FEATURES

10 Webcasting's Uncertain Future

The Library Of Congress recently rejected a proposal on royalty rates for Internet broadcasting — a proposal that in all likelihood would have put the cost of streaming well beyond the means of the many small webcasters. Still, no one can claim the early victory in this battle for equitable rates vs. fair compensation. A second LOC decision looms large this month and it will impact what you hear, how you hear it and what it's going to cost.

WEEZER

Maladroit (Interscope)

Weezer called, and they want their sweater back, folks! That's right: college and commercial radio's favorite geeks with guitars have not altered their established formula in any way, and that's just the way the fans — which range from back-packin' pop-punk kids to Hot Topic goth-metallers — like and want it.

Maladroit stays true to the path first tread on 1994's self-titled "Blue" album and last year's self-titled "Green" album; it's all triumphant, three-chord nerd rock anthems here. Weezer is easily the hardest working band in show business right now, releasing Maladroit almost a year to the day after its last effort and touring incessantly. Maladroit (French for "awkward") is drenched in addictive pop hooks, plenty of perky "woah woah" harmonies, and big 'n' simple rock riffs. Frontman Rivers Cuomo (still sporting the black specs popular among serial killers) has a reputation of being rather crotchety, but on Maladroit, he's as inviting and pleasant as a basket of puppies. "Burnt Jamb," "American Gigolo," "Dope Nose" and "Keep Fishin'" are definitely Weezer at its best: catchy with just the right dose of jump up and down rock flair. Maladroit is a vindicating and rewarding revenge of the nerds. — Amy Sciarretto

LOOPER

The Snare (Mute)

Stuart David is a sort of musical artichoke, shedding layers of twee with each new release. Starting at the most precious point possible (Belle And Sebastian), David continues to get closer to his core with his side project turned full-time gig, Looper. The group's third release suggests that, in his heart, David is indeed feeling sinister. Devoid of cutesy spoken-word antics and electronic instrumentals, The Snare is Looper's first record to exist wholly outside of Belle And Sebastian's shadow — it's too busy casting its own. Though it pretty much sticks to its formula of minimal pop fueled by space-age R&B skitter-beats, it sports David's most accomplished, threatening songwriting yet. At its best, Looper turns out gems like "She's A Knife" and "Good Girls." Complete with harmonized, female-sung choruses, the former owes everything to Destiny's Child's "Bills, Bills, Bills." The latter isn't wholly believable (David claims to be "giddy as a schoolboy," but that's impossible on a song with such an ominous bassline), though it's an indication of what's to come. The Snare turns beguiling when it ends on the uplifting, trumpets-and-all note of "Fucking Around." "We're only messing about here," croons David. Who knew that he had it in him to turn out such twisted fun? — Richard M. Juzwiak

DJ SHADOW

The Private Press (MCA)

It's been six years since DJ Shadow (a.k.a. Josh Davis), set the rap and DJ worlds ablaze with his genre-busting debut, Entroducing, and many wondered if he would ever recreate that album's phenomenal blend of scratches, beat and hip-hop braggadocio. Apparently, he was able to — The Private Press is not only a fitting follow-up, but also an astounding achievement that should easily catapult Shadow back into the spotlight. With an unparalleled library of samples from funk to psych to spoken-word, the arrangements on The Private Press have soul-stirring beats, irrepressible DJ theatrics, personality and humor that only the most skilled collage artists are able to incorporate into their work. Whether it's the goofball chaos and bouncy thump of "Mashin' On The Motorway" or the multi-layered hardcore dance rhythms of "You Can't Go Home Again," Shadow's perfectionism not only shines through; it's completely captivating and flawlessly imaginative. Comprised almost solely of samples, the disc bounds ahead, dodging beats and switching tempos in the blink of an eye as it refuses to ever flirt with stagnancy. Shadow is a true master of his art, and his latest disc is strong enough to merit the reverence afforded to his debut. — Peter D'Angelo

TRANS AM

TA (Thrill Jockey)

Finally, an album everyone can robot-dance to and still feel cool. Phil, Nathan and Sebastian, collectively known as Trans Am, have bestowed upon us a treasure box chock full of keyboards, crisp dance beats and studio trickery. Vocals add a new dimension to the Trans Am sound on TA; "Molecules" presents a great fusion of Sebastian's sleek voice with influences from Depeche Mode and New Order, then creatively jumps into "Run With Me," a frenzy-filled tribute to the days of slap bracelets and Garbage Pail Kids. Totally caliente is "Basta," a fantastic anthem smack right in the middle of the album that chops at you with the energy of a karate kid. Ah, and who could not fall for a "Different Kind Of Love"? The tune eases listeners into a silky sleep of drum 'n' bass. And any review of TA is incomplete without mention of "C-Sick," an audio geek's dream and a DJ's fantasy come true — this groove lays down the rules for a wicked club hit. Trans Am has successfully created a CD that will have club kids, '80s enthusiasts and alternative minds yearning for a dancefloor and a round of glow sticks. — Antonia Santangelo

INDUSTRY NEWS

Webcasters are breathing a collective sigh of relief, at least for the time being, now that the Librarian Of Congress has issued an order (May 21), based upon recommendations of the Register of Copyrights, rejecting the proposed Copyright Arbitration Royalty Panel's (CARP) online royalty rates. Librarian of Congress James H. Billington said, "A final decision will be issue no later than June 20, 2002." You'll recall that back in February, CARP proposed a rate of .14 cents per streamed song, which webcasters have argued is too high, while the Recording Industry Association of America (RIAA) feels that the rate is too low. • Sad to report, but a reality of our times, America Online recently cut 120 jobs in its ad sales department, according to Reuters. • WRLC-2 at Rutgers University — Livingston College, New Brunswick, New Jersey — is changing its CMJ reporting call sign to RLC. There has been no change in the station itself or to the management structure; all contact information remains the same. RLC is a time-share partner of WVPH (Piscataway, New Jersey) and broadcasts at 90.3 FM with an ERP of 200 watts. The station is located in Arbitron Market No. 33, and has nearly one million potential listeners in the Middlesex-Somerset-Union county, New Jersey market. Josh Cheon and

Rebecca Lyne remain the head music directors, and they can still be reached at 732.445.4105. This change was made to avoid future reporting conflict with WRLC-FM, the station of Lycoming College in Williamsport, Pennsylvania. WRLC-AM at Livingston College first went on the air in 1971, and moved to its present home with 90.3 WVPH FM in 1998. • Finally, could it be true that tech geeks have foiled Sony Music

Entertainment's disc copy-protection technology, Key2Audio, by scribbling around the rim of a CD with a felt-tip marker? Some Internet postings also claim that a "sticky note" strategically placed on a disc covering the security track works, too. Ouch!

LABEL NEWS

After 16 years at Virgin Records, Sr. VP/Promotion Michael Plen has left the company. Don't expect him to be idle too long. Reach Plen at mplen@charter.net. • Changes at Island Def Jam Group see Island VP/Promotion Stu Bergen rising to Executive VP and Sr. VP/Finance Matt Signore jumping to the GM/CFO seat. Def Jam/Def Soul VP Randy Acker becomes GM, while VP/Promotion Mike Kyser takes Acker's old chair. • Former Mammoth Records VP/Promotion Pete Rosenblum is returning to Elektra Entertainment to run the Alternative Department in the wake of Greg Dorfman exiting. • Ex-Universal Records Sr. VP/Pop Promotion Charlie Foster will take over TVT Records' promotion department on June 3. Foster replaces Todd Glassman, who is now at Columbia Records.

MUSIC NEWS

During a decidedly sober moment, Courtney Love and longtime Hole bandmate Eric Erlandson released a statement on May 23 officially announcing the dissolution of their band. The confirmation came after years of speculation that the group was no longer together, having released its last album in 1998. Love partly blamed the breakup on the group's longtime label difficulties. "Since Geffen Records closed during the promotion of our last record, there have been a lot of distractions," she said in the statement. "Universal's lawsuit against us made it impossible for us to find a new record company despite overwhelming interest from other labels." Love also stated that she is currently working on a new album with one of her old Hole bandmates, drummer Patty Schemel, and Linda Perry, former vocalist of 4 Non Blondes. In related news, Love remains at the center of the ire of countless Nirvana fans, as she continues to withhold the band's lost gem of a song, "You Know You're Right." Love filed a lawsuit against surviving Nirvana members Dave Grohl and Krist Novoselic to stop them from releasing a box set including the song last year. The duo filed a countersuit, with a trial scheduled to start in September. There is talk the case may be settled out of court, but the recent surfacing of an as-yet unauthenticated clip of the song online has put a new spin on the ongoing struggle. • A posting on the official Massive Attack website, reportedly from band member Robert Del Naja (a.k.a. 3-D) has sparked speculation that the pioneering trip-hop act could also be getting ready to call it a day. While no official word has been given, the post claims that a meeting was due to take place on May 24 to “discuss the future of the band.” It also reports that Del Naja and Grant “Daddy G” Marshall just went through six months without seeing each other. “Making an album, a great album, takes all your time, concentration, imagination, dedication, etc.,” reads the posting. “A day a month will not do it. If this band is to continue it has to be more fair.” Meanwhile, there’s still no word on a potential release date for the group’s highly anticipated follow-up to 1998’s Mezzanine. • In brief: Weezer has tapped Dashboard shows; Nivek Ogre, leader of influential industrial act Skinny Puppy has announced that the band will be reforming and working on a new album, its first since The Process in 1996; R.E.M. is offering an online remix album, consisting of 10 reworked tracks from its latest album, Reveal, available to download for free from the band’s official website, www.remhq.com; Starsailor has backed out of commitments to perform at three European festivals this summer, as singer James Walsh is expecting the birth of his first child; Bush guitarist Nigel Pulsford, who had been on temporary leave from the band, has now been replaced by Chris Traynor, formerly of Helmet, who had been filling in for Pulsford on the road. While no official statement has been made, the band does not expect Pulsford to return; Radiohead’s debut album from Gorillaz, mixed by the enigmatic production team Space Monkeyz; Garbage, Tom Waits and U2 have added their names to the list of artists set to contribute to a Joey Ramone tribute album being compiled by Rob Zombie for DV8—Columbia Records. The record, due this summer, will also include contributions from Rancid, Green Day, Red Hot Chili written by frontman Liam Gallagher. A tour to support the disc starts out Aug. 2 in Pompano Beach, Florida; Sonic Youth, which is also hitting the road to support its new release, Murray Street, is set to reissue three classic albums from its back catalogue. Dirty, Daydream Nation and Goo will each be offered in remastered form, along with new liner

Courtney Love

Confessional as the opening act for an upcoming tour in support of its new CD, Maladroit, with dates to be announced. The band is also hoping to bring the Strokes on board for some of the

Thom Yorke made a surprise appearance at a DJ Shadow show in Bristol, England on May 19, joining Shadow onstage for a live version of “Rabbit In Your Headlights,” the track they collaborated on for Psyence Fiction, the 1998 release from Shadow side project U.N.K.L.E. • Album news: Recording is well underway for new albums from Thrill Jockey acts Tortoise and the Sea And Cake, with both discs likely to see a fall release; On July 16, Astralwerks will release Laika Come Home, a dub reworking of the self-titled

Peppers and others; former X frontman John Doe will release an acoustic album, Dim Stars, Bright Light, on Aug. 20. The album will feature collaborations with Aimee Mann, Juliana Hatfield, Jakob Dylan, Rhett Miller of the Old 97’s and

Dashboard Confessional

Go-Go Jane Wiedlin; the White Stripes have been spending time in London working on material for their fourth album, which should see a release sometime next year; Placebo has set the ball rolling for its fourth record, as well, hooking up with producer Jim Abbiss for an album also likely to hit stores in 2003; Green Day has confirmed the details of a b-sides and rarities collection, scheduled for a July 2 release on Reprise. Titled Shenanigans, it will include 15 songs culled from single releases and various compilations, including a cover of The Kinks’ “Tired Of Waiting For You”; Oasis has also set a July 2 date for its Heathen Chemistry, the band’s first album to contain contributions from members Gem Archer and Andy Bell, as well as three songs notes and a bonus disc of unreleased material. Dirty will hit stores first, sometime this summer; No release date has been set yet for the long-awaited new album from the Prodigy, Always Outnumbered, Never Outgunned, but the band will release a new single in advance of the disc, on July 2. “Baby’s Got A Temper,” which has already caused a stir in the U.K. due to its repeated references to Rohypnol use, will be available in CD, 12-inch and DVD formats. • And this week’s wackiness comes courtesy of ’80s icon Adam Ant, who was in court on May 22 to respond to charges stemming from an incident in a London pub earlier this year, when the singer reportedly brandished a fake gun after being barred entry to a private party. Ant, whose real name is Stuart Goddard, was originally scheduled to appear on Jan. 18, but the date was postponed after he was placed into psychiatric care. Goddard pleaded not guilty to charges including criminal damage and assault causing actual bodily harm.

Hear Today... Gone Tomorrow? The Future Fortunes Of Webcasting.

Story By Steve Ciabattoni • Illustrations by Graham Brice

Until recently, few people knew the name James H. Billington, but America's snowy-haired Librarian Of Congress has quickly become one of the most influential figures in the music industry. On May 21, Billington's office rejected a determination of royalty rates and reporting requirements for Internet broadcasting proposed by the independent Copyright Arbitration Royalty Panel (CARP). The three-person panel offered its recommendation in February after six months of information gathering from webcasters, broadcasters, media companies and the Recording Industry Association of America (RIAA). The decision affords Billington's office until June 20 to set the rates themselves, or perhaps order new hearings and proceedings. The only thing at stake is what you hear and how you hear it.

"That decision could go either way," says John Jeffrey, Executive Vice President of Live365, a major webcasting portal and one of the participating parties in the CARP study. "But, clearly there is a track record for the RIAA in being successful before the Copyright Office." As the organization that represents the majority of copyright holders of sound recordings, the RIAA was in favor the CARP proposal, if not influential in its ultimate determination of rates and requirements based on previous independent agreements reached with Yahoo! and select other webcasters. Unphased by Billington's decision, the RIAA continues to press on in its quest for compensation due from Internet broadcasters. These are royalties the association has been expecting since the 1998 Digital Millennium Copyright Act (DMCA) laid the groundwork for the establishment of a statutory rate. "We look forward to the conclusion of this process on June 20 and to the day when artists and labels finally get paid for the use of their music," Cary Sherman, President of the RIAA said, in a statement released immediately following Billington's decision.

It's foolish to simply paint this issue as Big Business (the RIAA) vs. The Little Guy (the webcasters), but the RIAA has unfortunately taken a significant public relations hit, regardless of how noble its goal is to seek fair compensation for its copyright holders. On May 1 hundreds of webcasters participated in a "Day Of Silence" in staunch protest to the CARP determination. Webcasters either went completely silent or broadcast debates on the topic. That "May Day" event was extremely effective in drumming up grassroots support as well as legislative concern. Additional news coverage leading up to the May 21 decision often depicted the RIAA and CARP as unreasonable, advocating rates and requirements that would force a vast number Internet broadcasters to pay rates far in excess of their income — not to mention retroactive fees. "Our rough estimate in what we would owe in back royalties is roughly $2 million," says John Jeffrey, who fears the commercial broadcaster aspect of Live365 could be in danger, despite its relatively successful advertising base. "It's all about availability to the capital market," he says. "If the royalty rate makes you go out 24 months before you show cash-flow positive, which is where it would have been with the rate the CARP determined... we may get squeezed out." A New York Times piece cited the classical music site Beethoven.com as an example of another at-risk webcaster, claiming its payments could reach $100,000 per year. The RIAA's website coolly refuted that number, offering its own estimate of under $25,000 in royalties based on MeasureCast reports of Beethoven's listenership. Terrestrial radio stations were also apprehensive about the future costs for simulcasting over the web. "Our website would be reduced to a mere business card for broadcast radio," said Jason Georges, webmaster for KCRW, of the proposed rates.

"Clearly public opinion is on the side of keeping Internet radio alive," says Kurt Hanson, whose Radio And Internet Newsletter (RAIN) and SaveInternetRadio.org have been a resource and lightning rod for webcasters challenging the CARP proposal. "The music industry has done a nightmarishly bad P.R. job," he says. "They've positioned themselves as the enemy of music fans everywhere."

Though no one wants to predict what the next decision may hold, Hanson is confident the best decision will be made, based in part on his experience with the May 10 roundtable moderated by the Copyright Office, which enabled all involved to state their case. "We came away from that day realizing that they were smart people who had a good handle on the issues," he said of Marybeth Peters, the Registrar Of Copyrights, and Library Of Congress general counsel David Carson. "You could look at the words and hear the tone of voice that Peters and Carson used in talking to these record industry representatives, and there were plenty of cues that can be used in interpreting this," says Hanson. "From [Billington's] statement itself... that doesn't say one thing or another, but it's inconceivable that they would recommend a higher rate. If the Copyright Office comes up with a royalty rate that's anywhere in the ballpark of what the royalty rate is elsewhere in the world, small webcasters will be fine. Our primary plan is to give them 30 days, and hope that a reasonable solution is recommended."

Defining what's reasonable, however, is perhaps the most difficult problem within an issue riddled with complexity, multiple agendas and a cast of thousands. Billington is duty-bound to make his decisions solely on the information provided by CARP (and the thousands of pages of documentation that go along with it). Still, influential lawmakers like Senator Patrick Leahy (D - VT) are weighing in. At a Senate Judiciary Committee he noted niche webcasters' ability to "feature new and fringe artists who do not enjoy the few spots in the Top 40." In April, 20 members of Congress petitioned Billington to reject the rates that seemed "to undermine entirely the ability of small webcasters to survive." Their petition also stressed the original intentions of the DMCA and statutory licenses: "Congress intended the statutory license process to be fair and efficient, so that the webcast industry could... grow quickly and pay creators increasing amounts as the industry developed." In contrast, 17 other members of Congress urged Billington to respect the CARP process and not be swayed by public opinion or outside influence.

With several industries' financial interests at stake, as well as consumer choice, Billington's June 20 verdict needs to be Solomon-like by crafting a decision that allows a healthy cast of webcasters to thrive while compensating copyright holders fairly. No matter what the decision, on top of the songwriting royalty paid to the copyright holders for the songwriting (ASCAP, BMI and SESAC), webcasters are required to pay a royalty for the sound recording for each song, a royalty from which terrestrial regular radio has been exempt. "They're already saying that webcasters have a different obligation, which is fine," says John Jeffrey. "We think it's a great revenue stream in the future for the copyright owners, but it does create an interesting dichotomy when you look at terrestrial radio against the new rising digital radio formats." For example, under the CARP proposal, Internet-only webcasters would be required to pay 14/100ths of a cent per performance, whereas the rate is only 7/100ths of a cent for a terrestrial station to simply rebroadcast its stream. [see Appendix A of the CARP report.] Rates are lower, 2/100ths, for non-commercial rebroadcasts, but any Internet-only broadcast or archived show (referred to as a side channel) would incur a rate of 5/100ths.

The high rates are just one of the sticking points for webcasters. An additional Ephemeral License Fee is added, calculated at 9 percent of the total performance fees. The charge covers "temporary copies of sound recordings made to enable or facilitate the digital transmission of such recordings. These may include, for example, multiple copies made to sit on multiple hard drives or servers, or copies configured differently to facilitate streaming at different bitrates." The CARP, however, does allow for one copy at no charge.

Another major hurdle for the small webcaster is the batch of proposed reporting requirements for every song streamed. Most webcasters store a handful of information about their streams, such as artist name, song title, time of transmission and so on. The CARP recommended reports that would require webcasters to log much more, including genre, UPC codes of the recording, copyright information and catalog numbers. In addition, listener information would be required, tracking time of day a user logged in and out, as well as a unique identifier for that listener. In a letter to the Copyright Office in April, Internet broadcaster 3WK detailed the "unworkable" and "unduly burdensome" aspects of many of the new requirements, further adding that the listener log requests were "a violation of a listener's privacy" and of "no use to the copyright holder other than for marketing purposes."

A growing consensus among webcasters and their advocates lies in the argument for a sound recording royalty rate based on a percentage of a webcaster's income, not unlike the one paid to the performing rights associations. Such a compromise could find the webcasters agreeing to the minimum fee of $500, while defining an equitable percentage, perhaps somewhere between three and five percent for the basis of sound recording royalties.

"There's going to be a statutory rate, but there's no reason there also couldn't be a voluntary rate with somewhat different terms," suggests Hanson. "For example, webcasters could promise to put in additional promotional effort to help sell CDs, adding links to artist websites and things like that. There's no reason those types of conversations couldn't be held this month also."

The bottom line remains, well, the bottom line. A handful of small webcasters are likely to be shaken out, no matter what the rates or percentages may be. But if too many are squeezed out by high rates and additional costs associated with intricate record-keeping requirements, the copyright holders stand to lose out on multiple revenue streams, no matter how small. In the long run, in order to support the lives of independent webcasters and the variety they offer, consumers might have to be willing to accept more advertising that they're accustomed to while listening to web radio.

"That's one of the things we're most concerned about," says Jeffrey. "Will the breadth of music disappear if this royalty rate is set at a level that doesn't allow these new businesses to flourish?"

Stay tuned. NMR

ARLO

Stab The Unstoppable Hero
(Sub Pop)

Arlo's Stab The Unstoppable Hero reeks of all the things that make a record great — if the year was 1993. Not that there's anything wrong with that; as a result of its nostalgic leanings, the Los Angeles-based quartet is perfectly content to make good, old-fashioned indie rock. Reminiscent of Chapel Hill pop-punk with a tiny dose of Cheap Trick, the album gallops along with upbeat, spunky tunes, decked out with plenty of crashing cymbals, woo-woo harmonies and an exuberant rhythm section. The band's enthusiasm pours itself into every song, whether it's sunny pop ("Silkworm," "Runaround") or slightly more rockin' ("Stoned," "Temperature"). With references to Sleestacks and Slurpees, the lyrics prove how the boys in Arlo have expertly mined the fields of pop culture for inspiration — you can imagine that they once spent a lot of time in their basements reading comic books and playing video games. But it's this earnest geekiness that provides the sensitive underbelly and depth to Arlo's catchy pop and makes the retro sounds of Stab The Unstoppable Hero a welcome return. — Amy Wan

BOSS MARTIANS

Making The Rounds
(MuSick)

For a couple of years now, the Boss Martians have flirted with flipping the reverb switch to the "off" position, thus metamorphosing from surf instru group to garage rock band. After doing an album of garage-y pop under the name Mystery Action and straddling the fence on 2001's Move, the deal is done. The Seattle quartet's fourth album, Making The Rounds, is wholly comprised of songs (with lyrics and stuff) influenced by the Sonics, the Action and, to an lesser extent, Cheap Trick. While some might have qualms, the switch is a healthy progression and pretty damned righteous. Singer/guitarist Evan Foster has always crafted tasty tunes, with or without vox, and Making The Rounds is just a cool 12-pack with nary a dud. Deliciously dirty guitar and warbling B-3 propel tunes about cars, chicks and making the scene, which shouldn't cause surf fans to carp, 'cause they know and we know there's at least one Sonics record in their collection preceding those Surfari discs.

DAVID BOWIE

Heathen (Columbia)

Over the course of nearly 40 years in the music biz, David Bowie has become known as a musical chameleon, changing and dictating trends as much as he has altered his style to fit them. His influence on fashion and pop culture is second only to Madonna. Artists of his prestige and history are forced to challenge themselves with every new release, and on Heathen, Bowie does so by going in a less caustic direction than his mid-'90s, Trent Reznor-influenced industrial experiments, but also by using a more organic instrumentation than his late-'90s material. With the help of producer Tony Visconti (who worked with the artist on some of his most critically acclaimed albums: Low, Heroes, Scary Monsters), Bowie's vision is fully realized with the help of lush string arrangements, acoustic guitar and minimal electronics. "I Would Be Your Slave" can hold its own against the best of Bowie's back catalog, while "Everyone Says Hi" could be an example of a new golden age. If only more artists could age with this much grace.

BRIGHT EYES

There Is No Beginning To The Story EP (Saddle Creek)

Listening to Bright Eyes' Conor Oberst and friends can be an exhausting task. To say that Oberst wears his heart on his sleeve would be a considerable understatement — this lyrical maven can evoke such regret, rejection and fatigue that the listener will be aching to reach the messages of hope and revival that eventually assuage the misery. There Is No Beginning To The Story features one track from Bright Eyes' upcoming full-length, as well as three others that will not be on the LP. Opener "From A Balance Beam" finds jangly guitars and vibraphones floating over a hammering drum corps. Switching gears, "Messenger Bird's Song" finds our songsmith at his most disheartened state; a weepy acoustic guitar and banjo twangs provide the serene backdrop to the song's sad confession: "The day has just begun and you are already bored/ Of drying my eyes but there once was a time when you were the one."

Fortunately, the disc ends on an upbeat note with the bouncy "Loose Leaves," which features a driving Rhodes and message of hope.

CELLS

We Can Replace You

(Orange Recordings)

Mention the Cells in Chicago and you're bound to get an earful. "The Cells write great songs and put on a phenomenal live show," says Chris Payne, host of Q101/Chicago's "Local 101". "The Cells' music explodes out of your speakers," Richard

Milne, host of WXRT/Chicago's "Local Anesthetic," exclaims. Sensing a trend? So are we. The Cells' promising debut, We Can Replace You, boasts song after song of fun yet genuine pop-punk that rivals most major label acts attempting to do the same thing. The album's memorable opener, "Silver Cloud," clearly outlines what listeners should expect from the other nine songs on this album: hooks. Lots of 'em. In short, We Can Replace You is the type of album that begs to be listened to (loudly) on a summer day when you skip work, jump in the car and cruise to the beach with the windows down. There's no need for us to recommend tracks. You can pretty much hit the random play button on the CD player and let fate decide what song pops on; they're all equally good. — Kevin Boyce

CINEMATIC ORCHESTRA

Everyday (Ninja Tune)

Cinematic Orchestra has evolved over the years from an unassuming jazz/electronica experiment to a devilishly satisfying and imaginative art ensemble. The initial Cinematic effort, 1999's surprise hit Motion, was composed entirely by founding member J. Swinscoe. No longer just a one-man act, Swinscoe now enlists the creative input of each member to add a more diverse and expressive sound to the collection. Everyday oozes with a newfound maturity that takes each composition back and forth through an exploration of musical crevices and sub-genres. Vocal contributions from soul legend Fontella Base and U.K. hip-hop don Roots Manuva add both depth and an element of surprise to the vast audio spectrum that is Everyday. The sheer beauty and innocence of the first score, "All That You Give," is a delicacy like none other; the magnificent use of horns in "Burn Out;" the prophetic vocals in "Evolution;" and the up-tempo film-score jazz of "Man With The Movie Camera" display Cinematic Orchestra's versatility in moving through the different realms of dramatic electronic music. Unforgettable. — Justin Kleinfeld

DOC MARTIN

Sounds You Can Feel

(Classic Recordings)

It's been several long years since Doc Martin last graced our stereos with a DJ mix, but now the wait is over — and it was sure as hell worth it. Sounds You Can Feel is an important record because it marks the triumphant return of a dance music icon. Judging by the vibe of his latest, Doc hasn't missed a beat; loads of quality tracks are impeccably mixed into a unified house extravaganza. Doc starts it off with Schatrax's "Just For Fun" to get the floor moving and establish an appropriate theme for the record. From there, sex-ified upbeat cuts from Ray Mang and Nathan D'Troit, Slow Supreme and Shaun Escoffery lead to Doc's own remixes of Blaze's "Lovelee Dae" and Blakkat's "Deeper." The Barrio Brothers are the next victim as Doc eroticizes last summer's hit, "Hold On," into a frenzy of pay-per-view dancefloor pornography. Tracks from Danmass and Scotch close out this solid offering from America's house ambassador to the rest of the world.

PLAID

P-Brane EP (Warp)

What would you do with a brand new laptop? Write a novel? Get online and hit up the chat rooms? Take it onstage and perform a live set of complex dance music? If you chose the latter as your answer, you may be a member of Plaid, the duo long renowned for its artful construction of fractal-like electronica. The four-song P-Brane opens with "Coat," which teases with a dreamy intro before breaking out hip-hop beats and throwing nods to electro, only to become the equivalent of old-school massive attack with a caffeine-crazed R2D2 on vocals. "Diddymousedid" is a flighty dose of cosmic dance that would sound fantastic on an interplanetary Playstation 2 game, while "Stills" goes from the kind of ambient electronic funk Doctor Who would love to angelic drum 'n' bass. It ends with "Mfaus," the most aggressive track of the bunch, full of rapid-fire beats and building suspense, which finally explodes into industrial chaos at the end. Overall, it's the perfect gift for the kooky robot in your life. — Doug Levy

POLARA

Jetpack Blues (Susstones)
Polara implements all the fundamentals of providing aural pleasure to its listeners. Led by frontman Ed Ackerson, the Minneapolis-based group has released its fourth album, Jetpack Blues, on Ackerson's own indie label, Susstones. The driving force of Polara's latest lies in the rock/pop mixture produced by Ackerson on guitar and vocals, Jennifer Jurgens on keyboard, guitar and vocals, and Dan Boen rounding things off with a subtle bass guitar. Amid short but sweet guitar solos and beautiful vocal harmonies between Ackerson and Jurgens, Polara layers its tracks with horns, strings, bongos and harmonica. Topping off the combination of sounds is a strong emo influence present in the lyrics and Ackerson's impetuous voice, though not enough to shed a tear over. Via the exquisite use of horns and strings on "Is This It?" and "Hold Onto The Thread," the gentle thumping of the bongos on "Overboard" and the title track's dreamy, distorted guitar (think Pink Floyd and My Bloody Valentine) and spiritual chorus, Polara has put forth a noteworthy effort for the radio masses.

POLYPHONIC SPREE

The Beginning Stages Of...
(Good Records)

So your alt-rock band (Tripping Daisy) broke up after your guitarist and friend (Wes Berggren) died from an overdose. What do you (singer/guitarist Tim Delaughter) do? Forming a new band would be the obvious avenue — after a proper period of mourning, natch. But when that new band is comprised of 25 musicians and vocalists clad in cultish white robes, it seems a little f-f-fucked up. Unless of course, it happens to kick a little booty, which The Beginning Stages Of The Polyphonic Spree definitely does. It'd take too much of this space allotment to list the instrumental arsenal PS employs, but suffice it to say the group makes tuneful and tasteful use of an array of aural colors in 10 nameless psychedelic soundscapes. And the lack of titles is a good idea; the album works better as a single experience, as opposed to a collection of tunes. That might be a little artsy-fartsy, but as long as they're not passing out incense and tainted pudding at shows, it's all good.

SCAPEGOAT WAX

SWAX (Hollywood)
One-man performer Marty James is often likened to another musical collage artist, Beck, for his ability to collect scraps of hip-hop, funk, folk and pop in order to craft his upbeat tracks. The California native began with a drum machine and a love of all genres, eventually landing on the Beastie Boys' now-defunct Grand Royal label before leaping to Hollywood. He's added a cast of guest musicians and five (!) producers for SWAX (short for his moniker, Scapegoat Wax), and the resulting record includes six feisty new tunes along with five plumped-up and remixed songs from his last effort, Okeeblow. From the funk-heavy first single, "Lost Cause," about trying to survive as a youth in Hollywood's jaded streets, to the quirky, hip-hop inflected "Eardrum" and radio-ready, soaring vocals of "Perfect Silence," there's plenty to love about James' sunny outlook and uncensored approach. He even gets mellow on the Lenny Kravitz-ish ballad "Crawlin'" before switching gears to the lo-fi folk vibe of "Space To Share." Fans of good grooves, unite and hook yourself up with this super-summery disc. — Kristy Martin

SECRET MACHINES

September 000 (Ace Fu)

Secret Machines deliver mood music for your mind. Brothers Benjamin and Brandon Curtis, along with Captain Audio member Josh Garza, left the relative warmth of Texas for New York last year. Recorded in Chicago, September 000 is the group's six-song debut, a multi-layered road of reverb swept guitar and muted organ tones that waver and build with nods to the Velvet Underground and psychedelic kin Spacemen Three. Songs start off slow, notes fold over like waves and a guitar melody stretches out into branches of noise. Scratchy harmonies lead "Breathe" into a frisky chorus of ooh-ahs, and the song's sentimental lyrics never lack in emo sincerity ("When you hold me I can't breathe/ When you kiss me the whole world gets weak"). "What Used To Be French" and "Still See You" slide dusky guitar melodies underneath a firm mantle of drumbeats as both numbers swell with a hopeful intensity. This terrain sounds familiar, but good, like an old love letter you can't stop re-reading.

If you are anything like us, then you must have been more excited than truckload of retards by the news that Meshuggah will perform on the second stage at this year's Ozzfest. As we eagerly wait to see the Swedish technical metal masters tear it up this summer, the band entered a recording studio in mid-May to begin laying down tracks for its fourth full-length, tentatively scheduled for release on Aug. 6 through Nuclear Blast Records. In the meantime, if you attend Ozzfest this summer, be sure to track down a copy of the Ozzfest sampler that will be handed out during the show. The disc contains a demo of a brand new Meshuggah song, "Closed Eye Visuals," that will be exclusive to the CD. • The Haunted will begin recording its third full-length for Earache Records this August. "We have, at the moment eight songs written, and ideas for another three—so everything seems great," bassist Jonas Bjorler said of the new material. Look for a release date in early 2003. • In Flames have wrapped-up work on its new album. While the band hasn't chosen a title for the new effort yet, it looks like it'll come out either in August or September through Nuclear Blast. • We're damn proud of both Hatebreed and Universal Records. To date, the band's latest, Perseverance, has sold over 87,000 copies. "We are very excited about the amazing sales story with Hatebreed," Universal's Jessica Siracusa tells CMJ. "This is just the beginning. With the upcoming dates on Ozzfest, this story will only continue to grow. I feel like I'm part of something that's bigger than me, bigger than all of us." In related news, Hatebreed will have a track on the forthcoming XXX soundtrack ("I Will Be Heard"), due out this summer through Universal. • If you are keeping score at home, please add four more fretmasters to the blossoming list of guitarists that have quit/been fired from a number of bands in the past month and a half (Hatebreed, Machine Head, Queensrÿche, Flaw and Fleshcrawl to name a few): Chris Rascio has left Burnt By The Sun, Ryan Parrish has exited Hopesfall, R. Kronheim is out of Norway's Enslaved and those pretty boys in Bush have split with guitarist Nigel Pulsford and have replaced him with six-string wiz Chris Traynor, formally of Helmet. • Former Curl Up And Die bassist Geoff Bergman has officially joined Poison The Well, replacing the band's former bassboy, Iano, who left the popular metalcore outfit earlier this year. • Spineshank recently entered the studio with producer Howard Benson (P.O.D., Motörhead) to begin work on its new album, tentatively titled Violent Mood Swings. • We have great news to report from the Testament camp! As you know, vocalist Chuck Billy was diagnosed with a rare form of cancer (called "Germ Cell Seminoma") early last year. Thankfully, the cancerous growth in Billy's throat and neck area was noticed early and, after extensive surgery, chemotherapy and radiation treatments, he has been given a clean bill of health! "Though there are few remaining pieces of tumor in his system, blood tests show low numbers in which they feel there is no reason for concern," reads a post on the band's web site. "Chuck's damaged heart valve and vein has healed itself, so he will not have to undergo corrective/replacement surgery. Chuck continues to get stronger everyday and will soon be raring to go!" Speaking of Testament being "raring to go," the band's web site also reports "[Guitarist] Eric Peterson is still busy writing new material for the next Testament CD. It is taking a little more time since The Gathering will be a challenging act to follow. The next effort will be brutal with a lot of dual lead trade-offs between guitarists Peterson and [Steve] Smyth. 'Shred Guitar' fans are going to like this one..." We can't wait! • Six Feet Under plans to record a live CD and home video in St. Paul, Minnesota on June 14 for a 2003 release. • Metalcore heavyweights Martyr AD have been signed to Victory Records. • Danzig is set to hit the road with Marduk on June 1. Be sure to leave your Bible at home, as the Good Book will burst into flames if you happen to be carrying on when you walk through the door at one of the following gigs: Phoenix (6/1); Albuquerque (6/2); El Paso, TX (6/4); Corpus Christi, TX (6/6); San Antonio (6/7); Dallas (6/8); Houston (6/9); Panama City, FL (6/12); Boynton Beach, FL (6/14); Orlando (6/15); Jacksonville, FL (6/16); Atlanta (6/18); Raleigh, NC (6/20); Washington, D.C. ## FIVE QUESTIONS WITH... CHEVELLE'S PETE LOEFFLER!

Chevelle's sophomore album, Wonder What's Next, is set to drop on Aug. 27 and we recently caught up with vocalist/guitarist Pete Loeffler to get the skinny on the new tunes, what it's like to be in a band with his brothers (Pete's brother Sam plays drums, while his brother Joe plays bass) and what the deal is with the band name.

Chevelle may be one of the only Loud Rock trios existing today that boasts three siblings in its lineup. What's it like to be in a band with your brothers?

It's pretty wild. When we started breaking in on the Chicago scene seven years ago, no one in the band was over 21. Being in a band together has been about learning how to deal with family. You deal with family different than you would friends. At times it does get shaky. When you're brothers growing up, you push each other's buttons, but our relationship has never been better than it is right now. It's a trip, I'll tell you that!

Tell the truth, have you ever had to call your mom to settle a disagreement over a guitar riff or a lyric?

[Laughing] No, nothing like that. We try to keep out of the picture as much as possible. Our parents are really positive about supporting us, but at the same time they don't know anything about the music business. So, they just come to the shows and hang out with us. We keep things separate so a 'band problem' doesn't turn into a 'family problem.'

Wonder What's Next is an amazing leap forward for Chevelle in every sense; lyrically and sonically, the band has taken things to a whole new level. To what do you attribute such strong growth?

A big part of our growing was the amount of touring we have done. While touring with bands like Sevendust, Static-X and Filter after the first album came out, we got to see these big established bands do their thing every night. Sevendust was a big influence on me. Their live show was extremely intense every night. It really helped us build up our show and I actually came home off the Sevendust tour and learned how to play guitar in drop tuning because of how they played. It was a big influence on my writing style.

The first single from the album is "The Red." Can you tell us a little about the song and where it came from?

It's about a friend of mine who I've seen explode into these crazy rages where he breaks things. It's kind of a freaky thing to see; he probably could use some help, actually. One day after he had one of these episodes, he actually told me that when he gets that enraged he sees red in his head.

Coincidentally, my very first car was a Chevelle, but it didn't rock like you guys and, in fact, I totaled it 12 hours after I got it. Why "Chevelle" for a band name?

I grew up going to car shows every weekend and my dad built street rods. We were all into cars and when we needed a name before our first show, we slapped Chevelle on there. It was just a cool-sounding name that stuck with us and we hope that GM doesn't have a problem with it.

INDUSTRY NEWS

Please welcome new Crucial Spins reporter KKFI/Kansas City, MO! The 100,000-watt station has two metal shows, both overseen by Program Director/Loud Rock Director Brit Schiesser (britkkfi@aol.com). He can be reached at 816.931.3122 (call hours: M-F, 12-4 p.m., Central). Send your propaganda to: P.O. Box 32250; Kansas City, MO 64171. Check the station out online at: www.kkfi.org. • WRAS/Atlanta, GA has officially lost CMJ Crucial Spins and Loud Rock reporting status after failing to report for over two months. • Aaron Pepelis, Loud Rock Director for WUNH/Durham, NH, tipped us off to a solid metalcore band called Eyes Like Autumn. The unsigned band has three tracks available for download at MP3.com. Check them out at: http://artists.mp3s.com/artists/365/eyes\_like\_autumn.html. Remember, you read about them here first.

DANZIG

777: I Luciferi (Evilive-Spittfire)

If evil were organized like a traditional labor union, Glenn Danzig would be the shop steward, handling a multitude of malevolent chores such as satanic grievances, obtaining proper vacation pay for purgatory personnel, verifying who has jurisdiction over various “evil” functions like (but not limited to) black masses, the Jersey Devil’s Annual Pinelands Barbeque and booking appearances for Kathy Lee Gifford (a.k.a. “The Anti-Christ”). But, lucky for us (and unfortunately for the “evil” labor movement), Mr. Danzig flaunts his wickedness exclusively on his albums. His latest full-length (and Spitfire Records debut), titled 777: I Luciferi, doesn’t fall victim to the experimentation and style changes that plagued a few of his past albums (sonically, I Luciferi has more in common with the first three Danzig discs) and there are plenty of tracks to consider for airplay. “Wicked Pussycat” has a killer hook and is as infectious as the Ebola virus, while the smoldering “Kiss The Skull,” complete with a memorable “Whoa-o-oh-oh” chant, begins with the lyric “Necklace of blood droplets mix with your kiss.” Now that’s classic! The title track, after a moody guitar intro, erupts into a mid-tempo riff that is sure to rattle the headbanging skulls of countless listeners. Other pleasures include: “God Of Light,” “Black Mass,” and “Liberiskull.” By the way, Glenn...we’re lovin’ the leather lobster claws. Where can we score a pair of those?

OTEP

Sevastis Tra (Capitol)

When Otep performed on the Second Stage at last year’s Ozzfest (a spot the L.A. quartet nabbed before it even had a record deal, by the way) it was highly amusing to watch the expressions of concertgoers who unexpectedly realized that the band’s lead singer, with whom the band shares its namesake, was a woman. That said, let’s get this out of the way right now: If you’re a guy, do yourself a favor. Don’t be a male chauvinistic fuck face that thinks a woman can’t tear it up just as good as a man can. Otep (the person) has a voice so deep and foreboding that it would scare a wolf away from her cubs, not to mention the fact that her death metal growl has more balls than 95 percent of the nü-metal crybabies wasting airspace on commercial rock radio. Musically, Otep is right on par with Slipknot and Skinlab; its got meaty guitar riffs, guttural screams that teeter between Corey Taylor, Morgan Lander and Jonathan Davis, and drumming that would make Animal from The Muppet Show woozy. The album was produced by Terry Date (Pantera) and boasts many mosh pit instigators, including “Blood Pigs,” “Sacrilege,” “Battle Ready,” “Tric” and the revealing “My Confession.”

W.A.S.P.

Dying For The World (Sanctuary)

It’s hard to believe that it has been 18 years since W.A.S.P. released its first, self-titled album in 1984. That said, any true metal fan has to have serious respect for the staying power of Blackie Lawless and the band he has fronted for almost two decades. It’s latest, Dying For The World, is best described by the man himself. “Our motivation for this record was prefaced by letters sent to us from the tank divisions during the Gulf War, where the troops would actually go into battle blaring ‘Fuck Like A Beast’ and ‘Wild Child,’” Lawless explains. “After the events on 9/11, we felt we would give them a fresh batch; in essence, we’ve literally made an album to go kill people by.” Fine by us, Blackie! As Einstein once said, “Music to kill = good music, squared to the tenth power” or something like that — look it up. Killing folks or not, there’s plenty of vintage W.A.S.P. here to bang your goddamn head to. Our favorite from the album, “Hell For Eternity,” is the catchiest song Lawless has written since “The Flame” or “Blind In Texas,” while “Shadow Man,” “My Wicked Heart” and “Rubber Man” round out the rest of album’s stronger moments.

NASHVILLE PUSSY

Say Something Nasty (Artemis)

You know, there’s about 2,500 really obvious ways to begin this review. When an artist chooses a band name like Nashville Pussy, it cements an unavoidable future of countless press clippings with vibrant headlines (insert your own here). Say what you will about these Georgia-based rockers, if we had our choice between: a.) A really swank New York club filled to the brim with models hopping like a bunch of Ecstasy-polluted yuppies to the new DJ Shadow album, or, b.) A total shithole in New Jersey, filled to capacity with toothless women and plump truck drivers that were extras in Smokey & The Bandit, that played Nashville Pussy albums all night, we’re going to choose “b” every single time. Bottom line: no one is currently making rowdy bar rock as good as this band and that’s why we love them. Now, pass us some shots of Cuervo and crank up “Say Something Nasty,” “The Bitch Just Kicked Me Out,” “You Give Drugs A Bad Name,” “Let’s Get The Hell Outta Here” and “Keep Them Things Away From Me.” If you feel like testing those FCC guidelines, you can give “Keep On Fucking” a spin too.

R.I.Y.L.: Motörhead, Ted Nugent, ZZ Top

Release Date: May 28; at radio

Scratch, best known (up until now) for his work with the Roots, has released his first solo effort, entitled The Embodiment Of Instrumentation. CMJ sat down with the beatboxer to discuss the new album and his desire to take the art form of making music with his mouth to a new and higher level.

It seems like artists are going back to the original elements of hip-hop (DJing, beatboxing, etc.). What do you think this says about the current state of hip-hop?

Life itself is just one big cycle. Trends, all kinds of different things, come around full-circle. I think beatboxing is gonna be put in a new format than it was in when I was growin' up. By that taking place, people are gonna look at beatboxing as a different thing than a sidepiece or a commercialized thing. That's what I'm trying to bring to it. I wanted the record to be something old-school but new-school at the same time. I want you to listen to the record and go back. There wasn't always the Jay-Z, DMX. There was Kool Herc, Grandmaster Flash, Furious Five, people like that who started the path of where we all are now and that's what I'm bringing back. That's what my whole time, day and age came from: breakdancing and the age when hip-hop was nothing but the head-nod — you didn't have anything else.

What makes this album different from your average beatboxing record?

I'm coming at it from the heavy musical aspect. From the level where you have to ask yourself, 'Is he really beatboxing or is this a beat playing?' Sometimes when I'm listening to it, I'm like, 'Wait a minute, did I really do that?' That's basically what I'm doing with that and showing that the art has not been lost. It's just revised. With this album, you'll get to know me a little better and think of me as more than just the guy that gets onstage with the Roots all the time. At one point while I was working this project, the next thing I know, it was more or less like: why not make this all Philly artists representing on the record? You go to all the various places across the country [and] they all have their people from their area that they're pumpin'. In New York, down South, you have mad collaborations, even when you go out to Cali. So why can't Philly be the same way? So I'm trying to bring that right now, where you come to Philly and it's Philly artists all in your face. Bringing it to you on a level where people can say, 'Man, Philly's really doin' its thing.' I got mad love for people on this record. I can't sit there and say I've got something for everybody. I just got something for you from me.

What's your recording process?

A lot of times, I'll sit back, light some incense and candles. Wait, don't think I'm on some neo-soul shit! [laughs] That was kind of the vibe of the record at the time when I first started and then it just got to the point where I started feeling the beat before I actually went in. Sometimes, it was more or less, when I went in to do it, I had a beat in mind that turned into something else. But somehow when I finally went to rhyme on it or sing on it, it was elevated even higher because my expectations were at a certain level and then they were just tripled. When I go into the studio, first I lay down the drums, then I lay down the bass. These are all non-sampled things. I do it straight through the song. If you hear a tiny mistake, you can say, 'See, that was him doing that.' I want it to be as honest as possible. It's time for me to step up to bat and put something on the table so somebody can have something else to eat 'cause I'm really getting tired of eating chicken. I'm comin' with the veggie music... with a little bit of dairy on top, but not too much. I'm a vegetarian.

Who did you like working with the most?

Everybody was so great to work with because nobody came in wanting to get paid. Everybody came in with just as much enthusiasm as I did. I can't really pinpoint who I had the most fun with because it was so natural when we did things together, I made the setting so right like I knew so-and-so likes to drink beer... I had everything set out for them so they could feel comfortable. I wanted to make them feel at home so I could get the best out of them. I wanted the raw side of their artistic skills because I didn't want them to give what they would put out on something that would say, go out to Hot 97. I wanted them to be experimental because the record experiments. It's the best of both worlds.

So you never wanted to do a solo record?

It never crossed my mind to do one because at the time I didn't know who to approach it. I came up with the title, actually, first before I came up with the music aspect. When I came up with the title, that's when I said, 'Oh, OK, now I gotta come up with a way to make the title become something.' I had a lot of fun doing it. I didn't have other people breathing down my neck going, 'Oh, you should do this, you should do that.' I felt so free when I did it. And when it comes to the record itself, I hope people will feel free when they listen to it, too.

INDUSTRY NEWS

Fiona Bloom, once part-owner of SubVerse, has left the building. Undaunted, she is currently doing publicity for DJ Spinna's new label, Beyond Real, Seven Heads, Ill Boogie and Strict Flow. She can be reached at 917.330.0347; email: fiona.bloom@verizon.net. • Mystikal has launched his own label, Big Truck Records. New artists Maxminelli, Beezy Boy, Dart and Shonnie have already signed on the dotted line, despite the fact Big Truck is still negotiating its distribution deal.

SCRATCH

The Embodiment Of Instrumentation (Ropeadope)

Man or machine? This question will plague you throughout the 17 tracks of Scratch's solo debut. For those who think they know beatboxing, this album is guaranteed to expand the horizons of what music people think can be made with your mouth. The focus of this work is music; Scratch does more than simple bass and scratch noises — he composes whole works from the basslines up. "That's What We Talkin' About" illustrates the perfect combination of outside elements (horns) and that unbelievable homemade bass (Scratch). With lyrical contributions by artists like Black Thought, Malik B, Jill Scott, Schoolz Of Thought among others, Scratch has assembled an impressive crew of raw talent to complement the organic flavor of his vision. The soulful "Square One" with Bilal proves beatboxing isn't just for hip-hop anymore. This album unfolds like a puzzle, challenging listeners to find out what's real and what's not all the while showing them that when a talent like Scratch, with his incredible passion and ear for music, wants to express himself, all he needs is a mic, if that.

ARTIST SPOTLIGHT

30 SECONDS TO MARS

The debut album from 30 Seconds To Mars has been teased for months; the band itself is full of mystery, and behind all the whispers stands frontman Jared Leto. Recently CMJ spent some time talking to him about his acting career, his musical past and present, what a 30 Seconds To Mars album is all about and whether or not he's aiming to break that actor-turned-rock-star cliché.

Let's get this question right out of the way. You are already a famous actor; are you an actor/wannabe rock star cliché?

Music is something I have always been really interested in. Music and acting are two things that I am committed to and passionate about, both professionally and artistically. I have been making music my whole life, and my brother [Shannon] and I have been making music together for quite some time. Both of us have been in bands off and on throughout our lives and somewhere it kinda just took on a life of its own. We realized we were ready to present our work to the world. I didn't just wake up one day and decide to put myself on the firing line and have everyone judge and criticize me and my music. That's not something you do.

30 Seconds To Mars is pretty much the vision of Shannon and yourself then?

Well, we all share — there is a lot that I am responsible for, [and] there is a lot that Shannon is responsible for. I write the songs and perform and play most of the instruments on the album, except the live drums, which Shannon does all of. When [playing] live though, 30 Sec To Mars is Jared, Solon, Shannon, Wachter and Drake. Everyone plays and interprets everything in the way they see fit.

You just got off tour with Puddle Of Mudd, right?

Yeah, Puddle Of Mudd headlined a national tour and Trust Company played on about half the dates, too. Puddle Of Mudd heard our music somewhere along the way and I guess really liked it. That led to them offering us a spot on their tour, which was really cool because they took us on without ever having heard or seen us play live.

Never heard you live? Where did they hear your music then?

They heard a recorded version of the finished album, or what we thought was the finished album. This album has been pushed back a few times and was just put to bed for good [laughs]. Somewhere [Puddle] got their hands on an early copy of the album and boom. POM did a really brave thing by putting us out on the road, and for us it was an awesome opportunity that we are really thankful for. It was an amazing experience.

Do people recognize you when you are on the road?

Sometimes people will notice me from my work, and it's no big deal. It's like, 'Hey, I saw you in Fight Club or I saw you in Requiem [For A Dream], that was a sick fucking movie... I love your band.' [laughs] I really expected much more of a battle than it has been. People have responded to the music and have treated it with respect; I have only had good experiences so far. A lot of people come up surprised that someone who made some movies actually has a band that is good.

With the album being pushed back a couple times how long did the record actually take to finish?

It was a couple years of intense work, writing and such. I wrote close to a hundred songs, which had to be sorted through. I got to work with producer Bob Ezeran, which was a fantasy of mine. I mean it was a really long, arduous, intense process; a creative hurricane of sorts that though tumultuous, was fantastic at the same time.

You wrote a hundred songs for this record?

Yeah, see the thing about a 30 Seconds To Mars song is that they kinda suck the fucking life out of you when you are creating them because we put so much into them. Shit, after this I almost wanna go make a punk record. Take it easy, y'know? Ha ha. Really though, it was a long process but well worth it and we are really happy with the results and proud of what we have done. To feel proud of what you have done is a nice feeling to have after all this time. I guess that is the ultimate goal, to be proud and happy with what you have done and hope other people respond to it as well.

If I have never heard of 30 Seconds To Mars and I want to get a feel for what you are all about, what songs on the record should I hit up first?

You should check out the album. In today's world everything is made for the single, shifting units, updated webpages, and disposable nation that we live in. We are not interested in that at all. We grew up with the great records of Pink Floyd, The Who, Rush and Zeppelin. [With] those records you would sit down and you wanted to hear the whole album, what they had to say... if you liked one song, of course you liked the whole album. It wasn't about, 'Oh, I liked that one song by that band.' People never thought like that back then it was about the journey and that is what we set out to accomplish on our first record. We really wanted to sound like ourselves. I don't wanna sound like some other band out there.

So do record sales matter to you?

It has never motivated me. Commercial success has never been a motivating factor in any of my work, or else I wouldn't be making music right now, would I? I would be off doing something else [laughs]. You know what I mean? I really just follow my gut. Music to me is something that borders an obsessive-compulsive behavior. 30 Seconds is not making music to get laid; that is not our primary function in life, to go out, get drunk and get pussy. I think there are other things we are examining, [and] there are enough bands out there singing about that shit. I wanted to look elsewhere for inspiration.

Will you be seen in movies again?

I would think so... I like acting a lot, and I like music. I don't and won't apologize for being an actor. I feel very fortunate to do what I have been able to do over the past few years and achieve some level of success. It's a dream come true on both sides, but I will say this: 30 Seconds To Mars is not a hobby, I am not a dilettante, and this is not some whimsical fantasy of mine. This is a fully realized band, a project that we all have put in our hearts and our lives into, something that we are all very committed to and believe very strongly in.

5 CURRENT FAVORITES

Breeders Title TK • Bratmobile Girls Get Busy • Heather Nova South • Anna Waronker Anna By Anna Waronker • Goldfinger Open Your Eyes

How many watts is your station? How many people do you reach?

1,700 watts. We can potentially reach over 1 million people, within a 30-mile radius from southern Connecticut to Long Island.

What's the station motto/your personal programming philosophy?

Our motto is "WNHU — Connecticut's alternative." I think it's a great statement. I believe that college radio is a refuge from all the crap radio that tends to fly over the airwaves. WNHU has a variety of programming; from ethnic shows to talk shows to gospel, we have it all.

How long have you been and will you be MD? How do you abuse your power?

I've been an MD at the station for two years now. I'm graduating this year, so I'm bummed I'll have to leave. Abuse of my power... hmmm... I don't think I abuse anything. I mean, power is power — you have it, use it!

What do you do to build your station's audience?

My department gets soooooo many CDs a week. I try to put different stuff into our new rotation. I feel having variety makes our time slot (noon–6:00 p.m., Mon.–Fri.) interesting. In turn, more people tune in. We also go to local clubs when bands play and give promo stuff away. Before they even hit the air, we have trainees make an audition tape, attend training classes and take a test. This prepares the DJs for optimum on-air performance... yeah, riiiiiiight!

What was your most successful fundraiser? How much money do you raise on average?

I would say our most successful fundraiser took place this past year. We raised over $50,000. On average, we usually make between $30,000 to 40,000.

Who are you most proud of bringing either to the station or to your campus to perform and why?

Before she started winning Grammys, I interviewed Nelly Furtado on my show. Interviewing her and seeing her success soon after being worked at college excited me because WNHU was spinning her six months before the Top 40 stations took notice of her. I'm able to say "I knew her when...!"

Are you on the air? What kind of show do you do?

Yes, Mondays 2 p.m.–4 p.m. and every third Sunday from 8 p.m.–11 p.m. I play lots of female artists like Liz Phair, Sleater-Kinney kinda stuff. I also like to play whatever is new for that month. We have a 60/40 rule for the new music department: 60 percent new rotation, 40 percent recurrent.

What's the most fucked up thing that ever happened to you while you were on-air?

I get marriage and date proposals all the time.

What was your most embarrassing radio-related moment?

My best friend Joe does my show with me sometimes. He's known me for about 10 years. I think he once talked about a shrine I had to Patty Schemel (ex-drummer of Hole) in my room while I was in high school.

What's the best line a promoter ever used on you to get you to play a record? If you want, tell us who it was.

He'll remain nameless, but the line was, "I'll send you something in the mail..."

What's the best promo item you've ever received?

This relates to the previous question. I received an eight-inch vibrator.

Why did you go into college radio? Free CDs?

I'm not good at sports, so the football team rejected me. Really, though, I love music — I wanted to be a DJ.

What's your major?

Music Industry, with a minor in Business Administration.

When will you be graduating?

August 2002.

If you could see anyone live (dead or living), who would it be and why?

I'd love to see Madonna. I think she's awesome. I've never seen her live — her tickets sell out too quickly.

Are you interested in going into the music industry? Doing what?

Ideally, I want to have my own record company. I'd also like to be a producer... maybe a copy-right lawyer. I'm interested in all aspects of the industry. Know anyone hiring?

Any shoutouts?

What's up, Mom?!

INTERNSHIPS

!K7 Records is seeking an intern for its Radio Promotions department this summer. Knowledge of electronic music is a must! Good phone and communication skills, the ability to turn on a computer and tap on the keys, and a sense of fashion also required. There will be some grunt work, but the perks will keep you from wanting to graduate. Email Noah@studiodistribution.com; phone: 212.685.7161, ext. 40.

Arena Rock Recording Co. is seeking interns to work a few days per week at its new headquarters in oh-so-hip-and-trendy Williamsburg, Brooklyn. Arena's roster includes Superdrag, The Gloria Record, Mink Lungs, The Boggs and more. Internships are for college credit only, but you'll get a free lunch from time to time. Requirements include an outgoing personality, good phone manner, diverse musical taste and a positive attitude. If interested, email resume to: greg@arenarockrecordingco.com.

Music Choice, the world's leading digital music service, is seeking interns to work 40 hours per week (flexible) in its New York City office for college credit. Responsibilities include gathering, editing and creating content for display on Music Choice's Interactive TV product and website, as well as assisting in implementing/executing promotions and writing promotional copy for TV panels. Candidates must have excellent editing and writing skills. Internet research experience as well as proficiency in Internet navigation is also a must! Fax resume to 215.784.5870; email: jobs@musicchoice.com; web site: www.musicchoice.com.

INDUSTRY

Instinct/Shadow Records is seeking a production manager. Duties will include coordinating and scheduling all production, manufacturing, and inventory at established NYC-based indie label. PC skills and detail-oriented focus essential. Salary will be commensurate with experience. Fax resume and cover letter to 212.366.5979.

CMJ Network is seeking an NYC-based Associate Retail Editor to assist with the editorial and sales efforts of the CMJ Retail department. Essential duties include gathering and entering key sales info from record stores around the country into the CMJ databases, assisting in preparing and fact-checking editorial content for each weekly issue, working with labels on special projects and advertising. At least two years music retail or distribution experience, excellent writing and people skills, as well as basic data entry skills and computer proficiency with MS Word, Excel and common internet and email applications required. For more info visit <http://www.cmj.com/company/retailed.doc>.

STREET TEAMS

Artemis Records is seeking College Marketing reps in the following markets: Austin, Boston, San Francisco, Denver, Detroit/Ann Arbor, North Carolina (RDU), Los Angeles, and Chicago. Reps will learn how to promote records to college press and radio, on campus, online, and through lifestyle accounts. Reps must have two years of school left, strong communication skills, access to a car, access to computer/internet and be able to devote 10-15 hours each week to the program. Enthusiasm and persistence a must! Fax resume and cover letter explaining your interest to Jason Spiewak at 212.414.1703; email jspiewak@artemisrecords.com.

Giant Step, an NYC-based record label and marketing company, is currently seeking enthusiastic, music-loving reps in the following markets: L.A., Chicago, Philadelphia, S.F., Boston, Dallas, Detroit, D.C. and Houston. Duties will include research, street promotions, possible event planning and more. Potential reps should email resumes to luis@giantstep.net; phone: 212.219.3567, ext. 221.

RADIO/IN-STORE PLAY CD

Expose your deserving artist (newcomer or established) to 4,000 of CMJ's tastemaker constituency including its influential radio panel and the most important retailers, distributors and one-stops in the nation.

Certain Damage is a critical tool to supplement artist development campaigns, offering important exposure that helps ensure that your music is both heard... and sold.

Certain Damage goes beyond the music. In addition to placing your latest tracks, you can promote your artist with multi-media presentations, EPKs, Videos, Micro-Web sites, Screensavers or other interactive elements.

BOOKING NOW: Deadline – June 21 / Hits The Street – July 22

EXTRA EXPOSURE:

- * Music appearing on Certain Damage Vol. #124 will also be programmed on Radio CMJ which reaches a potential audience of 40 million listeners via Spinner.com and AOL Ver.7
- * Free interactive ad (including album cover, song-title, contact information and hyperlink) on the Certain Damage splash page and on cmj.com.
- * Free 1/2 page 4 color ad in CMJ New Music Report.
- * Each audio track includes a free 10-15 second voice introduction to plug your artist.
- * Music appearing on Certain Damage will also be featured on CMJ Music On Hold.
- * Artists featured on Certain Damage volumes, will be featured in a promotional ad in CMJ New Music Report (artist information must be received before June 7th to be featured).

COPE WITH IT

Memorial Day weekend — a time to reflect on the price we pay for freedom. The holiday seems extremely poignant this year for obvious reasons. Maybe we don't feel that sense of stability we once did, nor do things in life feel as permanent as before. Was it all just an illusion? Whatever the case, it's a reflective time for us all. Perhaps in the music business (on a much less significant scale) there is a small microcosm of what's really been going on around us. Currently, many in the business seem to be at war and have sustained casualties: there are retailers at war with labels, and their distribution company policies and attitudes. Artists at war with their record labels, and labels all the while taking incoming wounded from CD burning, digital downloads, competitive entertainment and very smart consumers.

We've also lost some of our more qualified people in the business to age discrimination. It reminds me of a movie from the late '60s, Wild In The Streets, where anyone over 30 was thrown into a concentration camp (this bear any similarities to the current state of the music industry, or am I just having a flashback?). I understand we are part of a business in flux and that new blood is always a good thing, but it seems to me that we've traded a tremendous amount of experienced people (some of which should have gone) for a new group thrown against a steep learning curve just as they're expected to hit the ground running (just like college, except this is the real world with real casualties).

Enough of that. I want to bring up a new album that deserves everyone's ears (it is from someone over 30, so beware). Marianne Faithfull's career now spans five decades — it's been a long journey from her first hit, "As Tears Go By," and the rock history that surrounded her. (If you've never listened to Marianne's 1980's masterpiece, Broken English, please stop now and go buy it). Her latest is called Kissin' Time (Virgin) and has been available on import since February (stateside release slated for early summer). Marianne has invited some friends on this album which includes three songs written and performed with Beck; two songs written and performed with Billy Corgan; "Song For Nico," written and performed with Dave Stewart; and the title track, written and performed by Marianne and Blur. Not a bad combination.

So let's recap, shall we? We have a business at war with itself; meanwhile, vital music is being created by old-timers with new a generation of creative artists. I'm happy Wild In The Streets isn't yet the rule and that one generation can still work with and learn from another. Perhaps this is something the music business should try. One other item for your listening and dining pleasure is Chuck Prophet's (Green On Red) No Other Love (New West) — a great album that also deserves your ears.

Peace, Cope.

SPEAK OUT

JOHN TIMMONS

ear X-tacy
Louisville, KY

Dear Record Industry, Happy Memorial Day! It's me, ear X-tacy, a lowly retail store. I heard you're not feeling well these days, and I thought I'd send you this card to let you know I still care about you. You might like to know that despite your "sickness," I'm feeling fine — actually, doing better than ever and I thought I might be able to help you by offering a little advice. Now, I know I'm just a lowly retail store, but the road to recovery is actually very simple. You see, for me, the key is this: Listen to your customers! And what my customers tell me is that they want their music at a reasonable price. They want singles. They want the same (superior product) CD's you make exclusive at other stores. Simple. It's that easy. I hope you feel better soon. Hello? Are you listening? We here at ear X-tacy spent our Sunday shopping at Circuit City, re-stocking the store with their $9.99 CD's. Despite being told (repeatedly) they wouldn't sell to us, we were able to score a few thousand dollars worth of hot titles. Sweet. Wholesale cost: $12.50. Retail price: $9.99. Making John happy: Priceless.

Don't get me started on the Eminem dog-and-pony-show fiasco. At some point, long ago, we were actually looking forward to this release. With street dates being constantly moved up, limited edition versions being more readily available through one-stops rather than directly from UMVD, and many national chains breaking the early street date and giving it away at cost, I decided to give up being a part of this Keystone Cop fire-drill. Think I'll go sell some music today.

TIM JOHNSTONE

And what a show it has turned out to be: For the record (for those of you filling in your scorecard at home), it was Sam Goody who jumped the gun here in Boise. They started

UNDER THE RADAR Column by Gerry Hart • ghart@cmj.com

This week in Under the Radar we want to draw special attention to those albums that are either making important moves on CMJ Retail charts, or are just about to. We'll also throw in a few reasons on the what, why, and how things are beginning to pop.

FLATLANDERS

Now Again
New West Records
Catalog No. NW6040
I think it's been almost 150 years since the first Flatlanders record, but Lubbock's finest (other than Buddy of course) Joe Ely, Butch Hancock, and Jimmy Dale Gilmore have returned with a very fine album that was worth the wait. The album is already No. 1 at Americana radio and Now Again has debuted at No. 40* on the CMJ Retail 100. Top 50 sales debuts include: Waterloo (No. 1*), Crows Nest (No. 28*), Electric Fetus (No. 16*), Record Archive (No. 18*) and RhinoWestwood (No. 13*). Play it and you will sell it.

Current Top 100 chart position: 40***

SOMETHING CORPORATE

Leaving Through The Window Drive-Thru
Catalog No. 112887
Something Corporate's Audioboxer

(EP) hit No. 91 on the CMJ Retail Top 100 in early January, but the LP jumps onto the chart at No. 54*. Top 10s come in from Bionic Records (Cypress), Daddy Kool (St. Petersburg, FL), Desirable Discs (Detroit), Park Ave (Winter Park, FL), Salzer's (Ventura, CA) and at Tower Records (Westwood). Leaving hit Top 30 at Compact Disc World (NJ), Side 1 (Richmond, IA), Record Exchange (Boise, ID) and many more.
Current Top 100 chart position: 54***

KILLSWITCH ENGAGE

Alive Or Just Breathing
Roadrunner-IDJMG
Catalog No. 618457
Killswitch Engage debuts

Alive this week on the Retail 100 at No. 56*. Top 5 this week at both Last Unicorns (New Hartford, NY), Vintage Vinyl (Fords, NJ) and Music Shack (Albany, NY); Top 10's at Relics (Cedar Rapids, IA), Rock-A-Billy's (Utica, MI) and Sounds Like Music (Riverside, CA). Top 30s include West Babylon's Looney Tunes (No. 19*) and Newbury Comics (No. 29*).
Current Top 100 chart position: 56***

NEIL FINN

One All
Netwerk
Catalog No. 670030265
Neil's One All was last week's No. 1 added Americana record with support from just about every corner of the US. He's also currently on tour. One All is Neil's second solo album since Crowded House and this one will not disappoint fans (and will make new ones). Top 30s this week include Boo Boo's, Amoeba SF, Cactus, E. Fetus, Fingerprints, Hoodlums, Luna Music, Music Millennium, Olsson's and Sonic Boom Records. Virgin Megastores and Towers did well with Neil as well.

Current Top 100 chart position: 65***

PATTY GRIFFIN

1000 Kisses
ATO
Catalog No. 21504
Patty debuted strong on the Retail Top 100 at No. 19*

back in April and then spent several weeks sliding. Patty took an eight slot jump this week though, from No. 80 - No. 72*. Big help came this week from Waterloo where she regained their charts at No. 2*. Patty was Top 20 at Sundance Records (San Marcos, TX), Laser's Edge (Birmingham, AL), ear X-tacy (Louisville, KY), Olsson's (Rockville, MD), Tower Austin and Music Millennium (Portland).
Current Top 100 chart position: 72***

Current Top 100 chart position: 72***

HEATHER NOVA

South
V2
Catalog No. 27121
Heather Nova's South comes in this week just under the Top 100 radar at No. 102. Since her 1993 debut (Glowstars/Rough Trade) to the present, Heather has held the indie rock world's attention with a string of great records. This record is no different. Top 30s include Luna Music (Indianapolis, IN), Millennium Music (Durham, NC) and Switched On (Novi, MI). Top 50s come in from Blue Note (No. Miami), Buch Spieler (Montpelier, Vt), Compact Disc World (NJ), Down In The Valley (Golden Valley, MN), Music Millennium (Portland) and New World (Buffalo, NY).

Current Top 100 chart position: just under at 102.

retail	Album is still in solicitation with a big push at indie retail. Ads and/or listen stations at Tower, key indies and InSound.com. Mute looking for as much indie discretionary support as possible. Value add poster giveaways at willing accounts like Sonic Boom (Seattle), Lou's (SD), Super D. and more.	Shipping 60k. Programs and ads with LINC's, Borders (Tier 3, a bit more "glamorous" than the Gondola), Barnes & Noble (listening wall), Best Buy Radio, Wherehouse's "Best In Texas" (35 state stores), Cactus, ear X-tacy, E. Fetus and store-by-store with CIMS accounts.	Initially shipping 9k. Electric in-store June 25 at Amoeba Hollywood with entire band. Programs include LINC's and Raspitins ads and listening posts, Tower and Best Buy regional ads and P&P, Virgin's "Raw Power" end cap and P&P and ISIS for July-August. Target marketing retailers with older Triple A demo as well.	Indie retail is critical for Marah. Artemis doing sampler campaign with Music Monitor Network. Listening posts, Light Boxes and other programs at Tower Philly, Universal one stop, Newbury Comics (Philly and Boston are Marah breakout markets), Waterloo, ear X-tacy and more.
radio	Going for college radio and commercial alternative specialty ads June 10-11. Title track, "The Snare," is the focus single. Comm. alt. specialty will also receive "The Snare" CD single, which includes non-album tracks.	Flatlanders has hit No. 1 Americana three weeks in a row (200 more spins than last week's No. 2), Top 40 CMJ Triple A. Comm. supporters: WFUV (NY), WYEP (Pittsburgh), WNCW (Greenville), WFPK (Louisville), KGSR (Austin), KRSH (Santa Rosa), KPIG (Monterey), KOTR (SLO, CA).	Nitro going for adds at college June 24/25. Comm. specialty and Triple A just serviced. Nitro also focusing on syndicated programs ( World Café , Morning B.E. , All Thing Considered , etc). Focus tracks include: "Birds & Bees," "Who's Laughing Now," "One Too Many Lies," "Bringin' Me Down."	Marah debuted No. 3 most added at Triple A with adds at WXRT, WXRW, WXTN, KMVT. At Alternative, WPLY just added. No. 2 most added at Rock including WMMR, WQBK, WCMF. Early spin support from WBOS, WWDC, KINK, KXTE. College being serviced in early June.
video	Directed by Looper member Karn David, it's a Lynch-inspired dream sequence going to MTV2, MMUSA, MM Canada and regional outlets soon. Video also available to retailers for in-store play.	Flatlanders shooting "Waivin' My Heart Goodbye" this week. CMT is running a piece on the band next week.	No video.	The radio picture is starting to look good for Marah, so Artemis has begun production for "Float Away" which should be complete by end of June.
press/tv	A full national and regional press campaign is in motion with early support coming from both CMJ Monthly and CMJ NMR , Magnet , Alternative Press , Mixer , Blackbook , Entertainment Weekly , Blender , Wired , Devil In The Woods and much more to come.	Press excited about this: USA Today , Letterman , Leno , Imus , CMT , getmusic.com (A-List), Rolling Stone , No Depression , Wall St. Journal , Billboard , LA &amp; NY Times , EW , Harp , Blender , Guitar World , Gear and Chicago , San Antonio , Dallas , Detroit and Cleveland dailies, more.	X and Exene lovers in the press bandying together: Magnet , Destroy All Monthly , Mean Street , Head , CMJ Monthly , LA Times , LA Weekly , Cuastic Truths , Varla , Scratch , SF Examiner , Alternative Press , Washington Post and more to come.	Press really embraced last record. This album is already starting to get a lot of attention and it doesn't hit street until July 16. Upcoming press includes Rolling Stone , Vanity Fair , Billboard , Blender , GQ , Maxim , Magnet , Interview , Tower Pulse , Time Out NY , Gear . Working on booking TV slots soon.
tour	No specifics confirmed yet, but there is a national tour in the works for late summer (see internet below for updates).	On the road for select O Brother Where Art Thou? tour dates. In-stores already at Tower Nashville & Waterloo. On tour June 15 - August 8, hitting just about every town in Texas, six on the CA. Coast, Atlanta, Birmingham, New Orleans, Chicago and NY.	Original Sinners will be road warriors, kicking things off in early July playing Hootenanny July 5 at the Shoreline Amphitheater, July 6 at the Verizon "Lot" in Irvine and July 7 at the Embaradero, San Diego. Stormy Sheppard booking dates for full US tour to follow.	Northeast tour in early June including dates in Jersey (Asbury Park) and Philly (Y100 show). Full national tour to follow this summer. In the meantime they'll be in LA on June 12 at the Troubadour and will play NYC at least three times in the next two months.

notes	Looper is the brainchild of former (and founding) member of the much-loved Belle & Sebastian. The Snare is based on (and works as musical accompaniment to) Stuart's novel, The Peacock Manifesto . Live show and video are loosely tied to novel's characters. 12x18 color posters, stickers and "Snare" video available, just contact Nicole@mute.com .	What else is there to say, Jimmie Dale Gilmore, Butch Hancock and Joe Ely are back and fans have been waiting so long. In-store play this — even for the kids. Posters, flats, post cards, in-store play copies and EPKs available to retail, just bug Raj Debah ( raj_debah@redmusic.com ) and he'll hook you up.	Even the diehard X fans will love this record. It's a great return to form for Exene, who (if you don't know already) fronts the band. In-store play copies, 13x19 posters and stickers are all available. Exene doing signing of her new book, Beer On Every Page at Borders in-stores (also available at Amazon.com ). Ask ernest@nitrorecords.com for more info.	"Float Away" features Bruce Springsteen on guitar and vocals (he's a huge fan of the band). Album produced by Owen Morris (both big Oasis records, the Verve). Artemis suggested retail list price of $12.98. This is a developing artist that deserves retail's support. In-store play copies, 11x17s and P&P available for all. Definitely in-store play this record: Tracks #1 and #3 are awesome for starters.

Since Record Rack opened its doors in 1957, it has become a Houston landmark and its oldest record store. In 1978 Bruce Godwin walked in to buy the Rocky Horror LP and they gave him a job. Four years later the founders retired and Bruce bought the shop. Record Rack was a full service store until the 1980's chain wars when Bruce changed its focus to indie, alternative, dance, imports, 12", vinyl and CD singles. Today imports are available the same day they street overseas. Bruce's very eclectic inventory ranges from Abba to Zero 7.

Owner/Buyer/Floor-Mopper/
 General Freak-In-Charge:
 Bruce Godwin

Over the years, RR has hosted in-stores from Morrissey to the Village People, Ministry and Front 242. The shop is small for performances so in-stores are infrequent, but Radiohead, Marianne Faithful, Jon Spencer and Jean Micheal Jarre have all shopped here. Record Rack also focuses on service and likes to help people find music they don't already know about. Record Rack shoppers are as eclectic a mix as the store's selection: million-aire housewives, sports celebrities, club kids and superstar DJ's are in on any given day. Record Rack supplies music to the top DJs and clubs everywhere; in fact, clubs from all over the US, Mexico, Canada, the Caribbean and beyond buy from them. Record Rack is located in the Montrose section of Houston so, Bruce says, most of his clientele is gay. The store has personality; it's funky, weird, fun and irreverent. Customers can always find out what shows and DJs are coming to town here. If ever there was a tastemaker account, Record Rack is it.

CMJ Q&A with Bruce Godwin

Current favorite?

Archive's You All Look The Same To Me.

All time favorite album?

Pink Floyd's Dark Side Of The Moon, which is tied with Jellyfish's Bellybutton, Ministry's Land of Rape and Honey, Crowded House's first release (and about 500 more).

All time favorite B-side?

Pet Shop Boys' "We All Feel Better In The Dark."

First record bought? Where? When?

I stole Led Zeppelin from some dollar store when I was 12 years old and stoned. I returned it later and bought Abbey Road.

Favorite Weekend Party Disc?

Any Ramones. R.I.P., Joey.

Favorite Sunday morning disc?

Eno's Apollo.

First concert attended? Where? When?

CCR in Dallas, July 7, 1970. I was 12.

Best concert attended? Where? When?

The Who, March 16, 1976 at the Ft. Worth Convention Center. That one ties with Alice Cooper's Killer and Emerson, Lake and Palmer's Brain Salad Surgery in Quadraphonic Sound tours, as well as The Grateful Dead on acid, Paul McCartney and Wings first US show, Pink Floyd, Ministry, Queen, Sex Pistols in Dallas (for the carnival atmosphere) and Nine Inch Nails/Jane's Addiction at my own club. (I owned Numbers Club for years; now I just book the shows).

What artist (past or present) would you like to see live?

I've seen them all, at over a thousand concerts — every popular group from the early 1970s – 2002 and still have every ticket stub. I did miss Janis, the Doors and Beatles though (too young). At one time I was an aspiring photographer and have thousands of great photos. I would like Neil Finn to play in my living room, just him and an acoustic guitar.

Currently reading?

A cheesy Liberace biography, dozens of travel mags and recipes online.

What do you collect?

Men! No really, DVDs (CDs are so 20th century). I never listen to music at home, since I have about 20,000 CDs at my store to listen to everyday! I used to collect vinyl, but I sold it all and bought a Corvette —so, I had a lot of records.

The Flatlanders
Now Again
New West
Catalog No. NW6040
Dist: RED

Retail

Shipping 60k. Programs and advertising with LINCOS, Borders (Tier 3, which is a little more "glamorous" than the Gondola which will follow in July), Barnes & Noble (listening wall), Best Buy Radio, Wherehouse's Best In Texas (35 state-wide stores), Cactus, ear X-tacy, E. Fetus and store-by-store with CIMS accounts — this just scratches the surface too, Flatlanders will be everywhere.

Radio

Flatlanders has hit No. 1 American two weeks in a row (almost 200 more spins than last week's No. 2 Americana record). Top 40 CMJ Triple A. Commercial supporters include WFUV (NY), WYEP (Pittsburgh), WNCW (Greenville), WFPK (Louisville), KGSR (Austin), KRSH (Santa Rosa), KPIG (Monterey), KOTR (SLO, CA).

Video

Flatlanders shooting for "Waiving My Heart" this week. CMT is running a piece on the band next week.

Press/TV

A lot of people excited about this: USA Today, Letterman, Leno, Imus, CMT, getmusic.com (A-List), Rolling Stone, No Depression, Wall St. Journal, Billboard, LA & NY Times, EW, Harp, Blender, Guitar World, Gear and Chicago, San Antonio, Dallas, Detroit and Cleveland dailies, more.

Tour

On the road for select O Brother Where Art Thou? tour dates. In-stores already at Tower Nashville & Waterloo. On tour June 15 – August 8 and hitting just about every town in Texas, six dates on the California Coast, Atlanta, Birmingham, New Orleans, Chicago and NY.

Internet

Best sites for bios, news, tour updates and/or changes, pictures, etc. are newwestrecords.com and theflatlanders.com. Flatlanders holding down Amazon's country page. For now, go to DCN.com to get streaming audio clips.

Notes

What else is there to say, Jimmie Dale Gilmore, Butch Hancock and Joe Ely are back, 30 years since their last record to deliver what fans have been waiting for so long. In-store play this — even for the kids. Posters, flats, post cards, in-store play copies and EPs available to retail, just bug Raj Debah (raj_debah@redmusic.com) and he'll hook you up.

Looper
The Snare
Mute
Catalog No. 9181-2/1 (CD & LP)
Dist: ADA

Retail

Album is still in solicitation with a big push at indie retail. Tons of key indie and Tower Records print and listening stations as well as Insound.com advertising. Mute looking for as much indie discretionary support as possible. Value adds include poster giveaways at willing indie accounts like Sonic Boom (Seattle), Lou's (SD), Super D. and more.

Radio

Going for college radio and commercial alternative specialty ads June 10-11. Title track, "The Snare," is the focus single. Comm. alt. Specialty will also receive "The Snare" CD single, which includes non-album tracks as well.

Video

"The Snare" video is directed by Looper member Karn David. It's a David Lynch-inspired dream sequence and will be submitted to MTV2, MMUSA, MM Canada and regional outlets soon. Video also available to retailers for in-store play. See stream of video beginning June 4 at Insound.com.

Press/TV

A full national and regional press campaign is in motion with early support coming from both CMJ Monthly and CMJ NMR, Magnet, Alternative Press, Mixer, Blackbook, Entertainment Weekly, Blender, Wired, Devil In The Woods and much more to come.

Tour

No specifics confirmed yet, but there is a national tour in the works for late summer (see internet below for updates).

Internet

Official band site at www.looper.info or at www.mute.com. Looper's site gives the most info about the project. "The Snare" can be streamed at Insound.com on their radio player beginning June 4. Email blasts to Looper and R.I.Y.L. fans from Amazon and Insound coming as well.

Notes

Looper is the brainchild of former (and founding) member of the much-loved Belle & Sebastian. The Snare is based on (and works as a musical accompaniment to) Stuart's novel, The Peacock Manifesto. Live show and video are loosely tied to novel's characters Peacock Johnson and Evil Bob. 12x18 color posters, stickers and "The Snare" video available, just contact Nicole@mute.com for more info and merch.

Original Sinners
Original Sinners
Nitro Records
Catalog No. 15847
Dist: Caroline

Retail

Initially shipping 9k. Big full-on electric in-store June 25 (release date) at Amoeba Hollywood with entire band. Programs include LINCOS ads and listening posts, Rasputins, listening posts, Tower and Best Buy regional ads and P&P, Virgin's "Raw Power" end cap and P&P and ISIS for July-August. Target marketing retailers with older Triple A demo as well.

Radio

Nitro going for adds at college June 24/25. Commercial specialty and Triple A just serviced (first time Nitro has gone to Triple A). Nitro also focusing on syndicated programs (World Café, Morning Becomes Eclectic, All Thing Considered, etc). Focus tracks include: "Birds & Bees," "Who's Laughing Now," "One Too Many Lies," "Bringin' Me Down."

Video

No video.

Press/TV

X and Exene lovers in the press really banding together. Early comers include Magnet, Destroy All Monthly, Mean Street, Head, CMJ Monthly, LA times, LA Weekly, Cuastic Truths, Varla, Scratch, SF Examiner, Alternative Press, Washington Post and more to come.

Tour

Original Sinners will be road warriors. They'll kick things off in early July playing Hootenanny July 5 at the Shoreline Amphitheater, July 6 at the Verizon "Lot" in Irvine and July 7 at the Embaradero, San Diego. Stormy Sheppard booking dates for full US tour to follow.

Internet

Besides the usual punk suspects (including their 50k plus active email lists), Nitro targeting car club, poetry, news and tattoo websites. Nitro has aggressive e-street teams. Best info at nitrorecords.com where you can get bios, tour info and MP3 downloads.

Notes

Even the diehard X fans will love this record. It's a great return to form for Exene, who (if you don't know already) fronts the band. In-store play copies, 13x19 posters and stickers are all available. Exene doing signing of her new book, "Beer On Every Page" at Borders in-stores. Also available at Amazon.com. Ask ernest@nitrorecords.com for more info.

Marah
Float Away With The Friday Night Gods
Artemis Records
Catalog No. 751126
Dist: RED

Retail

Indie retail is critical for Marah. Artemis doing sampler campaign with Music Monitor Network. Listening posts, Light Boxes and other programs at Tower Philly, Universal one stop, Newbury Comics (Philly and Boston are Marah breakout markets), Waterloo, ear X-tacy and more. Artemis working account by account for most indies.

Radio

Marah debuted No. 3 most added at Triple A (just below Dave Matthews and Counting Crows) with adds at WXRT, WXRV, WXTN, KMTT. At alternative, WPLY just added. No. 2 most added at Rock including WMMR, WQBK, WCMF. Early spin support from WBOS, WWDC, KINK, KXTE. College being serviced in early June.

Video

The radio picture is starting to look good for Marah, so Artemis has begun production for "Float Away" which should be complete by end of June.

Press/TV

Press really embraced last record as a band for those who really love music. This album is already starting to get a lot of attention and it doesn't hit street until July 16. Upcoming press includes Rolling Stone, Vanity Fair, Billboard, Blender, GQ, Maxim, Magnet, Interview, Tower Pulse, Time Out NY, Gear. Working on booking TV slots soon.

Tour

Northeast tour in early June including dates in Jersey (Asbury Park) and Philly (Y100 show). Full national tour to follow this summer. In the meantime they'll be in LA on June 12 at the Troubadour and will play NYC at least three times in the next two months.

Internet

Entire album is available for streaming at www.marah-usa.com along with a ton of up-to-date info on the band. MP3s available at MSN, Yahoo and Launch. Also check out www.artemisrecords.com for additional info. P&P at both Amazon and Barnes & Noble sites.

Notes

"Float Away" features Bruce Springsteen on guitar and vocals (who's a huge fan of the band). Album produced by Owen Morris

"Murray Street... finds the seminal avant rockers returning to the more structured, accessible style they sported on 1990's GOO and 1992's DIRTY. But fans of Sonic Youth's noisier side will still rejoice." - Alternative Press

"...their finest album since Daydream Nation". - Q

The image shows the album cover for Sonic Youth's 'Murray Street'. It features two young girls sitting on a blue net in a wooded area. One girl is on the left, wearing a pink shirt and shorts, and the other is on the right, wearing a purple shirt and shorts, holding a tambourine. The title 'SONIC youth' is written in a white, hand-drawn font across the bottom of the net. The background consists of trees and foliage.
