went younger. But enough heritage outlets did that in 1993, Billboard reported that most country PDs were now cutting their libraries off at Randy Travis' late-'80s hits, with some going even more current than that. Journal Broadcast Group's Moon Mullins was hosting the syndicated "Nashville Live" in the early '90s, and as the format's old-guard artists were eliminated, he recalls going from guests who had 10-15 songs that could be played during the course of the show to those with only one or two. By 1994, some PDs would worry that older listeners were being disenfranchised, especially after the keynote at that year's CRS.

R&B: TO RAP OR NOT TO RAP

In 1990, Billboard reported some of the heritage R&B stations that had found themselves under attack from "churban" competitors in the late '80s in the late '80s were starting to recover. But that was before the debut of KBXX Houston, WERQ

'Prior to radio becoming a healthy business, public radio could have duopolies, but commercial broadcasters

couldn't afford to buy

[a] station'

—Greg Strassell

Baltimore, WIOQ Philadelphia, and others that began the battles anew. Even then, there were complaints that R&B stations weren't getting the same support from labels as their "pop" counterparts.

The R&B format went international in 1990 with the launch of London's Choice FM. And it showed up on a full-signal Los Angeles FM when KKBT (the Beat) debuted. While industryites were happy to see the Beat, they weren't so happy that the FM competition helped drive Jack Patter-son's KDAY, a key rap supporter, out of the format in 1991.

And while rap would eventually become the dominant flavor on local R&B radio, there was, initially, no real attempt by the city's existing R&B stations to fill the void.

That's because rap was under siege in the early '90s. No sooner did the controversy over the 2 Live Crew end when another one over Ice-T's "Cop Killer" began. (No matter that "Cop Killer," recorded by Body Count, which featured Ice-T, was actually a rock track.)

Ernie Jackson's previous combo in Memphis, but never to this extent. While listeners told Crumbley "it's about time," he also recalls that "everybody I knew—all the PDs—called me and said, 'This is not going to work'... But they all called back and said, 'You were right.'"

It was also in 1991 that WJPC-AM Chicago launched an all-rap format. And "Yo! MTV Raps" hosts Doctor Dre and Ed Lover first tried radio, joining WBLS New York for weekends

The years 1990-91 also saw heritage AMs, which were losing the adult R&B franchise to

MONITORING THE

FM, delve into R&B oldies for the first time. There was also a short-lived R&B oldies format on FM in Detroit. By 1993, R&B oldies would be significant enough that ABC launched its Urban Gold network, while Chicago had the format on both AM and FM. And even in the early '90s, R&B was becoming an increasingly dominant flavor in the "smooth jazz" format, which was starting to stray from its new age roots at most stations.

In 1992, the industry mourned "Quiet Storm" pioneer Melvin Lindsey. The adult R&B format that Lindsey's show had anticipated, and which had first been done successfully on FM at WVAZ (V103) Chicago in 1988, was continuing to spread, as WHQT (Hot 105) Miami segued from mainstream to adult R&B that year. While many saw WBLS starting to occupy that position in New York in the early '90s, it stunned the industry in the summer of '93 by tapping "churban" guru Jerry Clifton as its consultant and pounding not just hip-hop but the West Coast hip-hop that most New Yorkers disavowed. At the same time, dance rival WQHT (Hot 97) was segueing to R&B, bringing in consultant Harry Lyles, then, at year's end, PD Steve Smith.

OTHER KEY DEVELOPMENTS

• Spanish-language radio grew throughout the '90s, spurred by changing demographics and by the same conditions that helped R&B grow a decade earlier (i.e., more FMs and shorter, better-researched playlists). It was also driven by youth-oriented outlets being added to an FM dial dominated by Spanish AC. To those who'd watched the format, it was no surprise when KLAX Los Angeles' banda format shot to No. 1. But most of the industry was stunned, including Howard Stern, who insisted that it must have

• Even in the mid-'80s, some PDs were experimenting with the '70s gold that was so popular for Boston weekend institution Barry Scott but so reviled by the rest of the industry. But in the early '90s, it was Mike Phillips' loving re-creation of Bill Drake's '60s "Boss Radio" sound on KRTH Los Angeles that became the template for oldies stations nationwide. Finally, in 1993, KCBQ San Diego PD Rich "Brother" Robbin unveiled a '70s/'80s gold format that tapped into KCBQ's own legacy as a top 40 giant. Soon thereafter, Tommy Edwards launched the '70s-driven classic hits Arrow format on KCBS-FM Los Angeles, and the 70s rush was on. Arrow landed on CBS outlets in Dallas, Houston, and Washington, D.C., while Cox launched WCOF Tampa with a poppier version of the format.

• There had been attempts during the '80s to turn TV and music celebrities into DJs, ranging from Martin "Adam 12" Milner to Johnnie "Disco Lady" Taylor. By 1990, the next wave of celebrity DJs was already on-air at WXRK (Flo & Eddie, Joe Walsh), WEGX (Danny Bonaduce), WNCX Cleveland (Humble Pie's Jerry Shirley), and even WEGW Wheeling, W.Va., (Robert Parissi of Wild Cherry).

• Finally, the early '90s also saw the advent of monitored airplay at Billboard, beginning with the then controversial decision to switch the country chart to monitoring, followed by the addition of monitored airplay to The Billboard Hot 100 in 1991 (and the earlier addition of SoundScan sales data to The Billboard 200 album chart), and 1993's launch of Airplay Monitor.

Songs ranked by audience, computed by cross-referencing exact times of airplay with Arbitron listener data. Records showing an increase in audience over the previous week, regardless of chart movement. A record that has been on the chart for more than 20 weeks will not receive a bullet, even if it registers an increase in audience. If two records are tied in total audience, the record being played on more stations is placed first. Records become recurrents and are removed from this chart in conjunction with the Mainstream Top 40 Airplay chart.

Monitor POWER PLAYES

FOR WEEK ENDING NOVEMBER 28, 1999

Songs ranked by number of detections. Play I als are listed in order of TSA weekly cume, beginning with the highest-cuming station. Cumes are updated twice yearly following the release of the spring and fall Arbitron surveys. The number of stations shown each week varies depending upon space.

First (aprections (FI) denotes songs with 6 or more detections at station for first time this week.

Songs ranked by audience, computed by cross-referencing exact times of airplay with Arbitron listener data. Records showing an increase in audience over the previous week, regardless of chart movement. A record that has been on the chart for more than 20 weeks will not receive a bullet, even if it registers an increase in audience. If two records are tied in total audience, the record being played on more stations is placed first. Records become recurrents and are removed from this chart in conjunction with the Rhythmic Top 40 Airplay chart.

Songs ranked by number of detections. Records showing an increase in detections over the previous week, regardless of chart movement. A record that has been on the chart for more than 20 weeks will not receive a bullet, even if it registers an increase in detections. Airpower awarded to songs appearing in the top 20 on both the Airplay and Audience charts for the first time with increases in both detections and audience. Greatest Gainer awarded to the record with the largest increase in detections. Most New Stations awarded to the record registering six or more detections at the most stations for the first time this week. If two records are tied in number of detections, the record being played on more stations is placed first. Records

Songs ranked by audience, computed by cross-referencing exact times of airplay with Arbitron listener data. Records showing an increase in audience over the previous week, regardless of chart movement. A record that has been on the chart for more than 20 weeks will not receive a bullet, even if it registers an increase in audience. If two records are tied in total audience, the record being played on more stations is placed first. Records become recurrents and are removed from this chart in conjunction with the Crossover Airplay chart

Songs ranked by number of detections. Records showing an increase in detections over the previous week, regardless of chart movement. A record that has been on the chart for more than 20 weeks will not receive a bullet, even if it registers an increase in detections. Airpower awarded to songs appearing in the top 20 on both the Airplay and Audience charts for the first time with increases in both detections and audience. Greatest Gainer awarded to the record with the largest increase in detections. Most New Stations awarded to the record registering six or more detections at the most stations for the first time this week. If two records are tied in number of detections, the record being played on more stations is placed first. Records below the top 20 become recurrents and are removed from the chart after 26 weeks.

ADDIT TOD AN AUDICHPE

Songs ranked by audience, computed by cross-referencing exact times of airplay with Arbitron listener data. Records showing an increase in audience over the previous week, regardless of chart movement. A record that has been on the chart for more than 20 weeks will not receive a bullet, even if it registers an increase in audience. If two records are tied in total audience, the record being played on more stations is placed first. Records become recurrents and are removed from this chart in conjunction with the Adult Top 40 Airplay chart.

Songs ranked by number of detections. Records showing an increase in detections over the previous week, rigardless of chart movement. A record that has been on the chart for more than 20 weeks will not receive a bullet, even if it registers an increase in detections. Airpower awarded to songs appearing in the top 20 on both the Airplay and Audience charts for the first time with increases in both detections and audience. Greatest Gainer awarded to the record with the largest increase in detections. Most New Stations awarded to the record registering six or more detections at the most stations for the first time this week. If two records are tied in number of detections, the record being played on more stations is placed first. Records below the top 20 become recurrents and are removed from the chart after 26 weeks.

Songs ranked by number of audience, computed by cross-referencing exact times of airplay with Arbitron listener data.
Records showing an increase in audience over the previous week, regardless of chart movement. A record that has been on the chart for more than 20 weeks will not receive a bullet, even if it registers an increase in audience. If two records are tied in total audience, the record being played on more stations is placed first. Records become recurrents and are removed from this data in conjunction with the Modern AC Airplay chart.

The chart, reprinted from Rock Airplay Monitor, is compiled from a national sample of data compiled by Broadcast Data Systems. 66 modern rock stations are electronically monitored 24 hours a day, seven days a week. Songs ranked by number of detections. © Records showing an increase in detections over the previous week, regardless of chart movement. A record that has been on the chart for more than 20 weeks will not receive a bullet, even if it registers an increase in detections. Airpower awarded to songs appearing in the top 20 on both the Airplay and Audience charts for the first time with increases in both detections and audience. Greatest Gainer awarded to the record with the largest increase in detections. Most New Stations awarded to the record registering six or more detections at the most stations for the first time this week. If two records are tied in number of detections, the record being played on more stations is placed first. Records below the top 20 become recurrents and are removed from the chart after 26 weeks. ©1999 Billboard/BPI Communications

Compiled from a national sample of data supplied by Broadcast Data Systems. 110 mainstream top 40, 34 rhythmic top 40, 77 adult top 40 and 61 crossover stations are electronically monitored 24 hours a day, 7 days a week. Songs ranked by number of detections. Records showing an increase in detections over the previous week regardless of chart movement. A record that has been on a chart for more than 20 weeks will not receive a bullet, even if if registers an increase in detections. Airpower awarded to songs appearing in the top 20 on both the Airplay and Audience charts for the first time with increases in both detections and audience. Grivatest Gainer awarded to the record with the largest increase in detections. Most New Stations awarded to the record registering six or more detections at the most stations for the first time this week. If two records are tied in number of detections, the record being played on more stations is placed first. 1999 Billboard.BPI Communications.
