ANTIQUE RADIO CLASSIFIED

EDITOR'S COMMENTS

Our cover this month has prompted us to ask, "What's happening on the radio buying and selling scene?" Has the eBay phenomenon of the past few years faded a bit? We venture to say "yes," given the flurry of activity in auction house sales in 2003. In the past, we have published reports from a handful of houses — Estes, Harris, Eric's, Dorotheum — one to four a year from each, but nothing like the deluge of this year.

In particular, Estes Auctions has taken center stage in the radio "show business" of 2003. Since January, Estes has held no fewer than ten auctions — September alone had two — and we are scrambling to keep up with publishing the reports by our faithful contributor Ray Chase. In October and November, at least three more auctions will be held, and you will note in this issue an Estes ad for a January 2004 event.

In addition to this auction house activity, club meets continue to be generally strong. Though attendance may be down at some, many auction totals are up, due, no doubt, to an increased quality of items being offered. Why should this be so? A look at several Estes Auctions reveals that they are estate auctions, indicating that some big-time collectors are deciding to cash in on their own estates or to disperse their collections before they become an issue for heirs to handle.

The result is that rare and unusual items sequestered in private collections are appearing in auctions as never before. The advantage to all of us is we can begin to know what these items are worth. Previously, such sale prices were unknown because the transactions were done privately. Now we can see that the unusual and rare are pulling away from the pack with commanding prices.

Though the proceeds of the two Estes Auctions reported by Ray Chase in this issue were not exceptionally large — both under $50,000 — they show that the truly desirable items are bringing the best prices. An example is the Atwater Kent Radiodyne breadboard, a rare variety of the Model 10, selling at $1,300. By contrast, an ordinary Model 10 sold for $800.

Another example is the Western Electric CG1-A Coast Guard superhet, which sold for $1,400, though the front panel was corroded. There are even more examples of rare items in the larger Estes Auctions published in the past year, as well as in ones we'll be running in the coming months.

Unusual sets are also much in evidence in Photo Review this month. A group of tabletop sets, a piece of test equipment, an AC FM converter — each one is an interesting example of whatever type it is.

Radio Station WNYC AM, we immediately asked for a story to go with it. Fortunately, Edward Golub, now age 90, was able to provide one about his career as an engineer with the station, the subject of our lead article. Thanks to the Golubs for an enjoyable piece of radio history.

John Hagman bills himself as a Vermont "radio archeologist," but he might also be called a "Yankee radio wag." How seriously you take his version of the perfect antique radio depends on whether or not you covet big, heavy sets laden with tubes and knobs, and running hot enough to be food warmers. Sounds just right if you happen to have a big old Vermont farmhouse.

Mark Stein continues his series of price guides to tabletop radios. Volumes 1-3 were originally titled Machine Age to Jet Age, but this new one is called The Complete Price Guide to Antique Radios: Tabletop Radios, Volume 4. Volume 1 contains an index to Volumes 1-3, but not to Volume 4, and the books vary somewhat in size and number of photos per page. For example, Volume 3 has 12 photos per page, while Volume 4, like Volume 2, has 9.

Stein's books are set apart from other guides in that they emphasize photos and also list prices. Other guides have more comprehensive listings, but fewer photos. However, as reviewer Geoff Shearer points out, this new book is another chance to match a set with no tags or identifying marks with a photo, obviously a valuable tool to the serious collector.

A.R.C. Benefits. A reminder of a major A.R.C. benefit — our book service, which can be especially helpful to you as the holiday season approaches. Be sure to make your own wish list, as you consider gifts for family and friends. An ad on page 41 will guide you to various gift choices. Other benefits include a toll-free number: (866) 371 0512; the Web: www.antiqueradio.com; Discover, Visa, American Express, and MasterCard accepted; books shipped free in the U. S. by book rate; and to current subscribers, a ten percent discount on all book orders.

Coming Radio Events. The fall is a favorite time for radio events — time to squeeze in as much as possible before winter arrives. The list includes 23 meetings, 8 auctions (2 in Ohio), and 15 meets. As always, we urge you to join in the fun.

Happy Collecting!

John V. Terrey, Editor

ON THE COVER

We can never thank Ray Chase enough for the many auction reports he shares with our readers. Now we also thank him for the colorful photo on our cover which captures the essence of an Estes Auction, not only with the sign, but also with the display of better quality items for sale at a May auction.

VINTAGE BROADCASTING

Radio Station WNYC AM

BY EDWARD GOLUB

The following story grew out of the old photo sent to us by Lawrence Golub, son of author Edward, who is now 90 years old. It's always a pleasure to read the old radio-connected stories, especially when they are accompanied by an interesting photo that evokes radio history. (Editor)

I worked for WNYC AM as an engineer from August 1937 to January 1940. Those were the Depression years and getting a civil service job as an engineer at a radio station, which was my goal at that time, was an accomplishment. My first duties included rewiring the studios and master control using lead-covered wire. The assistant chief engineer, Bill Pitkin, who designed the system, was a retired Navy man. Thus the lead.

WNYC then operated on 810 KC — it was cycles then, not Hertz. Edwin Armstrong was still experimenting with FM transmission. WNYC operated from approximately sun up to evening because being on the same frequency as another distant station caused interference to that one.

WNYC was owned and operated by New York City with studios in the Municipal Building in downtown Manhattan and the transmitter in Queens at the edge of the East River. Being licensed and operating from the early 1930s, it could be considered about the first public broadcasting station with programs consisting of classical and semiclassical music, talks, news and public events in the city. Music programs were both live and recorded. Incidentally, records were spun by the announcers not the engineers (BT, i.e., before tape).

The studios included a large one for concert orchestras. This brings to mind an incident I experienced. During the 1948 presidential campaign, Tom Dewey, Mr. District Attorney at that time, arrogantly insisted on speaking in the largest studio instead of a small one which had better acoustics. I remembered that and voted for Harry Truman for president.

Live programs were not limited to the studios. "Remotes" were frequent, such as broadcasting the Goldman Band at Central Park, symphony orchestra concerts at Lewisohn Stadium at City College, programs at the Brooklyn Museum, tennis matches in Queens, and many other events on location.

Remotes were not limited to the city. We went far afield for classical music to Saratoga, New York, and Music Mountain in Connecticut for a famous quartet. For the first few programs from Music Mountain we had to use a small radio transmitter on 1620 Kc with the antenna wire flown up by a balloon. A receiver at a nearby town picked up the transmitter's signal and fed it to a telephone line to the studios. A direct line was finally installed, and the rest of the summer concerts went on without a prayer.

Two of the more famous programs from WNYC were Mayor Fiorello LaGuardia reading the Sunday comics and the weekly broadcasts of the City Council meetings at City Hall. Those Tuesday afternoon Council Meetings were so popular that people would gather at parked taxi cabs and radio stores to listen to the animated and heated discussions in accents from Boston Brahmin to Irish, Brooklyn, and Russian. There were times when those meetings ran into the night and we had to borrow blank acetate recording discs to record the proceedings because the official stenographer had collapsed. A survey showed that these broadcasts had the largest listening audience because people were really interested in the activities of their legislature.

Among the personalities I worked with was Tommy Cowan, considered to be the first announcer in broadcasting. He had a phenomenal memory of opera and its many famous artists. He also told anecdotes about Thomas Edison. Announcer Tony Marvin went on to become the announcer for Arthur Godfrey. Another (the name escapes me) started a Sunday call-in program called "So You Know Music" and went on to a high position at NBC.

Since broadcasting was live, unexpected events occasionally required announcers to ad lib for long periods. Among us engineers, we all moved on to NBC, CBS and Mutual networks. A friend and classmate, King Stodala left to work for the military in New Jersey and was noted for hitting the moon with radar. I decided to leave broadcasting and become a teacher of science and electricity with the New York City Board of Education. My experience in broadcasting and music eventually led to a position as Technical Director of Audio Visual Instruction for the Board of education, City of New York.

The Perfect Antique Radio

BY JOHN HAGMAN

Every antique radio collector has his own view of perfection with a capital "P." With a touch of tongue-in-cheek, John Hagman designs his own "Perfect" radio and presents a photo of the near thing. Perhaps we'll hear about other candidates. (Editor)

First, a great radio should be HEAVY. Atwater Kent and Majestic never made an AC set that weighed less than 50 pounds to my knowledge. The cabinet should be absurdly overbuilt, with a top of solid lumber core panel about an inch thick. Better yet, the cabinet should be solid walnut like a Scott. The front should be made of quarter sawn, crotch burl walnut inlaid with ebony, zebrawood, and maple. My Stromberg-Carlson 70 console has a separate speaker enclosure with woofer and tweeter that weighs about 100 pounds. My Stromberg-Carlson Model 68, shown in Figure 1, is not really big, but it does qualify as a heavy radio.

Second, the radio should be designed and laid out to be as wasteful of space and energy as possible. The chassis must be 1/8"-thick plated steel. It should be roomy enough for a nap, and arranged first so everything looks neat and organized, with function second. Lots of big dog bone resistors are cool.

Multifunction tubes and efficiently run rubber or plastic wiring are just horrible — sets with separate oscillator tubes and neatly bundled cloth-covered wiring are where it's at! The best looking tubes, of course, are balloon shapes, though they don't make for a very functional set. So billions and billions of shouldered ST tubes with big fat pins are the way to go here, plus a nice eye tube or meter. Banks of 45s in push-pull parallel are best; obviously, all beam power tubes are hideously gauche. How can a console with a single ended 6L6 output have any dignity?

The radio's top should keep food warm during operation. A fuse holder with 110-volt and 120-volt positions is always in good taste. The word "television" must NOT appear on the back of the chassis, and no pushbuttons on the front either. Three stages of variable IF bandwidth with bizarre mechanical coupling are a real treat.

Third, there can't be any door over the controls. (I don't mind them, but most people seem to hate them.) The dial should be round and about 12" to 18" in diameter, with cryptic arcane things like "BULGARIA" AND "RADIOTELEPHONE" written on it. There should be lots of bands, say seven, and as many knobs as possible. If the knobs are one-of-a-kind, carved, virgin Honduran mahogany that go for $40 each on e-Bay, so much the better.

Fourth, the grille bars should be about a 1/4" wide, and cut into as elaborate a pattern as possible — flowers, woodland scenes, and mythic creatures, for example. The grille cloth should not be available from anyone in repro, and should also have an elaborate pattern and lots of texture. The speaker must be at least 12"; 15" is better, and a tweeter, if present, is fabulous. The speaker should be bolted to a crossbar in the cabinet as it's weight would distort the 3/4" thick front panel of the cabinet if fastened conventionally.

Fifth, the power transformer should be about 6" square, and there should be a giant choke, as well as the humongous field coil making a two section pi filter network. There must be a hum bucking coil in the speaker and a hum control on the chassis. Speakers with 6,000 ohm field coils that use four pounds of #40 magnet wire shunted right across the B+ get extra Brownie points. Cloth power cord should be 3/8" or more in diameter, with a nice drapey soft texture so unlike that nasty, stiff, skinny, repro stuff.

Sixth, for my own tastes, the radio must not be made by Zenith, as I just won't pay through the nose for the Commander's stale hype. Zeniths are the best radios in the world as Cadillacs are the best cars. If you believe that, you probably think Nixon was innocent too.

Finally, the radio should come from a friend of a friend, church rummage sale/auction, or someone who read your ad for old radios wanted. A real radio meet is good too, but there you'll have to listen to a lot of whining from the seller about how he has no room for big radios. Don't talk too long to him, as you'll find out the radios are all confined to a small back room, with consoles back to back in the middle of the room.

Someone, please shoot me if I ever put a console in the middle of a room!

AUCTION REPORT

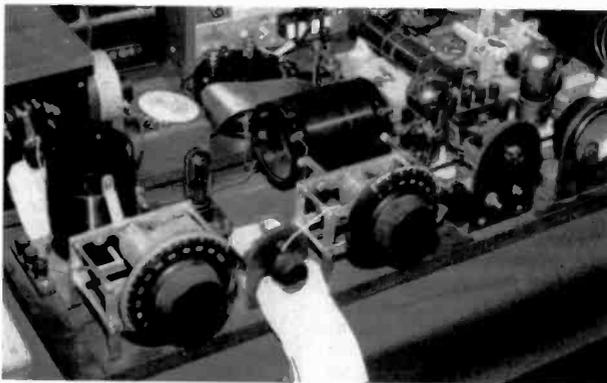

Estes Auction Seville, Ohio - April 26, 2003

REPORTED BY RAY CHASE

The April 26 Estes Auction was held at the Expo Auction Center in Burbank, Ohio, just a few miles from the Estes Barn in Seville. As usual there was a good assortment of early battery sets, 1930s table models, consoles, ham gear and many tube lots. Added attractions were many home-brew sets that were not old but exhibited excellent workmanship. Many of these were from John Haught of western Pennsylvania and were made from plans or ideas noted in Ham and Electronics publications. It was a pleasure to see such attention to detail and display of craftsmanship. There also was a large collection of novelty radios and crystal sets.

The most interesting piece offered was a Western Electric CGR-1-A superhet, made for the Coast Guard, that covered 1.5 to 3.0 Mhz and used eight of the 215A "peanut" tubes. It was very heavy due to a nearly 1/4-inch thick steel front panel. I had never seen this set before, but, unfortunately, the front panel was quite corroded, although the rest of the set was in reasonably good shape. It sold for $1,400.

The auction lasted all day, from 10:00 A.M. to past 5:00 P.M.

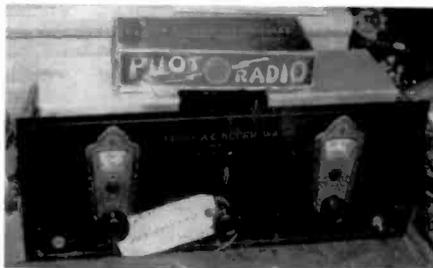

One of the many home-brew sets that were offered in the auction. Prices ranged from $5 to $325.

This rare Western Electric CGR-1-A superhet receiver was made for the Coast Guard. It had eight Type 215A "peanut" tubes, but the metal front panel had some corrosion. Despite this, it sold for $1,400.

A warning: Auction prices are not current values. Our selection of auction items is not necessarily complete. A listing such as this cannot adequately include the condition of cabinets, chassis, transformers, tubes, the operating status of the set, and the inclusion of incorrect, restored or replica components, etc. Auction prices are the result of the excitement of the auction process, the skill of the auctioneer and the specific interests of the participants. Nevertheless, auction prices serve as useful references and as another element in the value determining process. The possibility of error always exists, and if we are notified, corrections will be reported.

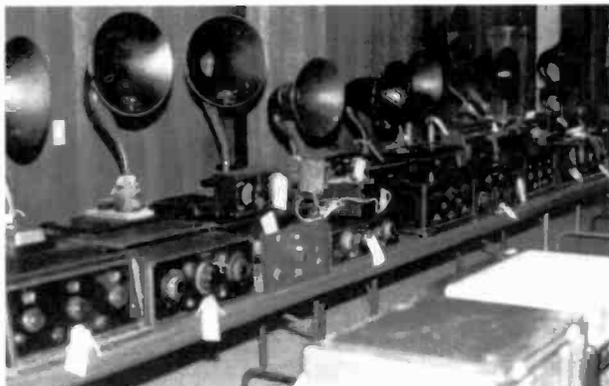

This Pilot Super Wasp, without case or power supply, but with original coils, sold for $145.

to handle the approximately 700 lots. A couple of dozen boxes of knobs, meters, parts, and wire, selling from $5 to $130 each, are not included below. Total sales were in the area of $45,000. There was a 5 percent buyer's premium at this site which is not included in the prices listed below. All prices have been rounded down to the dollar. Some lower-priced and poorer condition items have been deleted.

This column presents in pictorial form many of the more unusual radios, speakers, tubes, advertising, and other old radio-related items from our readers' collections. The photos are meant to help increase awareness of what's available in the radio collecting hobby. Send in any size photos from your collection. Photos must be sharp in detail, contain a single item, and preferably have a light-colored background. A short, descriptive paragraph MUST be included with each photo. Please note that receipt of photos is not acknowledged, publishing is not guaranteed, and photos are not returned.

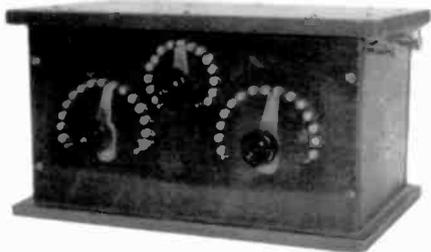

SCHUCHARDT ALLRATOR CRYSTAL SET – I looked for about 20 years for this most wanted set and finally bought it in 2002 in Sweden. Made in 1926 in Germany, it has condenser tuning (see the small lever), a plug-in detector from Selectit, and an Aeriola coil. It receives both long and short signals. (Erwin Macho – Vienna, Austria)

DEFOREST DT-600 EVERYMAN – This 1922 crystal receiver uses honeycomb plug-in coils to change the wavelengths. The detector is enclosed in a glass surround. (Ross Mason – Mason City, IA)

B&K MODEL 960 – Your transistor radio not working? Use this B&K Model 960 transistor radio analyst to check it out. It provides eight separate DC voltages, an individual transistor checker for in- or out-circuit testing, a VTVM, an output meter, and an RF/IF signal generator. (Ray Chase – Plainfield, NJ)

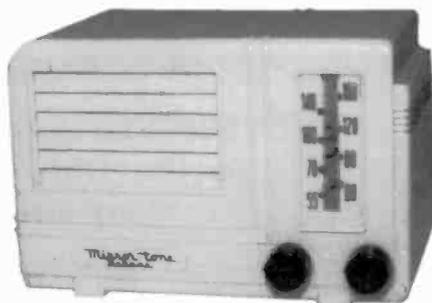

REPLICA ARMSTRONG TUNER – This reproduction of a 1913 Armstrong 3-circuit tuner was built in 1928 by Dana Darling of Greenfield, MA. (Wally Worth – Wollaston, MA)

PHOTO REVIEW

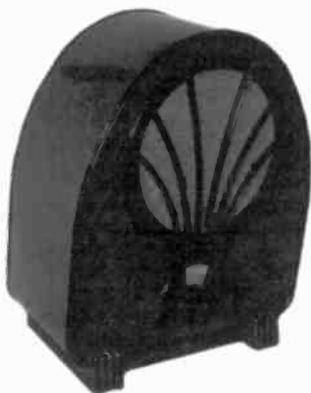

HOWARD MODEL 482 – This is an FM converter manufactured by Howard Radio of Chicago. It is used to tune an AM radio to FM by plugging into the phono input terminal. (John Phipps – St. Charles, MO)

MIRROR TONE DELUXE MODEL 804 – This little, plastic, 4-tube radio was manufactured for Monarch Sales Company of Chicago. (John Phipps – St. Charles, MO)

GENERAL ELECTRIC MODEL BX – This small, metal-cased radio was manufactured in 1932. The 4-tube chassis contains a voltage-dropping filament resistor. (Jack LaVelle – Oak Forest, IL)

PHILIPS MODEL 830A – This 5-tube "Superinductance" is of a hi-tech TRF design, having very complex components. The Litz-wound coils have glass formers in huge copper cans. The laminate "Arborlite" cabinet is over a steel frame. (Jim Taylor – Bournemouth, England)

SHEPCO RECEIVER – This "all-purpose" receiving set was manufactured by the Shepard-Potter Co. of Plattsburg, N. Y. It sold for $21 in 1924. The instructions claim that the set may be used in innumerable circuits by interchanging jumpers to terminals at the top and on the inside of the panel. (Leonard Aquino – Putnam Valley, NY)

AUCTION REPORT

Estes Vintage Radio Auction Seville, Ohio — May 24, 2003

REPORTED BY RAY CHASE

Estes Radio Auctions held a vintage radio auction at its antique auction barn in Seville, Ohio, on May 24, 2003. As usual, the auction was preceded by an outside sale of low value items. Although Friday, the day before the auction, was rainy (seems to be the norm), the outside goods were under tarp and suffered little water damage. The Saturday morning outside auction started at 8:00 a.m., so one had to be there early to do any inspection. Fortunately, the weather broke, and Saturday was a good day all around.

World War II military goods were plentiful. I saw three BC-375 tuning units, a BC-375 dynamotor, and a new-in-box SCR-522 T/R unit. There were also many boxes of military spare parts, as well as the usual parts box lots, many low priced radios, tube lots, and test equipment. I did not attempt to record the sales at the outside auction.

If you had a good hauling capacity, this was the time to pick up some bargains, as many radios and lots were selling in the $1 to $5 range. This part of the auction continued until 10:15 a.m., and quite a few items were left unsold even with a minimum starting bid of $1.

Inside, the goods were varied but heavy on Zenith, especially tube and transistor Trans-Oceanics. The tube lots were extensive, and there was a host of German radios from the 1950s. Most of the Trans-Oceanics and German radios were reported to be in good working condition. The auction of about 650 lots lasted until after 5:00 p.m., and an excess of $33,000 was realized.

At this site, there is no buyer's premium so the listed prices are the prices paid. As usual, I missed a few lots or deleted a few items that were not of general interest, (translation, I could not read my own notes a few weeks later). All prices have been rounded down to the dollar, and some lower-priced and poor condition items deleted.

e=excellent, vg=very good, g=good, f=fair, p=poor, unk=unknown condition, N.O.S.=new old stock, wk=working, nwk=not working, WT=with tubes, NT=no tubes, BB=brass based, TT=tipped tube, SW=shortwave, PS=power supply, PB=push buttons, N.I.B.=new in box.

A warning: Auction prices are not current values. Our selection of auction items is not necessarily complete. A listing such as this cannot adequately include the condition of cabinets, chassis, transformers, tubes, the operating status of the set, and the inclusion of incorrect, restored or replica components, etc. Auction prices are the result of the excitement of the auction process, the skill of the auctioneer and the specific interests of the participants. Nevertheless, auction prices serve as useful references and as another element in the value determining process. The possibility of error always exists, and if we are notified, corrections will be reported.

These photos give a flavor of the many, many low-value items in the Saturday morning outside auction. The items were under tarps on Friday evening, as seen in the upper left photo.

These spark gaps, sounders and relays show just how diversified this auction was.

These RCA Victor leather-cased, shortwave portables were in competition with the Zenith Trans-Oceanics.

BOOK REVIEW

The Complete Price Guide to Antique Radios: Tabletop Radios, Volume 4

By Mark V. Stein

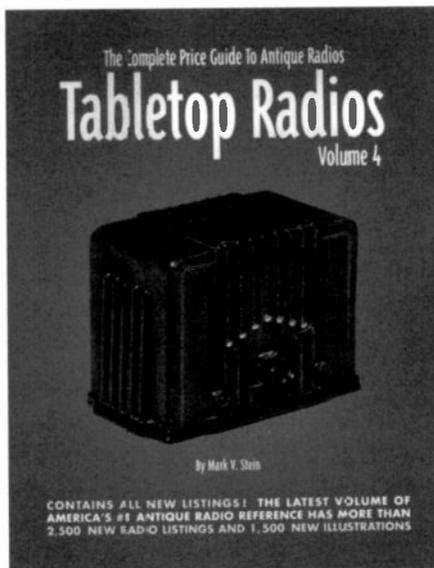

REVIEWED BY GEOFF SHEARER

At Radioactivity, held on June 6-8, 2003, by the Mid-Atlantic Antique Radio Club (MAARC) in Beltsville, Maryland, Mark Stein debuted his new radio book, The Complete Price Guide to Antique Radios: Tabletop Radios, Volume 4. The boxes of books had been overnighted and arrived the day prior to the event. I had the distinct pleasure of receiving the first one out of the box. Mark then made himself available for signing and didn't close shop until around 5:00 P.M.

The new book follows the line of his most recent other radio book — Tabletop Radios, Volume 1. Mark indicated that Volume 1 was a redesign of his original Machine Age to Jet Age, Volume 1 with additional pictures and a price guide/index for that book, as well as the previous ones. This latest book, Volume 4, stands by itself and follows Machine Age to Jet Age, Volume III. This latest book has the manufacturers in the "Table of Contents" to facilitate easy reference.

The most useful purpose of the tabletop guides is to give the collector the opportunity to find a radio that matches his "unnamed" set on the shelf/workbench. Volume 4 contains 2,500 new listings and 1,500 new illustrations.

Mark begins each book with definitions and explanations of the various cabinet types and finishes. He also tells how to adequately price an item, which is extremely helpful to the new radio hobbyists. The book is one of the few places in our collecting world where you can find definitions of the various types of plastics.

This new volume is set up for nine pictures per page with no page break between manufacturers. The overall picture quality is good with only a few "fuzzy" looking sets. As an Emerson Ingraham collector, I was happy to see the Ingraham logo next to those sets that had that cabinet designer. There are no "miscellaneous" pages and the listings stop at Zenith.

I feel that the "Tabletop" series of radio price guides is invaluable to the collector. Many sets found today are missing their manufacturer and model tag, and these guide books are the only source to help identify an item. I strongly recommend these books for your library.

My only complaint about this latest issue is that our club, Mid-Atlantic Antique Radio Club (MAARC) is not listed in the "Vintage Radio Clubs" section at the beginning of the Guide. However, we were the premiere audience, and I'm sure Mark will include us in subsequent guides. Happy Viewing!

DISPLAY AND BUSINESS CARD ADS • DETAILS AND RATES

The deadline is the first of the month for display and business card ad artwork, payment and repeat requests.

Advertising is accepted only for early items related to radio, communication, etc. All items must be described fairly; reproductions, reprints and not-original items must be so identified. Advertisers must agree to respond promptly to inquiries and orders, to resolve problems promptly if the buyer is not satisfied, and to comply with a buyer's refund request on unaltered returned items.

Advertising must be prepaid, except as noted below: see "Payment" paragraph above for details. Late ads will be run only if space and time permit. Originals must be the artwork size listed below. Send all artwork on disk or ask us to typeset it for you. Do not send in artwork on artboard or send negatives. Please call for instructions on how to send your electronic ad. If used, reverse type must be limited to 25% of the ad. If you want us to prepare your ad, include the one-time cost below for A.R.C. to make up the ad.

Add $16.00 per photo for screening unless part of an existing electronic ad. Do not cut or trim photos or glue photos to artwork; submit separately.

If you are confused by these requirements and terms, please contact A.R.C. before beginning to prepare your ad. We will be happy to advise you on your ad ideas, estimate how much the ad will cost, recommend an ad size, etc.

We assume that advertisers want all ads which are submitted to run without delay; therefore, we will run the ad and bill for any additional work required for the ad to meet these specifications. A late ad will run beginning with the next month. "Tear sheets" will be sent only for 1/8-page or larger ads and only if requested when the ad is submitted.

First business card per advertiser is at lower rate.

The 3-month rates represent about an 11% discount, the 6-month rates 23%, the 12-month rates 30%. Placement requests: add 15% but call first. Clubs: write for discount policy.

CLASSIFIED ADS • DETAILS AND RATES

ONE FREE 20-WORD AD for subscribers in each issue; additional words are 29¢ each. See details below. Classified ads sent by mail, fax, e-mail or by any other method must be received (no just postmarked!) by Noon Eastern Time on the classified ad deadline date to guarantee inclusion in the current issue. Late ads are held for the following issue. Please enclose correct payment with all ads. Cash is OK for small amounts. (Canadian and other foreign advertisers, please see "Payment" on opposite page for methods.) "Free words" cannot be accumulated from month to month; free words must be requested when ad is submitted.

Faxed & e-mailed ads: Please see additional information on opposite page.

When including ads with other A.R.C. correspondence, write the ads on a separate piece of paper. Include SUB# with ad. Ads may be sent in advance; but, write each ad on a separate piece of paper and indicate the month (or successive two months) you want the ad to run.

To minimize our typing errors: Please write legibly. Use both capital and small letters. Do not use a dash between words. Carefully write the following numbers and letters (especially in model numbers) since some can look alike; for example 1, l and I (the number one, the capital i and the small L). Also: 0, O, o, Q and D; r and n; 6, b and G; V, U, u, v and Y; A and R; 5, S and s; 2, Z and z. We try to correct spelling errors, so when using an uncommon word or manufacturer which we might mistake as a more common word or manufacturer, note it so that we do not "correct" it. Editor's annotations are in [brackets].

Advertising is accepted only for early items related to radio, communication, etc. All items must be described fairly; reproductions, reprints and not-original items must be so identified. Advertisers must agree to respond promptly to inquiries and orders, to resolve problems promptly if the buyer is not satisfied, and to comply with a buyer's refund request on unaltered returned items.

The publisher reserves the right to edit ads without notification to the advertiser and to reject ads for any reason. Names other than the advertiser will be edited out of ads. Ads with non-radio-related items will be returned or edited unless the non-radio-related items are for trade of radio-related items, or they are incidental to and appear at the end of an otherwise acceptable ad. The publisher is not responsible for errors due to illegibly written ads or "or" any other reason. See also Publishing Rights on opposite page.

Clubs: Since club activities receive free coverage on the Coming Radio Events pages, the free 20 words may not be used for club activity ads. A discount on display advertising is available for clubs.

CLASSIFIED AD DETAILS

RADIO RESTORATION PARTS

Vacuum Tube Repair Wafers

These wafers are solid-state devices for quick and easy repair of early vacuum tubes. The wafer is installed by simply sliding it over the tube pins and resinserting the tube into its socket. If the filament is intact but there is little or no emission, the filament may be lit for best visual effect. However, the tube can be open filament.

No change in radio operating voltages is required. Any number of tubes may be repaired in a radio. If wafers are installed on all tubes, the B+ voltage typically may be reduced without sacrificing volume or sensitivity. Performance will vary between radio models. For best results, order one (1) "D" detector wafer for each radio. $10 each
