How Radio Vets Found Their Web Jobs (And You Can, Too)

by Sean Ross

Contemplating a move to the Internet? Tonos CEO Matt Farber is waiting to hear from you. Farb, a radio veteran whose career took him to MTV, then to the Internet last year, is seeking a "senior-level person from radio for a top job right now [at the] music insider's network' Web site that launches April 15 under industry heavyweights Kenny "Babyface" Edmonds, David Foster, and Carole Bayer Sager. "Any programming people that have major-market experiences across genres should E-mail their résumé to scott@ tonos.com," he says.

So that's one job. For everybody else seeking a place in cyberspace, finding an opportunity may not be as easy. But conventional broadcasters who've already made the move say that despite the large number of folks contemplating a similar strategy, there are still lots of places to look. And even if you're not the person in your office who designs your biends' Web sites, they say, your current skills are more than relevant.

For the most part, the Internet radio offered by major portals has more resen bled the do a vouself stations of-fered by Web Lobbysts than radio as most Monitor readers know it. But the pret year has seen a steady migration of folks from conventional radio to Internet radio or other Web ventures and, with it, n ore programming sophistication, although most advocates point out that Web radio's true potential is barely tapped.

Here are just a few of the broadcasters now involved in the Web:

- · Veteran PD/GM Gregg Lindahl, now president/COO of mp3radio.com.
- Pilot Communications owner Jim Leven, who is in the process of launching top 40 Web channel hitmusic.com.
- Former station owner Lee Zapis, whose Everstream produces Web ra-Continued on page 8

Net Study: Online Listening Is Flat

Although the number of radio stations streaming audio continues to grow, monthly and weekly listening to Webcasts is flat. The latest Arbitron/Edison Media Research Internet study shows 10% of respondents listened to a station online in January, the same level as July 1999. It also found 4% listened in the previous week, also a static number compared with six months earlier.

Frustration may be hurting the growth of online listening, the study showed. More than a quarter of Web users say negotiating through download players makes listening difficult.

Radio is also having a difficult time converting listeners into Web site viewers. Although Internet usage continues to grow rapidly, only 6% of those surveyed had visited a radio site in the previous week. That is, however, double the rate it was six months earlier. The growth rate for monthly usage was not as dramatic. While 11% of survey respondents said they had been to a station site in July 1999, that figure had grown to 14% in January.

The study also shows Internet-only stations are as popular as streamed broadcast outlets. Of the 34% of Internet users who have listened to streamed audio, 22% had listened to Internet-only audio, while 21% had listened to a traditional radio station's streamed programming. When asked which they listened to more, 56% said they spent more time with Internet-only stations, while 33% opted for streamed radio stations.

The study also finds that radio is the top companion to Web usage: surfers are more likely to listen to the radio than listen to CDs, talk on the telephone, or watch TV.

Despite dramatic growth of Internet usage among African-Americans and Hispanics, both groups are still less likely to be online than whites, according to the study.

Party Over Here, Party Over There

In the latest example of Internet brand extension, top 40 WQZQ (the Party) Nashville is hoping to take its party on the road. Cromwell Group president Bud Walters says the company has registered domain names for cities around the world to create city-specific online Party Radio-branded stations. Cities targeted include New York, Chicago, Los Angeles, Paris, London, Tokyo, Paris, and Milan. "We're thinking ahead," says Walters. '[But] we haven't put it all together yet; there's still a lot of things that need to be worked out." Walters says that by starting its own sites, the Cromwell Group will avoid handing its programming over to companies like Broadcast.com or AOL. "We're all trying to find the best way to capitalize on the opportunities of the Internet and at the same time possess our offerings, which is our audience." No specific timetable for a launch has been determined.

Meanwhile, WQZQ's Becki Bonner joins WKSS Hartford, Conn., as promotion director, replacing Larry Hyrb.

MANAGEMENT: MORE AMFM, CC CHANGE

Following last week's resignation of AMFM vice chairman Jim deCastro, further changes can be expected on both sides of the Clear Channel/AMFM merger. The first change is Carolyn Gilbert is upped to executive VP/GM for Clear Channel's Critical Mass Media, replacing president John Martin, now president of Clear Channel's Web site services group.

Broadcast Architecture VP of music strategy

Broadcast Architecture VP of music strategy and implementation Kevin Cassidy is upped to VP of strategic research. He will oversee the scheduling, execution, and analysis of perceptual studies and music testing for the AMFM subsidiary. Cassidy is a former jock at KUBE Seattle.

PROGRAMMING

Adult top 40 WQAL Cleveland PD Mary Ellen Kachinske exits to join similarly formatted WTMX (the Mix) Chicago as APD, replacing Jaime Kartak, now Webmaster for Bonneville's Chicago cluster.

AC WLYT (Lite 102.9) Charlotte, N.C., PD Mike Berlak is named OM for the cluster, which includes country WKKT and classic rock WRFX. He remains PD of WLYT. Berlak needs T&Rs for middays on WLYT, replacing John Miles.

KYLD San Francisco PD Michael Martin,

KYLD San Francisco PD Michael Martin, who already works with top 40 sister KGGI Riverside, Calif.. adds consultant duties for R&B KKBT Los Angeles.

R&B oldies WZMX (Z93.7) Hartford, Conn., PD/morning host Jon Robbins is named OM for Clear Channel's Charleston, S.C., cluster, including country WEZL, adult top 40 WALC, and classic rock WRFO.

Top 40 WZEE (Z104) Madison, Wis., PD Rich Davis adds PD duties at AC WMLI, replacing Tom Cook, who exits radio.

WBLI Long Island, N.Y., PD J.J. Rice adds temporary oversight of album WBAB to his new duties for parent Cox.

Top 40 WZBZ (B105.5, the Buzz) Atlantic City, N.J., has begun simulcasting on jazz sister WSAX, which had been simulcasting jazz WJSX.

GREASEMAN'S BACK, FOR NOW

Former classic rock WARW Washington, D.C., morning host Doug "The Greaseman" Tracht returns to radio, for a week at least. Tracht will host mornings at adult top 40 KCDA (Mix 103.1) Spokane, Wash., the week of March 20-25, while regular host George McFly is on vacation. Tracht was fired from WARW on Feb. 25, 1999, after comments about a racially motivated murder in Jasper, Texas. Last fall, Tracht settled a contract dispute with CBS/Infinity.

PEOPLE: SHANE TO RECORD SIDE

After four years at WKTU New York, APD/MD Andy Shane exits for A&R duties at a record label to be determined. In other unrelated WKTU changes, promotion director Clara Malafarina exits. And with the arrival, reported last week, of Ralphie Marino for mornings from WJMN Boston, morning co-host Freddie Colon exits.

As widely expected, former WDJX Louisville, Ky., p.m. driver Chris Randolph resurfaces in afternoons at crosstown adult top 40 WZTR (Star 98.9). With PD Rick O'Shea co-hosting mornings and WKFS Cincinnati's Randi West voice-tracking middays, that leaves openings for a night host and a morning co-host.

WKQI (Q95.5) Detroit PD Tim Richards is quickly filling out his air-staff dance card. He teams fellow KRQQ Tucson, Ariz., emigre Mojo in mornings with Spike and Sara, formerly with the WXDG (the Edge) across the street. In middays is Nikki, previously MD/middays at WWDX Lansing, Mich.

KFMB-FM (Star 100.7) San Diego marketing/ promotion director Kim Leeds is now doing the same for N/T KFMB-AM as well.

Last week, KBKS (Kiss 106) Seattle morning team Chris and Dana exited. This week, PD Mike Preston is also looking for a new afternoon host, as APD L.A. Reid exits for WIOQ (Q102) Philadelphia's afternoon slot.

WJYY Manchester, N.H., morning host Kevin Hilley moves to modern AC WCPT (the Point) Albany, N.Y., for mornings, as PD J. Davis takes himself off the air.

At the last moment, former KZQZ (7.95.7) San Francisco MD/nights Lara bowed out of a morning opening at rhythmic top 40 KXJM (Jammin' 95.5) Portland, Ore. For now, she's doing P/T at KYSR (Star 98.7) Los Angeles.

'N Sync Waves 'Bye Bye Bye' To Backstreet

HELLO, HELLO: Mainstream top 40 has a new No. 1, as 'N Sync's "Bye Bye Bye" (Jive) moves to the top of the chart, the group's first song to do so. "Bye Bye Bye" achieved Airpower honors in our Jan. 28 issue, indicating its potential for No. 1 status. Due to the volume of stations that played the song out of the box, there was no Airplay Leader for "Bye Bye Bye," which went into the top 20 of both the mainstream airplay and audience chart before any one station could spin it 150 or more times.

Meanwhile, there is a battle of Jive's boy bands brewing, as last week's No. 1 mainstream title, the Backstreet Boys' "Show Me The Meaning Of Being Lonely," shows no sign of slowing down, gaining in both audience and detections even as it is pushed back to No. 2. Because the title is posting gains in detections, it retains its bullet. It's also up 12-5 at AC with a 37% increase in detections.

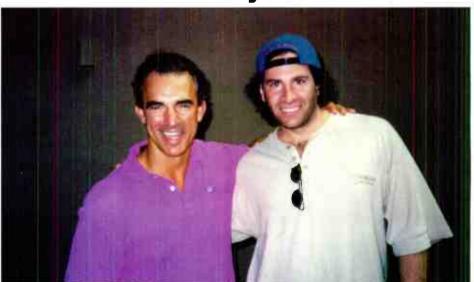

Santana's "Maria Maria" (Arista) achieves Airpower status at mainstream top 40 this week, moving into the top 20 of both the airplay and audience charts, as it continues to gain in both spins and detections. The song achieved Airpower status at rhythmic top 40 in Monitor's Nov. 12, 1999, issue. In previous weeks, "Maria Maria" had been losing in rhythmic detections, but this week it seems to get a boost from the multi-format airplay (including some new acceptance at R&B), showing increases in both airplay and audience.

PANEL CHANGES: With Broadcast Data Systems now on line in the Monmouth/Ocean Counties, N.J., market, that market's WBBO and WAYV Atlantic City, N.J., are added to the mainstream top 40 panel, while WJLK joins the adult top 40 panel. In other changes, WPYO Orlando. Fla., is added to rhythmic top 40, and KBIG Los Angeles moves from the AC to the adult top 40 reporting panel. There are now 115 mainstream top 40, 39 rhythmic top 40, 85 adult top 40, and 73 AC reporters.

PERSONNEL FILE: Jeff McClusky and Associates ups director of rhythm/crossover Sean Lynch to VP of rhythm/crossover promotion and adds former Restless VP of promotion Jeff Davis as director of rock promotion. Thomas Westfall segues from Chicago to Los Angeles as director of alternative promotion.

Virgin ups New York promo rep Jason McFadden to national promotion director . . . TVT names former Almo Sounds rep Jocelyn Taub as its Eastern regional . . . Former Island/Def Jam Washington, D.C., local Katy Farrell joins Restless Records for Florida duties.

Who Wants To Marry An OM?

Before the scandal involving "multimillionaire" Rick Rockwell and the cancellation of his Fox network show, WTJM (Jammin' 105) New York morning man and "Who Wants To Marry A Multi-Millionaire?" host Jay Thomas visits with Kid Kelly, host of "Backtrax USA" and OM of sister station WHTZ (Z100) New York, in happier times.

KBTE (the Beat) Corpus Christi, Texas, night jock Bobby Corona adds MD stripes.

Adult top 40 WTPN (98.9 the Point) Portland. Maine, production direction/swing jock John Olore adds p.m. drive duties. P/T Jeannie Smith takes nights. PD Neil Sullivan still seeks a full-time jock promotion assistant, as well as record service.

KIOI (K101) San Francisco morning co-host Darla Jaye exits.

WBFA (B101) Columbus, Ga., APD/promotion director middayer Robert Thomas joins sister AC WGSY (Sunny 100) for APD/promotion director/afternoon drive. WBFA night jock Wes Carroll is upped to afternoons, and PD Sam Diamond is collecting T&Rs for nights.

KMXB (Mix 94.5) Las Vegas night host Nikki crosses the street to do the same at new top 40 KFMS (Kiss 102).

AC WIJT Chicago P/T Gene Davis Christianson joins country WSM-AM-FM Nashville for production and imaging duties.

Colleen Kelly from oldies WQQL Springfield,

Ill., transfers to the morning co-host job at adult top 40 KSTZ Des Moines, Iowa. In addition, Brian White exits album rock KTNP Omaha, Neb., for the production director slot at Saga's Des Moines outlets, including KSTZ.

WWHT (Hot 107.9) Syracuse, N.Y., adds two P/T staffers: Eric "J.R." Spears from WBHT (Hot 97) Wilkes-Barre, Pa., and WMRV Binghamton, N.Y., night host J.J. McKay. CKIK (Power 107) Calgary, Alberta, taps

Johnny Staub from CJIB Vernon, B.C., for P/T. Well, it didn't generate quite as much publicity as the station's feud with Rosie O'Donnell, but KRSK (Rosie 105) Portland, Ore., morning host Terry Boyd still managed to get himself and a Rosie 105 banner on the "Today" show last week. Boyd had attempted to meet with O'Donnell on his trip but for some reason didn't Congrats to adult standards WGAY Washington, D.C., morning man Eddie Gallaher, who celebrates his 85th birthday Feb. 26.

AN OVERVIEW OF RADIO PROMOTIONS • BY JEFF SILBERMAN

323-525-2303 · jsilberman@airplaymonitor.com

When A Professional Life Gets Personal

With Valentine's Day a fresh memory, we asked Promogandists about (ahem) personal relationships at work, be it with fellow employees, listeners, or others in related industries. Response was evenly divided between those who have had problems with this in the past (that have since been corrected) and those who don't consider this to be a problem at all. Policywise, 70% said such relationships are OK as long as there's no dating at the station or at station events. The remainder even allow staffers to bring dates to station events, as long as it doesn't interrupt their duties.

Therein lies the rub, so to speak: "In coworker dating, silence is the best," says a country panelist, who, like everyone else, didn't want to be identified when discussing this, er, touchy issue. "Co-workers dating need to act professional and keep their romance hush-hush, as it often becomes a problem when co-workers act like boyfriend/ girlfriend," says a country panelist. "I have a part-timer who is dating another part-time jock, and [they] often work station events together. It becomes a real problem when the two cannot act professional. Sometimes I feel like I'm interrupting their date when we are on-site at events.

Apparently, this problem is more prevalent among interns, so a modern AC station has instituted official rules of conduct. "We created it for both their protection and the station's, [and it] is read aloud at intern orientation each semester and signed," says the promo ace. "But it depends on the situation and the level of maturity involved. While we don't seek to control anybody's life when they're 'off the clock,' I have taken an intern aside and spoken privately about inappropriate behavior. Usually I'll stress that they should treat an internship like a four-month interview. They have an opportunity to make a lasting impression on the right people, and you want it to be positive."

In fact, 63% of the panelists have had their own personal affairs with fellow employees to widely varied results.

On the one hand: "Where else can you meet someone who understands what you do and the hours you work?" asks one panelist. "We have quite a few married couples and people who are dating here. I've been in a relationship with someone at my station for three years. It's most important that you always, always behave professionally at all times. The last thing you want is some-one saying you are giving that person special treatment or the opposite."

"I found my wife while working a station event," says a panelist. "As long as you are professional while at work, there is no reason you can't talk to people afterward.'

"There is a line to draw here," says a panelist. "If you're in [a relationship] and don't feel it [affects] your life professionally, even if you are in the same business, I say, 'So be it. It is nobody's business but your own.' Radio and media are so immediate that everyone knows everything anyway, so why run and "You have to separate business from your personal life," adds a panelist. "When my boyfriend worked for a concert promoter, I didn't promote concerts that weren't right for my station. Business is business.

Try to keep [dating] to people who don't directly work with you," says another ace. 'Someone at a sister station is usually OK. Just remember, if all hell breaks loose, you'll still have to face that person every day.

Tommy Austin Keeps Z100 Market King Despite Deep-Pocket Competition

It was a heritage station's trial by fire. Mainstream top 40 KKRZ (Z100) Portland, Ore., was the undisputed market leader, not only in 12plus but in 18-24 and 25-54. Then along came KXJM (Jammin' 95.5), owned by billionaire Paul Allen. Not surprisingly, the R&B-skewed rhythmic station filled a gaping format hole and had an immediate impact, debuting with a 5.9 share last spring.

Less predictably, KKRZ has maintained its all-demo appeal and, with its 6.7-7.0 fall Arbitron showing, held the market crown. (KXJM was off slightly, 5.9-5.7.) "There's certainly an appetite for [rhythmic] music in this market, but they certainly underestimated our relevance with the 18-24 demo," PD Tommy Austin says. "A lot of rhythmic stations come into markets [with] dominant mainstream top 40s and think that they can automatically take the younger end. But just because Z100 is a heritage top 40 with an extremely strong 25-34s [appeal] doesn't mean we're going to forget about 18-

Tommy Austin

Austin allows that if he had to choose which base to protect from an insurgent new station, it would be the adults. To a point. "Certainly we know where the money is, and we're performing in 25-plus like we've never done in the history of the station. We achieve that by being true to the mainstream top 40 format of playing all the hits. We feel we can compete in 25-34 and compete with anyone 18-24 over the long term."

Nevertheless, Austin did counsel his staff when Jammin' first dented Z100's near-10-share dominance. "Certainly, we had staff meetings to talk about various scenarios," he says. "But the staff here is pretty confident. They're smart enough to know that there's a new game in town. There's some novelty with [their newness], which ain't over yet. There's still a lot of honeymoon left in that station, and they'll be a player."

Yet Austin also points out that Jammin's emergence didn't take him by surprise. "When Ken Benson was PD and I was APD, we strategized many times on [what_we] would do against new competition," he says. "Basically, it's not as much a record-to-record battle, because we want to make sure we always play the biggest hits of all the formats. Luckily, we own lots of genres, because we play a broad base of hits."

He disputes the commonly held notion that all mainstream top 40 outlets should do is wait for the niche stations to warm up their biggest hits for them. "There's a specific window of opportunity when you have to get on records when being attacked," Austin explains. "Even though Z100 has always had a rhythmic lean for a mainstream station, and we continue to lean in that direction, we still can't let KXJM warm records up with 800-900 plays. We have to play them in nights and throw them in call-out quickly. We can't let them own anything.

"If we [add those records] too quickly," he adds, "we essentially warm those records for them. If we wait too long, they'll own [those records] to the point where we're the copycat. It's a fine line, where you use your gut to know exactly when to get on each record."

Here's a sample hour on KKRZ: Backstreet

Here's a sample hour on KKRZ: Backstreet Boys, "Show Me The Meaning Of Being Lonely"; Prince, "Kiss"; Blink-182, "All The Small Things": Mariah Carey Featuring Jay-Z. "Heartbreaker"; Christina Aguilera, "What A Girl Wants"; Everlast, "What It's Like"; Of Dirty Bastard, "Got Your Money"; Shaggy Featuring Janet Jackson, "Luv Me, Luv Me": Lonestar, "Amazed": IMx, "Stay The Night"; 98, "Because Of You"; and Santana Featuring Rob Thomas, "Smooth."

Naturally, call-out plays an important part in Austin and MD Woody Harrison's music decisions, but it is far from an end-all. "Research is very import, but on records for the low end, you have to get a gut feel to open up a record outside of nights," says Austin.

"To be sure," he continues. "I wouldn't play

"To be sure," he continues. "I wouldn't play something that's not calling out, but sometimes you have to take shots on records. We've put records on because our guts told us they'll be hits. Montell Jordan's 'Get It On Tonite' and Ol' Dirty Bastard's 'Got Your Money' have proved to be huge testers after we played them, as was Destiny's Child's 'Say My Name.' These kind of records are monsters for both stations."

Unlike other high-profile Clear Channel stations, at Z100 air staffers haven't delved headlong into voice-tracking. "The only one who does it at this point is overnight personality D.K. Erickson," Austin says. "He's got it down to a science. He voice-tracks four stations, including Z. He comes in at 3 in the afternoon and is out by 10 or 11 p.m. He'll screen calls for the afternoon jock, and they'll share the good ones. A lot of entertaining calls are so generic that they'll work for stations up and down the 1-15 corridor in Oregon and Washington."

The biggest potential obstacle for Z100 could be the hottest ticket in town, namely Portland Trailblazer basketball, which, coincidentally, is owned by Allen. Guess who gets prime access? Austin is nonplussed. "Basically, when we go on the air with anything, we go on the air to own it." he says. "I don't think we'll have any problems with owning the Blazers, because it's all theater of the mind. They can give away 30 pairs of tickets per hour, yet we can make it sound bigger with just two tickets, just because we can. And there won't be any problem in getting access to players. The 'Blazer organization realizes they'd be shooting themselves in the foot if they ignored the largest-cuming station in the market."

While Jammin' emphasizes street marketing and promotion, as belits its profile, Z100 focuses on more mass-appeal marketing vehicles. "TV has been pretty effective," Austin says. "We've been primarily selling the morning show, but with new competition in the market musically, we've contemplated position ads. I honestly feel the radio station is positioning itself pretty well as the hit music station in town, where people expect to hear all the hits, whether they be from Jay-Z or Blink-182."

Austin's emphasizes that "outside of the music, we pretty much do our own thing. We spend 97% of our time looking forward. So while we certainly look at them, the minute you worry about your rival too much is the minute you get bit in the ass."

In fact, Z100's future competition may not come from an in-market rival but from, or through, high technology. "When they get bandwidth to a level where people can listen to music on the Internet without getting a headache, that could become a home issue." Austin says. "But as far as in-car listening, they still have to figure out how to get Web access in cars, which is where satellite radio may become a player."

Radio Rejects AOL Offer At RAB Meet

Saying radio will no longer hand its content over to Internet providers for free, many broadcasters are rejecting a new effort by America Online to team with radio. Launching its "Radio Partner" effort to a crowd of GMs and radio salespeople gathered in Denver for the Radio Advertising Bureau's annual conference, AOL asked radio to offer its audio. "You'll be able to drive traffic to your Web site," said Charles Warner, AOL VP of interactive marketing. "It's a partnership, not an exchange of dollars." Few details of the program were revealed, but broadcasters by and large rejected it, with a clear majority of the more than 2,500 attendees walking out on Warner.

"We reach 260 million people a week; it seems the challenge is for our inclustry to get the economic benefits," challenged Emmis CEO Jeff Smulyan, who is among the broadcasters still stinging from deals cut with Broadcast.com, which later merged into Yahoo!. "We gave our content to Broadcast.com, and they got $5 billion out of it. What do we get out of a partnership with you? Does the economic benefit go to us or you?" scolded Smulyan, who is spearheading a radio-industry initiative to launch its own Internet service provider, similar to Broadcast.com.

RAB president/CEO Gary Fries admitted the industry "almost stayed too long just in the radio business" and urged stations to convert their sales forces into multimedia marketing teams. "Any station that doesn't unite Internet relationships into its programming would be foolish," he said.

The mood at the Denver show was markedly different than in previous years, when consolidation job stress overshadowed conversation. Fueled by RAB's release of figures showing the industry took in a record $17.7 billion in ad revenues last year, many are once again focused on making money. "The picture is starting to come together," said one AE.

CAPITOL: NAB GOES TO THE HILL

Radio broadcasters asked Congress to block the FCC's decision to license hundreds of lowpower FM stations. "The FCC has rushed to judgment by substituting social engineering for rational, prudent policymaking by adopting a service that lacks any benefit that outweighs the substantial costs that will be produced." NAB president/GEO Eddie Fritts told the the House Telecommunications Subcommittee at a Feb. 17 hearing. The hearing was held on a bill sponsored by Rep. Michael Oxley, R-Ohio, that would reverse the FCC decision; its co-sponsor list has grown to 113, and Sen. Judd Gregg. R-N.H., has filed a similar bill in the Senate.

FCC Chairman Bill Kennard, who declined to appear, instead sent Bruce Franca, a deputy chief in the agency's Office of Engineering and Technology, who told the subcommittee that the FCC had taken "a conservative approach," in an effort to ensure that low-power stations will not cause interference. Franca also presented internal FCC engineering studies aimed at refuting NAB documents detailing signal charen. "We are convinced that LPFM service will not adversely impact reception of full-service FM stations, nor will it affect that fransition of these stations to digital service."

Meanwhile, the NAB has also won over the support of House Speaker Dennis Hastert, R-Ill., who lashed out at LPFM during a speech before radio execs earlier this month. His support may ensure that the bill will work its way through the House without wallowing in committee. No matter what happens in Congress, the courts may have the ultimate decision. The NAB has formally filed an appeal of the LPFM ruling with the U.S. Court of Appeals

CAPITAL: NOT ACCUMULATED

In an unusual move, Citadel announced it is not merging with Camulus Media. The statement was in response to repeated stories in another trade claiming the two companies are in merger talks. Citadel says that those reports "are unrounded and without basis and that Citadel has no present intention to undertake any such discussions."

Liberty Media, which in Oct. 25 bought a 14% share of Emmis Communications, is expanding its radio holdings. The investment firm is buying a 20% stake in Corus Entertainment, owner of 14 Canadian stations.

NEW MEDIA: SIRIUS/XM PLAY NICE

Facing an eventual FCC-mandated marriage of technology, Sirius Satellite Radio and XM Satellite Radio have agreed to develop a unified standard for satellite radios to enable consumers to buy one radio capable of receiving either company's broadcasts. As part of the agreement, each company will turn over all its existing designs and a lawsuit filed by Sirius against XM has been settled.

Separately, Lehman Brothers analyst Robert Peck predicts XM's share price will hit $60 by the end of 2000, roughly double where it sits now. "We project that the digital audio radio service will grow to over 30 million subscribers by 2007," says Peck, adding that XM "should split this FCC-licensed duopoly market and prosper from its advantages over traditional radio." XM's stock hit new highs on the recommendation and the XM/Sirius aumouncement.

dio formats for daily newspaper Web sites.

 Network radio veteran Corrine Baldassano, now with music/Internet radio portal Sounds

• Sinton/Bames partner Tom Barnes, whose new Mediathink offers both traditional radio programming and Internet strategy.
• KROQ Los Angeles and VHI/MTV veteran

Darcy Fulmer, now director of music program-ming for Sonic-Net's rapidly expanding fleet of Internet stations.

Ian Harrison, former PD of WEQX Albany, N.Y., who's now PD of online station VHI at Work, where former WEQX staffer Maria Chambers is doing afternoons

 Paul Bendat, former owner/PD of WABY/ WKLI Albany, N.Y., who, after selling his stations, first relaunched WKLI as an Internet-only venture and is now partnering with erotica site nerve. com for two radio channels.

HOW THEY GOT THERE

Not everybody who has made a radio-to-Internet transition was looking to do so. Lindahl was happily running Cox's Eagle Research when he got a call from the president of Cox Enterprises about its new joint venture. "Was I intrigued by the Internet as a user? Absolutely, But I would not have classified myself as an expert in any way, shape, or form.'

But Zapis says he "always had a fascination with new technology and the application of technology to business problems." Zapis, Bendat, and Leven-who also had a connection to new technology as one of the pioneers of Virtual Radio-all set out for the Internet when, as Leven puts it, consolidation made radio "a business I wasn't going to be able to be in." And Barnes became fascinated with the Web in 1995 and was quickly involved in business development projects for Internet-related companies, in addition to his radio work.

WHAT YOU HAVE TO OFFER

But even if you weren't there-in 1995, you still have a lot to offer on the Internet. "That's one of the true, honest-to-God secrets about the Web," says Barnes. "No matter how [nontechnical] you are, you have a lot more value online than you believe you do.

"The skill sets are highly complementary, par-ticularly if you look at what a PD is supposed to do, which is really to facilitate and define the customer's experience," Barnes adds. "So many Internet companies struggle with creating an experience that's engaging, or 'sticky.' Well, that's what PDs have done forever—we've been all about fighting button punching."

The broadcast model of niche marketing and knowing how to reach listeners is attractive to Internet companies," says Baldassano. She also notes that "most of the other companies that are doing broadcast...have people from the music business or cable. They don't have a lot of radio people on staff who have been programmers." That, she adds, gives PDs an advantage, albeit a lessening one as more radio people make the move.

'Radio-programming skills are some of the most important and transferable skills to other mediums," says Farber. "You're audience-focused. You're building brands, whether it's 99X or Z100. And at radio, you come into contact with labels, concert promoters, publishing companies, and all different facets of the record industry. You get a sense of how the industry functions.

You need expertise at a company in every discipline. You need marketing and sales skills, which most of these companies don't have, and all the other administrative skills that owning a radio company teaches you," says Zapis. "I was lacking in the technology, but fortunately the founder of that company has that covered.

People say, 'I don't know HTML and CGL,' and you don't really need to. You need to know how people think and feel," says Barnes.

THE LEARNING CURVE

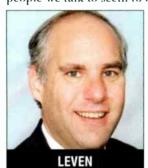

Which doesn't mean that understanding the technology isn't at all important. Fulmer says that even an Internet radio programmer "has to know certain technological issues" that influence your programming decisions. "You can't operate in a vacuum in this world. When you do this, you're involved in everything."

It's also helpful, Lindahl says, if you're "comfortable with ambiguity, and if you like an environment where you wake up in the morning thinking you're going to do one thing but end up doing another and where you can be comfortable with the notion that you get instantaneous feedback about what you're doing."

A little programming flexibility helps, too. Many of the folks we interviewed compare Internet radio to the early days of FM, and that analogy applies not only to technology but programming. Barnes foresees heavily interactive channels that segue from Metallica to opera, depending on who's logged on at the moment. In fact, VIII at Work, one of the channels that most resembles conventional radio with heavy production and even a live jock in afternoons, is already capable of "Carole King and Metallica back to back," says Chambers. "The first thing you have to do is broaden your horizons. It was very exciting to me to be involved in all kinds of music, not just modern music or adult pop or whatever," Fulmer says.

MAKE THAT MOVE

So you recognize the Internet as the place you want to be. Now what? Several interviewees are already swamped with calls from friends eyeing a similar move. But both Zapis (lee@everstream.com) and Leven (jleven 1672@aol.com) are looking to hear from readers. And Zapis is surprised he hasn't been called more. "I don't know if it's from fear and they're not risk-takers. The people we talk to seem to be younger and look at this as a way of making a name for themselves and getting in on the ground floor," he says.

Baldassano and Barnes encourage job hunters to look beyond radio or músic sites to other topics that interest them. He and Bendat both suggest clicking that "jobs" box that is found on most Web sites. Zapis suggests going to Internet conferences and also reading the newsletters that cover Web audio.

Baldassano also suggests two books, "Customer.com" by Patricia Seybold and Seth Godin's "Permission Marketing," as well as consumer magazines Fast Company and Industry Standards, which will help you identify companies that are staffing up. She also suggests general job sites (e.g., hotjobs.com) and the new-media association in web-savvy cities like New York or Boston and forming as many relationships with Web-related headhunters as you can.

It's also a good idea, say interviewees, to be involved with your own station's Web efforts. And there's always doing it yourself. While Bendat, Zapis, and Leven had some ready cash from their station sales, WJLB Detroit PD Michael Saunders, who runs industry-advice site thehitteam.com, says anyone can launch a Web site for $5,000, although, he points out, having the money to ramp up and to adequately promote yourself are not the same thing. Even with a budget, Bendet now believes, the dot.com world is so saturated that it's easier to partner with existing brands than to launch one.

Farber suggests making yourself a student of the Internet and developing a "point of view" about the online music business. And soon, "Before long, it's going to get to the point where people who don't have Internet experience have no value," he predicts. And Lindahl's advice to stations contemplating Web-site development also applies to job hunters: "I urge people to just do something. The completely wrong thing to do with the Internet is to just do nothing or wait until you get the full solution.

Are There Another 6 Shares For Top 40?

One of the ironies of top 40's recent resurgence is that the same ratings that looked so awful to many group broadcasters during the early '90s looked OK as things got more fragmented. The 9.9 share 12-plus that top 40 managed to post in Airplay Monitor's exclusive national Arbitron format ratings for summer '99 was certainly better than the 7.2 share to which the format had been whittled in 1996 but a lot less than the 15.6 share that top 40 controlled a decade earlier.

In fact, top 40's current national shares are still around where they were in 1993-94, when the format was in full-crisis mode. The top 40s that stayed in the format were getting better by that time, but many were still ditching the format, as reflected by the numbers continuing to go down for a few years. While country has shed virtually all of the 4.5 to 5 shares that it picked up during the early part of the decade—proving that some things are truly cyclical—top 40 still has considerable room to grow before it can be said to have truly recovered.

So are there another 6 shares out there for top 40? It's certainly a more fragmented world than it was in 1989, meaning that it may not be possible to reclaim all that listening. But it wouldn't be much of a format resurgence if we were willing to stop now just because top 40's right to exist is no longer in question. There are still some places to look for new audiences, and the way that the national numbers have redistributed themselves over the past 10 years offers some clues about where to look.

Not all of the ratings that new formats have garnered came at top 40's expense. AC, including the adult top 40 format that seemed to benefit from top 40's early-'90s misery, has lost 3 shares over the past decade. Modern rock has gained 3.5 shares since the late '80s, but album rock has lost 2.4 shares, which certainly accounts for some of that. The format cluster that seems to have grown the most over the past decade is R&B, adding nearly 6 shares in the past 10 years. Spanish, meanwhile, has picked up 3.5 shares.

Until now, a lot of top 40's growth has come in markets that got the format for the first time in five years or more. In the continuously measured Arbitron markets that make up the national numbers, there are a lot fewer of those opportunities left (although there's still a huge hole in many smaller markets). The remaining upside for the format is going to have to come from growing the audience through marketing and mass-appeal morning shows and by reaching out to some of the folks who can still take or leave the format. Three thoughts in particular:

1. Reclaim the African-American listener. While top 40 should not compete head to head with R&B radio, there's always been a contingent of black listeners interested in pop hits, at least as a second choice. R&B radio, which tried to cover its bases on the biggest pop records in the past, hasn't done so since the mid-'80s. But mainstream top 40, once known for its mixed air staffs, hasn't made any significant outreach to those listeners either. When you look at the recent success of WKSE Buffalo, N.Y., which is more R&B-driven at night, with an African-American personality, you have to assume there's some upside in at least trying to court black listeners. And WKSE has done this despite the fact that its R&B rival, WBLK, has also added several shares over the past few years and become a more competitive station. And while the industry wisdom has been that black listeners have foo many R&B choices to be interested in top 40, Hispanic listeners-for whom top 40 has been willing to fight—have a lot more choices these days.

2. Don't take the teens for granted. The good news is that the swelling of Gen-Y (and Gen-Z) has yet to have its full impact on top 40. But while top 40 still remains the dominant teen choice, those listeners aren't promised to top 40 (or to radio at all), especially with today's new-media choices. Teens need continued outreach. They're also the ones who are, at least anecdotally, most likely to be upset about both the quantity and quality of commercials. Knowing how to target teens (and 12-24 in general) is of special import to anybody who signs on a second top 40 in any market, since most second top 40s have grown the format's audience only slightly. Only stations like WWHT (Hot 107.9) Syracuse, N.Y., which had both the opportunity and inclination to go below an older-leaning mainstream outlet, have been the exception. (I'd expect the new WBTS Atlanta to do the

3. Continue to teach 18-24s to use the format: For the past year, we've been under the impression that if 18- to 24-year-olds aren't as enthusiastic about the format as everybody else, it's because of the teen acts. Or because of an interest in "extreme" rock or hip-hop that top 40 can't play. Beyond that, 18-24s are also the generation that, in many cases, doesn't have any grounding in mainstream top 40, because it didn't exist in so many markets when they were teens (making it doubly important to take today's teens into consideration). If anybody taught them to use a "variety" station, it was MTV, which played rock and hip-hop together without the teen acts (mostly because there weren't any at the time). It's true that 18-24s have more current music than any demo that isn't serviced by top 40. But they still need to be taught to use the format overall, something stations are, by and large, doing a better job of these days.

ongs ranked by number of detections. Records showing an increase in detections over the previous week, regardless of chart movement. A cord that has been on the chart for more than 20 weeks will not receive a bullet, even if it registers an increase in detections. Airpower awarded to ngs appearing in the top 20 on both the Airplay and Audience charts for the first time with increases in both detections and audience. Greatest Gain-awarded to the record with the largest increase in detections. Most New Stations awarded to the record registering six or more detections at the most ations for the first time this week. If two records are tied in number of detections, the record being played on more stations is placed first. Records elow the top 20 become recurrents and are removed from the chart after 26 weeks.

Songs ranked by audience, computed by cross-referencing exact times of airplay with Arbitron listener data. Records showing an increase in audience over the previous week, regardless of chart movement. A record that has been on the chart for more than 20 weeks will not receive a bullet, even if it registers an increase in audience. If two records are tied in total audience, the record being played on more stations is placed first. Records become recurrents and are removed from this chart in conjunction with the Mainstream Top 40 Airplay chart.

Monitor POWER PLAYLISTS MAINSTREAM TOP 40

FOR WEEK ENDING FEBRUARY 20, 2000

Songs ranked by number of detections. Play fists are listed in order of TSA weekly cume—beginning with the highes—cuming station. Cumes are updated twice yearly following the release of the spring and fall Arbitron surveys. The number of stations shown each week varies depending upon space.

First Impressions (F1) denotes songs with 6 or more detections a station for first time this week.

Songs ranked by number of detections. Records showing an increase in detections over the previous week, regardless of chart movement. A record that has been on the chart for more than 20 weeks will not receive a bullet, even if it registers an increase in detections. Airpower awarded to songs appearing in the top 20 on both the Airplay and Audience charts for the first time with increases in both detections and a udience. Greatest Gainer awarded to the record with the largest increase in detections. Most New Stations awarded to the record registering six or more detections at the most stations for the first time this week. If two records are tied in number of detections, the record being played on more stations is placed first. Records elow the top 20 become recurrents and are removed from the chart after 26 weeks

OVER 1 MILLION IN AUDIENCE! Single & Video out in March

Glenn Aure, MD, KMEL, San Francisco - Spooks Things I've Seen (Antra/Artemis) "Don't underestimate this track. It's definitely a big one. Great smash potential!"

Dale Soliven @ Z90 - Spooks Things I've Seen (Antra/Artemis)
"The Spooks is definitely a hit...if not #1, it's a top 10 record. Huge with the females and the men are following right along. Already top 15 phones and blowing up in the middays."

Joey Boy, MD, KCAQ, Oxnard - Spooks Things I've Seen (Antra/Artemis) "Smash! The phones are ringing off the hook."

Dennis Martinez, MD, KDON, Salinas-Monserey - Spooks Things I've Seen (Antra/Artemis) "I'm feelin' it! Check it out."

Eric Powers, PD, KUBE, Seattle - Spooks Things I've Seen (Antra/Artemis) "Huge! A great record!"

John E. Kage, MD, KS107.5, Denver - Spooks Things I've Seen (Antra/Artemis) "A haunting record!"

Weasel, PD, WJKX, Ft. Wayne - Spooks Things I've Seen (Antra/Artemis) "This is a hot record! I like it."

Jo Valentine, MD, WCKZ, Ft. Wayne - Spooks Things I've Seen (Antra/Artemis) "The new hot female soul sound for the millennium!"

D. Wayne Chavez, MD, KOHT, Tucson - Spooks Things I've Seen (Antra/Artemis) "It's got the Hip Hop feel. It's gonna be huge!"

Songs ranked by audience, computed by cross-referencing exact times of airplay with Arbitron listener data. Records showing an increase in audience over the previous week, regardless of chart movement. A record that has been on the chart for more than 20 weeks will not receive a bullet, even if it registers an increase in audience. If two records are tied in total audience, the record being played on more stations is placed first. Records become recurrents and are removed from this chart in conjunction with the Crossover Airplay chart.

Songs ranked by number of detections. Records showing an increase in detections over the previous week, regardless of chart movement. A record that has been on the chart for more than 20 weeks will not receive a bullet, even if it registers an increase in detections. Airpower awarded to songs appearing in the top 20 on both the Airplay and Audience charts for the first time with increases in both detections and audience. Greatest Gainer awarded to the record with the largest increase in detections. Most New Stations awarded to the record registering six or more detections at the most stations for the first time this week. If two records are tied in number of detections, the record being played on more stations is placed first. Records below the top 20 become recurrents and are removed from the chart after 26 weeks.

ADULT TOP 40 AUDIENCE

Songs ranked by audience, computed by cross-referencing exact times of airplay with Arbitron listener data. Records showing an increase in aud ence over the previous week, regardless of chart movement. A record that has been on the chart for more than 20 weeks will not receive a bullet, eve if it registers an increase in audience. If two records are tied in total audience, the record being played on more stations is placed first. Records become recurrents and are removed from this chart in conjunction with the Adult Top 40 Airplay chart.

Monitor POWER PLAYLISTS ADULT TOP 40

FOR WEEK ENDING FEBRUARY 20, 2000

Songs ranked by number of detections. Play lists are listed in order of TSA weekly cume, beginning with the his hest-cuming station. Cumes are updated twice yearly following the release of the spring and fall Arbitron surveys. The number of stations shown each week varies depending upon space.

First impressions (FI) denotes songs with 6 or more detections at station for first time this week.

Songs ranked by number of detections. \(\) Records showing an increase in detections over the previous week, regardless of chart movement. A record that has been on the chart for more than 20 weeks will not receive a bullet, even if it registers an increase in detections. Airpower awarded to songs appearing in the top 20 on both the Airplay and Audience charts for the first time with increases in both detections and audience. Greatest Gainer awarded to the record with the largest increase in detections. Most New Stations awarded to the record registering six or more detections at the most stations for the first time this week. If two records are tied in number of detections, the record being played on more stations is placed first. Records below the top 20 bacome recurrents and are removed from the chart after 26 weeks.

Songs ranked by number of audience, computed by cross-referencing exact times of airplay with Arbitron listener data. Records showing an increase in audience over the previous week, regardless of chart movement. A record that has been on the chart for more than 20 weeks will not receive a bullet, even if it registers an increase in audience. If two records are tied in total audience, the record being played on more stations is placed first. Records become recurrents and are removed from this data in conjunction with the Modern AC Airplay chart.

The chart, reprinted from Rock Airplay Monitor, is compiled from a national sample of data compiled by Broadcast Data Systems. 68 modern rock stations are electronically monitored 24 hours a day, seven days a week. Songs ranked by number of detections. Records showing an increase in detections over the previous week, regardless of chart movement. A record that has been on the chart for more than 20 weeks will not receive a bullet, even if it registers an increase in detections. Airpower awarded to songs appearing in the top 20 on both the Airplay and Audience charts for the first time with increases in both detections and audience. Greatest Gainer awarded to the record with the largest increase in detections. Most New Stations awarded to the record registering six or more detections at the most stations for the first time this week. Monitor POWER PLAYLISTS ADULT CONTEMPORARY

Songs ranked by number of detections. Playlists are listed in order of TSA weekly cume, beginning with the highest-cuming station. Cumes are updated twice yearly following the release of the spring and fall Arbitron surveys. The number of stations shown each week varies depending upon space.

First Impressions (FI) denotes songs with 6 or more detections at station for first time this week.
