Tom Petty

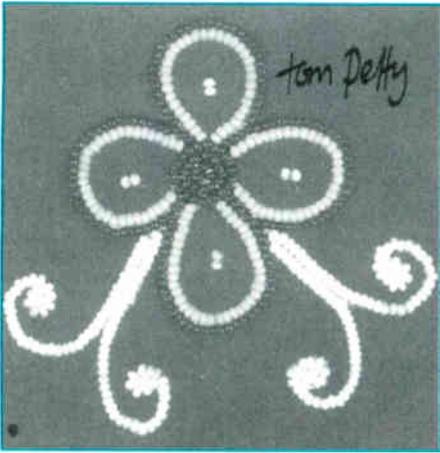

“You Don’t Know How It Feels”

His Warner Bros. debut, from Wildflowers.

Produced by Rick Rubin with Tom Petty & Mike Campbell
Management: Tony Dimitriades for East End Management

TOP PRIORITY

Tom Petty, "Let's Get To The Point", WB

Hey, has Tom ever not sounded great when Jeff Lynne was out of the picture? Team Tom terrific up with Rick Rubin, keep it simple, throw in a dope reference — and take it to the bank. That's the radio rap this week: Vinnie Marino, Q104.3, "Rick's stripped down production is exactly what he needed. Good tune with an incredible hook"... Dave Numme, KUFO, "It's got the harmonica and it's a bit light, but this is still a fairly compelling tune"... Dana Jang, KSJO, "Those lyrics definitely give it some attitude"... John Cooper, WPYX, "Great initial feedback. They're hearing it, then calling to say they want to hear it again. And they're definitely partial to that one line"... Rick West, WXKE, "Excellent! Supremo! Another cool song and hipper than usual. To make that dope reference when your name is Tom Petty takes big balls and I admire him for that. Definitely targeted at the rockers"... Dave Rossi, WAVF, "You hear it and you're grooving to it. It's going to be as big as 'Mary Jane' and the dope reference is kinda cool"... Got the point?

HARD ACTS TO FOLLOW

Aerosmith, "Blind Man", Geffen

It may be the most familiar formula on the airwaves, but as WRKI's Tim Sheehan sez, "If it ain't broke, don't fix it. They should have titled this 'I Was Crying Because It Was Amazing How Crazy It Was'"... WRXR's Chuck Williams adds, "Half way through I realized I was singing another song along with it. But this is Aerosmith and we can't ignore it"... On the other hand, here's KLOL's Cindy Bennett and "God knows it will prompt eight million people to go out and buy the box set. Another smash Aerosmith track". Or, as Dave Numme puts it, "This will be our most played track for the next week or two 'cause it's Aerosmith and they are THE band right now." From Dale at KATP, "You can tell this came from the Get A Grip sessions because it fits so well with anything from that album. Right into heavy here".

Neil Young, "Piece Of Crap", Reprise

Few performers have the ability to flip modes from angelic choir to grunge dog from hell one song to the next, but that's obviously walking the dog for Neil. Who else could span the style gap between tracks like "My Heart" or "Western Hero" and the new emphasis track? The tune definitely kicks booty — and isn't it funny how those lyrics also pertain to a lot of music on the street. WDHA's T.J. Bryan comments, "Neil is certainly high profile right now and it's a relatable song to the audience. Plus, the jocks can have fun saying the song is a piece of crap"... WIXV's Jay Sisson adds, "I think it's a smart move. It's one of the album's standout tracks, and one I think will appeal to people who aren't Neil fans".

Bob Dylan, "Dignity", Columbia

Dylan's on yet another roll, no doubt. And this time it's on disc and on stage. As noted by John Cooper up at WPYX, "I think this song is brilliant, the best thing I've heard from him in a long time. His voice is strong and the lyrics and the melody are compelling. Plus, he's coming off a concert here that got absolute rave reviews. This is good timing". The New York Post also reviewed Bob's NYC show as one of his strongest in a decade, on that note. Once again producer Brendan O'Brien demonstrates he deserves the rep, helping Bob create his most accessible track since "Oh Mercy", which we remind you, was a huge hit for him. Take this tune seriously. Considerations abound from stations and programmers who haven't used Bob for years, and our phone hold feedback last week couldn't have been more positive.

"PRAIRIE TOWN" with Neil Young and Margo Timmins 2 versions from the album ANY ROAD

"Some of the greatest rock & roll riffs come out of Randy Bachman. Cut 1 ("Prairie Town") he's comin' right out of the box. Right there! Oh man, I love that. I love that stuff... I love that track!"

MORE... HARD ACTS To FOLLOW

Freddy Jones, "Take The Time", Capricorn

If talent, hard work and the right timing are the cornerstones of success, then Freddy Jones' ship should be darn well ready to come in. The band has been on one format or another for over a year now. Over the past 12 months, they've played 158 shows, traveling more than 49,262 miles, and they're still out there with labelmates Widespread Panic.

That means they've circled the earth almost two times, playing in front of 150,000 people. Plus, as Jeff Cook gleefully points out, they've now sold more than 100,000 albums, better than two albums for every mile traveled. All those fun stats aside, as was the case with "In A Daydream", it's a great groove and killer players that make this song so special — and it's Triple A validated Top 5. Between quality music and a well earned rep, you'll never get a more deserving depth track than this.

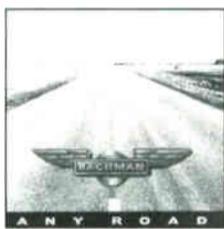

Veruca Salt, "Seether", Geffen

WMMS' Doug Kubinski mentioned this one to us about a month ago, and, yeah, in the spirit of the Breeders or maybe Juliana Hatfield, this is good girl group stuff. As the oft quoted Dave Rossi says, "I think it's cool as shit. I'm partial to female stuff like L7 or the Breeders, and this just knocks me in the dirt. I've played it for everyone around here and gotten instant reaction."... From TJ at WDHA, "I love it. First time I heard it I thought it was Juliana Hatfield. Great sounding record, with really good guitars"... From Steve Blatter at X107, "What a hot record, kind of like the Breeders, which did really well for us. It's female grunge"... Again to Dave Numme and "I like the guitars, it's got a huge hook and it's really quite rock based."

Randy Bachman, "Prairie Town", Guitar

As per Mr. Bachman's lifetime sales achievement marks, when he takes care of biz the public does love to respond to the big guy's special brand of sing-talking. And though to guys like Jack "Looks like we've got a winner here" Balzer at KATS in Yakima the setting of the track adds extra appeal, even city folks like the Loop's John Brandmeier are fans of the song. Then again, most of us will be up to our butts in those big drifts before long, so extra points for relatability there, too. You don't have to listen too hard to hear Neil Young's ragged guitar on this one, ditto the backing vocals, with Margo Timmins adding a nice touch as well.

Aerosmith's Steven Tyler yelled to throngs of fans after playing a violin borrowed from a Mexican mariachi group during a barge parade down the San Antonio River. Taking a detour from their Get A Grip World Tour, Aerosmith stopped in San Antonio to unveil their Signature T-Shirt Series and top off the newest Hard Rock Cafe, which is being built on the San Antonio River Walk.

WDRE NETWORK NABS MOTTLA

Russ Mottla

You never know what might come out of hanging around with the competition — but in Russ Mottla's case, those occasional lunches and dinners with Tom Calderone back in the late '80s, when Tom was at WHFS and Russ programmed WIYY, paid big dividends this week. "It wasn't the kind of market where all the PDs sat around reading war books," said Russ. Starting this Monday, Russ starts as Program Director of the WDRE Modern Rock Network, encompassing Jarad owned DRE/New York, WIBF/Philly, WWCP/Albany, and a program feed to KDRE/Memphis and Little Rock. After tipping his hat to

Mr. Calderone for his help in locking the gig, Russ stated for the record, "Nationally, the Alternative format is exploding and facing some real challenges, namely fragmentation and competition from other formats. The DRE Network is poised to meet those challenges and I think Morey and Zanko show true genius by hiring a guy who knows next to nothing about the format." Perhaps, but something tells us he'll have it down by the end of the business day Monday, no problem.

THE EDGE MOVES INTO NEW MEXICO

Jacobs Media announced the signing of their ninth Modern Rock client in Albuquerque/Santa Fe. 107.9 will now be called "The Edge," headed by Program Director Mike O'Connor, formerly of WZGC/Atlanta. "Albuquerque marks the fourth Modern Rock client that we've signed this year," said company President Fred Jacobs. "This has been a great year for the format and for our clients. We've experienced record ratings in Minneapolis (6.5 12+) and believe that Modern Rock has come of age." The Edge signed on October 19 at 5:00pm after 50 hours of broadcasting "Sound Effects Radio — All sound effects all the time," a stunt which generated press in the market. Edge General Manager Jim Pidcock commented, "We conducted a research project that determined that there was a huge hole for Modern Rock in the market. I've been in the market three years and wasn't surprised how hungry Albuquerque was for this music. We turned it over to Jacobs Media and they made the transition absolutely painless."

Charlie Walk

Charlie Walk has been promoted to Director/Pop Promotion for Columbia. In making the announcement, VP/Pop Promotion Jerry Blair commented, "Charlie's boundless energy, continued growth and motivation are the reasons for this promotion. He is smart, innovative and extremely creative." Walk was appointed Associate Director/Pop Promotion for the label in April, 1994. Prior to that he spent five years with Sony Music, starting as College Rep at the Sony Music Distribution New England Branch during his final two years at Boston University. During this time, he was also a music intern and producer at local radio station KISS-108.

REBECCA CARROLL JOINS LONDON

Rebecca Carroll

London Records President Peter Koepke announced that Rebecca Carroll has joined the company as Director of marketing. In her new position, Carroll will be responsible for all facets of marketing, including planning, retail campaigns, merchandising, and acting as a liaison to PLG Group Distribution, as well as ILS, PLG's independent sales organization. Before coming to London, Carroll was a Product Manager at PLG Label Group. She was originally hired by PLG in 1991 as a Marketing Coordinator and was promoted to Product Manager in 1992. Label VP Russ Rieger commented, "Rebecca's commitment to our artists' integrity and development makes her an ideal addition to the London staff. We're delighted that she's here."

HOLDEN NAMED VIRGIN DIRECTOR

Peter Holden

Peter Holden has been appointed Director Of International for Virgin Records America. Holden joins Virgin following a five year tenure with EMI Music Europe. He began with EMI in 1989, and worked in Holland and Germany before assuming his most recent post as Marketing Executive, European Repertoire based in EMI's London office. Commenting on Holden's appointment, Virgin President and CEO Phil Quartararo said, "Peter's broad experience in international music marketing will be a great asset to Virgin. Our approach to artist development transcends national boundaries, and with Peter's help Virgin artists will continue to reach new fans all over the globe."

INDUSTRY ROTATIONS

Melody Castillo

Liz Morentin

Lynette Bosco

KEZO Music Director Becca Goodman has exited the station and at last report, was headed for a new gig in New York. Replacing Goodman in the MD chair is Marvin Pratt. Robert McGuire has been appointed Sr. Director, Royalties for Sony Music Entertainment.

McGuire has served as Director, Royalties, Sony Music International since 1987. He joined CBS Inc. in 1977, as Sr. Auditor in the Internal Audit Department for four years. He spent the next six years at CBS Records International, where he held positions in Internal Controls, Contract Administration, and Financial Analysis... Rhino named Liz Morentin to National Manager of Media Relations. Prior to Rhino, Morentin served in Media Relations at Epic, where she coordinated artist interviews and tour press, TV appearances, artist receptions, and ticket buys. She also worked in publicity for Scoop Marketing and gained retail experience as a manager at Warehouse Entertainment... Claude Mitchell has been named Senior Creative Director, PolyGram Music Publishing

Group USA. Prior to joining PMPG, Mitchell was creative director, East Coast, EMI Music Publishing. In making the announcement, PMPG VP/GM, East Coast Operations Holly Greene commented, "I am delighted to have the opportunity to work with Claude again. Not only will he be a great creative asset to PolyGram Music Publishing, but his administrative skills and knowledge of the publishing business make him one of the best young executives in the field today..."

Lynette Bosco was promoted to Director of Office Services for Atlantic, based at the company's NY headquarters. Bosco was most recently manager of Office Services, a position she had held since 1992. She has been with the department throughout her tenure at Atlantic, which began in 1989... Gourav Dalmiya, Director of Accounting at Arista, announced the return of Melody Castillo as Manager, Accounting. During the last two years, Castillo has served as an Accountant and most recently as Accounting Supervisor of EMI Records Group. Prior to joining EMI, she spent 4 years at Arista as Assistant Manager of Accounting and 6 years at BMG Lyndhurst in various positions.

RADIO RUMBLE

X-107/Westchester and WRKL-AM/Rockland have been purchased by Odyssey Communications, a newly formed company owned by Stuart Subotnick and Michael Kakoyiannis. "X-107 and WRKL-AM provide us platforms for future growth and expansion in the radio broadcast industry," said Subotnick. "I've been involved in radio for over twenty years, and these stations represent broadcast properties with significant growth potential." Both AOR X-107 and news/talk WRKL-AM are in suburban communities about 20 miles north of NYC, and serve a broadcast area encompassing four of the top ten counties in the nation on a per capita income basis. Kakoyiannis added, "Both of these stations are unique and well-positioned; the management philosophy we bring to these stations is to look for value-added opportunities that will significantly enhance programming and sales. Our seasoned management team has significant experience in running successful stations and in implementing station turnarounds."

Jacobs Media treated over 150 broadcasters to a broad spectrum of information at the "Modern Rock Breakfast" at the NAB convention. Company President Fred Jacobs commented, "The presentation had two goals. For broadcasters considering the format, we wanted to educate them on the financial, operating, research, advertiser and music aspects of the format. And for those who are currently working in Modern Rock, our mission was to share our prospective on a variety of issues that are facing the format" Pictured at the "Modern Rock Breakfast" are (back row l-r): Tom Calderone, Steve Leeds, Fred Jacobs, Mark Steinmetz and Fred Sattler. Front row: Paul Jacobs, Pierre Bouvard.

WLUP/Chicago's Danny Bonaduce will give away a trip for two to Las Vegas at the Loop Halloween Party, Monday (10/31). Everyone in attendance will be eligible to win the final trip for Viva Loop Vegas. The Las Vegas event features Bonaduce, Kevin Matthews and Jonathon Brandmeier broadcasting their shows live from the MGM Grand on Friday, November 4th, with Danny doing a second show on Saturday, previewing his latest boxing event, this one with Rick Kirkham of "Inside Edition." Other highlights of the Loop Halloween Party include a costume contest featuring a Bonaduce look-alike competition, buffet dinner, and music by Bonaduce's house band, The Critics, and a happy hour buffet.

W DVE/Pittsburgh's Scott Paulsen & Jim Krenn's Charity CD and cassette project, No Harmful Side Effects, sold more copies in its first week available than any other national release in the Pittsburgh Metro area. According to Soundscan, No Harmful Side Effects sold more copies in the week of 10/9-10/15 than even R.E.M. (2nd place) and Eric Clapton (3rd place). No Harmful Side Effects is the sixth CD & cassette project by Paulsen and Krenn, and a portion of the proceeds from this project benefit The Greater Pittsburgh Community Food Bank and other local charities.

WRXL/Richmond played host to Virginia Republican Senatorial candidate Ollie North when he visited the XL102 studios during his campaign swing across the state. He was a guest for an hour on the Jeff And Jeff Morning Show, and to add to the mix, shock rocker and NRA supporter Ted Nugent discussed issues on the air by phone from his Michigan office. Thanks to the Associated Press, Ollie's appearance landed XL102 on the cover of the NY Times that next morning. Ollie has a gap between his teeth and rumor had it he could squirt water out of his mouth through his teeth a long distance. Jeff & Jeff asked for a demonstration, and sure enough, Ollie hit a target some ten feet away in the studio, and the moment was captured on film for the Times. Pictured: Ollie North and XL102 PD/afternoon drive jock Brian Illes.

TBS Superstation has licensed Live From The House Of Blues, a new, live (on tape), weekly concert series set to premiere in January 1995. Live From The House Of Blues will provide viewers with front row seats to sold-out events. The series will feature an eclectic mix of recording artists and their special guests in all-out jam sessions on stage at the House of Blues in New Orleans and L.A. Each episode will premiere on Friday nights at midnight (ET), with encore airings on Saturday nights at midnight. TBS President Terry Segal commented, "We have enjoyed a long and rewarding relationship with Warner Bros. and look forward to venturing into this new original series together. Live From The House Of Blues' cutting-edge music in a live club atmosphere will strike a positive chord with TBS' large audience." Eric Frankel, Exec. VP/Warner Bros. Pay TV, Cable & Network Features, added, "With an extensive, multi-million dollar media effort, the series will feature one of the most extensive, on-going promotional campaigns in cable TV history." TBS has ordered 22 original programs and four "best of" episodes.

Dennis Daniel

Topline Design, Ltd., Long Island's largest full service advertising agencies, signed radio veteran Dennis Daniel as their Creative/Broadcast Director. Daniel's 16 year radio resume includes stints as a writer, producer and voice over talent for WBAB, WPDH WNOR, Channel Z and WDRE. "I wanted to be able to move into other areas of creativity along with radio and I've always been interested in print, TV and film" commented Daniel.

WDIZ morning man Slats gives Jackyl's Jesse Dupree a "Push then a shove" out the door of Jani Lane's Sunset Strip just in time for the band to open the show for the current ZZ Top tour which rocked Orlando Arena September 24.

CFOX's beat reporter, Joe Vanderweese, got an exclusive interview with wild and wacky comedienne/actress/vocalist Sandra Bernhard. Sandra performed two sold out concerts at the Vogue Theatre, and then took time out to sign autographs at a nearby A&B Sound.

Steve Perry recently spent an hour interacting with fans on America Online about his latest solo album For The Love Of Strange Medicine.

RAY GMEINER

by Bill Hard

Ya wanna talk the record side of the street? Brooklyn born Ray Gmeiner has been there and done that since day one — radio, retail, wholesale, marketing, local, regional, national and indie promotion. First, college radio at State University of NY at Albany's WSUA. 8 years in Denver after that: working with Jeff Cook at the big Peaches retail store from '76-'78, head buyer at the Mile-Hi One Stop for the next year. Then on to MCA sales, distribution and finally, promotion. Part time work at jazz KADX when MCA eliminates the position in early 1980. Then came local Elektra promotion '80-'83, a move to L.A. regional AOR Director '83-'87, National AOR '87-'89, then off to New York as VP/Rock Promotion in 1989. In 1990, Ray bought Ace Entertainment from Michael Papale when Michael signed on with Interscope, moving back to L.A. Ray and his wife Dominica (expecting a baby girl in December, by the way) ran the company for just over four years, renaming it Ace Promotion and Marketing. And the most recent chapter of Ray's promomathon has him rejoining old Elektra colleagues Louie Maglia and Brad Hunt as Zoo's VP/Rock Promotion, effective last month. Naturally, a man with Ray's experience has plenty to talk about — and we knew just where we wanted to start...

Got to love that. It's interesting though that so many of those point leaders, the point men at radio, are the stations that add records based on programming value as opposed to specific incentives from big record companies.

Ray: Absolutely, and God bless them for it.

Not long after you started as an indie, the whole monitored airplay era really kicked in. Did that change your reality dramatically?

Ray: Quite frankly, everyone thought that it would, but my perception was it didn't change it all that much. Part of Ace Promotion and Marketing's weekly gig was maintenance work, and part of our job was to help move records up the chart, so weekly we were in there fighting for extra spins. The terminology changed from, 'We want to see this record go from medium to heavy,' but it was basically the same thing, working on getting more plays per week from the radio stations.

Did you find that you had been getting stroked by radio more than you thought?

Ray: No, maybe it was just the stations and the guys and gals that I worked with, but for the most part, with maybe a few exceptions, what my stations were telling me they were playing was reality. There were very few people doing the paper add game.

Obviously, it's pretty competitive in the indie ranks and guys are very territorial. I know that when you got started, you had to work your way through the freeze. What was your formula for getting what you felt was your fair share, especially with elbows being thrown in your direction?

Ray: Yeah, there were a few, but Michael Papale and I were a good fit. That's why he was able to sell the company to me, because I had spent so many years being a west coast based promotion guy. Before I went to Elektra as Vice President of Rock Promotion, I was based all those years out of Los Angeles and most of my concentration was west of the Mississippi, so I was pretty much in sync with Michael already, as far as the same radio stations. I knew virtually every guy that Michael was talking to, and that's why we were able to make the transition work. There were a few situations where I called guys that had been in the west and had moved east, south or north, and there was a little bit of elbowing and resentment going on as a result of that, but it didn't get out of hand. It didn't take more than about a year. In the first twelve months, it was still sort of a week to week battle to keep Ace afloat because there were a number of people on the west coast. I no sooner started up in L.A. than Jim McKeon

Hey, Ray! How do you like to torture the indies now that you are signing the checks?

Ray: Actually, it's both enlightening and it's entertaining. It's fun to see a little bit more of the inside of the individual independent promotion companies — how they work, how much it costs, how well they deliver or not.

Do you think that one indie usually knows what kind of deals his competitors are cutting?

Ray: Everybody charges pretty much the same. I did find out, though, that I was a cheap date. I was charging less than just about everybody. I thought that a couple of years ago when we had a recession going on that it would be smart of me to keep the prices around the 1990 mark. It turns out that everyone else must have jacked up their prices. From a yearly budget standpoint, my company cost a lot less than some others because most of my radio stations in the western United States are either guys that don't expect something to be attached to every add, or don't play that game at all. Consequently, there wasn't a lot of extra budget needed to get a bunch of my radio stations. I'm not saying that they were all like that. Some guys in the region worked on more of a tit for tat basis. In retrospect, I would price my services differently the next time.

Yeah, it's getting pretty expensive to put a record on the radio these days, especially since many labels aren't fixated on recouping promo expenses on a market by market basis.

Ray: I would agree. I think that there are some labels that are spending some stupid money, and there are labels that will pay just about anything to get an add, just to make themselves look good at the end of the day. But that's not my plan, that's not my style. It's got to make sense. When an independent tells me that they need such and such dollar amount to get this promotion up and running, I take a look at the market's retail potential. If it's a market where we can easily recoup the amount of money that we are spending, then I will go ahead and do it. If it's not, then I just won't.

Do you buy into the notion that certainly there are guys like Mull or Romano that when they add a record, it makes a big difference, sort of regional or national leader type of guys? Do you buy into that concept?

Ray: Absolutely. I don't think that there is any question that certain radio stations — unfortunately there are too few of them — are looked at as leaders that can help break records. At this point, it's people like Greg, Steve Young at KISW, 'AAF in Boston is looked at that way now, and Q104.3 to a certain degree is looked at that way, and they should be. In the market size that they are in, and the way that they spin records, thank you very much Q104.3 for playing my Killing Joke 40 times a week.

started out of Seattle covering the west coast, and he took a certain amount of clients immediately because of relationships from his previous employment at a couple of major labels. So there was some shuffling, there were some accounts lost, and there were some accounts gained as certain people found that I was getting the job done. They took awhile, but they eventually came on board.

What was the toughest thing about going from a label guy to an indie guy? The fact that you had to hustle business?

Ray: Partly hustling to make sure that the money was coming in on a weekly basis. I'm a pretty self-motivated guy, and always have been, so it wasn't so much the getting up every morning that was a problem. It was more just being there by yourself. I didn't have an office of five or ten people, it was just me and my wife Dominica. At first, we thought that we would give it a try to see how it would affect our marriage, hoping it wouldn't be a detriment. It actually brought us closer together because she gained a firsthand understanding of what it was that I did and the business in general. I think we made a pretty good little team.

A lot of indies who say that they run a shop like that mention the tedium of jamming call after call after call, sitting in a room without people around them. Did you find that ultimately frustrating?

Ray: It gets tedious at times, and you have to pick yourself up everyday and just go at it and do it again. Towards the end, I was starting to get a little burnt on it, which had something to do with my decision to go back into a record company.

Obviously, between Brad and Louie and guys you've known for a long time, that was a great opportunity to work with people that you are comfortable with and like.

Ray: If it hadn't been for Lou and Brad, everything being equal, I probably would have not even considered the same offer from another record company. But because those two made it comfortable for me to come back to a record company, it's a great situation.

Did you have a sense that the role of the indie might be expendable a few years down the line? And had you found that the role of the independent had changed noticeably in the four and half years you were in the trenches?

Ray: To answer the first part of the question, I think the days of an AOR independent promotion firm with basically one person banging the phones are numbered. I had to start thinking in terms of down the road — not just what was going to happen in my life for the next 12 months, but the next three to ten years. I really saw the potential for the business to start shrinking, and I found myself 'at the fork in the road,' as Robert Frost might put it. To stay competitive, I was going to have to expand Ace Promotion and make it a multi-format, one-stop shopping independent promotion company. At that point, I was seriously thinking about bringing in an experienced Metal person because it didn't appear that there was anybody doing a great job of Metal promotion out of the west coast. I was in discussion with a very experienced label metal person, and I was also starting to put my feelers out for an Alternative person. More and more of my business involved crossing metal and/or alternative to COR, and I couldn't have done it just by myself, and I wasn't going to bring in somebody green and hope that I could train them. I was looking at bringing in two experienced people for those two formats who could bring billing and business to the table immediately.

Do you believe upper level label management fully understands the function of rock radio indies?

Ray: For a number of years now, Senior VPs of Promotion, who don't understand the rock radio world, wish that they could get rock radio to the same kind of situation as Pop or CHR radio, where there is one indie for each radio station. There is a certain amount of frustration at the upper levels of record companies who don't understand why AOR PDs take calls from more than one indie. They would like to see a situation like the one at Top 40, where there is one independent per rock station.

Hasn't McGathy succeeded to some degree on that level?

Ray: I would agree that Bill has done a very good job of providing great service to smaller market radio stations in particular, that typically don't have a budget that allows them to do an extensive amount of promotion.

Do you feel that the other AOR indies are trying to move in that direction?

Ray: Let me put it this way. Anybody doing independent promotion would like to be the only person at that radio station helping to call the shots and getting all the adds first. That's just the nature of the beast. But it's dangerous for the heads of promotion to push too hard to force it in that direction. They think that it's going to be more controllable that way, but if they look at the long term, they will find that it's going to make it more expensive for them to do it that way — not to mention the fact that you can't tell Program Directors at rock radio, especially the experienced ones who have been out there for a long time and who have relationships, that they have to stop talking to certain people. For an example, Tom Marshall at WKLQ and I have a long standing friendship that goes back some 12 or 13 years ago to KFMG in Albuquerque. Even though I was one of his key independent guys at several of the stations that he was at over the last decade, at times, Tom also took advantage of the services of another independent if it was good business for his radio station. For a head of promotion to think that they can somehow compel Tom to stop talking to all but one indie? Good luck! Tom Marshall is going to tell you to take a flying leap. I'd like to see somebody tell Dana Jang to stop talking to three or four of the independents that he talks to. God bless Dana, he talks to everyone. Or try to sell Curtiss Johnson, Bill Betts or Dave Numme on that concept? They are going to talk to who they want to talk to. These are headstrong, professional people who are going to do what they want to do and what is best for their radio station, and nobody at any record company is going to force them into taking calls from only one independent.

Plus, with very few exceptions, not all independents work every record out there. When I used to pitch programmers, my rap to them was, 'Pick me, and then if you need another person to cover the labels that I don't cover, find someone good and use us both. That way you get a good broad overview of all of the priorities out there from all of the record companies and you will have access to the decision makers at all of the other record companies. If you only use one independent promoter who doesn't have all of the labels, you're maybe missing the boat on a few important situations.'

I was talking to a programmer yesterday who was steamed because he found out other stations in his region were getting major promotions for adding a company priority he went out of the box on because he loved the record — when his station got zippo. Did you find yourself in that kind of crossfire often?

Ray: Very seldom. I didn't do business that way. That's one of the reasons why I survived in the independent promotion scene. I do think that situation illustrates the shortsightedness promotion is often guilty of, at both the indie and label level. For some reason, we seem to love shooting ourselves in the foot due to too much emphasis on short term gratification. It's the old, 'If you don't do what I need you to do right now, you're an asshole,' even though next week you need them to add another record, and next month you need them to add another record.

Did you find radio was as straight with you as you expected them to be, or did you frequently encounter double talk and deliberate miscommunication?

Ray: In most situations I found radio to be pretty straight, but there are always exceptions. There are people out there that just infuriate you and want to play stupid games and constantly have their hands out.

Yeah, and we all know where those whores live.

Ray: Everybody knows who they are. There are jokes about them every week at the indie and label level. Everyone knows who the assholes are out there.

How many records do you think that you could effectively work as an indie yourself, and really get something done with?

Ray: I'm glad that you asked this because it's an area that's misunderstood. There are varying levels of working projects. I think that a good number for me was about 12 records. I had a cross check system that I inherited from Michael that kept me organized. Of those 12 records, maybe six were already added, up and running. There I concentrated on spin increases. Some of them you are trying to get top five, some are you trying to get top ten, some you are trying to get top twenty and on and on. Then you may be trying to get adds on six more. So, you can work that many records, maybe even a few more when there is just a glut of product. But I don't think you can effectively work more than six or eight records for adds in any given week.

What did you find was your most effective tool for rotation increases?

Ray: Hard information, as opposed to the fluff and the bullshit we used to throw at radio.

What do you think is the worst thing, in terms of damaging a relationship with radio, that an independent can do?

Ray: Work with another radio station in the same town.

I find that amazing that somebody can try to work more than one radio station in the same town. Put yourself in the shoes of Program Director at radio station XYZ. You just got off the line with him, you pick up the phone, call his competitor, tell him what your conversation just was. If I was a Program Director and I knew an independent promotion guy was trying to work another radio station in the same town, it would be over with. One of my biggest selling points was working with one radio station in each market. They knew that I was an extra weapon for them against competition in their marketplace, whether it was Dave Numme in Portland or Bill Betts when he was in Denver. When he was in that intense battle with KAZY, one of the reasons that Bill and I bonded was because he knew that I wasn't hanging up the phone, calling up KAZY and going 'Hey, guess what Bill just told me?' I think that he, as well as all the people I worked with appreciated that. They knew that I was there for them day in and day out, week in and week out, all year long, and that I was strictly there to help get them everything I could possibly get to win their battle.

One last indie question. What's different about the way you and Zoo use indies?

Ray: Since I've only been here a short time, I can't speak to how other people do it. There are definitely changes coming down at Zoo, in terms of the way that independents are being utilized. To sum it up in one easy paragraph, if they ain't delivering, they won't be hired. There are some independent promotion firms out there that just aren't getting it done, who are going to find it pretty tough over the next few months and years. It comes down to relationships, and certain independent promotion firms have stronger relationships and can deliver at the appropriate time, as opposed to some other independent promotion firms that just seem to be tracking, or are one of several firms calling the same radio stations. They're going to have to have the key relationship to be able to get it done, or they'll be out of business.

At Ace, you specialized more in active COR radio stations that rotate records. Since arriving at Zoo, have you eliminated some of the more classic driven stations from your target spectrum?

Ray: We've eliminated them from targets as far as particular artists. It's a waste of time and money to chase more mainstream or real classic oriented radio stations on acts like Killing Joke or Green Jelly. I tell my staff, 'DoD't even waste your time calling certain radio stations that will always tell you, 'We don't get it. We don't like it. It doesn't fit.' The philosophy here is, 'Let's support radio stations that rotate records more than others.' The available promotional dollars are going to go to the radio stations that rotate the records the most, period. It amazes me to watch the kind of money being spent by other record companies to get radio stations that give one spin a day to a record, and then after four weeks, drop it saying, 'Gee, we're not getting anything on this record.' There's just no way that you can recoup your dollars if you are out there trying to buy adds on radio stations that don't give you any kind of a legitimate shot. We're just going to spend our money wisely. I would hope that any radio programmer reading this would agree that if they are a radio station that is putting their support out there on the line for an artist or a record company, and are rotating the record more than your average radio station, that they're the ones that deserve to get promotional support.

It seems the local promotion person's role in brokering promotions has been almost totally relegated to independents. Agree?

Ray: To a certain degree independents are necessary to get it going, but the local or regional person, day in and day out, is the one that has to take the ball from there. Ideally, the two should really be working together and not against each other.

Who, more often than not, cuts the deal? The indie?

Ray: I guess the indie does more often than not, but then again, our staff is out there hustling. This past week, my Chicago guy got a promotion up and running with a radio station in Omaha, and three hours later I got a call from an independent saying, 'Hey, by the way this radio station added the record,' and I said, 'Thanks very much for calling, but my guy in Chicago is the one that initiated the promotion and got it done and thanks for the call. Have a nice day.'

What is your plan for Green Jelly at this juncture?

Ray: Green Jelly is in a unique situation. They're multi-layered, multi-impression artists, so the key is not only working it hard at COR radio, but it's working it at the video level. The band has already got a deal with Marvel Comics for their own comic book.

Do you feel like you're flying without a net since the video isn't finished yet?

Ray: It is to a certain degree, but as all the labels know, you can't count on MTV or The Box or anyone else when you are making your marketing plans. Not every video goes on MTV. You can't sit here and say 'Let's see if they go on the video, then we'll chase it on the other levels.' You can't do that, otherwise you are just sitting around hoping and praying that MTV is going to add your video and if they don't, you're dead in the water. So, you have to go out and go to every level possible. In the case of Green Jelly, it's radio, it's video, it's the comic tie-in, and they even have the music to the Maximum Carnage video game out right now, and that software's very hot with young people around the country. There are a lot of levels that artists should be looking at, in terms of exposure, instead of the old 'Let's do a record and throw it against the wall and see if it sticks.'

What is going on at this point with Matthew Sweet?

Ray: We put Matthew together with producer Brendan O'Brien, and they're almost done with the new record. Brendan is definitely hot, and all the reports out of Atlanta are that Matthew has done the best record of his career. We are all anxiously awaiting to hear the results.

After the last record, the heat is on.

Ray: This was before I got here. Regardless of some people being a little disappointed in the last record, we are going to go out and work Matthew really hard. I think that maybe Matthew himself would say that he was a little disappointed with the end result, but, hey, there were Beattie albums that weren't as great as the previous one. But you go back in and do it again, and that's what we have done with Matthew. The commitment to Matthew is huge here. He is considered one of the three biggest artists at this label, along with Tool and Green Jelly. Actually, you can put Great White into the mix with that because the label has done a great job of reviving that career when nobody gave them a shot. Nobody in the industry thought that band had a prayer this time around.

So what was the key to resurrecting them?

Ray: Tenacity and call out research. I worked 'Sail Away' as an independent, and the Zoo staff did a phenomenal job of working the record week in and week out. Management also did a phenomenal job. My hat is off to Alan Niven and Ray Tusken over at Alan's management company. Everybody did a really tenacious job of staying with it. There were weeks where it could have gone sideways, and with a little bit of luck and a lot of hard work, we were able to finally get success stories built to the point where we were able to spread these success stories around the country, to the degree that even today we have radio stations going back on 'Sail Away' or staying with the track for twenty-five or twenty-six weeks because it tests so phenomenally. Now, almost ten weeks later, we're starting to see the same thing happen with 'Alright.' But you have to play it to get results, and right now it's a tough period of time with all the superstars out there. But if you rotate it, it will react and it will research and it will come home for them.

Where's Killing Joke's momentum currently? How much further do you think that you can take the record, and what's your plan to get it there?

Ray: We have certain markets in the country where 'Millennium' has turned out to be a big hit — New York and Chicago, just to point out two different formats. At Q104.3, it's 40 spins a week and a smash for them. Q101 in Chicago, a different format, is still playing the record a lot, and it's been a big hit for them. The band is coming over in a week starting off their national tour, and we are getting ready to launch the second track at Alternative radio. I will be working it at rock radio, and as the excitement builds from the tour, we are going to get this second track played and follow the tour around the country. Seeing this band live is going to go a long way toward convincing people because the reports are that this band kicks ass on stage.

Hey! Where's our Tool platinum?

Ray: I was just going to tell you that we are in the process of putting together our Tool platinum list, and those who were there early are the ones that are going to get Tool platinum from us. The record went to platinum recently, and we're very happy about that, and we thank those folks that were believers and stuck with us on that. Your's is in the mail.

Thanks very much. What do you think are the most musically reactive markets?

Ray: Seattle, Phoenix, Boston, thanks to WAAF. Mr. Mull in Tampa, the boys at 'KDF in Nashville, and Texas in general. There are obviously some other strong markets, but I think those leap off the page.

And the slowest?

Ray: The northeast in general.

What's the problem with the trades? A little open ended question for you. I figure we've been slagging the indies plenty.

Ray: I think the only problem with the trades is — and I guess that it's inherent that there is a certain amount of duplication of information — but I think that each trade, to a certain degree, has done a good job of separating itself from the pack.

Do you think that plays per week has tended to take away from R&R's impact?

Ray: Yes, to a certain degree it has. I think that everybody would agree that they are in the process of catching up, and the jury is still out as to whether they will completely regain their former clout. They still provide a very valuable service to a certain degree, but yes, having BDS and Soundscan at our fingertips has made it a different playing field.

When Billboard's Monitor mag first hit, they were the only journal with PPW info. Now that weekly play reports are the industry standard, do you see the Monitor's impact lessened?

Ray: Yeah, in the marketing sense, they haven't taken advantage of what they may have had at their disposal. They had something there that could have really rocketed them to the forefront, and they definitely have done a good job. But from the perspective of an outsider looking in over the last four and a half years, I think that they may have not taken full advantage of the lead that they could have taken.

Who has the hardest AOR job right now? Is it Art Phillips who has no records to work, is it Alan Oremen who has too many records to work?

Ray: It's the labels that don't have the catalog/roster to be able to play one off against another. One of the reasons Geffen is so hot right now, and why labels like Epic have done such a good job over the last few years, is because they have a great roster and obviously a good staff that enabled them to use their large roster, their heritage artists, to help their baby bands. The labels that don't have that, including Zoo, have a tougher job. That's just the way that it is. If you are a smaller label that doesn't have the big, heavy hitters, it makes your job tougher every week, and my job is tougher than Alan Oremen's.

How do you think that Zoo is perceived at radio?

Ray: The feedback that I've gotten walking through the door here is that we are perceived as a pretty hip smaller label. We can take advantage of that because we have a unique music driven roster, as opposed to predictable, easy to peg heritage acts. I think the perception is that Zoo is cool because we have unique, different bands.

Who do you think is cool?

Ray: Of the more recent start-ups, the label that everyone has to tip their hat to — and not just to stroke my old partner — is Interscope. I feel they've done the best job of any of the newer labels out there, as far as getting started up and kicking in and selling a lot of product and doing a great job with their bands. It was great working with Michael at Interscope because it enabled me to work with some great hot new bands that added to my credibility, a la 4 Non Blondes, Helmet.

How would you rate Zoo's street presence? Is that a factor that you are concerned with?

Ray: That is a factor that I am concerned with from the standpoint that we have ten regional people trying to cover the entire country, and it's very hard to do that. If anything, I am a little concerned that they are spread a little too thin.

Do you have plans to add staff at this point?

Ray: No, we don't have plans to add staff at this point, but one of my jobs is to get this department even more organized. I inherited a good department from Michael Prince. My job is to make it even more organized and more focused, and I'm going to have to work that much harder to fill in some of the holes that the staff can't fill because they are so spread out.

What do you think is the biggest waste of money in the business?

Ray: Overnighting product at the drop of a hat.

And what do you think one of the smartest expenses is?

Ray: Concentrating promotional support on the markets that rotate records and help sell product.

Please rate the following 'excellent, good, fair and poor' in terms of their ability to break acts: low dough showcases.

Ray: Very good.

Time buys.

Ray: Good.

PD/MD personal schmoozing.

Ray: Sometimes worthless, sometimes effective.

Great hair.

Ray: Well, Bill, since you and I have great hair, excellent.

Trade ads.

Ray: Honestly, fair.

MTV.

Ray: When you get them, excellent.

VH1.

Ray: Somewhat effective.

I recently spoke with a consultant whose latest major market auditorium test showed intense burn on most of the heritage AOR core library — far worse than was previously thought. In your backyard, KLOS appears to be reacting to that situation. How are they sounding to you lately?

Ray: It's the first significant change at the radio station in a long time, and I think that it's only for the better. I hope that Carey's experiment works for him and for the radio station. It's only going to help us.

How would you rate concern over burn and the state of their format in general?

Ray: I think that they are worried.

Having been involved with COR since practically day one, how much equivocation are they going through lately?

Ray: In general, the format is nervous right now. If anything, it has shrunk in the last year or two. Part of that can be chalked up to the fact that the hottest music today is coming out of the Alternative scene. Luckily, a lot of the best Alternative music, or some of the really good Alternative music has guitars and rocks enough that it also fits for COR radio.

How do you think that the industry perceives you personally?

Ray: Former party animal that kicks ass.

When is Dominica due?

Ray: Christmas.

Do you have a name picked out?

Ray: No, but I promise it won't be Eve!

Bob Dylan, "Dignity," Columbia A lot of people felt that Dylan's last couple of albums didn't really fit comfortably on most radio stations. But then again, Dylan never intentionally writes radio compatible music. When one of his songs works for radio, it's more of a coincidence than an objective. "Dignity," a previously unreleased track from the forthcoming Bob Dylan's Greatest Hits Vol. 3, is an example of one of those pleasant coincidences. Red hot producer Brendan O'Brien adds his magic touch to this outstanding offering. Jim Herron WBOS, "This is the best Dylan I have heard in years. It's kind of a little more Blood On The Tracks-ish." Bob Terrill KCSU, "When Bob isn't clipping coupons or reading his latest Modern Maturity magazine, he still has it in him to write a great song, and this is it. It's good to see him back." Steve Cole KSPN, "Bob Dylan caps a very productive period in his career with this exciting single, 'Dignity.' Mr. Dylan, in addition to writing one of his most compelling compositions in recent years, also seems to have benefited from the production of Brendan O'Brien, currently riding a hot streak of his own. We threw it on the air immediately, and already are getting great response. The only downside, as with the latest singles from INXS and Bob Seger, is that we won't get to enjoy a full album of new material, because the singles are terrific."

The Hot Corner

Kenny Neal, "Hoodoo Moon," Alligator Baton Rouge bluesman Kenny Neal has been impressing blues lovers since his first album release (Bio on the Bayou) in 1987. Now he's on his fifth, Hoodoo Moon, and it really cooks. Along with great blues guitar and swamp harmonica playing, Kenny has the perfect voice for his brand of traditional southern blues, a low growl that reaches the soul with maturity that belies his youth. Although traditional in style, his music is performed with fresh emotional intensity. The tracks include five originals, distinctive by their swamp boogie feel and featuring his harp, notably on "Don't Fix Our Love," "Carrying The Torch" and the title cut. Two tracks are direct tributes to old blues greats, including the outstanding first cut, "I'm A Blues Man." Another notable track, "Bad Memory," puts the classic-but-simple blues lyric in a modern setting.

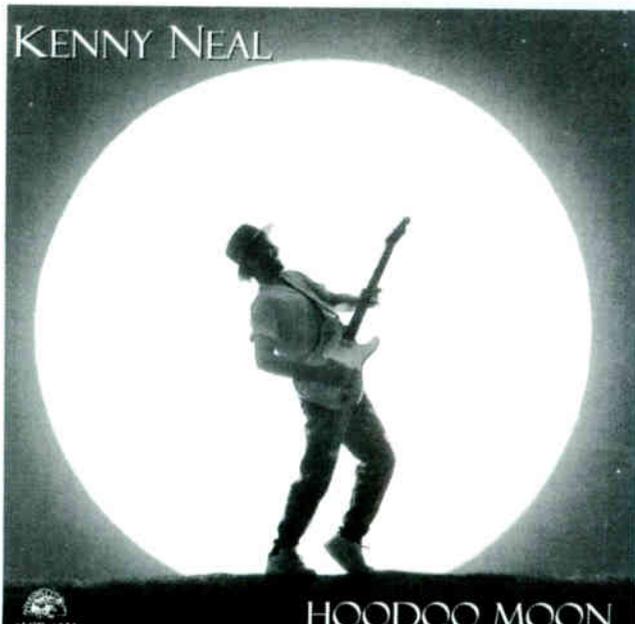

Golden Palominos, "Pure," Restless Anton Fier and the constantly shifting collective of artists known as Golden Palominos have released their latest creation, Pure, an album of elaborate compositions by Fier, expansive and dreamlike, distinguished by complex percussion arrangements which he performs. Fier is constantly challenging himself and the artists he assembles for his projects, making each record an eclectic and unique endeavor. Returning Golden Palomino veterans

Lori Carson and Lydia Kavanagh perform the vocals for their own lyrics. The mood created on Pure is both sensual and eerily provocative, exemplified by the tracks "Little Suicides," "Pure" and "No Skin." Other interesting cuts include "Heaven," "Wings" and the erotic "Touch You." Dennis Constantine, "Anton Fier has put together another incarnation of his group The Golden Palominos. Tops on the list is the first track "Little Suicides." Hauntingly beautiful, this track sounds great on the air (KBCO added it weeks ago off an advance CD). Also, listen to the more dancey numbers "Pure," "Gun," and "Anything."

Single Spotlight

Tom Petty, "You Don't Know How It Feels," Warner Bros. Dennis Constantine, "Tom Petty's forthcoming album Wildflowers will be in your hands 10/26. The album is preceded by a great new song called 'You Don't Know How It Feels,' it has a very hip sound, and will segue real well with Neil Young. Save some space for this one because it deserves it!" Colter Langan KMMS, "It was an immediate add for us. One thing I really liked about it is that the guitar is the same guitar that Neil Young uses, it's very Neil Youngish. The Buffalo Springfield song 'Out Of Mind' is written all over it. It makes for a perfect segue for classic rock and Triple A. Our fans are starving for new Tom Petty, and we're going to be the ones to feed it to them." Dean Carlson KMTT, "'You Don't Know How It Feels' is a song that has all of the best elements of any Tom Petty record. Dry wit, awesome hook, and drug references. It's a smash!" Jim Herron WBOS, "This is really well done, I like it a lot. It's Tom Petty does Neil Young or something like that. 'You Don't Know How It Feels' is instantaneously playable." Steve Cole KSPN, "He's been to Hollywood, he's been to Redwood, he's crossed the ocean for new material and we've been waiting. 'You Don't Know How It Feels' hints of a slight change in tack for Mr. Petty, both in arrangement and production. The single sounds great, and as they say I can't wait to get my hands on the rest of the album. I'm glad you made it home for Christmas, Tom."

Triple Crown

Soup Dragons, "Hydrophonic," Mercury Between the last album, Hotwired, and this new one, Hydrophonic, the Soup Dragons have gone through some changes — founder/songwriter Sean Dickson found himself with no band. On this album, he plays all the instruments except percussion, with the help of some guest performances. The result is a collection of high-energy songs done in a surprisingly wide range of styles, from the hyper funk of "The Time Is Now" to "Freeway," a blues/rock number with touches of R&B to the crashing guitar frenzy of "J.F. Junkie." The Rolling Stones meet ZZ Top on "Out Of Here," "Motherfunker" is a highly charged dance/funk number with some Hendrix — like psychedelic overlays — while the opening track, "One Way Street," is a melodic pop rocker in a Mellencamp vein. Even with all the variety, Dickson's vocals and hard-edged tone thread through the entire album, making it a cohesive and creative effort.

Adrian Legg, "High Strung Tall Tales," Relativity With his fifth album release in four years, acoustic guitarist extraordinaire Adrian Legg brings us High Strung Tall Tales. Without lyrics and with minimal use of electronics, Legg still mixes things up well through eleven studio acoustic guitar tracks, using various styles including waltzes, assorted folk styles and even a country rock version of "Silent Night (The Movie)." The second half of the album was recorded live at the Tin Angel in Philadelphia, and is interspersed with over 15 minutes of hilarious commentary (the tall tales). In fact, with his dry British wit, he almost upstages his own guitar playing.

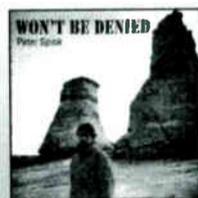

Eagles, "Get Over It," Geffen The long awaited Eagles reunion tour raked in critical praise for the former 70's icons, whose legions of loyal fans eagerly shelled out big bucks for the privilege of attending their shows. The follow-up album, Hell Freezes Over, will undoubtedly be met with a similarly enthusiastic reception, and a debut at 8* for the first single, "Get Over It," is a pretty good place to start. Unlike many rock musicians whose music writing mellows with age, Henley and Frey seem to go in the opposite direction. With Henley on lead vocals and music in hard edged blues/rock style, the song berates the current social trends of "bitching, complaining, and lawsuits."

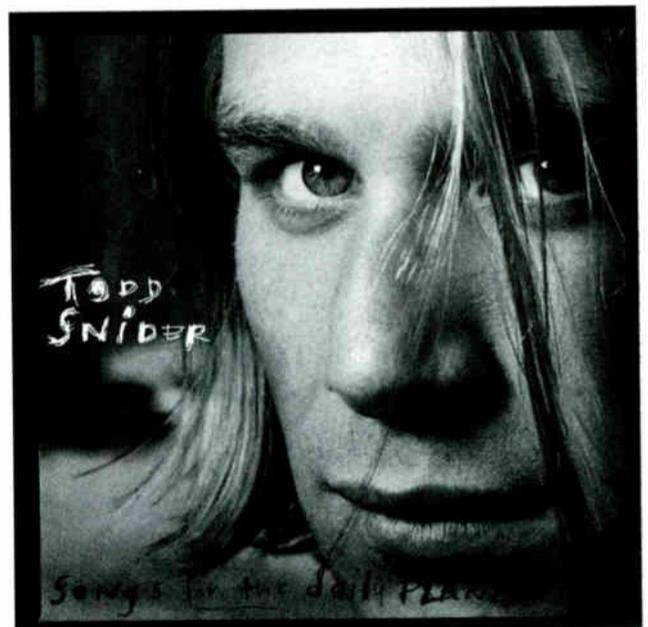

Janet Speaks French, "In The Planet Jane," 7 Records From the album Janet Speaks French in The Planet Jane comes the radio remix of "World On A Wire." The song features alternating lead vocals from founding members Sean O'Sullivan and David Stern, accompanied by a heavy bass beat and crunching guitars. The lyrics describe a woman who has "the world on a wire" but can't find love, a situation which frustrates the singer who is obsessed with her but can't get close to her. This is a thoroughly atmospheric song with a driving guitar edge and a healthy dose of humanity. "World On A Wire" is a solid example of the band's musical dexterity that sets the tone for the impressive album.

Peter Spink, "Won't Be Denied" Singer/songwriter Peter Spink is releasing his first album, Won't Be Denied, an appealing collection of acoustic folk/rock songs he has written over the past six years and performed mostly on open-mike nights in Greenwich Village. With strong and clear vocals, Peter sings upbeat songs of hope and the enjoyment of the simple and natural aspects of life. A few songs are simple solo acoustic tracks, including a version of Paul Simon's "Song For The Asking," the only cover on the album. Most are upbeat acoustic rockers, with some nice mandolin ("Denied") and fiddle ("Adam's Diner," "I Sing") by Jay Ungar. "Adam's Diner" also features a boogie bass rhythm which works well with the fiddle. Another track of note is "Call Of Their Own," a haunting and pensive ballad with an interesting sax accompaniment by Andrew Innes. If you haven't received a copy of this noteworthy independent release from one of the Village's best kept secrets, call (914) 948-4336, and Peter will be glad to send you a CD "and then some."

Blues Reviews

Mississippi Heat

"Learned The Hard Way"

Van der Linden Recordings
Steve Curley, KNCO-FM, Q104, The Dalles OR

Upon receiving Mississippi Heat's "Straight From The Heart" CD a couple of years ago, the CD stuck a raw

"This is the blues" nerve in my spine. I'm talkin' a traditional Chicago sound with new and fresh bits and pieces that just rocks. Mississippi Heat's latest, "Learned The Hard Way" fits the same mold with some excellent blues music. The band is based in Chicago and consists of Dietra Farr on vocals, Billy Flynn and James Wheeler on guitars, Allen Kirk on drums, Pierre Lacocque on harp and Robert Stroger on bass. Dietra's vocals shine on "I Love My Baby", "Je Me Souviens", "He's Not Good For Me" and "Change Your Ways". The harmonica oozes of traditional Chicago on "Let's Pack Our Bags", "My Woman Is An Old Black Spider" and the slower "Moaning and Crying" that says total blues. Billy Flynn pulls out the slide on a couple of cuts and between Flynn and Wheeler, the guitars are rock solid with Wheeler's vocals adding an extra spark. The upbeat "Kindhearted Fool" is excellent, as is "The Wrong Guy" — a story of being in the right place at the wrong time. Overall, this is a fine, well-balanced effort that I can't find a bad cut on. Thirteen of the fifteen songs are originals. Traditional Chicago blues people need this CD in their collection — it's a real refresher. It's not well-distributed, but can be ordered direct via Michel Lacocque, 5331 S. Greenwood, Chicago IL 60615 or by faxing (312)288-2926.

Duke Robillard

"Temptation"

Pointblank

Randi Anglin, producer and host of "Nothing But The Blues", WONY, Ithaca, NY

The temptation with this album is that you'll want to start with the first cut, "Rule the World", and let the disk play to the end, again and again. This is Duke's best album yet. Road warrior Robillard has been honing his chops for years recording and touring with Room Full of Blues, Fabulous Thunderbirds and Duke Robillard and The Pleasure Kings. That experience is combined in an action packed fun-filled album that pushes the boundaries of blues with cuts like "The Change Is On" complete with electric sitar and a 70's wah wah that will knock your socks off. Don't believe it? You will when you give it a listen. For years, Duke's music has been much more than just blues, and "Temptation" is a further example. Play "This Dream (Still Coming True)" for the link that ties together blues and jazz, while "Temptation", the title song, is a nice acoustic piece that makes a great bridge to a set of acoustic music. Duke's tasteful guitar work has been making disciples wherever he's played. "Temptation" is the album that will introduce Duke as the world class musician to those who have yet to see and hear him, and the ammunition for his converts to spread the good word to the rest of the world.

Kenny Neal

"Hoodoo Moon"

Alligator Records

Steve Curley, KMCO-FM, Q104, The Dalles, OR

Let's do the word association game with Kenny Neal: Mr. Energy, Mr. Entertainer. Having done some live shows with Kenny, I know first hand that both of these would work. He's a strong guitar player and a pretty good harp player, too. Kenny just released his fifth album for Alligator, "Hoodoo Moon". When Kenny wants to record an album, he goes down South and visits the nice folks at King Snake. You see, Bob Greenlee and buddies put out some real nice records in the blues capitol of the world, Sanford, FL. Kenny usually grabs his pal and keyboard whiz Lucky Peterson to help out. Brother Noel Neal on bass and Ken Johnson on drums round out the core with the King Snake horns filling out the sound. "I'm A Blues Man" and the slower "Carrying The Torch" pay homage to the old bluesmen and talk about spreading the blues gospel. "If Heartaches Were Nickels" is a slower, excellent tune where the keys, guitar and horns blend well together for a nice R&B number. "Believe In Yourself" is a rockin' horn-laden self-esteem upper that will have you dancing in your living room — trust me, it works! "Money Don't Make The Man" is an excellent story (with great lyrics) of the money/greed/drugs thing that a lot of people are, sadly, brought up to believe in. Kenny and the Greenlee folks penned 6 of the 12 cuts, and their songwriting capabilities are more than up to par. Kenny's harp and guitar shine throughout, and receive solid backing from some fine players. This is definitely one of Kenny's best efforts to date.

If you don't have a chance to get to a Late Night Lonely Blues Lounge, then light up a smoke, pour yourself a glass of bourbon, and pop in the new Little Anthony and Sugar Ray release on Tone-Cool Records titled "Take It From Me." Delivered with seemingly authentic experience, the title track reminds us that even tough-guy bluesmen have feelings, too. It successfully slips through the walls of testosterone and finds a little nook in the ninth circle of a man's soul.

Cinderella, "Bad Attitude Shuffle" (Mercury)

It has been a little while since we last heard from Cinderella, and your audience will probably remember them best for their hits "Don't Know What You've Got Til It's Gone" and "Nobody's Fool". Despite the hits, the band shines the most when they are in their upbeat, blues tinged, rocker mode, and "Bad Attitude Shuffle" is just that. That sentiment is echoed by Bob Burt of WHMH who tells us, "We're pretty happy with it, it's their more rockin' style and that does really well for us!". Joining them are KIL0, KZAK, WKDF, WNCD and KUPD whose Curtiss Johnson calls this a "comeback record for them, it's what they needed to do right now. Our audience is giving us strong feed back on the phones, and the quality of the song is what's causing the reaction." The strong groove and high energy rhythm will be infectious to your listeners and - like at KUPD - should pull in a lot of phones. But if you are looking for a cut-to-the-chase reason for playing the new Cinderella, just talk to Gary Jay at WNCD, who says, "We play classic Cinderella, why not play current Cinderella? Besides, I like it!"

Savatage, "Chance" (Atlantic)

The Florida natives have returned from a year of searching with the musically adventurous release Handful of Rain, and the newest single, "Chance", is one example of the new territories that they travel, with an operatic vocal exercise that could remind you of Queen's "Bohemian Rhapsody", but the layered five-part counterpoint harmonies are the first of their kind in rock music. The song is one of the most unique tracks being sent to radio these days, and with the band currently on the road building on the already solid fanbase that they have, the interest in the band is growing. Just ask Bob Burt of WHMH, who commented that "Savatage has always done well in this area, in fact they just played a show in our area and packed the place!". The solid rhythms and chunky guitars translate well in the live show, but it's the catchy melody and the unique harmonies that will grab the attention of both you and your listeners. Despite the heavy traffic that is typical in the fourth quarter, this is one song that you won't regret giving the "Chance".

Slayer, "Serenity" (American)

Upon hearing that initial request to consider Slayer for your station, your first reaction may be that they are too extreme and that their listeners are only a fringe of your audience. Well, we have some news for you, Divine Intervention is selling 10,000 units a day, and after ten days is well over 150,000. That is far from being a "fringe" segment, and the band breaking most added records in the Hard Hitlers section with #1 reports across the board, and the video in regular rotation on MTV (not just Headbanger's Ball) it is becoming apparent that Slayer is not a band that you can look past anymore. In your hands now is the track "Serenity", a churning, mesmerizing chant that kicks up its impact toward the end. Clocking in at under 3 minutes in length, you can test this baby at night and your audience won't know what hit them. At first. But then brace yourself because the requests will start coming in. If you are playing Metallica, Pantera, and Megadeth, you can play Slayer because the audience base of all these bands are very similar. Don't just sit there, tap into the power that is Slayer.

Tesla, "Need Your Lovin'" (Geffen)

There is always room on a COR chart for the working class, blues tinged rock n' roll of Tesla. They have never been a fashion victim of the '80s glamor boys, but they have always had the appeal of being relatable to a large majority of their listeners. It doesn't hurt to have a plethora of great songs as well to propel records sales up to platinum status, and in that aspect Tesla has the Midas touch, and "Need Your Lovin'" is the latest of a long line of great tunes. That appeal is noted by Bob Burt of WHMH, who thinks that they are "a band that fits the image of this area. People have always liked this band and this is a record that rivals Great Radio Controversy." The allure of "Need Your Lovin'" is the sincere affection expressed in the lyrics and the unpretentious melody, in fact, according to Valorie Knight of KQRC, "our listeners were requesting this track even before we started playing it!" In addition, Tesla is seeing airplay at KIL0, KQRC, KUFO, WHMH, WKLL, WNCD, KSJO, and WRZK, and have gathered up enough spins to debut on the COR chart this week. The warmhearted rock n' roll of Tesla is always welcomed on the airwaves, and besides don't your listeners "Need Your Lovin'"!

Those southern fried rockers in ZZ Top are making the rounds, this time they checked in with K Rock and Billy Gibbons took the K Rock hearse for a spin around town, and we bet that they turned plenty of heads! Pictured (L-R) are Jordan Zucker (RCA); Billy Gibbons (ZZ Top); Joe MacGarlane (KRRK); Allison Steele (KRRK) and other K Rock staffers.

The staff of KISS in San Antonio were joined by the members of local rockers Pushmonkey (Sector 2 Records) in a benefit for the Habitat For Humanity. The best promotions are those that are done for the benefit of others! Pictured (L-R) are: Pat Jones (San Antonio News); Darwin Keyes and Tony Parks (Pushmonkey); Jay King (Sneakers Club Manager); Will Hoffman (Pushmonkey) And in front: Howie Behrens (Pushmonkey) Debbie Alcocer (KISS) and Pat Fogarty (Pushmonkey)

Shown here counting up the bucks are WKLQ's Tom Marshall and Darla Jaye. Unfortunately they can't go shopping because the money was raised for the Easter Seals. We hope they don't mind having to let it all go!

Oh no! It seems that things got a little out of hand at the WKLQ Easter Seals benefit, you'd think the guys could go one day without dropping their pants! Pictured (L-R) are the butts of Kevin Kay (Island), Darren Eggleston, Darrin Arriens (WKLQ), and Dave Wellington (WKLQ). We bet that you're wondering how we could identify them from this angle, but you'll just have to keep wondering, because we won't reveal any sources!

HARD Hitters

METAL Pick

Mercyful Fate, Time (Metal Blade)

What better time of the year than Halloween to unleash the latest from Mercyful Fate onto the unsuspecting public? The most menacing holiday of the year has always been the musical stomping ground for King Diamond and his troops, and this year is no exception. The eerie, diabolical voice of King Diamond casts a shadow over the music of Mercyful

Fate, but with the ghostly melodies and wicked sounding guitars, this is an album that we wouldn't recommend listening to by yourself at night. Definitely not at midnight. The legacy of Mercyful Fate began in the early '80s in Denmark, when the band released two pivotal records - Melissa and Don't Break the Oath - that shaped the developing dark metal genre of the time. While other vocalists opted for the snarl, growl, and scream methods to either frighten, intimidate, or just sound evil, no other has been able to match the unsettling falsetto or the sinister growl of the King. Unfortunately, the band split after those two albums, but despite the successful solo career of King Diamond, there were always calls for a reunion of Fate. Last year, ten years after their heyday, the core of the band - Diamond, Hank Shermann, and Michael Denner - rejoined to release In The Shadows. The response was huge, receiving high marks at metal radio and in the press, along with a sold out national tour. Earlier this year, metal radio received a taste of live Fate on The Bellwitch EP which not only gave an idea of their intense live sound, but also whet the appetite of their fans for new material, and you don't want to leave them waiting too long. Not to worry, the legions of followers will be happy with the newest release, Time, for the trademark ominous sound is back and metal radio will eat up songs like "Nightmare Be Thy Name" (the first single), "Witches' Dance", the title track, and "Lady in Black". Staying true to their style, Mercyful Fate take the listener to the dark fantasies of the underworld, and leave you feeling as though you are draped in a thick fog. Don't delay, and find the time for Time, before the spirit of the holiday leaves you!

TOP PICKS

Queensryche, Promised Land (EMI)

Many of you have been spending your time spinning "I Am I" for your listeners, but we know that what you've really been looking for is the coming of the Promised Land! Arriving at metal radio this week, some of you received it early enough to add this past week, while others were still adding the single - 29 adds in all to join the 15 adds last week. Whatever the case may be, it is getting airplay - heavy rotation at CFOX, KVHS, WHJY, WKLL, WKLQ, WSOU, WXZR, WRLL, KLBJ, WCWP, WGLS, WMMR, KLLO, KMSA, WDHA, WHFR, and at Digital Music Express - enough to leap up to #15 on the Hard Hitters chart. Taking a different route this time around, Queensryche have unleashed an album that explores their darker side, and from song to song we are allowed a peek into each reflective angle of emotions and turmoils. Particular highlights include "Damaged"; the strained Father/Son relationship of "Bridge"; the intense, grasping peaks and valleys within the course of the title track, and "Disconnected", with its futuristic, "cyber-punk" ambience. Queensryche have never fit into a mold, or been cornered into a specific genre, but their music has been appreciated by legions of hard rock fans, and now that the mainstream radio will surely see tons of airplay with "I Am I", those of us at metal radio have plenty of options for soothing our Queensryche fix without suffering from any burn out. There is obviously no need to wander in the desert any longer, for we have arrived in the Promised Land!

Godflesh, Selfless (Columbia/Earache)

Many bands claim to be "the heaviest band in the world", but the twosome of Justin Broadrick and C. Christian Green that make up Godflesh are one of the only unions that can actually keep any merit with that claim. Selfless, the first full length release since Pure in 1992, is a perfect combination of industrial noise, sledgehammer metallic riffs, and dictator-like control, and is about as subtle as King Kong. With some stations still playing the Merciless EP, and many more on the first track, "Crush My Soul", Godflesh has come crashing back into the awareness of hard rock and metal listeners. And with the pummeling sounds of tracks like "Xnoybis", "Anything Is Mine", and "Body Dome Light", we think that the response will be strong enough to catapult Godflesh well up the charts and out of the record stores. An early formation of the band - under the name Fall of Because - began as early as 1983, but with Broadrick going on to play with bands like Napalm Death and Head of David, it wasn't until 1988 that they solidified and started leaving audiences speechless all over England. Eventually they caught the attention of Dig Pearson and Earache and through the groundbreaking (and foundation shaking) releases Streetcleaner, Slaveslave, and Pure, plus tours with Napalm Death and the Revolting Cocks, Godflesh has been able to accumulate fans in the industrial, techno, and metal audience groups, while creating a sound completely unique to themselves. The release of Selfless should take them even further in the quest to devastate the musical landscape of the globe. The apocalypse is here, and it has arrived in the form of Godflesh, a release far too heavy to ignore!

Fudge Tunnel, The Complicated Futility of Ignorance (Earache)

If you like your music loud, distorted and punishing, then this is your week because the latest release from the power (or should we say super-power) trio Fudge Tunnel is set to hit the airwaves like a cannonball this week. Although they formed in 1989, most of us first came to know the ferocious sounds of Fudge Tunnel from the classic strains of Hate Songs in E Minor - particularly the feedback laced covers of "Sunshine of Your Love" and "Cat Scratch Fever". Tapping into their youthful energy, they have churned out releases every year, and Alex Newport even found the time to team up with Max Cavalera on the churning Nailbomb release earlier this year. Fans of that project will want to waste little time in finding room for the latest from Fudge Tunnel as it explodes from your speakers immediately on the opening cut, "Random Acts of Cruelty", and the frenetic pace doesn't let up all the way through to the closing "Rudge With A G" - which, by the way, is the first focus track on the release. Filled with guitars thick enough to make heavyweights like Pantera and Metallica sound like they have been to Jenny Craig, and blasting rhythms that raze the surroundings with the efficiency of a bulldozer, this is not a release for the weak hearted. This is real anger - not a discontented whine, but the fury of the fed up, and they mean business.

Mary Beats Jane, "This Life" (Geffen)

A band named after the fact that two of the band members girlfriends often got drunk and beat each other up would lead you to believe that they have an uncommon way of looking at things.

Mary Beats Jane do have a unique quality to them, but at the same time, it all seems very relatable. Based in Gothenburg, Sweden, a city that resembles Seattle in that it is a rainy coastal town that also holds a wealth of bands, the band frontman Peter Dolving hooked up with the rest of Mary Beats Jane and the resulting collaboration created quite a spark. Their demos circulated across Europe and the band toured Scandinavia, Germany, Holland, and the U.K., with their chaotic and fiery sound. On the lead track, "This Life", the raucous vocals and feverish rhythm builds up a high energy power that will make it impossible for you to sit still. The sound is intense and in-your-face without losing any cohesion, a reckless journey that never misplaces its direction. Mary Beats Jane has already developed a following overseas, and now they hope to share their enthusiastic brand of rock with us, so prepare for the mayhem!

Groovezilla, Groovezilla (Mausoleum)

This Lexington, Kentucky based five piece (St. Jerrod - vocals; Vee - vocals/sax; Scott - bass; Chad - drums; Wendell - guitar) is ready to take over the world, but unlike Godzilla who used his sharp claws and teeth to consume his enemy, Groovezilla use cutting guitar riffs and powerful rhythms to devour the masses. This multi-cultural group combines not only the various experiences of the members, but also the assorted music influences of metal, funk, reggae, and hardcore to find an individual style. Metal radio should find the first focus track, "Survival", to their liking, with full-throttle guitar riffs, ardent vocals, and a thick groove. The band possesses a monstrous sound, but Groovezilla won't strike fear in the hearts of their listeners, but they will move!

New Idol Sun, Reach (Pavement)

Hailing from San Francisco, this four piece (frontman Matt Hilzendrager, drummer Brendan Hagin, bassist Rich Carr, and guitarist Mike Davis) have offered the metal ranks a collection of ten richly textured songs. Reminiscent of the thick, dense Sabbathesque sound, New Idol Sun take it a step further with mesmerizing, whirling guitar riffs and musical tangents powered by the always crushing foundation of bass and drums. The disc is chock full of extremely heavy guitar grooves, the most obvious of which can be found on "Snake Oil", a track that defines the depth and range that is created on this effort. The aggressive bass lines, strained vocals and dirgified sound of "Butterfly" give the song a transcendental quality helping it take flight before kicking into an extremely catchy chorus. You might find the atmospheric grind and swirl-a-phonic guitar line of "American Flush" more to your liking; or maybe, the raw almost anguished voice riding over the tumultuous movement of "Pain Blossom" will fulfill your need for a grungy wall of sound. Either way, don't miss out on this one, the overall impact of the record just might be huge!

SINGLE MATTERS

Savatage, "Chance" (Atlantic)

The latest release from Savatage, while signaling a new chapter for the band, at the same time reaffirmed their characteristic style of the band and solidified them with their fanbase. On the strength of the title track and "Taunting Cobras", Handful of Rain had climbed up into the Top 10 of the Hard Hitters chart, and now that the band has hit the touring trail to packed clubs and theaters, we have a new focus track with "Chance", one of the most musically adventurous songs on the albums. The intense, rolling rhythm gives way mid-way through to song to an operatic five part harmony that showcases Zach Stevens vocal abilities (other than his amazingly accurate Barney imitation). You can choose between the five minute edit or the 8 minute album version. Also included on this EP is the high speed "Nothin' Goin' On", and versions of "Sirens" and "Conversation Piece" taped in rehearsals. With the increased visibility of Savatage being on the road, you now have some more options to add spice to your airwaves.

Kerbdog, "Dry Riser" (Mercury)

This Irish band has been creating quite a ruckus this year, with a fresh and ferocious new album, and a much talked about show at Foundation Forum. Kerbdog have been one of the most successful new bands this year, and they are still latched into the Hard Hitters Top 10, surrounded by Megadeth, Danzig, C.O.C., and Slayer. Not a bad showing at all, but there is no stopping 'em yet! In your hands now is the new three song CD-pro featuring the song "Dry Riser", a methodical tune with churning guitars and pounding drums. Also included are some covers which nod to their punk influences, "New Day Rising" a kinetic version of the Husker Du track, and the Dave Ogilvie penned "Suspect Divine", both previously unreleased. Whether you find yourself playing more of the album or some of the new tracks, you will find your radio show going to the 'Dogs.

Killing Joke, "Pandemonium" (Zoo)

Having graced the Hard Hitters chart for some time now, it's obvious the metal masses are familiar with this English three piece (Jaz, Geordie and Youth), and now it appears to be the time that Killing Joke reset the musical standards they are responsible for pioneering. Offered up is the industrial strength, groove heavy "Pandemonium", with it's primal vocals, monster guitar licks and layered techno blend of whirling sludge. Never ones to rest on their laurels, the Joke deliver not one, not two, but seven different versions of the song each varying in musical texture, style and length. KFMX, KISS, WFSE, WPSU, WWSP, and WZBC joined the cacophony of sound that is Killing Joke by adding the CD-pro last week, how 'bout the rest of you joining them by spinning one of the many edits, mixes or remixes in your hands now.

HARD Hitters

METAL Filings

First and foremost, you have to add the New Idol Son (Pavement) record, Reach, today! Of the ten tracks available why not try out "American Flush" or "Butterfly"? We dig 'em and we think you will too. You can hear this San Francisco band's stuff live as they reach (pun intended!) out to their newest fans on their trek around northern California. Catch 'em October 28th in Richmond, the 29th San Francisco and November 2nd in San Rafael... Another cool October 24th/25th add comes in the form of a Savatage (Atlantic) maxi-single for "Chance". Found on the disc are two versions on the single, along with the album version "Nothin' Goin' On" and live versions of "Sirens" and "Conversation Piece"... Those in the Zoo Entertainment camp were kind enough to service metal radio with a CD-pro for Killing Joke's "Pandemonium", featuring tons of different mixes and remixes of the tune. We expect that you will be adding it October 24th and 25th, following the lead of KFMX, KISS, WFSE, WPSU, WWSP, and WZBC who joined in the brouhaha of "Pandemonium" a week earlier... You simply can't ignore the arrival of "Rudge With a G", the first single from Fudge Tunnel (Earache). Add it today... The Mercyful Fate (Metal Blade) record, Time, will be in stores October 25th; with emphasis cut, "Nightmare Be Thy Name", going for radio play November 24th/25th... Hey, have you seen the War Zone (out on Another Planet/Profile) double record disc cross your desk lately? It's been floating around for awhile now, but why not give Don't Forget The Struggle, Don't Forget The Streets/Open Your Eyes some spinnage today!... Did you know that today is the official add date for the Queensryche (EMI) record, Promised Land? We thought so... The funkified, reggae influenced, metallic groove of the self titled Groovezilla (Mausoleum) album has arrived, complete with emphasis cut, "Survival", for adds now... Don't overlook the Face To Face (Victory/A&M) LP, Over It, as it lands on your desk. Listen to it, like it, then add it. It's that simple... You've added the singles ("Rudge With A G" and "Godplayer" respectively), now waste no time in adding both the Fudge Tunnel (Earache) LP, The Complicated Futility of Ignorance, and Brutal Truth (Earache) album, Need To Control, on October 31st/November 1st... When November 7th arrives it brings with it a new single from Bruce Dickinson (Mercury). Make room for "Shoot All The Clowns" on your playlist accordingly... You lucky people will be receiving a new track from Animal Bag (Mercury) in November. "Stupidity" arrives November 14th/15th (for adds and air-play), then in the new year you will be getting the rest of the long play... Off in the distance future of 1995 comes the long awaited, much anticipated release of Through The Darkest Hour from Solitude Aeturnus, the first release of the new year from Pavement Music. The record was originally slated for release this month but has been pushed back until January. But wait, there's more — as a special holiday bonus, advance cassettes will be available and if you must have one (and we know you will!) give Mr. Greg Derbas a call at (708) 916-1155... February of '95 brings the new, as-of-yet-untitled record from Buffalo's power/pop/punk band the Goo Goo Dolls (Metal Blade). Lou Giardiano was tapped as producer for the record... Remember when you read that Metal Blade signed King Diamond - the band- and that they are currently working on the record (Spider's Lullaby) in Texas. Now you need to know that you will hear the music from the King, Andy LaRoque, Herbie Simonsen, Chris Estes, and Darrin Anthony in the late spring/early summer of '95... Metal Blade also signed legendary stixman Dave Lombardo's new band, Grip, Inc. The band are currently in Germany in the pre-production stages of recording their debut record. Joining the Lombardo team are vocalist Gus Chambers and guitarist Waldemar Sorychta... Broken Hope (Metal Blade) are preparing to enter the studio at the end of October to record their follow-up to The Bowels Of Repugnance. Look for the new stuff in early 1995... Roadrunner Records' own Karma To Burn and Thorn are both holed up in the studio working on their debut discs. Look for 'em in the new year... Carcass (Earache/Columbia) will enter the studio in January of '95 to record their follow-up to Heartwork. ☺☺☺☺ The bludgeoning sounds of Brutal Truth (Earache) and Only Living Witness can be found on an upcoming tour with shows slated for October 28th in Brooklyn, New York; October 29th in Cohoes, New York; October 30th in New York, New York; November 4th in Portland, ME; November 5th in Montreal, Quebec; and November 6th in Boston, Massachusetts. Make a mental note that the NYC show at the Limelight features the formidable boom of Entombed (Earache/Columbia)... Black Train Jack (Roadrunner) are back out on the road, this time sharing the stage with Down by Law (Epitaph). The duo have approximately 22 shows booked on their current tour, with a final stop in Berkeley, California on November 20th... Look for a Downset (Mercury) and Testament (Atlantic) double billing to kick off November 17th in St. Louis, Missouri. Check out the Hard Tour Guide for more specific dates and locations... Looks like Body Count (Virgin) tromp across the states on a mission with shows booked November 8th, 9th, 10th, 11th, 14th and the 15th. Scheduled stops include Washington DC, Baltimore, New York City, Providence, Los Angeles, and San Francisco respectively... It's been said that Godflesh (Earache/Columbia) will be joining Danzig (American) and Type O Negative (Roadrunner) on their upcoming road trip 'round the states. Shows have been booked from November 12th (in Phoenix, Arizona) until a Seattle, Washington stop on December 19th... Those in California have the opportunity to catch The Organization (Metal Blade) and they perform November 18th in San Francisco, November 19th in San Jose, November 25th in Berkeley and finally, on the 26th in Santa Rosa... We've been told that a cool triple bill is in the works, with Biohazard (Warner Brothers) and Stompbox (Columbia) both having been confirmed. Who the third band is still a mystery, but we'll let you know as we know.

☺☺☺☺ Interested in finding out the latest dirt from the American Recordings camp? You have access to information on Danzig, Slayer, etc. on the Internet — <http://american.recordings.com>. Got that?... Did you know that bassist Michael Manning (High Street) has been named bass player of the year by Bass Player Magazine? And that, his record, Thonk, was first runner up in the Album o' The Year category? Not bad, eh?... The 2nd annual Chicago KISS convention will be held Sunday, November 13th from 11am-7pm. The all-day festivities feature an appearance by KISS guitarist of old Ace Frehley, a performance by KISS cover band Mr. Speed, a KISS video theater, and 100 dealers of KISS memorabilia and other hard rock merchandise. Tickets are $13 in advance, and $15 at the door. Want more information? Call (201) 387-9019 — or KISS Conventions of America, P.O. Box 4076, Rivers Edge, NJ 07661... Finally, this past Monday Entombed (Earache/Columbia) had their scheduled show in San Antonio, Texas cancelled due to the fact that the club where the show was to be put on was owned by a right wing Christian group. The Christian group apparently found out what they thought the band was all about and pulled the plug. Hmmm, very interesting. If you too would like to find out what Entombed are all about remember you can catch them in NYC on October 30th. ☺☺☺☺ That about does it. Peace.

Dave Lombardo marks his return to the metal ranks with the inking of a deal for his new band, Grip, Inc. with Metal Blade records. The group are seen here with the Blade's CEO Brian Slagel.

To wrap up the Foundations snapshots, John Christ (Danzig), Ice-T, Sean Yseult (White Zombie), Eric C (Body Count), Jennifer Finch (L7), Bobby Hambel (Biohazard) and MTV's Vanessa Warwick lined up following one of the many informative panels the Forum had this year.

Widowmaker's Dee Snider takes time to chill with an unidentified reptilian friend during the filming of the band's video for "Long Gone". The two were found behind bars in the Houston area.

Kicking off the group of WDBM CMJ photo foray is a group shot taken at NYC's Jeckyl and Hydes when this motley crew did lunch. Those sipping suds are the Hard Report's Earl Gardner, WVU's Darin Markus, Pavement's very cool Greg Derbas, and WDBM's dynamic duo Dave Ciancio and Scott Hammer.

The sights, sounds and smells of the CMJ Music Marathon can pretty much be summed up in this one picture, as WDBM's Scott Hammer demonstrates. We would like to add though, that those of us that attended the convention found that a good time was had by all.

Here the Misters Ciancio and Hammer grabbed Epic's Smitty to hang out with Ozzy at the Sony offices. It was a good half an hour before the two from East Lansing (that would be in Michigan) realized it was only a cardboard cut-out of the metal legend.

In running with the CMJ foto theme, here's a metal line-up featuring the exuberant faces of EMI's Michael Schnapp and Stephanie Pensyl, and Epic dynamic duo Smitty and Brian Lima.

Those Michigan boys were city travelers as they continued their tour of New York and dropped by the McGathy offices. Dave C. and Scott H. were able to drag Phil Kong away from the phones long enough to snag a trade shot.

In another conventing sort of shot, three of these fine folks show off their work during this summer's New Music Seminar. It's almost all teeth from EMI's Michael Schnapp, AIM's Joanne Grand, Skateboard Marketing type Munsey Ricci and Capitol's mega-rep, Tommy Daly.

Dave Ciancio is seen here giving Lauren Goldwasser (of Concrete Marketing fame) a lift up to his vantage point. Looks like the view must be good from way up there.

Quick! Stop the presses! McGathy's own Rob Gil is smiling! No kidding! Gil must have been having fun at Foundations Forum as he gathered with the likes of WIUS's Jill Thiel, Capitol's Tommy Daly, Holly McCormack, WHMH's own Bob Burt, and the stellar Jesse Lombardi (who is leaning on an unidentified friend).

The metal mugs of Jill Thiel (WIUS), Holly Mc, the king of rock n' roll a.k.a. Fitz (KIOZ) and Jave Patterson (KISS) were found in an eye catching Kodak moment. Apparently all the excitement from the Forum caused Fitz to temporarily lose his insanity, er, um, sanity.

Way back in early August Black Train Jack stopped by the Hard hut for a bit of grin and grip fun. While they were here they treated us to some live BTJ sounds, including "Handouts" and "Guy Like Me" - a Do-Whop ditty of sorts.

One of the highlights of the three day metal extravaganza was the appearance of Alice Cooper. Alice found the time not only receive the lifetime achievement award and sign autographs for the kazillion fans who lined up to see him, but to hang with the likes of Epic folk Cheryl Valentine, Smitty and Brian Lima.

We enjoyed the BTJ visit so much that we all gathered with the band on the couch of sin. Those pictured include the Hard Reports Holly Mc, Kelli Snively, Earl Gardner, Collie, Evan and Bill Hard, Spiro Phanos, & Jodie Fab and band members Rob Ernie, Nick and Brian, and Roadrunners Tom Gates & Psycho.

Yes, folks it's all thumbs up as the Hard Report poster boy Anthony Savarese (WDWN) returns, and this time he brought Savatage frontman (and poster boy contender) Zachary Stevens and Jon Oliva with him. Once again people, we have another great view of dental work.

This first rate photo comes courtesy of the Prong pig roastin' and beer drinkin' meet and greet held at the Spectrum in Philly. The riff raff found in the picture includes the Hard metal chicks Holly and Jodie, Prong's Tommy Victor, WMMR's Koob and Bram, Epic's Cheryl Valentine and Mike Martinovitch, Concrete's Lauren and Prue, and WTSR's Sue Vail.

Ray Alder and Jim Matheos of Fates Warning and Metal Blade's Brian Slagel proudly display the precious metal plaque commemorating the sale of over 500,000 copies of Fates' records. Congrats, guys.

ALTERNATIVE PICK

SMASHING ORANGE

No Return In The

Smashing Orange, "The Way The I Love You," MCA

Consider this a beacon if you will — big things to happen from this band, hitting hard in early '95. We loved 1992's The Glass Bead Game, a thoroughly impressive record that showed their ability to write and perform highly emotive, intensely powerful (and at times way trippy) material. And we weren't alone — college radio loved the record and the band, which rapidly won national attention. This band is as visual as it gets, combining pop bombast with swirling melodies and solid texture throughout. They're full of surprises and possess a deft ability to distort and confound the expected. MCA is going to do this one right, building on a strong grassroots core and breaking this record on the band's own terms. A personal favorite for us, we just had to convey our excitement, even though it might be a tad premature (full on commercial onslaught is not until the new year). The band is currently on the road touring the Northeast with the 360's. A sure thing, mark our words.

ALTERNATIVE CHOICE

The London Suede, "The Wild Ones" Nude/Columbia How do you follow up one of the most widely talked about releases of the previous year? Well, one way is to completely confound expectations with the first single. And this is the route Columbia opts for in the lead U.S. track — surprising the masses who have a preconceived notion of what the band entails. Acoustic in nature,

"The Wild Ones" shows true maturity and an enhanced artistic vision. Brett Anderson's vocals are infused with warmth — that, plus the atmospheric string arrangement adds to the strong overall feeling of depth present in the material. Incidentally, Anderson calls this track "the best Suede song so far." The band has recently recruited 17 year-old Richard Oakes as their new guitarist, following the departure of Bernard Butler. Look for them on these shores soon.

Velo-Deluxe, "Skin & Bones," Mammoth The debut record from an outfit with a pretty strong core — fronting the band is John Strohm, a founding member of both Blake Babies and Antenna. With this project the locus is on turned up guitars and a more pronounced texture, and the result is an affectingly loud record, loose in conventional structure but strong on melody. After realizing that most of his favorite records sounded on the sloppy side, Strohm took the same approach to recording Superelastic — a warm, decidedly unpolished and thoroughly human release. The upbeat lead track is the perfect showcase for Strohm's songwriting talents: concise and touching bare bones rock, with a healthy dose of sweetness. Early add at KREV.

Sinister Dane, "Where's My Parade," Columbia Hailing from St. Louis, this spirited four piece performs heavy, groove-oriented music that is highly charged and filled with emotion. An amalgam of various musical styles including metal, reggae, funk and anything else you could think of thrown into the mix, the music is politically charged and wholly original. Hugely popular in the St. Louis scene, the band is all set to take its renowned live show on the road nationally.

Bob Dylan, "Dignity," Columbia We know it's odd to see this name on this page, maybe it's not something that you would normally expect. This track was originally started in the Oh Mercy sessions, and it was completed with Brendan O'Brien (don't worry Brendan, business will pick up soon). Off Dylan's Greatest Hits Volume III, the heart of the track lies in the lyrics. Read them before you hold up a label for your next Christmas show/time buy. And since the Black Crowes were all over add lists last week, a real cool Dylan track should not be considered unfeasible.

Killing Joke, "Pandemonium," Zoo The next track from the prototypes of punk will undoubtedly have a strong impact as their tour kicks into gear. After all, the band is renowned their live show, and with the tour commencing (the first time all three original members have toured together, we're convinced that sizable legions of new fans will join the droves of long-time supporters. Check out some mega remixes of this track on the CD single on your desk.

"Cover Me"

The next track from the double platinum debut, Candlebox

Candlebox

The follow-up to the multi-format smash "Far Behind."

Headline tour through Christmas.

THIS Monday marks the arrival of Russ Mottla as Program Director of the WDRE Network. Mottla is known for being an aggressive, musically intensive programmer (as evidenced by his work at WIYY in Baltimore), and we believe that this attitude will have a definite positive effect on the station's airsound. Said Mottla: "Nationally, the Alternative format is exploding and facing some real challenges, namely fragmentation and competition from other formats. The DRE Network is poised to meet those challenges and I think Morey and Zanko show true genius by hiring a guy who knows next to nothing about the format."... In other station news, Jacobs Media announced the signing of their ninth Modern Rock client in Albuquerque/Santa Fe. 107.9 will now be called "The Edge," headed by Program Director Mike O'Connor, formerly of WZGC/Atlanta. Albuquerque marks the fourth Modern Rock client that the company has signed this year. The Edge signed on October 19 at 5:00pm after 50 hours of broadcasting "Sound Effects Radio — All sound effects all the time."... WOXY now has a date for their proposed Acoustic X-mas show: December 8th at the First Run in Oxford... Two West Coast showcases for the way cool Kevin Salem: November 1st in San Francisco at the Bottom of the Hill, and November 2nd at the Lingerie in L.A.. Call Tom Gates at Roadrunner for the invite... D-Generation just wrapped up filming their video for "No Way Out" this week with award winning director Drew Carolan (Red Hot Chili Peppers, the new Urge Overkill video from Pulp Fiction and Living Colour's "Cult of Personality")... The Billboard Nominees for Best Alternative Video 1994 are — Green Day, Nirvana, Soundgarden, Beastie Boys and Sam Phillips. Speaking of Sam Phillips, she received a mysterious phone a couple of weeks ago to be cast in the forthcoming Die Hard III. She will play "Katya", the crazy terrorist girlfriend of Jeremy Irons in the film. This will be Sam's acting debut, which came after a casting agency was viewing the "I Need Love" video for consideration on a soundtrack. They took one look at Sam and wrote her into the script for Die Hard III. Album sales just past 125,000 for Martinis & Bikinis... LIVE 105 achieved some impressive results in the Summer Book. The station is now number one with all adults 18 to 34 for the entire Bay Area, coming in with a 6.0 share. The station also leads all rock stations 12+ with a 3.1... The new Tad record is coming out November 15th. Titled Live Alien Broadcast, the album was recorded live in Seattle, and it includes four new tracks... Sound & Stations USA is set to syndicate the college version of its program, "The European Hit Survey," a one-hour show featuring current, alternative Europe'n chart music. Delivering new releases before they hit the United States, the show also features artist interviews, contests, and detailed info about the European scene... Kudzu Records has recently formed in Birmingham, Alabama, with an approach deeply entrenched in grassroots marketing and promotion. Initially, the label has three artists signed to its roster: Cattfish Jenkins, from Athens, GA., will release Normaltown, produced by John Keanne (REM, Indigo Girls, Widespread Panic), Gravy, a three piece blues rock band from Birmingham, will release their garage recorded From The Hip in mid-November, and Slick Lilly, which will release Rituals in late November. The label will be distributed nationally by Denver based Encore Distribution, part of The Alliance Group... Great NYC band The Rake's Progress have just joined up with Seed and God's Child for a series of shows in the Midwest. See dates below... Stolen Moments: Red Hot + Cool is coming out this week, and it contains 14 original songs from special collaborations between some 30 highly regarded artists, including MC Solaar, US3 and others from the fields of jazz, funk, soul and hip-hop. Stolen Moments also spotlights the new jazz movement, which has slowly made its way into the U.S. via London over the past four years... LIFEbeat, in conjunction with World AIDS Day, announces the launch of Counter AID — "It's About Change". Counter AID is an annual, LIFEbeat-sponsored event whereby well-known musicians and other celebrities staff the cash registers of major record retail chains and restaurants. Last year, artists participating included Toad The Wet Sprocket, The Beastie Boys, and L7, among others. This year, Counter AID's fundraising program will be expanded. The organization is currently on the lookout for musicians to Eagles guitarist Glenn Frey has been released from a Los Angeles hospital after undergoing surgery for diverticulitis. Frey underwent surgery earlier this month at Cedars-Sinai Medical Center after he complained of pain from an inflamed colon. Frey's illness caused cancellation of some of Eagles concert dates.

Yoko Ono is donating over a dozen items from her collection of John Lennon memorabilia to the Rock & Roll Hall of Fame & Museum in Cleveland. She's lending out the lime-green outfit Lennon wore on the cover of "Sgt. Pepper's Lonely Hearts Club Band," the black electric Rickenbacker guitar he played at a concert in Shea Stadium in 1965, and the handwritten lyrics to "Lucy In The Sky With Diamonds," "In My Life," "Starting Over," and "Beautiful Boy." The museum will also display a pair of eyeglasses, Lennon's school report cards and a sketchbook from when Lennon was 9 years old. "Rock and roll is a culture created by the youth and now the youth will have its own museum encasing its culture, its history and its spirit. John would have liked that," Ono says. "John was a public person and he belongs to the history of rock and roll." Ono says she'd hesitated about offering the items for display. "I have so much feeling for these things," Ono says. "I wasn't sure whether I wanted actually to exhibit them." The Rock & Roll Hall of Fame museum is scheduled to open in September 1995.

A High Court in London is considering a legal dispute over the song "Oh Carolina," a Caribbean classic written in the 1950s and first recorded by Prince Buster. Last year, it topped the British charts when it was recorded by former U.S. Marine Shaggy. A deputy judge is considering whether the song was written by Prince Buster, or John Fowlkes, who now lives in Canada. Prince Buster says the song is his work, but Fowlkes says he wrote it 36 years ago. If his case is upheld, he could claim back royalties dating back to the 1950s. Fowlkes says he reached an oral agreement with Prince Buster over his rights to the song, but only received about $100 back in 1959. Fowlkes' brother, the Reverend Michael Fowlkes, a Baptist minister, offered the court a history of reggae. He said that he and his brothers, John and Eric, formed the Fowlkes Brothers trio. "Oh Carolina" was written by John and the brothers realized it could be a hit record, he said. They were preparing to audition with it when they were approached by Prince Buster to make a record with him. The issue of payment and royalties was raised, and Buster allegedly said, "Don't worry about that, man. We'll take care of you boys, man." But Fowlkes says he never paid them for the song and that Prince Buster stole the tune. The hearing on the case continues.

Carlos Santana says he plans to play a concert in Cuba, to show the contradiction of a U.S. government policy that bans trade with Cuba but allows loans and trading with Communists in Russia. Santana recently played a four-hour concert in Warsaw, Poland, which he dedicated to children. "I want children to understand that the soul and spirit embodied in music can cure the world better than politicians can," Santana says.

What's described as the first Beatles record ever broadcast will be auctioned in London next month. It's a copy of "Love Me Do" from the record library of the now-defunct Radio Luxembourg that's been autographed by Paul McCartney. Also being sold at Bonhams in London will be an uncensored copy of the first broadcast interview with the Sex Pistols.

About 50 people were injured when a scaffolding stand collapsed at a Pink Floyd concert in London. Three people were still hospitalized the following night. A woman who was trapped in the collapse was treated at the scene. The band was about to go on when the scaffolding at the rear of the stage collapsed. The concert, the first of 14 British concerts as part of the band's world tour, was postponed until October 17. The almost 15,000 fans at the show at the Earl's Court arena were asked to leave after the incident. "We were ready for the show to begin, the lights went down, it was dark, and everything began to move," says Rick Strang, who was at the concert. "It sounded like people were stamping with excitement but they weren't — it was the seating beginning to move. It fell forward in two movements — it stopped and started again and I was terrified." David Gilmour says he was about to go on stage when the seating collapsed. "I heard some banging noise — I assumed it was a fault in the PA system," he says. "I just walked on the stage and was about to start playing when the house lights came up. I started ranting at people to get the house lights out and someone said they were stopping the concert. I am angry and upset at what happened." Gilmour visited one man in the hospital who had suffered a fractured rib.

The British record industry has gathered to record a special charity record to raise money for people in Rwanda. Music Relief '94 has recorded Marvin Gaye's classic "What's Going On." The single features Apache Indian, Aswad, D:ream, Mark King of Level 42, Roachford and another 29 performers. "We wanted to do something because everyone's seeing the same television pictures," says producer Nigel Rush. "We're all pretty comfortably off in the U.K., compared to the plight of the people in Rwanda. It's just a wish to do something positive and do something helpful." The record comes out in Britain October 24 and all the proceeds from the record will go to help Rwandan relief efforts. "I've been pretty disgusted about what's been going on," says singer Paul Young, who is now with Mike & The Mechanics. "I'm also very disgusted about the fact that something wasn't done earlier, so the suffering didn't happen in the first place. But this isn't a political record."

Ian Moore will open for the Rolling Stones at six shows in Texas and Georgia in November. Bryan Adams will also be on the bill for those dates.

Whitney Houston will headline the first-ever international pop music festival in South African history. British soul band Eternal and Australian band Midnight Dil are also on the bill, as well as local stars Johnny Clegg and Lucky Dube. It's the first multi-cultural event since Nelson Mandela became president earlier this year.

Tom Petty has signed 250 copies of his latest album, "Wild Flowers," which have been randomly inserted into shipments around the country.

The The will release an album of covers of Hank Williams songs in January, called "Hanky Panky." The LP includes versions of "Your Cheatin' Heart," "Honky Tonkin," "There's A Tear In My Beer," "I Saw The Light" and "Six More Miles," among others. "There were few songwriters this century who have expressed the deep ache of loneliness and the longing for love as darkly and sweetly as Hank Williams," Matt Johnson writes in the album's liner notes. "He was articulate in the language of the heart."

Abba have a boxed-set compilation album coming out next month, called "Thank You For The Music." In advance of the LP, there's a promotional CD out in Europe with four tracks, including two previously-unreleased songs — "Dream World" and "Just Like That." Frida Lyngstad says "Just Like That," recorded in May 1982, is one of the best songs Abba's ever done. "Everything worked just the right in the studio," she says. Lyngstad says she's willing to go back into the studio with the rest of the Abba members to freshen up the track. Agnetha Faltskog, who's been reclusive in recent years, says she'd also like to see the track released as a single. The other two members of Abba, Bjorn Ulvaeus and Benny Andersson, have been working on a musical. They're looking for actors to star in "Kristina From Duvemala," a musical they hope to open next year. It's based on a book called "The Emigrants" by Swedish author Wilhelm Moberg. Andersson and Ulvaeus produced the Broadway musical "Chess."

Pete Anderson releases his debut solo album this month, called "Working Class."

Four Horseman drummer Dimwit has died of an overdose in Vancouver, apparently the victim of an extremely pure dose of heroin.

A guitar played by Mark Knopfler during the first tours by Dire Straits sold for almost $19,000 at a Paris auction to raise money for efforts against AIDS. A Peugeot sports car driven by Ray Charles in an advertisement sold for almost $23,000. A set of jewel-studded glasses owned by Elton John and a pair of jeans and a tambourine owned by Phil Collins were also sold at the benefit.

Shawn Colvin's "Cover Girl" album is something she's wanted to do for some time, she says. "As soon as I got signed in 1988, I told everyone, 'Someday I want to do an album of the covers I've always played.' So I started keeping notes about the ones I favored most. I really based my selection on the songs that have been part of my repertoire over 10 years' time. And there were some obvious standouts — in terms of how well I performed them and how well they were received. That was the real litmus test."

Some people in Live's hometown are upset about a song on the band's "Throwing Copper" album that portrays them in a bad light. Singer Ed Kowalczyk concedes the song is a "blatant" hit on certain parts of York, Pennsylvania. "First of all, it's not about the people of York," eh says. "It's about the state of mind in a small town — the regularity of routine, the lack of any civic management for the people. There's a strip mall for every resident of York. There's nothing downtown. No real public transportation. If I wasn't born there, I wouldn't live there. It's not the people. It's the civic management."

The London premiere of "The Lion King" raised $238,000 for the Elton John's AIDS foundation.

A British tabloid newspaper reports that Phil Collins will pay over $15 million to divorce his wife, Jill.

Type O Negative will open for Danzig on a North American tour that begins in Fresno, California, on October 30. Dates are scheduled through February 1995.

MUSIC NOW!

By Mike Cooper

Henry Rollins is publishing a book of his diaries from his days in Los Angeles hardcore band Black Flag. "When I got into Black Flag, I learned that music could be my steam valve, a way to vent. I used to manifest my anger by hurting myself, mentally, physically and spiritually. Now I use my rage in a positive way," Rollins says. "I never got into music to (make) money. With Black Flag, there was never a thought of getting rich. It was, 'We're going to eat today? Oh, yes!' We just wanted to survive, playing music we believed in." Rollins is also working on an album of jams with jazz sax player Charles Gayle. And he'll release a spoken-word video, "Live In London," later this year. Even though he gets 50 to 100 fan letters a day, Rollins says he doesn't want to be treated as a role model, as his song "Icon" suggests. "When you treat people like icons, putting them above you, the virtues you see in them become unattainable, other-worldly. It's important to see the frailties and reality of these people. We're all human," he says. "I don't feel special. I used to work in an ice-cream store. I'm from a middle-class, dysfunctional family. To me, signing autographs is ridiculous. I say, 'Don't worship me. Dig yourself and the world will be a better place.'"

Trial has begun in Los Angeles in a lawsuit by Mike Love seeking shared songwriting credit for four dozen Beach Boys songs. Love's lawsuit also seeks a share of a $10 million settlement that a music publishing company paid to Brian Wilson in 1992, ending a lawsuit over rights to the band's catalog of 140 songs. Wilson's attorney denies that Love co-wrote the songs. "It is unfair for Mike Love to get a share of Brian Wilson's publishing rights, because (Love) never owned them," said attorney J. Michael Crowe. Love's attorney argued that Wilson's attorneys reneged on an agreement to give Love part of the settlement.

The "Woodstock '94" album will include 27 songs when it is released next month. The LP will feature Jackyl, Blues Traveler, Blind Melon, Collective Soul and Paul Rodgers, but not the Band, Santana or the Allman Brothers Band. The album will include the concert's opening and closing tunes — Joe Cocker's "Feelin' Alright" and Peter Gabriel's "Biko." The LP will also feature Bob Dylan's "Highway 61 Revisited," Nine Inch Nails' "Happiness in Slavery," Crosby, Stills & Nash's "Deja Vu," Salt N' Pepa's "Shoop" and Cypress Hill's "How I Could Just Kill A Man."

The mayor of Santa Cruz, California, is asking the Grateful Dead's Jerry Garcia to share the cost of social services the city provides to Dead fans. "Citizen complaints rise. Shoplifting in local stores skyrockets. Tension in our downtown becomes intense," Scott Kennedy writes in a letter to Garcia. He proposes the band donate to shelters that feed Deadheads. The city's Homeless Resource Center plans its meals around the Dead's touring schedule, according to director Karen Gillette. The center provided 20 to 100 extra meals when the Dead is playing in the San Francisco Bay area. "As an ex-Deadhead, I get sort of irritated about it," Gillette says. "But I have a lot of difficulty implying it's Jerry Garcia's fault. The band didn't create them. They created themselves."

Former Lava Hay singer Michelle Gould has recorded a new album for release (on Nettwerk Records/Canada) early next year. Her band features Corrine Culbertson and Todd Oliver. The album was produced by Vincent Jones.

All six actors who have played the role of Buddy Holly in the London production of the musical "Buddy" gathered in London to celebrate the show entering its sixth year at the Victoria Palace Theatre. The show is already taking bookings into the year 2000.

The just-released soundtrack to "Clerks" (on Chaos/Columbia Records) includes Seaweed's cover of Fleetwood Mac's "Go Your Own Way" as well a new song from Soul Asylum called "Can't Even Tell."

The Lightning Seeds tour the U.S. during the last half of this month.

Basia plays six nights in New York City next month at the Neil Simon Theater in Broadway.

Madonna has a new album, "Bedtime Stories," coming out in November. It features a song co-written with former Sugarcubes lead singer Bjork.

George Michael has severed ties with his business manager, effective November 1. British press reports claim the split came because Michael failed to win his recent court case against his record label. The Justice in the case described Michael's manager as a "thoroughly unreliable and untrustworthy witness."

REM's new album is dedicated to the late actor River Phoenix. "River was like my little brother and his death was the most profound loss I've ever experienced in my life and the first time I've really had to kind of sit back and look at everything around me in a different light," Michael Stipe says. But Stipe says that despite the death of Phoenix and Nirvana's Kurt Cobain, he didn't want to reflect that sadness on the new album. "I felt like 'Automatic For The People,' in terms of the subject matter — it was dealing with death and mortality and passage. We really covered that pretty well and we needed to do a record that was really different from that because it felt like we'd reached kind of a zenith with that record. River's death prevented me from being able to write for almost five months."

REM is looking forward to touring again, five years after the band's last big tour. "We did it all through the '80s and did it about as well as we could do it and it was just starting to become a job," Peter Buck says. "Just for our own sake and for the band's sake, we thought it would be good to get away from it and explore other avenues. And we did. Now we're all kind of fired up about playing again." The tour, which will last almost a year, begins on January 13 in Perth, Australia. Buck says the band will concentrate on performing material on the three albums that have been released since the band's last tour. "We've pretty much done the '80s stuff," Buck says. "I'd like to stick to the '90s stuff."

Pantera are offering a $2,000 reward for the return of a 1981 Dean ML Guitar (serial number 8103093) stolen after a concert at the Spectrum in Philadelphia. Guitarist Dimebag Darrell says the guitar has great personal value.

Danzig say they don't plan to take back drummer Chuck Biscuits, who left the band in June. Biscuits recently approached the band about letting him back in, but the band declined, citing "continued personal problems as well as creative differences."

Jeff Buckley begins a U.S. tour in Brooklyn on October 22. His "Grace" album was released in August.

The new "Melrose Place" soundtrack features four previously unreleased tracks by Paul Westerberg, the Divinyls, Aimee Mann and Dinosaur Jr.

The Melvins release a new album this month (on Atlantic Records) called "Stoner Witch." The LP was produced by Garth Richardson, who's worked with L7, Rage Against The Machine and the Red Hot Chili Peppers. The Melvins will tour this fall with L7.

Nina Hagen, Lenny Kravitz and Screaming Lord Sutch were in the audience for British designer Vivienne Westwood's Paris ready-to-wear show.

Emerson, Lake & Palmer are donating profits from the song "Daddy," on their new album "In The Hot Seat," to a rescue center for missing children. Greg Lake says he saw a televised report about a center established by Robert Wood, whose daughter Sara Anne was kidnapped and killed last year. The center distributes information, fliers and posters. "I saw it on (the) 'America's Most Wanted' TV program," Lake says. "The story wasn't so much about Sara Wood but more about her father, who despite his grief and suffering he set up this foundation. As the father of a young daughter myself, it struck home and I thought maybe I could do something myself and raise awareness."

Opera singer Luciano Pavarotti invited Bryan Adams on stage for a duet during a show in Italy. The two performed Adams' recent hit "All For Love."

"The Garth Brooks Collection" being sold only at McDonald's restaurants has sold over four million copies, according to Brooks' record label. A dollar from each album will go to Ronald McDonald's Children's Charities. The 10-song compilation record doesn't appear on the Billboard album chart because it isn't being sold in conventional retail outlets. Sales of the Tina Turner and Elton John albums have exceeded two million each, with the sampler of the new Roxette album selling around a million.

Dionne Farris, the female vocalist featured on Arrested Development's "Tennessee," has released her debut album, "Wild Seed — Wild Flower."

David Bowie's wife, supermodel Imam, reportedly plays a "bondage bitch" in an upcoming sexy film.

Italian fans of Michael Jackson are gathering 100,000 signatures on a petition nominating Jackson for the 1995 Nobel Peace Prize because of his work on behalf of children.

Aretha Franklin will host a "Gospel Extravaganza" on November 6 at the New Bethel Baptist Church in Detroit, Michigan, where her father was the longtime pastor.

C.J. Chenier, son of the late Clifton Chenier, will record a new album this winter for release in the spring (on Alligator Records).

Pink Floyd wrap up their world tour with a pay-per-view concert from London on November 1. The band's playing a series of 14 dates in the British capital.

Neil Diamond includes a reggae version of "Rudolph The Red-Nosed Reindeer" on his "The Christmas Album Volume 2" (on Columbia Records). The record includes 15 Christmas songs in various styles, produced by Peter Asher, formerly of Peter & Gordon.

The former Prince is reportedly holding back release of a new album called "The Gold Experience" in an attempt to re-negotiate his recording contract. He's issued a press release calling his deal (with Warner Brothers Records) "institutionalized slavery." He also claims record label representatives have spread the rumor that he insists his employees at the Paisley Park offices in Minneapolis wear gold jewelry and work by candlelight.

The weekly tabloid the Star reports that Englebert Humperdinck says he has the power to cure people. He says he learned of his ability four years ago when a holistic doctor told him he had a "pure aura." Humperdinck says he's cured a woman's migraine headaches and has cured a man of cancer. The article quotes Humperdinck as saying he holds his hands over patients and they are cured three minutes later. He says his healing power comes "from God" and he's "just the instrument."

Jerry Hall reportedly walked out on Mick Jagger after finding a fax from one of his ex-girlfriends. She reportedly stormed out of the couple's New Orleans hotel after finding a note from model Carla LaBruni which said "See you at the MGM Grand." Several British newspapers quoted a source as saying "Jerry went hysterical when she found the fax. She thought it was all over." Hall briefly separated from Jagger two years ago after friends told her he was seeing LaBruni. Jagger had reportedly promised her he would never see LaBruni again. Jagger and Hall married in 1990.

Angel Corpus-Christi and New York City rock band Rake's Progress will be the first artists to release albums on a new label being formed by Herb Alpert and Jerry Moss, who sold their A&M Records label five years ago for $500 million. The first releases on their new label (Almo Sounds) should come out in the middle of next year.

A 22-year-old man died when his throat was slit in fighting near a two-mile-long line of fans waiting to buy tickets to the Rolling Stones' first concert in Argentina. Fans began lining up three days before the almost 60,000 tickets went on sale.

In a interview in the British magazine Healthy Eating, Mick Jagger's wife, Jerry Hall, says she covers her body in salad oil and then wraps herself in plastic wrap to keep her good looks. "After I've rubbed on the oil, I wrap myself in cling film and leave it on for a while. If Mick's away, I leave it on overnight," she tells the magazine. "I have also taught myself not to blink when I don't want to. I practise by staring at light bulbs without shutting my eyes," she says. "Your eyes water to begin with, but you can train them not to."

Former Rolling Stones member Bill Wyman is hosting a charity auction at his Sticky Fingers restaurant in London later this month to raise money for families with sick children. The parents of a three-year-old boy who underwent a bone marrow transplant for his rare Batten's disease, are launching the charity group. "I think I'm having problems when my baby doesn't sleep at night," Wyman says. "It's extraordinary they can devote time and effort to putting a charity together and I think they need all the help they can get." Justin Hayward of the Moody Blues will perform at the $115-per-ticket event, called "It's A Family Affair." "That's not cheap these days but they have nearly all been sold already," Wyman says.

Robert Plant says the idea for "No Quarter: Jimmy Page and Robert Plant Unledded" came last year. "We met last November and discussed the possibility of, instead of going backwards, going forwards, and for once we gave it enough thought to discuss it beyond collision of egos where we were doing separate things," Plant said in Paris at the European premiere of the film, where a few hundred invited guests got a preview before the film aired on cable television. "It's the first time we've heard it with an audience apart from when we originally did it, so it's been quite an emotional experience for us, just hearing it," Page said. "It's a buzz just seeing what we've done because we are very proud of it." Plant said he found the music in Morocco "so hypnotic and so beautiful" when he went there to film scenes. "I'm just a little bit Moroccan, I think." Plant and Page plan to tour beginning in February of next year, but Plant is quick to say this is not a Led Zeppelin reunion. Page and Plant will be touring with bass player Charlie Jones and drummer Michael Lee.

Former Led Zeppelin bass player John Paul Jones is touring with Diamanda Galas in November in support of their "The Sporting Life" album. It's Jones' first U.S. tour since the break-up of Led Zeppelin, and ironically comes as Robert Plant and Jimmy Page plan their "Unledded" tour. Drummer Denny Fougheiser will be part of the touring group. Pete Thomas, formerly of Elvis Costello & The Attractions, played drums on the "The Sporting Life" LP.

Laibach are just releasing a new album, "NATO," a commentary on world affairs. The LP includes covers of Edwin Starr's "War", Europe's "Final Countdown", Status Quo's "In The Army Now", DAF's "Alle Gegen Alle", and Pink Floyd's "Dogs Of War." It's the seventh album from the group. Laibach have also helped form a "state of NSK." With members of a utopian organization, they are proposing an extra-territorial state that can "temporarily materialize itself."

Plastikman, one of the aliases of DJ Richie Hawtin, releases a new album next month called "Musik."

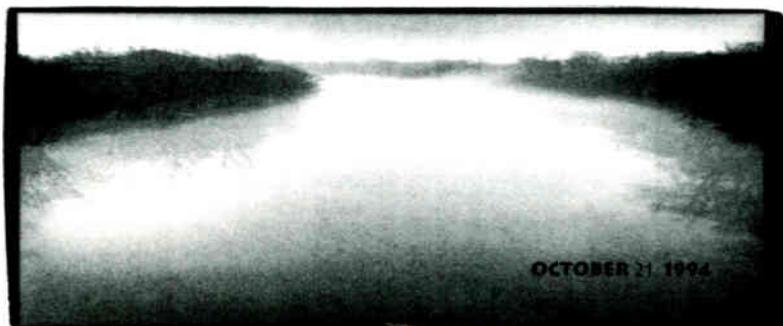

Madonna "tells of her passionate desire to find a partner and start a family," according to previews of an interview she's given to BBC television. In the interview, she says she may have finally found her perfect partner. She adds that she's regretted the break-up of some of her past love affairs, particularly with Warren Beatty, who she says was funny and smart. "I definitely spent a couple of hours a day picking his brains," she says.

Youssou N'Dour has become the first Senegalese musician to earn a gold record, according to the state-run newspaper Le Soleil in Dakar. N'Dour was awarded the disc for sales of a million copies of his single, "Seven Seconds," which features Neneh Cherry.

The Eagles album "Hell Freezes Over" is slated for release November 8. It includes a Latin-flavored acoustic version of "Hotel California," and other songs recorded last spring for MTV. The concert, which will be televised on October 26, was the first time Don Henley, Glenn Frey, Don Felder, Joe Walsh and Timothy B. Schmit had performed together since 1980. It also prompted their reunion tour, which was cut short last month so that Frey could undergo colon surgery.

Three young men committed suicide in British Columbia, one of them making a reference to the suicide of Kurt Cobain of Nirvana. The bodies of the three were found in a rented storage unit, where they apparently died of carbon monoxide poisoning from a car whose engine was running. One of the suicide notes said in French, "When Kurt Cobain died, I died." Nirvana cassettes were among about a dozen tapes found in the storage space.

A 24-track compilation album of Elvis Presley Christmas songs comes out this month (on RCA Records). "If Every Day Was Like Christmas" features material from his EPs "Christmas With Elvis" and "Elvis Sings Christmas Songs" as well as the "Memories Of Christmas" and "Elvis Sings The Wonderful World Of Christmas" albums.

Suede last week unveiled their new guitarist, 18-year-old Richard Oakes, at three low-key gigs. His debut came at a record company showcase in Paris, followed by a live recording for BBC Television's 'Later', and a secret, fan-club only gig at London's Raw Club. Simon Price, reviewing the later for Melody Maker, observed that Oakes, "spends tonight with his face one hundred per cent veiled by his fringe, crouched over his fretboard, concentrating on note-perfect replication." Meanwhile, Suede have announced details of their next single, 'The Wild Ones', to be released by Nude Records on November 7. The title-track is taken from their recent, critically acclaimed 'Dog Man Star' LP, and will be available on 12", cassette and two different CD versions. One of the B-sides, the 16 minute 'Introducing The Band', has been remixed by Brian Eno, and is described by a spokesperson as sounding like, "Suede in a flotation tank."

The Cult have announced details of their first full-scale UK Tour since 1987, to coincide with the release of their new, self-titled album. The tour takes place throughout December in smaller, more intimate venues designed to reflect the, "spiritual and actual rebirth of the band."

Former Pogues frontman Shane MacGowen releases his first LP with his new band, The Popes, on ZTT/WEA Records this week. Titled 'The Snake', the album coincides with the band's seven date UK tour which begins at Manchester Academy on November 17. Reviewing the record for New Musical Express, Stuart Bailie concludes, "the infernal world of Shane MacGowen is still very much ablaze."

The Smashing Pumpkins' recent US album, 'Pisces Iscariot', is set to be released in the UK by Hut Records before the end of the year. Mindful of the huge pre-Christmas market, the album, which consists of 'Siamese Dream' outtakes and B-sides, is to be rush-released. A spokesperson for Hut Records also confirmed that Billy Corgan has written most of the next album, and that Smashing Pumpkins are likely to tour the UK in the Fall of 1995.

Having sold over 200,000 copies of their 'Monster' LP in its first week of release in the UK, REM have announced three UK stadium gigs for July 1995. The dates are at Cardiff Arms Park (July 23), Huddersfield Alfred McAlpine Stadium (July 25) and Milton Keynes National Bowl (July 29). Further dates in Scotland and Ireland are expected to be announced soon. The support acts for each date will be hand-picked by REM themselves, with Blur having been confirmed for the Milton Keynes date.

Oasis and The Cranberries are rumoured to be among the other support acts awaiting confirmation. Meanwhile, REM's new single, 'Bang and Blame', will be released on October 31, backed with live versions of 'Losing My Religion', 'Country Feedback' and 'Begin The Begin'.

At a press conference in Paris, Robert Plant this week spoke about his reunion with Jimmy Page for the MTV special 'Jimmy Page/Robert Plant Unleaded'. "MTV asked me to do an 'Unplugged', "explained Plant, "and I couldn't entertain the idea of doing the songs without Jimmy. It's such a tired medium anyway; so many songs don't really work acoustically, unless that nature runs through your career. Even Neil Young struggled with it." He went on to state that he and Jimmy Page would definitely be touring together in the near future, and had written a lot more songs that would not be appearing on the forthcoming MTV soundtrack album, released by Phonogram Records on November 7.

New Order's long-awaited compilation album? - 'The Best Of New Order' will be released on London Records on November 21. The full track listing is: 'True Faith 94', 'Bizarre Love Triangle' '1963', 'Regret', 'Fine Time', 'The Perfect Kiss', 'Shell Shocked', 'Thieves Like Us', 'Vanishing Point', 'Run (2)', 'Round And Round 94', 'World (The Price Of Love)', 'Ruined In A Day', 'Touched By The Hand Of God', 'Blue Monday 88' and 'World In Motion'. A single from the album, 'True Faith 94', will be released on October 31.

Suede have confirmed as one of the guests to feature in an event to raise funds for AIDS awareness to be screened by Carlton Television in London. The event, to be held at the Lighthouse Studios on October 31, will also feature Pulp, Saint Etienne, Neneh Cherry and Carleen Anderson.

The Auteurs release a new album, entitled 'The Auteurs Vs Mu-ziq', on Hut Records on October 31. The album features radical reworkings of several of their most infamous songs, including 'Lenny Valentino', 'Daughter Of A Child', 'Chinese Bakery' and 'Underground Movies', all remixed by Mike Paradinas, a South London engineer who has previously released two experimental albums on Rephlex Records...New pop sensations Elastica have enlisted the help of the readership of the Melody Maker to assist them in choosing a title for their debut album. Readers have been invited to send suggestions to the magazine, and the winner will be judged by the band themselves. The author of the selected entry will receive a highly collectible version of the album minus the vocals, and the band have vowed to visit the winner's home to sing it to them live. The album is currently labouring under four separate titles: 'Goody Gusssets A Go-Go', 'Dangerous Skirts And Gorgeous Shirts', 'Get Kevin' and 'Spastica'.

Electrafixion, the band formed by ex-Echo And The Bunnymen members Ian McCulloch and Will Sergeant, release their debut EP, 'Zephyr', on November 7. The EP also features the tracks 'Burned', 'Rain On Me' and 'Mirrorball'. The band embark on a lengthy UK tour on November 13.

Blur, whose 'Parklife' album was recently nominated for a Mercury Prize Award, release their new single, 'End Of The Century', on Food Records on November 7. The B-Side features a Graham Coxon track, 'Red Necks', and a version of the Alex James' track, 'Alex's Song'...As the campaign against the controversial Criminal Justice Bill gathers pace throughout the UK, several bands have joined forces to release records in support of the protest.

Transglobal Underground, The Shamen, The Orb, The Prodigy and Orbital all feature on the forthcoming anti-CJB album, 'Taking Liberties', while Less Than Ten People, featuring members of Ride and The Daises, release their 'Criminal Justice' single on October 24. On the same day, Pressure Of Speech release their 'Assume Nothing' EP on North South Records, and a week later New Model Army re-release 'Vengeance' on Abstract Sounds, both of which include anti-CJB details on their sleeves. The Criminal Justice Bill, which will restrict the rights of travellers, squatters and ravers, is expected to become law before the end of the year...The seating collapse which disrupted Pink Floyd's gig at London's Earl's Court last week is still being investigated. Eight people were hospitalised and over fifty others injured when a stand holding 1,000 people buckled at Pink Floyd's first UK show for seven years. Speaking to the New Musical Express, an officer from Kensington

And Chelsea Fire Safety Unit said, "We think it was caused by a structural weakness in the stand but we are still investigating". Pink Floyd's fourteen-night stint at Earl's Court continued the following night without incident. Meanwhile, Pink Floyd are to release a video on October 24 of their first recording session. Titled 'Pink Floyd 66-67', the film was recorded at London's Sound Techniques on January 11 and 12, 1967...Leaders of the underground tribal dance movement, Transglobal Underground, release their second album, 'International Times' on October 24 on Nation Records. The full track listing is: 'Lookee Here', 'Taal Zaman', 'Dust Bowl', 'Jatayu', 'Holy Roman Empire', 'Monter Au Ciel', 'Tromba Marina', 'International Times', 'Sumeria', 'Protean', 'Ana', 'Topkapi', 'Pirhana One Chord Boots', 'Chaldea' and 'Dopi'.

The Black Crowes this week revealed details of their UK tour in January and February 1995. The eight dates follow the release of their new album, 'America', which is issued in the UK by American Recordings of October 31. Speaking to the New Musical Express, guitarist Rich Robinson said: "It's the best thing we've done and I hope people get into it. Music is very personal, it comes from yourself. But we just do it, we make music, it's very simple. Some people are motivated by money and greed, but I'm motivated by my love of music; money and fame is an extra, though it's kinda cool." A new Black Crowes single, 'A Conspiracy', is released in November...The British Television pop music programme, 'Top Of The Pops', will this week be presented by Jarvis Cocker of cult Sheffield band Pulp. The programme's producer invited Cocker to present the show after seeing his performances on several other British music programmes this year...Oasis guitarist Noel Gallagher has spoken on UK television about the pressures of their newly-found fame, and the consequent break-up of his six-year relationship with his girlfriend. Speaking on 'With', a thirty minute Independent Television documentary, Gallagher said: "People think we're some sort of superhuman beings who can sail through life. But I get down. I've cried about some of the things that have happened to me but not when people are around. I've lost a lot of friends. I've split up with my girlfriend who I was with for six years. I've lost that and I don't think I'll ever get over it."

ON THE HIGH STREET WITH

Mike Cooper talks with Pat MacDonald about dark shades and a bright future....

Nine years after the success of "The Future's So Bright, I Gotta Wear Shades," Timbuk 3 are back with a new EP and a full-length album looms on the horizon.

Pat and Barbara K. MacDonald made a name for themselves in the 1980s with an unmistakable sound that mixed harmonica, violin, syncopated guitar, electronics and a unique rhythm approach.

Even though "The Future's So Bright" garnered them a Grammy nomination in 1986 as well as worldwide acclaim, the MacDonalds have refused to be discouraged by the inevitable pressure that comes with having a massive hit on a debut album.

"Basically we've mainly played live gigs in Austin," Pat MacDonald explains. "They've mostly been benefits, like people call us up and ask us to play a few songs and go and play or some kind of AIDS benefit or save Barton Creek or something like that. There was this really progressive mayoral candidate that we did a couple of things for. Things like that, close to home, mostly."

"We've just kind of like withdrawn a bit and wrote a whole bunch of songs," Pat says. "At times we'd be real philosophical about it. Other times we'd be pissed off at one thing or another fucked up."

"I think truthfully the thing that's been the constant thing through it all is that we've continued to record a lot and make records. We've kinda got our home studio thing together more and more. We were able to spend the money that were given for recording budgets to buy equipment and get our home studio situation going. So, at least after we'd finish a record, whether the masses embraced it or not, we ended up with more tools, and something to show for it."

"None of the records we're ashamed of in any way. We never did anything that was like some sort of play for popularity that backfired. We've always just tried to stay true to what we're about and keep putting stuff out."

"We started out borrowing a four-track and a bass and a drum machine, because we didn't own any of those things, and we'd make these little four-track rhythm tapes with bass and drums. Then, we'd dub those down to a cassette master from which we'd copy our rhythm track tapes that we'd use live. And we'd play those on a boom box and use them on our live gigs and play electric guitars along with that and sing. That was our original home studio thing. Then, we got signed and we were able to get that same set-up and own it."

As if in anticipation of the technological age of the 1990s, the MacDonalds toured years ago with "Pee-Wee," their band-in-a-suitcase that allowed them to stop at radio stations and retail outlets and perform mini-concerts.

"One of the versions of it we had in a suitcase that got stolen in France," MacDonald says. "The suitcase we had which was really nice, everything was in there, even a miniature guitar and a really tiny bass with rubber strings that sounds like a stand-up bass. We had all the effects and the four-track machine. It was all built into a Samsonite, and the whole thing got stolen in France."

Timbuk 3 have always done most of their recording at their home studio, allowing them more time to craft their tunes.

"Our first record ('Greetings From Timbuk 3') wasn't really done in our home studio, although our rhythm tracks were basically created and arranged in our own studio, we took our whole set-up into our producer's home studio and he had a studio in his basement that he called the Dust Bowl in Los Angeles, because it was a dirt basement. I don't know how he kept his tape machines clean. We were actually going for a techno-dirt kind of approach. Kind of low-tech. There wasn't a lot of keyboards and sequencers, it was real basic drum machine stuff and guitars."

"Since then, though, we did the first two records at the Dust Bowl, and then the third record we got our own studio together, and then by the fourth record ('Big Shot In The Dark') we had kinda gotten our studio really more upgraded. We made our third and fourth records on a DAT machine, multi-tracked that, we had a way of synchronizing our DAT with an eight-track so that we'd make the record like somebody would make an eight-track record, but we'd record all the tracks on a DAT machine that was synchronized to the eight-track and we could do unlimited tracks that way. When we mixed it, then we'd have to transfer the DAT tape to a Sony 48-track machine and then mix off of that. And it sounds like a really disconnected way to make a record. It sounds like a lot of technology to deal with, but our engineer, Gary Moon, who's on the road with us now as our sound man and our engineer at home, would do all that stuff so Barbara and I were pretty much hands free to think about the music and stuff and produce our stuff. People tell us that especially 'Big Shot In The Dark' sounds like a band just played it all together. It doesn't sound disconnected at all. We did a good job of making it sound like that, anyway, although with a DAT machine, you really have to do a lot of rigmarole. We finished the new record and that's done on the ADAT and that's kinda saved us a whole lot of sh...trouble."

While Timbuk 3 have a six-song EP out now, they plan to release an album in February called "A Hundred Lovers." In fact, the tracks for that LP have already been recorded.

"That's all done, actually. It's all in the can," MacDonald says. "It's been in the can now for a while. Basically what we'll do between now and the time it comes out is put the songs in a new order and a new sequence or remix some things, just play with it. We've got a few chances between now and the time it comes out to fuck it up."

The "Looks Like Dark To Me" includes a song "Cynical," which will appear on the upcoming album in a more acoustic form.

"Originally this version was recorded for the album," MacDonald says. "And since a lot of stuff on the album is pretty electric, this other more acoustic version came to find a place we like to have the record go a lot of different places. A lot of people like to have one basic sound for the whole record. We like to sound like a couple of things were recorded in Swaziland or something."

"I like the acoustic version. It's a completely different version. It's not like a remix. It's a different arrangement, too."

Even though it's been over a decade since Pat and Barbara K MacDonald lived in Madison, Wisconsin, those early days have helped bring them to where they are today. Pat says that their current record deal (with High Street Records) came about because of a college friendship with Bob Duskis.

"We've been friends with this guy Bob there ever since we lived in Madison. A lot of things, it seems like, that we do, are with longtime connections. Like, Wally (Ingram), our drummer, we knew him in Madison before we moved to Austin. He was the last drummer in my previous band, the Essentials. And we just went a period of time, kinda not being in touch with Wally and then, we got back in touch, and he was in our band."

"Then, this guy Bob Duskis, he was going to college in Madison and he was a DJ. He had the biggest record collection of anyone I'd ever known. He used to make me little compilation tapes of stuff he thought I'd like, and it was great stuff. In fact, it was one of those tapes that he made for me kind of inspired me to working with drum machines a long time ago when we did this original street version of Timbuk 3. He made this tape of all the stuff that used drum machines that sounded the most soulful — the most human-sounding stuff he could find. That kind of pulled me in and I thought you can do some really human stuff with this technology and so I was hooked. There were bands that I woulda never heard of if he hadn't pointed them out."

"We've just kinda like kept touch and then he went to Windham Hill for a while, and that was like a completely different world. Although he'd come to our gigs all the time, we didn't ever think we'd be working with him. We were on IRS, and he was with Windham Hill, which obviously wasn't the label for Timbuk 3. But, then they started this High Street thing and when our relationship with IRS started going downhill, we kinda were talking to Bob a little bit. He basically was saying, 'I don't know, we're maybe a little too small a label for you guys.' Bob thought if we changed labels, we should try for a label that would invest some money in the band, some big bucks, 'cause he really always told us we should be big, we should be a lot more well-known or whatever. We always kept in touch with Bob and we finally got this deal where in exchange for our freedom from IRS, we gave Miles Copeland a couple of extra years of publishing, where he could still publish my songs for a couple of extra years."

But the band's current EP and the upcoming LP came about even before the deal with High Street was signed, Pat MacDonald says.

"What happened was, we figured we would just make the record without any record company breathing down our back," he says. "We started doing some songs and sending out a few things to different people. We started out with the weirdest shit. A lot of the first songs we wrote were sort of departures from things that had been on previous records, like more or less experimentation. And yet, we thought that people would be real interested in signing us. We were surprised when none of the labels were responding to this stuff."

"At that point, we weren't desperate or anything to be signed," he says. "At some point, we just started talking to Bob again, and he just seemed to be the person who really understood what Timbuk 3 was about, because he knew us from way included, saying 'That's not a novelty song. It's just a good song.'"

"I think the thing that's different from a one-hit wonder in us is that one-hit wonder bands are bands that have one hit and then they disappear, they go away. We just got a hit, but we just haven't had another one since. It hasn't stopped us or anything."

"We have a great collection of all kinds of stuff that has that phrase on it, ever since then — lighters, bumper stickers and t-shirts, all this stuff that somebody has made money off of. Advertisements that have been unauthorized. Basically, we can't copyright that phrase, so people can use those words in an advertisement for something. Kix cereal, in fact. 'My Kix are so bright I gotta wear shades.' The most absurd stretches."

The new record sees the MacDonald's working with bass player Courtney Audain, who Pat met at a concert.

"He lives in Austin. He was originally born and raised in Trinidad and moved to New York City with his family 15 years ago, and moved to Austin shortly after that and started a reggae band in Austin called Pressure, who are pretty popular."

"We got together and we've been playing together ever since," Pat says.

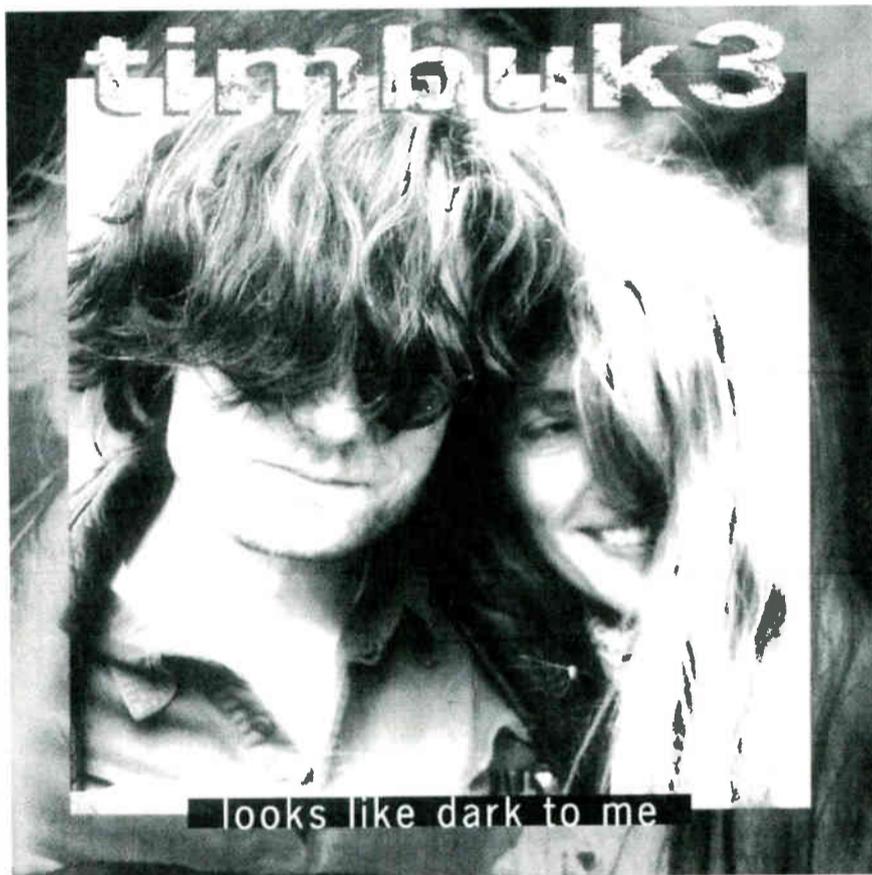

"Over the years, we've gone out in all different combinations. All four of us just played the One World festival in Aspen. Courtney and Wally were both playing drums. It was Barbara and me plus two drummers. We've done a lot of things with Courtney and Barbara and me, and we've done a lot of stuff with just Barbara and me."

"We love playing with the band, but we also love playing just the two of us. It kind of puts a little more pressure on initially, but it really causes us to focus on what we're doing. It's a lot more intimate and more intense focus that Barbara and I have to have. Yet, the two of us, we make quite a bit of noise. I have a thing — I tend to do my foot with a heel and toe kind of thing when I play, and it's just kind of natural that I do this. But it turns out that we put a little board underneath me and there's a guitar pickup on that board, so the foot becomes a precession thing in the sound. It kind of fulfills that kick and snare backbeat thing, which is pretty important. And my guitar is tuned pretty low. For the past few years, I've tuned it down so that the low strings are in the bass range. It's definitely a different sound."

"It would be hell to not be enjoying it because being on tour is so much work. If you had to go on stage and you couldn't have fun with that part of it, it would be living hell."

So, how bright is the future for Timbuk 3? MacDonald declines the chance to write a new finish for the oft-quoted line. Instead, he offers, "We have a song called 'Sunshine Is Dangerous' and the last two lines are 'Life is good, Knock on wood.' That's our philosophy right now."

back. He just really is a believer. And at one point, he said, maybe we would be a good label for you because it's important that you have some people who believe in you."

"It just seemed like something that was destined to happen," Pat says. "I think High Street is definitely going for things that are somewhat departure from maybe what people expect High Street to be putting out, coming from Windham Hill and all. We fit into that category."

So, after all these years, is "The Future's So Bright" an albatross to Pat and Barbara K? They answer the question by updating the 1985 hit for 1994 with a new version on the current EP, and there's even a sort of response in the title track to "Looks Like Dark To Me."

"For us, it was a fun little project putting it together," MacDonald says. "A kind of conceptual thing sort of dealing with the 'Shades' thing."

"At the time it came out, I remember thinking, 'If this is a hit, are people going to think we're some sort of novelty band?'" MacDonald says. "I was kinda wary at the time, wondering if people would think of it as a novelty song. I remember people telling me, in particular our manager at the time

TJ BRYAN, WQHA MUSIC DIRECTOR

I never thought the letters I read in this magazine were true, that is until the day this happened to me. I was sitting around my house one day until the doorbell rang. There was a beautiful buxom blonde standing at my door. I had forgotten that these Swedish airline stewardess triplets had moved into the apartment next to mine. Inga, wearing only a nightie, asked if she and her sisters could borrow a cup of orange marmalade. "What for?" I queried. "Why don't you come over and find out," she replied, breathing heavily — Oh my god! I'm sorry... I just realized I'm writing to the wrong magazine! Nevermind. As always, it's been business doing pleasure with you.

SHARON SCHIFFINO, WHJY

Last Thursday night 94 HJY celebrated 13 years of rockin' Southern New England with a "Wicked 13th Birthday Bash", it was a block party and three area clubs simultaneously. The fact that this event happened only a week after achieving our best book in the history of HJY - (double digits!) just made the celebration that much sweeter! The event included performances by Soulhat, Atomic Opera, Fury in the Slaughterhouse, Bloodline and Stardarts (Featuring Dave Minnehan, formerly of our favorite area band the Neighborhoods.) All the bands gave stellar performances! Our thanks to all the band members and their crews, Epic's Laura Curtin and Jimmy Walorz, EMI's Neil Lasher and Mike Abbatisa, RCA's Dave Loncao and Paul Calabretta, Giant's Tom Jodka, and Could Be Wild's Bruce Moser for all their help in putting this party together.

CATHY FAULKNER, KISW, 206-282-7018

My first satellite broadcast... I can now die happy. I truly enjoyed hosting the broadcast premier of Promised Land from Queensryche. The guys in the band are the best when it comes to interviews and they had some great insight in their progression as a band. They also shared stories related to Promised Land. Thanks to Steve Smith, Tommy Nast, and (couldn't do it without you) Mark Felsot. I also want to thank Cliff Bernstein and everyone at Q Prime, Neil Lasher and Ann Eason from EMI for their faith in me. It was a blast... Our morning show, "Twisted Radio" just finished filming their video for "I Am Santa Claus" (to the tune of Iron Man). Keep an eye out for that on MTV as the holiday season approaches.

GUY DARK, WHDQ, 603-542-7735

We had a Queensryche win it before you can buy it weekend (thanks to Mike Abbatisa at EMI) and ran the premier special of Promised Land. Judging from the phone response and ages of Cd winners, this band has a greater upper-demo appeal than I would have suspected. I guess it's time to beef up the library with catalogue tracks! I read the interview with Geoff Tate, now there's a man with his head on straight... After "Spending Time" with it, the new Black Crowes ditty sounds damn good on the radio!.. In a totally unrelated note, Dan Dierdorf is a classic example of the Peter Principle.

DOUG KUBINSKI, WYMS, CLEVELAND

A Big thanks to Donita and Dee from L7 who visited the Buzzard before their show at the Odeon last Friday!! Fresh off of Lollapalooza and the Elvis Tribute, they brought the (Sold out) house down! "Andres" rocks and is still a hot phone record... What can be said about "Zombie". The Cranberries latest release grabbed immediate response on both research and phones (our daily #1 requested song since it's been released). Their show at the Cleveland Agoura sold out in a day and a half- this band is on a roll!

AL SCOTT, KUFO

Hey, good news! I'm going to take up some space on this page... Man, you gotta love that new Black Crowes tune. "A Conspiracy" is one of the hippest rock n' roll tunes on the planet. My question is...Where is my copy? Watch out for those guys on tour. I got to see a little show they did on the Horde tour, and as usual, they were rippin'... The new Queensryche is going nuts here! Our audience has been asking for this project since the fifties. I am worth the long wait... I hope all is well with you....Now hurry up and leave me alone.

LARRY MAC, KUKQ

Hello from the land of Gila Monsters and Roadrunners. Johnathan L. is very fond of the Cranes Record "Shining Road". He says that Allison Shaw's vocals might not be immediate for some, "But for me it had instant impact"... He's also fond of Wig's "Tender Assassin", a song that was played at the beginning of this weeks Monday Morning Music Meeting, and got response from out listeners pretty much through the whole meeting. Allison Strong says that Seven Year Bitch's "Hip Like Junk" is Hypno-Abrasion... My personal fav right now is Sponges "Plowed" which didn't hit me at first, ut the more I hear it the better it gets, so give this song a couple of spins in your meeting or test department, it'll react.

JOHN LENAC/KEVIN KLINE, KTOZ

We're in the midst of our fourth annual Trick or Treat promotion. When Channel Z listeners hear children scream "Trick or Treat" over the air, they call with three songs of artist from the previous hour and win CDs, shirts, posters, concert tix, etc. It's an October tradition in Springfield and the phones are constantly lit up with people answering the screams of the Trick or Treaters... Along the same festive note...Saturday night over one thousand Channel Z listeners joined John and braved the haunted grounds of the Hotel Of Terror. John broadcast live from the hotel while others around him were screaming, he was thinking of a way of sneaking out and change his "Soiled" skivvies. Everyone in attendance had a frightfully good time... Also, over the weekend we gave away Pulp Fiction movie passes and CD copies of the soundtrack. Folks couldn't wait to get their hands on the passes and everyone loves winning CDs before their friends can buy them. Thanks to Mirimax Films for the passes and Gary Spivcak and everyone at MCA for another fantastic win-it-before-you-can-but-it weekend... As we write this, the rest of the Channel Z staff is enjoying themselves at a local restaurant/bar watching Melrose Place and bonding with the crowd the joined them for an evening with Amanda and the gang. We invited all the Channel Z faithful to join us for free Hors D'oeuvres as we mixed their favorite tun's until the show started. The first 25 people standing in line received a CD copy of the Melrose Place soundtrack before it hits the shelves tomorrow. Thanks to Barry Lyons an everyone at Giant for their help... Finally, thanks to D-Day for stopping by last Friday. Kevin was really excited. He interned for D-Day before coming to Channel Z and it was a big change having D-Day get Kevin coffee this time.

ROB NICHOLSON & JULIE HOYT, CHANNEL Z

Hi there from Augusta, Georgia. Channel Z has been cranking out all the fun just like always. What a huge week we had. No time for recuperation from our South By Southeast weekend, that's for sure. We had Freedy Johnston and Seed in for shows on Saturday night, and both acts put on monstrous shows. We gave away CDs and passes to Freedy's show and people went nuts. He has tons of huge fans in August. He also came in for an interview and played some live music for us in the studio and was phenomenal... Seed came in as well, and what a bunch of neat fellas. You sure wouldn't believe that these guys are as young as they are. They are coming back in a couple of weeks with Gods Child, and that's sure to be a great show. Thanks to Jake Ottman and the folks at Elektra for the help with Freedy, and to Barry Griffith and Barry Lyons from Giant for pulling everything together with Seed. With the both Jake and Barry Griffith in town this weekend, you can be sure that we had a wild and wonderful time... We gave away a trip to see The Pretenders in New York this morning and our winner went ballistic. She was really cure and called every DJ all day to introduce herself and thank them and the station. Thanks to Peter Katsis at Q Management for that. Believe me, it was greatly appreciated by that woman... We had a Pulp Fiction week last week to get ready for the opening. We gave away passes to it and copies of the soundtrack. Thanks to Kim Turner at Failgren-Martin for the passes and to Gary Spivak at MCA for the CDs. We had so much fun giving those away... That about covers it from this side of the music world... And speaking of it, have you see Pulp Fiction yet? Soooo Gooood. Believe me, all those great reviews you've read just don't do it justice. We at Channel Z are actually quoting it more than the Simpsons now!

DOUG, WPUP, ATHENS

We're trying to figure out why the salesuit called us all weirdos when I asked if we should stop our conversations about homosexual prostitutions (and where to find it) in front of his client... We're having a fun day at the office. We then tried to figure out of the 3 of us is the most neurotic, but failed due to incomparable neurosis... My mom called me last night to check and see if her dreams were true (See, I'm not the only one in the family who does that). She told she dreamt that I was diagnosed with AIDS. I told her that medical science would be quite surprised. And to sublimate for lack of sex life, I've been playing lots of chess. So far I'm undefeated and reigning champion at Jittery Joe's Coffee. I'm thinking of supplementing my income with challenger's. Of great, n w the salesuit is telling me to clean my coffee cup. You think there's even a chance I might clean it? Even if I could? Uh, it's a full moon. that's why. Just be glad you don't have to deal with me at a new moon, or else one of us (or both of us) will end up in tears from the vile insults I tend to throw around... Why doesn't Sugar's intenerary list the Athen's date that the 40 Watt lists. Is this some kind of surprise show? Is it just there because Dave Barbe wants to visit his wife and kids? Or does Bob Mould just want to come and hang out some more? And it's the day after Nova Mob... hmmm... The Dave Mathews Band show was covered by MTV last Friday night. Of course, I was working the 13 hour marathon shift from hell and managed to miss the whole thing. Tickets were scalping for a hundred bucks. Man... This weekend I've already managed to schedule time off to go see Moe Tucker (with Sterling Morrison) at the Watt and Lay Quiet Awhile at the Atomic (on Daemon Records, get it, listen to it, love it). Maybe I caa go wit one of the girls I've been flirting with at Jittery Joe's, address the situation listed in paragraph 4 and increase risk of paragraph 3... Anyway, I'm going away now. There's a salesuit somewhere in serious need of harassment.

MR. HAND, ACRN

So here I am in what seems to be me and I think this could be the beginning of something. My name in Rob Hand and T-Bone is Troy Bolton, the Music Director, and Dobro is Marcus and Robert G. is in the house. (I said hotel, motel, Holiday inn). Anyway, I'm wack and I'm proud... Mass shouts out to Luscious Jackson and the beautiful Vivian (thanks for the hug and the interview!) And Asia Lynn the great. I want to thank Tommy at Capitol for the show and Jeff at Interscope for the vids and the Manson interview... Peace and hair grease to Capricorn for the 311 hooks. (And if your girl starts acting up, then take her friend)... What's up to Glenn and the Stone Deep Boys from T-Bone. I gotta give it up for our Smiling Jesus Band here in A-Town and Bizarro is coming... So, the Urban Dance Squad tune is killer and we want the fucking album before 1995! What's up with that? I also saw a date for John Frusciante. Fuck yeah!.. And we've been jamming on the new Sick Of It All, which kicks much ass... So, until next time, it's still this time. And I'm out.

THE TINK, WVUD, DELAWARE

I had to face splitting the child down the center trauma this past week. Here's the scene: Go to the 9:30 Club in D.C. or up to the Wetlands in NYC. Well it took much deliberation and a severe coin toss but, NYC won out. So I saw Cannibal Corpse thanks to nose hair burning Metal Blade, Mom-Maria, also in attendance were Samuel and Grave all three bands kicked a stack of ass-cakes around the Wet Preserve. Many thanks go to Century Media's Rayshelle for many assorted pleasantries. Also to Earaching Meg for touching me with the guys from Anal Cunt and the Brutal Truth posse Kevin Sharp/Danny Lilker... Other assorted bumps in the night happened with Chainsaw Rose, Paula (Budd-ie) Hogan, these people are Futurists... Raul from Dwell Shared some "Inner Thoughts" with me... The "Demolition Hammer" " were in the house, it was great seeing Steve and Derek. Mitch from Napalm Death was wandering the halls too. I don't think he remembered seeing The Tink in Philly. Way to go Tommy P. for pulling off another deathly sonic blitz. E.J./COC you know I'll make it up when you guys foliate Philly in the frosty fall.

ANTHONY SAVARESE, WDNW, 315-253-2354

Hey, how's it going? Life is great for me because in one week I'm going to see Overkill. (Playing new material). And Fates Warning and Joey Vera, that is entertainment... Also the Undertaker will bury Yokozuma for life on the Hart Attack Tour... If Savatage comes to your area then go see them! Alex Scholnicks band "Exhibit A" opens for Savatage so you get to see Alex play twice... By the way, the new Queensryche is the best thing they have done in a while. Goodbye!

JULIE JOHNSON, WXZZ

Yes, you too can bask at our Scary Monster Bash on 10/28. I'm not going to say it again (promise)... On 10/16 Samiam and the Toadies brought their unique brands of joy to the E!n Gee Club and Z-Rock was there. Just one word... "Baskslider"!... Samiam came if for a special Sunday edition of "Planet Zero" before the show we chatted about life, love and I'm lying-we spoke of nothing and everything at once. It was beautiful I really have a problem, anyway special spins - Compulsion and EEgines of Aggression.

ERIC NIELSEN, KMSA

So what's the deal. This whole school is on vacation, yet here is sit glued to the telephone and fighting with this god-forsaken computer. Such dedication...Such devotion...Such a crock! Well, the miracle has finally happened, I can finally see the top of my desk! YEAH!.. In other news from around these parts, I'm making that dreaded 250 mile trek over the snow covered Rocky Mountains in a mere 22 hours to catch Savatage in Denver... Ah snow...That must mean the ski season is upon us. It's just too bad that skiing has become so expensive! Why I remember when I was a kid...oh shit! I'm becoming my dad... So, did anyone happen to catch that Buff's game last Saturday? Made a mess out of Oklahoma eh? Husker fans beware! Now before anyone realizes that my Colorado bias is showing and feels compelled to give me shit about the Broncos, stop! I'm fully aware that they blow! Nuff said about that... So, how 'bout that new Queensryche thang? I must admit that I was pretty blown away when Mr. Schnapp gave me my first taste of $! at Foundations, but now that I've finally gotten the chance to check out the whole thing, all I can really say is that it is nothing short of brilliant! Yeah Schnapp!.. Another new release that grabbed me, violated me repeatedly and left me quivering like the dog I am is Korn. I really don't quite know what to make of it, but it is one of the most intense things I've had the opportunity to chew on in a long time. In fact, I think I still have some in my teeth!.. Yet another new and that grabbed my ear, spit in it, and ripped it from my head (that's a good thing) is Mary Beats Jane. Aside from the beautiful images that name conjures up in my sick and twisted little mind, the album fuckin' rips! And the list keeps going and going and going... Well I'm off to hunt for something exciting to do for a few hours. Any ideas?.. But who would I be to end this fine dialogue without letting y'all in on a little piece of news? Coming up in the not-too-distant future (2/95 to be more precise) good ol' KMSA will be celebrating our 20th anniversary! What does this mean to you? Well, one of our main goals is to get a "new" transmitter. With this new transmitter comes more power. With more power comes a bigger coverage area, with a bigger coverage area comes more listeners... What I would really like is some feedback and some ideas from you on promotions and fund raising type of stuff to hopefully make our dream into reality, so feel free to get in touch with me if you have any suggestions or comments. Your help would be greatly appreciated... Of course, The Buff's fuckin' rule! Later from Hell.

SCOTT "LO/JACK" DOUGLAS, VIRGIN, 212-332-0418

I guess I'm the latest entry into total computer geekism. You got to check out Internet!!! It's incredible!!! Get access through Delphi...they've probably got the best deal out there for complete access...more than just e-mail. Psybersurfing is a gas! Try it... About the records: Play Bryan Ferry. Adult stations across the A3 format are having tremendous success and Bryan's tour is selling out. He is the ultimate in cool... This weekend we introduce the second cut from BBM, "City of Gold This is Crossroads", dead on and updated...check it out...it cooks!.. Rolling Stones "Out Of Tears" is exploding...I know you'll get into as the other Stones cuts fade away. Though it would be nice, I don't expect an all Rolling Stones format... Smashing Pumpkins are every bit as major on the other end of the spectrum. Take your pick... "Frail and Bedazzled" to rock, "Landslide" for relief. The album debuted at #4 on Soundscan. There's all the research you need... Last but not least, Cracker "Euro Trash Girl" is quirky and guaranteed to make you smile. Have a day...

DAVID FLEISCHMAN, MCA

Sass Jordan is opening for Steve Perry and her set, as always, is a great rock n roll experience. Make sure you see her when she's in your town and while you're at it, put "Sun's Gonna Rise" on your radio station... Live...simply put, has broken, is touring, is selling out everywhere and will be around for many more records. This is one of the best success stories for '94 and will continue well into '95... Boston's latest "Surrender To Me". As always with Boston, you get exactly what you'd expect, great Boston songs done in the style that has sold over 15,000,000 records.. Lyle (Lovett that is) is on the road, playing to sold out audiences every night. Every night confirms the fact that not only does he make great records, but he truly is a great artist. See him, listen to him and enjoy a unique musical experience when he comes to your town... I've been screaming to anyone who would listen for the last two months about Todd Snider. The early results are coming in and the information is staggering. "Alright Guy" is #1 phones at KKRK. It's #2 phones at KFMU. It's getting major phone action at KFAN, KPIG, WEBK and WERX. We're already on over 1/2 of the AAA, PAR, Adult Rock stations in America with an artist that no one ever heard of two months ago. We're on two alternative stations (WWCD and KACV) and WWCD is getting phones. Dave Rossi at WAVF is playing "Alright Guy" and to quote Dave, "It's top 5 phones and separating itself from everything else on the air." Marty Bender is playing the mystery track ("Talkin' Seattle Grunge Rock Blues" starts at 4:54 of track 12) on the Bob and Tom show at WFBQ. Every pick and every review has been overwhelmingly positive and stresses the depth of the record. All the signs point to a hit record. Hey, Bruce Moser's screaming about this record and he's not even on the project. Todd Snider writes great songs. Todd Snider sings them with total honesty and sincerity. Todd Snider, Todd Snider, Todd Snider

ALAN OREMAN, GEFEN RECORDS

So much music and so little space. There is a ton of great stuff out there and musically it's pretty damn exciting! Just to name a few, The Toadies, Corrosion Of Conformity, Pete Drobe and Veruca Salt. All these bands including Hole are the future hits of Rock Radio and the future sounds great... In your face this week is Aerosmith's "Blind Man" from their forthcoming Greatest Hits album. Definitely one of the most popular bands ever and they have transcended everything... Thanks for the killer week on Jackyl's "Headed For Destruction", they're touring their asses off and selling records... Next up is Tesla's "Need Your Lovin" which sounds like a smash to me. Both of these bands are core artists for the format, and let's not forget that they are both selling close to ten thousand over the counter each week. Remember both of these bands are not shared by any other format, therefore you're not going to see an immediate surge in sale but you will see a consistent number in your market each week... Pride and Glory is now on tour for the next month or two and "Troubled Wine" is working very well at the aggressive low-end stations. Please go see them when they come to your town... The next track for Counting Crows is "A Murder Of One" which originally going to be our very first track. Now is the perfect time for this song... Please watch the sales on Veruca Salt, it's going to go! There is a great buzz on this band... Thanks for all the airplay on Nirvana and the Eagles. Both albums will be in your hands in the next couple of weeks.

MARK FISCHER, ATLANTIC RECORDS, 212-275-2085

It's fall tour '94. I'm out seeing a lot of "you guyz" (how's that for a Yankee phrase) and hearing some great radio. there is so much to choose from, where does one begin?.. Well, Liz Phair is still selling an exorbitant amount of records after just really cracking the charts this week. The video for "Supernova" is in Buzz Clip on MTV... Bad Religion has just announced tour dates in America, and great radio stations like WBCN, KLOL, KEGL and KQRC have locked into solid rotations... New this week, is the follow up track "Chance" from Savatage. Stay tuned for exciting tour news regarding the band for the new year... Many of you had success playing Pearl Jam's version of Victoria Williams "Crazy Mary". It's now time to educate your listeners to the source of this great song and many more. This week we are starting to work Victoria Williams original interpretation of her hit songs "Crazy Mary". What an advantage to your listeners, not only do you have a familiar song, but you have a story to tell when you front and back announce it. If I didn't know better I would have to say Victoria is some how related to Neil Young... In closing, thanks to everyone who has participated in the biggest rock reunion in history. I think anyone who watched Jimmy Page and Robert Plant on MTV last week realize our format would not exist without them. And thanks to Jimmy and Robert, we have new songs and new versions of the classics. Stay tuned for more...!

DAVE LOMBARDI, WARNER BROS. RECORDS, 818-953-3726

O.K., this week I have records to sell. In your sleamy little mittens is the highly anticipated, highly prized and highly acclaimed Warner Bros. debut from Tom Petty, "You Don't Know How It Feels". This is the very song he performed on the Letterman show earlier in the month, and if you saw that, you already know how good the song is. I can also guarantee the version we sent out is free of feedback, unlike the version you heard on Letterman. Those live situations are so hard to control! Oh, just for the record, to my knowledge, Tom Petty had broken up and reformed... Now, you probably noticed what a great start "Cover Me" by Candlebox is off to, with two weeks near the tops of the most added lists. What you don't know, however, is that, for the first time (with Candlebox anyway), MTV is going to World Premier the video this Monday. This is big news because, we'll be triple platinum by Christmas with this project. Take another bow, because rock radio got this all started! These are the scheduled airtimes: 8am, 9:30am, 1pm, 3pm, 6pm and 9pm. The band is still touring, this time with highly recommended support in the Flaming Lips. Check them out, because it won't be long til the Lips get their day... Dig out the copy of "She Don't Use Jelly" that's somewhere at the station and give it some airtime, especially if the show is coming to town... Also in your little shiny hooves: "Money Talk" by the Pretenders, who are also touring... Coming soon: "Stone Horses" from Gods Child... Thanks to Vince Richards for his hospitality... I'm out.

CHRIS WOLTMAN, COLUMBIA RECORDS

The first official week on COC's "Albatross" and the list of majors now on looks like this: WXTB (where major phone action is already starting), WEBN, KISW, WSHE, KISS, WLZR, WAAF and more. In total their are over 40 stations playing "Albatross". I saw the band Friday at a sold-out show here in NYC - there is no question that they deliver live! The music is there, the live show is there, the base is there...it's all starting to come together for these guys... Soul Asylum has another tremendous week with WBCN, KLLOL, WDVE, and over 15 others. "Can't Even Tell" sounds great on the air! We already have over 350 spins with Top Ten airplay at KUPD, KGAL, KIOZ, WCCC, WXRK and more. It seems like every week I get more phone call from programmers just to tell me that they heard Toad the Wet Sprocket's "Something's Always Wrong" on the air and how great it sounds...this week is no exception. In BDS we moved from 37-27*, the band is on the road, the video is on MTV, Top 10 airplay at KLOS, WLWQ, KWTO, and #1 at WBCN. The point is this - make fucking room if you are one of the few not playing this track... Black Sabbath Tribute record + airplay on White Zombie = request and sales (25,000 last week) which in turn = Hit!! You figure it out - this week WHJY, KLBK, KNAC, KRRK, KZBB and others did (I think it makes sense)... Alice In Chains "Don't Follow"....if you haven't already, maybe you should follow the lead your peers have taken - Top 10 airplay at: KQRC, WAAF, KLB, KZZR, WAAF and more... Alright, I'm out the door to see the Bob Dylan show tonight, Dylan's "Dignity" is on your desk for official adds this week.

JOHN KNAPP, 550 Music

Congrats Russ Mottla on your new gig at WDRE! Russ, first order of business is K's Choice "I Smoke A Lot" could be the slacker anthem of the year. This talented band have a smash on their hands. It hits November 14... The hottest news from the road is wickedly hot set from Mother Tongue. They're on the road with Candlebox and unbelievable live! Catch them in the Midwest next week in Chicago, Milwaukee and Detroit... Velvet Crush/Jesus & Mary Chain/Mazzy Star tour...sold out! Check Velvet Crush's new one "This Life Is Killing" as they roll across the states... More tour news. XC-NN hits the road with Sponge October 25 in Connecticut... see them live... see why people are talking...XC-NN. They're here!

JON NARDACHONE, ATLANTIC, 212-275-2135

There's nobody in the world was as nearly as excited as me this morning!! No, it's not because I bought a new longboard this weekend and I'm ready for some winter surf, it's cause Testament tour dates are in my house!!! Two months of intensity starting Nov. 17th in St. Louis!.. Have you received your "Stoner Witch"?? I'll bet no one would've guessed "Stoner Witch" is the Melvins 12th release!!! (That's more than Led Zeppelin for all you AOR people!) Those who have seen King Buzzo and Co on this tour with L7 and Wool have admitted to being sonically crushed!.. Savatage has a new single...."Chance" is most original hard rock single the band has ever written....This tune is bigger than Queens "Bohemian Rhapsody"!!! No shit!.. Are you playing Jerky Boys new single "Sick As A Dog"??? You really shouldn't unless you really want your request lines lit up with hundreds of closet Jerky fans asking "where did that tune come from?"... Page/Plant frenzy is touching us all...I feel like I'm in junior high again!?!?

CHERYL VALENTINE, EPIC METAL, 212-633-5987

"Hate me Clown because I'm not from your town, no; Hate me Clown; Hate me Clown because I'm not from your town, no; Hate me Clown..." Thanks to all who added Korn out of the box! We're already getting awesome requests from news from WKLL (Utica), WSOU (S. Orange) and WSGR (Port Huron). If you have an early request story on Korn, please call me up and fill me in on the details! All of this is going on and it's only the beginning... This week you'll be receiving our first full length on our first Loosegrove release by Devilhead. Check it out in it entirety and listen to the rather tripped lyrics that delve into what's known as the world... Now on tour: Arcade, Korn, and Prong (not on the same bill silly)... How cool was it to hang out with Eric Pain at the Foundations and Dave Ciancio at CMJ?

E.J. JOHANTGEN, COLUMBIA, 212-633-4989

Hearing COC pumping through the PA at the Hard Rock Cafe was a trip! The tour is off and running. Those at the NYC gig witnessed first hand the brilliant power... Godflesh tour begins November 10th in San Francisco with a headlining date and then two days later hook up with Danzig and Type O Negative in Phoenix. Keep playing "Crush My Soul"!!! The full should be in your hands by now if not ring me... And what about Entombed you ask? Hey I'm glad you asked! "God of Thunder" is a killer. There's a lot more so stay tuned!

SMITTY, EPIC, 212-633-5988

We've seen one of these at every show - that one instigator, that one asshole screaming "You guys suck!" - That one guy starting a fight - that one "Clown". "Clown is the story of one such jerk at an early Korn show. Listen carefully, it has a good ending "Clown, you ain't shit, turn around and get your face split". Such is the magic of Korn...the lyrics have meaning, you just have to concentrate (don't hurt yourself). Go figure, tunes with meaning! Thanks to everyone who has shown their support these last two weeks - just in case you haven't noticed we trounced the big boys (#1 Most added over Megadeth and Queensryche.

respectively). What a great start. Now lets talk about commitment! Play the fellas, the phones will light up - I assure you! #1 requests are starting to come in already (WKLL and KKS) so get with the program. Play more Korn! Tour dates are shortly forthcoming... Other hot our news...Prong is still on the road (with Clutch and Drown), Arcade have announced headlining dates effective immediately (check the tour pages for a date near you), Mother Tongue is out opening for Candlebox and XC-NN are starting their own string of dates beginning 10-25... Call me for more info regarding these other Epic questions (like Pearl Jam release info, I know the deal now)... P.S. look out for new CDs from our Loosegrove label (sampler and Devilhead - a project from the brothers of the late great (Mother Love Bone) Andrew Wood).

DYANA KASS, HOLLYWOOD RECORDS, 818-560-5670

I saw Pulp Fiction this weekend and I have to begin my dialogue by saying that it's truly tremendous with incredibly witty dialogue, tense yet hilarious moments and in true Quentin Tarantino style....Lots of blood!.. Another movie on the horizon is The Clerks featuring none other Hollywoods own Seaweed covering Fleetwood Macs "Go Your Own Way". You will never believe how far two guys in a convenience store will go for entertainment!.. And lastly, all homebodies should get off their butts and out to see Into Another on the road! Play them, interview them, touch them, feel them, make them yours!.. Am I overdoing it?.. Could be, but our newest signing is worth all the gushing, so see for yourself.

DEREK AULT, ALLIGATOR RECORDS

Sure, it's the fourth quarter. Everyone short of Jesus is putting out their Christmas release. In spite of the rush to add the Black Jams and the Pearl Crows we've still received over 50 adds on Tinsley Ellis "Storm Warning" release. He's stopped or stopping by to jam at such stellar stations as KFOG, KLOS, WLUP and WKLS. Why not check out what some of the best stations in the country are hip to? Tinsley is getting played by your peers and more importantly, he is getting a great response from their audience. After you listen to tracks 1, 2, 9 and 12, you owe it to your listeners to at least give some test spins to an artist that Rolling Stone gave three 1/2 stars to. SO, go ahead and make my day by doing the right thing and doing it now, Jerky... On your desk. "Hoodoo Moon" from Kenny Neal and (by request only) "Chamber Blues" from Corky Siegel... Thanks for reading... Hasta La Boobala.

MARNI HALPERN, ROADRUNNER RECORDS, 212-219-0077

Thanks to all who checked out and played Front Line Assembly's Millennium. Keep in mind this is the first time Front Line Assembly is being worked into metal format. And the stations who jumped the band wagon thus far to break the record to the metal community are - WSOU, WKNC, WWDX, WVVV, CFOX, WWVU, WZMB, WMWM, WCDB, KUNM, WDWN and more. So, those who are hesitant on playing FLA because it's to industrial or whatever other reasons you might have, take these's other stations advice and give it a chance. They tell me that the response in positive, so go ahead and educate! Tracks to consider for airplay are "Vigilante" "Millenium" and "Division of Mind"... Machine Head's Burn My Eyes is still going strong. Please start playing "Death Church" or "A Thousand Lies"... Obituary is still heavy in most playlists, so keep it there with "World Demise" and "Redefine"... Buzzov-en are on the road with GWAR at this very moment. I want to say a big thank you to Therese at WSOU for living in Buzzov-en's world for a few hours and taking the time to do a live interview with them to support their first tour. (I owe you big time!)... And a big apology to Sue at WTSR for the fiasco weekend at the City Gardens... Madball are doing some Northeast dates, I'll keep you updated... Black Train Jack and Down By Law on tour and coming to a venue near you.

JIM, ALERT, 800-772-7460

Although many of you may be experiencing difficulty focusing on the printed page due to participation in the Kim Mitchell "Your Face Or Mine" promotion, we here at Alert feel that some additional information regarding said promotion may be of benefit. First and foremost - Although rubber bands were included in the original packaging - other rubber bands may be substituted. Secondly - try to resist the temptation of leaving a mask on through the working day. It is however a welcome "ice breaker".

JILL CATELAND, RED LIGHT RECORDS, 708-297-6538

Thanks to all for entering my Halloween Ibanez Contest. The winner will be notified via my voice in your ear. I have about 20 confirmed Skatenig dates with GWAR starting Nov. 15 in El Paso. I'll keep you updated... I'm so bored, nothing new to work on so I'll be harassing, bribing, begging and propositioning to keep the Gutted, Oppressor, Cianide, Skatenigs, Sarkoma, and TPE spinnin'... Big thanks to WFAL, WBGU, WXUT, for the support of the Gutted show with Cannibal Corpse in Toledo, see ya next time. Also thanks to WCRX, WSUW, and KNEU for doing interviews this week... If you need anything call me. If I call you, call me back.

MEG MACRAE, EARACHE RECORDS, 212-343-9090

So far the response to the new Brutal Truth material has been out of control! Thanks to all who added "Godplayer" to your playlists. Those of you that have not added this yet - it's never too late, my friends. I know you can handle the truth! Full length goes for adds Nov. 1st. Some shows in the northeast area with Only Living Witness and also a show with Entombed at the Limelight on Oct. 30th. Many thanks to Randy at WSOU for having the boys on his shows and props as well to WSOU's Mike D., Kim and the rest of the crew there... Fudge Tunnels first single "Rudge With A G" goin' for adds on Oct. 24 & 25. Take the plunge(r) and add it! This record is truly amazing! Full length also goin for adds on Nov. 1st. Tour plans brewing for the new year... Scorn listening party at the Bowlodrome in New Brunswick, NJ on Friday, Oct. 28th. Anyone interested in coming, please give me a call - 75 cent drinks until midnight... Anyone need promos?.. Ultraviolence full length Life Of Destructor, is in da house so if you are ready to get kicked in the ass by Johnny Violent's extreme-hardcoretechno - call me. It's pretty fuckin' out there... Anal Cunt still doing a few shows here and there but they will be going to hibernate in the studio soon... Godflesh will be touring with Danzig and Type O Negative. Call me or E.J. (Lord Of Metal) at Columbia for more info... Well, that's all for this time oh children of the dark... By the way, it's 8:00 pm, do you know where your truly dedicated promotions person is?.. Friends don't let friends work too late... So call me...NOW! G-bye!

KEITH ABEL, PAULA RECORDS, 800-446-2865

This ain't no Trick, it's surely a Treat! The Crown Prince of Zydeco Beau Jockue's hot, new CD release My Name Is Beau Jockue on Paula Records should be on your desk by now. The #3 cut, "Pop That Coochie" is prime for radio. The song is a remake of the 2 Live Crew's kazillion seller, but is more adapted towards, "mainstream" radio with it's rocked up tempo and suggestive lyrics. When you "pop" this trick, you'll surely get treated by your listeners. We are pushing for adds on October 31, if you are not on this record yet, please get on it! If for some unknown reason, you have not yet received the release, pick up the phone and give me a shout! I'll "pop" you one out ASAP. "Pop" this baby on and watch the phones light up! Don't get "popped" by your competition, go on this record!.. Also, look for Buster Benton's "Spider In My Stew" to hit your desks around the bewitching date. Street Date is October 31, 1994. The original 1971 Ronn Records release is available for the first time on CD and contains three bonus tracks! Poppin' It At Ya!

SHERI SINCLAIR, ENERGY RADIO, 800-235-5678

Planet Hate gains spins this week. 1,3,5 and 9 are the tracks to check out. Planet Hate hits the road as for support for Fates Warning on 10/28... Pro-pain and M.O.D. Kicked off their tour on 10/19 at Club Babyhead in Providence... Bile, Souls At Zero and Larva are all on the road. Call me for dates, tix and interviews. XOXO...

GREG DERBAS, PAVEMENT MUSIC, 708-916-1155

NeD Idol Son, "Reach", has been in your hands for a week now, you've all had plenty of time to check these guys out, so now it's time to do the right thing and add it today. You can't tell me that "Butterfly" isn't going to get those phones ringing... Just ask Sue, from Zoo, she'll tell you... B-Thong, "Skinned", is getting massive airplay, thanks to all who added it last week. These guys are definitely top 10 material... Listen to Schizophrenic Pavement and try to disagree. A video is being solicited, so if you have a local video show, let me know... Speaking of videos, Scatterbrain has one in the works of "Beer Muscles", you can only imagine what this is going to look like... Headlock interviews will start this week, so if you want to hook up, let me know. Headlock will be on the road in Nov., but your going to have to call to find out with who. Believe me it will be worth the call. Don't forget, if you need anything just give me a call!!!!

SUE STILLWAGON, ZOO ENTERTAINMENT, 213-468-4225

Here we go again. Have you checked out "Pandemonium" remixes yet? If not, for shame! Track 4 - The Cybersank Extended remix. You don't know what your missing!.. Red Square Black has gotten great response. The Spade Ghetto Destruction edits are on your desk. What are you waiting for? Me to hold your hand?.. Green Jelly...Green Jelly... Green Jelly... October 24th is the add date for the New Idol Son. Pavements latest release. Not Only will Greg Debras be screaming in your ear about this band, I will be, too. "Butterfly" is the tune... Does anyone know what was in the brief case in Pulp Fiction?

DAVID T., LEVIATHAN RECORDS, 404-463-1009

Thanks for all the initial positive feedback concerning the new intense Joe Stump "Night of The Living Shred"! We are pushing the title track but if you have got around 7 minutes to give, "Facemelter" and "Heavy Handed" are too heavy for comfort. Some devastating moments. If for some unknown reason we missed you on our mailing, give a call and we'll be happy to send you out another copy.

KERRI SAVAGE, RELATIVITY RECORDS, 212-337-5325

In the morning...Mercy Rule are doing dates with the Dambuilders 11/4 - 11/12 in the Midwest... Reasons to call me: Tix, interviews, etc... If you haven't discovered Providence you should. Till today, it sucked. The Ex-Idols are here! Social Kill Destroys All Monsters. Coming to your neighborhood soon so get Demon Cleaned y'all... New stuff department: Overwhelming Colorfast Promo-only EP. Will be arriving early next year... Let me know if you would like to receive the latest freestyle hip hop Chicago style record from Common Sense... Finally seeing Built To Spill was more fulfilling than peanut butter pie. Twin falls indeed... And no, it's not true, but thanks for asking.

MARIA "MOM" ABRIL, METAL BLADE RECORDS, 805-522-9111

Mercyful Fate Time. "Nightmare Be Thy Name". Add it October 24th... AOR adds on Fates Warning "Pale Fire" Oct. 31st as well as metal adds on "Monument". The tour starts now and they join up with Dream Theater Nov. 10th... Cannibal Corpse on the road... GWAR's out just in time for the Beavis & Butthead/Gwar video game... Thought Industry is still out. What slamina! Check these guys out. Great show!.. Joey Vera's A Thousand Faces is in stores now. Former song writer/producer/bassist of Armored Saint has given you, the people, his first solo effort! Go nuts... Generation and Clawfinger are coming... Mercyful Fate Fates Warning Mercyful Fate Fates Warning. Kinda like peanut butter and chocolate, eh? Peace, love and fates. Mom outthere.

CHAINSAW, MECHANIC/FUTURIST, 212-226-7272

Leeway and Overdose are now coming on your airwaves!! Let's keep 'em on there. Play 'em over and over... Futurist Records is now sponsoring a contest in which you, you lucky metal director you, can win your very own tattoo designed by B.Z., the frontman of Overdose. Just send me a postcard explaining why you should be the winner and you are automatically entered. You will be receiving a flyer in the mail about this... In other news. Dark Throne and At The Gates are in their way, scheduled for Nov...

Pushmonkey continues to climb the charts. Rung by rung, its really starting to happen. Keep on it. Live Tad is coming! It fucking rules! Gotta jet. things to do, places to go, people to kill...

MEG MACRAE, EARACHE RECORDS, 212-343-9090

Brutal Truth's latest, Need To Control, is on its way to ya right now!! Add dates are 10/17, 10/18 - the track is "Godplayer". Full length going for adds Nov. 1st. Tour dates with Only Living Witness begin at Brooklyn's L'Amour on Oct. 28th and several more cities to follow including Portland, Montreal, and Boston. Also a show on Oct.30th at the Limelight with Entombed. Later a tour with Pungent Stench. Call me for more details... Fudge Tunnel will be in your hands next week. The full length is titled The Complicated Futility of Ignorance and the single is "Rudge with A G" - add this one for me Oct. 24th & 25th - it's chewy and delicious! Adds for full lengths also Nov. 1st... Listening party for Scorn on Oct 28th at the Bowlodrome in New Brunswick, New Jersey. Get outta this dirty ol' city this night and come and check out the sounds of the new Scorn and Ultraviolence or for those of you in the New Brunswick area - what a better way to spend your Friday Eve? 75 cent drinks from 9-12 to top it off!! Anyone who has not received Evanescence of I Destructor and Life of Destructor please call, I'll be glad to send them to you... Anal Cunt playing at the Acorn in Allentown, PA. on Nov. 13th. They will be going in the studio soon so look out!.. I'll be talking to you shortly but in the meantime give me a call if you need anything at all or just to say high!!! G-bye!!!

CASEY DUNMORE, CENTURY MEDIA RECORDS, 310-396-0094

One...Two...Three...and to tha Four...Tiamat's in the muthaphuckin' house! (Need I say more?!) Jewel cases and giveaways are in, so call so I can get 'em out. Johan (guitarist/vocalist) will be in the office to do some radio interviews, so if you'd like to do one, call me!.. Some people are getting a kick out of "Holiday Seattle" by The Business, so if you haven't heard it yet be sure to check it out... English Dogs, Accuser and Penance are on some desks so add them if they work for you... Grave and Samael are still on the road with Cannibal. Keep your eyes open for Grief and Insult II Injury... That be it!

DENNIS CONSTANTINE & JASON PARKER, CONSTANTINE CONSULTING, (303)440-5470

This past week was a big week of releases for Arbitron numbers. KGSR in Austin had its best book in over a year. They have shown steady growth, with a 4.0 share 12+ (up from 3.7). Other stations were basically flat. Summer books normally are strong for Alternative and CHR stations. For AAA stations to show a steady pulse in the Summer book is a good sign. That means that there will most likely be some growth in the Fall... Congratulations to everyone at KZON in Phoenix. The first annual Air-ZON-a concert was a huge success (despite the threatening weather). I had a great time, and the llamas walking across the stage during the Barenaked Ladies set was a hoot! 6,000 folks showed up for the all-day family event... Anyone who has seen Jeff Buckley live will tell you that he is an amazing performer and musician. You'll be hard pressed to find anyone who has seen him and not become a fan. When we received Jeff's debut album Grace (Columbia), we just didn't hear it. Leo was working us hard on it, and we saw some early adds, but we just weren't into it. But due to Leo's perseverance, we've stayed with it, and it has grown on us. This is an album that needs to seep into your consciousness and permeate your heart and mind, and it has done so with many people we've talked to. "Grace" is a powerful song that comes screaming out of the speakers with Jeff's falsetto. "Last Goodbye" is a bit more sedate, but just as stirring. And "Lover, You Should've Come Over," builds in intensity throughout. Let this album get into you and see what you think... Joni Mitchell's Turbulent Indigo (Reprise) arrived this week. Tracks like "Sunny Sunday," "Borderline," "The Sire of Sorrow," and the title track will be great depth behind the single. Also check out "Sex Kills"... We've already raved about the title track from Kashtin's forthcoming album Akua Tula (TriStar), which can be found on the new Robbie Robertson album. Now we have been given a four track sampler with two versions of "Akua Tuta" (which means "Take Care") and two other songs, "Uassel" (which means "All the Children" and "lame" (which means "Goodbye"). The amazing thing about Kashtin's music is that it doesn't matter at all they are not singing in English. The music is so powerful its own, and the lyrics so musical, that it just works. Don't miss this one!... The Aquarium Rescue Unit (minus Col. Bruce Hampton) has a new one called In a Perfect World (Intersound). Check out tracks like "How Tight's Yer Drawers," "Headstrong," "Highly Overrated," and the jazzy "Turn It On..." Tom Petty's forthcoming album Wildflowers (Warner Bros.) will be in your hands 10/26. The album is preceded by a great new song called "You Don't Know How It Feels." It has a very hip sound, and will segue real well with Neil Young. Save some space for this one because it deserves it!... EMI has serviced an EP of Sinead O'Connor's "Fire On Babylon" that features some bonus tracks. There are three covers to play with — Bob Dylan's "I Believe In You," "House of the Rising Sun" (with some new(?) lyrics), and Ralph McTell's "Streets of London"... God Street Wine has a new album on Geffen Records. You will get a four track EP at the end of November. Try "Nightengale" (which is the official single), "Princess Henrietta," and "Run To You." The band has a jamming quality, somewhat like the Dead... And She Closed Her Eyes (East/West) is the title of a new album by Stina Nordenstam. This Swedish singer has a voice that sounds like a six year olds. You'll either find it intriguing or annoying — or maybe both! We find it strangely compelling, especially tracks like "Fireworks," "Hopefully Yours," and "Something New"... We finally have an acoustic version of "Every Little Thing..." from Shawn Colvin! It sounds great without the strings. Columbia has also included two new live tracks on the disc... Tom Waits' "0155" and Steve Earle's "Fearless Heart"... Anton Fier has put together another incarnation of his group The Golden Palominos. Tops on the list is the first track "Little Suicides." Hauntingly beautiful, this track sounds great on the air (KBCO added weeks ago off an advanced CD.) Also listen to the more dancey numbers "Pure," "Gun," and "Anything"... Toward The Within (4AD) is the title of a new live album from Dead Can Dance. The single is "American Dreaming." Other favorites are "Cantara" and "I Can See Now."

MUNSEY RICCI/JOHN LA ROSA, SKATEBOARD MARKETING LTD, 516-328-1103

So the new Marilyn Manson single "Lunchbox" will be in your face in a month or so. Keep on jammin' of the Green Jelly, you know you love this record... The Body Count remixes which are radio friendly are coming soon. The are two tracks on the record which are also clean, "Hey Joe" and "The Surviving Game"... The full length Monster Voodoo Machine is on your desk, dig on it... Sick of It All is huge. This record is the next break out of 95, be part of it. Megadeth way back when. Well give it up for them... W.A.S.P. has new tracks on the CD. We have the giveaways, we would also like a top fifteen record... Tiamat has got the mailing problem out of the way. You will be getting it next week... Wargasm, Atrocity and Overdose will be filling the death side of things... Leviathan is in your face, it's progressive and heavy... Samiam will take care of the other side of your show... Groovzilla goes for adds this week, check it out... Drown is still on the road. We have the tickets and giveaways. Remember the unreleased track on the Cd pro, it's way cool... The Ex-Idols will give you the punk side of things covered... Till next week, Cya.

BILL BARLET, 304-522-9352

On his recent move from California to WVA, Bill Barlet's truck was burglarized at the Ramada Inn in Amarillo, Texas. His in-dash CD player as well as his valued CD collection was stolen. Artist such as the Beatles, Stones, Traffic, U2, Pink Floyd, Moody Blues, Jethro Tull and Elton John collections were totally stolen. Many LP's were lifted, too. Any help in replenishing these artists would be greatly appreciated. His address: 608 10th Ave., Huntington, WV 25701.
