DON'T MEAN NOTHING

Welcome to the big time. You're bound to be a star
And even if you don't go all the way, I know that you'll go far
This race is for rats, it can turn you upside down
Ain't no one you can count on in this sleazy little town.
Oh, no. Lots of promises in the dark. But don't you open your heart Cause it don't mean nothin'. The words that they say
Don't mean nothin'. These games that people play
No, it don't mean nothin'. No victim, no crime
It don't mean nothin'. Till you sign it on the dotted line
The director smiles as you walk in the door. He says,
"I love your work, babe" but you're just not what we're looking for It's never what but who it is you know
So easy to get stuck in all that California snow
Take a good look around and you'll find
People tryin' to mess with your mind

Chorus

Hollywood can be so lonely. Make you the winner of a losing fight
But the party is never over. Cause stars are always shining Doesn't matter if it's day or night. The producer says, "let me change a line or two."
And a little bit of something can look awfully good to you
And you want to scream, but you gotta keep it all inside
When you're trying to make a living, there ain't no such thing as pride. no
Lots of promises in the dark. But don't you open your heart

Chorus

It don't mean nothing at all.

ie: 100 stations playing the record -- 60 stations have it in their Top 20 -- Hit Factor = 60%.

INSIDE TOP 40

by Dave Sholin

Several days ago I was asked how I choose a RECORD TO WATCH. Generally there are two or three possible candidates each week, and various factors come into the decision-making process, depending on the type of song. In most, but not all cases, it's a record that has a small amount of airplay but very strong chart activity. In other instances (this week being an example), a record will cross over from another format and get a surge of new Top 40 play due to market response. There seemed to be fewer "regional" hits in the late 70s and early 80s than in prior years and, while they may never become as widespread, there have certainly been more in the last year and a half. Some may never attain "national" hit status due to a shortage of total airplay, but the stations that have a good handle on their audience are only concerned with the local picture—as well they should be. While some RECORD TO WATCH entries begin as regional hits, they are judged on their universal appeal before qualifying for this category. As always you're encouraged to share a noteworthy success story with me on that unusual record doing well for you.

Didn't take long for BOB SEGER to make an impact. HIT FACTOR is already 14% and sure to take a giant leap next week. Storms into the Top Twenty at KKTU Longview 28-19, Y95 Dallas 30-20, KKXX Bakersfield debut #20, WOAY Oak Hill/Beckley 27-16, WHKW Fayette 24-17, WKDD Akron 22-17, KUBE Seattle 22-18, KKLS Rapid City 26-16, etc.

Whether PSEUDO ECHO will be able to match the number one position attained by LIPPS INC. back in 1980 isn't certain yet, but they're off to a great start. Excellent first week numbers in New York as Z100 debuts it at #27...other debuts include KC101 #29, KUUB #24, KRQ #29, KKEZ #23, WKZQ #16, WLGA #25, Y94 #26, KRNO #29, KVVN #27, KZZU #29, KVVX #28, etc.

Best looking week yet on T'PAU who've been patiently waiting through the glut of releases to make their move. Lou Simon and Evan Lake take it Top Ten (16-9) at KCPX Salt Lake City. Also gaining at 100KHI Ocean City 25-20, WXKS Boston 23-18, KLBQ El Dorado 21-16, KVFM Logan 25-17, FM104 Modesto/Stockton 19-11, OK95 Tri-Cities 27-19, etc.

Just 9 reports shy of the 200 mark, THE NYLONS are the perfect profile of a former RECORD TO WATCH. They began with a strong base in the Upper Midwest, building steadily from 29 reports on May 1st to qualify as CERTIFIED on the last issue of the month, making this week's highest debut on the Top 40. Goes to the top in Madison with a 7-1 move at Z104. New on at WQUT, Q102, WLS, WRCK, PRO/FM, WROQ, KWIN, KKIS, etc.

Increases in chart and airplay stats have turned things around for COMPANY B. Z95 Chicago takes it up 12-7, with other Top Ten numbers at KYNO #4, WABB #6, Y95 #9, KXFM #7, B97 #10, ISLE 95 #8, JLK/FM #9, 92X #10, KZZP #10, and a debut at 93Q Houston at #19.

HIT FACTOR reaches 10% for SURFACE who are expected to top 100 reports without a holiday week to interfere with their growth. Chris Tracy at WXLt McComb takes it 20-10 and says it's been number one or two on his Top 8 at 8 request feature for the past two weeks. Heavy gains at FM102 14-8, KITY 14-9, WHYT 24-20, WKXX 27-18, WBBQ 26-20, Y106 30-25, KATD 31-25, KMEL 25-21, etc.

Graduation time is helping BON JOVI's "Never Say Goodbye." Mike Preston and Robin Silva chart it 13-9 at KWSS San Jose. 16 adds including KZZU, KSEZ, WBPM, WJLQ, 100KHI, KWTX, WTBX, KYYY, KUBE, KZZK, etc.

Expect to see GEORGE MICHAEL in the CHARTBOUND section next week. Those who've been playing it are getting nothing but positives. HOT105 Miami debuts it at #15 and PD Duff Lindsey notes consistent Top 5 requests backed by sales. Debuts Top 30 at KMEL, KOZE, Z100, WWFX, Z94, WPFM, WKTI, KWSS, KHIT, K106, WNKS, etc.

Last week's headline on the RECORD TO WATCH by the WHISPERS said, "Expect their 8% HIT FACTOR to rise steadily over the next month." Well that 8% is now 22%, thanks to jumps like these..KYOS 28-16, KKSS 25-14, WKXX 22-12, KITY debut #21, WXLt 21-11, etc. Adds include KZZP, KFIV, WBBQ, KWSS, WHYT, HOT105, WFJA, KMGX, KYNO, KBIU, etc.

A short week didn't stop AL JARREAU from getting a nice chunk of new airplay, going from 15 reports to 56! Mark St.John and Gene Baxter list it 13-9 at WAVA, with adds at WHYT, G105, Q104, KDOG, Q99, WPST, FM102, KEYP, KPLZ, KKRZ, KWIN, KRQ, 94Q, B97, etc.

KPLZ Seattle's Casey Keating and Mark Allan were first to tell me about JON ASTLEY generating response. It's the type of record that should get quick reaction, and they say it does. Charts #32 at KPLZ with a list of impressive adds including LIVE 105, WXKS, KZZK, WKSP, KTDR, WCLG, WQBZ, WHDQ, KUUB, KITI, KWXX, KNVR, etc

Finally, Neil Harrison at K106 flashes that CCCP "American-Soviet" has been number one for the past two weeks. Neil is playing the 12" vocal mix (radio edit) saying it's the strongest. Its on Oak Lawn records, who can be reached at 214-520-2855.

KPKE GOES A/C

By mid-June, Denver will be minus one Top 40 station, as KPKE makes the switch to Adult Contemporary. "We've been considering the change for a year," says OM Doug Erickson. "We were very successful in the 12-34 demographic, but the vast majority of agency buys are 18-49 or 25-64, and we wanted a demographic that was compatible with our AM (KHOW)." Current plans are for the station to retain p.m. driver Craig Jackson as morning host, with the rest of the day devoted to Transtar's satellite-delivered Format 41. Erickson says the switch will have minimal impact on personnel. PD Bob Carson and newsman Phil Boyce will remain, while the morning team of Steven B. & The Hawk has already been approached about working elsewhere in town. Midday host Cindy Spicer is exploring TV, leaving only nighttimer Scott Jenkins available. Noting that Y108 now has a Top 40 lock on the Mile High City's FM dial, Erickson says, "There are a lot of new players in the market. I wouldn't be surprised if someone jumps in."

JIM DUNCAN'S HINDSIGHT

What's the top billing station in Billings? Who's rocking in Little Rock? For the last 10 years, one of the prime sources for such radio data has been Duncan's American Radio. In observance of his publication's 10th anniversary, founder Jim Duncan has put out a 400-page look back at an eventful decade. The two-pound Tenth Anniversary Issue is in three parts. In the first, Duncan himself surveys developments in the medium. The middle section is given over to commentaries from dozens of industry figures. The final section is a market-by-market rundown of station ratings and income, as well as format, call letter and ownership changes in the top 160 markets from as far back as 1971 to 1986. Although some of the data are outdated (the most recent Arbitrons are Spring '86), this reference work is well worth the $110 pricetag. Copies can be ordered from Jim Duncan, American Radio, PO Box 2966, Kalamazoo, MI 49003, or call (616) 342-1356.

THE ENVELOPE, PLEASE . . .

Pueblo, Colorado, names the access road to its new airport after Paul Harvey as thanks for the ABC commentator's recognition of Pueblo's efforts to overcome an economic crisis...The KOY-Phoenix "Morning Crew" of Bill Heywood and Tim Hattrick has been voted the city's best morning show by readers of the Phoenix Gazette...The Illinois Broadcasters Association honors WCLR-

Chicago for Best Single Public Affairs Program...Stephen Bishop's "Separate Lives" wins most-performed award at BMI Pop Awards. David Foster was named Songwriter of the Year...ASCAP, meanwhile, gives its most-performed laurel to Michael Narada Walden for Whitney Houston's "How Will I Know." Walden also won Songwriter of the Year.

JUST THE FACTS, MA'AM

Three-thirty, Tuesday afternoon: Get a call from Jan Teifeld at Chrystalis Records. She says the promo staff will go to any lengths to draw attention to the new Art Of Noise single of the Dragnet theme. How far? She gives me the lowdown. "They dressed up as police officers and 'arrested' program directors in all the major markets—even Steve Rivers at KIIS." I'm skeptical. No one gets in to see Steve. "You do if you dress up like a police officer," she tells me. Maybe this dame is on the level. I ask her when it happened. "Last Friday." It figures.

THANKS A MILLION

First the good news: Listeners to KTHO-South Lake Tahoe, CA, have a shot at winning $100 million in the station's "Thanks-A-Lottery" promo. Now the bad news—winners get to collect a hundred bucks a year...for a million years. GM Norm Hankoff says the prizewinner will be given an option of taking a lump sum of around $2,000 in cash.

MURPHY'S LAW

This Memorial Day, KUBE gave Seattle scofflaws a chance to dispose of their unpaid parking tickets—and have a good time. With the cooperation of MCA Records, the station sponsored a special "tickets for tickets" showing of Beverly Hills Cop II. The first 200 listeners who showed up with unpaid parking tickets were given free admission for two and had their fines paid by the station. To eliminate the possibility of deliberate lawbreaking, the station paid only for infractions taking place before the promotion was announced.

THE BEST OF THE UPPER MIDWEST

The twelfth annual Upper Midwest Communications Conclave has been scheduled for the Radisson University Hotel in Minneapolis July 9-12. The folks who put out the Main Street Tattler have put together a jam-packed conference. Highlights include group discussions on topics ranging from research to station ownership, one-on-one discussions with artists, and an Evening Zoo party at the Minnesota Zoo. If you're looking for a chance to go ape in the Twin Cities, call Tom Kay or Denise Lutz at (612) 927-HITS.

HEDGECOCK ROCKS

For listeners to KSDO-San Diego, shock number one was hearing "Louie Louie" and "Wild Thing" on the Gannett news/talk outlet. But even more startling was the singer's identity: former mayor, convicted felon and current morning talk show host Roger Hedgecock. He's teamed up with journalist Thomas Arnold--whose resume includes a stint as manager of Gary Puckett & the Union Gap--to record the two rock 'n' roll party anthems as a benefit for the local homeless. Billing themselves as the Arnold/Hedgecock Experience, the two have performed live at a surfing tournament and opening for The Tubes. Says Hedgecock: "This is a serious artistic endeavor for a good cause."

ROTATIONS

A&M Records is beefing up its Black/Urban Promotions effort, luring Doug Wilkins from his position as Columbia Records' National Jazz Promotion Director, and adding Vernon Slaughter and Mike Kidd...Bruce Hinton moves up to Executive VP & General Manager for MCA Records/Nashville...There's also good news about Ted Wagner and Doug Grau, two of the Gavin Report's favorite Country guys. RCA-Nashville has moved Ted up to Coordinator of National Country Promotion, while Doug is now National Promotion Coordinator at Warner Brothers-Nashville.

RADI-O-RAMA

The sudden departure of Brian White to BJ105-Orlando has opened a prime PD spot at KITY-San Antonio. GM Terry Rodda says he's looking for someone with a unique blend of Top 40 and Hispanic cultural savvy... Elsewhere in the Lone Star State, KLLD-Dallas p.m. driver Summerfield Horner adds MD duties at sister KZEW...KOME-San Jose asst. PD Larry Miles is taking the programming reins at Tucson's KLPX...Andy Chase is now PD at KZZO-Clovis, NM.

Jimmy Roach and Steve Hansen have ended their cameo stint at Miami Album rocker WSHE. The new morning team is Kendall & Kendall--PD Charlie Kendall and his wife, Lisa. Says Charlie: "At last we're on the same schedule!"... Crosstown, the planned sale of WINZ and WZTA from Guy Gannett to Group W has gone down the tubes...Scott Summers departs Q105 to be MD and afternoon host at WKZQ-Myrtle Beach, SC...Ownership change brings new calls to WFTF-Fort Pierce, FL. Station is now known as "Dixie Country" WDKC.

BRUCE WILLIS "Under The Boardwalk"

RECOMMENDED FOR A/C RADIO
BRUCE WILLIS

Under The Boardwalk (Motown)

With hearty support from the Temptations, Bruce gives a solid performance on this classic Drifters song. The entire production is respectful of the original, but the treatment is still contemporary. The record can be played at Urban and even soft hits stations and between them, Top 40 and A/C radio should eat this one up.

INSIDE A/C

This week, there is Genesis and then everything else. A mere 91% of their airplay is in HEAVY rotation. Could be awhile before they vacate the top of the chart. And only the timing will dictate whether it's a Kenny or a Dan.

Kenny G HIT FACTORS at 93%, Loggins at 96% and Dan Hill shows 89%. None of those HIT FACTORS shows much growth but exhibit strength in rotations.

Whitney Houston's four-week stats are amazing. Her airplay base will probably peak at a little over 200 stations, but her HIT FACTOR can be in the strong 90s from her believers.

Despite their 15 to 15 chart ranking, the Nylons have just begun to run. Bet the farm it goes top five in June.

Heart is now HIT FACTORED at 64% of their 119 A/C stations including B100, KTBC, KQKS, KLOV, KFYZ, WZNY, WCHV, KTIM/FM, KLOK, WKMI and J107.

David Sanborn's sax appeal is spreading, with 15 adds including KFQD, KCMJ, KYLT, WBEV, WSTU and KXRO, as well as a 55% HIT FACTOR.

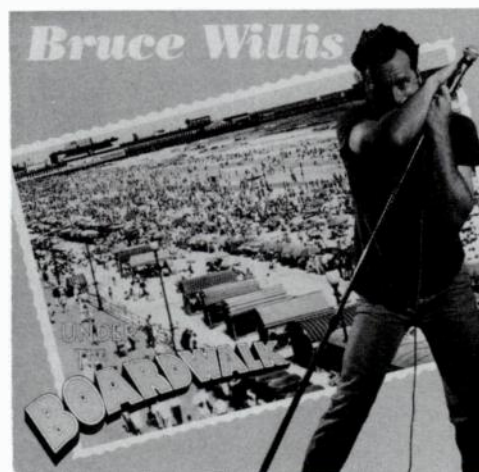

The Trio of Dolly, Linda and Emmylou has a four-week HIT FACTOR of 46% from 73 A/C stations, including: WJON, WELI, KSL, WQHQ, WHYN, WMT AM & FM, WSKY, WZNY, KGY and U102.

Last week's RECORD TO WATCHI, Phil Saatchi's Wheel Of Fortune, is now CHARTBOUND with 12 adds - WJEH, KUKI, KTHO, WNMB, WJXL, KWUN, KMFR, KSKI, KMGM, WHIZ, KHTN and WOHS.

This week's RECORD TO WATCH, Danny Wilson's Mary's Prayer, had 17 adds this week and can boast among its 38 stations PTL, or rather KPTL and more secular calls such as KWAV, WKCX, KKLK, KYJC, WMYX, B100, WMT/FM and KCRG.

Despite 61 stations either frozen or listing no adds, 49 of the remainder made room for the new Steve Winwood's, Back In The High Life, giving him 90 stations in two weeks.

Bruce Willis and The Temptations have 79 stations in two weeks with Under The Boardwalk, and it'll be a solid A/C record when next we speak. Let's all go to Bruno's Place for a little housewarming.

REVIEWS

by Ron Fell & Diane Rufer

BE BE & CE CE WINANS

I.O.U. ME (CAPITOL)

Be Be and Ce Ce are members of the famous gospel family, but this track is a secular ballad of inspirational proportion. It's a straight pop love song that you've got to hear to believe.

DENIECE WILLIAMS

NEVER SAY NEVER (COLUMBIA)

Words to live by in a sweet ballad presentation. The song already has a great pair of legs in Urban Radio, but it should prove to be an easy play across the broad A/C spectrum.

FLEETWOOD MAC

SEVEN WONDERS (WARNER BROS.)

This is Steve Nicks' tour de force from the band's "Tango In

The Night" album. The pulse of an already good Nicks song is quickened by the metered rhythm of Mick Fleetwood.

U2

I STILL HAVEN'T FOUND WHAT I'M LOOKING FOR (ISLAND)

Probably the first band in this decade to exceed its hype, U2 wear their heart on their collective sleeve as they pursue elusive dreams. Many A/Cs will find what they're looking for.

BERNIE TAUPIN

CITIZEN JANE (RCA)

A song about the women of centerfolds and Page Threes and the publishing meat merchants who combine their respective talents to set the women's movement back to the dark ages.

THE GAVIN INTERVIEW A Conversation with One _____ HAPPENING _____ Guy

The Pope is coming to the States in September. We didn't realize His itinerary hadn't been set--until He phoned us at Gavin Central last week for advice on just what He should see in the U.S. of A. We took his call between conversations with KATD's Bob Harlow and KWSS's Mike Preston. We--consider yourself warned--tape ALL calls, even though it's illegal, and would like to share the transcript with both of you:

POPE: If this is, in fact, Shadow W. Diamond, AKA Richland, We've reached the right guy. (NOTE: The Pope, like Sinatra, Charlene Tilton and a few other legends, uses the editorial 'we' when referring to Himself.) We'd like some info on your most logical tourist attractions and sights to be seen.

US: We're flattered. We don't often speak with a Pope kinda guy, and we're glad to assist. First, we'd like to recommend a visit to Yankton, where the McDonalds sign says, "Over 12 Served." Point being there are still some unspoiled bastions of our culture--towns which haven't become part of the Eighties madness. Yankton-ites, your Popeness, still order veal parmigiana and meatloaf, not having given in to goat cheese sushi and blackened catfish.

POPE: Sounds good...I want the real flavor of you guys. I've heard tapes of your Rick Dees and Scott Shannon and plan to tune in, but what about this Joan Rivers person?

US: You've missed the Vatican Times, Popesville. She or he was fired from his or her late-night gig on TV because of low ratings. And I know you must be aware of the numbers game.

POPE: No question! Our Easter Sunrise special service on HBO was wiped out by a Pee Wee Herman special. Next year, We're planning to punch it up with a few of Andy Williams' families and a glitzy review featuring Charo, Joey Heatherton and Gary Donohue CRMC.

US: CRMC? What a strange name! Of what ethnic derivation is that?

POPE: Give Us a break. It's Slavic or something. Maybe Thai. All We know is that We don't understand his column. It's Norberg We like.

US: So you read the Gavin Report?

POPE: Every week. It's Our way of keeping on top of things. How else would We know the Hoodoo Gurus are a legitimate Alternative seller. We only speak with the College of Cardinals, and they're still into Jerry Vale.

US: You really ought to see New York City while you're here, babe.

(NOTE: We'd warmed up enough to call Him "babe.") It's the Apple...Gotham...Metropolis--and drinks at the Hilton are only $5.90 a pop.

POPE: For $5.90, We could get a fifth of Scotch in Oxnard. We'll pass on a town that never sleeps OR prays.

US: Then there's Detroit, babe. Of course, to avoid roving packs of mass murderers, you'll have to stay at the Novi Hilton, about an hour and a half limo ride from the airport...

POPE: We'll pass on the Motor City. What about Atlanta? We've heard it's the capital of the New South.

US: The only attraction there is EMI's Terry Lawson, and he's usually in Guntersville buying drinks for WGSV's Kerry Jackson. There's a three-hour hike from plane to cab, and the whole town is full of atrium Hyatts. Even Cuity Hall is an atrium Hyatt. Besides, all the seafood restaurants dust their fried calamari with powdered sugar. POPE: What about Dallas? We're a big Sue Ellen Ewing fan. In fact, when no bishops are around, We try on Our Valentine lingerie.

US: Not for you, bubala. The humidity is stifling. The liver and onions at Loew's Anatole tastes like a briefcase, and John Hey doesn't live there anymore. If you DO decide to go, try to reach Chuck Rhodes at KVIL--NOT easy to reach, but he knows the best places for beans and rice.

POPE: What about tickets for the Carson show when We hit Tinseltown?

US: He's usually on vacation, but there's an eclectic bunch of guest hosts since he dumped Rivers. You might catch a Keith Abrams night, if you're lucky.

POPE: LOVE the Keith-guy! We catch WHTX via satellite all the time. Put Us down for six ducats--that's moi, four Swiss Guards and Joe Piscopo.

US: Would you like to meet Chinwag editor Joe Belden while you're in the States? Most Popes do.

POPE: If you can squeeze me in. Love what the Bel-man does with shift changes at KGOY and new appointments at--pardon the expression--Virgin.

US: Just don't bug him on Thursday. He thinks he's busy.

POPE: What about San Francisco. Would We be picketed if We checked out the city that calls itself The City?

US: There's talk of it. A vigorous majority group of semi-male people is planning a demonstration.

POPE: Too bad. We wanted to visit Gerry Cagle at KFRC. He played the Singing Nun, you know, and promised Us an introduction to Sally Field.

US: He's out of the station, babe, back working for the Governor of Mississippi, trying to talk Hollywood production companies into filming in Jackson.

POPE: Gene Knight's asked Us to stop by his pad in San Diego so he can take Us to the San Diego Zoo. We hear its collection of old Q-Crew and KGB jocks is world famous.

US: You should take in the PTL Heritage Hotel, sweetheart. The suites have gold faucets and air-conditioned closets. And the chandeliers have their own chandeliers.

POPE: Heard about it on "Good Morning America." How'd they get the money for all that stuff if they're a tax-exempt ministry?

US: Something you might look into. They went on TV every day and asked the galoots and yahoos to send in "love gifts"--that's lire...bread...the green stuff. With the "love gifts" mailed in by widows and orphans, they were able to build their tabernacles.

POPE: Jamie Farr's a personal friend. Perhaps We can get him as a host. Oh, and Tone, thanks for your input. It should be--pardon the expression--a helluva trip. Just one thing. Can you wangle Us an invite to a Blow Monkeys concert? We hear Jon Konjoyan attends every one. And that's one happening dude We REALLY wanna meet! ●

VENDOR MONEY

Over the years, radio broadcasters have called this pot of gold by many names. Recently, the idea has become so hot that consultants have sprung up, offering to unlock the secret door to the vendor vault. Let's put these dollars in perspective.

First of all, the term "vendor" refers to whoever controls sales marketing expenditures. This does not always mean retailers or point-of-purchase businesses. It may not even mean the distributor who sells the products to the businesses. For the purposes of our discussion, the "vendor" is the person with a direct link to the factory or wherever the product is built. This person usually covers a large region, and has access to discretionary funds to solve problems of product movement.

The vendor is best described as a regional marketing manager. His or her job is to respond to the unique makeup of each distribution area so the product gets bought by consumers. This very broad definition reminds us that a vendor's scope can range from one retailer to a multi-state campaign.

While vendors may have opinions about which station they like best, they are normally only concerned about two things: Will it move product? Will it solve the particular geographic marketing problem at hand?

Marketing problems are solved by stimulating the consumer, the retailer or both. The amount of dollars available is limited only by the size of the problem. The degree of activity is determined by the size of the market. Historically, only television and print have pursued vendors. If the other media in your market have had difficulty raising interest due to lack of available revenue, you may find that a vendor is a sleeping giant in radio dollars.

Vendors are attracted to "vendor" programs by their turnkey aspect. The programs typically involve lots of legwork which is all managed by the controlling medium. Radio has one advantage that neither TV nor print can deliver: sizzle. Radio can add all the promotional bells and whistles to make a retailer's sales even even more meaningful to the vendor.

In many markets, our buddies in TV and print have learned that it just doesn't pay to do all the work required. I know of one radio salesperson who was hired at a local TV station to start a vendor program. Within a short while, the program was cancelled. There simply was not enough available revenue designated for TV to justify the position.

Having a TV station drop out of the vendor sweepstakes may be a signal to radio broadcasters to get aggressive--to seek out the vendor and try to solve the particular market problem with an integrated campaign combining radio, merchandising and promotions.

Let me briefly outline how a typical vendor program goes. First, you hire a specialist, usually with a title like "Director of Retail Development." Good candidates come from retail sales--manufacturers' reps, food brokers and retail buyers. You're looking for someone who has lived the retail life and won't have to "fake it" when calling on a business owner.

Next, your sales staff qualifies the prospects. Here you are looking for retail categories that fit your format, and retailers who are moving up within those categories (i.e., two or more locations, a track record of growth, good payment history). Then you set up appointments with these business owners. This is crucial. You MUST see the top decision-maker of the company.

While the pitch you make may vary, basically you're asking for permission to raise money for his stores to create a special sales promotional event. Once you get a list of his top vendors' addresses, etc., your vendor specialist can proceed.

What happens next can take from six weeks to four months. A special presentation is made to the vendors who have been invited by the retailer to come to the store. You create sales packages ranging from a few spots on your station to a multi-media campaign that includes print, point-of-purchase, other stations and any and all else that your retailer is comfortable with.

The entire process is tied together by the special sales event your vendor specialist creates for the retailer. A "grand opening" will do--in fact, vendors love supporting store openings and new product introductions. But a truckload sale or other custom sales event is what makes them want to give money.

Always give the vendor a choice. i.e.,

Radio has one advantage that neither TV nor print can deliver: sizzle. Radio can add all the promotional bells and whistles to make a retailer's sales even even more meaningful to the vendor.

$1,000 for X spots, $3,000 for X spots plus newspaper, $5,000 for X spots on two stations, newspaper ads, point-of-purchase displays, and so on.

As you can see, this is a systematic process requiring structure, expertise and professional execution--not to mention a lot of creativity. The program costs money. Stations usually look at 50 percent cost of sales. But the benefit is new money--and lots of it--running over a four-to-six-week time period.

If you're looking for a way to get around cost per point, vendors sales are a great investment. This is top-of-card selling, and since your station is orchestrator, you can expect to return from 100 percent to not less than 30 percent of the money your vendor specialist raises for the retailer.

The key is the person you hire for the job. One vendor consultant who's teaching stations how to do this is Lisa Morrison of Morrison & Abraham out of Providence, RI. Lisa and her partner, Julie Peterson, provide hands-on training, and even make the calls and close the business for you. Lisa, who headed up Blair Radio's vendor program for five years before starting her own business, says there is no question that stations that professionally execute vendor sales benefit from the investment. Manufacturers have the money--many even have the funds allocated. But the only way to get the money is to ask for it. As she tells her clients, "Those who ask, get. But those who ask properly get more." ●

LONESOME COYOTE SURVIVES

GAVIN INTERVIEW: KRIS KRISTOFFERSON

These days, Kris Kristofferson measures his success by how many fists fly into the air during a live gig. It has nothing to do with drunken brawls. Rather, it's a yardstick of how many of those in the audience are moved by Kristofferson's "radical songs." His latest album, Repossessed, may have started out as the voice of a politically lonesome troubador, but since the recent unravelings of the Iran/Contra scandal, Kristofferson's music and politics have become extremely timely.

Talking to a sober Kristofferson was a sobering experience personally. I've long idolized the man since the release of the Silver Tongued Devil And I LP in 1971, both for his talents as a songwriter and for his many Hemingway-esque accomplishments and lifestyle. The man with the famous deep voice has led an incredible life.

Perhaps a few pre-interview prerequisites are in order. Give an intense listen to Repossessed. It's a revealing and heartfelt work of integrity. If you can, rent the video of Trouble In Mind, the cryptic 1986 movie in which Kristofferson co-stars with Divine, Keith Carradine, Lori Singer and the great Genevieve Bujold. Those two projects point to the diversely intelligent nature of a true social artist.

by Kent Zimmerman

KENT: Since we are a radio trade magazine, we sometimes try to look at music in terms of radio format. However, Repossessed actually defies any kind of format description.

KRIS: I know. It's always been a problem. I was just talking to the record company the other day and it was kind of depressing. They've been trying to pitch "They Killed Him" to Country and ran up against a wall because of opposition to Martin Luther King, of all things. When you've got people who say, "The only trouble was there ought to have been four more bullets in the gun," it gets hard to communicate. I think it's a good song and it's unfortunate that it didn't get played.

KZ: How did Bob Dylan get that song first?

KK: I don't know! I do not know! I haven't talked to him since he recorded it. I sent him a telegram thanking him, which I don't know if he got or not. It just blew me away that he did it. That song has been around a while. I've been singing it for about three or four years. I first recorded it on an album on Monument. When Monument went bankrupt, they took the album under with them.

KZ: "Shipwrecked In The Eighties" touches on the Vietnam vets. When were you in the service?

KK: 1961 thru 1965. I got out in June of '65.

KZ: Wasn't your father an officer?

KK: He was a major general in the Air Force.

KZ: How has your view of the military changed recently?

KK: I don't have any problem with the military. The military is simply doing the job that we send them to do. I still support the military. I go out on these USO tours and sing these radical songs out there on the aircraft carriers and in the jungles with the troops. And they like them. It's not the soldiers' fault, man. It's the people who are sending them over there. The military is just our arms and our legs. It's an extension of our will. It's our misguided policies that get them involved in things like Vietnam and Nicaragua.

KZ: How does "Shipwrecked In The Eighties" relate to all this?

KK: "Shipwrecked In The Eighties" is more a tale of personal isolation. The reason I dedicate it to the Vietnam vets is...well, when I was writing the song, I happened to be out in Hawaii. I was standing there in the surf. This guy came up to me. He looked like a real blasted case. He said he had done some hard time in Vietnam and had had trouble with Agent Orange. He was telling me that a song of mine had gotten him through his mental recuperation from Vietnam. He showed me this old underlined Bible. That all came into the second verse: "Like an old Holy Bible that you clung to through so many seasons/Rules of survival that you could still understand, When they prove something wrong that you believed in so long, you go crazy." A lot of Vietnam vets went over there fighting for their country in the name of freedom and democracy and standing up for the best things this country was supposed to represent. They ended up doing brutal things in the name of duty. They came back to a world that forgot about why they sent them over. In so many ways it was a dehumanizing experience, but it was an immoral war, a place we didn't belong. Some of the ugly things that went on, if they had gone on during the Second World War, maybe people would have been tried as war criminals. Stuff like the Phoenix Project where 60,000 civilians were killed. Some of the same people who were running that thing, they're running the policies of the Contras down in Nicaragua today.

KZ: "What About Me" is about the war down there. Am I right?

KK: It's about both. I feel like the first verse is about a Vietnam vet. The second verse brings in Central America. To me, they're related.

KZ: I know Central America is permeating the news. In your view, how messed up is the situation down there?

KK: It's awful. This is a country that has been fighting for its freedom against forces that we have trained and equipped since the turn of the century. We had the Marines in there from 1915 until 1933. The original Sandino was fighting against them. The Marines agreed to leave if Sandino would lay down his arms. Before leaving, the Marines trained the National Guard, leaving them there under the original Somoza family. When Sandino laid down his arms, Somoza murdered him. For the next 45 years, the United States supported the Somoza dictatorship, the most brutal dictatorship on the planet. Somoza's two sons were probably the bloodiest of them all. The last one was selling his people's blood--literally. They had a place down there called the House of Vampires. The peasants would deposit their blood and Somoza would sell it. The Somoza regime was supposed to be responsible for the death of about 300,000 Nicaraguan citizens. We quit supporting them officially in 1979 when Congress passed an amendment saying we couldn't give aid to a dictator who systematically violated his own citizens' human rights. When we stopped giving them aid officially, the same damn people, Richard Secord and Albert Hakim--the CIA bunch--agreed to send supplies. We supported them illegally from February of '79 until Somoza was run out in July, '79. After that, the Contras were formed in the Bahamas from remnants of Somoza's National Guard. The CIA supported them until 1981, when Reagan took over supplying them. In 1984, Congress ended support of the Contras because of the mining of the harbors. So they just turned it back over to the same people that are now being revealed in the Iran/Contra scandal. The people of Nicaragua have been fighting against us all this time.

KZ: How many times have you visited Nicaragua?

KK: I went down there last December. I've been studying Nicaragua for a long time.

KZ: Since the Sandinistas took over in the spirit of Sandino, Daniel Ortega runs the show. Does he bother you?

KK: He doesn't bother me at all. This may bother you to hear, but everybody I talked to that was reliable--and I'm not talking about businessmen who are in opposition to the Sandinistas or the Catholic Cardinal who's against the Sandinistas. The nuns who have been working with the poor for 30 years tell me the Sandinistas have done more to help the poor than anybody in Latin America. When they talk about violations of human rights that the Sandinistas are supposed to be committing, they're talking about censorship of the press, the closing of La Prensa, which was an opposition newspaper. All the people that used to write for the Somoza newspaper went to La Prensa after Somoza left. It was either ex-Somocistas or CIA people working there. I've got no quarrel with them for closing it down. I wished they hadn't, though, because it's the example that everybody points to, saying the Sandinistas are a totalitarian regime. The human rights violations that the Contras are committing, that have been documented by Amnesty International and by Witness For Peace, are murders, kidnappings and mutilations of civilians.

KZ: How popular are the Sandinistas with the general population? How do the average citizens respond to Ortega's administration?

KK: I was talking to a nun the other day who was with Witness For Peace. She was talking about the spirit and the caring. It's something that you have to feel when you're down there. She was in this shantytown, talking to these poor people about the revolution. The people didn't know some of the answers to the questions because some hadn't been that close to the revolution. Somebody called someone from the Sandinista government to answer some of the questions. The office said they would send someone out to talk to these poor people. Who came out in a truck? Daniel Ortega with (Sandinista leader) Tomas Borge. They have these regular meetings at least once a month, face-to-face meetings with the people in the marketplaces and the small towns. People bitch about things to the government. They bitch right to Ortega who turns to the man responsible. Ortega hands him the microphone and he has to answer or his ass is out. Anyway, Ortega and Borge sat with these people and talked about the revolution. Finally, after going through the whole history, Ortega asked these people, "Do you know why we did all this, why we made the sacrifice, why we overthrew Somoza, losing 50,000 people doing it? We did it for the treasure of Nicaragua. Do you know what the treasure of Nicaragua is? It's you! You are Nicaragua and we will never abandon you. They may kill us, but we will never leave you." Now the nun is crying as she's telling me this. She said, after they left, the peasants said, "You know, he's right. We are Nicaragua. The United States and the Contras aren't Nicaragua." You can't defeat that spirit.

KZ: Can we talk about Russia? Do you perceive a changing Soviet society?

KK: There's a lot of changes going on there now. I went over with a group called the International Center for Development Policy, headed by Robert White, a former ambassador to El Salvador. I had become involved with them because of my concern with our policy in Central America. They put me and my wife on the Soviet/American commission about a year ago. Then they asked me to go to the this Peace Forum last February. I think it was probably because of my involvement with that controversial series, "Amerika." In fact, I was over there when the series aired here. It was wild. From the moment I got off the plane, they were asking me about it. They were real concerned about it. All they'd heard is that it pictured them as the "evil empire." They were concerned about our continuing perception of them as the enemy, and I can understand that. They're a closed society compared to ours, but they're making real attempts to become more open. Rock n rollers who were underground for the last ten years are now aboveground and giving concerts. They're releasing records and movies that have been banned for ten years. The people are real excited about it. They're letting people out of prisons. They were letting out the "refuseniks." I think they let out around 10,000 of them.

KZ: Isn't there a phrase, "glasnost"?

KK: Yes. It means "openness." It was interesting being over there during this peace forum because they were talking about things that the world needs to be addressing. Gorbachev believes the United States and the Russians have to get along, that we have a responsibility to the rest of the world to get along. We can't hold the rest of the world as nuclear hostages. Everything we do affects the rest of the world. I think we have to perceive these changes as positively as we can, instead of dismissing every one of them as propaganda.

KZ: I think back about the first time I ever heard about you.

Your first two albums on Monument came out. Not too long after, Waylon's Honky Tonk Heroes came out. In the early seventies, 1971 and 1972, I was a rock n roller but I bought that record. I've always felt that you and writers like Billy Joe Shaver, Guy Clark and Lee Clayton changed songwriting in general and Country music in particular.

KK: Maybe. You see, I felt closer to Dylan than to any of the Country acts. When I started out, I never worked in any of the Country clubs. I started working the Troubadour and the Bitter End, and sort of backed into the Country market. But I was writing Country songs. I was a Country songwriter because I was in Nashville. I felt as much like Bob Dylan as I felt like Johnny Cash. There were a lot of us that were underground for a long time—Mickey Newbury, Guy Clark, Townes Van Zandt, Billy Joe...well, Willie was underground for a long time.

KZ: It seems like "outlaw" is now "in-law."

KK: I don't know what it is now. I'm not really familiar with what's going on (laughs). I like some of the new guys like Dwight Yoakam, Steve Earle and Randy Travis. In some ways they seem almost more like old guys.

KZ: I feel you and writers like Townes Van Zandt beat down a path for guys like that.

KK: Well, somebody beat it down for us. Bob Dylan, and his association with Johnny Cash, had a hell of a lot to do with bringing attention to Country music in Nashville. Bob went and recorded there. In fact I was his janitor (laughs). When he did Blonde On Blonde, that was my first week as a janitor at Columbia studios.

KZ: Do you clearly remember those sessions?

KK: Are you kidding? I was the only songwriter in Nashville allowed to be with him. I was in heaven. The sessions went all night long. The doors were locked. The musicians would sit and play cards while Bob went out, sat at the piano and wrote. It was the strangest session I'd ever seen. The guys in Nashville generally ran 'em through, three songs in three hours, just like machinery. This guy came in, closed the studio up. Of course, he was our hero. And I just sat and watched him through the glass, sitting there at the piano with his dark glasses on, all by himself in this huge studio. At the end of the night, he'd come up with a song and they'd go in there and they'd just knock it out.

KZ: You'd written short stories for the New Yorker, tried your hand as a novelist. What made you eventually become a songwriter?

KK: I despaired at being a writer. I'd gone off and was in the army, was married and had a kid. I was in the army almost five years. I really didn't know how I was going to ever do anything I wanted to do. I saw myself stuck in this rut. I was a captain, on my way to being a major. I was assigned to go teach English at West Point. It looked like my life was going off into this different direction. I went off on leave to Nashville. I had this little band while I was in the army in Germany. A friend of mine, a guy in my unit, had sent some of my tapes to a relative who was a publisher, Mary Wilkin. She said, "Come on by." So I went there when I was on leave and fell in love with it. I was with them for a couple of weeks. I was still in uniform going to these jam sessions where these songwriters would stay up all night long and write songs. There were guys like Mel Tillis and Tom T. Hall, a whole bunch of them before they were famous. They'd all written lots and lots of Country songs. Mel Tillis had written "Detroit City." Hundreds of songs had been published. Anyway, I was just totally knocked out. So I got out of the army and went back there and said, "I'm gonna be a songwriter." Scared my family to death. My wife just about divorced me. She eventually came out and tried to make a go with me, but of course I didn't make money at it for a long time.

KZ: What did your father think?

KK: He'd thought I'd gone crazy. Later on he told me that he realized now, at that point, that I really had to do what I had to do and that he was sorry that he and my mother had resisted it. But they were very upset when I first went.

KZ: There's a song on the new record that mentions your father. It's one of my favorites, called "The Heart." I relate to that song.

KK: "If you let them drive you crazy, they'll shut your business down." Well, you can't. And the heart is really what matters. I really learned what my father was talking about when I was fighting in the Golden Gloves. I was talking to this old Mexican guy who had just climbed off the canvas. He was knocked down seven times in one fight. I admired him so much for it. He said, "You know, Mexican men will always keep trying." And I had just gotten knocked out myself. And I saw what he meant and I never was the same after that.

KZ: Does the song "El Gavilan" have anything to do with Kid Gavilan the boxer?

KK: No, no, no. Kid Gavilan was The Cuban Hawk. "El Gavilan" or the Hawk was this character in the film, Trouble In Mind. I wrote the song for the film. I had this notion of Johnny Hawkins, the Hawk, as a hawk. He was somewhere above land and below heaven—soaring around.

KZ: Could you relate to that?

KK: Yes. The character in the film, for a long time did not get down and get involved with what was going on. He was sort of an observer of everything that was going on. Ultimately, he did get involved and it killed him. I was thinking of his relationship with the girl—"Make your own rules and break your own chains." Like the best songs-- that I write, anyway--they come to me from a lot of directions. They aren't limited to a particular place. To me, a song is a life statement. But "El Gavilan" is a love song.

KZ: Is "This Old Road" a self-portrait of sorts?

KK: I felt pretty autobiographical when I was writing it. I got the idea when I was back in Nashville and somebody gave me a photo of myself back when I was a bartender at the Tally Ho Tavern. There's this clean-shaven guy with a cigarette hanging out of his mouth, looking like James Dean or something...smiling, obviously drunk. It was a different person.

The Russians have a closed society compared to ours, but they're making real attempts to become more open. Rock n rollers who were underground for the last ten years are now aboveground and giving concerts.

I was talking to this old Mexican guy who had just climbed off the canvas. He was knocked down seven times in one fight. I admired him so much for it. He said, 'You know, Mexican men will always keep trying.' I saw what he meant and I was never the same after that.

KZ: Does it surprise you that your film career spun out of Cisco Pike (with Gene Hackman and Karen Black) which spun out of Silver Tongue Devil. The body of your film work is so unique. Was your becoming an actor an unlikely turn of events? KK: It was unlikely to happen. It never occurred to me that I'd have the opportunity to be in films. But once I got in, I found out I was pretty good at it. I got such good feedback, not necessarily from critics who tend to not like me, but from other actors. Word would come back from guys like Robert DeNiro. Martin Scorsese would tell me something that DeNiro said. People I respected. Actors still come up to me. I'm not getting a whole lot of scripts these days, which may be because of my politics or whatever, but when we were playing in New York all these actors were coming up telling me they thought I was really great in "Amerika." They thought "Amerika" was a piece of shit, but they thought I was great. (laughs)

KZ: You worked with Martin Scorsese in Alice Doesn't Live Here Anymore. It's interesting what path life has led you down.

KK: I feel like one of the luckiest people on the planet. I've had so many opportunities, going back to the Rhodes Scholarship, being Airborne, being a helicopter pilot working in the Gulf of Mexico. I worked construction jobs all over the world in places like Alaska and Wake Island. I got to be a whole lot of different people. Then I got to do the thing that's just like fantasy for most of us--making a living by my imagination and to be able to write songs that people sing and are moved by. Then the ultimate fantasy is to be in movies and to be in them with your heroes. I was able to be in a movie with Dylan. The other night on stage I sang "Masters Of War" with Johnny Cash! Johnny Cash was my hero when I went to Nashville!

KZ: Can you talk politics with...

KK: With John? Well John's real upset about Nicaragua now. He called me up the other day because he'd heard I'd gone down there. I said, "That's really great. You can do a lot of good." John brings in a whole conservative audience.

KZ: What about Dennis Hopper? Do you ever see him?

KK: Yeah, I just saw him recently. Dennis is the comeback of the century. I was down with Dennis in Peru in 1969 making The Last Movie. That was a dream come true considering less than a year before, I was stuck in the middle of the Gulf of Mexico on an oil rig. There I was, with the guy who had made the most exciting movie of the year, Easy Rider. We're down there with him and all those Easy Rider people, down there in Peru, ferchrissake. He looked like he wasn't gonna last a minute. He was using and abusing and going publicly insane. He did kind of blow himself out of the water there for a while, but jeez, he's come back and he's clean as a whistle. He's with the AA program and doing good work. As a matter of fact, I got together with him and a producer. They want to do a film of "Bobby McGee." They want to get writers on it, so we're gonna try and develop that. He wants to direct it. I don't know whether I'll act in it or not. I'd like to. It just depends on how it goes. I was thinking about the different ways he could be. I'd like to have him portrayed sort of like an activist. You know the end of the Grapes of Wrath? Henry Fonda takes off saying, "No matter where some little kid's hurting, I'm gonna be there. Whenever there's any injustice, I'm gonna be there." It might be a nice departure point.

KZ: I once saw you on a show with Dick Cavett. You told this story about seeing Hemingway. Could you re-tell that story?

KK: You mean in Spain? It was at a bullfight. I was following Luis Miguel Dominguin and Antonio Ordonez, who were having a series of mano a mano fights to determine who was the number one. Dominguin was being pressured by this younger guy, Ordonez. Ironically Dominguin was once the younger guy who was pressuring Manolete in the mano a mano when Manolete was killed. At this particular one, Dominguin was taking some unnecessary chances. He was caught up against a horse and gored in the groin. We were waiting downstairs, outside of the plaza, to see how he was. I looked up and there was Hemingway. It was not too long before his death. His face was so ravaged that it was a shock to me. Hemingway was probably as big a hero as I had at the time because I wanted to be a novelist. I was trying to live like him. I was running in front of the bulls in Spain--anything Hemingway-esque I could do. Anyway, he looked like he was dying. I don't know whether what I was thinking showed in my face or what, but we locked eyes. It was the strangest thing. He was looking at me, then he just wheeled around, jumped in his Volkswagen and sped off. I remember my brother, who was with me at the time, saying something like, "That old son of a bitch didn't look too friendly." I could never understand why Hemingway did that. It was kind of a non sequitur, but that was it.

KZ: Will you carry that memory to the grave?

KK: Yes. I can still see it. Later, when I'd been through more things in my life and I thought about him committing suicide, I got to wondering how much the booze might have been to blame for his mental condition. I know as a user and abuser of that particular drug, that it can cause depression that gets close to suicidal.

KZ: Didn't you go through a deep depression after making Heaven's Gate?

KK: Yes. But out of hard times come better times. I think it was probably a lifesaver for me, the hard times. The fact that my existence was shaken from the bottom to the top. My family fell apart and I had to re-examine everything around me. I think I had gotten into a comfortable way of life that needed to be shaken up. At any rate, my writing started getting better again and my interest in my art or my craft--whatever you want to call it--I started to get involved in it. Things started mattering again.

KZ: Did you once steal a helicopter to give Johnny Cash a demo tape?

KK: I didn't steal a helicopter. I was in the National Guard and I flew a National Guard helicopter right onto his front yard. That wasn't the first time I'd ever pitched him a song. I had been pitching him songs while I was a janitor for maybe two years. But he had never cut any of them. And he didn't cut the one that I had flown into his house either, although he thinks he did. He thinks that was "Sunday Morning Coming Down", but it wasn't. That's desperation. (laughs) It seemed like a good idea at the time.

KZ: "Love Is The Way" is the last tune on the record. In a backwards way, it's an optimistic song. Do you have hope?

KK: Guardedly. If I didn't have hope, I wouldn't get out of bed. I feel like a person can make a difference and that it matters to try and make a difference. That's why I keep doin' it. I think there are optimistic signs. People responded to the Amnesty International Concerts. There are more people coming to Amnesty International lectures now. Things like Bruce Springsteen giving a piece of his concert all the time to different public food organizations and charitable organizations are good tendencies. Things like Live Aid. Those things are good.

KZ: I want you to know there are those of us who are listening to what you're doing. Please keep at it.

KK: I appreciate that. It gets hard to remember sometimes, but I do appreciate that. I get enough hate mail. I get shit since I've been to Russia and Nicaragua, signed, "With loathing and hate, you filthy Communist bastard. Why don't you stay in Russia?" I also get a lot of people--like you--saying, "Thanks for saying those things and keep saying them." We do still get a lot of those fists in the air. ●

WORLD'S BEST COMMUNITY NEWSPAPER?

I've received two letters in response to my column last February about classic calls.

One was from Larry O'Neal of KIXK-El Dorado, Arkansas: "You have no doubt heard that WSB in Atlanta stands for 'Welcome South, Brother.' If that's the case, what does WSM in Nashville stand for--'Welcome South, Mother'?"

"From my Macon, Georgia, days: WMAZ supposedly stood for 'Watching Macon Attain Zenith' (how dorky!), and WNEX was reportedly picked from a box of KleenEX tissues when original owner Al Lowe, Sr., was trying to decide on call letters.

"When I was in Meridian, Mississippi, the owner of WDAL and WJDQ maintained that the calls stood for 'We Do A Lot' and 'We Just Don't Quit.'

"As for embarrassing calls, don't forget WGAY in suburban DC and WSUX in Seaford, Delaware. There was also a WFAG in Farmville, North Carolina, but they have since changed. And don't forget WSEX in Arlington Heights, Illinois."

Larry mentions several other legal call letters which might be a little too raw for today's FCC, and I passed on to him the call letters that KSOL in San Mateo, California, had before it was even constructed over 20 years ago. Spelled backwards, they were a classic obscenity.

Some of the embarrassing call letters were chosen before the words acquired their modern meanings. Others, like WSEX and San Jose's KOMA, were deliberately obtained for effect.

The other letter I received was from Terry Havel of WLIP and WJZQ in Kenosha, Wisconsin. He enclosed an article titled "Chicago's Radio Genealogy" from a publication called Radiophiles. It is too long to reprint here, but here are some of the highlights, with thanks to both Terry and Radiophiles.

The most travelled non-standard call letters of all, with a special spot in radio history, are KYW. I knew they had been in Cleveland before moving to Philadelphia two decades ago, but hadn't realized they started in Chicago in 1921.

WBBM allegedly stands for "We Broadcast Better Music," somewhat ironic in view of the AM station's all-news format. It went on the air November 14, 1923, with the original city of license being Lincoln, Illinois.

As many people are aware, WGN was intended to stand for "World's Greatest Newspaper," since it was owned by the Chicago Tribune. But in the 1920s, Chicago was also home to the original WBCN, which stood for "World's Best Community Newspaper," in this case, The Southtown Economist. WCFL stood for "Chicago Federation of Labor," the labor union that owned the station for its first 52 years on the air, whereas WLS got its calls from the slogan of its founder, Sears, Roebuck--the "World's Largest Store."

The nation's first full-time FM radio station went on the air in Chicago in 1940. It was called WWZR after its owner, Zenith Radio. The call letters were later changed to WEFM, not to promote the new band, but to immortalize Zenith's president, Eugene F. McDonald.

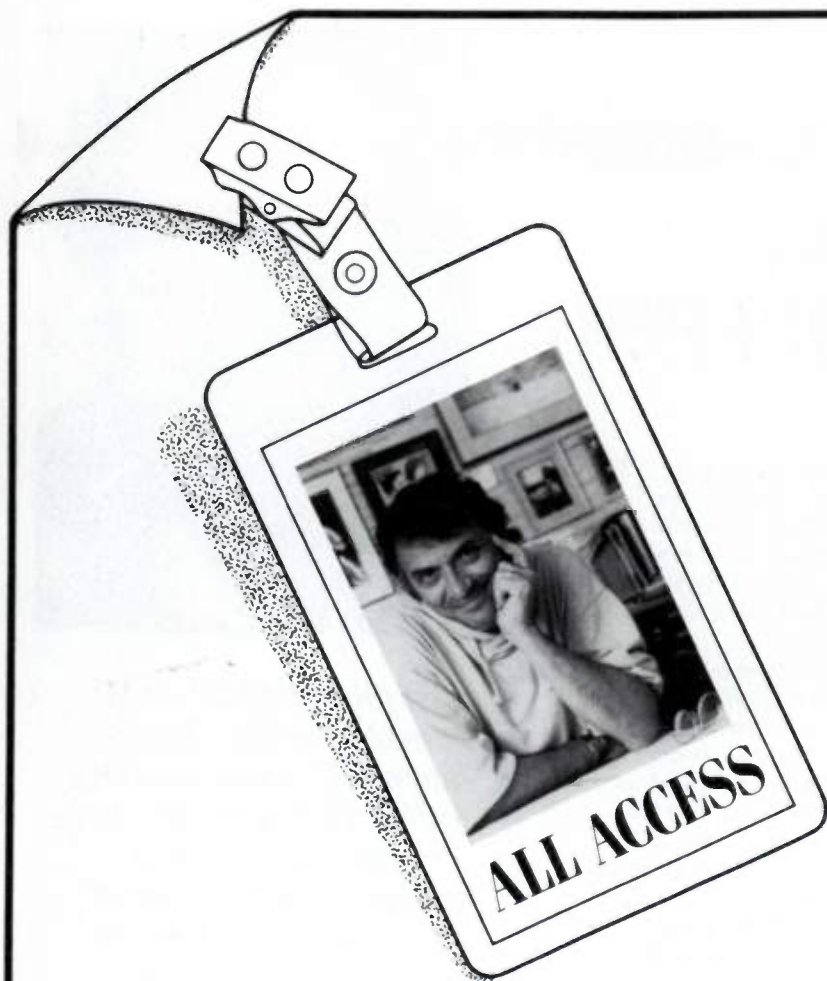

WLAK and WLUP were named after the Chicago landmarks they sound like, but WFYR has nothing to do with the conflagration started by Mrs. O'Leary's cow. RKO chose the call letters to continue the concept begun at its Los Angeles FM station, KRTH, referring to the medieval elements of earth and fire--WIND was already taken!

WJJD's calls were intended to honor Senator James J. Davis--a tribute from its owner at the time, the Loyal Order of Moose. WVON stands, as most people know, for "Voice Of the Negro." When Gordon McLendon owned a station in Chicago, he called it WYNR ("winner") and then WNUS when it went all-news.

I am skipping many stations that did not survive into the modern era, and still have filled an entire column just on Chicago. If you want to research your own area, you will no doubt uncover many other interesting stories. ●

Bring The Family-John Hiatt (A&M)

Though lately we've been too polite to mention it, there's always been a serious impact gap between John Hiatt's records and his live shows. While the live shows sparkled, Hiatt's records tended to cloud his talents as a performer. As was the case live, Ry Cooder, without the responsibility of fronting the show, is the superb dream lead guitarist. The rest of this All Star band also shines, partly out of friendship and love for the music. Misty Lowe, Keltner, Cooder and Hiatt are an eight-legged, eight-armed, four-headed rock-n-rollasaurus. No doubt about it, Bring The Family is a blazing success. Trax: "Memphis In The Meantime," "Thing Called Love," "Thank You Girl" and "Your Dad Did."

Sentimental Hygiene-Warren Zevon (Virgin)

Boom Boom Mancini is finally immortalized in the Warren Zevon/Bill Lee Sports Hall of Fame, challenging Dylan's "Who Killed Davey Moore" and Paul Simon's "The Boxer" for the boxing anthem crown. With Zevon's tilted sense of sports morality (unlike Dylan's strict putdown), the title is now up for grabs. I've always enjoyed Zevon's twisted outlook, even his post-alcoholic work like The Envoy, which still glows long after those who viewed him as a novelty cast him aside. Zevon's forte has always been frankness, and this is rough stuff, so be prepared. Trax: "Sentimental Hygiene," the great "Factory," "Bad Karma" and the king, "Boom Boom Mancini." If you dig the titles, wait 'til you hear the songs. If Hunter Thompson could write songs and sing, this would be his debut.

"Give To Live"-Sammy Hagar (Geffen)

When a musician sings "I believe...", it'd better ring true. And it does. Sammy teams up with both David Thoener, one of the best engineers in the biz, AND Eddie Van. "Give To Live" is a credo to the power of positive thinking—and Hagar has a bigger audience these days than Norman Vincent Peale. That sounds like Eddie Van Halen sliding around in the background. The surprise is the dominance of the organ and the lack of a guitar solo. The positive message takes center stage. I'll take "peace" as an issue over speed limits any day.

Dash Rip Rock (688)

Endorsed by loony Replacement Paul Westerberg and WBRH-Baton Rouge, Dash Rip Rock claim to be "serious as a heart attack." Well, almost. "My neighborhood is the DMZ" could be a serious complaint, although it epitomizes DRR's cock-eyed world party. It's hard to believe three guys can raise such a ruckus. Drummer Fred LeBlanc drums up a nuclear mess. Like the Replacements, harmony and melody co-exist with commotion. There's a wealth of potential at work here, although energy is generally best left unharnessed. Keep that in mind and let it rip. Call Cathy Hendrix at 404-524-3113.

Hard Times In The Land Of Plenty-Omar & The Howlers (Columbia)

A few years back, an Omar LP crossed my desk on an indie label out of Austin. Though the leap between that LP and Hard Times is quantum, the ghost of Howlin' Wolf and Creedence-past still leaves an indelible mark on the rockin' direction the Howlers undertake. Welding Fenders in a deadly and treacherous manner, they are already shoe-horning their way onto many influential playlists. Competition among new bands has never been more fierce. The Howlers cut through with vengeance and depth. The proof is in trax like "Border Girl," "Don't You Know" and "Don't Rock Me The Wrong Way," when Omar and the boys are more at home rockin' and rollin'.

"Since You've Been Gone"-The Outfield (Columbia)

I have a theory about the Outfield's amazing out-of-the-box platinum success story. Ever since the Police stopped performing quirky quartet music, a serious void was created. With competent songwriting and firm direction, the Outfield seem to be filling that void and need. Next to this year's Toronto Blue Jays, this is your best Outfield pick.

in vitro
man and woman

"Man And Woman"-In Vitro (Manhattan)

Some relationships are as tranquil as a Waring Blender. "Man And Woman" (in this case, Shandra Berl and Peter Snell) chronicle such a roller coaster ride. Wasn't it Dylan that once said, "Yet she's true like ice, like fire"? In Vitro rework that concept. Yes, that's Bruce Hornsby tickling the ivories. LP due June 19.

"No Stars"-Figures On A Beach (Sire)

This is our hipshakin' modern spin of the week. If you have a special slot on your list for image and curiosity, this is your shot. Figures On A Beach turn out a custom car radio song. Test it out. It's not too weird and it's catchy as the plague.

Roger Waters Radio Waves

"Radio Waves"-Roger Waters (Columbia)

Roger Waters gets his nightmares into airplay focus. It's surprising to hear him so upbeat. All in all, an interesting concept. Amid the air that we breathe lurks waves of music, communication and air traffic control. Potentially killer waves? Tune in for the album.

"These Times Are Hard For Lovers"-John Waite (EMI America)

And the cold war continues. John Waite could be lamenting the end of the sexual revolution, but he isn't. Instead, his return marks the return of one of Album Radio's finest rock stylists. Anybody who remembers Desmond Child & Rouge (WBCN should) will find the production familiar. Omar, Wendy Waldman and Waite are all singing about "Hard Times." Maybe that's an indication that all is not well in paradise. Maybe Studs Terkel is making a comeback. Turn it up loud.

INSIDE ALBUM

by Kent Zimmerman

Roger Waters' "Radio Waves" is stirring up some controversy. Beneath the conversions of Heart to album status, Waters' was added by most everybody that could get their hands on it. The upcoming LP will be accompanied by a detailed libretto outlining the concept. Will a battle of the Floyd ensue? Also dominating the Adds column was the Outfield. Hot and heavy on this week's chart are Richard Marx, Suzanne Vega, Beverly Hills Cop 2, Warren Zevon and Dan Fogelberg. Heart's LP debuted mightily at #7. Look out for Jon Astley, World Party, Omar and Steve Earle. Here's what's happening around the league...Due to the holiday season, we received some early reports. God bless John "Bronco" Edwards at KBPI-Denver, who was the first to check in with adds on Roger Waters and the Outfield...Despite being arrested for not playing Art Of Noise's "Dragnet" theme (he's now considering it), Bob Linder has two thumbs-up theater reviews for Les Miserables and the roller derby Starlight Express...Brian Henry at KLLK-Willits is surprised that Jude Cole's "Like Lovers Do" isn't further along. "It's a cool song. Tell people to play it." You just did...An old friend, Ward Holmes checks in from WONE-Akron to report, among other things, that the Truth is their #1 record. "My audience loves good backbeat rock n roll"...Questions, questions, questions. Ty Banks at KQWB/FM-Fargo asks, "Why isn't the Long Ryders' 'Gunslinger Man' bigger nationally?" I could hear Gregg Steele yell "Yeah!" in the background. Meanwhile Motley is #1 phones, Mason is happening and the Outfields were added in hot...Deb Brady at WXXP-Pittsburgh adds both the 7" and 12" mixes of Depeche Mode. Hot is a strange cross section that includes Suzanne Vega, Cure and Jon Astley. Watch out for Jon Astley. It's this week's Gavin Top Forty Record To Watch...Even though John Hayes froze the KTCL-Fort Collins playlist, he managed to add Roger Waters in medium..."Was that you on the Golden Gate Bridge during the celebration?" asks John Marshall. WZON-Bangor's "biggest song" is Ace Frehley's "Rock Soldier." WZON is four cuts deep. "Uncle Steve likes it," referring to station owner Stephen King...WMRY-St. Louis has three power female acts in hot: Heart, K. D. Lang and Suzanne Vega...Catfish Phil reports big Beatles CD requests at WHMD-Hammond. Big response to Sgt. Pepper...Peter Delano added that WFRD-Hanover has moved on to Suzanne Vega's track on the Prince's Trust album, so strong is Suzanne-mania...Hey Mook! Alan White at KILO-Colorado Springs reports hot

INSIDE ALTERNATIVE RADIO

by Peter Standish

The Replacements hold a very narrow (2%) lead over both R.E.M. and Suzanne Vega who are virtually tied for second (tie goes to the previous leader). Next weeks #1 will be a toss-up between these three records. Scruffy The Cat claws into our top ten, while Jon Astley, Faith No More and Erasure look to duplicate that feat. Tom Petty, Fuzzbox and Wall Of Voodoo also sport large jumps and could develop into top ten contenders. Spear Of Destiny is our highest debut, with Maximum play at KROQ, WXCI, WBNY, KVNF, etc. and Moderate play coming from KEYX, WOXY, KZEL, WRAS, WDCR, WWVU, WUOG, KACV, WUNH, KUCI, etc. The Colour Field are starting to gain momentum behind Maximum play at CFNY, WLIR, KROQ, WPRB, KUNV, etc. and Moderate rotations at KTCL, WFNX, WXXP, WWVU, WDCR, WXRT, KWWC, WXCI, WHFS, KEYX, etc. Dash Rip Rock debuts at #40 by tearing up the playlists at WTUL, WXYC, WCDB, KEYX, WRAS, WWVU, WRVU, WUSC, WPRB, KVNF, etc. James Lien at WTUL-New Orleans reports it's "the hottest record here in two or three years - we're swamped with requests." Check out KZ's review on page 39. Little Steven and The Immaculate Fools round out the debuts. Warren Zevon tops chartbound and should debut high next week. Peter and The Test Tube Babies are our Record To Watch. They turned fourth Most Added into #1 this week and improved their chart points by over 100%. Non-commercial stations are coming in strong behind WUSC, WWVU, WNUR, WRAS, WXCI, KUCI, WUSB, WRVU, KCPR, WTUL, KBVR, KVNRR, WXYC, etc. but growing commercial Alternative support is coming from 91X, WOXY, etc.

SPOTLIGHT LPS

"Painted Moon"-THE SILENCERS (RCA UK-12")

The Silencers have succeeded in genetically splicing the high-tech rock texture of the Eurythmics to the big drum sound of Simple Minds. This extended "blues mix" is hardly a blues song, except that it gradually builds layer-by-layer. The well-oiled rhythm section opens the song, followed by a growling harmonica solo, reverberating guitar and the song's climax - Jimmy O'Neil's vocals. O'Neil and guitarist Cha Burns were formerly with the Scottish group Fingerprintz, which released three albums in the late seventies/ early eighties. The punchy and tight production by Dave Bascombe (engineer of Peter Gabriel's "So") is tight, but also breathes spontaneity into the studio.

Outskirts-BLUE RODEO (Risque Disque/WEA Canada)

Steve Earle, Dwight Yoakam, K.D. Lang, Rodney Crowell and Rosanne Cash are breaking down some Alternative format fences and blazing a frontier for other alternative deviants. Like the aforementioned, Blue Rodeo are clever enough to not be easily pigeon-holed on their debut album. Dominant organ and keyboards paint a Southwestern/Texas picture on "Heart Like Mine" (a la Joe "King" Carrasco), even though the band hails from Canada (as does K.D. Lang). Blue Rodeo kick up their spurs on the rockin' blues "Jokers Wild," the albums's strongest cut. The band's quieter alter ego unexpectedly emerges on "Rebel," "Float" and "Underground." ●

REVIEWS

Hit Factor is a percentage of stations which have it in Heavy or Medium rotation, i.e. 100 stations playing the record -- 60 stations have it in Heavy or Medium rotation -- Hit Factor = 60%

T.Graham Brown "Brilliant Conversationalist" (Capitol) The title is no boast. "His Royal T-Ness" is a brilliant communicator, transmitting his lyrics with an impressive range of emotion. While the single "Brilliant Conversationalist" is uptempo, the ballads on the album stuck in our min R.F.D. 30529, THE POWER OF LOVE, SHE COULDN'T LOVE ME ANYMORE, THE LAST RESORT.

Steve Earle "Exit 0" (MCA) Steve Earle ranks high among the promising new artists in Country music. His talents as a songwriter are especially apparent on this LP, as he recaptures his not-to-distant youth and takes the listener along for the ride. Take a listen to ANGRY YOUNG MAN, THE RAIN CAME DOWN and I AIN'T EVER SATISFIED.

JOHNNY CASH:

The Man In Black Is Back

by Lisa Smith

From his early Sun recordings with Elvis Presley, Jerry Lee Lewis and Carl Perkins, through decades of mega-hits with Columbia Records, Johnny Cash has achieved legendary status in the Country music industry. While earning countless honors—including 23 BMI songwriting awards—Cash has found time to star in a weekly network variety show, write two best-selling novels and perform in dozens of movie roles. Earlier this Spring, under a new contract with Mercury/PolyGram Records, he submitted himself to the rigors of life on the road. Backed once more by The Carter Family, he began touring in support of his new album, Johnny Cash Is Coming To Town, a tour cut short when the hectic schedule caught up with him.

As we go to press, Cash is resting up at his home in Hendersonville, Tennessee, planning to pick up the tour with a May 30 th Veterans Day performance in Memphis. We talked with Johnny early in his road trip, just before a performance in Pensacola, Florida. He was gracious full of enthusiasm about this new phase of his career. And, while he certainly lived up to his "living legend," this seasoned performer with thirty years of stories turned out to also be a family man anxious to brag about his children's accomplishments.

JOHNNY CASH: I'm doing great. We're in Pensacola for two things. There's a book signing at Walden Books for my new book, "The Man In White," and also a concert at eight o'clock. I've got the Carter family with me—that's June, Helen, Anita and Carlene. They're back with me full force, and they're better than ever. We've got a two-and-a half-hour show that we're pretty proud of.

LISA SMITH: Is Carlene a new addition?

JC: Carlene just joined us about six months ago. She's really got the other women on the ball. (laughs)

LS: You record, tour extensively, do TV specials, movies, and are a best-selling author. How do you keep your momentum going?

JC: I like my work. I enjoy doing what we're doing. I've got a new recording contract with Mercury/PolyGram, and we just recorded 28 songs to get ten for my new album.

LS: What precipitated the change in labels? Did Steve Popovich play a role in getting you to sign with Mercury?

JC: Yeah, he did. Steve had been with CBS for years and was now with Mercury/PolyGram. Also, Dick Asher, who is the president of Mercury/PolyGram, and I had always been friends and he wanted me with this label. So when my contract expired with CBS, we decided on PolyGram because I've had so many friends there and I felt comfortable. They were excited about my work, which is important. I enjoy working with these people. I haven't been with a new label in 28 years! I feel like a kid out of school again.

LS: Tell us about your producer, Jack Clement.

JC: Jack and I go back to 1956 when I was with Sun Records. Jack produced songs like "Big River" and "Ballad Of The Teen-Age Queen." As a matter of fact, he wrote "Ballad Of The Teen-Age Queen." He also wrote and produced "Guess Things Happen That Way." Over the years, Jack has had a hand at producing some of my best things, like "Ring Of Fire." I've done several albums with him over the years, but there was a period of about 15 years when we didn't work together because he was working out of Texas. When he came back to Nashville, I started hanging out in his studio, and we decided to work together again. When I signed with Mercury, I wanted to stay with people I was comfortable with—people I believed in and who believed in me. Jack Clement was a natural choice.

LS: How did the song selection process for this album go?

JC: We alerted all the top publishing companies and writers in Nashville that I was looking for songs. For a long time, I went around to companies and listened to songs, and publishers sent songs to me at the record company. I had a list of over a hundred songs, and there were about 70 I liked. I started recording out of that list until we felt like we had something strong enough for a single. From time to time, we debated about this or that song. The first one we were going to release as a single was an Elvis Costello song called "The Big Light," but when we got to recording other songs like Merle Travis' "Sixteen Tons," a Kristofferson song or two, and some Guy Clark songs, they got to changing their minds at the record company about what the single would be. In the end, it was mainly the disc jockeys out there who were involved in selecting the first single.

LS: Are you pleased with how it turned out?

JC: Yeah. Waylon came by the studio and sang a verse on it while we recorded it. The Carter Family and two or three guys in my band are singing on the chorus with me. I worked longer and harder on this album than any I've ever done. The album is called Johnny Cash Is Coming To Town. We got that title because I live out in Hendersonville, Tennessee, and to get to Jack Clement's place I'd have to drive about 30 miles into town every day. They got to saying "Johnny Cash is coming into town today to record," or "Johnny Cash is coming into town to do this or that," and that line kept hanging in the air. Finally Jack said, "That will be the title of the album."

"I've always believed that traditional Country music is the backbone of our business. The trends and fads come and go, but every few years the pendulum swings back to traditional."

LS: As someone who's been in this business for over 30 years, how do you gauge success at this point?

JC: I just keep on doing what I do in the most natural and honest way I can deliver it. I've found that the key to my success has always been to perform the songs the people want to hear from me. Of course, at every concert I'm introducing new things that I believe in or that I like, and sometimes they've proven to be successful and sometimes not. But I always do what I believe in concert. The main thing is to answer those requests from the people who paid money to come see you perform. When I started in the business, my dad told me one thing. He said, "You know, if the tickets to your show are five dollars, remember that each person paid five dollars for the show, and that's how much you're worth that night. Don't let your head swell, because you're only worth five dollars a night. Give 'em their money's worth."

LS: Who are some of the newer Country artists that you like?

JC: I like George Strait and Reba McEntire. I like Randy Travis, Steve Earle, Dwight Yoakam, all the ones that everybody else likes. I'm a big fan of good Country music, and consider all those people very good because they're doing basically traditional, and I've always believed that traditional Country music is the backbone of our business. The trends and the fads come and go, but every few years the pendulum swings back to traditional.

LS: Thank goodness.

JC: Yeah, thank goodness, because that's what I am. I just feel good about it. Of course, I enjoy hearing progressive, middle-of-the-road Country, whatever you call it. I like a lot of it. Some of it I don't--some of it I can't stand.

LS: I guess you like Rosanne's music, don't you?

JC: I love her music. As a matter of fact, she's just recorded one of my old songs, "Tennessee Flat Top Box." She gave me a tape of it yesterday at the studio, and I got a big kick out of that.

LS: Is there anybody out there now that reminds you of a young Johnny Cash?

JC: Well, Dwight Yoakam twitches like I did. (laughs) My first three or four years in the music business were quite an evolution in the way I was perceived. I started out on Sun Records in Memphis with Jerry Lee and Carl, Roy Orbison and Elvis. I was considered rockabilly for three years until I started coming to Nashville. Then they kind of welcomed me into the Country music world.

LS: What was it like to work with all those people at Sun Records?

JC: It was great. Carl, Jerry, Roy and I just recently did the homecoming album, The Class Of '55, in Memphis. It was very nostalgic. So many nice memories came back when we went into that old studio again to record.

LS: Has there always been a special kind of camaraderie between the four of you?

JC: I think so because we worked so much together. We're very close and we know each other very well.

LS: Did you guys realize that you were going to be stars when you were back at Sun?

JC: I didn't think so--I never thought of that. All I ever wanted to do was sing on the radio at that time. I think Jerry Lee Lewis knew he was going to be a big star, but I don't think any of the rest of us did. (laughs) We all knew Elvis was going to be--we all knew that from day one.

LS: Of all of you, were you the one most rooted in traditional Country music?

JC: Yes, unless it was Jerry Lee Lewis. The first time I saw him was at Sun studios. He played some real old Country standard on the piano that I wouldn't have thought anybody but me would have remembered. He was singing some Jimmie Rodgers songs from the 20s and some old Country gospel things.

LS: You've never been afraid to try new sounds with your music. Wasn't "Ring Of Fire" one of the first times anybody used trumpets in a Country song?

JC: Yeah, I think so. Well, there had been a record before that called "Mexico," but this is the first time a Country artist had used that Tex-Mex trumpet sound on record.

LS: What made you decide to use it?

JC: I dreamed it. I dreamed I heard that sound on that song. I called Jack Clement in Nashville and had him set up a session and hire trumpets. He thought I was nuts, and so did everybody else for a while. It wasn't long before everybody realized that it was something special. That song was kind of unique. It wasn't the kind of sound that you keep doing with every song. I really haven't gone through all that many changes. It's just that from time to time, a song comes up that requires specialty arrangement and production. But basically, I keep it kind of safe because my fans don't want me to get too uptown with my music.

LS: Have you heard Dwight Yoakam's version of "Ring Of Fire"?

JC: Yeah, he does that very well. I love that.

LS: How has the music community in Nashville changed over the years?

JC: It's just so big, with so much going on that it's awesome. It's impossible for me to keep up with all the new artists and new recording studios and new groups coming along. But it's a healthy situation. The more competition, the better the music is going to be on the radio because there's more to choose from.

LS: What do you think of the different factions of Country music—the traditional Country, as opposed to the Country-rock?

JC: I think it's very healthy because the fans will weed out what they like. We're not talking about anything new here, Lisa. They were saying what you're saying back in 1955, 1956 when we—the Memphis Rockabillys—came along and bastardized traditional Country music in a lot of people's minds. A lot of those songs are standards now, and I think that a lot of standards are going to come out of today's new trends and new sounds.

LS: Was the Grand Ole Opry a big influence on you when you were young?

JC: Yes, it was. I used to listen to the Grand Ole Opry and several other radio shows that were on the air then that were very popular.

LS: Are you currently a member of the Grand Ole Opry?

JC: No, I'm not a member. I was years ago, in 1957 and '58. I had to quit because the Grand Ole Opry required that I be there 26 weeks out of the year—26 Saturday nights—and I had too many commitments and offers for good concert dates outside of Nashville to stay in Nashville that many weekends.

LS: How do you pick your movie projects?

JC: I get a lot of scripts in the mail. My agent in California, who's with the APA—the Agency for Performing Arts—and I get a lot of screenplays to read. But only about once a year will one come along that I really feel right about for me. My first love, of course, is music. But everyone in a while a script comes along that feels really right for me, like "Stagecoach" or "The Pride Of Jesse Helm," where I played an illiterate coal miner. Same thing this fall. We're doing a remake of John Wayne's classic "The Angel And The Badman" for CBS Television. I'm playing the John Wayne role.

LS: Who's going to be in that with you?

JC: I'm not sure who the angel's going to be. They haven't been able to find an angel in Hollywood. (laughs)

LS: Wasn't "The Highwayman" supposed to be a project just for you?

JC: Well, "The Highwayman" album began when I was doing a solo album with Chips Moman producing. I was doing an album that turned out to be called Rainbow. During that time, we had Kris, Willie & Waylon on my Christmas special in Switzerland. While we were over there, we started singing songs to each other and together. We talked about recording some together. When I was back in the studio finishing my album, Willie & Kris came to town. We talked and decided we'd all get together at the studio with Waylon. So I kind of abandoned my solo album project to do these things with them. Even after we were finished, The Highwayman was supposed to have been in my solo album. But we decided that it would be the banner song for the album. I really am proud of that because we enjoyed working together and the album was very successful. We've often talked about doing a Volume 2, but we haven't been able to work it out with each other's schedules going every direction.

LS: But it's still a possibility?

JC: Yeah, it's still a possibility, but a lot of things would have to be worked out. We've actually got four or five more songs recorded from the past session that weren't used in the album. So maybe that will happen sometime. I'm just not sure.

LS: Did you ever appear on Hee Haw?

JC: I've appeared on Hee Haw three times in the last 15 years. When the show first came out, I couldn't appear on it because I was under contract with ABC with my own weekly TV show, and then I had a contract with CBS to do a special every year, so it was quite a while there that I couldn't do another show like Hee Haw or Austin City Limits. Recently, I've been wanting to do all those shows. We did Austin City Limits recently.

LS: Do you think Hee Haw shaped the image of Country Music in a negative way?

JC: No, I don't think so. There's been some great artists on Hee Haw doing their thing. There's been no better Country Gospel performed anywhere than Grandpa Jones and Roy Clark and that bunch—the Gospel Quartet. That's some of my favorite music. I think Hee Haw has been a good show. It's the kind of show that doesn't take itself too seriously, and I think we need that sometimes. They have a lot of fun with the music.

LS: There haven't been a lot of Country artists who've had weekly variety shows—just you, Glen Campbell, Barbara Mandrell and now Dolly Parton. Do you think the TV series do anything to shape the image of Country music?

JC: Unless it's a regular weekly thing like Glen Campbell and I had, it's more of a showcasing of the talents of the artists. Usually it's a good thing. I understand Dolly's Christmas movie did very well. Some of the specials that are done don't make it, but I think it's good to have Country music specials like that.

LS: Did you ever worry about overexposure when you were doing your show?

JC: No, the demand was there. It's all a ratings game. As long as the people are watching, the network wants you on, and when the ratings drop they don't want you anymore. The network has a way of letting you know when you're getting overexposure—they drop your show!

LS: Did you have any reservations about recording "A Boy Named Sue"?

JC: Well, at first, I wasn't all that high on it. Then I had this concert set for San Quentin Prison. Shel Silverstein had been at our house and left "A Boy Named Sue" on a tape for me to learn. June told me that I should be sure to sing that song during the San Quentin concert. So, when I was doing the show, I just put the lyrics to the song on a music stand and sat down and sang it off the paper. That's the only recording I've ever done of it.

LS: Where did the "Man In Black" image start?

JC: June says black clothes are easy to travel with because they don't show dirt and wrinkle so bad. But really, when I was in Memphis and went to Nashville for the first time to appear on the Grand Ole Opry, the Country singers up there were wearing so many rhinestones and spangles and flashy things—cowboy hats and boots of every color in the rainbow—and I didn't like all those things. So, like the other guys from Memphis, I just wore a black jacket and pants. I felt good about my performance that night, so I stuck with it. It just feels comfortable. I don't feel right on stage in anything else. I wrote a song about "The Man In Black" because so many people ask me why I wear black. I also like to use black as a symbol of mourning some of the social ills and wrongs in this country. The black points the finger at me being a person who should be responsible for changing some of those wrongs.

LS: One last question—in the picture your people sent us for our cover, you're wearing a gorgeous jacket. Martha Moore at Mercury in Nashville tells me it was made out of John Schneider's pants.

JC: It is. It's made out of John Schneider's blue jeans. He gave me that when we were doing "Stagecoach" together. It's a duster he had made by a man who makes our clothes in California. It's a long coat that comes below my knees. I kept commenting about how much I loved the coat, so he just gave it to me. ●

INSIDE URBAN RADIO

WHISPERS intend to push HERB out of the top spot, and if they don't, NONA HENDRYX will. Biggest mover in the top 20 is the ISLEY BROTHERS' "Smooth Sailin' Tonight" which is a big request item for Wayne Walker, WHYZ- Greenville; Jay Riley, WNOO- Chattanooga, reports it's getting "killer" requests; and Mickey Arnold, WRDW-Augusta, says it's hot in all demos. STEPHANIE MILLS took a healthy jump from 32-17-11 over three weeks, and Steve Crumbley, WOWI-Norfolk and WPDQ-Jacksonville, phones that "She's the number one requested song from male and female 25-49 in both markets." JONATHAN BUTLER continues to prove he's hot with "Lies," and Dee Perry, WEKS-Atlanta, lets us know that females 18 -34 keep calling for it; Stan Tompkins, WTOY-Roanoke, reports the same is true there. L.L.COOL J debuts at number 34, and if you're looking for young demos, they're with LL. Tonya Pendleton, WILD-Boston, says, "LL smokes, so watch out, it's 'Bad' in Boston," and she's getting calls from the 9-24 year-olds. That's some research! Rob Neal, WXOK-Baton Rouge, called to say, "I'm crazy about it" when referring to the REGINA BELLE, which is getting calls there. Major requests for Licia Torres, KJLH-Los Angeles on it too. Record To Watch CHERYL LYNN is getting immediate phones for Frank Barrow, KRIZ-Seattle, and for Kapugi & Glen at WCRX-Chicago. ALEXANDER

O'NEAL is hot in St.Louis: Greg Beasley, KMJM, is getting phones from the 18+. Jimmy Smith, K-97-Memphis, reported the GEORGIO is already getting requests there, while Gary Weiler, WBLZ-Cincinnati, reports that it's his hottest record on phones. Gary also threw in that the PRINCE flip, "Shockadelica" is his most requested cut from the 18-24 year-old bunch. Kelly Karson, WTLC-Indianapolis, says the SHEILA E, "is hot in all demos." Thanks to all of you who mentioned that you're happy with the new look. It makes all our efforts well worth the time and trouble to know that you appreciate them. Betty

REVIEWS by Betty Hollars

SHALAMAR - Circumstantial Evidence (Solar) Here's proof that, despite a few changes in their line-up, Shalamar still has it!

MELBA MOORE - I'm Not Gonna Let You Go (Capitol) And the ballads go on....

READY FOR THE WORLD - Long Time Coming (MCA) This unique fusion of "Oh Sheila" and "Mary Goes Round" is mystifying!

CHERYL LYNN - If You Were Mine (Manhattan) One of this week's most added, look for it to get to the top in no time.

ATLANTIC STARR - One Lover At A Time (Warner Bros.) Quite a change of pace from the slow ballad that shows "Always" does not necessarily mean forever.

JOCELYN BROWN - Whatever Satisfies You (Warner Bros.) Looking for more satisfaction than "Ego Maniac." New twist for Jellybean...it's slow - but it's good!

ROOKIE RADIO

Simon says, "Everybody put your hands in the air." Well, as the results of the Winter sweeps dribble down, we find a lot of changes taking place in markets both big and small. A lot of fledgling programmers and music directors will get a first chance to put their talents and experience on the line. This week, we thought we'd take a look at some of the problems facing the first-time programmer.

Perhaps you're a jock who moved up in the ranks. Or maybe the station changed hands and the new owners want some new ideas from some young-thinking qualified people. Perhaps it was just luck and timing. Whatever the reason, you're going to have to keep some basics in mind if you're going to have any chance at all--and even the veterans need to review something every now and then.

SIGNAL PARITY

If you are a new programmer and/or music director, you must have the tools to win, and one of those tools is a competitive signal. Take a full day and just drive around your signal area. See where the holes are, and compare those obvious holes with your zip codes. Do you lose listeners where you can't be heard? What about that multi-pathing? Does it occur a lot when you're driving from the city to the suburbs, particularly en route to the busiest shopping centers? What about the beaches? These are all problems that must be addressed. A less-than-competitive signal can affect the way everything sounds--the music, the jocks and the promos--and can make a real difference in how the audience perceives your station. The good news is that you may be able to do something about it.

Arrange a meeting with your chief engineer and your GM, and see what can be worked out. Perhaps there is new equipment available that will enhance your signal. Maybe you really need a new transmitter--a lot of old transmitters were just never designed to handle the requirements of today's digital recordings.

COUNTER-PROGRAMMING

Sometimes perception may make all the difference between a slight victory, a real win, or no score at all. If you can't be heard in some areas that receive Arbitron diaries, you might want to increase your off-air visibility in those pockets. Billboards or busbacks would certainly help. If you have a van or newswagon with your logo on them, make certain you visit those neighborhoods as often as possible. You might also want to plan a strong bumper-sticker campaign around those areas.

Then, you must consider what your competition is doing in those areas where you are weaker, and try to do something to gain even a slight advantage. One of the keys to counter-programming is research. One station I know came up with a hybrid sound derived from combining the hits with a few LPs, and some careful screening of the music that was played between seven and midnight Monday through Thursday. Within a short time, the station began to close the gap between itself and the immediate direct competition, and wound up with a good balance between itself and the other formatted frequency--a balance that would have been impossible with the research and follow-through.

ISOLATING THE PROBLEMS

One of the lesser-known things that any new programmer, music director or air talent should keep in mind, regardless of market size, is Arbitron's new Differential Survey Treatment (DST). Although you may hear that DST favors only black and ethnic stations, in reality that is not true. Arbitron recently proved that DST can actually help Top 40 and Album stations, as well as some high-energy A/Cs.

We recently reviewed the diaries for a powerful Urban FM station in a medium market with a large black population. Then, we wound up looking at the Top 40 station, which at the time wasn't playing much black or crossover music at all. When the results of the next survey were published, the Urban station dropped three shares. What they should have remembered is that there are a lot of non-ethnics living in High-Density Black Areas (HDBA) who get the same incentive premiums as minorities do to complete and return diaries.

That's why variety is important. Not everyone wants to hear the same music all the time--even the hits. If you get a song that has been around for a long time (and your research shows it's still hot) you might want to do an edit from the album or 12" that will give new flavor to the song, and new life to your radio station.

For programmers, there is still no substitute for wisdom and common sense. Wisdom is nothing more than common sense refined by learning and experience. And one of the big advantages of being young is that common sense doesn't get in the way of doing something everybody "knows" is impossible. That's why we need some young people with new ideas who are willing to take chances to find the next new horizon.

Finally, don't be afraid of criticism. Remember, it's far better to be criticized than ignored. How good a red-hot idea is depends on how much heat it loses when somebody throws cold water on it. ●

DAVE SHOLIN'S PERSONAL PICKS — SINGLES

U2 - I Still Haven't Found What I'm Looking For (Island) No surprise that a handful of aggressive stations have been playing this the past few weeks. Why wait? Hypnotic, chantlike chorus is sure to be heard throughout most of the summer of '87. Sounds like another number one record to me.

CUTTING CREW - One For The Mockingbird (Virgin) Act two from the guys who took their debut single to number one! Anyone who's listened to the Crew's album knows it holds several potential hits. Expect radio and the audience to second this choice.

SAMMY HAGAR - Give To Live (Geffen) He may not be able to drive 55 but it appears he can slow down just enough to inject total emotion into one tremendous rock/ballad. Eddie Van Halen assisted Sammy on a top-flight production which deserves to become his biggest pop hit to date.

THE OUTFIELD - Since You've Been Gone (Columbia) Once again they cover all bases and then some. Combining Outfield's trademarked style with a vocal arrangement a la "The Police" should prove to be another winning game plan.

SUZANNE VEGA - Luka (A&M) Spent part of the Memorial Day weekend checking out MTV, and that's when I became a fan of this very special song. Ron and Kent raved about it and I gladly add my vote.

FLEETWOOD MAC - Seven Wonders (Warner Bros.) Everyone takes a turn on the latest Fleetwood Mac album, and this time it's Stevie Nicks up front. It's certainly no wonder why millions of fans have remained loyal for nearly two decades.

ROGER WATERS - Radio Waves (Columbia) A concept album by a former member of Pink Floyd isn't exactly where you'd think a commercial single would be lurking. Prepare yourself. Lo and behold, this week's biggest surprise should send a production director into drop-in nirvana.

THE ART OF NOISE - Dragnet (Chrysalis/China) One of television's most recognizable themes gets a makeover for the silver screen. Hopefully, the Dan Aykroyd/Tom Hanks film will be as much fun as this novel entry.

RON FELL'S PERSONAL PICKS — ALBUMS

STEVE EARLE & THE DUKES - Exit O (MCA)

Though they are considered the three young bucks of Country music these days, I don't associate Steve Earle's music with that of Dwight Yoakam or Randy Travis. Stylistically, Steve seems closer to Tom Petty and other rural route rockers. Rather than lathering the soapy sentimentality of traditional Country arrangements, Steve's music draws on more modern mixes of production, eschewing the potential yodel and hokum of the Hee Haw set. In our recent cover story, Jheryl Busby, MCA VP of Talent Acquisitions and Artist Development, noted that Steve had a real shot at attracting Album and Top 40 radio with his music, and Album radio is already coming on line. Check out RAIN CAME DOWN, NOWHERE ROAD, ANGRY YOUNG MAN and I AIN'T NEVER SATISFIED.

RICHARD MARX - RICHARD MARX (Manhattan)

As part of our cover story of June 13th of last year, David Foster alerted us to a "young, up-and-coming writer who's gonna be huge." That was Richard Marx. And here he is with his own album and a hot new single, DON'T MEAN NOTHING, supported by former Eagles Joe Walsh, Randy Meisner and Timothy Schmidt. On the album, the track is positioned between SHOULD'VE KNOWN BETTER and ENDLESS SUMMER NIGHTS, which are more reminiscent of mid-range Toto songs (and I mean that as a compliment to Richard). A strong debut.
