Cypress Hill. A spokesperson for the Palladium reportedly said that Cypress Hill was added to the bill after the shows were booked for Rage. Because of the change of venue, there will now be only one show on April 29th. Also scheduled to perform are X, Quicksand, Mother Tongue, Stanford Prison Experiment and the Beastie Boys. The show had previously been rescheduled once because Timmy C. of Rage was injured in a biking accident.

The Return Of A Concert Venue Icon

The legendary Fillmore Auditorium in San Francisco reopened last week with an "un-official" private opening night gala April 26th featuring the Neville Brothers. The historic venue, which is where the late Bill Graham began his career producing concerts in 1965, was closed in 1989 after the Loma Prieta earthquake. The $1 million worth of improvements to the Fillmore include improved wheelchair access, new paint and carpet. But the majority of the improvements, which were designed to secure the venue's structural integrity against future earthquakes, are hidden in the walls. Attending the private opening were members of Graham's family including his sister Ester and his son David. The rest of the guest list reflected the past and present of the Bay Area music scene, including members of the Charlatans, Primus, Electric Flag, Jefferson Airplane, Doobie Brothers, Santana, and Big Brother & the Holding Company plus the likes of Wavy Gravy, Peter Coyote and former Graham arch rival Chet Helms. The interior walls of the Fillmore are plastered with posters and memorabilia from the extensive Bill Graham Archives, including a complete collection of Fillmore posters from the '60s and the '80s. The Smashing Pumpkins were the surprise headliners at the official public grand opening April 27th.

Big Changes Coming At PLG

The rumored restructuring of the PolyGram Label Group captured the industry's attention last week as reports surfaced that Chief Executive Alain Levy is planning to dismantle PLG, which was formed in 1990 as an umbrella company to handle worldwide marketing for PolyGram's London, Polydor, Smash and Island labels. Reportedly Island will become a freestanding operation like PolyGram's Mercury and A&M labels. The artists on other PLG labels will reportedly move to Mercury or A&M. A spokesperson for PLG refused to comment, but did say a formal announcement was expected within the next few days.

Benefit For Freedom Forced To Move

"The Freedom of Leonard Peltier" benefit concerts were forced to move from the Hollywood Palladium to the Olympic Velodrome at California State University at Dominguez Hills because of a neighborhood restriction on rap music. The two Goldenvoice promoted benefits, with organizers Rage Against the Machine at the helm, also planned to feature a performance by

McEntire Plane Crash Settlement

The families of three deceased members of Reba McEntire's band were awarded $950,000 each to settle a lawsuit which claimed that pilot negligence led to the plane crash that killed the musicians. The accident in which Joey Cigainero, 28, Terry Jackson, 28, Tony Saputo, 34, and seven others were killed occurred in 1991 when the private plane they were in crashed into a mountain near San Diego. The accident happened two minutes after takeoff following a McEntire concert in that Southern California city. The families sued Duncan Aircraft Sales Inc. of Venice, Fla., because the company provided the pilot with the plane, but Duncan's attorney said the pilot shared responsibility with an air traffic controller who turned his back on the radar screen for 1 1/2 minutes to type a report. The settlement was approved April 26th.

Bolton Loses Copyright Case

After 2 1/2 days of deliberations, a federal court jury in Los Angeles ruled that Michael Bolton's "Love is a Wonderful Thing" took essential elements from the 1966 Isley Brothers song of the same title. Though Bolton's attorney claimed Bolton never heard the song, counsel for the Isleys and Three Boys Music Corp. argued that it must have been subconsciously plagiarized. The song appeared on Bolton's 1991 album, which sold 10 million copies. When the Isleys first heard Bolton's version, they were delighted that he had "covered" their song. But when they looked at the album credits, they found only Bolton and Andrew Goldmark listed as the songwriters. The jury now must decide how much should be awarded in damages.

SARAH McLACHLAN

Canada's Sarah McLachlan decided she wanted to be a singer when she was 4 years old. "I wanted to be just like Joan Baez," she told POLLSTAR. Yet McLachlan insists she didn't purposefully pursue a career in the music business. Regardless of her perceptions, McLachlan worked hard to get where she is today. She wanted to play guitar at the age of four, but she was too small for a guitar so her parents bought her a ukelele. She took ukelele lessons for three years and then switched to classical guitar when she was seven. McLachlan was not particularly interested in classical music, but since it was her only option for lessons she proceeded. After awhile, McLachlan actually came to enjoy classical music, but when she hit puberty she decided she'd learned all she wanted from classical guitar lessons. Her parents disagreed, and they made her continue for a few more years.

In the meantime, McLachlan had started piano lessons when she was 12 years old, and added voice lessons to her already full musical schedule when she was 15. Her parents continued to encourage her lessons, yet they didn't see a music career in their daughter's future. "They didn't want me to have a career in [the music business], so I don't know quite what their drive was. I think it was just — if you start something you should keep with it — more than anything else. I can't imagine they [saw any professional promise]. They were dead set on me going to university, which I never did.

When McLachlan was 17, she was asked to play keyboards in a band, but when the players heard her voice, they asked her to sing instead. It was at their first gig that McLachlan was initially approached by Nettwerk Records. Mark Jowett, who is now the head of A&R at Nettwerk, was playing guitar with the group Moev, which was headlining that night, and he asked her to join his band. Because she was still in high school, her mom "flipped," and told her she couldn't do it. "In retrospect, I'm so glad I still listened to her at that time."

After McLachlan graduated from high school, she enrolled in art college, with aspirations of being a jeweler or a fabric designer. Following her first year at art college, Nettwerk approached her again and offered her a five record deal. McLachlan said she had to give the offer some serious thought, because she never planned on being a professional singer, even though she had inadvertently worked toward that end for years. McLachlan said she was happy in art school, but she figured she could always go back to it if she wanted to. Realizing that this could be a once in a lifetime offer, McLachlan decided to "go for it...and I've been going ever since." However, McLachlan did have some reservations about accepting the offer. For two months following the offer, she found out everything she could about Nettwerk and eventually she was convinced that signing was the right thing to do. "They're a fantastic group of people, and I've been amazingly lucky."

McLachlan is doubly lucky since the president of the record company, Terry McBride, is also her manager. "I'm signed to Nettwerk Records [but that company and] Nettwerk Management [and] Nettwerk Publishing are all sort of the same entity. A lot of people say that this is a conflict of interest, but it has not become that as of yet." And she has already sat down with Nettwerk execs to discuss the very real possibility of being courted by another label when her contract expires. "They seem to have this blind confidence in themselves, which works to their benefit most of the time. They think that they are so great, that I'll want to stay with them, and they're kind of right. I like the way they've pushed the record, and I like the way they've given me complete freedom. I know that wouldn't have happened anywhere else, and I really respect them for that."

McBride works closely with the three agencies that book McLachlan, International Talent Group in the U.S., S.L. Feldman & Associates in Canada, and The Agency Group of Companies in Europe. Between the three companies, McLachlan keeps very busy. After her second album, Solace, (which was recorded after Nettwerk inked a distribution deal with Arista) she was on the road for 14 months, and she plans to tour extensively behind her current release, Fumbling Toward Ecstasy. "I love playing live. And managers love that, and agents love that, because in my case it has been a proven fact that it sells records. So they want me on the road a lot. When you have something that is going now, you can't wait three weeks or a month before you get out and start pushing along side it. You have to be there at the same time. So I'm on this catapulting forward motion right now, that's sending all of us on this crazy, crazy trip through the world."

McLachlan said she prefers not to tour as a support act, and most of her touring history reveals that she often gets her way. "[It's] not because I want to headline [to] be the star, but because, as an opening act, you rarely get the things that you would like to have. You also usually have to pay to get on the tour [and] you're losing money in the first place." She admits that playing in front of 10,000 people, for instance, would get her music exposed to a larger audience, but she said often the pairing of a support act and a headliner is a bad musical decision. "And people will be booing you the whole time you're playing. That's horrible. I don't have any desire to play 10,000 seat arenas. What I'd much rather do is multiple nights in a beautiful theatre."

McLachlan is in the midst of a tour which started in the middle of February. She will take three weeks off in June and then will return to the road until the middle of September. After two more weeks off she heads to Europe.

Also, McLachlan contributed a song to the No Alternative CD, which raised money for AIDS research. And she is performing at a LifeBeat sponsored AIDS benefit at the Beacon Theatre in New York on the 24th of June. "That's the nice thing about being a musician. These things just get put on your plate and you're able to make this wonderful contribution. It's really nice."

Joel Sets Mark For North Charleston

With his sold out performance at the North Charleston Coliseum on April 10th, Billy Joel shattered the year-old South Carolina venue's mark for single concert gross. Joel accepts a commemorative plaque from coliseum executive director David Holscher before the show.

NACPA Meets In Music City

Members of the North American Concert Promoters Association gathered in Nashville April 24-25 and the theme of the meeting was, "Strengthening Our Ties To The Nashville Music Community." The purpose of the meeting was to better understand how agents and managers in Nashville are being affected by the rapidly changing competitive environment. "They've got some unique challenges in Nashville that are different from New York and Los Angeles," said NACPA executive director Ben Liss. "There's been an explosion of country music talent, in the demand for country music, and for country music radio and with country record companies. It was a very interesting and informative experience." The promoters held separate closed-door sessions with the agents from Buddy Lee Attractions, William Morris, CAA, and Monterey Artists, as well as a roundtable with agents from a variety of smaller agencies. They also had a working luncheon with a host of major Nashville-based artist managers. NACPA plans to meet again in New York in the fall. The association also selected its new board of directors for 1994-95. Jules Belkin and Don Law were re-elected to one-year terms and will be joined by new board members Jim Koplik, Irv Zuckerman and Brian Murphy.

Streisand Launches Tour And Courts Capitol Hill

Barbra Streisand kicked off her landmark tour April 20th at London's Wembley Arena. Streisand, who received a standing ovation before she even sang one note, had last performed in Britain 28 years ago when she appeared in the musical "Funny Girl." In addition to the standard stage set-up, the venues themselves also undergo something of a transformation as part of the Streisand production. The floor of Wembley Arena was covered with carpeting and velvet drapes were hung on the walls to enhance the acoustics. Reviews of Streisand's concerts, which reportedly grossed $7.4 million over the four night run at Wembley, were mixed, with The Times saying it was "an occasion on which mythology and personal magic were inextricably linked," while The Daily Mail branded the concert "a journey down the middle of the road on auto-pilot." Babs also was criticized for relying heavily on TelePrompTers for lyrics and between song banter. Regardless of some less-than-flattering reviews by critics, the crowds loved the shows. Some scalpers, however, may have gotten burned when extra tickets suddenly became available at the last minute and prices dropped to face value. Meanwhile, across the pond in the U.S., Sony Music, ASCAP and the RIAA made an offer to key members on Capitol Hill to purchase coveted tickets to two upcoming Streisand concerts in Washington, D.C., on May 10th and 12th. The tickets were offered to "anyone who addresses issues that touch our industry," said RIAA spokesperson Tim Sites. The offer, which was made April 15th, is not a gift, insists Sites. The tickets to the sold-out concerts are being made available at face value.

Legal Grievs

Beastie Boy Adam Horovitz pleaded no contest April 26th to a misdemeanor battery charge. He was charged with attacking a "Hard Copy" cameraman during a memorial service for River Phoenix last November. Horovitz was placed on two years probation, fined $200, ordered to perform 200 hours of community service and told to make restitution to the cameraman..... Grace Slick pleaded guilty April 26th to one count of brandishing a shotgun at police officers on March 5th. She could be ordered to serve six months in jail or in an alcoholism treatment program when she is sentenced June 6th. Slick's plea bargain will reduce her felony and misdemeanor charges to a single misdemeanor..... Motown Records founder Berry Gordy Jr. filed a $250 million libel suit against the New York Daily News for printing allegations that he seduced a 14-year-old boy and pressured singers to have abortions during the 1960s. The allegations were printed in an April 19th column by George Rush which discussed a book idea by Tony Turner, who is identified as a former Motown staffer. Rush and Turner also are named in the suit. The column said Turner, who has written two other celebrity tell-alls, is pitching a book he wants to call "Supreme Temptation: The Secret Life of Berry Gordy Jr." to New York publishers. According to the column, Turner writes that "at the uncertain age of 14, Berry Gordy Jr. gave me my very first taste of sexual intimacy, followed by my first full sexual experience." Gordy's attorney said the allegations are false, saying Gordy "has no recollection of ever having met Mr. Turner and he has certainly never had a personal relationship with him..... Raitt Gets Thanks From Capitol Brass

Bonnie Raitt's new Capitol Records release, "Longing In Their Hearts," topped the album sales charts in its second week out. Congratulating their artist are (L-R) Capitol executive VP Ralph Simon; GM and senior VP Bruce Kirkland; president/CEO Gary Gersh; Raitt; A&R VP Tim Devine; and Raitt's co-manager, Jeffrey Hersh of Gold Mountain Entertainment.

The Neverending Jackson Investigation

Los Angeles County District Attorney Gil Garcetti and Santa Barbara County D.A. Tom Sneddon released a joint statement April 25th saying the investigation into the sexual molestation accusations brought against Michael Jackson would not cease at the end of the month, as they had previously indicated. "It would be unfair to Jackson, any alleged victim and to the people of California to make a decision prematurely as to whether or not criminal charges will be filed," the statement read. There now is no target date to end the probe. The D.A.s are reportedly concerned with the public's reaction if they close the case without bringing charges. But without the testimony of the alleged victim, they don't have much of a chance of getting a conviction. Apparently they are leaving the door open in case the teenager, who earlier this year brought civil charges against MJ, should change his mind and decide to testify against the superstar.

Hip-Hop's Own Award Show

The Source magazine sponsored its first hip-hop awards presentation April 25th at The Paramount in NYC. The event was created to recognize artists who are often overlooked by mainstream awards shows, yet contribute to a genre that sold nearly $1 billion worth of records last year. The big winners of the evening were Dr. Dre, who took home awards for best solo artist, album of the year and producer of the year, and Snoop Doggy Dogg who won awards for best new solo artist and lyricist of the year. Wu-Tang Clan was named best new group, and its "Method Man" was named single of the year. In an attempt to avoid crowd violence that has ruined other rap-related events, the hosts and presenters continued to urge the crowd to keep the peace. The only tension in the house was when Tupac Shakur and his posse took over the stage as A Tribe Called Quest was about to accept an award. Tupac broke into a defiant performance of "Out on Bail" but stormed off the stage when met with boos from the audience. Tribe member Ali Shaheed Muhammad, who was still standing at the podium, defused the tense situation by saying, "I see we don't have to say nothing, because you all said it for me."

Home Of The Blues And Much More

The House of Blues kicked off the grand opening of its new Hollywood location last week with a series of "private" shows. The debut show April 22nd featured a concert by House of Blues investors Aerosmith. Steven Tyler said he couldn't remember the last time Aerosmith played such a small venue. Aerosmith performed a set of their lesser-known blues songs in front of approximately 1,000 people including Keith Richards, Dustin Hoffman, Bruce Springsteen, Snoop Doggy Dogg, and Dweezil Zappa, among others. The House of Blues was established by Hard Rock Cafe co-founder, Isaac Tigrett, and his partners who include Dan Aykroyd and Jim Belushi. Despite its goal to provide a venue for blues musicians, the House of Blues has established a diverse booking policy, although approximately 60 percent of the shows will be blues artists. The week's festivities were scheduled to conclude with a fund-raiser for the Magic Johnson Foundation April 30th featuring Issac Hayes, John Lee Hooker, Elwood Blues (Aykroyd) and the Blues Brothers, James Brown and others. Hayes will headline when the new Sunset Strip club opens to the public May 1st. Other artists scheduled to appear during the first month of operations include Faith Hill, Huey Lewis, and Maynard Ferguson. A House Of Blues is already open in New Orleans and additional clubs are expected to open in New York and London later this year.

Between The Dates

CROSBY, STILLS & NASH will have FLEETWOOD MAC on the bill to help them sell tickets during the busy summer tour season. Neither Christine McVie nor Stevie Nicks will be in this latest edition of the Mac. Although McVie is working in the studio on the band's next album, she apparently has no plans to tour with them. Stevie Nicks is planning her own solo tour later in the summer..... The stadium tour co-bill of ELTON JOHN and BILLY JOEL had been doing generally great business but apparently pushed the envelope too far when they tried to play Cleveland Stadium. That July 14th date was cancelled due to slow ticket sales. Why the anomaly? Perhaps it was because Joel played Cleveland in March and its only been a year since Elton played the market. By the way - take a good look at the tour itinerary in this week's Route Book. What you see is what it's probably gonna be. Word now is that San Antonio is the farthest west the twin pianomen will travel..... Although the EAGLES have racked up instant sell-outs at various amphitheatres, it looks like the booking emphasis has now changed to stadium size venues where the boxoffice gratification is rarely so instantaneous. Toronto's CNE Stadium reportedly sold a very respectable 45,000 tickets on the first day of sale for a July 11th show. At press time it was reported that there were still tickets available for the July 13th show at Detroit's Tiger Stadium. And how about those ticket prices? Alpine Valley, for example has priced all of its reserved seat tickets at $119.17 with lawn admission going for $40.25. With 7100 fixed seats that's a possible gross of $846,107 from reserved seating alone. The total gross potential is over $2 million for just that one amphitheatre show. Hell must have frozen over from all that cold hard cash. Incidentally, there are reports that the band will end their tour in early October back where they started in Southern California, but this time the venue is rumored to be the Rose Bowl..... Some of the most legendary guitarists of all time will be joining LES PAUL for a centennial salute to Gibson Guitars at New York's Beacon Theatre on June 4th. The line-up will also include ax-men Dave Edmunds, Gregg Allman, Steve Miller, Johnny Winter, and Al DiMeola. Also on the bill will be Concrete Blonde and Jean Luc Ponty. Called "The Living Legends Concert," it will be the first in a series of 100th birthday events arranged by Gibson to benefit Nordoff-Robbins Music Therapy. Whether or not the event will be recorded depends on whether everyone's lawyers can agree on the necessary releases..... NIRVANA bass player Krist Novoselic was among those who lobbied the Hoquiam City Council to vote in favor of using the small Washington town's Olympic Stadium as a venue for the upcoming LOLLAPALOOZA tour. Novoselic, who, along with Kurt Cobain, grew up in neighboring Aberdeen said, "This Lollapalooza would be the most special of the whole tour, especially in light of the recent event," referring to Cobain's suicide on April 5th. Since Lollapalooza could draw as many as 25,000 fans, thereby doubling the combined populations of Hoquiam and Aberdeen, local police had opposed the event because of traffic and security concerns. More than 50 people spoke at the meeting in support of the festival resulting in an 8 - 3 vote by the council in favor of negotiating a date with concert promoters..... In an interview with TV Guide, GARTH BROOKS revealed that he wants to take a couple years off, work for world peace, and perhaps take on the role of a bad guy in a movie. Garth said that he doesn't plan on releasing a new album for at least two years, and other than some possible dates in Australia, Asia and Europe, he also is done touring until 1997. Brooks said that he wants to use part of his year off to launch an international peace movement, making 1996 the "Year of Peace." In regards to his plans for the big screen, Brooks has already turned down plenty of the typical singing cowboy type roles and says he wants something much darker like playing the part of a psychopathic killer..... One entertainer who has no plans of retiring is GEORGE BURNS. Burns has already sold out five shows at Caesars Palace in Las Vegas, January 17-21, 1996 to mark his 100th birthday, and now has added three shows at Caesars Tahoe for January 26-28. Burns also has 3 shows on his 1996 calendar for Caesars in Atlantic City..... FRANK SINATRA had to cancel his April 22nd show at Radio City Music Hall just moments before showtime. The orchestra was warming up behind the curtain as the audience settled into their seats when suddenly word came down that the Chairman's physician had advised him not to perform due to upper respiratory congestion. The show was rescheduled for April 26th..... WYNONNA JUDD is off the sick list and will return to the concert stage May 5th in Bangor Maine. Judd was hospitalized and treated for a ruptured spinal disc and a pinched nerve. With a light touring schedule for April, Judd only had to cancel four shows: Belton, Texas, Jonesboro, Ark., Biloxi, Miss., and Beaumont, Texas.
