AN EXCLUSIVE INTERVIEW WITH

Program Director B94 Pittsburgh

CAN YOU GIVE US A THUMBNAIL SKETCH OF WHY YOU GOT INTO THIS CRAZY BUSINESS OF RADIO AND WHERE YOU GOT STARTED?

It all started in my hometown of Albany, New York. I listened to the radio and thought I wanted to be a disc jockey. I ended up being a part-time disc jockey at various stations in Albany. I realized that if I was going to go anywhere in the business as a disc jockey, the farthest I could really go would be a fulltime gig in Utica, New York. Based on that realization, I decided to get into programming. That's really how I got started.

HOW DID YOU HAPPEN TO COME TO B94 IN PITTSBURGH?

After my start in Albany, I programmed WTRY and was Operations Manager at WPYX. It was weird, because I went from being a part-time disc jockey on the FM to a full-time disc jockey on the AM to Operations Manager of both the AM and FM in a period of about six years. It was just one of those rare instances. I went to Oklahoma City, where consultant Bob Elliott had found an opportunity for me at KJYO. At the time, they had been on the air for about nine months. Mark Schwartz, the General Manager, hired me and I was there until last October. I stayed there for two years battling KOFM which was Top40 at the time until they switched to a Transtar format. I then decided that I needed a higher profile radio station where I could get noticed. EZ Communications, which also owns a station in Jacksonville, decided to offer me a job. GM Tex Meyer got in touch with me about B94 and since it was the type of situation I had been looking for, I decided to take a shot at it.

GIVE US AN IDEA OF THE PITTSBURGH MARKET. WHAT KIND OF AUDIENCE IS IT?

This is a very family-oriented, traditional town. B94 reflects that market. I'm not saying this audience doesn't like new music, because they love new sounds and new types of music. Overall, the market contains somewhat more traditional values than some of the other markets around the country. That's why artists like Steve Winwood will do extremely well here. Quality artists like that always do very well here.

HOW DO YOU HAVE THE STATION POSITIONED RIGHT NOW MUSICALLY?

It's a well dayparted radio station. Obviously, we're trying to attract a mass-appeal audience in the morning, mass-appeal during the day as far as office listening goes and just good basic programming to the available audience. Our afternoon drive consists mainly of the Top40 and that's where we start to be a little more aggressive musically. Most of the harder rock records and records with a blacker or dance edge to them are played at night. We can actually play all kinds of music here in Pittsburgh, but we don't play a lot of old records. For example, we don't have an oldies lunch hour, and we don't play music from the late 70's or early 80's really at all. It's basically an 80's radio station. Kind of like an 80's A/C.

WITH THE ARBITRON NOW BEING SO IMPORTANT IN THE OFFICE RATINGS, DO YOU HAVE ANY SPECIAL PROGRAMMING STRATEGIES DURING THOSE MIDDAY HOURS?

I think that everyone now has a fax machine for taking requests and contesting. It's not so much as who has one first in the market, but who doesn't have one at this point. Therefore, it's now almost as important to have a fax as it is to have a concert-line. We've also recently added some new features such as a "Bribe Your Boss" promotion, where we give away Pittsburgh Pirate baseball tickets to our listeners. Two are for the listener and a pair goes to their boss. It's a great promotion, because both the listener and their boss have to take a day off and go to the game. This way you get to take your boss with you, and that's how you bribe your boss to get the day off. We're creating contests that interact with the office as much as we possibly can. It's very important right now, because I feel the Arbitron changes are reflecting the measurement of a more passive listening audience. We need to find new ways to increase our in-office listening.

TELL US ABOUT YOUR AIRSTAFF, STARTING WITH THE MORNING SHOW.

Jim Quinn and "Banana" Don have been on the air since the beginning of time. Jim used to be at KQV and has been on Pittsburgh radio for twenty years. He has basically an eighties sound now, and he doesn't use the wild horns and gimmicks as much as he used to. Jim is very well known in this area and is quite involved in community activities here in Pittsburgh. "Banana" Don has been at this station for about six years. Jim and "Banana" were paired together nearly five years ago, so they are an established morning show with a very strong following. They're not particularly a zoo format, though. We're very fortunate that they have such a strong chemistry between them. We've seen in our research that the audience does enjoy their totally different sound, so we don't feel the need to have twenty to thirty different characters walking in and out of their show, or even having it revolve around one person. It's a two-person approach where they react to each other extremely well.

After their show, we have "The Real Kevin Steele" who is actually Kevin BelCastro. Kevin used to be the Program Director at WMJQ in Buffalo. He came aboard last month after Sonny Joe Fox went out to program KATM in Colorado Springs. Kevin is very listener-oriented. He says hello to people in offices, talks about what's going on in the community during the evening hours, and interacts with the office promotions as well. Kevin also puts a lot of people on the air. He sometimes does a contest every hour, even if it's just giving away tickets to "Muppets On Ice" or something like that. It's kind of nice to give away family-oriented prizes as well, because we like our prizes to have a little more value than just an album giveaway.

After Kevin we have Jeff Tyson on from 2 to 6PM. Jeff came to us from HOT105 in Miami where he was programming there. It seems rather strange, because we have more ex-Program Directors here than anyplace I've ever worked before. That's very helpful in the long run, because I get a lot of extra input that I normally wouldn't get. Things really start to pick up when Jeff is on. He's more into talking about upcoming concerts and some of the more youthful activities, although we don't let it get out of hand by doing any school-related things in afternoon drive. We had John Cline next on our lineup, but he's since taken off to do mornings at WNCI in Columbus. It's a good time of year for people to find new gigs. We've had people working here at B94 on the air for four or five years, and they've found excellent opportunities, such as Sonny Joe finding the programming gig and then John Cline finding a morning show. I have an opening right now for the 6 to 10PM slot. We're filling in right now with Tank Sherman and Troy Garrett who are usually on during 10PM to 2AM and 2 to 6AM.

CAN YOU GIVE US A SPECIFIC IDEA AS TO WHAT YOU'RE LOOKING FOR DURING THE 6 TO 10PM SLOT?

To get the right programming to the available audience, we have the usual nighttime features such as the "Top 8 at 8 Countdown" and "Battle of the New Sounds" at 10PM. Our music at night consists of a lot of Guns N' Roses or Def Leppard styles of music in a fairly frequent rotation. As far as the new air personality goes, we need someone who is a little more up, bright, and has great listener telephone interaction. We're also trying to keep as many of the 18-24 and 25-34 year olds as possible at night. We certainly don't want to blow off everybody and go super-teen at night with our programming. Our whole concept here is really nothing more original than your basic Top40 radio.

WHAT DO YOU FIND MOST CHALLENGING ABOUT THE ART FORM OF BEING A PROGRAM DIRECTOR?

Coming up with promotions that haven't been done before. I can't find any! Coming up with new ways to promote the radio station is definitely the most challenging thing I've come across.

DO YOU THINK IT WOULD MAKE AN INTERESTING PROMOTION TO MAKE A STATION SOUND EXTRAORDINARILY DIFFERENT? FOR EXAMPLE, "PIRATE RADIO" IN LOS ANGELES, A NEW STATION, ORIGINALLY GAVE LISTENERS THE FEELING THAT THEY WERE JUST A COUPLE OF GUYS TINKERING AROUND WITH A TRANSMITTER. IT WAS A RATHER UNIQUE CONCEPT IN TRYING TO BE DIFFERENT FROM THE OTHER STATIONS.

We have all been listening to what's been going on at PIRATE RADIO in Los Angeles. It seems like it's very well executed, and they'll probably have a major impact because it stands out as something totally unique. I thought our local station KDKA radio would take credit for the whole PIRATE RADIO concept because they broadcast the Pittsburgh Pirates. Since they claim to have invented radio, they'd probably claim they invented PIRATE RADIO. There's a lot of rock stations around the country that have been doing a good job of bringing that type of radio to the marketplace.

YOU HAVE MENTIONED HOW IMPORTANT PROMOTIONS ARE TO YOUR OVERALL MARKETING STRATEGY. WHAT ARE SOME OF THE MORE IMPORTANT PROMOTIONS YOU HAVE DONE?

I've been here only six months, so it's hard to say. I can tell you what some of my promotional ideas have been over the years that I've been working, but everyone's doing them now. I do think "Bribe Your Boss" is an interesting midday promotion. I also did the same promotion four years ago in Oklahoma City, and I know a couple of programmers who have also tried it. It's actually a great name for a promotion. Half of any contest is in the name. You can have the greatest contest in the world and if it doesn't have a name that sounds decent, it won't catch on. "Bribe Your Boss" could really be anything. If anyone wants to steal the concept, just take the name and figure out a way to do it on your own, I don't care. I've also done everything from mailing stuff out and having people mail stuff in. Cash calls have always been the most successful. We're now doing the Black Box promotion. Now there's a new promotion for you. We researched it and found that no one had done it in the market and no one here could ever remember it being done in at least the past twenty years. We figured it looked like a good shot.

MUSICALLY, THERE SEEMS TO BE A LOT OF RE-MAKES OUT THERE RIGHT NOW. DO YOU FIND YOUR AUDIENCE REACTS TO RE-MAKES WELL?

As far as re-makes go, they all boil down to the same problem. Top40 radio always tries to have a balance of familiar songs with unfamiliar songs. Because there are so many new artists like Fine Young Cannibals and Roxette having #1 hits, radio stations are trying to increase familiarity in other areas and end up with re-makes of songs done by other artists in the past. I put the Benny Mardones record on the air and the phones went nuts. I heard it about a month ago on Q105 in Tampa during the Pirate's spring training, and decided to try it.

WOULD YOU DESCRIBE YOURSELF AS BEING ON THE CUTTING EDGE OF BREAKING NEW MUSIC AT B94?

Of course, but any station that has a 30 record list like ours is pretty much somewhere in the middle of breaking ground and being too conservative. We try to find records on the cutting edge for Pittsburgh. We are perceived, by our audience, as being a cutting edge radio station. We carefully monitor what their response is. This market is one where you will find five great FM signals, 3 really good FM signals, and another 5 mediocre FM signals. People in this market really do have traditional values. They're not into the shiny, flashy new stations as much, and they don't react quickly to new stations. They're not a fickle audience and they're very product-loyal.

WHAT'S YOUR CRITERIA FOR DETERMINING NEW MUSIC ADDS?

For example, we recently added the Bette Midler record "Wing Beneath My Wings" because we saw a very good sales response to the album at retail. At other times we will get requests, so it comes from different sources. I also network with other PD's and MD's just like everyone else does at various music stations. We check for burn-out and also do call-outs. Although I'm not at liberty to discuss a whole lot of information, we do a great deal of music testing on a weekly basis.

HOW MANY STORES DO YOU CHECK IN THE MARKETPLACE AND WHAT DO YOU LOOK FOR IN A STORE REPORT?

We check about 50 stores. We look for the integrity of the report. In the past, we have found one or two labels attempting to hype sales figures. In this traditionally-valued market, we can set up very strong relationships with many of the record stores to find out exactly what's going on. I go through stores myself on a weekly basis. As a recent example, the Sheriff record turned out to be a big hit here on call-outs, but when I walked into the stores I saw stacks and stacks of Sheriff CD's still sitting in the shelves. You tell me whether or not that record sold any albums. It doesn't appear to have sold a lot from what I've seen in the stores.

ARE YOU LOOKING FOR TYPES OF RECORDS THAT ARE BREAKING OUT OF THE ROCK SIDE OR THE A/C SIDE?

Well, as an example, we're playing "Cult of Personality" by Living Colour at night. If we weren't a radio station trying to be on the cutting edge then we wouldn't be playing that record. This band has been on Late Night With David Letterman and on Saturday Night Live and that exposure is something that is important for that type of record. We also saw major LP sales, and that was a major sign. Playing this kind of music that has been on different hit television shows are an indication to our listeners that we are staying on top of what's happening here.

ON AN AVERAGE, HOW MANY RECORDS TO YOU PLAY FROM WEEK TO WEEK?

We have a 30 record playlist. It never goes above 35.

HOW DO YOU WATCH THE BALANCE AND CONTRAST BETWEEN UPTempo SONGS AND BALLADS?

There are three ways to balance music: tempo, texture and era. Most stations balance era with the format clock itself so they can get a balance of both new and old. Lori Campbell, our Music Director, does the preliminary balancing of the music which we do manually every hour.

ARE YOU MEASURED BY ARBITRON AND BIRCH?

Continuously. We are always measured by Birch and always have an Arbitrend every month.

WHAT IS YOUR OPINION OF THE NEW SOFT DIARY AT ARBITRON?

I think it's a passive diary and increases a more passive response. When you're asking people what station they've heard versus what station they listen to, you're not seeing them as an active listening audience. Listening is active, hearing is passive. If I was a clerk working at an optical place putting glasses together all day, and a music station was playing in the background, I wouldn't actually be listening to that station. That kind of response is helping out the softer A/C stations. I also have a problem with the fact that it's permissible to write in the diary something like, "the same as Thursday", on another day's log if a listener's pattern was the same as a previous day. That leaves it open for a lot of people to take the easy way out.

CAN YOU GIVE US A LITTLE INSIGHT INTO BILL CAHILL? ARE YOU TOUGH TO GET ALONG WITH?

No. I'm really pretty easy to get along with. I'll definitely tell someone immediately if they make a mistake on the air. Once in a while, if it's a major mistake, I'll say something to them about it in the air studio. Because I used to be a jock, I know that when I made a mistake on the air, the PD didn't have to come into the studio to make me feel bad because I already felt bad. If the PD came in, I'd screw up the rest of the show. So now after the show, I come into the studio and say, "here are some things I noticed today. Why did you do this?" That's the way I usually handle it. I'll hotline if it's a major mistake that was made out of carelessness. If it was an honest mistake, it can usually wait until after the show.

WITH PEOPLE YOU GET ALONG WITH WELL, IT'S CERTAINLY EASY TO BE A PD. DID YOU EVER HAVE THE CHALLENGE OF DEALING WITH SOMEONE WHO YOU DIDN'T GET ALONG WITH?

I hate to use trite phrases, but if people repeat something I told them not to do, I tell them, "either you're stupid or you don't care. Which one is it?" There's really no third option. "I forgot" means you're stupid.

DO YOU TRY TO MAINTAIN A SENSE OF HUMOR WHEN THINGS GET A LITTLE HEATED?

Usually those types of things happen with the morning show. When you have a very good, high profile morning show, you never know if you're going to get a complaint. I find some of the complaints to be the most ridiculous little things. Then something big happens and nobody calls about it. Some of those things you really have to have a sense of humor about.

WHAT WOULD YOU HOPE TO READ ABOUT YOURSELF IN A WHO'S WHO BOOK?

That every station I worked at was #1.

WHO WOULD YOU LIKE TO THANK FOR GIVING YOUR CAREER A BIG BOOST AND OPENING THE DOOR FOR YOU?

I'd really like to thank my General Manager Tex Meyer for hiring me and giving me this great opportunity to come work here in Pittsburgh and also to John Kelly, GM at WTRY in Albany, for making me wear a suit every day. Consultant Bob Elliot was also really helpful. I learned a lot from Mark Driscoll and Buzz Bennett in working with Evergreen Communications. I'd like to also thank Jim Richards, the previous PD here at B94, for making it such a smooth transition and also our consultant Dan Vallie for initially recommending me.

"HOW DO YOU RECRUIT AND DEVELOP NEW RADIO TALENT?"

WAYNE COY

PD, WTBX - Hibbing-Duluth, MN

I try to network as much as I possibly can with other programmers who I respect and admire. I work on their leads a lot of times to get that initial tape and resume from someone I've been told is talented. If everything I heard is true, I make sure I keep that person's materials on file and stay in touch with them constantly. I always ask for an updated tape and resume so when something opens up hopefully I've got an arsenal of talented people I can approach about the opportunity. Just recently I had an opening here and the person I hired came on the recommendation of another programmer. I hadn't even heard a tape. I called him up and listened to his tape over the telephone and gave him a job an hour later. So, there went my whole theory out the window because none of the people who I had at my fingertips could hold a candle to the person I eventually hired. I would have never known about this person if I did not have the relationship with a fellow programmer. That was Tony Waitekus at WCIL-FM in Carbondale, Illinois.

RICK THOMAS

PD, HOT102 - Milwaukee

From time to time, I do the usual soliciting through HITMAKERS and other trades and through the grapevine of programmers I network with, which is pretty extensive. The first thing I do is ask people to send me a complete package, which includes the preliminary tape, resume, photo and cover letter telling me a little bit about themselves, what their goals are in the business and where they'd like to go. To be honest with you, if people don't send me complete information, that's the first strike against them because if they don't follow instructions the first time around, how can you rely on them to follow direction once they come here? I also look locally. There are a number of colleges in this area like Marquette that sometimes sprout some good raw talent. There are two people in fact who I have working for me now that I pulled out of college and have molded to fit what we're doing and what I like to hear. If I find that raw talent and it's workable, I'll pull it right out of the school. I'll also pull talent right off the street if I have to. I've been known to do that. As far as listening to the things that come in, if you follow the instructions and get me the complete package, I'll definitely give you a listen. I have a huge box on my desk where I save T&R's. Mark Evans from the Sun Group just called me recently wanting to know where there was good talent. I reached right in my box and I pulled out a few people. There is a network of programmers out there scouting good talent. The main thing is just to reach out to us. There are some people who will send you a tape, and if you're lucky a free-printed resume on that cheap paper, in a little envelope beaten to hell by the post office by the time it gets to you. When you open that, somehow it just doesn't say professional and I always wonder what kind of effort are they going to put forth when they're in-house. If I were to give a tip to the up and coming air talent reading this, everything you do should reflect the utmost professionalism. As we all know it's a competitive business, but it's not impossible to break into. Right there you can beat the odds by sending something that looks good, includes complete information and sounds good. Sometimes I'll hear a tape that might not have everything I'm looking for and might not sound exactly like my station. If I hear that rawness in a person, I'll call them up and ask them to send me another tape.

SEAN LYNCH

OM/PD, KROY - Sacramento, CA

You look everywhere. You look first within your own station. You look at part-timers on your own staff. I have a girl who was working in research that had never been on the air. Even though she had gone to broadcast school, she was just making the daily call-out phoners. She was so sassy and funny that we threw her on a Saturday night Dance show, and she's becoming a celebrity in her own right. Her name is Alicia. Then of course you can look at the competition and see what they've got, as in the case of Miss Laura who was working for FM102 and being kind of underutilized. We snatched her up. Look at some non-traditional areas, like a couple of club disc jockeys that are working for me. Also check out the broadcast schools. Get tapes and resumes and listen to them all, and a lot of times you'll find some good people that way. It's a concerted and ongoing effort. It's not just when you have an opening that you start looking for air talent. You should always be on the lookout for up and comers and people you can plug in, whether it's for your own station or if you're in a group like Great American, for one of your sister stations or if you're networking with other PD's for any of their stations. I get a lot of tips from time to time from your HITMAKERS Tuna Talk because you'll let me know if somebody's available or looking.

DO YOU HAVE ANY PET PEEVES ABOUT SENDING A PHOTO IN THE RECRUITING PROCESS?

It depends on what the person looks like. If they look great, they'd better include a photo. If they don't look so great, don't include a photo. It could be a couple points against them for including a photo. If I hadn't seen the photo, I might have been interested, unless I was casting for a Fellini film.

KEVIN KENNEY

PD, KBEQ - Kansas City

The key thing is to be prepared. You've got to constantly be soliciting and monitoring from smaller markets so you have a feeder system. In addition to that, it's always good to be talking to your regular music and record promotion network to keep on top of up-and-comers out there who you could call on in case you need them.

WHAT ARE THE ELEMENTS WHICH YOU LOOK FOR IN A PRESENTATION?

The key thing is how the person sounds. If they sound good, everything else seems to be incidental. Then again, if you look at a sloppy cover letter with coffee or whatever on it, then that somehow diminishes the overall quality. If you care enough to make a good presentation, you're probably going to care enough to make a great radio show.

SEEING THAT THE SOUND IS MOST CRITICAL, WHAT IS THE MOST APPROPRIATE WAY TO PRESENT THE SOUND?

Put your best breaks in 3 minutes. Keep it brief for busy programmers and put the best stuff at the front. Brevity is very important.

STEVE ELLIS

PD, HOT97 - New York

The recruitment of air talent is usually done through word-of-mouth, other jocks, and tapes that are sent in. We're always on the lookout for new talent, and even though we don't have any openings right here, if I happen to hear somebody who I consider hot air talent, we have ten other radio stations in the chain which I can forward that information to. It's a networking process. If someone has an opening, they can turn to any one of the Emmis stations and find help in filling that slot. As far as development, we try to work closely with the jocks in aircheck sessions, and let them develop their own style and skills. We keep it within the context of the format of the radio station. We like each jock to have his own personality and not sound stiff.

WHAT ARE THE APPROPRIATE COMPONENTS FOR A JOCK TO PRESENT TO YOU?

I look at the tape first and foremost. As far as I'm concerned, the resume could be written on a barf bag. To me, it doesn't matter if they're in Los Angeles or in the 150th market. It all depends on the potential you hear in an air talent. The tapes I like to get have no more than 7 or 8 breaks. It shows the jock's diversity and talents. It really doesn't matter what he looks like, that's the great thing about radio. Everyone has a different view about how you look based on your voice and personality. We're always looking for the hot new talent out there.

STEVE SMITH

PD, ENERGY96.5 - Houston

One of the first things I do is check around with some other programmers around the country whom I respect. I find out who they've heard that they've had their eye on. It could've been a situation where they could not take advantage of hiring someone they think has the potential. I get a few leads that way. I also find out which stations are winning, and try to call the jock in the daypart that I need and encourage these people to send me tapes. Whenever I'm putting something new together, like here in Houston, it's nice to try and find some key people from inside the state who understand the lifestyle and mentality of the audience. I take the time to make calls out to the stations surrounding ENERGY96.5 in medium, small and even major markets to find out if there are any up-and-coming new stars who are looking to move up into the big league who have the potential of becoming strong talent. I think they have that local edge, and inside themselves have the ability to relate to the lifestyle of the city I need to penetrate. I think that's important too. I combine all three. Once I get them in here I spend a lot of time with them. Right now, I'm working with each daypart every day, fine tuning them. Eventually, it will play out to where I'm meeting with my jocks every week, except for the morning show which I'll meet with every day.

RANDY BROWN

PD, KKBQ - Houston

Air talent is becoming increasingly difficult to find. It helps to have contacts around the country who I can call and ask if there's anybody in their market who they'd like to see leave. What happens most frequently is I hear about someone from somebody else. Very rarely have I seen people answer ads in the trades that were of the caliber that I look for. It usually ends up being a tip-off from somebody else. I can't remember the last time I found somebody through an ad. It used to be that you could do that. I'm not sure why that is, other than the fact that most of the good people are either happy or they've got deals where they are, and they don't want to leave.

DOESN'T THAT PRESENT A PROBLEM FOR THE TOP 50 MARKETS IN AMERICA? THAT MEANS YOUR MAIN FOCUS IS ON THE UP-AND-COMERS OUTSIDE THE TOP 50. HOW DO YOU SPOT THEM?

It takes diligence. I think smart programmers in this day and age anticipate things ahead of time, and have people around the country they know about who they can act on. That's the prudent way to go about it. You have to do that, and network with friends around the country who you're familiar with and you respect that can put you onto new talent. As far as training new people, it's been a while since I've taken someone who's pretty raw and attempted to mold them. Obviously, when you get into major markets, it's an ongoing process of refining the skills of people you have. Clearly that's a need that never subsides. At the same time, I don't think you really find very many major market stations which can afford the luxury of trying to find new untested people. We're always looking for new talent, but I think when you talk new talent these days, you're talking about new people to your market, not necessarily new people to major markets.

BUZZ BENNETT

PD, Y95 - Dallas

Probably the biggest problem that I confront today is finding new air talent. To find a guy who is good naturally with humanistic flow is very rare. The other problem we run into today is when somebody is really good they're under contract. The only way I've found to get good disc jockeys on the air is to grow them myself. In most cases, I'd rather take someone right off the street and train them on how to do it, than take them out of a market where they've already learned a bunch of bad habits.

DOES THAT MEAN YOU NEED TO BE IN CONTROL OF SMALLER MARKETS, SO YOU SEED THEM IN THE SMALLER ONES AND BRING THEM INTO THE MAJORS WHEN THEY'RE READY?

No, I have to grow some on my own here. I'm training a guy on the weekend now. I also trained Wendy who does middays for me here at Y95.

ISN'T THAT RISKY?

It's not risky if you keep them to a minimal amount of rap, and grow them slowly. You don't do that with morning guys. When I look around the country for personalities, the only ones I hear on radio stations that knock me out are morning guys, that I'll put into other dayparts because they've at least learned how to talk and communicate. A phony announcer is a killer, and 90% of the country is that. In the smaller markets, they're supposedly going to college, but who in the hell is training them? I don't hear much training. There are some good ones, they're just rare. I think you grow your own in most cases. If I had some guy who was beginning to get good in Jacksonville, that's all well and good, but I need to keep him in Jacksonville. There are exceptions to this, but as a rule when you grow air talent into a market, you like him to stay there. Stability is important. I've heard some decent jocks in small towns. Once you get below the Top 10 markets, there's no difference in the talent that could be in market #90 compared to market #18. I don't see that big a difference. They didn't have to get a lot better to get from #90 to #18, but they did have to get a hell of a lot better to get into a Top 10 market.

BILL CAHILL

PD, B94 - Pittsburgh

A lot of times I'll drive to different markets. When I was in Oklahoma City, I'd try to get people from Tulsa. When I was in Jacksonville, I'd listen to Gainesville and other outlying areas from the radio station. Now being in Pittsburgh, I listen to Youngstown stations and other stations in the Pittsburgh market. There are a couple of Top 40 stations in the Central Pennsylvania area that have some good talent too. I'm a regional type person. I try to drive around and go to these smaller markets near the market I'm in, and try to bring people up that way. It's not that I don't want to move people across the country, but a lot of times you can find very talented people right in your own backyard.

TOM HUTTYLER

PD, KUBE - Seattle

Usually there's a pretty good regional pool to choose from. When you're in a major market there are always surrounding secondary and tertiary markets which are aware of you. A lot of jocks look at you as the next step in their ladder of where they want to climb. We're always getting tapes and resumes from people around us. That's a good starting point. Also, we get people from all over the country who are sometimes interested in re-locating to another area for personal or professional reasons. You also have people you bring in as part-timers, who you groom to be someone who will be able to step in if a full-time opening occurs. That's kind of a Catch-22 situation because usually if they're good enough to be full-time, they'll land another job before the opening comes up. On the other hand, you don't want to get somebody that's not good enough to fill in if there's an opening. Basically you try to bring somebody in a part-time capacity that you can groom to be a full-time jock. It's a matter of sitting down with them, critiquing them, and getting them to sound like the station sounds without losing their own identity.

WHAT ARE THE BASIC INGREDIENTS YOU'RE LOOKING FOR IN A PRESENTATION?

Professionalism is still important in the way the resume is prepared. It should be well done, easy to read and include the pertinent information. It doesn't hurt to be creative in your presentation either. I got a tape and resume that a guy had sent in a Coke can. Another guy sent his with a bunch of balloons and the tape was in a balloon. It was pretty impressive, but the tape wasn't that great. Creativity will catch your eye, but again it's the product that counts. Bottom line is it has to sound good, and the resume is not all that important but it's something that should show some professionalism, not scrawled out with pencil or crayon.

KUBE SEZ, "THIS WAS NOT A RADIO PROMOTION!"

In light of the recent Alaskan Oil Spill, KUBE in Seattle, WA morning guy CHARLIE BROWN was so upset by the issue that he decided to make a statement. Starting at 6AM one morning, he and the morning crew boarded themselves up in the control room and broadcasted from 6AM to 6PM, literally turning KUBE into a talk show, airing people's opinions about the issue, and generally making people more aware of the repercussions and higher gas prices. They also successfully recruited thousands of listeners to a rally later that night. ### ONE 2 MANY (A&M)

(Dag Kolsrud; writer/producer/keyboardist, Jan Gisle Ytterdal; guitarist, Camilla Griehsel; vocalist)

Downtown.

Mixing music that ranges from catchy pop to contagious soul-filled tunes, this band promises to deliver on a world-wide scale!

✓ ONE 2 MANY is the brainchild of the multi-talented Norwegian Dag Kolsrud. Writer, arranger and producer for the band, Dag started his musical career after studying music in the U.S. at the University of Miami. Working in L.A. as an arranger and studio keyboard session player, his big break came when fellow Norwegians a-ha! took him on as musical director for their world tour.

✓ After the 1986-87 tour ended, Dag began recording demos of his own material. He enlisted guitarist Jan Gisle Ytterdal and then set about finding a lead singer. Swedish-born Camilla Griehsel fit the bill. Although her only experience was singing at church services, weddings, and in choirs, her audition was so impressive that the resulting vocal tracks from Answer ended up on the album.

✓ May 1988 marked the beginning of work on their debut LP MIRROR. Co-produced with John Hudson, the LP features ten smash tracks that promise to launch this band worldwide. The LP has already topped the Norwegian charts, reaching gold status with first single Downtown spending nine weeks at #1. Intriguing melodies could make ONE 2 MANY the next big Scandinavian crossover, following in the footsteps of ABBA and a-ha!

DOM TESTA - ASST. PD/MD, Y108 - DENVER

"Downtown is a hit in the suburbs. Check It Out!!"

JEFF McHUGH - MD, WNOK - COLUMBIA, SC

"A nice, happy, uptempo record. It has the ideal pop sound, guaranteed to work in the long run!!"

MIKE STONE - MD, WPFM - PANAMA CITY, FL

"A fun song. A perfect anthem to promote Downtown stores!"

LESLIE FRAM - PD, WABB - MOBILE, AL

"Great radio record, hearing it on the air makes the difference!"

STEP UP TO THE MIKE

by MIKE SCHAEFER

Every week in this column you and I will have the opportunity to be pre-promoted on a select few upcoming Top40 singles by members of the National Promotion staffs at the record companies. These are the men and women who hear the music first, and have the most up to the minute information about the promotion and marketing plans for these songs.

I Like It* - DINO - (4TH & BROADWAY/ISLAND) CD: 24/7

Remember last summer when DINO's SUMMER GIRLS performed so well for so many of you? Well, that's exactly how this new single will perform for the summer of '89. It's pure Pop with an infectious hook that will also be a HUGE Dance/Club record. BOB CATANIA, V/P of Promotion at ISLAND Records sez, "Mike, based on the phenomenal success of 24/7 as an Urban, Pop and A/C hit, we're looking to explode out of the box with this new single! The record is already getting major action on POWER106 in Los Angeles, WPGC, ENERGY96.5 in Houston and on a host of other stations. At KLUC, Asst. PD/MD Jay Taylor reported that during the first week of play the record got over 200 requests! I think the difference between I Like It and 24/7 is that 24/7 was a tremendous programming vehicle with incredible adult appeal. That sometimes doesn't translate into a very active story as far as requests and sales go. I Like It being more uptempo in nature, will satisfy those two criteria immediately. The success of 24/7 has proven that DINO is an very multi-dimensional artist, with such a different sound, that it's going to cause this record to go crazy. The other major thing I want to point out, is that DINO has done hundreds of concert dates for many of your HITMAKERS reporters out there, and he's proven in those appearances that he's got tremendous appeal as a live act."

I Want It All (And I Want It Now)* - QUEEN - (CAPITOL) CD: THE MIRACLE

When I was doing local promotion in the midwest for ELEKTRA in the 70's, QUEEN was hotter than a pistol with such monster Top40 hits like We Will Rock You/We Are The Champions, Crazy Little Thing Called Love, and Another One Bites The Dust. Their biggest hits were all Rock anthems, and that's exactly what I Want It All (And I Want It Now) will be for the summer of '89. JOHN FAGOT, VP of National Promotion at CAPITOL Records, sez, "Mike, when QUEEN wants to make a hit record, they don't just make a record, they make a #1 record. Most of the time when you have a #1 QUEEN record, it's an anthem-style song. A couple of examples would be Another One Bites The Dust and We Are The Champions, which are songs you still hear today any time you go to a championship ballgame or sporting event. The single, I Want It All (And I Want It Now) has great lyrics, great music and I don't really have to promote it as much as just getting radio to listen to the record. We've already had some leaks out there. People who have played it have gotten a tremendous response already, some getting top 10 phones. It's a true hit QUEEN record!"

This Is Your Land* - SIMPLE MINDS - (A&M) CD: STREET FIGHTING YEARS

When you first listen to This Is Your Land you immediately hear the distinctive singing style of Jim Kerr. After a few listens you begin to hear the multi-faceted structure of this song as it combines haunting lyrics about our Earth and it's ecology with the hook coming from the guitar and synthesizer. With the recent success of "Earth Day", this is a natural. STEVE RESNICK, Director of National Promotion at A&M Records, sez, "Mike, the new SIMPLE MINDS album was produced by Stephen Lipson and Trevor Horn, and the new single This Is Your Land features Lou Reed doing a short rap in the middle of the song. We will be going for adds at Top40, AOR, and Alternative radio at the same time. SIMPLE MINDS has been headlining auditoriums and stadiums all around the world, performing to over 2 million people during their last tour. Their last studio album sold three million units worldwide. In the U.S. alone, ONCE UPON A TIME was a platinum Top 10 fixture that spent more than 40 weeks on the album charts and was named one of the top ten groups of the year for single sales. ALIVE AND KICKING, the band's last studio album and song, was a #1 AOR track and went to #2 on the Top40 charts.

Everything Counts* - DEPECHE MODE - (SIRE/WB) CD: DEPECHE MODE 101

If you've ever been to a DEPECHE MODE concert, you know how loyal and devoted their fans are. The song was recorded live in front of 72,000 people at the Rose Bowl. Everything Counts is the perfect song to balance your playlist with for the spring book. The CD Pro single has two dance mix versions for Urban Top40 stations. STU COHEN, National Promotion Director at WARNER BROTHERS Records, sez "Mike, we'll be promoting a new concert movie of a recent DEPECHE MODE tour, so radio can see how audiences respond to this band. This concert film will show the audience watching DEPECHE MODE, and will underscore why we are so excited about this project. Many of the kids that listen to Top40 radio will be attending this movie. To complement the perfect live movie will be the perfect live album. We feel that the single Everything Counts is the best way to show what this band does live. DEPECHE MODE sells out their concerts immediately. It will give radio listeners a taste of what they've been seeing in concert for the last ten years, and then give them a chance to hear it on their favorite radio station. There are already a dozen markets playing it across the country in places like Phoenix and Los Angeles including PIRATE RADIO and KII-FM. 12-24's know how hot they are and radio needs to catch up with them. We're looking for a big first week!

STRIKE THREE by Bucky Wiggins

Jose Canseco hits home runs. He hardly hefts his huge muscles, yet he hits 'em hard and long. How does he do it? Easy, no energy wasted on thought.

But it's not just power, Jose has speed too. He was clocked in his home state of Florida driving slightly faster than the speed of light (186,000 miles per second, that's the law). He was ticketed for running a red light during Spring training (what? he missed the sign at third and was thrown out at home?), and he racked up three more traffic violations, all before the season began. Possibly, beginning the season on the disabled list has made mighty Jose young - and restless. His power attack was on display this past week when he was arrested at U.C. San Francisco for illegally possessing a loaded semi-automatic handgun. So, the entertainment hasn't stopped. Jose has just had a change of venue. Imagine if he could keep this up all season. Forty home runs. Forty stolen bases. Forty misdemeanor violations. (handgun possession's a felony)

Could we or should we expect more from a 24-year-old upon whom the game has lavished deserved yet grandiose accolades? Canseco's not guilty of grand larceny. He doesn't break out in Strawberry-esque hives over his teammates shortcomings. And he's well surpassed all of baseball's expectations in some IMMENSELY worthwhile categories.

Baseball Digest's May 1987 issue picked Canseco last on a list of players who might possibly achieve elite status in the "30/30 club" (players with 30 home runs and 30 stolen bases in one season). He wasn't even mentioned as a leading candidate for that club. Instead, the Digest picked 11 players before Canseco who might make the club - among them: Rickey Henderson, Kirk Gibson, Joe Carter and Oddibe McDowell. Canseco not only joined that club, he formed his own. He is the sole member of the hyper-elite 40/40 club. He is not a demigod. But he is a hell of a good ballplayer with the exaggerations of his youth hanging out. Put away the handguns Jose. All will be forgiven when you return to the line-up.

Nolan Ryan took a no-hitter into the ninth inning last Sunday. Toronto shortstop Nelson Liriano tripled off the incomprehensible Ryan for the lone Blue Jay offense against the 42-year-old Texan. There may never be a pitcher who endures as Ryan has. After more than 20 years in the big leagues, Ryan continues to amaze and win. Being 42 and being a major league pitcher do not necessarily correspond, but Ryan is without peer and has compiled lifetime stats that will probably never be met, forget broken. He holds the record for season-high strikeouts at 383 (besting Sandy Koufax's 1965 record by one). It's unbelievable that he led the National League in strikeouts the last two years. How could he, at 40 and 41 years of age strike out more major league hitters than Orel Hershisier? Than Dwight Gooden? Those young, vital arms are supposed to humble the power hitters. But the ancient Ryan surpassed Gooden's '88 strikeout total by 58 and Hershisier's by 53.

The triple Ryan surrendered on Sunday to break up what would have been his 6th no-hitter came with one out in the ninth by Liriano, a part-time shortstop who is replacing the American League's best, (and unluckiest), Tony Fernandez.

Liriano, hitting around .230, might well remember this game. Unless he accomplishes half of what RYAN has achieved, it might also be how baseball remembers him.

A PIECE OF MY MIND? by Tony Richland

Just when we've decided that we know it all, crazy things happen which tell us that maybe we only know MOST of it all. Take this past week in L.A., if you will. Hockey seats to L.A. Kings games were being scalped! Now if you'd have asked us last year at his time if we'd see hockey seats being scalped in a town with twelve hockey fans, we'd have said, "We'll see that day when Donny Osmond is back on the charts!" We don't know much about hockey, but we do know that some big hockey guy named Wayne Gotski or something is now a member of our hockey team and that this Gotski guy is reputed to be big in that sport where toothless guys with French names hit each other over the head with hard sticks. At any rate, Gotski apparently took the Kings to heights they've never known, and that's drawn appearances by the Laker/Dodger/Raider crowd of Hollywood celebs. Even Jack Nicholson and Irv Azoff have been sighted at what they call "center ice" and that's a hoot because both of them previously thought a hockey puck was an affectionate nickname bestowed on his friends by Don Rickles. When we spot Donny Ienner at the World Bowling Federation finals, we'll know the world has gone mad!

The incredible irony of the new Donny Osmond story strikes us as incredibly ironic, as most incredible ironies do. Consider: here's a guy who couldn't ... and forgive this term...BUY his way onto the charts a scant few months ago. Donny was to current music what surfing is to Kansas (or what hockey was to Hollywood), and now the guy has a couple labels fighting over him and his hit! This is a very upbeat story to us, one which should inspire Fabian and The Knack! ANYONE can come back, if the sound is in the grooves (do CD's HAVE grooves?). Well almost anyone. I mean, there's no way Peter Noone and Roy Orbison can get airplay in 1989, is there?

How many times have we told you to ignore those state lotteries and do something more sensible with your money, like tossing it out the window? We never told you 'cause you never asked us, but WE had the good sense to flush our extra cash down the toilet and we've been vindicated. Seems that the Calif. State Lottery has not been as clean as they'd have us believe and there's suspicion that the excess funds which were to have been donated to education programs, have been finding their way into the pockets of guys named Guido 'The Machete' Lasagna and Marty 'Scarface' Shapiro. So what else is new? Investigation is pending and you, dreamer that you are, will continue to plunk down your bucks, figuring 14 million-to-one odds ain't all THAT bad. If you're one of those daydream believers, send us the money instead. You'll receive your aluminum siding by return mail.

Has anyone noticed that the Archie Bunker and I Love Lucy heart attacks have received more press than the Ollie North trial? Now just a few months ago we were seeing "Ollie for President" bumper stickers and Ollie dolls, and now it seems that Ollie's "just another guy." But our hearts have been touched by Archie and Lucy to the tune of thousands of get well wishes arriving at their hospitals..and what can we learn from this? The answer, my friends, is blowin' in the wind: Archie and Lucy make us laugh.

In a completely unrelated story, The National Enquirer was sold last week for - get this - 415 million dollars!! THAT, my friends, might be the reason our erstwhile publisher, one B. Fiedel, was seen huddling with Sony execs this past Friday.....and so it goes.

TUNA TALK

BIG TUNA SEZ:

KEVIN WEATHERLY has resigned his Music Director position at KIIIS-FM, Los Angeles to become the new Assistant Program Director at Q106 (KKLQ), San Diego effective May 5. KEVIN sez, "I'm sorry to be leaving KIIIS, but I'm glad to be leaving on an up note with the recent ratings success. I really want to become a Program Director and Q106 PD GARRY WALL will give me that opportunity. Though I will initially handle the music duties, a new MD will be named at a later date." GARRY WALL added, "I'm very excited about KEVIN joining the team. He is the future of Q106. In the wake of KEVIN's departure, STEVE RIVERS needs a seasoned pro. STEVE sez, "KIIIS-FM has had such a GREAT history of outstanding Music Directors, and I want to keep that tradition alive. I'm going to take my time and find the next GREAT MD out there! I want to find someone who really wants to be at KIIIS-FM more than anything else in their lives. I need someone to protect the delicate balance here, particularly with respect to the 25-54 year old audience. We're not an A/C station, but we are an adult Top40. There's a BIG difference between the two." If you think you fit this description, send T&R to STEVE at 6255 Sunset Blvd., 11th Floor, Hollywood, CA - 90028.

STEVE PERUN, VP/Programming at Y100 in Miami and Metroplex Communications has resigned over philosophical differences about the future direction of Y100. STEVE will continue to consult KCPW in Kansas City, 92X in Columbus and a few other stations while he looks for his next big challenge. He will remain at Y100 for two more weeks to fulfill his resignation agreement. In the wake of STEVE's departure, Assistant PD/MD FRANK AMADEO has been named the new PD of Y100. FRANK sez, "It's been a personal goal of mine for a long time to program the radio station that I grew up listening to, and having worked my way up from MD, to Asst. PD to Program Director now completes my ultimate dream. The opportunity to further myself at Metroplex is something that really excites me and I'm very pleased about. I have absolutely no doubt in my mind that we can put Y100 at the top of the hill again where it belongs. I really want to thank GM DAVID ROSS for his confidence in me in giving me this shot after being here 8 years. I also want to thank STEVE PERUN very much who was very instrumental in making me a lot better at what I did. He played a very important part in my development."

Tour Director:
BILL GRAHAM

Clegg's cross-cultural music has begun to achieve international attention. He has hit the Top 10 in France where many fans know his music so well that they can sing in Zulu. He and his band have mastered the most difficult tribal dances and weave western sounds into Zulu street music to create an exhilarating expression of rage at apartheid.

PEOPLE MAG

In Lyon, France, Clegg filled a 35,000 seat hall the same night Jackson cancelled a concert because he hadn't sold enough seats.

L.A. HERALD EXAMINER

The phenomenon of Johnny Clegg, the South African who has conquered the four corners of the world, brings together the war dance and the thoughts of millions who refuse to accept either a black or a white life.

L'EVENIMENT

Long lines snaked down West Fourth Street at the Bottom Line which, for this night at least, had become the shrine to the unknown superstar, Johnny Clegg.

N.Y. POST

In concert he has the energy of Bruce Springsteen as he performs Zulu dances. Clegg's appeal is intoxicating.

TIME

Clegg often sings in English while the band responds in Zulu. It's a weird, back and forth blend that rocks. The music is reggae with a melody. His lyrics communicate. You can learn more about South African politics from a Johnny Clegg song than the 6 o'clock news.

THE HOUSTON POST

Johnny Clegg & Savuka, the South African sextet, whose two albums have catapulted the group to stardom in Europe play vibrant accessible pop music that is calculatedly internationalist in vocabulary and subject matter.

N.Y. TIMES

This Is His FIRST Double Digit Add Week!!! Capital Is TOTALLY Committed!!!
