VIBE-RATERS4

Tool rools, OK, over Marilyn Manson and Poe as Danzig casts an evil shadow.

MOST POWERFUL SONGS6

Celine Dion's "Coming" is not going, while Nirvana and Tool mosh into the Top Ten.

DIALOGUE41

VH1 President John Sykes, this year's City of Hope "Spirit of Life" honoree, has some big plans in store for a very special night, including staying far away from HITS' own charity case Tina Clarke "Gable."

POST MODERN47

R.E.M. still reigns and Nirvana and Tool bang heads while Hurricane Ivana causes a tropical depression in the Pacific on her late-summer Hawaiian vacation.

ROCK75

Metallica ascends, Van Halen's Most Added, Tool Most Requested and rockin' surfascist Jimmy "Triumph of the Nil" Barnes Most Toasted.

JAMZ81

KQEQ-AM Fresno PD/MD David Caudillo is kickin' out the JAMZ, along with a man known for raisin' hell, Dr. Jerry "Tidy" Boulding.

VH1 President John Sykes, this year's City of Hope "Spirit of Life" honoree, is looking to take a back seat to both a very worthy cause and what promises to be a special evening. Thanks to a unique auction on all five MTV Network channels and a spectacular All-Star Garage Band show, the SRO event at Universal City's City Walk has already raised more than a record-breaking $4 million to help combat cancer and other deadly diseases. Too bad they couldn't find a cure for this HITS Contents appearance.

On The Cover

DGC rock legends Nirvana emerge "From the Muddy Banks of the Wishkah," their #1 album debut, only to wash ashore on this mud-slinging cover of HITS.

Hey NAB Maniacs, Not That You Care, But Nirvana, Tool, Kenny Rule!!!

NAB NIRVANA!!!

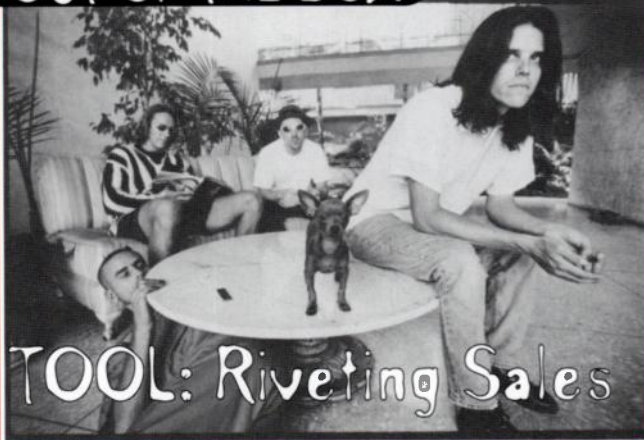

More Dope on Hope

Ticketmaster and MTV Networks have teamed up to raise more than $360,000 for the City of Hope through a special, one-time-only televised sale of personalized Platinum albums. The event marked the first time all five MTV channels created a "road-block" of this kind for charity.

The 30-minute "Superstar Platinum: A One-Time Sale For Hope" offered viewers the opportunity to purchase authentic, personalized RIAA-certified Platinum plaques from musical superstars via a special Ticketmaster 800-number.

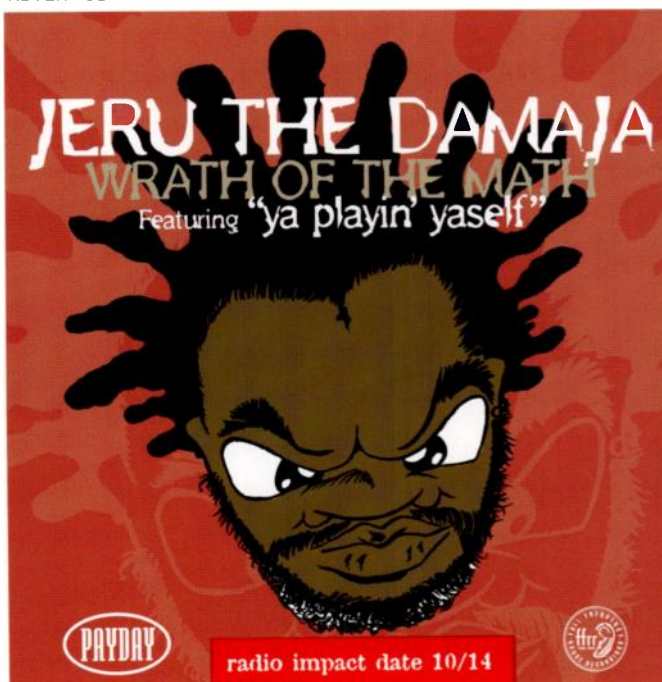

The City of Hope, a non-profit medical and research center, will honor VH1 President John Sykes next Wednesday (10/16) with the organization's 1996 "Spirit of Life" award as well as Barney's "Man of the Year" at the City Walk in Universal City, CA.

OUT OF THE BOX

TOOL: Riveting Sales

ADVERTISEMENT

First of all, we'd like to say hello to all the fine folks at NAB, because..... well, because they're wacky little knuckleheads.

And not that a NAB participant would know a hit record if it kicked them in the groin, but we'd like to tell ya that some new awesome debuts rocked the music industry this week.

The first big debut belongs to DGC's Nirvana, whose posthumous live release, "From The Muddy Banks Of The Wishkah," debuted at #1, posting monster first-week sales nationwide.

"They have always been tremendously huge for us. This record is no different," gurgled Harold Lepidus of Newbury Comics. "The great thing about this record is they mixed it up. Some is pre-'Nevermind' and some is post-stardom. Plus, side four is all unreleased B-sides."

Zoo's Tool also hammered home a point this week, as "Aenima" debuted at #3. "Tool nailed it down out of the box," said Best Buy's Tom Overby, letting out a slight guffaw over his minute witticism. "We had this set up all the way to go #1 with us and it certainly didn't disappoint."

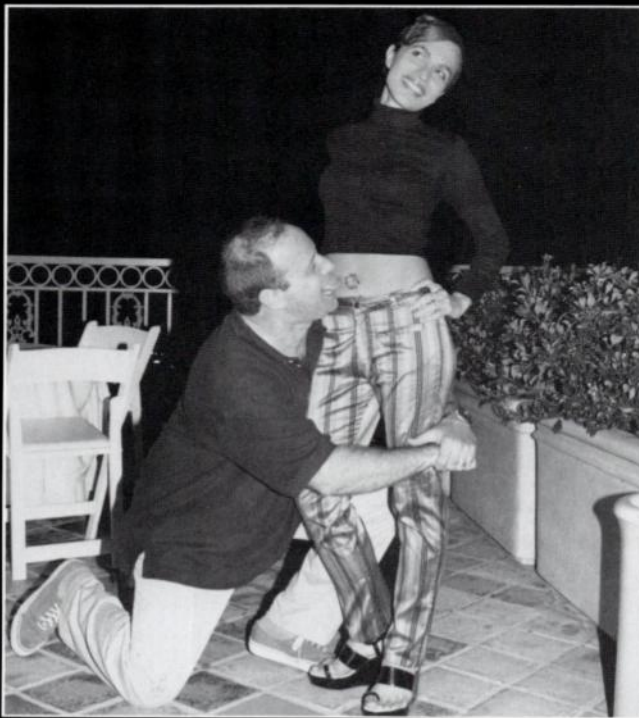

Meanwhile, sax machine Kenny G. blew his way up the ladder this week with a solid #5 debut. "That's good, isn't it, Lenny?" queried HITS Retail Editor Mark Pearson.

ACTION

The MTV adds this week are Dr. Dre (Interscope), Beck (DGC), 311 (Mercury), NAS (Col/CRG), Wild Orchid (RCA), Montell Jordan (DJ/Mercury), Puff Johnson (Work/SMIL), Jewel (Atl/Atl G) and Dishwalla (A&M). There are no rotation increases.

PIC OF THE WEEK

Exile In Sheekyville, NAB Style

Our own Sr. Yenta Roy "Oy Vakin" Trakin shows why he is legendary for his attention to detail as he removes a tiny speck of lint from Vanessa Daou's navel with the precision of an accomplished artisan. In a related story, Bill Clinton campaigned at a Girl Scout convention this week.

WILD CARD

JEWEL
ATLANTIC/ATL G

One of the year's most exciting breakthrough artists returns with another killer song that's already spinning big time on WPLY, KRBE and Q106 as well as MTV, VH1, The Box & M2. Now, Andrea Ganis and her red-hot team move in for the bigtime with a multi-format push that's gonna reap big rewards. Play it, love it and remember who first told you about Jewel!

MADONNA
WB

The first cut from the much-ballyhooed Evita film and soundtrack project is a sparse, brilliant ballad that's bound to cause attention and get major results. The early response is in and major market commitments are lining up. Stu, Barney & team have done a big set-up and will reap the rewards this Monday & Tuesday. Don't cry for them!

Pearl Jams Helms

Rock activists Pearl Jam used a concert stop in Charlotte, NC to urge young fans to vote against Republican Sen. Jesse Helms, who is up for reelection next month. Singer Eddie Vedder was joined by feminist Gloria Steinem, agitprop poster artist Robbie Conal and representatives from Artists for a Hate-Free America and Musicians Organized for Voter Education at a pre-concert press conference where they threw their support behind Alf Landon.

NAB A Big Mac Star

Everyone's favorite California-mellow gypsy Stevie Nicks hangs here with her one-wing doves, as they relate to each other as connected yet freestanding beings on our gentle, small planet. Seen here still clinging to the false, manic hopes inspired by a healthy oatbran muffin breakfast are (back row, l-r) WNCI GM Dave Robbins, Morning Zoo's Dave Robbins and PD John Dimick; (middle row, l-r) Patti Robbins, Stevie and Morning Zoo's Kim Zandy.

NAB Thrills, Spills

In one of those photos that literally scream NAB Top 40 radio electricity, KHKS PD Mr. Ed (l) shares a meaningful moment with Columbia recording artist Ricky Martin, whom he momentarily mistook for a consultant. After frisking the young artist for cash, he consoled himself by eating a bucket of oats and kicking his stall down.

All About 'Face (And The NAB)

Supreme Epic R&B Commander Kenneth "Babyface" Edmonds broke out the fly Johnny Cash gear for this spectacular rally in support of his upcoming album (and the NAB). After listening to the album with his many supporters, Babyface took time out to thank one and all for their efforts on his behalf and especially the NAB for creative inspiration. "Without the NAB," quoth 'Face, "life itself would be impossible." Word.

Virgin's Good With Moinet & Hood

Al Moinet "Is The Root of All Evil" and Dawn "Boyz In The" Hood have been upped to Vice President Promotion and Vice President Alternative Promotion, respectively, for Virgin Records by Sr. VP Promotion Michael "The Best-Laid" Plen "Of Mice and Men" just in time for this week's big NAB confab.

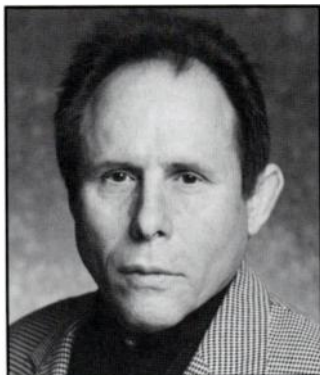

Previously VP Pop Promotion at Virgin for the last five years, Moinet will now be responsible for overseeing and executing pop promotion campaigns at Top 40, A/C, Hot A/C, Crossover, Easy Listening, Polka, Post-Renaissance Harpsichord and Dentist's Chair Music formats.

Hood, who had most recently served as Sr. Director of Alternative at Virgin for the last two years, will oversee and execute the label's alternative promotion campaign and reminisce about her favorite "Brady Bunch" episodes.

Commenting on Moinet's appointment, Plen said: "Al's many years of experience and undeniable relationships have earned him the opportunity to run his own area. My confidence level in his abilities exceeds 200%. On the other hand, my belief in his fashion sense runs below .01%"

About Hood, Plen remarked: "Dawn understands the importance of long-term strategy and patience in successfully developing an artist. Her efforts have already brought great results for Virgin, and this is just the beginning. Now, if only she'd stop watching 'Trainspotting' and do some work."

Al Moinet: His checks don't balance.

Dawn Hood: Wishes this were in Billboard.

- 9 EDDIE VAN HALEN: Going from one Extreme to another.
- 10 THE DEBATES: Blinky meets Bubba. Luckily, we inhaled before they started.

Going Gold Card At The NAB

Seen collecting Gold sales awards for their "Congratulations I'm Sorry" LP are the incredibly happy and cohesive members of the Gin Blossoms and A&M Chairman Al Cafaro (3rd from l), who is begging the boys for some angst, "cause that's what the kids are into." Despite some rough waters, the band decided to stay together "until we get booked on the Rosie O'Donnell Show." Shown hoping we choke on a ham sandwich are (l-r) Robin Wilson, Scott Johnson, Cafaro, Bill Lean, Jesse Valenzuela and Philip Rhodes.

MCA NABs Cristiano and Reiner

"Mona" Lisa Cristiano and Bruce "A Hard" Reiner "Is Gonna Fall" have been named Vice President Alternative Promotion and Vice President Crossover Promotion, respectively, for MCA Records by Sr. VP Promotion Skip "Polishing The" Bishop.

Cristiano, who comes to MCA from Radioactive Records, where she headed the label's national promotion department, will be responsible for coordinating all promotional efforts for alternative music artists on MCA Records and associated labels, overseeing the MCA alternative music promotion staff and setting a world record in the Macarena Marathon.

Reiner comes to MCA after two years as Director Crossover Promotion for Columbia

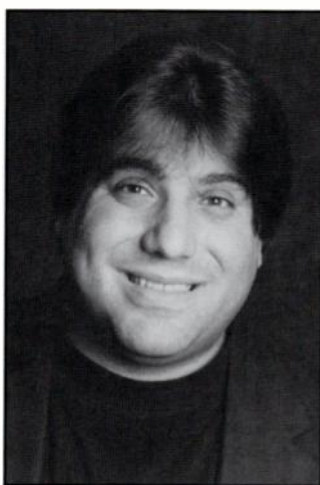

Records and will coordinate the national promotion campaigns for all MCA Records Urban, Dance and Hispanic artists at Pop radio when not having insects picked off of him by his fellow primates.

Commenting on Cristiano's appointment, Bishop said: "Lisa was an obvious choice for the gig. She loves music, radio and the people who make it happen. Her list of close friends at radio is unbelievably vast and, coupled with her passionate musical spirit, makes Lisa one of this industry's rising stars. Heck, she's like family. Only trouble is, I hate my family."

About Reiner's hiring, Bishop added: "What, you mean I actually hired Bruce Reiner? Tell his lawyer I'm in a meeting... until 1998."

Lisa Cristiano: Still suffering from Radioactive fallout.

Bruce Reiner: Subhumans are people too.

Tale of Two (or Three) A ? Singers

AN EXCLUSIVE HITS DIALOGUE WITH EDDIE AND ALEX VAN HALEN

by Roy Trakin

For a couple of guys caught in the media crossfire, Alex and Eddie Van Halen seem pretty calm as they go through the promotional paces at their 5150 Studios in the San Fernando Valley for their new (and first-ever) greatest hits album, "Best Of, Volume 1" (WB). The last year has been anything but mellow for the Van Halen guys, who were first hit with the departure of their lead singer Sammy Hagar, then with the brouhaha surrounding the return, then exit of their first vocalist David Lee Roth. The group recorded a pair of new songs with Roth and producer Glen Ballard—"Me Wise Magic" and "Can't Get This Stuff No More"—before appearing at the recent MTV Video Awards together, prompting a thunderous standing ovation at their apparent reunion. Of course, things were not quite as simple as they seemed that night, with old tensions suddenly resurfacing, tearing the foursome apart once more, and leading to the recent hiring of Extreme lead singer Gary Cherone.

In the midst of press releases and accusations flying back and forth, Alex and Eddie took some time out to duck, cover and clear the air with someone who did his best to pollute it, HITS' own intrepid investigative journalist Roy "L. Pain" Trakin.

Part One: Alex Van Halen

Let's go back to the beginning. Did Sammy Hagar quit or was he fired?

He quit. Of course, everybody has their own way of seeing things. We had finished a rather grueling tour in November and shortly thereafter, we were asked to do the music for the movie "Twister." Ed and I can't stay out of the studio for more than a few weeks, so we started to make some music and [director] Jan de Bont asked us if we'd like to see if it would fit into the movie. Sammy returned from his honeymoon and was in Hawaii. We gave him four months to get it together. I read where he made it sound like we were forcing him to cut short his honeymoon. We asked him to come into the studio for two days to lay down some vocals. I fully empathized with him wanting to stay in Hawaii, but he made a commitment. He said he wanted to do the song.

So he came to do "Humans Being," and when he thought it was finished, Ed, Mike and I had to go back to Vancouver to add vocals to it because it was too sparse.

I'm not a psychiatrist. I can't read minds. We'd been together for 11 years. We had some great times. We wanted to put together a "best of" compilation and we had the room for two new songs. There were a number of reasons why we decided to do a "Best Of" album at this time. Number one, we'd never had one in 20 years. Number two, so many people had been asking for it. And number three, when we were in Europe last year, the only songs they were familiar with were "Balance" and "Jump."

Was there any indication of unhappiness prior to the split?

We tried to do one song for the "Best Of" album and the feeling was Sammy didn't put into it as much as he should have. The way it came out was a disservice to his talent, the audience and the song. Creative differences are always part of the artistic process. Music is subjective. There is no right or wrong. But there are things that are obvious when you're singing a song and you're not trying. We felt he was coasting and told him so. It just did not work anymore. The reality is, Sammy's a few years older than us and now's the time for him to enjoy the fruits of his labor. The only bone I have to pick is he wasn't upfront about it. If he didn't want to be in the band, I wish he just would have said so. And not just show up and do something half-assed and leave us holding the bag. I love the guy, he's a great fking guy, we had great fking times. That is the only part that really blew us away. In his last conversation with Ed, he stated he wanted to be a solo artist again. He wanted to leave.

"Again, the door was never shut. Dave shut the door by himself." Alex Van Halen

And then he acts like he's the aggrieved party?

Exactly. And that, to me, is what's baffling. First, he quits, then he gets angry.

So you need someone to sing those two additional songs. How does David Lee Roth's name come up?

When he heard about the "Best Of," Dave approached the band about how he was going to be represented. When the Sammy thing fell apart, Ed and Dave spoke for about three or four hours at Dave's house and at the end of the conversation it was like, "Hey, you wanna sing on a couple songs?" And Dave said, "Why not?" We gave him 15 songs to choose from and he picked the ones he felt he was vocally capable of doing something with. Glen Ballard came in to produce. "Me Wise Magic" was a second take at 9:45 in the morning.

And what was that like?

Not to blow smoke up his ass, but with the right guidance, Dave can be quite a good lyricist. Sometimes he goes off the deep end and nothing makes sense, but that's why you have someone like Glen Ballard to oversee it. If it were up to Dave, each verse would be a punch-line to a joke. Glen was great with him. Both tracks were laid down in a half-hour. We like to be spontaneous.

Depending on who you talk to, there are different opinions on Dave as a vocalist. I'll tell you one thing... he worked his ass off. He was in here six-eight hours every fking day. He made the effort and I respect him for that.

You said all along that Dave was brought in just to sing these two songs. But it began to spread like wildfire that Van Halen was back together.

I'm assuming that was Dave because we told him not to let any of this out. We were doing two songs and that was it. And then we were asked to do a video. Which was fine. And then we were asked to play at the MTV Video Music Awards. We hadn't played together in nine months, let alone with Dave, so we turned that down. Then they asked us if we wanted to present. And we said, fine, no problem. Dave was more than happy to be involved. He jumped at the chance. He loved it.

Did you ever consider reforming permanently with Dave?

"What we were trying to do was see how the chemistry was. To see if eleven years had actually changed anyone. And, to our disappointment, Dave hadn't changed a bit." Alex Van Halen

What we were trying to do was see how the chemistry was. To see if eleven years had actually changed anyone. And, to our disappointment, Dave hadn't changed a bit. It was quite apparent at the MTV Awards. And that was just the tip of the iceberg. You should have seen what happened backstage. We went into this whole thing assuming that we could behave like reasonable human beings.

The standing ovation at the MTV awards must have stunned you. You could see Dave drawing strength from the reaction as the rest of the band started distancing themselves from him.

We were there to present, not to receive an award. The worst part was when Beck came to accept his award, Mike, Ed and I stepped back and let him have his moment. Instead, Dave—who is very camera-aware—gets into the picture and starts dancing around and gesturing. I thought that was the rudest thing I ever saw in my life. It's not your moment, Dave. It's Beck's moment.

We never discussed going on tour with Dave. We never discussed anything but doing those two songs. Every day, Ed would tell Dave: "We're taking baby steps." Because from the moment we did these two songs, Dave just assumed there would be a tour. And he'd call up everyday and ask, "Al, when's the tour?" And we would say, "Dave, we haven't even done the two songs yet."

There was also talk that Dave couldn't cut it vocally.

I think that's unfair to Dave. We know his talent. No, he doesn't have the gift some vocalists have, but let's face it, Mick Jagger ain't the greatest fking singer in the world either. If the chemistry works, it doesn't matter.

On tour, you're together 24 hours a day and, to not be respectful or sensitive, it just doesn't fking work... It becomes a farce, nothing more than a money-making machine.

How did you put up with him back then?

We were at different points in our lives. It was a different musical environment... spandex, pouffed hair, sexual innuendo... that was the extent of lyrics.

People are disappointed the band's not getting back together.

There was just so much money thrown at this so-called reunion, it was staggering. We're not in it for the money. Money comes and goes. Believe me, I know. I pissed away enough of it. It just wasn't happening. You have to follow your heart; what feels right to you. Again, the door was never shut. Dave shut the door by himself. He just made it obvious that the four of us can't get along.

Dave claims you had Extreme's Gary Cherone in mind for three months as lead singer.

Absolutely not true. Part of the reason we never responded to Sammy's distorted version of the facts is, you can't respond to a phantom. It's all bull-shit. And before you know it, it becomes a pissing match. The bottom line is, we know what happened. And the same thing with Dave. He was angry we didn't do the tour because of the money. It's simple. Never mind about the pain in his gut. Give me a fking break!! It was a pain in his wallet.

Have you already hired Gary Cherone?

I don't like the word hire or audition. We've had a number of people come in and play with us, including a few female artists. The point is, this was an ongoing process. Dave seems to believe the world revolves around him. And that's the problem. 99% of the indication is that Gary will be our singer.

“Sammy didn't want to be in the band. If he did, he would be here right now.” Eddie Van Halen Wasn't Extreme managed by Ray Danniels?

No, he was more like an advisor. There are people who believe Ray orchestrated this whole thing, which is total fking baloney. Ed and I at one point were going to England and Australia to see if we could find someone who would be compatible. The trouble is, you can't just go in and hear someone sing. You have to spend a week or two with this person. Sometimes, things just fall in your lap. I'm not a Taoist, but there are certain things that are just beyond your control. Either it feels right or it doesn't. When you hear this music, there will be no question. Edward has between three and four albums' worth of material. Our task now is to turn that into a coherent record. Music, to us, is about communicating to other people.

Does this mark the end of Van Halen's second era?

To me, it's seamless. We play everything in concert. Yes, we are now searching for something different. And when it hits us, we'll connect with it. We want to stay a little more realistic, to go beyond the joking, party stuff.

You have to be cognizant of what's going on around you in the world. It's a lot different than when we started. There needs to be a healthy balance between seriousness and the fun aspect. When Van Halen comes to town, it's a night to go out and have a fking blast, but that doesn't mean we don't approach our musicianship seriously. That's what's important to us. You gotta remember the good times. Life's too short.

Part Two: Eddie Van Halen

How does it feel being caught in the media crossfire?

I almost feel like, why did I ever ask Dave?

You could see the whole thing unravelling at the MTV Video Music Awards.

I had no idea. I thought he changed. The on-stage stuff I thought was out of control, but it was more backstage where it really bothered me.

Dave's return being permanent was never, ever discussed or alluded to by us. Our first press release said we were in the studio with Dave doing two songs for the "Best Of" and looking for a new replacement. I told him every other day we weren't going out on tour together. The guy totally contradicts himself even in his own press release. He knew he wasn't in the band.

You appeared uncomfortable with the ovation you got at the VMAs. Didn't you think it looked like you were back together again?

We never publicly stated that. I didn't even wanna go. Warner Bros. and MTV made us go. I'd rather have been home taking my kid to his first fking day of school than be in New York for three days to say, "And the winner is..."

The two tracks went well, though.

Granted, it took a little longer than expected, but Dave was a trooper. I gotta hand it to him. He hung in there. He knew it was for one song, two tops. Even he said, "If it all ends tomorrow, at least we're friends now." Somewhere, a wire got crossed. Why is beyond me. Warner Bros. wanted us to do two videos, one of which we were supposed to do yesterday and he's now refused to do them. Russ Thyret and John Beug have said they will not allow him back in the Burbank building. They think he's nuts, that he's cutting off his nose to spite his face. I just don't get it. People can believe whatever it is they want to believe. It's all coming down on me again. Because, it's like, how could Sammy and Dave both be lying? And I'm telling you, they fking are... They're two psychotics we're dealing with here. Sammy didn't want to be in the band. If he did, he would be here right now. It's that simple. You can't please everyone all the time. We're going on with our lives, hopefully with Gary Cherone. There are just a couple of legal things to work out. And it feels incredible. There's not a hint of LSD... Lead Singer Disease. Singers are wired differently. They're definitely not from the same planet I'm from. There's something wrong with these guys. They should get together... Sam & Dave.

When I got sober two years ago, I started seeing things I never saw before in Sammy. It started back on "OU812," the second album we did together back in 1988.

What was the process like looking for a new lead singer?

We talked with people, but we didn't start auditioning people until after the MTV Awards. I did not meet Gary Cherone until after the show.

The VMAs was the final nail in the coffin as far as you were concerned.

Dave treated me like shit backstage. I told him that evening any hopes of doing anything in the future was over. I wanted to believe he had changed and that we were friends.

I'll tell you exactly what happened. We

[Dave], 'You motherfker, if you talk to me like that again, you better be wearing a cup.' Eddie Van Halen weren't going out on tour without new material and anyway, on December 16, I have to have a hip replacement. And the recovery time is anywhere from three to six months. That's the truth, which puts a little damper on a tour in January. After that, there was a little vibe change. So Dave goes, "Hey, man, tonight's about me, not your fking hip..." And that's a direct quote. So I bit my tongue because I didn't want to blow up in front of everyone. I told him to do the next press conference without me and I won't mention my hip. And he goes, "You fking better not..." I just flat out told him, "You motherfker, if you talk to me like that again, you better be wearing a cup," and that was it.

Obviously, it wasn't what he wanted to hear. After he walked on-stage to that standing ovation, he thought we were gonna say, "OK, Dave, you're in..." Well, sorry. I want to move forward, not backward. I played him 20 pieces of music Alex and I wrote he could not even relate to. And we tried to write for his low range, too. We had enough music for three albums. Dave himself thanked me for hanging in there with him during the recording. I'm not knocking his work ethic. We're just not on the same page musically or personally. There's just so much more different music that comes through me or is given to me that I need to do.

Is Gary more in synch with where you are at?

We're like that [clasps hands together]. And Glen Ballard. The circle is complete. Now, whether people will like it or not is a whole different story. I don't look at it as a new era. I just look at it as Van Halen. I just remember the good times with Dave and Sammy. And if they want to keep spewing out garbage that's not true, let it be. The man upstairs knows the truth and I know, deep in their hearts, they know the truth, too. ♦

AN EXCLUSIVE HITS DIALOGUE WITH BARNSTABLE BROADCASTING
PRESIDENT/COO DAVID S. GINGOLD

BY JEFF MCCARTNEY

Twenty-seven-year radio veteran David S. Gingold will be center-stage at this week's National Association of Broadcasters confab at the Biltmore Hotel in L.A. as President/COO of Barnstable Broadcasting, Inc. and Chairman of this year's NAB Radio Show. A member of the Radio Association of Broadcasters (RAB) as well as active in the Legislative and Futures Committee of the

With all the changes that we've seen with the radio industry over the last year, how would you define the current role of the NAB?

NAB has been evolving right along with the changes in the radio industry, working with Congress to support legislation that makes sense for radio and its future. There has been a number of very significant pieces of legislation over the years. And certainly the most noteworthy would be the Telecommunications Act. The NAB has been outstanding at rallying the troops—from small-market radio and the smaller, privately owned companies to the large and major market radio operators and large publicly owned companies. The NAB is the only organization that is in a position to get all of the different constituencies together on those issues that are most important to our industry and its future, especially in areas of government relations and legislative areas—to keep the playing field level for radio's ability to compete in the future among the emerging technologies that are out there.

I know we're talking about the NAB, but it would be remiss if I didn't bring out the role of the RAB, the Radio Advertising Bureau.

"THE THEME OF NAB THIS YEAR—
'MEETING THE CHALLENGE OF CHANGE'— COULDN'T BE MORE APPROPRIATE."

The RAB has developed a relationship with the NAB that has been very valuable to the industry. Not only in areas that affect our business with respect to Washington, but also in the future of radio... how successfully we can run the business of radio and increase our share of the advertising dollar.

The RAB adds a dimension of support that is more difficult for the NAB by itself. The NAB represents television and radio broadcasters across the country, whereas the RAB is focused on radio. The 1996

NAB, Gingold has some strong ideas on how deregulation has affected the business and what the future holds for radio. After ten years with Scripps Howard Broadcasting, six years as President of Birch Ratings and Research and the last decade at Barnstable Broadcasting, he's got an expert perspective, which is a lot more than can be said for HITS' own broadcast boob, the none-too-legendary Jeff "I Am Not The Walrus" McCartney.

business. The theme of NAB this year—"Meeting The Challenge Of Change"—couldn't be more appropriate.

I was interested to know what the feeling was at the NAB when the Telecom bill passed.

The work isn't over just because the Telecommunications Act has passed. We're seeing every day that there are still a number of issues that the industry is going to continue dealing with not only as a result of the Telecommunications Act, but also in other areas that have nothing to do with the Telecommunications Act. Such as in the area of advertising rules and regulations and laws that would include everything from casino advertising to automobile leasing... different things that will continue to have the potential to either negatively or positively impact the advertising environment in which radio competes. As far as the Act is concerned, there are those who would like to see even further deregulation.

Do you see more deregulation forthcoming?

It's less likely that we're going to see more. I think we have to remember that it's only been since Sept. of '92 when the rules were changed with Duopoly to allow a company to own more than one FM radio station in one market. If anything, everyone is still working very hard on just trying to figure out how to manage what has been deregulated up to this point. Both in terms of interpreting some of the rules and what constitutes how many stations one can own with respect to revenue shares and audience shares. And there certainly are some challenges out there right now coming from the government to some of the things that broadcasters want to do.

There is certainly the possibility that some of the changes made in the law as a result of the Telecommunications Act are subject to review and will be looked at very closely by Congress. That's an area where the NAB is going to be important in helping ensure that we are able to preserve all of the progress that was made for radio in the Telecommunications Act.

Do you think the government had any idea that so many radio properties would wind up in the hands of so few companies?

I would guess that they had to have some idea that consolidation was a likelihood, otherwise why bother with opening up the ownership possibilities or the numbers of stations a company could own? I don't know if anybody would have known it would have happened at the pace it did.

I'm not at all sure that the government realized just how ready Wall Street was to jump on this and move forward.

The government is still getting a little overly excited about something that, in the grand scheme of things, is not a negative for the American consumer. It's too bad radio is not being looked at from a competitive standpoint against the media as opposed to competition within its own industry.

The real issue is that radio is still dealing with a relatively small percentage of the total advertising pie. The number of choices that any advertiser has locally or nationally is very, very significant and I think in any one given marketplace, the kind of dominance that other media have over radio is easily demonstrated. I'm speaking of newspapers, TV and revenue shares, direct mail and a number of other advertising media. So radio consolidation has things going for it that are all of benefit to consumers who get the opportunity to have better quality programming offered in their marketplaces because the companies that own the stations are going to have the ability to provide and support more resources and quality programming, from a sales and advertising standpoint. And America's businesses are going to benefit because the radio stations will be able to compete and offer more effectiveness in terms of advertising efforts and promotional efforts. It seems to me everybody has the opportunity to win.

Would you agree with the experts who say the larger corporations will probably do a better job of running radio than some of the smaller mom-and-pop operations?

I think so. But I hate to make a blanket statement like that because there are a number of very small private companies that historically have been great operators in radio and have provided wonderful programming and super community service. I hate to make an umbrella statement that big is better, by itself.

You're actually the president of a small company that does a good job of running radio.

We believe radio will continue to be a local business that can be as competitive as anyone. And it will still be a business that, to be successful, one has to run and invest in sensibly. Being in a strong financial position is always going to be important, but that's important regardless of whether you're public or private. We believe there is a place for the private company and we're not in fear of being out-gunned by public companies just because they're public. We think we can continue to be in a position to compete as effectively and to provide an employment environment that people enjoy and can grow from and can be just as rewarding professionally and personally as they could be in a public company environment. If anything, we feel maybe we have an edge over the public companies in the sense that we feel we can respond to changing market conditions faster because we're much closer to these stations than the larger public companies will be.

Do you think that the privately owned companies are an endangered species? Has it become all about making a big profit sale in this overvalued radio market right now?

I don't think private companies as a group are threatened with extinction. Of course, there aren't as many today as there were a year or two years ago and there may be even fewer in the future. But I don't suspect they will disappear. The radio industry still offers entrepreneurs the opportunity to enter the business and be successful.

At the same time, we don't know what may happen two years from now as a number of companies have pretty much maxed out. They're going to have to evaluate what they've amassed in a very short period of time and calculate out how they can operate efficiently.

You read in the trades everyday that groups are trying out management structures that—prior to their substantial group acquisitions—they didn't need. They're developing regional and even local market group positions to manage multiple properties or positions to manage the programming of multiple stations. As well as positions to manage the sales of multiple properties with separate programming and sales staffs in the same market. We haven't done this before as an industry.

Where does the NAB feel the radio industry is headed in the 21st century? Can radio continue to compete with expanding television satellite communication and the information super highway?

If anything, we've seen that over the past 10 years, radio is actually stronger than it was when so much of this activity began. A lot of that comes back to the fact that all of the technological change around us doesn't affect two of the fundamental values of radio to the consumer and the advertiser. And that is, one, that it continues to be a local medium that can be reflective of the local market needs, and of service to the local community; that it can provide entertainment programming that is targeted to that local community. And two, it does this with something that the other technologies can't do. And that's with mobility. That mobility, flexibility and ease of use of a radio receiver is the magic. Not to mention that it's free. In my mind, radio is a technology that was way ahead of its time. And there's no reason for us not to believe that radio's localness as a medium and its mobility can continue to be its great strengths into the next millennium.

Let's focus now on the 1996 NAB Radio Show, "Meeting The Challenge Of Change." What can we expect this year?

The first thing I'd say is that the team at the NAB, headed by Director of Radio John David, really has put together a terrific Radio Show. I do believe it is a show that is going to be reflective of the theme, "Meeting The Challenge Of Change." John Gehron, Susan Platt and the staff at the NAB really do work hard to put together a show that people will go to and feel they're really getting something out of, that can make a difference in their futures. Having the Radio Committee people involved in the development of the seminars and the selection of keynote speakers in a number of areas make the show really one that's built up from the radio operators' perspective. I really credit the NAB for having the wisdom to put it all together.

Rick Buckley, President of Buckley Broadcasting, Dean Sorenson, President and CEO of Sorenson Broadcasting, and John Gehron, Co-CEO of American Radio Systems, put together a tremendous number of quality people from the industry on each of their committees that helped develop programs and panels for the NAB Radio Show.

As far as the convention itself, Guy Kawasaki, who will be giving the keynote address, is a best-selling author. Talk about somebody that's on top of technology—he certainly fits that bill. He is a key marketing and development head with Apple Computer and is known around the industry as a highly motivational speaker. He is very much into talking about how to create an approach to marketing, knowing our customers and our competition in a way that can lead us to the kind of success that companies in other industries are finding.

The chairman's breakfast that we've had traditionally with the NAB Radio Show is one that will be especially interesting—with FCC Chairman Reed Hunt at the Radio Luncheon. The keynote speaker is Dolly Parton. I'm excited I'll have the opportunity to meet her, because she is a radio station owner and a very, very bright woman with a spectacular marketing mind. She has been an integral part of her own success as an entertainer as well as the building of businesses on her own, such as Dollyland.

The NAB Marconi Radio Awards, the dinner and show Saturday night, is going to be bigger and better than we've ever had before. From the broadcasters' standpoint, it is certainly an opportunity to recognize some great radio stations and personalities in America, with Randy Travis as our featured entertainment. It's being hosted by Leeza Gibbons, not to mention a few surprises that I think folks will find when they get there which will make it even more exciting. ♦

BY I.B. BAD, LOS ANGELES

At presstime, the new Marilyn Manson LP, "Antichrist Superstar," was blowing up at retail, posting enormous one-day sales numbers. A #1 national chart debut for the LP next week could be in the offing. Stand by.... Meanwhile, the much-rumored-about action at Island finally kicked in with the departure of President John Barbis and Chris Blackwell's re-emergence as a hands-on, day-to-day leader. Massive chatter over whether Blackwell can remain at the music helm and juggle his plethora of other businesses, or whether he'll appoint a new top-per. Will that person come from inside, or will an outside gunslinger be imported? And what about David Simone? Has he been offered the job, and if so, will he choose to vacate the West Coast throne of Poly Publishing, which has developed into a major player? Whatever happens, folks are not looking for any more big moves until after the first of the year, with the current inner circle looking like Larry Mestel, Hiram Hicks, Hooman Majd and Joe Riccitelli. And will I.L.S.' Pat Monaco play a GM-type role in this scenario?.... Then there's John Barbis, whose successful run at Island has Poly scrambling to keep him in the fold. But in what position? Will he become President of another Poly label, or will he assume the helm of a new company that incorporates some smaller Poly labels, ala the old PLG without Island? Other spec revolves around a corporate post, working with Roger Ames, while some tongues are wagging of a non-Poly appointment. Action to come.... Meanwhile, former PLG prexy Rick Dobbis observes the action from the other side of the pond, where he serves as Poly Int'l's President of Continental Europe.... There's plenty of chatter of yet another major change impending at the top of another major label.... Billboard significantly lowers the importance of single sales on its Hot 100 chart. How will it affect major labels' management of said chart by the very expensive practice of jamming single sales?.... Bobby Brown working on a new solo album for MCA.... Madonna drops a new Andrew Lloyd Webber tune from "Evita" (not in the original show) in front of the film opening Christmas Day in N.Y. and L.A. and nationwide in January.... Tons of early industry buzz on the new Dr. Dre video.... Equally deafening hum over Seal's cover of Steve Miller's "Fly Like An Eagle" on the upcoming "Space Jam" soundtrack.... Speaking of soundtracks, despite a weak box office, the music world's cashing in on sales of Tom Hanks' "That Thing You Do" soundtrack.... The buzz over the upcoming TCI music channel has the cable giant readying a wide selection of niche music channels similar to the audio-only ones currently on DSS. Will Time Warner be involved? And what kind of impact will this have at MTV HQ? Former MTVer John Reardon's calling the shots for Commander Malone. What role will Kevin Wall play?.... The City of Hope Spirit of Sykes

AN EXCLUSIVE HITS DIALOGUE WITH CITY OF HOPE "SPIRIT OF LIFE" HONOREE AND VH1
PRESIDENT JOHN SYKES
BY TINA CLARKE

FOR THOSE WHO FIND THE FUNDRAISING DINNER CIRCUIT A TEDIOUS AFFAIR, THE CITY OF HOPE's gala October 16th soiree at City Walk in Universal City, CA honoring VH1 President John Sykes with its "Spirit of Life" award should be a pleasant surprise. Sykes, who is overseeing the black-tie festivities, is doing everything he can to ensure "party" is an active verb.

Breaking with tradition, Sykes decided to create a theme for the event which would not only serve to remove him from the spotlight, but would take the event's focus back to the music industry which has supported the Duarte, CA-based City of Hope's National Medical Center and Beckman Research Institute so generously for the last two decades. The organization is renowned for its research into battling diseases like cancer and AIDS.

Hence, the creation of the "1996 City of Hope All-Star Garage Band." Inspired by pop music's primal, cacophonous roots which gave birth to some of the most celebrated rock & roll and R&B acts in history, the band, personally assembled by Sykes himself, will include Don Henley, Melissa Etheridge, Sheryl Crow, Bryan Adams, John Mellencamp, Steve Winwood, Tony Rich, Eddie Van Halen, Me'shell Ndegéocello and others, all under the guidance of David Letterman conductor Paul Shaffer. Among the rock chestnuts they will perform are such classics as "I Fought The Law," "Shotgun" and "Gloria."

Fresh from covering the national conventions, Comedy Central's lively "Politically Incorrect" host Bill Maher will serve as MC. Sykes has also enlisted the talents of designer Todd Oldham as creative director and fashion maven Tommy Hilfiger to create special gifts for each of the 1,200 lucky attendees.

In addition to the gala, Sykes created a one-day roadblock event across all five of MTV's cable networks in association with Ticketmaster to raise money for the charity, which to date, is already over a record $4 million. "Superstar Platinum: A One-Time Sale For Hope" offered viewers the chance to purchase official, personalized RIAA platinum records for some of the top-selling albums of all time. A celebrity memorabilia auction at the Hard Rock Cafe was also staged last week.

This year's dinner promises to be a once-in-a-lifetime event, which is fortunate, because otherwise the affable Sykes would have had to sit still for more excruciating encounters like the one he experienced with HITS' resident adult movie mogul Tina "Not One Of Colin's Sleazy Friends" Clarke.

This is really an impressive honor for you. Tell me a little bit about the charity and how you came to be chosen.

I've tried from the start to take the honor away from me and put it on the incredible music that has really allowed our industry to contribute so much money to the City of Hope. This evening isn't about me, it's about the music and the business that it's built. And helping others less fortunate. Besides, I'm too young and I'm not successful enough to really be honored as a human being.

So how did it happen?

Richard Palmese and I had breakfast in Los Angeles. I really thought it was going to be about a new record or we were going to talk about the business or, as I've joked, how much Clive made last year, but Richard asked me if I knew about the City Of Hope. I said, absolutely, I go every year. He said, "Well, we're looking for someone to honor this year." And I said I'd try to come up with a list of some people to give to him. It really came out of left field. In the beginning, I just felt like maybe it wasn't right for me. I'm too young; I'm not successful enough. I always saw it as an honor bestowed on true legends, more of a lifetime achievement award. When I learned I could do whatever I wanted, I said, if you're now looking at a younger generation of executives to consider honoring for these events, then we ought to put our own mark on it and that's exactly what I did for this year's event. And what I did this year was make it not about me, but about the music. And the charity.

Won't your name still go on the research fellowship?

The event is the "1996 City Of Hope All-Star Garage Band" and my name is at the bottom in small type. The real focal point of the evening is this one-time-only performance by a dozen incredible musicians covering some of the great songs that got us here. And raising money for an incredibly worthy cause.

How do you turn a bunch of all-star performers into a garage band?

My feeling is that every superstar artist started out playing in a garage. Every band started out trying to make it from a garage, working hard, aspiring to be the best. Obviously, those who are going to be on the stage October 16 have made it. To me, that's a great metaphor for two things—#1, for the success of music and its ability to raise money for this charity and #2, the spirit and drive of the work that's done at the City Of Hope. It starts from the basics, from the assistant in a laboratory working and working to make it the same way a band does. In my own weird way, I connected the two. On top of that, I thought it would be entertaining to see these great artists kicking around playing covers. I've been to so many of these events and kind of just watched the clock, no matter how great the cause. I wanted to see if I could set a new tone by making people look forward to coming and to give more money. As a result, we've broken all the records for City Of Hope this year; we've sold it out and we're going to pass the $4 million mark, which allows this organization to continue saving lives. You can't buy a ticket.

Any plans to televise it?

It's a closed event that will be taped for posterity, but if you want to go to this event, you better have a friend who has a table.

What was the criteria for selecting the artists to perform?

It was very, very hard to decide who to ask, but it was the easiest booking I've ever done.

John Mellencamp had to be there, given your relationship over the years with him as a friend and former manager.

The first two artists in were John and Don Henley, who are good friends. I'm also very friendly with most of the others. I wanted to choose artists who would get up there, have a great time and do it in the spirit of charity. The best way to ensure that is to ask friends.

Does this mean the artists you didn't choose will think you're not their friend anymore?

I asked the artists I thought would play well with each other. I had a lot of help from people like Bill Flanagan and Wayne Isaak, who both work with me at VH1, as well as Billboard's Tim White. Almost no one turned me down. A couple of people were stuck outside of the country. Sting said yes and then when I moved the date to October 16, it turned out he'll be playing in Vietnam that night.

How did you decide on the song list?

I sent a two-page wish-list to all the artists and they chose which song they wanted or picked one themselves. The songs you'll see performed that evening were all chosen by the artists themselves and they're taking it all very, very seriously.

This is going to be a pretty polished garage band, then.

Paul Shaffer, our musical director, has been talking every day with the artists and he really is getting the sense that they want this to be great. It's not just an off-handed pick-up band... they're very serious about each selection. We've actually sent tapes out of all the songs to freshen everyone's memory. They're ready to go.

Who else are you expecting to attend, aside from the artists on-stage?

We're getting phone calls from celebrities from all walks of life—

"This evening isn't about me, it's about the music and the business that it's built. And helping others less fortunate."

from actors to television stars to the musicians themselves, but this is basically a big night for the music industry. It'll be everybody whom you wanted to make a deal with. Every artist whose contract is up and you wanted to spend some time at the bat with will be there making a deal with another label head.

Sounds like people should try to scalp some tickets to be there.

Or use one of those tickets that your company bought. The record companies and the artists themselves were incredibly supportive, especially the Big Six. They all stepped up and donated a tremendous amount of money, which I was thrilled with because, in these tough budget times, it meant a great deal that they would step up and give so generously to such a worthy cause.

The real question is, how many VH1 Artist of the Month spots have you promised?

I have been told by my friends that I'll be repaying these favors until the day I die.

How did fashion designers like Todd Oldham and Tommy Hilfiger get involved?

When I decided to go to the most creative artists and entrepreneurs I could, almost as subcontractors, to bring this whole event together,

"I wanted to see if I could set a new tone by making people look forward to coming and to give more money."

HOPE GETS SYKED: VH1 President/City of Hope "Spirit of Life" honoree John Sykes introduces the All-Star Garage Band, available to play Bar Mitzvahs and weddings at a mere $500 an hour (l-r) MTV's Andrew Schuon, Universal's Daniel Glass, EMI Music's Martin Bandier, PolyGram's Eric Kronfeld, MTV's Judy McGrath, Sykes, attys. Allen Grubman and John Frankenheimer, MCA Music Ent. Group's Bruce Resnikoff and Zach Horowitz.

I wanted every single aspect to have a brand-new spin, so rather than me deciding what colors the walls should be or how the stage should be designed—since I know nothing about that—I figured why not bring in someone like Todd Oldham, who is one of the most creative people to draw breath. And, like all the artists, he jumped on the opportunity and began sketching on a piece of paper how he would design the ultimate garage band tent, complete with garden hoses, flashlights, old tires and wheel spokes.

So he really got back to his southwestern suburban roots?

He got back to his garage roots. And Tommy Hilfiger makes great, sporty clothes. I figured, what a great gift to give our guests, something put together by Tommy Hilfiger, so he's involved. Ken Ehrlich, who has done all our "VH1 Honors" telecasts, is a great TV stage producer and he's donating all his time.

Paul Shaffer's taking time away from playing on Letterman's show to come in and rehearse the band. On top of that, we have one of the most exciting comics to break through in the last couple of years to MC the event in Bill Maher. What better time to have Bill Maher, with the election only a couple of weeks away? America has just seen him really shine covering the Democratic and Republican conventions, so he is right now in his prime.

It will be fun to see him in an uncensored environment.

He will be uncensored and unfiltered. I'm really thrilled because I feel every single aspect of this event is unlike any other that has been done in the past. Again, the main reason is to bring a different sense of presentation to an event to mark a new generation of honored executives. What I'd really like to reinforce is we're taking the honor off the individual and putting it on the theme the individual can create. Just like my friend Gary Gersh, who is being honored at the Neil Bogart dinner and creating a theme of the "Ultra Lounge" for the occasion.

You've now significantly upped the ante for charitable events.

A lot of credit has to go to Tom Freston for what he did with Eric Clapton a couple of years ago at the TJ Martell dinner by putting Clapton's name on the program. That marked the beginning of a new way that people did these dinners. I don't want people to say, "When am I going to get out of here?" I want them to say, "It ended too early."

There are so many of these dinners every year, you really need a way to make an event stand out to sustain interest.

Absolutely. This business is about excitement and creativity and our events should reflect those feelings because that's what makes our business run.

VH1 has a tradition of being involved in charitable causes and events.

I'm really proud that we have probably raised more money on-air in our history than any other cable network for charitable causes. In the last three years alone, we've raised more than $500,000 for LIFEbeat, more than $250,000 for the human rights group Witness and we just gave a check for $100,000 to the Nina Hyde Breast Cancer Institute at Georgetown University Hospital in Washington, DC. We work very closely with Ticketmaster to produce on-air telemarketing promotions to raise money. Not only is it the right thing to do, I think that's what our viewers want to see. They expect us to give back because that's what society is being called on to do right now. As public programs are being cut more and more every year, it is the private sector's responsibility to give back. If the government isn't going to keep us together, as we were promised when we were children, then we have to step up and pick up the slack. And for those of us in our business who make much more money than anybody in any other business out there, I really believe it's our responsibility in the big picture with the Big Guy upstairs.◆

THE HOUSE THAT ROCK BUILT: The City of Hope National Medical Center in Duarte, CA, will use the $4 million plus they'll receive from this year's "Spirit of Life" dinner honoring John Sykes to install cable TV for all patients that only receives VH1.

"I don't want people to say, 'When am I going to get out of here?' I want them to say, 'It ended too early.'"

DESPERATELY WANTING: What a week. I guess my brain is already on vacation (my body will soon follow next week) because I'm feeling even more inarticulate than usual. Not that I would call the current state of PoMo radio worthy of anything resembling poetry.... In classic "Catch 22" fashion, some of the best music I've heard all year is being released in the next few months, just as radio has shifted its primary focus from programming to securing somewhat-familiar talent for its annual X-mas whore-out-the-bands-Fest. After absorbing the record labels' and artist managers' criticism that radio has no business playing promoter, the programmers obviously got the message because now they're letting their INDIES broker their shows for them. We've even heard of a case where a PD called another PD who had already booked a band that HE wanted, to see if the second PD would give up that band for the first PD, without telling even the record company that he was doing this! I still think a "cover band" is the way to go. Maybe there's still time to find one with a singer who looks like a cross between Shirley Manson and Gwen from No Doubt.... Sean Robertson has been given the PD nod at WENZ.... Lenny from WQXA is the new MD at WXDX.... The beautiful and talented Gina Crash has left WMRQ to return to WHFS, where she'll be handling the "night shift." The promo that "HFS is running heralding her arrival is absolutely hilarious.... Tod Elmore has been laid-off from Atlantic Records. You can e-mail him with your job offers at ElmoreT@aol.com.... Congrats to WXRK on their latest trend: 3.0 - 3.4 12+, 5.5 - 6.4 18-34!.... Two of my favorite new albums (besides the new Counting Crows, of course) are Fountains Of Wayne on Tag and Flamingoes on Big Pop. 99X added "Radiation Vibe" from the Fountains record this week and Alexa Tobin has also been very vocal in her enthusiasm. Of course you already know that Adam Schlesinger from the Fountains is also in Ivy AND penned the title song from the Tom Hanks movie, "That Thing You Do!" The Flamingoes are from the UK and like the Fountains Of Wayne are a completely brilliant pop band. Both bands have the EXACT SAME PHOTO on their album covers which is, as Alanis would say, "ironic" (which is what she says when she really means "coincidental").... Speaking of that which is familiar, don't you always sing "Lady Madonna" to the Sublime song? Doesn't the new Lemonheads song sound just like Paul Westerberg's "Dyslexic Heart?" As if you care.... So, Fiona Apple sold more than 10,000 records this week and a bunch more of you in PoMo-land are figuring out a way to play this record (a gold star this week for KTCL, XHRM, KDGE, WFNX, KITS, WMAD, WGRG and 99X!).... Fun Lovin' Criminals sales went way up this week! We finally saw the video (we had been too busy catching up on episodes of "Relativity") and wow, are these guys babes! Almost at the level of Duncan Sheik or Steve Blatter, even!...KCRW, KITS and WFNX are also playing the totally fabulous Morcheeba record. Check out "Trigger Hippie".... One of our favorite records of 1996, Kula Shaker's "Tattva," is getting added EVERYWHERE!!! Universal Records has signed Space (speaking of our favorites of 1996). "Female Of The Species" is a mind-bogglingly genius song!....This just in: Gary Spivack is moving to NYC to be the new Sr. National Director of Alternative Promo at Atlantic Records!

Just one day after his birthday, the universally adored Damon Grossman was laid off from the dissolving Tag record label. Told on a Tuesday morning it was his last day, he put off cleaning out his desk to keep track of the Lemonheads and Fountains of Wayne adds pouring in from PoMo radio! It's that determination that has made Tag's Gary Spivack look good all this time! You should also know that Damon is a great cat-sitter, a gifted percussionist on some exotic instrument we can't spell, and he's particularly good at answering his phone: (310) 452-6356.

or Grass?

Time to go into orbit with Man... Or Astroman?'s
Birdstuff by John Fortunato

Landing his slightly damaged spaceship in New York's Lower East Side, Man Or Astroman? drum manipulator and spokesman Birdstuff gets ready to enter the Z Bar for an intoxicating session. As the door to his spaceship quietly slides open, Birdstuff takes on human form while we try to prevent electro-active radiation. He warns of the impending takeover of Earth.

Hailing from grid sector 23-V6-1, both Birdstuff and bandmate Starcrunch perplex and manipulate earthlings with bizarre guitar-dominated surf music. Apparently Starcrunch could transform his alien DNA structure into zippo lighters with the image of Dr. Stephen Hawking or survivalist militia cavalry from Atlantis. Along with cybernetic life form Coco The Electric Monkey Wizard—a Theremin, gizmo and sampling genius who was built by Starcrunch and Birdstuff in space—Man Or Astroman? have released six full-length albums (including the Florida concert recording "Live Transmissions From Uranus!") plus 22 singles. Their latest excursion, "Experimenting Zero" (Touch & Go), takes their futuristic sci-fi attack into extra-terrestrial boundaries, creating a musical Mystery Science Theater for earthlings and aliens alike.

Their next album is tentatively scheduled to be the perversely Bolshevik "Cosmonaut Capsule Music" and may be produced by Cracker's David Lowery. So drop some acid and expand your brain, Man Or Astroman? has arrived and are ready to conquer the universe—as HITS' own Twilight Zone inhabitant John "X Files Is My Life" Fortunato discovers their monumental tome, "To Serve Man," is really, egads... a cookbook!!!

Tell me about the exact science of Man Or Astroman?

Concentrating on complete world devastation. We have no empathy for Armageddon business. Our main goal is just to get off Earth after we're the house band at an apocalyptic party. We're going to launch off from Alabama when we get the parts to our spacecraft. The hyperstellar over jump is finally working. That was a creation of Cocoa The Electronic Monkey Wizard, whom I share a brain cell with.

When will Man Or Astroman? take over Hollywood?

We'd like to, but the movie "Independence Day" scared us off so bad, we ran out of the theater with our alien heads between our legs. But Joel Hodgson of "Mystery Science Theater" supposedly caught our show at the Troubadour while we were out there.

What earthling musicians would you recommend to fellow aliens?

The Ventures, Joe Meek, the B-52's, the Tornadoes and kooky space sounds which will grab their attention. And Dick Dale—who speaks of himself in the third person—seems to have entered a new dimension already.

Which current Man Or Astroman? song deserves immediate radio transmission?

Using the notion of propaganda to its fullest, we're hoping "9 Volt," which actually has vocals audible to human ears, will brainwash humanoids. We also have a brand new 7" which folds out into a flying saucer: "UFO's And The Men Who Fly Them."

How accurate are "The Twilight Zone," "Outer Limits" and "Star Trek" concerning galactic outer dimensions?

People thought these sci-fi shows from the '50s and '60s were campy jokes. But they're very accurate depicting space life. I don't know how earthlings figured it out without going into space.

We must be geniuses.

That is not the case.

How do you travel?

By current power consumption theories on Earth, space travel is impossible. But being that I'm in gaseous form, I have a higher capacity for travel. Only Sun Ra and James Brown have figured out the complexities involved. JB said he didn't think everyone went down with the island of Atlantis. He became the first man to be played in outer space. He woke up the Mercury astronauts with "I Feel Good."

How do you take on human form?

With the earth's temperature and gravity, we're existing in solid state, but we look better in gaseous form.

Is there life on Mars?

We stopped by to make Astro flyers on the copy machine en route to touring outer space. But Cocoa was playing with the machine, sticking his face on it, so now everyone on Earth seems to think there's a face on Mars.

Which galaxy is Man Or Astroman? from?

We're from Grid Sector 23 - V 6 1. It's an arduous task being here as superior beings subjected to mankind's idiocy.

What do you think of America's upcoming election?

Bill Clinton has the more alien forehead and seems to have more cranial capacity than the competition. But these minor, trivial elections don't matter since I'm apolitical and have plans to destroy the planet.

Will politicians face the worst wrath?

Everybody on Earth is considered disobedient due to the sheer ignorance of humanity. There's such a vast distance between astro species and human species. The sad thing is, earthlings won't have the chance to evolve into what we have become. 1999 will be the final year, but we have to be hush-hush about that.

What novelists on earth are worth reading?

Philip K. Dick wrote a book about precognitives and how they relate to a world of scionic powers and extrasensory perception. But we're dealing with a small percentage of the population which understands this, so it obscures reality.

Who is this cyborg Clixon mentioned on the new album?

He's someone we met before we made it to planet Earth. He had a strange rule in which anything he repairs he keeps. Which got us into a little trouble. Our song "Cyborg Control" is about regaining ownership of our equipment.

Why has Man Or Astroman? released so many singles and albums?

We thought bands had to put out one record per year. But no one told us when to start. So we thought, since it was 1993 when we began recording, we needed to make 1,993 records to catch up. But all of our records are actually a form of electro-magnetic radiation. Whenever we get within a certain distance of each other, records are produced. We don't have to go in a studio. I only wish the amount of records we put out was in better proportion to what we've sold. ♦

"I have such a strong family life, when I look around at people who don't have that, it's appalling to me."

"I've been compared to every new female singer that's come up in the last two years."

How would you describe "Veiled"?

If I had to describe it, I'd say stripped. Honestly stripped. Five years ago, I wouldn't have been able to write the same thoughts and lyrics I wrote this year. I've become more honest with myself and other people, whereas five years ago, I wouldn't want to admit to a lot of stuff. But I'm not scared anymore.

To what do you attribute this newfound appreciation for the truth?

I see the honesty and genuineness in people now, and I know when other people are holding back. I want people to believe what I'm saying, so that means not holding back. If I'm talking to you and you're telling me about something that happened yesterday, I'm going to know from listening and looking in your eyes if you're concealing something. That's the sort of honesty I was shooting for with my lyrics. I really made a conscious decision to be honest.

Has this helped you in your personal life?

Yes. I will not let myself deny things anymore. I now deal with problems immediately and don't allow myself to ignore things. I can't pretend something didn't happen. I don't think it's good to suppress things. Songs like "It's Alright, It's OK" and "Problem Child" are about dysfunctional families. Are you writing from experience?

To be honest, I have the best family I could ever ask for. My parents are together, I love my sisters and my brother even managed me earlier in Leah Andreone is the very picture of childlike wonder as she slurps on a popsicle and stares into a monitor on the set for her video "It's Alright, It's OK." The location is a suburban Los Angeles neighborhood reminiscent of "The Brady Bunch"—an appropriate locale for a singer who enjoys examining the complexities of family life in her songs.

Unlike most jaded rock newcomers, Andreone seems downright grateful for the opportunity to make records and videos. Where many pop singers nowadays feel it necessary to feign detachment, Andreone shamelessly expresses her aspirations for stardom. "I really want this record to succeed," she admits.

One feels a similar sense of wonder listening to Andreone's RCA Records debut album, "Veiled." Written entirely by Andreone and producer/collaborator Rick Neigher, the disc features 11 songs, ranging from Beatlesque rockers to introspective ballads and Sly Stone homages. Lyrically, Andreone specializes in stream-of-consciousness prose that is both revealing and distracting. An acknowledged product of a good home, her lyrics about dysfunctional families don't always ring true.

All of which makes "Veiled" a flawed but fascinating debut. And though the album has its weak spots, there is no denying Andreone's tremendous potential, which she completely frittered away by wasting an hour with HITS' own ink-stained wretch Bruce Britt "En On The Wind."

my career. So my problems don't stem from my family life. But I have watched other people's family life erode. "Happy Birthday" is about a baby being born, and it's the question of whether it's going to be one of the kids who gets taken care of, or a kid with a sense of self. It's about being the product of another human being, and either watching other human beings self-destruct or better themselves.

I have such a strong family life, when I look around at people who don't have that, it's appalling to me. What have you discovered about yourself in the last year?

That there wasn't that much to be scared of. Things aren't that bad if you come to grips with them. One of the songs on the album is called "You Make Me Remember," and it's about an abused child. I was abused by someone outside my family, and they contributed to who I am today. So, in its own way, everything has its positives.

How were you discovered by RCA?

I was going to school in San Diego, and I had finally gotten interest from another label. So I moved up to L.A. to investigate. I got a job at a restaurant in Hollywood when I heard a table of people talking about the industry and how there wasn't any new talent around. So I asked the owner of the restaurant if I could drive home and get my demo tape. I drove home, and as the guy was leaving, I handed him my tape. It turns out the guy was Skip Miller, and he was with RCA. He came back the next morning and asked where he could see me sing. He came to a show I did in L.A. After my performance, he asked me if that was the best I could do. My response was, "Yeah, actually it was." And he said, "Yeah, I think it's the best you could have possibly done, too." Then he asked how I felt about a record contract, and he offered me a deal that night.

And how did you meet your collaborator, Rick Neigher?

Well, Skip actually didn't stay at RCA and I got a new A&R guy, Dave Novik. He gave me the names of a few producers, and after I met Rick, I just stopped there. I didn't want to meet with anyone else.

We instantly started talking about music, and I could tell he had an extreme passion for it. I liked the way his head worked and there was no pressure. It was an instant musical attraction.

Some might compare your relationship with Rick to that of Alanis Morissette and Glen Ballard.

I've been compared to every new female singer that's come up in the last two years. I mean every one. It humors me more than anything, because the thinking is really simple and shallow. Actually, I think there are more male artists you could compare me to than female singers.

Like?

Well, Elvis Costello for one. He's so complex lyrically and emotionally. When he's singing, I get an idea of what makes him laugh and cry. I get that with John Lennon, too. I listen to him sing "Mother," and I hear him screaming these emotions through his vocals. I also grew up listening to Aretha Franklin. She was a big part of my childhood. I think I got a sense of how to let go vocally from her.

You seem like a highly intuitive person. Does that serve you well in your songwriting?

Most definitely. I know immediately when I get that perfect line. I go with my gut writing and I don't second-guess or reconstruct sentences after I've written them down. And I don't mince words. ♦

When you wrote the songs on "Tragic," did you think about actually playing them live?

Hell yeah. I think we've gotten a lot more creative, and we know how to do cool shit without it being so complex. Having greatness in simplicity is really important in music, because simplicity makes something easy to grasp.

The songs seem to be very bleak.

There's release in these songs and that's what has to shine through if you're going to understand what this record is about. It's a very reactionary record. These songs are lyrically heavy subject matter, but the end result is a release that people don't have. They end up killing their cousin, or going into McDonald's and blowing everyone's heads off. We have to get in touch with our feelings. A lot of people say, "Chaka, is it cool to say that out loud?" The fact that you asked that means you thought it; otherwise, it would be just anything else.

Everybody has thoughts and fked-up feelings that come to mind which have to be suppressed, because otherwise we're going to kill each other. So we have to say, "I'm not even going to think about that. I'm going to wipe that thought from my memory. I'm going to make believe that never happened."

With these songs, you can sit down, dig on a record and let this type of energy get out of you in a positive way rather than being fking destructive.

The song "Gun To Your Head" is pretty powerful.

People think that song is really, really fked up. And if you think that song is fked up, you have to ask yourself why you think that. Because I'm not fking saying anything specific there. You have to look at what associations you're making and why. And why do you think they're wrong.

What do you hope your music does for your fans?

That it helps to get them through the fkin' day. The purpose of music is to let people know it's gonna be OK and to keep going and wake up the next day. That's what music did for me.

"Muted" has a great intro line:

"Life's a bitch and then you're gone." That sort of sums it all up.

Actually, my life doesn't suck right now, but I've never been a super-happy kid. I was just writing some new shit the other day, and I was listening to the lyrics and I was like, "What's your deal? Can't you write anything happy?" Right now, I don't see music as this happy thing. I want to just portray honest emotion. Sometimes honest emotion is happy, but mine not so much. I have a good time, but I can't write happy shit. Do I want to? Shit. What do you think? Maybe I just have this super pent-up shit against my third grade teacher or something.

Or my baby-sitter, or some shit.

Your first single is

"Failure," a catchy song that sounds pretty depressing.

There's a good message in its bleakness. Sometimes I don't like things that are overly good. I like the super heroes who are almost a little bit evil in their goodness.

The song is like me, talking to myself almost. The song is about this girl named Cathy. All the while we were hanging out, she was in a super good mood. And I can get in a bad mood—I'm a really emotional person. So I started seeing her for awhile and all her goodness, and her smiling, and her funniness, not giving a fk about anything, just rubbed off on me. And it made me such a better person. That song is about me looking back on myself at a time when I was like, "Fk whatever. Life sucks." Wallowing in my own pity. Now I see people doing that and I can't tolerate it. It's how I was, and it's how I see a lot of people still acting. I just learned you've got to relax and try to be happy. It's so much easier to be happy than it is to be an asshole, to be a grumpy, old person at a young age. What I found is there's not always a solution to everything. You can't always try to figure everything out. Life isn't math. It's supposed to be fun. I'm gonna try to be successful, do what I have to do, be a good person, and live however long I want to live—whether it's until I'm 30 or until I'm 95. But in that time, I'm going to make sure I'm in good spirits.◆

ORANGE Crush

Time to ready, aim and fire
with Orange
9mm's Chaka
Malik by Jennifer Clay

Orange 9mm

has been through a lot of changes this past year, but, as vocalist Chaka Malik would say, it's all good.

First, they were moved from East/West to Atlantic Records, which turned out to be a positive switch as Atlantic seems to be making the N.Y.-based band a priority. Then bassist David Gentile left the band and musician/student Taylor McLam stepped in to fill his shoes. When it came time to record their follow-up to 1995's "Driver Not Included," McLam was still in college, so guitarist Chris Traynor played most of the bass parts, too. Then, after the record was finished, Traynor left the band and McLam moved to guitar and bassist Chris Vitale signed on (in-the-now-non-Spinal Tap seat is drummer Matthew Cross). Confused? Not to worry. As Malik says, "The lineup changes have been nothing but positive and not really even an issue."

So what is the issue? The super sonic sounds of Orange 9mm's

"Tragic" (Atlantic). And it is all good, so don't let the title fool ya—it's a joke of sorts. (And putting out "Failure" as the first single is certainly one of those reverse psychology things that's sure to succeed).

This in-your-face blast of adrenaline and emotion was achieved through the spontaneous recording of producer Dave "Barkmarket" Sandy. With the intention of simply recording a demo to hear the completed songs, Orange 9mm and Sandy spent the day at Excello studios in Brooklyn. The result was much more than they expected and they found they couldn't duplicate that same vibe for the "real" recording session. Songs like "Fire In The Whole," "Tragic" and "Gun To Your Head" actually came from the demo. "We recorded all that shit that day for a grand," Malik says. "This record could have been the $1500 wonder."

Over some Starbursts and Gummi-bears, Malik talked with HITS' own mis-firing pistol, Jennifer "Dice" Clay, about "Tragic" and not-so-tragic concerns.

APM PROFILE

Paula Cole. This time last year, Paula Cole joined Melissa Etheridge for the all-female, star-studded "VH1 Duets." Not bad for a performer who, despite her '94 APM hit "I Am So Ordinary," was left to tour in support of Harbinger virtually label-less when Imago folded. But that's the kind of fiery spirit this Rockport, MA, Berklee School Of Music gal she is. She refers to herself as "picky" and cites Aretha Franklin and Kate Bush as vocal inspirations. For her Warner Bros. release, This Fire, Paula takes over full production duties, showing amazing growth from the days when she was once quoted saying, "I have a lot of ideas, but I'm actually really horrible with the gear." Record in stores October 15th.

APM PICK

Matchbox 20 "Yourself Or Somebody Like You" (Atlantic/AG): Blasting through the canned giddiness of their Disney World hometown, these five guys dunk their instruments into the murky Orlando wetlands and surface with a bracing pop-rock debut. Rob Thomas' defiant baritone charges through songs like "Long Day," embracing pensive introspection ("I'm terrified of no one else but me/I'm here all the time/I won't go away") while still rocking out to a mighty hook. The scorching guitar riff in "Real World" and oboe-accentuated wistfulness of "Back 2 Good" show why the band blows away the Counting Crow comparisons and are poised for their own distinct greatness. APM MUGS LEATHER GAL, TEDDY BOYS: What does pompadour troubadour Brian Setzer do when he wants to create a little shuck-n-jive atmosphere at The Mountain? He cracks open his Price Club vat of Brill Cream and lets the role playing ensue. Pictured here after finally determining their roles of Kenicki, Slim Dunlap, Pinky Tuscadero and Squiggy are (l-r) Interscope Adult Rock Director James Evans, Setzer, KMTT Station Manager Chris Mays and MD Dean Carlson.

IN LIKE FINN: With less than a month to go before the national elections, Discovery Records thought the Finn Brothers would want a little taste of the American political system. After loading up with popcorn and Schaffer beer and watching the Presidential debates, the elder Finn said, "We don't have TV bits like this in Australia. When two candidates want to have it out, we just dress them in khakis, put them in the Outback and let them roll around in the dust awhile." Here, displaying all the personality of vegemite (just like Bob Dole would) are (kneeling, l-r) KSCA PD Mike Morrison and Discovery's Rene Magallon; (standing, l-r) Discovery's Cary Baker, Cindy Paul and President Syd Birenbaum; Virgin Megastore manager Steve Vertel, and brothers Neil and Tim Finn.

GOD-FODDER OF GRUNGE: The good citizens of Columbus opened their arms big and wide to welcome Reprise vet-rocker Neil Young into Ohio, a state just recently able to tell the difference between flannel and plaid. Young, who had been asking around all day for "a big fatty" only to be directed time and time again to a group of Buckeye linebackers, finally found relief backstage. Holding in the indo are (l-r) WWCD PD Jane Purcell and Marketing Director Randy Malloy, Young, WWCD Promotion Director Steve Grisson, Reprise local Tim Hearst and WKLC PD Mike Rappaport.

MOST TOASTED By Julia Trainor

THINK OF TOMORROW: The political cartoonery surrounding the debates this week had me recoiling from the television on a daily basis. Headphones and my September 67 record provided the only respite from the nonsense. There aren't any of "The American People" who still want a guy who uses the word "Bozo" to be President, are there? Didn't think so. Anyway, I'll be throwing a whole lot of random thoughts at you today (like shouldn't Bob Dole hire Blinker The Star to play with him on the campaign trail?) and I just hope they will all sink in..... As we say goodbye (for now) to Damon Grossman as TAG officially folds, we hold our breath for what's about to come. It's not just TAG and Lava biting the dust, but some MAJOR shakeups at Atlantic proper are happening even as we write. In the APM format alone, there are close to ten projects being worked, and given the current skittish atmosphere, it's amazing Atlantic field staff and Bonnie Slifkin can maintain sanity. We hope the fact that Matchbox 20 blew away Alanis Morissette sales at the Florida-based Peaches chain helps her crack at least a little smile..... Favorite Counting Crows track in case you really care is "Mercury," but I also love "Monkey" just because it mentions Ben Folds in the lyrics..... Let's hear it for Wilco (yay!), 150 seconds of perfect pop rock that gets Most Added honors. Listen to "Outtaste"'s counterpart, "Outta Mind" and tell me it doesn't sound just like the opening of the "Sesame Street" theme song! (Read more of these soundalikes in Ivana's column). Which brings me to a point. It's great that we all have flawless musicologist's ears—y'know, that we can hear music influences and even pinpoint riffs lifted from other songs. But what's with radio's sudden snobbery about playing records because "they sound too much like so and so"? It's almost infuriating that a great song/artist could be ignored with that excuse. It's why some programmers were slow to get dog's eye view (sounds like the Counting Crows), Edwin McCain (Hootie) and the Wallflowers (Tom Petty). If you catch yourself thinking it today, maybe you change jobs and become a music journalist or something because you're overthinking your listeners. On that note, I sure wish someone would release that Once Blue song "Stardust & Snow" in time for the holidays. Rickie Lee would approve, I swear..... Thrilled beyond words that Bruce Warren is back on the air 8-11 p.m. with a cool new/old music specialty show. Also excited to hear that WXPB broke records when they brought Steve Forbert by during fundraising week. His playing and pleading brought $5,000 in 60 minutes, an amount some commercial stations would salivate over. Guess that's what happens when you've spent years devoted to developing (core) artists in your market. Ditto Shawn Colvin with KFOG, Wild Colonial with KSCA (this is a GREAT record!), Amanda Marshall with KFXD..... Welcome Trip Simmons, who joins the panel as his WDBJ flips Top 40 to APM. MD announcement forthcoming..... Did anyone see the "A" rating for Susanna Hoffs in "Entertainment Weekly"? Your audience did..... Vote for these records, they're good for "The American People": Michelle Shocked, Utah Phillips & Ani DiFranco, Boxing Gandhis and David Grow. Trust me, trust me.

WILD COLONIALS

Play them or we'll send Dole to sweat on you.

MY SO-CALLED COLUMN By Caeri Bertrand

FREEDOM OF CHOICE: The indie rock chart pictured here is a representation of what music freaks, like you and I, play when they have a choice. This is the only chart that tracks both specialty shows at commercial alternative AND the finest college stations in the U.S. It's one way of taking the pulse of the "tastemakers": commercial djs trusted with a blank log and college-types, all music fans removed from most record promotion who play what they like, or want, or think is important to their listeners. When you see hundreds of people like this independently playing Girls Against Boys or Nerf Herder enough to chart here, finding the next big thing isn't rocket science... GvsB played a star-studded Viper Room show last week (Courtney Love is blonde again) and, as always, were on fire!... I am choosing to see all of the eight sold-out Descendents shows at the Whisky this week. Last night's opener was incredible, even though I was run over by a bouncer as soon as I walked in. At least it allowed me to whine, "Oh, my nose!" The single "I'm the One" is on KROQ after spins from Rodney, and it's already number one in indieland!... Rodney has a question: in light of the continued lust for 80s music, where is Adam Ant? Last we heard he took ill in Mexico. Call me if you know... Keep an ear to the street with my new favorite fanzine, Scram (PO Box 461626 Hollywood 90046). The Spy Jazz article in No. 5 is brilliant, and that piece on Mortuary Cosmetics—I'm fascinated! Sealants, concealers, lasting lip color; really no different than reading about make-up in Allure... Mammoth is completely dedicated to breaking Pure! I have loved Pure's "Anna" and "The Hammock" since they were first released in Canada... Morcheeba is the best of the great trip-hop-dub music from the U.K. This band manages to capture that hypnotic sound and mold it into a real song for radio, "Trigger Hip-pie"... If you'd like the sound of a caffeineated His Name Is Alive, you'll love Nashville's Toy Bean. Write 2101 Belmont Blvd, Nashville 37212... METAL MOLLY IS NOT A METAL BAND! They're quirky pop from Belgium... Jane Jensen is gaining fans like Nic at WDST and Rick at WXSX. Rick is crazy about this debutante Trent Reznor... Last I wrote about Matt Munro, he was a guy with good taste and no gig. H.e.'s now behind the on-line picks of programmers: modrox.com... SO-CALLED HYPE: 60 Foot Dolls, bt with Tori Amos, Candy Butchers, Cubist Blues, Morcheeba, Silver Jews, BanYan (Mike Watt, Nels Cline, Money Mark and Stephen Perkins), No Depression fanzine. I work hard so YOU DON'T HAVE TO!!! That's your freedom and my choice... Please FAX your college radio and commercial specialty show lists for charting and this column to (818) 789-0259.

DORK DISCS

Yatsura "We Are Yatsura" (Primary): The newly christened Yatsura packs a brilliant white light and white heat. Where VU left music is right where Yatsura picks up the songwriter's torch. "Siamese" rants like a band mantra, but they open fire on "Kewpies" and "Plastic Ashtray," both previously released on EPs. The Scottish quartet playfully waves toy guns at banana peels ("First Day"), uzis at indierock ("Phasers"), and sleep-inducers at Soundgarden ("Black Hole Love"). Yatsura picked up VU's torch and threw it into their own volcano. (C.B.)

Rex "C" (Southern Records): When whatever it is you're taking warns you, "Do Not Operate Heavy Machinery," perhaps you should instead lay back and put this on. It's akin to Palace with Crazy Horse backed by a string symphony. It's the opposite of operating heavy machinery. It's like cradling a butterfly in your hands. A frail, plangent crooning over deliriously languorous mood pieces. Rex is the singular moment autumn's scents first overpower you, and you stand astonished while realizing that a year has passed already and now again here comes the fall. (Camden Joy)

DORK WAX

Kincaid "Cool Jets Baby" b/w "Plot #36" 7" (Kindercore Records): The first single on this Athens, GA label is from a shockingly great pop outfit called Kincaid. It's a four-boy, two-vocalist parade of all of the reasons you buy vinyl: that exciting sound of the needle finding the first groove, the band winding up to the first hook, and the relentless succession of song delights sifted through that popping stylus. If you like Olivia Tremor Control, send $3.50 to Kindercore, PO Box 461 Athens, GA 30603. (C.B.)

Deche Dans Face "Merry Dickmass" b/w "Jim Cole" 7" (Sub Pop): Remember being part of the Sub Pop Singles Of The Month Club? Every month some candy-colored single would arrive bearing a name that you didn't know that was about to change the world of music. Every time you were blown away by some incredible new supercharged sound, and had to play that little 45 over and over. Recapture that exact feeling with Sub Pop's release of Deche Dans Face. Mais oui, mes amis! (C.B.)

DORKS ON FILM

MAYFAIR? MAYFLOWER? MAYFIELD!: That's our favorite superhero Superfrank (center) calling Curt Smith's new superpop project all kinds of wrong names. The charming and brilliant Curt patiently endured questions about his Mayfield project (label bidding war on now!) live on the Superfrank-owned Channel Z Radio Network from the Museum of Television and Radio in NYC (which Superfrank may also own). A certain superdorky Indie Rock Editor from HITS Magazine is on the left.

DORK OF THE WEEK

MATT SMITH

The Man

London Records, Los Angeles

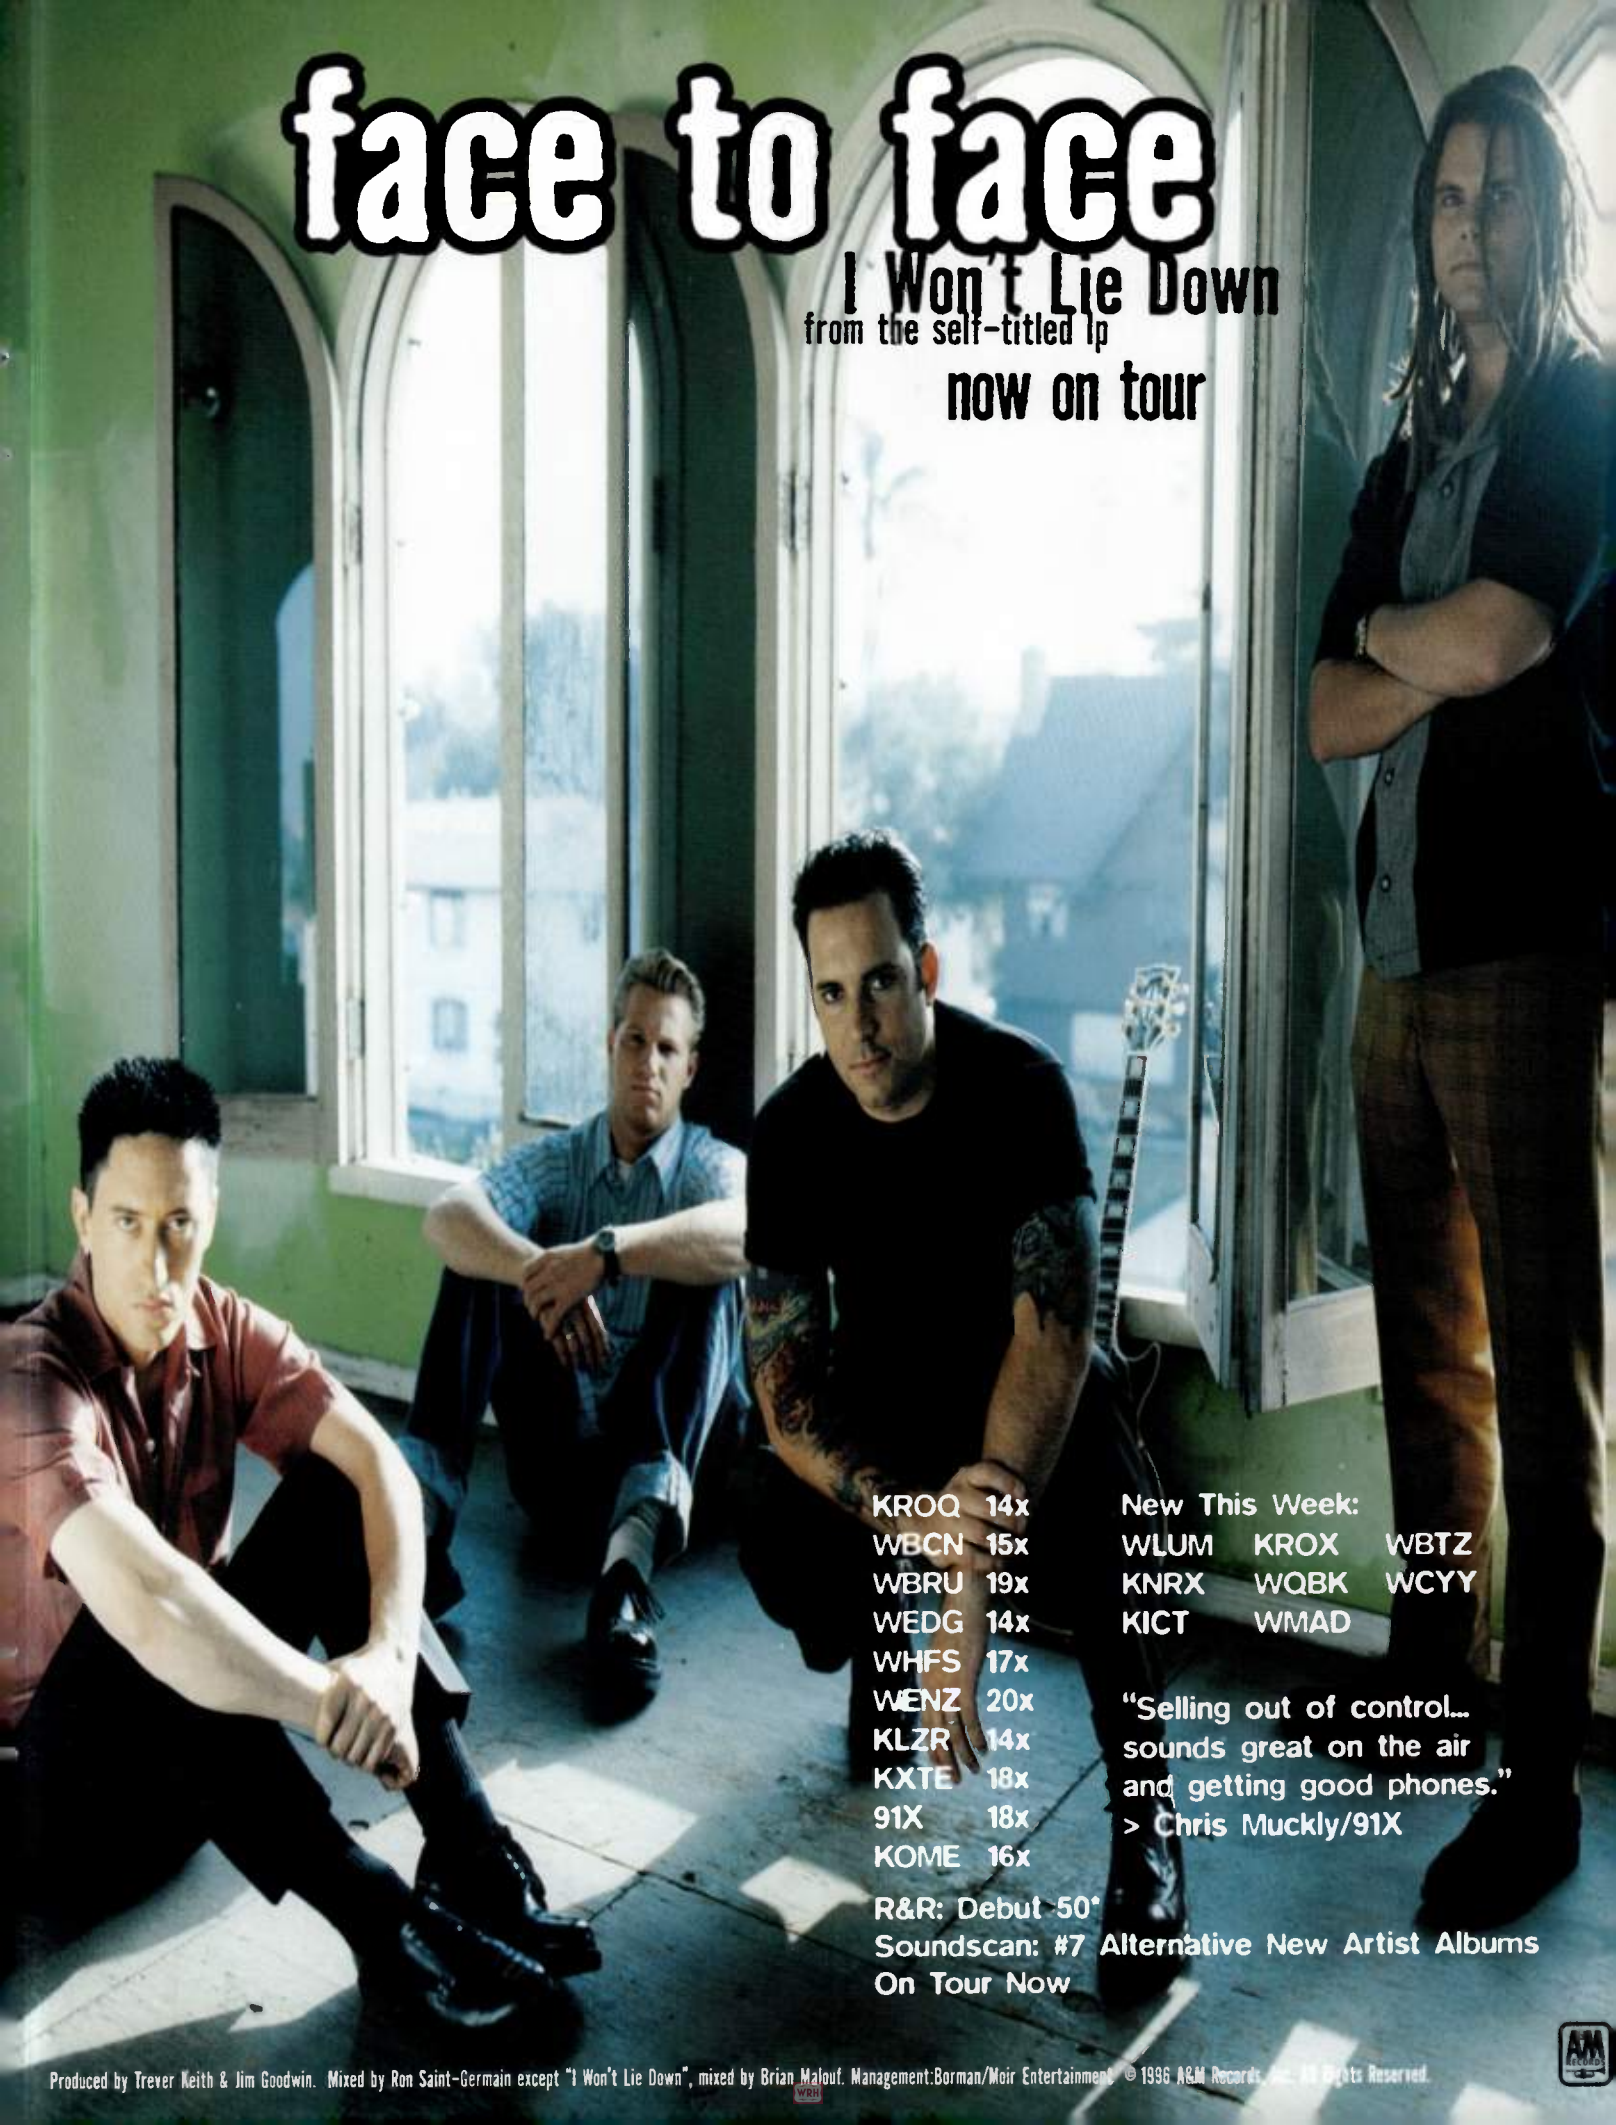

Matt is our choice for "dork" this week for a few reasons. He just successfully moved his L.A. office, and it is so close to a certain dorky house that he could go walk the dog on his lunchtime. (Please?) Matt isn't taking many lunches, though, because he's so dedicated to breaking Orbital in the U.S. he's working all the time. Matt is known for his club attire and exceptional taste in electronic music, but he's very eclectic (note the Descendents listed below). Here is Matt's top ten on a moment's notice, records "that will never collect dust":

1. Public Enemy "It Takes A..."
2. Naked Raygun "Vanilla Blue" 7"
3. Special Ed "Youngest In Charge"
4. Depth Charge "Nine Deadly..."
5. Grateful Dead "American Beauty"
6. Dave Wallace "Expressions" 12"
7. Descendents "Liveage"
8. Outside "To Forgive..." 12"
9. Orbital "Orbital 2"
10. Ministry "The Land Of..."

"IN REALITY, [RECORD COMPANY EXECUTIVES ARE] ALL 50 YEARS OLD WITH HAIRS GROWING OUT OF THEIR NOSES. DISGUSTING!" HELEN STORER

WHITTE GIRLS

ON PUNK

TIME FOR SOME CREAM IN YOUR COFFEE WITH FLUFFY'S AMANDA ROOTES AND HELEN STORER BY TOM LANHAM

Because they loved rock & roll and had a blast hanging out together, the four girls from Fluffy—a gruff, Suzi Quatro-cool combo from London—were always enduring boyfriend put-downs, the most common one being “Butch Slags.” As in, says singer Amanda Rootes, mimicking her ex’s husky huff, “You’re going out with those butch slags again? They’re a bad influence on you! You’re going out wearing that?! You’d better be home by this time!” Such sneering slams birthed not only the Fluffy concept—women with big, phallic guitars behaving badly—but such early numbers as “Husband,” the girls’ nasty nickname for possessive males and “Hypersonic,” an ode to the UK’s most popular model of vibrator. And they even put a scary photo of one on the sleeves, just to get the point across.

So it’s no surprise that “Black Eye,” the band’s full-length bow for Tom Zutaut’s new label The Enclave (with both “Husband” and “Hypersonic” tacked on), fires off more noisy rounds than a drunken Annie Oakley. Fluffy gets its guns on mean little three-chord anthems like “Scream,” “Crossdresser,” “Dirty Old Bird,” and the self-explanatory “I Wanna Be Your Lush.” And when they sit down to discuss the disc—decked out in miniskirts and platform-heeled boots—the Fluffsters are in perfect scrappy character. Coffee has been served in the small San Francisco taqueria, along with cream in an old ketchup squeeze-bottle. “Hey! Who does this remind you of?” smirks blonde bombshell bassist Helen Storer, as she squirts cream straight into the air, spattering it across the table. Rootes goes into hysterics. So do guitarist Bridget Jones and drummer Angie Adams. Seems they all know about this poor “cream” chap and his apparent problem. Which underscores the Fluffy message—any guy brave enough to venture into their camp can, if captured, expect no mercy whatsoever. Even though HITS’ own white-flag-bearing Tom “Hurt Me” Lanham offers complete surrender.

Four girls playing punkish rock and roll. A big deal in Britain or a big mystery?

Helen Storer: I don’t think England gets us because they kinda don’t get the...

Amanda Rootes: Irony!

Helen: Yeah, the irony. They don’t get the whole theme that we’re into—it’s such an issue. Over here, people go, “Yeah, they’re a cool band—they’re into CBGB’s and the New York punk scene.” Whereas, over in England they’re like, “What was CBGB’s? We’re only interested in anoraks, baggy trousers and birds.” You know how they all dress, these “lad” bands. And we come on and we’re called Fluffy and we’re four girls and we play loud punk and we’re wearing boots and miniskirts and they’re like, “What’s this?” They don’t know what to say, so they give us shit. It’s quite cynical in Britain.

And wasn’t staid old England horrified over your risqué “Hypersonic” single?

Amanda: Yeah, and I don’t see why, really. It’s the ‘90s. It seemed like a normal thing to sing about, but everyone was really shocked by it. And it’s only in England that they’re selling these vibrators in brown paper bags. Still, the Hypersonic is the best-selling vibrator in the country. And with songs like “Cheap” and “Husband,” so many women come up to us going, “God, I really like that verse ‘I feel so cheap,’” because so many women go through that. Your lonely teenage years where you sort of do things you don’t wanna do because you were young and getting sexual experience and you just feel really cheap about it. And our line, “Your girlfriends know you better than him”—a lot of girls get that way with their boyfriends. You just can’t relate to him; he’s like an alien. So you go hang out with your girlfriends who understand you a lot more.

“THE HYPERSONIC IS THE BEST-SELLING VIBRATOR IN THE COUNTRY.” AMANDA ROOTES

What kind of sexism have you seen in the music biz?

Helen: There was this one photo session for a big magazine. I turned up in jeans and so did Bridget—we were wearing trousers, but it still looked rock & roll, there was nothing wrong with it. But the photographer was going, “Where are those pretty little dresses that you put on? Show a bit more tit!” He was obviously thinking, “All I want are pictures of pretty girls so blokes will open the magazine and go,

‘I wanna shag those birds!’” And it was comical, so we started laughing. He was outrageous, but he was so famous he just didn’t care. But most men seem intimidated by us, especially the young ones. They timidly come up to us after shows, going, “C-c-can I have your autograph?” They don’t think we’re easy at all.

Amanda: Fluffy say no! Fluffy say no to everything! Just say no, say Fluffy!

But you’ve had a few creepy A&R experiences.

Amanda: The Japanese restaurant!

Helen: Omigod, the Japanese restaurant!

Amanda: We had this A&R guy there, and we were talking about dick size. So this guy took off his wedding ring and threw it on the table and said, “So girls, how ‘bout it? Seriously?” And we know his wife, so that was really disgusting. And then there was Jean Paul. We were with someone from a record company, and they said, “Come meet the chairman.” And this guy opens the door and says, “So! Lait mee kees you! Lait mee kees thees preety girls that a-make such preety museek!” And we said, “Fk off,” and left the building gagging. They’re only generous because they’ve got really big expense accounts, and they think that if they flirt with you, that they’re so handsome you’ll sign with them because of their “good looks.”

Helen: But in reality, they’re all 50 years old with hairs growing out of their noses. Disgusting!

Jeez! Is there anything good about us men at all?

Amanda: Men are great! We love men!

Helen: We’re talking about dickhead men, not all men. It’s only a small minority of men who are shits.

Amanda: Ah, if only we had a man...

Helen: ...Right now!

Ahem. Yup, sure is lucky for you there aren’t any around. Ahem.

Helen: Uh... we... um... didn’t mean it like that. You’re a... um... journalist, right? So you’re, uh... neutral, right? ♦

There are those who struggle throughout their lives to produce tangible proof of the art within their souls. On the other hand, to the utter consternation of those people, are the naturals.

Blinker The Star is possibly grating evidence of the latter. Until recently, the band was just Jordon Zadorozny, a 23-year-old native of Pembroke, Ontario, which is about 100 miles north of civilization. Being so isolated, he needed something to do, so from the time he was 12, he's been writing and recording music on a four-track recording studio his parents gave him, hoping perhaps he would follow in their footsteps as renowned fiddle players in Canada.

With his second release, "A Bourgeois Kitten" (A&M), Jordon brought in bandmates Colin Wylie on drums and Pete Frolander on bass, whom he met playing hockey. Their major-label debut is rife with faintly disguised influences, including one track, "Bluish Boy," that's the best song the Pixies never made.

Blinker The Star make immediate guitar-driven music, warts and all, that revels in its melodic foundations. It's energetic, slashing lo-fi fare that owes as much to Kurt Cobain as Lou Barlow, that refuses to get mired in just one place or the other. They've delivered an ambitious release that touches a number of favorite things without leaning too heavily.

"A Bourgeois Kitten" stands as further evidence that there's something major going on north of the border, and that it may never be too early to start living vicariously through your children. HITS' own terminally adolescent Scott "Live If You Want It" Wilson climbs into the sandbox with Blinker prodigy Jordon Zadorozny.

TIME FOR A NOD AND A WINK WITH BLINKER THE STAR'S JORDON ZADOROZNY BY SCOTT WILSON

"IF MY MOM HAD IT HER WAY, I'D BE MAKING ASHLEY MACISAAC RECORDS."

There are obviously going to be some comparisons between Blinker and Nirvana.

I guess so. It's my voice, and I can't change it, so... sure, there's a little bit of that, and the grunge thing I guess, but I wish people would talk more about the Cure. It's more interesting to talk about at least. The song "Earmen" is a direct sort of, um, steal. That's the oldest song on the record. I wrote it when I was like 17, and we decided to re-do it.

There were songs on your independent release that were exceptional. Why not redo some of those?

Because it was already out. There were people at the record company who wanted us to do that, and asked us if we would because there are a couple of songs on that first record, if redone, could be potentially radio-friendly singles. I just wasn't into doing those songs again, probably because the stuff on the first record was so old. It had been recorded from about 1990. That's a long time as far as songwriting goes. I had written a lot more songs that I was excited about recording.

I like that you're brave enough to leave the mistakes on the record, not to polish it up.

I completely disengaged myself from the record when I decided to put it out like that. I am just happy it's coming out. It's just a little slice of what I was, and there it is encapsulated on a little compact disc... I like that.

So it's an aural snapshot of what was going on at the time.

Exactly. We brought in Ken Andrews, the singer and guitarist for the band Failure, to produce it. Our former manager was a big fan, and whenever they came through Montreal they'd exchange tapes, smoke pot, whatever. Through that, I got a copy of their new record—which just came out—over a year ago and loved it. We went on a little tour, and ended up in Los Angeles, and Ken asked if we'd like to come over and record. It was a lot more adventuresome than what we'd been accustomed to.

Your parents are fiddle players?

Yeah, there was always music around the house, so there wasn't much need to rebel. Maybe my parents weren't into Hüsker Dü, but that was about all. Of course, if my mom had it her way, I'd be making Ashley MacIsaac records. She's been telling me since I was 13, "Now, I understand that you're into all this crazy rock music, but what you've got to do is incorporate traditional Irish, Scottish and Canadian fiddle music into your crazy music, and I'm telling you the kids will go nuts for it." Then Ashley sold big here and she's so justified now. She gives me these knowing little winks every time he comes on Much Music [the Canadian MTV].

Why do you think Canadian artists are making such great music?

It's probably because they're left alone to do what they want. American stardom seems so out of reach to most Canadians that they don't even think about it, and so they can do what they want. By the same token, I find that major Canadian labels are a lot more conservative than American ones. They won't take any chances with whom they sign. They certainly weren't interested in us. There are several good bands in Montreal right now, like Tinker, which I used to be in with Melissa [Auf Der Maur], who's now the bass player for Hole.

Your music is very schizophrenic, really all over the musical spectrum.

I'm glad we made this record. It's the record I've had in my mind for the last five years. I've been doing the lo-fi thing for ten years or so, and I really wanted to make a record that had possibilities... to be able to screw around with production and have some fun. I would like to continue to make records that don't sound the same all the way through, but I think the next one may have less rock foundation. I like the band Noise from the '70s, who Stereolab ripped off so much from. They just reproduced stuff completely, but they didn't even touch upon most of the really interesting things they did. I also like the mood of "Faith" by the Cure. The Beatles are my greatest influence for sure, so who knows where we'll head next? ♦

POST MODERN

POMO PICKS Edited By Karen Glauber

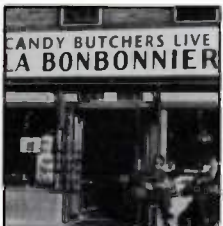

Fountains Of Wayne "Fountains Of Wayne" (Tag/Atl.): Partners Chris Collingwood and Adam Schlesinger have tapped into that rare pop-song space where melody, harmony and rhythm meld to form a perfect, cohesive whole. Schlesinger, who has gained recognition recently for penning the title song to Tom Hanks' "That Thing You Do," has a knack for the natural hook, while Collingwood's distinctive, Beach Boy-redolent croon fits the songs' clever, often amusing lyrics just right. "Radiation Vibe," "Leave The Biker," and "Sick Day" are especially strong selections. Sure to make a splash. (Jon O'Hara)

Flamingoes "Plastic Jewels" (Big Pop)

Yes, that is the same boy on the cover of the Fountains Of Wayne record! Identical twin brothers Jude and James are as cute as the underoos boy and as take-charge with pop music as his raised fist. "Disappointed" is a heroically molded radio hit, and by "Teenage Emergency's" tragic harmonies and "Scenester" you'll be pretending to fly. In the way Britpop sneaks up on Americans and kicks us hard (Kula Shaker, Heavy Stereo), the mischievous crown princes of pop called Flamingoes just taped a new "kick me" sign to your back. (C.B.)

Candy Butchers "Live At La Bonbonniere" (Blue Thumb): Supercool New York duo Mike Viola and Todd Foulsham trade in the kind of rocking grooves, sweet harmonies and probing lyrics that make thinking about life almost enjoyable. Lead singler Viola, who has gained notice recently for singing pal Adam Schlesinger's title song to Tom Hanks' "That Thing You Do," has an endearingly grainy voice capable of carrying a heavy emotional cargo without seeming weighed down by it. This EP (soon to be followed by a full-length album) is a sweet slice indeed. (J.O.)

Zumpano "Goin' Through Changes" (Sub Pop)

From the fairytale home of perfect, moment-defining music where Bacharach, Zombies and the Walker Bros. live comes Zumpano. Leader and drummer Jason Zumpano is a legend in his native Vancouver for his masterful (read: demanding on musicians) musical vision. His "Sylvia Hotel" is an unexpected classic, "Behind The Beehive" would burn a hole through the coldest of hearts and "Broca's Ways" shines as bright as any sunny, harmonized song from "Pet Sounds." Zumpano will change unforgiving minds and hearts about the state of PoMo pop. (C.B.)

POMO MUGS

LEANING TO THE LEFT: Engaging in a bit of election-year political activism, KTBZ PD Cruze, Virgin recording artist Kristen Barry and KTBZ MD David Sadoff spun themselves around mercilessly until they were ready to spew, thus duplicating the physiological effects of late-race partisan rhetoric. Having had enough of "The Great Debate," the dizzy threesome stepped outside "The Buzz" premises to form a grass roots coalition and forget they ever got involved in the first place. And they didn't inhale.

TWO KINDS OF COOL, FOUR KINDS OF LAME: While trapped in the REV105 studios in St. Paul, presumably on some sort of humanitarian mission of mercy, Paul Westerberg (3rd from r) and Michael Bland (l) suffered the indignity of having to stand in the midst of a bunch of stone-washed denim-wearing radio nincompoops pretending to be cool enough to lick their boots. Shown mixing with the easy affability of oil and water are (l-r) Bland, REV 105 MD Shawn Stewart, PD Kevin Cole, Westerberg, REV 105 DJ Thorn and Reprise's Richard Wood.

HUNKERING DOWN FOR MORTALITY: While milling about the halls at KROQ, members of Sebadoh and KROQ staff worked themselves into a deep, deep funk of despair after briefly discussing the state of the world and the viability of their favorite music. Before long, the group sank to the floor, muttering "It's over... it's over..." repeatedly until they passed out from sheer hopelessness. Shown waking up refreshed and ready to do it all again are (clockwise, from left) Sebadoh's Lou Barlow and Jason Loewenstein, KROQ MD Lisa Worden and programming assistant Diana D'Amato, Sebadoh's Bob Fey and KROQ's Gene Sandbloom and Jed the Fish.

Corrosion Of Conformity

Takin' it to a new level of dominance!

DEEP-FRIED: After the F-Festivities last week, I'm toast. Stick a fork in me, please. I'm feeling way over-cooked and I need to release some steam! PSSSSS! The way I feel today, I'm not sure if it was worth it or not!?! Lots of shows and parties; you know the deal. You can see a few pics from Saturday's festivities at the HITS hardcore party on the following page (worth a look). The last few weeks I've really been feeling like we're in crunch time, with regards to the time of year (4th quarter), the amount of records out now (countless), and the barrage still to come before Christmas, expectations on these projects, etc. Certain promotion staffs are feeling overwhelmed right now (as they should) and expected to break bands that don't have a shot, because of prioritizing at the label and the competition with stablemates for air-time. With release schedules as they are, it's ridiculous to think that the attention to detail (on a per-band basis) can be initiated and then maintained, especially for new baby bands. I don't want to say this, but from a promotion standpoint, there are too many bands being signed to give each one a real shot at breaking. More isn't necessarily better.... Now that that's off my chest, we can move forward to things that are happening now, like the new Soundgarden (A&M) single, "Blow Up The Outside World," which is raking in the adds. Spins from early believers are moving into heavy rotation already with big support @ KILO, KUFO, WAAF, WRIF and WLZR. ZOO's Tool explodes @ retail this week with 148K over the counter.... Our old pal (former KRAD PD) Jay Gleason lands this week in Greenville, SC as MD at new Active Rocker 93.3 The Planet (WFMQ). Jay is a great programmer with an ear for fresh music. Congratulations, guy! Capitol's latest, Stir, with their radio single, "Looking For," keeps gaining major-market attention as KDOT, KUPD, KCMQ, KILO, KRZR and others continue to prove to the rest of the panel that this band rocks. Atlantic announces some live dates for STP here in the LA area, while their radio single, "Lady Picture Show," continues to pick up speed with a new add @ KISS, and big spins being reported early @ KLOS and WIYY. Speakin' of WIYY, their '98 Rock Fall Music Fest is on for 10/19. Tons of great bands like Gravity Kills, Cracker, Tonic, Expanding Man, Nixons, etc.... Vinebuzz: Jessica Harley, Bush, New ScKool Records, Hollywood party @ Bar Deluxe. GeEk aDdS: Face To Face, Stir, Corrosion Of Conformity, Failure. E-mail your thoughts to me @ surfpunk@earthlink.net. TRUST this!

TWO FULL STACKS AND A MICROPHONE: Was it worth the wait? This year's new and improved (?) F-Fest got mixed reviews. Some people missed the "stranded on an island" feel of past conventions, saying that it was hard, if not impossible, to catch many of the bands they came here to see. But others enjoyed the sense of adventure and getting to see more of the lovely City of Angels than in the past. My personal highlights were the hot, sweaty and lascivious Danzig listening party where the crowd of industry vet skeeves were treated to naked people getting their asses burned with cigarettes. The Bloodlet show was good. Strife cancelled that night because their crowd wasn't welcome. Abscess were asked to leave because of some bloody vomit or something. Man Is The Bastard were crusty and cool. Neurosis blew minds once again. But the final straw that broke the camel's will to stay clean was the HITS/Relapse/Victory party. Strife and their loyal followers were awesome. So were Mindrot, Stanley, Bred On Deception, Inhale and Plow. Implant sort of sucked, but they played a short set, so people clapped anyway. Thanks go to Munzie, Gill and Willie K. for keeping the beer flowing 'till about 3:00 AM. Anyone going to NXNW this week, gimme a call. C-ya there.

Kickin' 1220's David Caudillo Captures Fresno With AM Power

KQEQ KICKS!

Fresno, California, with a population just under half a million, is the 65th Arbitron market, home to both Fresno State and Fresno City College. It is also home to KQEQ-AM, known here as "Kickin' 1220." There is no High Density Black Area (HDBA), but there is a High Density Hispanic Area (HDHA). Agriculture is still the leading industry. At one time, 83% of all grapes raised in America were grown in the Fresno valley. No point to that, just thought you'd like to know. Despite the fact that there is no direct competitor to go up against it streetwise, dance-leaning Top 40 KBOS-FM (B-95) comes close. According to the Spring Arbitron survey, KQEQ had a 1.4 Average Quarter-Hour share 12+. Add the fact that KQEQ only operates 14 hours (6:00 am-8:00 pm) a day in the urban format and their early success on AM is even more remarkable. KQEQ's aggressive music policy, high-profile promotion stance and street-smart personalities have made "Kickin' 1220" a perennial music force for urban radio in Fresno. As is often the case, the person in charge of programming wears three hats. That person is David Caudillo. He is the PD/MD and does a full air shift. After talking to JAMZ VP Jerry Boulding recently, his fourth—and fulltime—job will be staying awake.

station whose focus was R&B. When Al Perez bought KQEQ, I became program director.

How would you describe the format of KQEQ?

We play lots of old-school R&B with current stuff. It's really a mix of soul oldies, old school, rap and modern R&B.

Does being an AM music station have drawbacks?

Yes, but because we're an AM station, we attract an older audience, many of whom grew up listening to AM radio. In the mornings, there is a stronger concentration of gold and re-currents. In the afternoons, we go to a mixture of oldies and some '80s rap. We play rap songs that other stations won't play. That's when the kids are listening. Great music is great music, regardless of whether it's on AM or FM. What we're playing are proven hits.

Does KQEQ have plans to extend its hours?

Before the end of the year, KQEQ will move from its current 1220 frequency to 1210. At that time, we plan to go 24 hours and we will also increase our power.

What's in the future for you?

I want to continue to work in radio and we're looking forward to expanding our hours and our signal. That way, we'll reach more listeners. I also want to continue to work with young people here in Fresno. We have an opportunity to get positive messages out. I want to encourage them to stay in school and avoid gangs.

Briefly trace your radio career path.

I was born and raised in Fresno. I got into comedy, entering and winning poetry competitions and rapping when I was in my teens. I once toured with "Friday Night Live," an anti-drug group, and eventually became a d.j. on country station KTAA-FM's "Cosmic Kat Radio." I also worked as "Wise Prince D" at "Jammin' 94," a kind of school-based training

Doctor's In

As we move into the third week of the Fall book, we've got some prescriptions guaranteed to get you as excited as a call from "The Free Money Honey." By the way, that contest will be 30% more effective in building new cume if you do "dial-out" instead of "designated caller"... First, two new huge crossover kuts hit this week. The first one to call-out and research through will definitely be En Vogue's "Don't Let Go (Love)" (EastWest/EEG). There's an incredible remix available and sharp MDs like V-103 Baltimore's Lorenzo "Ice T" Thomas, who's also now in the "air chair" at BET, sez: "It's red-hot for us!" Dual-format faith in these funky divas has really exploded. No need to test or research to validate this. Talk to your consultant. Help him hear En Vogue, and don't be surprised to find some of these tempo-based AC "Star" stations coming to the En Vogue party early. Michelle Madison, VP/Promotion for Elektra Entertainment, a woman with strong radio roots, is convinced their loyal fan base is not only back, but growing. En Vogue's already building cross-demo audience for WEDR, WOWI, WJHM, KPRS, WHUR, WKYS, WJTT, WHRK, WVEE, WKKV, WPLZ, WZHT, WJTT, WGZB and WJN... The second crossover track this week is Kenny G's "The Moment" (Arista), which is not only the perfect urban adult song, it's also developing into one of everybody's favorite kuts. Stations like market-leading WEDR Miami, where James T is rolling it in full rotation, are now being joined by WXYV, KPRS, WZAK, WHRK, WILD, WKKV, WDAS, WILD and WWIN. Here's a little Kenny G show prep for you: A lot of your listeners will remember his performance, considered one of the emotional highlights of the first night of the Democratic National Convention, when he played a special tribute to former Secretary of Commerce Ron Brown, who was killed earlier this year in Croatia. Early album sales indicate he's still a huge favorite with audiences of all ages, colors and genders... Da Brat's "Sitting On Top Of The World"

Elektra's Michelle Madison: In Vogue With En Vogue

Tony Toni Toné Tune Up For Radio 10/28

(SoSo Def/Columbia/CRG) is about to prove once again that a rap hit is a hit first and before falling into any other categories. This was the second Most Added single last week. What is provisionally significant about this kut is the fact that initial reaction from radio is unusually strong from male demos in what is usually a female-driven format. Recent WEJM Chicago PD Monica Starr, who just accepted the PD role at WMXD-FM Detroit (See Juice), is already up to 25 daytime spinz a week. She was one of the first to feel Da Brat's power. Other out-the-box believers include WQOK, WEDR, WOWI, WHTA, WGZB, WKKV, WKYS, WJLB, WGCI, KMJM, WIZF, KJMS, WUSL, WTLC and WVEE... Now a little preview of a new "wonder drug disc" that will be available from Tony Toni Toné, titled "Let's Get Down" (Mercury). We heard it, and if you're looking for a head turner, you've gotta have it. So save a spot on your playlist the week of October 28... Don't sleep on Goodfellaz's "Sugar Honey Ice Tea" (Avatar/A&M). Early indications are they've got the flava to sweeten those sour playlists... Another early cut that radio is already requesting and playing despite its scheduled 10/28 add date is SWV's "It's All About U" (RCA). RCA's Michael Johnson commented that the song "is getting positive reaction from KKBT Los Angeles APD Maurice Devoe, who describes it as 'an old-school beat with a new twist. You've picked the right one.' We're getting positive reaction from KIPR Little Rock, WFXE Columbus and KNEK Lafayette."

James Boyce adds: "We're planning on using the title in various marketing plans for radio and retail. Incidentally, the video is ready to go, and it's hot!"... Finally, we've been telling you about Me'Shell Ndegéocello's remake of Bill Withers's timeless classic, "Who Is He And What Is He To You" (Maverick/Reprise). The 28-year-old, when asked recently in an interview for Entertainment Tonight about her goals, replied: "My goal is to be sincere. I love playing music. I'm still in the joy phase. I get to go and make records." Art Mobley and the "pumpin' posse" at KMJM Phoenix are up to 37 weekly spinz, and Lankford "The Man" Stephens at WZAK Cleveland is up to 44. There's simply no doubt that when decisions in music meetings come down to tracks with the most potential, this song is frontline. Ndegéocello is also sparking major spinz at WHUR, WGCI, KKBT, WCDX, KMJM, WKKV, WDAS, WMMJ, WXYV, KPRS, WGZB, WVAZ, KJLH, KXOK, WROU, WJZA, KJMS and WILD. Kathy Brown put "Who Is He..." right on WWIN Baltimore... Word!

WHEN IT RAINS: The Fall album release onslaught is on, and with it, enough material to keep the ears happy. The Originoo Gunn Clappaz, whose single "No Fear" b/w "The Storm" is making noise on our rap charts, will release their debut album "Da Storm" (Duck Down/Priority) later this month... L.O.L.'s new album "Heaven Or Hell" (Franchise) will also be out by Halloween... Remember all those ubiquitous K-Tel Records commercials from the '70s? Well, the label has dusted and polished a number of titles for the CD generation to re-enjoy. They include "K-Tel Classics," "Believe In Music," "Dynamite," "Music Power" and "Out Of Sight," each a mix of pop, funk and R&B that'll make ya yearn for those platforms and afro picks, not to mention Muhammad Speaks... New L.A. Lakers superstar/rapper/actor/entrepreneur Shaquille O'Neal has formed T.W.Is.M. Records, a new label that will be distributed through Interscope and promoted and marketed by Trauma Records. The first signee is a sister act, S.H.E., but the first release will be O'Neal's "You Can't Stop The Reign." Incidentally, "T.W.Is.M." means "The World Is Mine." Ain't that the truth!... Speaking of world domination, Babyface's album, "The Day" (Epic), will be available 10/22. The album was recently previewed for the trades and, not to belabor the point, but Babyface will finally get his due as an artist with his poignantly simple, yet effective, takes on love and relationships... THE BEST: Al Jarreau's "Best Of Al Jarreau" (Warner Bros.) will be released 11/5, while Chaka Khan's "Epiphany: The Best Of Chaka Khan" (Reprise) will be released just before the Xmas crush... BOTTOMLESS WELL: Columbia Records' jazz roster is a definition of the genre since its beginning, when the Original Dixieland Jazz Band recorded what is believed to be the first jazz album in 1917. The label, through its Legacy/Jazz arm, began reissuing its supreme catalog several years ago to a rousing response. It's not hard to understand, with a roster that includes Miles Davis, Thelonious Monk, Bill Evans, Chet Baker, George Benson, Duke Ellington, Louis Armstrong and many more. Legacy/Jazz has reissued Evans' "The Bill Evans Album," Monk's classic "Straight, No Chaser" (with over 25 minutes of new music), James Blood Ulmer's "Odyssey," Weather Report's "Sweetnighter," Betty Carter and Ray Bryant's "Meet Betty Carter And Ray Bryant" and various artists' "The Birth Of The Third Stream." For those even remotely familiar with these titles, you know the quality, importance and meaning of these reissues...

Chaka Khan

Information Update

WMXD-FM/WJLB FM President Verna Green announced the appointment of Monica Starr as the new PD at Evergreen's Urban Adult WMXD-FM Detroit. Starr had been "head coach" at hip-hop-flavored WEJM-FM Chicago, also an Evergreen station. She replaces Skip Dillard, who is now programming WBLK-FM Buffalo. Starr's track record includes a PD stop at KXOK-FM St. Louis and one as an air talent at WPEG-FM Charlotte. Replacing Starr in the PD seat at WEJM is Jay Alan, who, most recently, was the station's APD. Previously, he was Production Director and air personality at WLNR-FM Chicago... Rick Party is the new afternoon driver at Infinity's WVEE-FM (V-103) Atlanta. Party, who comes from WGCI-FM Chicago, replaces former PM drive jock J.B. Louis, who exited in July. Party's start date is November 1... Teri Webb is the new morning personality at Evergreen's WJIZ-FM Philadelphia. She previously co-hosted mornings at Inner Cities' WBLS-FM New York with her father, Ken Webb. Her career path includes stints at KPRR-FM El Paso and WRKS-FM New York... Kevin Metheny will oversee the three Jacor Jacksonville, FL outlets: WZAZ, WSOL-FM and WJBT-FM... Jay Gregory moves from middays on WWWZ-FM Charleston to PM drive, and Alysse Stewart segues from middays at crosstown rival WPAL-FM to afternoons on WWWZ... Tyrone Keys has officially replaced Desarai Downs as PD of WJIZ-FM Albany, GA. He had been acting PD since her departure... Camille Cashwell is out as MD at Radio One's WERQ-FM (92-Q) Baltimore. According to Juice inside sources, this is all part of an austerity move. For now, it appears that Tom Calococci will assume at least some of the MD duties... Motown's Southeast promo rep T. Merritt had an accident while he was in Atlanta. Seems a tree fell on T. and bruised him pretty badly, but he's still operating from his house while recovering... Arbitron now has a 24-hour customer service number, which will be available only to subscribers. GM Pierre Bovard, who used to do research with Coleman Research, says Arbitron already receives up to 2,500 calls a

Lots of interest in the National Black Programmers Coalition (NBPC) Conference, coming up Halloween weekend at the Hyatt Regency in New Orleans. This is also an election year for officers and executive board, so members are urged to attend and put in their voices... At WMJM-FM Louisville, Anjali McGuire has been added to OM Tony Fields' morning-show lineup as News Director. She was previously with WIZF-FM Cincinnati, where she was Assistant News Director in afternoon drive... Jaye Delai slides from KMJQ-FM Houston to team with Ray Ray from WYOK-FM Mobile for mornings at WBLX-FM Mobile, while former morning host Jimmy Mack exits... Former Motown VP/Sales & Marketing Oscar Fields bows with his long-anticipated new label, Nina Records. Hank Caldwell, most recently with Dick Griffey's Solar Records, will be President. The label will be based in Cleveland... Disney Chief Michael Eisner was a guest last week on ABC's "Tom Joyner Morning Show"... Jive Records artist E-40 will be inducted into "Tha Hall Of Game." The ceremony is expected to take place in the San Francisco area this fall. Joining him in support will be K-Ci of Jodeci, Too $hort and Tha Luniz... Arista's Deborah Cox has just gone Gold with her self-titled first album. Her new single will be "Sound Of My Tears," scheduled for release later this month. Shown congratulating her on her achievement is Arista Records President Clive Davis... From the Juice rumor department: Is it true that KACE-FM Los Angeles PD Kevin Fleming may be headed to Atlanta for a corporate position with Cox Broadcasting? Stay tuned... At WEAA-FM Baltimore, PD Lawrence Shorter announces that former "Friday Night Jazz Club" host Monica "India" Johnson will segue to middays... Chris Pringle, former RCA Records National Director of Street Promotion, moves into fashion at Shabazz Brothers Urbanwear. East Coast Killa!

Bow Down When I Come To Your Town: Atlantic's Just O says Lil' Kim will be on a promo tour, swinging thru the South, Texas, Virginia, North Carolina, Chicago and California, so get those posters ready!... Last week was filled with adventure as Noo Trybe's Do Or Die and Mercury's Chuck D visited the HITS offices and hooked us up with a little impromptu performance. Then Columbia's Tyesh Harris swung through Los Angeles with Da Brat that night at the Paradise 24 nightclub and met up with some deejays from Rap Radio... CHART CHECK: Lotsa debuts this week, most notably the Westside Connection "Bow Down" (Priority). Rod Edwards must have promotional skills from another planet, because it's not a secret that it's hard to get underground radio to play West-type records. Yo Yo's "Same Ol' Thang" (EastWest/EEG) enjoys a re-entry into the Top 30, due to an increase in heavier reports, while more than 2,000 point totals make The Roots "Concerto/UNiverse" (Geffen) the #1 song...

Top Five Signs You've Gone To A Bad Convention:

1. Badge is valid only on odd-numbered days.
2. Sweating contest between Mr. Choc and Latin Prince.
3. Wack panel: "Klingon Radio and Servicing Problems."
4. Hotel deal fell through, so they're having it at an interstate rest-stop
5. The Ricky Leigh Mensh impersonation contest.

Speaking of conventions, please check out the RapSheet convention info on page 103 of this magazine... INDEPENDENTS' DAY: Is it me, or is there a new trend with rap radio deejays not only having a hip-hop show, but also helping with promotion for small indie labels (and doing a darned good job at it)? If you look up at the top of the page, you'll see that the Jigmastas are Most-Added, thanks to WNYU's G-Man. And even though Natural Resource aren't on the chart yet, their 12" single "Baseball"/"They Lied" is making plenty of noise with the help of KWUR's J.Grand. If you are looking for either of those records, give G-Man a shout at (212) 726-3687 and J. Grand at (314) 935-5952... CH-CH-CHANGES: Loose Cannon Records is no more, which is kind of a bummer since the Meaner and Paula Perry records were just starting to take off. Greg "English" Jones deserves another chance, so call him at (718) 802-9533 with an opportunity... At KKBT/LA, former KZSU DJ Kutmasta Kurt will replace Emz on The Joint... And HITS Rap reporter Tony Tone is now AMD at WZFX/Fayetteville... Bake A Mean Salad: Carmelita Sanchez, newlyweds DJ & Mrs. Toast, Jackie Paul, Randy Ward, Kwame and Ray Tamarra, the Chino XL of promoters...

BOW DOWN: Ahh, those wacky folks at Priority Records! The hazing owner Bryan Turner puts his minions through is enough to make us at HITS a tad jealous. He's taken Westside Connection's "Bow Down" to the next level and sent a memo through the offices stating it is now mandatory to bow down in his presence. Seen sucking up to the boss—as usual—is Michael "Smoov" Cole, who's been bucking for a raise. Keep up the good work, Mike. It may work in time.

IF I RULED THE STRIP: Rapper NAS (c) is sandwiched between two Las Vegas high rollers, KCEP-FM PD Louis Conner and Columbia's Ken James. NAS was in town in support of his smash single, "If I Ruled The World." While there, he jammed with Don Rickles, Frank Sinatra and Wayne Newton, proving that rap has universal appeal. IN THE MIX

IN THA MIX

BY RICKY LEIGH MENSCH

UN-CONVENTIONAL.... In my short search thru tha minimal amt. of brain matter I possess, & after extensive (yeah right) research, I feel, along w/many of my cohorts in tha mix, that there is a proliferation of conventions that has strained relationships bet. DJs & tha rec. co. folks who usually sponsor these events. Are there too many or are they just poorly scheduled? Alexander Mejia (KMEL): "I just wish tha conferences would communicate better in their timing so that way, everyone can go to each one of them. They're all really good." Felix Sama (WPOW): "We need more for incidentals. We run into complications & sometimes, ya just can't find a Western Union." Steve Rifkind (LOUD): "They SHOULD be planned better. There should be a coalition between all tha conventions to plan them out. Rec. co.'s have to stay w/in their budgets & they are just too close together." DJ Ran (WUSL/SupeRadio): "W/all due respect to everyone in tha industry whom I luvvv so 'dearly & helped make me who I am, I could give a fukkk, I am just in it for tha FREE TRIPS! Really, conventions are great excuses for me to go somewhere glamorous for free & rap face-to-face w/people that I'm kool with. PS: I think there should be a convention every week-&a-half, preferably someplace tropical." Eric Skinner (Jive): "There are just too many wannabe conventions. There should be one hip-hop convention, one R&B, one dance, etc." DJ Law (WOW!): "It wouldn't be so bad if conventions weren't back-to-back. It puts too much of a strain on tha labels. Plan ya shit betta!" G Sharp (WPGC): "Tha good thing is they're gettin better & better, which is NOT a good thing in tha sense that it makes it more difficult for me to decide which one to go to. For me, it's about LOCATION, LOCATION, LOCATION! PS: Cya in Miami. PPS: How bout a convention in tha Virgin Islands?"... BIGGGG congrats to my man Trejo "In My Chevy" (KSEFM), who adds APD to his MD/Head Mixer titles. I woke Bob West during a music meeting w/Trejo for a comment: He said, "Who?" Trejo: "I guess this means I don't have to break in tha buildin no more cuz I'm gettin a key. Gotta thank Mr. Bob West, Rick Thomas (KBZR), Doctor Dave (WPGC), Tony Cox (KMJJ), Chuck Field (550) & you, Ricky. Also, I got plenty of 'placas,' now how bout tha real thing?..." Congrats also for all ya DJs, Jermaine/Byron, et. al. @ So So Def & Columbia as GhostTown DJs goes gold... & to "Boodah Bruthas" DJ "I AM THA" Law/Big B. (WOW!) as their "Live From Tha Hood" is now Fri 10p-1a w/a new show "Tha Booda Spot" Sat 6p-10p spinnin up & downtempo... Ya know, Xzibit's new kut "Foundation" (LOUD/RCA) is a fukkin brilliant record. This NEEDS & DESERVES to be all over tha radio. Don't complain about hip-hop records w/shitty messages/words & not play this... Our man DJ "Lost in Oregon" Lynnwood's (KGGI) 2-day sales on his mix CD—6,000 copies!... Shaq/Biggie's kut (TWiM/Int) w/200 spinz outta tha box mix/regular rotation. Any questions?... Belated Happy B-day Jazzy "It's All Bad" Jim (KYLD), who feels so lucky gettin a DJ Mein mix tape to dub over for his show & becummin a homeowner in Hayward. Ever been there? Bring ya shit, it'll be tha 1st-ever hip-hop farmhouse. Check for Jim's remix of No Mercy (Arista) in a few... It should be unconstitutional to sample EWF, Sly & The Family Stone, Kool & The Gang... W/that, Happy B-daze to Muhammad Bell, "Kool" Papa Bell & former Kool mgr Buzz Willis on tha 7th, 8th & 9th, respectively as well as Luscious "P-layin" Ice (KBXX)... Predicition: Tha "Space Jam" Sndtrk (Big Beat/Atl) for Michael Jordan's flick will be huge. I've heard it. Monstars feat LL, Meth, Coolio, B-Real & Busta 12s as you read. R. Kelly—THA SHIT... Lastly, all my luvvv to Shades, Barbara & Lisa (Motown) for makin my B-day so special...

LATIN PRINCE • KMEL

George Clinton feat. Coolio
"Atomic Dog" (remix)
 Capitol

"What can I say about tha DOGG himself?— Mr. Coolio. This combination of these two wonderful artists and this undeniable hit of a song brings this flashback back to life. Mostly females react to this record real fast, so get on it, BIATCH!" Editor's note: He's STILL EATING!

JAZZY JIM • KYLD

T-Boz feat. Richie Rich
"Touch Myself" (remix)
 Rowdy/Arista

"T-Boz gettin' all tha girlz hot, keepin' all tha clubs & all tha street heads checking for her. And it's only just begun..." Editor's note: Not that I should talk, but is this a DJ who should be doin close-ups? Maybe it's that farmhouse-pose kinda shit? Maybe it's, "Oh no, Mein wants to mix @ 5p today?"

THA BAKA BOYZ • KPWR

Xzibit
"Foundation"
 LOUD/RCA

"West Coast's finest cumms thru boom-bangin. Xzibit has KRAZEE, KRAZEE dope lyrics that hit you like a 40 tha day after. Don't sleep on my man—he's hottt w/this!" Editor's note: How do ya like this? Nick V & Eric V (Tha Baka Boyz) are all excited to travel to Chi-Town to visit tha infamous, tha legendary, tha well-fed Pink House's (WEJM) show. And true to form, here's our man Mr. Pink awaiting their arrival. Photo suggestion by Ms. Courtney Hicks (WEJM).

STEVE PEREZ • KCAQ

Sadat X
"The Lump Lump"
 LOUD/RCA

"This record is off tha frikkken hook. Everytime I put it on, tha phones explode. From Sadat's vocals & lyrics to tha track to tha background vocals, this kut couldn't stay just in tha mix—it had to go in regular rotation." Editor's note: Mr. Perez & his krew just started their 1st live broadcast in tha mix @ tha Harbor Club. Larry V, J Scratch & Steve Ruiz decided to help Mr. Perez dress for tha event. Steve was then promoted to MD. Good, Steve!

DJ RAN • WUSL/SUPERADIO

Dean Phil
"I Do"
 MoJazz/Motown

"Downtempo R&B groove that's a smash hit waiting to happen. This song could get in rotation on any pop, crossover & urban station—NO DOUBT. Dude sings his face off and tha production of tha track will remind you of Babyface. Produced by Al B. Sure and tha same krew that produced LADAE." Editor's Question: Are these luvvlee ladies really admirin tha amazin skills of Mr. Ran or simply waitin for their checks from Club Gothum for this paid appearance in his booth? After All, a DJ's gotta have ladies around, right Mr. Ran?

ALEXANDER MEJIA • KMEL

E-40
"Things'll Never Change"
 Jive

"An amazing record that speaks on tha sign 'o the times. This is pure gut. This record has tha potential to be Top 10 for your radio station. It's along tha lines of Bone's 'Crossroads.' Every demo can relate to this record." Editor's note: Looks like Sway's (KMEL/Wake-Up Show) mornin show partna Lisa Foxx (center) & afternoon legend Rick Chase enjoy tha fact that Mr. Mejia (far left) is not up in time to mix on either one of their shows.

JEFF LEE • WJBT

Case
"More To Love"
 Def Jam/Mercury

"Yea! I feel it! I feel it! Listeners are feelin' it, too. Will increase the spinz on this. There you have it.....I've stated my Case!" Editor's note: If tha 3

DJ STYLE • XHTZ

Luke
"Bounce To The Beat"
 Island

"Here comes anothe episode of tha ass-shakin saga, brought to ya by Mr. Luke himself. Females requestin like crazzzzy for this. Won tha 'Battle Of Tha Jamz' and blowin up on tha mixshow!" Editor's note: Mr. Style's unavailable—Jeff Nelson (Z90) said no pix til ya done cleanin my office, House... So here's what big market MDs live like when they're sleepin thru Pink House's show (l-r): Yo Yo, Mr. Jay Allen (WEJM/MD) & Lil Kim. Where's tha movie?

the foundation

"West Coast's finest cumms thru BOOM-BANGIN. Xzibit has KRAZEE, KRAZEE dope lyrics that hit you like a 40 tha day after. Don't sleep on my man--he's HOTTT w/this." THA BAKA BOYZ, KPWR

"My complements to Xzibit--I refer to him as new age hip-hop or eclectic funk and his rhymes are deep & true--he makes you think." JEFF NELSON, XHTZ

"BOTTOM LINE: Just like any other record, it's not just the beat that's happenin'; it's tha lyrical content that brings tha whole song together, which makes it dope; PERIOD!" JERRELL CRUMP, WJMH

Explosives

THE WAKE UP SHOW, KMEL/KKBT/WEJM/etc.

"It's great to see Sadat X representing all facets of hip-hop. 'The Lump Lump' is definitely a track made to get you on tha dance floor."

G-SHARI, WT'GC

"Tha way he uses Groove Theory in tha track, definitely keeps your attention. Sadat's flow is still on point!"

B-SWIFT/LUCIOUS ICE, KBXX

B-SWIFT: "Tha Groove Theory hook reeled me in and tha beat is bangin'! This is a mix show record everybody here at The Box feels."

LUCIOUS ICE: "What'chu know about that 'Lump Lump?' Sadat X cummin with that Rated X flava that should put you straight on ya back!"

WHEELS & DEALS

BY JOE FLEISCHER

AND NOW FOR THE SHOUTING: The inaugural F-Musicfest is in the books, with most weasels giving the L.A.-based convention mixed reviews. Most frequently, the A&R pros we spoke to cited a shallow talent pool as the primary drawback, while NYC visitors suffered the usual bewilderment that comes from being issued rental cars and road maps. The smart move for locals is staying off the streets entirely during these infusions of Chevy Lumina terrorists. One noted highlight, however, was the home-grown HITS/Victory/Relapse party in NoHo (that's poser for The Valley), thrown by our own Metal/Rock department, which, according to the invitation, featured "drinking, meditating, skating, killing, laughing, skanking, hiding, forgiving, choking, smack-

There were also some pretty killer performances by Strife, Mindrot, Implant, Plow, Inhale, Sippin Insanity and Stanley. And all that nuttiness went down without even a hint of violence, which is more than can be said for the Din Pedals' aborted performance at the Roxbury—a suspect venue under the best of circumstances and positively terroristic on this particular Thursday evening (10/3). The band that is doubtless the biggest buzz on the West Coast was allegedly told during mid set-up by the house DJ that if they didn't leave, he would "shoot them" and "kill them." Appeals made to management and the on-site F-Musicfest stage manager were fruitless. The band then wisely bailed, leaving the dozen or so A&R weasels in attendance (including your intrepid weasel correspondent) to navigate the packed dance floor to the egress. Maybe we all should have dropped some X and gotten to know each other in a more rave-intensive environment. The band will instead draw the same weasel-faithful to the Viper Room in LA this week and to Portland for their North by Northwest show next week as the label derby gets more and more heated... We can't promise the same thrills and spills as the HITS party during F-Fest for the upcoming AS-CAP/HITS wingding at NxNW in Portland on 10/19 at Berbat's Pan, but turn out anyway for sets by Agnes Gooch, the Cunninghams, Junior High, Red Truck and Don Knotts Overdrive and that legendary ASCAP hospitality... Big ups to Leyla Turkkan and Richard Williams, as Halgionians Sloan sign with The Enclave... A&M, Arista, Columbia and Mercury are meeting with EMI Music's Savage Garden this week and next. Will they be the hip-hop icon's first rock signing?... Daniel Glass inks UK gods Space to a North American deal with Universal (the band records for Gut Records in the rest of the world), and is very close to landing some new A&R talent... Lots of heat on the North American rights to former Go Discs! MD Andy MacDonald's new label Independiente and the label's first signing, Travis... Tucson's Blackmoon Graffiti emerges from F-fest with a sizable buzz following their show at Luna Park that turned out the heavies from Warner Bros., Outpost, Red Ant, The Enclave, Epic, Interscope and Universal... Mitch Brody inks Bobgoblin to MCA... BUZZIN': Soulfinger, Olivia Tremor Control, Richard Davies. e-mail: hitslosers@aol.com.

RERAP

BY MARK PEARSON

Musicland has just put, at the very least, a temporary stop to all of the Chapter 11 rumors with an amended bank agreement that "effectively waives all existing financial covenants through March 30, 1997." Instead of having to pay down its debt to $25 million for at least one day between December 15 and February 15, they now only have to reduce their debt to $275 million by December 20 and keep it there through March 30. This gives the beleaguered giant a ton more buying power during the all-important Xmas season. Musicland also announced that it has hired the investment banking firm of Smith Barney "to explore all strategic and financial alternatives to improve the value of the company to its shareholders." Stay tuned... At presstime, Blockbuster Entertainment honcho Bill Fields made the announcement that, in an attempt to increase profitability, they will be closing 10% of their 500 Blockbuster Music stores. Other plans will apparently include adding 2,000 compact disc titles to every Blockbuster Video outlet. Fields also confirmed that they are indeed considering moving their corporate headquarters from Ft. Lauderdale to Dallas... Two retail conventions of note took place last week. Strawberries celebrated for four nights at the Westin Hotel in Providence, RI. 300 people packed the event with performances that included Epic's Amanda Marshall, Trauma/ Interscope's Reach-around and Guardian's legendary Kink, the inimitable Ray Davies. Strawberries also honored the incredible job turned in by the Sales and Marketing team of Steve Berman and Candy Berry (formerly Masengale), naming Interscope the Label of the Year. The choice may have seemed like a slam dunk, considering the massive success of Bush, 2Pac, No Doubt, the Wallflowers, Marilyn Manson and BLACKstreet. But with Death Row's upcoming 2Pac/ Snoop Dogg release, not to mention another Bush and Dre's first on his new Aftermath imprint, Berman and Berry are going to be a hard duo to beat for next year as well... Wherehouse also did themselves proud with a three-day confab at the LAX Marriott, with many attendees getting their first chance to meet some of the new faces in the front office. Some great performances were turned in by Mercury's Refreshments, London/Island's Susanna Hoffs, MCA's Semisonic, Interscope's Low & Sweet Orchestra, Narada's Jesse Cook, Columbia's Chalk Farm, Vesper Alley's Vonda Shepard (through Navarre) and a hilarious stand-up comedy set by WB's Robert Schimmel. Congrats to Bruce Ogilvie and company on a huge success... Berkeley, CA-based Amoeba Records, a staple of the independent retail scene in the Bay Area for the last six years, is going to be expanding into the San Francisco scene proper. Having just acquired the former site of the famed Rock-N-Bowl alley in the Haight, owners Mike Boyder, Dave Prinz and Mark Weinstein will be "grand opening" a store in the 20,000 sq. ft. facility sometime in '97.

Up Interscope

MINI MUGS

ROCKWALK THIS WAY: Grammy award-winning singer/songwriter/guitarist Bonnie Raitt, surf guitar legend Dick Dale and blues guitar pioneer Buddy Guy were recently inducted into Hollywood's RockWalk in a special ceremony honoring the memory of Stevie Ray Vaughan. Shown after the two hours it took to pry their hands and feet from the cement are (clockwise from left) RockWalk Chairman Ray Scherr, Dale, RockWalk MC Jim Ladd, Jimmie Vaughan, RockWalk's David Weideman, Guy and Raitt.

DIVAS ON BROADWAY: Producer/remix master Todd Terry and dance divas Martha Wash and Jocelyn Brown celebrate the release of their hit Logic Records single, "Keep On Jumpin'," by running naked down Times Square to the Virgin Mega-Store. Shown just before they were arrested and charged with public lip-synching without a permit are (front, l-r) Brown and Wash; (back, l-r) Terry's mgr. Gary Salzman, Terry, Logic Director of Promotion Kelly Schweinsberg and Logic Business Affairs Christian Klein.

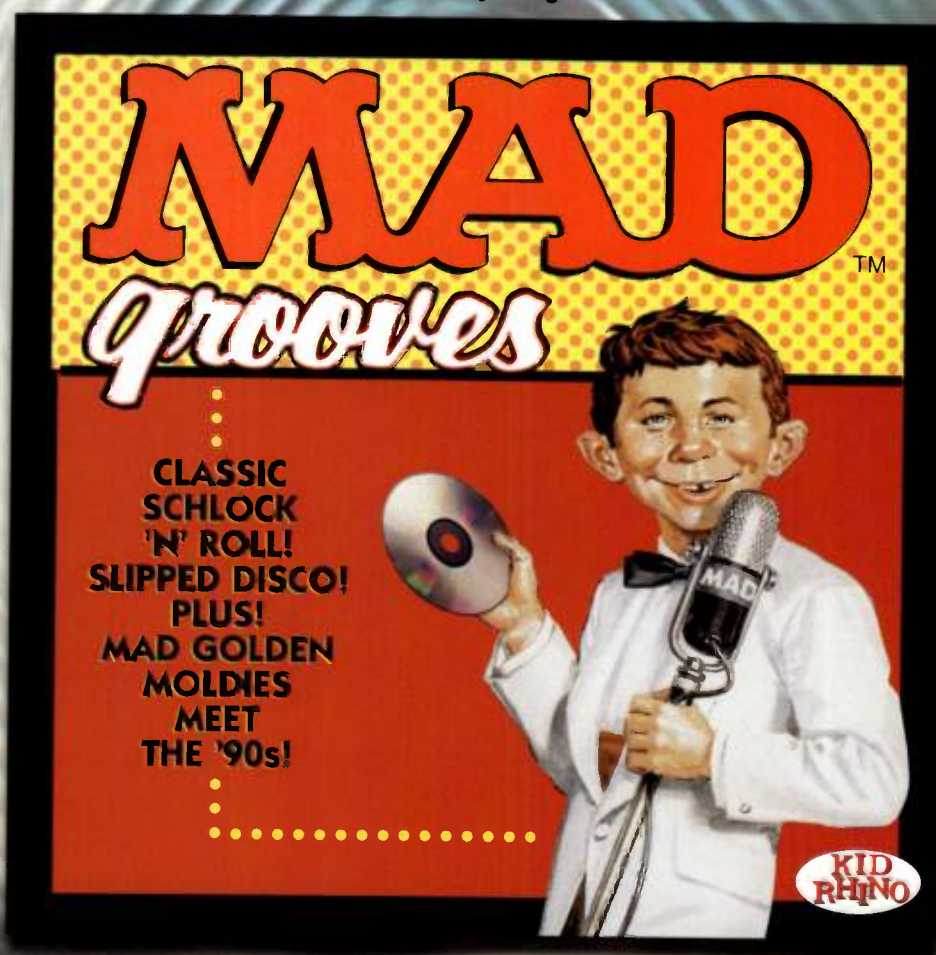

WE SO HORNY: Domo Records recording artist Horny Toad! bassist Louichi Mayorga drops by Tower Records in Anaheim, CA as part of the group's pre-release retail tour, giving out free warts to the first 1,000 record buyers. Shown shortly before they were kissed and turned into human beings are (l-r) store GM Troy Clem, music buyer David Webb, product specialist Alex Stojic, Navarre Distribution's Leah Song, Mayorga and Domo Records' Todd Pfifer.

Alanis Morissette, Sting,
Green Day, Oasis, The Fugees, Tori Amos, Pearl Jam,
Neil Young, Coolio, Madonna,
Hootie and the Blowfish, Tom
Petty and Nine Inch Nails

THE THIRD ANNUAL T.J. MARTELL
Wine & Music Aficionado Dinner

"Where wine people who love music rub shoulders with music people who love wine."

Thursday, November 7th

BLACK TIE

CHAMPAGNE RECEPTION AT 6:30 PM

DINNER WILL BE SERVED AT 8 O'CLOCK SHARP

THE BURDEN MANSION
1-7 EAST 91ST STREET
NEW YORK CITY

A champagne reception followed by a five course dinner prepared by Jean-Michel Diot of New York's famed Park Bistro accompanied by wines from outstanding winemakers including Firestone, Beringer, Patz & Hall and Steele from California, Domaine Ponsot from Burgundy, and Chateau Palmer in Bordeaux.

In accordance with the tradition of the Aficionado Dinner the winemakers will be in attendance to talk about their wines.

A Grand Auction led by Joe Smith promises exotic wines and killer prizes.

Robert Parker, the noted author and wine guru, will be amongst our guests to give the evening a perfect score of 100!

ATTENDANCE IS LIMITED TO 150. THERE ARE SOME REMAINING TICKETS AT $750 PER PERSON.

year's quickest-breaking records. This one's a killer and everyone knows it!.... At KDON in Monterey, MD Jennifer Wilde has been upped to PD.... Former KTHH Fresno PD Mike Alexander moves to crosstown "KROQ-lite"-formatted STAR101.... Chuck Morgan has been named PD at WMTX Tampa.... In Savannah, WSGF PD Eric Stevens has left the building. No replacement named.... Be sure to read this week's interview with NAB Chairman of the Radio Show Los Angeles and Barnstable Broadcasting President David Gingold, appearing on Page 22.... Barry McKay has been named PD at WMTX in Richmond.... Hal "9000" Abrams exits mornings at KCAQ Oxnard for the same position at KHTY Santa Barbara.... Has anyone besides us noticed how great Gwen Stefani looks in the new No Doubt video? We're sure you've noticed if you've seen it and will soon if you haven't. Add mega-star quality to a smash song, and we see no reason for this one not to go to the moon.... WJMN Boston morning show producer Jeff Dauler exits for a similar position at KRQ Tucson.... KFRX Lincoln names nite jock Pauly Powers as MD and Dan Tooker, from KLYV in Dubuque, joins for mornings.... The Top Ten Most Played videos this week at MTV are: #1 311, #2 Metallica, #3 Fugees, #4 Blackstreet, #5 Sublime, #6 Bone Thugs-N-Harmony, #7 John Mellencamp, #8 No Doubt, #9 Rage Against The Machine and #10 Sheryl Crow.... New morning team at WQLH Green Bay is the brother-sister team of Kathy & Dan Larkin.... Clear Channel Communications purchases WLAN A/F Lancaster for $7 million.... Congratulations to: WB promo giant

Barney Kilpatrick and wife Valerie on the birth of daughter Mary Elizabeth, 10/6; and to WHOT Youngstown APD/MD Johnny Hartwell and wife Vanessa on the birth of son Ian Patrick, 10/6.... Happy birthday to WIFC Wausau APD/MD Jackie Johnson, 10/21.... Summer Arbitron ratings update: In LA, music stations took hits nearly across the board. KKBT 5.0-5.0, KPWR 5.4-5.0, KHIS 3.6-3.4, KROQ 3.3-3.1, KYSR 2.9-2.6, KLOS 2.7-2.5 and KLYY (Y107) actually up 1.1-1.3 and KSCA 1.4-1.2. In The Big Apple: WKUT 6.7-6.8, WQHT 5.8-6.3, WXRK 3.0-3.4, WPLJ 3.4-2.9 and WHTZ 2.8-2.7.... New songs that make us smile: Paula Cole, Jewel, Blackstreet, Kula Shaker, Keb' Mo', Soundgarden, Better Than Ezra, 311, AZ Yet, Underworld, Fun Lovin' Criminals and Mazzy Star.... Blowin' In The Wind: Michael Ellis, Val Delong, Michelle Buczynski, SFX/Secret, Mark Todd, Brian Philips and Jeff Tyson.... And here's ace NY Yankees fan Frankie Blue, still #1 in the nation's #1 market. He is every programmer in the world to us.

MAXWELL

"Maxwell's performance was phat, it was dope, it was electrifying, he's real . . . what are the rest of you doing?"

— Supersnake/KKFR-FM

"I feel very strongly that Maxwell is going to be an artist for a very long time. We really like the Tribute mix of 'Ascension.' Be sure to go see him perform if you have the chance-he's a special talent!"

BY LENNY BEER & TODD HENSLEY

It's NAB week in Los Angeles. Yippee, yippee! Is it over yet?.... Action continues at Jefferson Pilot as the burgeoning chain has agreed to purchase KS104 Denver and is already operating as an LMA until approval is formalized (which is expected early '97). Crosstown KHHT PD & MD Dan Bowen & Lee Cagle have already taken over the day-to-day operation of the station as former PD Cindy Rose exits. In other JP highlights, Charlotte OM Tom Jackson & Corporate radio gunslinger Don Benson will be talking to people in LA this week at the NAB regarding the PD opening at WWSN as well as continuing the search post-convention.... At presstime, it was announced that Jacor had purchased Regent for $170 million. They now own everything and everyone. When will they buy us and send us to our rooms?....

Longtime KLUC PD Jerry Dean is out. Reach Jerry at 702-396-4347. Cat Thomas is handling interim duties. Rumors are swirling around crosstown KMXB PD Mike Marino and his potential involvement with KLUC.... At KGGI Riverside, MD Michael Steele resigns and will remain until a replacement is found.... Rick Bisceglia continues to ready for the first Crave releases skedded for the end of this year. Lisa Wolfe, now officially VP of Pop Promotion, hires Dawn Fox for a National promo position. Look for more news shortly.... The multi-format attack on Fiona Apple is paying off bigtime as sales continue to explode and MTV Buzz Clip support kicks in. Play it now or play it later, but you're going to play it! Fiona Apple is on the verge of becoming the industry's brightest new star.... K92 Roanoke PD Sammy Simpson resigns to become marketing director at WWZZ Washington, D.C. If interested in the PD opening, T&Rs to the station, care of EEO Coordinator as well as to consultant Jan Jeffries.... Early signs point to the Seal cut from the Space Jam soundtrack to be one of the

Seen enjoying a weekend in Portland are KKRZ PD Ken Benson & the world-famous K.C. of the Sunshine Band. After the photo was snapped, Benson turned to the '70s icon & said, "Do a little dance. Make a little love. Get down tonight." Oh, those wacky radio guys.
