Crosley Offers You an Amazing Radio Value

A Magnificent Radio Receiving Set That Serves Many Useful Purposes in the Home

THE Mate is 27 inches high and can be made to serve many useful purposes in the home—as an end, bedside, or occasional table, or out in the room as a magazine stand. The Mate uses three Screen Grid tubes type-24, one type-45 and one type-80. This is indeed an astonishing value.

The Crosley MATE $74.⁵⁰ Complete

This magnificently beautiful instrument has been acclaimed by thousands the most marvelous radio receiving set yet produced. The exquisitely designed front panel is genuine Crosley Repwood and is an exact reproduction of a delightful, original, hand carving. The performance of The Mate is remarkable. Your favorite programs will come in clear, distinct and colorful.

Radio Tax Held Invalid

STATE laws imposing taxes upon radio receiving sets are unconstitutional as an interference with interstate commerce, according to a decision of the Federal District Court in South Carolina in a test suit brought to determine the validity of the South Carolina statute imposing such a tax, the first law of its kind to be passed in the United States.

In order to test the validity of the law, suits to restrain the collection of the tax were brought by a North Carolina broadcasting station, a radio dealer in South Carolina and a South Carolina owner of a receiving set. The decision just rendered was in the case brought by the broadcasting station, which contended that radio is interstate commerce and therefore not subject to taxation by a state.

The court held that communication by radio constitutes interstate commerce although, it was pointed out in the decision, "it is not inconceivable that radio communication may in the future be so perfected that it may be confined strictly intrastate."

"Certainly," the decision continued, "under the facts of the present case the plaintiff, through its broadcasting plant, is engaged in interstate commerce. The receiving sets in South Carolina are essential to the reception of the communication by the South Carolina audience. In other words, the receiving sets are absolutely essential instrumentalities of the interstate commerce in which the plaintiff is engaged.

"The tax is not a general property tax, but a license tax for the privilege of using an instrument of interstate commerce. Nor can it be sustained as a matter of local regulation, for the subject is national, and admits only of one uniform system or plan of regulation. Nor can it be sustained as a police regulation with an incidental tax to pay the expense of the regulation, for it has no elements of police and, moreover, the tax is frankly devoted to the uses of a state institution. Nor can it be sustained as an aid of interstate commerce, nor on the ground that its effect is merely incidental."

"The tax here," the court concluded, "is directly laid upon a necessary instrument of interstate commerce, imposes a burden upon that commerce, and the act of the legislature imposing it is therefore in conflict with the constitution of the United States and null and void."

The South Carolina law, imposing a graduated tax upon owners of radio receiving sets ranging up to a maximum of $2.50 per set, was passed last year. The decision of the court is of great importance to both the radio industry and the general public throughout the country, since a decision that the tax was valid would have opened up an entirely new field of taxation to the states, many of which are looking for new sources of revenue.

"Spotlight Revue" Gets a Hand

Have been a subscriber of BROADCAST WEEKLY but a short time. We previously purchased it from week to week. We certainly do enjoy this little magazine. It's kind of nice to know what your favorite artists look like.

I agree with J. J., San Francisco, regarding the Best Bets for Today and the pictures. I'm for the pictures. One can easily take a pencil and mark their special programs opposite the time, which is very plainly printed. Also agree with J. J. about the "Trial of Vivian Ware." Perhaps B. D. R. is just a little prejudiced regarding this sort of entertainment. The family and myself enjoyed it very much.

Just a word of cheer for the "Spotlight Review." The players on this program certainly deserve the glad hand. Anyone listening in on this hour and a half of good wholesome entertainment cannot help but retire for the night with happy thoughts.

Here's to lots of success for the BROADCAST WEEKLY and its associates. I suppose it is hard to please everyone. However, we enjoy it very much and feel that we get our money's worth out of this little magazine.

Miss A. B., Bellingham, Wash., Jan. 19

No Fault to Find

I agree with E. F. S. of Stockton, California, regarding the pictures. I want more pictures of staff artists. I believe most readers of the BROADCAST WEEKLY prefer the pictures.

I have no certain stations to disapprove of, as most stations have what I enjoy listening to. I enjoy mostly the North Americans over station KPO, the Arizona Wranglers over Station KNX, and Gus Arnheim and his Cocoanut Grove Orchestra. I was certainly glad to see Gus Arnheim's picture on the front of the BROADCAST WEEKLY of January 18-24.

I feel the same way as Anne of Pacific Grove, California, as to a good tenor like Rudy Vallee singing the vocal chorus of a piece of jazz.

I was greatly disappointed to find that there wasn't any Drama Hour over the NBC station Saturday from 9:30 to 10 p. m.

A. H. S., Reno, Nevada, Jan. 21

Here's the Other Side

I don't agree with H. E. C. of Gridley as to changing the Happy Go Lucky Hour to the evening instead of the afternoon. I know it is hard on the people who have to work, but how about the thousands of shut-ins who can't listen at night for the reason that they have to be in bed early, or possibly on account of poor reception, as is the case in this locality.

KFRC is one of our best stations all day, but very poor at night, as far as reception is concerned. KTAR, KGW, and KFSD interfere with KFRC at night, not only on our own radio, but everyone I've heard, and I've heard some good ones. Although we enjoy the Jamboree and other evening programs, we never can listen to them with any satisfaction for that reason.

I, for one, depend almost entirely on the radio for entertainment, and I'm sure there are lots of others who do too and wouldn't want the program changed. Would like to hear the opinion of others on the change of the Happy Go Lucky Hour.

We have purchased BROADCAST WEEKLY for over two years and like it very much.

H. McH., Bakersfield, Calif., Jan. 17

In Defense of Meredith

It is interesting to read the various reactions that people have in regard to music. I disagree very much with W. L. M. and family of Sacramento, who dislike Meredith Willson's music. I think he is the best musical director on the air, and certainly the best KFRC has ever had. Aside from the fact that his music is very fine, it is also very original. Many of the selections played on the Jamboree are his own arrangements. I think if Meredith Willson's music were taken off the Jamboree the public would think KFRC was trying to turn its listeners against it. At least one-half of the Jamboree is music, and it must take many hours of hard work to arrange and rehearse the music properly. I think Meredith Willson deserves a world of credit, and many of my friends like the Jamboree for the very thing that W. L. M. dislikes—the music. But, after all, each one has a right to his own opinion, and it wouldn't do for everyone to like the same things.

M. E., Berkeley, Calif., Jan. 23

You Shall Have the Pictures

Please give us the pictures rather than Best Bets. Anyone can mark the programs in the magazine or else write them on a piece of paper.

I surely would like to see the following pictures printed at some time in the future: Bennie Walker, Bobbe Deane, Big Brother Ken, Marjorie Gray, and Ann Holden. I want them for my radio scrapbook.

Thanks a lot, and please give us the pictures.

E. S., Miami, Ariz., Jan. 21

D. B. B. Must Have Right System

I was very much pleased to see the pictures in place of Best Bets in the last BROADCAST WEEKLY. In checking my favorite programs I have always used the system used by D. B. B. of Pasadena, and I find it much more convenient than trying to write in Best Bets the programs I wish to hear most.

In regard to my favorite station, KPO is my first choice with KFRC a close second. There are two more stations I would like very much to see in BROADCAST WEEKLY. They are KGDM of Stockton and KMPC of Beverly Hills. KGDM is a grand station and I am tuned in on it as much as on any other station during the day. The reception is fine and they generally have splendid programs. If these two stations were added to your list, it would be greatly appreciated by the people in this part of the country, I can assure you. Some of the stations listed in BROADCAST WEEKLY do not compare, to my way of thinking, with KGDM of Stockton.

I think the Open Circuit is very interesting. I would like to see twice as much of it as you print. Also I would like to see another page by Gypsy.

I like BROADCAST WEEKLY very much. It is a necessity to anyone with a radio, and I have no fault to find with the price. We get a lot for our money.

C. N. H., Gustine, Calif., Jan. 25

Thumbs Down on Phil

After reading the January 25, 1931 issue of the BROADCAST WEEKLY, I feel just pessimistic enough to express my opinions freely. I don't quite like the way L. H. D., Vancouver, compared Charlie Hamp and Phil Cook. I wonder if by putting the good before artists in italics, he means to imply that Charlie Hamp isn't as good as Phil Cook. If so, I'm going to become "Council for the Defense." Someone said that Phil Cook's programs radiate his personality and, in that case, that surely was a dirty crack about his personality. His jokes are so stale that most of them have whiskers by this time. On the other hand, Charlie Hamp's jokes are quite unique and his singing is perfect. Dr. Strasska certainly knew what he was doing when he picked on Charlie to do his radio advertising for him.

Now, to attack Amos 'n' Andy. I do not think that half their fans really listen to them for the pleasure they derive from it. Instead, since someone started to talk about them in the "best circles," people listen to them merely so they can talk intelligently on the subject. They repeat too much to be funny.

I should also like to say that if W. L. M. and family could offer a suggestion for the improvement of Meredith Willson's arrangements of music, I am almost positive that they would be gratefully received by Mr. Willson. Personally, I think that any improvement which could be suggested would be very small.

Henry Starr of KPO is very pleasing to me. For you who do not enjoy him now, tune in on KPO from 6:45 to 7 some evening and be convinced that he is good. There is only one thing wrong with it—his broadcast, and that is that it is too short.

More power to KFRC, KPO, and KNX.
"Anne," Pacific Grove, Calif., Jan. 22

He Ought to Know

It is not my policy to openly condemn any artist or station because I don't like their program. But I will say that KFRC is our favorite station. I have been a DX fan and some time ago I appointed myself DX champion in this part of the country.

I disagree with Mrs. D of San Francisco about KYA. They may have good programs at some time during the day, but don't you think they use the phonograph too much? And as most people listen at night, KYA is located on such a place on the dial that at night (if you live outside of San Francisco) that it has a habit of "mushing" and fading.

And also I don't care what you do with Best Bets, but please give us the pictures.

B. W., Monterey, Calif., Jan. 20

Another for Pictures

I want to say that I am heartily in favor of the pictures, and back up Miss E. F. S. of Stockton, J. J. of San Francisco, and A. S. of Sacramento for them.

I think those who prefer the Best Bets could just as well write down on a paper their favorite programs.

For more pictures.

Miss J. M., Soquel, Calif., Jan. 18

KGO Is Favorite Here

I wish to let you know I appreciate the BROADCAST WEEKLY, for it makes my radio live with real characters.

My favorite station is KGO, although there are many bright spots on the other stations as well. Tony's Scrapbook from KFRC over the CBS network is a gem.

I eagerly wait for each copy of the BROADCAST WEEKLY to see if my imaginary characters jibe with the real ones.

R. K. B., Campbell, Calif., Jan. 22

Hazel—Take a Bow!

Well, it looks as though KFRC is the station. It has always been my favorite station, and I think it always will be.

The programs are very fine, especially the "Golden State Blue Monday Jamboree" and "Feminine Fancies." And did you ever notice that the announcers are selected according to the kind of program; which makes the program twice as interesting because the announcer plays a very important part in the program.

I like all of the KFRC artists with one or two exceptions, but my favorite artist is Hazel Warner. In my estimation she has the sweetest voice on the air, and her disposition is just as sweet as her voice. I don't think there is an artist on the air that can sing "When It's Springtime in the Rockies" as well as Hazel Warner does, and she sings all her songs equally as well. To me, her voice has an indefinable something that makes me want to hear her sing again and again. Hazel is on the Jamboree, the Happy Go Lucky Hour, sometimes in the mornings with Wyn and her Daily Chats, and occasionally she is on in the evenings with the dinner concert.

M. E., Berkeley, Cal., Jan. 16.

F. S. B. Comes to the Rescue

As a regular purchaser of BROADCAST WEEKLY at a local news stand, I feel that I should tell you there is no better magazine of its type, anywhere.

I am in favor of pictures instead of "Best Bets." Some time ago you had pictures of Laughner Harris' and Anson Weeks' orchestras on the Saturday pages. I wish that you would publish more such pictures. I have quite a collection of the photographs of my favorites, and would like to add Jesse Stafford's, Earl Burtnett's and the Vagabonds orchestras to it, especially Jesse Stafford's.

I can't understand why so many fans overlook the merits of KGO. They all rave about KFRC and KTAB, yet KGO has real artists, carefully prepared programs, and the finest staff of announcers on the Pacific Slope. KFRC spends too much time on used cars and exact time. KTAB is worse. Neither one has a decent announcer and all the artists sound like amateurs.

I am a musician and know a real artist when I hear one; also a good orchestra. I honestly think that Jesse Stafford has the best orchestra of its type anywhere. I know, personally, Jesse and all his musicians; they are all masters of their instruments, and are to be congratulated on their ability to produce the best in dance music.

I disagree with Mrs. S., San Francisco. KTAB never had a presentable program until they joined the UBC chain.

Added to JMB's list of stations, I think KTAR's programs should be published.

I hope you will publish this. I am still a regular reader of that dandy little magazine BROADCAST WEEKLY.

F. J. B., Martinez, Calif., Jan. 17.

We Agree with You, R. D. N.

We drove over fifty miles to get your BROADCAST WEEKLY this week because they were all sold out in Marysville, but I will never buy another one of your publications.

You don't seem to care a whoop what you put in the programs any more.

We thought that after the holidays you surely would have the programs lined up so one could tell something about what was to come when we invited friends in to hear a program, but this week seems to be worse than ever.

We have a neighbor who likes the plays and talks on the air, and tonight my husband went out in the rain to set his radio for a story, "The Weight of Evidence," on KGO. I know that poor old man is terribly disappointed. And to say that we are peeved is putting it mildly.

You will say one buyer of your magazine don't make any difference, but I know I am only one of several that have decided to let your magazine alone in the future. I used to think it was O. K., but lately it is a nuisance and I refuse to be annoyed with it.

R. D. H., Marysville, Calif., Jan. 15.

(Editor's Note: You're wrong, R. D. N. We do care. It is our aim to please every single reader, and we are doing everything humanly possible to have our releases accurate. There have been a few changes of late, but you can rest assured that they were made after our issue had gone to press. We quite agree with you that there's nothing more disappointing than having your favorite program changed without notice. We hope our readers bear with us until this period of changing programs is over.

MICROPHONE GOSSIP

• • • Hardy Gibson of the KFRC team of Doakes and Doakes had about as funny an experience as was ever used in any of his acts on the stage. Several years ago the act was playing a town in Illinois, and Gibson, after superintending the transportation of his scenery to the local theater and having it set, rehearsed the numbers with the orchestra. When it came time to go on that night he noticed that Doakes and Doakes wasn't on the bill. Finally the manager came around to see about it and he explained he had no notice that Doakes and Doakes were playing there. Gibson had assumed there was only one vaudeville house in the town. There were two. He was in the wrong one.

• • • Tom Mitchell, entertainer extraordinary on the fifteen-minute program over KGO for Rainier Lime Rickey (Monday at 8:15, Wednesday at 9:15, and Saturday at 8:15), is instituting a new type of radio divertimento. His work in the studio is strictly of an informal tone and his intimate way of greeting his audience has an appeal that cannot be questioned.

• • • Bob Bence, "Professor Bob," has inaugurated a new frolic hour for the entertainment of KPO dialers. Bob and his gang of whoopee vendors hold forth every afternoon, 3 to 4, with exception of Mondays, when they wax enthusiastic 2 to 2:55 o'clock.

• • • Ron Myron, director of KOIN's feature program "Sperry's Scrap Book of the Air" and junior announcer, is somewhat of a curious mixture, being a scientist and artist. Whenever Myron takes time off from his announcing activities and Scrap Book dissertations, he hies himself to his laboratory for a good work-out in the study of bacteriology.

• • • Chuck Darling, KROW harmonica player, comes from Santa Barbara, California, put four years in the navy; also spent some time in Wyoming, Utah and Nevada, where he learned something about cattle. This is making time, as Chuck is only twenty-one years old now. He can get some of the most awful squawks out of a harmonica of any harmonica player now in captivity. He has now been playing with Bill Simmons "nigh onto two years," eats, sleeps, drinks, and has habits same as humans.

• • • William Pinkerton Day, known up and down the Pacific Coast as "Pinkie" Day, vaudeville and radio headliner, has joined the Northwest Broadcasting System announcers' staff and will be stationed at KEX, Portland.

Day for years was a headline attraction on the Fanchon and Marco and Pantages circuits. He later became a favorite with Pacific Northwest listeners through his work on Pacific Northwest radio stations.

He has a deep baritone voice and sings semi-classical and popular songs.

• • • Bill Tucker, KFVB's concert pianist and half of the piano team "Nip and Tuck," claims Mt. Vernon, Illinois, as his birthplace, and was quite the child prodigy of the town. He still chuckles when he thinks of the time that he went to hear one of Paderewski's concerts in St. Louis, and then came home and obliged the Ladies Uplift Society with a demonstration of how the great artist played.

• • • If, some day, you turn a deaf ear to a good-looking and insistent Ford salesman down the Peninsula, you may only be escaping him temporarily, for you will listen to the new tenor on KTAB, and Paul Hammet, auto salesman and Paul Hammet, tenor, are one and the same. Paul is married; has two young potential radio artists in the family; one of them, seven years old, showing a decided genius in the vocal field.

• • • Mort Harris, pioneer radio balladist, and more recently in charge of producing Publix stage shows in New York, has returned to San Francisco to stay. Many fans here will remember Mort's silver-toned voice in the early days of radio as well as his personal appearances at the Granada Theater with Paul Ash. He is the composer of a number of popular song hits, among which is "My Guitar and You." Mort returns to local ether channels over KJBS, where he will broadcast each Monday and Friday.

• • • Paul Bergman, saxophone player with the studio orchestra at KMTR, has a clever composition to his credit—"Wild Fire," usually played as a saxophone solo. He also is a real "radio fan," owning a short-wave receiver and listening to Russia, Japan, Germany, and others at will. A native of Germany, Paul has been in America only three years; he is the usual handsome continental type.

• • • Robert Olsen's great, great, great grandfather was an Englishman, says Bob. Which perhaps accounts for the KFRC tenor's total lack of any Scandanavian accent. Listen closely to his Victor records and see.

• • • Clarence Tolman, the Idaho cowboy, and Curley Davis, cow tamer from the Colorado Hills, have roped themselves into a team which they call the "Whispering Cowboys." Henceforth they will be a Shell Hap-pytime attraction, appearing on Mondays, 8 to 9 o'clock, on KPO.

• • • Don E. Gilman, vice-president in charge of the Pacific division of the National Broadcasting Company, was one of the best-known advertising men in the West before he took his present post as a radio executive. He returned to his old vocation for an hour one night recently, when he spoke at a dinner of the Pacific Radio Trades Association, on "New Problems in Radio Set Sales."

• • • Glenhall Taylor is back. He left KTAB months ago where he had served in the capacity of program director, and went to KTM, the southern outlet of the Pick-wick stations. After he had cleared up static and other Hollywood problems down south, the call came again, and he was air-mailed back to KTAB as production manager and assistant general manager.

• • • Merle Matthews, KFRC's production manager, broke into radio about four years ago by winning a continuity contest conducted by a coast broadcasting chain. Previous to that she had been a writer.

• • • Amos 'n' Andy are going to open all future meetings of the Elks' Lodge in Hoquiam, Washington. Sixty members of the lodge voted on whether the radio receiving set should be moved into the meeting hall each Tuesday night at eight o'clock, and the motion that this be done was carried 57 to 3. The members will hear the Amos 'n' Andy episode before the regular opening of the lodge, which will be delayed until Bill Hay signs off.

• • • Musical comedy stars had better look out! KFVB has discovered a talented duo in Johnny Murray and Elinor Gail, who warble every Monday night those liting melodies which one hears only in musical shows with the ease of old timers. Elinor Gail was Hugette in the Broadway production of "The Vagabond King," while Johnny sang his way through "Good News" and Gene Buck's show, "Take the Air."

• • • Spectators who watched the benefit football game, staged at Kezar Stadium, San Francisco, Sunday afternoon, January 25, by the Knights of Columbus for the unemployed, left the stadium satisfied that the sobriquet "ball hound" rightfully belongs to Don Thompson, KPO's popular sports' announcer.

Don, who beefs at 212 pounds, tops six feet three, played guard on Larry Betten-court's team and was opposed by "Jumping Joe" Savoldi's eleven. Throughout the game Thompson displayed the form that made him one of the most brilliant linesmen of the nation two and a half years ago. The KPO announcer was a tornado of action and smothered the ball on every move, besides taking his opposition out of the play.

• • • Pedro Gonzales (Eugene Hawes) of KFRC spends his afternoons swimming in the Y. M. C. A. tank. This is totally against the policy of Mexicans, to swim, says Pedro, but, after all, he must make some concession to American ways.

• • • John McCrea, NBC tenor, is going about with a happy look these days, for Thomas Pleasants McCrea III, eight pounds and ten ounces, is carrying on the sixth generation of a family tradition.

The radio artist represents the fifth generation in the descendants of John McCrea, who came from Scotland to the United States in 1812, and married Mary Pleasants. They named their first child Thomas Pleasants McCrea, and he, when he became a father, called his son John McCrea II, thus establishing the family custom of passing the names of John and Thomas Pleasants to alternate generations of McCreas.

PERSONAL PICKUPS

BY GYPSY

Mrs. L. C., Sacramento.—Charlie Wellman's (NBC) photographs are misleading. He does not belong to the stalwart, rugged brotherhood, but is slight of build and fastidious. He walks with an erectness and assurance that immediately designates him as an important, successful individual. Spats and a cane are his habitual accessories and as much a part of his personality as his derby hat and winning smile. His eyes are blue, clear and searching; his hair is dark brown. There is a melancholy quality in his make-up that creates instant response in all who meet him, and his lofty ideals are particularly intriguing. He discards his "yuh" for "you" and never misses a "g" off the air.

Marjorie, Seaside.—Al Pearce (KFRC) says he answers all of his fan mail personally. He maintains also that he is not married.

* * *

Fay, Whittier.—Ted Osborne (KHJ) doesn't mean the miserable things he broadcasts about our sex. At least that's what he says. Swears it is all in fun and, to prove that he has no quarrel with women, makes the statement that he is happily, very happily married. And oh, so devoted! Eats everything put before him with enthusiasm and éclat, harbors no complexes, no unworthy mental reservations... why, my dear, he is a perfect lamb. (Do you suppose we ought to forgive him?) P. S.—He's "kinda" good looking in a long, thin way, has nice blue eyes, dark hair and an unruly cowlick.

H. R. T., Berkeley.—Religious matters cannot be discussed in this column. Unusual characteristics of the stars—yes. There is Pearl King Tanner (NBC), for instance. Pearl dines many times daily. It is a life-long habit that all the lecturing in the world has not broken. To be sure she partakes of small quantities of food at each meal, but the intervals are not more than two hours apart. And—she is slim as a willow reed. Paul Carson is, frankly, tyrannical about imitations in rugs, hangings, and all art. Each object in his studios must be genuine. If perchance an inferior article finds its way to him, through perhaps a well-meaning friend, out it goes, regardless of consequences. Helen O'Neil is horribly afraid of cats—all cats. It isn't superstition with her, just plain fear. An unaccountable dread that causes her to stop dead, too terrified to move, at the mere sight of a feline. More next time.

* * *

Josie, Hood River.—Lewis Teegarden (KFWB) is from your own state, 26 years old, 6 feet 2 inches tall, weighs 155 pounds, has blue eyes, blond hair, and his chief annoyance is his inability to predict football scores correctly. He is an ardent miniature golf enthusiast, worries his friends with excerpts from Shakespeare, hates castor oil and hominy, and answers questionnaires in a variety of colors. Ladders and black cats are his worst foes, ice cream his chosen food (not desert). He has been in vaudeville and other forms of theatrical endeavor, and once took a fling in real estate.

* * *

M. B., Redwood.—Your question is answered elsewhere on this page. Trust your loss is not heavy.

* * *

M. M. S., Auburn.—Bert Horton (NBC) and Harold Horton (KFRC) are not related in any way. Bert dropped his surname when he launched forth upon a theatrical career some ten or twelve years ago. It is Brandt. His father is a retired minister. Madonna Todd's Christmas play was cast as follows: Billy, Billy Page; Margery, Floy Marget Hughes; Patsy, Anita Calfot, and Don, Jack Cowden.

* * *

F. H., Whittier.—The "Captain" at KIDO is Harry A. Shelby, thirty-four, aviator and electrical engineer. He is 5 feet 10 inches tall, weighs 162 pounds, has blue-gray eyes, tawny hair, and is of Scandinavian origin. If he ever flies down your way, remember—he is extremely partial to good, husky steaks.

* * *

Mrs. E. M. F., San Francisco.—Margerite Hall, formerly of KROW, has recently returned from a honeymoon trip and will come to your home via the ether lanes as soon as her new apartment is in readiness.

"Mac" of KFRC

By MONROE R. UPTON

IT WILL be utterly impossible, within the confines of this article, to give you a very detailed or complete picture of Harry McClintock, but we shall do our best to increase your knowledge and understanding of the man.

"Mac" is beyond a doubt the most widely known and the best liked radio artist in Northern California. It is doubtful if any section of the country has a personality as outstanding in the radio field. For that is what "Mac" is, primarily, a personality. There may be others who can sing some of his songs better from a technical standpoint, and play a guitar with more finesse and skill, but they lack something that "Mac" possesses in abundance. He's "Mac." Let's briefly review the course of his life.

"Mac's" grandfather was a Blue Nose and a wood-carver. He carved the figure-heads on wooden ships. But he deserted Nova Scotia to go to Ohio and become a farmer, taking his thirteen sons and five daughters with him. It was in the same Ohio county that gave America Grant, Custer and McKinley that "Mac's" father was raised. When he grew up he moved to Tennessee, where he became foreman in the Knoxville car shops of the Southern railroad, in the wooden coach building department. He was a cabinet maker. He was also a choir leader in church and played cornet in the county band. When little Harry became old enough he also sang in the choir. He was boy soprano in the St. John's Episcopal Church at Knoxville. This didn't make him stuck up, however. On the contrary he grew to have little use for the kids of the neighborhood, because they had a white collar complex. They wanted to be white collar men when they grew up. "Mac" was more romantic. He had ideas of becoming a naval officer, but his eyes barred him from the naval preparatory school and so he accepted the next best and ran away from home with Gentry's Dog and Pony Show at 14. The show closed two months later in Birmingham, Alabama, and the 14-year-old groom beat his way home, where he remained for two years, or until the Spanish-American War came along to interrupt the monotony of things.

Young Harry was ambitious and frugal for a while. He worked up a paper route among the soldiers at Chickamauga Park, near Chattanooga, Tenn., lived on government rations and wore a government uniform. He saved his money. He had to save it; there was nothing to spend it for. Finally his father let him enlist, though he was still too young, and he was sent to the Philippines, where he remained for three years. He was discharged just one month before his 21st birthday. And then his adventures began.

He traveled through the Orient and down to Australia—going broke in Sydney. He joined a travelling professional football team, built fences, was a boundary rider and finally shipped out as an ordinary seaman aboard the Cairnworth Castle, bound for San Francisco. He started home, but was deflected from his route by a boatload of mules bound for the British army in South Africa. He was paid off in Portuguese East Africa, where he got a job on the local wooden-axle railroad as a guard, or a brakeman, as he is called in this country. It was his first railroad job. After seven months he paid his fare to Cape Town, worked his way to Sydney, worked there for a while as a teamster, fell in love, and then shoved off for England as a coal passer in an excursion ship in order to see Edward VII crowned as King of England. In the Red Sea and the Gulf of Aden it was so hot they couldn't keep steam up—the stokers couldn't remain close to the fires long enough to keep them burning effectively. The watches had to be split and the youth and strength of McClintock was put to work tending the fires. He saw the coronation, was on the bum for a while, shipped out of Cardiff, Wales, on a square rigger for Buenos Aires, jumped her there, where he had a lot of fun until the money ran out, shipped in a German steamer for the Barbadoes, lived a care-free life in the tropics with a Belfast Irishman for some months, joined the crew of a Halifax brig that had lost four men in a blow, and paid off in Philadelphia.

"Mac" explains that he carried either a guitar or a banjo in those days, together with a repertoire of popular songs. This fact, added to his popularity in forecastle, camp, farm, bunk-house—or saloon. In the latter instance it added to his pocketbook, a fact which quite often kept the wolf from the park bench when he was an indigent sight-seer in foreign climes. Just five years ago we wrote the following: "We could quite logically, as well as playfully, devise a remote ancestry for "Mac" in the singing Troubadours and their successors, the Joglars of the old state of Provence in southern France. It is of these medieval singers that we are reminded when we think of "Mac," for his natural calling does not fit snugly into our present-day social system. For many years he journeyed around the world, working at all manner of jobs, playing and singing for his mates when the day's work was over. He sang songs that were simple and obvious, but nevertheless rooted deep in the lives of his listeners; songs of work, love, sorrow, humor and protest. But he was happiest when he could combine his work with his artistic propensities and he often sold his versatility to the tent or the medicine show branches of the show business."

It wasn't long after paying off in Philadelphia that "Mac" went to work for his first medicine show. He switched for a while for the C. L. & W. railroad and then joined the Copper Medicine Co. as an entertainer for one of its traveling shows. With Joe De Voe as a partner, he played the guitar, sang and did comedy turns in black-face, Irish and German dialects.

Space doesn't permit us to follow his adventures with any detail from that time until he joined KFRC in 1925. He went to Alaska, was in San Francisco at the time of the earthquake and fire, in Nevada at the time of the Goldfield and other strikes, worked on railroads, fired a tug on the Great Lakes, joined the Canadian army, helped paint a bridge in Canada, fought forest fires, followed the wheat harvests, worked at a sugar refinery, spent a winter studying and reading such authors as Marx, Huxley, Darwin and Morgan, helped organize the unemployed in Portland, Oregon, in the winter of 1913, was married in Salt Lake, drifted back to San Francisco, and was railroading when he met Blanding Sloan, the artist, while studying art at the California School of Fine Arts during his spare time. Through Blanding and others he was recommended to KFRC.

"Mac" is still prone to go on a spree with a box of paints and some canvas, to show up at the studio a week or so later with some vivid landscapes or woodland scenes. They aren't strikingly original, either in conception or execution, but they are fresh and bright and cheerful.

One of the secrets of "Mac's" popularity lies in the fact that it is natural for him to always bring some new thought and some genuine feeling with him to the microphone. He is not so interested in trying to give people what he thinks they want as he is in giving them what he is. And he is a real personality. His interest in things is unflagging, his fund of stories and anecdotes bottomless. Groups naturally gravitate around him. He is indifferent to what others are thinking about him because he is busy thinking about something himself. He is at home with all sorts of people, car washers, stock brokers, artists, sailors, Jews, Protestants or Catholics.

Behind "Mac's" rendition of an old-time song of the worknig man there is complete understanding, because he has lived the song. He sings with complete naturalness and unconsciously genuine feeling. His humor, too, is grounded in his living. He is acquainted with America's native humor from first-hand knowledge. He has lived it. It has become a part of him. There is a richness of association in his stories that place them on the plane of real artistry. When he tells you the one about the yokel switchman on a bitter, wind-swept, Montana plateau who was asked by the engineer, leaning out of his cab, if he didn't feel cold without an overcoat, he leaves a story with you that you can chuckle over many a time. The yokel switchman replied, "Oh, that's all right. I got my winter underwear on."

Presents

“In a Persian Garden”

... another beautiful program of

Mellow'd Melodies

... the golden crescent of the moon swings low ... the air is heavy with the scent of flowers ... the tiny silver bells on the ankles of the dusky dancers keep time to the pulsing, oriental harmonies that intoxicate the senses and tell strange stories of bygone days. Come with us tonight to a Persian Garden ... hear the songs, the music characteristic of this romantic, passionate land ...

"In a Persian Garden" is the title of the program of S and W Mellow'd Melodies. For the most part this colorful program will consist of a number of well-known compositions by Rimsky-Korsakoff and some new unpublished works. Those taking part in this atmospheric picture of the Orient include Eva Gruninger Atkinson, contralto, and Harry Stanton, bass, as soloists, a male quartet composed of solo voices, Barbara Blanchard, soprano, and a string orchestra led by Joseph Hornik. Harold Dana is the master of cere-

With Jack and Ethyl co-starred in a historic skit of Northern California during the Gold Rush period from the pen of Carleton E.
Morse, another Spotlight Review unfolds for the pleasure of NBC network auditors tonight. Those who lead in the supporting program of comic skits and popular music include Dick Le Grande as Professor Knickelbine with his unruly class of pupils; Imelda
Montagne, Annette Hastings and Marjorie Primley, known to listeners as the Coquettes;
the Hill Billy Boys; Irving Kennedy, Bennie

Walker, and Harold Peary, vocal soloists; Bobbe Deane and Captain "Bill" Royle, comedians and an orchestra led by Walter Beban.

MISS SPARTON SHOWS POINTS AT OAKLAND SHOW

Miss Sparton, thoroughbred mare, owned by H. R. Curtiss, prominent California radio distributor, and entered in the Oakland National Horse Show which opened in the Oakland Auditorium on January 31, bears a name that is famous in the radio realm. She has lived up to it in an excellent manner by winning many ribbons in shows in other parts of the country. This was her first appearance in a bay region show. Curtiss named her after one of the widely known radio sets he distributes to dealers in Northern California.
