

Buyers Guide

that helps you find products faster!

Instructions

1. Turn to the yellow pages Buyers Guide Product Index to find an alphabetical listing of all products and services listed in the Buyers Guide. Following each entry is a Buyers Guide page reference number where a list of companies involved in that specific field can be found in the Buyers Guide.

Listed after the name of each product category is a product NUMBER that will help you find product categories even faster than before! This 8 digit number contains a PRIMARY number (the first 4 digits) followed by a SECONDARY number (the last 4 digits). The product numbers correspond exactly to those on the Buyers Guide Questionnaire (see following pages) sent to each company listed in the BUYERS GUIDE.

Listed at the top of each page is the PRIMARY product number to help guide you to the correct category.

— OR —

You can use the Buyers Guide Questionnaire (see following pages) to find the NUMBER assigned to a particular product and then find it by number within the Buyers Guide.

The Buyers Guide Questionnaire lists product categories IN THE SAME ORDER that the products are listed in the BUYERS GUIDE.

For example: 0020 is the product number for Amplifiers listed under 0110 Satellite Earth Stations. Using the PRIMARY number listed at the top of each page, find the 0100 section, then 0110 within it, then 0020 under that category.

2. Once you have found the product category you want and have found the company you want to contact, turn to the page number listed after the company name in the white pages section of the Factbook for detailed information concerning the company.

BUYERS GUIDE

EXPLANATORY NOTES

The Television & Cable Factbook BUYERS GUIDE is divided into nine primary product categories based on product/service type. Each Primary Category begins a new section in the Buyers Guide. Companies are listed alphabetically under each category. Those appearing in bold type are paid BOLD-FACE BUYERS GUIDE advertisers*. All remaining entries are provided free as a service to non-advertising companies listed in the Factbook.

The concise, easy-to-digest, well-organized information service that allows you . . . in just minutes each week . . . to keep up with the latest, most accurate, relevant, indispensable information covering the entire telecommunications industry.

COMMON CARRIER WEEK
The Authoritative News Service for the Telecommunications Industry

SUMMARY-INDEX OF WEEK'S NEWS

FCC OPENS COMPUTER 3 INQUIRY: Structural separations concept for AT&T and BOCs would be eliminated for provision of services. (P. 2)

WIRTH AND FLORIO TO INTRODUCE TELECOMMUNICATIONS TRADE BILL this week that proposes new authority for FCC. Bill covers equipment and services trade. (P. 3)

ALLNET AND LEXITEL MERGE: New company would hold strong 3d place among OCCs. (P. 3)

MCCA ANNOUNCES IT WILL BUY MCI AIRSIGNAL, but MCI says it's not likely. (P. 4)

REGIONAL HOLDING COS. AND AT&T OPPOSE OCC PETITION for relief in comments filed with FCC. Lexitel and SWS defend OCC position. (P. 4)

FIBERTRAK CONSTRUCTION DELAY ANNOUNCED BY PARTNERS, citing market conditions. (P. 6)

SWB TELECOM ANNOUNCES EQUIPMENT AGREEMENT, sees no conflict with SWB Telephone on shared local services. (P. 10)

THIS WEEK... KEEPING UP

There are some weeks that demonstrate more than others impossibility of keeping up with developments in telecommunications. Even as industry was filing comments with FCC on OCC petition for relief on access charges and other equal access-related issues, it was stunned by announcement that Allnet, 3rd largest OCC, and Lexitel, 7th largest, plan to merge. Reply comments immediately will argue need for protection for OCCs to keep industry from collapsing into itself.

New company would hold 3rd behind MCI and Sprint in OCC business. Allnet and Lexitel officials said major reason for merger was increased availability to lease fiber optic facilities to carry traffic. However, another major fiber network, Fibertrak, won't be there. Shortly after Allnet-Lexitel merger announcement, Fibertrak organizers said they would defer building their billion-dollar, 8,100-mile transcontinental fiber network because there weren't sufficient advance customers.

Many in telecommunications industry to this day haven't figured out 3-year-old Computer 2 definitions. Now, if they wait a little while, they can try to figure out new Computer 3 definitions. To replace old "basic" and "enhanced" dichotomy, FCC has proposed to allow most new services offered by telcos into market with new definition of whether service is "competitive," which will determine degree of accounting and other conditions placed on new service.

Ultimate demonstration of speed of events came last week when Mobile Communications Company of America (MCCA) announced 3-way deal to buy MCI's paging and cellular interests and sell some of assets to BellSouth. Half an hour later, MCI released own announcement, which said deal had been scotched.
