FACTOR changes policy on claiming of costs

Having discovered that "a few" borrowers altered documents before claiming them as expenses, FACTOR has made a policy change regarding the claiming of costs following the completion of projects (RPM - June 22/98).

Borrowers will now be required to file two sets of documentation, the originals as well as a photocopied set. On the verification of the receipts, FACTOR will return the original set to the borrower. The new policy affects all borrowers until they have a proven track record with FACTOR and will be applied against all current and future projects with the foundation.

As FACTOR's executive director Heather Ostertag points out, "It is unfortunate that the actions of a few individuals have resulted in an increased administrative burden on both the industry and FACTOR. We are however charged with the responsibility of administering public funds and we will do whatever it takes to ensure the funds are disbursed responsibly."

FACTOR's board believes the new policy will help prevent false claims. FACTOR will also be restricting advances to only those borrowers with a proven track record with FACTOR.

Ostertag goes on to point out that when an attempt to secure funding fraudulently occurs, FACTOR policy requires "immediate repayment" of all funds advanced, and stresses that FACTOR "will prosecute to the full extent of the law and such actions may result in the borrower being restricted from accessing any further funding from FACTOR in perpetuity."

Snell and Copnick to focus on new BMG country wing

In a joint announcement, BMG Music Canada's vice-president of national promotion, Larry Macrae, and Noah Segal, vice-president of artist marketing, have revealed the creation of a new department that will ensure BMG's "commitment and focus" to Canadian and international country music development.

Spearheading the new department are Jill Snell and Warren Copnick.

As manager of artist marketing, Snell will now devote all her time to country music marketing. She will be responsible for BMG's domestic roster along with all of BMG's affiliated US labels which include RLG (RCA Label Group), and Arista Nashville.

"Jill is a senior and seasoned marketing manager whose first love is country music," notes Segal. "In these times where we see the country music scene in North America having a slight decline it is very important to all of us at BMG to focus our promotional and marketing clout in this genre and to increase visibility and sales opportunities for both established country artists like Alan Jackson, Clint Black, Brooks & Dunn and exciting new artists such as Julian Austin, Mindy McCready, The Thompson Brothers Band and the Warren Brothers." Snell will also be key in continuing BMG's involvement and support of CCMA. Snell also coordinated BMG's sponsorship of Big Country and arranging for Michelle Wright and Julian Austin to attend the awards show.

Copnick, who will move from the Ontario branch office to BMG's John Street offices in downtown Toronto, has been named manager of country radio and video. He has gained a wide and varied knowledge of sales and promotion experience during his tenure with BMG.

Macrae points out how pleased he is to move Copnick up in the company. "He has a wealth of knowledge about radio in both Canada and the US and will work closely with BMG's regional reps and his US counterparts in Nashville to make sure that we maximize our opportunities at country radio and CMT."

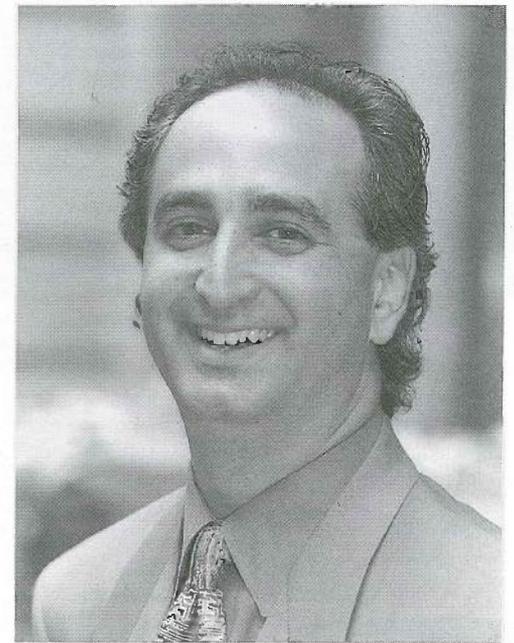

Over the last two weeks, both Snell and Copnick have had the opportunity to try out their new roles with two trips to Nashville for both Fan Fair and an Arista presentation a week prior. While in Nashville they met with Tim DuBois, president of Arista Nashville and Butch Waugh, senior vice-president and general manager of RLG Nashville to develop marketing strategies for brand new acts from both labels. They also received promises from both labels to commit acts to a BMG "roadshow" which Snell and Copnick will take coast to coast in the fall and present to regional media and retail.

"BMG has always been totally dedicated to the development of country music," boasts Snell. "However, this new arrangement and the enthusiasm from Warren, Noah and Larry makes me very very excited."

WALT SAYS . . . !with Elvira Caprese

That's class!!! Laura Bartlett and her HMV crew were unable to attend the Variety Club Salute to Big Country which is a fundraiser for Variety's Kids. So, knowing how important it is to support this children's charity, Laura has generously sent along an HMV cheque in the amount of $500 in RPM's name to Variety. (EC: An industry with a heart!!!)

Oh! Oh!!! Busted!!! The big breadwinner for LK has jumped ship and they could be sorry. New regimes and new thinking sometimes get a cloudy look at the landscape. A little bit of delving into the industry history books might have revealed a fox in the henhouse, unless someone has re-written history. (EC: In this industry, isn't that the thing to do???)

Chalk up another one for Moses!!! So! The University of Toronto's director of development and public affairs, Gayle Garlock, thinks Citytv/MuchMusic boss Moses Znaimer is "a major figure in Canadian broadcasting." I'll support that. Name one broadcaster, living or dead, who has brought so much of the entertainment factor into Canadian homes? When he launched Citytv he titillated a lot of viewers with his "blue movies," which were tame compared to what we have now in movie houses. According to a Toronto Sun report (July 7/98), among the 250,000 page collection from Znaimer is a bunch of soft-porn magazines and T-shirts, which has pricked the moral attitudes of some critics. Good Oh! for Moses. And if he gets a tax break for his collection, he deserves it. I remember back when he started, he wanted to learn about the record business and he consulted one of the most knowledgeable people in the business (who wouldn't want to be named.) After a series of consultations, he had the handle on the business. How many people would have done that?? (EC: That was back before there were showbusiness lawyers!!!) Showbusiness lawyers? HELP!

Oh! Oh! Again!!! There's a couple of manager artist problems surfacing and one is very distressful. There aren't too many artists blessed with a caring and totally dedicated manager, someone to build their careers, seeing them through the tough times to hopefully enjoy the better times. It's never been a complete picture. The horror stories of artist manager relations would fill a book, and someone should write one on how not to. It would be a big seller, but who would pay attention. Greed and ego go hand in hand until the image builder has gone and the barrel is empty. One artist who was on the threshold of a huge financial career has gone bonkers and the manager can't control the situation any longer. So, the manager is going to unleash the monster and that will be the end of what was once a promising career. The other one has been simmering for some time. It's not a money problem. It's just that one wants to fly solo and hopefully make the cut without too much media attention. No one gets hurt here, except maybe a bit of ego bruising. (EC: That's the worst cut of all!!! Now who could write that book???) Who would READ that book???

What's Lou worth??? This should be a big fundraiser. Standard Radio's Gary Slight is being auctioned off as a caddy for the MIX's golf tournament. The opening offer is rumoured to be $10,000. Is that all GN thinks Lou is worth? All monies raised goes to the Children's Foundation, and with Lou on the block, it should be a record-breaking year. (EC: For $10,000 he should expect a few bricks in the bottom of the bag!!!)

Rainy Day??? It will be a rainy day before you see something like this again. A zillionaire broadcaster (slash) entrepreneur borrowing five bucks from his PD in one of the most prestigious restaurants in Canada. (EC: Only in Canada!!!) Now I wonder why the Queen carries a purse!

The march of the megas!!! Get set for more megastores in Toronto's downtown core. There isn't enough business to go around now, but the city fathers have come up with a plan to build glass and steel facades to hide these new ventures just to make the Dundas and Yonge intersection look neat and tidy. (EC: If you're on the sunny side of the street, you just might have a chance to survive!!!)

Enough of Mel Lastman!!! Forget cleaning up the Yonge and Dundas intersection, Toronto's city fathers should concentrate on reining in GTA's raving groupie. So the Spice Girls didn't work into his plans and he axed the meeting in his office which was to be taped for the MuchMusic Intimate & Interactive series. So his grandchildren won't get a chance to meet the group. What about my grandchildren and what about yours? Isn't that taking the mayor's authority to the extreme? (EC: He's the mayor of all the people!!!) Mel! Give them the keys! Let's make it happen! Do we need an international incident! This won't bring Ginger back! (EC: Has Mel ever got this excited about a Canadian act???)

The Order Of Canada!!! It's nice to see Canada's record stars, past and present, getting recognition from government. In the spring of this year veteran rocker, '50s and '60s bobby soxer Bobby Curtola received the Order Of Canada and just this past week, Bryan Adams, who has taken the Canadian image internationally, was named to the Order. The lineup of members to the Order from Canada's entertainment field is pretty impressive. (EC: And it was a simple thing like the MAPL ruling that made it all happen!!!) MAPL rules!!!

Speaking of MAPL!!! It was 28 years ago when the MAPL logo was designed for use in RPM. At a dinner recently, a major programmer told me that the MAPL logo was one of the most important things to happen in programming in decades. It was so inventive, simple and genius. It made the programmer's job of complying so much easier. What a shame it is that there has been so little acknowledgement of this creation and the creator. A number of years ago the CRTC took credit for the MAPL logo and the acronym. It was only after they were corrected that they sent out a badly worded bulletin that sort of acknowledged their mistake. If it really was such a great accomplishment, why is it just taken for granted? (EC: Only in Canada!!!) Elsewhere on this page there is an acknowledgment of the MAPL logo and throughout the industry the MAPL logo has been used on millions of records and helped to build Canada's stars. (EC: 28 years of MAPL!!!)

Panasonic introduces smallest portable DVD player

Panasonic Canada used the setting of Universal Studios to introduce the world's first and smallest portable DVD player. The cocktail party was designed by Panasonic as a light-hearted "space-age" event which featured a sneak-preview of the DVD player's cinema short, which was ideal for fellow celebrities, business leaders and media to network. Among those on hand for the launch were Eric Pertsch, president of Universal Studios Canada, Panasonic Canada's president Tsuyoshi "Tomas" Murakami and marketing manager Brian Lang, astronaut Nicola Moore (via screen), Al and Sara Waxman and vocalist Liberty Silver.

Fitting comfortably into the palm of a hand, the DVD-L10 weighs less than 0.9 kilograms, has a built-in LCD screen and delivers all the benefits of Dolby Digital 5.1 channel surround sound. The player, equipped with a two-hour nickel - metal hydride battery, is being billed as "the hippest travelling companion of the 21st century," enabling viewers to enjoy most full-length movies without interruption. Besides the included battery, an AC adapter provides power in the home and serves as a battery recharger. An optional AC power cord allows for use in a car, boat or RV. The player can also play audio CDs and video CDs in addition to DVD.

The cinema short, At the Movies, premiered exclusively in Famous Players theatres across Canada on June 5 for one four-week cycle.

The commercial begins with footage from the Apollo 13 film, breaking away from the movie screen, floating into a white background. It then becomes clear that the movie is actually showing on a DVD player. As the device continues to float further away, an astronaut emerges and floats towards the DVD, which is still playing Apollo 13, through space. The spot closes with the DVD in the palm of the astronaut's hand.

Duncan Bruce, creative director of TBWA/Chiat Day Canada, points out that the movie theatre medium was chosen over television "because it seamlessly communicates the product benefit to the consumer. The DVD's picture quality convinces the audience that it is watching Apollo 13 off the actual movie screen. As the DVD shrinks into the background, the picture remains clear and the benefit of portability is revealed."

Besides Bruce, creative credit goes to writers Brett Channer and Joe Musicco; art directors Gary Holme and Nathan Montith; director Shin Sugino from Circle Productions; Production House; Toybox; CGI and Post.

Panasonic Canada (PCI) is a sales subsidiary of Matsushita Electric Industrial Co. Ltd. (MEI).

BNL priority with US modern rock stations

In just one week, One Week, the first single from Stunt, the upcoming album from the Barenaked Ladies, has scored big with modern rock stations in the US where it was the #1 most added the week of July 6.

The band's promotion tour of major US markets is also paying off. Their performance and out-store autograph session in front of Boston's City Hall, hosted by the Newbury Comics record store, blocked off four city blocks and even attracted the interest of Boston's Mayor who came out to catch a short set. The Boston transit authority provided free transportation for the day.

With the band's fifth full-length album now in stores across the US, Warner Music Canada's Steve Waxman, waxes proof that the band's Boston phenomenon "was no fluke", with the report that "close to 40,000 fans lined up at the Harmony House record store in Detroit to see the band perform and get their albums signed."

The band's album contains 13 new songs, and was recorded in Toronto with producer David

Leonard (John Mellencamp) and in Austin, Texas with producer Susan Rogers (Prince). The single qualifies as three-parts Cancon (MAL). On July 10, the Sire band headed out across the US on the H.O.R.D.E. tour co-headlining with the Blues Traveler. The tour makes its first ever Canadian stop on July 28 at Toronto's Molson Amphitheatre. An extensive tour of Canada is being pencilled in for the fall.

One week, which made its debut on the RPM 100 Hit Tracks chart on June 9/98, this week bullets up to #25 and up to #17 on the RPM A/C chart.

Hot US reception for Warner's funnymen five

It's Ladies night again

Part of the reason everyone in this country has heard of the Barenaked Ladies is because their debut album went on to sell 9 times platinum in Canada. Think about it; those are unprecedented numbers for an act that had absolutely no release history, nothing in the vicinity of actual sales. The story has lost some of its momentum since then, however; four follow-up albums have barely touched the heels of Gordon's runaway success, a point that seems odd not least to the bandmembers themselves, especially since, in their own words, they have actually improved their act.

"I think we lost people along the way," admits guitarist/songwriter Ed Robertson, "but it's been our purpose and our mandate to simply get better, to keep doing different things and exploring new things. Gordon was a huge record, and we could have gone back and made Gordon II: Electric Boogaloo or we could have made an angry punk rock record. But we decided not to and we're very happy with that decision."

The hard evidence is found on their newest release titled Stunt, which shows positive indications of being the album that will recapture some of the classic Barenaked Ladies flavour. Ironically, it's the US market that has had early responses to the release, making the Ladies' newest single, titled One Week, the #1 most added track in America, beating out The Beastie Boys in the process. The new single follows at the heels of the sleeper American success of Rock Spectacle, the band's live album which achieved a gold certification in the US.

"As far as the band is concerned, what we do is about artistry and about the music, but all the numbers affect you on a day to day basis," notes Robertson. "You get all the stats and pay attention to them all and they mean something to you for sure, but when we go in to make a record, none of that matters. Certainly the relative lack of success of Maybe You Should Drive, followed by Born On A Pirate Ship was a little daunting for us, but with the advent of excellent success in the US, we're getting our validation elsewhere."

Stunt is chock full of classic Barenaked Ladies moments, but it is also a testament to the Ladies' incessant desire to move forward. The most obvious difference with the record is the formal addition of keyboardist Kevin Hearn to the band, after the departure of longtime bassist. According to Robertson, Hearn joined the band after being found "in a dumpster on Adelaide," but the group's bio reports that the newest Lady had a long illustrious affair with Canadian pop, including The Rheostatics and The Look People.

How will the Ladies' fare in Canada this time around? The question lingers in the air a little awkwardly, since (despite signing in the US) the Barenaked Ladies are as CanCon as the Maple Leafs.

"We finally feel we have real, genuine, across the board label excitement and support," notes Robertson. "Whatever happens from here is just whatever happens from here. We hope for the best, but we won't be crying any lullabies if it doesn't happen."

Donna Presley Early debuts at Elvis Orillia fest

Donna Presley Early, the daughter of Elvis Presley's aunt "Nash", is scheduled to make her singing debut in Orillia, Ontario at the 4th annual Canadian Elvis Tribute & Convention (July 24-27).

"Nash" is the younger sister of Presley's father who cared for the young Elvis when he was growing up and was his friend and advisor until his death.

According to publicist Gino Empry, Early spent her summers at Graceland when she was a teenager. She, Priscilla and Elvis spent much of their family time with Presley's grandmother Minnie Presley who lived at Graceland. After Presley's death Early answered fan mail for a number of years at Graceland. Early married Buddy Earle who was security at Graceland. They have two grown sons, Stacy and Jamie, and operate a security and private investigation business in Wynne, Arkansas.

Early is also the author of Elvis: Precious

Memories, a book in which Early remembers Presley as "the warm, loving, funny and spiritual man that he was."

Early is scheduled to perform with her band Jailhouse at the Casino Rama on July 26 as part of the finale concert at the Presley festival, where she is also the spokesperson for this year's tribute. She was also scheduled for a press conference (July 10) at the Legends Theatre at Toronto's Sheraton Centre Hotel.

Spice Girls' diamond captured by MuchMusic

Virgin Music Canada has announced that Spice, the Spice Girls' debut album was certified diamond in Canada on July 7, 1998. Since its release on December 10, 1996, the album has sold more than one million copies in Canada.

The popular British quartet had apparently confirmed that they would attend one major event following their sold-out July 11th date at Toronto's Molson Amphitheatre. That event was to be tied into the Mayor of Toronto's office with a resultant filming by MuchMusic for their Intimate & Interactive series, which is scheduled to air July 12 at 4 pm. Apparently, as of July 9, that event has been put on hold. Virgin reported that it is "no longer working with the Mayor's office."

This additional Toronto appearance on the MuchMusic series is the only fan-driven event on the Spice Girls' current North American tour.

The Fox sets up repeater in Whistler

Vancouver's 99.3 The Fox has been granted an extension to its existing licence to set up a repeater transmitter to broadcast its signal in Whistler, BC. "The Fox should be rocking the world-class ski resort before the start of the ski season," says the station's general manager Chris Pandoff.

He continues, "We're just waiting for a firm timetable from our engineering department, but it's expected that we should be up and running within three months . . . maybe even sooner."

The CRTC decision stated " . . . the Commission approves the application by Shaw Radio Ltd. (Shaw) to amend the broadcasting licence for the radio programming undertaking CFOX-FM Vancouver (the originating station) by authorizing the licensee to add a transmitter at Whistler, operating on a frequency 92.3 MHz, channel 222LP, with an effective radiated power of 47 watts."

Pandoff pointed out that the station wants to broadcast in Whistler in order "to continue to serve its Greater Vancouver listeners who spend so much time at the resort skiing, snowboarding, golfing, mountain biking, etc."

One of the commitments Shaw Radio made to the CRTC was to not solicit advertising from the Whistler area market in order to minimize the impact on local-area stations.

prerequisite this industry has for supporting any kind of music. A crass statement, yes, mitigated somewhat by the pop content on this record; hits of the type that make an average summer a wet dream of nostalgic memories. The truth is out there and the track listing, which includes Alexia/Gimmie Love, Wyclef Jean/Guantanamera, Cornershop/Brimful of Asha, Bran Van 3000/Drinking In LA, Jamiroquai/Virtual Insanity, Amanda Marshall/Sitting On Top of the World, Savage Garden/I Want You, among others, map out the situation. Dancified versions of Luba's Let It Go, Soul Attorney's These Are The Days and Bellini's Samba De Janeiro round out the release for a cool summer package.-RG

BARENAKED LADIES -Pop
Stunt Reprise -P

For the Barenaked Ladies to title an album Stunt is a matter of begging the question. The situation, you see, has something to do with the fact that for the early part of their career (their most prosperous, one might add), was marked by an approach to pop that could properly be called novelty. But Gordon booted the door on expectations, grew in leaps and bounds and left the guys wondering how the hell they were going to do it again. Alas, the second time was as elusive as was feared, with subsequent record sales that faltered in relative grandeur, despite the fact that the Barenaked Ladies were evolving into one of the most vibrant live acts around. But the shadow of those days still haunted them, and it is from this perspective that we listen to Stunt, the first album since Gordon to appropriately filter the serious musical leanings the group has strived to gain along with their circus-tent brand of fun. The first single, a tight little prat fall called One Week, summarises some of that early charm with the developed ear of five musicians with years of music making behind them. What we have in the end is a surprisingly relaxed record with a nod to classic Ladies. Whether you prefer to call them great musicians or clowns without make-up, Stunt has lots for both camps. -RG

SUN JAMMIN' 98 -Dance/Pop
Various Artists
TVK 24042-H

Dance pop heaven, here we come. Starting off with a shameless beat riddled version of Celine Dion's titanic My Heart Will Go On, the new instalment in MC Mario's plan to conquer the world is about as subtle as a brick through a window. But whoever said that dance music was about subtlety, right? It isn't good, it isn't right necessarily, but dammit it sells, and (as we all know) that's the only

GRIMSKUNK -Punk
Fieldtrip
Indica 1063-J
World music meets punk rock in the unlikely combination to hit the undercurrent scene in recent memory. Leave it to a band like Grimsunk, who are pretty much the only existing punk rock group that is still doing something interesting with the format. Extensive tours throughout Europe and into India have left their mark in a major way, and made parts of the album sound like they'd be welcome on world music radio. Most of it, however, reveals in one form of aggression or another, whether it's done in French, Latin, or English language and leans towards prog, rock, ska or anything else. The key word is eclecticism, the kind which defies label specification outright while nevertheless targeting a readily identifiable category of listeners. Some touchstones with the band's previous Meltdown, Fieldtrip goes beyond what Grimsunk has achieved before, and miles beyond what anyone expected punk to ever do. Or outdo. Too many great tracks to mention, a curious absence of fast forward moments and -- deep within it -- the unmistakable scent of integrity. How many other acts can we say that about? -RG

TRIPPING DAISY -Rock
Jesus Hits Like The Atom Bomb
Mercury 314 524 518-Q

There's more to Tripping Daisy than a knack for coming up with trippy titles. I Am An Elastic Firecracker (which was accompanied by some of the trippiest CD cover art of 1995) sold out dates for the band as they took a highly lucrative tour across North America and solidified a fanbase that fell in love with TD's DIY take it or leave it ethic. The span of years since the release of that album threatened to fade them into a kind of rumour, but the lads came back in full force with this year's Jesus Hits Like The Atom Bomb. Aside from eliciting the question of where in hell band's come up with their album titles anyway, Atom Bomb lives up to both sides of its name, namely, energy and spirituality. The added firepower is due to an added member, guitarist/trumpeter Phil Karnats, giving Daisy's trip a fifth dimension in which to experiment, evident on tracks like Your Socks Have No Name, Our Drive To The Sun/Can A Man Mark It? and Indian Poker Parts 2 & 3 (and not just in name, by the way). Ultimately, TD's return to the fore will mark them as an easy lead, especially in this time of the great versatile experimenters; artists like Beck. Check out Waited A Light Year for radio. -RG

STEPHEN DUFFY -Pop
I Love My Friends
Page 1357

Brit pop has got to be some of the most chewable and enduring kind of popular music around. Historically it has come en masse, crossing the pond to make major waves in North America, and recently in highly visual individuals. Stephen Duffy comes to us courtesy of some notable names, including producer Stephen Street (Blur, The Smiths), and a musical community of people like Alex James (Blur), Andy Partridge (XTC), Aimee Mann (Til Tuesday) and Rick Menck (Velvet Crush, Matthew Sweet). It's good company to be amidst, especially when the music is about capturing something lasting in a format that, by definition, eschews longevity. The first single, a rambunctious little ditty titled 17, will be spreading across Canadian radio as you read this and driving Duffy as a new voice in a contemporary scene of jangle pop. Other tunes to look out for include The Deal, Something Good, Twenty-Three and Autopsy, though our favourite is One Day One Of These Fucks Will Change Your Life. Trusting that's not entirely a self-referential statement, we certainly feel Duffy will be doing just that. Taut, imaginative, and wonderfully conceived. -JI

DE PINTO -Soft Rock
Self-titled
JDP (Call Gino Emry 416-928-1044)

It's not too often a 10-song release has five maybe six potential singles. John De Pinto has mastered the art of communication with his debut CD. The vocal awareness he displays here is a mastered art form that reveals a penchant for musical theatre and the classics with a vocal purity that puts him in a class of his own. The emotional qualities are front and centre, particularly with Mother's Touch, One Last Kiss, which features a very tender vocal assist from Stacey Ginou and Make Me Believe with background vocals by Gary and Kevin Breit.

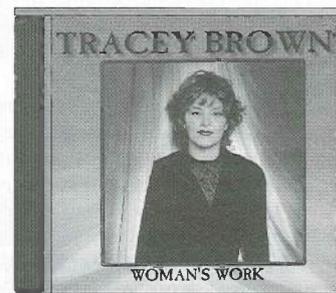

De Pinto wrote all the songs with the exception of Painted Lady on which he wrote the lyrics and Tony Boccitto the music. That's Tom Diakarakos on acoustic guitar on the latter. De Pinto describes his songs as "very personal" because they are inspired by his own life experiences. "I'm inspired by life's ups and downs, love, lack of love, success in love, failure in love and everyday social pressures." All keyboards are supplied by Tony Boccitto with Gino Del Sole looking after all guitars, and Robert Drelini taking care of the drums and percussion. The Kurzwel Symphony Orchestra is heard on select tracks. Also key is Puppet On A String, which adds another dimension to De Pinto's vocal warmth and projection. Produced by De Pinto and Boccitto and recorded at Sequential Sounds Studio in Toronto. Mastered by Derek Brin at Digital Domain Studio. All tracks are 100% Cancon. -WG

TRACEY BROWN -Country
Woman's Work
Popular-3250-P

The old adage "a woman's work is never done," sure holds true here as Tracey Brown solos with an inspired work that certainly rekindles memories of the famous Ottawa Valley family. All those years of touring with "Papa" Joe Brown and her siblings and writing

ALBUM PICK

THE TRAGICALLY HIP -Rock

Phantom Power
Universal 81083-J

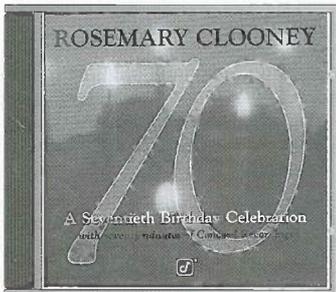

Some bands change as a matter of course, others never experience it throughout their careers and still others find it a trying proposition, even if they admit to it in gradual doses. Of the latter camp is The Tragically Hip, Canada's pre-eminent party time rock and roll band, bar none, even after the party took a new twist. That certainly was the case with last year's Trouble In The Henhouse, where the guys took their act and toned it down somewhat in place of a subtle approach that seemed to resist party lines in favour of music that crept under the skin and bred solace there. That particular angle is consistently maintained for the Hip's sixth studio album, appropriately titled Phantom Power. Gone are those tunes that induce mass mosh pit hysteria; in its place are serene rock songs that are charged with a new, incorporeal kind of energy. The sound, less aggressive and more accessible to a wider audience, is still driven by the staple songmanship of the Hip's long standing five-man engine, bettered by a seasoned career on the stage. The Tragically Hip will always be a great Canadian rock band, partly because -- despite the changes -- they continue to put out rock and roll music that is loyal at bottom, and workable on the top. A song called Poets is shooting the album out of the gate, and will create a nice hullabaloo as this thing heads into retail. -RG with brother Barry has given her the advantage of making her debut as a solo act with the experience and confidence of a veteran. Brown's probing vocal projection and unfettered warmth unleashes her new found freedom of expression. The title track, written by Sheree Jeacocke, Lou Pomanti and B.J. Cooke, has been taken as the first single, and it's happening big time. The Barry Brown penning of Farewell Old Friend is an emotional offering featuring the voice of Morgan, Tracey and Barry's younger brother who died in November of 1996. The publishing royalties from this track will be donated to Casey House, Toronto in his honour. Also key is No Love, written by Kris Cuddy which features the voice of Keith Glass of Prairie Oyster. There are more than a half dozen potential singles here, including the Randall Prescott penning of Going Going Gone and Can't Cry Hard Enough from the writing team of Barry Brown and Kim Tribble. But don't overlook John LoBello's Moonlight And Red Wine. Produced by Prescott and Jon Park-Wheeler with Stewart Harris taking co-producer credits. Recorded at Prescott's Lakeside Studio where it was mastered by Martin Russell -WG

ROSEMARY CLOONEY - Pop Standards 70 - A Seventieth Birthday Celebration Concord Jazz-4804 (St. Clair Ent.)

In her prime, Rosemary Clooney could instill emotion into pop songs better than anyone. She proves it again with 70 minutes (19 tracks) of slow violets and up tempo numbers selected from previous albums book-ended by two recent sessions recorded in her seventieth year. Though her voice now tends to quaver on sustained low notes, she can still enhance lyrics into the realm of musical poetry. James Taylor's Secret Of Life takes on new meaning with her treatment of it. On Our Love Is Here To Stay, she more than holds her vocal own with Linda Ronstadt and k.d.lang. Indeed, her golden age maturity perseveres over the salad years of their relative youth. We somehow doubt they'll still sound as good in their respective eighth decades. -BW

NEW YORK VOICES - Popular The Songs of Paul Simon RCA Victor-09026-68872-N

The spectacular failure of his Broadway production Capeman, shone world light upon the fact that Paul Simon is a better performer than composer. Further proof is offered, albeit more pleasantly, here. Fourteen of his songs are sung impeccably by New York Voices -- a mixed quartet -- but in a lost cause. With a few exceptions, they're not notably melodic and the lyrics to them are pretentious piffle. But, hold on there and don't dismiss the album. If it does nothing else, it demonstrates the superb vocal stylings of the quartet; stylings that lie somewhere between those of Harper's Bizarre and Manhattan Transfer with perhaps a touch of Hugo and Luigi as well. Taken all in all, it's pretty good but it would have been better showcasing another composer. -BW

DAWN UPSHAW - Opera The World So Wide Nonesuch-79458-P

Your reviewer has long shared the view of many that opera shouldn't be written or performed in English. After listening to The World So Wide, we could be on the verge of changing our mind. It offers a generous sampling of songs, arias and recitatives from American operas written in the past half century by Copland, Adams, Leonard Bernstein, Moore, Weill, Barber and Floyd. They are all sung sweetly but powerfully by soprano Dawn Upshaw who receives truly fine accompaniment from the Orchestra of St. Luke's conducted by David Zinman. Honesty compels one to remind that the selections are arguably the best from their respective productions and it might well be that opera has not yet arrived successfully in English. Honesty also compels however, to say that it certainly sounds like it here. Even the long recitative This Is Prophetic from the otherwise execrable Nixon In China sounds good here. Sursum corda. -BW

LOUIE BELLSON'S - Swing BIG BAND EXPLOSION The Art Of The Chart Concord Jazz-4800 (St. Clair Ent.)

Today, July 6th is Louie Bellson's 74th birthday. Now that Cozy Cole is in percussion heaven, he (Bellson) is unquestionably this world's finest drummer. He can kiss and caress with the brushes; be brash and bash with the sticks but never does he make percussion the master instead of the servant though none would gainsay if he did. Certainly, no one will gainsay the power of his artistry as demonstrated on this album. It's correct to say that "the art of the chart" has declined since the glory days of Fletcher Henderson. Benny Carter, The Duke, Gordon Jenkins et al and the charts of Tommy Newsom, Bob Florence and others aren't a patch on those earlier ones where Mr. B. could really swing. Even so, his contribution to this project proves again that musicians such as he improves with age, like fine wine. And, we're not talkin' "a little Mission Bell" here. -BW

JOHN CHARLTON - Country/Folk Benji Drog-0046

Well-paced, laid back pristine vocalizing by Charlton adds a generous helping of intrigue with a projection that leaves no doubt that he's a talent in charge of where he's going. Most of the tracks were written by Charlton, who lives in Guelph, Ontario. Two of the songs, Rockwood Stomp and Wake Up Jake, two key tracks, were written by Charlton with longtime friend Steve Woeller who gives a vocal assist and also doubles on mouth harp and guitar. A very clean, simple production that puts Charlton's vocals out front. Charlton, of course, is heard on acoustic and electric guitars, bass and drums. Tannis Slimmon also gives a vocal assist. Also key is Armistice Day, So Good So Bad and Modern Age. But don't overlook Dream On John that catches the ear immediately. Pretty impressive package considering that Charlton and Woeller did all the instrumental work. Produced by Charlton and recorded at "The corner of Alice & Huron, Guelph, Ontario" during October 1997. Mastered by Roland Rainer at Toronto's Umbrella Sound. All tracks are full MAPL. -WG

MARK O'CONNOR - Instrumental Midnight on the Water Sony Classics-62862-H

Mark O'Connor hasn't gained the proper recognition he deserves, although he works a hectic tour schedule, which has laid a huge foundation for a cult following. The fiddle in the hands of O'Connor reaches new heights of entertainment and he shows his violin/fiddle virtuosity running the full gamut, from the Cricket Dance to Amazing Grace, spiced up with Caprice in A Major, G Minor, D Major, G Major and F Major and a number of improvisations plus the title track and Bonaparte's Retreat and the Star-Spangled Banner. Recorded live, this is an album of original compositions that would fit any format. Although there are some radio friendly tracks, it would take a brave music director to air them. O'Connor produced. -WG

GRIT LASKIN - Folk/Country Earthly Concerns Borealis-111

There aren't too many artists today who can straddle the country and folk genres, but Laskin has and does it with creative magic on this brilliant production. A former member of Friends of Fiddler's Green, Laskin's wit and vocal charm conjure up aural visions of his song messages, and he spreads that charm with various types of emotions from love, challenge and social conscience, which is appropriately packaged as Earthly Concerns. Key here are The Two Centuries, Hi Sal, Have You Checked Your E-Mail?, Sing For A Penny and Resister. But to overlook Driving To The Woods/Sorry I'm Late and Fast & Loud would make the picture incomplete. Laskin isn't a major vocal talent, but his poet-like approach is lasting being capable of weaving intrigue into his message. His session players are among the best pickers and backup singers in the business, including producer Ken Whitley, brother Chris Whitley, George Koller, Lenny Solomon, John Sheard, Brian Leonard, Kathryn Moses, J.P. Cormier, and more. Very effective full string quartet on a number of tracks. Recorded at Casa Wroxton in Toronto and mastered by Ted Carson at Music Lane in Markham, Ontario. Contact Borealis in Toronto. -WG

BEN HEPPNER - Lieder Dedication RCA Victor Red Seal-09026-63104-N

Reviewers are human you know -- yes, we really are -- and, while appreciating all music, do have our personal preferences. For this reviewer, Lieder are in the lower half of our musical preferences. We've inflicted that confession upon the reader in order to establish how great is the artistry of tenor Ben Heppner to have us enjoy this album on which he sings lieder of Beethoven, Liszt, Schumann and Richard Strauss. His vocal range of course is never in doubt but it's his range of emotion that amazes. Even when one knows the lyrics, lieder can sometimes be more of an intellectual than emotional listening experience. When Heppner sings the songs heard here however, one's heart swells with emotion as one's head fills with admiration. In truth, this is an admirable album and one for fans of all music, not just lieder or Mr. Heppner. Migawd, wait until you hear him sing the three Petrarch sonnets by Liszt. Quite emotion draining. -BW

Grimskunk plans a Fieldtrip on newest release

When punk originally came into prominence in the late seventies, everyone was wowed by its unbridled energy, it's anarchistic outlook and it's anti-hip hipness. The scene took a turn for the worse soon thereafter, however, slugging into the endless parodies of itself in the hardcore movement, which quickly became as musically sterile as heavy metal's progression into thrash. Alas, thank the good lord for a band like Grimskunk, who in this day and age continue to be the only really interesting thing happening in punk.

A curious blend of DIY ethics and an international vision is what has made Grimskunk the one punk band still worth talking about and listening to. Take their latest release, for instance. Called Fieldtrip, the album puts a cool mix of old skool prog, ska, Eastern and Latin world beat grooves into a socially conscious -- sometimes angry -- punk rock framework.

"When we first started, we didn't even know that we wanted to become a band," says Franz, Grimskunk's longtime guitarist and vocalist; "we just did it for fun and the idea was to try and have a really good time and be original. We didn't want to have a successful record necessarily or even a successful band, and I guess we've kept that philosophy over the years.

"At the same time," he continues, "we feel pretty strongly about the state of the world and a disgust towards certain things and it's important for us to bring a certain level of awareness to the things we see and the things we feel. 'It's important to express that and share it with people. That's

Larry & Willy celebrate 10 at The Fox's Edgefest

Vancouver's 99.3 The Fox has revealed elaborate plans for the celebration of the 10th anniversary of the station's morning team, Larry and Willy. The setting is UBC's Thunderbird Stadium on July 11.

The Fox has put out a general invitation for everyone to join the celebration. A few lucky listeners have been picked to enjoy the festivities from Larry and Willy's own Tinfoil Zone. Mary Lam, the station's promotions director explains, "They'll be the ones wearing the tinfoil hats in a salute to the morning team."

Those planning on going to Edgefest have been asked to make a banner as a tribute to the pair. The banners will be distributed around UBC. Larry and Willy will be emceeing all the bands performances and will officially kick off Edgefest with "a surprise performance" on the main stage at 1 pm.

Obituary

Tony Boone killed in tragic accident

Canada's music community was saddened to learn of the tragic death of Tony Boone in an accident in Ithica, New York on June 25. At the time of his death, Mr. Boone, who was 28, was on tour with Samson Music artist Douglas September, whom he managed for Lupins Productions. September is based in Toronto as was Mr. Boone.

Born August 23, 1969 in Sydney, Nova Scotia, Mr. Boone demonstrated a natural talent for the business for which he was totally dedicated. When he was hired by Lupins, he immediately took hold of his new responsibilities with unparalleled energy and enthusiasm, taking great pride in September's where the punk thing will never leave us; we're pretty committed to it."

Fieldtrip debuted at #80 on the retail charts showing not only how strong the Montreal band's following really is, but the relevance of the music for a society two years shy of the millennial turnstile. According to Franz, the punk sensibility that made a huge impact and once influenced Disco and New Wave is more pertinent now than ever before. But for Grimskunk, the challenge remains putting it into musically contemporary language.

"It's about being aware of the planet as it is,"

TMP appoints director for new Music Row offices

Following the "creative representation" deal announced between Canada's TMP - The Music Publisher and Nashville's Bluewater Music (RPM - June 15/98), TMP has announced the appointment of Gerd Muller as the company's director of operations for its Nashville office which is located on Music Row at 808 19th Avenue South, 2nd floor, Nashville TN 37212.

Muller has most recently operated GMMI Music Group, his own music publishing company which he launched in 1989. Over the past eight years, GMMI had joint venture deals with MCA Music Publishing, Nashville and Sony/Tree, Nashville, and has experienced chart activity with

The Hip play benefit shows for Camp Trillium

The Tragically Hip played a series of benefit shows in four cities in Ontario with all proceeds from the concerts being donated to Camp Trillium, a charity the band has supported for a number of years.

There was also a little work scheduled for Hip fans. The time, place and ticket information for the five concerts in four cities, all within two hours of Toronto, were announced at 6 am the morning of each show. Tickets were priced at $25.00 (limit of 2 per person - cash only) and were on sale at a single location in each city on the morning each show was announced.

MuchMusic filmed one of the live performances for a 90 minute North American broadcast of Something On The Tragically Hip, that was scheduled to air at 9 pm on Monday July 13, on the eve of the release of the Hip's new Universal album Phantom Power.

Camp Trillium is a summer camp located in Kingston, Ontario for children with terminal illnesses. For more information on the camp, or to make a financial donation call 613-542-1111.

he notes, "either physically or politically, race relations, religion or economics -- it's a stepping back and looking at this whole space where we all live and take it all in and realise what's going on."

Translation: a musical smorgasbord that incorporates influences from groups as diverse as Dead Can Dance to Nusrat Ali Khan, Ragamuffin and Scuff.

"We've been exposed to a lot of that stuff," admits Franz, "and we wanted to integrate that vibe because it has an earthtone feel to it. We just thought it would be really, really cool to try and combine that with the energy of punk."

Know what? It works.

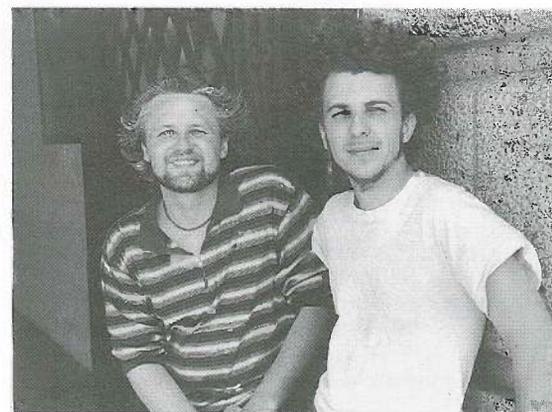

tracks by Kenny Chesney, Trisha Yearwood, Pam Tillis, Tanya Tucker, Patty Loveless, Kathy Mattea, Little Texas, Confederate Railroad, Dionne Farris, Poco and John Prine and more.

A producer, songwriter and musician, Muller has written for such artists as Cliff Richard and ABBA and was the executive producer for the million selling (US) band Lake. He has also chalked up much international experience in talent acquisitions and producing.

TMP president Frank Davies has known Muller since his tenure as an executive with EMI Music in Los Angeles and most particularly over the past ten years after he relocated to Nashville. "I have always been impressed with the talent that he (Muller) has signed and developed as well as his own significant creative and management abilities. I believe he is going to be a great fit for us and the writers we represent. We are looking forward immensely to the increased presence in Nashville that we believe the opening of our office under Gerd's guidance is going to give us."

TMP's writer roster includes Gil Grand (Sony), Dean McTaggart, The Hudsons, Lawnie Wallace and TMP's Nashville based writers and/or writer catalogues like Byron Hill, Odie Blackmon, Eddie Schwartz and the recently signed Constant Change.

TMP is a subsidiary of Alliance Communications Corporation, a global producer, distributor and broadcaster of filmed entertainment with headquarters in Toronto and offices in Montreal, Vancouver, London, Los Angeles, Paris and Shannon, Ireland. Alliance trades under the symbol AAC on the Toronto and Montreal stock exchanges and under the symbol ALLIF on NASDAQ in the US, and A&F Music Ltd. a partnership between Bruce Allen (manager of Anne Murray, Bryan Adams and Martina McBride), and Sam Feldman (manager of Joni Mitchell, the Chieftains and Sissel).

COUNTRY

Reba & Brooks & Dunn hold at #1 with their MCA/Arista single If You See Him/If You See Her. The track is included on Reba's MCA Nashville album, If You See Him, and Brooks & Dunn's Arista album, If You See Her. Both albums are also maintaining good sales at retail.

Sammy Kershaw has caught fire with his latest Mercury release Honky Tonk America, the biggest mover this week, jumping up to #71 from #94. The song was written by Bob McDill and is included on Kershaw's album Labor Of Love. Keith Stegall produced.

Brooks & Dunn move quickly onto the chart with their new Arista single, How Long Gone, the most added this week entering the chart at #77. The song was written by Shawn Camp and John Scott Sherrill and taken from their album If You See Her which was produced by Don Cook, Kix Brooks and Ronnie Dunn.

Amanda Lee gets a foot in the chart door with her single Yes Words which enters the chart at #96.

The single is being tracked and promoted by Debbie Wood. The song was written by Canadians Cyril Rawson, Kerry and Lynn Gillespie Chater and recorded in Nashville by Canadian producers D.J.Hopson and Gilles Godard. The single is released on the Cradle To Rave (CTR) label.

Joan Kennedy, who took time out from her busy schedule to attend this year's Big Country Awards, is on release with her new VelVel single, Working Man's Daughter. The song was written by Kennedy and Peter Lanyon and is included on her album A Dozen Red Roses. The track is included on EMI comp 14.

Chris Cummings continues his tour of Canada after interrupting it to attend both the Variety Club Salute to Big Country and the Big Country Awards show. His latest Warner Bros single, Minute And A Half, advances to #14 on the RPM Country 100 after nine weeks. Cummings is in Calgary this week to play the Stampede and moves into BC for a date at the Elk Valley Jamboree in Fernie (July 14) and the Barlow Creek Country Festival in Quesnell (25). He is firm for three Ontario dates in August; the Molson Centre in Barrie (1), Norval's Nashville North (14) and the Havelock Jamboree (16) before moving to his home province of New Brunswick and an Aug. 20 date at the Sussex Festival.

Shirley Myers, who also attended both the Variety Club Salute to Big Country and the awards show, is set for a July 18 date at the Kinsmen Big Valley Festival in Craven, Saskatchewan. Myers has just had a successful run up the chart with One Last Step, now descending the chart. The follow-up single is titled Fallin' Out Of Love.

The 8th annual Hank Snow Tribute will be held at the Queens County Fairgrounds in Caledonia, Nova Scotia from Aug. 14 through 16. Latest addition to this year's festival is Janet McBride, the yodelling instructor for LeAnn Rimes. McBride will be joined by Johnny White, who won many yodelling competitions in the US, to teach the first yodelling workshop in Canada.

Ray Griff is moving back home to Calgary after 40 years of writing, recording, producing and publishing songs in Nashville. He is setting up shop in Calgary where he'll use his vast experience and knowledge of country music to help young aspiring new artists. He's pretty high too on the fact that he's found a couple of Calgary recording studios to be "more than comparable to anything there is in Nashville and the engineers are every bit as talented." He's also confident he'll find the right musicians that he'll "feel comfortable to work with." Griff's production and consulting services can be coordinated through Ann Hutter of Out West Management at 403-255-9721 fax 403-640-7310.

Anita Wintzer is returning to her home province of Nova Scotia to promote her upcoming full length album Givin' My Heart A Holiday and the first single Boys Come And Go (RPM #84). Wintzer was a popular fixture in the Halifax/Dartmouth area fronting The Apache Rose Band, and is now based in Beaverton, Ontario, where she recently signed a worldwide publishing deal with Banff Music. Beginning with a July 15 appearance on Breakfast Television, Wintzer will combine show dates with visits to radio stations throughout Atlantic Canada. She has been booked into The Corral in Sackville from July 16 through 18, and at Big Leagues in Dartmouth (24-25). Wintzer's single, written by the Mumble Ducks and Larry Mercey, is released on the Rodeo International label.

CKBW music director John Wiles gave the nod to Nick Lowe last week, picking his release of Lonesome Reverie. "I know he's not country," says Wiles, "but listen to this. The '60s pop feel fits with what country is right now. Country has become Nick Lowe." Wiles is away on holiday this week.

Reese Klaiber is getting a major promotion push from the RCM Music Group. Klaiber (pronounced Kly-ber) from southern Alberta, is set to release his full-length debut album, Where I Come From, the end of July. The album was recorded in Nashville where it was produced by Dave Pomeroy. Seven of the 12 songs on the album are Klaiber originals. The other five were written by Chris Cummings, Byron Hill, Frank Dycus and Cyril Rawson. Cowboy Up, the first single, goes to radio mid-July.
