Why Acts Once Core Are Core No More

■ by Sean Ross

Core artists turn over fast at top 40. Fast enough that two surveys of mainstream top 40 programmers 14 months apart found only two artists—Nelly and Jennifer Lopez—who were considered core both then and now. Fast enough that last year's top artist, Destiny's Child, wasn't even in the top 10 this time. Fast enough that this year's top artist, Pink, wasn't even on the list in 2001, even though she was an established hitmaker by then. Fast enough, of course, that some PDs asked whether core artists still mattered (Top 40 Airplay Monitor, July 26).

Monitor asked PDs for an unaided list of the format's top five acts. They replied, in order: Pink, Jennifer Lopez, Nelly, Creed, Ja Rule, No Doubt and Michelle Branch (tied), Enrique Iglesias, and Eminem, tied with Nickelback and Chad Kroeger. Then PDs were given a list of recent hitmakers and format veterans and asked for their input. These are their thoughts on the acts that did not make the top 10 this year, beginning with those who just missed the list.

• Goo Goo Dolls: They were tied for ninth in 2001. This year, they were No. 11. The group got nods from PDs at such pop/rock-leaning stations as WRVW (the River) Nashville, KMXV Kansas City, and WAlA Melbourne, Fla., where PD Mike Lowe notes that three of their songs were in the top 15 of his latest music test. WXXX Burlington, Vt., PD Ben Hamilton adds that even with the mid-chart showing of "Here Is Gone," "they'll be set if they release another 'Iris.'" But even at adult-leaning WJBQ

Artemis Offers An Online Olive Branch

While Internet royalties are threatening to drive many radio stations off the Web, Artemis Records has announced that it will waive the royalty payments that would otherwise be due for Internet radio broadcasts of its catalog. Chairman/CEO Danny Goldberg said in a press release, "In allowing free use of our catalog at this early stage we hope to stimulate the Internet radio format."

Congress chimes in with the Internet Radio Fairness Act, which is being sponsored in the House of Representatives by Jay Inslee, D-Wash.; George Nethercutt, R-Wash.; and Rick Boucher, D-Va. According to New York's Daily News, the legislation would exempt companies that gross less than $6 million per year from making royalty payments.

OF SPOTLOAD AND STOPSETS

Clear Channel has often been cited when critics talk about post-consolidation spotloads, but recently CC has been aggressive about attacking some rivals on spotload as well. While many CC stations sign on with 10,000 songs in a row, attacking the spotload of rival WQHT (Hot 97) New York was a major part of the strategy for the new WWPR (Power 105). Now, CC's new country outlet XHCR (Bob 99.3) San Diego is running promos attacking rival KSON's "50 minutes of music each hour" position with promos stating that the station played only 44 or 45 minutes of music in a given hour, according to the city's North County Times. PD Mike O'Brien tells the paper, "We have monitored them now for three days, and there has not been one hour where they have actually played 50 minutes of music."

Meanwhile, rhythmic top 40 WPYM (Party 93.1) Miami, which has been aggressive on the commercial issue since its January sign-on, has a new promo where it promises listeners, "Just one stop per hour for commercials," marking perhaps the first time that a variant of the industry jargon "stopset" has made it into a promo.

PROGRAMMING: Q-SOLIDATION

WWWQ (Q100) Atlanta PD Mr. Ed Lambert and afternoon host Jojo Morales exit the station, as OM Dylan Sprague absorbs both roles.

KCHZ (Z95.7) Kansas City co-PD/MD/afternoon host Mike Austin exits. Middayer Jacqui Lucky moves to afternoons. WAEV Savannah, Ga., APD/MD/middayer Chris Alan joins for nights, replacing Danny Wright.

Former Citadel/Reno, Nev., OM Carmy Ferreri opens the new Ferreri Consulting. He needs service from all labels.

Rhythmic top 40 WXYK Biloxi, Miss., MD/middayer Kyle Curley becomes PD. Night guy Justin "Lucas" Lloyd moves to MD/afternoon duties. Josh, who had been part of the morning team as Danger Boy, goes to nights. John Marty joins for mornings from the same at WEZB (B97) New Orleans. OM Kenny Vest exits but remains as a consultant to the station.

FORMATS: KISSING N.O. HELLO

Clear Channel's classic rock KFXN (the Fox) New Orleans flips to adult top 40 as "104.1 Kiss FM." PD/middayer Annette Wade remains. Syndicated morning host Kidd Kraddick bows in mornings. KFXN, which will target adult women with a center of 21- to 34-year-olds, stretches from Jack Johnson at the modern AC end to Jennifer Lopez's "I'm Gonna Be Alright" but is not playing any rap. The station was previously top 40 KHOM and KUMX. New calls will follow.

Adult top 40 WXLO Worcester, Mass., PD Chase Murphy heads west to flip all-'80s KHOP Modesto, Calif., to adult top 40. The station is currently jockless, and Murphy seeks both T&Rs and record service at: 1581 Cummins Drive, Suite 135, Modesto, Calif., 95358.

Last year, Canadian group owner Standard Broadcasting was granted a license to do R&B in Calgary, Alberta. Now, rival owner Rogers tries to pre-empt that forthcoming station by flipping classic rock CHRK (Rock 97) to "Kiss 96.9: Blazin' hip-hop and R&B."

Cable/satellite audio provider Music Choice has realigned its 54 channels, adding "new wave," "rock," and "party favorites" channels, among others, as well as "old-school rap" and "disco classic" blocks to its "Showcase Channel." Music Choice has also repositioned its "R&B Hits" channel as "R&B & Hip-Hop."

Is he hosting the "We-Funk Channel"? Sirius Satellite radio taps Parliament/Funkadelic leader George Clinton as the latest member of its advisory board.

PEOPLE: WHO'S REALLY LEAVING?

WKZL Winston-Salem, N.C., generated a lot of market talk July 24 when all three members of the Murphy in the Morning show announced that they had taken other jobs. But only one staffer was actually leaving. By the time you read this, our guess is that Heather B. will exit to move to Dallas. Jack Murphy is not headed to XHCR, in his former market of San Diego, and Britt Whitmire is not leaving to go into station ownership.

WHTZ (Z100) New York promotions director Darren Pfeffer segues to R&B sister WWPR (Power 105) for the same.

WEZB/adult top 40 WKZN New Orleans APD/MD and WEZB morning co-host Stacy Brady is exiting the station at the end of August.

Adult top 40 WKDD Akron, Ohio, morning co-host Barbara Adams is retiring. Night jock Angela moves to the co-host slot.

After a lengthy search for a civilian morning co-host, WZPL Indianapolis taps 23-year-old single mom Melissa Bricker to join Dave Smiley.

WGTZ (Z93) Dayton, Ohio, morning host Kim Faris moves to middays, as Libby Foxx become production assistant/swing talent.

At crossover R&B WERQ (92Q) Baltimore, APD/MD/afternoon host Neke Howse, exits, effective Aug. 14.

New rhythmic top 40 WXXP (the New Party 105) Long Island, N.Y., PD André Ferro takes afternoons and puts P/T Fly Guy into middays.

Adult top 40 KSTP-FM (KS95) Minneapolis overnighther Paige Turner becomes assistant producer for morning hosts Van & Cheryl. The duo also have a new producer, Stacy Carmichael, who produced syndicated duo Steve & D.C. from 1995-2000. She was also morning producer at album WCMF Rochester, N.Y.

Top 40 CISS (Kiss 92) Toronto taps DJX from R&B rival CFXJ (Flow 93.5) for nights, sending Cory Kimm to swing duties.

WPGC-FM Washington, D.C., morning sidekick/comedienne Debra Terry exits.

WWYL (Wild 104) Binghamton, N.Y., moves night jock Jerry Kidd to mornings, sending PD/MD K.J. Bryant back to afternoons. Cyber-middayer Christine Fox comes from WFHN New Bedford, Mass.

Rhythmic top 40 WHZT Greenville, S.C., promotion director Justin "J.T." Marcengill exits.

Former CKZZ (Z95.3) Vancouver night jock Jonny Staub resurfaces in P/T at CKNG (Power 92) Edmonton, Alberta.

Chart Sees Surge Of Indie Labels

While the "cost of doing business" at top 40 is often described in the consumer press as limiting access to smaller labels and is also believed to have slowed down the flow of even major-label product, independent labels have their strongest showing in at least a decade at mainstream top 40 this week, charting five titles.

The last time the mainstream chart had more than three independent titles was Sept. 24, 1994, during what many perceived as another musical doldrums for top 40. That week, four smaller labels were perched between No. 32 and No. 40. Their hits were "I'll Be Loving You" by Collage (Viper/Metropolitan), Tommy Boy's Coolio with "Fantastic Voyage," Deadeye Dick's "New Age Girl" (Ichiban), and the Offspring's "Come Out and Play (Keep 'Em Separated)" (Epitaph).

This week, DJ Sammy & Yanou Featuring Do's "Heaven" (Robbins) moves 6-5; Creed's "One Last Breath" (Wind-up) moves 22-17; TVT has two titles on the chart: Default's "Wasting My Time" at No. 26 and Naughty by Nature's "Feels Good (Don't Worry About a Thing)" at No. 38; and Dirty Down/Artemis artist Khia's "My Neck, My Back" debuts at No. 40.

IN ITS SECOND week at No. 1, Avril Lavigne's "Complicated" (Arista) again sets a Nielsen BDS spin record at mainstream top 40. Lavigne earns a total of 9,364 spins, breaking her record of the previous week, 9,205.

PANEL CHANGES: KSMB Lafayette, La., is temporarily removed from the mainstream top 40 panel because of a technical issue.

LABEL NEWS: Billboard Bulletin has Maverick Records GM Fred Croshal exiting at year's end.

Conclave '02: Michaels, Music & Consolidation

Is former Clear Channel Radio CEO Randy Michaels—the man who became the poster child for the evils of corporate radio—now to be remembered as one of its free-spirited victims?

One might have gotten that impression for just a moment at Conclave 2002, held July 25-28 in Minneapolis, when moderator Brian Burns began the top 40 session by asking if Michaels, whose segue to another position that week had stunned the industry, was too much of a maverick to survive at Clear Channel. All Access' Joel Denver responded that Michaels "is what he is" and that "he became a victim of what he is" as well as the "clash of cultures" between Clear Channel and the Jacor brain trust it acquired and the company's recent stock woes.

The Michaels news guaranteed that this year's Conclave would have no less of an emphasis on the corporatization of radio (and now the fiscal crunch within the entire industry) than in any other recent year. Asked about operating within Clear Channel, interviewer Dave Sholin that the Warner family of labels was best when operating under the philosophy that the goal of "big business is supporting you but not making musical decisions for you." When that equation gets flipped and the business end is driving the music decisions, he said, we're all in trouble.

At the adult top 40 panel, Nathan cited the relatively low sales for records that are indigenous to that format, telling panelist and KSTP-FM (KS95) Minneapolis PD Leighton Peck, "It's very hard to go to my boss and say, 'This is a perfect KS95 record.'" Asked if there was any passion for the music, Peck responded, "I think there's passion," but he noted that there was also the Internet and plenty of ways for listeners to address that passion without buying music. Meanwhile, DreamWorks' Marc Ratner encouraged PDs to look forward to the day when the aging of a population bulge takes mainstream top 40 listeners into the adult top 40 demos, predicting a "golden time" for the format and travails for mainstream top 40, similar to what happened a decade ago.

In the AC room, KMXV/KSRC Kansas City OM Jon Zellner wasn't a believer in format-indigenous hits either. "Playing a song 20 times a week in power [at an AC] means it'll take a year to make it familiar." He would rather have the music warmed up by other formats, but Alan Burns & Associates senior VP Jeff Johnson responded that major artists, such as Bruce Springsteen, belong in the format out-of-the-box for their event value.

AC got a lot of help last fall from the all-Christmas format. Moderator and KVIL Dallas PD Kurt Johnson went all-Christmas last Nov. 15 to pre-empt a rival. "First one in, wins," confirmed Zellner, an early proponent. But WLTE Minneapolis PD Gary Nolan was "scared" to toss away all he has carefully built at his station. Zellner agreed that a market's only AC can get away with playing Christmas music as a part of the mix, but there was also agreement that business as usual would never be able to win against an all-holiday stunt. Wimmer/Hudson researcher Matt Hudson suggested testing Christmas songs to ensure you're playing the right music, but others disagreed. As Zellner countered, "An '80s weekend is a whole weekend of music that doesn't test."

A Year Of Recovery For WPOC's Silverstein

It has been nearly one year since country WPOC Baltimore marketing/promotion director Sheila Silverstein's life changed dramatically following a painful fall at a station event. Silverstein is still trying to regain her ability to walk, as well as the ability to work from her office at the radio station, rather than from her bedroom. But Silverstein admits that she has gained quite a bit from her experiences of the past year, most notably, wisdom.

the adversity overtake her. "The minute I hit [the ground] and saw that bone and knew it was really bad, I said, 'You will choose a positive attitude.' I won't say that yesterday I didn't have a total breakdown and cry like a big dog, but I always try to choose to have a good attitude."

That's not always easy, when just getting out of bed is a challenge. Silverstein finally had to admit that she couldn't work from the office. After being home for five months, she tried to go to the station. "I was told not to go back to work, but I didn't listen," she says. "Just taking a shower and getting dressed [was hard work]. I have 27 steps to go down on my butt to get out of the house. I was exhausted just [getting ready for work]." And since Silverstein still cannot drive, rides to and from the office had to be arranged.

In April, Silverstein had her fourth surgery and went back to work in 10 days. "I had a meltdown," she admits. "So they've kept me at home. Now, every morning, I get up, put my signature earrings on, and go to work [at home]. And when I get tired, I lie down." Silverstein can work from her bedroom, thanks to help from the station engineer. "I work out of my bed. I have the laptop, the phone, the fax, and a fridge."

And by having to take things slower after 12 years with the station, Silverstein has learned more about priorities. "I know [things] will get done without me, but it won't be the way I do it. We just did a huge concert. I started booking acts from my bed [last] December, but I couldn't be there on the day [of the event]. I was here every minute of that day to answer the phone and answer questions. I don't have a broken head; I have a broken leg. I was still a part of everything. I just wasn't physically there."

Working from her house has given Silverstein a new view of the world. "Being alone is hard. Being home by yourself, I feel like everybody is on the superhighway, and I'm sitting under a tree."

And Silverstein has given herself permission to make mistakes now. "We missed that? OK. It didn't change my integrity level or how I work. Do I still have a fire in my belly? Absolutely. There's no two ways about it. But I don't think there will be a day [where] I'll be sitting with my head on my desk, crying, because of some promotion. I don't think Silverstein had worked for months on a wife-carrying contest promotion at the Maryland State Fair, for which she had lined up newspaper and TV coverage. To demonstrate for contestants, Silverstein raced with a staffer, who lost his footing and tossed her to the side. "I almost lost my foot," she says. "My ankle hit the cement and exploded out of my skin. It was gross."

Within the next month-and-a-half, Silverstein also faced the death of her father. Then, "I watched the world blow up [last Sept. 11] from the ICU," she says. "I can work really hard to walk again, but the grief issue is so intense."

After the accident, Silverstein had the first of four surgeries, the last of which inserted metal rods into her ankle to hold the bones together. "After the initial break and surgery, I was home for five months," she says. "I worked from my bed. I was on a lot of pain medicine." Despite that, Silverstein continued to work closely with promotion coordinator Steve Reuss and PD Scott Lindy to ensure the station didn't miss a beat. "Everybody pitched in."

And Silverstein didn't lose her sense of humor. Right after the accident, former Clear Channel CEO Randy Michaels called her. "He doesn't know who I am; he has 7 million employees," she says. "And he says, 'Sheila, I really appreciate that you did a good job, but it was a bit above and beyond the call of duty.' I thought it was somebody playing a joke on me. I was thinking this guy doesn't know me from a hole in the wall. So when we hung up, I hit star 69. When they picked up and said, 'Randy Michaels' office,' I cracked up."

Does Lo-Fi Have A Future At Top 40?

From Nirvana to Garth Brooks to Dr. Dre, 1992 was a watershed year for music. It just wasn't such a great year for top 40 PDs, some of whom didn't feel they could play any of those acts, much less accommodate all those extremes on one radio station. PDs clung to the handful of not-so-exciting records in the middle because, with adults fleeing for adult top 40, country, or anywhere else, there was no way they were going to play "Smells Like Teen Spirit" before 6 p.m. In fact, one friend of mine—then a PD, now a GM—still mock-derisively introduces me to friends as "the guy who thought I should play Nirvana in middays."

Then again, these days, PDs wouldn't have any trouble with Nirvana or Dre in middays. They were even willing to play a country record, if it was worked to them. (Nashville labels in 1992 were selling records with only country airplay and didn't feel the need to risk their artists' core audience or royalties to work songs at top 40.) Unfortunately—and it's one of the music industry's problems at the moment—other genres don't have as much going on as they did in 1992. Even with Eminem and Nelly, rap's declining sales have made headlines, while country radio has long turned itself into a niche format again by chasing away not only 12-24 but also 12-39.

So why aren't top 40 PDs taking more notice of what's going on at modern rock radio? After several years of nu-metal—which made modern rock almost indistinguishable from active rock—modern PDs have been declaring their musical independence during the past eight months with a new spate of such "lo-fi" or "neo-garage" acts as the Strokes, the White Stripes, the Hives, the Vines, and now Clinic. Unlike some of the acts that modern rock has used for pop balance in recent years, the neo-garage acts sell records. And while younger listeners are calling for them, neo-garage records are more adult-compatible than much of the music that modern has sent top 40 in recent years.

Neo-garage isn't a dominant flavor yet at modern rock; there's still plenty of nu-metal from such acts as Korn and Papa Roach and lots of straight-ahead hard rock from Puddle of Mudd and Incubus. And modern PDs are loathe to suggest that they've adapted any new musical movement, lest someone remind them about the electronica bandwagon of 1996. (Then again, that one actually bore fruit a year or two later.) But as one major label after another unveils its own Strokes or White Stripes, it's amazing to see how many of them achieve traction at the format. More important, the genre is mass-producing a steady flow of surprisingly good records, not unlike Nashville in the early '90s or modern in 1994. (Some of that may be because the majors have two years' worth of indie acts and imports to cherry-pick.)

So far, no one has made a run at mainstream top 40 with any of these acts, although several labels are currently contemplating doing so. Until now, the Strokes, Hives, and White Stripes have sold records with just modern rock airplay. As with country a decade ago, labels faced with the prospect of spending another $1 million at top 40 may feel they don't have that many more bodies to gain and a lot of rock credibility to lose. Top 40, for its part, isn't doing much to seek out rock records after a year of hard rock acts that professed disinterest in top 40 airplay but somehow forgot to donate the proceeds of their additional album sales to charity.

It also happens that top 40 has another movement to deal with at the moment, as debut singles from a new, younger generation of singer/songwriters arrive at the rate of two or three per week. Such artists as Avril Lavigne, John Mayer, Vanessa Carlton, and Michelle Branch have already proved to be important acts for mainstream top 40, and they only have to be shared with adult top 40 and not with the rock world. What they don't contribute is a lot of rock'n'roll energy. Having only the singer/songwriters to break up the R&B and hip-hop product is not unlike imagining 1997 if there had been "I'll Be Missing You" and "You Were Meant for Me" but no "Fly" or "Semi Charmed Life."

Even though it's easy to lump them together, the neo-garage acts are, for the most part, very different from each other. For any PD who might be tempted to wade into them, here's a primer for what's out there thus far.

- The Strokes (RCA): The poppiest of the neo-garage acts, and one whose roots are more in early-'70s rock than '60s garage (a misnomer in most cases, as it happens). Neither the first single "Last Nite" (a top 10 modern rock record) or the follow-up "Hard to Explain" would sound out of place on top 40. RCA may take the third single, "Someday," to top 40.

- The White Stripes (V2): "Fell in Love With a Girl" is sunnier and a lot more straightforward than most of their current album, which doesn't sound like any '60s garage band I know of (unless David Lynch had a four-piece we never heard about). But they're also the most visually distinctive and consumer-press-friendly of the new acts.

- The Hives (Epitaph/Reprise): The current U.S. album is a collection of tunes from several years' worth of Swedish releases. The most mannered and most deliberately retro of the new acts; at a recent show here, lead singer Pelle Almqvist playfully mocked the audience as "New York fancy pantsers," but he was the one preening and moving like a '70s-era Mick Jagger. "Hate to Say I Told You So," which was No. 7 last week at modern rock, recalls so many records that an adult listener grew up with that it probably wouldn't sound harsh at all on mainstream top 40—although I do wonder what would happen if they tuned in during the final rave-up in the song's last 35 seconds.

- The Vines (Capitol): The Australian band's "Get Free" is similar in texture and energy to "Hate to Say I Told You So," but it's also a little less stylized and a little more of a piece with what's already on rock radio. Ed Green, who worked Nirvana to top 40 as a local, says Capitol may indeed go to top 40 at some point, but this record is just cracking the top 10 at modern.

- Clinic (Universal): The newest of the entrants (at least over here; the band is already a British-press fave) but already on KROQ Los Angeles. More compact than the White Stripes record, but as much tied to '60s psychedelia as garage. The first single "Walking With Thee" plays like a punchier version of Radiohead, for whom the Liverpool, England-based act has opened.

I'll have those days anymore. It's radio! I love the fun of it, I love doing it, but I have a different perspective of my job.

"I love my job; I love what I do," Silverstein adds. "But my priority is to walk. I want to walk, I want to drive, I want to play golf."

Silverstein hopes she will soon get the news that she can start "weight bearing" on her damaged ankle. "I'm on a walker. If I go anywhere, I look like I'm 103 [years old], but in my head, I'm 12." Silverstein also has a new appreciation for the positive impact her job can have on the world around her. "When I can take a kid with AIDS or a woman dying of breast cancer backstage, that's still the best part of my job. Those are the things I'm going to revel in."

Portland, Ore., PD Tim Moore fears, "Relevance may be an issue, as they are gravitating to Matchbox Twenty land."

• Matchbox Twenty: Speaking of Matchbox Twenty, last year's No. 2 act is "still a local favorite" at WAIA and also makes the top five for Dan Bowen at WSTR (Star 94) Atlanta. But WKST Pittsburgh PD Jason Kidd calls the band a "great adult top 40 artist" and says that like it's a bad thing.

• Avril Lavigne: With two hits and a third single already rolling, it was Michelle Branch who made this year's top 10, but there's plenty of support for Lavigne as well. KZHT Salt Lake City PD Jeff McCartney says, "This entire album is phenomenal. Everyone I know that listens to it says the same thing: 'This thing is full of hits.'" And that's also what PDs told us. "I hear three more hits on the record," CKZZ (Z95.3) Vancouver PD Rob Mise says. "Could be the next dominant female from the pop/rock side," WWYL (Wild 104) Binghamton, N.Y., PD K.J. Bryant says, "even bigger than Michelle Branch or Vanessa Carlton."

"The teen females that were once driving 'N Sync and Backstreet Boys are a little older now and looking for lyrics that are more relevant," WDJX Louisville, Ky., APD/MD Jim Allen says. "If any young artists want to make it," KZZU Spokane, Wash., PD Ken Hopkins says, "they [had] better be writing and actually singing."

• Vanessa Carlton: There's love for Carlton as well. WDRQ Detroit PD Alex Tear and WXSS Milwaukee PD Brian Kelly include her in their top five. "She'll stick around for a few years," Hamilton says. But some PDs think it's too soon. "An artist with one No. 1 record cannot be considered core," WKRZ Wilkes-Barre, Pa., PD Jerry Padden says. Bryant isn't sure whether she's "the next Madonna or the next Paula Abdul," although he's putting his money on the former. And Lowe worries if "making pop hits isn't her idea of where she wants to go with her future. But she's damn good."

• Ashanti: "Still too new to be proven as a core artist, but she is certainly promising," WDBT Jackson, Miss., PD Matt Johnson says. But Kidd isn't waiting: "She is literally the hottest female out there right now" and the top non-rap artist he mentions. Bryant asks, "Three million sold from one single and a couple of other collaborations—who has ever made a bigger impact in their first year?"

REMEMBER THE VETS . . .

Look at PDs' top 10 lists and you'll find mostly artists who broke through at top 40 in recent years. No Doubt's 1996 debut is the furthest back any of those acts go at the format. So what about some of the more established acts, including those who made last year's survey?

• Janet Jackson: Last year, with "All for You" exploding, Jackson was tied for fifth. She still makes the list for WBLI Long Island, N.Y.'s J.J. Rice and CKKL Ottawa's Chris Gordon, among others. While many PDs feel that Jackson will have to prove herself with each new project, Allen says, "I would definitely not count Janet Jackson out by any means. Always predictable, yet always fresh. She has a Madonna-type knack for knowing where to take her audience musically. She has no meaningful image [problems] either. Maybe not core but viable for quite a while to come."

"Here to stay. A classic top 40 artist," WTWR Toledo, Ohio, PD Terri McCormick says. "They don't call her an icon for nothing," KDUK Eugene, Ore., PD Val Steele adds. But KCHZ Kansas City PD Just Plain Dave regards her as "spotty, as far as coming out with new stuff all of the time, but she's hugely core." KQAR (Q100) Little Rock, Ark., PD Ted Striker says, "She is a superstar and always will be." Kelly, however, simply declares her "over."

• Madonna: Last year, "Music" and "Don't Tell Me" put her in PDs' top three. Now, PD comments parallel those about Jackson. (In fact, Striker replied "See Janet" when asked about Madonna, and he's not the only PD who did.) "Proven success," Padden says. "Her catalog is timeless. Listeners young and old respond favorably," Lowe says. "Can't wait for the next project," Mise adds. But KQKQ (Sweet 98) Omaha, Neb., PD Tommy Austin worries that her singles are "starting to

MONITOR PROFILE

WXYV Bonds With Baltimore's Listeners And Local Music

On Sept. 10, 2001, Infinity flipped WXYV Baltimore to X105.7, "blazin' at least 21 jams in a row." Everyone knows what happened on day No. 2. Despite that ominous start, PD Thea Mitchem says, "we were able to move ahead and continue with our original plans. But, like everyone else at that time, we stopped the music and started to air [owner CBS'] news . . . Later in the week, we did a town-hall meeting in conjunction with our Washington, D.C., sister stations WPGC and [modern rock] WHFS. The first week on, it was all about what the country was dealing with, so obviously our launch was not as important to people in the whole scheme of things. But within a couple of weeks, the country started to get back to normal, and the buzz really started around WXYV."

Almost a year later, Mitchem says, "we're performing well in our demo, growing the 18-34 numbers with each new book. Right now we're No. 2 18-34, behind WERQ (92Q), but we are consistently making headway. In fact, in the spring [Arbitron] we went to No. 1 18-34 in afternoon drive."

As the longtime MD at WPGC-FM in nearby D.C., Mitchem worked closely with PD and Infinity VP of programming Jay Stevens during the launch of WXYV. She was named PD of the station last November. "Having been the only station in Baltimore for so long, [WERQ] 92Q was very broad at the time," Mitchem recalls. "They could successfully play music to reach the teens and adults alike. With us in the market now, 92Q has had to focus more on their younger end, which ironically has allowed their sister station [adult R&B] WWIN-FM to benefit."

WXYV launched with a younger slant than WERQ, playing more hip-hop and fewer ballads. Mitchem says, "Since we launched, 92Q is playing less ballads than they used to. For us, it's not that I won't play ballads; I'm just very selective. Some slow songs may fit your station and some just don't. For me to play a ballad, it has to be a smash and it has to have a younger appeal. We're playing Mario's 'Braid My Hair' off the album . . . it's our second-most-requested song."

And to counter WERQ's late-night slow-jam show, Mitchem says, "weeknights at 10 p.m. we run a free-style session, where listeners can rock the mike. At 11, we air a mix show that is more underground in its music. And Friday and Saturday nights we are live from the clubs."

In fact, mix shows play a large role at WXYV, Mitchem says. "Monday to Thursday alone, we do 3 1/2 hours of mixing per day. I have mix shows at noon, then at five, nine, and 11 p.m. They range in time from a half hour to one hour each. And I have a different mixer for each show. I don't like to just keep mixers hanging on the line, then rarely use them. They know they're each going to have a time slot each week."

Another unique aspect of Baltimore, according to Mitchem, is the local music scene. "Where D.C. has go-go, Baltimore has club. But it's not the techno-house club that most people think of. It's completely unique to this city, and it's huge here . . . B Rich is more hip-hop club, but it's the closest thing to what is happening here that people across the country would be familiar with."

Mitchem says WXYV played B Rich as a local artist before he was signed to Atlantic, and "for me, that record was more viable than playing a national record at that time, because it was so hot." She cites another local record, "Shake It Shorty" by Nature's Problem, as a big record for WXYV. "They still have to compete with the national records for airplay. I do have a tight playlist, and there isn't a specific slot for local songs. But it's so popular that one song usually makes it in at any given time."

Mitchem also thinks the city demands community involvement from its radio stations and personalities, and WERQ has been good at filling that role. "But at the same time, when you are the only game in town, you can't help everybody with every problem. And Baltimore has many problems and issues to deal with, Mitchem says. "We dove in right way and have built relationships not only in the local music scene but [also] with community groups, organizations, and in many neighborhoods."

In fact, one of the main reasons Infinity decided to syndicate co-owned WVEE (V103) Atlanta morning man Frank-Ski at WXYV was his history in the Baltimore market as the former morning man at 92Q, where his community-driven morning show was a ratings winner.

But as a morning man serving two cities, Frank-Ski had some obstacles to overcome. "To make sure he was connecting back with Baltimore, we have him here several times each month. He was just here for four days, for the city's African Heritage Festival. You would think that after being gone all this time people would have forgotten about him, but it's the exact opposite. Every time he comes to town, he draws thousands to his events," Mitchem says she would rather have that than someone who's in her studio every morning but whom no one in Baltimore knows.

Mitchem is facing her first big challenge in having to find a replacement for former afternoon drive host/singer Lil' Mo, who left to have a baby and finish her next project on Elektra Records. "It will be hard to fill her shoes," Mitchem says. "Mo was a natural, and her numbers showed it. I was actually surprised at how good a jock she was. [She was] very personable, and I really didn't have to teach her anything."

The rest of her lineup features Malikha Mallette in middays—a former jock at WVEE—and DJ Bee and Mocha, who co-host On the Block at Night. Her part-timers, DJ Quicksilver and DJ Spice, are both local mixers/jocks. Having worked her way up at WPGC, Mitchem seeks to develop new talent. "I must have had about a thousand jobs at WPGC—from intern to research director to Jay's assistant to MD," Mitchem says. "I would attend the music meetings, which were open, even when I was just an intern. And I would ask Jay if I could learn Selector, even before I was in the programming department. I just loved radio, and I always let it be known what I wanted to do. I wasn't in it for the limelight. Research is probably the least-glamorous job of all at radio, yet I was ecstatic to be there. And now, not only has it helped me to become a PD, [but] what I learned in research is crucial to what I do as a PD." DANA HALL

AND WHY NOT . . . ?

As was the case last year, we noticed the tendency for some R&B and hip-hop acts—even those with a track record—not to be viewed as core by PDs. And judging from their comments this year, that's why you don't see Usher, Mary J. Blige, P. Diddy, or Jay-Z in the top 10. As for some up-and-coming acts:

• Linkin Park: PDs are certainly aware that "they don't like top 40," as Tear says (or at least don't want to be worked to top 40). "Will probably have one more top 40 single, then stay hard forever," Bryant says. But even those who don't hold a grudge, consider them unproven. Padden says, "Hip. Youthful. Core? Not yet."

• Alicia Keys: She brought consumer press, a No. 1 debut, and one of the year's biggest hits to top 40. But PDs are still waiting for her to "prove to me she has more than one song in her," Padden says, speaking for several respondents. But several feel her duet with Eve will return her to prominence.

• Shakira: Mise thinks she's "huge." Allen calls her "a musical genius," "instantly recognizable," and "sexy without trying to be." Sprague says, "She looks, acts, and gives the vibe of a superstar," but he considers her "close to core," and many PDs again felt that it was too soon to say more.

sound weird." And Kelly thinks she's "over," too.

. . . AND THE IDOLS

• 'N Sync: The group was No. 4 last year. This year, the only top five list it made unaided was that of WPST Trenton, N.J., PD Dave McKay, a staunch supporter. "Gone" and "Girlfriend" proved that this group is still a huge act," he says. "One of the few teen bands that still has life," Kidd adds. But not for Padden, who calls them an "AC act." Allen says, "Don't count these guys out just because the boy-band fire is cooling off. They know good songs, have a tremendous work ethic, and understand the value of co-opting fresh sounds and memorable collaborations." The group may no longer be core, Allen allows, but "they're just not done."

• Destiny's Child: That last year's No. 1 act isn't represented in the top 10 this year probably has something to do with being between projects. "Solid artist. Needs some new stuff," WRVW (the River) Nashville PD Rich Davis says. But McCartney says, "They definitely reached burnout with the audience between their last album and soundtrack material. They've played it smart, though, giving their audience a much-needed break. Beyoncé [Knowles'] solo album and Kelly [Rowland's] duet] with Nelly still give fans their fix while providing a fresh sound that will not tire them further. By the time they get back into the studio to record new material, we'll be ready for it." WWWQ (Q100) Atlanta PD Dylan Sprague sees them as "the last of the pure-pop generation to be hanging in. Library cuts still test well."

• Christina Aguilera: Fourteen months ago, PDs were still reluctant, after several megahits, to regard her as core. Now, a successful follow-up project is more important than ever. "All of top 40 will play her next single. You have to," Just Plain Dave says. "Has one chance to prove she's better than Britney," Bryant says. Tear adds, "Let's see: 'Fire it up, girl.'"

• Britney Spears: Just a year after "Oops . . . I Did It Again," PDs were already beating Spears up last time we asked. And now? Rice still believes in Spears. "Too many stiff in a row," Johnson responds. "I think she'll be making records until she's 40 but never live up to her early success." "Her music is no longer accepted by the audience, but she's still an important entertainment figure," says Sprague, one of several PDs who thinks Spears' greatest impact will shift to movies. And McCartney thinks that Austin Powers in Goldmember will help her current single, "Boys."

Songs ranked by number of detections. ◯ Songs showing an increase in detections over the previous week, regardless of chart movement. A song will also receive a bullet if its percentage loss in detections does not exceed the percentage of monitored station downtime for the format. A song that has been on the chart for more than 20 weeks will generally not receive a bullet, even if it registers an increase in detections. Airpower awarded to the song with the largest increase in detections. Most Airplay Adds awarded to the song registering six or more detections at the most stations for the first time this week. A song with a gain in detections over the previous week is placed first if tied with a song with a decline over the same period. When tied songs are each gaining detections or each losing detections, the song being played on more stations is placed first. Songs below the top 20 become re-entrants and are removed from the chart after 26 weeks.

Songs ranked by number of audience, computed by cross-referencing exact times of airplay with Arbitron listener data. ◯ Songs showing an increase in audience over the previous week, regardless of chart movement. A song will also receive a bullet if its percentage loss in audience does not exceed the percentage of monitored station downtime for the format. A song that has been on the chart for more than 20 weeks will generally not receive a bullet, even if it registers an increase in audience. A song with a gain in audience over the previous week is placed first if tied with a song with a decline over the same period. When tied songs are each gaining in audience or each losing in audience, the song being played on more stations is placed first. Songs become re-entrants and are removed from this chart in conjunction with the Mainstream Top 40 Airplay chart.

Songs ranked by number of detections. Songs showing an increase in detections over the previous week, regardless of chart movement. A song will also receive a bullet if its percentage loss in detections does not exceed the percentage of monitored station downtime for the format. A song that has been on the chart for more than 20 weeks will generally not receive a bullet, even if it registers an increase in detections. Airpower awarded to songs appearing in the top 20 on both the Airplay and Audience charts for the first time with increases in both detections and audience. Greatest Gainer awarded to the song with the largest increase in detections. Most Airplay Adds awarded to the song registering six or more detections at the most stations for the first time this week. A song with a gain in detections over the previous week is placed first if tied with a song with a decline over the same period. When tied songs are each gaining detections or each losing detections, the song being played on more stations is placed first. Songs below the top 20 become re-entrants and are removed from the chart after 26 weeks.

Songs ranked by number of audience, computed by cross-referencing exact times of airplay with Arbitron listener data. Songs showing an increase in audience over the previous week, regardless of chart movement. A song will also receive a bullet if its percentage loss in audience does not exceed the percentage of monitored station downtime for the format. A song that has been on the chart for more than 20 weeks will generally not receive a bullet, even if it registers an increase in audience. A song with a gain in audience the previous week is placed first if tied with a song with a decline over the same period. When tied songs are each gaining in audience or each losing in audience, the song being played on more stations is placed first. Songs become re-entrants and are removed from this chart in conjunction with the Rhythmic Top 40 Airplay chart.

Songs ranked by number of detections. ○ Songs showing an increase in detections over the previous week, regardless of chart movement. A song will also receive a bullet if its percentage loss in detections does not exceed the percentage of monitored station downtime for the format. A song that has been on the chart for more than 20 weeks will generally not receive a bullet, even if it registers an increase in detections. Airpower awarded to songs appearing in the top 20 on both the Airplay and Audience charts for the first time with increases in both detections and audience. Greatest Gainer awarded to the song with the largest increase in detections. Most Airplay Adds awarded to the song registering six or more detections at the most stations for the first time this week. A song with a gain in detections over the previous week is placed first if tied with a song with a decline over the same period. When tied songs are each gaining detections or each losing detections, the song being played on more stations is placed first. Songs below the top 20 become recurrences and are removed from this chart after 26 weeks.

Songs ranked by number of audience, computed by cross-referencing exact times of airplay with Arbitron listener data. ○ Songs showing an increase in audience over the previous week, regardless of chart movement. A song will also receive a bullet if its percentage loss in audience does not exceed the percentage of monitored station downtime for the format. A song that has been on the chart for more than 20 weeks will generally not receive a bullet, even if it registers an increase in audience. A song with a gain in audience over the previous week is placed first if tied with a song with a decline over the same period. When tied songs are each gaining in audience or each losing in audience, the song being played on more stations is placed first. Songs become recurrences and are removed from this chart in conjunction with the Crossover Airplay chart.

Songs ranked by number of detections. ○ Songs showing an increase in detections over the previous week, regardless of chart movement. A song will also receive a bullet if its percentage loss in detections does not exceed the percentage of monitored station downtime for the format. A song that has been on the chart for more than 20 weeks will generally not receive a bullet, even if it registers an increase in detections. Airpower awarded to songs appearing in the top 20 on both the Airplay and Audience charts for the first time with increases in both detections and audience. Greatest Gainer awarded to the song with the largest increase in detections. Most Airplay Adds awarded to the song registering six or more detections at the most stations for the first time this week. A song with a gain in detections over the previous week is placed first if tied with a song with a decline over the same period. When tied songs are each gaining detections or each losing detections, the song being played on more stations is placed first. Songs below the top 15 become recurrents and are removed from the chart after 26 weeks.

Songs ranked by number of audience, computed by cross-referencing exact times of airplay with Arbitron listener data. ○ Songs showing an increase in audience over the previous week, regardless of chart movement. A song will also receive a bullet if its percentage loss in audience does not exceed the percentage of monitored station downtime for the format. A song that has been on the chart for more than 20 weeks will generally not receive a bullet, even if it registers an increase in audience. A song with a gain in audience over the previous week is placed first if tied with a song with a decline over the same period. When tied songs are each gaining in audience or each losing in audience, the song being played on more stations is placed first. Songs become recurrents and are removed from this chart in conjunction with the Adult Top 40 Airplay chart.

Songs ranked by number of detections. () Songs showing an increase in detections over the previous week, regardless of chart movement. A song will also receive a bullet if its percentage loss in detections does not exceed the percentage of monitored station downtime for the format. A song that has been on the chart for more than 20 weeks will generally not receive a bullet, even if it registers an increase in detections. Airpower awarded to songs appearing in the top 20 on both the Airplay and Audience charts for the first time with increases in both detections and audience. Greatest Gainer awarded to the song with the largest increase in detections. Most Airplay Adds awarded to the song registering six or more detections at the most stations for the first time this week. A song with a gain in detections over the previous week is placed first if tied with a song with a decline over the same period. When tied songs are each gaining detections or each losing detections, the song being played on more stations is placed first. Songs below the top 15 become recurrences and are removed from the chart after 26 weeks.
