PAVEMENT: WORDS FROM THE MOUTH OF MALKMUS

Pavement is the kind of band that seems to lend itself to broad, sweeping interpretations. These days, reviews and articles about the band often wind up being more about what the reviewer thinks Pavement is saying and represents than about the band's music itself. How does that make Pavement's most famous face, guitarist Stephen Malkmus, feel? What does he think of all the words and rock-writer energy expended on attempts at describing what Pavement means?

"It's nothing that's new to me, as far as people trying to contextualize things, and find a place for it in the music world. Unfortunately, for me sometimes, it's annoying because sometimes it sells the band short, just saying that they belong in a certain region of music. Whereas I think the band is more open-ended than that. They're still trying to kind of ghettoize us in the 'alternative' world as like the real underground, or something. And that's something that I wouldn't be able to pretend to be, because I see the real underground as being a place we haven't existed in for two years, really.

"I've never known where we fit in, because I've never had a full grasp of who our fans are, you know. We've only been on one tour in America, and that was kind of a scattershot tour where we were just learning how to play and shit like that. I didn't even have time to look in the audience, I was too busy trying to figure out what I was going to play.

"Some people over-exploin things, obviously. On this record there's a lot of people saying 'It's the death of alternative rock,' and stuff, and [saying] that the record's about that. And it doesn't really have anything to do with that, I mean, for me. Maybe within Pavement's own narrow world, you know, or that we're talking about the lack of meaning and power to move you in certain forms of music these days. But when they say that we're, like, trying to condemn these bands like Stone Temple Pilots or Smashing Pumpkins, or major-label groups or something, or that we're criticizing them, it's just not true. I don't have any problems with anything anyone does with their own lives, you know. It doesn't bother me that these groups are successful, or that they somehow manipulated symbols of youth culture to make it seem like they were outsiders when they were really insiders. That goes on all the time..."

So are people overemphasizing Pavement's role as commentators on the State of Indie Rock? "Yeah, that's definitely a problem. This seriousness about 'alternative' and how important integrity is, things that are totally subjective to begin with...that's what we're saying [with the lyrics]. We're just like throwing it out, and letting people attack it, and we could really give a fuck about what people think about it. We're trying to get on with our own lives. And sure, we're trying to cause a little trouble, but we're not angry or really hypercritical. We couldn't be on a record, it's just not that serious to me."

So what's the big secret of Crooked Rain, Crooked Rain? "It was really a response to the Raspberries' third album. No one really knows that. You can break that story. Starting Over, what an album." So it's kind of like Liz Phair's answer to the Stones' Exile On Main Street? "Yeah, she did that Exile In Girlville, or whatever." Malkmus mulls that one over for a minute.

"This record is the death of Pavement. You can listen to it minute by minute. You can hear us dying on the record, that was the effort. That's why everything's slow, it's just our last gasp." Stop breathing, indeed. —James Lien

TINDERSTICKS Tindersticks (Bar/None, P.O. Box 1704, Hoboken, NJ 07030/201-795-9424)—The Tindersticks' self-titled debut album is like an ornately scripted 75-minute opera, rife with warm-blooded rock music that barely rocks. Instead, the band's delicately paced songs are woven around piano or organ beds, or gracefully sculpted guitar lines. Sitting in the middle, like a rich chocolate center, are the sultry vocals of Stuart Staples, who's earned comparisons to luminaries such as Nick Cave, Leonard Cohen, Lee Hazelwood and Simon Bonney, largely on account of his deep voice and impressively dramatic delivery. Yet to his credit, Staples doesn't steal the show entirely; commanding though he is, he leaves plenty of room for the songs' melodies to develop and for the other instruments to fully embellish them. The Tindersticks' fascination for keyboards, swooning string infusions and restrained vocal deliveries also casts nods to the influential work of John Cale, whose very blood seems to course through these songs at times. The length and breadth of this 21-song set, with its numerous instrumental interludes, make it fairly daunting, but over time favorites will pop out, such as "Marbles" (also out on a 7" on No. 6), a pungent and brief distillation of the Tindersticks' sound. Also try "City Sickness," the moody "Jism," "Nectar," "Tie-Dye" and "Whiskey & Water."

—Lydia Anderson

SUPERCHUNK Foolish (Merge, P.O. Box 1235, Chapel Hill, NC 27514/919-929-0711)—Indie-rock hit factory Superchunk's fourth all-new album is as introspective and melancholy as a band can get while still maniacally pogoing and screaming. For the first time, Mac "anthemic is my middle name" McCaughan sounds like he's yelling because it's emotionally appropriate rather than as a way to be heard over the band's line-backer guitars. The cockiness of On The Mouth has given way to a welcome emotional vulnerability, both in McCaughan's lyrics and melodies, the sort of which hasn't been this apparent since his days in Bricks: "Like A Fool" and "Stretched Out" are both down-tempo, hurt-but-defiant howls, and the closing "In A Stage Whisper" is actually kinda quiet. Superchunk couldn't keep 10-ton hooks out of its songs if it tried, though, and the band is growing ever more skillful at incorporating them into careful, tricky song structures. "The First Part" is the latest in the 'Chunk's string of classic singles—a punk-rock "Go Your Own Way," with an album's worth of melody genes crammed into its first three minutes, followed by a wallowing rhythmic coda. "Water Wings" is almost as indelible, an upgrade of the "In The City"/"Holiday In The Sun" riff with another awesome shout-along chorus. Foolish is as joyful a downer as you're likely to hear. Check out the above, plus "Why Do You Have To Put A Date On Everything," "Revelations" and "Driveway To Driveway."

—Douglas Wolk

NICK CAVE AND THE BAD SEEDS Let Love In (Mute, c/o Elektra, 75 Rockefeller Plaza, New York, NY 10019)—

In the recent past, Nick Cave's affinity for literature and love for the sound of language led him to create songs filled with vivid characterizations and a sense of narrative nearly unique in rock music, a capacity that reached its fruition in the shantytown dramas of 1992's Henry's Dream. When he turns this prowess inward on Let Love In, however, focusing the power of his words on his own tempestuous existence, the results are startling, even by Nick Cave standards. The narrative shape of Let Love

In is something like a confessional memoir, but its songs are filled with the poetry of ache, making this record as raw in its way as any of Cave's visceral screams with the Birthday Party. The emotional nature of the record is compounded by the sinewy ferocity of the Bad Seeds, who wring harrowing moments out of Cave's maudlin melodies and add touches of grandeur to his passionate flailing. Let Love In is, in a sense, Nick Cave coming full circle. Where his music was once dominated by Rowland S. Howard's (who guests here on some backing vocals) screeching guitar and his own narcotic visions, he is now able to make phrases like "I'm Sorry"—letting love in means always having to say you're sorry—and "jingle jangle" every bit as frightening. Cave canem: "Loverman," "Red Right Hand," "Jangling Jack" and "Do You Love Me."

—Scott Frampton

SMITHEREENS A Date With The Smithereens (RCA, 1540 Broadway, Times Sq., New York, NY 10036)—

Finding a radio single on A Date With The Smithereens shouldn't be very difficult. In fact, you may be lacking the enzyme necessary for the digestion of rich power pop if songs like "Miles From Nowhere" or "Love Is Gone" don't move you. A Date With The Smithereens, easily the band's best effort since 1988's Green Thoughts, is brimming with songs (honestly, we count eight out of a dozen) that scream out for you to crank up the volume as each three-chord gem cues in. Some may call A Date... a "return to form," but these 12 songs represent what the band has always done, only here the band crams it into one lean package, capturing the freshness, energy and exquisite simplicity of the finest Smithereens records. Though variety and experimentation aren't the band's strong suits, A Date... shows the Smithereens' pop/soul/folk blend to be absolutely indispensable. One day, the Smithereens will release a greatest hits comp that's bound to bowl you over, putting their inestimable pop worth in perspective. There's no doubt these songs will be on it: the lead track "War For My Mind," "Everything I Have Is Blue," the rubbery soul of "Afternoon Tea," "Point Of No Return," the disposable, yet clever "Sick Of Seattle" and "Can't Go Home," which flaunts the band at its best and loosest.

ADRIAN BELEW Here (Caroline, 114 W. 26th St., New York, NY 10001/212-989-2929)—As the frontman for the final incarnation of King Crimson and as a sideman for Talking Heads, David Bowie, Frank Zappa and Nine Inch Nails, Adrian Belew has been one of the most impressionistic and vital guitarists of the last 20 years. Of late, Belew seems bent on establishing himself as a songwriter and not merely relying on his fan base of King Crimson-heads and sycophantic subscribers to guitar periodicals. Here, his seventh solo album (you don't get much more solo than playing all the instruments yourself!), has plenty of Belew's sonic trademarks. For the most part, Belew heeds the lyric from his "Brave New World": "Technology is a double-edged sword," ensuring that the songs never break under the weight of his guitar wizardry. At times, the heavy effects on his vocals and the occasional backwards guitar are intrusive, yet there's no covering up the fact that there are great songs here. Like Todd Rundgren in his finest hour, Belew writes nervy pop songs packed with melody and an eccentric, virtuosic flair, but unlike many records from serious "musicians," Belew's work is infinitely more playful and ultimately a much better listener. Hear these: "May 1, 1990," "I See You," "Burned By The Fire We Make," "Futurevision" and "Fly," Belew's beautiful ecological take on "Space Oddity."
—Steve Ciabattani

PETER HIMMELMAN Skin (550, 550 Madison Ave., New York, NY 10022-3211)—For his sixth album, Peter Himmelman has moved beyond the singer/songwriter tag he's so often been assigned and into previously uncharted territory (at least for him) with an ambitious concept album, Skin. A song cycle that tells the parable of a morally corrupt man who undergoes a spiritual re-awakening, it opens, surprisingly, with Himmelman performing a rap/funk vamp that gives one an ample idea of the type of person he's talking about, before crashing into a ton of noise. Then he strings together a series of songs representing various stages in a person's life that lead to the spiritual growth that is the album's focus. Although not a complete success as a concept album, Himmelman has composed some strong songs ("Regular Child," "With You," "Nowhere Else To Go"), as he has on all of his previous work, songs that are sure to keep his fans content while drawing new ones into his fold.

MAGNETIC FIELDS The Charm Of The Highway Strip (Merge, P.O. Box 1235, Chapel Hill, NC 27514/919-929-0711)—It was only two weeks ago that we reviewed the Magnetic Fields' second LP Holiday (Feel Good All Over), so we're guessing that Magnetic protagonist Stephin Merritt has more songs in his notebook than most people have shirts in their closets. Whatever the case, The Charm Of The Highway Strip is an impressive exploration of the allure of the road, with frequent references to travel and modes of travel, as well as the post-modern loneliness that flows naturally from these themes ("One of these days I'm gonna leave you in your sleep/I'll have to go when the whistle blows/The whistle knows my name/Baby I was born on a train" goes the refrain to "Born On A Train"). But Merritt's song sculpting is so precise, his wit and delicacy so keen, that these 10 jaunty songs belie their darker nature. His instruments here are almost entirely synthetic, with guitar and cello embellishment, yet the sound is entirely warm and organic, and it's happily flooded with Merritt's cool, deep voice. Start the trip with "Lonely Highway," "Born On A Train," "Fear Of Trains" and the mock twang of "Two Characters In Search Of A Country Song."
—Lydia Anderson

MARIO BAUZA AND THE AFRO-CUBAN JAZZ ORCHESTRA 944 Columbus (Messidor, c/o Rounder, 1 Camp St., Cambridge, MA 02140/617-354-0700)—In a perfect universe, Mario Bauza would have been as big an icon as Miles Davis or Duke Ellington, a suitable candidate for an honorary postage stamp if ever there was one. He was a man who entertained and enthralled thousands and thousands of people—perhaps millions if you add them all up—with decades and decades of great music, but only recently began to receive the attention and acclaim he deserved. As one of the founders and innovators of Afro-Cuban jazz, Bauza worked with Latin legends like Machito and Dizzy Gillespie, and helped pioneer the fusing of jazz with Cuban rhythms. Bauza was one of those leaders who could extract the best from his musicians—his was a band that could stop on a dime, and his soloists could raise the roof with a single 16-bar solo. A key illumination comes from the "cover versions" on 944 Columbus—Ellington's "A Night In Tunisia" is recast as a Latin romp, while Tony Bennett's "Congratulations To Someone" is Cubanized into a simmering shuffle. Recorded shortly before his death, 944 Columbus represents the last time Bauza entered a studio. Perhaps we're reading it too emotionally (it's always tough to listen to the last recordings of any legendary maestro), but it seems as though 944 Columbus swings with a mission; profound and soulful, its strident tempos and crisp rhythmic pulse seem to say this is how it's done, this is how to swing. Yes. —James Lien

FURTHER Sometimes Chimes L.P. (Christmas, 1310 1/2 N. Vista, Los Angeles, CA 90046)—Further's range goes from the sparse simplicity of Unrest (the band covers "Isabel" and actually does it justice) and the flailing mayhem of Eggs' more obscure moments to Sebadah's acoustic aesthetic. Comprehending the 75 minutes of music on the band's debut LP is a daunting task, made even more fuzzy by the wide scope through which the band peers. While a disc of this length and magnitude has the potential to fall apart in places, and sometimes one might feel the band is winking a little too hard in its references, Further mostly succeeds in its mission, creating a wacked-out atmosphere where melodies are ever-present but obscured by noise. The instrumentation also covers a wide gamut, from overbearing samples to quiet moments with just an acoustic guitar supplying the movement. With the production emphasizing the music over the vocals, the singer's reedy delivery is a mere accent rather than a point of detraction. When the vocals do become a focal point, the song becomes a mournful cry, making their off-key quality a bonus. Go a little Further with: "Surfing Pointers," "Pioneer 10," "Organ Donor" and "Furtherdoh Jr." —Megan McLaughlin

ARCWELDER Xerxes (Touch And Go, P.O. Box 25520, Chicago, IL 60625/312-463-8316)—Sure, bulldozer rhythms and fiery guitar storms are great, but for our ears, you can't beat a good melody. Arcwelder does all three, meshing forceful, emotional intensity with smiley tunefulness. Xerxes, the band's third full-length album, is chock full of contagious hooks and head-bobbing riffs, smartly inserted in a framework of buzzing, scrawling guitars and pained vocals. At once catchy, commercial, flustered and frustrated, Xerxes is the voice of an optimistic youth culture striving to excel in an adversarial environment: "Hey, where are your heroes/They will always disappoint you," moans drummer/vocalist Scott MacDonald in "Change." But lest the members of Arcwelder be perceived as sad-sacks who ferment in their own angst, it must be noted that the band has a wicked sense of humor, naming songs "Freebird" and "The Carpal Tunnel Song" and listing incorrect instrumentation (congas, bassoon flute, vibes, sax) on the liner notes. Xerxes is Arcwelder's most accessible record to date, and nearly all of the songs have single potential, mixing pop eloquence with fist-in-the-sky dynamics. Overlooked for way too long, Arcwelder should finally get the attention it deserves with "Smile," "All My Want For Need," "Passing Thought" and "Down To The Wire." —Jon Wiederhorn

DOO RAG Chunked And Muddled (Bloat, P.O. Box 207, Tucson, AZ 85702)—Tucson's Doo Rag packs a wallop of creativity in most everything it does—from packaging its CD to selecting songs to cover, each detail becomes uniquely the band's own. Chunked And Muddled, the band's first album, is packaged in a small cardboard box decorated with stickers and stamps, comes with a special canvas patch and is chock-full of Doo Rag versions of songs written by Mississippi Fred McDowell, Eli Green and Muddy Waters, as well as some traditional tunes. Doo Rag's sloppy swampwater blues stomp sounds as if it were played on washtubs, or any other available item with musical possibilities, and recorded in the garage. The band's minimalistic, charismatic approach brings it closest to Railroad Jerk unplugged on hallucinogens. It's quite a ways from Mississippi to Arizona and Doo Rag didn't bring a map; but never mind—Chunked And Muddled is the best adventure we've been on in quite some time. Landmarks: "Shake 'em On Down," "Old Car," "Train I Ride" and "Hogtied."

BAD LIVERS Horses In The Mines (1/4 Stick, c/o Touch And Go, address above)—To tag the Bad Livers, as many have, with something like "bluegrass-punk" or "bluegrass-thrash" is to wrongly dismiss the band as a mere novelty. What makes the Bad Livers' third release, Horses In The Mines, so appealing is not gimmicky bluegrass arrangements of punk and metal songs (live, the band often covers the likes of Motorhead and the Stooges), but the fact that the Bad Livers understand the link that exists between the aggression and D.I.Y. attitude of punk-rock and traditional country/bluegrass, and this knowledge effortlessly informs every note. The three members of the Bad Livers don't seem to give a fuck about virtuosity (although they're all very exceptional players) and, while traditional, they don't concern themselves with trying to convince listeners that it's 1943 and they're a bunch of crazed dirt-eaters from the local Pentecostal church. Void of any such pretensions, they just do their thang, which—from plaintive hymns ("He Didn't Say A Word") to full-borne stompers ("Where They Do Not Know My Name") to experiments that sound like the Delmore Brothers imbibing Romilar cough syrup ("Puke Grub")—will surely send the bi-leveled simpletons that rule Nashville runnin' for cover.

—Steve McGuirl

KING MISSILE King Missile (Atlantic, 75 Rockefeller Plaza, New York, NY 10019)—Maybe it's a reaction to the band's reputation for trading mostly on John S. Hall's spoken-word hilarity, but with its sixth album, King Missile appears to be making a big move for hard-rock credibility. Produced by Daniel Rey (known for his work with Ramones and White Zombie), King Missile has Dave Rick's guitar sounding tougher and higher in the mix than ever before, ripping and wailing all over "Love Is" and "Socks," and he even takes a few straightforward solos. A handful of these tracks are actually sung, and work just fine as fierce-minded hard rock, especially the anthemic "Lies." Of course, the band's main attraction is still Hall's writing, and while King Missile doesn't have an obvious hit on the order of "Jesus Was Way Cool" or "Detachable Penis," it does have a couple of dead-on hysterical Hall monologues. "The Commercial" is a gory, goofy take on high-budget ads; "Let's Have Sex" scores points for somehow sneaking in Joseph Papp's name; "Dish-washer" tangles itself into a paranoid ball of syntactical yarn, with verbal hooks that repeat like a pop chorus. Also check out "What If," which unites the band's strains of silliness and driving rock nicely.

—Douglas Wolk

DOUDOU NDIAYE ROSE Djaboré (Real-World, c/o Caroline, address above)—So you say you like drums? Well, we hope you like 'em a lot, 'cause there're 50 of them tearing it up all at once, all over Djaboré. Doudou Ndiaye Rose is a Senegalese percussion master, and Djaboré is an awesome field recording of his drummers, recorded live under somewhat extraordinary circumstances. These beats are not so much loud or funky as they are totally and utterly overwhelming: the bass drum thumps obsessively, propulsively, while the other drummers and percussionists embellish and counter-embellish dramatically on top (the influence of some of these beats showed up underneath Peter Gabriel's Us album). You want it heavy? This record is so intense, it should contain a label on the outside: "Warning. Portions of this album were recorded on a Senegalese island, on Good Friday, during Ramadan, under the full moon, with 50 Muslim drummers and 80 Christian singers all at once. Manufacturer is not responsible for transcendental states or psychic experiences it may induce." A stunning disc like Djibote exists outside of a narrow and ill-fitting genre like "world music" or "ethnic" field recording: We can picture ravers and reggae-heads, bhangra buffs and funk fans getting a pure and natural charge out of its powerful pulse. Those seeking something beyond mundane and tired norms need look no further. —James Lien

HEAVENS TO BETSY Calculated (Kill Rock Stars, 120 State Ave. NE #418, Olympia, WA 98501/206-357-9732)—"If you think/ That I'm not strong/You best watch out." Don't say they didn't warn you. From the introductory admonition of Calculated's leadoff track "Nothing Can Stop Me," Heavens To Betsy unapologetically dives headlong into the stigma surrounding the Riot movement with an almost violent sense of determination and rage. Forming in Olympia, WA, just over three years ago, the duo of Corin Tucker (guitar, vocals) and Tracy Sawyer (drums, bass) produced a few notable singles and an EP that, while containing a distinctly feminist character, were nonetheless a bit more friendly than Calculated's bitter fury. The band's music is presented in a punk framework of bare guitar rattle and convincing shrieks of ear-splitting potency, but it's Tucker's vocals that give the music a real physicality. As much a reaction to personal oppression as it is an attack levelled against male-ego establishments, Tucker's pain forces each song into a triumphant declaration of strength. Listen and you will hear: the seething indignation of "Calculated" ("I hate you with a passion that will run for a million years"), to straight-faced reciprocity in "Terrorist" ("You make me feel like a piece of meat...I'm going to kill you"), to vulnerability and confusion in "Complicated" ("I don't know how to be good to you...I'm just fucked up and so are you"). —Colin Helms

VARIOUS ARTISTS The Wassoulou Sound, Volume 2—The Women Of Mali (Stern's, 598 Broadway, New York, NY 10012/ 212-925-1648)—The women of Wassoulou were first documented on Vol. 1 in this series (the first Stern's collection appeared on the cover of this magazine), and Vol. 2 continues to explore the Wassoulou sound with even more excellent tracks from some of Mali's greatest singing women. The songs presented on this compilation both uphold tradition and introduce some new stars and sounds to the mix: occasional electronics and amplification mingle with traditional instrumentation and arrangements, but they never overshadow the women's stunning voices. Their voices are the stars here, front and center, which is a rare and delightful occurrence in a world where so much of the music, African and otherwise, is inevitably dominated by males. If, like us, you're already immersed in the Wassoulou sound, it's a welcome addition; for the newcomer, it's a fine introduction that will surely lead to new converts. —James Lien

PEACH Siesta (Caroline, address above)—The Seattle natives in Peach sprouted onto the crowded scene in late 1992, armed with guitars, hard-driving songs and a down-to-earth approach to its grunge rock. Siesta, the quartet's debut, is carried by the weight of its guitars; the dual fretwork of vocalists Mark Adler and Rick Roberts provides both the moodiness and focus for the album in front of the steady rhythm section and understated vocals. The heaviness of the majority of Siesta is the easy part, as the instruments crunch out power chords with rhythmic precision, but Peach varies the degree of its heaviness, adding slower, trembly phrases to keep its music away from the predictable bins. The lengthy "Beautiful Shell" and "Consolation Prize" feature a combination of speeds, reaching multi-dimensional epic proportions that are kept in line by producer Craig Montgomery (Nirvana) and engineer Jon Auer (Posies, Love Battery, Best Kissers). The gently strummed instrumental title track features an ominous electric line running underneath its acoustic foundation, while "Dig A Hole," "Dying Dream Of Alice" and "Dead Soldier's Coat" expose a young rock band at its energetic peak.

It's not exactly country music, not the kind you hear on the radio now. Unless your radio gets that station that still plays Maybelle Carter and Bill Monroe. ● It's not exactly folk music, although she sings about her folks sometimes. ● Jon Pareles of the NY Times said her music "distills love, heartbreak, disillusionment and humor in songs that go straight for the heartstrings." ● We hear things like that from the critics. All the time. David Zimmerman of USA Today, in fact, went so far as to say that she "may be the one who can reinvent the folk-country synthesis that fell apart after the 60's." That would be cool.

DYLAN'S Spirit Finger (Beggars Banquet, c/o Atlantic, address above)—Sheffield, England's Dylans were part of the scene that landed band after band major-label U.S. deals at the manic height of the Manchester explosion of the late '80s. The Dylans' 1991 self-titled debut showed them to be a capable contributor to the neo-psychedelia revival, but also revealed youthful strains from the pressures thrust upon the young lads. Taking time with their sophomore release, the Dylans show more patience and direction on Spirit Finger, which finds the band more fully approaching the potential hinted at on the debut's stronger tracks. The blues-influenced pop of the Beatles and the Stones is a reference point for the Dylans' swirling manic pop, the ringing guitars and forceful, upbeat rhythms (most songs well-surpassing the 100 BPM barrier) energizing the classic Brit pop harmonies. Production by Pascal Gabriel (Inspiral Carpets, EMF) and subtle organ lines add additional flavor, while lead vocalist Colin Gregory, in his very British tongue, stands up strong in all his vocal guises, from straight-up melody carrying to hauntingly megaphoned distortion to cooing oohs and aahs. Give the Finger on: "Grudge," the electronic foray on "Kill Rave," the towering "I'll Be Back To Haunt You," "Get It Together" and "How Little You Know."

WALLMEN Not Too Long Time Sound (Bar/None, P.O. Box 1704, Hoboken, NJ 07030/201-795-9424)—At first, "Kevin's New Trip," the first cut on the Wallmen's latest, comes off like just another catchy, competent post-Dinosaur Jr. knockoff. As one digs deeper into the rest of Not Too Long Time Sound, however, it becomes clear that this is part of the Wallmen's plan: to lure unsuspecting listeners in with often conventional song structures and pop melodies, only to have everything go noisily lumbering or spastically skittering off in a dozen different directions simultaneously. These Syracuse veterans' main strengths lie in their sense of humor, their ability to harness a massive amount of effects and studio buffoonery and use them as an integral part of their layered arrangements, and vocalist Norm (just Norm, kinda like Fabian). Extremely versatile, Norm can jump from a lazy J. Mascis-style groan to a wonderfully obnoxious falsetto that sounds like Russell Mael of Sparks being strangled—often within the same song. Not Too Long Time Sound is not without the occasional foray into the realm of gimmickry and self-indulgence, but even at its worst, this playful, intelligent approach keeps the sound compelling and separates these guys from the hordes of faceless guitar-punk, post-punk bands out there. —Steve McGuirl

GASTR DEL SOL Crookt, Crackt, Or Fly (Drag City, P.O. Box 476867, Chicago, IL 60647/312-455-1015)—David Grubbs has played with rock bands like Squirrel Bait, the Red Crayola, Codeine and Bastro. In Gastr Del Sol, though, he's quieted things down—way down. Crookt, Crackt, Or Fly is a mostly acoustic, near-instrumental collaboration with avant-garde guitarist Jim O'Rourke. Gastr Del Sol treats "rock" as an explosive tool that should only be used when absolutely necessary. There are moments of full-band electric explosion on the second half of the album, but most of them collapse into silence and space in a matter of moments, though "The C In Cake" does manage to work its way up into a triple-helix of Grubbs' tapping, picking loop-riffs. A few of these eight tracks are graced with Grubbs' terse, cryptic lyrics: "Thos. Dudley Ah! Old Must Dye" could be fragments of a 200-year-old anagram-rhyme; "Is That A Rifle When It Rains?" is a fine piece of "language poetry," its spaces more important than its words. In places, Crookt sounds like a couple of studious 12-tone serialist composers kicking back and improvising on their front porch. For all its sonic spaciousness, it's a dense and difficult record, but the rewards of getting into its bizarre musical logic are worth the brain-strain.

VARIOUS ARTISTS Why Do You Think They Call It Pop? (Pop Narcotic, 1085 Commonwealth Ave. #339, Boston, MA 02215/617-762-9073)—This smartly packaged, double-10" set looks and plays like an indie-rock state of the union address. With 13 tracks from such notable East Coast and independent (for the most part) songsters as Sleepyhead, Monsterland and Greenhorn, Why Do You Think They Call It Pop? is a potent shot in the arm for anyone whose faith in independent rock might be slipping. Standout tracks include Small Factory's exuberantly hyperactive "Yeah!" (which includes the brilliant line "Yeah!/Forget what you know!"), Versus' intricate, dual-vocal cut "Sunburned (Life's A Beach)," Polvo's bliss-tering instrumental "Colonial Arms," Helium's lushly suggestive "In A Box," Ruby Falls' sweet 'n' rugged "Let Me Go," the Grifters' seething, darkly-hued blues track "Black Fuel Incinerator" and Wingtip Sloat's oh-so-Pavement-esque grind "Leap Into My Velvet Arms." —Lydia Anderson

DAMBUILDERS Encendedor (EastWest America, 75 Rockefeller Plaza, 12th Fl.,

New York, NY 10019)—Starting out in a garage in Honolulu, relocating to Boston, releasing three albums on a German label and an EP and a few singles in the States, the Dambuilders should be (but aren't yet) a household name. The band is busily adding to its lofty collection of past work with plans to release a song named for each of the 50 states, two of which are included here. Encendedor allows the band to make good on its prolific output, showcasing the sound that has been on the top of many critics' lists for quite some time. Aside from the fact that the Dambuilders' quirky, vital pop craftsmanship stands on its own in the guitar/bass/drums world of indie-pop headiness, what inevitably first sings its way into one's ears is the presence of Joan Wasser's sprightly violin. Sawing bits of melodic zeal alongside guitar and vocal harmony like an ever-present songbird that sweetens each song's organic texture, Wasser is one of the band's key distinctions. Working his way through the moods of this sound, bassist/vocalist Dave Derby contributes a humorous narrative conscience to each song, from off-kilter reflections of his Hawaiian childhood ("Slo-Mo Kikaida" and "Kill Haole Day" in particular), to American portraits ("Delaware" or "Idaho"). Also thrill to the winding grooves of "Colin's Heroes," "Swell" and "Fur." —Colin Helms

BLAZERS Short Fuse (Rounder, 1 Camp St., Cambridge, MA 02140/617-354-0700)—The cultural flair of East L.A. rock-'n'-roll combs the Blazers presents a feeling of instant classic. The Blazers explore the traditional sound of Tex-Mex music of the '50s, à la Richie Valens and Freddie Fender, a musical style which remains timeless. The Blazers' songs evolve from many different sources, from an age-old bop like "Miss You Lil' Girl" to a Texas rockabilly tune like "Yeah, Yeah, Yeah!" Many of the quartet's influences are obvious—Short Fuse was recorded by Cesar Rosas, whose band, Los Lobos, is the most direct comparison. Like Los Lobos, the Blazers incorporate their Hispanic cul-

CINDY LEE BERRYHILL Garage Orchestra (Earth Music, c/o Cargo, 3058 N. Clybourn Ave., Chicago, IL 60618/312-935-5683)—If you want to get up close and personal with Cindy Lee Berryhill, you need only open up the inside cover of her new album, Garage Orchestra, and you'll find her diary. Here she chronicles how each song was conceived and what was happening in her life at the time. Take, for instance, "I Wonder Why": "I wrote this in Paul and Donna's van. It's a very nice van, very soft carpeting and plenty of leg room for me & my red guitar." The song is about growing up and all the "why" questions that life brings. Garage Orchestra teams up instruments like the cello, toy piano, tympani, a trash can and board with loose screw, a shortwave radio, mandolin and acoustic bass (just to name a few), leaving no questions as to where the album's title came from. Berryhill gets her hands into all aspects of her music—she wrote all the songs, co-produced, arranged and helped mix the record with co-producer Mike Harris, proving her comprehensive talent. Her stories are amusing and her music is one of a kind. Check out the above plus "Etude For PH. Machine," a soothing instrumental mingled with Berryhill's humming.—Lana Michalko

PLEASE Noreally Thanks (Mother West, 132 W. 26th St., New York, NY 10001)—

If the new self-produced full-length from New York locals Please isn't an album screaming to be pressed to vinyl, then we haven't heard one. From the back cover photograph of a wooded garden filled with giant mushrooms to the CD's own probings into atmospheric feedback, tape loops and intelligent, trippy melodic songs, Noreally Thanks brilliantly recalls the ingenuity and clever experimentation of the days when musicians began to explore the boundaries of the tape medium in the studio, from "A Day In The Life" to "Bohemian Rhapsody." One would expect no less from a former Futures pick (the band was previously known as Beat Jungle Rain). Fortunately, what anchors all the conceptual ideas so solidly are the songs themselves. This is not an album made simply for the sake of experimentation; rather, it is a concise grouping of eclectic live tracks buffered and carressed by broad strokes of aural paint. A perfect example is "Down For The Count," which dons the form of a meandering, multi-legged beast with lazily hand-hit drums, feedback-drenched backwards guitars and intimate, whispered harmonies. Drift to: "Open Letter," "Mama Loves A Branch" and "If You Want, When You Want, How You Want."

—Aaron Clow

VARIOUS ARTISTS X Marks The Spot (Caroline, address above)—This compilation

showcases a wide array of international artists, and it also contributes a majority of its proceeds to a worthy cause, non-partisan voter education in South Africa. Although the usual suspects are here—Peter Gabriel, Paul Simon, UB40—the unknowns are more fun to hear, if just to experience the little-heard music of non-western countries. The liner notes explain where each group or artist is from, although, as is the case with most of these collections, once you listen to the individual songs they all seem to share a sense of rhythm and continuity. Most of the songs here are previously released; for a new flavor, try Mozambique's Eyuphuro and the live Hugh Masekela track.

JACKPOT EXTRA!

UNWOUND "MK Ultra" (7") (Kill Rock Stars, 120 State Ave. NE #418, Olympia, WA 98501/206-357-9732)—Unwound's latest lays down some unapologetically ugly, angst-ridden, voice-of-the-marginal rawk 'n' roll. While the lyrics' plea for youth revolution makes Kick Out The Jams seem articulate, the music on these two sides is much more focused and lucid, yet hard to nab verbally. The aggressive, rhythm-driven "MK Ultra" goes through several "movements" before its chaotic conclusion, including a great atonal King Crimson-esque riff towards the end. It's a little too calculated to be dismissed as self-indulgent noise, but too loose to qualify as egg-headed math-rock. Look for the band's second LP, New Plastic Ideas, out soon. —Steve McGuire SQUIRREL NUT-ZIPPERS Roasted Right (7" EP) (Merge, P.O. Box 1235, Chapel Hill, NC 27514/919-929-0711)—If all the oppressive, faceless "punk-rock" bands have brought you to your breaking point, check out this wonderful EP by the Squirrel Nut-Zippers. The key inspirations behind this oddball outfit seem to be crackly 78s from a great-aunt's attic, Billie Holiday (singer Katherine Whalen sounds a lot like a younger, more innocent Lady Day), Hal Roach shorts and Grandma's rambling reminiscence about flappers and speakeasys. On these three band-penned tunes, the playing is great, Whalen's vocals are impressive and, thankfully, the whole thing comes off without much of the kitschy smarminess of some of the current lounge music fad. —Steve McGuire

CAT POWER "Headlights" (7") (Making Of Americans, P.O. Box 490, Cooper Sta., New York, NY 10276)—This NYC trio makes emotive, hoily charged music with a bare-boned lineup. Chan Marshall's darkly poetic vocals, which recall the incisive wit and phrasing of Mecca Normal's Jean Smith, lie at its heart, with guitars and violins twisting around her words like shoelaces pulled too tight. Both "Headlights," the heavier of the two, with its methodical drum beats, and "Darling Said Sir," with its surprisingly sweet guitar work, are strong cuts demanding repeated listens. Like Mecca Normal, but unlike many of the bands following in its wake, Cat Power makes music that's as fully developed as its lyrical and vocal stance. —Lydia Anderson

NEUTRAL MILK HOTEL "Everything Is" (7") (Cher Doll, P.O. Box 9609, Seattle, WA 98109)—Neutral Milk Hotel is the pseudonym of Jeff Mangum, who pulled off these two fuzzed-out bonbons all by himself. After a peculiar bit of found dialogue, "Everything Is" is a sweet, unsentimental three-chord lollipop with every instrument pushing the needle on the four-track well into the red, with an everybody-join-hands chorus. "Snow Song," on the flip, drops one of the chords for a velvety, Velvets-y rush of slow prettiness. Both songs are calm but wild-eyed, like '60s punk classics that have settled down but still get crazy on the weekends. —Douglas Wolk

BABOON "Tool" (7") (Silver Girl, P.O. Box 161024, San Diego, CA 92176/619-282-9843)—Dallas, TX, quartet Baboon supposedly has two albums worth of recorded material, but "Tool" only marks its second released single. We guess the band is saving up its energy one song at a time, judging by the ferocity found on this single. "Tool" slams ahead with decisive, muscular pounding, thorny guitar and aching vocal shouts. On the flip, "Why'd You Say Die?" meanders a bit more preciously before giving way to a roaring chorus, while "What's Up With You?" winds up a predictable noise screamer. —Colin Helms

PAPAS FRITAS "Friday Night" (7") (Sunday Driver, 2017 Lowerline, New Orleans, LA 70118/504-865-7327)—Judging by "Friday Night," it sounds as if Papas Fritas squeezed a drum kit, bass, guitar and amp into its bathroom with one mic, noodling with its instruments and singing about being lonely. Making up for the mixed results of the A-side, "Smash This World" finds the trio producing a magical, unpolished, yet totally capable little pop song featuring a beat so snappy you're forced to bob your head from side to side. The other B-side, "Angel," teeters with fragile, off-key vocals and a half-hearted attempt to make an almost classic sounding pop song work. —Colin Helms

SMATTERING Scope Goats Are Always Friendly (7" EP) (Generator, 726 Jefferson NE, 2nd Fl., Minneapolis, MN 55413/612-379-7651)—Smattering is actually one-man-band Matt Olson, a four-track wielding low-fi tinkerer whose delicate yet odd approach recalls that of Smog or Lou Barlow. Olson uses various electric and acoustic guitars, keyboards and percussion, and sings with a cigarette-warmed voice. His songs traverse simple pop frameworks with an effortless hold on bluesy inflection, melodic subtlety and ragged inventiveness. Four tracks in length, Scope Goats provides an adequate look into the mind of a yet-unrecognized low-fi craftsman. —Colin Helms

JACKPOT!

VON RYAN'S EXPRESS Profits For Isiah (P.O. Box 35, Providence, RI 02901/401-454-1625)—Our interest in Von Ryan's Express all started with a simple mylar "V" that came in the mail. Now don't get us wrong, we aren't much for the usual gimmicks—honestly, we've grown weary of the brightly colored folders overflowing with press, glamour shots and printed stickers showered upon us by so many bands. Perhaps what's most impressive about Von Ryan's Express is the band's homemade attitude. The mylar "V" was enough to let us know that the band has more than just a great name—it has the disposition to take the Express on a junket to the top. Following the "V" was a poster tube containing a tape, along with a poster-size sheet printed with two-bit press mentions, revealing even more cut-and-paste attitude, which the band's music also reflects. Von Ryan's Express wears its disposition up front, making the most of drums, guitar and the occasional Moog. Despite its simplistic instruments, VRE envelops listeners in pure pandemonium. "Up On The Block" is dominated by the over-the-top drumming by Ryan himself, the guiding force that keeps the band's chaotic sax and guitar on track. "Profits For Isiah" (completed by space age Moog bits) sums up Von Ryan's conviction at its best. A long ride on Von Ryan's Express is mind-altering, without a doubt. —Dawn Sutter where the band is now on the verge of an unquestionable artistic breakthrough. With press clippings that any other young band would kill for (including raves from Peter Watrous of The New York Times and Joe Levy and Lisa Jones in The Village Voice), Faith has shared bills over the years with everyone from Stevie Ray Vaughan to Youssou N'Dour to Living Colour. While the band's other Black Rock Coalition brethren may have been louder and more brazen (hence garnering more attention), Faith reminds us that Hendrix wrote ballads, too, an often overlooked, warm and emotional side. Even though its instrumentation is electric and its approach is rooted in rock 'n' soul, Faith has more in common with the emotive strength of Tracy Chapman or Joan Armatrading than, say, Mother's Finest or the Bad Brains. At the heart of Faith's sound is bassist/vocalist Felice Rosser, whose down-to-earth presence imbues Faith's music with warm sensuality and emotion in every vocal line. Even if you've already heard or seen Faith in one of its earlier incarnations, the group's new three-song demo is outstanding, and unlike virtually any other sound out there right now (call 718-654-3654 or 212-254-7344 for more info). It's unfortunate that a band as talented as Faith goes unnoticed just because its vision remains uninfluenced by fads and avoids concessions to popularity. But Faith offers hope that good music survives and perseveres to ultimately triumph over adversity and indifference. —D.I.Y.

FYI

When the Last Poets said in one of their raps, "This town is tough enough," they could well have been referring to the arduous life of an unsigned band slugging it out in New York's clubland, struggling from gig to gig, trying to survive and get noticed by a city that too often doesn't support its true artists. One such band is FAITH, which has not only survived but forged ahead musically, to the point

CMJ RADIO TOP 150

Chart information is based on combined airplay of reporting commercial and college/noncommercial radio stations. Statistics are compiled from point totals tabulated from positions (1-35) of artists on airplay reports, then multiplied by station code factor (based upon programming, market size and market impact). ▲ indicates a significant increase in airplay. #1-5: equal or upward position; #6-10: increase of at least 1; #11-20: increase of 2 or more; #21-30: 3 or more...PEAK column represents highest chart position to date.

Superchunk

The music scene brewing in North Carolina has produced an extremely high number of top-notch bands, especially in the triangle that's formed by Raleigh, Durham and Chapel Hill. Superchunk has been one of that scene's most prolific leaders, and the band's fourth proper album is yet another anthemic indie-rock winner. Mac McCaughan's songs on Foolish are the band's most introspective so far, yet they still manage to their carry hook-laden melodies with a joyful energy that makes Superchunk and the band's Merge label one of North Carolina's most visible non-tobacco exports. Programmers are lighting Foolish up, pushing the album 60-28 in its second week on the chart (#21 in the South regional). In a record-setting week of 1344 total reporters and 498 top 35 reporters, 74 are playing Superchunk, led by top five reports by KCR, KDIC, KWUR (#1), WAMH, WBCR (WI), WBOR, WCNI, WESU (#1), WFNM, WGHR, WHPK (#1), WLHA, WODU, WORB (#1), WORT, WRFL, WSCW, WSOE (#1), WUSB, WVMW (#1) and WXYC.

PROGRESSIVE RETAIL

Chart compiled by Dawn Sutter

ON THE CHART

The last few weeks have brought nothing but change to the Progressive Retail chart, and a majority of the flux is due to the many strong new releases. This week, Columbia's new release by Pink Floyd jumps in and grabs the #1 spot right away, shoving both A&M's Soundgarden (1-2) and Nothing/TVT-Interscope's Nine Inch Nails (2-3) out of the way. A few older faces witness resurgences: DGC's Counting Crows (9-4), Virgin's Smashing Pumpkins (16-7) and Reprise's Green Day (11-8).

Releases making their way steadily up the chart: London-PLG's Meat Puppets (46-27); Smells Like's Lou B. (54-28); Lou in another incarnation, Domino (UK)'s Sebadoh (70-24); Sub Pop's Codeine (53-29); Zoo's Tool (41-31); Kill Rock Stars' Unwound (48-36); Warner Bros.' Loreena McKinnitt (47-39); Epic's Rage Against The Machine (68-44); MCA's Rhythm Country And Blues compilation (63-47), and Chrysalis-ERG's Proclaimers, who re-enter the chart at #52.

Fresh new spring faces blooming this week include: 1/4 Stick-Touch And Go's Rodan (#23; see Retail Focus), Prawn Song-Interscope's Sausage (#26), Imago's Rollins Band (#35), frrr/London-ILS' Orbital (#54), Mammoth's Frente! (#67), Kill Rock Stars' Heavens To Betsy (#69) and Blue Note-Capitol's John Scofield/Pat Metheny (#73). RETAIL FOCUS

RODAN

Four kids from the Bluegrass state are making quite a ruckus these days. Louisville, KY's Rodan has just released a powerful debut full-length, Rusty on 1/4 Stick-Touch And Go, which debuts this week at #23, and also ranks the #3 Retail Breakthrough and #6 at In-Store. The guitar-based band builds alternately soft and loud, fast and slow sounds into a skyscraper of tension, only to knock it all down with a wrecking ball. With most every song clocking in at well over six minutes, there is, unfortunately, only room for six songs on the album.

ACID JAZZ, AGAIN

During the late '60s, when this columnist came of age, the true measure of a progressive rock band's mettle was twofold: Great though a particular group's latest LP might have been, the discerning fan would say, "Yeah, the album's great, but can they pull it off live?" In the jazz world, most studio recordings, then as now, were conceived as actual live-in-the-studio performances. (These days, of course, especially on the fusion and pop-vocal fronts, fiber optics or some such nonsense allows musicians to phone in their parts as casually as they'd call Aunt Matilda in Melbourne.) Nineties acid jazz is a horse of a different color. Most of the bands, such as they are, are studio entities. The only thought of live performance comes if and when the CD becomes a hit and fosters demand that can be translated into ticket sales. There are exceptions to this scenario; GROOVE COLLECTIVE being the most notable. As heard on their eponymous debut CD for Reprise (c/o Warner Bros., 3300 Warner Blvd., Burbank, CA 91505), Groove Collective demonstrates convincingly that acid jazz can be a fertile seedbed for collaboration (among instrumentalists, rappers and DJs) with a viable mixture of improvised and overdubbed parts. Groove Collective's union of jazz and hip-hop, unlike that of its peers by and large, was actually spawned in a club setting, New York's Giant Step, where it evolved over several years into the 10-musician cast represented on the CD. Highly danceable, and far less predictable and robotic than most recordings in this genre, Groove Collective boasts a commendable communal dance groove informed by hip infusions from such fast-emerging avant-jazz celebrities as Bill Ware (vibes), Richard Worth (flute), Jay Rodriguez (sax), Josh Roseman (trombone) and hard-bopper Fabio Morgera (trumpet). Groove Collective is a nonstop slamming, quasi-jammin' experience (the cuts "Nerd" and "Rahsaan song," a nod to the late woodwind giant Rahsaan Roland Kirk, are particularly airplay-worthy), a moveable gestalt of terrific originality and vitality. Groove Collective makes music of inclusion. Because much straight jazz is perceived, however mistakenly, by today's young adults as retrograde and restrictive, Groove Collective's approach to improvisation, within a danceable framework, can only serve to make true jazz—the music of the moment, the sound of surprise—more attractive and palatable to new ears. I'm all for it. Good show, gentls... Equally welcome is the return to the retail racks of GIL SCOTT-HERON, whose new Spirits (TVT, 23 E. 4th St., New York, NY 10003/212-979-6410) should uphold the faith of his longtime fans and attract a new generation of listeners desperately in need of some real-deal counsel. It's been nearly a dozen years since Scott-Heron issued any new music (he's been busy touring and writing), and Spirits arrives at a propitious time, what with all the dangerously misogynistic gangstabitch bullshit and shoot-'em-up bravado gaining so much street-

ON THE CHART

Things are tightening up on the jazz chart again this week. Of the 25 releases on the chart, 18 are moving upwards. Including a whopping eight new entries. Atlantic's Modern Jazz Quartet holds onto the top spot, its third consecutive at #1 (topping lists at 3rd Street Jazz, KDNK, WDET, WEOS and WFPB). Qwest-Reprise's A Tribute To Miles, is a close second (4-2), as Novus-RCA's Roy Hargrove & Antonio Hart (3-3) keep pace. Private Music's Etta James (12-6) makes the biggest jump into the top 10, one of two tributes to Billie Holiday on the chart (a third just missed the chart this week).

Top debut honors goes to Columbia's Terence Blanchard, the trumpeter playing The Billie Holiday Songbook on his newest release (look for the promo CD featuring Terence playing and Billie singing, separately thankfully) at #13. Amongst the big names also debuting this week are ECM's Charles Lloyd (#14), Columbia's Wynton Marsalis Septet (#18), the final recording from Messidor-Rounder's legendary Mario Bauza (#21) and Blue Note-Capitol's John Scofield/Pat Metheny pairing (#25). (JAZZ REPORTS PRINTED AFTER TOP 35 REPORTS) side currency. Scott-Heron, the putative founder of the hip-hop nation, the master rapper/storyteller and humanistic activist, lays out the deal right from jump street on the opening cut, "Message To The Messengers":

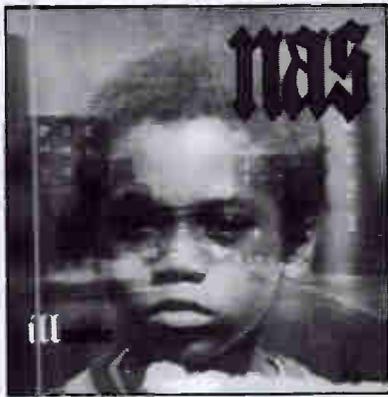

... We got respect for young rappers and the way they're freewayin'/But if your [sic] gonna be teachin' folks things/Be sure you know what you're saying/Older folks in our neighborhood got plenty of know-how/Remember, if it wasn't for them, you wouldn't be out there now.

In so doing, Scott-Heron the hip griot (the wise man descended from the African-American oral tradition that espouses spirituality and practicality) makes abundantly clear that self-respect, which begets respect for and from others, and smarts never go out of style. During his decadelong recorded absence, Scott-Heron hasn't been oblivious to the rise of the insistent hip-hop beat and its potential for galvanizing the feet, hearts and minds of the new generation on the entrance ramp to the information superhighway. That coming revolution will be televised. Anyway, Scott-Heron incorporates the now sound of hip-hop into his concept effortlessly, naturally, judiciously. His wide personal conception encompasses hip-hop bopoetry, jazzy-pop grooves, narrative person-to-person vernacular love songs and political polemics. A seductively electronic sizzle underlies many of the cuts on Spirits, and the tripartite "The Other Side" captures his meaningfully dreamy groovescapes as effectively as his best work in the late '70s and early '80s. His singular blend of social commentary with seductive sounds is as engaging as ever, and probably even more so. A walking, talking CNN before there was such a thing (when Ted Turner was still racing sailboats), Scott-Heron is alive and well and saying the things that must be said. I've been out of touch with Scott-Heron's teachings for the past decade, but judging by the invigorating sounds on Spirits, he's still on top of things. Call for the CD, get it, play it... The newly formed Ubiquity label (776 Haight St., San Francisco, CA 94117/415-252-5766) hits the mark solidly with its first two issues, the various-artists compilations Home Cookin' and Mo' Cookin'. More than a mere collection of groovy jams, these two titles create an environment, a live-club ambience within which programmed and acoustic sounds, hip raps and soulful vocals intermingle and coalesce into a balanced blast. The Rhythm Section (featuring, on various cuts, saxists Sonny Simmons, John Payne and Jacko Peake) is heard to fine effect on two cuts on each disk. Ubiquity, on the basis of this pair of CDs, appears headed for a successful run.

DOPE!

NAS Illmatic (Columbia, 550 Madison Ave., New York, NY 10022-3211)—With so many misinformed and misguided icons circling the rap planet, there are few who can express daily life like 20-year-old Nas (who hails from the same Queensbridge, NYC, projects made famous by Marley Marl and MC Shan) while remaining consistently candid, creative and thought-provoking from start to finish. While Snoop Doggy Dogg has given gangster rap a commercial finish, Illmatic makes no attempt to win over fans who haven't already witnessed Nas' greatness—most notably on Main Source's "Live At The Barbecue." Illmatic seems as if it were made strictly for the underground, depicting its struggles with the same acute vision with which Scarface reaches the heart of the gangster lifestyle. With his head-spinning mastery of rhyme Nas describes the world around him, making you feel as though you are a close member of his click, yet he leaves out the colorful world of make-believe and turns a world seen through his unaffected eyes into headstrong poetry ("N.Y. State Of Mind" and "Half Time"). With an underground foundation of DJ Premier, Large Professor, Pete Rock and Q-Tip (who guest raps on "One Love") behind it, Illmatic becomes seamless, rocking hardcore jazz and booty-moving funk. After absorbing tracks like "Life's A Bitch" and "The World Is Yours," you will see that Nas isn't just another kid who has turned a weak will into an angry heart; Illmatic is infused with conviction and explosive passion. When others feel as though the world has abandoned them, Nas will tell you quite simply to go for yours, take what you need and be heard—even if all you're doing is rocking an old-school rhyme or representing your 'hood. This is as real as rap gets. Get ill: "Memory Lane (Sittin' In Da Park)" and "One Time 4 Your Mind."

NEFERTITI L.I.F.E.—(Living In Fear Of Extinction) (Mercury, 825 Eighth Ave., New York, NY 10019)—When glancing down any hip-hop chart, you'll notice the spotty representation of female rappers. While Salt-N-Pepa and Queen Latifah soak up the MTV airplay, Nefertiti models herself as a modern-day prophet of rage. While most rappers of both genders continue fronting for their hardcore projects, this 20-year-old couches proud, revolutionary statements within a spectrum of well-crafted beats with the smarts and awareness of early Queen Latifah, but with a political, black-fisted mindset ("Family Tree"). L.I.F.E. is loaded with a variety of vital topics, exploring and examining human existence from a plethora of angles. Never afraid to take control with her raps, Nefertiti laments the death of female rapper MC Trouble on "Trouble In Paradise," while instilling strength and courage on cuts like "No Feeling Inside" (which samples Chaka Khan's "Tell Me Something Good"), and displays her keen observations on "Miss Amutha Nature." ON THE CHART

BEAT BOX YA DON'T STOP: There's still no budging the top five this week, as Chrysalis-ERG's Gang Starr (1-1) keeps Hard To Earn atop the chart and Loud-RCA's Wu-Tang Clan (2-2), Jive's A Tribe Called Quest (3-3) and Columbia's Nas (4-4) fall in line for a second straight week. Earning a spot in this week's top 10 is Jive's platinum-selling R. Kelly, who moves 12 Play—highlighted by "Bump & Grind"—into this week's top 10 (11-8), just behind Delicious Vinyl-EastWest America's Brand New Heavies (10-7). After severing ties with Elektra after Time-Warner refused to release its second album due to "controversial" cover art, K.M.D. continues to climb 24-17 with "What A Niggy Know" (collectors, get your hands on this one), edging out the mega-huge Above The Rim soundtrack (29-18) and the steadily improving Heavy D. & The Boyz on Uptown-MCA (28-21). Our only debut this week's comes from Harlem native Keith Sweat, who debuts the "How Do You Like It?" 12" at #35. This week's Adventure Picks: 1) K.M.D.; 2) Above The Rim; 3) Gang Starr; 4) Lords Of The Underground; 5) Coolio; 6) Illegal; 7) Fugees (Tranzlator Crew); 8) Brand New Heavies; 9) Masta Ace Incorporated; 10) Ice Cube. boisterous, lyrical brainstorm "No Nonsense" features guesting by Guru, who adds his endorsement amid Nefertiti's continuous lyrical punch. Get with the program: "Mecca To Watts," the insightful "Don't Drink The Water," "Walkin' Da L.I.F.E.," "Just Move Yo" and "Visions Of Nefertiti."

III MAN RIOT "Products Of The World Gone Mad" [100 BPM] (Black Wiz, 92 Sullivan St. #2B, New York, NY 10012) (212-941-6043 or 908-486-7150)—Parking their jeeps in the hip-hop hotbed of Brooklyn, NY, the three men making up this riot—Yuk, Tru-Son and D.A.—sport their lyrical wizardry on this single, which features leader Yuk's rapid-fire, simile-infested rhyme skill. The group's raps are aggravated hardcore boasting which express an underlying sense of frustration within the black community. Musically, III Man Riot's savvy hip-hop rhythms, layers of sampled jazz piano and Miles Davis-esque trumpet samples, make for a refreshing and novel outcome.

MORE VIBES

In trying to keep up with all of the fine single releases, here are a few diamonds-in-the-rough worth spinning. After earning his stripes with Massive Attack, TRICKY's languid, stateside debut called "Aftermath" [84 BPM] (4th & Broadway, c/o Island, 400 Lafayette St., New York, NY 10003/310-276-4500) is a drowsy, ambient head trip with gentle vocals by Martina adding a hypnotic flair to the already captivating groove. The "I Could Be Looking For People" mix is a personal fave...The glitter-funk grooved second single by COOLIO, entitled "Fantastic Voyage" [108 BPM] (which is a hip-hop interpretation of the Lakeside classic), probably should have been the first release from the upcoming 'N Da Closet (Tommy Boy, 902 Broadway, 13th Fl., New York, NY 10010/212-388-8300). Adding an electro-funk groove and Coolio's relaxed rhymes, this cut has the commercial appeal and infectious pulse to contend with Domino and Snoop Dogg—QDIII offers a remix as well...Priority's new Ice Cube-produced crew ANOTHA LEVEL debuts with "What's That Cha Say" [84 BPM] (Priority, 6430 Sunset Blvd., Hollywood, CA 90028/213-467-0151) from its self-titled debut. This Los Angeles-based group is basically capitalizing on the emergence and popularity of West Coast rap in the fashion of Pharcyde, while voicing its own quirky wordplay. Be sure to check out "Phat-T," an energetic freestyle session featuring Pharcyde and the "Humpty Dance" beat. Mad phat shout outs to: David J. (Black Wiz), Jeff Sledge (Jive), Carmelita (Delicious Vinyl), Scoop and Bryan (Tommy Boy) and Karen Harris (JPR). Word out.

TEN CITY

TEN CITY "Goin' Up In Smoke" (12") (Columbia, 550 Madison Ave., New York, NY 10022-3211)—The inventors of the deep house vocal tradition have finally returned with an aching, beautiful jewel of a song originally recorded by Eddie Kendricks. Formerly known as Ragtyme, this threesome—Bryan Stingily, Byron Burke and Herb Lawson—has been through numerous label changes since it came together in 1984. Now, the group is preparing for its first Columbia LP and this is a stunning introduction. Ten City, in its finest moments, was always able to evoke a lyrical sense of longing and pain while also conjuring up a mammoth accompanying groove, the essence of rhythm and blues. And like Robert Owens, Ten City is the inheritor of an R&B tradition which has all but died on contemporary commercial radio. The harmony vocals suggest anything but resignation, rather introducing a sense of hope and wonder, while Byron Stingily's lead vocal is a heart-wrenching portrait of pain and triumph. CJ Mackintosh contributes the finest mixes here, the grand "Salvation Mix," which has the crispness and feeling of his recent reworking of Inner City's "Good Life," and the "Salvation Dub," which puts Stingily's soaring vocal swoops behind the chorus to chilling effect—not that the original album version or Roger S.'s more New York-y mixes are in the least bit hard on the ears. This is a tremendous return.

MAURIZIO/CARL CRAIG "Domina" (Basic Channel, c/o Submerge, 2030 Grand River, Ste. 303, Detroit, MI 48226/313-963-1025)—This has been a good week. First, the new Ten City single and now a blindingly brilliant new single from Maurizio and Carl Craig. The peripatetic Maurizio set up the Basic Channel label in Detroit last year after leaving his native Berlin. Having released five singles since its inception, the label has already become world-renowned for its gorgeous electronic dance landscapes. The idea of pairing Maurizio with Detroit visionary Carl Craig is a very good one on the strength of this opus. Maurizio's mix is nearly 12 minutes, opening with a crisp high-hat and kick drum pattern before charging, metallic keyboard stripes cover the mix. The final minutes of the track stand as some of the finest techno moments of the year, with juddering, quasi-melodic keyboard spans which seem to sway like the top of a skyscraper in a strong wind. Carl Craig's "Mind Mix" is a lush affair with vocal sampling strangely reminiscent of early Art Of Noise, its hushed intensity builds over the whole side. A couple more singles like this a week certainly wouldn't go amiss.

ON THE CHART

It comes as no surprise that the first domestic full-length from the Aphex Twin, on Sire-WB, debuts at #2, though it has yet to unseat Island Red-ILS' Orb live record, still comfortable at #1. Another RPM chart fave, Orbital, debuts its new ffrr/London-ILS EP at #7. There are a number of upward leaps this week. The venerable Trent Reznor/NIN moves nine places (12-3), while Smash-Island's Sheep On Drugs move up seven spots (11-4) and Messiah moves

12 places (17-5) (the group's full-length is due soon from WHITE LBLs-American). The other new entry this week is from U.K. indie fave Seefeel (which has worked extensively with Richard James), debuting at #19 with its first domestic album on Too Pure/Astralwerks-Caroline, and the re-entry of the Italian FPI Project (now domestic on Moonshine) at #20. (RPM REPORTS PRINTED AFTER TOP 35 REPORTS) tutelage of fellow Chicagoan DJ Pierre (who's no slouch himself), Felix Stallings has released singles on a half-dozen labels in the past year and most have been real corkers. His debut full-length is quite a manifesto for the hardhouse underground. Thee Madkatt Courtship by DAWNS EARLY LIGHT is a full-on ascent/descent into basslines stretched out beyond the range of sight and sound, into the ether and the night air. "Panic 60466" is a squelching, stripped-down jerker with analog madness aplenty, while the "Who? Tha Critics" is a heavily wild-pitched journey through caverns of sound. Like the current Chicago crop of experimental producers, Stallings deliberately blurs the line between techno and house, and for that reason his records are too often ignored in both camps. Yet this album works as well on the floor as it does at home. Don't let this one pass you by (Deep Distraxion, White Swan House, Bennett St., London W4 2AH U.K./081-995-6229)...As if the LP weren't enough, Stallings just delivered a belter of a single for Strictly Rhythm's Groove On label. "Tempertandrum" by RADICAL MEN is a bassline thunderstorm stretched out over 14 smoldering minutes. The synth figure that dominates the track is a behemoth that refuses to sit down, and beneath it are dozens of chameleonic, resonating acid sequences and dragging, flanged effects. This is a heavy, heavy monster for the real wildpitch fiends among you (Groove On, c/o Strictly Rhythm, 1650 Broadway, Ste. 312, New York, NY 10019/212-246-0026).

DJ CURL ACTIVATOR

Who'd have guessed that former Billboard dance columnist and Peace Bisquit supremo BILL COLEMAN would team with 8-Ball's LOUIS "BALO" GUZMAN for the viciously campy "Activator (You Need Some)" on Johnny Vicious' Vicious Muzik label. This little hardhouse number will give your body (and hair) a workout like you've never experienced. The "T.C.B. Mix," parodying the heavily-advertised brand of jheri curl activator, is the most bass-heavy and frantic of the three here, although they all have a thump that fits right in with the Wildpitch sound or Angel Moraes' "The Cure." Electronic calisthenics not only for the native New Yorker (Vicious Muzik, 420 E. 64th St., New York, NY 10021/212-371-5345).

LOOKING EAST

SHU-DE joins the Tuvan fray with Voices from The Distant Steppe (RealWorld, c/o Caroline, 114 W. 26th St., New York, NY 10001/212-989-2929). Like fellow Tuvan band Huun-Huur-Tu, Shu-De mixes together the traditional instruments and unique throat singing of the region, but the group departs with a distinctive contemporary element to its music, developing new ideas without resorting to new technology. This is not so much fusion as growth, and it is an interesting blending. One tune in particular (track four, which is misidentified in the liner notes) features a rap-like fire of verses, accompanied by drums with a distinguishing pop groove and a female chorus that sounds almost like soul. Another song is a more classical Russian/Western choral piece of great beauty. Unaccompanied throat style solos, small instrumental ensemble works for jaw harp, drum, flute or two-stringed fiddle (that have an almost country and western feel) and some marvelous group singing and story-telling make the entire album a broad, yet still very rooted, vision of life in modern Tuva.

The beauty of many eastern musical forms has been much maligned of late, forged into "meditative" "healing" rubbish that is rife with silicon samples and white singers from California who studied (read: took a vacation for a week) in Japan or India, where they acquired new guru-sounding names. I have a pile of them in my "outbin" that I won't even dignify by naming. So it is important to note when an artist whose music is genuine, simple and serene comes along. TADASHI TAJIMA plays the shakuhachi, a Japanese bamboo flute, with no embellishments, no tricks of plastic keys or electronic digits. The sacred pieces on Shingetsu (Music Of The World, P.O. 3620, Chapel Hill, NC 27515-3620/919-932-9600) are powerful examples of an ancient craft hundreds of years old, refined by a modern sect called Watazumi Do, whose members believed that the playing of the flute was one of the "Tao," or ways of being. It requires absolute attention to the soul of the music, the performer and the environment in which they are played and, as such, are truly meditative. There is no established rhythm to these songs, only an intuitive improvisation that each artist makes concrete, and the performances here are exciting, with a personal, breathy quality unlike any other form.

Japanese composer TAN DUN is lauded by John Cage as the music "we need as the East and the West come together." Dun's work speaks not of the human voice of African and European music, but of the immutable qualities of environment and nature where silence allows sound to live. The four pieces on Snow In June (C.R.I., 73 Spring St., New York, NY 10012-5800/212-941-9673) encompass these qualities in arrangements for the Arditti String Quartet, the unique Nieuw Ensemble

Although it still stands triumphantly on top, Ellipsis Arts' three-CD box set Africa Never Stand Still is getting considerable heat from Hannibal-Rykodisc's Ali Farka Toure With Ry Cooder (5-2). Meanwhile, even though she remains steady at #3, Mango's Angelique Kidjo is equally poised to make a big break. Next week could well prove to be a decisive moment for all three of these records, as the top of the chart is very close...Elsewhere, the rest of the numbers remained relatively stable this week, with only a few noteworthy gains by some equally noteworthy records: Hollywood's Yothu Yindi inches up 7-4 and Shanachie's

Mutabaruka moves up 10-7, while RealWorld-Caroline's Shu-De slices its way up the charts, moving 23-12. Only two debuts this week: Green Linnet's Ukrainians bow in at #17 and Heartbeat's righteous Truth And Rights Observer Style compilation comes aboard at #21. As always, we respectfully ask that you include artist, title and label for every item you report, especially if you are faxing or giving your report to someone else to call in. Thanks! (NEW WORLD MUSIC REPORTS PRINTED AFTER TOP 35 REPORTS) from the Netherlands, the New York-based Talujon Percussion Ensemble, Finnish cellist Anssi Karttunen, soprano Susan Botti, harpist Gillan Benet and flautist Kerri-Lynn Wilson. This international cast spans the huge chasm of emotions and ideas in Tan Dun's compositions with potency, grace and radiance. The title piece, an elegy composed for cello and percussion ensemble, typifies his work as it soars and swoops from thundering heights of the drums to the gentle earthliness of the solo cello.

LOOKING ELSEWHERE

For sheer size there is little around to compare to the music of DOUDOU NDIAYE ROSE as recorded live in Senegal for the album Djabote (RealWorld, c/o Caroline, address above). Fifty percussionists and 80 singers can't be wrong, can they? Here is the essential strength of African music: the rhythm of the drum and the rhythm of the shaking earth fused to the voice of men and women. His arrangements are almost orchestral, building intensity of melody and rhythm with only shades of voice and beat on his palette.

TALITHA MacKENZIE was the original "mouth" on Mouth Music's first album, and now that she and Martin Swan have parted ways musically, she has produced an album in the original image of the band on Sólas (Shanachie, 37 E. Clinton St., Newton, NJ 07860/201-579-7763), complete with synth drums, multi-tracked samples and acoustic touches. Her voice is magnificent, the arrangements are, for the most part a distraction. She has taken the puirt-a-bue (mouth music originally conceived for dancing) into the 20th century, and her singing is wonderful. But, unlike Swan's often daring if over-done tracks, the ones devised for this album by MacKenzie and Iain McKinna often seem stiff and poppish. The music is at its best when it doesn't try so hard and lets the voices prevail. "Mournful I Am" rises above the other tracks, MacKenzie's multi-tracked voices simmering over a bed of cooling electronic coals, showing off the best of both worlds. Half the album reaches this equilibrium of woman and machine, and makes Sólas a worthy descendant of Mouth Music's original vision.

Guitarist DAVID TANNEBAUM takes a new look at the work of Astor Piazzolla on El Porteño (New Albion, 584 Castro St. #515, San Francisco, CA 94114/415-621-5757), a collection of solos arranged for guitar from the bandoneon master's prodigious catalog, and "Cinco Piezas," five pieces composed specifically for guitar by Piazzolla in 1980. The four arrangements by Sérgio Assad that comprise "Las Cuatro Estaciones Porteñas" bring Piazzolla's music into a new light that emphasizes both the darkness of his melodies and the diversity of his influences, particularly the early jazz and ragtime of the United States that subtly inspired his work.

Peace.

CMJ COUNTRY

JACKPOT!

BOB WOODRUFF Dreams & Saturday Nights (Asylum, 1906 Acklen Ave., Nashville, TN 37212)—This impressive debut from Bob Woodruff answers the question "What would happen if one of those bands associated with Brooklyn's Diesel Only label went to Nashville and got the big record company treatment?" Woodruff knocked around NYC's Lower East Side, playing to the same crowd as the World Famous Blue Jays, the Blue Chieftains, et al. for a few years before catching the ear of the Asylum folks and consequently moving to Music City. The results are a remarkable mix of hard country (think Steve Earle or Jason & The Scorchers) and sturdy guitar rock in the dB's/R.E.M. vein that's flawlessly executed with the help of such top studio guns as Glenn D. Hardin, James Burton, Harry Stinson, Sam Bush and Bernie Leadon, and the distinctive background vocals of Joy White and Emmylou Harris. Dreams & Saturday Nights is unquestionably the best debut to come from Nashville since Marty Brown's High And Dry. Nearly every track is dreamy, but start with these: "Bayou Girl," "Poisoned At The Well," "Alright" and "I'm Standing Here."

TOWNES VAN ZANDT Roadsongs (Sugar Hill, P.O. Box 55300, Durham, NC 27717/919-489-4349)—Whenever Townes Van Zandt releases a record it's an event, since he does so infrequently and because he's considered by so many to be the Dean of Texas singer/songwriters. Roadsongs is a different kind of release for him, though, as it contains 15 of his favorite songs written by others and recorded "in a number of joints all over America," as Van Zandt writes in the liner notes. Contemporaries like Bruce Springsteen ("Racing In The Streets"), Joe Ely ("Indian Cowboy"), Bob Dylan ("Man Gave Names To All The Animals") and the Rolling Stones ("Dead Flowers") are paid homage. In addition, tunes by such influential performers from the past as Lightnin' Hopkins (whom Van Zandt obviously admires, as four of the Texas bluesman's songs are included here) and A.P. Carter are performed in the languid yet soulful manner that's particular to Van Zandt. As he moans at the start of "Automobile Blues," "When we get laid back, man, we get laid back." We wouldn't have it any other way.

SUGARBEAT Sugarbeat (Planet Bluegrass, 1539 Pearl St., Ste. 200, Boulder, CO 80301/800-624-2422)—Although the group is fashioned after a traditional-style string band, Sugarbeat is anything but old-fashioned. Comprised of Tony Furtado on banjo, Matt Flinger on mandolin, Sally Truitt on bass and Ben Demerath on guitar and lead vocals, Sugarbeat takes a well-rounded view on acoustic music, incorporating bluegrass, folk and jazz. All the group's members are super pickers. Both Furtado and Flinger were named National Champion on their respective instruments in 1991, and their skills allow them to take the songs, primarily written by Demerath, to unexpected places. Sugarbeat also interprets tunes by other songwriters, such as John Hiatt's "Drive South" and Sandy Denny's "By The Time It Gets Dark," in utterly original ways, making the band's debut even more appealing. Sweet: "When It Leaves You," "Stag Hound" and "Fry The Trout."

PALADINS Ticket Home (Sector II, c/o Futurist, 6 Greene St., New York, NY 10013/212-226-7272)—On their fourth record and first for this new label, Southern California's Paladins continue to pour it on. With an intense combination of slamming blues, driving rockabilly and earnest ballads, the trio covers a lot of ground with a maximum amount of gritty musicianship and sweat-soaked soul. Ticket Home received a sympathetic production from kindred spirit Cesar Rosas of Los Lobos, who adds an occasional guitar part and makes sure the Paladins' powerful sound rings true. From the twangy title track and the throbbing blues of "15 Days" to the burning version of Dave Alvin's "Brand New Heart" to the slinky rockabilly of "Who's Been Sleepin'," they deliver as passionate a roots-rock record as you are liable to hear this year.

SHORT SHOTS

There appears to be more records being released these days that fall into the Horizons category than ever before. Some are good, and some are not, but I just can't seem to get caught up on all of the new country/blues/zydeco/bluegrass/folk/whatever in a bi-weekly column. There's been some rumblings about starting a blues column and chart in the pages of CMJ, which would certainly free up some space and give the blues the attention it deserves. In the meantime, let's struggle with this seemingly never-ending pile of CDs and cassettes...It took JAMIE O'HARA a little bit longer to get his first solo album out, Rise Above It (RCA, 1540 Broadway, Times Sq., New York, NY 10036), than it did his former partner in the O'Kanes, Keiran Kane, but it seems like the extra time was worth it. With an unadorned and melancholy sound that matches the stark emotions his songs lay bare, O'Hara strikes to the core of country music with 10 finely crafted songs. If only all the records that came from Nashville sounded this good. Check out "What's A Good Ol' Boy To Do," "I'm Livin' For You" and "Some People Just Can't Walk The Line"...The buzz on STORYVILLE emanating from Austin is intense, and with the release of Bluest Eyes (November, 530 Broadway, 2nd Fl., New York, NY 10012/212-343-0799), it's easy to hear why. Leader/singer/songwriter Malford Milligan has gathered an all-star band, including Arc Angels/Double Trouble rhythm section Chris Layton and Tommy Shannon, guitar slinger David Grissom and producer/guitarist Stephen Bruton, to execute his Texas-style soul to near perfection. Milligan's voice is a wonder (he was voted Best Male Vocalist at this year's Austin Music Awards), adaptable to an apparently boundless variety of styles, from the hard rock of "Wings Won't Let Me Fly" and "Long Way To Midnight" to the infectious pop of the title track to glistening ballads like "Carry You Home" and "Water." Don't miss his version of Sam Cooke's "A Change Is Gonna Come," which not only makes plain Milligan's roots, but nearly tops the original to boot. Whew...With the success of Willie Nelson's latest project, the emergence of Junior Brown and the eager anticipation of the new Johnny Cash record, it's shaping up to be a good year for classic country artists. And now you can add MERLE HAGGARD's name to that list. 1994

(Curb, 47 Music Sq. E., Nashville, TN 37203) is his most cohesive set of honky tonk and country blues in way too long. His inimitable vocals are as clear and self-assured as they've ever been. "Way Back In The Mountains," "What's New In New York City" and "Solid As A Rock" are among the standouts on a disc that's sure to thrill Merle's fans...The most striking element in SARAH ELIZABETH CAMPBELL's music is her uncommon voice. On Running With You (Dejadisc, 537 Lindsey St., San Marcos, TX 78666/512-392-6610), she uses it to optimum effect, telling stories and expressing the complex feelings portrayed in both her own songs and those from other writers. Noteworthy tracks include Campbell's refreshing take on the Tom Russell/Greg Trooper-composed "The Heart," the breezy country/folk sound of the title track and the bittersweet "All I Could Say."

IT'S FESTIVAL TIME

Dates for this year's Telluride (Colorado) Bluegrass Festival are June 16-19. With the Rocky Mountains as a back drop, this is perhaps the most awe-inspiring site of any music festival in the United States. The announced lineup so far matches the locale: NANCI GRIFFITH, PETER ROWAN, JIMMIE DALE GILMORE, BELA FLECK & THE FLECK-TONES, JERRY DOUGLAS, ROSEANNE CASH, the BAD LIVERS, TIM & MOLLIE O'BRIEN, JUNIOR BROWN, ALISON KRAUSS and THE BAND, with more additions to come. Call (800) 624-2422 for more information...The first Old-Time Music and Radio Conference is set for May 31-June 2 in Mt. Airy, NC. Organized by a new group called Old-Time Music On The Radio (a non-profit, volunteer association looking to increase awareness of traditional music through radio airplay), it will feature speakers, including GARRISON KEILLOR, panels, old-time music performances, radio and musician workshops and more. Registration to the conference will include admission to the annual Mt. Airy Fiddler's Convention, which has a more than 20-year tradition of presenting mountain music in its natural setting. Contact John Lilly at (304) 636-1903 for more info.

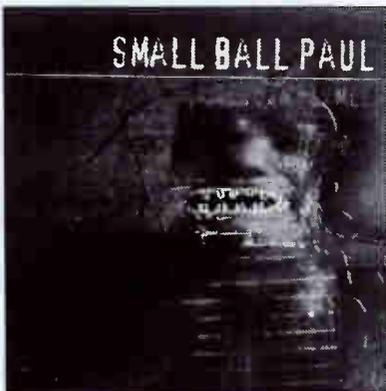

DOWN IN LOUISIANA

Two of the best new bands to come out of the zydeco scene in recent years are the BLUERUNNERS and BEAU JOCQUE AND THE ZYDECO HI-ROLLERS, and both have new releases that are well worth seeking out. The Bluerunners' The Chateau Chuck (Monkey Hill/Sky, c/o Ichiban, P.O. Box 724667, Atlanta, GA 30339/404-419-1414) is a bit more rock than their Island debut, but it's still an ample display of their energetic interpretation of zydeco. If the Pogues grew up listening to Clifton Chenier, they probably would have sounded like this. Guaranteed to make you wanna pogo or do a very fast two-step: "Invitation," "Burn Up The Night" and "Solid Sound"...Coming from a totally different, but no less innovative, direction are Beau Jacque And The Zydeco Hi-Rollers, who have added funk and rap to the traditional zydeco sound. Their second for Rounder (1 Camp St., Cambridge, MA 02140/617-491-0700), Pick Up On This!, adds to their repertoire with extended romps like "Zydeco Boogie Woogie," giving a nod to ZZ Top, "Hi-Rollers Theme/Low Rider," which obviously takes its cue from War, and in a bow to the music's originator, a passionate take of Clifton Chenier's "Do Right Sometime." This is state-of-the-art zydeco, 1994 style, funk up to the max and screaming "Let's dance!"

ARGH!!! IT'S THE LOUD ROCK REPORT

SMALL BALL PAUL

You In Flames

(Thirsty Ear, 274 Madison Ave., Ste. 804, New York, NY 10016/212-889-9595)—Over the past four years, Small Ball Paul has transformed itself from a relatively unknown (except to its local fans in St. Louis), loose-sounding garage band into an intense, rockin' ball of fire. You In Flames rips with reckless abandon through a series of scorching, aggressive tracks that satisfy any craving for a quick fix of heavy, attitude-laden grind. Producer Lou Giordano (Sugar, Bats, Mission Of Burma) solidifies the overall sound, while allowing the band to retain its raw and powerful edge. Bouncing through a series of full-on, blaring tunes, as well as moody, low-groove rockers, Small Ball Paul never loses any of its power and vehemence. The diversity of the material holds your attention from start to finish, and encourages repeated listens. Jesse Gilsinger (guitars/vocals) sums it up best by saying, "Some of our songs could go on 120 Minutes. Some of them—a song like 'Swallows'—could go on Headbanger's Ball. We're heavy, sometimes we're fast, usually we're loud." Check out "The Quiet Lady" (written about the band's neighbor, "who truly believes that Satan has moved in next door"), "Sunflowers" and "Canyons." —Jenni Glenn

DISGUST

Brutality Of War

(Earache, 295 Lafayette St. #915, New York, NY 10012/212-343-9090)—War is an unnecessary, horrifying fact of life. On its debut album, Brutality Of War, Disgust vocalizes its extreme hatred of war and all its repulsive consequences. Steve Beatty (Mass), Dave Ellesmere (Discharge, Dr. & The Crippens), Dean Jones (Extreme Noise Terror), Gary Sumner (Blitz, Blitzkrieg) and Lee Barrett (who's from an electro-industrial band) joined together in the studio for a mere six days, wrote every song on the spot and completed the whole album without ever rehearsing or playing a gig together. The result? A spontaneous, brazen blast of lightening-fast, pure punk rock. Although Disgust does possess some undeniable Discharge similarities, the band's sound has a singular brutality and temerity to it. Every track is based on the terror of war (mainly in response to the Bosnian crisis) and screams with disquieting, intimidating power. If you like growling, blazing, ear-crushing madness, this one's for you. And if you don't like Disgust or the band's music, the band only has this to say: "Fuck off, you're not invited! Fuck the lot of you! Simply fuck off!" —Jenni Glenn

VARIOUS ARTISTS

Deep Six

(C/Z, c/o A&M, 1416 N. LaBrea Ave., Hollywood, CA 90028)—"The Seattle sound" not only rules the airwaves, but it is also the predominant force behind today's contemporary alterna-rock music. Ten years ago, when spandex and bandanas were the happenin' thing, grunge music was basically non-existent...or, so we thought. Rumbling around in the tranquil city of Seattle was a plethora of bands that had a shared sonic vision, which attracted little enthusiasm from the music industry at large. Rising above the close-mindedness of the times, these musicians struggled to survive, playing the music they believed in, and finally people began to take notice. Over the years, this genre has evolved into a monstrous force that continues to crush everything in its path. Deep Six, originally compiled 10 years ago, contains the first ever released tracks by Green River (which later gave birth to Mudhoney and Mother Love Bone, the latter of which breathed life into Pearl Jam—got that?), Melvins, Malfunkshun, Skin Yard, Soundgarden and the U-Men. Other bands evolving from the complex family tree planted by the Deep Six include Nirvana, Monkeywrench, Love Battery and Screaming Trees. What we have here is 14 raw, blistering tracks from some of the world's greatest talent. It's exciting to hear where some of today's popular, refined grunge music came from. Now it's time to share it with everyone else. —Jenni Glenn

ALICE COOPER

The Last Temptation

(Epic, 550 Madison Ave., New York, NY 10022-3211)—Let's not forget that almost two decades ago the music and antics of Alice Cooper layed the foundation for many of today's up-and-coming bands, which are heavily influenced by his blend of pounding, pure rock 'n' roll. Even though Alice may not fit in with today's typical "metal" genre, he can still rock with the best of 'em! Just because it's not ear-crushing, bludgeoning metal, doesn't mean it's not great music. His latest release, The Last Temptation, sets forth a tumultuous terrain of catchy, hard rockin' riffs, amidst upbeat, energetic rhythms that suck you in and keep you groovin'. Alice collaborated with notorious comic writer, Neil Gaiman, on the concept and lyrical make up the album, which makes it one hell of an innovative, fun project. As if the name Alice Cooper weren't enough to make this record an instant hit, try Chris Cornell, who joined Alice on "Unholy War" (the first single) and "Stolen Prayer." Needless to say, both these songs kick ass! Also check out "Side Show," "Lost In America" (the lyrics are hysterical!), "Temptation" and "It's Me" (destined to be a huge AOR hit). —Jenni Glenn

YNGWIE MALMSTEEN

The Seventh Sign

(CMC, 106 W. Horton St., Zebulon, NC 27597/919-269-5508)—Two things can be said about Yngwie: First of all, he possesses amazing guitar talent, with influences ranging from Ritchie Blackmore (Deep Purple, Rainbow) to Beethoven (what band was he in...?). For a while there in the '80s, he was the influential guitar player, and even in this "post-shred" grunge era, he recently made it into Guitar World's list of "The 100 Most Important People In Guitar." Second, he is confident in his abilities and follows his own musical standards militantly, refusing to change his style to fit with what's "in." Two years after his last release, Fire & Ice, comes The Seventh Sign, which is sure to please his large following of long-time fans,

even if it doesn't convert nay-sayers. The new addition of vocalist Michael Vescera (formerly of Loudness) is apparent after just the first few seconds of the album's opener, "Never Die," a fast, driving tune that will probably get exposure on hard rock radio. Also notable is "Pyramid Of Cheops," as well as the instrumental "Brother" and the acoustic piece "Sorrow," which leaves the listener longing for more. —Brian Ives

INCH

(Seed, 19 W. 21st St., Ste. 501, New York, NY 10010/212-691-8805)—This is, by far, one of the best things that has sprouted from Seed Records. With Stresser, Inch has taken the whole mile that will definitely put them over the top. The band hails from San Diego (which seems to be spawning some of the best new bands of late) and has a solid following of local fans there. The LP and a U.S. tour slated for later this year will give Inch the chance to expose the rest of the country to its blend of grungy, groove-laden punch and grind. Lead vocalist Stimy wails with seemingly effortless power through gritty, intense rockers, as well as the gliding, more mild-tempered tunes. Steve Haigler (Quicksand, Pixies) lent his mixing magic to this self-produced LP, creating a heavy atmosphere of vibrancy. "Linger" (the first single) is centered around blasting drum beats, ripped apart by huge, razor-sharp guitar licks, while songs like "Stresser" and "Crippler" are swathed in gentle sweeping chords that rise and plunge with effervescent stealth. Also noteworthy are "No. 84 vs SL/A," "I'm The Cat" and "Oxidizer." —Jenni Glenn

IMPERIUM

Too Short A Season

(Leviathan, P.O. Box 399227, Cincinnati, OH 45239/513-825-0612)—Over the years, David Chastain and Leviathan Records have brought us a variety of instrumental virtuoso work that has garnered plenty of attention from the metal community. Now, for a little change of pace, they've opted to explore the realms of progressive metal with Imperium's Too Short A Season. With the massive success of bands such as Fates Warning and Dream Theater, there's no reason why Imperium shouldn't generate the same type of acceptance. These Dutch boys sure ain't clog-wearing, suspender-toting geeks! Andre Vuurboom (vocals), Michel and Rob Cerrone (guitars), Remco Nijkamp (bass) and Patrick Gerritzen (drums) weave an intricate web of brutal force, brimming with anxious tenacity. Vuurboom's resilient, high-end vocal wails pierce through a thick wall of menacing guitars like a lazer through steel. The song structures are marked by fast, relentless surges of electricity melded into pools of swirling rhythm. Highlights include "Silenced," "Play Of Compassion," "Chemical Dreams" and "Messiah Mask." —Jenni Glenn

Up On Blocks (EP)

(Wild Boar, 103 Pleasant Ave., Upper Saddle River, NJ 07458/201-825-1060)—Up On Block is saturated with ominous, deranged bursts of sonic fury amidst eerie, spine-tingling sounds from beyond. The band incorporates a huge array of musical styles, so it's hard to put a label on its sound. What do we know for sure is that it's a heavy, dense thundercloud of power, drenched in haunting gloom. The band prefers the term "industrial-gore." Up On Blocks rips an ozone layer-sized hole in the face of hard hitting music today. The clanging ice cream truck music and scary "lccccceee Creeeoamm" bellowing at the beginning of the EP are enough to make any kid drop his dixie cups and push-ups and run screaming for cover, fearing Mr. Soatee for the rest of his life. Keep your eyes peeled, because you will definitely be hearing more from these boys in the future. In the meantime, check out "Bitch Pipe," "Walleye," "Sad Sac," "Salenger" and "June" for a wild trip through the bizarre world of Gearhead. —Jenni Glenn

WE'RE BACK, BIGGER AND HEAVIER THAN EVER!! New U.S. distribution by Alliance—European distribution by Music For Nations—Canadian licensing with BMG. More to be announced soon! Priority #1 is YNGWIE MALMSTEEN, The Seventh Sign, his first LP for CMC. Impact track "Never Die" (track #1). Going for adds NOW! On tour in the U.S. all of April, and June through September. Already #1 in Japan and top 20 in several countries of Europe! The legend continues... Coming soon: BLACKTHORNE (super group that includes Graham Bonnet, Bob Kulick and Jimmy Waldo—Depressive Age and Thunderhead. Young angry metal from Europe). And for the fall, the debut CMC LP by KIX and special double-CD reissue of the first two European LPs by ACCEPT! Plus more t.b.a.l

Jay Hughen, A&M Records, Los Angeles, CA (213) 856-7139

SOUNDGARDEN start a theater tour in Seattle on May 28. This will undoubtedly be your last chance to see them in venues this sweaty. THERAPY? are doing East Coast dates with the Rollins Band. Continue into Troublegum to "Die Laughing." PAW's "Jessie" is being re-launched because of our belief in the song and our commitment to this band. You'll receive a CD single with extra tracks to play around a tour date. Also, Deep Six was the original 1984 compilation that featured the first tracks ever released by MELVINS, SKIN YARD, Soundgarden, Malfunkshun and GREEN RIVER. It's been out of print for years and, as a Soundgarden completest, you don't know how happy I am that A&M is finally releasing this on CD. Call me if you need anything or you want to talk tours. Stanley Cup prediction = Detroit Red Wings. Probie will skate with the cup.

John P. Spain, Heart & Soul Records, Chicago, IL (312) 775-9797

It's been three years since my last Dialogue, via WRRG. Enough nostalgia. SPHINX is the news. The debut album from Sphinx, entitled Test, is a guitar driven, full throttle rock & roll attack that has been on your desk for three weeks. Thanks to all who have added and please continue to play it. If you don't have the CD, call me. If you have it, play it. Check out "I Know," "Jonestown," "Test," and the guitar crunching "Underground." It's been in the top 10 Adventure Picks the last three weeks. Test made its debut at #76 on the Loud 100, moved to #66 and bolted to #37 last week. Sphinx is touring the country and will be in Indianapolis, Kansas City, Minneapolis, Columbia, MO, Detroit, Nashville, Madison, Atlanta, Milwaukee, Columbus, Nashville, Cedar Falls, Atlanta and back home to Chicago. If you want to check out a show, give me a call and I'll set you up. Also look for Sphinx to hit the road in the near future with Geffen recording artist Pariah. Sphinx has already played several shows with Pariah in the Midwest. Also, dig up Saved By Grace by SLAM ST. JOAN. Some of you are still playing it. It's a great disc with plenty of diverse tunes. For all you alternative folks, look for HUGO—power pop coming your way in May. Phoners, promos, guest lists, call me. P.S. The Organization disc on Metal Blade smokes.

Sue Stillwagon, Zoo Entertainment, Hollywood, CA (213) 468-4225

This is the week to add "Breed," the new track from COURSE OF EMPIRE. Put that baby down on your list. Also, as a reminder, they are out on the road with Prong for the month of April. Check them out. Speaking of being on the road, that's where TOOL is. VARGA, Varga, Varga...

Munsey Ricci, Skateboard Marketing Ltd., Valley Stream, NY (516) 825-5549

Well, the spring is starting to pick up with some cool tours. The DIO camp heads out the end of April, now you know you love that. The next single goes for adds next week, be there for "Jesus, Mary And The Holy Ghost." BLACK SABBATH's new single, "I Witness," is awesome. We've seen sales generating out of markets with strong airplay. Don't miss the boat on this one. PANTERA's tour is out and in your face. Tickets are tight, so don't wait to call us. The record is holding its rightful place at #1 everywhere. MOTORHEAD is out doing some dates across the country. We should have dates this week for ya. By now, you have the IMPERIUM CD on your desk. Check out "Chemical Dreams," the first single. It's progressive thrash out of Holland. Adds this week. We're setting up interviews in a few weeks. You know you want one after listening to Imperium. The SARKOMA and LOVE/HATE will be in hands this week for adds on the 18th and 19th, along with Dio.

Jon Nardachone, Atlantic Records, New York, NY (212) 275-2135

Spring Road Trip 1994. Kudos to all—Mustang Jim (sorry I wrecked your hood), Jeff the VA State Trooper who worships STUTTERING JOHN, Nashville's greatest John Nagary and Kidd Redd of WKDF (the trophy rules my desktop), Lea Pisacane and Kim Garner, Russ Cerrito and the other Epic dude, Erik McDonald (we missed ya, man), Jay Phebus and KING'S X for being the hardest working band in the land, Doug Pinnick (I worship the eight-string), Ty Tabor for being a UFO fan, Jerry Gaskill for being a JAWBOX fan, Jeremy Gaskill (the kid can shoot pool!), WAPI's Donald David, Nashville downpours, Alabama tornado, Criminal Records in Atlanta, new STP, Jon Oliva, Zachary Stevens, Paul O'Neill, Dan Campbell (new TAGE sounding epic already, just wait till Alex jammms!!), some bad-ass fun at Holiday Inn Surfside (sorry to Allison and Dina), the true "King Of The South" Ric Brown, Howard Davis of Genitorturers (you must be a true rock 'n' roller), Bike Week in Daytona, WXTB's Brian Medlin for leading the charge on COLLAPSING LUNGS, Livestock 1994, the boys in Pearl Jam for nine hours of lunacy, Sonia and Danielle for your gracious southern hospitality, also Morris Sound in Tampa, the man with the plan, Rob O'Conner (Tampa to NYC in 18 hours!), Georgia cops (thax for being so kool). Congrats to Jeff Pescatello and Ron Michaels as they begin a legacy in CT!

Sheri Sinclair, Energy Records, New York, NY (800) 235-5678

On your desk this week—LARVA. Metal add dates April 25, 26. Don't miss out on this one. Tracks to check out: "Kia," "Word" and "Faces So Real." If you need any further info just give me a buzz. XOXO.

Maria "Mom" Abril, Metal Blade Records, Tarzana, CA (805) 522-9111

GWAR commands all of you to kneel! Numero uno added across the whole damn board with some bodacious debuts. How psyched am I to be at Metal Blade? "Jack The World" continues to dominate the MTV airwaves on both Headbanger's and Beavis & Butthead. Tour dates are a reality, so if you want to see the show, you better start rappin' with me now. I want this record #1! Yes I do. Yup. CANNIBAL CORPSE's The Bleeding has gone out and the add date for "Staring Through The Eyes Of The Dead" is April 18th. Cannibal has made their first video ever for this track, so their exposure is going to be completely out of control. Two years in a row, these guys have moved more merchandise than any other act on the Milwaukee Metalfest. The fan base is huge. The hype is VERY real. The vocals are even discernable without a lyric sheet!! Say Amen, brothers and sisters. Coming soon to metal: BEATS THE HELL OUT OF ME. On the road: Beats The Hell Out Of Me, GWAR, BROKEN HOPE, CHEMLAB, THOUGHT INDUSTRY, and soon, Cannibal Corpse. Peace, love and cannibalism. Mom outthere!!

REVIEWS

DEAD CAN DANCE "The Carnival Is Over" (4AD, c/o Warner Bros., 3300 Warner Blvd., Burbank, CA 91510)—It's not a hard and fast rule around here, but we tend to concentrate more on the quality of the "music" or the artist when it comes to music video. A great song and a decent video often carry more weight than a dreadful song and an eight million dollar video. That said, the last time we were so drop-jawed about a video was for Los Lobos' "Kiko And The Lavender Moon," and this stunning video of Dead Can Dance's "The Carnival Is Over" just happens to be by the same directors, Ondrej & Zuzana Rudavsky. Let us note that although this track is as beautifully detailed as its video, the video steals the show at first glance. Every magical image one could imagine (or could never, ever imagine) marches and repeats across the screen, from fantastically costumed carnival performers to lavishly decorated horses and glowing geometric shapes. Along-side the dense, playful videos of Peter Gabriel and the Quay Brothers' films for His Name Is Alive, "The Carnival Is Over," is the finest art that music and video have to offer. (SC)

JAMES "Say Something" (Mercury, 825 Eighth Ave., New York, NY 10019)—When we first heard James' current LP, Laid, we noted this song as one of the album's brightest (we can spot a single with one ear behind our backs). The song's companion video shows why James has broken away from the pack of pleasant Manchester pop bands. Not only are its latest videos memorable and inventive (for "Laid," the band turned up in unflattering drag and here it's behind bars in gorilla suits) but also, the band's sound seems to contain more passion than the rest. You'll be singing along with this track by the time the chorus comes around the second time, and it won't seem vapid since there's plenty of substance and bite beneath Brian Eno's shimmering production. (SC)

ANTHRAX "Hy Pro Glo" (Elektra, 75 Rockefeller Plaza, New York, New York, NY 10019)—Drawing parallels between mass consumerism and military propoganda is not exactly rocket science ▶

for any campus liberal, but in "Hy Pro Glo" the combination of war footage, military recruitment ads and vintage soft soap commercials is more than just easy irony. The reason that this video is simultaneously so effective and entertaining is that it doesn't get caught up in the silliness of kitsch or drive itself into political convulsions as it strives to make its point. Coupling war footage with the dog food slogan makes a powerful statement, saying in effect that it's all just meat in the end without succumbing to the doctrine of political rock. Be all you can be, indeed. —Scott Frampton

MONSTER VOODOO MACHINE "Get On With It" (D-Tribe, c/o BMG, 1540 Broadway, Times Sq., New York, NY 10036)—"Monstrous" wouldn't be too silly a word to describe this band's sound. With riffs as meaty and catchy as any White Zombie tune and a righteous shout-along chorus, "Get On With It" is a contagious blast of straight-on groove and pound. Like many of the best videos of its kind, this clip forgoes fancy gimmickry and ridiculous plot lines for the band's adrenalized basement performance. Heightening the fluid camera sweeps and edits are pulsating light effects and reverse color splashes that fuel the six-man Machine's stomping sound. (CH)

GRAYS "Very Best Years" (Epic, 550 Madison Ave., New York, NY 10022-3211)—You don't have to be a genius to realize the Grays like the Beatles. Aside from the melodic comparisons, the video for the California band's debut single has the feel of the Fab Four's impromptu farewell gig atop the Apple Studios. Singer/guitarist Jason Faulkner who left Jellyfish after one album (he didn't care for the silly hats and they didn't let him write songs), leads this infinitely catchy track. This non-sense video is the ideal way to see this band—equally as melodic and inventive as Jellyfish, but without all the cartoonish and retro-culture trappings. The band's other chief songwriter, Jon Brion (who added guitar to the last Jellyfish record?) also produced and played bass, guitar and keyboards all over Aimee Mann's solo debut. That's right, there's power-pop talent in this band galore. (SC) V

GUEST DIALOGUE

Henry Frayne of the Moon Seven Times, Roadrunner Recording Artist

I first heard about the Internet a few years ago when a cyberfriend told me he saw an e-mail post about my band the Moon Seven Times. Feeling a bit like "Unfrozen Caveman Lawyer," I went with him to one of the University of Illinois' computer sites to see what it was all about. Until then, I didn't realize the communication possibilities that this worldwide information network afforded a little band from the "Middle of Nowhere, U.S.A."

Over the last few years, with a modem and junky old IBM compatible computer, we have accessed various mailing lists and newsgroups to find our potential audience. We also maintain a regular mailing list ("Snail Mail") that we use to advertise merchandise and shows. The Internet is an extremely inexpensive and fast way to contact people interested in our music. For example, there is a bulletin board, which I use frequently, that deals solely with 4AD bands and related music.

Besides the obvious promotional uses, I've been able to contact journalists, not only in the U.S., but in Australia, Mexico, Norway, England and Germany. As anyone who trades international phone calls or letters will know, it is very expensive or very slow. For this, the Internet is too good to be true. Access is usually free for students through member universities, or to the general public through organizations like the local "Prairienet." I can trade messages with a journalist in Melbourne who is still waiting for his Moon Seven Times advance CD, or a programmer in Trondheim, Norway, to find out if the new CD is locally available.

But, not everyone is on the Internet. I'm hoping that soon Roadrunner will be hooked up so that I can trade notes with the offices in Amsterdam, New York, Cologne and Paris (Ceas, are you reading?). Thinking that we were pretty cutting edge, we put our e-mail address on the latest CD, 7=49 (flagrant new release plug). Of course, recently everyone seems to be doing it.

As the new CD is hitting stores, I'm receiving e-mail regarding availability (!!!) and questions from MDs about those hidden tracks at the end

(oops, those tracks which until recently were hidden). If you want more information about the band or our mailing list, get on the Internet and write me at frayneh@firefly.prairienet.org

RECORD COMPANY

Sivan and Sean, Radio and Retail, Wax Trax!/TVT Records, New York, NY (212) 979-6410

If you haven't heard GIL SCOTT-HERON's TVT debut Spirits, you're late (an early pregnancy test is on its way). Hip-hop and jazz enthusiasts combined deem him their greatest influence and, suffice to say, the '90s have finally caught up with our modest guru...SISTER MACHINE GUN has stormed the charts with The Torture Technique, and reloads for the KMFDM Angstfest tour with Chemlab...From the blood and guts of the Chicago music scene (from Thrill Kill and RevCo to Pigface and Ministry) Wax Trax! brings forth CHRIS CONNELLY & WILLIAM TUCKER, who have released an acoustic EP (you've read correctly), Songs For Swinging Junkies. Catch them on tour, and call me if you haven't received a copy...Ethnotchno Sonic Anthropology, Vol. 1 combines the spirituality of world music with the world's foremost innovators of progressive house, trance and ambient music...CATHERINE Sleepy EP will slam you in the face with a big, heaping slab of melodic-distorto-indie rock! Mixed by Butch Vig, the album will be released in September, and let it be said now, it is going to blow you away...Like the Nightblooms? They suck. Bettie Serveert? Fermented rubbish. Holland rocks, but you'd never know it from these bands. CORDS is the shit. Play the Gaspig EP, and watch your listeners get sexually aroused! TVT, strength through diversity...

Pete Rosenblum, National Manager College/Alternative Music, EastWest America Records, New York, NY (212) 275-2860

What you should be playing: The DENTISTS Radio Novocaine (cool 1/2-hour radio show), WHALE's "Hobo Humpin' Sloba Babe" (call for limited amount of t-shirts), PANTERA's latest Far Beyond Driven (don't be such a wuss) and the BRAND NEW HEAVIES (acid jazz trip; call for vinyl). What you should be looking for: the DAMBUILDERS (coolest thing to come out of Boston since the tea party). Full CD at your station now, and the Dentists' next release to radio ("Spaceman" plus three live tracks). Who is on tour: the Dentists (with Shonen Knife) April 16 through May 9. BUFFALO TOM is doing New England area college dates April 14 through April 29. The Brand New Heavies are hitting major cities from May 9 through May 17. Pantera is rolling across the U.S. through April 30. See the Dambuilders 4/21 at the Black Cat (D.C.), 4/22 at James Madison Univ., 4/27 at Wetlands and 4/30 at Lebanon Valley College's indie music fest (PA).

Melissa Stegall, Promotions, Alternative Tentacles Records, San Francisco, CA (415) 431-5697

OK, by now you've all received Headache Remedy by VICTIMS FAMILY. Please let your DJs know that it's arrived and they should check it out. The band is touring over in Europe right now, but be prepared for them to play in a town near you soon. You should also be receiving the new full-length from JELLO BIAFRA AND MOJO NIXON at this time. It's titled Prairie Home Invasion, and features Mojo's band the Toad-liquors. Finally, keep your eyes open for ALICE DONUT's new release Dry Humping The Cash Cow. It was recorded live at CBGB and features a trombone cover of "Helter Skelter," as well as a new song called "Hose." Later in April we'll be sending you two 45s. One is by C.J. Ramone's band LOS GUSANOS, and the other is an all-new BRUJERIA single. Later.

Rosie V-Estrada, Hollywood Records, Burbank, CA (818) 560-5670

What do you want now? Well, what I want is a "Brand New Cadillac" and many other things, but for now I will settle for listening to the BRIAN SETZER ORCHESTRA CD. It's great, smooth music that's healthy for all ears and everyone should experience. So try something different and spin it some for me. And if you're one of those people who has to see to believe, then give me a ring for upcoming tour info this April. Now that I'm on the subject of touring stuff, YOTHU YINDI will also be doing their thang in April, and you can catch a very memorable and amazing show by calling me. This Australian Aboriginal band, whose philosophy is to live with Mother Earth rather than conquering her, have put their energy in their latest record, Freedom. You should all know what I mean, if you're playing it (check it out, it really is hype stuff).

Todd Sievers, American Recordings, Burbank, CA (818) 973-4545

Turn it up! More volume! Play it louder! Louder! Louder! Louder! How else can one listen to music? It must be loud! The Supersuckers are a perfect example of a band that is enhanced with volume. Volume causes the Supersuckers to make the devil sign, synchronize their guitar movements, even wear cowboy hats for Christ's sake! Volume is your friend too, it allows you to forget your: problems, tensions, preconceived notions, attitude, PC values, even your reasons for loving music. Just turn it up to the point where you can't ignore it and rock out—this is the essence of volume. "Heavy Liquid" by THEE HYPNOTICS and "Thunderdome" by MESSIAH are two songs that need, or should I say crave, volume. Thee Hypnotics make you forget where you are, all you will want to do is play air guitar. Messiah simply exudes overwhelming energy—great music to work out to. "Don't Give" on SWELL's new album is an exploration of sounds and intricacies that benefit from volume in a different way. Where is the whistling coming from? Is the phone ringing? Volume is so underrated; volume is the fourth dimension. Even JOHNNY CASH needs volume, the power of "Down By The River" is unreal. Enjoy your job as a music person and rediscover music, play it loud. I can't hear, I think I have permanent ear damage.

Beth Krakower, Mechanic/Futurist Records, New York, NY (212) 226-7272

By now you all know that TAD's touring in Europe with Soundgarden. Keep jamming the CD. Keep your eyes peeled for the PALADINS Sector 2/Futurist release. The title track, "Ticket Home," goes for adds April 11 and 12. Soon to be rocking your world—CYCOMOTOGOAT, EARTH 18 and SEED.

Sheri Sinclair, Energy Records, New York, NY (800) 235-5678

Well, now that you all have returned from that great Florida sun, let's get back to the music.

New to the alternative world is LARVA. On your desk this week. Larva will blow you away. Check out the title track "Waiting For Daybreak." Listen to it, play it, you'll love it. If you need any further info on Larva or need anything, just gimme a buzz.

David Weigel, JR/Rust Records, Portland, OR (503) 282-8449

Antiquated "musicians" putting anything they damn well please on tape and whore-mongering it to idiots like me is a dark form of extortion! There was a time when I would buy just about anything certain bands would put on CD, LP or cassette. Hell, they'd pass wind on a record and I'd buy it. More and more frequently these days, the industry patriarchs' butt vapor gets on a record and achieves superior consideration to that of any discharge from the proletariat's anus. Natalie Cole, for example, accepting a Grammy for her duet with her deceased father Nat, and reaping all the credit, while talented musicians sat at home toiling away, made a fella ill. I suppose I'm just jealous. Yeah sure, it would be great to just sit around and write silly tunes for the masses, but how could I sleep at night? I guess what I'm getting around to is that same old moral...just listen to IN JUNE's new 7" and everything will come to pass because, that's not what they did when they put these songs to tape.

Tom Gates, Roadrunner Records, New York, NY (212) 219-0077

A word to the wise (and the unwise): never combine beer, Jaegermeister and cole slaw. Just a bad idea altogether...trust me. BLACK TRAIN JACK's You're Not Alone is upon us. From "Handouts" to "That Reminds Me," this sucker cranks. Pop the CD in and see what all of the hubbub is about. I love this band to death...I also trust that everyone is still enjoying the heck out of DIE MONSTER DIE. Get your body to one of their shows over the next few months. Also check out the CD single for "Swallowed" with a twisted glimpse of "Sweet Home Alabama" on the B-side...The MOON SEVEN TIMES are winning over MDs everywhere. "My Game" keeps coming back as the most played track. 7=49 is just luscious. Keep in touch!

John Di Maio, Radioactive Records, New York, NY (212) 489-4820

Thanks for the tremendous reaction and support of LIVE. After a year and a half of everyone asking when their sophomore CD was coming, both the band and I are glad you're not disappointed! Journey beyond "Selling The Drama" to great Throwing Copper cuts like "I Alone," "Top" and "White Discussion." Tour dates coming soon, so you can see Live live...Thanks also for the super airplay on ANGELFISH! Not a great many previously unknown artists vault into the CMJ top 20 with their full-length debut. Look for this Scottish band as the opening act on Live's club tour...A brand new EP of music from DIG will arrive shortly. Soft Pretzel is the first new stuff from the band since their self-titled debut from last summer. It's a limited-edition for college radio only—a thank you from the band, because you discovered and supported them first!

Scott Perry & Will Simon, Beggars Banquet/Thirsty Ear Recordings, New York, NY (800) 866-2313

So I'm nearly asleep last night, and I hear something rattling beneath the space heater. Papers shuffling in the breeze, I drowsily think. Ferocious rattling again! I turn on my Jesus nightlight to discover a rodent running with a cracker! Damn, if I didn't jump! Great, so now I'm living with a mouse. The big question: snap trap or glue trap? Business: Life Model, the new BLUE AERO-

PLANES record, will be out in June. Sate your passions with the Broken & Mended EP, featuring a diverse range of songs. Try "Get Out!" for a little something different...Those "Planet Love"able DYLANs return with Spirit Finger, now on your desk...Tearing shit up in your own backyard: ROLLERSKATE SKINNY now with Pavement on the West Coast, solo in May. If you think Shoulder Voices is insane, wait 'til you see them live. Simply amazing. I warned you. Double-team chaos: HAIR & SKIN TRADING CO. opening for Medicine! CHARLATANS up to their hips in tour dates. Conan on April 20! SMALL BALL PAUL wreaking havoc on stage in your neighborhood. Check this space soon for SUNDIAL summer tour dates. Seek out the new RIPE single on Sub Pop. Their Beggars debut coming in July. Digging: Latin Playboys (automatic 1994 Top Ten), Dambuilders, Grifters, Veruca Salt, Bone Dali. Missing: Jazzfest, knocking golf balls onto barges as they roll down the Mississippi. We need interns! Send us your resume if you're coming to New York and want tons of label experience.

Nicole Blackman, Mondo Tomato, Blackman PR, New York, NY (212) 685-3001

Do they still make the Bonne Bell Lipsmackers in the jumbo size with the neck cord? I feel a fashion vacuum needing to be filled...Thanks to WFSR, KMSU, WHRW, WMWM, KCR and KJHK for their support on the startling debut from the WRENS on Grass. 25 slices of charm and rush, Silver is an album you'll be playing for years...Astonishing how many folks called me for cold and flu advice. Could it be the warm, mothering tone of my voice? All right, take notes. For sleeptime, go with carbohydrates to store energy for tomorrow (pasta, rice, potatoes), and a shot of Nyquil. It's what junkies use to get to sleep let's rock animals!

when they can't get a fix and it'll knock you out so you don't cough all night, darling... CAPTAIN HOWDY is back with their second single "Tattoo Of Blood"/"The Juliet E-Mail" this month on Shimmy-Disc. Produced by Kramer, Penn Jillette on vocals and organ, Billy West on guitar (the voice of Ren & Stimpy), Debbie Harry on backup vocals and drums, and a song written by Lou Reed—quel starpower, kittens!...Also new from Grass: DITCH WITCH, ROLLING HEAD and LOCUS SOLUS...A big thank you to Regina Joskow at PolyGram...Hands down 'zine pick: White Bread c/o Marc Mazique, RPO 6183/P.O. Box 5063, New Brunswick, NJ 08903-5063...Rock For Choice's spoken word benefit is at The Kitchen in NYC on Monday, April 25. Miss it and risk my wrath—which is considerable. Ask anyone.

Tony Brummel, Victory Records, Chicago, IL (312) 862-4442

New releases that have been sent out to those chosen: SNAPCASE Lookinglasself and a limited number of you will receive HI FI AND THE ROADBURNERS "Demons of Wicker Park 7". If you don't receive these in the next week than you'd better call to be serviced with these two liberating releases. Snapcase are playing a slew of East Coast and Northeast dates in April to support the new full-length before they go to Europe in May with Sick Of It All for three months. I hate doing this but for those stations that have charted bands like Helmet, Prong or Clutch, Snapcase will fit right in. Their aggressive style of aggro-hard-core-noise will hook you right away. For all you so called alternative types Hi Fi And The Roadburners' in-your-face greaser/rockabilly/jump blues/punk rock 'n' roll should prove subversive enough. Interviews with Snapcase/Hi Fi And The Roadburners and tickets for shows are a phone call away. New full-lengths in the works for: WARZONE, STRIFF, EARTH CRISIS and INTEGRITY.

Vicki Aubin, College Radio Promotions, Radical Records, New York, NY (212) 475-1111

Scalpel...clamps...IV...now push Mrs. B! Congratulations! You've just given birth to a healthy bouncing baby...uh...I.C.U.!? INTENSIVE CARE UNIT—the band, Defy—the album. Punk for the masses! Hardcore pop! Fire ("Fire! Fire!"), fury, fear! So far on 38 college stations and 19 video shows nationwide! Check out Raygun (Jan. 94) and the upcoming Interview (full-page spread!) for more I.C.U. info. and enlightenment! Got it? Gotta get it? Call me at (212) 475-1111! Listen, play it, add it, and help support independent music! All you urban music directors, check out MR. FREEZE AND THE HOMEWRECKERS "We're Compatible" 12" (nearly 50 radio adds nationwide), new, fresh hip-hop that won't make you lose your F.C.C. license. Also, check out the video for "Oh Susanna" (the first single from the upcoming album Cold Wave Of Terror, featuring Grand Puba) on your local music video channel. For more info. contact D'Von at the above number. Future projects include Skampilation '94 (big fest May 14 and 15 at the Grand, NYC and compilation later in the year), so get your pogo sticks ready and your plaid pants pressed! Later.

Eric Rosen, Twin Vision Promotion, New York, NY (800) 899-4464

Hello everyone, it's me again...I hope you are all feeling joyful due to spring's arrival. I know I am...Just a quick note to remind you to play SLANG as much as possible! I know many of you have had problems playing this one due to its small size, so thanks to all of you who are playing it anyway! Those of you who are having problems with it getting lost may decide to put it in a regular size jewel box. This has solved the problem almost everywhere...You all should also have received PAUL K & THE WEATHERMEN's new one called Garden Of Forking Paths. These guys just finished a small tour warming up for the Afghan Whigs. If any of you got a chance to see them, please let me know what you thought...See you all later and please feel free to return my calls every now and then...

Mike Wolf, Amphetamine Reptile Records, Minneapolis, MN (612) 874-7047

As of this writing, HAMMERHEAD's Into The Vortex should be changing the way you think about hard rock music. Total atom-splitting action of a relentless, alien nature. The CROWS' debut full-length is also at your station, initial response from radio stations includes such intelligent remarks as "I don't get it" and "what's going on here?"...Thanks for you open-minded analysis. AmRep veterans VERTIGO have broken up. I say to you dummies now that most of you have missed out on one of my favorite bands, real guitar scientists with songs that most bands would kill for. Look for Bill and Gene to continue working together under a different name. More great shakes: As of June 1, Amphetamine Reptile will be exclusively distributed by Mordam, who also exclusively distributes Sympathy For The Record Industry, Kill Rock Stars, Estrus and many others. The first full-length release handled by Mordam will be JANITOR JOE's Lucky. Any store wondering how this will affect them or how to get hooked up, please feel free to call Pat here at AmRep at the number above, or Ken or Karen at Mordam at (415) 575-1970. Press and radio promotions will not be affected, any of those inquiries should be directed to me. Speaking of which, the West Coast should prepare for loads of tour action from COWS, CHOKEBORE and SUPERNOVA together at the end of April and into May. If you're looking for dates, guest list action, or any other info, gimme a call.

Jay Septoski, Alligator Records, Chicago, IL (312) 973-7736

It's an unfortunate circumstance in the blues that all too often some major talent never gets the recognition that it deserves. Case in point are two of our most recent releases. SUGAR BLUE has been dazzling audiences with his pyrotechnic blues harmonica since the late 1960s, but widespread recognition has eluded him throughout most of his career. He spent the 1970s recording with other people, Willie Dixon, Johnny Shines, and he's also on five of the Rolling Stones' records, starting with Some Girls. If you think all blues harmonica players of the last 20 years are just Little Walter or Sonny Boy Williamson imitators, then give a good listen to Sugar, he'll blow your proverbial balls off. LUTHER ALLISON is another example of some major talent that hasn't gotten the exposure he deserved. Luther also came up in the late 1960s destined for greatness. Luther is a tremendously soulful vocalist and a very tasty guitar player. Check out Soul Fixin' Man, his latest for us, and discover just what I'm talkin' about.

Chris Anger, Hightone Records, Oakland, CA (510) 763-8500

I'm madder than a monster truck driver in a four-cylinder two-wheel-drive import pick-up about you woosies at college radio. I'm sick of your "We play both kinds of music: punk and rock" attitudes, and gosh darn it, I want some changes! If you want to make the station's format "friendly" and "unchallenging" to the listeners, then you might as well hand-deliver your woosie resume to the Quiet Storm. Every year we get a few more of you that want to impress your punk rock friends by playing less variety, and I say variety is college radio. Once there was a man who was programming a college radio station in an un-named Texas city near Waco and he made sure that nothing but show tunes and new age music was played. Well friends—that man grew up to be David Koresh and now he's all burnt and crispy! Say what you will, but the fact of the matter is that if you can't segue Jawbreaker into George Jones into Uncle Tupelo into Burning Spear into Poor Righteous Teachers, maybe you don't know too much about music. Try to mix hip-hop into dancehall, punk rock into country, noise into experimental jazz and maybe (as my close and personal friend Fat Albert would say)

"you might learn something before we're done." I hear those folks at Hightone have plenty of quality music from all genres—maybe you should give 'em a try.

Adam J. Pollack, Polygram Label Group, New York, NY (212) 603-3942

Out this week, the Canadian Cast Recording of Joseph And The Amazing Technicolor Dreamcoat featuring Donnie Osmond. Feel free to give me a buzz for a promo. Other music you may be interested in, FRETBLANKET, four Brits with guitars from Stoubridge, "Twisted" is now at college radio, the album hits in June. STAKKA BO—very kitschy alterna-dance music from Stockholm, already on at the End and Live 105. Kind of like ABBA crossed with the Stereo MC's. The new PAUL WELLER hits radio the week of 4/25, with an album in May, and there's a whole ton of new stuff coming this summer that I don't have space for here (111 words so far, not counting these). Everyone should go see C.C. ADCOCK, our new cajun/blues player, call if you need tix or date info (4/21 Wetlands, NYC). Weller goes out in May, and we should have MEAT PUP-PETS dates in a week or so.

Pete Kernast, WTSR, Folk/World Music Director, Trenton, NJ (609) 771-3200

I had the good fortune of attending the sixth Annual North American Folk Music & Dance Alliance Conference in Boston, MA, in February of this year. The event is similar in format to the NMS, CMJ and SXSW conferences. A big exception is that the Folk Alliance locale changes to different sites within the U.S. or Canada every year and next February it will be in Portland, OR. This allows folks from other parts of the country to sample the regional musical flavor. There are the usual seminars and showcases but they're more low-key and grassroots events (i.e. the artists performing in the hotel suite). A sense of camaraderie and community is also a big attraction and of course what would a conference be without schmoozing! So what's my point for this Dialogue? It's in regard to the radio/media seminars I attended. They approached the promotion of the music from the aspect of public and triple A (AAA) radio formats while college radio was ignored. A big emphasis was on the increase of listenership/membership (market share) for the station. Using the music to market the station rather than truly trying to promote the music. While I understand it comes down to a business issue, this is one area where college radio has a much needed role. Even CMJ can play a part and I'd like to put forth some ideas in a future Dialogue.

Jason Knell, MD, WJMF, Smithfield, RI (401) 232-6044

Hey. I just wanted to say "Hi" to all of you people who have nothing better to do than read CMJ cover to cover. I'm the new MD over here. My office hours are Monday and Thursday 3-5 p.m. I'll be settling in the next few weeks so give me a call, so I can get to know everyone. As the weather starts to get nicer, I hope some of you are getting outside to get your required dose of sunlight and Frisbee. Let's see, music that has been perking up my ears recently...well, I can't stop groovin' to the HATTERS. You might want to check out local favorites SUPERBUG and BLUESHIFT SIGNAL. We are also anxiously awaiting the new BEASTIE BOYS release. That's about it for now. Hope to hear from a bunch of you. Have fun!

Kim Gentry/Jen Gore, Brand Spankin' New Rock Directors, KBVR, Corvallis, OR (503) 737-3640

Greetings from Cow Valley! We are your new rock directors, ready and willing to tell you exactly what we think of what you're sending us. We're both pretty open-minded to all labels, large and small, but if a band sucks, it sucks, and we won't add it. Kim was program director here for the last two years, and was the one who told MTV where to put their shitty spoken word tour when it came to our campus earlier in 1994. Jen has been a DJ here for a year and has been helping Chris Joy out last term reviewing music and learning the ropes. New things Kim likes: VERUCA SALT's 7" on Minty Fresh and LAGWAGON's CD on Fat Wreck Chords. New things Jen likes: SPORE's CD on Taang! and BRATMOBILE's CD on Kill Rock Stars. We're looking forward to speaking with all or some of you. Our office hours are on our voice mail message.

Jonathan Levitt, International Music Director, Radio Shanghai, Madison, WI (608) 255-1011

First of all it has taken a while to get established, but finally some people out there have taken me seriously enough to send me records. People have taken time out of their hectic schedules to ask, "What the hell is Radio Shanghai?" You got call letuhs? Basically what I am is a way for you to get your records played in China, not only this but the most cosmopolitan city in China, with a population of 17 million, and an estimated listenership of three to four million people a day. Sound too good to believe? All you have to do is call me and give me a minute to explain. Musically the best thing around is BEVIS FROND with It Just Is. I just do not understand why Nick Solomon (Bevis) was dropped from Reckless and no one has picked him up stateside, that man writes some of the finest psychedelic pop around. Oh and by the way, Radio Shanghai wants all genres of music, just remember CD only! Office hours M-F 9-3 central.

Christopher Spiwak, PD/MD, WVHC, Herkimer, NY (315) 866-0300 ext. 354 There is only one thing I can say—HELIUM. This (Pirate Prude) is perhaps the best new record (so far) in 1994 in my opinion. Well, anyway, it was one of those records that grabs your attention from the first listen. To those of you who haven't heard it yet, and I really hate to make comparisons but, this is the intensity of COME with the tender beauty of VELOCITY GIRL, yet a truly original sound. This record should be put into rotation immediately! Big thanks to the great people at Matador for another quality recording.

Susan Apfelbaum, Soon-to-be Ex-Music Director and Almost College Graduate, WRUV, Burlington, VT (802) 656-0796

Things I'll never understand: why we should officially add something that is already charting; why some people still don't know that there are two music directors at WRUV (Jeff Brown is an excellent MD—he'll be here through the summer); why I bother writing Dialogues and why anyone reads them anyway. People who have influenced me most: Chuck A., Cliff (I miss him), Eric, Spott, Stephanie S., Chuck S., Errol, Rhea...I hate name dropping because it seems so elitist, but these are just a few of the people who have taken the time to be my friends over the past year (thank you). I hope we'll stay in touch. Sorry to get mushy and stuff. I guess there is lots of good in this whole music game after all. I'll be around until the end of May. Anton Viegas will be the new MD and he's really cool, so be nice to him.

William Marion, Station Manager, WPLS, Greenville, SC (803) 294-3045

Greetings from the Deep South! All I have to say right now is SARAH McLACHLAN! Anyone who hasn't been to see her in concert should go because she is incredible! One of the top 10 shows! Thanks to Sharon at Arista for setting up the in-studio. Also the DEVILINS, who are on tour with her, put on a great show. Music that we seem to love here at WPLS: FRENTEI, TORI AMOS, SUNDIAL, MORRISSEY, KRISTIN HERSH, CHARLATANS, LUNA, JALE 7", SAM PHILLIPS, SWELL EPI BECK is a loser! Also thanks goes out to Brian and Chris at Sony for a killer party, Seth at Atlantic for...just being a great guy, and anybody else out there that deserves notice, but that I forgot to mention. Of course I must say hello to Rich at 4AD and remind him that if he wants those Star Wars tapes he better be good!

Eitaro Hayashi, Music Director, KTUH, Honolulu, HI (808) 956-4848

Yo, I hope y'all checked out my little column on Jap-Rap last week. (If you missed it and are interested in gettin' info, please call me.) Again, it's some cool shit. But what I got to say this time around is about one of our special weekly programs. On Monday Night Live we try to feature as much local bands as possible—whether it be blues, rock, jazz, folk...Anyway we'd also be interested in airing some "live" stuff from what we call here the mainland, and would like to see if anyone would care to send their recordings. Hey, we's stuck on this Hawaiian rock, and gots ta get us some music. 'Tis all for this week.

Ernie Torres, Ambient Guru/Music Director, WXAV, Chicago, IL (312) 779-9858

Total chill is the word. Like a friendly drug, ambient is the doorway to other worlds. Don't call it boring or sterile, think of it as a deeper awareness of sound. There's a great wealth of releases gassing the 88X airwaves and required mind trips. Silent Records leads the pack with two new stunning releases, From Here To Tranquility Vol. 2 and JOHN C. LILLY's E.C.C.O. Picked up the import copy of the APHEX TWIN's Selected Ambient Works Vol. 2 on Warp Records and well worth the price (yeah, I know it's coming out domestically). WILLIAM ORBIT's Strange Cargo III on I.R.S. is also a killer, and I eagerly await the new Astralwerks stuff. This genre has begun to take hold, so hopefully many other stations are catching the ambient vibe and adventuring from their unconsciously programmed "alternative" hell formats. On an unrelated note, Touch And Go KILLS(DOZER) and PICASSO TRIGGER thrills! Remember—"The owls are not what they seem."

SHANACHIE GOES POP!

Shanachie has inked a joint-venture label deal with Philadelphia-based indie Big Pop, with distribution going through Koch International. The deal's first fruits will be an album from New Jersey-based group the Melting Hopefuls, due in May.

PLUS, ALSO, TOO

For information regarding the band Avant Garde, featured on Certain Damage Vol. 55, phone (415) 752-2564...The Vandals recently made an in-store appearance at the Virgin Megastore in Los Angeles. Apparently, the band's live gig incited unexpected fan reaction, as fans formed a slam pit in the middle of the store, causing CDs, CD racks and bodies to fly across the store. After 30 minutes, the store shut the gig down...Skenel Records has ceased its manufacturing and production deal with Twin City International on amicable terms and will announce new distribution plans shortly. The label's next release, Candy Machine's A Modest Proposal, is still planned for a late spring/early summer release.

RECORD NEWS

Drive Like Jehu's first album for Interscope, entitled Yank Crime, will be out on May 3. The vinyl will be available exclusively through Cargo...Mammoth-Atlantic will release a full-LP from Australian popsters Frentel, called Marvin The Album, on May 3...Small Factory has signed with Vernon Yard and will begin work on its second LP shortly...Taangl Records will be reissuing some of Spacemen 3's back catalogue. The first release will be 1988's Playing With Fire, due in stores on June 7, followed by the band's debut album Sound Of Confusion and a live album called Performance. Selected singles will also be issued in conjunction with the albums, and a box set is currently being compiled...The Violent Femmes' first album for Elektra is due out on May 17...Frank Black will have his second solo LP released by 4AD-Elektra on May 24...Black Train Jack's new LP for Roadrunner, which was produced by Steven Haigler, will be out on April 26...Buzzov-en and Madball have both signed with Roadrunner and will have new releases out this summer...Washington, DC band the Ropers will have a new 7"/CD-EP out on Slumberland on April 25. The label will also issue the first domestic album from England's Boyracer, entitled More Songs About Frustration & Self-Hate, in mid-May. And finally, Slumberland is currently compiling a 70-minute sampler called Why Popsters Can't Dance, including mostly unreleased tracks from Lorelei, Boyracer, the Ropers, the Steam-kings, HoneyBunch and others.

INDUSTRY SHUFFLE

SARAH McLACHLAN/DEVLINS Town Hall, New York City, March 25

Sarah McLachlan's band could have easily blanketed her set in lush, moody atmospheres, like too-sweet icing that ruins a perfectly good cake. The triumph of this performance, however, was that the band's exquisite sense of tact allowed the raw emotional impact of McLachlan's songs to take center stage. The set offered interesting representations of her songs, as McLachlan performed with various combinations of her six-piece band, opting for haunting intimacy at one juncture and symphonic gusto at the next. As a result, the "heart" of her songs was not ignored—the impact was loud and clear. With her stunning looks, angelic voice and lace dress, along with the mood lighting behind her, it's easy to imagine McLachlan as someone who would descend from the rafters to begin the show and float away as the show ended, yet in a live setting, McLachlan lets you into her real world, disclosing with candor and sincerity the genesis of songs which were written from personal triumphs and losses. In fact, when McLachlan attempted a dramatic exit through the velvety curtain behind the stage, she found no seam in it. Instead, she stole away stage left with a wave and an embarrassed laugh that proved she's only human—an extremely talented and charming human at that.

The show opened with Dublin's Devlins, whose graceful songs owe much to American soul. Despite a sleepy stage presence (not a big plus for an opening act), the Devlins' set was quite focused, revealing the character of their soulful tunes, especially in the grittier songs like "I Knew That," but even with songs that brought the set to a whisper. By setting their own pace, the Irishmen cued the crowd to be attentive to McLachlan's set, and provided engaging entertainment to boot.

here is little about the independent music industry today that isn't complicated. The independent market share is on the rise and the familiar industry landscape is becoming obscure as companies re-position themselves for survival and success. The retail sector is consolidating and traditional roles and players in the world of distribution are changing at a dizzying pace.

need directions?

But regardless of WHERE you are going in the independent music industry, NAIRD can provide the resources necessary to map out your future. Over its 20+ year history, the preeminent trade association has established itself as the voice of and the sounding board for the independent music industry. Now, everything is in place—the people, the programs, the staff, the services. The annual May convention deals exclusively with issues affecting independents and a variety of programs have been developed to accommodate a wide range of expertise, from beginner to veteran. The year round services are also tailored to the needs of the independents.

So if you're looking for direction—look at NAIRD.
