PD Survey: Would You Have OK'd O&A?

by Angela King, Marc Schiffman, and Bram Teitelman

The Aug. 16 "sex in church" stunt that prompted the firing of Infinity syndicated afternoon hosts Opie & Anthony was only one of at least three recent radio stunts that ended with someone being arrested, further proof that broadcasters are used to asking for forgiveness, not permission. But has every PD become a believer in full-contact radio, even if it involves breaking the law?

Well, not all. An Airplay Monitor survey of PDs in multiple formats found that 68% would not have greenlighted O&A's sex-in-public-places contest—although the 32% remaining would have done so even after the controversy had exploded. And 57% say they would not intentionally send staffers to do something that might get them arrested. Then again, up until the very moment that the duo was fired by Infinity, 95% of the PDs we talked to believed O&A would survive the firestorm of outrage, as have so many other morning teams before them.

Top 40 WKSE Buffalo, N.Y., PD Dave Universal was outraged by the O&A stunt. "I thought the whole thing crossed the line," he says. "I hope the two people who did it in the church burn in hell." But at the same time, Universal says, "Our [morning stunt] guy got arrested last year, and part of me hopes [he gets] arrested again this year. As long as it doesn't cross the line, I think having your morning guy get arrested is fine."

Cromwell VP of programming Brian Krysz says, "There are certain things that you just know have

O&A Gone, FCC Still Probing

The FCC has sent a letter to Infinity Broadcasting outlining its inquiry into complaints that WNEW New York aired obscene or indecent material, in the form of the syndicated Opie & Anthony show's now-infamous sex in St. Patrick's Cathedral incident (see story, page 1). The letter, dated Aug. 22, directs Infinity to turn over any documents or tapes related to the incident within 20 days.

The company must also answer a series of questions, including the names of each employee who "was responsible for the concept of the contest and its subsequent broadcast, or who was aware of the contest . . . prior to the broadcast." The FCC also wants to know "if Infinity has broadcast this contest on other stations, or other similar 'Sex for Sam' contests on this or other stations."

Opie & Anthony were dismissed Aug. 22. WNEW GM Ken Stevens and PD Jeremy Coleman were placed on suspension several days earlier.

While market speculation had Opie & Anthony resurfacing on album rival WAXQ (Q104.3), Clear Channel regional VP Andy Rosen issued a statement saying, "They don't fit in with the brands we have in New York."

MANAGEMENT: WERT'S GREATER WORTH

WKIE/WKIF/WDEK (Energy 92.7) Chicago VP/GM Scott Wert adds those duties for Spanish sister WXXX/WYXX (Viva 103.1), replacing Juan Montenegro.

Regent Communications has purchased 12 Brill Media properties in a federal bankruptcy proceeding for approximately $62 million. Those properties are WIOV-AM-FM Lancaster, Pa.; WBKR/WOMI Owensboro, Ky.; WKDQ Evansville, Ind.; KTRR/KUAD and an FM construction permit for Fort Collins, Colo.; and KKCB/KLDJ/KBMX/WEBC Duluth, Minn. Regent is expected to close on the purchase late this year or in first quarter 2003. Brill's WSTO Evansville wasn't included in that sale. PD Dr. Dave is looking for midday and night jocks with possible APD or MD stripes. He's replacing APD/MD/night guy Cat Michaels, among others.

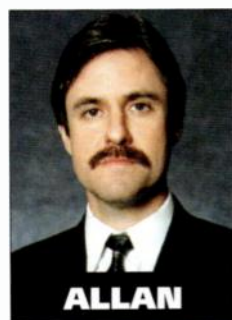

In other sales news, Barry Drake's Backyard Broadcasting picks up 20 Sabre Communications stations in four markets—including top 40 WNKI Elmira, N.Y., and AC WSFT Williamsport, Pa.—for $42 million.

NEW FRONTIERS IN INDIE PROMOTION

Independent promotion/marketing firm Jeff McClusky & Associates has signed a deal with e.Digital Corp. The latter company will load music from JMA label clients onto its e.Digital audio players. Tracks will also be downloadable from a forthcoming broadband Web site from e.Digital.

LMiV, the 2-year-old Internet partnership of Bonneville, Corus, Emmis, Entercom, and Jefferson-Pilot, is shutting down. Each company will take responsibility for its own Internet presence.

PROGRAMMING: CRADLE OF (AT) LIBERTY

At Clear Channel/Philadelphia, VP of operations Dave Allan is out, while Brian Check, currently OM of sister WAEB-FM (B104) Allentown, Pa., joins as PD of the cluster's new soft AC WSNi (Sunny 104.5). Check will remain brand manager for B104—as well as WRFY Reading, Pa.; WLAN Lancaster, Pa.; and WHKF Harrisburg, Pa.—but he'll turn over B104's PD duties to APD Laura St. James. Middayer Stephanie Wells becomes promotions coordinator for B104, while Craig Stevens becomes director of technical operations. Back in Philly, Brian Bridgman is OM for Sunny 104.5 and OM/PD for WIOQ (Q102).

Several Infinity clusters see a consolidation of programming positions this week. In Minneapolis, WXPT (the Point) PD Dusty Hayes exits the '80s gold outlet, as Gary Nolan, PD of sister AC WLTE, becomes FM operations manager for Infinity/Minneapolis-St. Paul. Meanwhile, at Hayes' old station—KAMX (Mix 94.7) Austin, Texas—there's a similar change, as PD Jim Robinson is replaced by KQBT (the Beat) PD Scooter B. Stevens, who adds his duties. Robinson is reactivating his indie firm, Jim Robinson Promotions, while he mulls other opportunities.

KFMD Denver/KSME Fort Collins, Colo., MD Chris Pickett becomes PD of WIFC Wausau, Wis., replacing Denny Luell, who transfers to Midwest's sister cluster in Green Bay, Wis.

30th Time's A Charm For Hall & Oates

After 30 chart appearances at AC spanning more than 26 years, Daryl Hall & John Oates score their first No. 1 at that format with "Do It for Love" (Arista/RCA/BMG Heritage). The track is also AC's Greatest Gainer, earning 223 detections. Their first AC chart appearance was in April 1976 with "Sara Smile," which peaked at No. 18.

The title of LeAnn Rimes' new single, "Life Goes On" (Curb), can be taken literally this week. That song enters the AC chart at No. 25, just as "Can't Fight the Moonlight" moves to the AC recurrent chart after two runs totaling 45 weeks. The latter track, which experienced a resurgence after becoming a mainstream top 40 hit earlier this year, is the only AC song to ever achieve Airpower status twice. It originally peaked at No. 15 in December 2000, then returned to the chart in February, peaking at No. 17 in May. "Life Goes On" is Rimes' eighth chart appearance at AC. Her biggest hit remains her first crossover title, "How Do I Live," which spent 11 weeks at No. 1 in 1997.

PANEL MONITOR: The technical problems have been resolved at the Greenville, S.C., site, and the following stations return to their respective panels: top 40 WFBC, rhythmic top 40 WHZT, and ACs WMYI and WSPA.

KISV Bakersfield, Calif., is temporarily removed from the rhythmic top 40 and crossover panels.

LABEL NEWS: As reported by Billboard Bulletin, Jive Records has named John Strazza VP of rhythmic and crossover promotion.

Cumulus/Flint, Mich., OM John Shomby—whose outlets include WWCK—as director of programming and operations. He will also serve as day-to-day PD for the cluster's country WCMS/WGH.

Country WSSL/WESC Greenville, S.C., PD Bruce Logan becomes programming operations director for the parent Clear Channel/Greenville cluster, including AC WMYI.

Adult top 40 WWWW (Star 105) Toledo, Ohio, ups night host Steve Marshall to PD, assuming day-to-day duties from OM Tim Roberts.

CKZZ (Z95.3) Vancouver APD/MD Curtis Strange transfers to top 40 sister CKMM (Hot 103) Winnipeg, Manitoba, as PD. He replaces Steve Kennedy.

FORMATS: PARTY POUNDING AGAIN

When WPYM (Party 93.1) Miami launched its all-dance rhythmic top 40 format earlier this year, its on-air attacks were restricted to crosstown WPOW (Power 96)'s spotload. Now Party has extended those attacks to mainstream top 40 rival WHYI (Y100).

Rhythmic top 40 WBCD Dothan, Ala., flips to mainstream top 40 as "the Zone." New calls are WZND. All staffers remain, with the addition of Kelly to the morning show. She joins Karson With a K from the station's sales department.

Gospel WQUA (Q102) Mobile, Ala., flips to ABC's children's top 40 network Radio Disney.

Modern CFEX (Extreme 107.3) Victoria, British Columbia, flips to adult top 40 as B107.3 under OM Brad Edwards. In other news from the north, sports CHUM Toronto returns to oldies. Owner CHUM Group's Team Radio Network is down to three markets.

PEOPLE: T-MAN GROOVIN'

WKST (Kiss FM) Pittsburgh switches from syndicated morning host Valentine to KUBE Seattle's Rob "T-Man" Pepper.

KSTP-FM (KS95) Minneapolis p.m. driver Rob Poulin exits.

WSSR (Star 95.7) Tampa, Fla., taps new morning host Pyke, previously with WKIE Chicago. Meanwhile, Rebecca joins for nights, replacing the voice-tracked Buck Head show. She was pulling down two jobs in the cluster—assistant morning producer at AC WMTX and overnights on album WXTB (98 Rock).

Rhythmic top 40 KSEQ (Q97) Fresno, Calif., moves p.m. driver JoJo Lopez to mornings, teaming with new co-host Uzette Salazar, a former morning producer at KLLC San Francisco.

KRBE Houston imaging director Tommy Oz exits. Reach him at 832-216-5085.

Crossover R&B WWPR (Power 105.1) New York makes it official by giving veteran rapper Chubb Rock the afternoon shift. He replaces Colby Colb, who exited several weeks ago.

At rhythmic top 40 KXMG (Mega 93.1) Austin, Texas, p.m. driver Evan moves to mornings, replaced by night jock Miss Kitty. P/T Forrest Bueller gives up some days off, becoming the new night host.

KYSR (Star 98.7) Los Angeles night jock Skip Isley becomes music and operations assistant at the modern AC station.

Crossover R&B WPGC-FM Washington, D.C., morning man Donnie Simpson recently celebrated 25 years on the air. Simpson was first heard on D.C. radio in 1977, when he joined WKYS for afternoons. He later became PD there. He joined WPGC in 1993.

At WDRQ Detroit, Man at Large—last in nights at R&B KKDA-FM (K104) Dallas—is now official in nights. He has been working that shift for several months on an interim basis.

WKQI (Q95.5) Detroit's Steve Duncan joins country WFBE Flint, Mich., as APD/afternoon host.

Night jock Tanya Maher is out at modern AC WTMX (the Mix) Chicago.

Ben Coburn is the new morning man at WTWR (Tower 98) Toledo, Ohio, replacing Mike Marino, now with classic hits WHMI Howell, Mich. Coburn was in mornings at adult top 40 WYBR (Y102) Big Rapids, Mich.

danger written over them with no redeeming ratings value. Unless you assume that everyone listening to your station is a lowlife scumball, or that's the only type of listener you want, the risk does not equal any amount of gain."

For WQMX Akron, Ohio, OM Kevin Mason, such stunts are "one of the reasons I'm still in country music. I don't have to worry about good judgment and good taste." To which KYGO Denver PD Joel Burke adds, "[Even] if I wasn't in country, my own personal convictions would say no as well. It goes back to the line between stunts to have talk and buzz and balancing that with being a positive difference in the community."

Country WSIX Nashville PD Mike Moore adds, "I would hope we could find other ways to be entertaining than seeing who can out-offend one another."

As several PDs noted, the increasingly outrageous stunts are an attempt to top what Howard Stern started more than 20 years ago. Top 40 WXSS Milwaukee PD Brian Kelly cites "eager morning shows that want to put their names on the map. When you think of Mancow, you think of the haircut on the bridge. When you think of Stern, you think of strippers and lesbians. Everyone has their little stunt to hang their hat on that becomes their turning point."

NOT INCREDIBLY OFFENSIVE

Although the majority said they would never pull the O&A contest themselves, 11% of PDs surveyed would have no qualms about such a stunt, and another 21% gave a qualified "yes," assuming the PD had control over the stunt.

Album rock WDHA Dover, N.J., PD Terrie Carr says, "I'm not incredibly offended by that. I was more offended by the [WXTB Tampa, Fla., jock] Bubba the Love Sponge pig roast... The first thing I thought was, 'What great press going into a fall book,' but I'm always thinking like a PD. My dad never knew who Opie & Anthony were before this, but he sure does now."

"Would I allow it? I'm a little less conservative, so I've never been afraid to take a chance. But to see the reaction of people, I'm surprised at the uproar," she continues. "But I guess with everything that has gone on in the Catholic church, it's probably a very raw time."

Rhythmic top 40 KXJN Portland, Ore., PD Mark Adams says, "We've already had things like that happen, [but] not in a Catholic church. That's a spin that we didn't come up with." While Adams believes it's his job to avoid getting sued, he also feels it's imperative to stand behind your staff, citing a recent incident where another station's staffer was fired for a bit that management had approved. "If you're going to run a station with stunts and outrageous acts, you as a PD better be prepared to deal with the consequences, and that means backing your people up."

While top 40 WKQI Detroit PD Dom Theodore says, "If one of my jocks came to me and wanted to do that... I'd probably avoid a church," he adds that "you have to have an environment where people should feel free to take creative risks."

But Clear Channel/South Florida regional director of programming Rob Roberts says, "At some point you have to consider what the community standards are." Rhythmic WPOW Miami PD Kid Curry adds, "I'd have probably told them to come up with something better. I have a lot to do, and do I want to spend my week in the GM's office with the lawyers on the phone?"

WHAT WERE THEY THINKING?

PDs realize that stunts sometimes run off the rails, not playing out like they did in the office. "This is when you wonder, 'What were they thinking?'" Roberts says. "Though I will also confess that there are mornings when I wake up and say, 'What is my morning show doing? And why didn't they talk to me about it first?'"

"Hindsight is always 20/20," one active rock programmer says. "Not living in New York, it's hard to know if they should have known better... I would hope I would know whether it was smart [for my market]. But if you're working with that kind of

Active Music Protected B93.7 From Rhythmic Flanker

One doesn't have to go very far into a conversation with a radio person before the word "focus" comes up, but when WFBC-FM (B93.7) Greenville, S.C., PD Nikki Nite uses it, it doesn't sound like a cliché. One of the first top 40 FMs launched during the format's mid-'90s rebuilding phase, WFBC had become a force by April 2001 when Cox's WHZT (Hot 98.1) launched with rhythmic top 40. After being overtaken in the winter book, B93.7 rebounded in the spring.

"We continue to do really well in our target demo of 18-34," Nite says. "We were No. 1 in that again, which we've done fairly consistently... [In] 12-plus, we had really good growth in our numbers. We picked up some teens again—they're fickle, they come and go—but you do the best you can with that and make sure you're remaining relevant to your target audience. We are winning 18-24 and 25-34 in the 18-34 demo."

Nite says, "Our market has been through a lot of changes over the past year-and-a-half: the sign-on of an '80s station [sister WOLI], a sign-on of a rhythmic station. It would have been easy to react to all of that stuff and do different things than we have been doing, but we decided to just maintain... and I think consistency works."

Nite says that when WHZT came into the market, she had enough research about WFBC to remain confident. "I've had some really good mentors during my career. One of the things that I've learned from people that have gone before me is you can't knee-jerk react to what other people do. It's not in your control... Until your listeners indicate to you that they want something different, you should keep giving them what they expect from your radio station... We knew that we had been on the right course through perceptual studies we had done."

One interesting aspect of the battle between WFBC and WHZT was that unlike nearby Atlanta, where heritage WSTR (Star 94) has always focused on pop/rock, B93.7 had always been relatively fast on the biggest R&B titles.

"FBC has always been a fairly aggressive top 40 radio station," Nite says. "We played a lot of passion-driven music, and we were playing a lot of the rap stuff that was real popular mainstream rap stuff at the time. Had we never played any of that and didn't own any of the music images for any of that music, it might have been more challenging."

Courting a younger demo has been part of what drives Nite's musical aggressiveness. "We want to be musically compelling to those people," she says. "It's so easy for the younger generation to get music now so much faster. They know things are out there faster than they used to. A top 40 station has to have some element of music that people are passionate about. There are great pop records that are hits after you give them 400 spins, but you have to have in your mix that contingent of music that makes people pick up the phone and ask for it—the records that fly off the shelves, the songs that are active are real important, and that has been a big part of our success."

With rhythmic music so central to today's top 40 offerings, is Nite afraid of steering her station too close to her rhythmic rival? "[No, because] a lot of the rhythmic music coming out right now has a sameness to it," she says. "There are a lot of great new artists. It's a breath of fresh air to have the Avril Lavignes and Vanessa Carltons of the world out there. That's great for top 40."

Nite likes to have her station speak loudest in her promotions. "We consistently like to do water-cooler-type promotions," she says. "Not just your basic cash giveaways, but cash giveaways with a twist that make them a little more interesting. That really helps, because there are a lot of people that won't play, but if you're getting people's attention, they're remembering you, and that's what really matters." The latest was a fundraiser with stunt boy Cato buried in four tons of concrete. "He was entombed for 48 hours, and we raised a little over $5,000. People came out and saw him in the concrete, and it really created a lot of talk: 'Is Cato going to live through this?' 'Is he OK?' People were actually concerned and involved. And it helped a great cause and made us a partner in the community, which is so important for a radio station."

The station did an obligatory cash giveaway as well, but Nite points out that in a market with collective contesting and those hard-to-win insurance-backed million-dollar giveaways, a "humble" $1,000 prize can sound better when it's accompanied by a guarantee that there will be a winner every day. "That was good in light of some other things that were going on in the market," Nite says, "because it was different from what other people were doing."

But even that approach reflects back to her "focus on your own station" philosophy. While some stations have attacked a rival's collective contest directly, Nite believes that "it just confuses people if you talk about other radio stations." So the station made its guarantee and trusted that those people who cross-cued other stations would recognize the difference. "We pointed out the differentiating point without really having to mention the other contests."

show and doing that kind of programming, it's hard to say, 'This is different than yesterday, you shouldn't do it.' It clearly wasn't a great idea, but it's not the first radio stunt gone awry, and it's tough to tell if it sounded OK in the meeting."

Modern rock WJRR Orlando, Fla., PD Pat Lynch says, "I would not have allowed that stunt to happen if the church was listed as an actual target," Lynch says. "The stunt in itself is a great idea, if it was put to the listeners that it was up to them to find the most outrageous place to do this."

Album rock WCCC Hartford, Conn., PD Michael Picozzi might have done it. "Don't get me wrong—I'm not a stick in the mud. Yesterday, we had a girl eat shit on the air," he says. "If they're looking to get attention and ratings in New York City, they did it. Everybody thought it was the most unbelievably terrible thing that could possibly happen when Steve Dahl [caused a riot at a Chicago baseball game by blowing up disco records, but that stunt was worth] two ratings points. If someone told me that if I could get a listener to go have sex in a church for two points in the ratings, I'd consider it. But I've got to be guaranteed those two points."

GIVE IT ARREST

Whether a stunt guy should ever be arrested for a bit prompted the closest split from our PDs: 57% wouldn't allow it, while 43% had no qualms. "As long as it's clever and entertaining and nobody gets hurt," Cumulus/Northern Ohio

OM Tim Roberts says. Theodore would risk it, too. "I have two rules: Make us No. 1, and don't lose the license—not necessarily in that order."

Rob Roberts says, "We have a good relationship with the police departments in town. Nine times out of 10, they're there to make sure [no one gets] arrested." As for knowing in advance that something will run afoul of the cops, "I don't think sending out someone to do something that will break the law is a good idea."

Active rock WLZR (Lazer 103) Milwaukee PD Mike Stern draws the line at an actual arrest. "If it was a stunt at a mall or something, where the local security might throw them out, that probably wouldn't faze me," he says. "But something where he'll be likely to end up behind bars? No."

Kelly says, "I don't think any reputable PD would allow their morning show to be arrested. It just happens to be a by-product of the bit that may have gone too far unbeknownst to the PD."

One anonymous country PD wouldn't intentionally send someone out to get arrested, but "if it happened, it's a dumb morning-show stunt. The evil part of me would wonder if we got any publicity out of it and if we got our logo on [TV]."

For country WGGY Scranton, Pa., PD Mike Krinik, the arrest factor has to be balanced by the context of the bit. "If he was going to get arrested, but he raised $5,000 for charity, I would say, 'Fine.'"

Any time police officers are diverted from their jobs because of some "wacky" radio stunt, such bits run the risk of diverting police resources from a true emergency. One anonymous modern rock PD says, "Someone could be yelling for help, but [the police] wouldn't respond because they were wasting their time over some radio stunt. What kind of trouble would you be in then? Not to mention how it would weigh on your conscience."

Curry says being arrested has "been done ad nauseam. It's like all these stations suddenly come up with the Randy Michaels 1968 book of programming. This is old hat. Kids that are 18-24 don't think the same way as [they] did 10 years ago. I think they would prefer hearing music." He also asks, "Do you have to keep topping yourself? At what point does someone get killed?"

FIRE AND FAILING UPWARD

Judging from our conversations leading up to O&A's firing, many PDs must be surprised that Infinity actually pulled the trigger. Carr expected that "it'll blow over and Opie & Anthony will finally have carved the true name for themselves that they've been looking to do for so many years." Mason noted that O&A were already "a prime example of getting fired and failing upward."

And while Infinity's response to the O&A scandal indicates some measure of concern for the license, few PDs expected a revocation. "Last I checked, the FCC doesn't regulate bad taste," Lynch says. "It comes down to them being guilty of bad taste. Guilty of breaking any laws, that I'm not so sure about."

Budget Cuts Spur Reliance On P/T

At a recent Country Radio Seminar, I was struck by the number of panels catering to the needs of promotion and marketing directors. I was also saddened by the lack of folks who actually attended. There were panels on quick-and-easy ideas and in-depth sales promotion. Unfortunately, I was among about five people in the room at both panels. It's not that marketing and promotion pros don't want to learn or find new ideas, it's that they don't have the budgets to attend.

your sweetheart on Valentine's Day. And they heard some cool sales-friendly promotion ideas, including calendars and community events.

With budgets for promotion departments being cut to the bone, an increasing number of our panelists are relying on part-timers for help rather than worrying about filling a job that should be full time. But finding good part-timers can be even tougher than finding useful interns.

Of course, it's hard to complain about not having money to attend seminars when most are simply happy that their jobs haven't been slashed from the budget. But at some point, we need to say that the learning and idea-sharing must continue.

So we march on. Those who did attend heard about recommended Web sites for promotion ideas, such as lured.com and radioready.com. They listened to country KUAD Fort Collins, Colo., promotion director Shelly Heier's idea for Valentine's Day called "Shove Your Love." OK, so there are so many ways to go with that one, but it's really an opportunity to sky dive with

A Year Later: What Has Radio Learned?

Last Sept. 12, broadcasters had the opportunity to reclaim something many had abdicated during the previous year—the trust of their communities. After reaching a point where some stations could only get listeners' attention by declaring Britney Spears was dead or slaughtering an animal in the parking lot, there was suddenly a chance to provide information and companionship. Listeners and radio made friends again.

Things should have proceeded down a different path from there, but, of course, they didn't. And it didn't even take an entire year. If WNEW New York afternoon team Opie & Anthony's sex-in-St.-Patrick's stunt hadn't monopolized the week's headlines, we would have still had the arrests of two other morning stunt people, including one who tried to disrupt the PGA tournament with a chain saw, which trumped the previous week's dog mauling of a producer in a morning-show stunt gone awry.

In the days immediately afterward, the O&A stunt—whatever one thought of it—seemed no more likely to yield dire consequences than any other act of calculated outrage by a radio station and its personalities. Then FCC commissioner Michael J. Copps released a statement urging the "strongest enforcement action possible" against WNEW. The headlines in the consumer press changed from "Dunce Duo in Hot Water" to "Radio Station Could Lose License." And while the notion of an actual license revocation seemed draconian, compared with the relatively mild punishments handed out by the FCC in recent years, O&A's firing means someone must have been worried about jeopardizing a $200 million radio license.

Likely or not, I wouldn't want the FCC to revoke WNEW's license. That would mean that violating the sanctity of a church is a hanging offense, whereas death hoaxes, Greaseman's racist comments, and cruelty to animals are just good competitive radio. All were hurtful in different ways, and exercising community responsibility shouldn't just mean not offending the religious establishment.

But broadcasters need to come out of this latest scandal with the final realization that all publicity is not good publicity, and that it's not a broadcaster's inalienable right to cause a public disruption or hurt a third party, whether it's announcing that the mayor of Boston is dead, tying up traffic on the Golden Gate Bridge, or prompting angry listeners to threaten an Arab doctor (over comments incorrectly attributed to him) after last Sept. 11.

Ironically, the 'NEW duo's Anthony Cumia seems to value his own privacy. The New York Post reported in March that Cumia had settled his divorce out of court, apparently to avoid public scrutiny. Infinity boss Mel Karmazin values his privacy as well, judging from the now well-publicized contract clause that keeps Howard Stern from talking about him on the air—much less falsely announcing his death. But it hasn't translated into a respect for the privacy or sanctity of others.

Infinity's decision to fire O&A, coupled with new Clear Channel Radio CEO John Hogan's recent public-relations initiative, means that America's two most powerful broadcasters will probably be laying off the acts of calculated outrage for awhile. Ideally, it would happen because broadcasters realize it's not the best use of a public trust. Or knowing that the station once famous for live broadcasts of Bruce Springsteen concerts deserves better than being known for, well, this. Because if broadcasters are merely riding the storm out, then they will have demonstrated for the second time in a year that they've learned nothing from their audience.

because they "probably hate the process or don't think it's part of their job. Hiring is a part of your job. I've always got my eyes open for new promotion talent."

Unlike others who say they have found good part-timers among the fans who gather at station events, Sheehan thinks that can cause problems. "Groupies aren't hired," he says. Those fans can often be too preoccupied with satisfying their need to be close to jocks or artists rather than doing the grunt work at hand. "I look for some college [experience]," Sheehan says, "whether they are still in college or just graduated."

And once on board, how do you keep a good part-timer motivated? Sheehan says radio provides more opportunities to give people a lift in their work than other jobs can. His station has "weekly meetings [with] free food. [We motivate by] recognizing good work [with things like] employee-of-the-month [honors]." Sheehan also gives part-timers the chance to "attend special events as a group that they don't have to work."

NTR SPOTLIGHT: IS THAT A BIG BUCK IN YOUR POCKET OR ARE YOU JUST HAPPY TO FISH HERE?

WPOC Baltimore NTR director Jennifer Schmidt is organizing her third annual Toyota Big Buck Bass tournament for this September, which has grown each year since its inception. The idea for the two-day fishing tournament came during discussions with Central Atlantic Toyota dealers, who were trying to push their full-size pickups to fishermen for hauling their bass boats. "There's lots and lots of prize money," Schmidt says. "Every hour, all day for two days, we give away $400, $300, and $200 prizes, all for single-weight catches. And the single heaviest weight catch of the whole weekend wins $5,000."

Schmidt also made an agreement with contest insurer Hole in One to offer "exact catch" prizes. The winner on Saturday takes home a new Toyota Tundra. On Sunday, it's a bass boat, motor, and trailer. To make it bigger than life, WPOC promotes the event all year long, with promo mentions, billboards, ads in bass-fishing magazines, and the event's own Web site, bigbuckbass.com.

QUICK HITS

Classic rock WBGW (Big 106) Miami shows that romance isn't the purview of AC stations alone with its giveaway of an event wedding at a monster-truck show. While not every little girl grows up hoping Prince Charming will drive up in a big rig, for those with differing tastes, each station had one lucky couple get married on the Jumbotron at the Big Monster Jam truck show. The couple was then "whisked out of the pit in a 'just married' monster truck," according to Camie Dunbar, who was up until midnight the day before tying beer cans to the bumper.

Country WWYZ Hartford, Conn., offered a look-alike karaoke contest in support of the Rockin' Roadhouse tour featuring Joe Diffie, Tracy Lawrence, and Mark Chesnutt. Listeners who most resembled the artists and sang the best renditions of their songs were invited onstage to sing with the stars.

Songs ranked by number of detections. () Songs showing an increase in detections over the previous week, regardless of chart movement. A song will also receive a bullet if its percentage loss in detections does not exceed the percentage of monitored station downtime for the format. A song that has been on the chart for more than 20 weeks will generally not receive a bullet, even if it registers an increase in detections. Airpower awarded to songs appearing in the top 20 on both the Airplay and Audience charts for the first time with increases in both detections and audience. Greatest Gainer awarded to the song with the largest increase in detections. Most Airplay Adds awarded to the song registering six or more detections at the most stations for the first time this week. A song with a gain in detections over the previous week is placed first if tied with a song with a decline over the same period. When tied songs are each gaining detections or each losing detections, the song being played on more stations is placed first. Songs below the top 20 become re-entrants and are removed from the chart after 26 weeks.

Songs ranked by number of detections. Songs showing an increase in detections over the previous week, regardless of chart movement. A song will also receive a bullet if its percentage loss in detections does not exceed the percentage of monitored station downtime for the format. A song that has been on the chart for more than 20 weeks will generally not receive a bullet, even if it registers an increase in detections. Airpower awarded to songs appearing in the top 20 on both the Airplay and Audience charts for the first time with increases in both detections and audience. Greatest Gainer awarded to the song with the largest increase in detections. Most Airplay Adds awarded to the song registering six or more detections at the most stations for the first time this week. A song with a gain in detections over the previous week is placed first if tied with a song with a decline over the same period. When tied songs are each gaining detections, the song being played on more stations is placed first. Songs below the top 20 become re-entrants and are removed from the chart after 26 weeks.

Songs ranked by number of audience, computed by cross-referencing exact times of airplay with Arbitron listener data. Songs showing an increase in audience over the previous week, regardless of chart movement. A song will also receive a bullet if its percentage loss in audience does not exceed the percentage of monitored station downtime for the format. A song that has been on the chart for more than 20 weeks will generally not receive a bullet, even if it registers an increase in audience. A song with a gain in audience over the previous week is placed first if tied with a song with a decline over the same period. When tied songs are each gaining in audience or each losing in audience, the song being played on more stations is placed first. Songs become re-entrants and are removed from this chart in conjunction with the Rhythmic Top 40 Airplay chart.

Songs ranked by number of detections. ○ Songs showing an increase in detections over the previous week, regardless of chart movement. A song that has been on the chart for more than 20 weeks will generally not receive a bullet, even if it registers an increase in detections. Airpower awarded to songs appearing in the top 20 on both the Airplay and Audience charts for the first time with increases in both detections and audience. Greatest Gainer awarded to the song with the largest increase in detections. Most Airplay Adds awarded to the song registering six or more detections at the most stations for the first time this week. A song with a gain in detections over the previous week is placed first if tied with a song with a decline over the same period. When tied songs are each gaining detections or each losing detections, the song being played on more stations is placed first. Songs below the top 20 become re-entries and are removed from the chart after 26 weeks.

Songs ranked by number of audience, computed by cross-referencing exact times of airplay with Arbitron listener data. ○ Songs showing an increase in audience over the previous week, regardless of chart movement. A song will also receive a bullet if its percentage loss in audience does not exceed the percentage of monitored station downtime for the format. A song that has been on the chart for more than 20 weeks will generally not receive a bullet, even if it registers an increase in audience. A song with a gain in audience over the previous week is placed first if tied with a song with a decline over the same period. When tied songs are each gaining in audience or each losing in audience, the song being played on more stations is placed first. Songs become re-entries and are removed from this chart in conjunction with the Crossover Airplay chart.

Songs ranked by number of detections. () Songs showing an increase in detections over the previous week, regardless of chart movement. A song will also receive a bullet if its percentage loss in detections does not exceed the percentage of monitored station downtime for the format. A song that has been on the chart for more than 20 weeks will generally not receive a bullet, even if it registers an increase in detections. Airpower awarded to songs appearing in the top 20 on both the Airplay and Audience charts for the first time with increases in both detections and audience. Greatest Gainer awarded to the song with the largest increase in detections. Most Airplay Adds awarded to the song registering six or more detections at the most stations for the first time this week. A song with a gain in detections over the previous week is placed first if tied with a song with a decline over the same period. When tied songs are each gaining detections or each losing detections, the song being played on more stations is placed first. Songs below the top 15 become re-entrants and are removed from the chart after 26 weeks.

Songs ranked by number of detections. Songs showing an increase in detections over the previous week, regardless of chart movement. A song will also receive a bullet if its percentage loss in detections does not exceed the percentage of monitored station downtime for the format. A song that has been on the chart for more than 20 weeks will generally not receive a bullet, even if it registers an increase in detections. Airpower awarded to songs appearing in the top 20 on both the Airplay and Audience charts for the first time with increases in both detections and audience. Greatest Gainer awarded to the song with the largest increase in detections. Most Airplay Adds awarded to the song registering six or more detections at the most stations for the first time this week. A song with a gain in detections over the previous week is placed first if tied with a song with a decline over the same period. When tied songs are each gaining detections or each losing detections, the song being played on more stations is placed first. Songs below the top 15 become recurrent and are removed from the chart after 26 weeks.
