ALPHABETICAL LISTING ON INSIDE BACK COVER

Atlantic Establishes New Creative Marketing Services Structure; Mark Schulman To Oversee Division

NEW YORK—Atlantic Records has established an interdepartmental structure for Creative Marketing Services. Mark Schulman, most recently Atlantic vice president of advertising & video, has been named to the newly-created position of vice president of Creative Marketing Services. This new system puts the company's advertising, graphics, merchandising, packaging and pre-production under one umbrella, operating out of Atlantic's New York headquarters.

Commenting on the announcement, Dave Glew, executive vice president/general manager, said, "By institutionalizing a Creative Marketing Services area, we have formalized the critical links between five departments which together form the backbone of Atlantic's image in the marketplace. In the music industry of the 1980's, more than ever before, it is crucial that all these elements be closely integrated for maximum artist impact and development. I am very pleased that Mark Schulman, a 19-year member of the Atlantic family, is overseeing our restructured marketing system. Mark has worked in a variety of areas over the years, and he brings considerable experience and expertise to his new post."

Mark Schulman had served as Atlantic vice president of advertising & video since 1984. He was named vice president of advertising in 1979, having been director of advertising since 1974. Schulman joined Atlantic in 1968 and his early positions with the label included director of album product, director of packaging, and executive assistant to Nesuhi Ertegun.

Within Atlantic's new Creative Marketing Services Structure, the advertising and video departments will continue to be directly overseen by Schulman, who is joined by the following department heads: Bob Deffin, vice president/creative director; Arline Gidion, vice president of packaging and pre-production; and Jim Gall, director of merchandising.

CBS Acquires Monument Catalog

By Lee Jeske

NEW YORK—CBS Special Products has purchased the entire Monument Records catalog, as well as the rights to the name, logo and trademarks of the country and pop label, bringing to CBS thousands of recordings by, among others, Roy Orbison, Willie Nelson, Boots Randolph, Dolly Parton, Kris Kristofferson, Al Hirt, Charlie McCoy and Grandpa Jones. The catalog had been held by a bankruptcy court in Nashville.

CBS Special Products is now assembling and cataloging the inventory, which is expected to take up to four months. Recordings in the catalog will then be available for leasing domestically and worldwide for TV direct response, synchronization, retails, mail order, clubs and premiums. There is also a wealth of previously-unreleased material.

"We've already been deluged with inquiries from people interested in putting together direct response packages of this material, in the U.S. and several foreign countries," said Al Shulman, senior vice president and general manager of CBS Special Products upon making the announcement. "What we've been telling them is please be patient, it will be a few months before we can entertain offers but, without any question, it will be worth the wait."

NMS8 Plans More Music, Int'l Focus

By Paul Iorio

NEW YORK — The New Music Seminar 8 (NMS8), July 12 - 15 at the Marriott Marquis, will showcase more live performances than it has in the past, according to its directors. NMS8, which is expecting more than 6,000 registrants, will feature shows by some 250 bands, including a Felt Forum bill headlined by The Cult.

Except for a broadened international focus, NMS8 is structured much like last year's seminar. There will be two keynote addresses (by promoter Bill Graham and Virgin's Richard Branson), 65 panels on both general and specific industry topics, and discussions of various political issues.

"This year we're addressing a lot more burning social issues than ever before," says Rick Dutka, NMS' political coordinator. "Right on top is the issue of racism in the U.S. music industry.... We'll also be addressing censorship, because we feel that it's an issue that's even broader than just the PMRC/RIAA settlement or debate." Source licensing, digital technology, and the role of the FCC are some of the other topics to be discussed.

But, as always, live music is NMS' main draw. NMS8 will feature more showcases than at previous seminars and will again offer its 'New York Nights' package of free admission to clubs during the seminar. "We want the New Music Seminar to be not only the best music convention in the world but the best music festival," says Mark Josephson, a seminar director.

"We try not to have all bills of established acts," he says. "But sometimes we do (because) these people are also musically legitimate and have new records and are doing something musically creative."

Gorman Named Capitol V.P.

LOS ANGELES – Tom Gorman has been promoted to the position of vice president, pop promotion, for Capitol Records, it was announced by John Fagot, Jr., Capitol's vice president of promotion. In his new position, Gorman will be responsible for all aspects of Capitol's Top 40 promotion, and their team of local and regional promotion representatives will report directly to him.

Gorman, who will continue to be based at the label's Hollywood headquarters, remains with the company amid the infusion of outside executives to upper management positions. He has been steadily promoted during his five year stint there, most recently holding the position of national promotion director. His industry career before starting at Capitol focused primarily in the Midwest, with various promotion positions in Cleveland, Detroit, and Chicago before settling in Minneapolis for five years as Arista's midwest regional promotion director.

"I am excited to be a part of the great new Capitol team that John Fagot, Don Zimmermann and Joe Smith have assembled," Gorman commented. "I am looking forward to breaking a lot of new acts."

Frank Zappa Forms Home Video Label

LOS ANGELES—Recording artist and outspoken PMRC foe Frank Zappa has formed his own home video label, slated to debut in September.

Called Honker Home Video after his famous nose (which is featured on the company logo), Zappa's new firm recently concluded an exclusive North American distribution agreement with MPI Home Video, the Chicago-based supplier of such cassettes as The Beatles' Help and A Hard Days Night.

Zappa's plan for the new label is to offer product considered too risky or obscure for traditional video companies, with a debut line focusing on his own off-beat projects.

The initial Honker slate is made up of four original Zappa in-house productions, including the company's September debut title, Baby Snakes - The Complete Version, a re-edited, three-hour program of Zappa concert footage and clay animation, to be followed later in the year by Video From Hell, Zappa's spoof of several rock videos, The True Story of 200 Motels, a documentary on the making of Zappa's cult classic art film, and Uncle Meat, a feature film project begun 20 years ago, including footage shot in 1967, 1968 1970 and 1982.

Zappa will also be in the market for additional non-traditional home video product.

"We're basically going to provide state-of-the-art weirdness for the home video market," said Zappa. "Honker will offer some of the most creative and innovative video product on the market; offering a broad range of feature, documentary, short subject, animated and musical programming."

Under the new agreement, MPI will target the Honker line for record retail outlets as well as home video retailers while Honker mail orders will be handled through Zappa's Barfko-Swill company. No foreign distribution has yet been settled.

Virgin Vision To Launch Video Distribution

LOS ANGELES—Virgin Vision Inc., the year-old U.S. film and video entity created by Virgin Records' parent entertainment conglomerate The Virgin Group, has announced plans to launch its own U.S. distribution operation in the fall.

The company, which maintains distribution in the U.K., Australia, Germany, Scandinavia, Spain and Switzerland, had formerly distributed its titles to the U.S. through various independent suppliers.

In addition, the company has acquired eight new titles, including The Haunting of Hamilton High: Prom Night II, Graveyard Shift II, Man Outside, Backlash, as well as a three-picture deal with Concorde/New Horizons for titles yet to be announced.

Also acquired is Deadline (formerly War Zone), set for domestic theatrical release this fall through Skouras Pictures. Further acquisitions also will reportedly be announced soon.

Key figures in the new organization will be Tom Burnett and Tim Olson, previously of Embassy Home Entertainment's Charter Entertainment arm. Burnett will head the new operation as executive vice president of Virgin Vision. Sales activities will be overseen by Olson, named vice president of sales.

She will report directly to Hale.

Jody Watley Is For Real!

By Stephen Padgett

LOS ANGELES—"I'm over the moon," said a genuinely excited Jody Watley about her recent success. Her MCA Records debut LP has become a Number One BC album in addition to going Top 20 on the pop chart. It has so far spawned the Number One pop and BC hit, "Looking For A New Love," and the latest single, "Still A Thrill," is off to a fast start.

This sort of success eludes even the talented newcomers. But Watley brought years of experience to her debut that has paid off handsomely. The beautiful Chicago native has a rich background as a dancer—her first professional gig was on Soul Train—and an avid interest in fashion, design and other visual aspects that have all contributed to her stunning presentation.

"I felt confident that if the music was there, my presentation was happening—the visual part of it.

With the commitment of the record company, I figured I had a pretty good shot. But to actually have things happen like this, it's great. I guess the time was right for me," said an exuberant Watley.

Watley was an original member of the group Shalamar. In 1977 she Jeffrey Daniel and Howard Hewitt were put together by Don Cornelius to be the visual focus to a single he had recorded using session players. The group clicked and had a string of hits. Hewitt launched a solo career, but in 1984 Watley left Shalamar for London and became part of the young fashion crowd there.

While in London she bumped into lots of music figures, including the likes of Bernard Edwards, George Michael and her eventual manager Bennett Freed.

"A lot of things came out of that," she said of her London stay. Bernard Edwards, who produced three of the album's tracks, was an acquaintance from his days as bassist with Chic. "I bumped into him in London while he was there working on Duran Duran and he expressed interest in being apart of an album whenever I got ready to do one," recalls Watley.

Also while in London she ran into George Michael during the historic recording of the Band Aid single, "Do They Know Its Christmas." Michael expressed interest in recording a song with Watley. When she had finally returned to the United States and secured a record deal she called him up to make good on the offer. "Fortunately he was still interested in doing it, because when we talked, it was a couple of years ago," she said. In the meantime, Michael's career had skyrocketed, but he was still eager to do it and the result is "Learn To Say No," a standout track on the album.

After Watley's London sojourn, she returned to Los Angeles and hooked up with Andre Cymone, a Minneapolis funkster. They hit it off right away and began writing songs together. Six of the album's nine cuts came from this collaboration and Cymone produced those same six.

"He was interesting," she says of Cymone. "Lets just say, he wouldn't be one that people would expect to come out with the goods like he did. That excited me. I kind of like surprising people. I really do."

But the goods were there, in abundance. Their Number One single, "Looking For A New Love," is just one example. The gratifying thing about the whole project for Watley is that she had a direct hand in every aspect of the record, including co-writing the LP's biggest hit.

"To have things happening the way they are is great, but it makes me feel even better to know the involvement I had," she says. Watley had a say in virtually everything that occurred on the record. She picked the producers (in addition to Cymone and Edwards, Madonna's Pat Leonard wrote and produced one song), she either picked or co-wrote all of the album's songs, she selected the photographer, conceptualized the album cover, conceived the videos, chose her clothes, did the dancing in the videos and of course, sang. "So, its totally Jody Watley," she said.

"I think that the way I went in to MCA from the beginning, having so much together ...I think it excited them ...It kind of edged everybody on."

Her concept and look were so strong, in fact, that MCA let her have a free rein with most of the project. "I think that the way I went in to MCA from the beginning, having so much together, they felt really comfortable with letting me have that type of involvement. I think it excited them, too. It kind of edged everybody on," said Watley. She added: "I consider myself a new artist. And usually a record company won't give you that type of freedom unless you've proven yourself to them."

As with every other facet of her career, Watley is quite cautious and protective about touring. While being at the same time extremely adventurous, she wants to wait before hitting the road until she's got two album's worth of material under her belt.

Also, she rejects the treadmill mentality that says an artist with a new record must hit the grueling concert path. "I don't think people take enough time to do something special and stimulating," claims Watley. When Watley does decide to tour, she promises it will be memorable.

In the meantime, Watley is basking in the phenomenal success of "Jody Watley" and filing ideas and concepts for her next LP. And we can look forward to that, because, she says, "No matter the extent of my success, I want to have fun with what I do and take chances. Try things out."

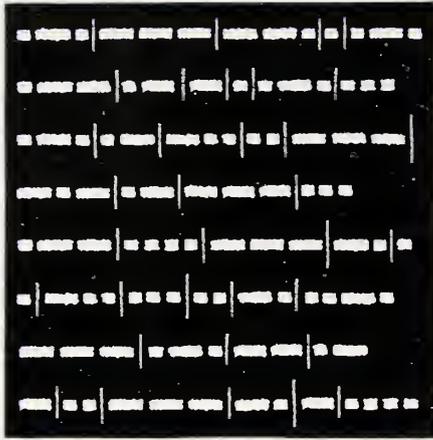

ALBUM RELEASES

OUT OF THE BOX

ROGER WATERS—Radio K.A.O.S.—Columbia FC 40795—Producers: Ian Ritchie-Roger Waters-Nick Grif-fiths—No List—Bar Coded

Former Pink Floyd guitarist releases ambitious concept album that revolves around fictional radio station K.A.O.S. and a kid, an apparent vegetable from birth, who receives KAOS directly, without a radio. Reminiscent of Floyd's "The Wall," and featuring AOR dj Jim Ladd, should be a huge seller.

OUT OF THE BOX

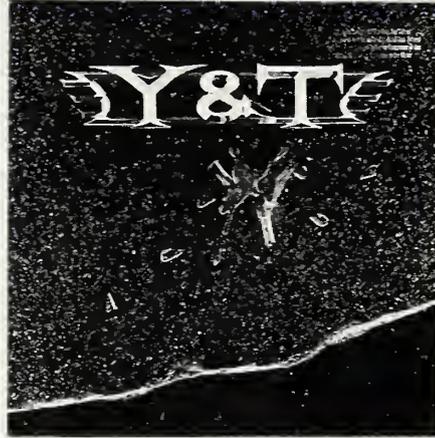

BEVERLY HILLS COP II—Motion Picture Soundtrack Album—MCA 6207—Producers: Various—List: 9.98—Bar Coded This LP should repeat the success of the soundtrack to the first Beverly Hills Cop as a potent retail and radio item. Led by the tough and chart-climbing first single by Bob Seger, the LP features cut after winning cut by such artists as Charlie Sexton, Corey Hart, The Jets, James Ingram, George Michael and The Pointer Sisters.

OUT OF THE BOX

THE OUTFIELD—Bangin'—Columbia OC 40619—Producer: William Wittman—No List—Bar Coded The Outfield's second LP beats the sophomore jinx with a seamless set of melodic pop songs. Songwriter Spinks crafts the LP's songs with singular attention to pop details of melody and harmony, and producer Wittman puts the glistening touches to the sound.

OUT OF THE BOX

Y & T—Contagious—Geffen 24142—Producer: Kevin Beamish—List: 8.98—Bar Coded Hard-hitting metal act features Dave Meneketti's thunderous guitar and growling vocals. This is metal with a melodic edge, and comes at a perfect time for the genre, in terms of chart acceptance. Could follow Geffen's other metalheads, Whitesnake, as well as Ozzy Osbourne and Motley Crue, up the success path.

FEATURE PICKS

THE GO-BETWEENS—Tallulah—Big Time 6042—Producers: Richard Preston-Craig Leon—List: 8.98—Bar Coded

Leaders of the Australian underground, now London residents, The Go-Betweens have reached a commercial zenith here. Always quirky and iconoclastic, their offbeat pop eye is in sharp focus on "Tallulah."

ROGER DALTREY—Can't Wait To See The Movie—Atlantic 81759—Producers: Alan Shacklock-David Foster-Chas Sandford—List: 8.98—Bar Coded

Daltrey has assembled a forceful collection of pop rock tunes for his latest solo LP. He delivers them with his trademark impassioned shriek. Especially effective is the apparently autobiographical "Balance On Wires."

SCRAM—Stand Up—Better Youth Organization BYO 020—Producers: Scram-BYO—List: 8.98

This is a first for Scram and BYO. It is the band's debut and the label's first really solid mainstream contender. The songs are tough and lean, done in the rock trio spirit. The band conveys a social conscience and the sparse, reggae-influenced arrangements remind one of early Police.

HELLOWEEN—Keeper Of The Seven Keys Part I—RCA 6399—Producer: Tommy Newton—List: 8.98—Bar Coded

German heavy metal quintet has a much more optimistic bent than their name may imply. They produce a highly conceptualized metal thick with religion and rebellion.

BLEACHED BLACK—Relativity 88561-8151—Producer: Lou Giordano—List: 8.98—Bar Coded Raw pop with more than a nod to psychedelic garage rock. But singable pop melodies manage to show their faces in the midst of the blitz.

TEEN DREAM—Let's Get Busy—Warner Bros. 25493—Producers: Various—List: 8.98—Bar Coded

Led by the chart-climbing BC hit, "Let's Get Busy," new trio's debut has the elements for becoming a big hit. The three girls have solid voices.

KEEL—MCA 42005—Producer: Michael Wagener—List: 8.98—Bar Coded

Leading L.A. heavy metal act unleashes its latest molten set of head banging rock. Avoiding some of the Gothic and gore cliches of the rest of the crop, Keel propagates largely positive themes.

PUSHTWANGERS—Strangler From Behind—Relativity 88561-8145—Producer: 4-Eyed Thomas—List: 5.98—Bar Coded

Pushtwangers are a European pop group with strong melodies and bright rhythms. This four song EP will help further the U.S. exposure for the Swedish band.

THE SECRET OF MY SUCCESS—Music From The Motion Picture Soundtrack—MCA 6205—Producers: Various—List: 9.98—Bar Coded

A super-star collection covering a lot of musical bases sets this package up for a big reception. The title track Night Ranger hit leads the way with various offerings from Pat Benatar, Bananarama, David Foster and Restless Heart filling out the set.

FIGURES ON A BEACH—Standing On Ceremony—Sire 25596—Producer: Ivan Ivan—List: 8.98—Bar Coded

As enigmatic and evocative as their name suggests, the music here ranges from quirky pop to dark, densely textured pieces.

STARSHIP (RCA 5225-7-GCD)
It's Not Over ('Til It's Over) (4:16)
 (MCA/MCA-Tongerland-Kaz - zoom/BMI) (Robbie Nevil-John Van Tongeren-Phil Galdston) (Producer: Keith Olsen)

Starship's recent Number One single, "Nothing's Gonna Stop Us Now" from the film Mannequin sets things up nicely for this first single from their upcoming LP. It is a soaring, anthemic rocker with a winning chorus that should catapult it up the charts.

OUT OF THE BOX

JAMES INGRAM (MCA 53125)
Better Way (4:09) (Famous-Ultra-wave-April/ASCAP) (André Cymone) (Producer: André Cymone)

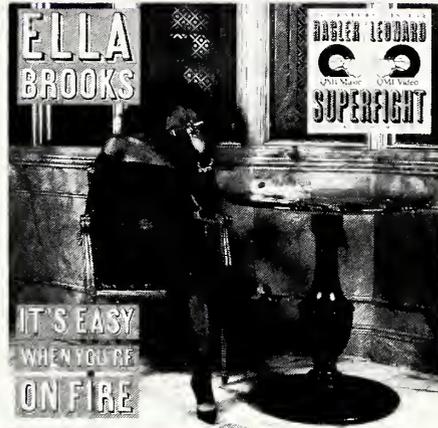

Singer Ingram, who scored big with his Linda Ronstadt duet for the movie An American Tale, has another sterling film song on his hands here. Produced by Cymone (Jody Watley), the cut has a dance floor beat and features Ingram's unparalleled vocal cool. It is yet another single from the Beverly Hills Cop II Soundtrack.

ELLABROOKS (QMI MCA 53095)
It's Easy When You're On Fire (3:44) (Cotton Row/BMI-New Memphis/ASCAP) (N. Lyras-C. Blanchard-D. Thomas) (Producer: Nikos Lyras)

Bob Pittman's new label, QMI, debuts with this heated dance cut featuring newcomer Brooks. She has a blistering, hot voice and this should be a solid launch for both the label and her career.

CARRIE MC DOWELL (Motown 1903MF)

Uh Uh, No No Casual Sex (Pt. 1) (4:06) (Stone Diamond/BMI) (W. Hutch) (Producer: Willie Hutch)

The age promiscuity is over and it was only a matter of time before pop music caught up. Mc Dowell's appeal to monogamy is couched in a crushing dance groove and features her (ironically) sexy chirp. The current climate of AIDS-enlightened views on sex should help this cut get a hold of radio.

FEATURE PICKS

MILES DAVIS (Warner Bros. 7-28309)

Backyard Ritual (4:09) (Mycenae/ASCAP) (George Duke) (Producers: Tommy Lipuma-George Duke)

The ever-cool Miles in a smokey instrumental right for Jazz, AC, urban and soft jazz hybrid formats.

LOS LOBOS (Slash 7-28336)

La Bamba (2:13) (Picture Our Music c/o Warner-Tamerlane/BMI) (Arr. & Adp.-Ritchie Valens) (Producer: Mitchell Froom)

The song was made for this band, or vice versa. East L.A.'s musical ambassadors cut into the Valens classic and give it their distinctive Mexican/American rock flavor.

GLENN MEDEIROS (Amherst AM-314)

Watching Over You (4:08) (French Surf-Chappell/ASCAP) (P. Gordon) (Producer: Jay Stone)

The surprise Top 20 debut hit by this 16-year old Hawaiian high school student paves the way for this to be a huge AC/CHR hit.

FARRENHEIT (Warner Bros. 7-28315)

Lost In Loveland (3:38) (WB-Shopper-Ideophone-Greater Heits adm by WB/ASCAP) (C. Farren-D. Heit) (Producer: Keith Olsen)

A bristling AOR rocker just right for cruising this summer.

ERASURE (Sire 7-28362)

Sometimes (3:37) (Sonet/PRS adm by Emile/ASCAP) (Clarke-Bell) (Producer: Flood)

Synth pop outfit got things rolling with "L'Amour" earlier this year. Their latest is another sexy and forlorn but infectiously melodic pop song.

FIRE TOWN (Atlantic 7-89242)

Carry The Torch (3:57) (Flip 'n' Dog/BMI) (P. Davis-D. Erikson) (Producer: Fire Town)

Reminiscent of Byrds-era folk rock, Fire Town's first single should capture an audience base for the new and promising band.

JANISSIEGEL (Atlantic 7-89235)

Trouble Man (5:46) (Jobete-20th Century/ASCAP) (Marvin Gaye) (Producer: Steven Miller)

Manhattan Transfer singer's debut single is a blues/jazz workout with a torchy attitude and Siegel's stellar vocal effort.

KOOL & THE GANG (Mercury 888 712)

Holiday (3:20) (Delightful/BMI) (C. Williams-J. Taylor-Kool & The Gang) (Producers: Khalis Bayyan [Ronald Bell]-I.B.M.C.-Kool & The Gang)

Kool & The Gang will cash in on summer's start with this funky school break anthem, replete with an upbeat groove.

THERESA (RCA 5229-7-RAA)

Last Time (4:00) (Jay King IV/BMI) (Jay King-Denzil Foster-Thomas McElroy) (Producers: Denzil Foster-Thomas McElroy)

Steamy Prince-like funk beat from the Club Nouveau team, delivered by new sexy thrush.

SPANDAUBALLET (Epic 34-07190)

Through The Barricades (5:56) (Reformation/BMI) (G. Kemp) (Producers: Gary Langan-Spandau Ballet)

British sensation, known for blustery synth dance cuts, has a beautiful, acoustic ballad here that may have enough appealing elements to be the rare ballad to become a hit with CHR programmers.

JACKSON LEAVES JEHOVAH'S - According to a spokesman for the Jehovah's Witnesses' Valley Assembly in Woodland Hills, Michael Jackson did indeed leave the organization "about a month ago." Jackson, the spokesman confirmed, "does not care to be associated" with the church any longer. As to what affect Jackson's decision will have on his family (his mother, for one, is said to remain in the sect), no one is saying. "That's up to the family," the spokesman told Points West. According to reports, Jehovah's Witnesses are not allowed to speak with former members. The spokesman could give no reasons for Jackson's choice. Has Michael been getting too much oxygen lately? Do the Elephant Man's bones figure in here somehow? And what of that forthcoming album we keep hearing of, but not hearing? Tune in tomorrow for the continuing drama of Encino (will Katherine shun her son?). And now, ladies and germs, for a commercial message...

STRAY CAT-Michael Jackson has strayed from the Jehovah's Witness fold.

AND SPEAKING OF JACKSONS-While Michael Jackson has left the Jehovah's Witness's, brother Marlon has up and left the Jacksons. His debut solo effort for Capitol Records (as yet untitled) is due for an August release. Jackson produced the album with Fred Maher (Scritti Politti), and also wrote most of the songs, sang all leads and back-ups, and played most instruments. The LP's first single, "Get Away," which Jackson co-wrote with Maher, is due next month.

RAMBLIN' GUY-Following his recent tour of the South and Southwest (opening for Concrete Blonde and the Wild Seeds et al), dB Peter Holsapple last week cruised into town in his pink '63 Rambler American, just as the L.A.-based singer/songwriter/guitarist said he would. Holsapple, in case you didn't hear, hit the highway in New York last month armed with a video camera, a boombox, a guitar and a harmonica. He was met in the L.A. satellite berg of Whittier by members of Scramblers (Southern California Rambler Association), driving some 20 vintage Ramblers, who escorted him to the Long Beach outlet of Jiffy Lube (you know, the "15 minute oil change" folks) sponsors of Holsapple's tour. It was at the Jiffy Lube Long Beach digs that our hero, garbed nattily in a psychedelic Elvis shirt he picked up at Graceland, climbed on top of his car and regaled Jiffy Lube employees with some tunes. Later that evening (Sunday, June 7), the tireless, Karouac-aping guitar slinger played Al's Bar. Meanwhile, final mixes are well under way for the dB's forthcoming (August 10) I.R.S. debut LP, "The Sound of Music," the ex-Bearsville recording act's first release in three years.

WHO'S THAT GIRL?-No, it isn't Annie Lennox. It's Madonna, whose International "Who's That Girl" Tour kicks into Anaheim Stadium July 18.

THE FATE OF 415-Rumors surrounding the fate of San Francisco-based 415 Records have been addressed by a recent press statement from the company, which says that, following a rather major executive torch passing, things will be business as usual for the popular bay-area indie. The shift we speak of is the departure of president and founder Howie Klein, who, we're told, takes over as general manager for Sire this week. Replacing him will be 415 producer and a&r director Dan Levitin. Jeannine Munde continues as publicity director. The company says it'll continue to promote "cutting edge" music.

IN PARTING-Capitol Industries-EMI has strictly "no comment" as to persistent rumors of a merge between Manhattan Records and EMI America ... The word from I.R.S. is that the label will soon delve into the heavy metal arena with an unannounced (and relatively unknown) act from the midwest ... Jello Biafra (of the now defunct Dead Kennedys), who, along with several others, has been charged with "distributing harmful material to minors," begins trial August 11 (pre-trial motions are set for July 13). The trial could last up to six weeks, and legal costs will soar (upwards of $40,000, we're told). Contributions from sympathizers are badly needed. Send 'em to the No More Censorship Fund, P.O.Box 11458, San Francisco, CA 94101 ... Wise guy Tonio K. has an album due this fall from What?/A&M. K. went in the studio earlier this month to begin work on the album, which he's co-producing with David Miner. T Bone Burnett is executive producer. Also, K.'s got a new single, "I'm Supposed to Have Sex With You" (from the soundtrack to the forthcoming Paramount comedy, Summer School), advance promo 12" copies of which are due at radio this week.

FIRE TOWN

Fire Town financed its first album with the grass roots support of friends who contributed $25 and $50 a piece for the home pressing of "In The Heart Of The Heart Country" (Boat Records). Only problem was, Boat didn't have much of a distribution system, so the band decided to send the LP to critics instead. Turned out to be a smart move; last February, rave reviews of the album started appearing in national journals.

The band, which had never played much outside of their Madison, Wisc. hometown, was now in demand, getting offers from record labels here and abroad. A couple months ago they signed with Atlantic, which has just released "In The Heart Of The Heart Country" without changing anything on the original Boat album - not even the cover art. The record is that exceptional.

"We've done it all ourselves," says vocalist Phil Davis. "We produced the record ourselves, we designed the jacket, and worked with the photographer for the cover."

"We even wrote the songs," says vocalist Doug Erickson. "Added bonus."

Fire Town is a song-centered band, and Davis and Erickson do most of the writing. With jangly guitars and three part harmonies, they pop-rock their way to new variations

TOUR CHAT-Dread Beat recording artists the White Animals recently released their latest LP, "In The Last Days." Prior to an album release concert, the group's management, Contemporary Talent, hosted an industry reception for them at Nashville's Cannery. The Nashville date was the kick-off to a four week, 19 city tour in support of the new album. Pictured discussing the tour (l-r) are: Steve West, Go West Productions, and Kevin Gray of the White Animals. The tour itinerary is as follows: June 3: Purdee's/Chapel Hill, N.C.; June 5: The Pier/Raleigh, N.C.; June 6: Floodzone/Richmond, VA; June 8 & 9: Old Post Office/Hilton Head, S.C.; June 11: W.C. Don's/Jackson, MS; June 12 & 13: Prophet Bar/Dallas, TX; June 17: Ivory Tusk/Tuscaloosa, AL; June 19: The Chimes/Baton Rouge, LA; June 20: Jimmy's/New Orleans, LA; June 21: Thirsty's/Mobile, AL; June 23: Excelsior Mill/Atlanta, GA; June 24: Brother's/Jacksonville, AL; June 25: The Gin/Oxford, MS; June 26: Antenna Club/Memphis, TN; June 27: The Cannery/Nashville, TN; July 1: Breedings/ Lexington, KY; July 2: The Library/Knoxville, TN; and July 3: Main Street/ Murfreesboro, TN.

on the three-minute, three-chord tune.

"It's limitless what you can do with the three minute song," says Erickson.

"What Bruce Springsteen did with 'Born In The U.S.A.' in two chords - I mean you would think that the two chords had worn out. And then he came up with that. There are definite limitations but that's part of the challenge," says Davis.

They meet the challenge with songs like "Places To Run," "Carry The Torch," and especially "Rain On You." That last one is deceptively simple, and its lyrical sophistication takes the listener by surprise. Erickson and Davis acknowledge the political overtone of lyrics that seem to refer to the plight of Vietnam veterans and others neglected by a society geared increasingly toward self-interest.

"Since the last war he isn't quite the same/He just walks up and down the street/There's nowhere he can go to get out of the rain/You won't believe there's a storm until it rains on you/You won't believe that the worst was warned until it rains on you," they sing in "Rain On You."

"Yeah, there is some political content," says Davis. "But I think it has more of a wide application than just the event that sparked it."

"There are a lot of ways that things can rain on you," says Erickson. "From personal problems to political problems to physically the sky falling."

Most of the the tracks are less content-oriented, though, and more concerned with serving up a panoply of hooks and well-crafted songs. Fire Town combines the simplicity of The BoDeans, the catchiness of The Smithereens, and the dynamism of The Rainmakers in an album that ranks among the year's best debuts.

PRODUCER ADRIAN SHERWOOD manned the mixing boards for an interactive performance with funk-trio Fats Comet and vocalists Gary Clail and Mark Stewart, at a sold-out Cat Club show June 4th. It was Sherwood's first appearance in New York, and a crowd that included Mick Jagger and Nile Rodgers showed up to hear his sound-crafting magic live. Of course, with the Fats Comet crew, Sherwood had substantial raw materials with which to work. His inventive use of echo, repeats, splices, and the 'cut-up' method pioneered by William Burroughs in prose, often made the music sound like the equivalent of 'congregate challenger and according under evidence where preliminary name preliminary name.'

But more importantly, it was as danceable as any N.Y. show this year. On vinyl, Sherwood's interactive mix is best represented by an excellent Upside collection called "The Architect Of Destruction." Indeed, that's what Sherwood is; he explodes songs and disintegrates beats with the idea that deconstruction can be mushroom-cloud dazzling. At this show, rock and funk grooves collided with power chords and rap when Stewart fronted the band as Maffia to play "Hypnotized" and when Clail sang with the group as Tackhead. Clail even went solo, on an a cappella "Sixteen Tons," allowing Sherwood to take apart the song with echo-repeats that made familiar verses jarring, and an old tune quite new. But the highlight was yet to come: a surprise performance by Melle Mel - with Scorpio and Duke Bootee of the original Furious Five - rapping the 1982 classic "The Message." This was perhaps the first time Mel had played it with a live band, and it was altogether fitting that he used Fats Comet, whose members - drummer Keith LeBlanc, bassist Doug Wimbish, and guitarist Skip McDonald - used to be in Sugarhill's rap-era house band.

life with a version by the Australian band Pseudo Echo (RCA). It is currently #28 bullet in the U.S. and had been number one in Australia, making it their biggest hit to date - and helping them shed their synth image somewhat. "Funkytown" was a turning point for us," says bassist Pierre Gligliotti. "We were playing it live and a lot of people said you should record this." The band, which recently played its first New York gig, says its music is evolving into something more stripped-down and live-sounding. "We started off pretty much as a synthesizer band," says Gligliotti. "And now we've gone all the way back to where the guitars have come to the front of it. There is less dependence on keyboards and more guitar."

Also on the Ritz bill was In Pursuit, a rock trio that moved to Nashville when it was signed to MTM Records, which is located there. "We're MTM's first pop-rock act," says vocalist Emma, who doesn't use a last name. "It's nice to be there because it's a small personal company." Originally a country label, MTM is hoping to cross over into pop, starting with the band's "Standing In Your Shadows" album.

WHERE'S BAM-BAM?-MCA's newest recording artist Pebbles is offering listeners nationwide a teaser of what to expect from her soon-to-be-released debut album. Her song, "Love/Hate," produced by Prince protege Andre Cymone, is featured on the Beverly Hills Cop II soundtrack, and complements the hyperventilating nightclub scene in the box office smash.

DIXON'S CAMEO - That's Don Dixon crooning away at a Wednesday Week gig in Charlotte, as WW's Heidi Rodewald plays on. Dixon, who is signed to Enigma, produced Wednesday Week's debut album for that label, "What We Had."

"The Message" had at least as much power live as when played with two turntables and a DJ, and the packed house danced, swayed in unison, and sang along to what still stands as rap's finest song. After a few bars of "White Lines," everyone called it a night, the crowd out-of-breath and dripping sweat to the exits.

In the festival's keynote address, Stan Cornyn of Warner Communications, Inc. presented his personal approach to visual music as a new business and a harmonizing link between two kinds of communications mediums. Entitled "Why Video Music is Like Underwater Farming," the industry executive's speech recalled how, years ago, he read about food pills, picture telephones and oceanic agriculture as the waves of the future in Popular Science magazine. "How quickly the future does not arrive," said Cornyn, whose talk expressed the belief that record companies are doing little to market the visual/aural concept. "The utopia of music video may be as far off as underwater farming"...Top five singles: 1. "Ebony and Ivory," Paul McCartney. 2. "Don't You Want Me," the Human League. 3. DEXTER GORDON

LONG TALL REDUX—Dexter Gordon is back. Again. After a four year lay-off due to ill health ("My health was very rundown after all these years of my life," says Dexter), Dexter Gordon, saxophone in hand, faced a live audience the week before last, as a guest soloist with, of all things, the N.Y. Philharmonic. He played on a new David Baker piece called "Ellingtones," and, after a second or two, it was clear that Dexter Gordon's sound was still intact. The real sharp chops, perhaps, will follow; the chops at Avery Fisher Hall were, in fact, not bad at all.

Dexter, of course, comes and goes. In 1960 he came back, after years of obscurity and a prison term. In 1976 he came back, after 14 years of living and working in Europe. Last year, of course, he came back on film, coping a Best Actor nomination for his troubles. This year, the six-foot-five-inch bebop giant is back in the flesh.

The weekend before the Philharmonic gig, Dexter guested on the upcoming Tony Bennett album. At the end of the month, he embarks on a tour of Europe with Bobby Hutcherson, Cedar Walton, Billy Higgins and Pierre Michelot, four players who participated in Round Midnight. At the end of the tour, the band will wax a live album for Blue Note (the first Dexter Gordon album, not counting the two Round Midnight soundtracks, in five years). And after that?

"I haven't really thought too much about that," says Dexter slowly, very slowly. "I've been thinking about getting myself back together, which I seem to have done. I'm in better shape than I was in four years ago."

"I'm not really planning on getting back on the circuit and playing all the joints. Mostly I'll do concerts. But, you know, we just talked to Max Gordon [the owner of the Village Vanguard, where Dexter made his much-acclaimed 1976 "Homecoming"] and he wants us to come into the club. Basically, there will be very few clubs that we'll be doing. But maybe we can do a special weekend later in the year at the Vanguard just to pay our respects. Because he did a lot for me, you know. When I came back from Europe in '76, not too many people remembered me, and he gave me a shot. And it turned out fantastic."

And what about taking another acting assignment? Certainly, the Academy Award nomination must have caused a couple of scripts to waft Dexter's way.

"Oh yes, no hesitation, as long as it's in my bailiwick. It wouldn't have to necessarily be a jazz musician. I don't want to be typecast all my life."

TUBE-BOP—The amount of jazz on TV is a joke, right? Right. This is a shame, right? Right. Slowly, however, some action is being taken, right? Right. Finally, Public Television (you know, the guys who bring us tons of ballets and operas) is waking up to the much-abused, much-neglected art form called jazz. At least it's happening here in New York. Last year, WNYC (Channel 31) gave us a Jazz Hot Summer, and they're doing it again on Monday nights this summer. Now, the Big Daddy, WNET (Channel 13) has come around. Beginning July 2, Jazz Tonight will unspool every Thursday night for 18 weeks. Now the 11:00 p.m. airing time isn't exactly prime time, but it does give you a chance to catch a set at a jazz club (or a Mets game) and be installed in your recliner just in time. Here, then, is the first half of the schedule: The Last of the Blue Devils/Sippie (7/2), Trumpet Kings/Dick Hyman Plays...A Lot of Piano (7/9), Piano Legends/Count Basie In Paris (7/16), John Coltrane/Earl Hines and Coleman Hawkins (7/23), Jazz in Exile/Fredie Hubbard Live at the Village Vanguard (7/30), Women In Jazz (Parts One and Two)/Mal Waldron Live at the Village Vanguard (8/6), Women In Jazz (Parts Three and Four)/Lee Konitz Live at the Village Vanguard (8/13), Women In Jazz (Parts Five and Six)/John Abercrombie Live at the Village Vanguard (8/27), and Fairer Sax/Women In Jazz (Part Seven)/Michel Petrucciani Live at the Village Vanguard.

POLL VAULTING—The Down Beat Critics Poll will be published in August, but for those who can't wait, here are a few results: Record of the Year: "Song X," Pat Metheny/Ornette Coleman. Reissue of the Year: "The Webster/Blanton Years," Duke Ellington/"The Complete Riverside Recordings of Thelonious Monk." Record Label: Black Saint/Soul Note. Record Producer: Giovanni Bonandrini. Big Band: Gil Evans. Acoustic Group: Art Blakey's Jazz Messengers. Electric Group: Ornette Coleman & Prime Time. Composer: Carla Bley. Arranger: Gil Evans. Trumpet: Lester Bowie. Trombone: Ray Anderson/Jimmy Knepper. Soprano Sax: Steve Lacy. Alto Sax: Ornette Coleman. Tenor Sax: Sonny Rollins. Baritone Sax: Gerry Mulligan. Clarinet: John Carter. Flute: James Newton. Hall of Fame: Johnny Dodds/Thad Jones/Teddy Wilson.

JAZZ FEATURE PICKS

VIEWPOINT—Steve Turre—Stash ST-270—Producers: Steve Turre, WillFriedwald

An impressive debut album from one of the finest trombonists (and conch shell players) in jazz. Turre leads a rarefied, hard-edged, hard-bop band through a slate of memorable originals and blue-chip standards. A good one!

ADVENTURES OF THE HEART—John Blake—Gramavision 18-8705—Producer: Jonathan F.P. Rose

Violinist Blake's music has been getting poppier and poppier and this album is no exception, what with Gwen Guthrie and Grover Washington and reams of synthesizers and vocals.

CLASSICS IN JAZZ—Louie Bellson and his Jazz Orchestra—Musicmasters MMD 20120A—Producer: Gregory K. Squires

A heavy-duty swing date alternating between Bellson's romping, stomping big band and his only-slightly-less romping, stomping sextet. The focus is most definitely on the drums.

LIGHT YEARS—Chick Corea Elektric Band—GRP 1036—Producer: Chick Corea

The lord high master of latin-inflected fusion with his high-tech, funkified flags flying.

BOSS BRASS & WOODS—Rob McConnell & The Boss Brass—MCA Impulse! 5982—Producer: Fernando Gelbard

One of the biggest, baddest big bands on this continent (they hail from Canada) in a smoking set of originals and standards, with altoist Phil Woods added for good measure (bringing the roster to 23).

INNUENDOES—Leslie Drayton & Fun—Esoteric ER-1005—Producer: Leslie Drayton

Pretty, latin-laced fusion from a sweet-toned trumpeter and his tight band of Fun-sters.

Tom Petty And The Heartbreakers

UNIVERSAL AMPHITHEATRE, L.A. - A capacity crowd was on hand here to witness the long-awaited return of an old friend. Although they hail originally from Gainesville, FL., Tom Petty and his Heartbreakers have made Los Angeles their home in recent years, and the fans here have taken them to heart like native sons. This week they returned and put on a scintillating show of ebbs and flows, of peaks and valleys that rivaled those of Petty's long and checkered career.

Petty's greatest strength as a committed, intelligent artist has always been his ability to crystallize moments of passion, rebellion, and raw human emotion in his own inimitable, highly emotive style. His manner is that of superstar not above his crowd but as one with it, and his knack for combining sensitive lyrical insight with an often gripping rock and roll sensibility has made him a favorite with blue- and white-collar alike, fans and critics everywhere. His is a craft of empathy.

Tuesday night at Universal, in the second of four sold-out shows, Petty evinced all these qualities and more. "I've got a lot of songs I want to play tonight, so we're going to get on with it," he drawled early in the evening, and get on with it he did. He slid sideways into the set with "Breakdown," the eerie melody creeping underneath the almost sinister vocals, and then ripped the crowd to its feet with a muscular rendition of "American Girl," also from the first LP. These two numbers were slotted around two from his latest record, "Let Me Up (I've Had Enough)," generally received by critics as his best since 1979's "Damn The Torpedoes." By his point, it seemed Petty had the crowd fully behind him, as they swayed, danced, and sang along. His loyal flock of fans appeared willing, even pleased, to accept the maturation of Petty's musical persona that new songs like "My Life, Your World" and "Runaway Train" seem to indicate.

The Heartbreakers also have grown from their roots as an often sloppy but well-intentioned garage combo to their position currently as perhaps the best backing band in rock. The rhythmic foundation is provided by drummer Stan Lynch, and all others take their cues from his rock-solid groundwork. Guitarist Mike Campbell shared the downstage spotlight with Petty most of the show, and rightfully so. He managed to make each lead break sound spontaneous and casual, yet riveting, and his all-too-brief solos invited the band to higher levels of achievement. Benmont Tench provided swirling organ underpinnings and Roy Bittan-styled keyboard punctuation, and Howie Epstein's bass and sweet harmonies provided an excellent counterpoint to Petty's rough stylings.

Three songs placed in the middle of the set comprised the heart of the show, and cemented Petty's rightful position as a vital American rocker. He began the trilogy with a touch of unexpected social commentary, commenting on a few of our nation's ills as they appear from the windows of the band's tour bus. The homeless, the kids on crack, the lack of trust in our nation's leaders (both political and ideological), all were touched upon briefly in a rambling monologue that never seemed to preach. From this base Petty launched into a cover of Buffalo Springfield's "For What It's Worth," and the provocative lyrics of protest and awareness seemed to this reviewer as appropriate today as twenty years ago.

Next came a short discussion of the well-documented burning of his house (allegedly arson), which Petty finished by stating unequivocally "they can burn wood and they can burn stone, but they didn't burn this" as he held up his guitar. Then, to the accompaniment of only a pair of yellow spotlights, he prowled the stage with a solo version of "The Waiting," perhaps the most poignant moment of an evening of sublime rock and roll.

The third side of the triangle fell into place as the psychedelic-tinged "Don't Come Around Here No More." A soulful break in the middle gave way, the bottom fell out, and suddenly the Heartbreakers were on full throttle, pushing each other and the crowd into a frenzy. Most other bands after a gargantuan effort of this caliber would have given the requisite "thank you, good night," but as Petty assured the Amphitheatre audience, there was a long way to go yet.

Further highlights included a raucous version of the Clash's "Should I Stay Or Should I Go" and a sparkling rendition of Petty's heartfelt "Even The Losers."

But it was "Refugee" that truly brought the house down. Like an old favorite pair of jeans, this song wears well with age, and it still sounds as fresh and gutsy as the day "Damn The Torpedoes" hit the streets. Tench and Campbell played hard off each others' leads, then the band came way down to a break to catch some air before diving back in headfirst. The sheer fury of the Heartbreakers' attack seemed to typify their rejuvenated return to recording and touring, delivering all the promise of "Let Me Up (I've Had Enough)" and delighting this overflow crowd. Petty is back, and he's better than ever.

Another muscular Southern band, The Georgia Satellites, is touring as part of the Rock and Roll Caravan along with Boston's Del Fuegos. The Satellites' brand of stripped-down, hard edged, guitar based boogie rock complemented Petty perfectly, and their comfortably good-natured stage presence belied their sudden rise to AOR fame. If there is a better party band around anywhere, they have yet to make it to these ears.

World Party

Santa Monica Civic Auditorium, CA - Ex-Waterboy Karl Wallinger brought his World Party to Southern California and signs are that the wispy mystic's update of sixties peace and love themes has registered with late-eighties party-goers.

Wallinger's World Party is a heady mix of religious, ecological and social concerns concocted in flawless homage to sixties musical figures such as The Beatles, Bob Dylan, The Rolling Stones, Jimi Hendrix, The Doors and others. In fact, seeping through Wallinger's own eclectic stew, one can hear borrowed lines from these, his sources. "The Wind Cries Mary" and "Satisfaction" were among the hodgepodge bits that found their way into Tuesday's (June 2) show.

But World Party is much more than a revivalist sideshow. The images and allusions are carefully chosen tools used by Wallinger for extracting specific emotions that have become impacted over the years by the neglect of rock's roots and the accretion of time. Rock and roll has lost its ability to change lives; to be important to its listeners.

"I can't get no satisfaction" was a revolutionary summary of sixties youth disaffection. When Wallinger groans these lines, they once again are revolutionary, having as they do, a stinging reality in a world threatened by Reagan's global shenanigans and the likes of Secretary of the Interior Hodel's suggestion that sun tan lotion and dark glasses are a reasonable response to ozone layer deterioration.

Like The Waterboys from whence Wallinger came, World Party is deeply spiritual in orientation. Songs like "The Little Man Within," "World Party," "It Can Be Beautiful Sometimes" "Make Love To The World" and "Ship Of Fools" have a ringing religious, almost evangelical, tone. And also like the Waterboys, Wallinger gets his theology, if you can call it one, from the rich heritage of Celtic poets like Keats, Yeats and Shelley. He adds to this his own deep, almost animistic, reverence for the earth.

All of this high concept stuff, though, would be purely novel if it weren't rooted in a rock and roll that works on its own terms. Wallinger's awkward, but effective, left-handed guitar playing, and simple, equally effective, keyboard playing, are the springboard from which his five hired hands—former Waterboys players Guy Chambers and Martyn Swain on keys, Lenny Mead on bass, drummer Dave Ruffe (also a former Waterboy) and Dominic Miller on guitar—rock with great vigor.

In addition to songs from his Chrysalis Records debut, "World Party," Wallinger rolled out some lesser known, but nonetheless impressive, import B-side songs like "World Groove" and "Trouble Down There." One of the brighter moments was an epic-scaled, dramatic song called "This Is The World Speaking." Wallinger frantically roamed the stage, and in the role of the world, made maniacal, scathing indictments on man's stewardship of the earth. The song climaxed in a thunderous, explosive display of World Party's collective muscle as a band and Wallinger's keen perceptive skills as a songwriter.

The show ended with an ambitious, literal rendition of The Beatles' "A Day In The Life"—complete with digital keyboards grabbing the orchestra crescendos. Wallinger introduced the song with a veiled acknowledgement of the song's 20th Anniversary, which was celebrated the day before World Party's appearance here.

It is very easy to imagine this band becoming a leading force in re-introducing imaginative, committed and life-changing elements into a pop world sorely in need of them. The songs have a timeless appeal, Wallinger's spirit delivers them with great conviction, and his band rocks them with genuine power.

The Kinks/Joan Jett

THE GREEK THEATRE, L.A.—Joan Jett's appearance here sharing the bill with legendary British rockers the Kinks was like drinking a Coke before tasting an excellent champagne: Both are enjoyable in their own way, but you wish you'd tasted them on separate occasions. As with Coke and that other fizzy beverage, Jett's style, with its heavy metal churn, is geared toward a younger, seemingly adolescent crowd, while the Kinks, a thinking man's rock band whose songs are often laced with social and political statements, are a baby boomer's band with age-defying appeal.

The trouble at this Friday evening show was that Jett's audience seemed far out numbered by older, yuppie-looking Kinks fans, who appeared to be about as excited about shouting "Yeah, Oh Yeah" at Joan's bidding during "Do You Want to Touch" as cats are about swimming. Jett's rabble-rousing efforts didn't have the affect they could have - or should have.

Musically, Epic's Jett and her band flew in tight formation. Ricky Bird's lead guitar churned with heavy metal intensity, as did Jett's. Paul Harkins' drums and Bret Cartwright's bass were also in fine form. Still, there was a certain energy missing from the set, due partly to the band's droning, electric guitar sound, and partly to Jett's lackluster performance style, which was mirth-free even during such uptempo, energetic shakers as the Stone's "Star Star." Tommy James and the Shondelles' "Crimson and Clover" was the Jett set's high point, delivered with haunting poise.

The evening took a sharp turn when MCA's Kinks took over. Frontman Ray Davies proved himself a seasoned pro from the outset, when he, brother Dave Davies on lead guitar, Ian Gibbons on keyboards, Jim Rodford on bass and Bob Henrit on drums, kicked into a highly-charged set that drew from material both ancient (1964's "You Really Got Me") and recent (tunes from their latest album, "Think Visual"), but never seemed to ride on laurels from the distant past. In fact, the refreshing thing about watching these British invasion originals perform is that while one is conscious of their '60's Golden Oldies aspect, one never doubts for an instant that the creative energy that set them in motion more than 20 years ago has never ceased to fuel them.

As lead singer and focal point for the band, Davies is a captivating, world-class rocker. His sly, gender-bending sexuality, a device used by many an English popster, seemed fresh. And the band's rebellious, East End sensibility was as alive and genuine as could be, especially on this night, which happened to be the eve of Britain's national election (which Davies admitted the band takes very seriously).

Dave Davies' guitar provided rollicking, electrifying interludes to the entire show. Both Davies have considerable stage presence, and both brothers sing, but Dave's primary contribution is that he, and a handful of other brash Englishman, play as if they invented the art of scintillating guitar riffs. They certainly redefined them, and Dave Davies played like an original during Friday's show here.

Traditional Kinks themes of poverty and national decay, of loneliness and political deceit - conveyed with equal parts ethos pathos - plus pensive, romantic ballads (such as the mesmerizing "Lost and Found") all mingled to form that rarity of rarities: a thoroughly captivating, thought provoking and high energized show.

Wolf Trap Celebrates Dizzy Gillespie

WOLF TRAP, VA—It was the headiest, most dazzling tribute to a single living jazz musician one could imagine. Dizzy Gillespie, who will turn 70 years old in October, was the centerpiece of a star-studded, jam-packed Wolf Trap program that, despite its five-hour length, only scratched the surface of his incredible jazz career. PBS' Great Performances, to its credit, was on hand to record the whole event—the concert, the rehearsals, the special American Zephyr train carrying Dizzy and company from New York to Washington, the works—but, no doubt, the program, which will air in the fall, won't scratch the surface of the weekend. This review won't scratch the surface of the concert.

Chronologically, this is what happened:

Lalo Schifrin led a sensational big band (we're talking sensational—the trumpet section was Wynton Marsalis, Freddie Hubbard, Jon Faddis, Jimmy Owens and Vaughn Nark!) in the "Fanfare" and "Toccata" from his "Gillespiana Suite."

Wynton, Benny Carter, J.J. Johnson, Hank Jones, Rufus Reid and Mickey Roker (with Dizzy on the sidelines) essayed "Groovin' High" and "Birks Works."

Dizzy and Sonny Rollins (!!!!!!!), with the same rhythm section, uncorked smoking versions of "Wheatleigh Hall" and "Stella By Starlight." Dizzy and Sonny Rollins! Imagine!

Dizzy and Carmen McRae teamed up for lovely and delicate versions of "Round Midnight" and, with Carmen at the piano, "A Beautiful Friendship."

Dizzy, James Moody, Jimmy Owens, Slide Hampton, Mike Longo, Chris White, and Charli Persip played "Con Alma" con alma, Mongo Santamaria was added for a lush "Kush," and Jon Hendricks joined Dizzy and Moody for a madcap scat "Oop-Pop-A-Da."

And then Marsalis, Hubbard, Faddis, Owens, Nark and Gillespie strutted their high-flyingest stuff for "Tour de Force." Faddis, with a heavy dose of Louis Armstrong, took the honors.

And that was the first half. The first half! And even the intermission had music—films of Dizzy and his '40s big band, Dizzy and Charlie Parker, Dizzy and Louis Armstrong, and just plain Dizzy.

The second half began with the Blues Alley Youth Orchestra, conducted by the honoree, scraping through "A Night in Tunisia."

Dizzy and Oscar Peterson then inspired each other to rare heights on a couple of duets: "All the Things You Are" and "Autumn Leaves."

Dizzy, Ignacio Berroa, Candido, Mongo, Nicky Marrero, John Lee, Ed Cherry, Dave Valentin, Sam Rivers, Arnie Lawrence, Jimmy Owens, and David Amram then bubbled—we're talking percolated—through a Cu-bop drenched "Tin Tin Deo."

Then a funny thing happened: Flora Purim and Airto Moreira led a three-song set of their own. Dizzy didn't participate, and his connection to it was, at best, a little hazy.

And, to close, that beautiful big band, with all those percussionists, played "Things to Come," "A Night in Tunisia," "Olinga," and, of course, "Happy Birthday."

In case you're wondering, Dizzy Gillespie, at the age of 69, played superbly throughout. The long concert, moreover, firmly established the wide-range of his talents and the long shadow of his influence—he is so much more, so very much more, than Charlie Parker's straight man in the creation of bebop. Dizzy Gillespie is one of the dozen most important jazz musicians of all time.

It was one hell of a night.

Vernon Reid's Living Color

CBGB, NY - Vernon Reid's Living Color goes for a Zeppelinish brand of imperial bombast, the kind that works best when it's bouncing off stadium walls. Though they mix it up with reggae, calypso, and funk, they still sound like an updated version of a kickin' early-'70's hard rock band. In concert (June 2d), they overpowered this small club, sounding not loud but big, far too big to remain unsigned for long.

The clincher was "Desperate People," which foreplayed like a Journey song, got into some AC/DC chord-ing and Ozzy "Wicked World" Osbourne vocals, and climaxed with Reid's baroque guitar wizardry. For a generation informed by punk but raised on Zep, this was Johnny Lydon making peace with Jimmy Page at the wedding of Prince and Journey.

The marriage works because Reid hears the link between generations; his guitar work is pure Hendrix without being retro, if one accepts the fact that Hendrix pretty much created metal and its latter-day mutations. After all, it's not a long jump from "Purple Haze" to the guitar solo in "Beat It" or from "Crosstown Traffic" to Prince's "Lady Cab Driver" and even AC/DC's "You Shook Me All Night Long."

For a generation informed by punk but raised on Zep, this show was John Lydon making peace with Jimmy Page at the wedding of Prince and Journey.

Indeed, Living Color's "Glamour Boys" may start off sounding like a great lost track from "1999," but it's powered by a progression straight from Clapton's "After Midnight." Though Reid uses reggae to get the song's funk across, it rocks along basically genreless, with loyalty only to the groove.

The groove often became unstoppable as when drummer Will Calhoun soloed with staggered rhythms and Muzz Skillings plucked along on bass. Vocalist Corey Glover meanwhile pounded the stage, jumped into the audience, screamed, and crooned for all he was worth, proving himself a better showman than musician, with an onstage razzle dazzle that recalled both James Brown and Mick Jagger. Living Color's got the chops and moves for a bigger stage, and in fact it might be more appropriate if the band's next showcase were at Giants Stadium.

BANGIN'—The Outfield—Columbia
FORMATS: Primarily Top 40. AOR and A/C will benefit also.
SINGLE: "Since You've Been Gone," hits #70 in its second week on the Cash Box pop singles chart.

COMMENTS: Should prove to be successful follow-up to band's multi-platinum debut LP. Group's smooth pop-rock styling will blend well with most formats, A/C included.

RADIO K.A.O.S.—Roger Waters—Columbia

FORMATS: Immediate AOR attention, with Top 40 crossover on certain cuts.
SINGLE: "Radio Waves," established AOR success. Picked up T40 in the Midwest this week at WKDD in Akron, Ohio.

COMMENTS: AOR will have a field day with entire LP. Popular Disc Jockey Jim Ladd is featured on segues between tunes as an air-personality on the fictional station K.A.O.S., tying together the LP's storyline. Featured artists include Paul Carrack (Squeeze, Mike & The Mechanics) and Andy Fairweather Low.

Freddie Jackson is on fire with adds at B96, WHYT, KCPW, FM-102, KS 103 and KMEL. Strong phone response, especially female. 4 By Four are generating hot teen phones - now crossing in the Southeast. Poison's "I Want Action" obtains 20 adds this week. Debuts at #38 on Z93/Atlanta, and #26 at KEGL in Dallas. LP still red hot, Strong MTV play and good phones.

STEVE RESNIK
A&M

Herb Alpert's "Diamonds" is Top 10 everywhere and still growing. The Nylon's "Kiss Him Goodbye" is on over 200 stations. Key adds this week include KMEL, WTIC, B98, B104 & K107. Jumps include KTKS 26-21, WLS 26-21, WMMS 23-17, 92X 33-26, KDWB 20-10, WLOL 19-13, Y108 19-11, KATD 10-8, & KUBE 16-11 Janet Jackson picked up adds at WCAU, KROY, KWSS and great moves at B94 10-8, KIIS-FM 20-15, KMEL 16-12, and WXKS 17-14. "Luka" by Suzanne Vega is currently on over 120 stations and added to Z95, KWK and KUBE this week.

Lee Michaels: On Top Of The Windy City

Approximately one month ago, master programmer Lee Michaels left his PD position at Top 40 outlet KMEL in San Francisco to return to his former home at Urban-formatted WBMX in Chicago as OM/PD. The price for this relocation? Try almost two million dollars over a two year period, including incentives and bonuses. Not bad for an off-air talent...

But Michaels is much more than just your average Program Director. His track record of ratings successes over the past few years has been phenomenal. First he boosted WBMX five points over a four year period (from 1981 to 1985), from an initial 2.1 to an all-time market high of 7.1. Then he moved across town to rival Urban station WGCI, and proceeded to take that station's ratings 4.6-7.9 in one year, capitalizing on the talent and potential available at WGCI and setting another record in the process. At the beginning of this year, he turned his attention to Top 40 radio at KMEL, and in one book he took that station 3.7-4.4, restoring it to the top contemporary position in San Francisco radio, before deciding to return to the scene of his former triumphs at WBMX.

Is there some magic formula Michaels uses to shove his stations into the ratings stratosphere? Secret incantations? Old-time voodoo? "No, I'm a workaholic. I roll up my sleeves, I come in, identify what has to be done, and I do it," he told Cash Box recently. "Fortunately, I've worked for stations that are committed, and that's something that I have to have before taking on the job. If you want to win as badly as I want to win, then we can get married and do a job together. Because if I want to win and the owners of the station only want to be Top 5, then that's not the right marriage." The rather public marriage of Michaels to Egmont Sonderling's WBMX is apparently one of power, numbers, and money rather than one of convenience, as the high price tag attests.

With WGCI holding a hearty three point lead in the Winter Arbs (7.7-4.6), and enjoying nearly a six-point bulge in Birch (12.0-6.1), Michaels and his team at WBMX have their work cut out for them. Michaels foresees the task of overtaking his former comrades as a difficult one that will not happen overnight, but he is confident of his ability to take WBMX to the top again. "WGCI is a well-built radio station. I put a solid year of serious programming, marketing, and promotion into it, and they're not just going to pack up and go away. But," he continued, "what I can do for WBMX is try to make it a better radio station and position it to the point where it can be more competitive. I don't think it's impossible to beat WGCI. I think any station is beatable - it's just a matter of how much you're willing to invest into your end of it in terms of time and money and commitment. I can tell you that we want to win." It is an ironic tribute to his programming skills that in order to reclaim the #1 spot, he must defeat the champion that he helped place there originally.

Michaels does not see many differences inherent in programming for the Urban format as opposed to a Top 40 station. He has been successful at both, and feels that the basics are the same. "I think the fundamentals of programming a radio station don't change that much from one format to another. The key difference is the music - the mix of your music, the balance of your music. When I went to San Francisco, I basically sat down with (Music Director) Keith Naftaly and gave him the battle plan, explained to him the overall balance of the music that we were looking for to make it work. The same approach I basically use everywhere in terms of the jocks and how they present themselves will apply here. I don't find it that different. If you're a music oriented station, whether you're playing Country, whether you're playing Top 40, or whether you're playing the latest Urban hits, the basics are the same."

Well, almost the same. One discrepancy Michaels has noted is the tendency for Urban programmers to go out of the box on unknown artists to a greater degree than their Top 40 counterparts. A quick look at WBMX's recent add list reveals such little-known acts as Mason, Cheryl Lynn, and Alexander O'Neal. Michaels has always been a champion of up-and-coming artists, even when working the strictly formatted Hit Radio scene, but he bemoans the lack of creativity of some of today's Pop programmers. "That's just the unfortunate attitude of Top 40 programmers. I have no problems going on good music. I don't care if Joe Blow makes it or Madonna - what difference does it make? If your listeners appreciate a good tune, then I don't think they really care. I don't think it's an obligation or a responsibility to expose new artists, but I think it's a natural thing for radio stations to look for new talent. I don't go out of my way to find new artists, but if they come along and they're good I give them a shot."

"I have no problems going on good music. I don't care if Joe Blow makes it or Madonna - what difference does it make?"

Michaels' contemporaries should do well to heed his words of warning about oh-so-tight playlists: "I think that by not playing new artists the other PD's are only cutting off their nose to spite their face. You're cutting down on your variety, and the ability to keep your station fresh and not sounding like one artist, or three artists, or five artists." This insistence upon variety was one contributing factor to the success of KMEL in San Francisco's melting pot of listener demographics, and should work to WBMX's advantage in the competitive Chicago Urban race as well.

The uniquely auspicious story of Lee Michaels as programmer begins and ends with his reliance upon research as the primary tool. While many programmers today are leaning toward "gut feeling" as a means for determining playlist adds, Michaels maintains a strong commitment to research, believing that it awards him that extra edge that a leading station must sustain. "I don't think there's enough research being done today. I'd love to have another $150,000 to spend on it, because it makes my decisions more precise. Radio has gone from completely free-form when I started to strictly formatted with science and research. It's more precise today because of the mere fact that it's a much bigger business than most people even dreamed of 20 or 25 years ago. It's gotten tougher all around."

Michaels' response to the ever-increasing spiral of competitiveness is to keep working to try to maintain that cutting-edge spirit. He feels that part of the programmer's magic is the ability to find product that fits within the unique parameters of the station's sound, then knowing instinctively when to accelerate or slow down on that song, according to audience reaction.

Candid about his future in the industry, Michaels has made it plain that his greatest interest lies in station ownership, rather than in a purely administrative position. "I would like to be able to put together a group or join a group who is interested in acquiring some additional property. What else can I do? I could be a General Manager, but to me being a GM is too much of an administrative job, and there's not enough excitement in it. I look at it this way - I've been in this business 20 years. I just turned 37, and this is all I know. I've made a major commitment to this business all my life and you don't get many opportunities like this. They just don't come along - it's like winning the Lotto!"

While admitting to the occasional itch to get back on the air, the world's highest paid radio staffer realizes just where his greatest strengths are located: "I'm a good director, I'm the conductor. The air staff and the support staff are the orchestra. I know how to operate them - I know when to point to the drums and the strings and the horns. That's very exciting to me as opposed to being the performer."

With a proven conductor like Lee Michaels on hand to point out the way, WBMX should be making quite a joyful noise in the Chicago Urban race for the next two years at least. Keep an ear out - it should be interesting ...

THE BEAT

LEANING GOLD - Club Nouveau's remake of Bill Withers' hit Lean On Me has been certified gold by the Recording Industry Association Of America.(RIAA) This is the first single to receive the RIAA's certification since Patti LaBelle and Michael McDonald's Own My Own a year ago.

Speaking of gold and remakes, Jay King, the confident young president of King Jay Records is involved in a flurry of activity. He recently announced the signing of LaRue and Cachet(co-signed to Warner Bros). King's all female group New Choice will do a remake of Aretha Franklin's, Respect. Michael Cooper, ex-ConFunkShun member and the first male solo artist signed to King Jay Records(co-signed to Warner Bros) does a fabulous rendition of You Got A Friend. LaRue will be doing a remake of Sly And The Family Stone's, Sing A Simple Song. David Agent, a group member of LaRue as well as an independent producer for King Jay Records, plays bass and guitar for Club Nouveau during live performances, will be doing a rendition of Sly's, Family Affair, for a well known outside group. Cachet is slated to do a remake of Stevie Wonder's, I Was Made To Love Her. The new single by Theresa titled Last Time is being very well received by radio in its first week of active promotion(BRE PARIS)

Speaking of remakes, Cashbox spoke with Denzil Foster and Thomas McElroy(who are becoming giants and highly sought after producers under their company banner 2 Tuff-E-Nuff Productions) of Club Nouveau about doing a remake of The Staple Singers 70's smash I'll Take You There. Imagine the 1980's treatment by these talented young producers on this tune. Sacramento has certainly become a musical hot bed in wake of the tremendous success of Club Nouveau with more to come. Look out world the King and his court has arrived!

BROFEEL EXPANDS-Kirk and Joanne Tyler president and executive vice president respectively of the Los Angeles based Brofeel Records expands. Currently enjoying the success of Khaliq's hit single You Go To My Head Kirk and Joanne have added some top named independent consultants. Handling the southeast promotion duties is Andre Montell, central south, Jackie Ward, west coast and midwest is anchored by Wendel Bates

This dynamic husband and wife team spoke very enthusiastically about the forthcoming release by an incredibly talented self-contained seven member group called Wall Street and their new single titled The Animal.

Expectations are high and rightfully so, because of the hit potential product and the sensational team of professional consultants. Look for major activity from Brofeel (Brotherly Feeling) Records- SOON!

NEW FROM HAM-SEM-Bill Campbell president of Ham-

Sem Records has rushed released the latest single titled Tight Pants by David Smith and Demetrius Nelson who teamed up to form the duo Control. These young men met in 1979 and started sharing their ideas about rap-music, thus began their writing and rapping careers which have resulted in their latest release on Ham-Sem Records. Major activity has already started in the St. Louis market and continues to spread. This looks like a big one.

BOB LONG

HIGH PRIORITY

A HIGH PRIORITY SALUTE TO Slack Johnson

Vice President Black Music Promotions
EMI-America Records

This well liked industry veteran is currently enjoying a tremendous amount of success nationwide. That success is spearheaded by the top 5 hit from Nona Hendryx titled Why Should I Cry. Additional hit-makers for the label are Ray, Goodman and Brown, Najee, Nu Romance Crew and Foster Sylvers and Hy-Tech. Slack spent many years in radio before making the successful transition to record promotions. Congratulations to Slack Johnson and his dynamic team of professionals and best wishes for many more hit making success stories at EMI-America.

Gary Hightower-Music Director
KFDI AM/FM-Wichita, KS

Wichita's KFDI is one of those rare stations that hasn't undergone a lot of changes throughout the years. Radio is such a changing medium, with many stations changing formats every few years. Not this station - KFDI is in its 23rd year - same ownership, same format. Gary Hightower has been with the station for 15 of those years.

Hightower began his radio career in 1966 in Lebanon, MO at KLWT. It was a various formatted station, which was common at the time in small markets. He was a senior in high school and worked at the station part-time, mainly on weekends. Although the station was a 60-mile round-trip from his home, he didn't mind. He didn't care about the low pay either. "I made $1.25 an hour when I started," he says. "But I would have paid them to let me work there. That's how eager I was to get in radio."

After serving in the Army Reserve for eight months, he landed a job at KGBX in Springfield. The station played some country, but mostly big band/easy listening music. Hightower spent 1968 through 1970 with the station. From there he went with KWTO-FM in Springfield as Program Director and on the air, and then moved on to country station KTTS before joining KFDI as Program Director in 1973. He has held his 8am-noon airshift at KFDI-FM since 1979. In 1980 he became Music Director for both KFDI AM and FM.

Hightower is not one of those who decided to become involved with radio when faced with a career decision after high school. He made up his mind even before his high school years that he wanted to be in radio, when he received a transistor radio for Christmas one year. "I started listening to WLS in Chicago," he recalls. "It fascinated me and I just never got it out of my system. I always wanted to be in radio."

As Music Director, Hightower is responsible for deciding what songs are to be added to the station's playlist. In order to be a good Music Director, he feels a person needs to be on the air also. "You get a feel for the music and how you blend it together on the air as opposed to not being on the air and listening to somebody else do it," he says. "I think a good Music Director is somebody that needs to be on the air."

Along with his Music Director duties and on-air shift, Hightower also works in production. What he enjoys most though is listening to music before anybody else has a chance to, and talking to promotion people. "The whole overall aspect of the music business is fascinating," he says.

KFDI's music is a mixed currents/oldies format. The station also programs independents and locals, and is heavily involved in promotions throughout their listening area. Preparations are currently underway for their anniversary party in July, which features all-day activities and entertainment. Acts already lined up for the day include Leroy Van Dyke and newcomer Ricky Van Shelton.

With KFDI's successful format, this station is sure to have many more anniversary parties in the future, and you can bet that Gary Hightower will be there with KFDI all the way!

HIGH PRIORITY

MIKE SIRLS
RCA

K.T. Oslin's "80's Ladies" continues to build at radio. So many stations are already Top 15 and moving into heavy rotation. Restless Heart's "Why Does It Have To Be (Wrong Or Right)" is easily one of the most added records out. In just three weeks this song is almost locked and the responses are overwhelming. Our newest release is a powerful duet from Ronnie Milsap and Kenny Rogers, called "Make No Mistake She's Mine". Without a doubt this record is an event that will cause a great deal of excitement. These two superstars on the same records should result in the strongest pairing of the year. Guaranteed! Look for our first record from the duo Foster & Lloyd, called "Crazy Over You".

AUDIO/VIDEO

AUSSIE TOPPER—Paramount Home Video is riding pretty high in the saddle these days. Earlier this year the label released box office bonanza Top Gun to home video under a first ever cross-promotion deal with Diet Pepsi - for the unheard-of (for debuting top titles) price of $26.95. The tape has since broken all previous records with sales of 2.86 million units to date. As if that isn't enough to keep the company in clover for at least a few more months, Paramount recently unveiled plans to release last year's box office smash Crocodile Dundee, starring Paul Hogan and Linda Kozlowski, slated to hit retail August 5 with a suggested retail price of $29.95. Unlike Top Gun, however, the release bears no promotional ties, and will not include a commercial introduction (as with Top Gun's intro Diet Pepsi ad). Timing, according to reports, was off for such an arrangement, and the company wants to be extra careful about whatever cross-promotional ties it makes. The good news for retailers is that for every 15 cassettes of Crocodile Dundee they buy, Paramount will throw in a free copy of G'Day Australia, a specially filmed (for the Crocodile Dundee promotion) cassette examining Northern Australia and featuring Dundee co-star Kozlowski. The tape has a $19.95 value, according to Paramount. However, while Crocodile Dundee itself may not be peddled hand in hand with another product, a promotional contest is being sponsored by Paramount with Qantas Airways and the Queensland Tourist and Travel Corporation (producers of the promo tape), along with 20 U.S. major-market radio stations, in which Grand Prize winners get a trip to Northern Australia. Also scheduled from Paramount in August is Gator Bait, an adventure set in the swamps of Louisiana, retailing for a suggested $59.95.

HAPPY HOUR—I.R.S.'s four-year-old The Cutting Edge returns to MTV June 25 following a 6-month hiatus. The show has been renamed The Cutting Edge Happy Hour, and promises a new, more eclectic focus, with an ear not just for rock'n'roll, but for a "world beat cornucopia" of styles, from blues to latino. The show also gets a permanent set - in the Revolving Lounge on the 23 floor of the Hollywood Holiday Inn. The new format, which producer Carl Grasso likens to "the pop fizz of Hullabaloo, the intimacy of Playboy After Dark, the cosmo cool of Dean Martin and a bit of Green Acres charm," will also include a "countdown" of significant new recordings. The show airs on the final Sunday and Thursday of every month at 10:30 EST and 7:30 PST.

TRIPLE STAR—From Lorimar Home Video in July comes Crimes Of The Heart, starring Diane Keaton, Sissy Spacek, and Jessica Lange.

DRESS-UP—Tim Pope and The Cure have teamed once again to make music video, this time for the first video from the band's recent Elektra LP, "Kiss Me Kiss Me Kiss Me." The tune is "Why Can't I Be You?," and the video makes much of the art of dressing up (or down). Costumes, individuality and the notion of personal style are the order of the day here. Be prepared for Robert Smith's bear suit, which he casts off to reveal a form-fitting brocade dress and feather boa. Posing with all the glamour he can muster, he then trips and falls. Cute, huh? Pope's direction gives the video meaning and fun.

VISIONS—The word is out for all videomakers that Sony's "Visions of U.S." video competition has opened call for entries. The competition, which is sponsored by Sony and administered by the American Film Institute, is geared toward tapes made on home video systems, and features such judges as director Francis Coppola, actress Shelley Duvall, recording artist Laurie Anderson, actor LeVar Burton, actor Edward James Olmos and TV critic Tom Shales. Entries must be produced and submitted on 1/2-inch or 8mm videotape, with a running time of up to 30 minutes, and falling into one of four categories: fiction, non-fiction, experimental and music video. Winners receive state-of-the-art Sony home video equipment plus a lot of recognition. Deadline for entries is December 31, 1987. Tapes produced by the American Film Institute outlining the event can be rented at the institute. Entry forms and further info can be had by calling (213) 856-7622, or by writing Visions of U.S., P.O. Box 200, Hollywood, CA 90078.

THE RELEASE BEAT

From Warner Home Video in July come Emilio Estevez and Demi Moore in the action thriller Wisdom. The film is the first release under WHV's recent 25-title acquisition from the Cannon Group for North American distribution. Suggested retail price is $79.95, closed captioned, digitally processed HiFi stereo VHS and Beta ... From Lorimar Home Video in July comes the thrice Oscar-nominated comedy Crimes of the Heart, starring Jessica Lange, Sissy Spacek and Diane Keaton. Suggested retail price is $89.95 ... Paramount Home Video has Eddie Murphy in The Golden Child for July. Suggested retail price is $79.95, stereo VHS and Beta ... Walt Disney Home Video brings the popular St. Paul Minnesota-based radio program A Prairie Home Companion to home video next month, starring creator and host Garrison Keillor. Suggested retail price is $29.95, stereo VHS and Beta.

A&M SIGNS FOR JAPANESE VIDEO LICENSING—A licensing agreement providing for the release of A&M Video product in Japan has been signed by A&M Video and VideoArts, a Japanese firm specializing in the production, acquisition, and distribution of music-oriented video programming. The agreement with VideoArts, which runs through December, 1989, provides for the release of A&M Video product in standard VHS, Beta, 8mm, and Pioneer Laserdisc formats. The first release of new product under the association, due out in Japan in July, will be R.E.M. Succumbs, the first video collection by the acclaimed Georgia rock quartet. VideoArts has also acquired the rights to the existing A&M Video catalog, which includes such titles as Janet Jackson's Control, the Police's Every Breath You Take - The Videos, and Bryan Adams' Reckless.

ing in Russian and Chinese. When I quizzed her about those major studies, she explained, "I had plans to be a government interpreter. In fact, I had already interviewed with the CIA and another security agency, when I got an offer for a reporter's job in Wichita Falls, Texas."

Shortly after arriving in Wichita Falls, Lorianne was chosen as host for the station's "PM Magazine" program. She knew immediately that reporting for an entertainment feature program was the career she had been seeking. A year later, she learned of an opening in Nashville as the "PM Magazine" host. She was delighted to return home upon winning the position. WKRN-TV hired her as a host, but the station got an outstanding writer and producer in the bargain! While working there, Lorianne Crook co-wrote and co-produced two national award-winning specials. In addition, she was honored with the American Women In Radio And Television Award for Outstanding Feature Reporter Of The Year.

Charlie Chase is a native of Tennessee. He was born and grew up in Rogersville, Tennessee. Charlie never wanted to be in any profession other than radio and television. He apparently had a strong, radio-perfect voice at the age of thirteen. That's when he began his on-the-air career at the local radio station.

I asked Charlie why he had never considered another career. "Fun! That's it. Being on the air has always been fun. And, even when I was thirteen, I realized how many people depend upon radio for information along with entertainment. Up in our area, the 'snow report' was very important in the winter. I have always enjoyed the challenge of reporting to those people who depend upon it."

Charlie parlayed his enthusiasm with a dedication to learn his craft, and advanced rapidly, working in the

If you enjoy them on TV, and statistics prove that millions do, you would love them in person. Lorianne Crook and Charlie Chase have found success doing what they love to do...reporting fresh entertainment news using a "magazine/variety" format. Their popular Crook and Chase TV series is taped and delivered nightly by satellite.

Terry Ann Kelly, a most gracious and convincing representative for Jim Owens Entertainment, called to invite me to be part of the first audience to ever view the taping of the show. I'm glad I accepted. Barbara Mandrell was the special guest on the show. Any of you, who have seen Barbara in person, know the stage radiated with beauty, grace, and charm. She is sincerely a warm and gracious lady. Next day, I was granted an interview with Lorianne Crook and Charlie Chase. I spent thirty fun-filled minutes with this "dynamic duo". They made me feel very comfortable during the interview. It seemed to be fun for all three of us.

Lorianne moved to Nashville, with her family, when she was five years old. They relocated here from Wichita, Kansas. Charlie quipped, "She still has a pair of red ruby slippers, which she 'clicks' together when she wants to return to Kansas."

"I consider Nashville my hometown. Being only five when we moved here, I don't remember much about Wichita. I grew up in Nashville and went to college here," said Lorianne. She earned herself quite an impressive record at Vanderbilt University. She graduated Magna Cum Laude, major-

ALBUM REVIEWS

T. GRAHAM BROWN—Brilliant Conversationalist—Capitol ST-12552

The unique, country-blues style of T. Graham Brown was never more evident than on this product. The album features his new single release, "Brilliant Conversationalist", which is doing very well for T. on the current charts. People who enjoy dancing will want to get a hold of this LP. There are a lot of "moving" numbers on this one. Typically good, strong-beat tempos, in T. Graham Brown's style, right down to "Sittin' On The Dock Of The Bay."

THE KENDALLS—Break The Routine—Step One SOR-0023

Country music fans, rejoice! The Kendalls have released one great album, here! Of course, their first Step One Records single, "Routine", is the backbone of the album. However, there are many fine songs on this one: "Dancin' With Myself Tonight", and "A Far Cry" are highlights. That Kendall's sound won't ever fade away. Excellent harmony and fine pickin' will have you snapin' your fingers and rockin' with Jeannie and Royce.

OUT OF THE BOX

THE FORESTER SISTERS (Warner Bros. 7-28368-A) You Again (3:17) (MCA Music, Don Schlitz-ASCAP; Writers Group, Scarlet Moon-BMI) (D. Schlitz, P. Overstreet) (Producers: B. Beckett, J. Stroud)

The Forester Sisters add another hit to a long line. The song, written by Don Schlitz and Paul Overstreet, has all the ingredients for success: beautifully simple melody, positive lyrics, and a chorus which makes the listener want to sing along. Of course, The Forester Sisters are perfect with the harmony again. We must give them credit in presenting material which is so adaptable to their talents. In this song, they sing "I'd choose you again". Well, girls, we have chosen you, too!

FEATURE PICKS

DONNA FARGO AND BILLY JOE ROYAL (Mercury 888 680-7) Members Only (3:22) (Malaco-BMI) (L. Addison) (Producer: N. Larkin)

Two fine voices comin' at you with a song that has a good "feel". There's a strong touch of soul in this release, and it should appeal to a large listening audience. Royal's tenor blends well with Fargo's emotion-filled vocal. Good steel work in the "ride".

JOHNNY PAYCHECK (Mercury 888 651-7) I Grow Old Too Fast (3:45) (Buffet-BMI) (J. Long) (Producer: S. Cornelius)

The unmistakable sound of Johnny Paycheck, filled with the hard-charging expression, is back on the wax. Stan Cornelius has produced a laid-back song in the Paycheck style. Congratulations to all the musicians on this cut! It's country all the way in the way only Paycheck can sing it!

THE CANNONS (Mercury 888 648-7) Love'll Come Lookin' For You (2:44) (Wrensong-ASCAP) (S. Ramos, J. Vezner) (Producer: J. Kennedy)

The intro leads us right in to this "boogie" number. The Cannons burst forth with fine harmonies blending with an outstanding fiddle "shadow" to their voices.

DARK HORSE CONSENSUS

TIM JOHNSON—Between The Sun And San Antone—Sundial SR 123

Don't say we didn't tell you about this young man's voice! He's a cross between Strait and Travis, and you can't do much better than that! This record has been getting phenomenal reports from stations everywhere. Just to name a few, WQTE, KAVV, WCCN, WATZ, KSJB, KBOE and WXCE have all given Tim Johnson the Dark Horse Pick this week!

Kingsport and Knoxville markets before arriving in Nashville to work, first, at WMAK radio and, then, at world-famous WSM radio. During his nine years with WSM, Charlie was twice a finalist for the Country Music Association's Disc Jockey Of The Year Award (1980 and 1982). In '82, the producers of WSM television thought he would be the ideal host for their new "Channel 4 Magazine" program. They were right! Charlie still serves as the popular host of that program today.

Jim Owens, Nashville's premier television producer, quickly recognized the talents of both Lorianne and Charlie. He first "teamed" them on his "This Week In Country Music" production, and then came "Crook and Chase". Both shows are still favorites with millions of viewers across the country. In fact, according to the Nielson ratings in May of this year, "Crook and Chase" was viewed by more American households than "The Today Show", "Good Morning America", "The Morning Show", etc.. Lorianne Crook and Charlie Chase have a magic compatability on the air, and it may be even more present off the air. "There is nothing pretentious about the show.", says Lorianne. "Charlie is funny, and I simply react naturally to his humor. Sometimes, I don't know how to react, and that shows, too."

They seem to be so much alike and, yet, through some "silly" questions I asked, I found them to be quite different. If Lorianne could invite three people (living or dead) to dinner, she would invite Hank Williams Jr., Merle Kilgore, and the leader of the Soviet Union. Charlie would invite Neil Armstrong, Art Linkletter, and ("for variety") Morgan Fairchild. "Then, I'd go invite all my neighbors to show my guests off to them!"

Lorianne works to relax, sometimes 16 to 18 hours per day. Charlie says he's like a piece of furniture. He enjoys sitting around the house. So different, and so much alike. The magic transcends the airwaves. Lorianne Crook and Charlie Chase are expanding the horizons in Nashville television. The seed was planted, and the Crook and Chase show has grown into a strong tree with country roots and cultural branches.

NASHVILLE NOTE-ABLES

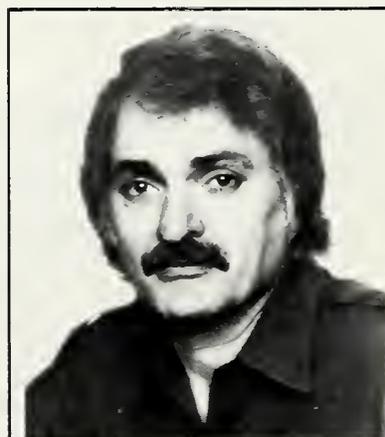

HE WILL BE MISSED. We, here at Cash Box, join the family and friends of Bruce D. Davidson in mourning his passing on May 25 in Nashville. Mr. Davidson had a lengthy career in recording, music, and radio. He began his career at WIP radio, in Philadelphia, in the early 1940's. He joined RCA Victor Records in 1947, as editor of publications. A 14-year term with Capitol Records began with his appointment as Philadelphia branch promotion manager, and culminated as national singles merchandise manager at the Capitol Tower in Hollywood. In 1970, Mr. Davidson moved to Nashville to become executive vice president of the then forming Mega Records. He followed this as general manager of Starburst Records, and as vice president and national sales manager of Con Brio Records, both in Nashville. In semi-retirement, at the time of his death, Bruce Davidson operated his own music media firm and stayed active in many music associations and societies. Indeed, he will be missed.

Just Driftin'... As one life passes, three new ones begin. Fast on the heels of Tim Malchak's recent hit single, "Colorado Moon", his wife, Judy, gave birth to Tim's first child. Travis Ryan Malchak was born April 27th and checked in at 8 lbs. 9 oz. Both mother and child are doing fine... David Lynn Jones and his wife, Robin, are the proud parents of a daughter, LeAlison, born on May 5th... Kris Kristofferson and wife, Lisa, are celebrating the birth of John Robert Kristofferson on May 15th... Kathy Shepard and Lorna Greenwood, better known as Mon Reve, will be appearing in Nashville at the Ramada Inn on Music Valley Drive, two nights per week during June and July. The dates are set for June 5,6,19,20 and July 3,4,10,11,17 and 18. If you haven't seen and heard them, take a tip and make the trip. These ladies are talented, and they present 4 hours of mostly original material, which they call "electric mountain music"... Jimmy Bowen, president of MCA/Nashville, has announced the promotion of Tony Brown to senior vice president of A and R for the label... A. J. Masters has entered into a production agreement with producer Nelson Larkin. Masters, a well-known artist on the Bermuda Dunes label out of California, already has seven nationally charted singles... The Jim Halsey Company has just announced the exclusive worldwide representation of Moe Bandy and The Girls Next Door. Moe's new single "Til I'm Too Old To Die Young", recently went #1 in the Cash Box chart. The Girls Next Door chalked up three Top 20 hits from their MTM Records debut album, and their new LP, "What A Girl Next Door Can Do", is shipping this month.

Joe Henderson

THE GIRLS NEXT TWO DOOR: A ROLLS ROYCE! The Girls Next Door received a rather nice signing bonus: a Rolls Royce (for all of thirty seconds) from Jim Halsey. Actually, after signing with the Jim Halsey Company for exclusive worldwide representation rights, the girls were more than excited. Pictured (l to r) are Cindy Nixon, Tammy Stephens, Doris King and Diane Williams, who are hamming it up with Halsey outside his Beverly Hills office after making it official.

COUNTRY INDIES

INDIE SPOTLIGHT

JEANNE PRUETT (MSR MSR 7556 A) Rented Room (2:55) (Jeanne Pruett-BMI) (J. Pruett) (Producer: L. C. Parsons)

"Rented Room" is penned, published, and vocally presented by Jeanne Pruett. Let us say that Jeanne is singing better than ever! This is a very strong country song. It will touch the same audience that loved "Satin Sheets", and that's quite an audience! This release will surely secure a lot of airplay for Jeanne, and it honestly has the potential to rival her biggest hit. Our review panel gave this record one of its strongest nods.

INDIE FEATURE PICKS

THE REEVES BROTHERS (Reeves U-18934 M) Poor Boy's Dream (2:51) (Reeves Bros.-BMI) (R. Reeves, W. Reeves, G. Reeves) (Producer: unlisted)

We were pleasantly surprised with this product. Song about a farm boy who succeeds in keeping his dreams alive, even in the face of belittling by his friends. Simple production is a change that felt refreshing. The story is given the needed emphasis.

CRAIG SOUTHERN (Royal Master RM 8705-A) Dance (2:56) (House of Manor, Jaymy-BMI) (D. Lee) (Producer: J. Eubanks)

Southern tells us a "memories of my girl" story on this release. The uniquely simple arrangement on the verses leads us into the harmony-filled chorus or bridge. Craig Southern makes for pleasant listening.

RANDY ANDERSON (Comstock COM 1849-A) I've Got A Thing For You (3:12) (Randy Anderson-BMI) (R. Anderson) (Producer: K. Vassy)

We liked this one. Randy is a fine addition to the Comstock label. The boy can sing. It's a positive song with a good feel. Listen for the banjo pickin' in the arrangement. This should get Randy some chart action.

ALLEN PACE (Art Pro AP-8703) Everybody I Know's Got An Ex (2:50) (Artpro-BMI) (A. Pace) (Producer: unlisted)

TIM MALCHAK-Colorado Moon-Alpine APA-1001

Tim Malchak climbed the charts with his single, "Colorado Moon", the title cut on this album. Tim is adept at feeling a song. He gives us a range of emotional presentations from the hard-driving "Let Me Down Easy" to the sensitivity of "Colorado Moon", Tim Malchak does exceptional vocal jobs. This album has been on the market for a time, but you should wait no longer to get a copy. This is an excellent effort by Tim and Alpine Records.

Valley's Chuck Milhem Is The New BBIA President

CHICAGO - Charles Milhem, president of The Valley Company (Bay City, MI), was elected president of the Billiard and Bowling Institute of America (BBIA) at the association's 44th annual convention in San Diego last month. Milhem, who serves as president of Valley National 8 Ball League and director of the Billiard Congress of America (BCA), has thirty years' experience in the recreation industry.

Martin Bloom, The Bloom Co., (San Diego), was elected first vice president; Reed Thomas, Top-Line Bowling Supply (Plant City, FL) became second vice president and David Maidment, World of Leisure Mfg. (Covina, CA) is the new secretary/treasurer. Staton Reynolds, Forrest Enterprises (Piqua, OH) was elected to the board of directors.

The BBIA convention featured a presentation by SGMA president Howard J. Bruns of a $16,920 check earned through the BBIA's participation in the 1987 Atlanta Super Show. One of Milhem's top priorities will be to head a task force established to spur billiard participation using the billiard industry's $8,500 share of the Super Show funds.

The highlight of the convention was the presentation of the 1987 BBIA Industry Service Award to actor Paul Newman, whose performance as "Fast Eddie" Felson in the hit film "The Color of Money" earned him an Academy Award for Best Actor. Irving Axelrad, executive producer of "The Color of Money" accepted the honor on Newman's behalf, and provided a banquet audience with numerous amusing anecdotes about the filming of the blockbuster film that marked Newman's 45th starring role in a motion picture.

The Billiard and Bowling Institute of America is national trade association comprised of the leading billiard and bowling manufacturers and distributors. The BBIA seeks to promote the growth of billiards and bowling and effectively represent the common interests of its members. Membership eligibility extends to manufacturers, distributors and retailers, as well as publishers and other service-related activities in the bowling and billiard fields.

Rowe & Virgin Records Sign Licensing Pact

CHICAGO—Rowe International, Inc. and Virgin Records-America, Inc. have entered into a licensing agreement by which Rowe will now have use of the Virgin music video catalog as part of its Video Jukebox programming. The license is subject to standard restrictions.

"While we are always looking for creative ways to improve our programming, music is still our key, and Virgin Records represents the most important addition to the American music scene in a long time," stated Michael Reinert, Rowe's director of video operations. "When a label's first release soars to number one as the Cutting Crew single did, you can be sure that it was the result of the efforts of the people behind the record, and that it is an indication of more good things to come."

Reinert also pointed to other Virgin artists such as T'Pau, Heaven 17 and The Other Ones as making important contributions to the Rowe Video Jukebox library. "And don't forget that Virgin recently signed Steve Winwood," he added.

Rowe reportedly has over 1,000 Video Jukeboxes currently on location. Their programming includes a choice of rock/pop, country or urban contemporary reels, and the units can be found nationwide in bars, lounges, family restaurants and theme parks.

Sega's "Super Hang-On"

In the popular tradition of motorcycle simulation games Sega has introduced another addition to the racing family, namely "Super Hang-On", which continues the phenomenal racing style of the original "Hang-On" but with additional features.

Super Hang-On offers the player four course selections—Beginner, Junior Senior and Expert. Each course takes place in a different area of the world, so racing through Paris, Tokyo, or Rio are all possible during the process of play.

Among the most exciting features of this new model are the Turbocharger button which increases the player's speed, and the vibration mechanism in the steering which incorporates the actual feel of the road.

Super Hang-On is available in two models, the unique new upright model and the space conscious ride-on mini cabinet.

The game will be available through Sega distributors.

Date East's "Gondomania"

"Gondomania" is a fast paced, 2-player, dedicated upright video game in release from Date East and it portrays an exciting rescue mission involving airbikes.

The main characters fly their airbikes through the land of Gondos in an intense battle to free their girl who is being held captive. Various obstacles and adversaries provide the elements of challenge that make the game more exciting. Destroying the Gondos earns the players a "bounty which can be used to buy weapons, airbike weapons and other items.

Gondomania allows unique control of the main character. The airbike shoots in one direction while the pilot of the airbike can shoot in a complete circle. This is accomplished with the design of the new Date East/Wico rotary joystick.

The new model will be available through factory distributors. Further in-

He Cooks, Too!

Julia Child! Justin Wilson! Jean Banchet! Leonard Zeidman? Yes, if they ever publish a book on great chefs of the coin machine business, Leonard Zeidman will probably occupy a leading chapter. Leonard is more familiar, of course, as a serviceman in the Chicago area, who has logged about fifty years in the industry, with companies like National Coin, Empire Distributing, Bally Distributing, and now, free lance. However, throughout most of those fifty years he has maintained a semi-secret sideline as chef in residence.

If we could trace the roots of this chefhood, we would probably hearken back to the pre-Cambrian days of Empire Distributing on Milwaukee Ave., circa the 50's. In a makeshift kitchen, the formica cutting board was once a shuffle alley playfield, Leonard and his faithful assistant Russel Kotke (who doubled as the pool table refurbisher and cabinetry craftsman) created the daily lunches for the employees and owners. They created them from scratch. A thick brisket of beef sandwich with freshly scrubbed potatoes cost $.30, and usually you were served two helpings per meal!

Then there was hot dog day. Not the anemic grocery store packages variety, but jumbo kosher and Polishes bought fresh and direct from a Chicago meat packing plant. Far and wide they came from, for hot dog day! Some favored customers requested that they be notified in advance. Others gladly strayed from their diets on that red letter day. Hot dog day became an Empire ritual.

"Why stop at lunch in the kitchen and a hot dog extravaganza?" thought the management (who were Messrs. Gil Kitt and Joe Robbins at the time). Chef Leonard became the holiday and special events cook, too (with the behind-the-scenes help of kitchen chief of police Lilyan, his wife). Why rent a hall for the company Christmas party or Thanksgiving dinner, when Leonard could put down his screwdriver and pick up his spatula (or turkey baster) and compose a sumptuous banquet.

So many remember the lox and cream cheese canapes, the chopped liver hors d'oeuvres, the tray of thousand cheeses and delicatessen meats—and corned beef so lean and tasty that you would swear the cow had practiced aerobic exercises for six months at the Chicago Health Club! Speaking of health clubs—how about the chocolate cheese cake desserts?

And then there were the Empire and Bally company picnics—catered by Leonard. He was an unforgettable picture, standing over the smoking grill, turning a hot dog or two and roasting the fresh corn, chewing a plug of cigar, and beckoning everyone like an ancient siren to have just one more sandwich.

Time passes, but are the parties over? Not quite. Leonard, still chugging along as a freelance repair man, has resurfaced as a chef. He was recently exercising his culinary talents at an Atlas Distributing of Chicago product showing, plying willing operators with tuna salad supreme (center cut white tune, no less) and, what else—kosher re-hots, of course and a variety of other sumptuous specialties. Care to indulge?

New Konami Officers

CHICAGO — As announced at the recently held Konami, Inc. board of directors meeting, Mr. K. Kozuki has been elevated to chairman of the board.

Effective June 1, 1987, the new officer positions at the company are as follows: Mr. K. Kozuki, chairman of the board; Mr. F. Hishikawa, president; and Mr. K. Mizumaki, executive vice president.

Konami, Inc. maintains headquarters at 815 Mittel Drive in Wood Dale, Illinois.

Advance-Carter Becomes American Amusements & Arcades

CHICAGO—Effective June 1, 1987, after 50 years of operating a coin machine route, Advance-Carter Company of Minneapolis, one of the trade's most respected firms, will be assimilated into a new venture called American Amusements and Arcades.

Joining Advance-Carter in this new venture will be Twin City Novelty, Minnesota's oldest and, likewise, one of the coin machine industry's most distinguished companies. The new organization will operate from facilities at 850 Decatur Avenue North in Golden Valley.

American Amusements and Arcades will be managed and operated by Norman Pink and Gene Winstead. Pink is a past president of AMOA and at one time served as president of MOM, the Minnesota state association. As both gentlemen stated, "We look forward to working with everyone in this new venture and continuing the fine relationships developed over these past many years in the coin machine business."

Vending Machine Exports At Ten-Year Low In 1986

CHICAGO—The value of new vending machine exports by United States manufacturers dropped to a 10-year low of $17,435,000 in 1986, while the export of machine parts reached $21,633,000, reported Joann James, assistant secretary-treasurer of the National Automatic Merchandising Association.

Annual vending machine export volume had been above $20,000,000 in recent years, reaching over $39,000,000 in 1979, according to data compiled by the U.S. Department of Commerce. The figures cover merchandise vending machines but not music and amusement machines, Ms. James said.

Imports of vending machines and parts last year totaled $33,805,000 with Japan accounting for $12,473,000, nearly twice the value of shipments from Canada which amounted to $6,903,000. Canada was the second largest importer to the U.S., followed by the United Kingdom ($5,193,000).

By contrast, U.S. vending machine exports to Japan ranked near the bottom (30 units for $69,000), while Canada was the best U.S. customer for vending machines, buying a total of 6,059 machines for $5,544,000, in 1986. Exports to the United Kingdom ranked second with $4,905,000, followed by the Netherlands ($1,054,000).

The shipment of used or reconditioned U.S. vending machines totaled $535,000, led by Mexico which imported $193,000 worth.

AMOA Issues Call For Board Nominations

CHICAGO—The AMOA Nominating Committee for directors is calling upon association members to submit names of qualified operator and distributor members for consideration as directors. Ten new directors will be elected at the association's annual meeting, which will be held during the 1987 AMOA Exposition in Chicago this coming November.

Criteria for board candidates is that members recommended be either operator or distributor members of AMOA. In addition, candidates names may be submitted to the Nominating Committee by any member, but they must be endorsed in writing by five other members and must be submitted to the Nominating Committee at least 90 days prior to the election.

The members recommended should be active in association affairs and must be able to attend and participate in all association board and conferences.

Letters of recommendation should include a brief summary of the candidates' involvement and achievement in state and local activities.

Deadline for submitting letters of recommendation to the AMOA Nominating Committee is July 30, 1987.

For further information contact the AMOA office at (312)-644-6610.
