Will Add Ten Million to Radio Audience

TEN million new members are expected to be added to the country's radio audience in 1931 by set manufacturers, who look for sales of 3,500,000 to 4,000,000 sets during the year, 75 per cent of which will represent sales to persons who have never before owned receivers, while the remainder will represent replacement business.

With an estimated "audience" of four to each receiving set, it is expected that at least 10,000,000 listeners will be gained through new sales this year, bringing the total audience to well over half the country's entire population.

A survey of the field has recently been completed by the Radio Manufacturers' Association, which indicates that a higher proportion of total sales than ever before will be in rural communities, as a result of increases in power to be granted a number of stations, which will bring good radio to many areas in which reception in the past has been poor. This will result in opening up new markets, especially in the southern states, it is believed.

The new "midget" set is an important factor in the business today. Late last year a large proportion of radio sales were of midget sets, but this proportion is reported to be decreasing, with a swing toward the standard and better performing console set. With the business conditions improving, the proportion of console sales is expected to increase, although possibly 50 per cent of 1931 sales may be of the midget type.

The electric set is rapidly supplanting the battery-operated type, trade estimates placing the number of the former at 11,000,000, while only about 3,000,000 of the latter are believed to be in use.

Walt Roesner's Grand Concert Orchestra on Shell Happytime

THE magic baton of Walt Roesner takes to the air! Thousands of western radio listeners thrilled to the music of Roesner's great concert symphony orchestra as it made its first studio broadcast Monday morning via the microphones of the Shell Happytime. But if music lovers were thrilled at this single presentation of that nation-famous aggregation, they were doubly thrilled at the announcement which followed. Roesner is to be a weekly feature of the Shell Oil Company's Monday morning Shell Happytime conducted by Captain Dobbsie!

This announcement was the signal for a deluge of telegrams and telephone calls from thousands of grateful fans throughout the Pacific Coast. The immediate and enthusiastic response could leave little doubt in the minds of Shell executives but that the tremendous expense in bringing Walt Roesner and his musicians to the radio audience would be justified a hundred fold.

The signing of Roesner for weekly programs over the Shell Happytime amounted to little short of a "scoop," for Roesner is undoubtedly the most popular and able conductor in the West today. His production overtures, in which he arranges the opera classics into a modern tempo, have won him acclaim among theater-goers and music lovers throughout the United States. From those who like their music in the lighter vein, Roesner has gained great popularity for his symphonical and jazz presentations of the present day dance tunes.

Born and raised in San Francisco, Roesner left school at an early age to follow the urge of music which had surged within him from his youngest days. His first job was playing the trombone and, occasionally, the violin, in the Santa Cruz Civic Band and at the age of 17 he had risen to the post of orchestra leader.

But still surging within him was the desire to express himself yet further in music. This took him to Los Angeles to study the 'cello and while there he earned his way by playing in various cafe orchestras. Completion of his studies found him in San Francisco, his home town, as musical conductor and master of ceremonies at several of the city's theaters.

In 1914 he joined Art Hickman and made two trips to New York, where the band proved an overnight sensation and quickly spread its fame throughout the nation. Roesner remained with Hickman until 1921, when he again returned to San Francisco to join Paul Ash's famous musical organization at the Granada Theater. Within a short time his musical ability won him a position as director of his own band at the T & D Theater in Oakland. A year later he was again back at the Granada, but this time as master of ceremonies and conductor of his own musical organization.

So tremendous was his popularity that he soon found himself in New York, leading the orchestra at the Capitol Theater in that city. Here he remained for two years, setting an all time record for sustained popularity along New York's Great White Way.

With the completion of the million dollar Fox Theater in San Francisco, Roesner was prevailed upon to return here as conductor of that theater's grand concert orchestra. Here he has remained, and from here comes the great musical aggregation which the radio audience of the Shell Happytime will hear each Monday morning from 8 to 9 o'clock over the Pacific Coast network of the National Broadcasting Company, including Stations KPO, KFI, KGW, KOMO, KHQ and KSL.

The famed Fox Theatre Grand Concert Orchestra, conducted by Walt Roesner, which is now heard each Monday morning over the Shell Happytime.

MICROPHONE GOSSIP

• • • Joan Ray, of whom Dame Nellie Melba said: "She has the only perfect contralto voice I've ever heard," thinks, dreams, lives music. Her career has been one of varied fascination. It is interesting to note, incidentally, that she is a niece of the great Lord Gladstone. But all these attributes are overshadowed in the KTAB studios by the quality of the angel and chocolate cakes that Joan bakes. She is "the artist of the range." And as for being a swell wife for some appreciative lad, Joan is happily married and her husband is an artist at the keyboard of the grand.

• • • Baldwin McGaw, who directs the destinies of the KPO Drama Guild, has gathered about him a capable and experienced crew of actors from whom he can cast his plays with careful attention to choosing an actor or actress capable of interpreting the role assigned them. Among them are Barbara Lee, well known character actress; Emma Knox, who has played Shakesperian roles with great success; Dorothy Scott, a graduate of the Children's Theater and an actress of exceptional ability; Victor Rodman, of road show and stock experience; Marion Y. Fonville, formerly a vaudeville and comedy star; and many others too numerous to mention. McGaw himself is a product of Shakesperian plays and noted as an actor of high standing in stock companies and as producer of the Mt. Tamalpais Open Air Play for the past several years.

• • • Bill Ray, KGER manager, is back on the job again, but minus his tonsils. Still a baritone announcer, Bill can be heard at the Wilmington Bowl fights each Wednesday night as well as on special occasions. Often for its premiere, does KFWB borrow the youthful Mr. Ray to introduce various celebrities before the valiant microphone in the forecourt of some theater or other.

• • • Just to settle all those bridge-table arguments about it—the present orchestra arrangements in the playing of "Perfect Song," theme song for Amos 'n' Andy, is composed of three violins, one 'cello, one saxophone and a piano.

• • • Ruby Adams, former local show girl who started her radio career on KJBS recently, has already become a "Mistress of Ceremonies." Miss Adams not only writes her own continuities and arranges her musical numbers, but does her own announcing and introducing of other artists.

• • • Marjorie Lane Truesdale, KFRC's twelve-year-old singer, has been engaged in a "career" since she was about six. At her home in Fresno she fitted a curtain up in the garage, and charged the neighborhood kids a penny to watch her dance and hear her sing.

• • • Glenn Dolberg, widely known radio executive, has been added to the staff of KFI-KECA in the capacity of production manager. Mr. Dolberg's last radio connection in Los Angeles was as general manager of KHJ, and he was formerly manager of KEX and KXL, Portland.

• • • Madelon Sivyver's popularity is growing and growing. She is a young violinist who plays a beautiful violin over KROW, Oakland. Besides offers from the Orpheum circuit, she had the honor of playing recently before Governor Rolph, Governor Baker, and important officials from West Point at the St. Francis Hotel, San Francisco. Her soulful music, coupled with a sparkling stage personality, brought warm praise from these notables.

• • • Sam Wineland, musical director for KFWB, came in beaming the other morning, as though he'd been left a million dollars. In an expansive moment he confided that the night before he had reached the pinnacle of his dreams—he'd tuned in Siberia on his short wave set! Which is nothing to sniff at!

• • • Sybella Clayton, one of the most distinguished of the younger generation of pianists, has been added to the staff of KFI-KECA, Los Angeles. Miss Clayton, a native of Salt Lake City, made her debut in Berlin, giving memorable performances with the Berlin Philharmonic.

• • • Strange as it may seem, Don Johnson, KJR and NWBS playwright and continuity writer, is doing work "by remote control" for a station he was "godfather" for. A long time ago, the station now known as KPQ, Wenatchee, was located in Seattle. Johnson was working at the station, and he was asked to pick new call letters. He selected KPQ. This station joined the NWBS and continuity and plays written by Johnson are released daily over the Wenatchee station.

• • • The Viennese magician of the table-harp, Bob Klier, is back. Playing his favorite Vienna melodies, Bob is attracting a new audience to the KTAB wave length. When he's away from the mike he's busy in his garden facing the ocean beach, where his kennel of police dogs is multiplying with the traditional speed of rabbits. At present sixteen wagging tails greet him when he comes home.

• • • When he appears on a golfing green, Bobby Jones is accustomed to see a crowd gather as if by magic, and cluster around him so closely as to leave him scarcely room to swing his club. His ability to drive steadily, surely, accurately, while so surrounded, is one of the marvels of sport. But when the great golf player "went radio" it was different. The hand which has always retained perfect steadiness under the gaze of thousands of persons, trembles before the microphone, and when Bobby commenced his series of golf chats, now being broadcast transcontinentally by NBC, it was found necessary to paste his manuscript on cardboard. His hand shook so nervously that the paper rattled until it sounded like a hurricane over the microphone.

• • • Billy Van, KGER's me'ody madness man, seems to be losing ground these days. Starting in with a Cord car, he has changed to an Austin, within which he drapes his lean and lanky form—sort of wraps it around the steering wheel—and away they go.

• • • David Tamkin, viola player in the KFRC Concert Orchestra, who makes many of the unusual arrangements played over the station, wrote his first important work when he was sixteen. They were "Three Poems for the Sabbath" for orchestra.

• • • Musical comedy stars had better look out! KFVB has discovered a talented duo in Johnny Murray and Elinor Gail, who warble every Monday night those lilting melodies which one hears only in musical shows with the ease of old timers. Elinor Gail was Hugette in the Broadway production of "The Vagabond King," while Johnny sang his way through "Good News" and Gene Buck's show, "Take the Air."

• • • Graduate of the University of Utah with the class of 1928, Grant Pollock, deep-voiced announcer of KTAB, has spent all his post-college days in radio. He announced on the two Salt Lake stations, KSL and KDYL, and during his college days was a member of the very popular radio team: Hero and Zero. Now he spends his days and nights at the mike of KTAB.

• • • Billy Page, NBC's juvenile star whose Billy Smithers of "Memory Lane" is one of the best-loved radio characters, has added a new member to his household. It is Mickey Mouse, quaint hero of animated cartoons by Walt Disney. Billy, who possesses no small talent as a pen and ink artist, has been drawing Mickey Mouse, his favorite "picture star," for months. He sent one of his best efforts to Disney, and back came a pleasant letter from the artist and several members of the Disney Studios' staff, announcing that Billy Smithers was the radio character most interesting to them. Accompanying the letter was Mickey Mouse himself, eighteen inches or so in height, and attired in black velvet jacket, red breeches and yellow gloves.

• • • Native San Franciscans on the KFRC staff include Juanita Tennyson, Charles Bulotti, Harrison Holliday, station manager, and Edna Fischer.

• • • Important reinforcements to the dramatic staff of KFI-KECA in Los Angeles, has been made in the persons of Guy Hedlund and Caroline Cooke, two of the most distinguished actors of the American stage. Miss Cooke in private life, is Mrs. Lorimer-Johnston, her husband being a well-known motion picture director. Mr. Hedlund will be remembered as an old associate of Richard Mansfield and as a star with the D. W. Griffith, Pathe, Edison and Eclair picture organizations.

The OPEN CIRCUIT

This department is open to all. Send in your letters. Anonymous letters will not be published. Give full name and address.

It Is—We Admit It

Your Broadcast Weekly must be very popular, because I went to four magazine stands this week before getting one.

I miss KFVB programs, it happens to be one of my favorite stations.

I think it's a shame that George Smith doesn't play his banjo more than once in the mornings.

I wouldn't miss the Happy-Go-Lucky Hour for anything, if I did, I'd miss Tommy Harris.

How's chances to see pictures of KFOX artists in this weekly magazine?

Thanks a lot for your great little radio guide.

Alma E. C., San Diego, Calif., March 9.

Buys Radio Advertised Products

I am a new reader of the BROADCAST WEEKLY and enjoy it very much. I can't understand how anyone can find fault with the radio broadcasts, with the exception of too much advertising by a few of the sponsors.

Whenever possible, I buy radio advertised products in appreciation of the programs that appeal to me especially.

I do not think we should "knock" the artists, however, as they are really trying to please the public. They always grant requests when possible.

Say something kind or keep still, is my motto. We surely have variety enough to please any taste. KFRC brings us "Mac" and his Cow Ho'l'ow Gang, and the "Happy-Go-Lucky Hour" and the "Blue Monday Jamboree."

KGO can't be outdone, as they surely have wonderful programs. We listened to them five hours last night and every minute of that time was good.

Tuesday they bring us "Memory Lane" and "The Hill Billy Boys."

KPO has some good programs also, and last but not least, "The California Cowboys" of KROW. We can "tune in" on many of the eastern studios and we don't find anything better than the above-mentioned stations. I appreciate what a wonderful invention the radio is and would be very lonely without mine. I naturally realize that what pleases me the most is not liked by someone else, and visa versa.

Didn't intend to leave out the news broadcast, especially the one from KPO by "Scotty." What a pleasing voice he has.

Also notice the announcers' voices over KGO, they are fine. I could write pages in praise of the fine programs. I often write to my favorites and tell them how much I enjoy listening to them and I know they appreciate it. I suppose some folks did get tired of hearing "Spring Time in the Rockies" as it's so popular, but it's requested just the same as "The Peanut Vendor," and perhaps some of us get tired of it. Let's try praising the artists and telling them what we like and I'll bet we will get what we like. One good thing, we can always turn the dial when we are displeased.

L. L. H., San Francisco, March 15.

Down with King Jazz

I am surely glad that I am so constituted that I can enjoy music intellectually and not like some Hottentot of Africa—from the hips down only.

Not that I enjoy a steady diet of heavy numbers exclusively, but I do enjoy a program of good music interspersed with some of the lighter, beautiful melodies of which there are so many. I am not a "highbrow" in any sense of the word, have no great musical or college education back of me, but a real natural sense of the beauty in music is in my being and I find untold pleasures in living the very music itself as it comes to me in the quiet of my home through the medium of my radio.

I am gratefully thankful to all who so contribute to my pleasure and happiness. I am glad, too, to note the increasing interest being taken in the teaching of the child in our public schools, and the bringing into the home, via radio, of the better music such as exemplified by the Standard Oil broadcasts. Even as the Hottentot may through education be brought to a higher level than his present condition so will, I believe, eventually music in America be on a higher plane. I only wish for those who now enjoy only "that low-down rhythm!" the higher and better emotions that come through the understanding and appreciation of the works of the master who gives a lifetime of study in bringing into the world his art.

Raymond J. L., Merced, Cal., March 21.

Too Much Advertising, Says C. C.

Since the Open Circuit has come to such prominence with bouquets, brickbats, bombs, etc., I have wondered how some people can find so much to kick about. If they would only turn the dials they would probably find a program to suit.

I have two complaints to make. First, can't the stations please announce their call letters oftener? On the chain programs, the fifteen-minute interval is O. K., but on single station programs it seems that some stations positively abhor their call letters. It would take but a few seconds to give them between numbers, and I'm sure everyone would appreciate it. Second, why put so much advertising into the programs? I used to enjoy the Lucky Strike program, but there is so much statistics in it that they spoil the program. The Jamboree is getting the same way. I have listened in on it off and on for around three years. Why did they quit their old signature songs, "Smiles" and "I Love You California"? They were half the program to me. They ought to dig up one of their old Jamboree programs and put it on. I wish that they would sing the aforesaid songs just once more and let the fans express their opinions.

I don't think that your present arrangement of programs can be improved upon. You might put a new log and call book in one issue like you did a year or so ago. As for favorite stations the nearest I can come is—KFRC, KPO, KGO, KLLX and KNX.

Yours for more and new pictures.

Let's Hear from More Northwest Readers

Congratulations on your splendid magazine! With its comprehensive program resume, its many pictures, its worthwhile editorials, and all its feature departments it is absolutely indispensable to a radio fan like myself. I eagerly await its arrival each week and read it from cover to cover (including the advertisements).

The most interesting feature of all is the "Open Circuit." If the contributors are careful to temper their frankness with consideration for the opinion of others, this department should prove mutually beneficial to the magazine, the stations, and the readers.

Regarding the selection of a favorite station, I believe the idea has possibilities. In the event of a contest, two qualifications should be made. First, it should be understood that in designating one station one is not casting aside the many other stations which he may like immensely. Second, there should be a division of the Pacific area into sections (for example: The Northwest, Northern California, Southern California, the Mountain States, etc.) in order that the majority in a less populous fan territory might not be lost in that of more density. It is conceivable that Washington's preference might be lost when pooled with the San Francisco Bay vote, where perhaps a majority of your subscribers reside.

However, contest or no contest, I want to cast my unofficial vote now. KFRC, KPO, KGO, KHJ, KYA and others have been mentioned heretofore; I like them too. But it is my humble opinion that right up here in the Northwest is the finest radio station of which I have any knowledge. With its dozen or more orchestras, its talented artists, its sonorous pipe-organ, its spacious studios, its powerful transmitter, and its friendly spirit, KJR, Seattle, is my favorite. Formerly key-station for the nation-wide network of the American Broadcasting Company, KJR has in the brief span of two years risen from the tragic financial failure of that company to be key-station for both the Northwest Broadcasting System and the United Broadcasting Company.

James W. B., Seattle, Wash., March 12.

Favors Chain Broadcasts

A letter by R. S. L. of Merced, California, published in the March 8 to 14 issue of The Broadcast Weekly, states that chain broadcast programs are controlling too many stations. I believe that the chain broadcast is the best part of radio programs. The chain broadcast has brought us great artists, mighty events and wonderful concerts with other features too numerous to mention that would be impossible over stations with localized programs.

I believe that KFRC gives the public the best radio entertainment of any station in the San Francisco Bay district. The local and the CBS programs of good and clean entertainment are insured to the radio listener most of the day.

Ted Husing and Robert Olsen remain the favorite entertainers of the air to my family. Personally, I should include Jesse Crawford also, because we never miss him if we are at home on a Sunday night.

Thomas M. C., Oakland, March 11.

How About It, Fans?

I have been a reader of your magazine for over two years and find it indispensable. I always read the "Open Circuit" and get a great deal of amusement out of it. All this fuss about artists and favorite stations seems amusing to me, but maybe the stations can get ideas from the letters.

I have just read the letter written by H. E. S., Sacramento, which suggests that you have a question and answer department. Nothing could be better, and I am sure that it would be very helpful, to me at least, as I have gotten some stations that broadcast in a foreign language or jumbled up their call letters so that they were unintelligible!

In conclusion, may I ask if it would be too much trouble to publish a list of Canadian, Mexican, and other stations in the range of our radio, as you have done in the past?

Robert G. I., Cloverdale, Cal., March 18.

Nothing But Praise

Let me thank you for editing such a useful and entertaining radio magazine. I am glad you are listing Columbia programs. Why don't you list United programs in this manner also? The short description of each chain program is very helpful. In fact I would say your magazine has improved 100 per cent since the first of the year.

Why is it that so many announcers omit the name of the singer or performer when introducing a number? Often I hear a beautiful voice but never an announcement as to his or her identity.

That suggestion someone made about arranging the programs by hours instead of by stations is a good idea. It would mean a lot more work on your part, but I believe the results will justify it. I certainly hope you will adopt the plan.

I can't enter the KGO-KFRC debate, for I can't decide just which I do like best. They are my two favorite stations, at any rate. I rarely miss a Happy-Go-Lucky hour or a Blue Monday Jamboree. Likewise, nothing can induce me to leave home Saturday nights, as I would miss the Spotlight Revue. Both stations are so good it is hard to draw a line between them.

I agree with thousands of others who praise Hazel Warner, Meredith Willson, Al Pearce (why doesn't he sing oftener?), Edra Fischer, Amos 'n' Andy and the Memory Lane program. But why does no one mention Jessica Dragonette, Theo Karle, Jesse Crawford, Agatha Turley, the Interwoven Pair, Frank Watanabe or Joe and Vi?

Why don't we hear some praise for the Happy Wonder Bakers, Maxwell House Melodies, Sunday at Seth Parker's, the Columbia Artists' Recitals, the Three Doctors, Ben Bernie and his orchestra or Val Valente and his music? Am I the only one who likes them?

Florence W., Auburn, Wash., March 20.

Like Soup Without Salt

A word or two to echo the sentiments of "David W. J." of Sacramento in which he gives the announcers a break. They surely do add or detract from the program, whichever the case may be.

A Memory Lane playlet of recent date without Bill Andrews at the microphone was like soup without salt. This Andrews fellow is on a par with the best of them—bar none. Likewise Louis Witten, Al Chance and Frank Knight of the Columbia network. Listen for them and you'll agree with me.

Oh, yes, the music and singing is great, but here's to the good announcers. May their tribe increase and continue to bring joy and pleasure to the growing army of listeners for years to come.

Your magazine, by the way, is the only worthwhile publication of its kind on the local market. My new subscription is enclosed for one year, but one final request—let's have less repetition of artists' pictures. We get tired of looking at the same faces all the time. *J. D. RUDY SEIGER

Violinist - Conductor - Composer

RUDY SEIGER is a boy from the city who remained in the city and made good. He was born in San Francisco about forty years ago. Four years later his father placed a fiddle in his tiny hands and began instructing him in its possibilities. Since then he has learned so much of its possibilities that he can't be happy without it for more than two days at a time. Rudy Seiger is not Rudy Seiger without Rudy Seiger's violin.

When Rudy was a serious, thoughtful lad of seven years he was very successfully managing violin solos. Already his life had begun to depend upon the little wooden box for happiness and achievement. At fourteen he was able to earn his living with it besides. In fact, one year later the records show that Master Rudy Seiger was director of the orchestra at the old Grand Opera House. He is a tall man now, nearly six feet, but in those days his height was still in transit and he was compelled to stand on a chair to direct.

We inquired about the teachers who succeeded his father and he spoke first of Karl Von der Mehden. The Von der Mehdens were a well-known German family that contributed much to the musical life of San Francisco during the score of years before the fire. He also studied with August Heinrichs, Julio Minetti and William Hoffman. Ormay aided him in mastering the piano. His one brother learned to play the piano also, though he did not take up music professionally. His one sister and his mother were not musically inclined.

An artist has two personalities. The one he puts into his work and the one that he exhibits in the flesh. It is seldom that a man is remarkable for both. Rudy Seiger is loved both as an artist and a man.

He told us that he is extremely fond of California, that he cannot bear to be away from his native state for long. It developed that he had principally in mind San Francisco, and in San Francisco his affections center around the Fairmont Hotel. He has been pretty much a part of the Fairmont Hotel since 1907 when he registered there with his fiddle for the first time. Since 1909 he has led the hotel's orchestra. The long stay is revealing of the man's character. He has made such a home of the hotel that he would be sorely missed were he to accept one of his many offers to go elsewhere. It is because he has such an affection for people, so much tolerance and friendliness about him and such an inwardly quiet and studious nature that he has fitted in so perfectly in such a large institution. He lost his wife during the post-war flu epidemic and has not remarried. He has one son in his early teens. Rudy Seiger has a mind which roves widely in its search for the fundamental concepts of living. He is not a man of strong likes and dislikes, nor does he lean overwhelmingly toward any single philosopher or school of philosophy—he takes something from all of them. Among the moderns he reads James, Shaw, Wells and Bertrand Russell. Biography and history he likes. Fiction doesn't interest him. Shakespeare he enjoys reading over and over again. The modern poets, apparently, have nothing for him; poetry must sing in the manner of the great lyrical poets to engage his interest. He adds music to the lines of Keats, Browning and Burns as he reads them. Rudy Seiger's nature suggests that he would be fond of country life. The country is very dear to his heart. He owns a small ranch near Mt. Diablo, in Contra Costa County, where he goes for vacation periods. Instead of hunting and fishing, however, he spends the days hiking and working in the garden. This is characteristic of the man.

... SILHOUETTES ...

BORN in Hamilton, Scotland, the birthplace of Harry Lauder, Ronald Graham, KFRC's staff baritone, lays claim to the distinction of being one of the few Scotch singers who doesn't imitate the style of the famous Sir Harry. Graham is only twenty years old and has already had a life filled with travel and interesting experience. His father was an officer in the British army during the World War, and while he was on the front in France his family in London saw the German air raids. After the war he brought his family to the San Francisco Bay district.

The children arrived clad in the Scottish kilts, but soon abandoned them for the conventional attire. At Tamalpais High School, Ronald studied commercial art, but his vocal efforts were also greatly encouraged and after graduation he made frequent appearances as a singer at amateur affairs. Music appealed to him so much more than commercial art that he resolved to make it his career.

While his father was in the British military service the Graham family traveled extensively about the world. Many months were spent in India, Egypt, Malta, Gibraltar and other British possessions. The family has been in military service for many generations back. There has also been much musical talent evident among his ancestors and present members of the family. A grandfather was band master of the famous Black Watch Regiment for years and was considered one of the finest musicians in the British isles in his time. An aunt is at present a leading contralto with the Carl Rosa Opera Company.

Ronald Graham still draws and paints some, though his principal interest is, of course, his music. He is fond of good reading, principally the modern writers. At school he played football and went in for the sprints and hurdles, but at present his only athletic activities is boxing, of which he is very fond.

His rich baritone voice is heard regularly over KFRC early on Sunday mornings, on the Wednesday Feminine Fancies program, on some of Wyn's chats and on the evening dinner concerts.

STUART Eugene Strong, whose "Date Book" program, heard over KPO daily 5:30 to 5:45, has won him a host of admirers and a large following, was born on Lincoln's birthday, 1905, and, like the "Great Emancipator," is endowed with an unusual ability as an orator. In fact Stuart was no sooner slapped on the back by the doctor than he uttered a large squawk and has been "squawking" ever since—but with effect. When he talks his messages are fraught with meaning and a thorough understanding of his subject.

He graduated from grammar school in Kansas City, Missouri, where he was born. His family then moved to Madison, Wisconsin, and Stuart entered the Madison Central High School, and before graduating had distinguished himself as the state champion of extemporaneous speaking. He captained the state championship debating team. Following a year at the University of Wisconsin, Stuart was forced through necessity to go to work, working at various trades in Madison and Chicago. In 1924 his family moved to Berkeley, Stuart migrating west with them. For a year he followed free lance writing, and in 1925 entered the University of California. In his sophomore year he became a member of the university's varsity forensic squad, and in the three years that ensued he participated in no less than thirty-seven debates, and many a debater who came west, including the pick of European colleges, will never forget the six-foot-two blue-eyed 190-pound giant with the tousled chestnut hair who hammered home his argument with such direct force that they were routed in defeat.

STUART STRONG

Last year Strong entered radio and became identified with KPO with his "Date Book" program and has built up a real following with his informal, interesting and individual style of announcing outstanding events of interest to bay city dialers. He is unmarried. His hobbies include dogs, motoring and basketball. He has played on, captained and coached several championship quintets, as well as officiating as a member of the Northern California Coaches and Officials' Association.

BILL TUCKER, KFWB's star pianist, absolutely guarantees that he was born in Mt. Vernon, Illinois, and that he started playing the piano at the age of five out of sheer boredom. By the time he was sixteen he figured that Paderewski had better start making his farewell appearances on the concert stage, because another shining meteor was destined to make its appearance in the pianistic world. (That was Bill.)

But then Fate started laughing up her sleeve, and soon Mr. Tucker found himself the youngest member (practically) of the United States Marines, and being trained to fight the enemy, when he wasn't playing the piano at the teas the general's wife gave. His one bitter memory of that time is that he didn't get overseas.

After a gay and giddy career at school, including becoming a Sigma Alpha Epsilon, commercialism winked in his direction, and he started out panicking Chicago in a college orchestra. After that he had his own band, one of the hottest and best in town, at the Marygarden Ballroom. And then the West called, and Bill and his chow dog, Poo Yu Fu, landed in Los Angeles.

Today he is concert pianist at KFWB, a member of Nip and Tuck, two-piano team, and also an exponent of the wickedest in jazz. In addition to that he has a rare sense of humor, has a laugh that throws the studio into a panic, and is what the elevator man said—A great guy!

BARBARA BLANCHARD has been singing through NBC System stations more than two years, coming into radio after an enviable success as a recitalist and concert singer in the San Francisco Bay district.

BARBARA BLANCHARD

Miss Blanchard was chosen by Louis Graveuer, eminent Eastern and European coach, for his master classes in San Francisco some years ago, and her unusual voice quality has won for her other enviable recognitions.

Before singing occupied her continuously, the star was a Piedmont society matron who welcomed voice culture and dramatics as a diversion or hobby. She always has been a great favorite of the "shut-ins" from whom a great amount of her audience mail is received. She sings mostly semi-classics and light operatic selections.

ONCE a listener wrote to NBC station KGO and said "For Heaven's sake, get off the air! I'm fed up on radio hogs, steers, hay and Pennsylvania Fours. Give me jazz or give me—"

But in the same mail there was another letter: "Your reports on the live stock market, Mister 'J. P.,' saved me the price of a dandy radio set and then some. Thanks, old bug. My wife is sending you a cake."

Jennings Pierce, chief announcer of the Pacific Division of the National Broadcasting Company, recipient of both letters, smiles when some caller mentions the missives, now framed side by side above his desk. His reputation is national now, and he confines his activities to the best of musical programs that NBC offers.

JENNINGS PIERCE

But there was a time when "J. P." was honestly interested in the livestock market and weather reports. Born in Bakersfield, California, he early determined to be a farmer, and was graduated from the University of California's agricultural school as a farm expert. Then by a trick of fate, he became a radio announcer, with agricultural reports as his field. Even his wife still believes in his ability to tell what the morrow holds forth in weather lines.

When NBC came to the Pacific, "J. P." was made chief announcer. He has six announcers under him now, but he finds time to sing solos now and then, in a voice which thrills the varied audience of radio as much as his perfect enunciation does as an announcer.

He was in the Marine Corps during the war. Married? Yes, and there are two little "J. P.'s" to prove it.

A youthful son, Edward Johnson Blanchard, bids fair to follow his mother to fame. Already his boyish soprano is attracting attention and Miss Blanchard is devoting time to its culture.

If Edward becomes a famous singer, he will be following not only his mother's example, but that of his godfather, as well. The night before Edward was born, Edward Johnson, the Metropolitan Opera tenor, was entertained by the Blanchards, and he asked that the expected arrival, if a boy, be named for him.

PERSONAL PICKUPS

BY GYPSY

Martha, Spokane.—Olive West (NBC) makes your heart contract in an agony of admiration when you think of the valiant soul within her. She began her career in the '80's at the age of twelve, and despite much opposition and discouraging prophecies went gallantly on to success; not swiftly, not without many searing disappointments, but with conscientious energy and an eagerness that the years have not dulled. You'd love her,

Martha. She is so rich in experience and philosophy, so stimulating and warm-hearted. The bug-a-boo age does not exist for her. There are too many absorbing interests in life. Interesting things like confiding to an appreciative mike that one is Lady Ella Gish-wah or Mrs. Murphy; books to read; inventions to marvel over; gardens to look upon. She lives in a downtown hotel, keeps frightful hours and writes extraordinary poetry that ranges in content from delicious nonsense to theosophy.

Mrs. D., San Francisco.—Frank Galvin (KJBS) looks more like a banker than a radio announcer. He is a born organizer and promoter; always at the head of something in the numerous clubs to which he belongs, producing shows, getting members together for rallies and filling in with his own diversified talents whenever necessary. He is the entertaining host who sits at the piano improvising melodies and rhymes for his guests, taking care that no dull intermissions creep in. A San Franciscan by birth, he owns his own home, is congenially married, takes pride in his garden, and has never been found guilty of quarreling with his neighbors. He is prematurely gray, blue-eyed, six feet tall and weighs 170 pounds.

* * *

T. D., Sacramento.—Betty Marino (NBC) is an attractive brunette about whom the gallants hover, hoping she will want a glass of water or something that they may fetch and carry. She is incurably extravagant, wears smart, exclusive gowns, summons a taxi with or without excuse and is notable for her generous motives, conscientious work and indefatigable spirit. Her favorite pastime is horseback riding. When inclement weather forces her to remain indoors she buries herself in Russian literature and orders quaint food sent up or plans glorious trips around the world which she never has time to take.

E. C. M., Parkwater.—Walt McKinney's (KHQ) driver's license gives his full name as John Walton McKinney. He was born in Seattle, is twenty-six years of age and celebrates his birthday on the tenth day of October. His height is 5 feet 2 inches, he weighs 130 pounds, has blue eyes and brown straight hair of unusual length that has a tendency toward accentuating the thin lines of his sensitive features.

He was engaged in theatrical work before acquainting himself with the microphone six years ago, professes himself to be absolutely immune to superstition, names as his favorite composer Friml, and is an adept handball player. Not married.

* * *

N. C., Seattle.—Horace Lintz (KOMO) began his radio experience in New York after some twenty years before the footlights. Some of the Broadway productions in which he appeared were "Lady Be Good," "Joan of Arc" (he played opposite Clara Clemmons, daughter of Mark Twain, in this) and "Take It from Me." In vaudeville he appeared with both the first and second Mrs. Rudolph Valentino. Mr. Lintz is married and has one child.

* * *

Margie, Sacramento.—Alice Blue, formerly of KTAB, is now in Honolulu. Elvia Allman (KHJ) has copper-red hair. The Clark Sisters (KFRC) are both blonde. Guy Lombardo (CBS) is 28 years old. B. A. Rolfe (Lucky Strike, NBC) was born in Brasher Falls, N. Y., in 1879.

* * *

Mrs. Z. B. S., San Francisco.—Curtis Peck is still at KPO, but he sits at an executive desk these days and gives himself over to the management of mechanical equipment and such things. Technical subjects are his heaven, you know, so he is very, very happy.

* * *

Rose, Sacramento.—Jimmy Moseley (KYA) was born on the Fourth of July thirty years ago in San Antonio, Texas. His parents both came from Virginia and his grandfather was a Colonel in the Civil War. Jimmy is the type you could never call James. He invariably reminds me of that "Blessings on thee, little man" poem. His education was interrupted by the late war. After its conclusion he returned to his studies and eventually became an instructor in shorthand. Later he went on the road as a salesman. Wherever he traveled, his guitar and ukulele traveled right along. He "admired" to sing and play to himself after the turmoil of the day. One night while he was thus enjoying himself there was a knock on his door. It proved to be not a request to cease the crooning, but an invitation to appear at the local playhouse next evening. Jimmy was elated! All went well until he experienced a sudden loss of memory. No grand speech came to his assistance and in desperation he explained, "Pshaw, folks, I've plumb forgot how it goes." He was "made" from that moment and he has lost none of his navet  in the years that have brought him success since then.

* * *

Kitty, Burlingame.—Edward Fitzpatrick (NBC) swears he is unmarried, has an indulgent, kind disposition and could be, oh, so faithful. He measures one-half inch above six feet, weighs 188 pounds, has dark shadowed hair, nearly black, eyes of brown seasoned with humor, broad shoulders and an Adonis profile. He arises each morning at five o'clock, walks at least three miles daily, is always well-tailored and has an aversion to carrying parcels. Such an aversion that he keeps several violins in several different places so he need never be troubled to encumber himself at any time.

Radio's Most Costly Sound Effect

By HAROLD M. SIMS

THE machine that produces the roar of railway trains on "Empire Builders" is being explained to Lucille Hustung, leading lady, by Don Ameche, who is heard in the role of the hero in many of these Monday night radio dramas. This sound-producing device was the result of several months of experimenting by Harold M. Sims, executive assistant of the Great Northern railway, who supervises the production of the "Empire Builders" playlets.

The device consists of a circular track, six feet in diameter, on which runs a truck, consisting of three pair of wheels. This miniature railway, including the wheels that operate over it, is built to scale, and the materials from which it was built were carefully tested to obtain the desired quality of sound. The miniature railway is supported by wooden ties and the "ballast" is a sound-deadening material that was decided upon after sand, gravel and various kinds of composition board were tried.

The tiny car, which has journals and springs the same as the large pullmans, and which is heavily weighted, is drawn by a revolving arm which is operated by a motor suspended underneath the device. It is controlled by a rheostat and a break lever. By adjusting the speed of the motor so that the car revolves fourteen times to the minute the effect of a train going sixty miles per hour is attained.

A megaphone arrangement, which also involved elaborate experimentations with different shapes and kinds of material, was developed and this diverts the sound into a special microphone at the peak of the cone, greatly amplifying the sound produced in the interior of the machine.

The track machine, by various adjustments, reproduces the familiar clickety-click of a railroad train, the roar of a speeding train, the sounds of trains passing each other, and the "swish" that is noticeable in a train when it passes stations and other structures along the right-of-way. Other adjustments enable the operators to imitate the sound of a train going through a cut, a tunnel, or over a trestle.

The locomotive bell and whistle, the puffing of the locomotive, exhaust steam and other train sounds, are blended into the sounds of the track machine as required.

This track machine, used on the Great Northern programs, is said to be the most costly piece of sound equipment ever built for a radio program.

OTHER RADIOS CANNOT GET

enjoyed by San Francisco woman using

PHILCO
 SUPERHETERODYNE-PLUS
ELEVEN TUBE RADIO

Again PHILCO outdoes other radios! Mrs. N. H. Carter resides in a steel-frame apartment building at 825 Geary Street, San Francisco, only two blocks from KFRC and close to KPO. Reception conditions there are very poor. Nobody else in that building, she says, gets distant programs. Yet her Philco Superheterodyne-PLUS brings in New York, Pittsburgh and other distant stations perfectly!

Proved in Your Own Home

The sensitivity and selectivity of the improved Philco Superheterodyne Circuit, the huge power of the 11 tubes (4 screen-grid), Philco Automatic Volume Control which counteracts fading, Philco four-phase Tone Control, Philco Balanced Units and Philco Balanced Tubes combine to produce a radio that is absolutely incomparable. You can prove this by trying this wonderful new instrument in your own home . . . FREE . . . without any obligation whatever.

Easiest Payment Terms

And you can own this great new Philco on the easiest payment terms imaginable. Only a few cents a day makes it yours. This offer is limited. Act at once, before the tremendous demand exhausts our stock of these radios. Call or telephone your nearest PHILCO dealer.

STARR BY NAME

STAR BY FAME

The 16-40 Boy—himself

HENRY STARR—sweet singer of songs—has acquired an enviable reputation in the world of radio entertainment. You will be agreeably recompensed by listening in on these programs every evening except Sundays from 6:45 to 7:00 P. M. These sentimental ballads and songs are broadcast over Station and we cordially invite the public to send in their suggestions of songs to be sung. Humor, pathos, sentiment and valour are all embraced in these splendid music periods.

Rimsky-Korsakoff, called the magician of the orchestra, wrote the overture, "A Russian Easter," which opens the Stromberg-Carlson program. This overture was written in 1888 and pictures the solemn activities of the Russian on the most sacred day in the calendar of this church.

"Shoes of Eloquence," a drama replete with the atmosphere of San Francisco's Chinatown, will be presented tonight. The Old Timer, in relating the tale, incidentally helps Ann Temple, an eastern society girl with seafaring ancestors, to decide between Henry Van Dyke, wealthy aristocrat, and Joe Cortez, a poor but go-getting native son of California. Joseph Blethen of San Francisco is the author.

The whole town of Goshen Center is worked up over the Foster orphans, so Memory Lane promises some lively moments when the H. C. Connette play is broadcast tonight. When last Tuesday's episode closed, the fate of Melissa and little Joe Foster was still in doubt. The Posey County judge was holding the case open until he could decide who were the proper custodians of the motherless waifs. Grandma Jenkins, mother of Rosemary Smithers, claimed the right to have the children and admitted that she had taken them from the sugar-bush near Shiloh to save them from being sent to Indianapolis for adoption. In tonight's episode, the scene of which is Goshen Center again, two other claimants will appear, one of whom is Muriel La Salle.

You owe a debt to those who serve you radio entertainment

AS YOU SIT at your ease night after night and anticipate an enjoyable evening's entertainment—do you ever stop to consider just how that entertainment is presented . . . absolutely gratis. In all the realm of advertising, radio advertising is the only free gift. . . . Through the medium of radio advertisers, you are presented with musical entertainment in which the highest priced artists are employed by the advertisers. It is true that to receive this entertainment you must supply yourself with a receiving set, but the fact remains that all of this entertainment comes to you free. . . . So, don't you think that radio advertisers merit your support in having you trade with them. By such support you are assuring yourself of better and better programs in the future.

TONIGHT

S and W

Mellow'd
Melodies

NBC System

8:30 p. m.

From the land of Bobbie Burns have come tuneful dances, sparkling melodies and heart stirring lyrics that have grown more appealing as the years have mellowed their charm.

Come with us tonight to bonny Scotland while the S and W Orchestra plays Scottish Dances and the rousing Highland Fling . . and muted singers bring you the well-loved songs, among them a delightful arrangement of "Coming Through the Rye."

Morse has written around the annual rodeo held in Longview, Washington, home of the largest lumber mill in the world. The play will feature Jack in the role of a young lumberjack and Ethyl as his girl friend. "School Days" and the Walter Beban farce will be in keeping with the lumberjack theme and will provide the revue with its laughs. Musical interludes will be furnished by the three Coquettes, the Hill Billy Boys, Irving Kennedy, tenor; Harold Peary, singing comedian; Bennie Walker, Johnnie O'Brien, Johnnie Toffolo, Charles Marshall, the Southern Harmony Four and an orchestra led by Walter Beban.
