What Christian AC Means For AC, AT40

■ by Sean Ross

Is Christian AC fishing in AC and adult top 40's audience pools? That format, once confined to noncommercial or marginal FMs in most markets, has spawned a number of viable players in recent years. But PDs at those stations' secular counterparts are divided as to whether those stations are taking shares from AC radio or targeting listeners without an interest in secular radio.

Stations that are produced and presented like AC outlets that just happen to play Christian music aren't a new phenomenon. The format already has such heritage outlets as KLTY Dallas, which has survived numerous frequency changes to post a 3.9 share 12-plus this summer, which would make it the market's No. 1 AC, and KXOJ-FM Tulsa, Okla., whose 4.3 share puts it in a close race with adult top 40 KRAV (4.6) and AC KBEZ (4.5).

Further proof of the format's legitimacy came last year when Clear Channel targeted KXOJ by switching one of its signals to Christian AC (that station has since gone rhythmic top 40). The format also got a boost from Salem Communications' launch of Christian ACs, branded as "the Fish," in several cities, including Atlanta; Portland, Ore.; Chicago; and Cleveland, where WFHM (pictured) was tied in the spring Akron, Ohio, book with adult top 40 WKDD, although the latter led in summer. And in Birmingham, Ala., WDJC was up 5.2-5.7 in summer and leading ACs WYSF (5.3) and WMJJ (3.9).

Musically, Christian ACs sound more like AC than adult top 40. Their rotations tend to be closer to the former, with top spins in the 30-per-week range. But presentationally, their production and energy level are constantly increasing.

WCVO Columbus, Ohio, has gradually grown to a 2 share 12-plus since dropping its ministry programs and modernizing its music several years

Recent Violence Draws Feds' Attention

The New York Post reports that following the Oct. 30 murder of Run-D.M.C.'s Jason "Jam Master Jay" Mizell, federal investigators are looking at several murders, assaults, and extortion attempts in the hip-hop world that may be related, also including the killing of rap promoter Kenneth Walker several days later. The Post cites a source as saying, "The U.S. Attorney's Office in Manhattan has been weighing possible criminal-conspiracy charges against unnamed targets in the rap world for more than a year."

Following another shooting incident, WAJZ (96.3 Jamz) Albany, N.Y., night jock DJ Biz (aka Irving Bynum) is recuperating after being shot four times and slashed in the face, allegedly by a rival club jock, Aristelle Thomas. According to the Times Union, Bynum and Thomas clashed earlier this year at a club, when a friend of Bynum's allegedly slashed Thomas with a box cutter and was subsequently arrested.

HOW KPWR DISCLOSED SHEIST TIES

Several weeks ago, the Los Angeles Times reported that KPWR (Power 106) Los Angeles agreed to disclose the connection between Emmis, APD Damien Young, and MCA rapper Shade Sheist. Young produced Sheist's current project on the Baby Ree imprint, in which Emmis has an interest. While VP of programming Jimmy Steal emphasizes that Young had actually been on the air even before the project was released and well before the Times article to talk about his connection to Sheist, the station has now started running spots for the album that feature the language, "Baby Ree is a division of Emmis Radio, and Shade Sheist is a Baby Ree artist." The ads are heard in regular stopsets. This week, Steal reports, Sheist's "Wake Up" is No. 3 in callout and No. 1 with PIs.

WJLB 'FINDS ITSELF' IN EMINEM FILM

When Eminem's major-film debut 8 Mile opens this weekend, you'll see both WJLB Detroit and night jock Bushman represented. The Detroit Free-Press says the film's portrayal of airplay on WJLB as the holy grail for local rappers goes back to the result of a seven-year relationship between Eminem and the station that began when the then-unknown rapper really did come to Bushman looking for airplay. A similar quest for airplay on WQHT (Hot 97) New York figures in to the new hip-hop-themed film Brown Sugar.

MANAGEMENT

NextMedia picks up the five-station Wilks/Saginaw, Mich., cluster that was previously set to go to Citadel. The cluster includes adult top 40 WTCF. Meanwhile, at NextMedia's WERO/WRNS Greenville, N.C., VP/GM Ken Salyer exits, replaced by GSM Dale Powers.

At Archway's newly acquired KHTE/KLEC Little Rock, Ark., GSM Ray Daugherty is named market manager. PD Larry LeBlanc exits for Citadel/Baton Rouge, La.

FORMATS: HOME OFFICE NOW SUPPLYING MORE THAN TOP 10 LIST

On Nov. 11, 15 Infinity stations will begin simulcasting sister CBS-TV's Late Show With David Letterman. While some of the stations with which Letterman is making his return to radio are N/T outlets, including WNEW New York, they also include adult top 40 KAMX (Mix 94.7) Austin, Texas, and new top 40 convert KVSF (Y101) Fresno, Calif.

'80s gold WZRI (Z100) Providence, R.I., moves to the nearby Citadel/New Bedford, Mass., cluster under OM Jim Reitz, also the PD of top 40 WFHN, and switches to heritage rock as WKKB.

With the sale of the Simmons/Albuquerque, N.M., cluster to Hispanic Broadcasting, soft AC KOSZ segues to a top 40 Spanish format.

New top 40 outlet KHIX (Mix 96.7) Elko, Nev., debuts under veteran programmer Joe Dawson.

PROGRAMMING: FLY ROBBINS FLY

Clear Channel/Charleston, S.C., OM Jon Robbins is upped to regional VP of programming. Robbins has been handling PD duties for adult top 40 WALC. He's now looking to hire a PD/afternoon host.

WSTO Evansville, Ind., morning man Jim Shea returns to programming as PD/morning host of new AC outlet WYLT (Lite Rock 103.9) Fort Wayne, Ind. . . . PD Rich Michaels exits WDDJ (Electric 96.9) Paducah, Ky.

Trent Erickson is the new PD of suburban Chicago adult top 40 WXLC. Erickson, previously with rock sister WIL, replaces DiDi Bingham.

WBXW Pulaski, Va., PD Jack Douglas exits the adult top 40, album rock WBRW/WBWR, and country WPSK. He may be reached at 540-633-5885.

Premiere Radio Networks discontinues programs and prep services, including Rhythm Top 30 Countdown and American Top 40 Flashback. Approximately 100 staffers exit.

PEOPLE: WELCOME TO ATLANTA (RADIO)

Producer/artist Jermaine Dupri becomes the host of a Saturday-night show, So So Def Radio, on R&B/hip-hop WVEE (V103) Atlanta. The one-hour show will air at 9 p.m.

WQHT (Hot 97) New York fills its long-vacant MD position with KXJM Portland, Ore., morning man Ibrahim "E-Bro" Jamile Darden.

Meanwhile, Hot 97 p.m. driver/Elektra artist Angie Martinez stepped down as a judge for TV show American Idol after only three days. Martinez was reportedly uncomfortable with giving contestants negative feedback. And former WQHT morning co-host missjones will be the new morning anchor on WPHI Philadelphia.

Look for KUBE Seattle to promote music coordinator Karen Wild to MD. She replaces Julie Pilat, now headed to KIIS Los Angeles.

He hasn't been there long, but WXSS (Kiss 103.7) Milwaukee night jock Zannie K. opts to leave broadcasting.

At WSTR (Star 94) Atlanta, APD/MD J.R. Ammons becomes APD/promotions director. Kevin Steele exits middays, replaced by night jock Tripp West.

KRBV (Wild 100) Dallas shuffles its lineup. Fitz moves from nights to mornings, sending Alex Valentine to afternoons and Billy the Kid to nights.

WBBM-FM (B96) Chicago night jock Jumpin' Julian Perez exits after seven years. At crosstown WKIE (Energy 92), promotion director Toni Raddi exits, just ahead of the Nov. 4 news that owner Big City Radio is putting its stations up for auction.

Scott Tyler may be leaving KZHT Salt Lake City for afternoons at WKSC Chicago, but he'll still be heard on his old station in middays, via voice-tracking. He replaces the voice-tracked Corinna.

WPYO (95.3 Party) Orlando, Fla., interim MD Jill Strada is now official in that role.

KFMS Las Vegas taps Athena Matsikas from KVSF Fresno's former staff as morning co-host. She replaces Nikki.

Recently arrived morning man Big Moon now adds MD stripes at R&B/hip-hop WKPO (Hot 105.9) Madison, Wis. . . . After three years of P/T work, Ron Medeiros is upped to

For Rhythmic, It's Dancehall Days

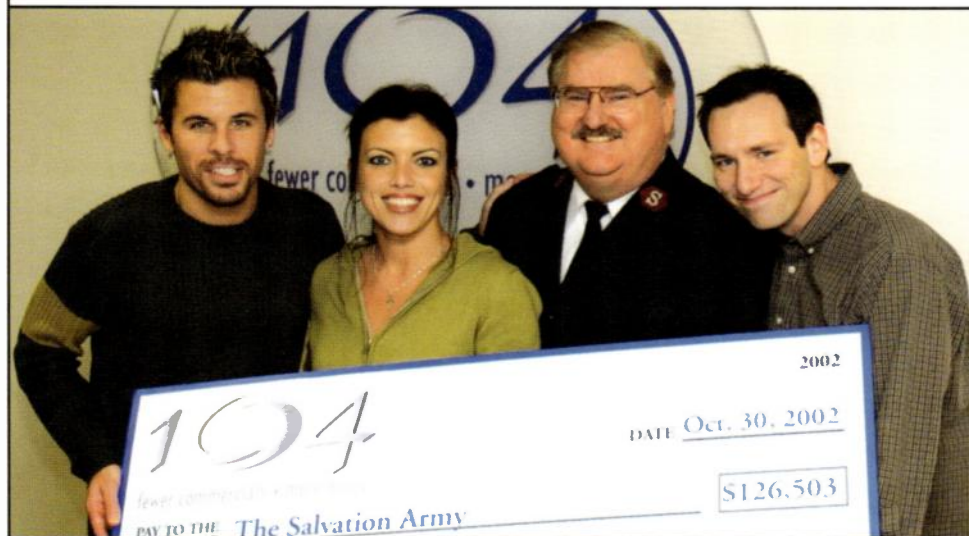

Depending on how you view the pairing of No Doubt and Bounty Killer earlier this year on "Hey Baby," Sean Paul's "Gimme the Light" (VP/Atlantic) becomes either the first or second reggae record to go top 10 at rhythmic this year. Meanwhile, No Doubt's "Underneath It All" (Interscope) is now the band's second-biggest hit to date at mainstream top 40, adult top 40, and modern AC. The track spends a third week on top at mainstream top 40.

John Mayer's "Your Body Is a Wonderland" (Columbia/Aware) becomes the second single of the year to hit No. 1 in modern AC audience impressions, but not detections. The other was "Hands Clean" by Alanis Morissette, which peaked at No. 1 in audience and No. 2 in spins. This week Mayer moves 5-4 on the modern AC chart, 5-5 at adult top 40, and 33-31 at mainstream top 40.

After a three-year absence, Shania Twain returns to the AC charts with "I'm Gonna Getcha Good!" (Mercury/IDJMG). Twain's first appearance at AC was "You're Still the One," which spent eight weeks at No. 1 and 81 weeks on the chart, starting in February 1998. "From This Moment On" also made it to No. 1 that year. Her last single, "Man! I Feel Like a Woman!," peaked at No. 16 in December 1999.

Jennifer Lopez scores her eighth top 10 hit at mainstream top 40 with "Jenny From the Block" (Epic). Of Lopez's nine charted singles, only April 2000's "Feelin' So Good" missed the top 10.

Restoring Hope

WWZZ (More Music 104) Washington, D.C., broke format for 24 hours with a Request-a-Thon to benefit families of the D.C.-area sniper's victims. The entirety of the $126,503 raised will be equally divided and distributed by the Salvation Army to the 13 families. Pictured, from left, are morning producer J.C. Fernandez, morning co-host Erin, the Salvation Army's Major Smith, and morning co-host Dylan.

nights at WPRO-FM Providence, R.I., replacing Nappy.

Amy Paige is new to nights at adult top 40 WRQX (Mix 107.3) Washington, D.C., replacing Jason Pullman. She was P/T at country rival WMZQ . . . WAKS Cleveland's Kasper adds night duties on WDCG (G105) Raleigh, N.C., replacing Billy Breeze.

At KRQQ Tucson, Ariz., new OM Steve King is now official in middays, while Cricket returns to the station for overnights. She replaces Chris P., who is now doing late nights.

P/T Greg Sage moves to overnights at KMXV (Mix 93.3) Kansas City, replacing Greg the Phone Jammer, now on the morning team at KKRD Wichita, Kan.

WKTU New York mixer DJ Riddler adds a nightly mix on WQXS (Star 93.7) Boston.

WKCI (KC101) New Haven, Conn., picks up new P/T Dave Fisch from adult top 40 WXLO Worcester, Mass.

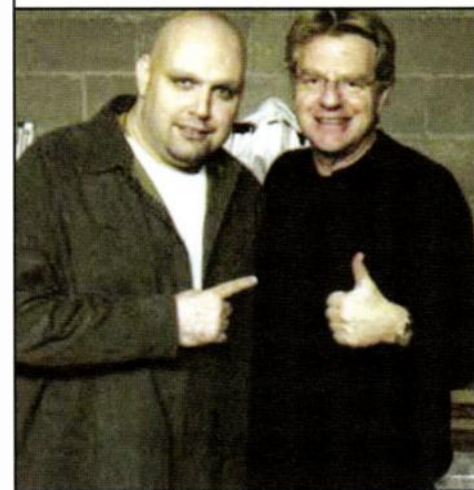

Rhythmic top 40 KDON Monterey, Calif., p.m. driver Chubby Lopez exits.

Very sorry to report the Nov. 3 cancer death of Dr. Michael Rice, father of Cox format coordinator and WBLI Long Island, N.Y., PD J.J. Rice.

RADIO DISNEY (PARTNER) HAS BALLS

Usually when top 40 or AC PDs talk about their target listener, the term "soccer mom" comes up at some point. Now, ABC's children's top 40 network Radio Disney takes it a step further, striking a promotional alliance with the American Youth

Meanwhile, ABC Radio president John Hare will be the honoree in the John Bayliss Broadcast Foundation's annual roast, to be held March 13, 2003, in New York.

Why Hasn't T40 Worked In San Francisco?

I've spent two weekends in San Francisco since Memorial Day, and each of them has been, from a radio standpoint at least, a reminder of what it used to be like on road trips in the early '90s. Without a mainstream top 40 in the market, you find yourself piecing together the hits from seven different radio stations: rhythmic KYLD (Wild 94.9), R&B KMEL, adult top 40s KLLC (Alice 97.3) and KIOI (Star 101), dance KPTI, modern KITS (Live 105), and rhythmic AC KKVV, whose currents include the new Blu Cantrell and Peter Gabriel singles and whose gold is even more eclectic.

Even with those choices, you have to drive north and hear KSSY (Hot 98.7) Santa Rosa, Calif., now billing itself as "the Bay Area's only hit music station" to hear "Sk8er Boi" or "A Moment Like This" with any frequency. The records that are ubiquitous in most markets are less so here. Instead, the radio at the hotel gift shop is playing "I Got 5 on It" by Luniz, and you can only narrow the stations that would be playing that record down to two.

San Francisco is a market where no FM top 40 has ever been more than momentarily viable. One of the last great AM rockers, KFRC, remained viable until "Hot Hits" KITS showed up as a top 40 in 1983. That station did well enough to loosen KFRC's hold on the format, but a year later, KMEL's switch from rock to top 40 set off a war of attrition that ended with KMEL evolving into rhythmic and KITS going modern. In the late '80s/early '90s, KXXX (X100) lasted about two years before evolving into adult top 40, then going oldies. A decade later, KZQZ (Z95.7) stayed around a little longer but eventually underwent the same transition.

Top 40 wasn't an unqualified success in San Francisco during the Duran Duran/Michael Jackson/Cyndi Lauper/Rick Springfield/Prince mid-'80s heyday of the format. Same goes for the Spice Girls/Backstreet Boys/'N Sync era when top 40 was golden everywhere else. When Z95.7 relinquished the format in May, it only further bolstered KMEL/KYLD/KIOI OM Michael Martin's long-held contention that mainstream top 40, as practiced elsewhere, had no place in the market. KPTI could have gone top 40, but it chose dance instead. KKVV could have gone top 40, but it held on to its eclectic format, despite controlling only a 1 share. Clearly, this was a market where no one believed in top 40.

So why hasn't top 40 worked in San Francisco? Is it because no one likes a wide variety of music? That wasn't the case in the early to mid-'90s, when KMEL, during its first rhythmic heyday, could get away with throwing Nirvana or Green Day into the mix. San Francisco is one of the most famously cosmopolitan cities in America, so variety ought to be a good thing.

Is it because R&B/hip-hop is the only true youth culture in the Bay Area? There's certainly no denying San Fran's legacy as a longtime hip-hop hotbed. (My college sophomore second cousin, Nathaniel, is known to his buddies as "Nate Dogg" and has interned at a local rap label.) Then again, hip-hop and R&B are no less arguably the mass-appeal music of New York, and that hasn't stopped WHTZ (Z100) from being successful. Los Angeles has market-leading hip-hop KPWR, and that hasn't kept KIIS from being viable.

Does pop/alternative music, the music that might differentiate a mainstream top 40 from Wild 94.9, mean nothing in San Francisco? Between them Alice and Star 101 control more than 4 1/2 shares of listening and did so even before Z95.7's departure.

Is a traditional top 40 presentation just too corny for a market that keeps it real? Maybe now it is, but in the late '70s/early '80s doldrums, when most top 40 stations were trying to sound as conversational as possible, KFRC had jingles, big-voice production, and an airstaff that was innovative but also came very much out of the '70s jock tradition of big voices and great writing. KFRC wasn't anti-radio—it was defining old school with the best of all that implies.

So why didn't Z95.7 achieve traction? Maybe because it went through several distinct phases in its relatively brief life. Or because the last of those—being fast on pop/alternative with almost no hip-hop—is the one thing that can be definitely expected not to work for a top 40 in San Francisco. And while it's hard to know whether the station's "family-friendly" music policy really came from station staff or owner Bonneville, not being able to play all the hits is a disadvantage for any top 40.

Martin, John Peake, Sean Demery, Brian Thomas, Bill Tanner, and Don Kelly are all very smart programmers, and, so far, they've all decided that the way to go in the Bay Area is to do something other than mainstream top 40. KYLD is an undeniable force in the market. KMEL and KITS are both newly revitalized. But I can still think of at least three radio stations in San Francisco that I'd switch to mainstream top 40 tomorrow.

A successful top 40 in the Bay Area would acknowledge the rhythmic lean of the market, but it wouldn't be limited by it. The presentation would be as intelligent as the city, but it would still be big-time radio in a way that no one since KFRC has really achieved. (KMEL was a bigger-than-life radio station a decade ago, but its presentation was deliberately low-key.)

San Francisco is a special market, but in the early '90s, it wasn't much different from half the other major markets in America where top 40 was no longer supposed to be viable. By 1997-1998, most markets had a mainstream top 40 that silenced the critics for a while. Now, some of those stations have, indeed, receded to mid-pack. But WIOQ (Q102) Philadelphia has very much held its place in the market. KHTS San Diego has found its place at No. 1. Those stations didn't back away from the challenge the format represented in their markets. So there's no reason someone in the Bay Area shouldn't step up again.

ago. At AC rival WSNY, PD Chuck Knight says that station "is on our radar screen from the perspective that it grabs a 3.9 share of 25-54 women. Three years ago, that 3.9 share wasn't occupied by a contemporary Christian station."

At WKDD, PD Keith Kennedy says he definitely views WFHM as "an AC rival. To ignore them would be ridiculous." Programmed by AC veteran Sue Wilson, WFHM is characterized by Kennedy as "a very well-programmed radio station... I've heard some other contemporary Christian stations, and this one sounds very polished. They're not in your face. They're not showing Christianity down your throat. They sound like an AC and a very good one [at that]."

"It sounds corny to say this," Kennedy continues, "but a big part of their success is that they came on at the right time, having debuted a few months before Sept. 11 last year."

In Portland, Ore., KFIS hasn't had the same ratings impact. But even at market-leading AC KKCW (K103), PD Bill Minckler says the station "shares significantly with K103. They have only been on the air for one year and have done an excellent job launching the format and marketing themselves on television. They also hired the former KKSX-FM oldies morning show, so they're doing it up big time."

He continues, "Overall, the contemporary Christian format has many similarities to mainstream AC: positive messages in the music, family-friendly, good for at-work listening. They are viable competitors. We take them very seriously."

So does Zapoleon Media Strategies consultant Lorin Palagi, who sees the format "clearly growing" and calls it "very user-friendly for both traditional and nontraditional Christian listeners, because it's just good AC radio."

NOT AC CONVERTS

For his part, consultant Dan Vallie, who helped design the Fish format for Salem, says its listeners "come from a lot of different stations and formats and not one in particular. There are a lot of disenfranchised radio listeners that were not listening to secular radio or listening very little."

And the majority of PDs we spoke with see the Christian AC audience as something more separate. KRAV PD Steve Hunter says, "KXOJ is a very good radio station. We do share audience with them, but there are obviously the people who exclusively listen to Christian stations and those who do not. There is not much you can do to sway someone over to secular if that isn't their preference. We share more with our country sister KWEN and soft AC KBEZ."

KVIL Dallas PD Kurt Johnson says that KLTY "does not attract a great percentage of KVIL's audience. KLTY is our 12th-ranked sharing station. We share only 7% of our audience with them, while they share upwards of 21% with KVIL, so I take more than I give. And at 7%, it's not an audience I would strategize to attract... Their PIs have deliberately chosen to stay away from secular radio."

Across town, adult top 40 KDMX (Mix 102.9) PD Pat McMahon has a similar take on the exclusivity of KLTY's cume. That station "certainly impacts us, as far as where we show in the overall ranking, but in terms of shared audience and programming strategies, they are on their own product hill, relative to the other ACs in our market. In that regard, they function much like smooth jazz, but with less cume sharing among general-market stations."

"Mostly these stations fill an unfilled appetite among people who just listen to CDs and tapes and pretty much avoid commercial radio," veteran AC programmer Jack Taddeo says. "There may be an audience there in certain markets, but non-Bible Belt markets are tougher for them to

MONITOR PROFILE

A Once-Dominant KTFM Seeks A Return To The Top Of San Antonio

"During the 14 months I've been here, the station has really gone through a lot of twists and turns and been thrown a lot of curves," KTFM San Antonio PD Mark Jackson says. Specifically, there has been the sale from a local owner to Infinity, a fierce four-way top 40 battle, the loss of a heritage morning show, and several format modifications. Now, in the summer Arbitron, Jackson is happily looking over a station that's coming back into its own, up 4.0-4.4.

Once a dominant rhythmic top 40, KTFM found itself eroded by the arrival of mainstream KXXM (Mix 96.1) and devastated by R&B/hip-hop-driven KBBT (the Beat). By the time Jackson arrived, KTFM had realigned itself with consultant Jerry Clifton, a key figure in the station's early history. "We really began to look at what had gone on with the station and how the station's image had been pretty tarnished by the new-found competition on both sides," Jackson says. About the only thing it had going was morning man Drex.

In August 2001, Jackson and Clifton went straight after KBBT as Wild 102.7. "It was essentially an all-mix format," Jackson says. "Jerry was doing the same thing in Memphis at this time. Outside of the morning show, all of the music was mixed live; it was a pretty extreme interpretation of rhythm." But KBBT already owned the hip-hop hill, and it became clear that "we could make some in-roads, but it was going to be difficult for anybody to win."

Then Waterman Broadcasting sold KTFM to Infinity. "With Infinity paying a rather princely sum for the station, there was a feeling at the time of, 'Let's see what's going on with it and let's try to fix it.'" Infinity started pouring resources into KTFM in a way Jackson had not seen during his time there. "The station hadn't done any substantial piece of research in several years, really hadn't done much marketing. It was a big station that had been No. 1 [in ratings] and No. 1 in revenue in the market," Jackson says. "Not to say that it was coasting, but there wasn't that much reinvestment into the product."

Infinity's Bill Figenshu "really rolled up his sleeves and came down here and... said, 'We need to really take a look at the market and figure out where we need to go with this radio station, as opposed to just trying to shoot from the hip,'" which, Jackson says, was the kind of attention the station had long needed.

Steve Rivers replaced Clifton as consultant, and KTFM went back to using its heritage call letters. The goal was to not be nostalgic for its stationality of old but to "better represent what the call letters had stood for in the past," Jackson says, "which was essentially the hit-music position for the San Antonio marketplace." The music became mainstream top 40 "with a decided Hispanic lean, the market being well over 50% Hispanic."

With so many twists and turns during the previous year, Jackson admits that "there had been a huge amount of damage done." Cox had segued Jammin' Oldies KCJZ to a dance-leaning rhythmic top 40, while KXXM had evolved its pop/rock lean to go more mainstream. "We did a lot of outside marketing—television, outdoor—at that particular time to try to get some people to gravitate back to the station, because we knew that would be a battle. We were really trying to do two things. The message we were trying to sell was, 'Hey, this is the heritage destination point in the market, and it's back.' And secondly, 'We're not dealing with that thug stuff,' which was something that we had found coming up in verbatims and seemed to be a powerful message to tap into in terms of disassociating from Wild.

"The intent of the station was to maintain the Drex morning show," Jackson continues, "which had always been a top two or three show and previously the No. 1 show in the market for a number of years." Then Drex's contract was up, and KXXM owner Clear Channel lured him away to WKSC Chicago.

At first, Jackson did what any good PD would do: roll out the nationwide search. Then he realized that "people are born and live their entire lives here and they never leave and they don't even go someplace on vacation," he says. "And so bringing in 'the big show' from another market doesn't seem to have the impact that it would [elsewhere]."

Instead, Jackson reached out for former night jock Joey D, then at sister KRBV Dallas. "This guy that had a 42 share of teens [for a while]—those people are now our 18-34s. Let's do that, as opposed to bringing in 'the big show.' It just made a lot more sense and allowed us to do some things, like reinstate a music image in mornings."

That's because as valuable as Drex's heritage was, his show on KTFM was "a full-blown talk show," Jackson says. "You have four radio stations in the top 40 genre"—which, despite their different leans—"at any given second could be playing a Nelly record."

He continues, "[KTFM] had a highly rated daypart, but without a music image, you had people listen to that and then they didn't listen to the rest of the station, and therefore they didn't have a music image of the radio station. That's a tough thing to overcome when all of a sudden you have three other players in the market that are music-intensive and then you don't have the music image. This allowed us to inject music back into the flow of things and allow for a more cohesive nature between dayparts."

impact, especially if there is a focused, female- and family-friendly AC."

And in Chicago, where WZFS hovers around a 1-share, WLIT/WNUA OM Bob Kaake says, "The Fish has not been much of a competitive factor for us here in Chicago. They are not one of our top sharing stations, although we do impact them a bit more, since 10% of their audience comes to us. That may be the Delilah factor and because we're a pretty family-friendly station, too, playing familiar songs to their audience."

And what about Delilah? The syndicated night icon likes to spike Christian music and promises to pray for listeners. While you would think that she might be fostering more traffic between the two formats, Johnson says, "Although Delilah openly professes her faith, that is only one hue on the palette of a very colorful show."

LITTLE MUSICAL SHARING

While there have been more acts on AC and adult top 40 in recent years with a spiritual bent, particularly Creed and Lifehouse, there's not much musical sharing between the formats, although some secular stations have Sunday-morning programs like WPCB Atlanta's 30-year tradition, Sounds of Faith.

Vallie thinks it would be hard for AC to acknowledge Christian AC's music. "The strongest of the music is blatant Christian with much of the content referring to Jesus Christ." He also uses the smooth jazz analogy: "Just because the jazz station does well doesn't mean you start adding jazz cuts to your station."

Knight says that WCVO's cume isn't large enough to influence his decisions. And Kennedy says, "If Jars of Clay came out with a hit tomorrow, we would look at it, but our phones aren't lighting up with requests for Jaci Velasquez."

But Palagi says that at least in those markets where Christian AC is a real player, "you should test the cream of the cream of the crop to see if they have compatibility with your audience."

Then there's the issue of going to an all-holiday music format. It was a common practice for Christian stations long before the recent rush by AC stations to do the same. "Christmas music is a plus for a competing AC, and it helps position the station as at least having some conscience and sensitivity to the Christian holiday," Taddeo says. But for most PDs, the Christmas-music issue goes beyond whether there's a Christian competitor. "We look for Christmas programming to be big for us again this year," Kaake says, "but the listeners come in from everywhere."

FAMILY-FRIENDLY

One way an AC or adult top 40 can take a

Christian AC rival into account, however, is "to take the family-friendly position and really embrace it, not just say it," Taddeo says. "You can't have an angry morning show with either a male or female host talking about dicey subjects and then turn and claim you're safe for the whole family, although plenty of ACs run by guys are doing just that as we speak."

Knight notes that "most of these contemporary Christian stations are relatively new. We're selling a 20-year track record of being family-friendly. All of us need to shore up our defenses and remind people what we've stood for, for over 20 years."

"I would play up the family-friendly aspects of KVIL with or without KLTY down the dial," Johnson says. "It's just good practice for an AC station; it's what the listeners expect from us. We're vigorous in screening commercial content, the songs are obviously chosen for appeal and familiarity to women, and our personalities and promotions speak to the lifestyle of our listeners, many of whom are Christian."

"The difference is that KLTY's listeners choose the station primarily because it is Christian," Johnson continues. "Our listeners choose KVIL because of many benefits, just one of which is the underlying Christian sensibilities in our programming—honesty, clean song lyrics, family-safe content, and positive values."

Songs ranked by number of detections. () Songs showing an increase in detections over the previous week, regardless of chart movement. A song will also receive a bullet if its percentage loss in detections does not exceed the percentage of monitored station downtime for the format. A song that has been on the chart for more than 20 weeks will generally not receive a bullet, even if it registers an increase in detections. Airpower awarded to songs appearing in the top 20 on both the Airplay and Audience charts for the first time with increases in both detections and audience. Greatest Gainer awarded to the song with the largest increase in detections. Most Airplay Adds awarded to the song registering six or more detections at the most stations for the first time this week. A song with a gain in detections over the previous week is placed first if tied with a song with a decline over the same period. When tied songs are each gaining detections or each losing detections, the song being played on more stations is placed first. Songs below the top 20 become re-entrants and are removed from the chart after 26 weeks.

Songs ranked by number of audience, computed by cross-referencing exact times of airplay with Arbitron listener data. () Songs showing an increase in audience over the previous week, regardless of chart movement. A song will also receive a bullet if its percentage loss in audience does not exceed the percentage of monitored station downtime for the format. A song that has been on the chart for more than 20 weeks will generally not receive a bullet, even if it registers an increase in audience. A song with a gain in audience over the previous week is placed first if tied with a song with a decline over the same period. When tied songs are each gaining in audience or each losing in audience, the song being played on more stations is placed first. Songs become re-entrants and are removed from this chart in conjunction with the Mainstream Top 40 Airplay chart.

Songs ranked by number of detections. Songs showing an increase in detections over the previous week, regardless of chart movement. A song will also receive a bullet if its percentage loss in detections does not exceed the percentage of monitored station downtime for the format. A song that has been on the chart for more than 20 weeks will generally not receive a bullet, even if it registers an increase in detections. Airpower awarded to songs appearing in the top 20 on both the Airplay and Audience charts for the first time with increases in both detections and audience. Greatest Gainer awarded to the song with the largest increase in detections. Most Airplay Adds awarded to the song registering six or more detections at the most stations for the first time this week. A song with a gain in detections over the previous week is placed first if tied with a song with a decline over the same period. When tied songs are each gaining detections or each losing detections, the song being played on more stations is placed first. Songs below the top 20 become re-entrants and are removed from the chart after 26 weeks.

Songs ranked by number of audience, computed by cross-referencing exact times of airplay with Arbitron listener data. Songs showing an increase in audience over the previous week, regardless of chart movement. A song will also receive a bullet if its percentage loss in audience does not exceed the percentage of monitored station downtime for the format. A song that has been on the chart for more than 20 weeks will generally not receive a bullet, even if it registers an increase in audience. A song with a gain in audience over the previous week is placed first if tied with a song with a decline over the same period. When tied songs are each gaining in audience or each losing in audience, the song being played on more stations is placed first. Songs become re-entrants and are removed from this chart in conjunction with the Rhythmic Top 40 Airplay chart.

Songs ranked by number of detections. (○) Songs showing an increase in detections over the previous week, regardless of chart movement. A song will also receive a bullet if its percentage loss in detections does not exceed the percentage of monitored station downtime for the format. A song that has been on the chart for more than 20 weeks will generally not receive a bullet, even if it registers an increase in detections. Airpower awarded to songs appearing in the top 20 on both the Airplay and Audience charts for the first time with increases in both detections and audience. Greatest Gainer awarded to the song with the largest increase in detections. Most Airplay Adds awarded to the song registering six or more detections at the most stations for the first time this week. A song with a gain in detections over the previous week is placed first if tied with a song with a decline over the same period. When tied songs are each gaining detections or each losing detections, the song being played on more stations is placed first. Songs below the top 20 become recurrences and are removed from the chart after 26 weeks.

Songs ranked by number of detections. () Songs showing an increase in detections over the previous week, regardless of chart movement. A song will also receive a bullet if its percentage loss in detections does not exceed the percentage of monitored station downtime for the format. A song that has been on the chart for more than 20 weeks will generally not receive a bullet, even if it registers an increase in detections. Airpower awarded to songs appearing in the top 20 on both the Airplay and Audience charts for the first time with increases in both detections and audience. Greatest Gainer awarded to the song with the largest increase in detections. Most Airplay Adds awarded to the song registering six or more detections at the most stations for the first time this week. A song with a gain in detections over the previous week is placed first if tied with a song with a decline over the same period. When tied songs are each gaining detections or each losing detections, the song being played on more stations is placed first. Songs below the top 15 become re-entrants and are removed from the chart after 26 weeks.

Songs ranked by number of detections. ○ Songs showing an increase in detections over the previous week, regardless of chart movement. A song will also receive a bullet if its percentage loss in detections does not exceed the percentage of monitored station downtime for the format. A song that has been on the chart for more than 20 weeks will generally not receive a bullet, even if it registers an increase in detections. Airpower awarded to songs appearing in the top 20 on both the Airplay and Audience charts for the first time with increases in both detections and audience. Greatest Gainer awarded to the song with the largest increase in detections. Most Airplay Adds awarded to the song registering six or more detections at the most stations for the first time this week. A song with a gain in detections over the previous week is placed first if tied with a song with a decline over the same period. When tied songs are each gaining detections or each losing detections, the song being played on more stations is placed first. Songs below the top 15 become recurrents and are removed from the chart after 26 weeks.
