ETHER GLEANINGS

By J. CLARENCE MYERS

WESTERN DIALERS have lost Irving Kennedy, one of the best of the better NBC warblers, temporarily, at least.

The popular singer, who has been a stellar figure on the NBC staff almost since the network organized here, was called to New York City where his mother is dangerously ill. We join with hundreds of thousands of listeners in extending good thoughts to the radio star's mother, wishing her a speedy recovery and Irving a prompt return to the ether stage.

Don Gilman of the NBC tells us that in accordance with the NRA code the Western network headquarters has added five men to its technical staff.

* * *

Enter another circus type program on the air. Beginning Monday, October 30, the Sealed Power Corporation will pay for a weekly event monickered "Side Show," from 9 to 9:30 o'clock. Cliff Soubier, for a long time prominently identified in "The First Nighter" program will be the barker. Harold Stokes' orchestra, the Morin Sisters, harmony vocalists and the Kings Jesters, male trio, will likewise contribute.

* * *

S. P. B. Mais, known as the modern British Columbus, author, lecturer and traveler, is scheduled for a KYA appearance November 17. He will relate his impressions of the United States.

* * *

There at it again! The politicians, of course. Blabbering before any man's radio to their dear public, trying to kindle enough enthusiasm in their listeners so that they will go and vote for them. Practically all stations in this section claimed some of the political business.

* * *

Axel Axelsen (Pete Barlow to the bill collectors), didn't go to Tibet or the land of the Svenskas. No, indeed, he's right here in San Francisco. And yumpin' yiminy he ban very busy guy, too. Every Thursday night he's on the KTAB Capers, giving his Swedish News Reporter act. Barlow, a trap drummer by occupation, created the Axel character while on KFRC, made a tremendous hit with it and was called by the movies to Hollywood, where he was featured in a full length comedy.

Jerry Jermaine, for many years a prominent figure in radio hereabouts, has deserted the microphone, for good, so she says. Jerry, who is Mrs. Margaret Cheeseman in real life, and her husband, recently purchased a new home in Los Altos and plans to devote her whole time to it and the surrounding gardens. For the past few years Jerry had been associated with KTAB and previous to that at KPO.

* * *

Those very fine Radio Guild plays have been moved to KPO and are released now from 12 noon to 1 p. m. on Mondays.

* * *

"Cactus" Eddie Graham, of the KTAB X-Bar-B Boys, cowboy entertainers, was passing 'round the smokes at the studios the other day. Yep, he's a new daddy. It's a baby girl.

* * *

KJBS is getting ready for its participation in the Navy Day activities and will conduct some radio maneuvers under sea and in the air, according to Ralph Brunton, station manager. It all will come about on October 29.

* * *

So popular is Major Bowes and his Capitol Theater program that the NBC recently increased its time from fifteen minutes to a full hour. It's on KPO every Sunday morning from 8:15 to 9:15 o'clock.

* * *

The Radio Playmakers are back on KTAB Sundays from 1:30 to 2 o'clock.

* * *

KTAB lost the sponsor to its Capers program on Thursday night, so chopped the program in half to an hour.

* * *

The appointment of Ralph Bryan, popular young KQW announcer and musician ♣ master of ceremonies at the Cafe Esplendido in the Hotel St. Claire in San Jose, was announced by the management of the hostelry recently. Bryan appears with Carvel Craig and his Cardinals, dance band, whose music is broadcast every Saturday night over KQW from 10 to 10:30 o'clock. Bryan has been associated with KQW for more than a year and besides his announcing is a participating musical artist in several programs.

* * *

George Nickson, tenor, ex-KYA is a new comer to the KTAB Minstrel Show Monday nights—7:30 to 8 o'clock.

Met quite a few local mike folk letting go their oh's! and ah's! Sunday as they inspected the Royal Scot, England's most famous limited train, which was on exhibit in San Francisco Sunday and Monday last.

It came to San Francisco after having been on exhibition at the Century of Progress at Chicago. Throngs poured out to see this wonder train. The Southern Pacific and other railroads serving San Francisco arranged the special exhibition.

* * *

Do you know that the only regularly broadcast French program on the air in Northern California comes from KQW every Saturday night? And the sons and daughters of France have accepted it with open arms, judging by the response to the affair. "Twenty Minutes in Paris" is the title of the broadcast and it may be dialed at 7:10 p. m., Saturdays. Jeanne Bergevin, who first saw the light of day in Gay Paree is the m.c. The contributing artists—Madame Ferne Battel, soprano; Leo Battel, violinist and Rose Manning, pianist. The entire program is French, music, continuity and all.

* * *

Those gals from Georgia—the Pickens Sisters—who have been making a picture for Paramount in Hollywood, are scheduled for a week's appearance at the Warfield Theater in San Francisco beginning October 27, and may be heard on some NBC programs while here.

* * *

Tommy Harris is back to work before the NBC mikes following a throat operation at a San Francisco Hospital last week.

* * *

What promises to be an outstanding program is the one called "Engineering Thrills" which starts on the NBC network (KGO locally) Sunday, October 29 at 3:45 p. m. It will consist of a dramatization of the twentieth century engineering feats, including the Panama Canal, Empire State Building and Boulder Dam.

* * *

* * *

A decided increase in fan mail has been noted by the NBC of late, Wanda Woodward, in charge of the network mail department informs us. More than 6,000 letters were received in one day last week, the largest number to be received any one day this year. Uncle Sam's postage stamp business is on the up.

* * *

Glenhall Taylor, ex-KTAB, now has his own dance orchestra on KJBS Sunday afternoons and Thursday mornings from 12:15 to 12:45 a. m.

Gentlemen:
October 14, 1933.

We are much pleased at the interest which you and your readers show in the return to the air of the Adventures of Sherlock Holmes which we have put on for the last three years for our client, the G. Washington Coffee Company.

There seems to be a misconception on the part of listeners which I will thank you to correct. You can say authoritatively that the G. Washington Coffee Company is going to shortly return to the air with a renewal of the Adventures of Sherlock Holmes. The exact starting date has not been set yet, as we are having some difficulty getting a certain time, but this will be cleared up in the near future.

The rumor that we have run out of material is also incorrect, as there are still good Conan Doyle stories which we have not put on the air, and these will be found just as interesting as anything which we have heretofore broadcast on the Sherlock Holmes programs.

Won't you be kind enough to reassure the listeners that Sherlock has not disappeared from the air?

Sincerely yours,

CECIL WARWICK & CECIL.

The "Smart Set" of Radio

One of the 24 new models that comprise the Majestic Smart Set line for 1934.

Words or pictures can not begin to describe the appeal of this little radio. It is the very last word in modern cabinet design—as trim and snappy as a new sport model roadster.

It will "go places," too. Equipped with a dual wave chassis, it gets police, aeroplane and short wave stations, as well as the regular broadcast programs.

And don't be fooled by the low price. It's a real radio. We are proud to have it bear the name MAJESTIC.

When shopping for a Radio, be sure to see this model.

MICROPHONE GOSSIP

• • • Those swift, informal interviews of radio stars by Rush Hughes, pictorial reporter heard five afternoons a week over an NBC-KGO network, are just as casual as they sound. In order to keep them that way, Rush doesn't plan them ahead; he seldom knows whom he is going to interview until a few hours before they go on the air. He has a gift for analyzing his "subjects" in a few moments of conversation just before the program starts, and thus is able to fire those ad lib questions of his without pause.

• • • Albert Spalding, foremost American violinist, who is heard Wednesday night at 8:30 p. m. over CBS, is the nephew of A. G. Spalding, the baseball genius. The noted violinist inherits his uncle's love for the game, and has canceled several concert appearances to attend the World Series.

• • • La Verda Whitaker, popular singer, new to KMTR, but well known to KFOX audiences, knows her earthquake. She received a gold medal for her work over the Long Beach station during the March earthquake, and then her first night on KMTR was followed by another tremor. Where La Verde is the very earth trembles.

• • • While Leon Fleitman, one of the musical scouts of Frank Black, NBC general musical director, was in Europe this summer, he extracted a promise from a young Viennese composer to send his work to Black when he finished it. The other day Black's mail contained a half-finished manuscript and a note from the boy's mother saying that the lad had been fatally injured in a train wreck and that his last wish was that the unfinished manuscript be sent to Black with a request to complete it and to broadcast it.

• • • Anson Weeks, musical director of Hotel Mark Hopkins, on San Francisco's Nob Hill, the smart spot of the western metropolis since the days of gold, has just turned down an offer from New York's St. Regis, where he played a record engagement last winter and where he had promised to return again this winter.

"But," said Anson, who had just finished a sensational run at the Warfield Theatre, "the West is my home, and if they want me like that I ought to stay where I grew up. Besides, offers of tours on the coast—shorts in movieland—record makings and altogether new things in radio have been loosening up here, there and everywhere, that far outshine that New York lure."

Perhaps the most tempting thing that Anson has before him is a series of engagements up and down the coast, where he will duplicate the triumph at the Warfield. No one ever gave Weeks the credit for showmanship that properly is his. But his faults were his virtues, if modesty is a fault, and he showed that he knew how to build his audience from mild interest to enthusiastic applause, as he has done for seven consecutive years in the Mark Hopkins famous supper room, Peacock Court.

• • • One of the NBC Show Boat fans won a bet recently though it broke up her bridge party. It seems that in talking about Captain Henry's Thursday night program, one of the guests said that Mary Lou and Annette Hanshaw were one and the same person. The fan, who knows her Show Boat, insisted that Mary Lou was one character—Lanny Ross' sweetheart—and Annette Hanshaw quite a different one, Captain Henry's blues singer. Money was laid on it. The fan wrote hurriedly to the Show Boat sponsors for corroboration of the facts. She got it! And the sponsors hope she collected the dough, too.

• • • The collecting fever, for which there is no cure, numbers three helpless victims at KFI-KECA: Arthur F. Kales, general manager, who takes his fancy with postage stamps, American issues only; Carl Haverlin, sales manager, who buys anything that looks like a first edition, and Curtis Mason, engineer, who squanders his all on prints.

Haverlin's particular passion is Baconiana, being reputed to have the best collection of the essayist's works in California. Incidentally, Carl is convinced that Bacon wrote Shakespeare, but hasn't made up his mind who wrote Bacon.

• • • Regular broadcasts between the United States and Little America will be an invaluable aid in sustaining the morale of the men on the Byrd Antarctic Expedition. Admiral Richard E. Byrd said in an interview at his Boston base. The fact that their families and friends will be kept in touch with the progress of their work and the state of their welfare will do much to set up in them a comfortable mental state, Byrd said. And, in reverse order, he observed, broadcasts of music and entertainment by the Columbia network to the Antarctic encampment will relieve the monotony of a two years' absence from civilization. "I welcome the opportunity to report to the people of the United States by radio," Byrd declared. "And the members of my expedition are equally glad that the folks at home will be advised of their accomplishments in Little America. These regular broadcasts on the Columbia network will absolve them of many worries. Their families and friends will be kept posted on their activities. This will be a reassuring state of affairs, particularly to the men who are going out for the first time."

• • • "One Man's Family" is just as popular with its transcontinental audience as with its coast listeners, for letters from every state in the Union are received by Carlton E. Morse, author of the Barbour saga. One listener, a clergyman's wife, who lives near Cleveland, Ohio, is an ardent follower of the serial. "I sneaked out of prayer meeting the other night so I could get home in time to hear my favorite program," she wrote.

• • • There's an inside story worthy of Edwin C. Hill as to why aviator Jimmie Matern insisted on viewing Fred Waring's Pennsylvanians in action as soon as he was able after arriving in New York. The globe-circling flier felt that he owed his life, indirectly, to the orchestra pilot. After a few days in the Siberian wastes near Anadyr, he was on the point of going out of his mind. Then he stumbled onto a small shop which boasted a phonograph with one record—"In My Gondola" by Fred Waring's Pennsylvanians. The aviator said he played it until it was worn out, but he thinks it saved him, being his only contact with civilization.

• • • In answer to many letters from fans who ask if she speaks extemporaneously during her programs on KNX, Elvia Allman replies: "It's bad radio to extemporize or ad lib on the air unless you're a sports announcer or someone like KNX's Eddie Albright with his "Ten O'Clock Family." I wouldn't even attempt to extemporize and, therefore, I write everything out, have it copied, and furnish everyone from the radio technician to the orchestra drummer with copies of the script as it is going on." Elvia says she has so many orchestra cues that she furnishes each orchestra member with a complete copy so there can be no slip-ups on musical tags and pick-up music. A good idea which merits a lot of attention by other radio artists.

• • • Rita Lane, pretty NBC soprano, has been signed up for appearances with the San Francisco Grand Opera Company during the coming season. She will sing the rôle of Pousette in "Manon" November 12, and Annina in "Traviata" November 24.

• • • Harold P. Burdick, whose "Do You Believe in Ghosts?" series is heard over an NBC-KGO network Sunday nights, admits, when pressed, that he really doesn't believe in 'em himself. He has sought out haunted houses, dwellings where murders have taken place, and all manner of mysterious spots, only to have his newspaper man's curiosity make him investigate the "ghost" and lay it low. In every case he has thus investigated, the haunt was really a rat or something equally natural, Burdick says.

• • • Virginia Rea, in addition to her radio work, also has sung in opera and in concert in Europe and America. She made her public debut at a church concert in her native city of Louisville, Kentucky, at the age of five, and continued the study of music here and abroad until she was engaged for leading rôles with the William Wade Hinshaw Opera Company.

Six years ago Miss Rea turned her attention exclusively to radio, and for four years she was starred as "Olive Palmer." Later she resumed the name of Virginia Rea and returned to concert work, interspersing public appearances with microphone engagements.

• • • Elmore Vincent, curly-headed actor-singer of NBC who jigsaws words and sentences as "Senator Fishface," did his first "Fishface scrambling unintentionally. It was on the occasion of his first school recitation, and the laughter that followed was so spontaneous that the little, humiliated lad of that day never forgot it. Now he cashes in on that early—and only—flop.

• • • John, of NBC's John and Ned team, admits he has at last succumbed to the lure of a blonde. She's a singer, too, but just a bird in a gilded cage, and John wonders how long he can keep Cap, his police dog, and a canary too.

• • • Someone sent Don McNeill, NBC announcer in Chicago, a box of cigars along with a list of radio people among whom the cigars were to be distributed. Don hid the box, and the next morning it was missing. Phil (Sherlock Holmes) Baker, whose crime library numbers in the thousands, reports that he saw a figure stealthily leaving the studios and carrying something under his coat—and that the figure more than faintly resembled one Ben (Stogie-Stealer) Bernie.

• • • George M. Heid, formerly of the announcing staff of KPO, and who also played the part of Uncle Thomas with Cecil and Sally and did solo baritone vocals with Dobbie, is now general manager of Station KVOA, Tucson, Arizona.

• • • Phil Harris is sad about his polo ponies, who are eating their heads off in California. He hasn't had an opportunity to bring them East.

• • • Station WSOB, located in Charlotte, North Carolina, joined the National Broadcasting Company's southeastern network Saturday, October 14, in response to a demand by organizations and radio listeners for an NBC outlet in that part of the state.

The station, operating on a wave length of 247.8 meters, 1210 kilocycles, serves Charlotte and the surrounding country to which it will broadcast the pick of the NBC programs during the daylight hours and evenings. Earl J. Gluck is president of the operating company.

Station WSOB recently operated in Gastonia, North Carolina, the move to Charlotte being made to give better broadcasting service to listeners in that section of the state.

• • • Joe Penner, new comedy star of the Bakers Broadcast, Sunday evenings, with Ozzie Nelson, makes the suggestion that the radio studios follow the movie-studio practice of having microphones on movable booms. Singers and comedians, he points out, then could move about freely, with the mike following them, and feel more at ease.

• • • Wilbur Alexander, technician of KFI-KECA, is probably the best tennis player in western radio. When he was in college he was picked to play the great Bill Tilden, no less. Newspaper accounts of the match agree that Tilden had no easy time of it.

Another tennis enthusiast is Wayne Miller of the stations' news staff, who spends all his spare time on the courts. Other sportsmen on the Anthony stations are Gene Grant and Don Wilson, golfers; Clay Osborne, production man, who is a whizzbang at slot machines, and Jerry Cady, who is reputed a big knock 'em down man at bowls.

• • • Although they have made innumerable personal appearances in vaudeville and motion picture houses and in movie "shorts," there still are people who will not believe the Mills Brothers use only one musical instrument—the guitar. When they returned to the Columbia air waves recently, a phone call came in immediately after their program. It was from a lady who was having trouble with an apartment-full of guests. They had just listened to the boys' program, but not one of them would believe that all the oompahs and things were created by the capable Mills voices.

• • • Laurels for the best fish story handed in at the Chicago NBC studios go to Charlie Lyon. Charlie says it is true. Nobody will believe it.

Lyon's story is that while on his vacation he hooked his biggest fish. His arms will not quite reach far enough to show its length.

"Show us the fish," said dubious listeners.

"I prepared for that remark," returned Charlie. Charlie says he brought a camera along in the canoe. As the fish was drawn alongside, his fellow fisherman leaned over the side to snap the picture.

Result: The canoe tipped, his partner lost the camera—and the fish got away.

• • • Five thousand pounds of broadcasting equipment will be loaded on board the steamship Jacob Ruppert, flagship of the second Byrd Antarctic Expedition, which will be used to bring regular programs from Antarctica to the United States over the Columbia network. Five miles of wire, 9,000 feet of it for antennae alone; 300 tubes for transmitting and receiving apparatus; three major transmitting units; ninety-foot wooden poles for antenna structure; dozens of microphones of various types, and power generators are among the items making up the broadcasting cargo.

Installation and packing aboard the ship is under the supervision of Edwin K. Cohan, technical director of the Columbia Broadcasting System; T. S. McCaleb of Harvard University, Byrd's counselor on radio communication; and Stevenson Corey, in charge of stores on the expedition. The heaviest single item of the broadcasting equipment will be the 1000-pound gas-driven generator. On the way down to Little America this device will not be employed, but once the ice party is settled on the Ross Barrier, it will be the only reliable source of electrical energy. This generator will have to be transferred from the Ruppert to the steamship Bear, the ice-breaker, at sea at a point just outside of the ice-pack.

• • • Stuart Hamblen, of the Covered Wagon Jubilee, over KMTR, went hunting the other night, with only his dogs for companions. The hunting over, Stuart was trying to catch the dogs for the return home. They eluded him for some time and finally, in a last grand effort, Stuart managed to fall flat on his face in what little water there was in the Los Angeles River. The dogs then came to his rescue.

• • • Lee Millar, NBC actor in San Francisco, who was stage director for Leo Ditrichstein for nine years before he turned to radio, says he had just one superstition when he was playing behind footlights.

"I always believed," he says gravely, "that it was bad luck not to stand in the wings and listen for your cue."

SILHOUETTES

THE lady asks the questions, and other persons do the answering; she can produce a Baron-like dialect and tone if an interviewee gets daring and tries to make some inquiries about her. So it is little wonder that Gypsy herself, her background and her personal life have remained a bafflingly dim picture to NBC audiences which hear her Personal Close-ups every Sunday night.

"Who is Gypsy?" Is that her real name? How old is she and what does she look like?" are some of the queries which radio editors get—so here goes.

Gypsy, the NBC interviewer of radio celebrities, whose soft voice makes the stars tell about themselves on the air, is only one facet in the many-sided character of one of the ether's most gifted personalities. Singer, pianist, composer, and writer, she has managed to keep all her varied activities each in its own channel, and she is so modest about all her different talents that few of her fellow radio stars know of all of them.

Elsa Charlotte Musgrave is Gypsy's own name, though even her sisters call her Gypsy, since the title dates back to her childhood in Los Angeles. Her classmates nicknamed her Gypsy because she was always planning to travel. By the time she was fourteen she had begun to do so, for her ability as a concert pianist had already manifested itself, and she toured from coast to coast, a small, intent person with straight, bobbed hair and bangs, who sat at the keyboard with all the seriousness of an artist many years older, and played like one. She is the granddaughter of a Polish nobleman, and for luck she took his name as her stage name. She was Elsa Kambaraska to her early audiences in concert halls, and on the radio. Those were the golden days for musicians; it was possible to tour from one broadcasting station to another, getting fees that sound like fortunes now, for there were comparatively few pianists who were able to adjust their playing to the requirements of the microphone. Gypsy was one of these; she recalls that she chose compositions which were staccato in tone, and kept her feet resolutely away from the pedals.

When she was seventeen she began singing for the first time. Because her voice was suited to light classics and tuneful popular songs, such as she never played on the keyboard, she kept her piano personality and her singing one separate. In 1925 her younger sister, Marta, joined her and the two organized a popular team. They still sing together occasionally and make an effective picture, for they are complete contrasts in appearance except for the blue eyes, dark hair and white skin of their ancestry. Gypsy is a slim, dovelike little person; Marta is curvesome and impish-eyed; she looks as if she came out of the Chauve Souris, and has a devastating sense of humor.

Gypsy and Marta traveled vaudeville circuits together, then radio called, via Station KPO. Gypsy's wide acquaintance with radio and theatrical folk and her ability to write interestingly of them turned her activities in that direction shortly after her return to San Francisco, and it was just a step from interviewing stars for magazines to interviewing them on the air in her present series of Closeups.

Few persons could keep those Closeups as varied and interesting as Gypsy does; she believes firmly that a real story lurks in the personality of every human being, and her interviews are vivid realizations of her ability to find that story. The stars themselves find it all the easier to talk to her because of her twofold interest for them, as a feature writer upon whose justice and kindness they have always been able to rely, and as a fellow artist, knowing them and their profession from the inside.

She still finds time for her music and composition—she has written a number of things for piano, as well as popular songs, such as "Tomboy Blues," which the Duncan Sisters featured—and for a very happy domestic life with her tall, charming husband, who is a colonel in the United States Army.

I OFTEN think of writing, but this is just the second time I really have written. I enjoy every part of BROADCAST WEEKLY. I have but one small knock. I always cut out all pictures, also items concerning my favorites, for use in my scrapbook. Just lately, the full-page picture has been on the reverse side of the front cover. Usually there is a picture on the cover and, even if not, the markings are so dark they show through and mar the larger picture. Could it not be placed in the book so there would be an ad on the other side, as formerly? I'm glad you are again printing a short biography under the picture instead of just the name and station, as it was for a time.

Just one favor. In one issue—in September, I think—you printed a paragraph about the announcer for "One Man's Family." It must have been on the reverse of some picture. At any rate, I cannot find it, and I did so wish to keep it with my other items concerning that broadcast (my favorite). A picture of him would be acceptable. I was glad the author was with the second composite picture you printed of them. My favor—Could you print that item again?

I was greatly disappointed that Sherlock Holmes did not return. Many of the evening programs that are provided are not so good.

Was more than pleased to have Crosscuts again, even though we do not always get the full hour. Now the day starts out properly again. May we always have it.

Glad to have Dobbsie mornings, too. I like him better in California than in the East; better talent.

I always say I despise jazz, but I suppose there is more than one variety. It is that raucous, tin-panny sort I cannot abide. I like Ben Bernie and his lads. I have never heard anyone do "Let's All Sing Like the Birdies," "Girl in the Green Hat," "Last Round Up," better than they, and I guess they are called a jazz band.

I used to like the Laughner-Harris orchestra, but I do not like the present Harris broadcast.

Nor do I care for Dollo Sargent at the organ. I never can tell what she is playing; she booms so! Paul Carson does not have to play many notes before I recognize any selection; the same with Runyon, Nyklicek, the Crawfords or Ann Leaf.

I like Feminine Fancies. I do not get to hear Al Pearce and Gang since we returned to Pacific time. Wish it might be broadcast evenings. I do not care much for the Circus; but Red Corcoran is a scream; and in the Carefree Carnival, Senator Fishface. I've seen them both here. We Seattle people have a proprietary interest in these two, and Harold P. Burdick. Aren't his ghost stories spine tinglers?

Glad to have Orphan Annie and Wheatenville again. Delighted that Harold Peary returned. Uncle Hannibal is my favorite, though they are all fine.

I like Spencer Dean, but we do not always get it clearly, as Eno Crime Clues is not released here. I'd like to know who takes that rôle. He is great.

The Corn Cob Pipe Club is always good, and, of course, Memory Lane. It would be an awful blow to lose Amos 'n' Andy or the Richfield News Flashes. We take them so much as a matter of course that we seldom mention them in letters. They seem a part of the day.

The First Nighter is always good, but I'd have a hard time enumerating the ones I like, fully.

One thing, I see I've made this too long for the Open Circuit. I always enjoy that, and was really thrilled when you printed my other letter.

Thank you for your very fine magazine.

HAROLD PEARY: Physiognomically speaking, Harold favors his paternal ancestors. The name was once spelled Perez. The maternal house had an English name. Harold was born between twenty-five and thirty years ago in San Leandro, California; combined text books and stage work and made his radio bow in January of 1929. Tips the scales at 180, and stands 5 feet 8 inches. Married. (He is the Uncle Hanibel of the "Billy Bachelor" skits.)

The "Smart Set" of Radio

REVOLUTIONIZED BY DUO-VALVE
SELF-SHIELDED TUBES!

HERE you have the "Smart Set" of Radio—the seventeen new Majestics for 1934. The best-looking sets you have ever seen. With a far-reaching new development—Duo-Valve Self-Shielded tubes! . . .

You will see at a glance the tremendous forward step in distinguished, original design—and beautiful woods, hand-rubbed to a true piano finish. And what a difference you will hear! Majestic Duo-Valve tubes add the efficiency of at least two extra tubes to every "Smart Set."

An ordinary 6-tube radio is a 6-tube radio—that is all. But a 6-tube "Smart Set" is an 8-tube radio— $33\frac{1}{3}$ per cent more for your money! A Majestic Duo-Valve Self-Shielded tube does the work of two ordinary tubes—functions twice in the circuit—and functions better.

These new Majestics definitely obsolete twelve million present-day radios. Sets costing, less than a year ago, three or four times as much, are not merely out-moded—they are out-performed—in power, in selectivity, in colorful tone. There is nothing nearly so fine, we honestly believe, in all the world of radio today.
