Foreword by CYRUS ANDREWS

It would be difficult to pin-point the precise time when Beat Groups began to come into their own. But if challenged to do so, I'd name January 19th, 1963 as an important date.

It was then that a number called "Please Please Me" recorded by a then little known group called The Beatles crept into the Top Fifty Charts at the modest placing of 45th.

No special significance was placed on this, yet it was to mark the beginning of a new era—the first faint thud thud of a new sound destined to change the face of the record charts completely.

From then onwards, imperceptibly at first, other Beat Groups were "disc-overed"—not imitators but highly talented, lively musicians at last finding recognition from a national audience.

The rush was on—Beat Groups bobbed up and down in popularity like Yo-Yo's . . . new names found fame in a week and some mislaid it again in a fortnight!

With Merseyside sounds swelling to a crescendo, Birmingham, Manchester and London soon joined in with hearty gusto and other towns with their own particular brands of Beat were not slow to follow.

Few of the various groups, even now still jockeying for places, are so firmly established that one could say THIS group has found permanent fame. And who will find inclusion in next week's record charts is just anybody's guess.

So forgive me please if the group you rate the mostest isn't included in this book. And if my interpretation of the term Beat Group doesn't coincide precisely with yours I can only say I'm sorry.

Another point—some of the undisputed top groups seem to have been unfairly treated, spacewise. There's a good reason for this, of course. You've guessed it? Yes, there are whole publications devoted to these groups, published in the same BEAT series as this book. Just ask for MEET THE BEATLES, MEET THE SHADOWS, MEET JET and TONY from your usual newsagent for exciting picture packed books of these stars.

Finally may I say it's been fun putting this book together and getting to know all these grand, high-spirited, talented music makers—even if they wouldn't always stand still long enough to say "cheese" into a camera lens, or would make funny faces at the wrong moment!

FREDDIE & the Dreamers

Freddie Garrity (whose surname has been spelt in eight different ways) hands a bouquet to Bernie Dwyer to celebrate twelve months careful driving for it is Bernie who chauffeurs the group's Bedford Dormobile.

FREDDIE GARRITY born in Manchester on November 14th, 1940 provides the vocals liberally laced with his off-beat sense of humour. He was educated at Yew Tree Secondary School and afterwards started out as a milk roundsman. One day he parked his milk float outside the BBC-TV studios in Manchester while he auditioned for them. It was perhaps lucky for Freddie that he passed this audition, for 132 milkless housewives soon convinced his boss that they could spare his services! His favourite likes are good plain wholesome food and driving fast cars. His pet dislikes are those people not with-it enough to appreciate that life's one big laugh.

PETE BIRRELL (bass guitar) born in Manchester, 9th May, 1941 also plays the accordion. He drives the group around in a gift-filled Bedford truck with considerable élan. He has developed a thing about over-zealous traffic wardens and says his favourite likes are blondes, brunettes and red-heads.

"Team work with me acting as foreman, is what's got us to the top—but don't take me too seriously, it's the boys who do the hard work as you see," says Freddie.

BERNIE DWYER (drums) born Manchester, 11th September, 1940, plays the piano also. He's the eldest of the group, with rusty coloured hair, brown eyes and a rugged look. Likes success, girls, money and hates, he says, the frenzied driving of Pete Birrell.

ROY CREWDSON (rhythm guitar) born Manchester, 29th May, 1941. He plays the piano and drums also. Says he is the normal-looking member of the group. Admits to a liking for the opposite sex and says his pet hate is cold weather. Is 5ft 10ins tall with brown hair and blue eyes.

DEREK QUINN (lead guitar) born, yet again, in Manchester on 24th May, 1942. Is an expert on the harmonica also. Is 5ft 9½ins tall with fair-hair and behind those dark glasses his eyes are reputedly blue. His big ambition is to catch up on his sleep.

The man on the flying trapeze has nothing on Freddie—the rest of the group are air-borne too!

"I'm not crazy about milk really . . . I prefer the dish in the background" cracks Freddie.

GERRY & the PACEMAKERS

Two of the group like to come round gradually in the mornings—the other pair are early risers. No prize for guessing whether Gerry (seen here nearest the camera) and brother Freddy are the ones who like to lie-a-bed.

GERRY MARSDEN born (need we mention in Liverpool?) on 24th September, 1942. Is lead guitarist and vocalist. Is completely self-taught; admits he can't read a note of music. Has been a joiner (making tea-chests for the Kardomah) also worked on the British Railways delivery vans for 18 months. Formed a skiffle group playing the guitar before forming a group of his own called "Mars Bars". Then, when 17, came the Pacemakers who became famous in Hamburg while still comparatively unknown in this country. George Martin of E.M.I. Records spotted him playing in a Birkenhead ballroom and gave him a contract without even bothering about an audition. He's 5ft 7ins tall, with hazel eyes, brown hair and one of the most endearing grins in the business. His likes include snooker, golf, sleep, travelling, Grieg's concerto and Liz Taylor—but not, he says, in that order.

LES CHADWICK born Liverpool, 11th May, 1943, plays bass guitar and sings. He joined Gerry and Freddy in 1959. He and Gerry are prolific song writers and have written together more than 25 original numbers. Many of these have been recorded. Has hair and eyes of brown and is 5ft 11ins tall.

LES MAGUIRE born in Wallasey on 27th December, 1941. Plays the piano and is principal harmoniser. Says he's learning German so he can communicate better with German Judies! Has blue eyes, brown hair and a manner which charms the fans. Is 5ft 11ins tall.

FREDDY MARSDEN Gerry's brother. born Liverpool on 23rd October, 1940. Plays drums and is the funny man of the group; has worked with younger brother Gerry for nearly seven years—in skiffle and rock groups before the Pacemakers were formed in 1959. He's 5ft 10ins tall with brown eyes and fair hair.

Gerry Marsden whoops with joy at the sight of a bowl-full of sugar. He has, to put it mildly, a sweet tooth.

"Don't rate us a quartet of boozers" say the boys, "but we reckon the groups fourth birthday deserved a tiny celebration."

Testing out that old theory about "the irresistible force meeting an immovable object" at Southend's Kursaal Fun Fair.

GRAHAM NASH leader of the Group, rhythm guitarist and vocalist, born Blackpool, February 1942. TONY HICKS guitarist, born Nelson, December 1944. After leaving school joined a firm of electrical engineers and played in his spare time with "The Dolphins". Is 5ft 11ins tall with dark brown hair and blue eyes. His big ambition is to manage a whole string of beat groups.

DON RATHBONE drummer, born Wilmslow, October 1942. His father, a keen amateur musician, encouraged Don while still at school by buying him his first drum kit. To-day Don drives the outfit and is still having his leg pulled about taking the group to Oxford for a one night stand just seven days too soon! Is 5ft 6ins tall.

ERIC HAYDOCK guitarist, born Stockport, February 1943. Won many cups for sport at school. Worked in a toolmaking factory. At the age of 17 bought his first guitar. His parents thought "there was more brass in a factory than in strumming a git" and Eric's ambition is to prove them wrong! Is 5ft 10ins tall.
