How MTV unplugged Rock 'n' Roll

This Week.....

Rock and roll is a funny thing. It was founded on raw power—of the song, of the singing, and of the playing—but when you pull the plug on it, take the electricity away, it can become even more powerful. That's the case with MTV Unplugged, which let rockers go acoustic on a Sunday evening series four years ago and saw a cute little idea become an industry power. Unplugged, directed by MTV's Alex Coletti (above), has helped Eric Clapton, Rod Stewart and others score their biggest hits in years, featuring Elton John, Paul Simon, Paul McCartney, Sting and 10,000

Maniacs (right) along the way; it's reintroduced live and acoustic music to radio, and it's about to launch a new season. GAVIN plugs into the Unplugged phenomenon. We also talk with Westwood One's Norm Pattiz about the big, complicated deal his company made with Unistar and Infinity, roll out the latest numbers from Arbitron, hear from DJ Tony Miranda (below) about why he had to fend off a woman making a request, and listen in on radio's biggest mouth,

Howard Stern, as he makes the big pitch for his big new book. Among those leading the way in the GAVIN-only GO Chart are R.E.M., John Mellencamp, Sting, Mariah Carey, Bryan Adams and Matthew Sweet. And in the Gavin Yellow Pages of Radio Natalie Duitsman finds that broadcasting to "best friends" can generate a big audience of those friends.

The real

After doing her best Babebrham Lincoln imitation in the smash movie "Wayne's World," Tia Carrere finally gets to play herself. GQ calls her solo debut "exotic, grooving, organic pop." We just call it Tia Carrere.

MEAT LOAF

Meat Loaf, Again? That's how one magazine greeted the news of Mr. Loaf's return to the charts. It's easy to have fun with a guy who gives himself such a name, but he's pretty serious when it comes to being out of the spotlight for a dozen years. He talks about his ups and downs with GAVIN's carnivorous Top 40 Editor, Dave Sholin.

Westwood One Buys Unistar

BY BEVERLY MIRE

In a deal that will make it the second-largest radio network in the United States, Westwood One has announced its intention to buy Unistar Radio Networks from Infinity Broadcasting for $101.3 million. In a related move, Infinity is buying 5 million shares of Westwood One stock at $3 each, making the company a 25% shareholder.

When the deal becomes complete in January, Infinity CEO Mel Karmazin will become Westwood One's CEO. Current Westwood One chairman and CEO Norm Pattiz, who holds over 50 percent voting control of the new company, will remain the company's chairman. We are all very excited," says Pattiz. "The transaction will make Infinity Broadcasting Corporation the largest holder of Westwood One common stock and will create a strategic alliance between one of America's most important radio station groups and a major radio network. I look forward to working with Mel to make it happen."

Once the transaction is complete, Westwood One will take in between 30 and 40 percent of advertising dollars spend on networks. That's second only to ABC, which reels in 45 percent. Its talent lineup will be formidable. Currently Westwood One's roster includes Larry King, Casey Kasem and Pat Buchanan. Unistar is home to, among others, G. Gordon Liddy and Don Imus. Infinity's stable boasts Howard Stern.

Recently Westwood One, in an effort to stem losses, sold its radio stations and, according to Pattiz, is still trying to sell Radio & Records. Infinity, on the other hand, is the darling of Wall Street. Already owner of 22 stations, it signed an agreement last week to purchase WPGC/AM&FM—Washington, D.C.

"I think Mel (Karmazin) and I will complement each other," Pattiz told GAVIN. "Mel is talented in dealing with Wall Street, and I built this company by making radio programs. It's going to be a pleasure to be able to focus on what I like to do rather than what I've had to focus on over the last three years because of the difficulties in the network radio business."

The three-pronged deal is the latest in a series of shrewd moves by Karmazin. In addition to strengthening his position in the network marketplace, he has an option to purchase 3 million more shares of Westwood One's common stock.

"The strategic consolidation of the network business of Unistar and Westwood One under Infinity management will position the combined company for future growth and benefit the stockholders of Westwood One and Infinity," Karmazin said.

FTC Probes CD Pricing

The Federal Trade Commission (FTC) is widening its investigation into price fixing of new CDs and has summoned documents from major labels. MCA and Time Warner have supplied information, and Sony Music, BMG, EMI Music and PolyGram are also part of the investigation.

"We are cooperating fully and are confident the FTC will conclude that we have complied with the law in all respects," said a Warner Music Group spokesperson.

Sony, CEMA, WEA and UNI's distribution arms are already being probed by the FTC as a result of a lawsuit filed by retailers charging that they violated anti-trust laws when co-op dollars were withheld from stores that sold used CDs. At issue here is the fact that despite increasing popularity, the price of CDs have remained the same for the past decade and in some cases have risen.

While quick to cooperate, record executives say the investigation will go nowhere. "We've done nothing wrong," says one. "There haven't been any violations."

RIAA Takes a Second Look

The Recording Industry Association of America, bearer of good and bad tidings for the record business, is re-evaluating the way it gets its information.

Last year, the RIAA had good news—that record sales were up 17 percent, to more than $9 billion, with an 11.8 percent increase in units shipped.

This year, there will be no news for a while. The mid-year figures, usually released in October, are being withheld, said Tim Sites of RIAA, "until we can be assured that these are the best possible figures to reflect the business our companies are doing."

Two record distributors, CEMA and Sony, believing last year's figures to be inflated, suggested that the organization review its methodology. The RIAA compiles reports from record companies on the number of albums shipped to stores. The RIAA's market research committee has decided to factor in market percentages of non-member labels and distributors.

While it conducts its review, RIAA does plan to issue its 1993 year-end figures as usual.

Requests and Ammunition

A woman armed with a semiautomatic rifle broke into KOSO (KO93)-Modesto, Calif. October 8 to make a request.

Police said Lori Hoard, 24, got into the station's offices that Friday night by smashing through a window with the butt of a .22 caliber rifle. She then confronted DJ Tony Miranda, who was hosting California After Dark, the A/C station's evening requests and dedications show.

"She said, 'All I want you to do is play one song,'" Miranda told GAVIN.

"You're crazy; get out of here!" said Miranda, who'd called police moments before, when he heard the window being attacked.

"She bent to chamber a round and fumbled," said Miranda, "and I wrestled the rifle away." The DJ ran out of the studio, and when he saw Hoard pursuing him, he hit her head with the rifle, knocking her out.

He then went toward the parking lot to wait for the police, who arrived within minutes. To assure that police wouldn't mistaken him for a gunman, he said, "I flung the rifle out into the lot—and it discharged."

Police arrived and, after a short standoff, arrested Hoard. An officer noted that the woman "had an odor of alcohol on her breath and was noticeably upset."

Miranda, who was off the air for a half-hour, didn't know that night what song the invader wanted to hear. When police questioned her in jail the next day, she couldn't recall it, either. Later, a former boyfriend told authorities that the song she'd wanted to hear was Meat Loaf's 1978 hit, "Two Out of Three Ain't Bad." She had called Miranda's show, the former boyfriend said, and when she encountered one too many busy signals, she took action.

Miranda was unhurt; Hoard was booked for burglary and assault with a deadly weapon, and KOSO aired the song Monday morning.

ARBs Offer Reasons to Believe

Chicago's Urban WGCI hopped a whopping rung and three quarters as it posted a 6.9-8.5 gain. Longtime Top 40 winner WBBM/FM stayed at #3 but dropped for the first time in many moons, 5.7-4.9. Country WUSN/FM dropped to 4.5 from 5.7. In San Francisco, longtime winner KGO stayed on top with a 7.8, and KNBR rode on the coattails of the San Francisco Giants' tremendous baseball season from 6.1-6.7. KMEL danced its way from 4.4-4.7, but competition KSOL is nipping at its heels with a 4.3. The format switch from Nostalgic to Oldies took a toll on KFRC/AM, which was the #2 music station in town: It took a nosedive, 4.2-2.7. In Philly WMMR inched up a notch to 6.7 from 6.6 and WIOQ went from 5.7-6.0 and WYSP held at 5.8. Boston's WXKS held on to #1 but dropped significantly, 8.3-7.7 while its competitor WJMN jumped dramatically, 4.0-5.8

Sony Takes a Big Risk

BY DAVID BERAN

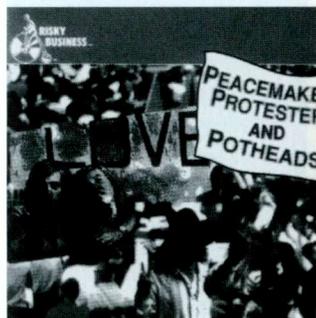

Sony Music Special Products has launched the Risky Business label, which is dedicated to exploring roads not taken in the arena of multi-artist compilations.

The label plans to release ten albums per quarter with quirky themes and eclectic artists in a Rhinoceros fashion. Bright pink borders on packages will clearly define Risky Business merchandise.

The initial lineup, which will hit the streets October 19, includes titles such as Rubber Souled (R&B legends covering Beatles songs), Dangerous Women (modern rock's ferocious females), and Double Knit Dance Hits (an assemblage of infernal, eternal '70s disco staples).

Harold Fein, senior VP of Sony Music Special

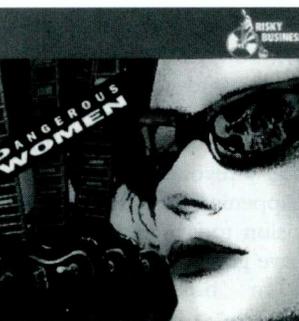

Products calls Risky Business "an opportunity to enter the arena of multi-artist compilations with our own irreverent and intelligent ideas. We have access to Sony Music Distribution's unparalleled clout in the market place and entree to the unmatched catalog resources of Sony Music and other important labels." A Myers Media publicist told GAVIN that "Sony is very open about soliciting concepts and brainstorming for ideas."

Gleaning from the Sony

Music repertoire and other sources has produced songs such as Sly & The Family

Stone's "Don't Call Me Nigger, Whitey" (on Songs Of Peacemakers, Protesters And Potheads). The "Best Friend Theme From TV's Courtship Of Eddie's Father," by Puppet, shows up on a compilation of weirdness called Guilty Pleasures, while those who've been looking for Brute Force's "Tapeworm Of Love" will find it on the psychedelic collection, Whole Lotta Lava.

Howard Stern Reveals Some 'Private Parts'

BY BEN FONG-TORRES

Howard Stern, the self-styled "King of All Media" who could not be bothered with media interviews, has done a batch of them in recent weeks, all to promote his book, Private Parts.

Not that he even needs to do them. The book, a 448-page compilation of self-deprecating memoirs, outrageous opinions, and acidic attacks—all laced with Stern's singular brand of low-brow comedy—hit the bookstores October 8. Several stores reportedly sold out on its first day, with total sales estimated at between 50,000 and 75,000 copies. In New York, customers lined up outside Barnes & Noble while employees sold the books directly out of their shipment boxes. Simon & Schuster ordered a reprinting of at least another 500,000 copies, the biggest re-order in its history.

Not had for a "shock jock," which is how Stern continues to be labeled, despite his long having transcended that label. Stern hasn't yet conquered all media, but he's getting close, with his morning show on 13 stations, with his TV show (on E!) and numerous talk show appearances, and, now, with the book. He's a news-maker for his unending battles with the FCC, which has fined his station's owner more than $1 million in fines for alleged "indecentcy" on his show (and, most recently, with WLUP-AM-Chicago, which dropped him).

Weeks before the book came out, Stern spoke with, among others, Entertainment Weekly and The Los Angeles Times. Here's some of what he had to say:

On the FCC:

"...I don't know who these five guys are who are arbitrarily deciding what you shouldn't hear. Setting no guidelines except if it's 'patently offensive to the community,' we don't want it. You tell me what I'm saying on the radio that could be more offensive than people killing each other on the street. That's what's going on in my community."

On his early interest in radio:

"My father gave me an old Wollensack tape recorder and I'd do shows into it. I'd put the microphone on the phone and I'd start making phony phone calls to people. I'd pretend to be Gene Rayburn (the TV game show host) and give away prizes. I'd do insane stuff like that and tape it and make it part of the shows I'd do when I was a little kid."

"...When I was a kid, I was thinking, 'One day, I want everyone in New York to know my name.' That was the big goal. And the fact that that's worked out blows my mind."

On his role in reshaping radio:

"Nowadays we turn on the radio and everyone's talking. And I feel directly responsible for that...Most guys in radio all had jive voices—big, deep, dumb radio-announcer voices—and never said anything more than what was written on cards for them. I do think that I revolutionized what's happening in radio and television today. I think things have gotten a lot looser."

On being called a "genius:"

"To me, genius is the guy who invented the polio vaccine. When you talk about a guy on the radio saying the word "vagina," it's hard to take credit for being a genius."

On talking about his sex life on the air:

"I think my wife (Alison) is proud of me. There are certain aspects that make her uncomfortable, when I discuss our sex life. I know they do, and I do it anyway.

It's probably bad for a marriage, and it's not right, but I do it...With my wife, I try to say, 'This is what I do for a living. This is the way I know to be funny.' The way I know to be funny is to really comment on what is going on in my life, and 90 percent of my life is around her."

On his morning show crew:

"The fact that they can deal with the fact that I get all the credit means they are all twice the person I am."

On staying with his radio show:

"I don't want to quit. I want to be successful. The idea that you can do the same show and be on all over the country, that's exciting to me. You'd love to be a big shot and say, 'Yeah, I'd love to leave it.' But this is what I do well...I know I have a good thing. I may be a lot of things. I may even be what the FCC thinks. But an idiot, I'm not."

Something New...

Welcome to a new feature, Campaign of the Week. Each issue, GAVIN will spotlight a new recording and the record label's marketing plans and strategies. Marketing, product development or artist development representatives interested in being included in future columns should contact Beverly Mire at GAVIN.

Radio Talkers Invade TV

If Tom Snyder, Leeza Gibbons and Downtown Julie Brown can go from television to radio why can't Bruce Williams, Dr. Joy Browne and Barry Farber move from radio to TV?

They can and will.

Talk TV, one of several all-talk cable channels lining up programming for a 1994 launch, has signed the three radio talkers. Described by its creators as "the Larry King show, 24 hours a day," Talk TV is negotiating with Telecommunications, Inc. (TCI) for distribution.

The channel joins such other announced ventures as the Talk Channel from Multimedia, America's Talking (from CNBC), the Therapy Channel (24 hours for couch couches), and Recovery Net/The Wellness Channel.

Is former 91X San Diego personality Oz Medina heading for very green pastures in Boulder, Colorado?

Steve Hegwood, PD at WJLB Detroit, brings Tre' Black (aka Waxmaster Torey) of WQMG (POWER 97) Greensboro, North Carolina on board. Time slot TBA.

There were celebs everywhere during the ultra-hot jazz happening at New York's Village Vanguard last week. GAVIN was on hand to witness Joshua Redman played with a quartet that included Pat Metheny. Spotted in the crowd: Milt Jackson, Natalie Cole, Kenny Garrett, Wallace Roney, Geri Allen and Joe Lovano. ### SHO-TALK

Midnight Oil's "Outbreak Of Love" North American tour hit San Francisco the end of September and the band won a lot of love from their fans. Before the sold-out show at the Bill Graham Civic Auditorium the group signed at least 1,000 autographs for those who brought the Oil's single, "Outbreak Of Love" from the Earth And Sun And Moon album. After the show the Oil's headed to the DNA club to perform at a 12:30 a.m. show to benefit the Surfriider Foundation, a Huntington Beach, Calif.-based non-profit environmental group established by ecology-conscious surfers. The show sold out by word of mouth. Peter Garrett spearheads the band's involvement in social and political issues and the Oil's music is strengthened by this passion...

Tom Petty and The Heartbreakers will release their first hits collection on November 9. Titled Greatest Hits, the MCA Records release features more than an hour of music including 16 classics and two newly recorded songs produced by Rick Ruben: "Mary Jane's Last Dance," the album's forthcoming single, and "Something In The Air," an interpretation of the 1969 Thunderclap Newman hit Petty has performed on tour. Petty and his band will perform a special concert in Gainesville, Fla. (Petty's hometown) on November 4 that Westwood One will broadcast live on some 150 stations in different parts of the world...

Motown's multi-platinum Grammy winners Boyz II Men has released an album of original songs titled Christmas Interpretations. "Let It Snow," the album's first single, was co-written by the group's Wanya Morris and singer Brian McKnight produced and is featured on the ballad. On October 30 the Boyz will perform for President Bill Clinton and Hillary Rodham Clinton, Vice President Al Gore and Tipper Gore and Congress at "President's Night at Ford's Theater" in Washington, D.C. Later this year the benefit will air on the ABC-TV network as a prime time special...

The Red Hot Chili Peppers are going through guitarists like wildfire. Jessie Tobias, who replaced Arik Marshall left the band before they started recording their new album. Dave Navarro of Jane's Addiction fame has taken over for Tobias, who won the job in an audition earlier this year, but recording is still some time away. It'll be interesting to see if Navarro makes it through the wait...

The Jim Rose Circus had to cancel their 33 city U.S. tour because Rose ate too many light bulbs during television interviews he did when the band was in Europe. Rose can easily eat one light bulb a day but one day he ate five and as a result suffered serious stomach cramps and bleeding bowels. The tour is scheduled to restart in Denver on October 16. In the meantime, the band's new concert home video that's in stores now...

Motorhead are releasing their next album, Bastards, on their own label, Motorhead Records. It's due out in late October and will be distributed by German label, ZYX.

Friends Of Radio

BRUCE COHN

Artists Manager

for new stuff, and KSAN for country. I'm managing Highway 101 and a new band with alumni of the Doobies, Poco, Foster & Lloyd, and New Grass Revival.

Your proudest accomplishment:

The whole Doobie Brothers career. A major high point was the first single, "Listen to the Music," hitting radio. And the four Grammys the band won.

What are you doing beyond music?

Making fine wine and olive oil (B.R. Cohn, with vineyards in Glen Ellen, Calif., has won awards for both its wine and its olive oil.)

If I owned a radio station, I would...

Try and broaden the playlist. Back to the old days, when there was more variety.

Current home:

Glen Ellen, Calif.

Hometown:

Chicago

What were the first stations you remember listening to?

WLS. Dick Biondi lived two blocks away from me. I used to go bang on his door and get his unwanted 45s.

Favorite stations:

KRQR, KOME, KSJO, and Live 105

Mikkey Dee says, "This is a hard and ruthless, take no prisoners album." "It probably should get the electric chair 'cause it's gonna murder you," Lemmy claims. Wurzel chimes in, "It's great to be kicking arse again." Phil Campbell was incoherent at press time, but we hear he likes the album, too...

Duff, the rock band led by Guns N' Roses bassist Duff McKagan made its live debut performance, September 26 at Webster Hall in New York City with labelmates My Little Funhouse opening. The gig launched McKagan's solo album, Believe In Me, which was released September 28 on Geffen Records worldwide. McKagan sings lead vocals and plays rhythm guitar. The band also includes Joie Mastrokalos on lead guitar, Teddy Andreadis on keyboards, Aaron Brooks on drums and Richard Duguay on bass. Duff are headed for Europe where they'll open arena shows for the Scorpions. They're scheduled to do 35 concerts in 12 countries before kicking off a U.S. tour in January...

Brian Setzer, guitarist/frontman of the Stray Cats, combines his universally respected guitar style with the big-band sound on his new project, The Brian Setzer Orchestra. The band is currently recording their Hollywood Records debut, which is slated for release in February, 1994. The 17-piece orchestra includes five saxophones, four trombones, four trumpets, bass, piano and drums and is fronted by Setzer and his classic Gretsch guitar. Producer Al Schmitt has worked with such talent as Sam Cooke, Frank Sinatra, The Jefferson Airplane, Barbra Streisand and Natalie Cole. If you're going to be in New York on October 26, you might want to catch the band at the Supper Club...

Bits & Pieces: TAD is on the road with Alice In Chains. Their new album for Mechanic Records will be released on October 19. Right now they're touring the midwest, but certainly a much wider tour is planned. ●

SHO-PIECES

MADONNA

After being blasted by some of the British press for the erotic content of her tour, Girlie Show, Madonna said, "I'm not interested in preaching to the converted. So basically, I am going to the places where I have the most enemies. That is why I started in London."

PAUL SIMON

The recently-released boxed set of Paul Simon's first 29 years of music does not include many Simon and Garfunkel songs of the '60s like "Scarborough Fair," "Homeward Bound" and "Feelin' Groovy." Apparently Sony Music only agreed to license eight of the Simon & Garfunkel recordings it owns to Warner Bros.

GUNS N' ROSES

Among the songs recorded for the next Guns N' Roses album is a cover of the Skyliners' 1959 hit, "Since I Don't Have You."

MERLE HAGGARD

Merle Haggard has emerged from Chapter 11 bankruptcy protection by selling the publishing rights to 600 of his songs for a cool $3 million.

JAMES TAYLOR

James Taylor's new single, "Secrets O' Life," is a new live version of a song that first appeared on his 1977 album, //, his first for Columbia Records.

JOHN JARVIS

In 1992 John Jarvis won a Grammy for Country Song Of The Year for writing the Judds' "Love Can Build A Bridge." Last month he won a Grammy and a CMA for Vince Gill's "I Still Believe In You."

JIMMY CLIFF

Jamaican-born Jimmy Cliff's real name is James Chambers.

BRYAN ADAMS

One of the biggest selling singles of all time is Bryan Adams' "(Everything I Do) I Do It For You" from the soundtrack to Robin Hood: Prince Of Thieves. However, Bryan was not the producer's first choice for lead singer. Adams only got a shot at the song after Peter Cetera, Julia Fordham and Lisa Stansfield were either eliminated or took themselves out of the running.

CYPRESS HILL

In 1968, B-Real's mother escaped from a Cuban prison where she was serving time for aiding an anti-Castro paramilitary organization called Alpha 66.

THE STORY

Jonatha Brooke and Jennifer Kimball began singing together while students at Amherst College in Amherst, Massachusetts.

REBA MCENTIRE

Among the non-music related enterprises run by Reba McEntire is Starstruck Farms, a stable of 36 thoroughbred race horses.

KIKI EBSEN

Kiki Ebsen is the youngest of actor Buddy Ebsen's six daughters. Buddy starred in the Beverly Hillbillies television series and Barnaby Jones.

EARTH, WIND & FIRE

Earth, Wind & Fire's founder Maurice White was a session drummer for many Chess Records sessions in the early '60s, and played dates with, among others, The Impressions and Muddy Waters.

KELLY WILLIS

A self-described "hippy slob," Kelly Willis sees a thin line between country music's tackiness and cool. In a recent US Magazine piece she said, "What folks don't always appreciate is that a lot of country's so damned corny it's camp. You can't help but love it."

JACK MCDUFF

Thirty years ago Brother Jack McDuff's jazz ensemble recruited a new guitarist, 19-year old Pittsburgh native George Benson.

BETH NIELSEN CHAPMAN

Beth Nielsen Chapman not only co-wrote Tanya Tucker's 1988 #1 single "Strong Enough To Bend" (with Don Schlitz), she sang backing vocals on the track.

GLORIA ESTEFAN

Cuban-born Gloria Fajardo came to America in 1960 at the age of two. She married Emilio Estefan in 1978.

GAVIN ROCKS

ARTIST PROFILES BY SHEILA RENÉ

MUZZA CHUNKA

LINEUP: Drummer John Oreshnick; bassist Nick Steinberg; guitarist Dave Teague; vocalist Paul Dybdahl

LABEL: Rowdy Records/Arista

ALBUM: Fishy Pants

FIRST SINGLE: "Float"

PRODUCERS: Tom Rothrock and Rob Schnapf

JOHN ORESHNICK AND NICK STEINBERG TALK ABOUT:

THE ORIGIN OF THE BAND'S

NAME: "At one time it was a Native American term meaning "iron road," i.e. railroad. More importantly it's a good description of how we really sound." — Nick Steinberg

A&R: "We were out on a U.S. tour that we had booked ourselves and were playing in New Jersey. John Rassel from Rowdy Records was managing a band on the same bill. At first he couldn't get anyone out to see us. They finally caught us in Los Angeles and we just liked the way they did business." —John Oreshnick

THE PRODUCERS: "Tom Rothrock and Rob Schnapf had started the Bongload label and asked us to record with them. We put a four-song EP and a 7" single out on their label. Two of the songs "Insects & Condiments" and "Chicken Lamp" ended up on the album." —John Oreshnick

WRITING: "It's actually a group effort. We've been playing these songs for a while so the hardest thing about doing the album was picking the tunes. We have enough left over for another album.. Tom and Rob were really good in the pre-production stages. They helped us go through the songs and also helped a lot in the writing. It was like working with close friends. We write the music and Paul gets inspired and lays his lyrics right on top." —Nick Steinberg

TOURING: "We've pretty much done everything ourselves. We put out the records, booked our tours, made stickers and put out the flyers. Nick still makes out T-shirts. That's how we got noticed in the first place by being out on tour. Playing live is our main motivation." —John Oreshnick

STICK

LINEUP: Vocalist Mark Smirl; bassist Darrell Brannock; drummer Tim Mohn; guitarist Mike Tobin

LABEL: Arista Records

ALBUM: Heavy Bag

PRODUCTION: E. J. Rose and Stick

FIRST SINGLE: "No Groovy"

MIKE SMIRL TALKS ABOUT:

A&R: "Mitch Cohen is responsible for signing Every Mother's Nightmare, Babylon A.D. and us. We're not at all alike, we're the closest to rock that Arista has except for The Kinks who are one of the best bands ever."INFLUENCES: "Punk rock. The American hardcore movement up through 1985. Tim Mohn our drummer and I draw out influences from that period."

THE KANSAS SCENE: "There are a lot more bands getting ready to break out of this area. Season To Risk is from Kansas City. Cher U.K. a band who got into trouble for using the name Cher just signed with Red Decibel and Molly Maguire is signed with Chameleon. Kill Creek is talking to Mammoth. The scene has always been here, but now it's getting national recognition."

THE WRITING: "Fuel" is carried over from the Kill Whitey days. In those days five members would go down to in the basement and write. I'm the primary lyricist, but we all work together."

TOURING: "We were doing a lot of weekend tours and one off shows but we've finally hooked up with Overkill. We're having a fantastic time with them. They're giving us a lot of advice and their crew is very helpful. We want to make our shows better and the more experience we get playing the better we'll be. We've been working hard for a long time and it's finally paying off."

Inside Top 40

When was the last time you played 100 songs in an hour? Paul Walker, PD and morning personality at OK95 Tri-Cities, Washington, laughingly admits that his unknowing listeners were probably confused when they tuned in on a recent Sunday night. What took place was the first annual OK95 Music Survey, which is in essence an on-air auditorium test. Paul and his morning partner, Jolynn Winter, hosted this one-hour experiment which, he reports, provided some very helpful information.

Walker was somewhat surprised by listener response. He says, "One of the main reasons behind creating this feature was perception—getting the audience to believe our station really listens to them and values their opinion. In fact, our teases used the line 'OK95, the station that listens to you. Keep listening for a chance to give your opinion.' We gave them more details as the day approached."

* Indicates Debut

To keep a lid on cost, a trade was arranged with the local paper which ran ads for three consecutive days. They read, "Help choose the music you hear on the radio!" Listed below were 100 blank lines, each with five categories ranging from 1) "Tired of a song" to 5) "A favorite." During the show the audience heard simple intros. "That was song number one, here's song number two," and so on. Between every 25 selections, a song not on the list was played to allow people a chance to rest. Immediately after hearing the 15-second hook listeners would check the appropriate box.

Walker was especially pleased with the high return rate. 450 surveys came back, a high percentage for a market his size. He says he took a "seat of the pants" approach when choosing the songs. "I picked some oldies and currents—most of which were recurrents." Walker also tested some titles the station never played and even a few his A/C competitor played. "We felt they were stiffs," he says, "and it turned out we were right because they came back with terrible results."

Today's Best Music!

"The only problem," Walker says, "is that respondents skewed young. 70% were under 18. That reflects the same demo that calls in requests. "But nevertheless we got a lot of useful information from the 30% of adults who participated." Taking number one honors as the best testing oldie was Phil Collins' "Against All Odds."

Walker plans to have a "second annual OK95 Music Survey" in 1994. When that occurs, he'll add space to allow people an opportunity to write in more comments.

If you'd like to do something similar, Walker offers this advice: 1) "You must promote it effectively. Tease it two weeks in front. Run the survey blank at least three days to give the public sufficient opportunity to get a copy. If they happen to miss the paper one day they can still catch it." 2) "Give away some type of grand prize to ensure participants follow-through." All the information Walker received is now in the stations' database (they didn't have one prior to this), making it possible for him to send letters to anyone who sent back a survey inviting them to drop by and pick up a CD, concert tickets, etc. 3) "Choose songs

MR. BIG

THEY ARE: Eric Martin (voice), Paul Gilbert (guitar), Billy Sheehan (bass), Pat Torpey (drums)

HOMETOWNS & BIRTHDAYS: Eric (Queens, N.Y. - October 10), Paul (Pittsburgh, Penn. - November 6), Billy (Buffalo, N.Y. - March 19), Pat (Cleveland, Ohio - December 13)

LABEL: Atlantic

SENIOR VICE PRESIDENT, PROMOTION: Andrea Ganis

LATEST ALBUM/CURRENT SINGLE: Bump Ahead/"Wild World"

ORIGIN OF GROUP'S NAME: "We came up with the name from scanning '70s rock albums. We found Free's Fire & Water record and it had an obscure song on it called "Mr. Big," which all of us knew from playing it in our previous bands."

GROUP'S MUSICAL INFLUENCES: The Beatles, Led Zeppelin, Motown, Jimi Hendrix and Frank Sinatra

IT'S SAID: "Mr. Big exploded in '91 with 'To Be With You.' This #1 track is still a strong recurrent. Now Mr. Big returns with 'Wild World,' their hit version of Cat Stevens' classic, which is already generating great requests and strong sales wherever it's played. It's been said that you can't know where you're going until you know where you've been—combine Mr. Big's '90s sound with a timeless song from the '70s and you've got a hit!"

depending on what your on-air objective happens to be."

It's important to note that Paul Walker considers himself a gambler. "All too often there seems to be too many programmers who just want to stick with the tried and true," he says. That's a good point and one that the University of California's football team should have remembered when they played the University of Washington on October 9. For those who missed it, Cal was ahead 23-10 with less than three minutes left in the game, but instead of trying to add to their score, The Bears worked at running out the clock with a series of running plays. The tactic failed and a Huskies TD, onside kick and yet another Washington score in the final minute proved fatal.

MARIAH CAREY Hero (Columbia)

Chalk up another hit from Mariah's Music Box. This ballad is one heck of a self-esteem booster as Mariah expresses the possession of inner strength. 25 out-of-the-box adds show what a hero Mariah is to Urban Radio.

R. KELLY Sex Me (parts I&II) (Jive)

R. Kelly sans Public Announcement is back with the expressive "Sex Me," the first single from his upcoming album 12 Play. Kelly doesn't pull any stops as he delivers a lustful ballad. Even the "Clean Radio Edit" will cause a little condensation on your listeners' windows.

MARK WHITFIELD That Girl (Warner Bros.)

This programmer's favorite is now a single. Mark Whitfield must have been looking for a challenge when he decided to remake Stevie Wonder's 1982 smash. His passionate guitar plucking is awesome as he creates an instrumental interpretation that will even rock Stevie.

JT TAYLOR Baby I'm Back (MCA)

"...this time we're gonna win. Baby I'm Back." The title track from JT's third solo effort. The former "Kool" front man kicks the love lyrics over a mid-tempo groove that could quickly become a candidate for our Top 40 Editor's "Crossover Pick."

ANOTHER BAD CREATION I Don't Wanna Be Grown Up (Motown)

Funny how song titles get inspired I have this same thought every time I have to make my next house payment. Grown up or not, these six young men have matured since their "Iesha" debut in fall 1990. "I Don't Wanna Be Grown Up" has simple lyrics with a message that will be appreciated by all ages.

2 PAC Keep Ya Head Up (Interscope/Atlantic)

Tupac comes with the next track from Strictly 4 My N.i.g.g.a.z... that is truly inspirational. Check out the positive lyrics with the laid-back groove that uses Zapp's "Be Alright" as its base.

GURU No Time To Play (Chrysalis/ERG)

As one of this year's most popular albums, Jazzmatazz has already been hailed as a classic. This single follows the format of the other songs released in that its smooth grooves lay the foundation for the song. Ronny Jordan provides the guitar harmony, Guru provides the lyrics, and newcomer D.C. Lee is the vocalist that completes the package. Also check for the superb remixes by CJ Mackintosh. —ROD EDWARDS

KRIS KROSS I'm Real (Ruffhouse/Columbia)

The boys who told you everything was "Alright" bring us the second single from Da Bomb, and it sounds as though success will continue to follow them. This funk-induced track that contains Rick James' "Mary Jane" as its backbone should get loads of responses the moment it is played. See if you can recognize that voice that chants "...And that's realer than real deal Holyfield" throughout the chorus. If you can't, you've obviously been under a rock for the past year. —ROD EDWARDS

LL COOL J Stand By Your Man (DefJam/Columbia)

This message to the ladies marks the fourth release from the gold selling 14 Sho's To The Dome and is probably the album's most radio friendly single. LL never has had problems appealing to his female audience, and this single won't be an exception. In addition to the album version there's a New Jack Street Mix produced by Teddy Riley and also two hip-hop remixes that offer a more "rugged" sound. —ROD EDWARDS

Kristi Bartlett of WRBB-Boston and Kisha Blanchard of WRTC-Hartford, Conn. get down with Funkdoobiest's B-Real enhanced track.

Bambaataa and Kool DJ Herc, who were reunited for the first time in over ten years. In the words of Nelson George, who picked the minds of these legends, "These three brothers were the nucleus of hip-hop—finding records, defining the trends, and rocking massive crowds at outdoor and indoor jams in parts of the Bronx and Harlem." Aside from this enlightening and informative interview, which is well worth the price of admission alone, the anniversary issue captures and compiles historical events by way of rare photos, a trivia quiz, a collection of classic hip-hop flyers, 25 "old school" turning points and a host of hip-hop celebrities sharing fond memories. The minute our advance copy arrived, the rap department fought for the rights to de-flower the pages (I won). Unfortunately, by the time we were through, the pages were wrinkled, smudged and torn. My suggestion, buy two copies—read one and store the other one with your valuables (preferably between two pieces of classic vinyl). This issue's a keeper. Hats off to the staff at The Source for a job well done...

Comedian/actor/writer/director Rusty Cundieff is preparing for his feature release, Fear Of A Black Hat, a rap "mockumentary." Slated for nationwide release on November 19, Fear Of A Black Hat is a parody based on the fictitious rap group, Niggaz With Hats (N.W.H.) and their rise to fame. Cundieff's wrote the screenplay to House Party II and appeared in Hollywood Shuffle, School Daze and the NBC daytime drama, Days Of Our Lives. For more information call Lisa Herndon at (212) 489-5630...In the employment corner this week, Art Smith takes over as national college/mixshow manager for Rap-A-Lot Records, while Leslie Wyatt jumps from Rap-A-Lot to Bellmark Records...

Garnett March steps into the rap promotions gig at Mercury Records, while Patrick Pore moves to Detroit to fill the regional slot for Mercury there...Jonas Goldstein will be sharing rap promotion duties with Evan Gusz at Ruffhouse Records... Word on the RCA grapevine has it that the Wu-Tang Clan has finished mastering their debut album, Enter The Wu-Tang, and it's due out sometime in November. Their labelmates, Tha Alkaholiks, will probably have to pick up Wu-Tang's album on the road as they're going out on the road with De La Soul and A Tribe Called Quest. The month-long tour will start November 1. RCA will be doing a ticket buy, but they'll go on a first-come, first-served basis. If you're interested call Tammy "Sunkiss" Greer at (800) 25 HIP HOP or (212) 930-4565 ASAP. Rumpletiskinz is looking for someone to remix their next single, "Sweet Therapy." Anyone interested should call Sunkiss at either of the numbers listed above...

Finally, the unconfirmed report of the week: The Chronic Tour will be back on the road November 15. No details as to whether Onyx and Boss will re-join it. No one at RAL/Def Jam could be reached at press time... Nuff said.

New Releases

DA YOUNGSTA'S Wild Child (eastwest)

The Beatnuts once again kick out the jams for this, Da Youngsta's third single. This time out the Beatnuts have remixed their own original recipe of "Wild Child," adding some spicy new flavors to the mix. For the new and improved version, the 'Nuts have trimmed off 24 seconds plus flipped a new low end bass groove, tossed in some trumpet blurts and provided a call-and-response on the chorus. The A-side also includes the album version as well as a dub version, which is just right for voice overs, and offers up mad mixing opportunities. The flipside includes the album version of "Handle This" along with a dub version for added mixing pleasure. Contact Darryl Lindsey at (212) 275-2272. —SPENCEDOOKEY

E-40 Practice Lookin' Hard (Sick Wid' It)

Normally, E-40 is the charismatic frontman for Vallejo, Calif.'s premier rap crew, The Click, but for this cut he breaks out on the solo tip, delivering his patented crazy rhymestylee (which has won him a gang of fans including Rick Rubin and Seattle rockers Pearl Jam). When E-40 spits lyrics, they come out in a rapid warble, slow down at the drop of a dime only to spin off into hyperdrive again (just imagine if Woody Woodpecker smoked a fat sack and then grabbed the mic). Slices of rhythm guitar, slinky keyboard, tight snares and synth bass form the basic groove, and the chorus revolves around a dope sample of MC Boots from The Coup saying "I got a mirror in my pocket and I practice lookin' hard." For radio the track comes "clean," plus there's an instrumental to play around with. The B-side kicks an a cappella version, the sparse snares, hand claps and 808 kick leaving ample room for beat insertions of your choice. Mike N. of KXLU gives it the BIG thumbs up: "The shit is FAT! It's incomparable, E-40's got the ill styles." Contact "Wildman" Walter Zelnick of City Hall Records at (415) 457-9080. —SPENCEDOOKEY

THE HANSOUL PROJECT That's Life (Loud/RCA)

Hansoul has been out of the hip-hop loop for quite some time now (actually he spent a little time in the hospital suffering from manic depression), but now he bounces back from the brink and ruminates about his grapple with depression on the track "That's Life." Producer/arranger Dante "Destro" Barton leans toward a jazz sound, dropping a heavy bass drum kick complemented by snares, acoustic bass, rhythm guitar, horns and vibes. The track bumps along, creating an upbeat, mid-tempo feel. Hansoul's delivery is smooth-n-mellow and works well with the beat. Besides "clean," "hardcore" and instrumental versions there's a dope B-side track called "For The Niggas." This uptempo, fist-waving jammie rolls along to a mad bassline, plenty of horns, vibes and lite piano. If these two cuts are any indication, it's safe to say that Hansoul is back on track and in high spirits. Contact Matt "Fraud" Frauman at (213) 653-5881. —SPENCEDOOKEY

Inside A/C

GET WELL wishes to Epic's Lynn Forman, who's home recovering from successful surgery. She's doing fine and will be back at work in a couple of weeks.

Only two records have cleared 200 stations and both are on RCA. Rick Astley's "Hopelessly" remains at #1, while label-mate Bruce Hornsby picks up 39 HEAVY rotation reports to take the #2 slot.

Sting's #18 to #8 two-week move comes with 88% of all players in solid rotations including 78 HEAVY. Joining Sting in the Top Ten is Aaron Neville with Dylan's "Don't Fall Apart On Me Tonight." Only four singles have more stations and its 85% HIT FACTOR comes with 76 HEAVYs like WFRO, WSKY, WSUL, WGMG, KFOR, WHAI, WCKQ and WAHR.

Another big week for Expose's (right) "As Long As I Can Dream" as it moves #18 to #12 and from 65% to 81% in HIT FACTOR.

Hottest track in the format is Kenny Loggins' "This Is It" which is already at #18 after just two chart weeks. HIT FACTOR is up 30% this week alone. It's also new this week for WLXR, WQHQ/FM, WTPI, WKWK/FM, K9FM, WJTW etc.

Dan Fogelberg's comeback is right on track with "Magic Every Moment." New on over 100 stations thanks to 14 new players, it hits #25 in just two weeks of chart status.

(Atlantic)

Reminiscent of his beautifully disturbing "Another Day In Paradise," this new Collins single becomes an instant anthem for truth in storytelling.

BILLY JOEL

Billy defines his mate's soul as something bigger than her heart and full of faith and devotion, even if he says he's not always worthy.

STANLEY CLARKE

Howard Hewett's words and Stanley Clarke's bass and keyboards make for a wonderful ballad of soulful proportions.

DIONNE WARWICK

An adult staple for decades, Ms. Warwick, with the help of Lisa Stansfield, furthers her mass appeal with this release from her current album. An out-of-the-box debut in UP & COMING, this single tied with label-mate Kenny G for fourth MOST ADDED. "Friends..." is a must-play.

AFTERNOON DELIGHT IN ANCHORAGE

BY NATALIE DUITSMAN

"People listen to the radio because they want a friend, and that's what I want to be," says Michael Rogers, program director/afternoon drive personality at A/C AM KFQD in Anchorage, Alaska. Using that simple guideline—relating to listeners—Rogers has taken the station from a 2.6 in last year's spring Arbitron book to a 4.5 this past spring among listeners 12-plus. His own show tied with Country FM KASH for #1 with women 25-54 with a jump of over 60% in average persons.

Rogers has handled afternoon drive for five years, but says that he made some changes in 1993. "I didn't go through any big analysis, I just closed the door to the control room so I could be by myself," Rogers says. "That's all I did."

That wasn't all he did. Rogers also started talking with the listeners one-on-one. As the father of seven children, Rogers has a lot to talk about, and the women in his target audience seem to relate to him. "Since I live with eight different personalities, I have a lot of my personal experiences I can share with my listeners," Rogers says. "I treat them as though they're my best friend, and talk to them as if they're the only ones listening."

Even though the concept is nothing new,

Rogers decided to concentrate on intimacy more than anything else. "When I was growing up I listened to AM stations, and they were my best friends, so I taught myself how to treat my listeners as my best friends," he says.

Rogers also started carrying a notebook, and jotting down everything that happened to him during the day—and a lot goes on in the Rogers household, where his children are home-schooled. "I do three trivia questions during my show," he says, "and I usually get the questions from my kids. I don't say to my listeners, 'Oh I got this out of a book or this is a toughie.' Instead I say, 'Hey, I got this from my kid and I thought I'd share it with you.'"

"When I was growing up I listened to AM stations, and they were my best friends, so I taught myself how to treat my listeners as my best friends."

Rogers talks a lot about his children, who range in age from two to 16. "Sam, my youngest, is our home birth child," he says. "I shared the fact that my wife and I delivered our son at home, that we've been married 12 years, that we teach our children at home.

Sometimes I'll say 'My God my daughter is 16, where has all the time gone?' Those are the things that I talk about on-the-air, and listeners respond."

Michael Rogers, program director

It's not just Rogers' show that has generated success for KFQD; he also credits the music. "You really need to program to the listener. We in radio are our biggest enemies because we think we know everything and we don't." Rogers attended the GAVIN Seminar last year, and spoke during the A/C session. "We were listening to a woman talk about her 25-34 white female audience, and she was discussing how they respond and what they listen to. I couldn't stand it anymore so I took the mic and said, 'Look, I'm married to a 25-34 white female, and believe me, she thinks nothing like you at all—she likes new music, she likes to have a friend on the radio, she doesn't mind listening to something from the old days. You've been in radio too long.'

"Program directors tend to program to statistics and they wonder why the numbers don't come out on top," says Rogers. "I really learned to get out of myself and listen to the listeners. We have 200,000 people in this market and if you're gonna be a success, you're gonna have to step out of the way and give them what they want."

Un the four years since the singer-songwriter Jules Shear came up with the idea, mainly to push a new album, MTV Unplugged has become an undeniable phenomenon. From a simple show with a twist—rockers singing and playing acoustically—it has become the stuff of hit records and rejuvenated careers, and it has impacted radio, as artists, unfettered by electrical cords, happily jump over formattic lines.

Rod Stewart is the latest beneficiary of the Unplugged concept. Rod the Mod's Unplugged...and Seated, for which he reunited with Ron Wood, has sat on the album charts for four months and spawned two hit singles, "Have I Told You Lately" and "Reason to Believe."

Neil Young's Unplugged, though less of a commercial success, is nonetheless a perfect companion to his Harvest Moon and has been on the charts for three months.

The champ, of course, is Eric Clapton, whose release, also entitled Unplugged, is into its second year on the charts, won a handful of Grammys, and has sold more than four million units.

By no means is the acoustic treatment limited to rockers rooted in the '60s. Unplugged has invaded almost every format except Country—much of which is, essentially, acoustic—and Oldies (unless you want to count "Yesterday," "Ruby Tuesday," and all of folk music before the Byrds). Mariah Carey scored with her MTV Unplugged EP last year; hard rockers from Aerosmith to Soul Asylum did MTV stints without releasing recordings; ditto LL Cool J and Arrested Development. Jodeci, however, scored a Top 40 hit with an unplugged "Lately," part of Uptown Unplugged, a showcase of the label's artists.

And the latest to go sans plugs is 10,000 Maniacs, who are out with "Because the Night," which is squarely aimed at Top 40.

And Top 40—and other formats—aren't flinching. Radio propelled Clapton, Carey and company up the charts, and it appears open to whoever—and whatever—clicks on Unplugged. (Selected MTV broadcasts are also syndicated by Westwood One.) Numerous stations are doing their own versions of the MTV show; KFOG, the A<sup>3</sup> standard-bearer in San Francisco, airs Acoustic Sunrise on Sunday mornings, while in Cincinnati, Q102 (WKQR) offers Q102 Pulls the Plugs every other Sunday night.

"A hit's a hit's a hit," says Brian Douglas, the station's APD/MD. "People appreciate musicians proving that they can pull it off."

"In general," says Alex Coletti, producer of Unplugged since its pilot show, "radio was technoed out, with Milli Vanilli and all. Unplugged became this test for musicians, to be able to say, 'We can really play our own music.' For some of them, it's been a badge of authenticity."

While cuts from live performances have rarely become hits on radio—Elton John's "Candle in the Wind," Billy Vera & the Beaters' "At This Moment," and Peter Frampton's string of hits from his 1976 Frampton Comes Alive! album are some of the exceptions—Unplugged has changed the rules. As Rob Edwards, departing VP of programming at KOST-Los Angeles, put it, “A performance is a performance. If it’s moved an audience, you’d think people’d want to hear it on the radio.”

Unplugged, says Paul Vitagliano (known as

“It can turn a whole new generation of people onto a song and bring in new fans.”—Paul V.

“Paul V.”), director of alternative radio promotion at Warner Bros., “is a good way for, say, Rod Stewart, to showcase his older material with a new arrangement, to show how the song has held up through the years. It can turn a whole new generation of people onto a song, and bring in new fans. It proves how a song holds up even when it’s stripped down. If you can’t cut it on Unplugged, you’re in trouble. It’s a way for true artists to rise to the top.”

(It’s no reflection on Elvis Costello, but Paul V. notes that Costello did an Unplugged that was never aired.)

Stripped-down versions of classic rock songs help radio to widen its menu. For rock radio stations, says Coletti, “It’s nice to have alternate versions of the songs they play.”

Before MTV, Coletti worked at WNEW-New York. “You’d go to a concert, and the cool moment would be when Bruce did an acoustic ‘Born to Run.’”

Springsteen, as it turns out, played Unplugged, but, on the set, changed his mind, saying he was “uncomfortable” going acoustic, and went searching for sockets. “When he changed gears,” says Coletti, “my dreams were shattered.”

While the Boss may have disappointed Coletti, a long list of stars have paraded through his show since early 1990 (See accompanying list). And the new season, beginning next month, begins with Nirvana, Stone Temple Pilots and Duran Duran.

twist anyone’s arm.”

Since Clapton’s appearance (taped in January, 1992) and success, “people have come to us,” says Coletti. “It went from the little show that could to a career-making monster.”

Coletti, 28, was there when it was little. He’d been working with MTV’s VJs in the studio and on specials when the network agreed on a pilot for Unplugged and assigned him to work on it.

At that point, it was little more than a notion, proposed by video producer Robert Small, who’d done videos for Jules Shear. Shear, whose songs had been covered by such artists as Cyndi Lauper, the Bangles, and Roger McGuinn, and whose 1988 album with his band, the Reckless Sleepers, Big Boss Sounds, was an eclectic, electric affair, had produced a spare album, The Third Party—just him and an acoustic guitar.

“The idea was—how would I support this record, besides going out and playing little shows myself?” Shear recalls. “I thought, how about a show where I’d get artists who play electric to play acoustic, in different configurations—and usually with me. It’d be intimate, like two bands getting together in a hotel room after a concert. It’d be a show where the performers, for a

“People loved being there,” he says. “They loved the concept. There were some guests whose music I didn’t like, but I found I liked it more in that format. It’s the distillation of what people do. It’s a telling experience.”

Don Henley broke the pattern of casual jams on the tenth edition of Unplugged. He was the first sole headliner and the first major, mainstream star to do the show.

“Henley could commandeer the entire show,” says Shear, who retreated from his usual host-and-jammer role, and who would soon step away from the show.

“It was getting away from what I wanted to do,” he says. “I didn’t necessarily enjoy just being a host. I didn’t want to be a Dick Clark-type person. I wanted to do what I do.”

Henley’s appearance helped make Unplugged a show artists wanted to check out; Hall & Oates, Elton John, and Crosby, Stills & Nash appeared. Paul McCartney’s breezy performance became the first to be turned into an album, and, in April, 1991, R.E.M. chose to do Unplugged in lieu of a tour behind their Out of Time album. R.E.M., says Paul V. of Warner Bros., were perfect for the show. “They always had that essence of intimacy. It was goosebumps.”

Eric Clapton soon followed, with a stately, blues-based performance highlighted by “Tears in Heaven,” his ode to the young son he lost in a tragic accident. On a personal and musical level, it was a moment to treasure. And when the public responded, it became commercial. “I heard that it outsold all his other albums,” says Coletti. “But he didn’t want to release it. He didn’t think it was good enough.”

Most Unplugged performances are good enough, but whether or not they become albums is a business decision, involving MTV as well as the artist. That’s why most of the recordings from the show have been entitled Unplugged. “Artists can’t release albums without our permission, and vice versa,” Coletti says. “We have to agree on everything—down to the artwork.”

(While MTV is protective of its property, it doesn’t seem to mind such ventures as Eddie Money’s. Eddie hasn’t appeared on the MTV show, but did an acoustic album and called it Unplug It In. “We didn’t invent acoustic,” says Coletti. “To try to claim that territory would be ridiculous.”)

Jules Shear is equally charitable when it comes to Unplugged’s post-Jules run of successes and its growth into an industry power.

“Nothing surprises me,” he says. “They took it to its logical conclusion. I certainly didn’t know what to do with it. They made it a show loved by kids in the midwest. They’ve done a good job with it.”

Of course, Unplugged wasn’t a new concept even when it was new. Not counting the naturally acoustic music of folk and country artists, change, would be smaller than life. If they made mistakes, you’d hear them.”

Unplugged Producer Alex Coletti

Shear had Cinemax, which had produced several music specials, in mind, but Small, who came up with the title, Unplugged, decided to make use of his contacts at MTV and pitched the show.

The pilot was taped on Halloween of 1989, with Shear joined by Glenn Tillbrook and Chris Difford of Squeeze, then by Elliot Easton of the Cars and by Syd Straw. The group wound up the show with the Monkees’ “I’m a Believer.” Just a few band members in a hotel room.

With Shear as host, Unplugged aired on Thanksgiving, and had its official premiere the following January. The first series of shows were as Shear conceived them: loose, funky jam sessions.

So what’s it all about? Is Unplugged a novelty that caught on and is helping sell a lot of records? Or is there something more insidious about stripping rockers and rappers of their electric guitars and scratchers, and having them stand naked before MTV cameras? In a recent essay in Details, the noted critic Greil Marcus traced Unplugged’s “stunning progression from novelty to concept to shtick to genre to market segment” to what he called “forced labor.”

“For all too many performers,” he wrote, “to appear on Unplugged was to admit you had to do anything MTV told you to do, no matter how pointless or inappropriate. You want air? You play our game.”

Coletti begs to differ. “I’m a fan of Greil’s,” he says, “and I get a kick out of that—up to the part about ‘forced labor.’ We haven’t had to

"Unplugged" as a novelty may have emerged first in 1977, when Bread and Roses, a Marin County organization that produces entertainment for people confined to institutions, staged the first of its annual benefit concerts. In '77 and the following three years, such artists as Paul Simon, Ann and Nancy Wilson of Heart, Van Morrison, Herbie Hancock, Joni Mitchell, Jackson Browne, and Kris Kristofferson happily went unplugged.

And all because Mimi Farina, the singer-songwriter who founded Bread & Roses, didn't like loud music.

"I wanted to hear the words," she says, "and I didn't like being overpowered by the sound, so that all you could hear sometimes was the bass line." A dozen years before McCartney issued the first Unplugged album, Farina produced albums of the Bread and Roses concerts of 1977 and 1978 on Fantasy.

In the mid-'80s, a "new folk" movement surged through San Francisco, New York and other cities. As more of rock went techno, more musicians dug back to their roots.

"I noticed when I played on just acoustic, it got a reaction that I didn't get with a band," says Shear, whose bands include the Funky Kings and Jules and the Polar Bears. "Rock and roll on TV always made loud, electric bands look and sound very tiny; all this sound coming out of a tiny speaker. But with acoustic, you could get really close to people. It seemed more suited to television."

To MTV's credit, it hasn't been content to play it safe. It's done an Unplugged with manic comic Denis Leary; it's done a spoken word/poetry show, and, early last year, it showcased rap.

"That was one of the most gratifying programs," says Coletti. "That was our first real experiment. L.L. Cool J was coming into MTV for another show, and we talked to him about Unplugged. He loved the idea, but he said, 'I don't know what to do.' We got him with an acoustic band, he got on stage with them, and you'd swear he grew up leading an orchestra. His eyes lit up, and after the show, he started touring with a band for the first time in his career."

Having unplugged major artists from just about every form of popular music, Coletti has a modest wish list. It includes U2, Guns N' Roses, the Rolling Stones, and the return of Springsteen, only unplugged this time. Coletti also mentions Bob Dylan, but agrees that the pioneer folk-rocker's already done it, most recently on his album, Good As I Been to You. "It wouldn't be out of the ordinary for him, but it would be for MTV." With only a hint of a chuckle, he mentions the industrial rockers, Nine Inch Nails, as a possibility. And, finally, Coletti recalls reading somewhere about Prince saying that he dreamt once about doing a song from Diamonds and Pearls on MTV Unplugged. Coletti, of course, would love to help make that dream come true.

While Coletti conjures perfect bookings, and Unplugged's talent/artists relations department—Rick Krim and John Cannelli—alternately thinks up target artists and deals with offers from record labels and artist managers, Warner Bros.'s Paul V. sounds a warning note.

"I hope it doesn't become cliché," he says, "where every band wants to do Unplugged. If too many get on, the special quality becomes everyday."

Who knows what's next? Jules Shear, who helped start it all, is in the studios for Polydor (his most recent release is Horse of a Different Color: The Jules Shear Collection [1976-1989], on Razor & Tie Music). The new album is electric and, as yet, untitled.

Hey...how about Jules Shear...Plugged? ●

FROM: London

LATEST RELEASE:

Warm & Tender

LABEL: Continuum

CHARLIE WATTS ON:

RECORDING STANDARDS:

"The whole album has the same feel throughout. It is meant to create atmosphere, an entire mood. I got the idea from Miles Davis' ballads on Prestige."

LIVE SESSIONS: "We

recorded live in one go at Olympic Studios in London, where the Rolling Stones made lots of records like 'Sympathy For The Devil.' It has a wonderful, big room where they used to record all the film scores in the '60s. We did everything in about three takes and had to overdub some of the solos because the trumpet was cutting into the strings. Gerard (Presencer's) trumpet, Brian (Lemon's) piano and Peter (King's) alto sax parts are beautifully played. I asked Bernard Fowler to sing because I don't like most of the singers in the (torch ballad) genre. Brian did all the large orchestral arrangements and Peter did the octet string stuff."

FUTURE PLANS: "I'd love to tour, but I'm right in the middle of making a record with the Stones. We start cutting next month, so I can't do anything until the end of December."

INFLUENCES: Kenny Clarke, Billy Higgins and Davey Tough

Jazz/Adult Alternative New Releases

LARRY CORYELL FALLEN ANGEL (CTI)

Most of us would agree that, generally, Larry Coryell sits on the more esoteric side of the jazz guitar spectrum, and even though Fallen Angel is, putting it mildly, an about-face, it's not a direction Coryell has taken without deep contemplation. By working with Don Sebesky and Creed Taylor, both exquisite purveyors of commercial jazz, Coryell made FA a direct musical statement as opposed to another happy sax record. "Angel In Sunset" will satisfy's jazz/A2's recent penchant for Wes Montgomery-inspired material as perpetrated by Steve Laury and Lee Ritenour's last solo quests and the current G-7 project. Sebesky provides haunting spaciousness to Coryell's somewhat innocent Gibson L-7 romp that comes complete with Euro-styled synth rhythms, a hypnotic orchestral build and steely studio percussion. "Misty"—with its pure "Stardust" solo guitar intro—is a soft reggae number featuring some sublimed acoustic piano fills by Mulgrew Miller. "Thus Spoke Z" is a sideways makeover of Deodato's '73 crossover hit. Coryell's latest signals a trend. In addition to the recent number ones by George Benson and Fourplay, Fallen Angel gaining Most Added A2 status typifies the Quiet Storm shift taken by many major market Adult Alternative stations. Coryell and company are definitely going with the flow.

ELIANE ELIAS PAULISTANA (BLUE NOTE)

Eliane Elias's latest features two trio variations—Elias with Marc Johnson and Peter Erskine or with Eddie Gomez and Jack DeJohnette with contributions from Ivan Lins, Jim Beard and Cafe. Paulistana, a Brazilian term for a female native of Sao Paulo, is a homecoming for of sorts for Elias. With the exception of the title track, this is clearly a return to acoustic jazz. While the title track has Adult Alternative crossover potential and is one of the only two tracks enhanced by synthesizer, Elias's lyrical emphasis is clearly on the bop side. The acoustic feel conjures up memories of her last Denon trio release five years ago. As you may recall, Gomez and DeJohnette were the rhythm section then too. Elias anchors this release with a couple of samba standards, namely "Black Orpheus" and "Aquarela Do Brasil." "Jet Samba" features some splendid chemistry between Elias and Johnson, as Johnson locks into Elias' powerful lefthand chord changes with some dynamic accents that are punctuated by some vocal reinforcement.

RAY LYNCH NOTHING ABOVE MY SHOULDERS BUT THE EVENING (WINDHAM HILL)

As with George Winston, radio sometimes plays catchup to Ray Lynch's individualistic but highly successful musical visions. While Lynch enjoys an active buying public, he puts out records somewhat sporadically. Whether his new alliance with Windham Hill will change that remains to be seen, but it's apparent Lynch will continue his highly independent ways. Nothing Above My Shoulders... is a much more gregarious, organic record in that Lynch is playing with other musicians and incorporating a lot more natural sounds. Some folks associate him with insular, percolating synth beds, but on his Windham Hill debut Lynch has a broader symphonic presence that A2 radio will have to evaluate. Some compositions, like "Passion," are downright classical. In fact most of the players are members of the San Francisco Symphony Orchestra. "Over Easy" is the most traditional selection of the set. "Her Knees Deep In Your Mind" has a Germanic dreaminess to it that suggests Wim Wenders-type film images. Check out those obscure, crazy titles.

KEVIN EUBANKS SPIRIT TALK (BLUE NOTE)

Like Branford Marsalis, his Tonight Show bandleader, did, guitarist Kevin Eubanks is using his solo records as a vehicle to make music that stretches jazz boundaries and can be characterized as more heady than previous recordings. Actually, since Eubanks left GRP for Blue Note, his recordings have pushed into more intense, adventurous parameters. Spirit Talk, with trombonist/brother Robin, bassist Dave Holland, flautist Kent Jordan and drummer Marvin Smith, has a spiritual, ECM-styled aura looming above the compositions, until you get to "Earth Party." Then Eubanks adopts a slightly conventional bluesy silhouette as he and "Smitty" Smith compete for the meanest and baddest musical stance. Kevin is an early favorite only to be eclipsed in the end by Smith's lights-out solo bashing. For maximum swing try "Livin'," where Eubanks moves over to electric box guitar licks, a la Barney Kessel.

RAMSEY LEWIS SKY ISLANDS (GRP)

With A2 taking more of a Quiet Storm groove these days and being more liberal about playing cover tunes, Ramsey Lewis should reap some valuable major market airplay with his new release Sky Islands. His version of the Beatles' "Julia" is spun into such orchestrally rich textures that it takes a few extra bars to recognize Lennon & McCartney's fragile melody. With production chores shared by Lewis, his son Frayne, and Earth, Wind & Fire's Maurice White, there's bound to be many a seductive bass line or a bevy of snappy horn and synth powws. Sky Islands is filled with trademark Ramsey Lewis: popping funk fused with boppin', traditional jazz piano licks; a swingin' medley of his past hits and R&B covers; satiny vocal pieces and catchy urbanized piano jams. Art Porter contributes some sleek sax lines.

New Releases

DOUG STONE
"I Never Knew Love" (Epic)

Doug has made this type of sweet, sensitive love song his trademark. This Larry Boone/Will Robinson tune is from his upcoming album, More Love.

TRACY BYRD
"Why Don't That Telephone Ring" (MCA)

Tracy sings with a maturity and authority that belies his age, as he shows on this powerful ballad.

CLAY WALKER
"Live Until I Die" (Giant)

This fellow definitely has the goods. Walker wrote his second single, a song loaded with down-home wisdom.

GENE WATSON
"Snake In The House" (Step One)

It's great to hear Watson's voice again, and easy to hear where some of today's young singers picked up their honkytonk chops. Kudos to Step One for signing this legendary singer.

WYLIE & THE WILD WEST SHOW
"Black Boots & Blue Jeans" (Cross Three)

Wylie's back, with his Buddy Holly look and his crooning barroom voice. Many listeners are familiar with Wylie from his hit videos, and this song will surely win him more fans.

HANK FLAMINGO
"Baby It's You" (Giant)

We don't know much about these guys, expect that we love the way they sound. The song was written by Harlan Howard, Dave Goodwin and Kostas, and the band give it a cool rockin' treatment.

With Their Hands (eMpTy, P.O.
Box 12034, Seattle, WA
98102)

Hmmm...This Steel Wool record, Simple Men Who Enjoy Working With Their Hands, sure is an initially difficult one. And I don't mean difficult in my usual "too Zorn-y for we dumb non-musicians to understand" sense, but difficult because it seems unlikely eMpTy fare and draws from a whole bunch of sources. Maybe difficult is the wrong word; let's try oddball. By and large the eMpTy roster is stacked with pretty straightforward bands (the Fumes for example), with whom Steel Wool share some ground. But this Seattle-based five-piece mixes their garage, grunge and punk with an appreciation for B-movies, certain redneck tendencies, an affection for the occasional prog indulgence, and an ability to be simultaneously impressively tight and utterly nonchalant. That could be kind of confusing so let's make like my tenth grade algebra teacher and work out some sample problems on the board: With "Mal Ojo," Steel Wool launch from (and intermittently lapse back into) a rhythmic, hiccuped intro that grows to become a storm of Mudhoney-ish vocals and Helmet-esque metallic thunder. Their cover of Hank Williams' "Ramblin' Man" boasts full-on rock choruses but features quieter verses accessorized by a really warped slide and some semi-yodeling, and "Up Pops The Sun" reminds me of the Meat Puppets—but maybe it's just the title. Anyway, Steel Wool's debut full-length seems to be languishing in obscurity (at least at radio), so if you've missed it, go dig it up. Start with the above three tracks. —SEANA BARUTH

GODSTAR

Sleeper (Taang! P.O. Box 51, Auburndale, MA 02166)

Color blind folks will miss half the fun of this Australian band's vibrant CD sleeve, but the good news is that the music is just as colorful. Putting the snap and crackle into guitar pop is a tall order, and Godstar is up to the challenge. Just to prove it's all for fun with these guys, Lemonhead Evan Dando sits in on drums for a tune. "Ersatz" is a brief treatise on selling ad-space for an indie rock fanzine that gives way to "Bad Bad Implications," a guitar-driven rocker with a keeper chorus. "Everything You Give Me Breaks" pairs romping percussion with a memorable guitar lick in old Young Fresh Fellows fashion. The melancholy theme of "Lie Down Forever" is accentuated by Nic's haunting backup vocals as a squawking guitar entwines itself in the melody. Those precious backup vocals carry over to "The Brightest Star," a picture-perfect blend of jangly guitar and starstruck singing. Dando plays skins on the full-tilt "Something Unplanned," showing a predilection for cymbals, and "Had The Time Of My Life" is another pop gem with tamborines and chirping guitar. I don't want to be the one to tell these guys that Tribe recently had an album called Sleeper, but this one is more deserving of the title. —DAVID BERAN

MORPHINE

Cure For Pain (Rykodisc,
Pickering Wharf, Bldg. C, Salem, MA 01970)

Morphine's Cure For Pain is dominated by simple, sensual sounds and thematic, seductive "stories" woven with lyrically written fantasies. As the world's one and only homemade two-string bassist, Mark Sandman, sings those pictorial thoughts, the band (especially on tracks like "Buena") serves up surges of baritone sax and an unrelenting bass and drum rhythm. "Head With Wings" urges the listener to relinquish all inhibitions and preconceptions, and "Thursday" pushes that idea even further as the band's unique layering propels the song onto risky musical terrain. But then we also have the charming, lingering choruses of "Candy" and "Cure For Pain" and the smartly-penned title track. Jimmy Ryan, one of the guest artists, strums a delicate contrast with his mandolin work on "In Spite Of Me." Saxophonist (and former member of Three Colors) Dana Colley savors the emotional melodies with his instrument, and Morphine drummer Jerome Dupree is also supported by guest Billy Conway (formerly of Treat Her Right). When you're in pain or have a void in your soul, I prescribe Morphine. But be careful—this stuff is addictive. —SANDRA DERIAN

New Releases

THE SCREAMIN' CHEETAH WHEELIES
"Let It Flow" (Atlantic)

Judging from the name, you might be expecting an invitation to the Headbangers' Ball, but guess again. Nashville's Screamin' Cheetah Wheelies have a rounded edge to their sound—harmonica, organ, a seamless blend of acoustic and electric guitars and a textured delivery that crescendoes nicely as the song builds steam. It's nifty Americana adult album fare, so expect the full CD in about three weeks.

GREEN APPLE
QUICK STEP
Wonderful Virus (Reprise)

Like it or not, Seattle is still the breeding ground for bands who specialize in gutter grunge rock. In 1988 Mother Love Bone steered away from the grunge sound and delivered a more acoustic guitar oriented rock sound but disbanded when lead singer Andrew Wood died. Some of the members went on to form Pearl Jam while the others went their separate ways. The remaining members of Mother Love Bone have now reunited as Green Apple Quick Step. Wonderful Virus is full of meandering acoustic and electric guitar melodies that glide sleepily through dreamy vocals. Pearl Jam/Mother Love Bone fans will love this. Although Green Apple Quick Step tends to be more Seattle rock than hard rock they still deliver some heavy guitars on "Bottle," "Feel My Way" and especially on "Eating On All Fours." Green Apple Quick Step will please both Album rock listeners and Hard rock listeners with their manipulating guitar sound and '90s folk rock vocals. Don't miss this one! —ROB FIEND

WARRIOR SOUL
Chill Pill (DGC)

One of the more likable qualities of today's rock bands is their habit of borrowing techniques and styles from the '60s and '70s music and giving them a '90s feel. Pink Floyd, Led Zeppelin and Jimi Hendrix were among the first to develop psychedelic guitar whacking melodies and rhythms, and though these particular bands are gone there are plenty of new ones creating hard guitar driven rock 'n' roll. Warrior Soul is one of them. If you're looking for a heavy low-end guitar rockin' band that dabbles in psychedelia look no more because Warrior Soul delivers classic psychedelic rock with a huge helping of '90s style hard rock with their latest release Chill Pill. Give this CD a spin and discover swirling guitar riffs that flow seductively over mellow bass plucks that carry vocalist Kory Clarke's crying lyrics through hollow drumming. "Soft," "Mars," "Let Me Go" and "Song In Your Mind" should be the focused tracks for the ultimate in psychedelic grinds. Hard rockin' cuts include: "Ha Ha Ha," "Cargo Of Doom," "Concrete Frontier," "Shock Um Down" and "I Want Some." "High Road" contains guitar hoppin' slams mixed with some honky tonk harmonica squeals that makes for a spirited album radio cut. Expose your listeners to some current rock. Check out Chill Pill by Warrior Soul. —ROB FIEND

Congratulations to Jesus Jones frontman Mike Edwards and his wife Fia on the birth of their daughter, Hana Edwards. When the band was in town many months back, Mike told me his wife thought the baby was going to be a boy, but he had two dreams in which the baby was a girl. I guess dreams really can come true.

Is former 91X-San Diego air personality Oz Medina heading to the greener pastures of KBCO-Boulder, CO.? Methinks so.

C/Z's Tim Cook called me this week just to chat. Usually he calls Seana for that, but she was on the phone interviewing Sub Pop demigod Jon Poneman. Anyway, Tim says he's going to be at this year's CMJ Convention, "in full-effect." Is that a threat? (Just kidding)

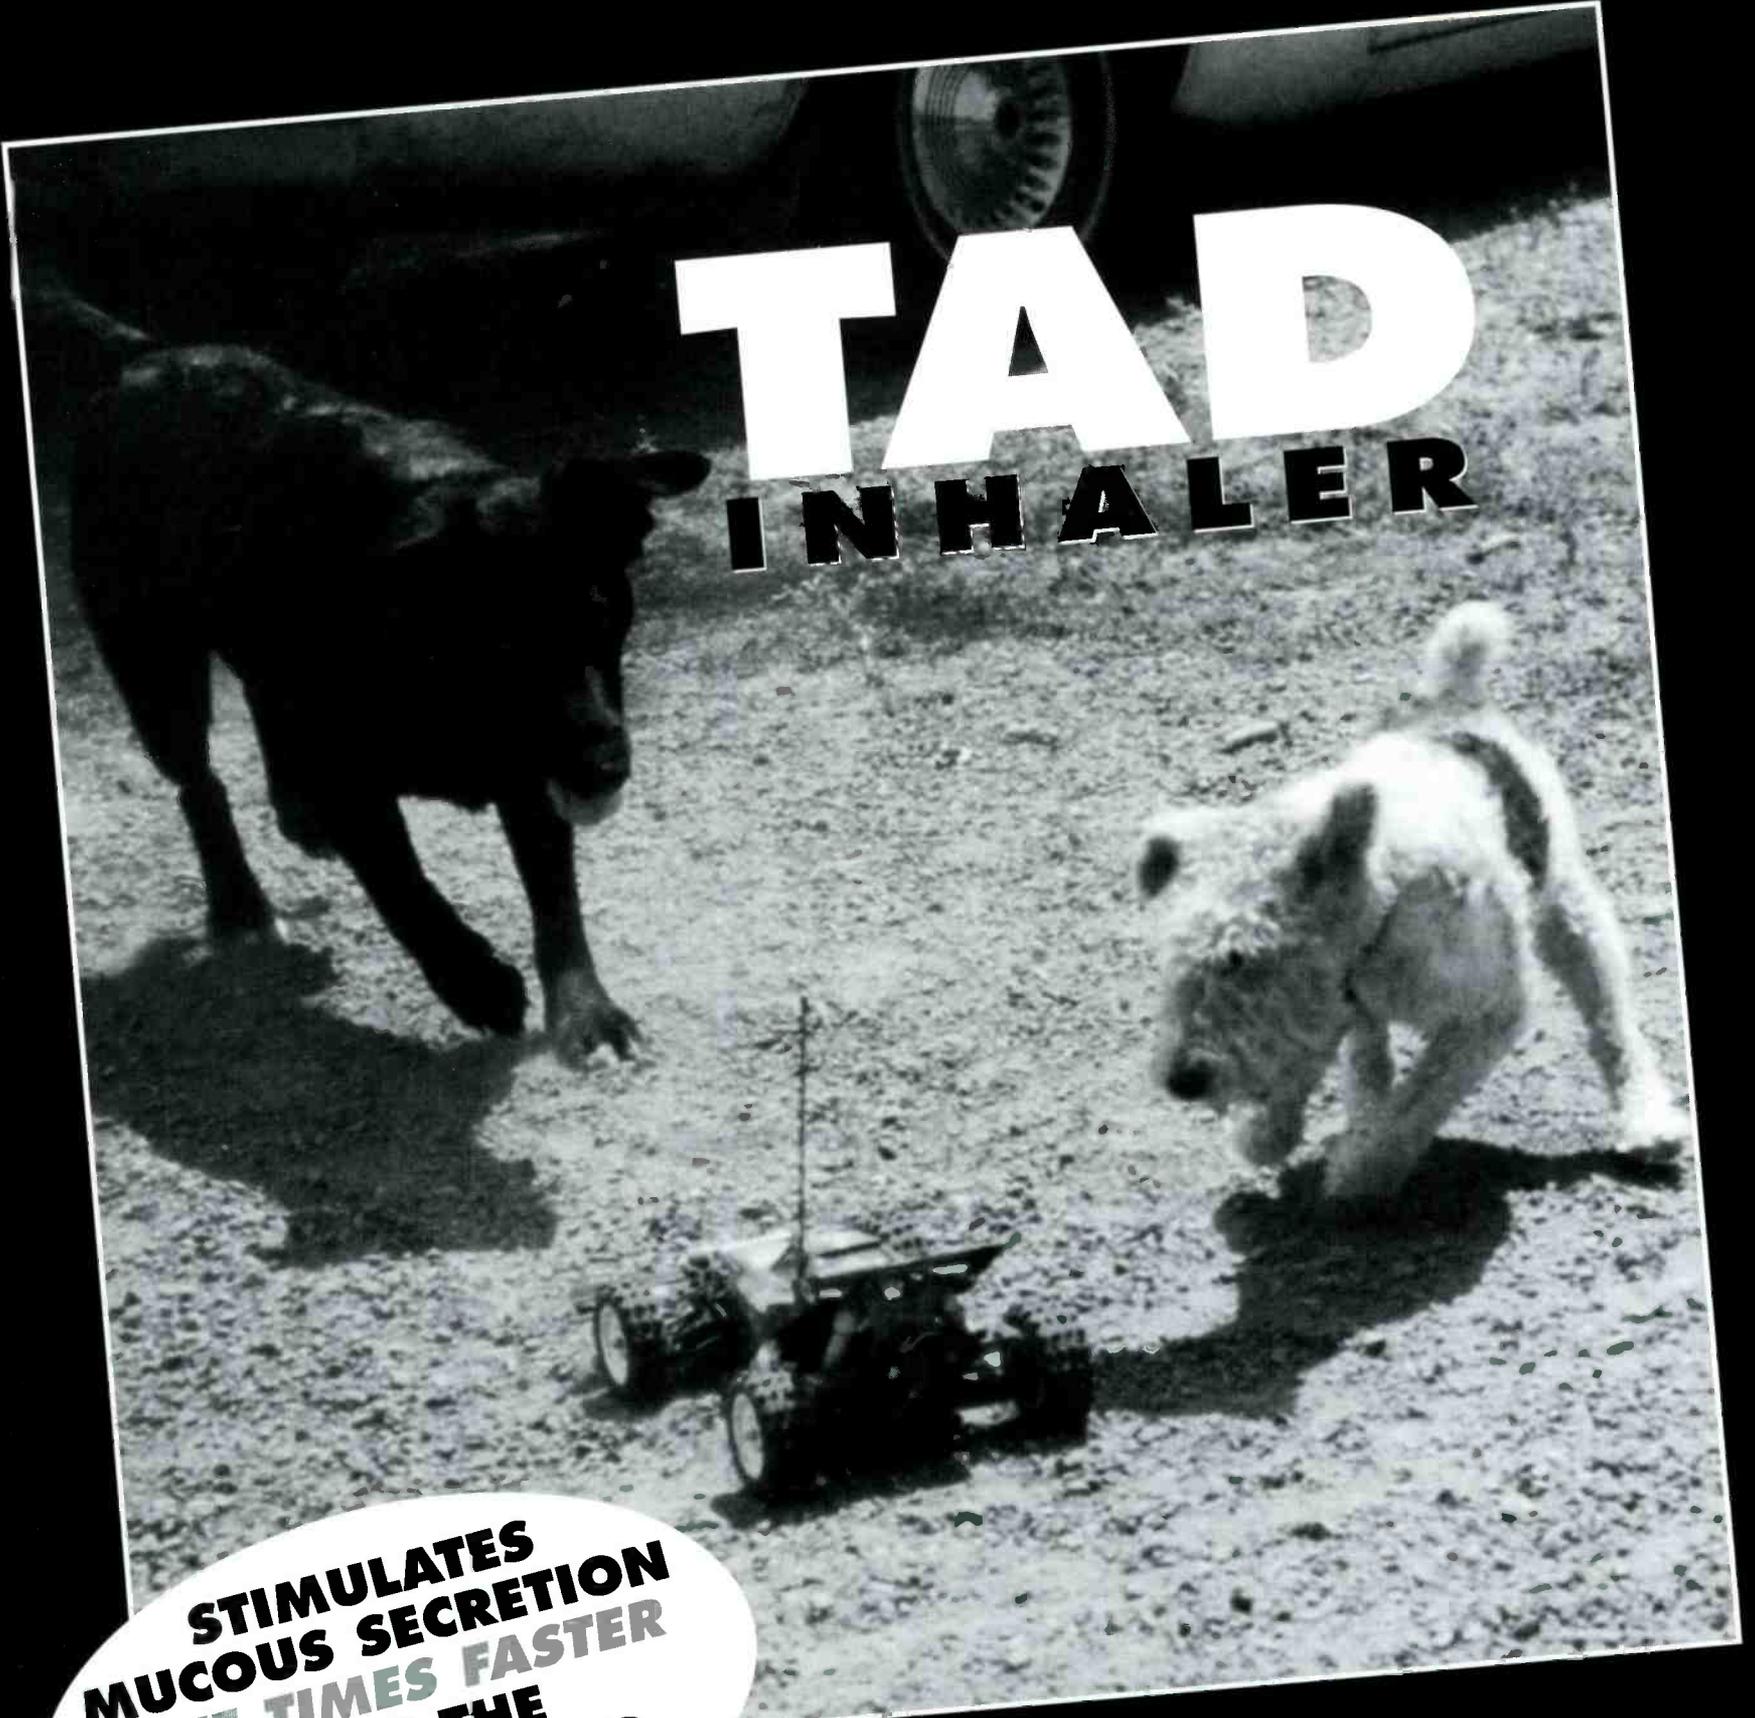

Congratulations to the fine folks at Mammoth Records, who are celebrating their fifth anniversary in grand style October 16-19, in Chapel Hill, N.C. Recording artists Machines Of Loving Grace, Chainsaw Kittens, Vanilla Trainwreck, Joe Henry, Victoria Williams, Dillon Fence and Juliana Hatfield will be performing at various "parties" staged throughout the four days. Mammoth was started in 1988 by Jay Faires, and has grown into one of the most well-respected and well-loved labels. Once again, congratulations and keep up the good work.

The End-Seattle's Marco Collins also called last week to see how the first release on his new label was doing. There are a quite a number of college stations playing the new Silkworm album, and they have Marco to thank for bringing that little bit of joy into their lives. Hey, Marco! What's next?

If you haven't added Candlebox's "You" yet, what are you waiting for? Numbers? How's this for numbers: 7,320 copies sold in a week, with 48,000 sold to date. The End-Seattle is playing "You," and generating Top 15 sales (992 pieces last week). WFNX is playing the new single and over 2,271 pieces have been sold in the Boston area. Same with Denver and New York.

Fans of Dead Can Dance will be interested to know that the band is featured on Milan Entertainment's soundtrack to the film, Baraka. I don't know about the movie, but I do know that in San Francisco, tickets for Dead Can Dance went on sale the same day Depeche Mode and The Bridge School benefit concert, and the Dead Can Dance show sold out just as quickly.

SWERVEDRIVER Mezcal Head (A&M)

It just goes to show that you can't believe everything you read. More than a few of us wrote Swervedriver off after hearing that Adi and Graham (bass and drums respectively) left the band for other musical pursuits, but Swervedriver have come roaring back with a superb piece of sonic revelry. Despite the personal upheaval, the band's second album, Mezcal Head, takes up where Raise left off, but with a couple of noteworthy exceptions. First, you can hear just about everything Adam sings, as the vocals have been mixed more up front (This is especially helpful for those of us who like singing along to our favorite songs). Second, is it my imagination or are the songs a tad more cohesive? More focused? A bit poppier? Just about every song on Mezcal Head is proof positive that change is a good thing. My absolute favorite is the reverie-inspiring "Change Is Gonna Come," but I also love the epic scorcher "Duress," "You Find It Everywhere," "Blowin' Cool," the hellbilly twang of "Last Train To Satansville," and the singles "Duel" and "Never Lose That Feeling." If Swervedriver keep putting out top-notch records like Mezcal Head, I won't ever lose that feeling.

THROW THAT BEAT IN THE GARBAGE CAN The Cool Album (Spin Art)

Throw That Beat... paint a cartoon world of sorts with their music—kind of like Lidsville in H.R. Puff N' Stuff. On first listen you'd be inclined to believe it's a world with no worries, no responsibilities—just the kind of free and easy attitude that bubbles over from every hook-filled chorus. But each successive listen uncovers a little more of what really motivates Throw That Beat—"a naive teenage romanticism constantly knocked back by a cruel world." Aurally, this is the most attractively packaged pocketful of pain since, well, The Smiths. "Cool" is an ultra-fine bit of geek-inspired, quirky power pop that all Commercial Alternative stations can and should play. Other favorites include "Angels Don't Cry" (shades of Motown, no?), "There's Something," "Last Kiss" and "It's Never Enough." Guaranteed to make you smile.

BARKMARKET Gimmick (American)

If Al Jourgenson had tempered his pomposity with angry desperation, and if he'd resisted the temptation to pump up his b.p.m.'s, late-era Ministry might have been as good as Barkmarket. Gimmick is Barkmarket's fourth full-length, their second for the rechristened American label, and on it producer/wunderkind/musician Dave Sardi vents his chilling wrath accompanied by an industrial-influenced guitar/bass/drums din. Sardi is pretty pissed; he screams and gasps with the effort of delivering his eloquent, verbose tirades denouncing blind stupidity, consumerism, and self-aggrandising men—I just love "Hack It Off"—among a variety of other targets. On "Whipping Boy," perhaps the record's most accessible track, Barkmarket lowers the intensity level just a notch as cymbal-splatter rains steadily down over thick, rancid bass steaks and searing, edgy guitar slices. Also check out "Dumb Jaw," "Redundant" and "Carjack," and as an interesting side note, be aware that my fave track, "Radio Static," (featuring a deliciously fucked-up banjo) is a computer reprocessed version of the disc's third track. Not only is this fourth Barkmarket long-player a crushing, thought-provoking ride, it's also this week's #1 Most Added. Could there be hope?

UNCLE TUPELO Anodyne (Sire/Reprise)

You might say that Uncle Tupelo have done it the right way. After three indie records (for Rockville), each of which reflected the band's continuing artistic development, they've signed to a major, Sire/Reprise, and released their most mature outing to date, Anodyne. There seem to be two camps of UT fans, those who staunchly love No Depression and Still Feel Gone's moonshine-fired, passionate, full-on midwestern ROCK, and those who prefer the country/bluegrass purity of last year's March 16-20. Anodyne should satisfy both groups with tracks like the driving "Chickamauga" and "The Long Cut," and the banjo-based "New Madrid" and acoustic, fiddle-drenched "Acuff-Rose." Plus, the new record includes a few 'tweeners (like "We've Been Had") to help each group bridge its respective gap. I have to admit, this release cured me of my bias towards towards Tupelo's first two LP's and will, I believe, end up firmly ensconced in my top ten for '93. Kill your pain with the aforementioned cuts and also dose yourself liberally with the Doug Sahm-penned-and-assisted gem "Give Back The Key To My Heart."

COCTEAU TWINS Four-Calendar Cafe (Capitol)

Making sidestream groups sound more accessible is always a crap shoot. As bands like Dead Can Dance and the Cocteau Twins appeal to more people, alienated fans kick and scream every step they take toward increased success. I did my fair share of kicking when bands like U2 and the Cure hit it big, but have no answer to the dilemma. Four-Calendar Cafe features a ten-track menu with the soup du jour being Elizabeth Frazer's forever enigmatic Elysian vocals. Synthesizers and falanged guitars ripple through "Know Who You Are At Every Age," but the Twins don't hit their stride until the first single "Evangeline." "Evangeline's" music slowly plunges as Frazer's voice soars into a firmament crowded with spacey snippets of computerized sound. "Oil Of Angels" begins with a cool lounge beat, and Frazer bounces between stuttering, chirping and a chorus of soothing vocals. Both "Squeeze-Wax" and "Summerhead" feature a more accessible sound, hopeful beats and simple keyboard progressions.

FROM: Chapel Hill, N.C.

LATEST RELEASE: Icky Mettle

LABEL: Alias

THEY ARE: Eric Bachmann (vocals, guitar); Matt Gentling (bass); Eric Johnson (guitar); Mark Price (drums).

THEY SING: "You're not the one who let me down/But thanks for offering."

—from "Web In Front"

THEY LIKE: "Tall Dwarfs, 3D's, The Wedding Present, Peter Jeffries, Flaming Lips, The Cakekitchen and more."

—Eric Bachmann

ON ALIAS, WHO SIGNED THREE CHAPEL HILL BANDS: "I don't think they planned to come to town and sweep up all these bands (AOL, Small and Picasso Trigger). It just sorta happened." —Bachmann

ON THEIR LIVE SHOW: "These effortlessly charismatic ordinary joes make like Eddie And The Hot Rods playing Big Flame—especially on their classic shriekalong "Wrong," which features the two Eric's co-ordinating their bristle-backed guitar play to messy perfection. Each song features some extravagant mosh aerobics and a fair amount of elbow-in-the-ribs awkwardness, but the Archers are essentially accessible freaks, demonstrated beyond equivocation by their closing 'hit,' 'Web In Front.'" —NME

Singles .....

PHIL COLLINS
Both Sides Of The Story
(Atlantic)

This long-awaited release does a lot to promote understanding and gives those quick to judge others some food for thought. It's wonderful hearing Collins with that edge back in his music, and yes, sports fans, it's uptempo!

BILLY JOEL
All About Soul (Columbia)

Since he's been very vocal about his new album being his most personal yet, it's safe to assume Billy's singing about his wife Christie Brinkley on this second single. Soul may be difficult to define, but it can be felt and heard. It's something this Joel always makes clear on stage and in the studio.

COLOR ME BADD
Time & Chance
(Giant/Reprise)

Only a handful of groups have made a debut as spectacular as this quartet did. Adding more of a street feel to their sound, CMB proves their success is long-term with this totally hot follow-up.

THE CRANBERRIES
Linger (Island/PLG)

There is a big buzz on this group and this song, which is the week's Record To Watch. It already has some impressive stats, but they shouldn't even be necessary after you hear it. Just try to get the melody out of your head.

TIA CARRERE
I Never Even Told You
(Reprise)

Wayne and Garth may not be worthy, but they do get to have Tia in their follow-up film, Wayne's World II. Moviegoers will hear this beautiful ballad, but it won't be on the soundtrack. It sure sounds like it should be on the radio.

MAC BROWN
Put Your Butt Down
(First Quake Entertainment)

Looking to grab your audience's attention? You can't do much better than this get-down party anthem. A natural for, who else, Beavis and Butt-head! Clubs are getting hip to this track fast. For a copy, fax the label at (213) 876-7790.

Albums .....

AARON HALL
The Truth (Silas/MCA)

As a member of the hit group Guy, Aaron Hall was a pioneer of the New Jack Swing sound. But after two double platinum albums, Teddy Riley, Damion "Crazy Legs" Hall, and lead vocalist Hall decided to pursue separate interests. The Truth marks the rebirth of Hall's musical career, and he offers quite an array of music. On the uptempo side, Hall gets assistance from the likes of well-known producer Vassal Benford on "Do Anything" and Hank and Keith Shocklee on "Open Up," but it's on ballads that he shines brightest, and captures his audience's attention with his distinctive vocals. Tracks deserving attention include "When You Need Me," "I Miss You" and "Until The End Of Time." Also included are two remix versions of "Don't Be Afraid," last year's hit single from the Juice Soundtrack.

—ROD EDWARDS

JAMIE O'HARA
Rise Above It (RCA)

If you were a fan of the O'Kanes, you'll love this album. Actually, if you're a just a fan of good music, you'll love it. Jamie's talents as a songwriter are well-documented (The Judds' "Grandpa (Tell Me 'Bout The Good Ol' Days)," Don Williams' "Desperately," Tammy Wynette's "Talkin' To Myself Again"), and he and Kieran Kane developed quite a following with The O'Kanes back in the mid-'80s. In his debut solo effort, both his songwriting ability (he wrote all the cuts) and his talents as a singer come through loud and clear. Just take a listen to the poignant "50,000 Names," the rollicking single "What's A Good Ol' Boy To Do," the heartbreak of "It Ain't Over ('Till Your Heart Says It's Over)" and "For Reasons I've Forgotten," and the fun of "My Little Lady (Ain't My Little Lady No More)." Good stuff all around.

—LISA SMITH

ANGELA STREHLI
Blonde & Blue (Rounder)

Looking for some contagious, belting blues? Electrifying Texas blues singer Angela Strehli comes through on Blonde & Blue. Strehli delivers a riveting blues-on-Texas-radio salute on "Two Bit Texas Town" and with her sweeping vocal range, Angela has the grit necessary to cover a pair of Little Walter classics, "You Don't Love Me" and "I'm Just Your Fool." "Say It's Not So," the set's power ballad, proves in three minutes that Strehli deftly crosses all color and cultural lines.

THE LEMONHEADS
C'mon Feel The Lemonheads (Atlantic)

The success of last year's It's A Shame About Ray album and "Mrs. Robinson" single opened America's doors to The Lemonheads. Frontman Evan Dando's beautiful mug graced the cover of muso-mags like Spin and Rolling Stone, and was featured in People and Playgirl Magazine's "most beautiful" issues. You don't get any more—dare I say it—mainstream than that. So, with the groundwork for potential pandemonium laid, The Lemonheads unleash C'mon Feel The Lemonheads on an expectant public. The stories behind the recording of this album could fill a book. The best one I heard was about how Evan lost his voice (due to various substance abuses) and was ordered by his doctor not to talk for three days. I have to admit that my seventh listen to C'mon Feel...was solely an exercise in detective work. Were there any tell-tale signs, etc. The only thing discovered is what an extraordinary songwriter Evan Dando is. I don't think I've heard anything as sad as the heartbreaking "Favorite T." (Anyone who's missed the one they love so much they put on his/her shirt to overcome the loneliness will relate to this song in a big way) The opposite end of the spectrum finds the carefree "Being Around," which asks the musical question, "If I were a booger, would you pick your nose?" And in between are some wonderful gems made even brighter with contributions from Juliana Hatfield (are they the Gram Parsons and Emmylou Harris of the '90s, or what?), Belinda Carlisle, Rick James and pedal steel guitarist Sneaky Pete. Favorite tracks include "The Great Big No," "Rest Assured," "Dawn Can't Decide," "Down About It," "Being Around," "It's About Time" and the Parsons-like "Big Gay Heart" and "Favorite T."

ROBBEN FORD & THE BLUE LINE
Mystic Mile
(Stretch/GRP)

Remember Clapton's screaming blues guitar leads on that old Cream chestnut, "Crossroads"? Well, Robben Ford's new power trio taps heavily into that same rock/blues energy right from the opening track, "He Don't Play Nothin' But The Blues." Wah-wah, distortion, funk licks, power chords and even clean blues fill are on Ford's guitar menu, along with a cavernous cover of Cream's "Politician." Lots of jamming and perfect for A3, album rock and beyond. Move over Gary Moore, Robben's movin' in.
