Discover the Best New Music and Emerging Artists

— plus great songs by established artists —

www.cmj.com/discovery

Start with a favorite artist, song or album and you'll find great music like it!

The Sinister Urge (Geffen-Interscope)

In “Feel So Numb,” the first video off The Sinister Urge, Rob Zombie sports a Ramones shirt, a glaring symbol of the “if it ain’t broke don’t fix it” aesthetic that allows innovators like the Ramones, AC/DC, Motörhead and Zombie to release album after album of the tried-and-true formulas they pioneered. But for Rob, what a formula! That static “Immigrant Song”-meets-Ministry pummel, those post-industrial scribbles and that caustic demi-rap growl have kept legions of Robbie-come-latelies clawing for his spooktacular charm for years. These elements are in full splatter on Urge, but more of that familiar Zombie chug doesn’t mean there isn’t room for tantalizing twists. The B-movie-obsessed Zombie gets closer to his cinematic leanings with full-blown string arrangements and skews his spooky samples with tastefully atmospheric scratching by Mix Master Mike and DJ Lethal. In “Never Gonna Stop (The Red, Red Kroovy),” Rob even dabbles with acoustic-tinged funk-hop, strutting around like Beck possessed by Beelzebub until the chorus explodes like a zombie noggin in Dawn Of The Dead. But for all his minute sonic diversions, Rob’s mostly just up to his old tricks — diggin’ through those ditches and burnin’ through those witches. Ow! — Christopher R. Weingarten

LANGLEY SCHOOLS MUSIC PROJECT

Innocence and Despair (Bar/None)

A recording of 60 pre-pubescent voices belting out a Bay City Rollers cover is certainly a rare find, and the Langley Schools Music Project is filled with such uncommon cuts. From the bleacher-stomping crescendo of “Saturday Night” to the Beatles, Beach Boys and Barry Manilow ballads, the Langley kids offer an array of grown-up cover tunes. Organized during the mid-1970s by a liberal music teacher in rural western Canada, this youthful music troop didn’t come with big smiles or dulcet voices. Their amateur oeuvres, complete with wavering melodies and strained high notes, were recorded on a two-track tape deck in their school gymnasium. The result is lo-fi and folksy, but a bit haunting, too. Sure, “Help Me, Rhonda” is cute and innocent enough, with its ill-timed cymbals and off-key harmonies, but the same charming flaws make their otherworldly and gymnasium reverb-enhanced rendition of David Bowie’s “Space Oddity” sound downright eerie. And the effect of a nine-year-old girl singing “Desperado,” with a heartstring-tugging sadness that the Eagles never quite evoked, adds a painful sincerity. These little Canadians may not have had much rhythm, but they were feeling the emotion, for sure. One listen, and you’ll never see a third-grader in the same light. — Kara Zuaro

KOOP

Waltz For Koop (Jazzanova–Compost)

Waltz For Koop, the work of Swedish composers/producers Oscar Simonsson and Magnus Zingmark, is an ingenious bit of time-warp trickery: with a subtle hand on the sampler and a small but tasteful selection of guest vocalists, the duo has put together a lush re-telling of a funky lounge-jazz classic that never was. The fact that Waltz For Koop, with its swinging Latin rhythms, serpentine hard-bop soloing and sweetly scatted vocals, sounds like it could have been written 30 years ago is beside the point. There's a thoroughly modern sensibility to the way these tracks play out, using supple, walking bass lines and carefully layered dynamics to exaggerate rhythms in all the right places. Newcomers Cecilia Stalin and Yukimi Nagano add their softly upbeat and quavery voices to two songs apiece (the bossanova big-band stunner "Summer Sun" being a high-light), while soul/jazz vets Terry Callier and Earl Zinger offer their own voices and lyrics to one track each (Callier's electro-tinged twilight-ballad "In A Heartbeat" wins our vote). Sometimes it's difficult to tell where the samples end and the live congas, flutes and saxes begin, but that seems to be precisely the point; in Koop's universe, traditionalism is merely a palette tone, employed to suggest a mood or salute an inspiration. Thankfully, these Swedes know their Bird as well as they do their Rolands. — Colin Helms

NATHANIEL MERRIWEATHER

Lovage — Music To Make Love To Your Old Lady By (75 Ark)

Dan the Automator and Mike Patton are both the odd men out in their genres. The hip-hop world doesn't know what to make of Dan's high-concept brand of beats, and Patton's extreme noise experimentation can alienate even the most hardcore of his old Faith No More fans. But when they act in moderation it's easy to see the genius lurking in each, and they're in perfect form on Lovage. Dan has created a bed of smooth lounge-hop that sounds like Burt Bacharach taking a lesson at the Handsome Boy Modeling School, and Patton's doing what he does best — singing his ass off, from the deepest bass rumble to the flightiest falsetto. With plenty of help from sultry Elysian Fields chanteuse Jennifer Charles, they explore the highs and lows of ridiculous, melodramatic love: "Anger Management" finds Patton lamenting, "Why must God punish me this way?" while Kid Koala scratches a melancholy violin solo; Patton and Charles's vocal interplay turns Berlin's "Sex (I'm A)" into a passive-aggressive bitchfest, ending with Charles's barely whispered "You fucking piece of shit... Fuck me"; and in the noirish "Archie And Veronica," Charles taunts Patton from beyond the grave (a grave that he presumably put her in). If Dan and Patton's upcoming Peeping Tom project is anywhere near as good as Lovage, it'll be a successful one indeed. — Tom Mallon

CMJ extends its deepest sympathies to Team Clermont, whose co-owner, Jimmy McLean, was killed last week when his van overturned on his way to work. Before helping establish the four-year-old promotions company as a silent partner, McLean managed bands including Jason And The Scorchers, Five-Eight and Allgood. He was 36. • Can guitarist Michael Karoli passed away Nov. 17, according to a statement on Holger Czukay's Web site. His bandmate and friend noted that Karoli "died unexpectedly this morning in his home while playing on his favorite instrument," but gave no further details. He was 53.

THE "PLACE" TO BE

Everyone in New York is extremely pleased to share some good news: local officials have approved a plan to name the corner of East Second Street and the Bowery "Joey Ramone Place" in honor of the late singer. The corner, home to CBGB, the punk club the Ramones helped make legendary, will likely feature a street sign bearing Joey's name sometime next year. The project was spearheaded by 20-year-old student Maureen Wojciechowski, who originally conceived the idea to celebrate Ramone's 50th birthday. The singer passed away in April after a bout with lymphatic cancer.

TO TOUR OR NOT TO TOUR?

The masked and maudlin rockers in Slipknot have scrapped a month-long tour of the U.S. A release from the band states that the cancellation was brought about because percussionist Shawn Crahan (#6) needed time off to help his wife recover from surgery for Crohn's disease. Slipknot began its tour in support of hit record Iowa Nov. 21 in Fargo, N.D. The band will go ahead with jaunts to Japan, Australia and Canada, then reschedule the U.S. dates for sometime next year.

The Charlatans UK were set to kick off a Stateside tour behind the MCA release Wonderland at the originally scheduled CMJ Music Marathon in September. The Sept. 11 terrorist attacks scuttled those plans, but the Tim Burgess-led troupe has opted for another go in early 2002. The 13-date North American tour will begin at the Hollywood Palace Jan. 11 and wind up in Philadelphia on Jan. 31.

KINDERCORE WHEELS, DEALS

Athens, Georgia indie label Kindercore announced last week that it has formed a distribution alliance with The Telegraph Company, a New York/Pittsburgh distributor, record label and book publisher. Kindercore also unveiled a 2002 release list that will include albums from Sweden's Electronic Watusi Boogaloo collective, Dressy Bessy, The Masters Of The Hemisphere and Promise Ring/Pele side project Vermont.

In related news, the Promise Ring has finished recording an album for its new label, Anti-/Foreign Leisure, making the tuneful rockers mates with the likes of Merle Haggard and Tom Waits. The record will be released in spring 2002.

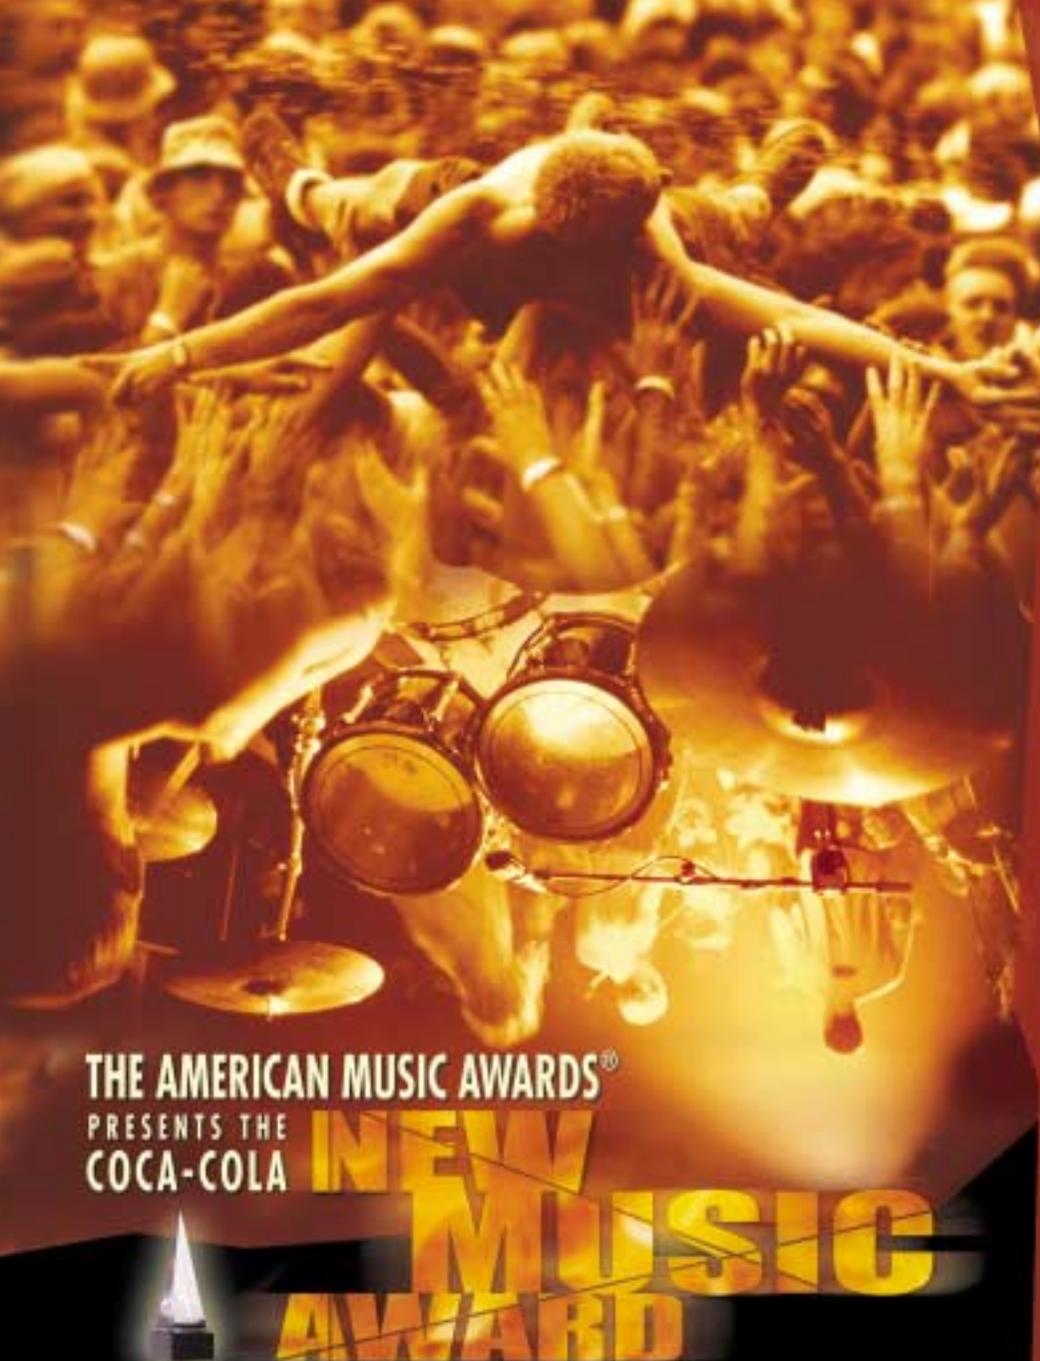

FRENCH EMO? MAIS OUI!

At long last, the French have produced an emo band worthy of our attention. The group, Experience, has released a video that's currently being shown on the website of French magazine Les Inrockuptibles. The song, "Essayer," comes from the album Aujourd'Hui, Maintenant, and the clip can be seen at www2.lesinrocks.com. Allez-vous!

In American emo news, members of the defunct band the Smoking Popes have reformed as Duvall. The Chicago-based group released the Standing at the Door EP on Dec. 11, according to the website of Double Zero Records. Duvall includes Smoking Popes frontman Josh Caterer, guitarist Eli Caterer and drummer Mike Felumlee. Bassist John Sewell, also of Double Zero band Kidsnack, rounds out the quartet. OK, I'll stop talking about emo now.

CHATTER

Word on the streets is that Luna will release its next record on Jetset. No figures were available, but the label — already home to Macha and the Go-Betweens — beat out other indies for the honor of releasing Dean Wareham and Co.'s first studio album since 1999's The Days of Our Nights, which was issued on the ill-fated Jericho Records imprint. • Another rumor has Tori Amos leaving Atlantic after just one release. She has allegedly either signed or may soon sign a multi-record deal with Epic. Amos's management company wouldn't comment. • In other news, Atlantic recently shuttered its specialty imprint Division One, former home to Kid Loco, Poe and Julia Fordham, and moved all of its jazz stable to parent Warner Bros., including Brian Culbertson, Wayman Tisdale, Steve Cole, James Carter and Cyrus Chestnut.

THE ART OF ROCKING

Story by Randy Harward • Photos by BJ Papas

Vocals : Davey Havok

Guitar : Jade Puget

“I think everybody wants to hear emotional, heartfelt music,” says AFI drummer Adam Carson about the band’s appeal. “They don’t want to be fooled. It just wouldn’t mean the same if we were singing and playing music about a lighthearted subject. The amount of energy we put into this band deserves to focus on something that is a little more real and a little more honest.”

His comments come as AFI’s fifth album, The Art Of Drowning (on Offspring vocalist Dexter Holland’s Nitro Records), and its leadoff single, “The Days Of The Phoenix,” approach the border of Hitsville. The chilling anthem — a kind of horror-noir look at the good ol’ days — has muscled up to 6,000 spins at Modern Rock radio since its birth. Sales of the record have reached into six figures — outstanding for an indie label release — and it appears that after 10 years of hard work, payday is on the horizon.

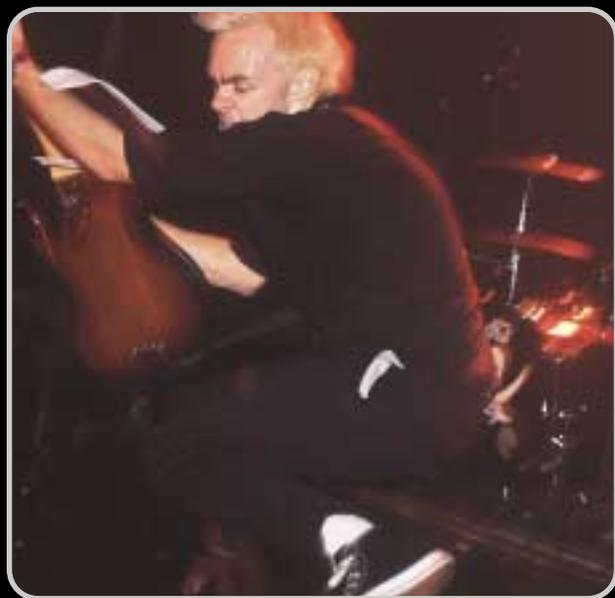

AFI (short for A Fire Inside) began in 1991 in Berkeley, California as an after-school diversion for founding members Havok and Carson, along with now-departed bassist Geoff Kresge and guitarist Markus Stopholese (replaced in late 1997 by bassist Hunter and guitarist Jade Puget, respectively). The band signed to Nitro in 1995, issuing Answer That And Stay Fashionable that same year. At the time, the band hadn’t yet established its enigmatic image, although it flickered in the background and would emerge gradually. Havok adopted a pasty gothic look, dressing in black and wearing make-up, and his lyrics soon became cloaked in supernatural metaphor as the band’s brand of Bay Area punk rock was honed to an eerie edge.

The Art Of Drowning finds the band tight, confident and ready for the level of success that would ensue, as evidenced by the steady 1,000-plus SoundScans per week it still garners. On tour, the band plays to sellout crowds of 800 to 1,700; they also enjoyed headline status on the main stage at the 2001 Warped Tour, exposing over 400,000 people to the AFI live spectacle (imagine a tortured tent revivalist fronting a trio of punk rock big-block Chevys). “We even sold out a show in Boston,” says Carson. “What’s weird about that is that we were begging to never go there again. It’s a tough city, but we went back and played to 800 kids and it was one of the best shows on the tour. It was pretty exciting.”

The cathartic, communal atmosphere of the shows is key to the band’s appeal. The AFI faithful, many tattooed with the band’s cartoon/horror iconography, chant “Through our bleeding, we are one!” as the veteran group takes the stage. Several return home afterward to engage in ardent online discussions of the performance and the significance of Havok’s lyrics. It’s something the singer enjoys so much that he balks at expounding on them, stating, “I hope the fans find something personal in their own interpretations.”

The congregation continues to expand at a startling rate, as evidenced by attendance, airplay and sales. AFI back catalog sales figures have increased dramatically in the past year and total sales for Drowning — including non-SoundScan outlets — are approaching 150,000. That’s a staggering amount for an independent label, and almost eight times the 20,000 that got Train signed to Columbia. The band prefers not to comment as to whether there have been talks with major labels, but Carson says, "I think we have lots of interest right now, [but] the thing about major labels is they have no idea how to sell from zero to 100,000 records, and that's where a band figures out who they are and what they sound like. From 100,000 to however many million, that's the easy part, because it just takes a lot of money and a little strategy. We've been able to sell that many records by being a band for 10 years."

He continues, praising Nitro for a fantastic job nurturing and supporting AFI and noting that there's no reason to consider a move presently. "We owe Nitro another record. How we're gonna deal with that I can't say, but I will say they've been super-supportive of us in every aspect and I think they'll continue to [be]."

Nitro general manager Brad Pollak says the label is just as proud of the band, stating they knew it would be a slow build and were happy to treat the promotion of Drowning as business per usual — despite the fact that both the band and the label knew there would be radio opportunities, particularly with "The Days Of The Phoenix."

"The game plan was always to keep following AFI the way that we've been doing from the beginning," Pollak says. "We didn't want to have an out-of-the-box, go-for-a-hundred-adds the first week type of thing. [We decided to] gradually work it at Modern Rock specialty shows and see if that would work."

Obviously, it did. Specialty show support turned into early add-takers in the first few months of release, prompting other stations such as KWOD in Sacramento, KXRK in Salt Lake City and 91X in San Diego to follow suit. Six months later, with programmers' ears primed, Nitro expanded the campaign by issuing a second single, "Wester," a performance video for "Phoenix" (which received air-play on MTV2), running spots on MTV and ESPN, and continuing to court press and radio. Among the fruits of Nitro's labor were a seven-page feature in Alternative Press and a new add at KROQ after Nitro's Sean Ziebarth lured the station's MD and APD, Lisa Worden and Gene Sandbloom, to one of AFI's sold-out Los Angeles performances. Nationwide re-adds and new adds followed, and going into the fourth quarter — the biggest record-buying time of the year — Nitro is cautiously optimistic.

"Whether 'The Days Of The Phoenix' is going to be a huge hit or not... it's far too early to tell," says Pollak. "But they've already done really brilliantly with this record and we're really proud of them. The rest is up to the gods." AFI, for its part, will continue doing what they do best: taking it to the people. "Touring has been probably 95 percent of our success," says Carson. "And it's absolutely the most important thing and the most instantly rewarding part of the band. Albums are hard projects that take a long time to come to fruition. The energy we get from, and give to, our fans is a real powerful thing." NMR

I Will Live In You Where Your Heart Used To Be (Feel)

Instead of taking the standard confessional singer/songwriter route, Brady Brock's debut avoids personal demons. The material on I Will Live In You Where Your Heart Used To Be is culled from songs Brock based on the lives of friends that he visited during his recent post-collegiate travels. While spinning borrowed yarn, his voice, while never quite apathetic, is suitably free of affectation. Though Brock does occasionally rock out, like on the Matthew Sweet-ish "Walk, Don't Walk," it's the quieter moments that excel. The mostly acoustic ballad "Be There When I Get There" relates a character that cannot bring himself to leave bed on a Monday morning. Here Brock's melodic hooks are as subtle as his tone of hopelessness, and his songwriting is in top form. Don't be surprised if Brock continues to follow the path of the plainclothes man that came before him, Elliott Smith; give him three albums (max) to attain deserved hipster reverence.

EVELYN FOREVER

Good To Be Alive (The Airplay Label)

File Evelyn Forever's brand of punchy power pop under "unapologetic." Ever since its critically acclaimed 1997 debut Nightclub Jitters, this New Jersey quartet has been crooning catchy tunes about girls to an ever-expanding audience. Every song is a neatly crafted nugget, complete with a danceable backbeat and a sing-along chorus, designed for total pop devastation. And on the group's third full-length, Good To Be Alive, it accomplishes this goal time and time again. Alternately led by a trio of singer/songwriters — super-cool rhythm guitarist Mark Sanderlin, super-cute lead guitarist Reef Fanous and since-departed bassist Ed Yoo — Evelyn Forever effectively channels the spirit of early Beatles with winning melodies, stunning hooks and throwaway lyrics. Besides the minor misstep of "Indecision," which strays a bit too far into boy band territory, the album delivers the goods with high-octane rave-ups like "Drunk Tank" and pop gems like the positively anthemic title track. These boys will have you and your little sister under their spell in no time.

FLICKERSTICK

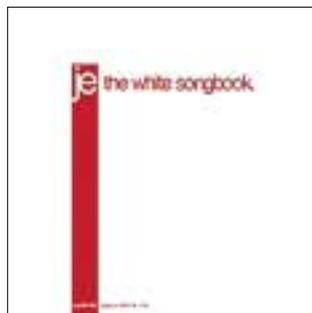

Welcoming Home The Astronauts (Epic)

Laugh all you want — the Dallas n'er-do-wells who conquered VH1's cult show Bands On The Run earlier this year may have spent more time sleeping and drinking than they did practicing, but Flickerstick was made to write under-your-skin, radio-ready singles. Singer/songwriter Brandin Lea's smooth warble cottons to a rock ballad like a teenager to tight denim (particularly on "Lift (With Love We Will Survive)" and "Coke"), while his bandmates supplant the soaring vocals with friendly Brit-pop guitar bits and snappy percussion. Though previously self-released prior to the success of Bands On The Run, Flickerstick's major label support provides the album with the helping hand of producer Tom Lord-Alge (Blink-182), who pumps up staples from the band's oeuvre like "Beautiful" and "Smile" with total starpower, if not a bit too much hamfisted emoting. Added backing vocals, handclaps and sound enhancements (such as kids on a playground) make it clear that Flickerstick is headed for the big time — something VH1 viewers knew well before the Texan band was crowned victorious. Take that, Beastie! —

JOY ELECTRIC

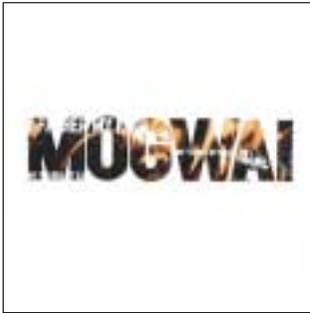

The White Songbook (Tooth And Nail)

On its sixth long-player, Joy Electric moves away from the sugary-sweet synth-pop of past efforts and towards a darker and often dubious destination: prog rock. Complete with dramatic synth-driven soundscapes and impenetrable lyrics held together by an ambiguous concept that has the tracks divided into "chapters" and sections, the proper elements are in place. But fear not; The White Songbook draws more upon the wells of Depeche Mode and Human League than those of Yes or the Moody Blues. Performed entirely by singer/songwriter Ronnie Martin, the album sports a warm sound, using only analog synthesizers and the human voice. Despite its sparse elements, however, Songbook is consistently textured and tasty, especially on songs like "The Good Will Not Be Cloned Or Why Should The Christians Have All The Bad Music," which voids the very question it poses by its own virtue. While the hooks may be fewer in number, this is still pop music, and its charm is overflowing.

MOGWAI
My Father My King (EP)
 (Matador)

Six years of prodigious composing has made Mogwai both a master and slave of the soft-to-loud progression. The Glasgow band's early 2001 record, Rock Action, featured a batch of fascinating struggles, with Stuart Braithwaite leading the lads through tense, near-silent moments into sneering barrages and maniacal crescendos. Mogwai may be between albums, but this doesn't mean that the Scots can let the matter rest. Thus, they've recorded a studio version (with Steve Albini) of the live favorite "My Father My King," a 20-minute excursion based around the melody to a traditional Jewish hymn. The track begins as a hushed and somber tune, building to a repetitive if still subdued cycle with clean guitars and drummer Martin Bulloch riding the hi-hat. Every few minutes, an eerie quiet prevails, then yields to an outburst that's explosive even by Mogwai standards. Halfway through, the bass, guitars and drums reach a frenzied state that results in a glorious mess of speaker-rattling natural distortion, that, by the end, gives way to enrapturing waves of feedback. — Tony Labriola

Queen Of The Highway
 (Yoshitoshi)

While squarely a denizen of the club world, Washington, D.C.'s Richard Morel crafts music that's far from the faceless tracks that are usually this realm's output. Queen of the Highway, Morel's third album (his first for Deep Dish's Yoshitoshi label), is a case of a beats-savvy producer imposing a songwriter's vision over the sonic terrain he knows best. And influence-wise, it is as informed by goth-pop and Brit-style guitar rock as it is by disco and tech-house — like a Mark Bell-produced Sisters Of Mercy at times ringing in Oasis guitars, at others refashioning the dance floor as a middle-ground between deep space and gay hotspot. That's quite a divide, but Morel sits comfortably on both sides, and often bridges the two. Inside the Bob Fosse Eurodisco of "Cabaret, Pts. 1 And 2," the lo-fi bedroom big rock of the title track and the ambient folk-pop of the closing elegy "Wake Up," to name but three, are sounds that overtake measly descriptions and expand the boundaries of a techno generation's modes of expression. — Piotr Orlov

Insignificance (Drag City)

Jim O'Rourke has certainly availed himself as a restless artist, busying his creative mind with session gigs, production jobs and solo albums. He's crossed stylistic borders so freely that it's like he's got a diplomatic passport, whipping up compositions on a laptop, producing Stereolab, recording Wilco and touring with Sonic Youth, to name a few. Insignificance, his third solo "pop" album, belies its title. Amid all this activity, it's significant that he'd concentrate on an album that actually bears his name. And it starts with a bang, a title track with revved-up guitars and a raunchy rock rhythm. Having proved that he can visit the roadhouse, O'Rourke settles in to a varied exploration of modern pop, with forays into jaunty acoustic-based soul ("Good Times"), plaintive balladry ("Get A Room," one of several tracks with Jeff Tweedy on guitar) and breezy left-of-country experimentation ("All Downhill From Here"). Of course, it's all refracted through O'Rourke's slanted lens, and it's produced to sound like he made it just for you. — Richard A. Martin

OCEANS ELEVEN
Soundtrack Music By David Holmes
 (Warner Sunset-WB)

In the remake of the famous Las Vegas heist film Ocean's Eleven, there's no way in hell George Clooney could emit as much cool as Francis Albert Sinatra. But mixmaster David

Holmes certainly fills the soundtrack shoes of original composer Nelson Riddle by weaving his own concoctions alongside pieces by Quincy Jones, Handsome Boy Modeling School and Elvis Presley (a Vegas movie without Elvis just wouldn't seem right). Holmes, who did dynamite work on another Steven Soderberg/Clooney pic, Out Of Sight, is in fine form again here. Mixing syrupy soul charts thick with horns, strings and tight breakbeats, Holmes creates a space where retro cool and trend-setting remixing happily co-exist. In an attempt to make the CD version of the score a cohesive listen, bits of the film's dialogue are sprinkled throughout; while sometimes effective, there's often a bit too much (more music, less Elliot Gould, please). Thankfully, however, there's plenty of meat around that sort of filler to make the disc a safe bet. — Steve Ciabattone

SILVER JEWS

Bright Flight (Drag City)
Renaissance man David Berman is a '90s indie-rock cultural treasure. His allegiance with college mate Stephen Malkmus affected the musical output of both Pavement and the Silver Jews (of whom Malkmus is a sometime member). His fiction helped define a '90s American literary aesthetic equal parts rural slack and gothic zen. And his turn towards country music as a primary mode of expression foretells the story of an indie nation squaring off with its folk roots. Bright Flight, the Jews' fourth, follows these storylines. Malkmus ain't here, but Mike "The Miighty Flashlight" Fellows is a collaborator, and Cassie Marrett plays Emmylou to Berman's Gram on the finer post-punk honky-tonk moments herein ("Slow Education" and "Tennessee"). Berman's still wrapped up in a blanket of fatalism, but he's trying to shed it as he grows older. Case in point: "Let's Not And Say We Did It," a wannabe Christmas tune that's a gleeful run through the roots-rock woods, like an attempt at making a bored longtime girlfriend laugh again. It should put a smile on her face. — Piotr Orlov

HANK WILLIAMS JR.

The Almeria Club Recordings EP (Curb)

Ask most people what Hank Williams Jr. means to them, and they'll probably think of his signature Monday Night Football theme song, "All My Rowdy Friends Are Coming Over Tonight." But just as Garth

Brooks did a few years back with his Chris Gaines alter-ego, Hank Williams Jr. has a secret, more serious side, adopting his "Thunderhead Hawkins" persona when he sings the blues. Recorded in a hundred-year-old jukejoint said to be crawling with poisonous snakes and memories of Jr.'s late, great father, The Almeria Club Recordings EP (full-length due in January) is rich with history. From the slowly plucked bayou blues of "Tee Tot Song" to the blistering, Jerry Lee Lewis-like piano romp of "Go Girl Go," Hank Jr. obviously enjoys exploring his inner bluesman. But there's some of his cornball country humor in the mix, too; on "Outdoor Lovin' Man," he proudly declares, "Give me a cane pole and a shotgun/ and I can have a whole lotta fun." A rollicking Southern party that pays its dues while it chases away the blues. — Kristy Martin

INDUSTRY NEWS

Cephalic Carnage is starting its own label and retail store in its native Denver. The label's first releases will be a reissue of Cephalic's Conforming To Abnormality (which includes bonus tracks) and Skeleton Of God's Urine Garden. Good luck to these grindcore pot-heads. • Bambino has left his post as Northeast Regional Promotions Director at Sanctuary Records to take a job at EMI Music Publishing, where he'll be doing A&R for hard rock acts. Congrats on the new gig, Bino! The radio world will miss you something awful. • During November and December, the industry slows down to a snail-like pace. It's everyone's favorite time of the year, not only because some of the stress is alleviated but also because everyone loves to submit their Top 10 lists and vote for their favorite albums, labels and promoters of the year. If you are absolutely itching for your opinion about Loud Rock music in 2001 to be heard, well, here's your chance. Cast your ever-valuable vote for the best in Loud Rock at the Syndicate's website: <http://www.thesyn.com/metal/forms/top10cdfsform2001.htm>. Stand up, be counted! And good luck picking just 10 records. • Spitfire Records is moving to the Big Apple. The label has left the cozy confines of Hicksville, New York and relocated to 22 W. 38th Street, 7th Floor, NY, NY 10018. Funny, I seem to remember a certain industry trade magazine that once called Long Island home before settling in three different offices in NYC. Best of luck in your new home, Spitfire — I am willing to bet the farm and the barn that anything is better than LI. No offense to the residents of that part of the state, but dude, the commute fucking sucks. Rolodex update: the new Spitfire main number will be 212.354.1101. In other Spitfire news, the label has started a DVD division, which will release music material from both Spitfire and non-Spitfire bands.

CRUCIAL SPINS UPDATE

Matt "Rock" Anderson from WVKC/Galesburg, IL has graduated. Anderson, a connoisseur of beer, Clutch and pretty much any stoner rock act out there, is now at a teaching post, undoubtedly extolling the virtues of metal to his pupils.

ARTIST NEWS

Members of Static-X and Slipknot have a side project called the Rejects. • Porno director and resident metalhead Matt Zane is releasing a spoken word disc titled Words As Carriers in February. The disc contains spoken word, poetry, short stories and other creative thoughts that have originated in Zane's head over the last 10 years. • Slipknot has cancelled its scheduled U.S. tour with supporting acts 40 Below Summer and In Flames due to a serious illness in a band member's family. The wife of Clown/# 6 Shawn Crahan recently had surgery for Crohn's disease, and Crahan is going to stay at home and care for their three young children while she recovers. What a swell husband and poppa. • Stuck Mojo will reunite for a New Year's Eve show in the band's native Georgia. • Anthrax is getting so much press these days. Check www.metal-sludge.com for former Anthrax guitarist Dan Spitz's rant against Scott Ian. No one is safe from the wrath of the Sludgites running this site, who choose washed-up '80s bands as a favorite target. These guys are like the metal scene's buddyhead.com! Spitz, a born again religio, really tears into his former bandmates. He sent in a photo of himself, shirtless and clutching a guitar. I have two words: Chee Zee! He tries to claim that Anthrax stopped selling records after he left. Whatever. Some choice quotes: "ANTHRAX, stop ruining the name. Everybody is laughing at you guys. Honestly. I'm on the outside looking in (Charlie). There was only one Anthrax. You guys are not Dave Mustaine, haven't you figured that out yet or should someone hit you with a brick." Someone is bitter; it must be the Napoleon complex he shares with Glenn Danzig. • Dry Kill Logic, Ill Nino and Kittie are currently on tour. Ill Nino, which is receiving some spins on WXRK, gets hotter each time the band plays New York. I was anxious to see Kittie with its "revamped" lineup following the departure of cute little guitarist Fallon Bowman. She's been replaced by a scruffy dude with a beard. Keep an eye on Morgan Lander, the band's superstar: she's got the range, the voice and the stage presence to go far. Hello, Kittie.

INDUSTRY PROFILE

RICH HALL 1000 Knives Booking/McGathy Promotions

I like Rich Hall because he always lets me into shows (and he gives good hugs!). That's because he promotes New York's legendary CBGB club through his company, 1000 Knives Booking (which takes its name from the plebian class of Rome seized power from Caesar with swords). Rich also works in the McGathy Edge radio promotions department. Hall's shows are almost always packed and feature some of the best up-and-coming hardcore and metal bands.

Do you book anywhere else other than CBGB?

I don't, but I'm always looking to expand my shows in other venues. I was going to do shows at Wetlands and Coney Island High, but they sadly closed when I was going to start. But CBGB has been a great working environment. The staff and everybody who works there is my family so we pretty much are together on every show. There's a lot of communication there so it makes the show easy to run and easy to get it over with as quickly as possible.

How did you hook up with McGathy Edge, and does McGathy work together with 1000 Knives on shows?

When I went to the Worcester metal fest (at the Palladium in Worcester, Massachusetts), I hung out with Danny Cymbal and had a great time with him. He is in the band Human Decline, and I was looking for an opener for my Napalm Death show so I contacted him. He was ecstatic and accepted the offer. Then, he was like, 'Hey, why doesn't McGathy get involved with the radio promotion for that show?' This was the first time I had done anything like this so we went through the steps. The band was fucking good, the show ruled and the relationship between me and the company grew. Then they called me up so I could host their showcase and we talked about me working there. I had experience with radio through M.I.A. Records. I accepted the position and I'm here, happily ever after. McGathy isn't really involved with 1000 Knives exclusively. But when they need help with a showcase or a show, I become involved that way. I still help out others who call on my services no matter what because 1000 Knives is "my baby."

How long have you been booking shows?

I have been involved for over seven years. I started handing out flyers for upcoming shows for a local promoter, King Size Bookings, then basically was involved in the day-to-day increments of booking shows and learning the trade so to speak. When Tyler King (of King Size) decided to quit booking for greener pastures, I just worked at CBGB for other shows. I was introduced to Marc Lopez, who was doing shows on Long Island and imported myself there, helping him doing the door, setting up the shows, etc. When Marc stopped doing shows to focus on his family, band and career, he put me in charge of a "collective," so to say. It was a bumpy ride. A lot of the people involved were stubborn and jealous that I was involved and a lot of distrust destruct-

ed my will to do shows. In 1998, I stopped doing shows and went on hiatus for a little bit. I got back into it via being involved in the scene. I was like "I can take back this scene!"

How have you seen the hardcore/metal scene change?

For the good and the bad. The good is the music I've seen. Bands progress and digress in music, and it makes me proud that I can see a band that used to roll on the ground and now see their musicianship, stage presence and maturity dealing with all this progress into a metal/hardcore machine where they pack clubs all over the nation and even the world. The bad is when a new band comes off like they are the best fucking thing in the world and they think they deserve a guarantee and a booking agent off the bat, when its like their first area show or first show ever. Or where booking agents think that their washed-up band can rake in all these kids and rape all the money for them (I'm not saying anyone specifically). Also, guarantees are a scary thing in the hardcore/metal scene. I really don't like doing it. I really know how a band does and if they deserve it or not — I hate being roped in guarantees. I usually do percentages but these days, the agents are lucrative with those so I don't know what the hell is going on. Hee hee!

Any 1000 Knives news you want to share?

Currently the staff of 1000 Knives has expanded to another device in the drawer: Jay Tavernese is on board. We can be reached by email at a1000knives666@aol.com, and the website for show listings is www.onethousandknives.com. To send CDs, demos or 7-inches, contact Rich Hall c/o 1000 Knives Booking 87-35 87th Street, Woodhaven, NY, 11421.

ROB ZOMBIE

Sinister Urge (Interscope)

One look at Rob Zombie's towering frame, menacing eyes and yards of dreadlocks, and you'll be shaking in your steel-toed combat boots. One listen to his computerized, industrial-flaked metal, which is always accompanied by B-movie imagery, and you'll be throwing a big ol' metal fist. But if you've ever seen or heard an interview that Mr. Zombie has done, you'll find he's a soft-spoken, highly intelligent chap. That's probably why The Sinister Urge never feels hokey or contrived, picking up right where 1998's Hellbilly Deluxe left off. With Zombie's studio-treated vocals, horror movie samples and righteous riffing, The Sinister Urge is a good indicator of where White Zombie's sound would be right now if it hadn't broken up. Songs about corpses, Transylvania and demos abound, along with guest appearances by Ozzy, Tommy Lee and Slayer's Kerry King. "Demon Speeding," "Dead Girl Superstar," "(go to) California" and "Feel So Numb" are Zombielicious cuts from the crypt.

DOPE

Life (Epic)

After the band's debut Felons And Revolutionaries, many a music fan considered Dope to be the stars in "The Dope Show," since their digitally dotted, almost-too-angry aggro was starkly similar to that of Marilyn Manson. Life retains that mechanized, cyber new-metal feel, but Edsel Dope and his lackeys have matured significantly while still weighing in as the champions of the Hot Topic ring. The addictive single "Now Or Never," the ballistic "Nothing (Why)" and "Stop" are active rock gems for the 8 to 10 p.m. commercial radio slot, each brimming with just the right amount of rebellious riffs. But that's not to suggest that Dope was "fixed" by overzealous managers and that the quartet's cajones have gone the way of most biohazardous waste; "Die MF Die" and "What About..." have those razor-sharp new-metal fangs, primed to sink right into your pulpy, fleshy ass cheek and take a big bite.

DARK FUNERAL

Diabolis Interim (Necropolis)

You know the black metal drill all too well by now. The bloodcurdling opening shrieks, the incomprehensible hyper-sonic riffs, the blast beats, the searing hatred of Christianity, and of course, the corpse paint that would give the ladies at Macy's Chanel counter a five-alarm heart attack. Dark

Funeral is a master of the black arts, and Diabolis Interim is the band's thesis. Caution: after "An Appreciation Of Satan" and my personal favorite, "Goddess Of Sodomy," you'll be of unsound mind and crawling on bloody knees.

BENEDICTION

Organized Chaos

(Nuclear Blast America)

Napalm Death and Bolt Thrower are not the only groove-minded British death metal acts around, despite the gobs of attention those bands receive. Benediction shuns any semblance of the NWOBHM (New Wave Of British Heavy Metal, which includes Iron Maiden et al) sound of siren-like vocals and grandiose riff prowess in favor of straightforward, neck-breakin' horns-in-the-air death metal. Organized Chaos rocks like it's 1988, when death metal bands like Obituary and Slayer were causing a ruckus in the midst of all that speed metal and the thrashin' of the titans. These limeys can make you smell the leather, the sweat and the hair gel on "Suffering Feeds Me," "Diary Of A Killer" and "This Graveyard Earth." Feels good to inhale, huh?

BURNING INSIDE

Apparition (Crash)

In Loud Rock, keyboards are usually reserved for cyber bands like Fear Factory and Rammstein or black blasphemers like Dimmu Borgir. Oftentimes, it's the keyboard that separates black metallers from death specialists.

Florida's Burning Inside, a death metal supergroup, employs some keyboard melodies and artsy passages. Among the band's ranks are members of power-metal acts Iced Earth and Demons And Wizards and players from death metal bands Death and Control Denied. Despite that excellent pedigree, Burning Inside isn't Iced Earth meets Death, as one might hastily assume. Apparition traffics, for the most part, in brutal, Florida-reared 'n' -raised death metal with corrosive vocals soaked in a smattering of those progressive keyboards. Definitely not your standard issue death metal; proof is inside "Carnage Remains," "Resurrection And Revenge" and "Gates of Hell."

D12 and Gorillaz have released "9-11," a song addressing the violence of Sept. 11 and the aftermath of the terrorist attacks. The track, featuring Terry Hall (The Specials, Fun Boy 3), is available for download on the Gorillaz website (www.gorillaz.com). • X-Ecutiioners are currently on tour with rockers Linkin Park, Adema, Z-trip and (hed) p.e. The group's new full-length, Built From Scratch, drops Jan. 29 and features collaborations with Linkin Park's Mike Shinoda and DJ Hahn, the Tom Tom Club, Biz Markie, the late Big Pun and Kool G. Rap, and remixes by the Lo Fidelity Allstars and Fatboy Slim. • 75 Ark and Asphodel founder Erik Gilbert and industry execs Howard Wulkan and Thomas Ryan have launched a new label called Coup D'Etat Entertainment, to be distributed by Caroline. The label's current roster includes J-Live and MC Paul Barman. • Elektra has entered into a label deal with LA Confidential Entertainment. The first release under the deal will be L.A. rapper Knoc-Turn'al's debut Knoc's Landing, scheduled for release in March 2002. The first single, "Knoc," features Missy Elliot and Dr. Dre. • Noreaga's upcoming album, Grimey: God's Favorite, has been pushed back from its original December release date. It is now scheduled to drop sometime next year. Details remain very sketchy at this point. Word also has it that the rapper is developing a feature film called Whut Whut, which will feature an appearance by O.J. Simpson and a slew of hip-hop stars. Don't hold your breath for this one either though, folks. • Source Of Labor is currently on tour with Dilated Peoples. Complete tour dates can be found on the Subverse website (www.subversemusic.com). • Mobb Deep's Infamy drops Dec. 11 on Loud and is pretty much "straight gangsta," as promised. The collaboration with 112 stands out — not in a bad way, but it is odd to have a "love song" (as much as Mobb Deep can do a "love song") on an album that's mostly about killing people. Havoc did most of the production on it, but the Alchemist did one track. Overall, a solid, intense, thundering album — pick it up.

Things to look for in your mailbox: Mute is finally issuing a domestic version of French techno don Laurent Garnier's 1994 debut Shot In The Dark, a wild, dark, Detroit-influenced ride; Mute's also servicing a 12" of the classic "Astral Dreams" single, featuring previously unreleased mixes by Carl Cox and LFO. Strangely, Rhino's take on The Very Best of Deee-Lite does not include the hot remixes this New York City pop-house trio commissioned from the likes of Ian Pooley, Carl Craig and Todd Terry, among many, but it does include the group's worldwide smash "Groove Is In The Heart" and its 1994 collaboration with Masters At Work, "Bittersweet Loving."

CORRECTION: In NMR issue #738 (Nov. 5), there was an error in the calculation of the RPM adds. Nitin Sawhney's "Sunset" was the fifth most added for that week.

DJ COLETTE

Our Day (Nettwerk America)

In Chicago, Colette's already a second-gen house legend — as a long-time booker of classic club nights like Material and Mummy Room, as a member of the local Super Jane collective of female house DJs (alongside DJs Heather, Dayhota and Lady D), and as a siren who serenades dance floors from behind the decks, improvising lyrics over other people's records. Now a resident of L.A., Colette has thrown together a third mix CD, Our Day — her debut for Nettwerk America, which will release an album of all new material in 2002 — celebrating her voice and her taste in records. Of course, the grooves herein are underground, exceptional, mostly Windy City in origin (props to the Master Blaster mix of Gene Farris's "Vegeta," which incorporates the spoken introduction of a Frankie Goes To Hollywood tune as a vocal) and of the house variety (though Mr. G's and Angel Alanis's lite techno is also flawlessly worked in). Colette's own voice weaves in and out of the flow, tying the whole thing together in a way mix CDs never do.

DUB TAYLOR

Detect (Force Tracks)

Following in the Basic Channel footsteps, Berliner Dub Taylor (Alex Kruger to his kin) continues exploring deep-space house using the dubby depths of echo and delay as primary tools of amusement. But unlike other practitioners of heavily digitized, German-influenced tech-house madness, Taylor also knows his way around a hook, and it's this quality that makes his second full-length Detect damn good listening. Moving fluidly from the laptop dirt of the title track, to "Sweet Lips," wherein Eddie And Wallace's vocal floats on an almost-pop melody, to the reserved and jazzy splendor of last summer's club hit "I Can't (...You Know)," featuring a Per Fourier vocal seemingly recorded on the other end of a phone line, Taylor's dub house is filled with variety and dimension.

Part of the first Cuban hip-hop delegation on a month-long cultural exchange in New York City, three groups from the recently released Cuban Hip-Hop All Stars compilation visited various art and community centers to speak about Havana's burgeoning rap scene. One recent night at Joe's Pub, the groups Anónimo Consejo, Raperos Crazy De Alamar (a.k.a. RCA) and Obsesión shared their pro-Revolutionary Cuba verses with a mixed audience. Husband-wife duo Obsesión were the most inventive of the three, rapping over pelvic-pumping funk and syncopated Caribbean drumming. A conga-accompanied spoken-word rant by Magia

Lopez was dedicated to Havana's prostitutes, and RCA provided Jamaican-style dancehall toasting with shoutouts to Africa; meanwhile, Anónimo Consejo pumped fists and chanted "¡Revolución, Yo!" The artists provided a perfect glimpse of what's going on in Cuban hip-hop beyond Orishas. One complaint: the event's hosts didn't provide any sort of explanation to non-Spanish speaking audience members on the Cuban rappers' mission, missing a large point of what they were here for in the first place.

ALL-STAR TRIBUTES

After taking a detour from roots rock to form a Glenn Miller-style big band in the last few years, Spanish rock legend Miguel Ríos will release his first album in five years. The veteran rocker invited a handful of his rocanrol contemporaries (and legends in their own right) and his progeny to record Miguel Ríos Y Las Estrellas Del Rock Latino. The Latin rock all-star album includes Ríos collaborating with nine giants of the genre: Spaniard singer/songwriter Joaquín Sabina, Manolo García, Rosendo, Fher from Maná, Mexican rock forefathers El Tri, Colombia's Aterciopelados, Chile's La Ley, and Argentina's godfather of alternative rock, Charly García, as well as Argentina's fifth Beatle, Fito Páez. The BMG U.S. Latin release went on sale Dec. 11, and the album will be serviced to college radio by FMF Promotions. (FMF is also working Jumbo's D.D. Y Ponle Play.) Contact FMF at fmfpromo1@aol.com.

ÑIÑO PLANETA

Voz Futura (Voz Futura) Unlike many Puerto Rican acts that look inward for musical inspiration — and often combine Latin tropical elements with rock in the process — Niño Planeta was weaned on traditional American rock fare from the '80s and '90s, moving from the arena pretensions of The Cult to the crunchy, grinding harmonies of

Alice In Chains. But the quintet meets dead-on with most Boricua rockers in its lyrical themes (see the Hijos De Borinquen compilation on Radical Sonica). Dedicated to the children of the world, and especially to the children of Vieques (the island off Puerto Rico's shores that the United States Navy uses for bombing practice), Voz Futura ("Future Voice") extends an invitation to the adult world to do more to improve the future of its children. Unfortunately, for all its talk of improving the world, the band's trad rock style bears too closely resembles the egocentric escapades of '80s big-hair bands to take completely seriously. A good universal message for a debut, but its rock en español won't help further the Niño Planeta cause.

WOLF KRAKOWSKI

Transmigrations: Gilgul (Tzadik)
Originally released in 1996, this reissue is an oddity — a Yiddish rock album. While bands like the Klezmatics have picked up on strands of the past and brought them up to date, Krakowski, born in a displaced persons camp after World War II, takes songs — and this really is about the songs — of the Jewish diaspora and gives them a modern context. Yes, it can be mournful stuff, but there's a fiber of steely determination underneath it all; "Shabes, Shabes" is a blissful celebration, and "Yeder Ruft Mikh Zhamele" a song of suffering that's typified the Jewish experience over the centuries, has a melody justifiably akin to blues. For all the modern trappings on Transmigrations, it remains strongly rooted in tradition, and Krakowski wears his heart firmly, and proudly, on his sleeve.

CARIBBEAN PULSE

Stand Up! (Irie)
Not since the heyday of Third World has there been a reggae album aimed squarely at the dance floor that also boasts conscious lyrics. Caribbean Pulse makes that cerebral yet hedonistic combo its reference point. When the group strays near adult contemporary territory (as on "Woman") the album loses some power, but tracks like "Victory," the title cut and the standout "Dry Your Eyes" — which features conscious dancehall star Tony Rebel — are right on the money, managing to balance a powerful rootsiness with a strong R&B tinge, a factor that could easily make for a crossover hit. In LaNiece McKay Caribbean Pulse has a female vocalist of true quality, while William Smith guides the ship with a beautiful rasp. There's something good going on here.

We've come for your jobs," say the members of Kultur Shock. And Kultur Shock is that rarest of things: a world-music band of international class based in America. The band, which makes its home in Seattle, hosts two Bosnians, a pair of Bulgarians, three Yanks and a Japanese bass player, mixing genres as freely as nationalities, with punk, metal and Gypsy Balkan rhythms — it's as if the Clash had recorded with Taraf de Haïdouk. These styles and backgrounds all go into the mixer on KS's new FUCC The I.N.S. for a sound that's truly unique.

Geno Yevdjevich began the band in 1997, but it took a while to get organized. 1999's self-released Kultur Shock Live In Amerika was "a party album," according to Yevdjevich, but when the group entered the studio with producer Billy Gould (of Faith No More), things became serious.

"The music is totally folk, but we're a rock band," explains Yevdjevich. "We started with traditional tunes, and now we're writing our own material. It's world music, but you can't call it world beat, because it's not beat. It's not commercialized. Call it world punk; it's very aggressive hardcore world music. Its roots are in gypsy music, and we have a lot of Middle Eastern flavor, but that's what they played in our hometowns."

It's the sound of a post-Sept. 11 world, looking to the past, but still marching to the future. And maybe it'll even make them famous. "We really don't give a fuck about being rock stars," laughs Yevdjevich. "It started as a joke, and it's still a joke. If we make some money, good. If not, that's fine, too."

OTHER DIMENSIONS

Composed of young players at the intersection of Chicago's post-rock and free-jazz scenes, Tricolor has a muscular sound that moves along upon the frenetic beats of drummer David Pavkovic. Bassist Tatsu Aoki provides the rhythmic ballast as guitarist Jeff Parker (Tortoise) soars over the top, plucking brief impressionistic figures, seemingly letting each phrase breathe before moving on to the next. While this kind of music usually uses electronics (Chicago Underground and Him come to mind), Nonparticipant + Milk (Atavistic; info@atavistic.com) is more organic and simple. The results are something certainly worth checking out.

Moving over to San Francisco, Mushroom is an eight-piece combo that goes for more of the kraut rock and Head Hunter-groove route, albeit with a twist. Sporting song titles like "Don't Blame Me, I Voted For McGovern" and "For Men With Beards," Foxy Music (Innerspace; normalsf@grin.net) features everything from a funky tuba to an alien-sounding violin out front with a typically rock rhythm section at its core. The playing isn't particularly overwhelming from a technical standpoint; rather, the band gets a riff happening and tastefully runs with it. Superchunk's Mac McCaughan has been a jazz fan for years, releasing several albums on his own Wobbly Rail label. On The Perfect Little Door (Merge; radio@mergerecords.com), Mac in his Portastatic solo guise hooks up with Vandermark 5 reedist Ken Vandermark and drummer Tim Mulvenna to find the middle ground between simple pop songs and jazz musicianship. The five songs include four Mac songs and a Vandermark song, all completely reimagined; the jazz players actually sound like they're trying to color the background rather than create articulate solos (a notable exception: Vandermark's nice intro on "When You Crashed"). A bit of a curiosity, this is an absolutely new direction for these three guys, if a bit cautious.

Another Vandermark 5 reedist, Dave Rempis, has been getting good notices since joining that band. Now Rempis is in the driver's seat on Triage's Premium Plastic (Solitaire; triage03@hotmail.com), a smart trio effort from this crew of relative unknowns. The short and manic "Fleet" is one of the most upbeat moments, while the long, moody "Lawrence Of Arabia" has as much texture and color as a desert sunset. Whereas the melodies of V5's slower material tends to have a noir-ish edge, Rempis keeps things open, panoramic, lovely and beholden, if anything, to a sorrowful bit of the blues. Definitely worth checking out.

Piano

(Surrounded By Entertainment)

As the king of the Cafe Carlyle for more than 30 years, Bobby Short knows and sings popular songs of the first half of the 20th century with a refined sophistication that perfectly matches the legendary room. Short only sings on only two of the 18 songs here, choosing to focus on playing piano mostly in a trio setting. Not surprisingly, he finds relevance in throwaway pop tunes like "Tea For Two," but he's just as imaginative when playing jazz classics like "Round Midnight." Short may be a cabaret singer, but he's got such a sense of style that he'll never be anything but jazz.

MARC COPLAND TRIO

Haunted Heart And Other Ballads (Hatology)

Because the tempos are forgiving and the melodies often quite strong, one might be misled into thinking that the ballad is one of the easiest types of songs to play. This couldn't be further from the truth, and pianist Marc Copland knows it. Copland's trio goes deep inside the 11 tunes here, finding rich veins of inspiration that are much more than obvious variations on the songs' themes. Common jazz standards like "My Favorite Things" are rendered new and knottier tunes like Coltrane's "Crescent" are brought to life again. Lovely and low-key, this is balladry at its best.

COPE WITH IT

It looks like an era has come to an end. Valley Media, the long-time one-stop giant, is on its way to filing Chapter 7, 11, or 13. For nearly two decades, owner Barney Cohen had the foresight and ability to put his money where his mouth was and build an almost perfect beast. Valley was considered one of the best one-stops and distributors (which went under the DNA name) in the business, not just because it carried a deep stock and had great customer service, but because it employed people who understood the music business and where it was going. Unfortunately, like many companies of our day, Valley made decisions based on optimistic predictions from outside sources who (can you say “dot.com”?) guessed wrong.

Valley not only secured itself as the No. 1 vendor for independents (while simultaneously re-stocking most major chains), but also became the fulfillment center for most online music businesses, including CDNow and Amazon. Then, after building an amazing pick-pack-and-ship warehouse, Valley sat back and waited for the business that never came. It didn't help that pricing got higher, expenses went out of control, and that the public company wasn't making its stockholders happy. It's sad to see Valley go the way of City One Stop, Mile High One Stop, Richmond Brothers, Pacific Coast, and the likes. These were the places where small retailers could go to find everything they needed to keep their business going week-to-week.

I was fortunate enough to work for one of the old-line one-stops, Mile High, in Denver. The Oxman family owned it for 30-plus years. During that time it distributed labels like Atlantic, Reprise, Elektra, Fantasy, T.K., and anything else that came down the pike. We did more business outside Denver than we did with the local accounts — it was a special kind of business in a very different time; too bad we can't go back and take all the good that came from the Mile Highs of the world and make it work. I, for one, will miss Valley, but time marches on and bean-counters rule.

Musically? Spiritualized and Death Cab For Cutie rule.

Peace, Mark Cope

SPEAK OUT

Our flag of three colors waves for a nation of many religions, ethnicities and cultures. Our strength has always been the ability to absorb diversity and march it towards the common goal of prosperity with individual freedom. Where other societies may fear differences, we celebrate them.

Like our society, American music has been a fermenting melting pot; ever absorbing, mixing and permutating like a mad scientist constantly discovering new chemicals to play with. This has made our music the center of the world because it is of the world. As American audiences become more sophisticated and worldly so their tastes broaden and the more they look for new brews and concoctions. I have always believed U.S. audiences are far more open and thirstier for new musical influences than the recording business and the media ever give them credit for. Sting's "Desert Rose" duet with Cheb Mami proved that overwhelmingly.

What is currently exciting is that we are discovering that traditional "World Music" with traditional or folk roots has, and is, undergoing transformation and mutation with the same speed and energy as our own music. Put the two together and there is a music explosion going on. Add technology developments and we should call it "Universe Music" because "World Music" sounds too small.

Mondo Melodia's "Unity In Diversity" campaign features a unique collection of some of the world's greatest artists as well as new up-and-comers who have all participated in and benefited from the worldwide music explosion. Their diverse nationalities and talents are unified in the genius of creativity, a creativity that will further enrich our American music by giving our mad scientists even more to play with. Above all, appreciation of diversity from overseas enables us to appreciate the diversity within our own borders all the more. This gives us strength, wisdom and makes our way of life truly great. Unity in Diversity: variety is the spice of life.

POLYVINYL RECORDS

Distributor: Mordam Records
www.PolyvinylRecords.com

Polyvinyl Records began in earnest in 1995 as a spin-off label from indie-rock enthusiast Matt Lunsford's short-lived Polyvinyl Press Fanzine. By the end of 1998 the Danville, Illinois-based label had cleared its first 1000 in single CD sales (for the label's debut sampler Direction), signed five bands, and seen total label CD sales edge over 20,000 — all via tiny independent distribution. In the spring of 1999 Polyvinyl formed an exclusive distribution deal with Mordam, who then helped the label sell another 33,000 that year. In 2000, Polyvinyl saw its sales nearly double to 57,000 and in 2001 they've climbed to almost 70,000.

The label's success is a combination of hard work on the part of its bands, and some not-so-dumb luck. One of the first to PV's roster, Rainer Maria, has steadily increased album sales through a relentless touring schedule, selling 12,700 of its debut Past Worn Searching (PRC016), 16,500 of 1999's Look Now Look Again (PRC024), and 22,000 of this year's A Better Version Of Me (PRC039). American Football, on the other hand, has sold 13,000 records of its self-titled debut (PRC025) without having to do so much as retune a guitar (virtually no publicity or radio, and a modest one-week Midwest tour hardly count).

Polyvinyl's most recent release is ex-American Footballer Mike Kinsella's self-titled solo project under the name Owen (PRC043), which in its first two weeks sold 3,000. Mike's alumni status with Jade Tree bands Joan of Arc, the Owls, and Cap'n Jazz hasn't hurt, but this record stands on its own as one of the great gentle-mood-benders of 2001. Also out in the last month: AM/FM's Getting Into Sinking (PRC044) and Matt Pond PA's 7" "This Is Not The Green Fury" (PRC045).

In 2002 look for the eagerly awaited album from Mates Of State, Our Constant Concern (PRC046), who recently signed to PV after selling 5,000 on micro-indie Omnibus (they have since sold another 2,000 touring with Beulah). Also coming up January 22, 2002: Matt Pond PA's full-length, The Green Fury (PRC048), and Kyle Fisher's (of Rainer Maria fame) solo debut, Open Ground (PRC047).

With most PV debut albums now selling nearly 10,000 minimum, and a loyal fanbase for whatever Polyvinyl chooses to release, be advised that this label won't remain under the radar much longer.

In-stores at Newbury Comics, Rolling Stone, Tower W.4th, and more.	Shipped 20,000 first week, shipping 10,000 more. Breakout markets: LA, SF, NYC. Programs with CIMS, LINGS, Virgin, Tower, and ISIS. Debuted Top 5 Record Archive (Rochester, NY) based on in-store and local college radio play.	Scanned 15,000 first week (shipped 160). Big in-store at Tower-Broadway and listening parties with retailers and radio in Nashville, Boston, Austin, SF, Minneapolis, D.C., Miami, and Chicago. CIMS Adopt-a-Band; Light-Box and Monitor This programs with MMN.	Released Nov. 13, originally shipped 13,000. By Nov. 15 reorders came in for 45,000 more, and by Nov. 16, 65,000 more. New Artist pricing programs in play.
radio		Spinning on 60 stations and huge on active rock; No. 1 commercial specialty, and No. 1 CMJ Loud Rock. Early support at WJJO, WAAF, WLZX, KQRC, and WCCC.	Huge support at college/non-comm radio: No. 4 this week CMJ's Top 200; huge upward moves every week since it entered charts. Comm radio: Top 5 phones at WEQX and adds at WOXY, KFSD; mix shows at WBCN, KROQ, Live105, WHFS, CIMX, and KNRK.	Huge college/non-comm radio support: WFUV, KCRW, WDET, WFPK, and WNCW. Great Triple A at KGSR, WRLT, WXRV, KINK, WBCO, WMVY, KTAO, Seattle's The Mtn. NPR's All Things..., Fresh Air, and Voice of America (100 million listening) celebrating the record.	Lots of early commercial support for "Cadillac" from Phoenix's KEDJ, Chicago's Q101, Sacramento's KWOD, Austin's KROX, Salt Lake City's KXRK, San Diego's KFSD, Portland's KNRK, and more.
video		"What I Always Wanted" in full rotation on MTV 10-14 times a week during the day. MTV2, MTVX, and Much Music all supporting the video full-time.	MTV Europe has already voted "Frontier Psychiatrist" Video of the Year even before stateside MTV has put it into any kind of rotation. Currently on MTV2, 120 Minutes; independent retailers have been serviced with the video.	Videos for "While In Your Heart" and "Killin' Kind," both been shot. A making-the-album video shot with Glen Ballard released to retailers for pre-sale campaigns which have begun rolling into value-added campaigns since Love's release.	Cadillac video produced by Marcos Siega ready to go.
press/tv		Much love from Spin , Rolling Stone , Metal Edge , MeanStreet , Bust , Modern Fix , and Rocker Girl , all following the groundwork laid by Spit for press acceptance on Oracle.	Rave reviews in Rolling Stone , Spin , Vibe , Urb , CMJ , Fader , Alternative Press , Blender , and Gear , among others.	Features in Harper's Bazaar , Time Out , CMJ , Vanity Fair , Esquire , and Alternative Press . Single used prominently in Shallow Hal , and appears on its soundtrack. Just appeared on Letterman.	Great press story with lots of word-of-mouth and fanzine support. Recently played Jenny Jones show in Chicago where local rags and dailies have been strongly behind the record.
tour		Kittie tours hard: European tour through beginning of March 2002, then back to the U.S. for intense Spring and Summer schedule.	Playing DJ shows in NY, LA, SF. Will return in January with a full band and extensive U.S. tour.	New York, Philly, DC, Boston, Vancouver, Seattle, Portland, SF, LA, and a special Amagansett performance. Also did the Lennon Tribute. Will be back 2002.	Touring solid from Hollywood, CA to Hartford, CT through Dec. 22 with Good Charlotte. Have been accompanying Blink-182, Goldfinger, and MxPx.
internet		Flooded net with free MP3 campaigns. AntiMtv.com, ShoutWeb.com, Kungfoo.com extremely supportive. E-cards, downloads, and tour info all available on Kittie.net. Nearly 100,000 active email-enlistees on the prowl for Kittie.	Screensavers available at MTV.com. Sire also did a Club CD Launch. Video is all over the Internet. A GetMusic.com Alternative Top 5 and part of AOL's Artist Discovery Network.	Pre-order campaigns at Amazon, where fans could listen to the album streamed before release. Independent retail got stickered videos giving special access to streaming site. GetMusic.com and StarPulse.com ran free Shallow Hal CD and Grammy ticket promos. Best info at ShelbyLynne.com.	Single-Serving Blast promo with MP3.com. Aggressive e-team marketing to Mest's 20,000 avid online fans. Maverick also bundled Mest's "Cadillac" video into WinAmp players for Tony Hawk video game.
notes		This is Artemis's year-end capper and is a major priority. Go to Kittie.net—fans and retailers can get everything from street team schwag to retail POP materials.	Stickers, streamers, and an CD-ROM video avail. for retailers. 3" mini-discs of single handed out to fans at lifestyle shops and on college campuses. FB Slim huge fan. and Madonna gave them her only sanctioned sample.	Listening parties a real success—retailers, consumers, radio, and press all invited. EPKs given out, and raffles held for custom autographed CDs. Custom autographed Shelby Lynne guitar given out at each event.	This album is breaking on the street. Best sites for screen savers, desktop patters, display materials are www.maverick.com/mest and www.mestcrapp.com .

Vermont is a beautiful state, but if you're on a quest for anything not classifiable as "hit" music, there are very few places to go. Enter independent retailer Buch Spieler (the name is German for "talking book"), a local legend since 1973 located in the downtown area of the smallest state capitol of the U.S., Montpelier. Catering to a wide variety of musical tastes, Buch Spieler has a surprisingly deep catalog for a store about the size of your average mall shop. The mom and pop carries everything from classical to punk, and specializes in jazz, world and roots music. The store has its own personalized listening stations, and regularly sends customers monthly e-newsletters talking up music the staff is excited about. Buch Spieler also brings in local artists for in-store performances — singer/songwriter Patty Casey was one of its recent successes.

NEWS AND UPDATES

VIRGIN GETS SPIRITUALIZED

On Tuesday, Nov. 13, over 100 avid Spiritualized fans crammed into the Virgin Megastore on Sunset Blvd. mid-day for a special Q&A with Spiritualized leader Jason Pierce. Although a bit unwilling to speak into the mic, Jason did say it was great to be there and that he felt the fans there were informed and "really understood his music." Vince Szydowski, Virgin's Director of Product says, "We were pleased to get an up-close and personal look into the psyche and genius behind Spiritualized's Jason Pierce." CMJ's own Head of Retail, Mark Cope, directed the Q&A with Pierce and his adoring fans. Virgin has done several high-profile Q&A/in-store appearances of late, and this one continued the success of this tradition. Just one word of advice to Jason next time — light the cigarette, dude, nobody cares. If you haven't yet listened to the new Spiritualized album, consider yourself uninformed and uncool. It is a great album from a great artist.

ARTISTDIRECT AND BMG GET HITCHED

On Nov. 19 BMG and ARTISTdirect Records (the co-venture of Ted Field and ARTISTdirect) announced a joint North American distribution and worldwide licensing agreement. BMG has committed to distributing the label's releases in North America and to licensing ARTISTdirect's repertoire throughout the world. They're also anteing up some label funding in exchange for a small piece of the ARTISTdirect pie.

Ted Field, Interscope's co-founder, said "We highly value the expertise BMG has throughout the world and know it will play a significant role in our ability to break new artists," a trick most believe Field knows something about (see Eminem, No Doubt, Nine Inch Nails, Tupac Shakur).

BMG North America's President and CEO, Bob Jamieson, seems equally enthusiastic: "BMG is... excited to join forces with a creative leader of Ted Field's caliber and track record." Pete Jones, BMG's Distribution and Associated Labels President and CEO, adds that their faith in the partnership comes from seeing Field as the "premier music executive... we look forward to helping Ted and his team realize the great success they are uniquely capable of achieving."

The first ARTISTdirect/BMG release will be Custom's Fast, which should be out sometime in early 2002. Releases by NAAM Brigade, the Blood Brothers, and Pokafase will follow throughout the year.

LOONEY TUNES & SLAYER

On Nov. 16, 600 lucky Slayer fans turned out to see the band perform at Looney Tunes in Babylon, NY. The band was noticeably excited about meeting all their fans, and signed countless autographs. They even hung out to do some Looney Tunes shopping. Go to www.LooneyTunesCds.com to check out the truckloads of photos documenting the event.

How many watts is your station? How many people do you reach?

KCSU runs at 10,000 watts and we reach 250,000 to 300,000 people.

How long have you been MD? How do you abuse your power?

I have been Music Director since may of this year and will be so until the end of April 2002. I abuse my powers in many ways... oh, you mean my powers as a music director. Well, I guess I abuse my music directing powers by being able to take albums home and digest them before they go for adds, and I may share the new tunes with my roommates by playing them really loud on my stereo.

Are you on the air? What kind of show do you do?

I am not currently on the air. Though I do make special guest appearances, I gave my spot up to make it available for other DJs. As the Music Director and having had a show of my own for almost three years, I wanted to give it up to provide a spot for another DJs to have the opportunity and fun I have had.

What do you do to build your station's audience?

To build KCSU's audience we do a number of things. I say "we" because KCSU is not just one person — it is a collection of great people who run an awesome radio station. We do many promotions from sporting events to campus affairs to concerts, just to name a few. We reach out to the student body and community, participating in promoting community wide events such as Race For The Cure. We also try to play a diverse and textured range of music so that we can appeal to many different people and their tastes, while still maintaining a sound that cannot be heard anywhere else in Colorado or surrounding states. This is just a small part of what we do.

Who are you most proud of bringing by the station?

I would say I am most proud in being a part of bringing the band Arlo to play at KCSU when I was Assistant Music Director. The turnout was less than successful, but it was a great show. I am also glad we were able to bring Rival Schools in for an interview at KCSU. They were passing by on their way from Salt Lake City to Denver, and it was an early morning interview for the guys, but we all seemed to have fun. In the end, one of the best guests ever to come to KCSU was Vanilla Ice, although I was not a part of bringing him to KCSU. I had wanted to meet him ever since I was in the sixth grade (I'm joking). Actually Vanilla, as I think he now likes to be called, was a really nice guy.

What's the most fucked-up thing that ever happened to you while you were on-air?

I don't know if this is fucked up, but I received a few threats of getting my ass beat during my first show on the air from 3 to 6 a.m. Fridays. Drunk guys would always threaten me to play what they wanted to hear or would tell me I sucked. I didn't really give two thoughts about it, and I wouldn't play the shit they wanted to hear, I never did. I also have had a few offers to go out on dates because some of the ladies out there like my voice.

What's the best line a promoter ever used on you to get you to play a record?

I will not and cannot say what the worst line a promoter ever used on me to get me to play a record, because it would be way too obvious as to who it was.

What's the best promo item you've ever received? The worst?

What promo items? Am I missing something here?

Does your station still play vinyl?

Our station definitely still plays vinyl. We have hip-hop and electronic specialty shows that spin their own vinyl and we often have special guests who will play on air. Some DJs bring in their own personal vinyl to play during specialty shows and overnights as well. Vinyl is not dead at KCSU!

Every station has that one old dude from the local town who's been doing a show since anyone can remember. Who is it at your station, what kind of show do they do, and what's their deal?

We don't have that one local dude — being student-run only allows for a DJ to hold a prime-time slot for a few years, since most students graduate in four years. There is one DJ who stands out among the rest lately. He calls himself the Irish Car Bomb or ICB. He is a great DJ with a lot of creativity, from his many voice impersonations to his wild thoughts and ideas on life. You gotta hear him to believe him.

Name one CD you're embarrassed to say you own.

Paula Abdul's Spellbound. I was in third grade when I started liking Paula. OK, OK... I had a crush on her. So sue me.

Why did you go into college radio?

I got into college radio to free my soul. Really, I got into it for my absolute love for music and my wide range in tastes for it.

If you could see anyone live (dead or living), who would it be and why?

My two grandfathers and my grandmother that is not living. I want to meet them because I know very little about them and they all died a long time before I was born. I just really want to see where I came from beyond my parents. Who doesn't want grandparents?

Any shoutouts?

A shoutout to my brother, KCSU and to all of you who know and love me...

Don't just read about new music...
