TV's Getting Tough; Voices Ain't Enough

Young Disk Artists Must Be Showmen;
GAC Uses Extensive Grooming Plan

By JUNE BUNDY

NEW YORK — It's getting tougher and tougher to book a one-best selling singles record artist today on TV unless he (or she) some visual showmanship.

As a result, an interesting book-pattern has been developed by General Artists Corporation, currently books more than per cent of the top best selling artists in the business. Out of the top 15 best selling disks this 12 were cut by GAC artists.

Ross, who books most of the young record talent, points that six months ago an artist a record in the "Top 10" was booking best for a network show, whereas today producers the exception of the Dick (telecast) just aren't interested new record artist—even those very top chart spot—unless performer is a polished showman or has some kind of visual gimmick. Night club operators, she notes, are even harder to sell on untried wax talent.

Understandable

Miss Ross opines that this is understandable, since many of today's record artists — particularly those in the rock and roll category—are almost completely unschooled as performers, and TV producers have been badly burned in the past by disk names who were utterly devoid of visual charm and savvy on camera, and sometimes didn't even have arrangements for their own best selling record hits. Most of today's young recording arts, says Miss Ross, need a "pro-ing ground" and network TV is certainly not the place to gain experience.

In line with this, GAC is stepping up its road show packaging activities, via a series of relatively small "Dance Party" units, featuring four best selling r&b artists and a dance ark. GAC puts up "money in front" for the talent, and then sells the packages to local promoters for a fee, plus a percentage.

These units, which play dances only (no concerts) at ballrooms and auditoriums, enable GAC's young disk artists to obtain invaluable experience playing in front of live audiences. At the same time they provide GAC with a helpful talent barometer for its own stable, since the agency sends people out into the field to make regular reports on each act's progress.

The units also make it possible for GAC to continue to sign new disk names (of prime importance in today's one-shot hit market) since they can keep them working on the road in the shows while they groom the most promising ones for network TV and other more demanding areas of show business. Jimmie Rodgers, Bobby Darin and Buddy Holly are among those young artists whom Miss Ross deems solid visual performers.

She considers Rodgers a prime

By BOB BERNSTEIN

NEW YORK — On September 11 the Safeway Stores in New York will kick off an interesting merchandising campaign on low-price classical LP's to retail at $1.37. These LP's will be featured on the racks of the large food chain's many stores.

The introduction of these LP's into the supermarket is being engineered by Standard Reference Works Publishing Company, a firm which has until now confined its marketing activities to books, notably the Funk & Wagnalls encyclopedias.

SRWPC has "rented tapes from a major label" and packaged 56 works by 31 composers in a set of 24 monaural LP's, which will be distributed one-a-week in a conception reminiscent of the famed New York Post plan of 20 years ago. The artists and the original label are a secret at this point.

Basic Library

"Basic Library of the World's Greatest Music" is the over-all title, with each album gracefully covered in blue and gold and including exhaustive program notes on the works, biographies, photos and editorial pieces by respected names like Deems Taylor, Sigmund Spaeth, Robert Bagar, Quaintance Eaton and the late Olin Downes. Science Lands Trio Of Punches, Knocks Out 2-Track Tape

Stereo, Then Cartridges, Finally
4-Track Machines Cause Kao

By RALPH FREAS

NEW YORK — Producers of recorded music on tape are facing up to an unpleasant fact of life. The fact: When technology advances, the old product has to suffer. In the case of recorded music on tape, technology has thrown three hard punches in less than a year. Any one of them would have been enough to knock two-track tape out of the ring. Combined, the three blasted it clear onto the cheap seats and almost out of sight.

The first blow was struck last December when the stereo disk made an appearance. A couple of months later, RCA shook things up by announcing a stereo tape magazine-load cartridge. The fuss this caused hadn't died down before some tape recorder manufacturers, with Ampex in the lead, announced their intention of producing four-track machines capable of playing stereo tapes at 3 3/4 inches per second from the familiar open reel.

Great Effects

The effect of these developments on the infant recorded tape industry was profound. Most record companies, which had been slow in getting into recorded tape anyway, pushed their tape plans aside and leaped headlong into stereophonic disk production. They did so in spite of the fact that stereo phono production was months away and in spite of the fact that virtually no one knew how the public would take to stereo sound on disks.

Tape duplicating business has slowed to a trickle. Take the case of Dubbins, Inc., one of the largest independent tape duplicators in the field. Last year at this time they had all the business they could handle making two-track stereo tapes for disk firms. This year, their business has dropped to 5 per cent of what it was last August. One of the major record companies that has been active in duplicating tapes for independent labels reports a similar situation. The blank tape firms that supply these duplicators say that sales have dropped away to nothing.

Livingston Audio Products, distributor of recorded tapes under their own label as well as the products of other record firms, recently reported that they estimate their lost sales for the year at over $1,000,000. And they emphasize that these losses are estimated without allowing for any growth this year.

Livingston rightly points out that the bearish circumstances existing

Tape VP Says, RCA, Go Home

NEW YORK—A veepie from a large tape recorder firm got off a remark during a recent trip here that may sum up what many firms like this think about the RCA Victor tape cartridge. The exec was inclined to blame RCA for contributing to some confusion that exists in the recorded tape field by announcing their radical new way to play tapes.

Said the veepie: "I devoutly wish that color TV would suddenly take off, and that the public would start buying color sets by the thousands. Then, maybe, RCA would get out of the tape business and get back in their own back yard."

Stereo Broadcasts Into High; WDSU Full Speed Ahead

NEW YORK — Stereo broadcasts, which have been steadily rolling along for the last year, picked up considerable speed last month as a result of increased emphasis by manufacturers and dealers on the new stereo disk product and stereo phones.

A prime case in point was the stereo promotion last week set up by WDSU, New Orleans, the Music Shop (a record-phone store there) and London Records. Results on the promotion were so satisfactory that WDSU programming Director Jim Dushar has decided to program all future WDSU packages "good" segs. In AM-FM stereo. Present plans call for only the station's two-hour afternoon air, "Top 40" show to remain monaural, while the rest of WDSU's programming will feature stereo disks only.

The promotion was keyed by an official proclamation by the mayor of "Stereophonic Week" in New Orleans. The Music Shop also originated Bill Barry's "Top 40" (monaural) afternoon show from the store during the year. Stereo broadcasting facilities of WDSU were duplicated at the store, and the public was invited to attend the demonstrations, via a series of radio spots and a heavy advertising schedule by the Music Shop in local newspapers.

The Music Shop closed each evening at its normal time and reopened at 9:30 p.m. to admit

Weston Comes Home to Cap

HOLLYWOOD — After an absence of eight years, Paul Weston this week returns home to the Capitol label. Weston first joined Capitol in 1943 as an artist during the company's early days. A year later he became the fledgling label's musical director and one of its artist and repertoire execs. He served the firm in those capacities for six years. During that period, Weston created the "mood music" style which made his "Music for . . ." series of albums among the top sellers in the industry during a period when pop packages were overshadowed by the weight of the singles business.

Weston moved to Columbia Records in 1950 where he operated similarly in the dual capacity as

August Biggest In ABC-Para Labels' Sales

NEW YORK — August was the biggest sales month in the history of ABC-Paramount, according to the label's presy Sam Clark, who said he expects gross sales to exceed $1,000,000 for that period.

The recent sales figure includes ABC-Par's profits from distribution of Chanceller, Aunt and Colonial disks. An-Par currently has three records in the Top 10 best sellers on The Billboard's charts, including the No. 2 disk, "Little Star" by Bergans on Art (An-Par subsidiary label). Franki Avalon's "Ginger Bread" (No. 11) on Chanceller, and the Four Tops' "Born Too Late," No. 14.

Columbia Issues Guide to Stereo

NEW YORK — Columbia Records is issuing a guide to stereo music records called "Listening in Depth," and subtitled "An Introduction to Columbia Stereophonic Sound." The LP record is packaged in a box and contains in addition to the disk a 12-page booklet with an introduction by Goodall Lieberberg, head of Columbia and a technical piece by Columbia's engineering director, Bill Bachman.

The record contains stereo selections from the label's classical, popular and jazz releases, featuring the Philadelphia Orchestra, the New York Philharmonic, Duke Ellington, Kirby Stone, Polly Bergen, F. Power Biggs, etc. There is also a track called "Sounds in Motion," and another titled "Columbia Speaker Balancing Test."

Lieberberg's introduction talks about the new dimension of music brought to the listener by stereo sound, and mentions that the "effect" of stereo are momentary and the real value of stereo sound is in the experience of the music. Bachman's piece is a longer essay, dealing with the technical aspects of stereo sound in terms that the layman can easily understand. The package retails for $3.50.

der the guiding hand of Jim Conkling, president of the W.B. disk firm.

Future releases are expected to follow a schedule of a dozen albums per line every three to four weeks, plus singles. Each package will be issued in both monaural and stereo in future releases as well.

Albums will be priced at $2.98 when the catalog number is preceded by a "W" symbol and $4.98 when it bears a "B" symbol, and an additional $1 per each LP in stereo form.

Packages include an album devoted to Victor Young's "For Whom the Bell Tolls" film score featuring Heindorf and orchestra (Ray Heindorf, musical director for W.B. pictures, is being groomed by the label along the Kostelanetz lines and henceforth will always be given the last name treatment on the releases.) Sousa in Hi-Fi and for the stereo version, "Sousa in Stereo," provides a broad of Sousa marches in their original arrangement.

FIRST W.B. HAS NO FILM TIE-IN

HOLLYWOOD — While it is generally assumed that a motion picture company will seek a record label affiliation to establish an additional means of promoting its picture product, it is interesting to note that the Warner Bros. label's maiden voyage release shows no promotional tie-in with any W.B. production. If anything, two of the firm's albums are considerably closer to two older picture classics than to its own purgatory.

The Heindorf album of "For Whom the Bell Tolls" score provides a disk suitable to a film produced by Paramount Pictures. The Warner Bros. all instrumental album, "The King and I" score, performs music which adorned the 20th Century Fox screen production of the Rodgers and Hammerstein Broadway success.

This development dovetails with a policy statement made earlier by the label's president, Jim Conkling, when he said the chief purpose of the Warner label will be to operate as a successful record firm and not serve as a mere promotional adjunct of the parent picture company.

POINT OF BUSINESS IS MUSIC NOT GADGETS

NEW YORK — An admonition against the dangers of "gadgetry" and a reaffirmation of music as the raison d'être of the record business was sounded last week by George R. Marek, RCA Victor Records chief. In a statement to The Billboard, Marek urged: "Let us not forget that we are selling music, not ping pong games."

Noting that RCA has been in the forefront of stereo development, Marek pointed out that science, in this case, must be the handmaiden of art. "It is true that one of the exciting effects of stereo is the two-channel effect, but this makes sense only if it helps music as an art."

He added: "I feel that violence has been done to music on some of the new records . . . I like to sell music, not gadgets. One gets tired of gadgets, but never of music."

While counsiling against "tricked-up" stereo, Marek noted that proper use of stereo gave music "realism, tenderness and depth."

'No Blueprint'

Marek also warned against making the enjoyment of music a "technical blueprint." Here he had reference to placement of listeners in a room with proper stereo equipment. He stated: "In Carnegie Hall you hear an orchestra as one body of sound; you do not worry about the impulses coming from the left and right sides, and it is not necessary that you sit in the exact center of the hall. In your home, if you have stereo speakers properly placed, the same principle applies . . . It does not make too much difference where you sit."

The danger in this extreme fussiness, Marek stated, lies in giving the consumer too many "wads"—making a simple, pleasurable experience more difficult.

Green Off to Europe—Again

CHICAGO — Reflecting the growing import of the European market to Yankee diskers, Irving Green makes his third trip to Europe since the start of 1958 Tuesday (2) when he flies to England to meet with reps of Pye-Nica, his British affiliate. Subsequently, Green will bumble with flood, Netherlands ally; Disco Press, Belgium; Blue Star, France, and Ciglieri & Company, Italy. In Italy, Green will work out final financial and engineering details on the series of operas which Mercury will wax with the La Scala of Milan, successor of Merce's first opera effort, Medea, prompted expansion of this catalog seg, Green stated.

Primary concern will center around stereo disk pressing and four-channel stereo tape duplication in those countries. Green, a pioneer in the field of mechanical and electrical engineering as applied to sound reproduction, says Europeans are hungering for

Caedmon Buys Catalog From Soundbook

NEW YORK — Caedmon Records has purchased the "Soundbook" catalog (excluding "Songbirds of America," which is distributed by Cornell University). The titles in the catalog will now be produced and distributed exclusively by Caedmon, which also plans to produce other Soundbooks.

Current titles include "Golden Slumbers," a selection of lullabies; "The Story of the Music Box," Pueblo Indians in Story, Song and Dance" and "The Throb of Singing," the story and songs of Paisley.

Soundbooks, originated in 1954 by Book-Records, are attractive book and record combinations. Each 10-inch disk and accompanying illustrated book will be priced at $4.95.

$320,200,000 Worth of Disks Cut During '57

NEW YORK — Sales of phonograph records made by American Federation of Musicians members in the United States for the year 1957 totaled 256,200,000 and the retail value of the disks came to $320,200,000. The figures are from the 19th Report of the Trustees of the Music Performance-Trust Fund, Samuel Rosenbaum, which will be issued next week. The figures are based on the reports submitted to the Trust Fund by U. S. record manufacturers. The total sales of phonograph records in the United States for 1957 was probably considerably higher, since records made abroad, or spoken word and a cappella records are not included in the report.

In 1958, according to the Trust Fund report, total sales of phonograph records made in the U. S. by AFM musicians totaled 219,400,000, with a retail value of $259,000,000. Thus, 1957 represented a considerable increase in sales over 1956 for disks.

100 Biggest

As of June 30, 1958, the total number of record company signatories to the Trust Fund agreement came to 2,759 labels. However, it is estimated that only 100 labels contributed to the Trust Fund in the first six months of 1958 and of those, 25 firms did about 90 per cent of the business.

The Trust Fund paid out $3,915,000 to 302,000 participating musicians in 1957 under its regular project of giving employment to AFM members via concerts, etc. In the last half of 1958 it is estimated that the Fund has laid out $2,058,000 to 133,000 musicians under its employment project. As the Trust Fund's income has been increasing, the amount of money it has laid out to employ musicians has increased proportionately.

PRESSINGS BY PRESLEY HOT

NEW YORK — It may seem repetitious, but Elvis Presley is still hot. Latest reports on his waxing of "Hard Headed Woman" are that sales have topped the 1,300,000-mark, making his 10th consecutive million seller fit a row. And his two EP's from the flock "King Creole" combined have passed the 1,000,000-mark, too. Vol. 1 has sold over 600,000 copies; Vol. 2 has sold over 400,000 copies.

COL. STARTS STEREO SERVICE FOR STATIONS

NEW YORK — Columbia Records is starting a stereo record service to radio stations. The diskery will furnish interested stations with its stereo records on a direct basis starting immediately. The prep is being taken, according to Bill Callahan, sales chief, due to the increasing programming of stereo broadcasts by stations with FM affiliates.

All FM stations are being presented with the new program right now. Columbia hopes to have a regular subscription service for its stereo disks starting in 1959, just as it now has for the monaural LPs.

Giant Ballyhoo Likely for New Warner Label

HOLLYWOOD — If the Warner Bros. record firm comes near to following in the footsteps of its parent picture company, the disk industry can expect heavy merchandising promotion material. The W. B. pic firm has written a glowing page in movie history for its masterful ballyhoo campaigns bolstering its product. The disk firm's merchandising is being helmed by Joel Friedman, former member of The Billboard's Hollywood reporter staff.

To herald the label's debut, the firm is using the "world premiere" tag to capture attention for its initial release. Dealers will receive three-foot by three-foot four-color window display units, store streamers and stereo catalogs explaining the new sound system to consumers and being shipped in bulk to dealers.

Lichtman Would Lead N. Y. Dealers in New Association

NEW YORK — Record dealers associations are mushrooming all over the place. The latest is being formed right here in New York under the leadership of Charles Lichtman. Lichtman, who has attempted to form many record dealer associations in the past, claims this time that his new association already has 40 dealers in the field. That only names mentioned off the letters now being sent out to dealers are Lichtman's, of the Bra-

Large Firms Sell Low-Price LP Disks Directly to Racks

By BOB ROLONTZ

NEW YORK — The large firms as well as the smaller labels are now selling their low-price ($1.98) LP's directly to certain rack jobbers around the country. RCA Victor and Columbia are selling their Camden and Harmony labels respectively to special rack jobbers, treating rack jobbers as extra distributors. And the price to these special rack jobbers is the same as the price to distributors on the part of the two majors, or $1.01 each, subject to a 5 per cent co-op advertising program.

The move by both of the majors in selling directly to special rack jobbers is part of the competitive battle that is now going on in the low-price field. Low-price LP's which sell at $1.98 and $1.95 have experienced their biggest surge in sales during 1958 and appear to have become established as a permanent factor in the package business.

Up until recently both Victor and Columbia were selling their low-priced labels to distributor, at $1.11, but the pressure of other low-priced lines which sell their $1.98 product at a 23-cent price to distributors helped force down their price to distributor and rack jobbers as well.

Teaching Par

Basically what appears to be taking place is that rack jobbers, or many of them, are now considered to be the same as distributor, actually a new type of distributor who handles a different group of outlets than the regular record distributor do. Since the racks are the outlet that have generally opened up supermarkets, drugstores and other outlets, that didn't use to carry records, the reasoning is fairly obvious.

There is another reason for the direct sales to the rack jobbers. According to a spokesman of one of the major labels, the margin due to the rack is sold on a 100 per cent return basis, and there is not enough profit in it for distributor to sell to the racks and then have to take back a large quantity of returns each month. His profits would be eaten up, the spokesman said, by the cost of receiving, counting and crediting of returns.

Indies First

The low-price indie lines started to sell directly to rack jobbers long before Camden and Harmony joined the pack. Most low-price lines, in the beginning, sold the majority of their product thru chains and supermarkets and drugstores, not thru dealers, and the racks made more sense to them as distributors than regular record distributor since the latter were oriented to dealer sales. Camden and Harmony, however, started first with dealers and only lately have moved strongly into racks.

Many record distributors have been angry at manufacturers who have given price breaks to rack jobbers. They have felt that rack jobbers are only subdistributors and should have to pay a higher price than distributor price for product. Many manufacturers still do charge more to a rack jobber than a distributor. But the growth of supermarket and drugstore sales of low-price LP's has practically stifled this complaint as far as many other manufacturers are concerned. This has caused some distributor to start their own rack operations, and it is possible that even more distributor will do the same.

NINE SIDES LAND ON BILLBOARD 'HOT 100' LIST

NEW YORK — Nine new hot sides leaped into the Billboard's Hot 100 chart this week, making the cash registers ring for many manufacturer, distributor and dealer. Here are the names of the tunes, artists and record labels that made it for the first time this week in the Hot 100:

"Sing the Weekend," the Playboys, Caesar, "Up Until Now," Johnny Ray, Columbia; "Please Don't Do It," Dale Wright, Fraternity; "Tea for Two Cha Cha," Tommy Dorsey ork., Decca; "Promise Me Love," Andy Williams, Cadence; "Victor," the McGuire Sisters, Coral; "Weekend," the Kingman, East West; "Big Daddy," Jim Cory, Columbia; "Old MacDonald," the Chargers, RCA Victor.

Amer. Sound Names Press

HOLLYWOOD — Lorenzo Press was named general manager of Allied Records Division of American Sound Corporation, Bellville, N. J. Appointment is effective September 1. Press had been the president of Webster International and a vicepresident of the Record Guild of America. Press will head Allied projected Eastern expansion program. American Sound's big push this fall will be in providing indie record producers with all facts of service needed in the disk business, including warehousing, shipping, distributing, in addition to all phases of disk manufacturing.

FOCUS ON REVIVAL

Faint Strains of Old 1930 Bands Start Growth to New Crescendo

By REN CREVATT

NEW YORK — The arrival here of the Ray McKinley-directed Glenn Miller band for a three-week stint at the Waldorf-Astoria Hotel, focused added impact on the conclusion that it's the bands with strong links with the thirties that are making out best today.

It's no secret that the reconstituted Miller band has been a solid money-maker in the two years since it was reorganized. But a review of the other bands which figure most prominently on the lists of tradesters these days provides a strong indication that "it's the old sound they want to hear and remember," as one observer put it last week.

The Miller band, for example, in the past year, has grossed in excess of $500,000 in its far-flung trek of one-nighters, according to Jack Green, of the Willard Alexander office, booker of the Miller outfit. "Not only that," says Green, "the band has just purchased a brand new 1930 model bus for $37,000."

Overseas Too

It's not only true that the older style bands with the familiar strains are making it here, but are also turning out to be the heavy-duty drawing cards overseas as well. The Miller group had highly successful three-week tour of Britain and the Continent earlier this year. The band is now set for a 25,000-mile, around-the-world trek to take in Italy, France, Germany, the Scandinavian countries, Australia, the Philippines and Japan, starting in January.

Benny Goodman, after a hiatus from the active scene for a number of years, returned to the fore several years ago at the time of the slimming of "The Benny Goodman Story." Since then the Goodman band has been active on the road. Goodman himself has won much publicity for TV appearances in which he and a number of his old stalwarts — Teddy Wilson, Harry James, Red Norvo, etc., were reunited. The Goodman band, too, did a much-talked-about one-week stand at the Brussels World's Fair earlier this year and now has been set for six upcoming TV spectaculars on September 6.

More Returning

But Goodman and Miller are not the only ones to live again "20 years later," as one tradester put it. Recently, the Alexander office put together a new Tommy Dorsey band helmed by trombonist Warren Covington. Green indicated that this band also is doing exceedingly well on one-nighters and may at some future time also be booked for overseas appearances. Meanwhile, the band has broken out at a level once monopolized by the bands—the gong disk field. The Dorsey crew have a Decca disk titled "Tea for Two Cha Cha" which is reportedly making considerable noise.

Count Basie, a veteran in the band scene, has probably never enjoyed a stronger following than he does right now. Extremely successful on disks and personals, Basie's group is another which played to sellout houses on European jaunts to the past year. Now Duke Ellington, one of the most venerable names of them all, is set for a European tour in October, which is already getting a strong advance sale.

Marrow Grouses

Closer to home, the summer dance packages which have been seen on twofold, one-nighter tours by the General Artists Corporation have received an enthusiastic response. The first outing featured the band of Buddy Morrow, and the grosses reportedly surprised GAC, a currently growing Ray Peterson, 22-year-old Victor warbler, and ABC-Paramount's Poni Hall for the "big time," Miss Ross, since both exhibit a "star" potential on the road.

The teen agent notes that competition among agencies to sign best-selling record talent has increased so much today that she has to keep ahead of the charts and sign young disk artists before they actually hit the top-selling category.

Consequently, Miss Ross listens to the radio around the clock in her office and at home follows The Billboard's "Coming Up Strong" chart avidly and keeps in close contact with a network of deejays across the country who tip her off on promising new artists and help her avoid phonny hypses.

The new "Dance Party" packages have piled up sizable grosses on the road to date. The first unit,

WHAT IS STEREO?

Confusion Reigns on What's Good or Bad? Who's Right

NEW YORK — As if the record business wasn't bothered with enough problems already, it is being plunged into confusion, apprehension and even rancor over the term stereo. No one is confused about the technical details of stereo. Everyone now knows how the stereo record is cut and what type of equipment is needed to play it. But like the word high-fidelity before it, the term stereo appears to cause record manufacturers to peer at each other suspiciously, to call some records "good" stereo and others "bad" stereo, and to claim that only their stereo is worthy of being termed "true" stereo.

Right now, for instance, it is known that the manager of a well-known record name is secretly railing at a manufacturer who has re-

RCA TO PLUG STEREO ON OCT. GOBEL SHOW

NEW YORK — RCA will launch its intensive campaign to make consumers stereo-conscious October 21 on the national simulcast of the George Gobel show, 8:30 p.m. R. H. Coffin, ad vicepres., calls it "one of the largest mass demonstrations of a new product ever attempted, for the stereo has been demonstrated on a local or regional basis by using AM and FM receivers; this is the first national broadcast using network TV and radio."

A large part of the Gobel variety hour will be simulcast in stereo with music and special effects "to show the direction and realism that stereo adds," says Coffin. Viewers will be asked to place their radios eight feet to the right of their TV sets for proper effect. "The sound won't have the quality of Victor's new stereo photographs, but we feel it will be sufficiently exciting and dramatic so that viewers will want to sample the real thing," adds the exec.

RCA and its subsidiaries will devote almost all their radio and TV commercials after the October 21 opener to exposure of their stereo disks, tape and equipment.

NIGHT CLUB

Ferguson, Rollins Are Back on the Ball

The Maynard Ferguson Orchestra and the Sonny Rollins Trio are racking up solid business for Birdland in New York these days. On August 26, at midnight, the club was jammed with scores of standees in the bleacher section (general admission fee only) and in the bar. The crowd calls for good jazz and they got it, with both the Ferguson orchestra and Rollins swinging across musically and making it with the attention of aficionados.

The Ferguson crew has improved immeasurably since Newport. At that concert the band was a blaring, driving rock with little subtlety and little feeling. But at Birdland last week, the Ferguson crew showed that it could play ballads as well as screamers and that it was growing as an organization both in style and in feeling. Credit for this must go to Maynard, both on trumpet and trombone and such key men as Slide Hampton on bone, Frankie Dunlop on drums, John Bunch on piano and Jimmie Ford on alto. The orchestra's version of "Stella by Starlight," and "Velvet" showed off the smooth, style, and the band came thru with its own pulsating, driving style on "April in Paris," a swing-like swinger, and the opening flag-wavers.

Sonny Rollins also is back on the ball. He is playing again with both imagination and taste and the his excitement factor is lower-keyed than it was a year ago. It is more expressive and more interesting to the careful listener. And there were a lot of careful listeners at the club on the Tuesday night past who enjoyed every moment of both Ferguson and Rollins.

Clark Out of Sight But Not Out of Mind

Fifteen professional disk jockeys from Los Angeles radio dubbed for Dick Clark last month on his daily ABC-TV "American Bandstand" show (3-8 p.m. across the board) while Clark was on vacation. However, while out of sight — Clark was seldom out of mind. Producer Tony Mamarella shrewdly played on audience loyalty, via a series of regular commentaries from Clark about his on-camera activities (Hollywood Bowl, Minnesota Fair), and a succession of little offerings (plaques, etc.) from his young audience. It was smart showmanship from Clark's angle, but undoubtedly diminished the audience impact of the substitute deejays.

One of the most attractive qualities about "American Bandstand" is the franky, avowing attitude displayed by teenagers in the studio audience toward Clark, who emerges as an idealized "father figure." Consequently the visiting jocks — limited to weekday appearances — and haunted by constant on-the-air references to Clark — registered, at best, a sort of distant smiles.

Off the show caught right. Jim Lomax, of WBBK-TV, Chicago, was guest host with a considerable assist from Producer Mamarella. Lomax, a ruggedly handsome youngish man with a warm personality, worked ingeniously to establish a feeling of rapport between himself and the kids, via gifts from his Irregular Hop followers to regulars on the shows, and interviews ("Are you going steady with Atlantic?"). But his efforts were blocked by the teen-agers' rather diffident, although not actually unfriendly, response. June Bundy.

Chris Conner Is Warm and Wonderful

Chris Conner, with a bigger and better voice than ever, is moving them at New York's Village Vanguard. She has developed even more warmth than previously displayed on her formal appearances.

Her new group of tunes includes some great and seldom-performed gems. Numbers include a medium-beat treatment of "Singing Hour," her classic "All About You," and a swinging "I Got a Kick Out of You." She also presented "Blow, Gabriel, Blow" and "Chinatown, My Chinatown," two of the numbers from her forthcoming Atlantic LP, "Chris Craft." Her concise and distinctive phrasing on ballads is a gauze "Don't Worry About Me" and "Lullaby" were also big favorites with the packed room. Her trio, especially Stan Pepe on piano, is great.

The Village Vanguard is also presenting the Evans Bradshaw Trio in its fine New York outing. Evans is a talented pianist with a trace of a classical sound in his interpretations and an approach that reminds slightly of George Gershwin. His bassist for the crew is G. T. Hogan, holds down driving Bradshaw's arrangement of "Laurel" is the group's strongest number. Jonel Azong.

Hurricane Erika Offers a Nitery Storm

Hurricane Erika Kojosa and the hirsute Hungarian and very red-haired and the weather bureau ought to name a hurricane after her. She is the proprietress of an aptly-named Second Avenue (New York) cafe called, appropriately, Erika's, and she doubles as the star chanteuse in Texas Cuban fashion. She thinks nothing of strutting to the finale of a romantic the Vietnamese number and as the piano-violin-cymbalists backslapping her comes to a screaming half-coldly a visiting tourist in her warm, throaty voice for ordering a geek sandwich instead of a house specialty like goulash. She would cut Zsa Zsa another well-known Magyar if she ever guested on Jack Paar's show, and her exuberant musical charm would probably pull late-night viewers into insomnia. She would also be an ideal child panelist on the ilk of "I've Got a Secret."

She sings in English, Hungarian, French and Vienna-flavored German, and shaks a mean ham-hamline. She's naked for European labels, but isn't parted yet — to one here. She romps around her intimate little cafe dressed in powder-blue tights, looking like a sexy elf. "I'm not a toothpick — I'm a woman," she says. She sure is. Charles Sinclair.

REVIEWED IN BRIEF

Charlie Shavers

Charlie Shavers and his newly formed Quintet are the current attraction at the Roundabout, New York jazz miliey, with rock culture. It has a smart mainstream sound that isn't particularly adventurous but provides easy listening. Shavers' group includes Sheldon Powell on flute, tenor sax and clarinet; George Jenkins, junior; Dick Katz, piano; and Bony Motes, bass. His set features "Pennies From Heaven," an attractive Latin styling of "Gone on the Desert" and an appealing treatment of "For All We Know." Alternating group is the Tyree Glenn Quartet. (Thelon)

Tony Martin

Newest deejay voice on New York's radio channels is Tony Martin, Arthur Godfrey veteran, whose hour-long segment is being aired on flagship WABC in early afternoon. Aiming squarely at distance dealers, he stages a good mixture of jazz music, handling platter intros in a pleased, pleasant manner and occasionally dropping in small talk about the artists or discussing Calypso Deak's fashion, the origin of such offbeat players as "a thank-y-your-ma'am" (it's a slip in a road). For the most part, the records are a mixture of chart hits and recent favorites.

(Sinclair)

Ghost of China Sea

A tepid escape pic out of Columbia Pictures, "Ghost of the China Sea," boasts a surprisingly evocative, charming score. Composed and conducted by Alexander Lazarev, the music heightens the predictable flee — the Japanese action while weaving in some lovely scenes of the Philippines scene of the plot. David Brian stars, stripped to the waist most of the time, with Lynn Bernay adequate as the heroine. Only Harry Craig and Jonathan Harris emerge with some dignity. (Bernstein)

Sullivan Revisited

Frankie Laine, Althea Gibson, Ann Leonard and Charlie Appling have headed the disk talent line-up on the Ed Sullivan telecast Sunday (8). Laine has matured considerably since his earlier visits with the Teen-agers; he performed with poise. Miss Gibson, charming and graceful, did not get serious in her ballad offering, which suffered from over-straining and fancy double-time tempos in the orch. It practically did her in and certainly helped drown her out. Miss Leonard, an attractive blonde, Dame over well in a special staging, but involving three male comedians, while Appling, just out of service, offered a stirring, belted rendition of "Stormy Weather." The lad has the fine tight-lipped type delivery. (Gervatt)

John Gervatt

"Backgrounds of Music," a WCBS, New York, Sunday series, has spent the summer in intricate, delightful excursions into vocal sets of the past. Luisa Browsner, Metopera star, provides illuminating discourse on the techniques, habits and private lives of the great singers, splitting notable disks (mostly opera) which are clearly collector's items. His personal, quietly colorful approach might be worth network tele-

Best N. Y. Jazz Festival To Date Draws Crowds

By HOWARD COOK

Both evenings of the third annual New York Jazz Festival found the Randall's Island Stadium filled to capacity in those sections that allowed a view of the concert. There was good weather and each night provided surprises and a few disappointments. The contests are still overlong, and the Friday night was marred by poor amplification. The Count Basie crew with Joe Williams and Chris Conner were the standouts the first evening. Williams was in fine form, and the Basie arrangements were lost to the crowd. The great band played without solos. On some of his numbers, Williams was joined by the Dave Lambert Singers, who do vocal fill-ins to Basie arrangements.

Miles Davis, with a bigger voice than ever, scored handsomely with his set, especially her treatment of Ray Charles' "Hallelujah, O Love Her So" and her classic "All About You." Other groups on the first night included the George Shearing Sextet, the Horace Silver Quintet, the Sonny Rollins Trio and the Max Roach Quartet. The Basie group with tenor, trumpet and tuba achieved an interesting sound, managing a surprising sonority on his ballads and an effective contrast on the up-tempoers. Its arrangement of "You Stepped Out of a Dream" is particularly good. The West Coast was represented by the Chet Baker Trio and Shorty Rogers and His Gang.

A big event of the Saturday concert was the New York Jazz Festival Band, assembled especially for this year's program. The arrangements were by Ernie Wilkins, who also conducted the outfit. The band, in spite of the line-up of top musicians, was in no way extraordinary. Crowd favorites for the Saturday reg were the Doro Bruback Quartet, Anita O'Day and the Clido Hamilton Quintet. Hamilton is quite a crowd pleaser, a dynamic percussionist, but somewhat theatrical. The bill also presented the Modern Jazz Quartet, the Jimmy Giuffre Trio, Ray Brown's Dixieland group, the Budden-Krebs-Jimmy McPartland group, the Thelbin-Monk Trio and Art Blakey's Jazz Messengers. The amplification for the second evening was considerably better.

On Friday night, the Baldwin-Brewery handed out trophies and awards in almost all of the performances; on Saturday it was Schaefer's turn. This, in most cases the awards were observed, the method and capability of presenting them became almost farcical. All things considered, however, this was probably the best of the New York Festivals to date.

Glenn Miller Swings Again Under Ray's Fine Direction

By BEN GREVATT

Ray McKinley has done a splendid job in weaving a well-integrated ensemble, musically as well as in terms of performance, out of the former Glenn Miller Band. In its current three-week stint at the Waldorf-Astoria's Starlight Roof, the band not only plays for dancing, but for a novel switch, actually puts on its own showbiz act, too.

In concert style, while sing-along sitar and Indian music, McKinley presents a Mable and human cause. He introduces a raft of the Miller evergreens — "In the Mood," "American Patrol," "Daddy Boy," etc., plus the traditional theme, "Moonlight Serenade." Even the famous medley, derived & enlarged, which includes the "Something Old, New, Borrowed, Blue" routine, all received with enthusiastic response.

Playing the round-robin bit to the hilt, the band is well-rehearsed in such familiar Millerian as the growling waltz, the wavying of the hat-tutes and the pattern of drumbeats and trumpets cross-cruising the air in many directions. Trombonist Ray De Sio takes the Miller Solos in good form, while vocalists Ernie Bernard and Larry Peters handle themselves with equal aplomb. Miss Peters has some of the style of Melba Moore. Eddie Hochroff shows a fine line in his also solo of "Laura."

McKinley and Miss Peters team on a cute, non-Miller spin-off, "Up to Sleep" which gets scat-tered-fingers. Then, in a bow to current fave tunes the band winds up with a blaring, rocking treatment of the Fats Domino-Dave Bartholomew tune "I'm in Love Again," featuring straight-and-vocalizing by the maestro.

Jill Corey Amazes, Delights In Current Colorful Copa Bill

By HOWARD COOK

Bert and petite Jill Corey, Columbia artist, is a sheer delight in her New York Copacabana debut, displaying a big voice and songs that had not been evident in some of her record work or her appearances on last season's Hi! Parade program. Backed by excellent arrangements on a smart selection of tunes, she goes thru a really captivating set. Opening with a raucy medley of "Cockeyed Optimist" and "Oh, What a Beautiful Mornin'," she proceeds thru a program of torch ballads, standards and some of the numbers she has recorded. She burns, embers and croons and is great in all approaches. Highpoints are her treatments of "Ten Cents a Dance," "Set 'Em Up, Joe" and "Love." She also prefers those renditions of "The Trolley Song."

Cong Ray, the program's comedian, is a real pro. Doggedly gets his audience, there's no letting go. Employing an hilarious double-talk routine of stomping his feet to demand attention, he runs the gamut in types of jokes. He has an amazing patter and swiftness of delivery style that warrants audience approval.

Bert and Jack Palmer are quite dexterous with interesting routines. Joe Roth and Bonnie Hall, featured singers in the ensemble numbers, are attractive young performers. Hall comes hot on his opening song, "Take a Tip," and Max Roth's raspy go on "Come Away," one of the tunes in a cheerful production number, is also well sung. It's a colorful and entertaining show. Miss Corey, reportedly, is sure to win a flock of new fans with this stint.

'BACK TO SCHOOL'

Teen-Agers May Go Nat'l'

CHICAGO — "Back to School" a two-hour live show, aired over WGN-TV, here, 7:35 p.m.-9:30 p.m., Sunday, Sept. 24, before 7,000, who jammed Lane Tech Auditorium, (another 2,000 were turned away) already at 8:30, before showtime) may spark a national drive, starting with the Westinghouse Broadcasting Company's five other major AM outlets. Using the theme, "School . . . when school starts," the combinations of talk by educational leaders and record artists opened with live performances by the same disk names probes deeply into the serious American problems of what makes 40 per cent of teenagers drop out of high school between the freshman and senior years.

Mitch Miller, psychologist was my guest subject in school and today it does more for me in making records that move people" said Eddie Arnold ("The saddest day is when I had to quit high school in my sophomore year") and Pat Wayne, host of a Chicago daily's editorial wherein 42 per cent of local teen-agers drop out of school peaked the biggest wallop in the kids from the standpoint of getting their message of remaining in the classroom.

Station's entire d.j. corps also contributed heavily to kids sticking to their books with short personal pitches. Leading educators, for the most part, pitched over the under-20 group, but spillover of parents listening were impressed. Don McCausland, presy of the WGN, was

DISTRIBUTOR NEWS

By HOWARD COOK

Sy Shaeffer of Mercury Record Distributors in New York reports that "Chantilly Lace" by Big Brother is big. "Kathy-O" by the Diamonds has started moving strongly. "You Cheated" by the Del Vikings is clicking. "She Belongs to Me" by Gino and Gina is also moving well. "I Wish" by the Platters is one of Shaeffer's strongest new disks. "Hep Monkey" by Rusty Draper looks promising. "The Spider and the Fly" by Perry Como is hot. Top selling LPs are "Great Songs From Films" by Herman Luboff and "Medea" by Maria Callas. Mercury's stereos are going well, and there's strong interest in the forthcoming stereo version of "Medea." Shaeffer also reports that Mercury's "Five for One Plan" is being favorably received by dealers.

North Dale, Capitol Records Distributing Corporation in Alton, Mass., lists "Just Say I Love Her" by Tom Dahl as the firm's strongest pre-chart disk. "Blue Ribbon Baby" by Tommy Sands is also strong. "The Secret" by Gordon MacRae is getting strong deejay play in the area. Dale mentions that this is the artist's best moving record in some time. "Tape" by Peggy Lee is still a big one. "I Will" by Ferlin Husky is getting a strong initial reaction. "Bunk" by the Rebs could be a sleeper. Top albums are "Burnished Brass" by the George Shearing Sextet, "Cole Espauvill" by Nat King Cole, "Jumpin' With Jonah" by Jonah Jones, "The New James" by Harry James and the Capitol stereo releases. Dale reports that all of the label's first stereo packages are moving well. Business is currently good, and he expects it to pick up even more this season.

Butch Linnell, manager of Station Warron Hardware Company in Memphis, Decca distributor, has several hot items. "Dance, Everyone, Dance" by Betty McCall on Coral is strong. "Do You Love Me Like You Kiss Me" by the McGuire Sisters on Coral is also perkling. "The End" by Earl Grant on Decca looks like a winner. "Volare" by Domenico Modugno is as strong as ever. "Fool's Paradise" by the Cleftones on Brunswick is still moving well. "Washboard Sam" by Judy and Joyce is big. "Early in the Morning" by Buddy Holly started slowly, but has broken out. "Tea for Two Cha Cha" by the Tommy Dorsey orchestra is a big one. The song is listed on all of the local radio lists of most played. "We Have Loved" by Jackie Wilson on Brunswick is climbing. Mrs. Linnell reports that Decca's low-priced line, Vocalion, is moving strong. This is a strong response to the label's stereo releases, especially "Clouds on a Cloud" by Claude Thornhill.

Mei Herman, State Record Distributors in Cincinnati, lists "Ramrod" by Duane Eddy on June among his best-selling new records. "The Shadow Knows" by the Coasters is taking off. "Please Don't Do It" by Dale Wright on Praternity is a hot platter. Herman states that he has moved over 7,000 in the past few days. "My Bonnie" by Ray Charles on Atlantic is going well. "The Happy Cha Cha" by Johnny Desmond on M-G-M is breaking. Top albums are the "Gigil" soundtrack and "Today" by Maxine Chevalier on M-G-M, "Eddie in Love" by Eddie Cohen on ABC-Paramount and "Ahmad Jamal Trio at the Persian" on Argo. Other hot singles are "I May Never Pass This Way Again" by Jane Morgan and "Near You" by Roger Williams on Kapp. "It's Only Make Believe" by Conway Twitty on M-G-M, "Your Cheatin' Heart" by George Hamilton IV, on ABC-Paramount, "Down the Aisle of Love" by the Quin-Tones on Hunt, "Junior Jive" by Ernie Freeman on Imperial, "I'm So Young" by the Students on Checker, "Why Me?" by Ruth Brown on Atlantic, "Carol" by Chuck Berry on Chess and "The Ways of a Woman in Love" by Johnny Cash on Sun. Cash's new EP of Hank Williams songs is also strong.

DISTRIBUTOR DOINGS: Don Carter, presy of Pet Records, announces the following new distrs for Pet: Ideal Record Products, New York; Sparta Music Distributors, Philadelphia; Century Distributors, Houston; Pacific Record Distributors, Los Angeles; Cosmopolitan Distributing Company, Detroit; and Cosmopolitan Distributing Company in Newark, N. J. Veteran songsmith Bob Saffer has been added to the staff. Saffer will assist on the recording and publishing activities of Pet. Pet's Wambach, president of Wambach Distributors, Inc., in Pittsburgh, one-stop and rack jobbing operation, has opened a new branch in Johnston, Pa. The new operation will be helmed by Jim Walker. Roy Justice will handle sales duties for the firm. The sales staff will also include Chuck D'Auria and Ed Hamaty. Mildred Rippolito will be office manager. There's also a possibility of opening a branch in Eastern Pennsylvania.

NOTES IN THE MAIL: Phil Markman of Marmel, of Maryland, Inc., writes that "Summertime, Summertime" by the Jezebels on Epic is "blazing wide open in the Maryland, Washington, D. C., and Virginia territories." Ray Hamilton's "Everything" is also big at Marmel. Epic's "I Don't Want to Set the World on Fire" by Sonny Smith and the Redheads is still moving well. Clara Nelson's "I'm a Big Girl Now" on Epic is starting. United Artists is perking with "The Green Mosquito" by the Time Blockers and "Why Me?" by Lee Andrews and the Heart. "No One Knows" by Diana and the Belmonts on Lure is a smash. Markman states that Marmel is hot and getting hotter.

NEW YORK: Al Hirsch of Malvern Distributors, Inc., just back from vacation, pens that Malvern is blazing with several singles and LPs. Kapp is strong with its "Album" album by Umberto Marcato. "Near You" by Roger Williams and Jane Morgan's English and French version of "The Day the Rain Came" are also moving well. "Down the Aisle of Love" by the Quin-Tones on Hunt and "You're Looking at Me" by Johnny Nash on ABC-Paramount are also big platters. George Hamilton IV's ABC-Paramount waxing of "Your Cheatin' Heart" looks like a winner. Amper is also hot with "Who Are They to Say?" by the DeCotiis Sisters, and Eddie Coomes latest LP "Eddie in Love," plus "Johnny Nash" and "Sing a Song of Basics" by the Dave Lambert Singers.

Liberty has hot disks with "Summertime Blues" by Eddie Cochran, "The Little Bras Band" by David Seville and "No Dough" by Willie Nelson. March also mentions that Elie Fitzgerald's Verve albums are moving strongly. While the Grand Award LPs

WHAT? A RECORD HOP WITHOUT A DEEJAY!

CHICAGO — A new type of record hop, one in which no disk jockey is involved, is being successfully staged here by Jim Clunard and John Parker, who jointly run three former theaters which they have converted into neighborhood ballrooms. Up to now, record hops have received their impetus from a prominent d.j. promoting them via his air波段.

Jubilant Parker, veteran band leader and one-time booker locally, started a three-hour Sunday afternoon record hop during February at the Boulevard Ballroom. At the present time, Clunard and Parker's Palms, featuring a Wednesday night and Sunday afternoon hop at the Boulevard, while in does a Sunday afternoon, Sunday night and Wednesday night hop at the Embassy dancer. Parker jumps from the two ballrooms via car to make appearances at both spots and has an assistant handling the hops when he's not around. Average Crowd Around $50 Crowd at a typical hop averages 500 teens, from 15 to 20 years old, at 40 cents per head. Primary objective behind the teen dances is cultivation of pre-21 group-to-dancing habit. Parker has found that teens who are shy about dancing find it much easier to dance to their rock 'n' roll records, as they have these disks at home and can practice before sleeping. MUSIC AS WRITTEN

By BOB ROLONTZ

THE HOT MODUGNO

Domenico Modugno has set the record world on the ear with his smash, smash hit "Volare." Perhaps it's the fact that he's the son of a gypsy parent, or perhaps it's because he's a good performer, long under any circumstances everyone to remember Modugno records and the singer is in solid demand in clubs and for television appearances. Recent-wise, RCA Victor issued a Modugno disk this week and this week the canny Jerry Blaine of Jubilee selected another hot Modugno platter, "The Little Duck." And Jubilee is putting out an LP by Modugno called "Nel Blu Dipinto Di Blu." Modugno is set for another appearance on the Ed Sullivan Show on September 14. After that he is set for solo bookings in Benihana, Philadelphia, Pittsburgh, Buffalo, Los Angeles, Miami, and Las Vegas; that will keep him busy from September thru December. On the clothing side Modugno is the co-writer of "Robbins Music," which is preparing two more Modugno songs for records. These are "Lazzarella" (a prize winner at the San Remo Festival) and "Mimetto."

ON THE BEAT

By REN GREVATT

Bobby Darin's career in the musical end of show business started only two years ago. "I got tired of writing ditties around town so I decided to make something out of myself," the 21-year-old singer confessed. "I was a freshman at Hunter College at the time. Supposedly I was going to be a major in drama and speech, but, of course, I never got far enough to be a major in anything. Besides, if there ever was a business where you have to learn by practical application right in the field, this is it. I always wanted to be something in show business and it seemed like the only way to learn was to make the pictures."

Two years later, Darin is a red-hot property, not only on disk but as a night club performer as well. "After leaving college, I did some acting with a young people's theater group on the road. Then a friend introduced me to George Scheck, who has been Caquin French manager since she was a child star on his TV show. Mrs. Scheck helped me a great deal. He helped me get the Tommy Dorsey TV show. In fact, it was the week after Prosky's third appearance on the show. After that, I had some good offers for night club work in Detroit and Indianapolis and other areas of the Midwest. It's a great help to be able to do clubs when you don't have a record, but, oh, how a record helps your reputation! I had made some records for Decca but nothing had happened with them at the time.

"I had quite a fall between January and June this year and I spent a good bit of my time trying to write songs. I had several records of my tunes by Lavern Baker and Gene Vincent. Then came "Splish-Splash." The idea for the title came from Mrs. Kaufman, the mother of Murray Kaufman, the disk jockey. The rest of the time, music and lyrics are all my own. Most of the tunes I've written in the past year were published in Murray's film. He'll probably make quite a bit of money on them. As far as "Early in the Morning" goes, I admit it was a mistake to do what we did. The story was that my contract with Alco had two weeks left to run. I had cut "Splish-Splash" but there was no way of telling what would happen with that and I thought there was a chance that Alco wouldn't pick up my option. So we made "Early in the Morning" under another name (the Ding Dongs) figuring that if Alco didn't come thru, at least we would have a record we could sell to somebody or maybe bring out ourselves. Well, it was

By BOB BERNSTEIN

"All those other movie stars are working, why not me?" says John Smith, young film actor who rocketed to success in "The High and the Mighty," and now stars in NBC-TV's new western, "Cimarron City." Deliberately picking a plain name for his career is typical of Smith, an active non-conformist. To top him for records, he's named Gary Wagner, N.Y. blackie, photo, his theory being "I'm the only client, so I'll get all the attention."

There are some friends in Smith's vocal corner, however, including Nat Cole and Buddy Bogerman. And his trained baritone brought him his screen debut at 18 in "Rells of St. Mary's," as part of the Mitchell Boys' Choir. The stint with Mitchell included holiday albums, and "Scout Jamboree," a radio series, after which the handiwork of the 18-year-old began to sing.

"Now I feel differently," he sighs. "Anybody can make it on disk, the way the business is, and a hot record opens amazing doors. But it's strictly warm ballads for me, no slicky Nelson." Missing out on theatrical lead in "Body Beautiful," Broadway musical of last season, by two top notes and an inch of sleep, Smith is scanning scripts for a legit debut. "Let's face it, I'm a product of the movies and they're always suspect, so I aim to prove my talents in stage musical," he confides.

COMPARTMENT: Sidney Gross, British-born deejay at WINS, N. Y., offers an interesting comment on pop music of today: "Fewer and fewer people are interested in nostalgia and antiques. We live in a world of fashion, where mass production has replaced the custom-made in all fields. Every designer and manufacturer tells us to use the product for the moment and then throw it away. Now can the record industry do differently? The old-time songwriters had personality in view, the new ones are children of the times."

NOTERY NOTES: The Showboat, Philadelphia jazz spot, kicks off its new season with Miles Davis this week, followed by week-long stints for Art Blakey, Anita O'Day, Dakota Staton, Horace Silver and Ray Charles. The Billboard Weekly Index
RECORD SALES IN RETAIL STORES

As Measured Against Average Weekly Sales,
June-November, 1957
Based on The Billboard-NYU School of Retailing
Continuous Survey of 5,400 Record Stores.

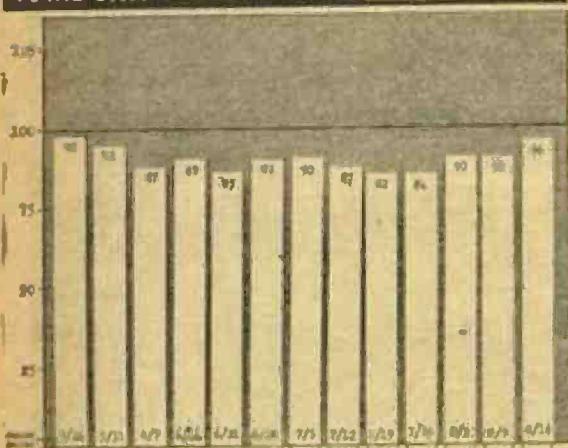

With all speeds, except 78 rpm., registering solid increases for the greatest period ended August 16, total unit record sales reached the highest level of the past three months.

Largest increase was in the EP and sales. It must again be noted that much of this increase is undoubtedly due to the two "Presto-Kink Circle" packages, both of which are raking up tremendous sales.

LPs, and 45 singles also popped over the "par" line for the first time in weeks, and 78 singles hit the lowest level of the year—about in the point of non-existence. Early picture is bright, and perhaps the annual fall up surge has started.

How Direct Mail Ads Work and What They Do for Disk Dealers

By RALPH MEARS

Several weeks ago in this spot, we showed how the Reuben-Daniels Company, Chicago promotion firm, applied a scientific yardstick to direct mail effects. The purpose—to determine direct mail effectiveness in terms of inquiries and sales and to find out how dealers feel about direct mail.

They found, you will remember, that it was very effective. They quizzed two groups of people about where a particular product could be bought. One group had received a direct mail piece about the product. The other group hadn't. More than 45 per cent of those who received the direct mail piece could tell where the product could be bought. Only 15 per cent of those who did not receive the direct mail piece could tell where the product could be bought. In other words, direct mail tripled the market for the dealer who used it.

How About Disk Dealers?

Are record dealers sold on the merits of direct mail? To find out, The Billboard thru its NYU School of Retailing Research facilities, surveyed a large group of dealers across the country on this subject. The results are interesting. It was presumed that, of all dealers, only 38 per cent used direct mail promotion of any kind. The dealers were also asked, "How often do you use direct mail?" Of that 38 per cent, not too many used direct mail very often. As a matter of fact, only a third of them use direct mail on a regular basis. This means that, of the total of dealers in the country, only about one in five send out a direct mail piece once a month.

The heavy route to direct mail promotion is the sending out of manufacturer's flyers or catalogs. These are supplied in abundance by most major firms and they rank highest in the list of possible promotion pieces. In answer to The Billboard's survey of promotion practices, 75.5 per cent of the dealers who use direct-mail send material supplied by manufacturers. More than 25 per cent create their own and 17 per cent send catalogs which they buy.

Building a List

One drawback to dealers use of direct mail is a mailing list. Surprisingly few have a list and many have no idea of how to build a list.

Several months ago, The Billboard published a story of a dealer in the Mountain States who registered every customer who entered his store in a large ledger. He also noted the customer's musical preferences alongside his name. The dealer reported that the list helped him gain valuable knowledge of his customers and that it was frequently used for direct mail promotion.

Something later another dealer called The Billboard and commented on this story. He said, in effect, "I'm a busy guy. I don't have time to take names and addresses. I think I should but I can't. I'd like to be able to do it like that guy out west. What do I do?"

This is what we told him. Why take the time? Let the customer do it himself. Have a diamond needle drawing once a month. Let the customer put his name and address in the bar for every album he buys. The customer will write out his name and address, the type of phonograph, his musical preferences and anything else you want him to include.

Celestial Sets New Distribrs

SEATTLE — Stepping up its activity, Celestial Records here has announced new distributor appointments, new release schedule of packages and singles, and new East Coast, sales and promotion representatives.

Art Pearson, presy of the label, disclosed that in addition to current releases of three new singles and two LPs, October will bring an additional release of four instrumental and six stereo LPs. The two latest LPs and a set by trumpeter Corky Corcoran, already out at $1.50 and as a stereo tape, will be released as stereo disks September 1.

Benson has appointed Universe Distributors, newsmen of Los Angeles; Singing Distributors and Melody Sales, San Francisco. Between the two, the entire West Coast area plus Alaska and Hawaii will be covered. Joey Sano and April if you are going to have a diamond needle drawing once a month, you don't have to be "out of pocket" for the price of the needle. Call at the "Columbia Diamond Needle Give-Away" and ask your Columbia salesman or distributor to contribute the price. He'd be happy to do it for the publicity.

The dealer responded to the idea so positively that he said, "I won't do it once a month, I'll do it every week."

What to Mail

There are different mailing pieces for every job to be accomplished. For example, there are the cumulative catalogs that list all LPs. These are expensive to buy and expensive to mail but they are an effective sales promoter if directed to the serious classical collector.

Less expensive is The Billboard's own "Advertiser." Printed in color, it shows the attractive, sales-boosting albums come in the best advantage. It has the advantage of being relatively inexpensive and inexpensive to mail. And it contains the reviews of the top albums of the month so that the customer can separate the bad from the good.

Another important thing that can be said for such catalogs is that they have a "classy" appearance and the person who receives them is reluctant to throw them away. Many dealers know this from their own experience with the catalogs they receive in the mail. It is hard to toss away something that seems to have an intrinsic value.

Buckshot Mailings

Perhaps a dealer wants to send out a "buckshot" mailing to reach a "blind" list of prospects who have never been in his store. This type of mailing will give the lowest response percentage-wise but is nevertheless an important element in any promotion campaign. In this case, the simplest and least expensive type of mailing is called for. It is a mailing that will fit on a single postcard and it will be created by the dealer himself.

The advertising message fits such a mailing should be direct and to-the-point. It might read something like this:

"Dear Sir,

"Down here at the Village Music Shop we've just gotten in a shipment of the latest records. We have classics, pop and jazz, show albums and many others. At all times we carry more than 30,000 different records in stock and we're sure we can fill your record needs. Why not stop by the next time you're in the neighborhood and listen to a few? No obligation. By the way, if your phonograph isn't working, our service department is set up to do complete repair jobs.

"Best regards,

"Betty and Bob

"The Village Music Shop
P. O. Everybody who buys an album that month gets a chance to win a diamond needle. You may be that lucky boy."

That message would fit onto postcard. It couldn't be simpler and would be sure to get some results.

Direc-mail will work in many cases. In a few, it may not create new business. It should be tried. The 80 per cent of the dealers who haven't a consistent direct-mail program, would find it a wise investment.

Siegelson for Frank Music

NEW YORK — Bert Siegelson has been named executive assistant to Max Ostow, Frank Music v.p. Siegelson, former promotion manager for Ideal Records and recently with Melvin Vander magazine, will work in the capacity of professional manager of the Frank Music catalog. And he will assist in planning all advertising, promotion and exploitation activities.

The first project that Siegelson will work on is the tune "Bluebell," which has been scored by Mitch Miller and his orchestra on Columbia Records, backed with another Frank Music record, "It Seems Like Only Yesterday." The two "Bluebell" has also been cut by Scott Engel on Orbit Records.

Gene Armond of Record Promotion Services, New York, will handle Eastern promotion.

Jubilee Gets Modugno Right

NEW YORK — Jubilee has acquired North American rights to several masters by Domenico Modugno—now riding with the "Mister" top 10 hit on Decca, "Volare"—and is rushing out a triple 45.

Already on the way to distribution is a Jubilee single by Modugno, titled "Cavabianca," "My Little Baroo," backed with "Le Petit Reve" ("The Little Dream"). Shortly Jubilee will release an LP and a stereo disk of folk songs sung by Modugno, titled "A Sicilian in Paris."

Press parties are being scheduled this week in Hollywood, Chicago and New York, with festivities aimed at giving fourth-estates, deejays and dealers a front seat at the unveiling. Press members will receive specially prepared press kit telling the W.B. diskery story. Jockeys will get the label's "World Premier Album" containing excerpts from each of the new packages. The deejay kit will contain material to aid the jockeys in their programming to herald the debut of the new label.

All promotional activity at dealer deejay levels is being co-ordinated so as to have September 4 and 5 as world premiere days, thus attracting consumer attention to the diskery.

His wife, songstress Jo Stafford, made the Capitol to Columbia switch with him, with Weston continuing to provide the orchestral background for his wife at Columbia as he had done at Capitol. This time, Miss Stafford will remain at Columbia; a clause in the Weston Cap pact permits him to baton his wife's future Columbia sessions.

Despite the years which have elapsed since Weston's departure from the Capitol fold, it is interesting to note that his "mood music" Capitol albums have remained in Cap's active catalog, indicating they are enjoying a continuing healthy sale.

Weston plans to maintain the "mood music" album style in his future Cap cuttings. His schedule also calls for him to conduct for nine TV spectaculars during the coming season.

Confusion on What's Good, Bad

banks, who call himself one of the instrumental portion on another. On an instrumental date some manufacturers are putting out "playable stereo disks" which will predetermine the public against stereo disks.

Ridge Nodded

The deputations are surrounding the term "stereo" stems from the fact that there are no ground rules for recording stereo records. Each recording man uses his own system and the devil take the hindmost. Some recording men merely split up a pop date—the voice or voices and the instruments, putting the vocal part on one track and the instruments on another. On an instrumental date some tracks will put the rhythm section on one track and the horns on another. On a classical date there are even more methods that can be used. Some sing record triple track and then have an extra track to play around with. One track will split this third track and place it on each of the two other tracks, a technical trick that is easily accomplished.

System Coming

With modern equipment and sharp engineers, all firms cutting stereo are working toward a systemized stereo recording style. But that isn't what's causing the name calling or the snubs. Many of the stereo disks being released were not cut recently but as early as three years ago. At that time stereo was more experimental than today, and it's true that some of the disks being released contain some very stilted sounding stereo.

Is "good" stereo two tracks so completely separated that each speaker sounds as if it is playing a separate recording? Or is "good" stereo a blending of the two speakers so that the sound from each speaker is more or less similar? No one really knows, but there are many manufacturers who lean toward the "ping pong" theory of stereo, claiming that the public wants different sounds from each speaker, and they would rather have this "stilted" stereo than anything else.

Re-Mastering Plus

It is this variety of approaches to stereo that is causing the head-scratching by some manufacturers about the others' product, plus one much more serious factor. With modern recording and re-mastering equipment some feel it is possible to make a so-called "stereo" recording off of a monaural recording. This requires much doctoring and work in the editing room—but it can be done. It means taking a monaural track and re-mastering it on two tracks, and calling the result "stereo." Whether any is doing this or not is not known, but some manufacturers, in confidence, claim that some other manufacturers would do it that way.

Probably the most disagreeable aspect of the whole affair are the claims made by each of the manufacturers that its stereo is better than the other guy's stereo. No one knows exactly what anyone means by this claim, but it is probably similar to those made by cigarette manufacturers about their filters, or soap companies about their product. As Lightfoot modestly puts it, "When better stereo is made, World-Wide and Hercules Lightfoot will make it."

Program planning began only days before by Howard Miller, who also created, sparked with spontaneously throughout. This dynamic public service theme certainly warrants attention from the National Association of Radio and Television Broadcasters at their next convention, too, with so many stations cashing in the pre-college crowd with pop record programming, here is a real vital public service idea instead of the normal leading of prime-time p. e. plug throughout the year.

out in public Palmer has a stand-and-strike set programming policy, whereby most of his sets are packed with something for every teen taste. Two sets during the night are nothing but new record releases.

The two hope-hope never been advertised, as experience has shown Climax and Barky that they draw only from a two-mile radius around the ballroom. As a result, small sets are regularly placed in nearby high school papers and discount tickets are given out to the high school students.

Kids Dig Audio

Palmer found out early that the kids dig audio the most, so he had Climax and Barky install two stage speakers, one at either end of the ballroom. Then an electronic gimmick, the speaker at the end of the ballroom (farthest from the bandstand) plays the recorded music about three seconds after the speaker nearer the bandstand. In a crowded ballroom, Palmer says, this gives the illusion of live performance and a greater echo. It's the same principle utilized by Babo Craftsmen, West Coast hi-fi component outfit, who created an auxiliary unusual speaker which lagged behind the primary speaker to give a concert-hall acoustical effect.

The beverages are always non-alcoholic, strict supervision is maintained at all times, and parents are admitted free with their children if they dare to come.

TAPE MERCHANDISING

Plays Both Ends; Sells the Middle

- P.M. Sound Equipment has found a double-pronged approach to tape recorder sales
- This Buffalo dealer gets the business that most dealers lose by default

By N. J. BARATE

BUFFALO — P. M. Sound Equipment Corporation, Buffalo, has developed a tape recorder merchandise program that has resulted in substantially increased volume.

"What we've done," says Charles Hintermeier, sales manager, "is to gear both our rental program and our sales program toward sales of medium price-range machines. In cases where a customer doesn't want to exercise a rental option or where a potential customer shows no inclination toward the top-priced lines displayed in our separate tape recorder room, our policy of drawing both these ends toward the middle has resulted in sales which otherwise would have been lost. It's those kind of sales that can make the difference between mediocre records and a real healthy one."

No Bad Risks

Depending upon the time of the year, 8 to 12 recorders are kept in the rental pool, all in the low-

To understand how P. M.'s program works, it is necessary to examine both ends of the all-inclusive program. Rentals are considered profitable in and of themselves by management but, more important, there is the additional traffic and potential purchases attracted by the bravely advertised program, people who would not come into the store to see the displays designed for sale. They rent the recorders for a party or a sales meeting, management points out, and all the while they are thus making themselves subject to a silent selling job.

The rental program is allocated space in the firm's overall advertising scheme. Newspapers and the yellow-page telephone directory have proved the most fruitful media. In most instances, a rental originates via the telephone, but customers are required to pick-up and deliver the machine themselves. This cuts down delivery expense, gives employees a double opportunity to use the sales techniques designed to sell medium-priced recorders.

No Bad Risks

Depending upon the time of the year, 8 to 12 recorders are kept in the rental pool, all in the low-

TANDBERG TIPS

STEREO AT 1 1/8

NEW YORK — "Increased quality at slower speeds is the thing we're going to promote heavily in the period ahead." That's the way Larry Post, assistant sales manager for Tandberg, summed up his firm's policy as it enters the fall selling season.

He pointed out that one of the firm's new models will record and playback stereophorically at 1 1/8 inches per second. In the past, this speed has been considered too slow to record even speech with great fidelity. Recent improvements, particularly in magnetic heads, has substantially raised the level of recording quality at all speeds.

Post opined that the stereo development will help Tandberg tape recorders. He points out that the customer can make his own stereo tapes from disks with the new Tandberg model and the aid of two patch cords.

To help dealers demonstrate the kind of quality possible at 1 1/8 inches per second speed, Tandberg is making demo tapes for in-store use. At the same time, they are recording a four-track demo tape at 3 3/4 inches per second to promote the four-track feature in their new machines.

priced range. The low ends are utilized for rentals because of the possibility of damage, because more machines are available for rental than the same money used for higher-priced models, because the rental charge can necessarily be lower, and because the lower price machines have the greatest chance of being purchased by the person renting. Charges are determined by the nature of the machine rented and the duration of the rental period; the tally runs averaging $5. Only a small deposit is required, unless the credit investigation thru local agencies reveals a bad risk record. (Because most rentals originate thru a telephone call, this firm usually has an opportunity to check the person rating before that person appears to pick up the machine.)

"In order for the rented machines to do a silent selling job," says Hintermeier, "it's necessary that the customer understand fully how to work the machine. We'll spend as much time as is necessary

KANSAS DEALER SAYS:

Sell the Service Department First

- Edgington's has made a success by signing everybody as a tape recorder prospect
- Coupled with top-notch service, they have an unbeatable formula

Edgington Music Company sells is the fact that in one month, March, no less than 48 tape recorders were sold—75 per cent of them for cash. This was an all-time record for the store, but it is not unusual for Edgington to sell between 20 and 30 a month during the year, and almost twice that number at Christmas time and graduation, the two big seasons.

It can easily be seen that the Kansas dealer enjoys a remarkably steady sales operation. The slogan which he adopted more than a dozen years ago—"The Name Edgington Means Service Beyond the Sale"—carries real weight with his customers. Otherwise Edgington is able to account for such phenomenal numbers.

Service Program

Tape recorder merchandise has been accelerated in two ways ever since practical, better-sold tape recorders came on the scene. First, realizing that many people are interested, but unwilling to invest the price of a tape recorder without some experience, Edgington pushes a rental department hard. Fifteen, new tape recorders are rented at $4 a day, $12 a week and $24 per month. These are "going rates," well tested by the Salina public, and they have been responsible for

Before a tape recorder is rented out, the customer requires complete instruction on how to operate it most effectively. Most customers are impressed with the simplicity of operating.

Visitors are impressed by the complete testing equipment used to check anything from a pocket radio to a TV set. Edgington's makes the service department an important step when showing a new customer around.

In the tape industry doesn't reflect the public demand. There are several million tape players in homes that should be fed new product. But the manufacturers have cut off the supply, and the dealers are stocking only token inventories. They are anticipating a condition that will probably exist a year from now but which certainly doesn't exist now.

But when Livingston, along with many others in the industry, points the accusing finger at RCA Victor for "prematurely" announcing a tape cartridge, and lays the blame for today's condition at the RCA doorstep, he overlooks what is probably the single most important element contribution to the plight—the stereo disk. RCA Victor, incidentally, is one of the firms that it and will continue to produce two-track tapes on a regular schedule for "as long as there is a demand." Unlike many smaller firms, it can afford a policy of this type.

The tape recorder manufacturers, on the other hand, are not as worried as the recorded tape producers. The dealers and the public can expect, however, a shift in emphasis in tape recorder production. Instead of pushing the recorders as a stereo tape reproducer, machine manufacturers will stress its many other features (dictation, education, recording baby's first words, etc.). They are wise in doing so and dealers can profit by following their lead. A dealer can not now in good faith promote a two-track machine as a music reproducer to his customer knowing that there are units both on drawing boards and in production that will rivalize this equipment.

The same applies to four-track recorders. About a half dozen companies (Amper, Bell, Viking, Electromundo, Tandberg) have set four-track production or offer conversion kits to enable two-track machine owners to convert to four-track. Again, these can be promoted on other than music reproducing merits. It's impossible to promote them as music reproducers.

because there are so far no four-track recorded tapes being produced. They may never be any any produced on a wide scale. The aforementioned Dubbing firm is one of those set up to produce them but, as of now, has only one order, and that is from a tape recorder firm.

The disk firms, who are the logical people to produce four-track tapes, seem unlikely to do so. They realize that the tape cartridge is sure to come and that reel-type tapes would be obsolete almost before they got off the ground.

What about magazine-load cartridge tape? How about it? Earlier this year, its debut was set for July. But, as the months went by, the debut date was set further in the future. RCA showed a prototype at the NAMM but it was viewed as a curiosity rather than an exciting new product. Ampex had their cartridge player at the show also but the firm's top brass ruled against including it in their exhibit. It reposed during the four-day conclave in the private suite of the firm's president. Pentron, on the other hand, featured a cartridge player prototype at their exhibit. But one of the control buttons fell off and it took a lot of adjustment to perform properly. Motorola displayed a handsome cartridge player, included as a feature in one of their new consoles. It got little attention as there was precious little product to play on it.

These four manufacturers alone show some enthusiasm for producing the cartridge player and not all are convinced that it should be put on the market this year. The latest word from RCA is that the searching will go to market sometime in November.

And so the battle rages over what is the best thing for the recorded tape business. Meanwhile, stereo disks have taken the center of the stage. As the industry waits to see if the mass market gives them the reception they think they deserve, recorded tape stands by.

CUSTOMER CARE

Show 'Em How to Make Tapes Last

NEW YORK — Here is a customer question that is not crazy. In fact, you will help yourself to a satisfied customer if you give it a serious answer.

"How long will my tape recordings last and how can I preserve them?"

You can bet that this fellow has some once-in-a-lifetime Louis Armstrong solo he got off that air, or he has a tape of little slavishly Susan taking all the parts in the drama that had the fourth grade in an uproar. So he will be happy to hear you say: "Your tapes will last indefinitely if you take proper care of them."

The enemies of long tape life, in no special order, are: (1) Too tight winding on the reel; (2) excessive heat and sharp changes in temperature; (3) very low or very high humidity; (4) accidental damage; (5) peeling.

Tight Tape

Leaving the tape wound up tight on the reel is probably the most common of the crimes against magnetic tape. We commit this crime by using the fast forward or fast reverse, and then putting the tape away. Changes in temperature or humidity often cause the tape to contract slightly. If it is wound very tight, the contraction will put enormous pressure on the inner layers of tape enough to curl, stretch or otherwise deform the tape. Physical deformation means that the tape is permanently ruined. There is no way to get it back in shape.

A simple habit avoids this. Store tapes to the as played condition, just as they wind onto the take-up reel during playing. Do not fast-forward a tape until just before you are ready to play it again.

Heat Problem

Extreme heat is dangerous to magnetic tape. The plastic base will become brittle or deformed. Do not store the tape where the temperature is liable to go above about 130-150 degrees F., such as in a box lying in the sun or next to a stove or furnace. A cool cellar in which the temperature does not change too widely during long periods is a good idea. If the dampness is not extreme, a room in the house that

Milwaukee Hi-Fi and Record Distributor Finds "IRISH" Tape a Natural

"All recording tapes are not the same. Our customers have found this out and are now asking for IRISH brand recording tape," says Vernon A. Sherkow, owner of SHERCO (Superior Hi-Fi Equipment & Record Co.), an independent distributor in Milwaukee, Wisconsin.

"IRISH tape is made by the exclusive Ferro-Sheen process and is a precision-engineered, trouble-free product. This makes it a natural seller and a fine profit maker for us and our dealers," explains Mr. Sherkow.

"To back up this technically superior tape, Mr. Sherkow adds, 'there's the excellent IRISH advertising and merchandising campaign. As a result, our tape sales are steadily increasing.'

IRISH brand recording tape is manufactured by ORRadio Industries, Inc., Opelika, Alabama, world's largest exclusive magnetic tape manufacturer.

chaser. So the time spent in instruction helps us to sell ourselves and paves the way for the machine to do likewise."

Selling Top Lines

On the other end of the line there is the popular, 12 by 16-foot acoustically treated studio for the display of six different brands of tape recorders. Comfortable seating facilities have been provided for listening comfort. Emphasis here is on the hi-fi approach, with top grade lines given display priority.

"The room has been set up for customers who've purchased hi-fi components from us previously," says Hintermeyer, "and for prospective customers who want comparative demonstrations of our top lines. We feel that in order to sell tape recorders effectively, you have to have a room set off from the rest of the operation. It's the type of merchandise that isn't bought on sight alone. The customer has to be shown, and you have to let him hear."

How does F. M. Sound Equipment Corporation go about playing both ends to sell the middle?

Repeated experiments have indicated that, from the standpoint of selling cutting-edge wanting to diversify their home hi-fidelity system, or who are just interested in purchasing a tape recorder, it's much more effective to start the sales presentation by showing the top price lines first. The prospective customer has to be made conscious of the advantages of tape. By showing the top-priced, top-quality machines first, this is more readily accomplished. Then, if the listener, altho convinced of the merits of top lines, become price-conscious, the salesman can bring down to the medium price range.

CARTRIDGES?

Won't Go in '58: Libsohn

NEW YORK—The tape cartridge is a year away, according to Dave Libsohn, sales topper for Telectrosonic. He told The Billboard that his firm is working on a cartridge player but that production is being held back because certain refinements are needed before the product is perfect.

"It will never go over this year," Libsohn declared.

Telectrosonic is, however, debuting four-track stereo machines to handle open-reel, four-track recorded tapes (see separate story). These are the first stereo machines produced by the firm. The recorded tape people now producing two-track stereo tapes will be forced into producing four-track stereo, Libsohn believes.

That this procedure results in more sales of medium-priced machines than starting with the low end lines has been proved at F. M.

Display Factor

If the major proportion of sales are mid-range machines, then why not emphasize those recorders display-wise? That's been tried but found wanting.

"Customers will want the fashion surroundings, and are more impressed with displays of the most expensive machines even tho they might not purchase them," says Hintermeyer. "It's similar to the automobile ads and agency showrooms. They show loads of convertibles because of the fashion appeal; even the sales of convertibles constitute a small portion of total sales."

The sales approach to rental customers is exactly the opposite. The low-end machines are used for rentals and the customer, if he doesn't indicate a desire to utilize the purchase option, is steered toward the medium price machines. When a customer returns a rental, the salesman asks him whether he had any trouble operating the machine. The answer is usually an unequivocal "no," and the customer volunteers that the machine worked fine.

The salesman then shows him a pre-recorded tape, asks him to listen for a few minutes to the playback off the rented machine. That gets the customer into the recorder showroom, and it is then an easy matter to remove the tape from the rental model and play it on the medium-priced machine. The salesman points out additional features of the new machine, explains the financing plan, dwells on the dual use of a recorder, and the sale is well on its way.

The Clincher

As a clincher, if a sale of a mid-range machine has still not resulted from either the rental customer or the new machine prospect, the purchase of a used machine is suggested. The customer is told that the rented machine is taken out of the rental pool after three months, then offered for sale at a substantially reduced price to customers who have indicated a desire to own a used model. The machines are recommended by the firm's service shop so that they are in top mechanical condition when sold.

The purpose behind our tape recorder merchandising program," says Hintermeyer, "is to integrate all facets of it to take advantage of every sales opportunity. We've tried a number of different set-ups, but our sales figures show that, of all methods, the idea of having all avenues lead to sales of medium-priced machines results in the most profit."

TAPE ACCESSORIES

A Cinch to Sell, Says Ariz. Dealer

By BOB LATIMER,

PHOENIX, Ariz.—"We sell almost half as many tape recorder accessories as we do record accessories because we have made a sincere effort to make them known to customers." That's the way Hack Metz, owner of Audio Specialists here, describes an unusual promotional program which has been in effect for the past year.

The number of tape recorder owners is growing every day," Metz said, including both monaural set owners and, in the last year or so, a lot of stereophonic recorder purchasers. While tape may not be subject to as much damage as records, it can benefit from half a dozen accessories and, consequently, we never lose an opportunity to let the prospect know that such accessories exist."

Many Items

Among the items which Metz plays up consistently to his tape recorder customers are splicers, splicing tape, camel's hair brushes for brushing dust away, four-type cases to protect reels of tape in storage, gummed labels for identification, and for more advanced fans such items as an erasing magnet, which will erase an entire reel of tape in one operation. Then, of course, there are such accessories as foot switches, additional speakers etc., stereophonic conversion kits, converters to operate tape recorders in an automobile, high-response microphones for better music recording, conference microphones for use, where people are grouped around the table, etc.

Whenever one of Metz' store visitors mentions that he owns a tape recorder, Metz swings into action, with the suggestion that he wants a demonstration of accessories. One of the most popular, surprisingly, has been an imitation loop which, slipped over the top of a French-type telephone, makes it possible to record both ends of the telephone conversation, thus saving a lot of time and effort.

Sells Everyone

"Sooner or later, we sell almost every tape recorder customer at least a few accessories," Metz said. "Beginning with the splicer, which makes it much simpler to do a neat, non-interrupting splice job; then, of course, splicing tape, extra speaker etc. Wherever we find that people are using monaural tape recorders for correspondence, we have something to offer in the way of protective plastic boxes for mailing smaller reels safely. While the tape doesn't need the sort of protection that records do, there is plenty of market for these useful items."

Sells Service Department First

Locally down town, sales to ministers, businessmen, private users, music stores, party-givers, organizations, etc., who rent the machine first, give it a thorough try for whatever purpose they have in mind, and are then pleased enough to go ahead with the purchase. Classified ad under "musical instruments" in the Salina newspaper offers the rental service, but most of it is developed by word-of-mouth, or by means of signs in the windows or on the walls of the store.

Proud of his service department which has a full-time, three-man crew repairing televisions, phonographs, tape recorders and other electronic sound reproducing equipment, Edgington sees to it that every first-time visitor to the store is "taken on tour" of the service department. It is located in a separate room a step away from the basement-level showroom where phonographs, components, radios, record players and console-model tape recorders are shown. Taking the prospective customer into the service department to look at its neat, well-equipped shop, stocks of replacement parts, etc., builds a lot of confidence.

"We have been slightly surprised to find that a lot of tape recorder prospects still regard the machines as complex electronic equipment which takes a real expert to use," Edgington says. "When we show them how simple they are to operate and the service department which can keep them in top shape at all times we remove any fears at once."

Home Demo

Next, Edgington is glad to arrange for home demonstrations but does so on an "approval basis," writing up the "sale" on the recorder with the understanding that he will take it back if the customer in any way dissatisfied. The fact that the purchaser must sign a contract before the "home demonstration can be carried out" is enough to deter any "joy riders" and to guarantee a certain amount of security on the customer's part. There has never been a single instance in which a home demonstration failed to result in a sale over the past several years.

Edgington Music Company gone centralized on two major lines of tape recorders, Webster and Bell & Howell. They experimented with more than a dozen makes, and found these two lines consistently best sellers in the Salina market. Merchandise is displayed along a waist-high counter, extending down both sides of a narrow aisleway at the rear. Two high-fidelity show-room branch off of this and are referred to by store employees as the $100 room, $200 room, and $300 room.

Telephone tape recorders are alternated with monaural types side by side along the counters, for comparative demonstration. Simple cones with jacks are used to hook up any of the speakers, mounted on upper shelves around the walls, for demonstration. Since he regards anyone as a tape recorder prospect, be he a businessman or a music lover, Edgington has long been at loss as to what sort of direct mail or radio, newspaper, or other advertising media would produce results. He incorporates tape recorders advertising into his regular record, musical instrument and sheet music advertising.

Big Prospect List

Says Edgington, "We sell a lot of them to the airmen at a nearby U. S. Air Force base, who get a lot of pleasure from recording music from radio, television or phonograph. We sell just as many, however, to businessmen who make business machines out of them by buying foot switches and other accessories for dictation. Our customers use tape recorders for correspondence with other tape recorder owners, to record the voice of children, to provide uninterrupted music for parties and for every other conceivable purpose. We stopped long ago attempting to categorize tape recorder prospects and simply recognized that we are going to have a wide variety of prospects as we go along."

'100%-STEREO FIRM'

Madison Fielding Plunging On $49.95 Multiplex Unit

By CHARLES SINCLAIR

NEW YORK — Stereo FM multiplexing is going to be a sales blockbuster for component hi-fi dealers next year, and the salvation of more 600 FM stations who've been facing shrinking radio revenues," says Leonard Fielding, president of one of the youngest and most aggressive firms on the audio scene: Madison Fielding.

Fielding is already deep in compatible multiplexed FM—a system whereby, like the stereo disk, a two channel sound can be carried on an FM outlet's channel and "unmixed" at the receiving end.

"Stereoizing so far has largely been a matter of unsatisfactory compromises," he says. "Combinations of AM and FM leave much to be desired, from an audio standpoint. TV-FM combinations aren't much better. And a multiplex method that would deliver to the ordinary FM listener only half of a program source would be rejected."

A compatible system of FM multiplexing—in which the ordinary FM listener hears a monaural combination of channels and the listener who is equipped for it will hear the program in stereo—will really open things up in a hurry. And FM stations now realize that this will be radio's way of cashing in on the stereo boom.

The Madison Fielding prexy cites, for example, the recent study by the Institute of High Velocity manufacturers which showed that 23 per cent of the FM stations replying plan to go into multiplexing in the near future.

"This is just a beginning," says Fielding. "Unlike the earliest days of color TV, this is not a situation where there's a hassle over competing systems. It's virtually certain that a full green light will be given to stereo multiplexing."

Conversion Unit

Fielding is doing a lot more than drum-beating for compatible stereo-coded FM. In about two weeks, his firm will start marketing via Brand Products, which handles the selling of Magnavox Fielding Products and Smith & Doran, which handles the advertising—the first multiplex conversion unit to hit the market: the MX-100 at $49.95 (see photo).

"We're sticking our neck out, but it's a logical development of our product," growls, he says. "The whole job of design-production was done in just three months. This is pretty fast movement, but not difficult for us. We use the early components that whose products are now 100 per cent stereo."

The converter is being manufactured by Madison Fielding under license from Murray Crosby, president of Crosby Laboratories, a development firm that has been the trailblazer in perfecting a "compatible" FM stereo that can be received in "monaural" fashion by an ordinary tuner, and in "stereo" mode by audiophiles equipped with conversion units.

Dimension Control

One of the special features of the MX-100 is a device that Fielding terms a "Dimension Control."

"When this control is turned down, both channels are completely blended," he explains. "As you advance it, they begin to separate into the two stereo channels. This enables a user to pre-set the degree of aural separation, say, 50 percent, regardless of speaker placement. There's no tuning involved, either. The converter gets its signal from the multiplex output jack now common in FM tuner."

Adult Mort Winapple, who will handle the unit's marketing at Brand Products:

Stereo a Gain for Specialty Stores

NEW YORK — Is the phonograph a specialty shop headed for good times or bad? A "healthy resurrection" is in the offing, according to this Sunday Grey Matter, a monthly bulletin published by the Grey Advertising Agency here. And while it is simplified rather than stated, the stereophonic phonograph and disk are typical of the times that will effect the change for the better. Grey, incidentally, handles the Westinghouse phonograph and RCA Victor record accounts.

Grey Matter points out that marketing people tend of late to overlook the small specialty shop because of an "obsession" with the one-step giant supermarkets. But, they point out, others are millions of shoppers who want the speed, service and convenience that the giant stores fail to give. Evidence of the specialty shop's strength is the fact that they are co. big increase (21,000 new shops) in 1957's business.

Regarding the new development in stereophonic phonographs and disks, the specialty store is in the driver's seat. Grey Matter states that the giant super often throw a roadblock in the path of new products. But the small retailer, on the other hand, "is often ready and eager to provide a proving ground for the advertiser introducing new products."

Here are the forms of collaboration taken by the small retailer, according to Grey Matter:

1. Quicker and more convenient service.

BRITISH ARE COMING

Collaro Using Five-Terminal Heads on Newest Changers

NEW YORK — The British are landing in a stereo invasion of the U. S. Three new record changers, all designed "specifically" for stereo, are being introduced here by Rockbar Corporation, the American distributor for British-made Collaro units.

The three new changers, and their key features, are

The Continental, Model TSC-400, featuring a two-piece turntable with new, five-terminal phono head exclusively with Collaro. By providing two completely independent circuits—the five terminal head generates the ultimate in noise-reduction circuitry, as vital for good stereo reproduction, says Rockbar. 'PER-KNOB' PRICE ON NEW STEREO?

NEW YORK — Just as Madison Avenue measures TV programs on a cost-per-1,000-yardstick, the components firms of Madison Fielding has developed—at least for purposes of conversation—an electronic version for making an off-the-cuff evaluation of stereo components. It's "price-per-knob."

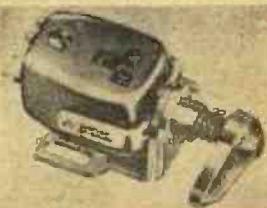

Tongue-in-cheek, Leonard Fielding, firm presy., of the new Series 340 stereo front-ended preamps:

"We figure the price per knob, making allowances for dual concentric controls, averaging a little more than seven bucks."

Recoton Bows 'Piggy-Back' Stereo Pickup

NEW YORK—Recoton is about to market a new "twist" in turn-over cartridges: a stereo job that will provide a "standby" monaural cartridge, with standard LP tip, or a 78-millimetre tip on the other, with the cartridges mounted piggy-back fashion.

The unit is the Series RG-43 which, in its stereo mode, provides a .07-mill diamond for playback

Bogen Bows Wall Chart Set On Stereo Item

NEW YORK — David Bogen division of Bogen-Siegler Corporation is making available to dealers colorful wall charts that depict the ease and joy of conversion to stereo of existing Bogen high-fidelity systems.

The company's STA-1 stereo adapter and the STA-A stereo adapter amplifier, enable Bogen owners to convert any Bogen system made since 1940 to stereo. The new Bogen unit provides completely integrated, balanced-sound stereo, not just an added second channel.

Orange, black and white wall charts provide dealers with three simplified diagrams showing the ease of stereo conversion. The STA-1, a Bogen exclusive, is priced at $13.50. This adapter permits single-fader control of the volume of both amplifiers used in a high-fidelity stereo system. The STA-1 also permits channel inversion and provides for monaural listening as well.

STA-A stereo adapter amplifier, priced at $52.50, incorporates a dual pre-amplifier and a 10-watt amplifier designed so that only an single stereo disk, with the choice of LP or 78 tip on the turntable side coming in a choice of two models.

"Not only do they provide full-range stereo with extremely low distortion, but both cartridges offer completely smooth symphonic channel separation," Production is up to the point where delivery is "practically immediate," according to Jack Karras, executive v.p. of Recoton Corporation. No price is stated.

Canadian Distribrs Named by Zenith For Western Areas

TORONTO — Zenith Radio Corporation of Canada, Ltd., has announced the appointment of four companies as distributors of Zenith radio, television, phonograph, and stereophonic instruments in Western Canada.

J. H. Ashdown-Hardware Company, Ltd., Winnipeg, was selected to handle distribution in Saskatchewan, Manitoba and a western section of Ontario. Bruce Robinson, Electric, Ltd., of Calgary, is the distributor in southern Alberta and the East Kootenay market area in British Columbia.

Major Appliances and Refrigeration (B. C.), Ltd., of Vancouver, will serve dealers within the provinces of British Columbia and the Yukon territory of Canada, except for the East Kootenay area and the northeast section of British Columbia known as the Peace River block.

An announcement of the distribution deal was made by L. C. Trudell, vice-president, Zenith Canada.

Sylvania Pays 50c Dividend

NEW YORK—Directors of Sylvania Electric Products, Inc., meeting here last week, declared a dividend of 50 cents per share on the company's common stock, payable October 1, 1958, to stockholders of record at close of business September 30.

In addition, the directors declared the regular quarterly dividend of $1 per share on the 24 cumulative preferred stock, payable October 1, 1958, to stockholders of record at the close of business September 30.

CAPITOL STEREO PHONOGRAPHS

1 Sound systems developed by Capitol's own recording engineers to give true, balanced stereophonic sound.

Capitol sound engineers—pioneers in the science of stereo—developed these sound systems themselves. Each stereo model, with (optional) matching speaker cabinet and master control panel, offers true, balanced stereo sound. And all models, from console to portable, play monaural records with the clearest possible fidelity.

What's more, as a Capitol dealer, your efforts are backed by aggressive merchandising. This is the same merchandising that has made Capitol Records, in its short lifetime, one of the leaders in the music industry.

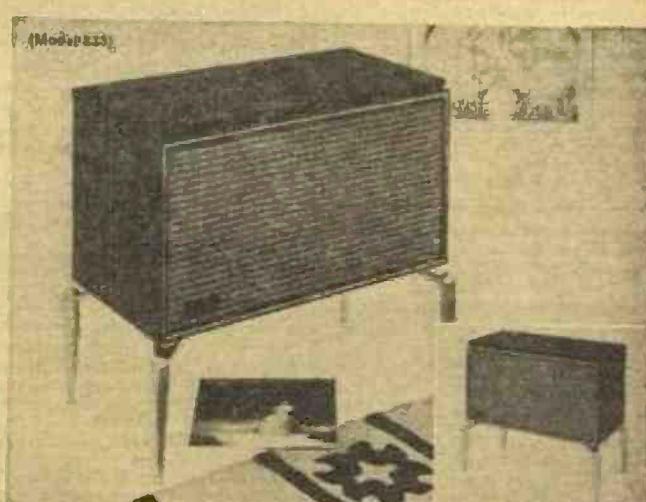

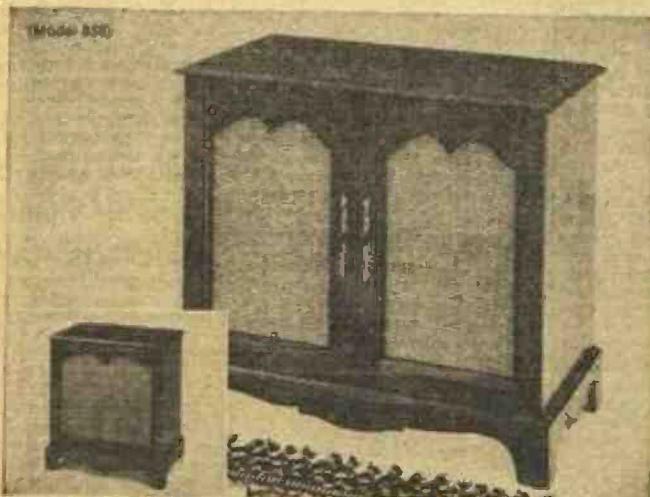

2 Custom-quality sets from the recognized merchandising leaders in the music industry—Capitol Records.

These other advantages will stimulate sales, too:

CUSTOM-STYLED CABINETS! Fashioned by leading furniture designers. Hand-rubbed wood consoles, scuff-resistant portables.

FACTORY-AUTHORIZED SERVICE! Every set carries Capitol's full warranty, allowing for free parts and service for 90 days at no cost to you, the dealer.

FULL PAGE ADS! Millions of potential customers will see these phonographs advertised in Look and Life. And Capitol's successful merchandising know-how helps you plan local promotions.

Four low-priced, high-styled portables for regular discs (Model 824 above)

Add it up: Capitol delivers high styling... higher fidelity...highest value in the whole wide world of music.

DEALER PROMOTIONS

Now, It's Stereo-Voiced TV as RCA Readies Oct. 21 'Parties'

By J. J. COUPLAND

NEW YORK — RCA Victor dealers and distributors will be staging a series of "Color Stereo Parties" to sell both color TV sets and the concept of stereophonic sound on the night of October 21, NBC's latest plan to plug two-channel networking.

The dealer level promotion will be staged in connection with a "stereo simulcast" of the in-color, RCA-sponsored George Gobel Show that night, in which the show's soundtrack will be split between the network's AM outlets and TV with the first national stereophonic broadcast using network TV and radio, according to NBC advertising chief R. H. Coffin.

Biggest Audience

By all indications, the color television is likely to perform its missionary functions for two-channel sound before the largest single audience gathered for a stereo show to date, topping by a wide margin the radio audiences garnered for NBC's Radio's recent stereo "spooktacular" on the Bert Parks' Bandstand series. Estimates of audience size based on previous national Nielsen's of the Gobel program, run between 40 and 50 million viewers.

The project is known to have been in the works for some time involving such NBC personnel as Music Director Eddie Muddiman and "Bandstand" producer Bob Sodoff—a team that has compiled considerable experience in live stereosound. Also heavily involved in the project is the Bell System, over whose lines the show must be fed.

Special Arrangements

In order to show off the stereo effect, a portion of the Gobel color telecast will include music and special effects to demonstrate the direction and realism that stereo adds to the single-dimension sound we have been accustomed to," according to Victor exec Coffin.

Also the sound quality in the demonstrations is expected to be "dramatic and exciting." Victor makes no bones about the fact that it "will not have the quality of our new RCA Victor stereophonic hi-fi Victrola phonographs and tape players." However, it's expected to do the basic job—that of impressing listeners to the point where "viewers will want to sample the real thing."

Color Gimmick

As a highlight of the "Color Stereo Party," RCA is also staging a special color phonograph demonstration in which listeners will match a gatefold insert in color-in TV Guide's October 19 issue against their home screens, showing "the tremendous difference color makes in a TV picture."

Viewers will see the top half of the picture (whose action will match the color insert) in black and white, and the bottom half in color.

Jensen Names
4-State Reps

FOREST PARK, Ill.—Jensen Industries, manufacturer of phonograph needles and cartridges, has appointed Crockett, Lund & Company as sales representatives in the four States of Texas, Oklahoma, Arkansas and Louisiana.

Sole organization headed by John Crockett and Lloyd Lund plans an aggressive dealer promotion campaign from its home office in Dallas, featuring new Jensen merchandising material for its full line of needles and cartridges. Crockett, Lund organization has 12 salesmen and seven engineers in its area.

Madison Fielding Plunging will—naturally—be tightly controlled. We will go first for the markets where compatible FM and television will be available, such as New York, where WBAL-FM is about to start; Pittsburgh, where KDKA has multiple plants and other cities like Chicago, Los Angeles, Denver and Seattle. The spread to other markets will follow, he & matter of time."

By any standard, fast-stepping Madison Fielding is an electron-upstart. Fielding himself is an alumnus of Fisher Radio and, with his associates, formed the company just two years ago.

"We wanted a name with a nice Ivy-League Stadium atmosphere to it," he admits. "So we pulled Madison Fielding out of the hat. We'd been in stereo for a little more than a year. We saw that stereo was going to break big—and we decided to 'go for broke' along with it."

Typical of the 100-per cent plug-in stereo components is the firm's new Series 340 "Master Stereophonic Console"—a preamp face with wall enough, dual concentric knobs, indicators, mode, light, front and rear controls and stereo functions to keep Max Gordon happy.

Just being launched via Brand, the Series 340 unit has provision for every conceivable stereo need (disk, tapes, recording in stereo, AM-FM menu, FM-FM, FM-Multiplex, and microphones) and even has a controlled "third channel" to feed a monaural mix to a third speaker-amplifier or recorder.

Altogether it's loaded with features and premium components (it uses six 7025 tubes instead of regular 12AX7s, for instance), and is made under a "quality control" system so tight that only 1 per cent of the units won't top its muf. The price is a relatively modest $300 (minus cabinet).

TRAFFIC STOPPER! Hoffman Electronics has designed a new and striking display for its "Sun-Solar" portable radio, which operates on "free power from the sun." Shown above is K. L. Marton, sales manager of Hollywood's Nicholson Radio & Appliance firm, putting the portable into its case by pushing a switch which starts a bulb behind sun dial, thus starting up conversion light to electricity by solar cells atop radio. Cells are the same as those that power the transmitter in the Vanguard space satellite.

Audio Feedback

COLUMBIA'S STEREO "MOVIE BOOK"

Columbia Records is making effective use of one of the most venerable visual gimmicks to illustrate exactly how a needle tip rides the grooves of a stereo disk. It's a "flip book" bearing the title "How the Stereophonic Groove Moves the Needle," and is now being distributed by Columbia's salesmen to dealers in the firm's phonograph and disk lines. When the pages are flipped rapidly, a small red ball (representing the stylus) rides in the vertical and horizontal planes of a "moving" disk groove shown in cutaway cross-section. It's a cute idea, and, to borrow from the Chinese proverb, is likely to be worth 10,000 words of talk in settling the 45-45 system to someone who can't quite visualize it.

MERCHANDISING PACKAGE COMPONENTS

"Package phone manufacturers very often have too much ego for their own good," says Jack Gilbert, New York ad agency head. "Many of the components that go into package phones—such as the record changer, the pick-up cartridge, the stylus—have acquired a national reputation and national prestige. But practically no phone manufacturer merchandises these components in his advertising, or with the kind of 'hang tags' you see in the soft goods field that read 'This dress is Sandford.' Manufacturers often try to perpetuate the myth that they make all the parts that go into a packaged phone, right down to the tubes. With the level of audio sophistication rising, thanks to the growth of component high fidelity, this is often ridiculous."

Gilbert's point, we feel, is well-taken. Changes like Garfield, Collar, and Glaser Steers (the latter's advertising is via the Gilbertshop), as well as packages like those of GE, Pickering, and Petro-Voice, plus still from Fisherline and Waco, have become known to the public. Manufacturers might do well to examine, as Gilbert himself says, "how they can let some of the component prestige rub off on their packages."

Pushing this just one jump further, some component makers can apply the same thinking to component units. Audiophiles might well "upgrade" their regard for an amplified or vacuum tube that they saw causing a little tag saying, for example, "This unit contains Mullard tubes exclusively." It's always smart business to demonstrate that you've chosen quality materials for your product.

RCA STEREO TAPE CARTRIDGES

Latest word from Camden is that RCA Victor will start shipping its four-track stereo tape magazines to distributors in about two more weeks, with the tape players following in about six months. First batch of tape magazines will total some 16 releases.

LAYING A FREUD EGG

One of the biggest ingold blocks of the season was developed recently by The Billboard. It occurred in story about the new fall stereo line being launched by one of the larger component firms. Roy, was it consistent? The first part of the name was not spelled in the head—bigdeed, the text and in captions with the illustrations. Possibly, it grew out of mental connection between the name and the musical term "harmony." Alas! It's not Harmonic-Kardon, as we had it. It's Harmon-Kardon, which doesn't rhyme as well but at least is how Sid Harmon signed his name. Our apologies.

THE PRINTED CIRCUIT

Crusco Products has appointed Arthur Costello as national service manager. Same firm has also named new distributor and sales rep including the following: Goodhinder Associates, of Washington; Guy Carter and Associates, Atlanta; Diamond-Cross Associates, Boston; Windsor-Low, Cleveland, and Jack F. McKinney Sales Company, Dallas. In Jackson, Miss., the Oegill Bros. Hardware Company has been named a distributor for Sylvania Home Electronics. Mauri Parker Associates, Buffalo, has been appointed a sales rep by American Microphones. Tom Marco Company, San Bruno, Calif., has been appointed a rep by Precision Electronics (Crownes ampl., preamps, etc.). Jack Bernstein is handling the fliers chosen for the upcoming New York High Fidelity Music Show... Nice tie-up was scored by admiral Irving Greene on the recent Handel's Island New York Jazz Festival. A well-plugged door pit is a "dream set" that consisted of choice components from accounts he handles such as K-T-U speakers, Pickering & Company and McIntosh.

OVER THE TRANSONI

We hear that Westrex really takes stereo very seriously; they've made a continuing series of modifications in their stereo disk cutter that spells steady improvement in disk quality... Sale of stereo tapes are down as much as 25 per cent for some firms... Pickering is planning to market a wide-range electrostatic speaker in 1959... GE, jumpy over foreign tube competition, is boosting the standards of the production models.

GE to Launch Stereo Amp Pair in Fall Sales Mart

AUBURN, N. Y.—High quality stereo performance, unusual control flexibility, and a new approach to appearance design are being spotlighted by General Electric at highlight aspects of two new "Stereo Claude" amplifiers being readied by General Electric.

First of these, the MS-4000 model, has two integrated 20-watt channels, and is scheduled for October availability. Consumer price will be $169.95.

The other is the MS-2000, featuring two integrated 14-watters and scheduled for November availability. Consumer price for this model is $129.95.

Each unit is actually two power amps and two preamps in a single chassis. Both are said to be designed primarily for amplification of stereo disk program material, as well as stereo and monaural tape, broadcast and monaural disks.

The highly styled new appearance of the amplifiers' control panels, according to GE, "brings flat-facedplate design in line with Counter-balanced transcription-type turntable (also exclusive with Collaro) will accept any standard stereo or monaural cartridge. Arm is designed so that there is less than a gram in tracking pressure between the top and bottom of a stack of records. Other features include four speeds; manual switch to permit playing of single record or portion of record; automatic shut-off after last record; automatic reinsert—plays 7 1/2", 10" or 12" records in any order; heavy-duty 4-pole induction motor and direct-mating switch. The Continental price is $49.95.

The Coronation, Model TSC-740: Charger is equipped with the new stereo phono input jack featured on the Continental. Coronation also includes many custom features: extra heavy duty 4-pole motor; heavy unweighted, balanced turntable for flywheel action; four speeds plus manual switch for turntable action; stereo mating switch; two-tone colors to fit any decor; pre-wiring for easy installation. The Coronation price is $42.50.

The Conquest, Model TSC-840: Popular-priced precision changer with new one-piece stereo tone arm. This unit also incorporates many of the custom features of the more expensive changers. The Conquest features a heavy duty 4-pole posidrive induction motor; four speeds plus manual switch for turntable operation; four speeds plus manual switch for turntable action; stereo mating switch; two-tone colors to fit any decor; pre-wiring for easy installation. The Conquest price is $38.50.

THE BILLBOARD SPOTLIGHT WINNERS OF THE WEEK

The following new packages, reviewed during the past week, have been selected for outstanding sales potential, artistic merit, new talent, sound recording or display value.

as indicated. These "Spotlights," in the opinion of The Billboard staff, merit prime consideration from dealers.

PARIS IMPRESSIONS

Eroll Garner—Columbia C2L 9

Eroll Garner has a chance to come up with another big seller with this new, handsomely packaged double LP set, which contains twice as much. Garner as any package previously released, and Garner on harpsichord in addition to piano. Set contains 18 tunes, some standards and some originals, all played by Garner in his delightful style. The package with its pictures of Garner in Paris and its attractive cover adds much to the set and makes it a fine display item for dealers. A solid Garner release for both pop and jazz connoisseurs.

Stereo Sound Albums

LISTENING IN DEPTH!

Columbia SP 1

Smart dealers can get much mileage out of this de luxe set. It's a specially boxed package which includes a fully illustrated booklet. How to accomplish. There's a little flip-the-page booklet that shows how the needle moves in the groove and there's a disk with a generous sample of Columbia artists—pop and classical—performing in the new medium. Early the most imaginative of the numerous stereo samplers, this can be a fine intro to the newcomer to the field. Can sell $3.95.

Children's Albums

Rosemary Clooney and Jose Ferrer—M-G-M E 3709

Here's an album that parent after parent will purchase for their young ones. It features Jose Ferrer and wife Rosemary telling two of the best known recorded kid stories, "Tubby the Tuba" (told by Jose Ferrer) and "The Story of Celente" (told by Rosemary). Both Mr. and Mrs. tell these charming stories beautifully, and the arrangements and production are excellent. An outstanding package.

POPULAR ★★★

MAURICE CHEVALIER - YESTERDAY & TODAY M-G-M 225

Two discs, one being official recordings, the other being unreleased material. The disc is a collection of 18 tunes, some from the early days of Chevalier's career, some later. "Smile," "I'm a Little Teapot," "The Naughty Dog," "I'm a Little Teapot" and others are here. The disc ends with a duet with Dorothy Lamour, "I'm a Little Teapot." The disc is a nice recording, with "I'm a Little Teapot" and others, but it's not quite up to standard.

DESTINATION MOON

Asm. Brothers and BM Roots, On-Columbia LP1010

British reissue of a group of 16 standards set with some comedians with stories for the title. "Name," "Breakfast in Bed," "I'm a Little Teapot," "I'm a Little Teapot" and others are here. The disc ends with a duet with Dorothy Lamour, "I'm a Little Teapot."

LOVE AND THE GOOD BOOK

Leslie Ardenwood, with the St. John Choir and the AP Chorus, Decca DL 7743

This interesting collection of spirituals and hymns is unique. It's going to be a hit.

POPULAR ★★★

Buddy Short, Atlantic 1225

Smart package by Short on a group of great tunes with excellent orchestra. Trumpet and trumpet every word, and Short is easily identifiable in all places. The Phil Woods orchestra is excellent. This disc is a must for anyone who likes "I'm a Little Teapot," "Don't You Know," "I'm a Little Teapot," "I'm a Little Teapot" and others.

PLATES FLAPPERS AND PLACKERS

Tom Glazer & His Collection, Spur LN 400

Tom Glazer, whose unique combination who was very much popular when the term for talk show was coined, has had a long and a distinguished career. He is a natural and a righteously absurd host for the latest incarnation, the result of the Presidency era. The titles like "Confederate" and "Barber Shop" are played extremely straight, with no attempt to make them look like an approachable party. The show is a bit of a nonentity, but it is a good example of what can be done with a

Fayard Grimes, RCA Victor LPM 1742

The fastest, most complete and most authoritative evaluation of packaged records

Classical Albums

Yehudi Menuhin, Violin with the Philharmonia Orch. (Goossens)—Capitol G 7108

These Spanish-flavored pieces as recorded here are outstanding additions to available repertoire. Menuhin's tone and technical mastery are a delight, and the orchestra under the baton of Goossens achieves inspired effects. The sound and glossy surface attest to the careful supervision and engineering.

Classical Opera Albums

PUCCINI: SUOR ANGELICA

Victoria De Los Angeles, Soprano; Fedora Barbieri, Mezzo-Soprano; Various Artists with Orchestra & Chorus of the Opera House, Rome (Scrafia) EMI—Capitol G 7115

With no recordings in the catalog, this lovely performance will delight opera buffs and is a real contribution. The short, tragic, lyrical work is sung uniformly well by the all-female cast, with De Los Angeles meeting in the title role and Fedora-Barbieri brilliant as the Aunt.

Classical Special Merit Albums

MOZART & RICHARD STRAUSS ARIAS

Erika Koeth with the Berlin Philharmonic Orch. (Schuchter & Matzner) EMI—Capitol G 7114

Famed in Europe, this glittering coloratura will win the U. S. before long. Equally at home with the fireworks of "Zerbinetta's" aria from "Strauss," and the Queen of the Night pieces from "Magic Flute" and the cool lyricism of her "Don Giovanni" choices, the artist displays facets of a major talent, fresh, strong, limpid and beguiling. Helmut Howling's flute solo is a plus. An auspicious first American release.

DVORAK: CONCERTO FOR CELLO & ORCH.

Mstislav Rostropovich, Cello with the Royal Philharmonic Orch. (Boult)—Capitol G 7109

Rostropovich, who toured the United States in 1956 as the U.S.S.R.'s top cellist, really makes the instrument sing in this performance of what many feel is the best of Dvorak's concerti. Sir Adrian Boult's batonning of The Royal Philharmonic is superb. Outstanding classical work, beautifully engineered as to sound.

Topper, one of N.Y.C. Marion's top disk jockeys, has a new name as record critic; this job here follows a 25-year American radio career. The writer did all of the arrangements for both the band and the vocal group who do place songs on the charts as well. Outside of his occasional air orchestra arrangement he has come up with a startling set of standards, "I'm a Little Bit Blue," "I'm a Little Bit Blue," "A Little Bit Blue," "I'm a Little Bit Blue," "I'm a Little Bit Blue," and "That Old Black Magic."

Mr. Alvin Xavier Capo, in front of a microphone, pianistically arranged several words, plus a group of tunes from "I'm a Little Bit Blue," a show which he wrote. The recently launched "I'm a Little Bit Blue" and half of the rest, "I'm a Little Bit Blue" is refreshingly pleasant, which can account for its success.

bear and inspirational standards, by a definite leap in personnel, and should have wide appeal. Sound is excellent. Good series shot of details.

SING WITH EVANS

Dot DEP 3105

A strong, ringing singing-lesson track with several cuts like "I'm a Little Bit Blue," "I'm a Little Bit Blue," "I'm a Little Bit Blue," and "I'm a Little Bit Blue." Written and produced originally by arranger Graham Price. Thrush has body, vibrant power and good harp techniques. Good vocal backing.

Tommy Mara Soars With Crosby Theme

This young 23-year-old Falsetto artist is another of the many new singers on the rise. Taking the old Bing Crosby theme, "Where the Blue of the Night," he has as the saying goes, made it. Originally on the Hot 100 chart and ready to pop onto records, he had been flooded with personal appearance offers.

He made his professional debut at the age of 10 at a New Haven Brewster's benefit. At the age of 15, he was acclaimed "Connecticut's King of the Baritones" in a State-wide competition among more than two thousand singers. This led to three-year stint on station WNEW, New Haven. He has since been on telethons, in night clubs, on TV and radio programs throughout the country.

He is managed by Sidney H. Archer, who did the press build-up for such as Tony Bennett, Vic Damone, Lisa Kirk and others.

Bobby Hendricks Has Twitchy Hit Feeling

This Sue recording artist is currently riding the charts with his "Itchy Twitchy Feeling" but is not new to the hit record category. While this is his first for the Sue label and his first hit as a single artist, Bobby Hendricks was the lead singer for the Drifters on their "Moonglow Bay" and "Drip Drop" recordings.

The vital statistics read: Born February 22, 1938 in Columbus, Ohio where he attended Durfee Junior and Central High Schools. Height: 5'7" tall and weighs 180 pounds.

He started in his home town with a vocal group called the Five Crown and later joined a group from Baltimore called the Swallows. It was in Baltimore that the Drifters approached him to replace their lead singer who was Army bound. During his eight months with them, he became friendly with their guitar player, Jimmy Oliver, who was both a writer and arranger. It was this combo that produced his current hit disk.

as owner of "Night Train," from midnight to 2 a.m. across the board. . . . Teen-aged disc-jay Candy Lee, WDKK, Cleveland, is writing a column, "The Soda Set," for Buddy Bach's "Top Hit Club News."

Larry Bodkin has moved from WJMP, Jacksonville, Fla., to WPEQ, same city, as program director. Meanwhile, Shirley Jeanne,

"Miss Jacksonville of 1955," has joined WJMP with a 4:45 p.m. time slot and a 10 a.m. to noon show tagged "Shirley Jeanne's Coffee Break." . . . New nighttime spinner at WOAL, San Antonio, is Bob Guthrie. . . . Jack Taylor, formerly with WBBM, Chicago, and Dick Williamson, KXXZ, Houston, are newest jockey additions at WIND, Chicago.

Jerry Connors is doing a taped, half-hour daily show over WNMB, Evanston, Ill., from the Club Wakiki, a north side entity. . . . Bob O'Hara, ex-WILS, Lansing, Mich., jock, has joined WOOD, Grand Rapids, Mich. . . . George (Bad) Armstrong, who joined KOWH, Omaha, in 1949 as a deejay and currently general manager of WHB, Kansas City, Mo., has been named executive manager of the Stein Broadcasting Company. The 30-year-old exec will continue in his management post at WHB. Buddy Holiday, the former Chink Lay, in spinning 'em now over WINZ, Miami. He is also recording under the Holiday name for BIS Records of Memphis. . . . Don De Blanc is cubbing for Bill Zakk over KTRH, Houston, who is on vacation.

Carey Justice has joined the Army deejay staff at KNOX, Fort Knox, Ky., along with program director . . . deejay Jim Adams, formerly with WSTV, AM and TV, Steubenville, O. Adams, who utilizes a "Nifty Fifty" programming format, introduces new releases on bleeps, via catchy category tags "Rapid Rose," "Instrumental Flip to a Hit," "Slow Beat to Buy," "Flip to a Hit," and "Beat to a Beat."

Frank Bell, WAOF, San Antonio, has replaced Don French, KTSA, same city, as host of the Kit-Kat Klub's Friday night record hops. . . . Tim Nolan, KPRC, Houston, is sitting at gratis emcee for Saturday night record hops at Mt. Carmel High School. . . . The entire deejay roster of KONO, San Antonio, hosted a special stagewalk featuring Les Elgart and his orchestra at the San Antonio Municipal Auditorium last week.

ONCE UPON A TIME BIG BIRD Station WINS, New York, has come up with a male version of "Cinderella" deejay style. He's 16-year-old Mitch Lebe, who starts his own show for the outlet this week. Most jocks will agree it's something of a coup for an aspiring deejay to land a berth with a Manhattan 50,000-watt station.

very first try. Lobe, a Lybrook High School senior from East Rockaway, will spin records for teens every Saturday from 10 a.m. to 11 a.m. Heretofore Lobe's pregradual activities were limited to a tape recording hobby, records and daydreams about being a deejay "someday."

THIS 'N THAT: Art Fallon, KDKA, Pittsburgh, had a small role in the new Universal International movie, "Once Upon a Horse." However, fans of the charming, but conservative Fallon may hit an eyebrow when they see the picture. The jock's one sketch takes place in a barroom, and his one-line comment is about "the increased price of drinks." . . . Jerry Howard, WEPI, Boston, who spins an all-night stare from 11:15 p.m. to 5 a.m., is spending his early-evening hours making personal appearances at seven local drive-in theaters.

Focus on Revival

even the GAC officials responsible for initiating the jingle. Morrow, of course, is a name which also goes back over a considerable period. Tony Pastor, another name first associated with the old Arctic Shaw band of 20 years ago, is also going to make the same type of tour. Still another name to conjure with on the current band scene is Les Brown. The Brown band has been constantly active both here and around the world.

The latest re-emergence of an older group now figures to be the Sauter Finegan band. The it doesn't go back over 20 years, this crew, nevertheless, was a name over 10 years ago. Eddie Sauter returned to the States last week from his tenure at radio Baden-Baden, Germany, and the band will be re-formed shortly. There is also talk which cannot be confirmed at this time, that a Hal Kemp band may be formed within the next six months to be helmed by Hal Kemp Jr.

RITCHIE VALENS

COME ON, LET'S GO (Marns, BMI)

Ritchie, a new artist, has an effective approach on the rocker. Supported by good r.&r. backing, he delivers the catch-tune which he clopped himself in a suitable manner. It's a fine debut disk, and the lad appears to have a winner while this first attempt. Flip it "Peanut" (Quintet, BMI). Del-Fi 4190 seconds & 1st edition. Flip it stronger. (Lorimar, BMI)

BOBBY RYDELL
"I Want Your Love" (There... 74
PARIS 311—After an instrumental opening, there the drums come from off a highpitched reading of a pretty song that was used by Ted Adcock (MGM, ASCAP).

POPS SODA... 74
Australian novelty is going strong by the last year's catalog record. (RCA Victor, BMI)

MAURICE PONTVY
"Come A Little Closer Baby" (Decca 2077)—Remarkable statement of medium-tempo blues with good blues and rock portions. It can do business. (Mercury, BMI)

THE FRAMES... 74
Bluesy-paced bluesy blues is given an energetic vocal by Franks with guitars and art backing. It can go to 12th on the flip. (Capitol, BMI)

GRANBRETHAIN BROTHERS
"Daddy John" (Mercury 31227—31228)—Bluesy blues with a little Rockin' John. The Granbrethain brothers that distinctive blues sound and it could do some volume. (Mercury, BMI)

MIKE MAXWELL
"My Baby Walked Out on Me" ... 74
On the flip side, the boy has a bluesy ballad voice. Feeling underneath very much like the Beatles. (Mercury, Loma, BMI)

JON HEDWICK
"You Still Sound So Good" (Mercury 31229—31230)—Medium, serious blues with a noticeable crooning of a tone that is very much in the pattern of the big hit last year, "You Sound So Good" with & with. (Loma, BMI)

ELIAS GARDNER (in Tad... 74)
Another dog ballad is out with style by Gardner with bluesy backing and a big will. (Loma, BMI)

PETER KREIDER (out)

ELIAS GARDNER (in Tad... 72)

"Love Connection" (out) with a romantic sound. In contrast to Tad, this one is deeper in tempo and has a classical quality. (Zodiak, BMI)

JAN DAVIS
"Destination: Love" (Mercury 31233—31234)—GUIDE 1958—Davis' songs of love to be bring off to find the essence of her on this pulsating rocker. It's a bright side, and it could get some action. It requires, however, (Mercury, BMI)

"Jazzies With the Dark Side" (out)... 74
TIP TOP TIP—A nightish beat-and-boogie & dancing choice especially those received a good vocal from Powell. Tip Top has this musicality added to with pleasure. (Tip Top, BMI)

THE LADIES (in) ... 71
A woman can make a good thing. "Lady" from the title indicates added value to wife pleasure. (Tip Top, BMI)

JIMMY'S BIZZIN' BIZZIN' (out)
Whiplash (Mercury 31240—31241)—EPIC 3103—Rockabilly mix of a wild party. Good auto with a good dancing effort with lots of wild power. Chorus supports, bounces (Mercury, ASCAP)

ELIAS GARDNER (in) ... 70
A spiky rockabilly performance by a shaggy "Bizzin'" backed by a wild band group. Material has moderate appeal. (Mercury, BMI)

KATE WISEMAN
"Lie Like I'm Dying" (Mercury 31242—31243)—CAPITOL 3042—The young singer proves she can carry a pleasant falsetto against chorus and solo. Material has good stories and will become a real favorite. (Mercury, ASCAP)

HUGO WINTERHALTER (Royalty, ASCAP)

CRAZY LITTLE TUNE (Planetary, ASCAP)

Winterhalter's oak and chosen treatments of either of these tunes/cuts provide choice listening. "I Haven't" is based off the "Habenga" from Bizet's "Carmen," and the spiffed rendition should please. "Crazy Little Tune," the flip, is an Oriental-type melody performed with vivacity by a group headed by Bob Gaye.

LOVE CHARMS (Sheridan, BMI)

THE VALLEY AND THE MOUNTAIN (Jat-Lorrae, BMI)

Mrs Maxwell renders "Love Charms" in a bluesy manner against oak-blanket jazz-flavored backing. Her sound reminds one of Peggy Lee's warble of "Fever." "The Valley" is enchanting, folksy tune, sweetly delivered. It's an effective change of pace. Here's a talent worth watching.

JOHNNY AND JONIE

STILL GOING STEADY (Golden West, BMI)

SOME OF THEM BONES ARE MINE (Jat, BMI)

The gal and guy have an attracting sound on both of these appealing sides. "Still Going Steady" is given a medium-tempo rockabilly treatment. Flip "Bones," presented in a tatchy, march-like tempo. The tone has spiritual overtones. Talented pair could have a territorial click.

ENRIQUE PIRESMAN

Fascinating... 73
EMPIRE 321—Enrique Piresman comes out with infectious, distinctive tempo. Too unusual with. (EMPIRE, BMI)

Master Jive... 73
Piresman—all too unusual both and by Teddies. (Mercury, Loma, BMI)

TRINI LOPEZ

The King is Back... 73

Just One More... 73
This has the station effects, and overall quality of "These Blues Is for the Day." Good deal-rock effort but looks more likely. (Mercury, BMI)

ROCKIN' RYDE

Rockin' Ryde... 73
ATCO 411—A wild sounding over-the-guitar with various, unique tempos and a screaming all over this new effort in the moribund tradition. Sounds great, but off the mark. (Mercury, BMI)

This time series standard—receives 3, bouncy, good reading for the international crowd on this side. (Good side, Mercury, BMI)

THE JIVE MUSINGS

WILSON DE PARIS PLATE
COLLECTOR'S PORTFOLIO

Atlantic 1259

The 100 best jazz Cole Porter show tunes receive an interesting treatment here. "Wilson De Paris," New Orleans-created band plays the material with a wealth of flavor. Personnel includes Wilson De Paris himself, brother Bobby, son Guy, Oscar Peterson, Marian McPartland, Eddie Condon, Louis Bellson, George Kirby, and Horace Silver. "Wonderful," "Love for Sale" and "I Got a Job" are typical songs. Cover is very attractive, too.

polished, with four new tunes by the Tropicana—plus Pepper from Red Hot Inn Inn and Ed Thomas as drums effectively complementing Carter's free piano technique on the newly recorded tunes. On the cover: 1951 session. Carter is backed by J. Collins, guitar; Al McRae, bass; and "Shadow" Brown on drums. The Tropicana name is his cue, and the six original cuts, Latin-Jazz style, make Gary Krasner add to overall appeal.

RAUL (PATINA) HINES

The Last Piano Solo, Epic LPN 2681

This package of Hines' one of the last greats was recorded in 1957, just before a physical-to-the-extreme illness took him. His piano playing is filled with warmth and color, sheltered and sensitive. Two tracks include "Love Is Just Around the Corner," "Royal Garden Blues," "Memphis in Vermont"—a youth of musical training and the Paul Anka-like sound just please. Good score by Charles Edward Smith.

SCHUBERT: OCTET — Chamber Music Ensemble of The Young Philharmonic Orch., EMI-Capitol Q 7113. Capitol introduces an impressive new string ensemble. A classic performance of Schubert's octet, a chamber work for strings, clarinet, bassoon and French horn. The sound is excellent, and the track is performed with economy as well as precision. This results well with exciting sections of the work, and certainly no pleasure is forthcoming.

MARIAZINA PRÉLUDIUM BRAHMS — Wallerstein, Anna Barthelmé, Pianist, EMI-Capitol Q 7110. Olga Dukachuk, a major pianist who has just recorded herself, pianist, brings her fascinating interpretation to the 1957 Brahms master. This is one Brahms in memory as may well accommodate her best ideas. It is a clear, straightforward, highly refined playing which is a great composition and execution. Considered an interpretation and execution. Direction makes potential, naming some of the music.

BACH: ORGAN BACHIC — Fernando Gómez, Organ, EMI-Capitol Q 7116. This set, one of the first releases of the world's greatest played on the organ of St. Lazarus Church in Alkmaar, Holland, by Fernando Gómez. The collection includes the "Toccata and Fugue in G Major," "Toccata and Fugue in D Minor," "Toccata and Fugue in F Major," and the "Prelude and Fugue in G Minor." The performance is excellent, and the organ sound is very good. However, there are many, many fine recordings of these familiar Bach organ

MEET CLEO

Cleo Laine, M-G-M #3999

The British, jazz-oriented singer makes her American debut with this act. She has been one of the leading recording and television technicians of Cleo Connor but her style is perhaps a bit less sophisticated than our own school of jazz choruses. Bookings vary from small rhythm groups to larger complements with horns. Many of the songs are standards. Midwives present but the poorly conceived cover won't help.

MURKIN MAN WITH THE WHISPERING ELEKTRON

Edu-Lin 1499

Murkin on bass is given some good support from the swingin' Dutch jazz crew. It's good mainstream jazz with imaginative bounces by Murkin. Set can move with exposure. Titles include "Falling In Love With Love," "Love Is Here To Stay" and "Imagination." Five members.

which went out July 9 and features Frankie Avalon, Jan and Arnie, the Kalis Twins, Dicky Dog and the Don'ts, and Link Wray and his Ray Men, chalked up grosses ranging from $1,884 (Youngstown, Pa.) to $4,407 (Johnson City, N. Y.). The dances run for four hours, with two shows during that period and admissions usually tagged at $1 to $1.50.

Second Unit

The second unit, which went out on the road, August 4, features Danny and the Juniors, the Font-Tafas, Judy Reynolds, Gerry Granan and Buddy Morrow. Due to tee off September 10 is a package spotlighting Bobby Darin, Jimmy Clanton, Dion and the Belmonts, Jo Ann Campbell and the Tony Pastor orchestra. Also going out September 10 is a package featuring Clyde McPhatter, the Deliters, Danleers and the Lloyd Price orchestra.

A unit headed by Duane Eddy, Jack Scott, the Elegants, Shepherd Sisters and the Royal Teens leaves New York September 18, while another package (with Ed Townsend, Olympia, Imperials and Buddy Johnson orchestra) goes out September 23. Several other "Dance Party" packages are in the works for October and November, and GAC plans to expand its coverage to colleges and high schools in the future.

GAC exec Bob Wheeless is making a special booking pitch at dealers this month, with a letter to key spinners advising them of the new packages, and suggesting they promote one of them in their area, either on their own or with a local promoter or civic organization. The letter is headed "You made these records and you made these attractions. You can participate in the success of these people."

In addition to the above mentioned artists (and, of course, GAC's lengthy list of established disk stars — Boones, Como, Marbles, Cole, Bennett, etc.), the agency currently represents the following singles record names: Paul Anka, the Everly Brothers, the Aquatones, Lavern Baker, Chuck Berry, Lillian Bridges, Jerry Butler, the Champs, the Chantels, the Clovers, the Crescendos, the Deljohn Sisters, Crescendos, Connie Francis, Art and Dotty Todd, the Spaniels, George Hamilton IV, Little Anthony, Roy Hamilton, Bill Justis, the Kalan Twins, Monotones, Quin-Tones, Royal Teens, Teddy Randazzo, Shirelles, Shab Wooley, Nick Todd, Eddy Cochran and Janice Harper.

GAC, of course, also handles such musical stars as Georgia Gibbs, Andy Williams, Jerry Vale, Peggy Lee, Jill Corey, Jimmy Dean, the Four Lads, Eddie Corme, the Four Freshmen, Steve Lawrence, Frankie Laine, the Mills Brothers, Billy Eckstine, the Fontane Sisters, Vaughn Monroe, Guy Mitchell, Somethin' Smith and the Redheads, Patti Page, Lee Paul and Mary Ford; Joel James, Julius La Rosa, Johnny Ray, the Kirby Stone IV and Kay Starr.

PALE YANKEE ... 71
This soft-shoe instrumental by the band has something of the melody of "Sleep Kentucky Babe." Attractive score, reading like previously released. (True Blue, ASCAP)

LARRY FORTUNE ONE
The Browns 73

BILL CANTO ... 71
This side is an arrangement that has something of the old-time "Chicago Blues" sound. Good score based on the flip. From the new album, "Listening to Larry" (Coral, ASCAP)

BOB REED ... 71
Moderate rhythm record of the standard hot dance appeal. (Brownie, ASCAP)

LARRY FORTUNE
Mickey Baker 73

BILL CANTO ... 71
A good, rhythmic record that is applied to a melody which sounds much similar to "Hush" the "Jazz" Deacons will like. (True Blue, ASCAP)

CHARLES RAY ... 73
A unusual rhythm number done in slightly Dixie style by Fortune and his Radio Street Band. Society folks will like it, who want to experiment with guitar sound. (True Blue, ASCAP)

JOHNSON JESSE 73

LIBERTY 2213—A great, swinging in slow tempo to Latin. Fiddle-dominated mix, backs the effort. Spacious mood. MAE. (Emerson-Whitney, ASCAP)

GODFATHER ... 73
Reading of the attractive side is set to a moderate dancing tempo. Nice vocal performance by Leslie (Presto, ASCAP)

LANNY DEE
June Night 73

DBCCA 3676—Please enjoy the emotional version of oldie with a country feel, etc. (White, ASCAP)

Do you believe in love at first sight? the two sides, they start this theme in different styles, following it up the melody with a socialite madame style the date. (Shandon, BMD)

Love Affairs 73

GLORY 201—A fine, guitar-based effort. It goes with the right number of guitars by Vince Martin. (Byrdone BMD)

BOB MC BETH ... 73

GAV JONES TRIO
Chicago 73

CELESTIAL 111—A relaxing instrumental reading of the standard. Bright piano sound, bass and drums. (Presto, ASCAP)

SWINGIN' ON ROLLING ... 73

Instrumental with interesting swaying piano. (Rhythm, BMD)

JOE ZEPPA
Young Hippie 73

BLUES HERD ... 73

The mid-tempo blues deals with the everyday life of the country. His promising of an impressionistic tone. Pop has more appeal. (Milestone, BMD)

BONNIE KELF
You're So Right for Me 73

COLUMBIA 41241—Vigorous approach on an up-tempo rock. Side one more in both pop and country, the other, folkish. (Columbia, BMD)

Medium-tempo number that is prepared in two looks of the artist. This one, you can hear pop and adult jazz. (Columbia, BMD)

THE MELODY MAKERS
Shout, Will You Listen Me 73

LANNIE 301—Rhythmic with the story of a girl who has independent ideas, making for a somewhat appealing (Lanner, BMD)

BOSS MY BABY CALLING YOU ... 73
Rhythmicized in well timed 32nd note spiritual heading. (Warren, BMD)

BICKY VALLO
Coral I Love You More 73

VERVE 1049—A simple, rhythmicized song. Ticks it in slow tempo, and Vallo does a sensible vocal. Use of horns in arrangements is excellent. (Leeds, ASCAP)

Bobby Four ... 73

This is the side in a new dress. It has a driving rhythm with organ and a brassy brass plus a bass vocal with a slight swaying in English. Windup is an English word. (Brennan, ASCAP)

BICKY VALLO
Buddy Holly 73

VERVE 1049—A rhythmicized version of "Swingin' Times." Vallo's vocal is backed with a rocking arrangement. (Warren, ASCAP)

Show 'Em How

is heated in winter and not too hot in summer will do its most justice.
It is not only excessive heat but repeated changes in heat, putting the tape thru a series of contractions and expansions, that cause it to twist, wrinkle or break.

Of the two kinds of base material ordinarily used, acetate is the less expensive but the more affected by heat. Mylar (DuPont polyester material) will stand quite a bit more temperature and is less subject to twisting and bending.

Watch Humidity

The advantage of Mylar over acetate is spectacular when it comes to humidity. Very low humidity makes acetate brittle and very high humidity makes it weak.

Mylar is nearly unaffected by ordinary changes in humidity.

Any brand of tape should be stored in a tight metal can that resists dust and humidity. A sensible approach to the choice of base material is to use acetate for recording material that is not to be kept for long periods or is not particularly valuable. For irreplaceable material that must be preserved, spend the extra money for Mylar-based tape.

Accidental Erasure

The recording on a tape can be wholly or partly erased if the reel is brought near a very strong magnetic field. This seldom happens accidentally because it takes a very strong field, with this tape close to it, and such magnetic fields are rare around the home, except on the tape machine itself.
To be safe, keep your tapes away from sources of magnetism, such as motors, generators, power transformers in lighting circuits, etc.

Print-Through Problem

Print-through, the impression of a sound from one layer to the next and on stored tape, is a harder problem to crack. You get a faint echo of the original sound, coming before it, or after it, or both. Even if music covers this, a lot of print-through makes a tape sound

Print-through gets stronger the longer a tape is stored. It can be reduced by avoiding very loud recording, because the stronger the sound on the tape, the more it prints thru, and by keeping the tape away from heat and magnetic fields, both of which increase print-through.

To put the real quietus on print-through, try out a special low-noise tape, Audio Devices' Master Audiotape, which reduces print-through below the troublesome level.
All right, tell your man with the Armstrong solos to (1) Put them on low-noise Mylar, (2) store at low-winding tension, (3) play at high speed, (4) put in a tight metal box, (5) keep out of hot spots. If he does this, Satchmo will keep blowing his horn on those tapes for a long long time.

TABBY WEST

1. I Can't Stop Lovin' You CAPITOL 1003—Country blues, full of blues and mood. The audience does it best performed. Lewis of the two sides will appreciate this side. (Central, Sept. 20)

2. Country Darlin' Country-Rhythm tune with a solid vocal, banjo with interesting rhythmic arrangement. (Central, BMI)

3. Wayne Walker After the Rain Comes the Gift CORAL 4000—Traditional-style country tune. It's delivered with diversity and charm. (Columbia, BMI)

4. Donna Lee Donnas Ballad with attractive folk-traditional performance by Webb Thompson, BMI.

DARRELL BROWN

5. Foot of a Child Baby WISCONSIN 1003—Country tune with foot rhythm. Ringers chime in with bass, and there's a fairly strong quality to the echo. (Vocal, BMI)

6. Prayer of a Man in Love A rockabilly, jump-in-a-muddy bluesy style with upbeat rhythm. (Vocal, BMI)

BILLY FLETCHER

7. Things You Didn't Know WINSTON 1025—A wistful, thoughtful song. It is in traditional style. (Vocal, BMI)

JAMIE FLETCHER

8. Take a Look at Me Another wistful, this one with a male vocal. A chorus supports the character feel feeling in completely country. (Vocal, BMI)

The following records, also reviewed by the Billboard music staff, were rated 10 or less:

the music industry launches stereo

RCA Victor
tells all about it in a special section in this issue of Audition.

Even a rocket takes off slowly at first. But once it gets under way, it soars straight up out of this world. That's also the way with stereophonic sound. Since the introduction of stereophonic records early this year, stereo sound as a new form of entertainment has steadily gained momentum. This fall it really gets underway.

We'll see hearing stereophonic broadcasts on radio, and the large percentage of new albums will be released in both stereo and monaural versions. Stereophonic record sales in new, easy-to-handle cartridge form will boom. In short, we'll be living in a two-channel world.

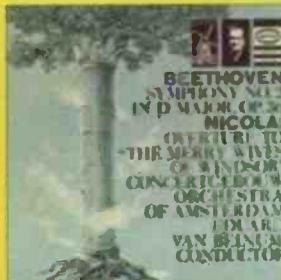

Stereo has to be heard to be appreciated. And dealers all over the country have the records and the equipment to give a demonstration. Head in for yourself and be convinced that there is something new and wonderful under the sun.

ALBUM REVIEW

Check List

Among the many long-playing albums released last month, the 100 reviewed here are considered to be the best. They have been so chosen by the reviewing staff of The Billboard, business newsweekly of the music industry. Reviewed prior to their release, these albums are now in stores throughout the country.

Popular

□ CONO'S GOLDEN RECORDS (1-12") — Perry Como. RCA Victor LOP 1007—Set contains a collection of the artist's best selling hits from as far back as 1945. It should prove a click with the singer's fans both young and old. Included are "Till the End of Time," "Don't Let the Stars Get in Your Eyes" and his recent "Catch a Falling Star." Good cover shot of the artist.

□ JUMPIN' WITH JONAH (1-12") — The Jonah Jones Quartet. Capitol T 1039—Muted trumpet sound by Jones on a swingin' group of tunes, designed for either listening or dancing. It's a natural follow-up to his previous click albums, "Muted Jazz" and "Swingin' on Broadway." Set can appeal to pop and jazz buyers. Numbers include "No Moon at All," "It's a Good Day" and "A Kiss to Build a Dream On." Some of the tunes have vocals by Jones. Hank Jones is guest pianist. Excellent potential.

□ COLE ESPANOL (1-12") — Nat King Cole. Capitol W 1031—An interesting switch for Cole. All of the tunes are popular South American selections, and the vocals are in Spanish. The artist is given lush, provocative orch support from Armando Romeu and orch. More familiar tunes are "Maria Elena," "Señorita Mas," the Spanish version of his current hit single, "Come Closer to Me," and "Te Quiero Dijiste" ("Magic Is the Moonlight"). It's an excellent programming set. Good cover shot of artist.

□ DANCING OVER THE WAVES (1-12") — Ray Anthony Orch. Capitol T 1024—Nicely varied collection of pop, semi-classical and original tunes all in dance tempos makes this one of Anthony's best. It's an excellent deejay programming package, and附加值 it should move steadily with both teen and adult buyers. Selections include "Liebestraum," "Beautiful Lady" and the album title tune. Attractive cover.

□ THE MARVELOUS MILLER MEDLEY (1-12") — Glenn Miller Orch. RCA Victor LOP 1005—Eight medleys by the great Miller orch. Some of the tracks are by the Miller civilian orch; others are by his wonderful Army Als Foor Band. The excellent offering should follow the pattern of the label's previous Miller releases. Many of the songs associated with Miller are included in the groups of tunes. Fine cover sketch of the orchestra should help sales.

□ LITTLE RICHARD (1-12") — Specialty 2103—A worthy successor to "Here's Little Richard." Tunes are previous hit singles by the artist plus a few unreleased sides. The cat is at his frantic best, and the set should prove a strong item. Selections include "Lucille," "Good Golly, Miss Molly," and "Ooh! My Soul."

□ SOMETHING OLD, SOMETHING NEW, SOMETHING BORROWED, SOMETHING BLUE (1-12") — Jan Morgan, Kapp KL 1030—Another quality set of lush vocals from the Morgan la la. As the title implies, the set contains sightings of evergreens and new tunes along both cheerful and melancholy lines. Package should repeat success of her previous click album, "Fascination." Tunes include "Arrivederci Roma," "My Man" and "Catch a Falling Star." Pretty cover shot of artist will help attract.

□ VIRTUOSO! (1-12") — The Roger Wagner Chorale. Capitol P 8431—Another excellent offering from the Wagner Chorale. The program features selections with orchestra and a cappella works, ranging from folk songs and Negro spirituals to full-scale orchestral-choral numbers. Included are "Hallelujah Chorus," Mozart's "Allegro" and "Dance of the Polovetsian Maidens." Set should prove a strong item.

□ BURNISHED BRASS (1-12") — The George Shearing Quintet with Brass Choir. Capitol T 1039—The Shearing Quintet sound supported by brass choir of various sizes and combinations makes for pleasant listening. Melodic feeling on the ballads and bright sound on the rhythmic tunes offer attractive contrasts. Arrangements are by Shearing and Billy May. Set should move strongly to both pop and jazz markets. Tunes include "Memories of You," "Cheek to Cheek" and the album title tune.

□ AMONG MY SOUVENIRS (1-12") — Jim James with David Terry Orch. M-G-M E 3602—Thrash offers a collection of old favorites like "Alice Blue Gown," "Let Me Call You Sweetheart" and "Till We Meet Again." Singer's ingenious quality and intimate charm are shown to good advantage in these tunes. Orchestral backgrounds are generally interesting, with snatches of harpsichord, electric organ, harp, bells and cocktail piano coming thru. Good summer listening for her many fans.

□ GIRLS I HAVE KNOWN (1-12") — Jim Reeves. RCA Victor LPM 1635—Jim Reeves comes thru with a fine reading of a group of first-rate standards, all featuring girl's names on this attractive new album. Reeves sells every song with the same honesty and sincerity that have made him a top singles star. Tunes include "Marie," "Mona Lisa," "Sweet Sue" and "Maria Elena."

□ THE EAST SIDE (2-12") — Patti Page with Pete Rugolo Orch. Mercury MG 12-100—A smooth, svelta Miss Page in black spangled gown adorns both sides of this de luxe dual-LP package, which is given over to two distinctive music styles. On the "East" side, she offers nine of the typical sophisticated torch tunes familiar in the expensive east side Manhattan afternoons, while the west side disk has a considerably more jazzy and swinging approach. In all cases, Pete Rugolo offers backings that seem just right for the mood. Cover is a delight.

□ COFFEE TIME (1-12") — Morton Gould Orch. RCA Victor LPM 1636—Romantic, colorful instrumental — another rock wood music package by Gould. Selections—many in Latin tempo—include "Orchids in the Moonlight," "Besame Mucho," "Laura," etc. Unfortunately, cover is routine.

□ PATTERNS (1-12") — Frank Comstock Orch. Columbia CL 1156—Arranger-conductor Frank Comstock, who has backstopped many of Columbia's line-ups of vocal stars with his suave settings, swings out on his own in this attractively packaged platter. It is loaded with fresh and inventive ideas in the use of everything from the percussion section to the unexpected appearance of a contra-bassoon in such new-sounding oldies as "Ars Longa," "Sing Something Simple" and "Small Fry," among others. Great stuff for big band fans.

□ HITS FROM "OH! CAPTAIN" (1-12") — Various Artists. Columbia CL 1167—Ten of Columbus' top war stars warble 12 tunes (many released as singles) from the Broadway musical "Oh! Captain." Package packs more name appeal than original cast, and should chalk up a sizeable reaction. Talent includes Johnny Mathis, Rosemary Clooney, Tony Bennett, Jo Stafford, Guy Mitchell, Vic Damone, Jill Cory, Don Cherry, Stan Freeman, Norman Luboff.

□ FROM MY HEART (1-12") — Tony Perkins With Urbie Green's Orch. RCA Victor LPM 1679—The legit-movie star has a strong fan following, which should insure the success of this album. He warbles pleasantly with warm sincerity—albeit like the voice—on a group of standards—"Ole Buttermilk Sky," "Speak Low," etc. Interesting cover photo of Perkins gives fan cluth an incentive.

□ THE ROMANTIC PIANO OF TED STRAETER (1-12") — Columbia CL 1154—"Romantic music" is a term often tossed around in the record field, but with Ted Strater it takes on a real meaning. The maestro-pianist serves up a silky-smooth collection of standards like "Laura" and "Stella by Starlight" that are models of suave orchestration, it's a real delight for dancing or just listening, and shapes up strongly in the current trend toward ballads.

□ WELCOME TO MY HEART (1-12") — Gogi Grant With Dennis Farmer Orch. RCA Victor LPM 1717—A lovely set of Farmer's tasty arrangements bushily accompany. A choice package. Pretty cover shot of the artist will help lure buyers. Tunes include the album title song, "Love Letters" and "They Didn't Believe Me."

□ JOSE MELIS AT MIDNIGHT (1-12") — Secco CEP 414—Good mood set by the featured pianist on "The Jack Paar Show." His piano solos are backed by lush strings and rhythm accompaniment. An excellent late hour package for sponsors. Tunes include "Deep Purple," "Street Scene" and "Cuban Rhapsody."

□ SARAH VAUGHAN AT THE LONDON HOUSE (Mercury MG 20303—Miss Vaughan's latest effort, recorded live while appearing at Chicago's London House, should find approval from her fans. It's a nicely assorted set with a fair share of ballads and up-tempo numbers. In addition to her own trio, backing is provided by four members of the Count Basie band. Selections include "Like Someone in Love," "Speak Low" and "All of You."

□ THE BEST OF ELLA FITZGERALD (2-12") — Decca SXB 150—A plush two-record set containing much of the best material by the great thrush. Excellent packaging includes notes by Nat Hentoff, Bert Korall, Don Cerulli and Bill Cosi and well laid-out discography giving chronological date as to date of recording, writers, orch, backing, etc. The package is a documentary from Ella's beginnings with Chick Webb. Book-type cover is sturdy and attractive.

□ 12 EASY LESSONS IN LOVE — Carmen Cavallaro Orch. Decca DL 8747—The long-time keyboard favorite has taken as the theme for this album a group of pop numbers which provide romantic advice such as "Try a Little Tenderness," "Please Be Kind" and "Speak Low." The album makes the point that music pays off, for flip side has "Two Cigarettes in the Dark," "There's a Small Hotel." The Cavallaro styling is omnipresent, either in solo or backed by a small rhythm group, and the nimble treatment of well-known tunes should make this one of the better selling disks among Cavallaro enthusiasts.

□ I GET A KICK OUT OF PORTER — Joe Bushkin, Piano & Orch. Capitol T 1000—A class album—from Bushkin's tasteful, inventive keyboarding to the memorable Cole Porter repertoire and Gilbert Millstein's informative liner notes. Backed by Keely Smith's imaginative arrangements, Bushkin shines with "I Get a Kick Out of You," "So in Love," etc.

□ CONFETTI — Les Baxter Orch. Capitol T 1029—Les Baxter, his orchestra and chorus have a wonderful new LP here that could easily turn into a best seller. The title stands for the collection of Continental tunes included in this new album, a collection that ranges from "April in Portugal" and "The Poor People of Paris" to the "Dance From Bonjour Tristesse" and "Ricordate Marcellino." The tunes are melodic and the arrangement keeps the gay mood. A strong album.

□ ALL THE WAY . . . AND THEN SOME — Sammy Davis Jr. Decca DL 8779—This is one of the singer's best to date. Set contains standards presented romantically with bush orch support and a few swingers. Good selection of tunes. Orch backing is just right. Tunes include "All the Things You Are," "When I Was in Love" and "All the Way."

RELIGIOUS

□ BEAUMONT: 20th CENTURY FOLK MASS (1-12") — Frank Weir Orch. & the Peter Knight Singers. Fiesta FLP 25000—Father Georges Beaumont has written a new mass utilizing 20th century musical idioms. His musical mood and melodic treatments include popular music strains and in some cases an underlying feeling of jazz. The mass is sung by Carter Charles Young with the Peter Knight Singers offering excellent choral support. Other strophic themes are included where they would be sung in the religious service. The musical approach is somewhat native, the overall concept is obviously sincere. It's a well-researched and well-produced album that presents an interesting innovation in religious music.

attractive and imaginative cover adds to appeal. Tunes include "Manhattan," "Charleston" and "Miss Annabelle Lee." There are vocals on some.

- REUNION WITH CHET BAKER (1-12") — The Gerry Mulligan Quartet, World Pacific PJ 1241—Here's one of the strongest items to hit the market in a while. Mulligan-Baker fans will find this set among their best. It's a swinger with inventive and imaginative blowing and arrangements by Mulligan. Baker, who always has sounded good with Mulligan, is at his best. Dave Bailey and Henry Grimes support on drums and bass respectively. Tunes include "Reunion," "Survey With the Fringe 'On Top'" and "Ornithology."

- THEME FOR THE TALL ONE (1-12") — The Bess Bonner Trio, Argo LP 632—Miss Bonner has an imaginative and interesting piano technique. She often introduces a broad, classical sound in her improvisation that bolsters her hard driving style. Her sound is her own, and it exposed to jazz buffs, this set could well attract buys. Nick Fiore, who cleffed some of the tunes in the album, is heard on bass; Bill Stein on drums. Selections include "All the things You Are," "Trolley Song" and "Dorian," a Bonner original. Good new jazz talent. It merits plugs.

- THE "SHEPHERD" SWINGS AGAIN—The Moe Koffman Quartet, Jubilee JLP 1074—This album should appeal to the many fans Moe Koffman gained as a result of his recent hit single "The Swingin' Shepherd Blues." In this LP Koffman and his quartet play eight more tunes, five Koffman originals in the same swinging manner as he did on his disk. In addition to flute, Koffman is heard on alto sax, too. Of the originals, best are "Flute Salad" and "Bermuda Schwartz"; of the standards "Alone Together" is excellent.

- 14 BLUE ROADS TO ST. LOUIS—Various Artists, RCA Victor LPM 1714—A fine album concept, particularly in view of the great resurgence of blues. Here is the Handy classic in versions by Benny Goodman, Louis Armstrong, Earl Hines, Fats Waller, Dizzy Gillespie, etc.—14 versions in all, many of them notable. A package for collectors, for jazz and blues aficionados.

- HOT SANDS—The Aramite Band, Spence S 100—Altho this album was recorded at a session in Boston, the Aramite Band, featured on it, has a sound notably non-New Englandish. In fact, the music sounds fresh off the desert with a swinging modification of the ancient beat. The group does a brace of typical numbers with some outstanding solos on the ood, duende and even bongo drums. Their rendition of "Hava Nagoya" can contend with any of the several now making the rounds on singles as well as albums. Covers also is a stopper, showing a pair of pretty female feet in the sand, and should fortify the album's potential among folk and hi-fi sound fanciers.

- CHICO HAMILTON TRIO—Introducing Freddie Gambrell, World Pacific PJ 1242—Chico Hamilton introduces on this new album a fine young pianist named Freddie Gambrell, who was discovered by Hamilton in San Francisco. Gambrell, who plays with taste and style in the modern manner, has a chance for much attention as the result of his performances here. The tunes included are all standards, and he handles such items as "Lullaby of the Leaves," "These Foolish Things," "Midnight Sun," with a sure touch. Good set for modernists.

- LITTLE JIMMY RUSHING AND THE BIG BRASS (1-12")—A Jimmy Rushing Orch., Columbia CL 1152—The great Kansas City blues shouter has a solid item in this fine package. Jimmy Mundy, Buck Clayton and Nat Pierce have arranged the tunes in a modern vein, but Rushing's true blues feeling comes thru strongly. There are blues, standards, and some of the tunes usually associated with the artist among the attractive vocals. Numbers include "Mr. Five by Five," "Jimmy's Blues" and "Somebody Stole My Gal."

- JAZZ OF THE ROARING TWENTIES (5-12")—Tommy & Jimmy Dorsey, Red Nichols & Various Artists, Riverside RLP 12-901—This is a choice item for collectors. The artists were then known as the California Ramblers, a group which included the Dorsey Brothers and Red Nichols. Despite the tiny sound, the disk does create interest. The tunes are done in the dance style of the '20s. The

BEST SELLING

CLASSICAL LP's

- SONNY ROLLINS: FREEDOM SUITE (1-12")—Riverside RLP 12-225—"Freedom Suite" represents Rollins' first entry into extended composition. Actually, the suite is a form of theme and variations. One blues-like theme is expanded upon in several melodic and rhythmic patterns. The work itself is not particularly challenging, but the execution by Rollins on tenor, Max Roach on drums and Oscar Pettiford on bass is excellent. Flip side offers four standards also done by the trio; however, the suite is the side that will attract.
- SOUL BROTHERS-MILT JACKSON & RAY CHARLES (1-12")—Atlantic 1279—Two of the real jazz greats together! Their talents on instruments other than those with which they are usually associated are displayed in this swinging package. Charles is heard on alto sax and Milt Jackson plays piano and guitar, as well as vibraphone. Support from Connie Kay on drums; Billy Mitchell, tenor; Oscar Pettiford on bass and Skeeter Best on guitar enhances the set all the way. It's a great five-hand album with each track a standout.
- MODERN JAZZ CONCERT (1-12")—Orch-star Conducted by Gunther Schuller & George Russell, Columbia WL 127—Not for novices, this is liable to startle even veteran jazz buffs. It contains the six works commissioned by Brandeis University and performed at the jazz concerts there last year. Top Jazz men blow with orch conducted by Gunther Schuller and George Russell. The most exciting and the most legitimately jazz work is Charles Mingus' "Revelations," Jimmy Giuffre's "Suspicion" is another fine jazz piece, and George Russell's "All About Rosie," altho over-complex, is also listenable. This is program jazz that will interest musicians and college students.
- COOK'S TOUR OF HIGH FIDELITY (1-12")—Various Artists, Cook 1079—Some of the audio-answering humor in this latest sonic romp with Emory Cook is a little heavy-handed, but the platters should have strong appeal with the dedicated hi-fi fanciers. One side explores the difference, with A-B comparisons, of feeding live vs. tape sound to a disk cutter and stages a "peeping microphone" sketch in an audio showroom. The other side is a soap-opera-without-actors, featuring a riot of assorted sound effects and "Meanwhile, Back at the Ranch" narrative cues.

World Famous for the Finest in Tape Recorders, Phonographs and Record Changers

low, manly support from Rudolf Schock and Gottlob Frick. Benno Kuschke's design as Beckmesser, Kempf's baton keeps things vigorous and crisp but allows melting, reflective passages. A must for opera buffs. Excellent line-by-line libretto.

PROKOFIEFF FOR FUN IN HI-FI (1-12) — Philharmonic Symphony Orch. of London. (Rodeo). Westminster XWN 15701 — Here is a light-hearted melodic package with appeal for the whole family. Youngsters will dig TV comedian Garry Moore's reading on "Peter and the Wolf," while flip — "Classical Symphony" and "The Love for Three Oranges" — should please adults. There are several other good versions of "P." and "W." available, but the LP's name value is considerable.

PROKOFIEV: ROMEO AND JULIET BALLET EXCERPTS (1-12) — New York Philharmonic Orch. (Midtempo). Columbia ML 5207 — The strings sing sweetly in this excellent reading of Prokofiev's melodic, glittering score. Midtempo evokes romanticism in these nine excerpts from a long ballet. Combination of names is highly attractive.

HAYDN: OBOE CONCERTO Dvorak: Serenade (1-12) — Evelyn Rothwell, Oboe With Halle Orch. (Barbirolli). Mercury MC 50041 — Extremely capable oboe technique is displayed by Miss Rothwell in her debut soloist album. She presents the lesser-known Haydn concerto artfully and skillfully. She is well known for her book of some years ago, "Oboe Technique." To this LP may have only limited appeal, Haydn lovers will welcome this new recording of the obscure work. The Dvorak "Serenade" features the artist with a small orchestra on the thematic work.

GERMINIANI: CONCERTI GRASSI (1-12) — Felici Ayo & Walter Galzori, Violin; Bruno Giuranna, Viola; Enzo Altobelli, Cello; With I Musici. Epic LC 3467 — One of the finest ensemble working today interprets Germiniani's Opus 7. Musici play with unsurpassed elegance and refinement, and this is the period they do best. They take no liberty with the tempos and attack them cleanly. First rate sound in this latest addition to Epic's "Monuments of Italian Music" series. Every baroque buff will want this one.

COPLAND: RODEO, EL SOLON MEXICO, DANZON CUBANO (1-12) — Minneapolis Symphony Orch. (Dorati). Mercury MG 50172 — A brilliant Copland exposition by the Minneapolis group. The four-movement suite from the score of the ballet "Rodeo" has but a single other disk version current, and this beautiful example of Mercury's Olympian disk-making process can bring this reading much popularity. The two other shorter works are full of exciting color and rhythm and get the same brilliant hi-fi recording treatment. For fans of the ballet, musical sound, this is a real dish!

LEVANT'S FAVORITES (1-12) — Oscar Levant, Piano. Columbia CL 1134 — Levant's increasing TV exposure makes this album newsworthy. Set contains excellent keyboard performance by the pianist on a group of popular themes by Falla, Lechner, Albeniz, Poulen, and Debussy; "Chair de Lime," "Flea Dance," etc. An interesting line-up which should attract beginning collectors. Provocative cover.

BRAMHIS: VARIATIONS AND FUGUE ON A THEME OF HANDEL, RHAPSODIES NOS. 1, 2 & 3; HANDEL: ARIA CON VARIAZIONI (11) — Sylvia Zaremba, Piano. Unicorn UNLP 1058 — Zaremba is a hard-hitting pianist with a basically unsophisticated approach. The former prodigy does not articulate runs clearly, and she had a tendency to hide her faults by heavy use of sustained pedal. She's at her best in the Handel, where her tone rises to beauty, but the Bramhis interpretation is naive. Most noteworthy feature of album is the marvelous sound that engineer Peter Bartok has achieved.

TCHAIKOVSKY: PIANO CONCERTO NO. 1 (1-12) — Van Cliburn, piano; Orch. Directed by Kiril Kondrashin. RCA Victor LHM 2222 — This should prove one of the strongest items to hit the market in some time. Cliburn, winner of the Tchaikovsky Competition in Moscow last spring, has more than lived up to expectations in his recent American concert appearances. The Tchaikovsky concerto is one of the works that he played in winning the prize. Russian conductor Kondrashin who conducted for the pianist, heads the symphony orchestra on this disk. Will be much talked about in coming months.

MUSIC: PIANO CONCERTOS NOS. 18 AND 20 — Robert Casadesus, Pianist with the Columbia Symphony Orch. (Szell). Columbia ML 5276 — Both the more technical and interesting twentieth and the fairly conventional eighteenth piano concertos display Casadesus' wonderful capabilities. There is a formidable competition on the later work, and other available recordings of the earlier. The pianist's name, however, should be a buy-in lure. Szell's batonning effectively suits the contrasting dramatic mood of the twentieth and the sonority of the eighteenth.

GROFE: GRAND CANYON SUITE — The Philadelphia Orch. (Ormandy). Columbia MI 3296 — Grofe's well known and popular programmatic, descriptive suite under Ormandy's excellent direction achieves a warmth and intensity seldom attained on disks, despite the many existing versions. Sound is marvelous, and the beautiful cover shot also adds to the overall appeal of the attractive release. Excellent boy.

RIMSKY-KORSAKOFF: SCHERZATZ — London Symphony Orch. (Montane). RCA Victor LM 2208 — There are many versions of "Scherzatza" available, the strength of the conductor's name should prove a strong buy incentive. Montane conducts the programmatic work firmly, taking advantage of all of the composer's orchestral devices. Attractive cover.

BARTOK: VIOLIN CONCERTO — Isaac Stern, Violin With the New York Philharmonic Orch. (Bernstein). Columbia ML 5283 — Strongest competition on the soloists recorded violin concerto with small orchestra will be from the Menuhin-Minneapolis Symphony version. Devotees of the modernist composer and Stern's fans alike will find this an excellent offering. Bernstein's firm baton complements excellently. Cover shot of the violinist and conductor adds to over-all appeal. Sound is great.

MARHLER: RESURRECTION SYMPHONY (12) — Emilia Gendari, Soprano; Maurice Ferrer, Contralto; The Westminster Choir (Williamson) and the New York Philharmonic Orch. (Walter). Columbia M22 — At long last we have the definitive version of Mahler's Second Symphony conducted by the foremost interpreter of the orchestral master. The Westminster Choir and young soloists give him uneven support but Walter's insight and understanding and the response he elicits from the Philharmonic triumph over all the limitations. Walter's notes add immeasurably to the value of the set.

HAYDN: SONATA NO. 3; MOZART: SONATA NO. 10, FANTASIA AND FUGUE — Glenn Gould, Pianist. Columbia ML 5274 — The young Canadian pianist provides an absorbing program in his artful presentation of the piano works by the two great "classical" composers. Competition on the Mozart selections is heavier than on the Haydn work. In any case, these interpretations compare favorably with existing versions.

BRAHMS: THREE INTERMEZZI, VARIATIONS AND FUGUE ON A THEME OF HANDEL — Eugene Istomin, Piano. Columbia ML 5287 — Excellent interpretation of the Brahms variations on themes from Handel's "Lecons" and the "Petite Suite" will find few versions that match the pianist's skill and technique. The rather introspective and reflective intermezzi also reveal the artist's complete mastery. Fine cover photo of the pianist. Strong appeal.

SHOSTAKOVICH: SYMPHONY NO. 11 (1-12) — The Houston Symphony Orch. (Stokowski). Capitol PBR 8448 — This is the premiere American recording of the Russian composer's latest symphony. This, coupled with the sales lure of the conductor's name, should make the album a potent seller. The dramatic and programmatic symphony is based on Russian folk melodies and revolutionary songs. An enclosed pamphlet with descriptive notes about the conductor, composer and the work adds to the appeal. Packaging is attractive.

THE ORCHESTRA SINGS (1-12) — The Capitol Symphony Orch. (Dragon). Capitol P 8440 — Attractive album contains instrumental settings of familiar operatic selections. It's a set that can move well in the classical market with special appeal in opera lovers. Mr. Dragon's transcriptions are thoughtful and skillful. Good color cover and sing sound will help boost sales.

GRIEG: PIANO CONCERTO; RACHMANINOFF: RHAPSODY ON A THEME OF PACANINI (1-12) — Leonid Krasinski, Piano, with The Los Angeles Philharmonic Orch. (Leinsdorf). Capitol P 8441 — To there are several other interpretations of the two works which will offer formidable competition, this set can also enjoy good sales. Previous releases by the pianist have gone well and his recording of these two popular works should follow suit. Sound is excellent. Good cover sketch of artist.

BEETHOVEN: QUARTET NO. 12 (1-12) — Hollywood String Quartet. Capitol P 8443 — Latest in the series of Beethoven quartets by the Hollywood String Quartet should prove as equally strong among chamber music enthusiasts as their recordings of the composer's 13th and 15th quartets. Their interpretation is as usual wonderfully precise and sensitive. The quartet has deservedly gained recognition with each new release. Excellent sound and packaging add to overall appeal.

SPOKEN WORD

TALES OF HANS CHRISTIAN ANDERSEN (1-12) — Read by Michael Redgrave. Caedmon TC 1073 — Another excellent spoken word package by Caedmon. Quality production and fine readings by British actor Redgrave are spotlighted on five popular Andersen fairy tales — "The Tinder Box," "The Emperor's New Clothes," "The Steadfast Tin Soldier," and "The Emperor's Nightingale." Solid entertainment.

GREAT AMERICAN SPEECHES (2-12) — Melvyn Douglas, Vincent Price, Ed Begley & Carl Sandburg. Caedmon TV 2016 — Caedmon has produced another quality package with strong name value for the spoken-word market in this excellent collection of memorable addresses by famous Americans — Patrick Henry, Lincoln, Washington, Henry Clay, Charles Sumner, Robert E. Lee, etc. All four readers offer thoughtful, effective interpretations.

SOUND

GERSHWIN: AN AMERICAN IN PARIS, PORGY AND BESS (1-12) — Minneapolis Symphony Orch. (Dorati). Mercury MG 50071 — This album, with its stunning color cover of nighttime Paris and a sparkling performance of the Gershwin works by maestro Dorati, would rate top marks on purely musical basis. But the rich sound and fabulous dynamic range make it one of the best audio showpieces in many seasons. Hi-fi fanciers will really flip their tweeters over the wonderful honking effects of Paris traffic, or the "Storm Music" portion of the "Porgy" suite. It's a genuinely superb job.

BULLFIGHT (1-12) — Agrupacion Simfonica "La Sarmesa" (Torroba). Columbia ML 5289 — It may come as a shock to those who are familiar with bullfight music only in its standard brass band treatment, but the pasodoble also can be played by a full symphonic orchestra. As performed on this album, most of the music actually seems to gain both in breadth and power. Columbia's superb sonics are partially the answer. The remainder is the result of knowing arrangements and adept uses of strings within the total orchestral framework. A demonstration would convince most aficionados of bullfight music that this is a worthy addition to their collections.

SOUNDS OF STEAM LOCOMOTIVES NO. 3 (1-12) — Folkways FX 8154 — It's very seldom that sound, as such, manages to have nostalgic charm. But this well-recorded album by Vinton Wight manages the difficult task. Both sides contain highlights of train tiles on the famous narrow gauge railroad that still runs, as it did in the 1880's, out of Durango, Colo. Engines puff and wheels echo from the sides of river gorges in a riot of old-fashioned train noise. Little boys of all ages will flip over it.

PIPES AND BUGLES IN HI-FI — Battalions "The Highland Light Infantry." Decca DL 8720 — A brilliant demonstration of high fidelity at its best. The pipes and bugles from Scotland are not new on record, this has to be rated with the very best, particularly in terms of sound reproduction. The chanter pipe this way thru a considerable number of typical selections. Interesting line notes give the colorful history of the Glasgow battalion. Great packaging for sound fanciers and those of the proper ancestry.

SOUNDS OF SEBRING 1958 — Riverside RLP 5011 — This wading represents the third of on-location coverage of the famous 12-hour Sebring classic, a road race that attracts top auto and drivers from many countries. Pre-race interviews with big-name contestants like Stirling Moss, and blow-by-blow-out sounds of the big race's highlights will send sports car buffs and audio fanciers into transports of sonic delights amidst swirl of Ferrari, whale of Porsches and thunder of tuned-up Jags. Handsome cover.

AUSTRALIAN FOLK SONGS — Bert Ives. Decca DL 8749 — In his roving search for fresh musical folklore, Bert Ives taps in this album a rich new vein of vocal material; the vital frontier-style songs of the Australian Commonwealth. They have a fine, earthy bounce not unlike our own Western cow-country songs. A few, like "Waltzing Matilda," are familiar, but most have never been heard here. Noted folk singer's style is ideally suited to the material, and the cover shot of Ives and a koala bear is eye-catching.

HI-FI SQUARE DANCES WITHOUT CALLS — The Nashville Squares. RCA Camden CAL 432 — Excellent "How to Do It Yourself" liner notes add much to this all-purpose square dance album. Hal Smith on fiddle, Chet Atkins on rhythm guitar, Murray Harmon on drums, Ernest Newton on bass and Billy Burke on accordion lace into well-paced, interesting versions of old favorites. All are masters of the idiom. The Atkins-produced disk should set feet dancing.

POLKA FESTIVAL — Bruno Ziellinski & The Wilson Sisters. Liberty LRP 3095 — Here's a zesty, pop-styled package of lively polka instrumentals, along with some bright happy vocalizing and yodeling by the Wilson Sisters. A strong entry for the market. Selections — sung in several languages — include "Swiss Yodeler's Polka," "Sweet Sister Polka," etc.

SONGS OF CORSICA — Les Chanteurs de L'Association Corse "A Cirne" (Quille). Westmaster WP 12007 — This is a worthwhile addition to any folk music collection, since it serves up a well-recorded panorama of the simple melodic songs native to the French Island of Corsica, with a running narration (in French) to set the stage. Voiced primarily for male groups, the songs have a haunting quality that combines a Spanish and Italian mood. Director Felix Quilici has already won the "Grand Prix du Disque" for this album.

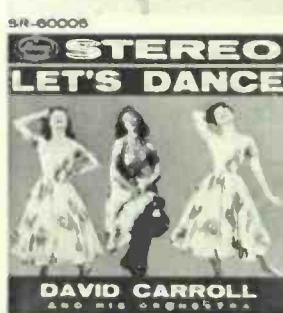

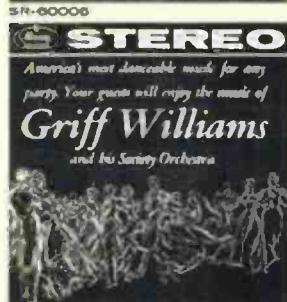

LONELY STREET — Kitty Wells. Decca DL 8732 — A fine collection of country weepers is song stylized by Kitty Wells, the "queen of country music." She sells each song of heartache and loneliness with the sincerity that has kept her at the top of the heap of fem country singers. Tunes include the title song, "That's Me Without You," "If Teardrops Were Pennies," "Love Me to Pieces," and Hank Williams' "May You Never Be Alone." Fine war for the thrush's country fans.

JUST IMAGINATION — Webb Pierce. Decca DL 8728 — A dozen tunes by the outstanding country chanteer. Arrangements feature chorus and triplet backing, giving the weepers a pop touch altho the general flavor is strongly country. Tunes include "A New Love Affair," "Too Late to Worry Now," "Don't Be the One."

FLOYD TILLMAN'S GREATEST (1-12) — RCA Victor LPM 1696 — Several of the artist's hit tunes are included in this attractive package. The backing is with chorus and rhythm section. All of the selections are tastefully done. Set has his truly great tunes: "Slipping Around," "I Love You So Much It Hurts Me" and "It Makes No Difference Now." Excellent potential in this market and it can also please pop fans.

Million Seller?

VAN CLIBURN AIMS AT NEW HONORS AS A RECORD ARTIST

Those Texans do everything big! The latest case in point is Van Cliburn's RCA Victor recording of the Tchaikovsky Piano Concerto. The publicity and interest resulting from the lanky pianist's hands-down win at the international competition in Moscow has caused a sales rush on the disk. What's more, Cliburn's interpretation of the well-known and oft-recorded work has won unanimous praise from music critics. All those people who rushed to buy the disk—300,000 of them in the first six weeks of its release—are getting their money's worth, in other words.

The record industry generally has been watching the sales figure open-mouthed. And the big question on everyone's lips now is—will sales reach the million mark? If they do Cliburn will have added still another trophy to hang over the fireplace. He will have been responsible for the first classical million-seller long-play record—an achievement more remarkable than winning the Moscow competition.

What makes Cliburn's achievement even more outstanding is the fact that the Tchaikovsky Concerto has been recorded no less than thirty times and by such outstanding artists as Horowitz, Gilels and Rubinstein. In fact, the listing of artists who have recorded this work reads like a "who's who" of concert pianists. None, however, captured the imagination of the public in quite the same fashion as the young Texan.

Your Audition reviewer points out in this issue that the disk will be much talked about for some time to come. We can only add that most of music-minded America will talk about this record only until his next RCA Victor release comes along. For it is the opinion of virtually all critics that Van Cliburn is more than a public figure who rose from obscurity because of the political climate in which he made such an auspicious appearance. He's a fine musician as well.

□ CARELESS LOVE (1-12")—Joe Turner Savoy MG 14016—This is early Joe Turner, before he joined the Atlantic Records, that is. But early or late, it's good Joe Turner, singing such fine blues as "Lucille, Lucille," "Careless Love," "Nobody in Mind" and "Rocks in My Bed." P. Johnson, F. Newton, D. Byas, T. Bunn, and R. Jaquet are some of the musicians who back Turner on these sides. A must for blues fans. The cover is a real plus for this set.

Miscellaneous

SPECIALTY

□ STANLEY HOLLOWAY'S CONCERT PARTY (1-12")—Sung by Stanley Holloway with Arthur Lier, Piano & The Concert Party Four. Riverside RLP 12-534—A hilarious collection of comic songs by Stanley Holloway, noted British comedian who scored such a big hit as Eliza Doolittle's father in "My Fair Lady." They're drawn from the era of the "concert party," those touring British song-and-dance shows that used to play the seaside resorts. There is even one of the famous "Albert Rumbottom" poems for the Holloway fans.

□ WIDE WEIRD WORLD OF SHORTY PETERSTEIN—Henry Jacobs, Producer. World Pacific WPM 412—Man, like Shorty Peterstein, rides against Shorty, the mythical super-hipster who's a brainchild of jazz critic Henry Jacobs. It's spotlighted in a series of tongue-in-cheek interviews likely to convulse jazz buffs when such topics as "The History of Jazz," rock and roll, self-analysis and chain-smoking are explored. Equally hilarious are the liner notes, especially the mock-serious bio on Shorty. Altho most of the humor is fairly parochial, this offbeat waxing may emerge as a sleeper.

POLKA

□ HAPPY POLKAS (1-12")—Eddie Habat Orch. Decca DL 5754—Polka enthusiasts will be delighted by the sounds on this one. The accordion, banjo and shrill, thin tones of the homesy clarinet successfully capture an enthusiasm usually difficult to get at a recording session. Many of the tunes are written and arranged by Habat, long familiar to radio and TV audiences. Disk intersperses waltzes, polka instrumentals and vocals in well-paced succession.

CHILDREN

□ ALICE IN WONDERLAND (1-12")—Told by Darlene. Disneyland ST 3009—The latest release in the Disneyland label's "Storyteller" series is this Walt Disney version of the Alice in Wonderland story. Narration and solo vocals are handled by young Darlene Gillespie of the Mickey Mouse Club, assisted by a chorus. Handsome color picture book bound into the album cover adds desirability to the package. Altho a bit over-narrated, the performances are workmanlike. Kids (and grown-ups, too) are certain to be attracted by this boot-album combo. Good gift item.

□ SONGS ABOUT CATS AND DOGS (1-12")—Various Artists. Columbia CL 1142—Here's a solid idea for the kiddie market, which may also attract pet fanciers. Cover—featuring cat ears on one side and equally cute pups on the other—is a strong attraction. Collection of old sides includes Rosemary Clooney's "Kitty Kat's Party," Red Buttons' "Daniel, the Cockle Spaniel," etc. Also represented are Gene Autry, Sally Sweetland, Patty McGovern, Ray Heatheron, Lu Ann Stevens, Percy Faith and the Singing Princess.

INTERNATIONAL

all winners at the annual San Remo Festival, a sort of World Series of Italian pop pinnacles, and include current chart hit "Nel Blu Di Pinto Di Blu." Thrush gives the melodic numbers creamy, cushioning treatment against smooth orch backgrounds. Touristy cover shot is lovely.

□ SINGING FAMILY OF THE CUMBERLANDS—Jean Ritchie. Riverside RLP 12-653—Product of one of the richest musical heritages on the American folk scene, Jean Ritchie is warm and delightful in this collection of Cumberland folk ballads and narrative stories of her life as a farm girl in Kentucky. Her voicing of songs like "Fair Ellen" and "The Cuckoo" is in the "traditional" vein, and her story of her frangible "Granny Kitty," who once managed to squelch a long-winded preacher, is a gem of folk humor.

□ MEXICO ALEGRE—Lalo Gonzalez & Orch. Capitol T 10178—Here's another strong album in the label's "Capitol of the World" series. This set features Lalo Gonzalez (Guanarez), known in Mexico as the singing comedian "El Piquero." His humor and brightness come across strikingly in this collection of folk tunes, all with a story to tell, which have such titles as "The Dunkard," "The Spinsters," "The Bare-Foot One," etc. Gonzalez is accompanied by an orchestra but he is the featured attraction and he knocks himself out on each selection. Good was for the L-A market.

□ SWINGING SWEDISH—Siggi Furst & Jelving's Old-Time Dance Band. Capitol T 10172—This sequel to Capitol's "Swedish Polkas" and "Hambos" should meet with equal success in its specialized sales market. The package offers authentic Swedish pop music arrangements of happy, danceable Swedish schottisches and waltzes, spotlighting some joyous songs by Furst's vocalists and expert fiddle work by Ake Jelving.

SACRED

□ HE WALKS WITH THEE—Red Foley with the Anita Kerr Singers. Decca DL 8767—A package of great sides by one of the greatest performers of inspirational music. Some sides, like "Just a Closer Walk With Thee," have been released as singles; other material here is new. Included are "The Night Watch" and "I Believe." Lovers of this material will be pleased.

LOW PRICED LP's

EXTENDED PLAY

□ KING CREOLE (1-EP)—Elvis Presley. RCA Victor EPA 4310—Presley adds a Dixieland touch and brass backing on four tunes from his current flick, "King Creole." "As Long as I Have You" is a warm ballad, the others are varying rockers, with "Lover Doll" especially bright and exciting. A natural for his fans and will please others.

□ KING CREOLE, VOL. 2 (1-EP) Elvis Presley—RCA Victor EPA 4321—Second set of four tunes from Presley's latest flick should prove as strong as the first. Backing is a bit of a switch from the artist's usual style—some tunes are given a Dixieland approach. The first edition has proved a smash, and this should do likewise.

WHAT IS STEREO?

Stereophonic sound on disk and tape is the highest accomplishment to date in the art of recording. During the next year, stereo promises to come of age, bringing a new listening sensation to the millions who enjoy recorded music in the home. The record industry has met this "challenge of stereo." This article, and the other material in this special section, is geared to help dealers meet the challenge also. With this story are pertinent questions likely to be asked by the average stereo prospect, together with their answers.

HOW TO DEMONSTRATE AND SELL STEREO

The "stereo age" promises to be a rewarding one for the dealer in recorded sound. This article tells how to seek these rewards and how to make them greater.

THE STEREOPHONIC RECORD AND ITS PLAYER

It isn't difficult to grasp the principles that underly the production of the stereophonic disk and the way it is reproduced in the home. This story tells how wonderfully simple this new concept in recording really is.

THE TAPE CARTRIDGE

One of the most startling new developments in home entertainment is the magazine-loading tape cartridge and its player. It is destined to occupy a large place in the record business and in the esteem of the customer for good recorded entertainment. The cartridge is inex-

the challenge of STEREO

Man has long been challenged to record and reproduce music within the home with all the realism of the actual performance. This is a goal not easily accomplished.

For that reason, the development of stereophonic sound must rank with the greatest advances ever made in musical reproduction. It brings directly into your own living room the sound and presence, direction and feeling that you hear and experience in the finest theaters and concert halls.

It is a tremendous achievement and its fruits will be shared by the general public, the artists and the industry as a whole.

RCA is understandably proud of the role it has played in carrying this realism of sound into the reality of production.

David Sarnoff

WHAT IS STEREO?

At a stockholder's meeting earlier this year, John L. Burns, Radio Corporation of America president, told of six new products developed by his firm. One was a stereophonic disk and player. The other was a magazine-load tape cartridge. The following article and the others in this special section give fuller information about these products and what they mean to home entertainment in America.

"STEREOPHONIC sound" will very likely replace the term "high fidelity" in the special language of record-phonograph dealers and their customers to denote the finest in sound reproduction. This is already the case among more advanced collectors. And, this fall, a stereo blitz will develop as the public hears about this latest listening sensation from every angle.

Newspapers, magazines, billboards and radio and teevee commercials will extoll stereo's virtues. If high fidelity's history can be taken as a yardstick, the public will also suffer some confusion as they are offered such things as "stereophonic lipstick," "stereophonic corn flakes" and many other products tagged with those magic words.

A Gathering Force

Probably most phone-record dealers have questions about the coming stereo boom. It is probable also that they are wondering what direction their businesses are going to take. How big will stereo be? How fast will it grow? Will it push out "standard, single-channel" disks? What will happen to inventories? I don't know anything about it; what'll I tell my customers? If it's going to be big, what can I do now to make sure I get my share of stereo sales? What kind of stereo inventory should I carry?

In the opinion of at least one company—RCA Victor—stereo is going to be very big. Already the firm is planning to produce a stereophonic version of very LP disk released. They have also announced a 45 EP stereo program. The RCA Victor Radio and "Victrola" Division's Vice-President and General Manager R. W. Saxon has announced a new fall line of high-fidelity instruments and second channel (or auxiliary) speaker systems that is 100 per cent stereophonic.

Whither Monaural?

In the face of what might be called RCA Victor's stereoptimism, it's fair to pose the question of what will happen to existing monaural libraries—both in homes and in store inventories. As far as the record collector is concerned, he's better off than ever before. When he invests in a new stereophonic phonograph he has a player that will make his monaural records sound better than they ever have and he can also enjoy the thrill of two-channel stereo sound from new stereo records. In short, it's a good buy.

As far as dealer inventories are concerned, RCA Victor is confident that monaural's will also have a long life. They reason this way: At present there are about 25,000,000 standard phonographs in the homes. These phonographs are going to continue on a monaural diet for a long time to come. All those phonograph owners aren't going to go out and replace their systems with stereo players at once time. Sure, people will want stereo. They'll buy stereo. But they'll buy it gradually and inventories will adjust gradually.

If the above logic still leaves dealers in doubt, RCA Victor is providing an insurance plan that is effective until January 1, 1959. If there is a stereo version of an album released, dealers may exchange their monaural inventories of that album for stereo counterparts on a dollar-for-dollar basis.

What Is Stereo?

All right. Stereo is here. People are going to hear a lot about it. It's a new listening experience and everybody's going to want it. What is it?

The dictionary tells us that stereophonic means "Giving the effect of coming from two or more directions; of sound reproduced." That definition is all right, but it doesn't go far enough—not for the home music systems of tomorrow. Here's a new definition, one that few people in the record and phonograph industry will quarrel with:

STEREOPHONIC — Simultaneous recording of sound thru two or more separate channels (microphones to amplifiers to tape recorder) to achieve an effect of depth and heightened reality when the sound is played back simultaneously thru two or more separate channels (disk or tape to amplifiers to loudspeakers). Two channels are exclusively used in today's stereo tape and record playback equipment for the home.

The most important phrase in that definition is "to achieve an effect of depth and heightened reality." That, in brief, is stereo's attraction. That's what the record industry has to shout about—and shout it will.

Getting the Stereo Effect

Years ago, our grandfathers amused themselves in their Victorian parlors looking at "views" thru a stereoscope. The dictionary tells us that a stereoscope is "an optical instrument with two eye glasses for assisting the observer to combine the images of two pictures taken from points of view a little way apart, and thus to get the effect of solidity and depth."

Why should the stereoscope give the observer the effect of solidity and depth? The definition says the images of two pictures taken from points of view a little way apart are combined. This is the way a normal human being views the world around him. Having two eyes "a little way apart," a person receives two images which are combined in that area of the mind that receives the impressions of sight. This faculty lets us perceive relative distances of various objects. This is the sense of depth in viewing. This, in effect, is two-channel sight.

The same is true of hearing. We hear thru two ears set "a little way apart," and sound, particularly the massive sound of a full orchestra, reaches our ears from different directions. Now, if a recording is made simultaneously thru two microphones and the two channels of sound are kept separate and then played back simultaneously and separately, an effect of depth is created. The ears receive two different impressions of the sound and these are combined in the brain.

"Stereophonic" can best be summed up by going back to the Greeks. The word comes from a Greek root "stereo" and the word translated means "solid." Stereophonic sound is solid sound.

LET LOCAL RADIO HELP YOU SELL STEREO

Many AM-FM radio stations throughout the country have been scheduling special Stereo broadcasts. These programs are helping to educate the record-buying public to the wonders of Stereo. The public's response has been enthusiastic and gratifying.

But the main job remains to be done. Every local AM-FM station should be scheduling these Stereo broadcasts. They will benefit themselves by attracting large new audiences. They will benefit their audience. And they will help you to sell Stereo.

RCA Victor has recently announced a new Living Stereo LP replacement service that makes Stereo programming easy, convenient and low cost. Let your local AM-FM stations know about it. Let them help you sell Stereo.

Sound Background

Stereophonic sound is the latest step in an improvement process that began about 80 years ago. Ever since the first recordings were made the industry has been improving the product. The goal of the recording engineer can be simply stated: make a recording that sounds exactly like the original sound. Not until the last 10 years have they come close. They have come closest most recently with stereophonic tapes and disks.

Of course, the immediate fore-runner of the stereo development—and actually a part of it—was high fidelity. This is the name that has been given to the technique of extending the limits of recorded sound to the extreme highs and lows while, at the same time, maintaining a quality level that is close to the original sound. Alongside this development was the creation of playing equipment that would faithfully reproduce the recorded material.

While the engineers could capture the massive sound of a full orchestra in the groove of a record, they were faced with a tough problem in reproducing it. The big orchestral sound came from a single source—the relatively small loudspeaker—when reproduced in the home. Because of this, the sound lacked a spatial quality or dimension.

One attempted solution was multiple speakers. It was a good solution for the time. Two or more speakers placed around a room gave the listener more of a feeling of being present at a live performance. It had the added advantage of being reasonably inexpensive. As a result, few commercial phonographs were produced that did not contain at least two speakers.

Break-Thru In Tape

Tape recorder manufacturers had a better answer—recorded stereo tape and two-channel playback equipment. The ease with which two channels could be recorded and played back on tape made this the natural medium for practical stereo. And the best testimony to its effectiveness was its relatively fast acceptance by the public. Within three years after its introduction, every major tape recorder manufacturer was producing models with the stereo tape playback feature.

Compared to long-playing record sales, stereo tape wasn't what could be called a mass market item. But, last year, the amount of stereo tape bought by the public could certainly be termed a respectable quantity. When it is considered that stereo tape often cost three times more than the same recorded material on long-playing records, it can only be termed a tremendous success.

Another thing to note is the inconvenience of tape on a reel. Tape has to be threaded thru the player and onto another reel. Compared to putting a disk on a turntable, tape is quite inconvenient. But even this added drawback did not hinder stereo tape's acceptance.

In short, stereophonic sound offered a "plus" to the record collector great enough to overcome substantial shortcomings. Stereo tape really paved the way for the introduction this year of stereophonic disks.

Recording Two Tracks

Putting two simultaneous channels of recorded information on tape was easy. How so? All commercial tape recorders handle a dual track tape; that is, they record along one-half of the tape as it travels past the recording head. Then the spools are reversed and the other half of the tape is recorded. To convert this system to stereo playback, it was only necessary to provide for the playing of two tracks simultaneously—the upper half and the lower half at the same time. Of course, the dual playback heads, dual amplifiers and speakers had to be provided to translate the recorded information on the two tracks into stereophonic sound.

A stereophonic disk has to do essentially the same thing—provide two separate channels of recorded information. The first attempts to create stereophonic disks approached the problem with simple directness. Two separate tracks were cut into the disk and the tone arm guided twin cartridges riding side by side thru two sets of grooves. It was a direct approach but it wasn't the best. For one thing, the use of two sets of grooves cut in half the amount of recording on the disk. For another thing, the tracking of two cartridges at the same time presented rather large engineering problems.

The best answer would be to record both channels of information in the same groove. Could it be done? Yes. It could and has been done.

What Is a Disk Recording?

A recording is a wavy groove cut into the vinyl surface of a disk. The wavy groove moves the needle back and forth. The back and forth movement of the needle is turned into electrical impulses by the cartridge. The impulses are amplified and fed into the speaker where they become intelligible sound.

How can a second channel be reproduced from a single groove? The needle is made to move thru a complex set of two types of vibration. These complex vibrations are unscrambled by the cartridge and fed as electrical impulses to two separate wires connected to separate amplifier-speaker combinations. (This process is described in greater detail on another page in this section.)

Personal Views

Ask 10 people to describe their reactions to stereo and you'll get 10 different views. One might think from this that a description of stereo is difficult or elusive. Not so. Everyone who hears stereo reacts very positively but, at the same time, very personally.

One high-fidelity aficionado used the following simile:

"Sound is like water coming from a hose," he said. "The sound from a good high-fidelity set-up is like the water coming from the nozzle in a hard, steady stream. Stereo is like turning the hose into a spray that fans out in all directions and covers everything without blasting."

Another listener describes it this way:

"For me, stereo creates a wall of sound. The entire orchestra is spread out before me. In fact, it extends back of the walls of the room. In some orchestral recordings, the woodwinds seem to be in back of the wall."

Some people will probably agree with George Marek, vice-president and general manager of the RCA Victor Record Division, when he says that stereo sound "envelopes" the listener.

But everyone who hears stereophonic sound will agree on one thing. It has brought a new realism to recorded sound. It is the highest achievement of the recording art.

QUESTIONS AND ANSWERS ABOUT STEREOPHONIC DISKS

Here are the questions most likely to be asked by the prospect for a stereophonic phonograph, with suggested answers.

- Q. I intend to buy a stereophonic phonograph soon. I'd like to start buying stereophonic records now. Can I play them on my hi-fi phonograph?
- A. No. Unless the phonograph you have has been specifically designed to play stereo records, it will damage them. The needle, cartridge and the weight of the tone arm are critical factors. Meanwhile you can continue to buy regular long-playing records. They'll sound better than ever when you play them on your stereo phonograph after you buy it.
- Q. Stereophonic records cost $1 more than standard long-play. Why?
- A. Every step in the process from recording to finished product requires a little more work to produce stereophonic sound. The result, in a good stereophonic record, certainly justifies the extra cost.
- Q. What is the difference between a needle for a regular long-playing record and one for a stereo record?
- A. The stereo needle is smaller. It is designed to conform to a much more complex groove pattern. A standard monaural needle has a tip radius of 1 mil. The stereo needle has a seven-tenth of a mil radius. In addition, the special stereo cartridge into which the needle fits allows the needle to be more flexible than the ordinary monaural cartridge.
- Q. Can I play my collection of hi-fi monaural long-playing records on my new stereo phonograph?
- A. Yes, and they will sound better than they ever have before. The stereo phonograph simply reproduces the single-channel record thru two playback channels.
- Q. Is it possible to turn my old phonograph into a stereophonic reproducer?
- A. Some players can be converted to stereophonic playback. Some cannot. The conversion will, in many cases, have to begin with the turntable and include replacing the tone arm, needle and cartridge in addition to adding a second speaker and amplifier. Often it will be more economical to buy a completely new, factory-guaranteed stereo unit. If you decide to convert your present phonograph be sure it is done by a reputable and highly trained serviceman.
- Q. Will stereo records make my needle wear faster?
- A. No. It will wear at the same rate as a standard long-playing needle. Incidentally, diamond needles are recommended even more for stereo disks than for regular long-play. Since stereo records cost a little more, it is wise to protect them with the longer-wearing diamond. But keep in mind that the dia- mond wears, too, and can damage record grooves after approximately 1,000 hours of play.
- Q. How should I place the loud speakers to get the best results from stereo records and tapes?
- A. Since every room has different acoustic properties, the optimum stereo effect will depend upon trial and error. As a rule of thumb, the most effect can be achieved by sitting the same distance from the speakers as the speakers are from each other. If the speakers are eight feet apart, the optimum stereo effect is received by sitting between the speakers eight feet from an imaginary line between them. It is not recommended placing the speakers closer than six feet together, as the true stereo effect will most likely be lost.
- Q. Will I be able to hear the stereo effect at any other place in the room?
- A. Of course, but the effect will not be as great. There is a marked difference in sound quality between a standard record and a stereo disk even tho they are listened to outside of the room in which they are played. Stereo sound gives the effect of more solidity and depth than monaural sound, no matter where the listener is in respect to the loudspeaker placement.
- Q. Are there many stereophonic disks on the market to choose from?
- A. Yes. Already there is enough variety in stereophonic repertory to satisfy the average collector. RCA Victor, for instance, has been releasing long-play disks in both monaural and stereophonic versions ever since June and is planning a program of double releases for the future. All musical categories—classical, pop, jazz and original cast shows—are available now.
- Q. My present phonograph sounds pretty good to me. Why should I want to buy stereo?
- A. Listen to a stereo phonograph and compare. Music takes on a solidity and depth not possible with a single-channel phonograph.
- Q. Why is stereophonic sound better than single-channel sound?
- A. Stereophonic sound is high fidelity with depth and dimension. It offers the disk collector a new listening experience. An orchestra sounds more like it does at an actual performance.
- Q. My wife says I play the hi-fi too loud. Won't stereo be twice as loud?
- A. On the contrary. Most hi-fi owners play their systems at high volume to get the physical impact of a live performance. With stereo, reality is achieved by means of dual channels and no blasting is necessary. Your wife will love stereo.

IT'S LOGICAL to think that, since record and phonograph manufacturers will spend millions of dollars this fall advertising and promoting stereophonic sound, the public will literally be driven into record-music stores to hear this home entertainment phenomenon. It won't happen. While the sale of stereo will be a rewarding experience for retailers, the rewards have to be earned.

That's not to say that manufacturers will throw their money away. Far from it. Their dollars will do a hefty job of pre-selling, creating interest, and informing the public. But, as with any other product, that final step in moving a product from factory to home must be taken by the dealer. It's a big step. What can dealers do to prepare to take that step and insure that it will be a profitable one?

Know It and Demonstrate It!

It is sometimes difficult for a salesman to understand why he has to know so much about a product in order to sell it. Why, he might ask, do I have to know how much power an amplifier will produce? Or why bother about how a loudspeaker works? Cartridges? I don't have to know what they do in order to sell a phonograph.

It's quite true that not one customer in a hundred will expect a salesman to know the finer points of the equipment he is selling. It's equally true that a salesman shouldn't confuse the customer with a lot of technical information.

The main reason why it is important to know everything about a product can be expressed in two words—"reserve power." The country's leading sales executives agree that "reserve power" is one of the most important factors in clinching a sale. Why? There are several reasons why—both from a common sense and psychological viewpoint. The salesman with reserve power is more secure in his approach to the customer. And, operating from his position of security, his sales talk is more convincing and more dynamic. It is more productive of sales.

The poorly informed salesman, on the other hand, is lackadaisical in his approach. He can't excite the customer about a product because he knows so little about it himself. His sales approach lacks enthusiasm. If his sales talk is stale and flat, the customer is going to reflect this mood and fail to feel enough enthusiasm about the product to buy it.

Pages two and three of this special section can be very helpful in gaining some background on stereophonic sound. But, for the top-notch salesman, this is only a beginning. He will supplement this general information with specific data on the individual models he is going to sell.

Selling the Difference

The key to stereo sales is pointing up factors that make stereo different from monaural. The easiest way to point up the difference is to demonstrate two distinct and separate channels. By musical standards, distinct separation may be considered just plain bad recording. But, by sales standards, the customer is buying two channels and must be made aware of them.

Stereo "gimmick" records can serve the dealer very well here. Certainly, no one will argue that train sounds, plane sounds, streetcar and crowd noises can't come under the heading of musical entertainment. But gimmick records—"ping pong" disks, in which the "ping" comes out of one speaker and the "pong" out of the other—should not be ignored if they make a selling point. It's important to keep in mind, however, that a gimmick is just that. People soon tire of gimmicks and, in the long run, the thing you are selling is a new concept in musical reproduction.

The second part of the demonstration—and perhaps the most important part—is selling sound, enhanced by the stereo factor. The most effective way of presenting stereo is by comparison with the monaural product. Such a demonstration is simple to set up. For a player, choose a single-channel system in the same price range as the stereo unit you plan to demonstrate. If you use a lower price monaural system, the comparison wouldn't be a fair one. The difference between the two units will be startling enough. The most convenient way of demonstrating is to use one unit to play both stereo and monaural records. Be sure the monaural demonstration isn't playing thru two channels, however. This demonstration would be unfair to the stereo part.

What the Customer Hears

While the customer will have no trouble understanding stereo as it is presented on a demonstration disk, he may not be able to appreciate fully the ways in which musical reproduction is enhanced. The dealer can, and should, help him. There are several ways of doing this:

1. Point out the difficulty of locating the sound source in stereo. Here, the dealer might compare the room-filling quality of stereo with the "hole-in-the-wall" directionality of single-channel sound.

2. Stereo can be described as "higher high fidelity." The reason for this is the heightened "presence" of stereo sound. Because the sound "envelopes" the listener, he has the illusion that he is hearing a live performance. Stereo is more realistic.

3. Use case histories. Nothing impresses a prospect more than hearing how others react to stereo. In selling stereophonic tape systems, one manufacturer used to tell the story of the salesman who set up a stereo system in a public restaurant with a dance floor. People came from adjoining rooms at the sound of the music because they thought a live orchestra was playing.

Where can a dealer get good case histories? If he is an active stereo salesman, he'll have more stories than he can use within two weeks.

Store Within a Store

The type of stereo demonstration facilities set up will depend largely on the amount of available space in any given store. In recent times, space has been at a premium. Stores have wisely relied heavily on self-service and, as a result, have spread out their album merchandise in effective full-face display. The more room given over to display, the more merchandise can be seen and sold.

Few dealers are willing now to compress their displays to make room for stereo demonstration equipment. There are types of demo equipment, however, that require little space. Perhaps the most original approach to the problem is RCA Victor's "Living Stereo" fixture. The unit is made by Freedman-Aircraft, veteran producer of record store fixtures. Dealers may earn the "Living Stereo" fixture by the purchase of RCA Victor's "Living Stereo" records. The local RCA Victor distributor will give full details of the fixture deal.

The base unit is just six feet wide and is only two feet deep. Thus, the biggest objection, limited space, is immediately overcome. And, the unit has many advantages. They are:

L. Versatility. Once the unit is set up, it can be used for demonstrating both stereo tapes and disks.

2. Product exposure. The unit provides space for browsing among stereo disks and tapes. The dealer who stocks both disks and tapes can display 12 record album faces on each side and 18 faces of tape boxes on the other. Or he can display either tape only or records only. The uprights that support the header panel can also be used for display. RCA Victor will provide special clips for attaching albums or tape boxes to the uprights.

3. Handles one customer or a crowd. The speakers are mounted on brackets that swing back and forth. In the open position, they can demonstrate stereo to a crowd. On the other hand, they can be swung around, the volume turned down, and a demonstration made for a single customer without disturbing anyone else in the shop.

4. Captures attention. The dealer who uses a Stereo Sound Center has an attention-getter that constantly sells for him. The header panel with the legend "RCA Victor Living Stereo" lights up. People will want to know what the fixture is and will want to hear it in operation.

5. Modular construction. As stereo disks and tapes become increasingly important in the dealer's inventory and sales, he can add floor browsers to the base unit, extending it in both directions. Many display variations are possible and the design and finish blends into the existing fixtures in many stores.

6. Easy to set up. A dealer doesn't have to be an engineer to set up the fixture. The unit is supplied with full instructions. Wiring, phone jacks and speakers are already wired in. The most complicated step the dealer has to take is plug in the speakers. No complicated wiring is required. Of course, amplifiers and turntable are not provided but most dealers can supply them from stock and easily install them.

Living Room Listening

The store with available room will profit from setting up a stereo listening room in addition to using the Stereo Sound Center. The Sound Center will then serve to arouse the customer's curiosity and sell stereo disks and tapes while the listening room will be used more for equipment sales.

In setting up a listening room, provide comfortable seating in a permanent spot. Then, when the various pieces of playing equipment are set up, place them so that the customer's chairs are at the focal point of the sound, or at the place where the stereo effect is greatest.

Few stores have room enough to set up a recital hall type of demonstration. Those that have will find this type of demonstration an effective attention-getter for the store. Stereo recitals can be scheduled on a regular basis and so advertised.

Outside Demonstrations

Stereophonic sound can also be effectively demonstrated outside the store. Clubs and organizations are always on the lookout for special attractions to be presented at their meetings. With stereo, a dealer doesn't have to be a talented speaker to get his sales message across. The records and equipment will do it for him. All he has to do is start the equipment and put on a tape or record. Here, again, the demonstration record with its special stereo effects and full-bodied music will make the biggest impression on the audience.

To get the best results from such an effort, the dealer should get in touch with the secretary of the organization for the names and addresses of those who attended the meeting. This will provide a list of active prospects for immediate follow-up.

The Competitive Picture

In the over-all retailing picture today, many music dealers have felt disk sales competition from non-music outlets. The reason for this is the effort on the part of all record manufacturers to broaden the market for recorded music.

Stereophonic sound enables the dealer to continue his leadership. As the music specialty store emerged as a stereo center, the customer will turn to it not only for the new stereo product but for all musical needs.

STEREOPHONIC sound from a disk is no "Johnny-come-lately" to recording company engineers. They've known they could turn the trick for years. The question was "which way?" rather than "can we?" Last winter, the engineers were given the green light. The record and phonograph industry as a whole decided upon approaches and techniques. Shortly thereafter, stereo disks were coming from the pressing plants in quantity.

Existing catalogs of stereophonic records already include virtually every type of music to please every type of customer—classical, popular, jazz and show music.

Two-Channel Disk

When the average collector looks at his first stereo disk he's likely to say, "Is this stereo? Looks like any other record to me." He's right. The disk looks like any other. But to the trained eye using a microscope, the differences in the grooves are great. Into each groove two sound channels are pressed:

Sound from a disk recording depends upon needle movement or vibration. Theoretically, it doesn't matter which direction the vibration goes, the results are pretty much the same. For example, when Edison designed his phonograph to play cylindrical records, he made the needle vibrate up and down. This is called the "hill and dale" system of recording, or vertical cutting.

On a standard phonograph, however, the needle moves from side to side, or laterally. The lateral movement has been used ever since the flat disk replaced the cylinder,

What about the stereo disk? In designing a record to play two channels of sound at the same time, the engineer had to cut the disk so that it would move in two directions simultaneously. This sounds more difficult than it actually is.

The stereo disk is a combination of the old Edison "hill and dale" method and the commonly used lateral vibration method of ordinary disks. It is easy to understand how the vertical movement of the needle can produce one channel of recorded sound and the lateral movement can produce the other. And they can produce them simultaneously.

The actual technique adopted by the record industry as a whole is called the "45-45" system and is a variation of the above. Each side of the record groove has both lateral and vertical components cut into it and each side of the groove represents a separate channel of recorded sound.

The Stereo Pick-Up

The back and forth vibrations in a standard recording are changed into electrical impulses by the cartridge or pick-up. These impulses are fed into the amplifier where they are magnified and fed in turn into the loudspeaker. The speaker translates the impulses into intelligible sound. All electrical phones work this way. How does stereo differ?

The heart of the stereo phonograph is the cartridge. The cartridge has a double function in a stereo system. It still receives the vibrations from the needle but, now, the needle movement is highly complex. It is actually two sets of movements in one. The cartridge unscrambles them and directs them as two separate chains of electrical impulses into separate amplifier circuits.

Because of the complex nature of the groove and special design of the cartridge, the armature that holds the needle has a flexible quality. It must be relatively flexible to track the complex groove.

The Stereo Needle

The needle is important to good stereophonic reproduction. To play a monaural long-play disk, the tip of the needle has a radius of one mil. The radius of the tip of the stereo needle is smaller—7/10ths of a mil. The smaller needle is necessary to get full response of the higher frequencies in the stereo groove.

It is easy to see then that the 7/10ths mil needle will track the groove of the monaural disk as well as it will play stereo records. It will ride a little lower in the standard long-play groove. But the one mil needle cannot be recommended for stereo records because it will ride higher in the groove and it will not reproduce the high frequencies fully. Also, some groove jumping could result.

Another reason why the standard needle should not be used on a stereo record is the lack of flexibility in the armature that holds it. Because the standard needle only has to move back and forth the armature is made to "give" in that direction only. This lack of flexibility is likely to cause damage to a stereo record when played on a standard phono.

Still another factor to be considered is the stylus pressure. A standard 1 mil stylus with normal 7 to 9 gram stylus pressure exerts a force of approximately about 20,000 pounds per square inch at the point of contact with the record. With a smaller stylus, the point of contact is smaller and the force is consequently much greater.

To keep this force down and to prevent excessive record wear, the stylus pressure must be reduced. The RCA Victor stereo pick-up, for example, has been designed to operate with a stylus pressure of 4 to 5 grams.

Questions and Answers

Q. You say that the turntable has to be repaced in some cases. Why?

A. The standard turntable was designed to comply with a relatively simple movement of the needle in a horizontal plane. The more complex movement of the needle in a stereo groove is in both horizontal and vertical planes. A turntable that has not been designed to comply with the vertical movement of the needle can produce what will be heard as "rumble" thru the loudspeakers.

Q. What's the difference between a tone arm on an ordinary phonograph and one on a stereo reproducer?

A. The tone arm on a standard phonograph is heavier and the needle is larger than on a stereo player.

Q. I live in a small apartment. Won't a stereo phonograph take up too much room?

A. No. What stereo achieves with two channels of sound, single-channel systems try to achieve with large speaker enclosures and multiple speaker systems which nevertheless provide only single channel sound. Stereo is the perfect answer for the small apartment owner who wants high-fidelity sound.

Q. Won't stereo be too high in price for me? Won't two sound channels cost twice as much as one sound channel?

A. Not at all. The reason it won't cost as much as two sound channels in that certain elements in the system (needle, cartridge, turntable, part of the amplifier circuitry and much of the cabinetry) are common to both channels. And even this it requires more refined circuits and separated speakers, stereo doesn't cost more than many single-channel hi-fi phones. RCA Victor's Stereo-Orthophonic High Fidelity line, for instance, includes a complete stereo unit as low as $129.00. Proponents of stereo point out that a stereo system offers the listener as much or more than a high-fidelity rig costing more than twice the amount.

How can two sound channels be recorded in one groove? How are both channels reproduced? What are the essential differences between the stereo system and the monaural? Here are the answers.

cause the differences between the stereo phone and the monaural phone are critical in these respects.

From the cartridge to the final reproduced sound, stereo differs from the standard phone only in the fact that the stereo system is a double system. As we noted above, the stereo cartridge puts out two separate sets of electrical impulses. These impulses are magnified by separate amplifier circuits which drive separate speakers. The speakers convert impulses into music.

Speaker Placement

Loudspeaker placement can affect the amount of the stereophonic effect. In this regard, it is important to note that high frequency tones are highly directional. If the speakers are not directed toward the listener, some of the stereo effect is lost.

How should the loudspeakers be placed? There is no precise formula. Much depends on the room in which the system will play. That room has its own acoustic properties to which the speakers and the listeners have to adjust.

Certain rules of thumb can be applied, however. The speakers should not be placed too close together or they will sound like a single-channel system. Yet, if they are placed too far apart, they will sound like two separate sound sources.

The way to get the best results is through trial and error. Place the speakers eight feet apart. Sit midway between and out from them in what will be the usual listening area. Then move the speakers away from each other gradually until the stereo effect is greatest. In the average home the speakers can be moved as much as 15 feet apart—room permitting—if the listener will station himself as far from the speakers as the speakers are from each other.

Balance Control

Another important adjustment that most manufacturers make at the factory is establishing a balance between the two channels. Both channels should produce sound of equal volume if maximum stereophonic effect is to be achieved.

The best way to make sure both channels are balanced is to play a standard long-play record on the stereo player. The volume level on each channel should be equal. Slight adjustments can be made if necessary with a channel balancing control.

Wide Choice of Players

The collector who wants to experience this new listening sensation has a wide choice of players. The RCA Victor Radio and "Victrola" Division's Stereo-Orthophonic High Fidelity line, for instance, ranges in price from $129.50 to $2,500, in style from French Provincial to Traditional and Danish Modern.

THE TAPE CARTRIDGE

Here is a radically new way of reproducing music in the home. The magazine-loading tape cartridge has many attractive advantages.

THE recorded tape industry is ready to go from its "horse and buggy" beginnings into the "rocket age" in one big step. By the end of the year dealers throughout the country will be selling an entirely new concept in recorded sound for the home—the magazine-load tape cartridge.

This tape cartridge, pioneered by RCA Victor, is so revolutionary that it will very likely change the home listening habits of a large segment of the record-buying public. It will also have far-reaching effects on the entire record industry.

Many Advantages

To say the cartridge is "revolutionary" is no exaggeration. It is simple to handle—simpler than a disk recording. Its price is only a little higher than the equivalent amount of music on a disk. It has all the fundamental advantages of tape over disk. It has built-in conveniences such as automatic play from beginning to end.

Implicit in all of the advantages is the fact that a broad new market is opening up for the music specialty shop and audio salon. For many collectors of recorded sound, the cartridge concept will make obsolete existing home music systems. Dealers will not only profit by selling the tapes, they will gain from the sale of the equipment specially designed to handle the cartridge.

The Price Factor

How does the price of the tape cartridge compare with reel-type tape the public has been buying? The cartridge costs less than half. The sound-track recording of "South Pacific," for example, is tagged at $18.95 in the reel-type version. The cartridge version carries an $8.95 price. (The stereo disk version retails for $5.95.)

The tape cartridge requires this special player. Thus far, RCA Victor plans to produce it in two different models. They will debut sometime during the fall.

lished the following schedule of manufacturer's nationally advertised prices:

Manufacturer's Nationally Advertised Prices	Maximum Stereophonic Playing Time
$4.95	22 minutes
8.95	32 minutes
8.95	47 minutes
9.95	60 minutes

An interesting sidelight of this price schedule is the change that will take place in setting repertory for a particular release. With the classical long play disk the problem of coupling always arose. What goes with what? If we put Beethoven's "Moonlight" Sonata on one side of a record, what goes on the other?

The coupling factor often confused the customer, too. He may have wanted to add Beethoven's "Moonlight" Sonata to his collection but already owned what he considered a comprehensive reading of the piece on one side of a record. This factor will not exist on tape. When a piece is recorded, there is no necessity to couple it with anything else. It will be priced according to playing time and the customer will buy only what he wants to buy.

Simplicity of Handling

Let's examine the cartridge's advantages in detail. Anyone who has ever watched a youngster use an expensive phonograph, and winced as the needle was wrongly placed or scratched across delicate vinyl grooves, will look upon the cartridge as almost "too good to be true." It's not overstatement to say that a young child can play a tape cartridge just as easily as an adult.

The tape is enclosed in a plastic case. It has self-contained reels that are held securely until the brake is automatically released when it is placed in the player. The tape itself never has to be touched by the user. If the tape should break—a very unlikely possibility—the cartridge can easily be opened by removing two screws and the splice made. To play it, the user has only to turn the player on and insert the cartridge. An additional convenience is the automatic tape reversal. It plays thru its entire length, equal to the side of a long-play disk, and, in some player models, automatically reverses itself and plays the second half. In the semi-automatic players the cartridge is reversed manually but shuts off automatically. When the tape has played thru, it is in position to play from the beginning again.

How is it possible for RCA Victor to more than cut the price in half and at the same time offer all the other advantages inherent in the new magazine-load cartridge? The answer is found in the new recording techniques and in improved recording and playback equipment. These factors have made it possible to put four times the amount of recording on a tape as heretofore. Formerly tape had to travel at 7½ inches per second (abbreviated ips) to maintain sound quality. Improved equipment now permits recording at 3½ ips to achieve the same high standard. In other words, the speed at which the tape travels has been cut in half with a resultant saving in tape used.

A further saving in raw material was made by doubling the number of recorded tracks on the tape. Reel-type tape has contained two recorded tracks. The magazine-load tape cartridge has four tracks of sound.

More on Price

RCA Victor, alone thus far in producing the tape cartridge, has estab-

The Cartridge Player

Can cartridge-type recorded tapes be played on existing tape-playing equipment? Obviously not. Standard-type players use the large plastic reels. The reels of the cartridge are contained in the cartridge itself. Neither can a standard tape recorder be modified to handle the cartridge. The cartridge is such a revolutionary development that a completely new type of player is needed.

RCA Victor has created a new type of player to handle the cartridge. It will be available for the first time this fall in a choice of two models. Four models are scheduled to follow.

Other Players Seen

What of the other manufacturers of recorded tapes and tape recorders? When, after several years of research, RCA Victor decided to produce the cartridge and cartridge player, they believed they had something so good that they should show it to the industry. Accordingly, they called together all the manufacturers of tape recorders and gave a complete briefing on their plans. This meeting took place last February. The timing was important. Designing and then tooling up for production takes several months. RCA Victor wanted to give the other manufacturers enough time to be able to include the new models in their fall 1956 lines. To encourage the other manufacturers, RCA Victor offered complete blueprints and a free licensing arrangement. Two manufacturers have already announced that they are producing a cartridge player according to the RCA Victor design. Many others are known to be working on similar projects. It is safe to say that many manufacturers will have the cartridge players in their lines in the near future.

Record Companies Set to Move

How about the record companies? At a meeting of the Record Industry Association of America early this year, George Marok, RCA Victor record division's general manager, showed a prototype of the RCA Victor cartridge to the executives from the other companies. He explained exactly what RCA Victor planned to do and invited them to do the same.

Of course the other record companies can take the plunge into cartridge tapes at any time. When consumer demand has become great enough they can be expected to fill that demand. It is interesting to note in this connection one tape recorder manufacturer has been conducting seminars for record company recording engineers to acquaint them with the problems of making four-track, 3½ ips tapes. And it is known unofficially that the firm has also delivered the equipment necessary to produce the new tapes to several duplicating firms.

Future for 7½ IPS

What of the 7½ ips recorded tapes? Despite the announcement of the RCA Victor cartridge, demand has not waned. Nor have producers of these tapes cut back on their manufacture. If the owners of 7½ ips machines want to change over to the cartridge players, they will do so gradually. The change will not be an abrupt one.

For one, RCA Victor has said they would be willing to produce 7½ ips tape for a long time to come—as long as enough people will buy them.

There are many thousands of tape recorders in homes that play the open-reel, two-track, 7½ ips tape. New models are constantly being introduced. The market for tapes to play on these machines will be a sizable one for a long time to come.

RECORDS are ranked in order of their current national selling importance at the retail level, as determined by The Billboard's weekly survey of dealers throughout the nation with a high percentage of sales in rhythm and blues records. When significant action is reported, the track number is recorded in a record-point form converted to decimal points for the chart. In such a case, one point is being in bold type, the leading digit in regular type.

FOLK TALENT AND TUNES

the release of a new III Records master featuring Mary Taylor, 20-year-old former Ted Mack winner who has since appeared on numerous TV shows. Platzer features "My Greatest Dream" and "Linda Lou." Walker produced the session. Decks, copies may be obtained by writing to Walker at 803 16th Avenue, South, Nashville, Tenn. III. Records, 300 Poplar, Memphis. Ralph E. Stevens has launched a new label, to be known as Ridgecrest Records, with headquarters in La Grange, Ga. He plans to operate a talent booking office in conjunction with the new diskery. He invites a few artists to shoot him tapes, promising that "they'll get a hearing. Mail will reach him at P. O. Box 317, La Grange.

Wesley Rose of Acuff-Rose, Nashville, and Nat Nigberg, producer of "Country America," are reportedly collaborating on the script for a projected motion picture based on the life of Wesley's father, the late Fred Rose, music publisher responsible for the success of many artists in the country and western field. The tribute to Fred Rose on recent "Country America" telecast brought tremendous response, according to Nigberg. He says that KAIC-TV's youth-hour may conclude with congratulatory messages for the entire cast as well as for Wesley Rose, who participated in the program. The screenplay, being outlined by Wesley and Nel will include many of Rose's original compositions.

Zeko Clement, Nashville country music deejay, has just released on two of his songs, "At the End of Nowhere," by Slim Whitman on Imperial, and "My Big Loud Mouth," by Jimmy Dickens on Columbia. In addition to his regular radio program each day over WENO, Zeko is doing an hour over WSM, Nashville, each afternoon, and the later broadcast on WSM of the "Wally Fowler All-Night Gospel Sing." He has also taken over "Opry Star Spotlight" on WSM, 10:30 p.m.-5 a.m., while Ralph Emery is on vacation. Zeko's broadcast will originate from the Tennessee State Fair, Nashville, September 15-20. He asks that artists, publishers and record firms send their new releases to his permanent address, P. O. Box 35, Nashville, as he does most of his broadcasts remote from his own studio.

The Judy Lynn Show, featuring Pat Kelly and the Shamrocks, played to big crowds at the Empire Fair, Sheer Falls, S. D., August 16-17. Judy Lynn, on horseback, led the parade that introduced the rodeo, one of the highlights of the fair. The same night played Mocking Bird Hill Park, Anderson, Ind., Sunday, August 24, for Manager Gilbert Moody. Both dates were set by John Kelly's World-Famous Attractions, Nashville.

From Canada we learn that Ned and Les Tris has just returned to Toronto from a two-month tour of the Western Provinces in a package that also included the Haines Sisters and Tommy Common, of "Country Jamboree" popularity. Ned and Les Positif are currently plugging their first Regency platter, "Watch Over My Love," and "Mistletoe." Art Sather manager the trio. Smilin' Jack Beauchair and his Sons of the Plains are still holding forth with their Saturday show, "Hillbilly Hoedown," at the Cornwall, Ont., Arena, which includes an hour-long airing via CKPS, Cornwall. Terry Parker, vocalist with the group, and Vic Siberoff and His Sons of the Soddy of Prince River, Alta., were among the features at the recent Calgary, Alta., Stampede.

Following a six-day stand at the Red River Valley Exposition, Paris, Tex., ended August 23, Roy Clem and Pee Wee Reid's Red River Jamboree plays the Choctaw County Fair, Hugo, Okla., Friday, August 31. Appearing with the band on the fair date are Glenn and Reid, Jack Beard's Huggins Brothers, Lanny, Gary and Mickey, the Three Cates, Jerry, Johnny and Jim, the Ervin Kids, Patricia, Shirley and Sammie, and Clyde Scott, 17-year-old singer-guitarist.

With the Jockeys

Western music recently got a shot in the arm in Kansas with the "old friendly country boy" from Montgomery, Ala., Mack Sanders, opening his new radio station, KSLA, in Wichita. Mack is programming six hours of Western music a day. As a result of Sanders' success, another Wichita station, KWBR, has hired deejay Lee Nichols to air three hours a day of country music, starting September 1. Both Nichols and Sanders rank among the Midwest's best-known country platter spinners. Incidentally, they can use disks by the Western artists.

Buddy Starcher, who has a weekly day record show on WSVF, Harrisburg, Pa., featuring c.w.m. favorites, including some of his own tunes, now has a regular Thursday night half hour on WSVF-TV. Buddy is backed by a combo featuring Carroll Ray, lead guitar; Wilson Ray, rhythm guitar; Buddy Charlton, steel guitar; and Butch Charlton, bass fiddle. Vocals are handled by Mary Ann.

Coy Baker, who last June shifted from KOKO, Tulsa, Calif., to the more powerful KSTR, Stockton, Calif., reports that he's in need of country records. "I have the only Western show in the area," writes Baker, "and business is good. I have sold Moore Van & Storage, agent for United Van Lines, more than $2,000 in sponsorship on my show. Included among the in-person guests on my show during August were such names as Tommy Duncan, formerly with Bob Wills; Jimmy Wakely and Rex Allen. Would like to have the artists send me a tape on their releases. Artists should not name the title of any of theirinner on the tape. In this way I can use the tape for all of their future releases."

ON THE BEAT

Muddy Waters, Tampa Red, Chet Robie, Lt. Armstrong, J. B. Lender and many others. Stan Terkel, delivered the elegy... Rev. Dwight (Gatemouth) Moore, formerly a practicing clergymen in Chicago and has a daily show on WOPA, Oak Park, Ill. . . . Richard Stanz, local d.j., and B. B. King worked a big blues bash to a capacity house at the Triad Inn, Chicago, Monday (15). Muddy Waters, Howlin' Wolf and several local bands also appeared. Jimmy Smith, the Hammond organist, and his trio, opened their first Chicago stand at the Sutherland Hotel August 27 for three weeks.

New Association

The letter also complains of distributor shipping the wrong merchandise, eliminating the 5 per cent return and allowing dealers to play records "weeks before dealers get the records to sell" and claiming that by the time dealers do get the records, the time may be obsolete. The letter also complains about all the places that now sell records, including "undertaker parlors," and the fact that one-store sell records to anyone.

The letter goes on to say that it is advisable not to listen to some fellow record retailers who in the past have blocked all efforts to form an honest to goodness record retailer organization, operated exclusively by people who are interested in the record industry who, by the way, are not outsiders, but are record dealers themselves, are sick and tired of being kicked around.

The letter says that the organization is not to benefit any one individual but all record dealers. And the letter concludes with: "When the record manufacturers call a meeting or give you a drink or a sandwich, possibly a little entertainment, you show up in droves . . . but when it comes to joining an association you shun like the plague. Why?"

Stereo a Gain

- Specialized knowledge of merchandise which the giants don't seem to be able to master.
- Specialized services for which millions of consumers are hungering again.

- More selling hours per week.
- Better and more intelligent specialized selling.

- Larger and more varied assortments in special categories.

All of the forms of specialization apply to the photo-record store, particularly at the dawn of the stereo age. Grey Matter specifically sites the music store as a typical "service" store that stands to gain in the period ahead. The most important reason given is "knowledge of merchandise far superior to that of any competition."

All of this should be reassuring to the photo-record dealer who has seen such variety chains as Woolworth's enter the phonograph business, carrying many models up to and including consoles.

Minn. State Fair Shrugs Off Rain, Beats '57 Pace Pulls Record 609,395 in Six Days; Threatens to Set New All-Time High

ST. PAUL.—The Minnesota State Fair—themed in part to the State's 100th birthday—last weekably demonstrated its strong lure and its ability to overcome obstacles.

Total attendance up to noon Thursday (28), sixth day of the 10-day run, totaled 609,395, an increase of 71,837 over the count to the same period a year ago. This was accomplished despite a virtual rainout on Saturday (23) and Monday (25). Fair officials, cheered by this increase, looked to top last

127,100 Gate Sets Record At Troy Hills

TROY HILLS, N.J.—A record total of 127,100 persons attended the Morris County Fair, which closed its six-day run on Saturday (23), with Manager Swante Swenson crediting new attractions and the best weather in years. The total topped last year's 95,000 and the former record of 104,000 set in 1951.

Fair and pleasant weather had the management, concessionaires and exhibitors in high spirits throughout the week. An increase in midway reservations for 1959 was reported at the close of the week.

Daily attendances were estimated as follows, starting Monday (17): 8,500; 16,100; 24,500; 23,800; 26,100 and 28,300.

Among new events were the sports car autorama competition, and contests in Western riding and roping. The horse show and beauty.

CNE GATE AHEAD FOR LONGER RUN

Danny Kaye Lags Behind '57 Pace; Swenson Thrill Show Tops R-B

TORONTO—The Canadian National Exhibition, opening two days earlier this year, wound up its first seven days of operation, Thursday (28) with a total attendance of 1,19,500, ahead of 37,737. The count, however, was ahead only because of the 203,000 who came into the fair on Wednesday and Thursday (20-21).

Biggest day on record was chalked up Saturday (23) when 332,000 people jammed thru the gates of the big "Ex." Rain cut into turnout the first two days but since then the weather man was kind to his expo. Monday and Tuesday were below last year but Wednesday—with 235,000 and Thursday with 183,000, were ahead of '57 and every indication was that the lure was building.

The Danny Kaye-and-a-diamond Canadian grandstand show produced by Jack Arthur, in for 10 nights, was running behind the Bob Hope-headed show of last year but not by much, according to officials.

The Art Swenson Thrillicade, the matinee grandstand attraction for 10 afternoons, topped the Ringling Circus of last year in its first five shows. The troupe was getting good crowds almost every day. In addition to the stunts, Swenson had two sets, Arturo, high wire, and the Dressler serial motorcycle team, plus five glows. To this the CNE added the Zecchini, triple canoe act and Norbu, gorilla act.

Supporting acts in the Kaye show included Lorraine Foreman, Haines Sisters, Lynn Randall, Larry Masa, Three Wiles, Nervous Nocks, Natalia Butko, Four Gentlemen, Moribor Troupe, Zecchini and Tulana Leo.

Karsh Takes Fifth in Senate's Carnival-Circus Union Probe

WASHINGTON—Harry Karsh took refuge behind the Fifth Amendment Thursday (28) before the Senate labor rackets investigation, testimony which branded his organizing efforts in the carnival and circus fields as "extortion."

Karsh was silent even when Sen. John L. McClellan (D. Ark.), the committee's chairman, asked him whether he was a "racketeer" with nothing but contempt for government.

He took the Fifth in refusing to answer why he got checks totaling $3,000 from Teamster Union President James Hoffa and Teamster Vice-President Harold Gibbons in 1956.

Karsh's repeated use of the Fifth climaxed a day-long session of the Senate committee during which carnival and circus owners/operators and others affiliated with outdoor show business testified.

The exploration of Karsh's activities in the outdoor amusement field was sparked by an investigation of Teamsters' activities in St.

Louis, which besides being Karsh's home city is the base of the Teamster-chartered Carnival and Allied Workers' Local Union No. 447, and also the headquarters of Gibbons. He is president of the city's Teamster joint council.

Double Election

Seven voters of the Carnival and Allied Workers' Local were the deciding factor in giving Gibbons that office by a 76-70 vote early this year.

Karsh, one of the Fifth was preceded immediately by testimony of two officers of the Carnival and Allied Workers' local, during which it was disclosed that those officers did not have control over the union, that Karsh actually did, and that the six officers had been flown from Tampa, their home city, to St. Louis to vote in the election, that they had received $150 each and expenses to make the trip and vote, and that they had voted for Gibbons.

Testimony of Karsh's activities in the circus and carnival field was opened by a charge of "extortion" made against him by Robert L. Hines, a Fort Wayne, Ind., lawyer, who testified on what happened when Karsh organized the Cetlin & Wilson Shows, an Eastern carnival, at Fort Wayne in 1952.

Hines told the committee that in July of that year, Kash forced Cetlin & Wilson to sign a recognition contract with his union, then an affiliate of the International Jewelry Workers' Union, even tho none of the employees had been asked to join up.

Ohio Fair Hurt By

Sunday Rain

Grandstand Name Attractions Fall Below '57 Pace

COLUMBUS, O.—The Ohio State Fair's big day, Sunday (24), was hurt by rain and as a result attendance as well as grandstand attendance was off for the week.

Rain set in Sunday morning and continued until past noon, cutting the day's turnout to less than 30,000 as compared with 70,000 last year. This put the fair behind and it was unable to make up the loss altho a good turnout on Thursday and Friday was expected to help make up some of the deficit.

The grandstand show, which featured several changes of names throughout the week, was also behind. The Tommy Sands show, in for the first two days, grossed $22,379. George Cole, due for four on Sunday and Monday, was hurt by rain. His Sunday show was shifted to the Youth Coliseum. (Continued on page 50)

Gimmicks, Changes Propel Ottawa to 500,000-Plus Mark

Up 11% by Midweek; New Kiddieland, Full Eighth Day Quicken Gate Pace

OTTAWA—Addition of a half-day of running time, west, the Central Canada Exhibition, off to a great start on Friday (23), and by midweek the eight-day event was a cinch to top the half-million attendance mark for the second straight year, with a new gate record. As of Thursday (28) there had been 330,218 people admitted, an increase of 11 per cent over the 306,456 for the comparable five days last year. Weather was ideal.

Totals were as follows:

Friday	42,371	28,123
Saturday	81,086	54,305
Monday	76,922	50,974
Tuesday	67,840	63,815
Wednesday	70,963	70,173

On Thursday, which was a government payday, the grounds were jammed by early afternoon at Lansdowne Park. Sharing the big week was the World of Birth Shows midway.

The event is one of the most gimmicked in the nation, offering new angles yearly in efforts to boost attendance. Continued this time was the daily giveaway of a different model new car... Also heavily promoted was the Shrine-sponsored award of a model home.

Thru Thursday (28) the total turnout was reported as 343,000 against 316,000 to the same point last year. Sunday (24) was one of the biggest days on record and the 79,281 that came out on the Sabbath was the best single day since 1954, when one day topped the 80,000-mark. Fairgrounds sun-gates were closed at noon and remained shuttered for several hours.

Total grandstand receipts were running below last year, fair officials reported. The Barnes-Carruthers night revue, augmented by name acts brought in by the fair, was hurt by cold on Monday night. Names added to the show include the Mills Brothers, Nick Told, Tommy Sands and a group from the Lawrence Welk orchestra, in-

Grandstand Receipts Show Decrease; Olson Midway Surges Sharply Ahead

DES MOINES—The 100th running of the Iowa State Fair here was off its way to a successful climax last week and attendance for the first seven days of the 10-day run topped last year by a considerable margin.

Thru Thursday (28) the total turnout was reported as 343,000 against 316,000 to the same point last year. Sunday (24) was one of the biggest days on record and the 79,281 that came out on the Sabbath was the best single day since 1954, when one day topped the 80,000-mark. Fairgrounds sun-gates were closed at noon and remained shuttered for several hours.

Total grandstand receipts were running below last year, fair officials reported. The Barnes-Carruthers night revue, augmented by name acts brought in by the fair, was hurt by cold on Monday night. Names added to the show include the Mills Brothers, Nick Told, Tommy Sands and a group from the Lawrence Welk orchestra, including Alice Lon. The various artists were off from one to three nights each.

Earl Newberry's thrill show was hurt by rain on Monday afternoon but put the show on despite the downpour. Auto racing brought in by Al Sweeney's National Speedways, did good business in most occasions. A Saturday program of stock car races pulled an overflow crowd. Saverne races were also on the program for Thursday and Saturday. Harness racing was in for two afternoons and a Shrine program was presented opening night.

A free motion picture crew was on the grounds most of the week shooting a documentary film of the fair in color. Life magazine also had representatives here for two days.

Olsen Shows were garnering good takes on the midway and up to Thursday reported grosses 20 per cent ahead of last year.

PNE Centennial Run Races Ahead of '57

Pulls Record 116,464 in One Day;
Musical Ride Turns Away Hundreds

VANCOUVER, B. C.—The Centennial edition of the Pacific National Exhibition last week was running well ahead of last year's attendance figures aided by record days over the first weekend of the August 18-September 1 run.

As all these single day mark was set Saturday (23) when 116,464 clicked, then the turnstiles, more than 3,000 better than the record set last year. Up to midnight of Tuesday (20), a total of 387,235 customers had passed thru the gates, topping the same period last year by $2,218.

Smooth hit of the run thus far was the Royal Canadian Mounted Police Musical Ride, which closed Saturday, after a week's run. During that time hundreds were turned away at each performance. Taking over in front of the grandstand for the remaining days of the fair was Sam Snyder's Water Follies of '58, which pulled good crowds. Polack Bros. Circus, in the Forum, was doing business comparable with other years.

The fair's Space Science Show, with its towering three-stage type rocket, opened slowly at 50 cents for adult and a quarter for kids. To hype the show, kids were later admitted free and a talker was added which did the trick.

This year every booth in the Fire Food Building is either selling or giving away samples and the customers are having good pickings. Jimmy Steven's large tented cafe on the same location near the old midway is doing only half the business it did in former years, its only pull being from race track crowds en route to or from the track.

All the buildings have been sold out to exhibitors. The outdoor theater, featuring Jimmy Jameson, high diver, is pulling capacity crowds.

Weather the first nine days was warm and pleasant.

Animal Import Bill Advances To President

WASHINGTON — The Senate, in its closing days, approved a bill which would allow wild animals to be imported for public and private zoos "under appropriate safeguards."

In an earlier form, the bill called for an import ban on wild ruminants from countries where foot-and-mouth disease and rinderpest exist. This version passed the House earlier in the session, but when the measure was referred to the Senate Agriculture Committee, a storm of protest against the legislation came from operators of both public and private zoos.

The House-passed version would have amounted the 23-year-old law, against importing domestic cattle from diseased areas, to include wild animals. Bill would have kept giraffes, exotic deer, gazelles, antelope and wild sheep from the U. S. but would not bar cats, apes, birds or elephants.

During hearings held on the measure by the Senate Agriculture Committee, however, 200 operators registered their opposition to the proposal. They told the Senate probbers that such legislation was "unnecessary" and would do "irrevocable harm" to zoological interests. (The Billboard, August 4)

The bill, as finally approved by the Senate, will allow the importation of wild animals under safeguards, and with the understanding that the Department of Agriculture will introduce any new statutory and quarantine regulations determined necessary by continuing research on animal disease. Measure now needs the President's signature to become law.

Du Quoin Gets People, Hambletonian for 3 Years

DU QUOIN, Ill.—Officials of the Du Quoin State Fair were more than pleased last week. Thru Thursday, fifth day of its nine-day run, attendance was up 10 per cent, and the fair was awarded the Hambletonian, harness racing's Kentucky Derby, for an additional three years, thru 1962.

Good weather prevailed and on the Sunday (24) opening the fair had the biggest crowd in its 36 years. Attendance on Monday (25) was likewise a new record, surpassing any previous Monday by 8 per cent. Sunday's program of AMA motorcycle races, back after a year's absence, drew the biggest cycle crowd on record.

Key attraction of the entire week was the Hambletonian on Wednesday (27) before 22,500. This was 2,500 below last year's initial run here, but the drop was attributed to many curious in 1957. Monday thru Friday Grand Circuit harness racing pulled strong turnout.

The night grandstand show, which runs from Sunday thru Saturday, was drawing bigger crowds than last year. Featured were Rowan and Martin, Jaye P. Morgan and Brothers, Nick Todd-Kirby Stone Four and Lou Bresce and orchestra. Bob Hope will head up the Labor Day night show along with the Everly Brothers and Paul Anka.

Over the Labor Day weekend the 100-mile USAC auto races were scheduled, stocks on Saturday, midgets on Sunday and a big car-championship meet on the holidays.

Heli Shows were doing well with increased attendance on the midway.

Rhinebeck Beats Rain, Sets 102,484 Record

RHINEBECK, N. Y.—Despite the soothsack of a rainout on Monday (25) the Dutchess County Fair closed with a record 102,484 attendance on Wednesday (27). Manager Dick Murray reported.

Weather thru most of the run was ideal, and a couple of new features aroused patron interest.

The cash register gate system which was experimented with last year was used again, this time with $10,000 worth of equipment purchased from National Cash Register Company.

Rhinebeck went to a free grandstand show last year, jacking its admission price to $1-quarter, to $1. Kids are 50 cents. This year there was a varied week of Cooke and Rose attractions, most successful being a Hawklaw Hawks hillbilly unit and a rodeo show.

Being unveiled for the public was the new, colonial styled administration building. Several old structures were torn down and the area cleared for better midway layout. The construction and clearance was the start of a five-year improvement program for the fair.

Two kids' days were promoted on Friday and closing day. Children got free gate admission plus nickel add'l. Around 9,000 futons were noted for the 20,000 tickets picked up at area stores.

Reithofers Shows were on the midway with a collection of 33 major rides, 10 kiddie rides and 5 shows.

Park Repeats Pony Show

MIDDLETOWN, O.—Lake Scoville Lake near here is staging its second annual Pony Show over the holiday weekend. Nearly 100 ponies are entered in the three-day event. Highlight will be a pony parade down the midway twice on Sunday (31) and Monday (1).

Middletown Trade and Labor Council sponsors a program for Labor Day. The balloon will stage a finale that night. Although the park's regular season ends with Labor Day, management has scheduled a Flyer and Dime Day for Sunday (7).

NAAPPB Sees Early Sellout For Trade Show

CHICAGO—Prospects for the annual trade show of the National Association of Amusement Parks, Pools & Beaches are strong, with more than 80 per cent of the booth space already reserved.

John S. Bowman, secretary of NAAPPB, said that only about 14 of the 193 booths remain unspoken for. A sellout is anticipated well in advance of the November 30-Dec. 3 convention.

At the same time, the association is pushing advertising sales for its 1959 manual and guide. Bowman said that some copies of the current 1958 issue of the manual still are available from the association.

ARENAS & AUDITORIUMSNew Pittsburgh Building to Face Up to New Problems

By TOM PARKINSON

UNDER construction at Pittsburgh is one of the most unique—and sometimes controversial-buildings in the suburban-area field. This is the new municipal auditorium with a retractable roof. The huge dome is designed to roll aside in sections so as to convert the structure into an open-air stadium when desired.

Edward Fraher is the manager of the building. In an informal talk at the recent convention of the International Association of Auditorium Managers, Fraher called attention to his fellow managers to some of the professional problems to be faced.

The building is to seat a maximum of 14,000 people. For the section that will be wedged off for opera presentations, there are to be 2,500 seats. The building will have a 1,700-car parking lot, and it may prove necessary soon to put one or more decks on this lot. Nearly 4,000 more parking spaces.

TOTAL COST OF THE building is to be $16,000,000. At one stage of the planning game a large meeting room was proposed and drawn into the plans. Then it was decided not to include this room, so it had to be drawn out of the plans. These procedures cost about $250,000 for a meeting room they won't have, as Fraher pointed out.

And $2,500,000 is the estimated cost of the moveable roof. It is anticipated that most of the daytime uses of the building will be with the roof closed; in the summertime day air usually too warm for outdoor events. But evenings will see the roof retracting in great circular-shaped sections. Fraher sees it as one of the greatest practical problems the question of who, and in what authority, decides to open the roof during a show.

THE SEATS ARE of the padded variety and need to be wiped off if they get wet, so there is added incentive for closing them if weather turns bad. The borderline cases of judgment will be the problem.

And if the roof is to be closed, there should be about two hours advance notice so that the concession can be put into effect for big rig conditioning.

Acoustics promise to be a problem whether the roof is open or closed. Open, there will be the competition of airplane, train and barge, all close at hand. Closed, the round dome is expected to bring up reverberations for which a Fiberglas back and other ground treatments are planned.

STILL ANOTHER OF THE problems faced by high-level managerial personnel here is that of birds. It needs that pigeons comprise a problem in Pittsburgh—a daily, according to Fraher. There is the question not only of birds and people—but also of birds and those padded seats.

MO. STATE FAIR RECEIPTS TOP '57

Night Show Gross Off Slightly;
Auto Races Pull Strong Crowds

SELDALIA, Mo.—Alto attendance at Missouri State Fair was off approximately 3% per cent, records at the nine-day run ending Sunday (24) were substantially ahead of 1957, due to increased gate, parking and bleacher prices. Total attendance was slightly below last year's 543,000.

Weather was good for most of the run and the final weekend brought out big crowds on both Saturday and Sunday.

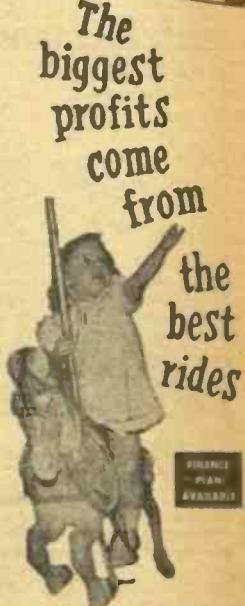

Attendance and receipts from the Hietz night grandstand show were slightly below those racked up by "Holiday on Ice," last year's feature, but officials were well pleased with the results.

Auto racing was the feature over the weekend, with Al Swanson putting on three programs. On Saturday afternoon a big car race did well and that night a program of jalopy races events pulled close to capacity. The Sun day afternoon 100-mile stock and sports car race pulled that biggest turnout of the week, with several thousand overflows in the infield. Sunday night Earl Newberry's thrill show did well on what is usually a slow night.

Cooling Amusement Company racked up a new record on ride and show grosses in its first appearance as the midway attraction here.

President Earl Leno pointed to the afternoon rainfall and deteriorating weather on Sunday, and the rain on Thursday (21), which added 12,000 to a gate deficit which had been partly erased. Closing two days were better than last year.

Show Elements Off

Leno said a gasoline recession and area unemployment problem undoubtedly had their effect on the gate, which might have been even worse off but for the daily free-gating of kids up to 16 years old in front of the grandstand and the Mac-Habifit show was off proportionately with the fair. Late, four performances by the Jack Kuchman Hell Drivers and International Auto Daredevils were well received.

Midway business done by the famous E. S. States Shows was faced with the same conditions affecting other elements of the fair, but was reported good nonetheless.

There was an increase in premiums paid out of around $2,000, with the new total being $36,338. Most favorable comment was extended to the circular new diving pool, which offered demonstrations of diving, skin diving and water rescue techniques. Also new was an under-cover antique farm machinery museum. Saturday (23) United Racing Club big car show promoted by Bill Lytle was its usual sellout.

Chicago Hall Gets Go-Ahead; New Suit Filed

CHICAGO—Chicago's $34,900,000 Lakefront Exhibition Hall broke thru one bottleneck recently and is proceeding with the advertising for bids on shoring up the site.

Breakthru came when the State of Illinois decided to go ahead with plans to purchase up to $20,000,000 in building bonds. At that time Manager Edward Lee announced that construction could get started almost at once.

The State's decision came after court dismissed of an action that sought to block construction of the building. Now another suit has been filed against the proposed building, objecting to the site, among other things, but the newly launched actions have not been halted.

The building has been the subject of involved controversies and litigations for some time.

In addition to the bond money, it has $9,000,000 as its share of State race track betting tax money. Private investors are expected to take $5,000,000 in bonds.

Structure is to include extra large exhibit space, a 5,000-seat theater, dining facilities, parking areas and other facilities.

Minn. State Fair

spices of an early Minnesota winter was promised.

Concessions were reported doing well, with the eat-and-drink booths and countless restaurants pulling big crowds.

The helicopter used in the Afterburn Hornbeck high-pole attraction here last fall crashed during preparation for Wednesday (27). Falling from a height of approximately 80 feet, Darrell Hornbeck and the pilot were thrown thru the blower, but fortunately, neither was injured. The helicopter was wrecked beyond immediate repair. Bill Atterbury immediately ordered a new helicopter from Fort Worth.

Strong Week Reported for Wagner Unit

HENRIETTA, N. Y.—Buddy Wagner's joint Chautaukula Thrill Show unit pulled a crowd of 5,000 into the grandstand on the closing night (23) at the Monroe County Fair. It was reportedly the highest gross by a thrill show in the 12-year history of this annual.

Big draws for the show that year are Captain Rasin's "Rocket Car" loop - the - loop finale and Barbara Collier, girl stunt star, both of whom are under contract to Wagner. Miss Collier is sold strongly by Wagner's promotional staff.

Gimmicks Propel

by 12 took projection screen outside the studio for spectator viewing. Nightly outdoor bandstand programs were offered by the USAF band and Singing Sergeants choruses. Also in the Melody Building was a big St. Lawrence Seaway project model.

J. K. (Jack) Clarke, fair director paid special credit to the GAC Gimmicks grandstand program, which included afternoon Jingle Racers and a night show with a different Canadian star nightly, plus the Four Lads through the week and the Afterburn-Hornbeck helicopter aerial act. Rotating stars included former Sullivan, Billie O'Conor, Juliette, Joyce Hahn, Corrie Tapp and Joanne Fairfax. Critical reviews were overwhelmingly favorable helping to boost the grandstand gross after a slow start on opening day.

Last year the directors backed on a $15,000 Friday opening which added more than 28,000 persons to the gate total. This year it was a morning opener and $2,000 re-spended. Attendance was down only on Monday (23). If rained Sunday but the fair got a break it doesn't run on that day.

Behind the Manufacturing Building was a newly-located Kiddieland with picnic tables and benches, which got a heavy play all week.

Troy Hills Gate

contests were held in the bleacher-enclosed areas, and automotive events took place in a fenced-in "sports car plaza" which was surrounded by spectators 10-deep during most of the week. Refreshment Shores held the midway contract.

Advertising budget was tripled this year, and public relations man Merrill Morris of Plainfield was given the publicity chores, which Svensson said was handled excellently. Stock for the locally promoted rodeo events at which $2,000 in prizes was offered, was provided by Barnes' Jiggetts of Sesser.

There were daily contests of interest to kids, such as pie and watermelon eating, frog jumping, poach show, and check haggy races.

due to the rain and as a result the four performances took in $8,000.

Dean Martin, scheduled to head up the Tuesday and Wednesday shows, was hurt in an auto crash and was unable to appear. Eddie O'Brien and Shirley Bernette filled in and did fairly well. The Lenox Singers were in for the final three days and in their first six shows grossed $20,000, which was looked upon as satisfactory. Ted Lewis was added for the final day.

Featured show in the Coliseum was seven performances by Dennis Day, Molly Bee, Johnny Cash and the Vagabonds, who grossed $13,033 over the week-end. This compared with $17,427 in two shows last year.

The professional football game between the Chicago Bears and the Philadelphia Eagles on Sunday afternoon drew 15,000. One of the bright points of the week was the fair's society horse show which did good business, topping that of last year.

Cooling Amusement Company, traditional midway attraction here, was doing good business, with the Wild Mouse leading the fun zone. Johnny Mack Brown had 90 shows on the back-end.

RCA Notes Eastward Movement of Rodeos

DENVER.—The popularity of rodeos in areas east of the Mississippi is definitely on the up-beat, according to Lex Connally, secretary-treasurer of the Rodeo Cowboys' Association. In 1958, the national organization has approved a record number of new units in cities far from the rangelands that spawned the sport, some at agricultural fairs, others under various auspices.

First of the new chapters will be at the atomic city of Oak Ridge, Tenn., where six performances were held August 26-30. The same week the International Order of Odd Fellows sponsored six performances at the Fort Wayne (Ind.) Speedway, August 29-September 1, and the biggest of the new ones will be held at the New York State Fair, Syracuse, with 12 performances scheduled.

West Virginians will have their first opportunity to see an RCA meet during six performances September 3-7 at the Huntington Motor Speedway. Other new dates: Dunlops, Pa., September 10-14; Rochester, N. Y., September 16-21; Tupelo, Miss., September 23-27; Indianapolis, October 1-5; Jackson, Miss., October 8-11, and New Haven, Conn., October 8-12.

A total of 67 performances will be held in 47 days at these spots, which fit in with a schedule of established success in popular Eastern areas. New York's Madison Square Garden rodeo, now in its 29th year, is the oldest and, with 28 performances, also largest. Some were new last year in Evansville, Ind., and Harrisburg, Pa., where over 60,000 saw the Pennsylvania Livestock Exposition in 1957.

Two new rodeos that turned in successful scores this year were at Winston-Salem and Charlotte, both in North Carolina, early this spring.

Marshfield, Mass., Fair Breaks Records

MARSHFIELD, Mass.—The 91st annual Marshfield Fair's success this year indicates that the Bay State season could be a banner one. Closing Saturday (23) after a seven-day run, the gate totaled $13,000, some $3,000 above last

A downpour on the first of the six-day pari-mutuel horse racing meet dropped the handle by $17,000 below the 1957 total. This was drawn from a card of eight races for four days and nine races on the latter two. Net total gross was $53,740.

Otherwise the fair enjoyed the greatest success in its history with the grandstand doing good business on five acts supplied by the Al Martin Agency of Boston. Joe Chalford's thrill show drew 18,000, plus two shows on opening day, Sunday (17). Livestock, poultry, handicrafts and floral displays were bigger than ever.

E. W. Burr, who had his Playtime Amusement Company on the midway with more rides than last year, reported the best grosses in 10 years at this event. Among carnival folk was Kelly the Candyman, who, while leaving the spelling to his son, was happily greeting old friends.

Edward M. Dwyer, president, said he was completely satisfied with results of the fair and pointed to the fact that the gates had to be closed at 1 p.m. on the final Saturday as more patrons than the grounds would hold sought admission.

Plans for next year include moving the horses to the opposite side of the area and building new stables. This will leave room for a vastly extended parking lot. Press radio-and television coverage was handled by veteran Boston publicist Floyd Bell. The Christian Science Monitor ran a five-column picture on page one of Children's Day as well as a three-column cut inside of the floral display.

HOUSTON.—The 1958 production of "Ice Capades" will open an eight-day engagement at the Sam Houston Coliseum on September 18. The 18th edition of the show will be sponsored again by the Houston Police. Performances will be given each night except Sunday, with three shows on Saturday, and two Sunday matinees.

227 RED STARS WINS FREE GATE AT ALTAMONT

ALTAMONT, N. C.—The Altamont Regional Fair, bearer of many labels can also add the title Supermarket Fair if it desires.

To be designed and constructed by Arland Engineering and Construction Company of New Hyde Park, N. Y., the course will feature a most around an island, Japanese-style bridges, waterfalls and a 12-foot-high fountain.

The new course, which will replace an old one, will be landscaped and located around a number of tall trees that will provide shade.

Upped Gate & Night Judging At Bath, N. Y.

BATH, N. Y.—Steuben County Fair upped its gate price from 75 cents to $3 this year, leaving parking at a quarter and running a second year on a split-a-week schedule.

A few animals in New York State have altered their dates in recent years because of the power of the State Fair in attracting livestock and other exhibitors. Bath coincided with Syracuse during Labor Day week, but advanced in 1957 to a Wednesday opening, ending on Labor Day to retain the big holiday weekend.

J. Victor Faust, fair secretary, said the plan has worked out well and bolstered the agricultural end. Following the opening days, those exhibitors who so desire can be released for the jump to Syracuse.

Fair opened Wednesday (27) but it was too early to learn whether there was any resistance to the upped admission. Attendance of 3,900, typically weak for opening day, was about 1,000 behind last year.

An experiment is being made with night cattle judging, splitting the judging program in an attempt to attract more non-farm competitors. Fair has a varied Ward Beam grandstand program with an ice show the two days, the Hendricks wild animal show on Friday (29), big revue Saturday and Sunday, and Black Diamond Rodeo on Labor Day. Harness racing was set for Wednesday thru Friday afternoons, Minnie Pearl hillbilly show Sunday afternoon, and Jack Kochman thrill show Saturday matinee.

Fair attendance usually runs between 40,000 and 65,000, with the record having been set at the close of World War II. Recent years have seen the event struggle thru polio scares and strike outbreaks in the area, Faust noted. This year's employment situation did not pose a hazard to the fair.

WOM Take Booms As Ottawa Goes To Full First Day

Ideal Weather and Longer Run Stretch Gross for First Days

OTTAWA — The traditional bonanza week in Ottawa shaped up just as that for the World of Mirth Shows, which had been pointing to the spot throughout the first half of the season. Following a rough wind-up at Valley Field, Que., the outfit took plenty of time making ready on the Central Canadian Exhibition Grounds.

For the early days of the fair the gate was up and so was the midway gross. Fair went to an evening Friday opening last year, and stretched it to a full Friday (22) this time, boosting the gate by 30,000-plus patrons.

This is the second year of a novel five-year midway contract and the show displayed the power and ingenuity which has made it a fixture here. Four light towers under construction until now, were installed. There were more than 40 rides and 15 shows in action plus the sparkling concession line-up presided over by Bernard (Bucky) Allen.

A feature this year was the newly located Kiddieland in a shady grove fitted out with picnic tables and park benches. Eighteen rides were in the section, plus live pony and donkey rides.

Business this year was spotty also several very good days boosted the show in May. Valley Field had the earmarks of a winner but closed in a windstorm which blew down the flares and Minitrel tops. Still dates were not outstanding, due in part to unbearable weather conditions.

Big Publicity Effort

The show goes all out for this week and its operation is a model of carnival public relations. Groups of plain are handed out to underprivileged children. A well-stocked house trailer is run photo-style by publicity flachinum. Con. Allen and Owner Frank Berger entertain both together and independently. It is open house all week for radio, TV, newspaper, fair and civic people, and the results of the all-stops-out campaign

Conklins Set Sights On 700G CNE Gross

TORONTO — The Conklin midway operations at the Canadian National Exhibition was heading for a record last week providing the weather held the last half of the run.

J.W. (Patty) and Frank Conklin had set their sights on $700,000 figure for a total gross, and business the first five days indicated there was a strong possibility of topping all past marks.

Despite rain on the first two days, fun zone takes were well ahead of '57. Friday (22) the midway was up 25 per cent. Saturday's gross was $53,000 compared with $51,000 last year; Monday (Kid Day) was up 20 per cent and 183,200 net receipts rode for a dime. From Tuesday thru Thursday, business was up from 7 to 12 per cent daily, according to Patty Conklin.

are evident in daily feature stories and picture spreads.

Two Roustabout rides were in the line-up, as were the major rides of Charlie Cooper and the show's multi-body German Carousel. Shows included Tizra's Wine-Bath Revue with comic Tobby Boots, the "Follies" revue featuring a local quartet, the Walter Waggon Side Show, Chambers' Monkey Speedway, Tortoise Show and Glass House, Flash White's Motordrome, McCarthy's Wild Life, Snake Show, Pit Show and Unborn. Some Berndt Ahren rides rounded out the collection, which included virtually every type of ride on the penthouse.

Following this date the show heads into fair of Lewiston, Me., Brockton, Mass. and southward.

Al Kunz Tops 1957 Grosses At Du Quoin

Business First Five Days Beats Record Figures

DU QUOIN, IL.—Good weather and large attendance at the Du Quoin State Fair here last week was working in favor of Milt Shows, which for the first five days of the nine-day run was up a couple of percentage points over '57. Al Kunz, owner-manager, said this compares favorably with last year, which was a peak year for the fun zone.

Show fielded a total of 24-rides and shows and had 60 concessions working. The Dodgem was leading the rides, with the Scrambler seconds and Nat Merrey's Follies Revue topped the back end.

Business in general has been ahead of last year, Kunz disclosed. Despite some signs of recession, his over-all gross is ahead of '57 and in his words, "we have more in store."

Royal American Snaps Back After Two Days of Rain

Overcomes Loss of Kid Day Receipts; Mitzi Leads Shows, Mouse Tops Rides

ST. PAUL — Royal American Shows and the Minnesota State Fair last week demonstrated their combined drawing power by overcoming two days that were practically rain-soaked and not only made up the losses but forged ahead of last year on the fun zone.

After an excellent preview night on Friday (22), the fair opened Saturday (23) only to have rain set in at noon and continue till 3 p.m.

Royal American's rides and shows grossed approximately $22,000 on the day compared with $29,000 last year. Then on Monday, rain again came down at noon to severely hurt kid's day, the day's gross being $30,000 against $41,500 on the 1957 kid's day.

Despite these two blows and aided by a big Sunday, Tuesday and Wednesday business, the show made up the losses and by the close of business on Wednesday was $32,000 ahead of a year ago.

Cini Sedlmayr, owner-manager, announced. Given good weather the remainder of the week and the Labor Day weekend, Sedlmayr expected to set another midway record here.

The Minnesota State Fair, long one of the best Side Show fairs in the business, switched this year. Alibio the Dick Best Side Show was racking up big grosses. It was second to the show-owned Mitzi unit which was drawing big crowds. Lynn Claxton's Harlem in Havasu City is in third spot with Bill Kemp's Midwayrama on its heels. The Wild Mights was doing strong business as was the Rock and big Roller Coaster and the Kiddieland was handling large crowds of midgets.

Twin City newspapers, radios and television stations were giving the midway, as well as the fair, strong publicity and coverage.

As usual, visitors were many. Included were Joe Monson, secretary-manager of the Louisiana State Fair, Shreveport; J. Ralph Peak, general manager of the Illinois State Fair; Jack Reynolds, manager of the Eastern States Exposition, Springfield, Mass.; Andy Hanson, manager of the All-Iowa Fair, Cedar Rapids; Tommy McLeod and Gordon Grant, Regina (Sask.) Exhibitions; Bill Singleton, Winnipeg Fair; Mr. and Mrs. Wilfred Walker and Mr. and Mrs. William Walker, Canadian Lakehead Exhibition, Fort William, Ont.

FIRST TIME IN

Gooding Tops Peak At Mo. State Fair

SEDALIA, Mo.—The Gooding Amusement Company, at the Missouri State Fair for the first time, set a new all-time ride and show gross record, topping last year's fun zone take by some $7,000. It was reported here last week.

The Wild Midgets in its first appearance here, added greatly in tipping the total figure. On the initial Sunday of the fair, it rode close to 7,000. Other rides that also helped were the Hurricane Flying Saucer, Turnpike, Tractor Ride and the four-almost Merry-Go-Round.

On the back-end were two off-free-owned units, a Rock and Roll show and a 24-people minstrel review, the latter managed by Charlie Hodges. Others included Purvis' gal-unit, Hodges' Side Show, Jack Hatcher's Motordrome, II, P.

Smith's Blimp, Hodges' bearded fat lady, Mark Williams' Nightmare Alley, Doc Hartwick's snakes and turtles, T. H. Brownell's pigmy horses, Zaccelli's dark ride, Harry Wilson's Glass House, Warren's Arcado and Fred Strunk's Collette unit.

CAMDEN, Tenn.—After a go-so-still date, reason, business for Page Bros. Shows has been on the up-beat since fair started, W. E. Page, manager, announced here last week. Show has three more weeks in Tennessee and eight in Alabama.

Page was guest of honor at a birthday party held recently in the girl show top. Guests included M. C. House, Phil Beckus, Eddie Connors and family, Mr. and Mrs. Stanley Johnson, Mr. and Mrs.

the contract, Hines said, Karsh refused to permit unloading of the show train in the Fort Wayne railroad yards. He said that pictures, imported by Karsh, described as instruments which he described as something resembling baseball bats.

Hines said that Karsh said he would prevent the show from moving out of Fort Wayne. Hines testified that Karsh wouldn't permit animals on the show train to be watered or fed. Hines also said that he demanded that Karsh ask the workers if they wanted him (Karsh) to represent them. Karsh refused, but a day or two later appeared before the employee.

Testifying on some of the questions asked by the employees of Karsh at that meeting, Hines said that one employee asked, "Can the show leave if we don't join?"

Karsh's answer to this, Hines reported, was, "I'm not gonna answer. You're not union members yet and you got no right to ask. The union isn't gonna give out its secret."

The show owners finally agreed to sign a contract, Hines said.

Gooding Testifies

Floyd E. Gooding, president of the Gooding Amusement Company and Columbus (O.) Zoo Park, followed with testimony that he was approached by Karsh a few days after the Fort Wayne occurrence. Gooding said that Karsh indicated he did not want to talk to the Gooding employees about organizing but only to Gooding. Gooding further testified that he agreed to a union agreement only after the Monroe, Mich., fair board had expressed that one of his units might otherwise be handicapped at the fair.

Gooding added that he did not sign a contract. His agreement was verbal. Gooding said he refused to sign unless the contract was first examined by his Columbus law firm of Son, John W. Bricker (R.O.). At this, Gooding said Karsh backed down.

Gooding said that he, not his employees, paid Karsh about $640 in advance dues. He also testified that soon after reading in The Billboard that the American Federation of Labor's National Council at its annual convention had issued an order revoking the Carnival Workers charter, he called his bank and asked the bank to stop payment on the check.

Inadvertently, the bank did make payment on the check, and Gooding testified he was repaid. But the bank, he added, is looking for Karsh for accepting money under false pretenses.

Lyman J. Powell of New York, secretary-treasurer of the Jewelry Workers, testified that his union had signed the charter in 1932 to Karsh upon Gibbons' recommendation. When the charter was revoked, his union, he testified, made no effort to recover the dues Karsh had collected.

Powell said he was unaware that Karsh had been "kicked out" of the AFL before the charter was issued.

Cites Jewelry Use

Questioned why the jewelers felt that they had jurisdiction over carnival workers, Powell said close to $100,000,000 worth of watches, clocks and pieces of costume jewelry were sold or given away as prizes each year at carnivals, most

Mr. and Mrs. Cliff Wilson, midway producers, were in the Midwest last week making an annual tour of fairs before setting up the fun zone at the Mid-South Fair, Memphis, where Cliff reports he will have 34 or more attractions. On the Wilson route were fairs at Milwaukee, Columbus, O., Toronto, Detroit, Indianapolis, Louisville, and Lima, O., Anna S. Youngblood, Funhouse op' and owner of the Village of Rosedale exhibit, was taken ill at the Ironwood, Mich., fair and hospitalized in Room 27 of the Grand View Hospital. Mrs. Youngblood reports he'll remain off the road for the balance of the season.

Dick Hiburn reports the following Side Show line-up on Amusements of America: Wyle Everidge, fire-eater, and pin cushion; Carl Newwood, frog boy; Gracie Kuhn, vanishing pigeons; Cy Gray, alligator skin; Nora Hillman, mentalist and electric; Ensie Lou Spradley, blade box; Norman Sharp, iron tongue; Bill Pitch, sword swallow; Mollie Sharp, belly; Eddie Wardenak, ticket seller; Rowland Collantra, outside talker, and Hiburn, less than half a man and tattoo artist. Show is sporting a new banner painted by Hiburn and Don Craven.

Billy Logsdon made a quick trip to his Louisville home following the Philadelphia, Miss., fair to pick up his Cadillac to tow his new Spartan trailer.

Joe Scirocco's show bus was in a crash en route to the Saginaw, Mich., fair and several personnel were hospitalized. The show opened okay at the fair, however, and will also be in Detroit for the Michigan State Fair, Sam Rogers reports. — Carl Anderson, owner-manager of Rainier Show, was guest of honor at a Saturday night (23) birthday party held in the bingo top. All the personnel enjoyed a huge cake with a Merry-Go-Round top.

Kids on the O. C. Buck Shows are heading home for the school session, including Skipper Beldock, Bobby Vick, Karin Feugh, the Fairies kids. Jimmy Quina, agent for the show, observed another birthday during the fair in Gouverneur, N.Y.

Joe Stevens, who recently suffered a broken leg, is in St. Elizabeth Hospital, Appleton, Wis., and would like to hear from friends. Charles and Clara James, of Johnny's United Shows, hosted friends at a steak and barbecue dinner while in Huntington, Tenn., recently, the occasion being a celebration of the recent purchase of a new car by the James. Guests included Marilyn and John Portemont, Kathleen and Jimmy Bush, Lucille and Jack Owen, Jim and Lloyd Kelley, Helen and Glenn Gathia, Peggy and Billy Shaeffer, Fay and Bill Brown, Mrs. John Brown, Van Alder, Charles Terry and Chester Brown.

Malone Okay For Buck— Elmira: Rain

BATH, N. Y. — Opening at the fair in Malone was big for the O. C. Buck Shows, and business held up during most of the week. Show carried 20 of its own rides plus four booked in, making a total of 24.

Fair opener in Plattsburgh was 15 per cent a head of last year, it is reported, followed by Utica, which was also okay as far as the show was concerned. Following the Steuben County Fair here comes the long haul south, beginning at the Reidsville (N. C.) Fair. Bath runs thru Labor Day.

The Clayton Campbells added several more attractions to their Wild-life. A new top has arrived for the Minstrel Show, managed by W. H. (Fathers) Williams. Tom Brady joined as electrician at the Chemung County Fair, Elmira. Fair was battered by weather throughout the week.

Olson Gross Up 20% at Iowa State

DES MOINES—Olson Shows went into the final week-end of the Iowa State Fair here Friday (23) with a sizable bulge in receipts over last year. Up to, and including Thursday (22), ride and show grosses were up a whopping 20 per cent, according to Paul Olson, manager and organizer.

Sunday (24) when over 70,000 people were on the fairgrounds here was termed by Olson as the biggest day for the show since he took over its helm some years ago. On that day the Velure Space Wheel rode a reported 4,500 riders.

On the back end this Silk Stockings revue was topping the bills, with the Space Girl Revue next and Miss LaFae's Western show in third place. The Kiddieland was getting big business and the Space Wheel was lopping the ride department.

Olson left here Tuesday (23) for a quickie trip to Louisville where he supervised the erection of a new Wild Mouse at the Kentucky State Fair, next stop on the show's route. He then flew back here Thursday.

Kelly-Miller Bounces Back to Big Business

LA GRANDE, Ore. — Al G. Kelly & Miller Bros. Circus last week bounced back to big business, giving extra shows and playing to straw houses and turnaways. The hot weather continued to trim some afternoon crowds.

Territory was fresh and show-hungry. Big wheat crop is in.

While business was good, the jumps were tough. Mountain driving burned engines and delayed trucks. Some afternoon shows were delayed.

Sunday (17) had a strawed afternoon at Milton-Freewater, Ore. Pendleton (18) gave a three-quarter afternoon and straw night. Walla-Walla (19) had three-quarter afternoons, and a turnaway night. In Dayton (20) the warm afternoon came up with a one-third house, and their night house was a capacity, according to show report. Collax, Wash. (21), was more of the same, with one-third in the afternoon and a capacity night.

Despite the heat, Moscow, Idaho, was in demand. Afternoon was full. Night was a straw and a second night show was half full.

Lewiston, Idaho, followed on Saturday (23) with capacity afternoon and straw night shows. Surprise was the big Sunday at Enterprise, Ore. (24). Population is about 1,200, but the show departed from its one-show Sunday rule and gave two performances to near-full houses.

Jump to Enterprise was 83 miles thru Snake River Canyon. Several trucks were delayed and equipment was still arriving on the last at 6 p.m. Townspeople heard of the difficulties in moving, and came out to the canyon to see elephants and the winch truck working to move show equipment. Marvin Dean, driving the winch truck, sustained a fractured arm when a cable broke.

Monday (25) at La Grande, after another tough move, had a capacity house in the first rain, the show has had since leaving Texas this spring. Night house was strayed, with an extra night show given to a good house, the show reported.

RINGLING WINS

Houses Range From
3,700 Up to 6,700
For 6 Performances

OMAHA, Neb. — Ringling Bros. and Barnum & Bailey grossed a reported $54,000 in six performances at Ak-Sar-Ben race track here Friday (22) thru Sunday (24).

This show said it was the best deal it had played on the current road tour with the exception of Atlanta.

Ak-Sar-Ben reported the show drew 29,016 people. The Friday houses counted as 3,784 and 5,446. On Saturday they had 4,377 in the afternoon and 4,932 at night. Sunday was the high mark, with 6,786 people in the 8,000 seats in the afternoon, and there were 4,389 more at night.

Ringling's Omaha date coincided with Clyde Beatty Circus appearing Sunday across the river at Council Bluffs.

Cristiani Plays To Good Crowds Despite Rain

SALISBURY, Md. — Cristiani Bros. Circus scored heavily here Monday (25) when 6,034 persons caught the two performances sponsored by the Jaycees during an all-day rain. Show paraded.

The circus and its personnel won plaudits of newspaper editor Oscar L. Morris for the entertainment performed.

In South Norfolk, Va., on Tuesday (26) the show had a light afternoon of something over 1,000 people, but at night it stepped up to a three-quarter house. This date was played on a muddy lot and with a storm threatening. Street parade was given again.

Schedule called for two shows on Monday and Friday, and three on Tuesday, Wednesday, Thursday and Saturday. Two additional afternoon shows were added to these in order to handle the crowds that came. In addition, the show was held over a day and a single Sunday show was given where none had been scheduled or advertised. Virtually all of the performances were to capacity and straw crowds, it was reported. Tickets were 25 and 75 cents.

Acts included Bob Atterbury, high wire and sway pole acts, the Duloy Family acts, Dolly Jacobi dogs and acrobats, John Cusco's horse and Paramount Bears.

ROGERS GROSSES 210G AT WISCONSIN STATE

Doubles All Previous Night $$;
Attendance Tops '57 by 35,000

MILWAUKEE — Roy Rogers, Dale Evans and Company made history at the Wisconsin State Fair last week by piling up a record night grandstand show gross that topped $210,000 in '57 performance.

This figure was more than double any other night operation on the records of the 108-year-old fair, Willard "Bill" Masterson, manager, pointed out.

Not including the Wednesday night, (20) performances, which was pelted by a heavy downpour, the show grossed $198,365.73. On Wednesday night the stand held 13,035 people, who paid $25,220.80. Of this amount, 50 per cent will be refunded. Therefore, an additional $12,000 can be added to the gross. Masterson said.

The Rogers aggregation left here after Sunday night's show with a check for $110,789.84 while the fair's share was $70,338.42. The money remaining from Wednesday's show will be added to this on a 70-30 split, the bigger portion going to the Western star. In all the show was seen by 112,900 paid admissions plus 15,054 on Wednesday night.

Rogers was in on a $40,000 guarantee, after which the fair received the next $40,000. After the first $80,000, Rogers received 70 per cent and the fair 30 per cent.

ALTAMONT, N. Y. — A whopping attendance total of 92,094 persons, just a shade over last year's 91,192, turned out for the August 18-23 Altamont Regional Fair, known also this year as the Sunflower Fair. The target of 100,000 was missed due to rains which fell early Thursday night (21).

Satisfaction was derived on Friday, however, as an all-time single-day record of 30,574 admissions was set.

door show business has ever known demonstrated this Sunday night in the final performance. The temperature was in the 80's, yet 8,119 bundled-up patrons showed up to see the performance.

Attendance thru the fair's 73-cent gates surpassed last year. Masterson reported a total of 763,894, some 33,000 ahead of last year.

Total revenue from afternoon grandstand attractions was $184,509. The opening Saturday sports car races clocked 4:18; Sunday (17) USAC 150-mile stock car races were viewed by 19,419; harness racing on Monday and Tuesday drew 1,168 and 1,442 respectively. 200-mile stock car races on Thursday pulled 13,450; Friday's motorcycle races, 2,531; USAC midget 100-miler on Saturday, 7,734, and Sunday's USAC championship 200-mile speedway car event, 23,178, an increase of 1,500 over the same race last year. On Wednesday afternoon the stand was fresh with Dairy Day coronation and free harness races on the bill.

Livestock entries were noticeably up in all departments—horses, dairy and beef cattle, fur (rabbits and mink), and especially in the poultry department where there was a 20 per cent gain. The art show and crafts show were bigger. The photograph show drew thousands of entries.

Visitors included Douglas K. Baldwin, Minnesota State Fair; Lloyd Cunningham, Iowa State Fair, and Jack Reynolds, former manager here, now manager of the Eastern States Exposition Springfield, Mass. Rogers will also play the latter event.

Buttons, Winchell Top Heavy Bill on Allentown's Stage

Mack Amateur Hour, Jonathan Winters Included; Grandstand Extended 440 Ft.

ALLENTOWN, Pa. — The heavy list of name attractions projected for the Allentown Fair became reality last week with signings of contracts with Red Buttons, Paul Winchell, Ted Mack and Jonathan Winters. With the June Taylor Dancers and supporting acts, they will make up the night grandstand show headliners Tuesday thru Saturday.

Willard Alexander Agency, New York, is providing the shows. During the first two days of fair there will be a Barnes-Carruthers rodeo, starring Leo (Pancho) Carrillo, for both matinee and evening performances.

Alexander was awarded the contract three months ago and submitted the names mentioned as strong possibilities for the headline spots. (The Billboard, June 39). In addition to the June Taylor line, he is offering Al Fisher and Lou Marks, comedians; the Vikings with Betty Munro, vocal quartet; Wells and the Four Fays, acrobatic troupe, Symphony, dog act, and the Lacy Troupe, rolling globes. There will be acts from the night show during the harness race program which will be held Wednesday thru Friday afternoons, plus the Jerry Lipsett racing events.

Purses Total $3C

Horse race purses total $35,000 this season. Other prize money goes to speehey-type, big-car racing on Saturday afternoon. Fair dates are September 14-21.

Lehigh County Agricultural Society, which has been presenting the fair since 1852, will open this year's event with a religious service Sunday night when the Allentown Council of Churches will conduct vesper services in front of the 7,000-seat grandstand.

A 440-foot addition has been made to the grandstand building. The entire structure, stretching 835 feet, is now known as the Main Exhibit Building and will house hundreds of displays in conjunction with the modern Agricultural Hall built last year. Space for an expanded midway is made available by demolition of two old frame exhibit buildings on the Hill World of Mirth Shows regaled the contract this year.

By waiting until June to make its grandstand award, Allentown becomes the latest major date to make an announcement. Alexander's programs will feature Paul Winchell Wednesday, then Red Buttons, Ted Mack's Original Amateur Hour and Jonathan Winters on successive nights. Top price for reserved seats at the radio is $1.50; for harness racing and the talent programs, 92, and for Saturday auto races, 83.

EAST GREENWICH, R. I.—Rocky Hill Fair, faced with extinction this year when the Legislature failed to pass the annual fair appropriation, did itself proud last week, drawing some 50,000 persons in the six days ending Sunday (24).

Private donations managed to keep the event alive, following failure to get $11,000 in State money. Warren Moorehead, manager, reported being pleased with the results, especially with Governor Roberts' announcement that he will sponsor legislation designating the event as the State Fair. Monsour Lauds U.S. Brussels Exhibit SHREVEPORT, La.—Joseph T. Monsour, president of the International Association of Fairs and Expositions, and manager of Louisiana State Fair here, praised the United States exhibit at the Brussels World's Fair, altho he admitted his first impression was one of disappointment.

Monsour, who visited the fair in June, outlined his opinions in a letter to Horatio S. Cullinan, commissioner general of the U. S. Pavilion at the fair.

In the letter Monsour said:

"I arrived in Brussels on June 7 and visited the exposition daily until June 18. I entered the exposition grounds about two hours after landing at the airport in Brussels on June 7 and made my first visit to the American Building. I spent some two hours or possibly more in the building, after which I left there very disappointed. I then went to the Russian Pavilion because of its proximity and I was naturally overawed by the magnificence of the USSR display.

That evening, after returning to my hotel, I gave the matter of the U. S. exhibit considerable thought and it suddenly dawned on me that this was what I was looking at the exhibit thru the eyes of an American who was most familiar with all that was on display, and, as a result, I was not impressed by what I saw. The next day I again visited the American exhibit and tried to place myself and my thinking in the same light as those visitors who are not familiar with our way of life. My reactions were entirely different than those of my first visit.

Likes Delicate Touch

"I was impressed by the delicate manner in which we had portrayed the American Way of Life and the freedom of expression as exemplified by the very 'openness' and easy-going manner of our exhibit. I believe human reactions would be the same all over the world and I could not help but notice the expressions on the faces of visitors when gazing upon our home appliances for home living, our clothing as shown in the style show and the interest in the films showing American cities and industry.

"I noticed that there was particular attention paid to the home appliances and there was no doubt that the visitors were making mental comparisons between what was available to them from European production and what the average family in America could afford. In my opinion, the Russian exhibit was very good with the singular exception that it placed too much emphasis on the USSR's industrial production and, as a result, this exhibit was what we would term over-balanced or top-heavy. While Russia has obviously made great strides in its industrial capabilities as evidenced by its display, by the same token, it is unnecessary for America to make such a show and since American products are in use all over the world and are seen daily by people of all countries.

"This includes our automobiles, tractors, hauling equipment, earth moving equipment and all other industrial machinery. Since this is true, it seems impractical to me to take up the limited space available to us at the exposition to show products that are already commonplace in Europe as well as in this country. This equipment is seen on the streets of Europe and is in use in construction jobs whereas, in contrast, during my five remaining weeks in Europe, I did not see any Russian equipment in use.

Subtle Promotion

"Whether by design or accident, I am unable to say which, the American exhibit is quite subtle in its promotion of America, and I can add, quite effective. It has the quality of presentation that is seldom achieved in many such displays in that it was not over-exaggerated and in most cases completely in balance. Certainly there are portions of the exhibit that can be picked to pieces, but that can be done with any one of the exhibits of the 40 to 50 countries that are on parade in Brussels.

"Some phases of the American exhibit did not appeal to me, on the other hand it was quite evident that no single exhibit of any country had achieved the Utopian position of being perfect in its efforts to portray the country's resources or way of life.

"In making comparisons of our efforts with that of other countries—Russia excluded—ours appeared to me to be strikingly similar in presentation. The theme in most cases was different, but there was not a preponderance of heavy machinery, to take up large amounts of space as was the case in the Russian exhibit. The dreary aspects of the Russian exhibit were brought out by the solemn expressions so easily read on the faces of the visitors and the lack of interest manifested by the women spectators.

"All in all, I think the United States should be proud of its exhibit at the exposition and that all Americans can take pride in the knowledge that in this particular instance our efforts surpass those of the Russians. At least, that's the way I feel after a careful study of the situation.

At Middletown

MIDDLETOWN, N. Y. — Ben Strong, president of the Orange County Fair, has been chosen acting manager of the event. Strong was part of a three-man committee which ran the fair this year during the illness of the late Fred Germain, manager, who died during fair week.

Strong, of Canaan, was named at a meeting of the board of directors last week. His capacity was termed temporary until further action is taken on the managerial vacancy. Among the unfinished issues is reportedly the disposition of Germain's stock in the fair.

Among discussions at the meeting was one of cutting the event from nine days to seven. This proposal was not acted upon but received favorable comment by several directors, of which there were 13 at the meeting.

Richard W. Milburn was named chairman of a committee to set up a dinner for board members, department personnel, and members of the fair committee. It will be held in October.

by John L. Rego, State director of agricultural conservation.

Attendance fell behind the pace on Thursday (21) and, altho it rained Sunday (24), the gate still exceeded the Sunday of last year, which was a rainfall. Midway business was off this year, while Vendito's Barn Show was added this year with a license by the Town of East Greenwich with a 35 feet long-gate game and food concession on the grounds.

There has not been an official State Fair since the one in Kingston folded shortly after World War II.

The State's two pari-mutuel race tracks put together $4,500 for prize money. Cattle exhibits by farm and 4-H kids overflowed into a 400-foot tent erected for the final day's horse show. Ox pulling, horse pulling, commercial exhibits, and home products rounded out the fair, which also had acts booked thru the Al Martin Agency in Boston.

FAIRGROUNDS

SACRAMENTO — A 10-by-20-foot model of the new California State Fair, which will open in 1961 is a feature attraction at this year's State Fair and Exposition. The detailed model shows the 1,000-acre fair site, adjacent freeway systems, suburban and industrial areas and the American River, upon which the fair fronts.

people visited the fair, according to Gilbert A. Lease, president.

With two exceptions the fair had excellent weather throughout. The Friday (15) program of night harness racing was rained out and some rain fell on Thursday evening (12), but did no harm. Features of the fair this year included five nights and three weekends of harness racing with participants and $30,000 in prizes.

The Gooding Amusement Company set a new record on ride and show grosses during the week and, in contradiction to many fairs, concessions, both food and games, did well. In fact, Lease said, some game concessionaires reported they were well pleased and this was the best spot they played all season.

The Danny Fleeson Thrill Show drew a packed grandstand on Friday night (22) to top the attractions. Herb Shriner and a supporting show, in for a matinee and evening on Sunday (17), brought a total of about $300,000 to the stand.

Bamberg, S. C.,

BAMBERG, S. C. — According to Virgil Hicks, president of the Junior Chamber of Commerce here, the Bamberg County Agricultural Fair, sponsored in 1958 and 1957 by the Jaycees, probably will not be held this year. Hicks said the members of his organization feel that the financial responsibility is too great.

feet across, lined a half-mile approach from the Turnpike to the four-lane main entrance. The stretch was developed especially for the fair from Route 146 to the main gate, allowing parking within the gates but outside the show areas of the grounds.

The Coleman Bros. Shows racked up a greater gross than in 1957 and turned in its greatest week of the season. Dick Coleman picked up the tab for 500 underprivileged kids from Albany and Schenectady Wednesday (20), with all shows, rides and drinks free for the kiddies who wore special tags. Grandstand blues.

The free Al Martin grandstand show and well-promoted kids' days Thursday and Friday were credited with contributing heavily to the increase at the gate. Martin provided Guster's Sleepielace, pony and dog act; Lucy Troupe, rolling globes; Eryl and Everett, unicycles; Great Eugene, high-wire; a line of 10 Kay Corham girls; Paddy, Cliff as emcee and Karl Blanke, nine-piece band. Other grandstand features were Grange square dancing, Johnny Van's Harmony Rambo Boys, Stars of Tomorrow amateur talent shows supervised by Mrs. Foster Post, and Buddy Wagner's Chitlin' Thrill Show unit.

A 200-foot tent with macadam floor was the scene of slightly rock 'n' roll record hoofs, with area disk jockeys presiding. The tent was packed on three of the nights.

This was the first year for the Altamont Sunflower Fair to completely encircle its race track (no horse racing) and the fair opened 20 new stores in the back area. There are 64 acres in use, with expanded parking and plans for an enlarged show area and midway space. Two new buildings were erected, and President Dan C. Frederick, of Schenectady, wants to complete "Racetrack Park" with landscaping, lagoon and lighted fountain.

Set for Bowl Shows

DALLAS — The 1958 State Fair of Texas has signed a number of big-name entertainment personalities for its State Fair "Showers of Stars" during the exposition which runs October 4-19.

The series of shows include the Tennessee Ernie Ford Show October 5; Tito Guizar, October 6; Eydie Gorme and Steve Lawrence, October 9; television's "Sky King and Penny," October 10; songstress Laverne Baker and Buddy Johnson band, October 13; George Gobel, October 14, and the Red Foley Show, October 15.

All shows will be free except the Tennessee Ernie Ford Show and the 1958 Goring and Lawrence appearance, and all will be presented in the 75,500-capacity Cotton Bowl stadium except for the October 13 event, which will be on the Magnolia stage at the head of the midway.

An admission tab of $1.25 in advance and $1.75 the day of the show will be charged for the Ford show and the Gorme-Lawrence show.

Supporting acts for the Tennessee Ernie Ford show will include Molly Bee, Tippy and Cobain, featuring Mamie and Marita Viera, Bobby Winters, Johnny Matsoo, the Burk Twins and the Miriam Sage TV Lovelets.

The Tito Guizar appearance will be on the fair's Mexico Day.

The Gorme-Lawrence show will be co-sponsored by the fair and Dallas radio Station KLIF, which in previous years has sponsored similar shows at the fair. Starting Ely's Freshley and Pat Boone. The "Sky King and Penny," played by Kirby Grant and Gloria Stevens, of the popular Saturday morning children's TV show, will be presented on Elementary School Day.

The George Gobel appearance will be the attraction on East Texas Day, and will be backed by the Apache Polka from Tyler Junior College.

Some 50 groups of East Texas cities, fairs, festivals and organizations will be presented as guests of honor.

Supporting acts for the Red Foley show will include Dolce Cyp Brasfield, Chuck Powers, the Marksmen quartet, Suzi Arden, Billy Walker, Flash and Whistler.

ESCANABA, Mich. — The Upper Peninsula State Fair closed its 40-day run here Sunday (24) after a cold weather run that saw attendance about matching last year, grandstand receipts off 30 per cent and midway grosses dropping 35 by approximately $1,000. Attendance thru the free gate was estimated at 150,000.

Ray LaPorte, secretary-manager, said that the cold weather cut into night grandstand receipts particularly. On several evenings the temperature was in the 50's and several threats of rain also hurt.

Best grandstand crowds of the week turned out on the final day. Stock car races by a local promoter pulled a standing-room-only afternoon crowd and Danny Fleeson's Thrill Show, despite low temper-

Colorado State Gate Cut 15% by Rains

PUEBLO, Colo. — Rain on two days and threatening weather cut attendance at the six-day Colorado State Fair here which wound up its six-day run Sunday (24). Clyde Fugate, saying his first year as secretary-manager, reported total turnouts were approximately 15 per cent below last year's record of 275,000.

The opening performance of the GAC-Miland night grandstand show, featuring Nat King Cole, was delayed two hours by a downpour. The show, which was in for three nights, was well received, Fugate said. The Harry Knight Orchestra, with Guy Mitchell as the emcee here, was in for the final three afternoons and evenings and did well. The Sunday night show, however, was hit by a 20-minute downpour of rain which started 15 minutes before show time, and this discouraged many would-be patrons.

Only attraction not hurt by rain was the three afternoons of auto racing put on by Carl Malmich, local impresario, which yielded the fair a good cut. This was the first time in years that auto racing had been presented during fair week.

The Art B. Thomas Show, which last year grossed $50,000 here, did okay business but was slightly off from its 1957 all-time ride and show record.

Fugate disclosed that 90 per cent of the exhibit space was sold this year.

and Slim Wilson's Ozark Jubilee band.

As an added feature, the fair will present Meredith Wilson, composer of "The Music Man," which will be the fair's Music Hall attraction, as guest of honor during the big high school Music Festival October 7. Wilson will receive an award from the fair and will lead some 4,000 amateur instrumentalists and choristers in several numbers.

Wurlitzer Announces Stereo Unit for Its Present Models

Add Speaker Cabinet, New Pick-Up, Second Amp, New Pre-Amp; First Shipments This Week

NORTH TONAWANDA, N. Y. — The Wurlitzer Company this week became the first juke box manufacturer to take the plunge into stereophonic sound.

The company, Thursday 23, an-

Wurlitzer Names M. J. Ranalli to Export Sales Post

NORTH TONAWANDA, N. Y. — The Wurlitzer Company named Michael J. Ranalli to the post of assistant export sales manager. He will be headquartered at the firm's export offices here.

Ranalli, an electronic equipment and components specialist, was most recently national field sales manager for Westinghouse Electric Corporation. Previously he was connected with Allen B. DuMont and the Radio Corporation of America.

Schooled in physics and electronic engineering, he received a B.S.E.E. degree from the University of Pennsylvania.

Ranalli will reside with his wife and two children in Western New York.

Slate Fee Litigation For Mass. Supreme Court

BOSTON—The Music Operators' Association of Massachusetts received more good news this week on the cases pending against the City of Boston and the Commonwealth of Massachusetts on jukebox license fees.

Counsel Arthur Sherman reported that the cases will be heard before the October sitting of the Massachusetts Supreme Court. He pointed out that quick action on the part of attorneys for the MOAM resulted in the cases being advanced before their time. It was only two weeks ago that the way was cleared to bring the litigations before the Supreme bench.

Urgency

Normally cases entered at this time would be held off until the December sitting, but in this case, because of the urgency of the matter of whether or not fees for 1958 should be paid, it was considered important enough to make a plea to the chief justice.

The jurist was in Alaska and it was necessary to write explaining the matter of fees and also to stress the importance of the cases on the basis of the constitutional aspects of stereophonic units to be used with existing models in the Wurlitzer line. The unit consists of a companion cabinet housing a speaker system identical to that in Models 2200 and 2204, a ceramic stereo stylus pick-up, a dual amplifier and a double-purpose pre-amplifier which incorporates an automatic volume control.

First shipments of the unit to distributors are scheduled to begin this week. Company officials told The Billboard Friday (29) that no price had yet been set on the unit, but that it would be set sometime this week.

Stereo Potential

According to Wurlitzer officials, the unit was designed to enable operators to discover for themselves the potential of stereophonic sound for the juke box and to what extent they can use it to advantage.

"Since all the genuine stereo operators can determine the commercial usefulness of stereo without having to buy a new jukebox," a Wurlitzer spokesman noted.

A package of 10 RCA Victor stereo extended play records with two tunes to a side will be included with each unit. In addition, a record entitled "This is Stereo," which demonstrates the directionality of stereo, will be given to each operator buying a unit. Bob Bear, sales manager, said that RCA Victor also plans to have available for sale to operators a package of 25 stereo EPs by the end of September.

Installation

The unit is designed so that it can be installed or moved to another location with a minimum of installation work, according to Bear. The pre-amplifier is the unit mounted in the juke box on the bottom pan. It supplants the current pre-amp and provides sufficient output for the entire system.

WHAT ABOUT

'45' STEREO SINGLES, EP'S?

CHICAGO—With the introduction of a stereophonic juke box principle by Wurlitzer, the immediate question raised by the operating trade will be, "How about 45 r.p.m. singles on stereo?"

An exclusive page one story in the September 8 issue of The Billboard will detail record company plans for producing stereophonic 45 rpm. singles and extended play album music.

The amplifier in the juke box and the one in the companion cabinet each are 30 watts, with a total peak output of 40 watts.

Speaker System

The speaker system in the stereo unit is identical to that in the 2200 (10-selection) and 2204 (104-selection) models, each containing three 12-inch speakers, a four-inch tweeter and crossover networks. The three speakers in each juke box and the companion cabinet consist of a coaxial cone, (or whizzer to pick up higher ranges), a carillon cone (to pick up base

A SPECIAL ANALYSIS

What Does Stereo Mean To Juke Box Industry?

By NICK BIRD

CHICAGO—What does stereophonic sound mean to the juke box industry?

The sudden, but certainly not too surprising introduction this week by a music machine manufacturer of a stereophonic unit for its existing juke box line makes the question a timely one. However, it raises numerous questions on the subject of stereophonic sound and its many facets.

Certainly the subject is not a new one. Experiments have been conducted with multiple sound recordings since the turn of the century. And stereophonic sound has been available on tape for years.

Modern Version

But it wasn't until some 18 months ago, when the modern version of stereophonic sound on disks really gained impetus, that Western Electric, a subsidiary of Western Electric, developed what is known as the 45-45 system of binaural recording, now the standard method.

With the Western system, a separate sound channel is cut on each side of the groove. The stereo needle produces both channels. Each side of the groove is at a 45 degree angle from the vertical (hence the 45-45 title).

Chief thing to remember is that when before a single sound channel was recorded and played on the phonograph, the stereophonic principle records two separate sounds, each of which is played back off the phonograph. There are two amplifiers and two separate sets of speakers, an amplifier and a speaker system for each channel. There also has to be a special pick-up cartridge and needed. The cartridge must be able to pick up the two sound channels individually from the recording and transmit each channel to its respective amplifier and speaker system.

Phonographs or Disks

However, once the system was developed, the problem of distribution to the general public became a chicken and egg situation. Which would come first—the record players or the records?

Obviously the consumer wouldn't buy a stereo record without a player and vice versa. For the juke box industry, this was particularly significant, since the music operators' stock in trade are programming popular singles and EP album tunes, that are gaining public favor, and hence will be played on his phonographs.

Juke box manufacturers have experimented with the stereo phonograph for some time but, it didn't become a serious consideration for them until fairly recently. They were waiting for the stereo principle to be fully developed on the consumer level, and for stereo records and phonographs to become a popular item.

33 1/3 First

This development came faster than expected. Almost immediately, a handful of recording companies introduced 33 r.p.m. stereophonic disks, and recently, at the National Association of Musical Merchandisers (NAMM) convention in Chicago, almost every major phonograph manufacturer had stereophonic lines.

Now 45 r.p.m. singles are start-

Neb. Ops Re-Elect Full Slate

FREMONT, Neb.—The annual election of officers, with Ted Nichols retaining his post as president, highlighted a two-day meet held by the Music Guild of Nebraska here last week (23-24).

In addition to Nichols, the rest of the slate also remained unchanged, with Dick Taylor as vice-president; Howard Ellis, secretary-treasurer; Jerry Witt, Randall Thies and Hugo Frell, directors.

Besides the officer election, little operating business was discussed, with the tone of the meet being primarily social. Some 30 operators with their wives and guests attended.

The Cornhusker Invitational Club, a group within the general association, also held an election of officers, with the following being named: Ralph Reeves, Norfolk, president; Jerry Witt, Omaha, vice-president; Mrs. Warren Tusia, Omaha, secretary, and Howard Ellis, Omaha, treasurer.

Starting Saturday afternoon (23) with registration and a get-together mixer, the group held a board of directors meeting Saturday evening, a general meeting Sunday afternoon, and the traditional banquet, and door prize drawings Sunday evening. John North, a Norfolk rooferman with Randall Thies, also spoke at the general meeting on coin collecting as a hobby, with several members expressing interest in forming a coin collectors' club.

Next meeting of this group is slated for November 15 and 16 in Columbus.

Musical Sales Adds New Wing

BALTIMORE—Musical Sales Company, Seaburg distributor and large one-stop supplier here, recently completed the addition of a new wing to their sales building for expansion of the firm's record service.

The Musical Sales one-stop service, started in 1942, is now planning for expansion into a wider consumer line, as well as tape and component parts.

Finance Expert Terms Operators Good Risks

NEW YORK—Collections may be off, and profits may be down, but coin machine operators are still pretty good paper risks, according to Arthur F. Silbert, vice-president of the Standard Financial Corporation.

Standard, a financial house which specializes in discounting paper for the automatic music and vending industries, reports that the delinquency rate in the coin machine business is still much lower than it is in most other fields, and repossessions are negligible.

According to Silbert, vending machine paper outstanding is the highest ever with payments amazingly prompt, while music machine paper has slackened off somewhat. But music operators are still keeping up with their payments.

Silbert feels that the recession has spurred vending sales, as many persons are economizing by eating in restaurants, and using machines for snacks.

"On automatic phonographs, of course, the story is a bit different. The tavern business is off, and collections are down."

But, added Silbert, operators aren't going over their heads and are buying only what equipment they can pay for. While most operators are running behind last year in gross revenues, they are tightening their operations, and few operators will fall by the wayside during the recession.

Standard has always worked thru distributors and manufacturers, in discounting coin machine paper. But the company recently has launched a direct loan program for operators, loaning money for expansion purposes based on the value of equipment on location.

Silbert feels that this plan will enable operators to go thru with expansion programs even in today's money times, and, in the long run, will strengthen the coin machine business.

By CAMERON DEWEY

With most operators and distributors popping in and out of town on trips to the seashore and country, it's unusual to find one man in the industry sticking right to business. He is Jack Sager, who recently opened a new one-stop in town, One-Stop, Inc. Jack finds the task of business and the fact that he is interested in building up trade just too pressing to take any time off.

David J. Baker, of Melotone Vending Company, Arlington, and "president" of the Music Operators of Massachusetts, is waiting anxiously for some good word on the case against the city and State on the state lone license fee. Rosinets has been pretty good on cigarettes this summer, but muscles off.

CARBON OF HORATIO ALGER TALE

Ambition, Initiative, Hard Work Pay Off in Zaretsky Route Success

By AL SCHNEIDER

CINCINNATI — The so-called fibs besetting the juke box operating business are many, imagined than real in the opinion of Alex Zaretsky, co-owner with his brother, Mitchell, of Cincinnati's A&M Enterprises.

The Zaretskys base the belief on the story of their own brief careers in the coinmachine business, virtually a carbon copy of the best of the old Horatio Alger tales.

Their story underscores the importance of the tried-and-true formula that makes any business a success—ambition, initiative and plenty of hard work. The last named is especially important, says Alex, pointing out that the old working day for himself and brother is 10 to 12 hours.

Growth Pattern

That this formula has paid off handsomely may be seen in the growth pattern of A&M. Prior to 1952, the brothers operated two liquor sales (thieves own estate holdings) which are still under their control. These locations formed the core for their initial coin machine route which now has grown to more than 100 phonographs, about 125 amusement machines and a few cigarette vending units. These 120 locations are now used extensively as tryout spots for untested new phonograph records.

The small initial route was an immediate success, and in 1955 the Zaretskys purchased a route of 20 locations. Then began the 10-to-12-hour-day working schedules and a consistent playback of profits into route expansion. On this point Alex is most emphatic. "You can't make a route of 100 profits and expect it to grow," he says. "If operators expect big profits they must look to the future, plowing back profits above operating costs into more and more equipment. That has been the keystone in the growth of our route."

THE ZARETSKYS. Alex and Mitchell (right), who credit much of the success of A&M Enterprises' high devotion to the business, are shown here at keeping their firm bracketed among the leading coin machine operations in the Cincinnati area.

Top Programming

Just as important to a successful juke route operation as the aforementioned hard work formula is the problem of good record programming, and that is Alex's long suit.

Zaretsky declares that the selection of good records is one of the most difficult aspects of juke route operation because of "the many types of locations and categories of records, the many records and labels on the market, and because the operators hardened with so many, don't buy so little time to listen to the tunes with an analytical ear."

Therefore, he places much dependence for his record selection on a trade paper's music popularity charts and the word-of-mouth word spread around town.

Territorial Charts

The various record charts of one trade paper, Zaretsky says, are a real and important help for up-to-the-minute programming, particularly the Best Boys and Territories. The latter, he claims, often tip him off to good tunes that have not yet made an important impression on

Jose Riojas Creates Juke Box Dynasty South of the Rio Grande

MEXICO CITY — A modern juke box manufacturing plant, occupying 25,000 square feet in the heart of this teeming metropolis of 4,700,000, is currently turning out music machines at the rate of 1,200 a year.

The factory, known in the trade as "Little Tonawanda," produces 200 selection Wurlitzer machines under license from the American firm. The machines are identical with those made in the United States, except for the coin mechanism and simplified pre-selection mechanisms.

Casa Riojas, the firm which produces these machines, is adding a five-year extension to existing facilities. The extension, which will be completed late next month, will bring offices, showrooms and parts departments and will bring the total floor space to more than 40,000 square feet.

Jose Riojas

The story of Casa Riojas is the story of its founder, 61-year-old Jose Riojas, dean of the Mexican juke box industry.

Born in the State of Coahuila, Mexico, at an English-speaking town, his educated father, Riojas moved to Texas at the age of five, and at the age of 15 got a job as a bilingual piano salesman. While still in his teens, he returned to Mexico at 16 to serve in the Carrancista Army and was appointed purchasing agent for the army in Mexico City.

to notice the American juke boxes, and he felt that the Mexican would also appreciate these musical instruments.

He first imported some used 24-selection juke boxes and had little difficulty selling them. In 1939, the Wurlitzer Company named him distributor for the Mexico City area, and in 1947 the company named him exclusive Mexican distributor, Sales Get-Up.

Riojas then proceeded to build up a distributor sales organization the likes of which is unparalleled in the coin machine world. The duty on imported juke boxes is 100 per cent, and play goes for 10 cents, so there are only a handful of operators in the country.

Sales are made directly to locations, who consider the juke box essential to retain their patronage. Thus payments are spread out over 40-50 months. Casa Riojas has some 19 branch offices throughout Mexico—at Vera, Cruz, Monterrey, Guadalajara, Morelia, San Luis Potosí, Leon, Tampico, Hermosillo, Acapulco, Tijuana, Culiacan, Tolosa, Merida, Mazatlan, Tuxtla Gutiérrez and Chihuahua. These branches are responsible for sales in their area, for service, and for parts.

Service Contract

Each machine is sold with a year's service contract, and 100 servicemen handle the chore. Delivery is made with a fleet of 57 pick-up trucks, and one airplane—a Cesna, with full-time pilot—is explained that he doesn't like to take chances.

Hope and joy of the Riojas organization is the firm's new factory which is making Wurlitzers at the rate of 100 machines a month. The high duties on American imports convinced Riojas that he could make machines for less than it would cost to bring them in from the United States, and he set up his plant early this year, going into production this spring.

JOSE RIOJAS

Made in Mexico

The factory itself is almost completely self-sufficient. The tools and dies were made by Mexican craftsmen, and virtually every part in the machine is made on the premises.

Coin mechanisms, for 20 and 50 centavo prices, are made in the plant, as are the cabinets, change and play selection mechanisms, and just about everything that goes into the machine.

The factory employs 210 persons, with another 100 working on assembly for both machines made in the plant and units imported from the United States.

Cabinets are made in a wide variety of color-combinations to fit every type location.

Investment

According to Riojas, the total investment in physical equipment for his Mexico City plant is $3,750,000 in American money. Considering the relatively low cost of labor and materials in Mexico, the plant

A PANEL TRUCK, one of Jose Riojas' 57 pickup trucks are lined up in front of his Casa Riojas showroom in Mexico City.

He returned to Texas as a salesman for the San Antonio Music Company, but when the Mexican Revolution broke out in 1910, he crossed the border to join the army of his uncle, General Pablo Gonzales, a candidate for the Mexican presidency in 1920. When the revolution ended, Miguel Azaña, a major in the Mexican army,

Odd Jobs

During the next two decades, Riojas operated his own bank, bought and worked several gold and silver mines which he still owns, and served as assistant purchasing agent for the National Railways of Mexico.

Riojas had also built up a profitable import-export business, and this business took him to the United States on various occasions. During the late 1930's, he had occasion would cost substantially more in the United States.

Assisting Riojas in managing his vast enterprises are his two sons—Jesus, Jr., known in the trade as Pepe, and Federico (Quico to his friends).

Pepe, who is currently on Europe on a business trip, is assistant general manager for youth line sales and manufacturing; companion Quico is general sales manager. Pepe is a graduate of the National University of Mexico, and his wife the Wurlitzer Organ Service School. In North Tonawanda, N. Y., Federico studied at Jean de Dieuleveul College in Montreal and later was graduated from the National University of Mexico. Like their father, both boys speak fluent English.

Pipe Organ

In addition to representing Wurlitzer juke boxes and electric organs, Riojas is also Mexican representative for the Italian pipe organ firm of Tamburini. He is currently installing one of the largest pipe organs in the world—17,000 pipes—in Mexico City's huge municipal auditorium. The organ will be heard in public for the first time on November 15 when E. Power Biggs, American artist, gives a concert.

Riojas' plant is not confined exclusively for the manufacture of juke boxes. It also is a major producer of cabinets for the Mexican television set industry.

A visitor to the plant's fifth floor might get the impression that he is in a publishing firm rather than a manufacturer of juke boxes. Riojas publishes a bi-monthly record industry magazine, "Musica."

Notes, with a circulation of recording artists, cartoonists, jazz and record company advertising.

It is crisply edited by Sergio Barron, director of public relations. Barron also handles the various promotions and is in charge of the company's extensive advertising program in Mexican dailies, weeklies and radio stations.

Despite the heavy pressure of his business, Riojas finds time to take part in Mexico's civic life. Last month he was elected the first president of Mexico City's recently-organized Better Business Bureau, and he is also chairman of the Mexico City Rotary Club's better business committee.

Pepe, a graduate engineer, is vice-president of the nation's electrical and electronic engineering association.

The elder Riojas also belongs to the American Club, the Aeronautic Club and Centro Deportivo Chapultepec. He maintains homes here and in Acapulco.

'Quakers' Go With MOA 100

OAKLAND — The Eastern Pennsylvania Amusement Machine Association recently sent a check refunding 100 per cent of their membership in Music Operators of America, according to MOA president, George A. Miller.

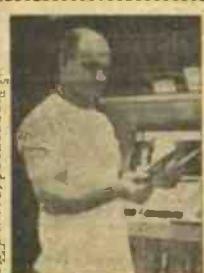

The check came in response to a membership drive being conducted by MOA to obtain full membership from operators in all State and local associations.

ON JULY 27 AT RANCH D'ARTISTA, Virginia Lopez, RCA artist, was awarded a trophy as Latin America's best female singer. Donor of the awards is Jose Riojas, Mexico's Wurlitzer distributor and manufacturer. The event is Latin America's equivalent of the Academy Awards in the pop music field.

Joe Malone of National Music and Radio Company, Somerville, Mass., comments on records he is putting on his route this week.

It would be pretty difficult to find a man in the music industry who brings more of the necessary background to the job of record buyer for National Music and Radio Company of Somerville, Mass., than Joe Malone. He likes variety and enjoys spreading his interests so works also as an insurance agent. This hasn't bothered Malone since he is a music buyer, but simply that he is mechanically inclined and he is sure that only on the route is the true reaction to the product—records—likely to be gauged. Malone deals mostly with teenagers, and 90 per cent of his sales are in that category. He likes to talk with them and try to create an interest in them for something other than rock 'n' roll. He's been quite interested in turning the kids' attention to the big band records. Joe, age 20, and the father of six youngsters, has been a musician for 12 years. A good deal of that time he had his own band. In his service days he played trumpet in the Air Force Band. But Joe found that keeping a big band in jobs isn't always easy and he figured it wasn't worth all the headaches. To him, the music industry looked like a career in that it was a good way to indulge not only in his hobby, music, but to be close to the thing he enjoys most. Outside of his kids, Malone doesn't do much that doesn't involve music. For relaxation, he builds hi-fi and stereophonic sound units. He's fortunate here, for he says his wife has a sound knowledge of music and the processes of hi-fi. He also feels he's lucky in his employees, Bob Sylvester and Charles Thomas, who discover record buying with him, too usually how to his satisfaction.

Patricia, Perez Prado (Victor)
"This struck me as being one of those unusual records that appears only once in a long time. Its big attraction for me is that it seems to have the widest appeal of any record in years. It appeals to all ages and it's what I call a happy medium record. It's my choice of the best record in the last three or four months."

Fever, Peggy Lee (Capitol)

"This is my choice of the week and probably for some weeks to come. I selected this record because of its simple, relaxing type of melody. I listened to it six times and felt that it was the type of tune that would stand up for a while. It seems to be doing just that. It's even gotten the kudos away from rock 'n' roll and I'm putting it out as fast as I can."

"Tune Talk" is a special feature for juke box operators. Each week, The Billboard interviews a different operator-record buyer to find out what records he is putting on his route that week, and why. Let us hear what you think about it, won't you?

90 MILES TO COMPETITOR

Colorado Op Herds 117 Units on 200-Mi. Range

HUGO, Colo.—The swiftly increasing population of the plains area of Eastern Colorado means that the phonograph and amusement machine operator must cover longer and longer distances each year in order to keep his volume up, according to George Foster, of Foster's Music Company, with headquarters in Hugo.

Foster, a veteran of various types of coin machine operations since 1937, is a practical example of the theory, inasmuch as he operates 117 pieces of equipment, spread over an area of several hundred square miles. While the longest run, from Hugo headquarters, to the most remote location, is over 90 miles, Foster has them spread out in a circle entirely around the Hugo headquarters, and, consequently, must travel long distances in every direction.

Some of his most remote areas include the small towns of Ki-

Carson and Joes, only a few miles from the Kansas border. "On the other hand," he operating in this area, "I have a minimum amount of competition," Foster indicated. "The only other music operator in the area, for example, is in Limon, Colo., around 90 miles away. Being free of the headaches of location buying, etc., means quite a bit to my peace of mind."

Programming, likewise, is quite a different situation out in the hinterlands, as he operates 117 pieces of equipment, spread over an area of several hundred square miles. While the longest run, from Hugo headquarters, to the most remote location, is over 90 miles, Foster has them spread out in a circle entirely around the Hugo headquarters, and, consequently, must travel long distances in every direction.

AVOID PRESENT CIGGIE LOCATIONS

Juke Box Ops in St. Louis Enter Cig Vending Slowly in New Stops

ST. LOUIS—Because of the recent swing of phonograph and games operators into cigarette vending as well, a relatively new serious problem in "location ethics" has made itself known here.

Seven large phonograph operating firms, all of whom likewise maintain large game routes as well have gone into cigarette vending since January of this year. Only one or two had any previous experience in vending and most of these had vended only confections or merchandise.

All of the phonograph operators who have made a decisively eligible of cigarette vendors are large firms, including one which operates 500 phonographs, and two in the 300-machine classification. All are old, well-established firms, whose wagon counts on plenty of good will and co-operation from location owners of long standing.

Delicate Situation

"That's the problem," one operator indicated. "Naturally, we would like to install a cigarette vendor wherever we have a phonograph and amusement machine and in most instances, the location owner would go along. Actually, however, there is already a cigarette machine in use at most of our spots; many of them in continuous operation along with our phonographs, for just about as many years. The cigarette operator, of course, isn't about to give up good locations simply because we have gone into cigarette vending and he rightfully feels that he has just as valid a claim on the location as we have. The result is usually a delicate situation."

In the case of St. Louis' biggest phonograph operation, chairman member of the local association, the Chamber of Commerce, and business building organizations in general—there has been absolutely no attempt whatever to "displace" any cigarette machine already on the same premises with a phonograph.

While location owners obviously would prefer to do all of their coin machine business with one firm, particularly where good will extends back for two decades or more (and even where some of them have actually suggested that the phonograph operator put in cigarette vendors), this big operator's attitude has been to look for new locations altogether.

"We average from six to 10 new some form of sparkling new novelty before it is worth the investment.

Foster spends five days a week out on his routes, during which time he puts in a lot of extra care on "preventative maintenance." With astronomically long distances to contend with, he cannot afford a single extra service call and, consequently, every machine gets a thorough check. Tubes are tested, and every operating mechanism carefully oiled, while changing records or collecting from an amusement machine. Plenty of careful inspections such as these mean more time spent on every call and it likewise means that Foster will not have to drive an unwelcome additional 180 miles to rectify an out-of-service situation.

Foster uses both a pick-up truck and a passenger car for his operations, the pick-up for delivery and transfer of heavy pieces of equipment, the passenger car for collecting, record changing and general servicing. In Denver buying additional equipment in late May, he admitted to the population drop which has occurred in his portion of the State, but, likewise confessed, "I am not the least bit discouraged."

locations every month, as owners with whom we have been doing business for years build new spots, as new restaurants, taverns, cocktail lounges, etc., are built out in the country-wards. So, as soon as we land a phonograph and amusement machine concession, we immediately go after the cigarette vending potential as well, knowing that brand-new machines and the convenience of having all types of machines serviced by a single collector, carries a lot of weight with the location owner. Naturally, this means that our cigarette vending operations are going to build up rather slowly, but we are willing to build on that basis rather than get into a chaotic with established cigarette vending firms."

Naturally, one of the tenets of this approach is that if and when the cigarette operator gives up the location, he suggests that the phonograph operator will take it over by agreement.

In another instance, a prominent phonograph operator is working up an "exchange plan" whereby he will take over the cigarette vending location which his phonograph location represents, but only after working out a plan whereby he offers the existing cigarette machine owner a spot in another location which has certain advantages. For example, if a cigarette operator has a location fairly remote from the rest of his routes, but in what the phonograph operator feels is a good spot, it is usually possible to "make room" for an exchange sale or location somewhere closer within the cigarette operator's sphere, and in that way, takes over the spot on a thoroughly amicable basis. There has been, in fact, a dozen such instances registered since the turn of the year, in which location exchange in this way has been mutually beneficial to both parties.

In some cases, there is also the practice of "doubling up," which occurs when the phonograph operator installs his cigarette machine alongside the phonograph, and thus creates a two-machine spot. This has not been done unless it was at the location owner's invitation, and not until the existing cigarette operator has been notified. In these cases, "doubling up" machines has not a minimum amount of return to both operators, of course.

"Established cigarette operators have viewed the sudden entry of so many new firms into cigarette vending with varying degrees of concern. One, on being contacted by The Billboard, admitted that he expected to lose upwards of 15 locations at some time in the future, where a phonograph operator now in cigarette vending as well had anticipated him by several years. Another had resigned himself to offering location owners a better commission, merely to retain this location. None were complaining of unfair tactics, however, on the part that phonograph operators turned cigarette operators. Some friction is bound to result, according to the consensus of the St. Louis industry, but, as a whole, the cigarette operator versus phonograph operator situation has been a healthy one to date.

New 50-Cent Play Booster For Jukes

CHICAGO—A new 50-cent play booster for juke boxes is being marketed by Coven Music Corporation, Wurlitzer distributor here.

The unit consists of a small electric tote board, with numbers from 7 to 16. When the customer deposits a half-dollar, a light travels behind the screen, finally stopping at one number, which is then the number of plays the customer gets for his half-dollar.

Priced at $150.

The tote board is coupled with an electronic computing mechanism, which is housed in the body of the phonograph. The entire mechanism is priced to sell for $150.

The visible tote board is mounted on the title strip rack of the juke box. It measures 12 by 3 by 1½ inches. It is constructed of stainless steel and has red plastic windows for a series of 10 numbers, which appear in successive order, starting 7, 8, 9, 10, 11, 12, 13, 14, 15, 16.

The electronic mechanism is preset and sealed, so the customer plays average out to eight for 50-cents. The unit is being manufactured by a private concern, with Coven having exclusive distributorship rights.

THE BILLBOARD WEEKLY

Coin Machine Price Index

How to Use the Index

HIGHS AND LOWS Equipment and prices listed below are taken from advertisements in The Billboard for the period shown. Listings are based on the highest and lowest prices on all equipment which have been advertised either at least 10 times for the period shown or at least 3 times together with a computation based on annual average.

(For 10-week period ending with issue of August 25, 1958)

PRICES given in the index are in no way intended to be "standard," "national," "etc." or offer an authoritative reflection of what prices should be paid for used equipment. Prices in the index are designed, however, to be a handy guide for price ranges. Any price obviously depends on the condition of the equipment, age, time on location, the territory and other related factors.

MEAN AVERAGE. The mean average is a computation based on all prices of which a machine has been advertised for the period indicated and reflects the dominant advertised price level. It is not a simple average between the "high" and "low." High and low indicate price range; mean average indicates the price level at which most of the machines are advertised for. Therefore, when the mean average is near the "high," it indicates the "low" is a unique price probably for "as is" or "distressed" equipment.

Report Italy Moves Against Pin Trade

CHICAGO—Reports from international trade circles here indicate that the Italian government has taken action against the pin-ball trade in that country.

Since Italy has been the fastest growing market for five-ball pin games, and consistently one of the leading export markets for these games, the reports have caused alarm to the many firms dealing in coin machine exports to the U. S.

Details on the anti-pin action were not clear at press time Thursday (August 25), but seem to indicate a definite cruster of pins in that country. There is a probability that the governmental action may be temporary, however.

Varying reports indicate that either pins, have been banned at the operational level within the country, or that pins have been removed from the list of approved imports of the country. Either way, the U. S.-to-Italy traffic in pins would cease for all practical purposes.

Already Imports

In the last U. S. Department of Commerce report on coin machine exports (for May), Italy showed 38 U. S. games imported at a value of $26,762. In April, it took 483 games valued at $14,277, and in March, Italy took 483 games valued at $12,737.

According to one trade source here, the anti-pin action was reported likely taking the form of a ministerial decree which, while banning pinball operations, would

Bally Ships Beach Time, In-Line Pin

CHICAGO—Beach Time, an inline pin game incorporating the new "stop and shop" play feature, was shipped to distributors last week by Bally Manufacturing Company.

The "stop and shop" score booster feature permits player to stop shooting balls after game has begun and "shop" for higher scores by playing extra ones.

When the score fails to advance to player's satisfaction, he shoots remaining balls.

After shooting two balls, player may try to advance scores between third, fourth or fifth ball in shot, depending on panel lighted.

The game includes four "magic squares" and two "magic lines" designed to give players maximum juggling flexibility for in-line scoring.

Beach Time also has the Bally-hole feature, which guarantees player all four "magic squares" and two "magic lines" on the first coin played in next game. Other features are extra balls, extra time, corner scores and triple-deck advancing scores. Game is regular size.

LOTS OF SPARK, FLASH & SMOKE IN 1958 GAMES

CHICAGO—Just when things seemed to be getting "down to earth" once again in the coin game manufacturing business, United Manufacturing Company announced production of two new games—Atlas Shuffle Alley, and Jupiter, an in-line pack game.

These two games now bring the number of models featuring the "outer space" theme to 10. One out of every six games introduced thus far this year bear some kind of "outer-space" nomenclature.

Besides Atlas and Jupiter, there is Rocket, Shuffle (Chicago Coin Space Age (Cent); Shooting Star (United); Space Gunner (Bally); Rocket Ship (Gottlieb); Shuffles Explorer (Chicago Coin), and two Satellites (National Shuffleboard, and Williams).

JUST NOT BITING

Forman Blames Fish For Financial Fiasco

ALBANY, N. Y.—A dozen operators who've collections were down this summer and Bally probably get a dozen different reasons, mostly dealing with local and national economics.

However, Gabe Forman of the Suffolk-Nassau Amusement Company, has his own theory—and it has nothing to do with business cycles. Forman is convinced that the principal reason collections were 25 per cent behind last year on a summer locations is because of the fish.

Suffolk-Nassau, a giant Long Island operating company with about 100 pin houses and nearly 800 games on location, operates 50 summer spots on the Long Island coastline. These locations, open between Decoration Day and early September, cater mainly to the beachcombers in the Long Island area, particularly in the aircraft industry.

After Labor Day, Suffolk-Nassau takes the pieces on summer locations and places them on year-round spots, upgrading equipment in the process. Displaced pieces go to the company's jobbing operation, or they are exported to Europe or South America.

Forman said that the company still has about 35 or 40 75% off locations, but that these will be replaced with 45 or 50 within the next few weeks.

Great South Bay, and in the Adirondacks. But this year the fish just weren't biting. As a result, sports fishermen, after a few day runs, decided to call it quits for the season. Hence, many taverns and restaurants which cater largely to the fishing trade experienced an unusually poor summer.

Of course, Forman admits that the poor fishing wasn't the only reason for the decline in collections. He cited the heavy spring and early summer rains which kept the city dwellers away from the beaches, and he also pointed to the unemployment in the Long Island area, particularly in the aircraft industry.

Ready to Test Ruling

EUGENE, ORE.—Attorney General Robert Thornton said that a test case to determine legality of pinballs in Oregon is ready for trial in Tillamook County.

The attorney general's office has been pushing for a determination of the legality of free-play pinballs in the State.

The test case, according to Thornton, had been delayed because defendants filed motions for a new judge. The defendants are Tillamook and Clatsop County operators.

The question of pinball legality arose in Oregon when Lane County District Attorney Eugene Venn ordered them out of the county on the grounds that free-play machines are gambling devices. Venn demanded that the attorney general rule on the question, which he did, reaffirming a predecision ruling that such games are illegal in the State.

WATER ROUTE

Arcade on Ship Top $ Attraction

DETROIT—A floating Arcade that crosses Lake Erie twice a day is proving a desirable source of business for Michigan Midget Novelty, diversified coin machine operators of Detroit. The S. S. Aquarama, largest passenger ship in the world on fresh water, makes a daily round trip between Detroit and Cleveland under the direction of Capt. Morgan Howell. It is operated by the Michigan-Ohio Navigation Company, with J. Leo Barro as president, and Col. W. C. Proctor, general manager.

Forward at the extreme bow on the fourth of nine decks is the Carnival Room, a miniature Arcade combined with a gift shop. Here 13 machines are arranged in what crowded quarters formed by the graceful flare of the ship's lines at the bow. This is about the maximum number of games that can be accommodated in the space available. The Carnival Room is reached by a separate forward companionway (stairway to land-holders) leading off from the main dining room, and is normally open from about 10:30 a.m. to 10 p.m., about half an hour after leaving port until just before arrival back at the same port in the evening. The ship sails three days a week from Detroit and four from Cleveland this season, receiving the schedule used last year.

Good Game Selection

The most popular games, in order, are Drive-Mobile, the only air-driven ride, Grand-Cam-Chub, All Star and Big League, all operated at a dime. Seven games in all are operated at a dime, with four at a nickel, Bally Bull's-Eye, especially popular with the small fry. Bally's-Popcorn, a small pin game; Skill Rod, and Stage Coach, another pin game.

This floating Arcade appeals to all ages, with a good percentage of women and many small children. Arcade type games are rarities in Detroit under general regulations, and the games offer a welcome novelty to visitors from this city, with the opportunity to make a long round trip of about 250 miles.

Youngsters really go for the games, repeated visits amply demonstrate.

The Arcade and gift shop are under the direct charge of Ellen Fogard, of North Eaton, a suburb of Cleveland, who bakes making change in addition to her gift shop duties, and dealing with the games customers. She is the one who does a good public relations job on the spot when a customer complains that a game is out of order. This is a typically perplexing job with the small fry, and here her winning smile and personal help to solve the problems raised by small children. The real little ones are not so much a source of difficulty but the say, "When they get to be about 12, they get to

III. Taverns, $250 Pin Tax Don't Mix

SPRINGFIELD, ILL.—Taverns in Illinois were warned last week that purchase or possession of federal gambling tax stamps will be grounds for loss of liquor license. Warning came from the State Liquor Control Commission.

Tavern owners who have such stamps, including $250 stamps required by federal law on pay-off pinballs, were given 30 days to get rid of them. After September 23 tavern owners holding such stamps will be ordered before the commission to show cause why their State licenses should not be revoked.

Some tavern owners are turning over their $250 stamp to the state's Springfield office, as recommended by the commissioners. No receipts are given for turning in the stamp.

Commission Chairman Loren B. Sackett said that special efforts should be directed against places operating pay-off pinball or slot machines.

ROUTE-BUILDING ADVICE

Start Short Bowler, Then Place Long Alley

ST. LOUIS—While there are drawbacks to 10-foot bowlers, they prove valuable in paving the way to later 15-foot bowler installations, according to Sydney Morris, Jr. S. Morris & Son, long-time game operators in this area.

"Bowlers have been one of the most consistently profitable types of games for everyone concerned over the past 20 years," said Morris. "There is a tough sales problem involved, however, in that the average tavern owner thrown up his hands in horror when he sees a 10-foot machine and begins mentally calculating how many square feet it will take up in his establishment."

"We find, however, that most bar owners who create space for a bowler of any sort are so pleased with the results that they will often make space for a 10-footer even if it means removing or shuffling around some of the fixtures for the location.

"But there are always prospects who must go thru the process of convincing themselves that the bowler will pay before they take it on location. It doesn't do much good to bring in testimonials from other tavern owners. They must simply decide for themselves that the bowler will show the sort of revenue which we predict."

Fine Sample Piece

It's here that the 10-foot bowler shines, according to Morris. With its comparatively small size, it is much easier to use to convince the tavern owner that it has good possibilities. Usually a minimum amount of adjustment at the location is needed to install the machine. Then, within a few weeks, the tavern owner is ready for a 10-footer, even if he must give up some of the fixtures for the location.

The test case, according to Thornton, had been delayed because defendants filed motions for a new judge. The defendants are Tillamook and Clatsop County operators.

The question of pinball legality arose in Oregon when Lane County District Attorney Eugene Venn ordered them out of the county on the grounds that free-play machines are gambling devices. Venn demanded that the attorney general rule on the question, which he did, reaffirming a predecision ruling that such games are illegal in the State.

United Producing Pair Of New Shuffle Games

CHICAGO—United Manufacturing is a unique type of pinball machine. It has a regular-sized but topped with half a ball. The ball section of the pinball actually hits the bowling pins on contact, the first time a shuffle pack design.

Jupiter, the other new United product, is a pack game with in-line scores and bouncing-ball feature of Shooting Star, its predecessor. High-scores are featured.

Two models of each game are available. Atlas comes in regular or de-base match-play, Jupiter in regular or replay.

The 15-foot long Atlas Shuffle Alley has regulation scoring for up to six players. Its "new-idea" feature is a single-player with scoring in the high millions. Player attempts to line up bouncing rubber balls in score areas for in-line points. It shoots shuffle pins to realign balls in individual lines for better scores. The game has a light option feature which gives free plays for lighting up all letters of the name, Jupiter. Four entries also score as well as in-lines.

N. Y. Assn. Asks to Bar Sullivan County Tax

MONTICELLO, N.Y.—Effective and prompt action by the New York State Coin Machine Association may have prevented an additional tax burden for coin-machine operators in Sullivan County, and possibly throughout New York State.

The County Board of Supervisors met here last week to consider a countywide tax of assessment machines, with a $25 limit on machines. No county in the State has such a tax, with virtually all levies on coin machines assessed by the various municipalities.

Sullivan County is pinched somewhat financially, and the supervisors are loath to increase real estate taxes. The State has granted Sullivan County permission to raise revenues from eight new sources—among them coin machines.

Delay Action

When the supervisors met last week to consider the coin machine industry as a revenue source, Stretch Hanoff, NYSCMA public relations director, and Mrs. Amelia McCarthy, NYSCMA treasurer, succeeded in preventing the group from rushing into any rash action.

Following a speaker who was opposed to any additional real estate taxes and who demanded a tax on coin machines, Hanoff told the supervisors that coin operators had to work hard for their livelihood, often employing members of their families to make ends meet. Hanoff and Mrs. McCarthy then discussed coin machine economics, emphasizing the high cost of equipment and the relatively low margin of profit.

The result was that the operators were asked to send a representative to the committee which is meeting with the supervisors to explore more equitable forms of taxation. Mrs. McCarthy was named.

The other six committee members represent Crotoner's and the Concord (two resort hotel) two officials of the Board of Realtors and two lawyers.

Advice on Route-Building

vorne valuable seating space to put it in.

"We can, of course, tell the location owner of the numerous drawbacks of the shorter 11-foot machine," Sidney Morris says. "But it is just as well to let him find out for himself. One of the drawbacks is that the short, alley too forcefully. A lot of 11-footers are simply strength-testers in the player's mind, and they thus require repairs and reinforcement. The 16-foot machine, on the other hand, with its additional requirement for accuracy, is less likely to be abused in this way."

Morris keeps a few 11-footers on hand primarily to serve as "space-openers" in this way. He has little intent of leaving the machine on a promotional nature could be.

location when it is installed. He uses those games mainly to sell the location owner on the value of bowlers in general in pleasing customers.

Bowler play has been tremendously stimulated in the St. Louis area—particularly during the winter—with organized tournament play. Numerous taverns on the Morris gator and juke box routes have set up leagues with cash prizes, equipped in by drama, sponsors and management, which are probably as effective a loyalty and return-traffic-builder as anything of a promotional nature could be.

Wurlitzer Reports Stereo Unit

ranges) and a standard cone (or all-purpose speaker) for middle ranges. Each of these three speakers, and the tweeter, covers a specific range, each overlapping with the other. The crossover network is a complex electrical device insuring even feed between them. The stereo unit can also be used with the 2250, but the speaker system in this lower-priced 200-selection model does not have either the tweeter or the crossover network. It would therefore mean that the highest ranges on a stereo system using this model would not be affected as well thru one channel.

The automatic volume control regulates both speaker systems to insure equal volume.

The companion cabinet measures 33½ inches high, is narrower than the juke box models, and bears a close family resemblance to them. It looks like a smaller version of the present juke box line with the top half, including the control panel, cut off.

Cabinet Placement

Wurlitzer advises operators to place the companion cabinet 12 to 20 feet away from the juke box, depending on the location. If it is placed more than 12 feet away, both the juke box and cabinet should be angled in. Experimenting for best results is undoubtedly advisable since there is disagreement on how much "separation" (which emphasizes the directionality of the sound source) there should be, and how much, instead, the two sound sources should meet and form a "wall of sound," for optimum effect. The size, shape and acoustical properties of a room will have much to do with placement in achieving the optimum effect, Bear indicated.

Stereo Styling

The new pick-up-stereo stylus, cartridge and tone arm replaces the present monaural pick-up. The new pick-up will play both stereo and monaural records, but Wurlitzer cautions operators not to play stereo records without the stereo pickup. (See separate story in this section).

The pick-up is equipped with two sapphire stylus, one in playing position, the other held in position in the tone arm. A small lever on the tone arm is turned for switching positions. Pressure of the firm's existing tone arm is much lighter than for home systems (five grams or under).

The same turntable as is now used in the firm's new models will be used with the stereo system, since it can be adjusted in two directions to permit optimum playing of the more complex tracking of stereo disks, according to the firm.

Speaker Compatibility

system with any models other than their new ones, since speaker and amplifier components are different from them and identical speaker systems are needed for the best stereo effect.

In a juke box location, having two rooms (as a bar and dining room), two matching speakers can be hooked up in one room, each carrying one channel, to afford stereophonic sound to that room as well as in the room with the juke box and companion cabinet.

Announcement Withheld

Bear said that their announcement of this stereo system was considered at the time of the Music Operators of America show last May, but they dropped the idea of introducing it then because there were no commercially acceptable 45's available for use on the instrument. "We decided to hold up the announcement until the record companies had produced enough of these records to program at least a section of our 200-selection phonographs," he said.

Dual pricing is possible on the stereo system, accepting coins of all denominations, including half dollar. Plays can be selected with any combination of coins. Thus, said Bear, an operator can use a basic charge for each stereo or EP record of 15 cents and charge a dime for each monaural single.

"We feel that stereo music offers the operator an important new sales tool. It is music of greater range than we have enjoyed from the regular monaural high fidelity records and should encourage increased play in the locations where it is installed," said Bear.

Vacations are all cleaned up at Trimount Automatic Sales Corporation. Marshall Carns reports business booming in a new cigarette machine and music is far ahead of the same time last year. Business is good enough to keep Dave J. Bond and Irwin Margold from getting in as much golf as they'd like.

Louis Blatt, Atlas Distributor, finding the fish more elusive as the summer progresses, but he says it's fun anyhow. Brother Barney still confined to his home with a heart condition. Vacations still going on at Atlas with secretary Eleanor Hill and serviceman Albert Howard off enjoying the sun and sea.

Things are still flying high at Associated Amusements, Inc., where Edward Ravreby keeps dashing between Cape Cod, Boston and New York on business and pleasure. General manager Richard Mandell is visiting operators the fast way-by air. Dick flew his plane to New Haven and Williamsburg last week and was back within the day. Secretary Pat Sullivan has gone to Connecticut on vacation, and serviceman Ray Davis and Fred Richards are relaxing on Cape Cod.

At Reel Distributors, Silas Reel and sales manager, Bob Jones are back refreshed after a fine holiday, mostly on Cape Cod. Salesman Al Levine, who was keeping shop, and serviceman Earl Schultz are now taking their turns. Ruth Moose, of the Reel staff, has just gotten married to Carlton Conner and will spend some time on a honeymoon.

St. Louis

By JOHN J. HICKS

ST. LOUIS — An increase in business this month was reported by Bill Axelrod, sales manager of Morris Novelty Company. Operators are preparing for a good fall season, Axelrod stated. "They need a good season after this summer's lull," he said. Tony Karpal of Central Distributors, who just returned from vacationing, said selling had been somewhat lighter recently but it was hard to gauge just how much. Also on vacation with Karpal, who remained in the city, was Bill Holmes, chief mechanic for the company. The end of their vacation marked the beginning of vacations for Eddie Greenleaf, Nelson Ernst and Dick Hoen, all routemans.

Denver

By BOB LATIMER

A highly satisfactory turnout of 23 operators and mechanics attended the service school which was held on United equipment by Mountain Distributors here in mid-August. On hand to conduct the instruction and seminars was Al Theobald, United Manufacturing Company service representative. Theobald telephoned several operators who had written letters of application after arriving in Denver, and in many instances, operators and mechanics attended their machine.

Jay Shannon, owner of Jay's Showplace Vending Company, has announced his appointment as representative for Denver Vending Company, and Joe Beverage Bar. Shannon operates 300 bulk vending machines in the Denver area. ... Keeping up the nut for special events which draw heavy traffic to Jim Jackson's, and rushing in extra machines to capitalize on them, is a continuous policy with Bill Storey, Denver phonograph operator.

For example, a Phillips 66 service station in downtown Denver put a special on gas and oil prices to attract traffic, and hired four comedy models, or poker dealers, wearing brief shorts and bright orange frilly blouses. Storey installed three additional vending machines, put the amusement machines out in the open around the service station, and an extra cigarette vendor. As the station was packed with curious visitors, he

Ops Lose Dozen Games in $100,000 Skating Rink Fire

DENVER — A dozen expensive amusement machines, including a bowler, several pinball games, hockey games, and other units were destroyed during the $100,000 fire which razed the new Roller City roller skating rink here on August 18.

All of the amusement machines were located in a lounge to the left of the roller skate-hair counter which was most severely damaged by the fire. The rink, which had opened last January, burned fiercely because plastic flooring used in place of the usual hardwood ignited and spread the flames rapidly, according to James R. Chado, owner.

The machines were owned by several Denver photograph and amusement machine operators.

SFC Achieves Status as Prime Rate Borrower

NEW YORK — Theodore H. Silbert, president of the Standard Financial Corporation, reported to the firm's directors Wednesday (27) that SFC has achieved a status as a prime rate bank borrower as well as having qualified for the sale of commercial paper at prime rates, thru Goldman Sachs & Company. Standard specializes in handling coin machine paper.

Silbert pointed out that since interest costs represents approximately 40 per cent of the company's total expenses, this reduction in borrowing costs will increase the company's earnings and expand its financing services to clients throughout the country at lower rates.

Net profit after taxes for the first six months was $335,000, as compared with $308,000 for the first six months of 1957. On a common share basis for 1,250,104 shares, net earnings this first six months were 30 cents, as compared with 25 cents on 1,158,984 common shares for the first six months of 1957.

So far this year, Standard has acquired the Factors Corporation of America which expanded its financing volume to an annual rate of nearly $250,000,000, sold its stock in Strauss-Duparquet, Inc., and sold publicly $4,000,000 of subordinated debentures thru Gilbre, Ferguson & Company.

Schedule Set for Coin Mechanics

NEW YORK — The Coin Mechanics Association, an organization of free-lance jobbers and amusement game servicemen, announced its new service schedule, effective Tuesday (28). President Harold Morris said that service will be furnished the same day on calls received before 8 p.m. on weekdays and before 9 p.m. on Fridays and Saturdays. Calls received after those hours will be attended to the following day.

Morris explained that the new schedule is the result of operator requests for the establishment of a uniform cut-off hour for service.

give owners a time period to remove the games from locations. There is a possibility that such a decree could be overcome by legislative action.

Italy has been an outstanding market for single-player five-ball pins, with manufacturers relegateing a sizable percentage of their new game output for shipment to Italy. Markets in other European countries, on the other hand, reportedly favor the multiple-player five-ball.

Pinball pay-offs are illegal in most European countries, with the exception of Belgium, Germany and Holland. Five-ball pins have been the favorite game import item for European markets over the years, with bowling games showing some favor over the past six to eight months.
