ArtistDirect Endures Tough Week Post-IPO

ArtistDirect, which helps artists such as Limp Bizkit and Marilyn Manson build and maintain Web sites, completed its initial public offering (IPO) on March 28; however, the good news of the IPO was tempered by the subsequent slide of the stock price, as well as the revelation that the company had violated federal securities regulations.

Underwritten by Morgan Stanley Dean Witter and several other prominent investment banks, the IPO raised $60 million by selling five million shares at $12 per share. But unfortunately for ArtistDirect and its shareholders, the new shares began a steady decline immediately after the initial offering, closing at $6.97 on April 3. To make matters worse, ArtistDirect revealed in a document filed on March 27 with the Securities and Exchange Commission (SEC) that the company may have to buy back large chunks of its stock, potentially eating up half of the IPO proceeds.

The SEC filing stated that ArtistDirect had run afoul of Rule 701 of the federal Securities Act of 1933, which exempts (Continued on page 7)

CDnow's Viability In Question

CDnow.com's run of bad luck continues. In the company's annual 10-K report filed with the Securities and Exchange Commission on March 28, CDnow's accountants, Arthur Andersen LLP, bluntly stated that "the company has suffered recurring losses from operations, has a working capital deficiency and significant payments due in 2000 related to marketing agreements that raises substantial doubt about its ability to continue as a going concern." Shareholders reacted negatively to the pronouncement, driving the company's share price down to $3.50. The stock's all-time high was $39.25.

The recent difficulties for the Internet retailer began on March 13, with the scrapping of (Continued on page 7)

NAB Files Suit Against RIAA

The National Association of Broadcasters (NAB) has filed a lawsuit Recording against the Industry Association Of America (RIAA). The suit is an attempt to prevent the RIAA from requiring the payment of additional royalties from radio stations already paying royalties to performance rights societies like BMI, ASCAP and SESAC when these stations stream their broadcasts on the Web. The suit is the NAB's performance' payments to the recording industry."

At the center of this Am-not!-Are-too! battle between the two organizations is the interpretation of certain language found in the Digital Millenium Copyright Act (DMCA) enacted by Congress in 1998. The DMCA mandates that Internet-only webcasters must pay royalty fees for streaming music over the Web not only to the owners of the underlying composi-

ELLIOTT SMITH

Who has vet to recognize the mighty talents of Elliott Smith? Adoring music writers compare him to the lauded Nick Drake and eternal superheroes the Beatles. If 1998's Oscar nomination (for "Miss Misery") wasn't proof of Smith's ascendance, Spin magazine confirmed it, naming him the #2 Artist of the Year in 1999 (not everyone can be Lauryn Hill). It's no surprise that Smith's fifth album is bringing in more gushing praise. While his last record, XO, sparkled with sumptuous pop and complex orchestration, Figure 8 shows more restraint, though no less sophistication. Quiet, acoustic guitar- and solo piano-based tunes and expertly crafted rock songs sidle alongside the lavish pop tracks on this 16-song diary of sharp introspection and biting personal reflection. Throughout, Smith's cool, aching vocals subtly smack the listener with a reality check. You'd almost be deceived by his delivery of lines such as "When I go home/I'll be happy to go/You're just somebody I used to know" ("Somebody I Used To Know"). The mopey yet spellbinding "Everything Means Nothing To Me" opens with gentle voice and piano then evolves into a booming emotional event layered with strings and percussion, as Smith hauntingly chants the title repeatedly. Exquisite, indeed.

SIX BY SEVEN

The Closer You Get (Mantra-Beggars Banquet)

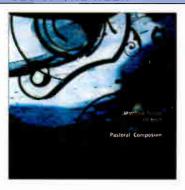

The broad sonic spectrum that can be coaxed from an electric guitar is one of the main reasons rock bands are still able to capture listeners year after year. With its bombastic second album, The Closer You Get, England's Six By Seven proves its intuitive understanding of the range of the instrument, using a careful mix of pedals and effects and more than a little good oldfashioned string-bending to create a cacophony of thorny riffs and leads. At first, the band's provocative style may seem to be part of the current wave of Radiohead-influenced, dramatic rock bands, but unlike that grouping's lyrical and emotional thrust, Six By Seven's power is purely instrumental and visceral. Every cut on The Closer You Get is soaked in rusty guitar washes, and the band's power is significantly enhanced by its unrelenting rhythm section. Bass player Paul Douglas' lightning fingers and machine-like endurance keep pace with drummer Chris Davis' possessed playing, and the two propel these tunes through furious changes and explosive choruses, never missing a chance to invigorate things further with a fill or flourish. The Closer You Get is a virtual warzone of guitar shrapnel, and it explodes with titanic rock intensity. - Cheryl Botchick

MATTHEW SHIPP QUARTET

Pastoral Composure (Thirsty Ear)

New York jazz pianist Matthew Shipp is an adventurous improviser, known for employing rich chords and ferocious keyboard ingenuity. After a well-publicized but shortlived hiatus from recording, Shipp returns with Pastoral Composure. which also features bassist William Parker, drummer Gerald Cleaver and horn man Roy Campbell. This inventive group of players is well known in avant-garde circles, but the group moves in a completely new direction on Pastoral Composure. Drawing on the austere sound of many ECM recordings and the robust arranging style present on some of the Blue Note records of the early-'60s, Shipp's quartet plays it straight with astounding results. Parker and Cleaver riff on bluesy grooves, and swing like mad. Campbell, whose solos are featured nearly as prominently as Shipp's, adds long sinuous lines evoking the graceful style of Lee Morgan, and Shipp's hard swinging lines on tracks such as "Visions" are linear, but still adventurous. Toning things down, Shipp even does a reverent solo rendition of Ellington's "Prelude To A Kiss" that Duke would have undoubtedly enjoyed. From beginning to end, Pastoral Composure is an exquisite listen and a welcome surprise to anyone that thought they knew what these musicians were all — Tad Hendrickson about.

WILLARD GRANT CONSPIRACY

Mojave (Slow River-Rykodisc)

Willard Grant Conspiracy has been favorably compared to Nick Cave, and for good reason: The Boston collective's quietly menacing folknoir draws from the same southern Gothic sensibility that laces Cave's most ruminative work, and Robert Fisher's death knell baritone possesses a similar stately gloom. But the similarities end there. WGC's third album is one of the warmest declarations of loneliness you're likely to hear, rendered with all the fine acoustic/electric interplay and graceful swaying melodies of an Appalachian waltz. The band's core members - Fisher and multi-instrumentalist Paul Austin - are aided by a 14-member cast of indie rock sympathizers, among them Edith Frost, Come's Chris Brokaw and Six Finger Satellite's James Apt. The aggregation results in beautifully downcast, distinctly literate storysongs that lyrically detail Fisher's slow-burning despair. "I've seen every tear you've ever shed/I can count them on one hand and have five fingers left" he groans over the chilling moodiness of "How To Get To Heaven." The vocals sound deceptively subdued, as if the singer's intense reserve could erupt into violence at any moment. The Conspiracy also handles a few lovelorn ballads with both subtlety and an atypical luminescence. The disparateness fills out the album, counterbalancing the imaginative nods to Velvets-like experimentalism with sweetly plaintive traditionalism. Darkly alluring stuff, — Colin Helms

MusicMaker.com Scores Big With Crowes-Page

What started off as a six-date tour-lette" has taken on a life of its own. Jimmy Page's pairing with the Black Crowes for the last leg of the band's tour has been memorialized on the popular Live At The Greek album, available only online from MusicMaker.com. The album, its success and the fact that it spawned a Top 10 single without using any of the so-called "traditional marketing methods" are sure to provide a wake-up call to artists, record companies and online music retailers alike and could very well presage a new wave of similar success stories.

This particular story began back in January of this year when MusicMaker.com made a Black Crowes-Page cover of Fleetwood Mac's "Oh Well" available for download from its site. The success of that promotion spawned the release of another download from the supergroup, released in mid-February, a cover of the Zeppelin classic "What Is And What Should Never Be." Rumors about a full-length album culled from the show began to circulate, and in a scant matter of days a deal was struck for a 19-track, customizable double album entitled Jimmy Page And The Black Crowes Live At The Greek. Despite the absence of any significant advertising, MusicMaker's servers were overloaded within hours of the album's release and temporarily crashed due to the unprecedented consumer demand.

One thing about the deal is clear: the motivation behind it was primarily a desire on the part of the group to get this music out to their fans. Larry Lieberman, President of Global Marketing for MusicMaker, told CMJ, "The entire process was so organic... both parties were looking for an innovative way to get their music out there." For the Crowes, it was refreshing to bypass the typical industry red tape associated with an album release. For

Page, well, he just likes to play. According to Lieberman, "after the site went up, Jimmy made two CDs; one he sent home and the other he sent to Robert Plant."

Both Page and the Crowes attribute the success of the album — and even the very opportunity to release it — to the non-traditional method of using MusicMaker. Crowes manager, Pete Angelus, told Rolling Stone magazine, "had we been doing this on a major label and gone down the road of major-label distribution, we wouldn't be sitting here today talking about this record at this point in time, because we would have been talking about it for five or six months just trying to set up the production. The Internet and MusicMaker have afforded us the immediacy to get this music to the fans the way the artists would like to get it to them."

The record continues to break molds. "What Is And What Should Never Be" entered the Billboard Mainstream Rock Tracks chart at #31 and, so far, after four weeks on the chart, has climbed to #15. MusicMaker has become, according to Lieberman, "the first dot-com to generate a hit single."

Plans to make the album available at brick-and-mortar retail outlets are still fuzzy at this point. According to Lieberman, "Music-Maker has an exclusive Internet license for the record but Jimmy Page and the Black Crowes own it." This latter fact is likely to resonate with the many artists who would also like to retain greater control over their work. Rumors also abound about the possibility of a new studio recording from the Crowes-Page lineup, and MusicMaker plans to push yet another single from the album at radio.

EMI Makes Deal with OEN To Sell Concert Webcasts

EMI has announced a non-exclusive agreement with the On-Line Entertainment Network (OEN) for pay-per-view webcasts. As a part of the deal, EMI has taken an unspecified equity stake in OEN, as well as its parent company, GlobalNet Systems.

One of OEN's strongest assets is its reported ability to stream content over the Net to more than a million simultaneous users. Previous Internet webcasting endeavors have been hampered by the slow roll-out of broadband connections to the Internet and other technical limitations. The OEN webcasts will be available for purchase via a proprietary online debit card that the company has developed. The deal makes EMI the first of the Big Five labels to announce plans to sell access to webcasts on a pay-per-view basis. (House of Blues and Knitmedia have previously offered limited pay-per-view webcasts of live shows recorded at their respective venues.) The deal also calls for EMI to assist OEN in securing agreements to stream live and archived concerts by the 1500 or so artists in EMI's roster. EMI recently began a limited downloadable music sales program with Urocket.com, also using debit cards developed by digital distribution technology company Supertracks.

Soundscan Expands Sales Tracking

While the Big Five labels are dragged kicking and screaming into the digital age, Soundscan has begun to prepare for the eventuality of downloadable music by announcing their first partnership to track sales of digital downloads. The chart debuts this month using data collected by Reciprocal, Inc. from participating online music ventures that use Reciprocal's e-commerce back-end technology. The weekly tracking results will be reported in Billboard magazine, which, like SoundScan, is owned by VNU Entertainment Group. Financial terms of the open-ended, non-exclusive deal were not released.

Soundscan is a leader in music sales tracking, monitoring point-of-sale data from more than 85% of U.S. record retailers. In order to cover a similar portion of the online retail market for digital downloads, Soundscan will need to secure additional agreements with other companies that provide similar e-commerce support, such as Liquid Audio, Magex, Microsoft and Preview Systems. Among the sites already using Recipare CheckOut.com, services MTV.com, RioPort.com, TVT Records' Web site and Tower Records web site. According to Reciprocal President Larry Miller, the company will announce this week that several major labels will also use its services.

College Broadcast, New Partners Target Students

College Broadcast (www.cb.com) has announced partnerships with several leading content providers in a move to enhance their profile among the coveted audience of Internet-savvy college students. Liquid Audio, Inc., Hollywood.com, EMusic.com and Styleclick.com are among the 100 or so content providers whose material will be integrated into cb.com's 12 online channels, which will focus on categories such as Film, Games, Music, News and Style. Students will be able to access film clips and music downloads in addition to using mom and dad's credit card to purchase clothing and accessories online after receiving their "virtual makeover" before the Saturday night "Kegger." College Broadcast hopes that this engaging content will help it ensure a loyal audience among the 15 million 18 to 24-year-olds holed up in dorm rooms across the country.

Sanctuary Group Makes Offer for Castle Music Catalog

The U.K.-based Sanctuary Group, PLC has announced its intention to acquire Castle Music from Rutland Trust for a sum of £46 million ($73 million). Sanctuary operates a record label, recording studio and music management business in addition to their other duties as "one of the UK's leading developers of intellectual property rights in the fields of media, music and entertainment," according to Sanctuary's Web site-Castle Music's assets include the catalogs of Iron Maiden, Black Sabbath, David Bowie, the Kinks and the Sugarhill Gang, to name a few. Rutland acquired Castle Music after its previous owner, Alliance Entertainment Corporation, filed for bankruptcy in 1998.

The proposal to acquire Castle Music comes on the heels of Sanctuary's acquisition of U.S.-based CMC International Records, Inc., whose roster includes numerous big name acts, typically on the downside of their careers, such as Eddie Money, Lynyrd Skynyrd and Motörhead. Sanctuary is planning to launch a Web site devoted to heavy metal music in the near future, having gained ownership of some of the genre's leading lights, in addition to exploiting their new catalog through downloads and other new media technologies.

Epitaph Signs Tricky

U.K. musician Tricky has a new, American home, and we aren't talking about his new crib in New Jersey. The transplanted Bristol musician who has collaborated with such artists as Neneh Cherry, Björk, Luscious Jackson and the Gravediggaz, has signed with the venerable U.S. punk label, Epitaph. The label, which is run by former Bad Religion guitarist Brett Gurewitz and is home to Rancid, Pennywise, NOFX, Wayne Kramer, and others, has been diversifying its roster of late. Last year, Epitaph released Tom Waits's critically acclaimed Mule Variations, and its recently added eclectic artists such as surf instrumentalists Man Or Astroman?, and unusual blues slide guitarist Bob Log III.

During the '80s, Tricky was a member of the popular Bristol rap group The Wild Bunch, which eventually mutated into Massive Attack. Tricky added raps on the first three Massive Attack albums, including the band's groundbreaking debut album, Blue Lines and its single, "Daydreaming." In 1995, Tricky launched a series of collaborative and solo efforts, including four albums for Polygram/Island. He relocated to New York City in 1996, and his last album for Island, Juxtapose, was released last year. Epitaph plans to release a Tricky EP in July before releasing his next studio recording some time closer to the end of the year.

CDnow's planned merger with Sony and Time Warner's Columbia House. Although the merger was shelved, Sony and Time Warner did not completely abandon CDnow to the tender mercies of its creditors. Instead, the two companies made an equity investment of $21 million in CDnow and rolled over a short-term loan of $30 million into long-term debt that is convertible into equity. But despite CDnow's efforts to put a positive spin on the fizzled merger, the company's share price continued to drop in the final days of March, only to fall further after the release of the company's 10-K filing.

The 10-K bombshell came about when Arthur Andersen investigated CDnow's finances to determine whether it has enough cash to fund its operations through year-end. CDnow was unable to satisfy Andersen on this count, leading the accountants to issue a qualified opinion casting doubt on CDnow's ability to continue as a going concern. The music retailer has spent an enormous amount of money on marketing — as much as $108 million by some estimates — only to face crushing competition from rival online retailers such as Amazon.com.

Hoping to turn the situation around, CDnow has announced cuts in marketing and other expenses. The embattled company has also retained investment bankers Allen & Company to look into strategic options. CDnow President and CEO Jason Olim, seeking to cast a positive light on his company's predicament, said in a press release, "CDnow is one of the strongest franchises on the Internet. . . . According to Media Metrix, CDnow reached 8.1 percent of all Web users [in February 2000], making it the fifth largest shopping site and the only all-music site among the top 10 sites on the list."

additional information is available on just what those future projects might be, but members of the band plan to keep fans updated on their progress via their Web site (www.lusciousjackson.com). The trio insist that the breakup was amicable and that the band "just came to its natural conclusion," according to a statement by Jill Cunniff. Luscious Jackson recently concluded a tour in support of its fourth album, Electric Honey. The band's most commercially successful track, "Naked Eye," appeared on its 1996 album Fever In. Fever Out.

RadioMoi.com have already entered into license agreements with the RIAA to compensate artists, record labels or other owners of sound recordings for the use of these works. The RIAA's petition urged the Copyright Office to adopt a rule stating that the transmission of an AM or FM radio broadcast over the Internet is not exempt from the pertinent provisions of the DMCA. The NAB, meanwhile, maintains that the 1998 act was "made applicable primarily to digital, audio-only transmission to paying subscribers" and that the non-subscription simulcasts of their member station's signals should remain exempt from the provisions of the law.

Traditional radio broadcasters currently enter into license agreements with the performance rights organizations, which, in turn, distribute royalties to their writer and publisher affiliates. They do not currently pay similar fees to the RIAA or any other group representing record companies as previous iterations of federal copyright law did not require such payments.

CHARTACTIV

SIX BY SEVEN Radio 200: 117-34 Core Radio: #46 debut

After last week's big showing on the Adds chart, where it garnered 167 reports to earn #1 status, Six By Seven's The Closer You Get (Mantra-Beggars Banquet) gets a shot in the arm on the radio charts. Radio 200 reporters take the gritty album up 83 positions on the chart to #34 with the help of a #46 debut at Core. With both Team Clermont and The Syndicate handling promotion, and an album full of grandiose guitar rock to back it up, Six By Seven's future on the CMJ charts looks bright.

TRAVIS

Radio 200: 96-43 Core Radio: #55 debut

Though Travis' The Man Who is already a blockbuster in its native England, its climb in the U.S. is just starting, and as is usually the case with albums by new artists, it's starting at college radio. Thanks to the promo work of AAM, college programmers are beginning to see past the Radiohead comparisons that plague the band, and are growing to appreciate The Man Who's (Epic) particular brand of soaring, anthemic rock. Though it's moves on the charts this week are relatively modest - 53 positions on the Radio 200 and a debut in the bottom portion of the Core chart the Travis story seems to be just beginning.

CHARTACTIVITY

ESSEX GREEN

Radio 200: 175-60 Core Radio: #37 debut Adds: #15 with 32 reports

Though this self-titled EP from the Essex Green is actually comprised of material written and recorded before the making of the band's debut album (which had a strong chart run itself last fall), it's surprisingly sophisticated, and a great addition to the Elephant 6 catalog of albums. With Fanatic Promotions servicing and promoting the album to college programmers, it should have a nice chart stay of its own, as DJs absorb the beginnings of this precocious and rather precious band. In its second week at stations, it leaps to #60 on the Radio 200, debuts in the middle of the Core chart, and still collects another 32 reported Adds in the process.

WEEN

Radio 200: #64 Adds: #1 with 199 reports

A massive Add week is the status quo for any new Ween album, and the brand-new White Pepper (Elektra-EEG) is certainly no exception. Just under 200 stations reported the album as an Add this week, while enough programmers reported it in their Top 30s to give the band a #64 debut on the Radio 200 chart. Watch for White Pepper, filled with plenty of the strange and smart-ass humor we've come to expect from Dean and Gene Ween, to push toward the #1 position in the coming weeks. It would hardly be the first time the duo hit the top of the CMJ charts...

ASCAP

www.ascap.com One Lincoln Plaza New York, NY 10023 Email: info@ascap.com Tel: 212.621.6000

The American Society of Composers, Authors and Publishers (ASCAP) is a membership association comprised of over 80,000 composers, songwriters, lyricists and music publishers. ASCAP's goal is to protect its members' rights by licensing and distributing royalties for the public performance of their copyrighted works. The organization's Web site is a useful tool for both current and future members, providing an overview of ASCAP's objectives, as well as events affecting the music business, the organization itself and its members. The site's "What's New" link offers current and archived ASCAP news headlines dating back to 1996. The site provides information on how to join ASCAP and includes an online registration form. An extremely useful function offered by the site is ACE, a database of song titles licensed by ASCAP in the United States. For a given title, one can learn the names of the songwriters as well as the names and contact information for the song's publishers, which is handy information for those seeking to license a particular track. For most titles, a listing of the artists who have recorded the song is available. (In a recent test of this feature's usefulness, a search of the Elvis Costello song "Alison" revealed that both Linda Ronstadt and Everything But the Girl have recorded their own versions. It also turns out that there are five different songs bearing the title "Every Little Thing" — and that's not even counting the Beatles and Police tunes of that name.) Visitors to the Web site can stop in at ASCAP's Art & Commerce Café, which provides useful musicbusiness information, such as survival tips, success stories and expert opinions. Currently posted on this part of the site is an article entitled "CMJ al Dente," which discusses a certain well-known music festival. ASCAP online additionally contains licensing information, including answers to frequently-asked questions concerning radio and television broadcasting, general licensing and Internet licensing. Another helpful site feature is "Capitol Connect," an online advocacy program for coalitions, companies, associations and their grassroots networks. All the information needed for grassroots action, including action alerts, legislative updates and sample letters to legislators, is available on the site. Finally, if you visit www.ascap.com, check out the online edition of Playback, ASCAP's publication (the Dixie Chicks are on the current issue's cover), featuring the latest ASCAP events, newest member listings, member articles, upcoming workshops and much more. - Bill Konig

REVIEWS

65 FILM SHOW

Breathing Will Be Assisted (Law Of Inertia)

Brimming with the testosterone-fueled energy that only a young punk rock band could have, the 65 Film Show taps the vein where punk, hardcore and emo intersect.

This hard-touring, Virginia Beach-based band combines the best aspects of the Promise Ring, Texas Is The Reason, Saves The Day and even a splash of old-school Bad Religion, without bringing the lyrical or musical baggage that almost inevitably comes with those bands. Breathing Will Be Assisted was produced by Brian McTernan (ex-Ashes), who gives the band a full and professional sound without taking away the spit and sweat this music requires. Extremely D.C.-centric, this album doesnt feature a whole lot of originality, but the songwriting and performances are undeniable, evoking visions of sneakers, white socks, chinos and beer.

DYNOMITE D

By the Way (Slabco) Turntablist/ DJ Dynomite D did his residency in the extended Beastie Boys camp, appearing on record with them, Mario Caldato Jr., DJ Hurricane and Kid Koala. He also cut remixes for M o d e s t Mouse and 764-HERO. His hip-hop instrumental debut does his friends p r o u d, sliding from straightforward funky organ-and-stringbass samples to laid-back ambient and drum 'n' bass, keeping the flow cool as a cucumber no matter what. The subdued electrocrackle of "Bombin Subways" and "Stick 'Em," and the '80s funk groove of "No Empty-V" and "No Excuses" (featuring Kid Koala) layer sounds from every aisle of the secondhand store, but the result is relaxed and smooth instead of frenetic. Likewise, there are plenty of old-school instruments popping up in the samples, but the tracks come out clean and modern, with no musty '70s aftertaste.

EMPIRE STATE

Empire State (Warm)

What perhaps most remarkable about this debut is not the vast number of ideas that float around 50-odd minutes, but that they are so articulately and coherently presented. Consisting of Jay and Tim Nackashi (BeeKeeper) and Alex McManus (Lambchop, Vic Chesnutt), Empire State emanates from nowhere near the band's namesake — it actually hails from Athens, Georgia, to be exact - and the outfit approaches its music like an arts installation, combining samples with real instruments and homemade objects instruments, simultaneously. The album shifts between oddly catchy rock-ish songs (driven by reedy, wobbly vocals that recall early Brian Eno), calm instrumentals that almost waft into High Llamas habitat, and clamorous, clattering, earthquake-in-a-bell-factory cacophonies. This combination of weird sounds, weird songs and weird subject matter is an iffy proposition on paper, but Empire State somehow makes it all work beautifully. — Jem Aswad Squirrel Bait/Slint provocateur Brian McMahan. Unlike its previous lineups, this version of the band features no members of Tortoise (except producer John McEntire) and, although he is still not an official member, ex-Slint drummer Brit Walford playing a large role. Described as uniquely dynamic, minimalist-informed, yet R&B-inspired music (can't front on that), this album gradually changes in mood, starting off skulking and menacing before evolving into greater calm, leaving an overall eerie and ultra-cinematic impression. This group's mastery of tension and restraint has resulted in an album of stunning subtlety where the notes that aren't played speak as much as those that are.

HOLLY GOLIGHTLY

God Don't Like It (Damaged Goods)

If there's a female version of Billy Childish, then without a doubt Holly Golightly is it. Formerly of Thee Headcoatees, Golightly has long been releasing bluesy, punky solo singles and albums. God Don't Like It is her third full-length, and rather than take the usual record-in-herown-kitchen approach, she and her band laid down these tracks over the course of a week in a proper studio.

The result is a sexy record of rockin' numbers, unmarred by tape hiss and unwanted environmental sounds. She spits out her self-penned lyrics like a playful seductress, while the tinny cymbals and serpentine guitars follow her spirited lead. Cue up this baby, get down and dirty with your partner on the dance floor, and understand exactly why this is the music that God don't like.

LITTLE RED ROCKET

It's In The Sound (Monolyth)

Little Red Rocket is the perfect rock 'n' roll recipe to satisfy any pure pop craving. The Athens, Georgia, female-driven quartet constructs catchy three-to-four-minute songs, many of which contain simple yet strong guitar blasts and tight, spunky drums. Add to that the be a u t i f u l harmonies of dual vocalists and gutarists Orenda and Maria Rocket (all members possess Rocket surnames), who sing of love, wandering eyes and Sunday drives, and you've got a band that would make even Matthew Sweet proud. It's In The Sound, LRRs sophomore effort, is an appealing collection of bubbly songs, many of which would sound great playing in a malt shop. The animated "Wandering Eye" and gorgeous "Love" show why LRR is truly out of this pop world.

P.J. OLSSON

Words For Living (C2/Columbia-CRG)

P.J. Olsson is one intriguingly post-modern, beat-heavy bard. The singer-songwriter draws his inspiration from many different musical styles, masterfully mingling elements of folk, pop and contemporary electronica. Consistent throughout his work, however, is a seemingly effortless ability to construct catchy, drum-looped ditties, many anchored by his deft six-stringing and wonderfully eccentric wordplay. Words For Living, the impressive follow-up his 1998 selftitled effort. has many winners, but a few tracks truly shine.

frenetically trip-hopping and psychedelic "Dandelion," co-penned by Beck collaborator Carl Stephenson ("Loser"), possesses a child's delightful visions and imagination. "Visine," an ode to marijuana, not only showcases Olsson's lyrical talent (and extra-curricular activities) but also serves as proof that he is one soulful singer who is not to be taken lightly. — Bill Konig

For Fans Of: Beck's Mellow Gold, David Garza, Beth Orton Recommended Tracks: "Dandelion," "Visine," "Ready For A Fall." "Thorazine"

PEGLEGASUS

Tired of Adventures (Mad Entropic Carnival)

Peglegasus is a bunch of lovable kooks from Austin, Texas, who strike just the right balance between silliness and grand musical gesture, filtered through a cracked punk/prog/indie prism. The band also has the sense not to ham it up too much with either smarty-pants lyrics or musicianly abilities —

it's got too much ground to cover to dwell for more than a bar or two on a particular riff or pretty twing u i t a r n o o d l i n g. Theres an abundance of graceful Minutemen-like mini-jams tossed throughout the album, all of the songs careening fearlessly around berserk time changes and surprising prog-rock interludes ("The Soup Was Mine" somehow sounds like vintage Santana). The band is loopy but centered within the dust it kicks up — imagine Pell Mell with A.D.D. and a vocalist who drones about soup for a whole song.

RED ELEPHANT

...More Songs From Spaghetti Westerns (Aware)

Drums/upright bass/guitar/sax/cello/vocals is not the formula for your average rock band. Then again, Chicago's Red Elephant is anything but a ver a ge. Stylistically, it fuses jazz, funk, rock and various avantgarde sounds, but the group's songwriting style is fairly straightforward and quite accessible for such an unusual musical lineup (the surreal lyrics, however, are another matter). Fans of wry vocalists take note: Sounding like a cross between Morphine's late, lamented Mark Sandman and Ozomatli/Jurassic-5's Chali 2na, Red Elephant's Ken Formula talk-sings his beat poet-inflected tales in a voice so clear that it only calls more attention to the lyrical weirdness. Containing veterans of several local outfits (most notably Cassius Clay), this odd and unusual band is more than accessible enough to fit onto any playlist that features Morphine. — Iem Aswad

LOU REED

Ecstasy (Reprise)

After a rich, eclectic trio of albums from '89 to '92, Lou Reed effectively disappeared from the scene for the balance of the '90s, releasing only the forgettable Set The Twilights Reeling in '96. On Ecstasy, he returns with a better batch of songs complement music in the vein of his '89

album, New York. While nothing here approaches the rich storytelling of "Sweet Jane" or "Romeo & Juliet," Reed seems consistently emotionally engaged, trying to communicate with his lover on such songs as "Paranoia Key Of E," "Mad" and "Tatters" Occasionally, he gets indulgent, as on the droning 18-minute "Like A Possum," which sounds suspiciously like a 60-year-old revisiting his youthful European Son, and finding nothing in common. Despite several soft spots, Ecstasy holds together well, particularly the first half of the album.

STARLING

Sustainer (Time Bomb)

Since forming in 1997, Ottawa, Canada's Starling has established a considerable local following thanks to its uncomplicated, timetested formula. The quartet's U.S. debut, Sustainer, is packed end-to-end with deceptively simple power-pop songs that never lack hooks or lyrical earnestness. Songs such as "Die Hard Crush" and "Louise" employ high levels of guitar grit, melodic gloss and rhythmic fervor to keep the basic verse/chorus structures from ever sounding mundane. Frontman lan Lefeuvre's guitar style pushes beyond generic power-chord demonstrates his ability to s o u n d expressive even when the fuzz is at its most extreme levels. From introspective tunes such as "Deliver Me" to the mid-tempo, richly harmonious "Superfrayed," this debut is uncommonly solid, with hooks that other acts spend an entire career attempting to write.

bashing and

WORLD BOOGIE COMING... IS

youngsters from San Francisco. On Helium, the trio improves upon its 1999 debut, Memory Is An Elephant, by better integrating and broadening the scope of its disparate influences, as well as the number of instruments it employs. This top-notch group of players knows how to find interesting tonal sweet spots in its songs, such as when Rob Burger's café-like accordion nicely compliments Mark Orton's bluesy dobro guitar in a surprisingly natural way. The Tin Hat Trio's strangely familiar sound is something akin to a bluegrass event at Carnegie Hall, but the three play with such tasteful expressiveness that their music is nothing short of sublime. — Tad Hendrickson

TOWN AND COUNTRY Decoration Day (EP) (Thrill Jockey)

Although Town And Country's Decoration Day EP has only three tracks, these chilling instrumental pieces stretch out over 20 minutes. Sparse, keyboard-dominated music is the focus of this Chicago foursome's powerful display, though a creaking guitar rears its distinct head from time to time. For the most part, these blustery, atmospheric pieces are built from toy-like piano plinking and the uneasy groaning of an organ. Town And Country crafts its deliberate tunes with great measure, enabling the quartet to express a surprising range of emotions. Chaos, tedium, joy, love, hate and foreboding can all be heard in the music's various shudderings. Play this one in the dark to fully appreciate its minimalist beauty.

ROOTS 'N' BLUES

NORTH MISSISSIPPI ALL STARS

Shake Hands With Shorty (Tone-Cool)

With their feet buried deep in the muddy banks of the Mississippi Delta, the North Mississippi All Stars deliver a hot-to-the-touch platter of Southern roots music, encompassing everything from early ZZ Top-style boogie, Beale Street blues, and the kind of Allman Brothers-inspired jams that will have you stomping the floorboards loose. Led by brothers Cody and Luther Dickinson, the crossbreeds blazing Southern swamp-rock and rag-tag blues like professors of both forms. The group's grasp of the blues is deep, that they can effortlessly switch from Hendrix-like voodoo to the most authentic, primitive forms in the blink of an eye. "Shake 'Em Down" is fueled by hoppin' electric slide and muscle-bound rhythms that sound like they slid directly out of the hill country, while the electrified, traditional-sounding "Drinkin' Muddy Water" and "Goin' Down South" are weighty enough to bring Jon Spencer to his knees. Mississippi Fred McDowell would be proud. — Glen Sansone

For Fans Df: R.L. Marketing Data: Touring with Galactic through April; Cody and Luther Dickinson are the sons of legendary roots-rock producer/musician Jim Dickinson (Rolling Stones, Big Star, Replacements, Dr. John).

ASTOR PIAZZOLLA

Rough Dancer And The Cyclical Night (Tango Apasionado) (Nonesuch)

Astor Piazzolla is best known as the inventor of nuevo tango, a style of tango music that incorporates jazz and classical influences. Unfortunately, not everyone was happy with the his forwardth inking concepts: Several threats were made on Piazzolla's life over the years, and he was even exiled from his native Argentina. It's hard to believe that music this beautiful would cause such animosity, but no one's ever accused tango aficionados of not wearing their emotions on their sleeve. Originally commissioned as a performance piece, Rough Dancer... which was originally recorded in '87 and released in '89, still has the classic moody and romantic Piazzolla sound. A bit muddier and looser than the masterful Tango: Zero Hour, the feel of Rough Dancer... hearkens back to the days when tango was played in brothels and bars, which is exactly what Piazzolla intended. — Tad Hendrickson

For Fans Df: Gideon Kremer, Jorge Luis Borges, Tin Hat Trio Recommended Tracks: "Street Tango," "Leonoras Song," "Knife Fight"

AMERICAN DOPE

XX00 (EP

You could call American Dope just a band of pretty boys, but the fact of the matter is that they're really not all that pretty! Falling a little too far on the mooky side of androgynous certainly never stopped the legendary New York Dolls from tarting up for a good rock 'n' roll show, though, and it doesn't stop this San Francisco quartet, either. XXOO is only five songs long, but it demonstrates an embryonic band picking and choosing from its influences to come up with its own particular hybrid. The high points come midway, with "Rocket Girls"'s Marc Bolan-esque melody and falsetto background vocals, followed by the gritty riff and sneering lead vocal of "Space Boy."

RECORDNEWS

Section coordinated by Kelso Jack

Sam Coomes is best known as one half of Quasi and for his work with Elliott Smith in Heatmiser. During the late '80s, Coomes played in a band called the Donner Party, which issued two full-length albums: The Donner Party and Food For Thought. Innerstate Records has released The Complete Recordings 1987-1989, a two-CD, 53-track collection that includes the Donner Party's two previously released albums, plus a third unreleased album and some live material. For more information, contact Russ (Innerstate) at 510.548.0884; email: russ@innerstate.com.

Graham Harris Curry and Bill Curry, the Chicagobased husband/wife duo, have just released their third album under the Red Star Belgrade moniker. Available from Checkered Past Records, Telescope delivers more of the act's dark, insurgent country that has become its trademark. For more information, contact independent promotion company Team Clermont at 888.548.TEAM; email: radio@teamclermont.com.

The Brooklyn-based Essex Green made a splash with its 1999 debut album, Everything Is Green. The Elephant 6 label has issued a self-titled, five-song EP from the band featuring tracks that were actually recorded prior to the ones included on the full-length. For more information, contact Fanatic Promotion at 888.385.1231; email: info@fanaticpromotion.com.

Manifesto Records has rounded-up an eclectic list of performers to contribute cuts to its new Tom Waits tribute album. Neko Case, Lydia Lunch, the Knoxville Girls, the Blacks and even the late Screamin' Jay Hawkins were all tapped for New Coat Of Paint: Songs Of Tom Waits. For more information, contact Manifesto Records at 323.954.1555; email: manifest@manifesto.com.

A new album by Old Time Relijun is available through Olympia, Washington-based K Records. La Sirena De Pecera, the band's sophomore effort, collects eight new songs by the backwoods clarinetist/pseudo-eyange-list Arrington De Dionyso. For more information, contact Chris L. (K) at 360.786.1594; email: radio@kpunk.com.

On March 27, Southern Records released Sense Of Solitude, the debut album by the Stratford Mercenaries. The London quintet is a who's-who of British punk, featuring former members of Crass, the Buzzcocks and Dirt. For more information, contact Jen Halter (Southern) at 773.235.5030; email: jen3@southern.com.

The Badman Recording Co. has just issued an album that pays homage to one of the most popular American folk singers of the past three decades, John Denver. Take Me Home: A Tribute To John Denver remembers the singer with versions of his songs performed by Bonnie Prince Billy, Red House Painters, Low, Innocence Mission, Tarnation and several others. For more information, contact the Badman Recording Co. at 415.255.1124; email: badman@dnai.com.

Columbia Records has serviced radio with a sampler CD of new material by the Getaway People entitled Tracks From The Turnpike...And Beyond. The full-length, Turnpike Diaries, will follow the six-song EP, which includes four new songs and two from the group's debut, on May 16. For more information, contact Ted Dougherty (Columbia) at 212.833.8000; email: columbia_college_promotion@sonymusic.com.

The third installment of Onefoot Records' Check This Out series has been released. The compilation features 27 tracks from well-known, and not so well-known punk acts, including L.E.S. Stitches.

At The Drive-In, Mandingo, Kid With Man Head, Nooner, Electric Frankenstein and many others. For more information, contact John Geldbach (Onefoot) at 562.498.3384.

Continuing with its outstanding BBC Session releases, the Fuel 2000 label has recently issued a BBC collection by veteran singersongwriter Loudon Wainwright III. The 21-track album features songs such as "Carmine Street," "Hard Day On The Planet," "A Father And A Son" and "I Wish It Was Me." For more information, contact 323.464.7984.

RECORDBRIEFS

Eminem has completed work on his second album, The Marshall Mathers I.P. Interscope Records won't be releasing the album until May 30, but the first single, "The Real Slim Shady" is now available...On May 9, Atlantic Records will release Bad Religion's 17th album, The New American Promise. The record promises more thought-provoking punk. We found this comment from lead singer Greg Graffin posted on the Atlantic Records Web site (www.atlantic-records.com): "So many bands are afraid to change. They're afraid to step forward because they're in a comfortable spot with their audience and they don't want to mess up a good thing by offering them a challenge. Bad Religion and punk have always been about challenge and if we can't do that on this record, then what good are we anyways."...Kranky Records has reported that they have new albums by Windy & Carl and Stars Of The Lid in the works. The latter will be issued as a double-CD or three-LP vinyl. Also from Kranky, Godspeed You Black Emperor! has completed a new album. Clocking in at 90 minutes long, listeners can also expect it to be a double-disc venture... College radio favorite Buffalo Tom is being honored with a best-of collection. The Beggars Banquet release Asides From... The Best Of Buffalo Tom will be released on June 6 and features the band's essential tunes... According to the folks at Alternative Tentacles, the Floridian pulpit-punkers of the Causey Way have begun recording the follow-up to the its 1999 debut, With Loving And Open Arms. Word from the label is that it might be ready for release by the fall. Alternative Tentacles will also release a live album by the No WTO Combo on May 8. The punk supergroup is comprised of Jello Biafara, Krist Novaselic and Soundgarden's Kim Thayil. The record will include two brand new songs among its tracks...On May 23, Hefty Records will release a collection of Slicker remixes. Among the artists contributing to the record will be Mice Parade, Savath + Savalas and Matmos...Eric Mingus, son of jazz great Charles Mingus, will be dropping his debut album on May 29. Um...Er...Uh... will be released by Some Records...A new independent label has popped up in Los Angeles; Fall Of Rome Records will issue its debut titles in July. The first release is from a new project by Mick Collins, known widely for his garage-punk work with the Gories, Dirthombs and Blacktop. The new band, the Voltaire Brothers, reportedly puts a funk bent on things. The second group working with Fall Of Rome is the Warlocks, a new band headed up by Bobby Hecksher, formerly of Magic Pacer and Charles Brown Superstar. ## NEWS

It's gonna be a long, hot and loud summer, my fellow loud rockers. We have the Ozz Fest, with its most updated (at press time) main stage line-up featuring Ozzy (duh, you snapperheads), Pantera (who sold 161,000 copies of Rein- wenting The Steel out of the box), Godsmack (making a repeat big stage appearance), Static-X (moving from side to main stage this year), Incubus, Methods Of Mayhem (seeing Tommy Lee on stage any place other than behind a rotating kit should be interesting), Queens Of The Stone Age (stoner rock represents, baby), and Jesus's favorite crusading rockers, P.O.D. (Ozz Fest can't be all about Satanism, now can it?). The second stage will be just as exciting, with Ministry headlining. Kittie (Ozz Fest can't be all about testosterone rock and shirtless dudes!), Taproot (recently signed to Atlantic), Primer 55 (ghettocore), Pitchshifter (anarchistic breakbeats), Disturbed, Crazy Town and Deadlights performing alongside unsigned acts Shuvel, Slaves On Dope (!?!) and Pumpjack (Pantera's Vinnie Paul and Dimebag Darrell love this band and are producing the album). Then we have the more punk and hardcore oriented — but equally entertaining — Vans Warped Tour, with Snapcase, Green Day, Millencolin, Good Riddance, and Lunachicks on board for the skate and rock festival.

MUST HEAR

SHADOWS FALL Of One Blood (Century Media)

Shadows Fall's intricate Of One Blood is an exercise in balance. The Massachusetts quintet annihilates with speed thrash riffs, double bass death blasts, and ferocious barks that could make Satan weep like an infant. Just when you think it is safe to bang your head so zealously that your brains spill onto the floor, the Fall dips into a bottomless arsenal of dynamics, employing slow breakdowns and a multitiered, clean vocal approach, where three (!) members lend their melodic voices. You can even detect a trace of hardcore influences on Of One Blood. Fronted by former Overcast singer Brian Fair, Shadows Fall erases the lines separating several interconnected loud rock genres, and ultimately weighs in heavily on both the brutal and beautiful scales.

SENTENCED

Crimson (Century Media)

Finland's finest export, Sentenced, delivers a lush work in the form of Crimson. Overall, this longplayer is more thoughtful rock 'n' roll than straight-up metal, a fact enhanced by the clean, raspy vocals. Crimson is tricky because it's progressive enough to incite guitar geeks to transcribe the notes and tunings, while still sounding like something you'd hear on any late-night, commercial radio rock show. The burly riffs will delight the longhairs, nonetheless.

For Fans Of: Oarkseed, Amorphis, recent Metallica

FLASHPOINT

On The Verge... (Atomic Pop)

Flashpoint won a slot on the 1999 installment of the Ozz Fest, thanks to its good grooves and shrill harmonics. On The Verge... is an apt title. This hard rock combo has nowhere to go but up.

MIXMASTER MIKE Eye Of The Cyclops (EP) (Asphodel)

The four-track Eye Of The Cyclops EP marks a return not only for Beastie Boy jockey, lead Skratch Pikl and turntablist supreme Mixmaster Mike, but also for New York's Asphodel Records, which surfaces with its first new release in about a year. Over two sides of vinyl, Mike cuts and pastes together an intergalactic, street-smart audio collage saturated with heavy hip-hop grooves, jazzy sentiments and a dizzying array of turntable tactics. These cuts showcase the Mixmaster's coming-of-age as a solo musician, resonating like a coherent, daunting soundtrack for the sci-fi b-boy fantasy flick that runs through Mike's twisted and talented mind.

GUS GUS

Gus Gus Vs. T-World (4AD-Beggars Banquet)

Iceland's Gus Gus takes a step back in time with Gus Gus Vs. T-World. The album collects early tracks by T-World — Gus Gus's current DJ, Herb Legowitz, and programmer Biggi Vera — who penned these sleek, instrumental grooves several years before the debut of the left-of-center music/art collective. Melodic techno and downbeat serenading takes precedence over the quirky disco pop for which Gus Gus is famous, but the music bears the musical signature of the unique ensemble nonetheless.

NEWSDeejay Punk-Roc, the New York-based producer who made a funky and formidable first impression in 1998 with his old-school electro-influenced Chidheneye album, is set to return with a new single, "One More Bump," in May. According to DJ Magazine, that track will feature the falsetto vocals of Austin Cole (of the band 11-7) and remixes by famed New York house producer/DJ Roger Sanchez and West coast producer Le Pimp. The single will precede the release of Punk-Roc's new full-length, Spoiling It For Everyone, which is said to move away from the big beat sound that he embraced on his first album in favor of more hip-hop, P-funk oriented grooves. Spoiling It For Everyone is scheduled for release this summer... After more than a year away from the airwaves, the famed Coldcut duo (Jonathan More and Matt Black) returned to live radio when their "Solid Steel" program resurfaced on London Live 94.9FM in March. The extremely popular weekly program, which began an unprecedented 11-year run in 1988 on London's then-pirate radio station Kiss FM, ended in Spring 1999, but returned in late March of this year thanks to the overwhelming demands of listeners who flooded the station with phone calls demanding the show's return. "Solid Steel" also features the talents of DJ Food's PC and Strictly Kev on a weekly basis and can be heard from midnight to 2am GMT via the Internet at http://www.bbc.co.uk/londonlive.

NEWS It looks as though Dan The Automator is making 2000 his busiest year yet. With his and Prince Paul's Handsome Boy Modeling School project still riding high on the CMI Radio 200 chart, the super-producer (also known as Nathaniel Merriweather) has roughly three high-profile collaborative works on his to-do list for the remainder of this year. His Deltron 3030 album with Del The Funky Homosapien and Kid Koala has been tapped for a May 23 release date on the 75 Ark label. The 12-track release is said to be somewhat of a concept album, with the artists playing the role of three earthlings on a galactic space adventure to distant planets. In addition, the Automator is currently in a London studio with Blur frontman Damon Albarn working on sessions for his forthcoming solo album. Details about the releases are sketchy at press time. Other projects in the mix include a beats record with El-P of Company Flow and a possible Father Guido Sarducci album with Prince Paul, Cut Chemist and DJ Shadow. Both projects are expected to see the light of day later this year.

RAH DIGGA Dirty Harriet (Elektra-EEG)

Eve may fancy herself as the one and only "pit bull in a skirt," but the Flipmode Squad's Rah Digga comes off like a hellhound in an evening gown on her solo debut, Dirty Harriet. On this savage beatdown of an album, Busta Rhymes's right-hand lady delivering her raps with a cutthroat lyrical style reminiscent of such pioneering female MCs as MC Lyte and the Real Roxanne. With a loaded pocketbook full of beats courtesy of DJ Premier, Da Beatminerz, Pete Rock, the Rockwilder and Nottz, Digga shows that she can deliver her rhymes rough, rugged, raw or refined, whether she's going solo on "Tight" or mixing it up with Da Outsidaz crew on "On Wit The Swerve."

For Fans Of: Lauryn Hill, MC Lyte, Heather B., Bahamadia Recommended Tracks: "Tight," "The Imperial," "On Wit The Swerve," "Clap Your Hands"

BOOM BIP AND DOSE ONE Boom Bip And Dose One (Mush)

If Chicago's Advanced Association of Creative Musicians considered MCs and DJs eligible to join its ranks, Boom Bip And Dose One would be at the top of the class. On their far-out eponymous debut, the duo expands the boundaries of Midwestern hip-hop to its most extreme, improvisational limits, resulting in one of the most bizarre, avant-urban releases since Dr. Octagon.

SOUNDTRACK

Black & White (Loud/Columbia-CRG)

The soundtrack from the latest flick written and directed by James Toback (Two Girls And A Guy) is stocked with Loud Records' premier talent alongside some of hip-hop's top players. Overseen by Raekwon and American Cream Teamster Power, this soundtrack features exclusive tracks by Xzibit, Mobb Deep's Prodigy, the X-Ecutioners (featuring Big Pun and Kool G. Rap) and Dead Prez.

For Fans Of: Belly soundtrack, Wu-Tang Clan, Tony Touch Recommended Tracks: "Year 2000" (Xzibit feat. Jonathan Davis), "Dramacide" (X-Ecutioners feat, Big Pun & Kool G, Rap), "Dem Crazy" (Dead Prez), "Middle Finger Attitude" (American Cream Team)

DEB PASTERNAK Eleven (Dane Street Artists)

Boston singer-songwriter Deb Pasternak follows up her impressive 1997 debut, More, with 11 (hence, the name) songs that show the performer stretching her folk style to encompass blues, jazz and even country influences with equal aplomb. Regardless of the different musical shadings that her rich and emotive voice take on, Pasternak is a convincing performer, allowing the sensitivity and passion of her lyrics to carry the weight of the melodies that they come wrapped in. While "Reading The Signs" is an upbeat and savory folk tune, and "Bitter" captures a soft, jazzier feel, the album's standouts are the two final cuts, "Flood" and "Eclipse." The former's simmering blues core is perfectly matched with lyrics detailing a torn relationship, while the latter is a touching, piano and voice song about loss that is numbing to the senses.

For Fans Of: Jonatha Brooke, Natalie Merchant's Ophelia, Rickie Lee Jones

BRAVE COMBO

The Process (Rounder)

For 20 years, the eminently unusual and quirky Brave Combo has played polka, latin, cha-cha and other world musics. On The Process, the 1998 Grammy winners (best polka album, no kidding) lean a little more heavily in a pop direction, while retaining the band's past stylistic influences, but without as big a smirk, thanks to crisp orchestral arrangements.

UNAMERICAN

Unamerican (Universal)

This British quartet brings a modest U.K. lilt to their singing, but the music echoes the spacious majesty of the American Midwest. Sporting cleanly crafted pop-rock that reaches toward western-blues, Unamerican is chock full of impassioned lyrics, soaring vocals and swelling guitar bridges.

For Fans Of: Counting Crows, Crowded House

NEWS The surviving members of Boston's Morphine, who are performing under the Orchestra Morphine moniker, have announced a 17-date

North American tour that will begin in Cambridge, Massachusetts, on April 9 and end in San Diego on May 20. Saxophonist Dana Colley and drummer Billy Conway performed five shows in February throughout the Northeast with an expanded musical lineup to compensate for the loss of Mark Sandman, who died of a heart attack last summer. The group is out in support of Morphine's latest — and presumably last album, The Night, which was released by DreamWorks Records on February 1...On April 25, Acoustic Disc will officially issue the previously unreleased Jerry Garcia album, The Pizza Tape. The work, recorded by Garcia, Tony Rice and David Grisman in 1993, got its name after a pizza delivery boy reportedly snatched a copy of the tape from Grisman and made copies of the music for his friends. According to Rolling-Stone.com, Grisman decided to release the album after the songs began surfacing as poor-quality MP3 files.

John Scofield fans take note: Verve is running a contest for CMJ Top 200 and Jazz reporters. First-place winner gets an autographed Ibanez guitar.

Five second-place winners will each receive a stylish Scofield poster and an autographed copy of Bump, his new disc on Verve. To enter this contest, answer the following five questions by May 31 and email them to Jill Weindorf at jill.weindorf@umusic.com. The winners will be announced in issue #671's Jazz News column. Only five entrants per station, please. No purchase is necessary to win, and this contest is void where prohibited. 1) What is the name of John Scofield's first album for Verve? 2) Which band did Scofield use as his backing band for 1997's A Go Go? 3) Name three jazz guitarists of note who are still alive. 4) How many albums has John Scofield appeared on? A)20-49 B)50-100 C) More than 100. 5) Name a Miles Davis album that Scofield appears on...The Lincoln Center Jazz Orchestra continues its hectic touring schedule with a U.S. leg that runs from April 9 until May 19. The group usually plays the respectable digs of orchestra halls and concert auditoriums, but for its For Dancers Only tour, they are doing something different — the band will play ballrooms, gymnasiums and concert halls where dancing is possible. Champion swing dancers Janice Wilson and Paolo Lanna will join the orchestra on all dates to lead audiences through their paces, and the band will play songs made famous by Duke Ellington, Count Basie, Benny Goodman and others. There will also be new arrangements and compositions by Wynton Marsalis and fellow LC[O members, as well as newly commissioned work from guitarist Doug Wamble and composer David Berger. The six-week tour concludes with a performance at New York City's Roseland Ballroom, a room that hosted all the greats in swing's golden era. This final performance will be broadcast by the BBC...On a sad note, trombonist Al Grey, a member of Count Basie's band on and off from 1957 to 1977, died Friday, March 24. According the New York Times, the cause was complications from diabetes. Grey recorded several dates as a leader, appeared as part of Jazz At The Philharmonic and the Newport Jazz All-Stars, and can be found on much of Basie's Roulette Records work.

JOHN TCHICAI Infinitesimal Flash (Buzz)

Saxophonist John Tchicai hit the jazz scene in the early '60s as a member of the New York Art Quartet and as a sideman for Albert Ayler and John Coltrane. Tchicai's sound is more melodic than the robust playing of the above legends; he has been compared to hard-bop legend Jackie McLean. A serene, melancholic and spiritual listen, Infinitesimal Flash is a varied post-bop album that sounds simply beautiful. The compositions are easily digestible, and the soloing never wanders too far from each song's engaging melodies. Infinitesimal Flash nicely treads the line between inside and outside jazz.

JASON MARSALIS Music In Motion (Basin Street)

The youngest of the Marsalis dynasty, 23-year-old drummer Jason Marsalis has been getting some play of late: he's appeared on his father's and Marcus Roberts' recordings, and he co-leads the critically acclaimed Los Hombres Calientes, On Music In Motion, his second record as a leader. Marsalis leads a quintet through a vibrant, straight-ahead program where drummer/composer leaves plenty of room for his players to shine. His playing is decisive throughout but never flashy, instead laying down hard swinging tempos and gently providing understated support.

Real Time (Atavistic)

This is a reissue of an impossible-to-find album that came out in 1996 on Quinnah. Featuring Ken Vandermark, bassist Kent Kessler, drummer Tim Mulvenna and pianist Jim Baker, Real Time is unique in that it features members playing it straighter than usual, and it is one of the few albums where Vandermark fans can hear the reedist play with a pianist.

Lemonade & Buns (Green Linnet)

In the field of Celtic music, there's a whole new crop of innovative bands unafraid to take the ancient music into the future, and Kíla is at the head of the pack. The group's second domestic release is its most daring album yet, mixing the band's strong Celtic roots with modern drum loops, samples and exotic percussion from all points on the globe. Sometimes such fusions don't work, but Kila creates some of the boldest, most modern Celtic music imaginable.

CHIWONISO

Ancient Voices (Tinder)

The voices may sound ancient, but young Zimbabwean singer Chiwoniso is definitely speaking to the modern world. She combines traditional Zimbabwean elements (mbira, descending trebly guitar lines, emphatic vocals) with modern stylings (including a few rather unsuccessful stabs at singing in English) to create something refreshingly new.

Annbjørg Lien is familiar to many readers who are playing Baaba Yaga, her recent release on Northside. Lien is already a national treasure in her native Norway, where she is considered the premiere Hardanger fiddle player; in fact, Lien was chosen to play the closing ceremonies of the Lillehammer Olympics in her homeland. Lien will add another spectacular cultural event to her performance portfolio on April 26 when she gives an intimate performance at New York City's Ellis Island to mark the opening of an exhibit on Norwegian immigration. The audience will likely be filled with U.S. dignitaries, and Norway's King Harald and Queen Sonja are expected to attend...The Blood & Fire label has built an impeccable reputation by reissuing classic Jamaican reggae, dub and roots music. Label head and Jamaican music authority Steve Barrow has led the label with the confidence of someone staying true to the music's origins while looking toward the future. With this attitude in mind, Blood & Fire has announced plans for a Blood & Fire Sound System tour, which will be the first North American tour by a Jamaican sound system. Running from April 19-May 7, the tour hits the Northeast and West Coast, major cities in Canada and a one-off date in Austin. The tour will feature Barrow as selector, Dubism Dom as DJ and Trinity, Dillinger and Rankin' Joe as MCs. Trinity has a new reissue out, and Dillinger and Rankin' Joe were there for the birth of the sound system. Since the '70s, DJs and toasters have become rappers and sound systems can now be crates of gear hooked up to a club system rather than riding around on a flatbed truck. Nevertheless, MCs and toasters still perform along to special instrumental tracks operated by the selector. In between live performances, DI's operate the wheels of steel, keeping the party going with their own sets.

TOMAS COOKMAN

Founder/President, Cookman International

"The big problem is that the major labels don't have the gall to admit that they don't know a thing about rock. It's a cultural thing."

Interview by Enrique Lavin

When you talk about the movers and shakers of the U.S. rock en español/Latin alternative industry, there's no way around Tomas Cookman of the North Hollywood-Cookman International. Cookman manages 1998 Grammy winners Los Fabulosos Cadillacs, as well as several top Latin alternative acts, such as Aterciopelados, Gustavo Cerati, Illya Kuryaki, King Changó and Los Amigos Invisibles. Cookman also owns Monkey Books, which is both a music publishing company and the largest booking agency for rock en español in the country. The company has produced groundbreaking albums such as Red Hot + Latin, the first Spanishlanguage album in the Red Hot series. Cookman recently moved into radio production with a radio show called The Red Zone, broadcast on L.A.-based station Viva 107 (KLYY). He spoke to CMJ while preparing for the inaugural Latin Alternative Music Conference (LAMC), which will take place August 13-15 in New York City.

How did you get started in the business? I've always been involved with music. I started playing at [the NYC club] CBGB's as the singer of a punk band called the Colors in the '80s. We were produced by Blondie's Clem Burke and managed by CBGB's owner Hilly Kyrstal. Back then, the only thing Latin for me were the chuletas [pork chops] and the rice and beans my mom made at home.

Destiny took me to Argentina, where I developed a taste for Argentine music and met Los Fabulosos Cadillacs.

With the growing young Latino population in America, it's been clear for many years that Latin alternative was going to take off. Why has it taken so long?

When you think of Latin you think of tropical or regional music — or even Ricky Martin. But there's a huge difference between Willie Colon and Aterciopelados. The big problem is that the major labels don't have the gall to admit that they don't know a thing about rock. It's a cultural thing.

But each of the majors has a Latin rock component that is outside tropical, regional and pop. How could it be a cultural thing?

Aterciopelados is a Grammy-nominated band. I go and play it to a 52-year-old Venezuelan guy, who has never had rock in his background and he says, 'What's the matter with you?' He thinks they're on drugs. It's a different reality. If you talk to someone from Venezuela or Guatemala, it's more likely that they grew up with tropical. It's hard for them to embrace - it becomes cultural. How can you have a guy from Zacatecas, who never had a chance to listen to rock music on the radio growing up to know the difference between Titan and El Tri? It doesn't mean he's a bad DJ. The industry tends to look at us like fringe people who want to put them out of business. We don't want that. We are just looking for a little space down on the dial, and then let the people decide. If you look at the guys who are running Atlantic or Capitol, they grew up with rock 'n' roll as common fact of everyday life.

Does this mean that the majors who have a foothold in the Latin market stand to miss the boat when it comes to Latin alternative?

BMG or Latin labels are not positioned to work alternative. They capitalize in the market that they know, and they do that very well. There will always be a market for mothers and uncles and older tias, and new people coming in. There will always be a market for a salsa or regional hit. I don't get calls from EMI Latin or Sony Discos anymore. I get calls from Maverick Records, Val Azolli [Atlantic], Bill Bennett [Warner Bros.] and Chris Blackwell. That's exciting.

What are some of the local bands that have the potential to break out of their scenes and appeal to a broader audience? A local band that's amazing, and unrecognized is [San Francisco's] Los Mocosos. Other good local bands are [L.A.'s] Pastilla, Volumen Cero in Miami and [New York's] King Changó and Si Sé. Los Mocosos is a band that Altantic can grab and sell a lot of records, especially with their contagious "Brown And Proud" anthem. Who knows what can happen if a label like Maverick picks up a group like King Changó.

It seems like a convention focusing on Latin alternative was overdue. What do you hope the Latin Alternative Music Conference will accomplish?

We just sent out 2,000 announcements and it's gotten excellent support from labels and dot-coms. MIDEM was one of the first organizations to call us to say they want to be a part of this. The Grammy organization is also onboard. What we want to see happen is A&R people from MCA meet the head of an Argentine label; or for Sony Corp. to hear great bands from Mexico.

Besides LAMC, what projects are you working on right now?

There's a Hector Lavoe tribute in the works. He's one of the most amazing salsa singers, but he had the heart of a rocker. We have major acts contributing to the album, as well as new Puerto Rican rock bands. We're also handling the music aspects of InternetMercado.com's 24-hour Internet radio broadcast. I'm also working with KC Porter on starting a label that won't necessarily be all rock. With the new imprint, we want to offer the next Control Machete, or an acid jazz band or Chilean punk, or maybe the new Rage [Against The Machine] or the next Gomez.

What are you listening to right now?

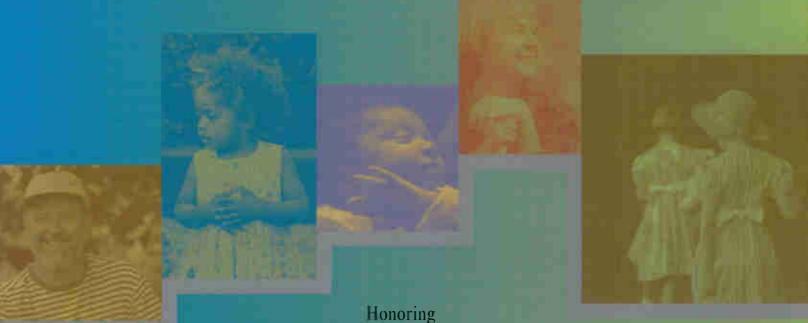

My CD player has The Very Best Of The Undertones, Illya Kuryaki & The Valderramas Verses, Los Amigos Invicibles' [forthcoming release on Luaka Bop], Kid Loco's Jesus Life For Children Under 12 Inches.
