I TOO, must praise the greatest little old Radio Guide in the whole world. My subscription does not expire until in August, but very very shortly I am going to renew it, for I could never be deprived of such a necessity in radio enjoyment. To be without it I would be completely lost. During the holidays one copy was very late in arriving, due to crowding mails, and I was upset.

My object in writing is to ask what became of the Happy Chappies who sang over KNX all last winter, and also where Marian Mansfield is who until a short time ago was also featured over KNX? I sure miss Gypsy's department and trust she will soon be in BROADCAST WEEKLY again. And why does One Man's Family have to come on at the same time as Myrt and Marge? Since one cannot listen to both, I leave out One Man's Family entirely, but certainly miss it.

[EDITOR'S NOTE: Do not know the present whereabouts of Happy Chappies. Last information we had on Marion Mansfield she was on vaudeville tour.]

Very sincerely,

Mrs. Victor F., Boise, Idaho.

I WANT to register, through your Open Circuit, a protest against such plays as the National Players put on recently. I am astonished that Barton Yarborough would consent to play such a sickening character as Carl, he is so wonderful in One Man's Family, and we all love him in that part. And the dialogue between Fritz and Carl's girl (not Margo, but the other one) was positively revolting. There are few enough dramas on the air, and we always look forward to the drama hour, but when such a thing as "Love in Vienna" is presented we certainly feel cheated and sick at our stomachs. Surely, out of all the plays in the world they could find something better than "Love in Vienna."

And I thought we were going to have "Sherlock Holmes" and "The Old Timer" back again, and why doesn't someone sponsor the ghost stories and The Story Teller:

they were fine and we enjoyed them. And I, for one, will be mighty glad when the blues singers go out of style. If Bing Crosby (who has such a pretty voice) would sing like Drury Lane, he would sound human instead of like someone dying or wanting to die. I like jazz just as much as anyone when it is played by a good orchestra, but when some of these would-be singers sing the chorus it is all spoiled for me. Such music as Firestone have on their program is real music, both the vocal and instrumental; too bad we can't have more like it.

We would like more dramas—good ones.

Enjoy your little magazine more than I can express; couldn't get along without it.

And oh yes, why is it I can only get Columbia News only once in awhile; had it Monday night, but couldn't get it last night and am disappointed when I can't get it.

My whole family are great radio fans and don't very often find fault with the programs, but we just couldn't let last Monday night's play go without criticizing it.

N. J. H., Stockton.

I MUST add my bit of praise for the best little magazine ever. I simply would be lost without it and my radio. Of course I have my pet programs and tune from one station to another to suit the occasion.

Why find fault with the people who work so hard to provide this convenient arrangement for us? They can't please everyone and for my part if I have to miss something I would like to listen to I just omit the least desirable and am thankful there is one for each day of the week that is outstanding. On Sunday it is the "Bridge to Dreamland," on Monday the "Carnation Contented Hour," Tuesday "Memory Lane," Wednesday "Corn Cob Pipe Club," Thursday "Captain Henry's Show Boat," Friday "One Man's Family," Saturday "Caswell Concert." And of course there are many others over other stations aside from KGO.

So here is my extension of my subscription to this wonderful book.

Thank you so much.

Mrs. J. E. P., Quincy, Wn.

ETHER GLEANINGS

By J. CLARENCE MYERS

THE fact that the immortal mammy singer—Al Jolson—is coming back on the air may or may not promote enthusiasm in the dialing legion.

But one way or the other, the noted singer-actor IS coming back on the radio stage February 8. He will be heard weekly thereafter on Thursdays over the NBC wireup from coast to coast from 7 to 8 o'clock Pacific standard time. Kraft Cheese Company is the sponsor.

To many, Jolson will always remain a favorite, but to most of us it has been noticeable that his radio appearances haven't done him as much good—except financially—as it has to other stage celebrities. This year may be different though, and Jolson, if his sponsors don't insist on too much of his sob stuff, may click bigger than ever with the air audience. Here's hopin'.

Two programs your humble servant thinks will be well worth your while listening to: Ted Fio Rito and his orchestra on the Old Gold program on KFRC and CBS stations from coast to coast February 7, 7 to 7:30 p.m.

Waring's Pennsylvanians on the Ford Dealers program Sunday, February 4, from 5:30 to 6 o'clock and Thursdays from 6.30 to 7 o'clock. Ditto, KFRC and CBS coast to coaster.

By coincidence all the beer programs that were being produced at the Pacific Coast NBC headquarters are off the air at present. Pabst Blue Ribbon beer with the old maestro, Bernia, at the controls still breezes through, though, from the East.

Lanny Ross, the singing hero of "Captain Henry's Show Boat" who is making a picture at the Paramount Studios in Hollywood, is appearing as usual on the "Show Boat" on the NBC. Here's how it's done. He sings before an NBC mike in Los Angeles. His voice is carried over land wires to New York, where it is sent out over the coast-to-coast network over the same wires that carry the rest of the "Show Boat" program.

Ralph Brunton, papa of KJBS, is back home in San Francisco after having made a trip throughout the East. He went there specifically to make application before the Federal Radio Commission for an increase in power. That is pending now. Brunton visited Chicago, New York and Kansas, and states that optimism is high in the business world. Radio broadcasting business is looking up, too, he stated.

Harrison Holliday, KFRC's chief, announces the appointment of Robert Bowman as assistant production manager of KFRC. He comes from KGB, San Diego, where he was production and program manager.

Frank Galvin has been named general manager of KTAB, succeeding Bob Roberts, who resigned last week to devote his entire time to his advertising business. Galvin, for the past six months, has been production manager of the station.

Like the old-time barn dance tunes? You can dial 'em now every Saturday night from 8 to 8:30 o'clock on KGO. Dr. Miles Laboratories, who turn out Alka-seltzer, are paying the bill for a coast to coast broadcast of the old-timers.

Fred J. Hart, manager of KQW, has announced the addition of several outstanding new radio features to the station's schedule. Cecil and Sally episodes are being broadcast now every night except Saturday and Sunday from 7:45 to 8 o'clock; Eb and Zeb, the famous rural comic team, are cavorting before the KQW mikes at 9 p. m. on Mondays, Wednesdays, Thursdays and Fridays, and Coleman Cox, the noted author and psychologist, is heard daily except Sunday at 8:45 a. m.

A broadcast over the CBS net from the world's largest wireless transmitter at Rugby, England, will bring a number of interesting things to listen to, if present plans don't go haywire. The date set for the unique broadcast is Saturday, February 17. A demonstration of "scrambling" will be given the radio audience. "Scrambling" is the intricate process employed to maintain secrecy for international telephone conversations. The speaker's words are so scrambled up that all listeners except the one the message is intended for cannot understand a word of it. At the receiving end the message is "unscrambled" and appears just as it was sent out originally.

Caswell has changed the time of its broadcast of light opera gems to Tuesday nights on the NBC at 7:45 o'clock. For several years it was heard on Saturdays.

Bernard Katz, the renowned pianist, is a frequent participant on KYA programs.

The San Francisco Forum is presenting a new series of educational talks over KYA Saturday nights from 6 to 6:15 o'clock.

* * *

Val Valente, whose zippy chunes used to permeate the ether domain hereabouts some years ago, is back at it again. He and his orchestra broadcast from the Lido Cafe, a San Francisco night spot, Tuesdays, Thursdays and Saturdays over KTAB.

* * *

Another new coast to coast which flits out over the NBC wireup is "Rings of Melody." But it has nothing to do with wedding or ear type. Its sponsor makes piston rings. So there. Anyhow? Ohman and Arden, Ed Nell and Arline Jackson are featured, and it gets under way for the first time February 4. Dial it on KGO.

* * *

Gardenias and orchids to KFRC for the reenactment of the "Titanic" sinking. The drama—a bit of the Jamboree a couple of weeks ago—drew a very commendable letter from Fred Toms of Los Angeles, one of the survivors of the ill-fated queen of the seas which sunk after hitting an iceberg many years ago. He praised the accuracy with which the drama was presented and the life-likeness of the production.

* * *

The boys and gals at the NBC are staging their annual contract bridge tournament. It is to continue for six weeks. Announcers, singers, actors and production men, not to forget the ladies and gentlemen of the press department, are brushing up on their Culbertson and Sims. Enrolled are: Irene Noblette, Mrs. Tommy Harris, Edna Fisher, Milton Hayes, Nelson Case, Mrs. Case, Rita Lane, Ned Tollinger, Mrs. Tollinger, Myron Niesley, Mrs. Niesley, Ted Maxwell, Lloyd E. Yoder, Sydney Dorais, Harold Bock, Cliff Anderson, and others.

* * *

The H. G. Heinz Company of the "57 Varieties" fame, are presenting their coast-to-coast broadcasts direct from their own factory in Pittsburgh, Pa. The program consists of an organ concert and home economics talk, and is wafted out Mondays, Wednesdays and Fridays on KGO at 9:15 a. m.

Amos 'n' Andy will continue to amuse for 1934. They have been re-signed for another year by their sponsor. Ditto that Lady Esther Serenade program, and Manhattan Merry-go-round, both NBC events.

* * *

Word comes our way that Henry Ford is finally going on the air. He is scheduled to do some broadcasting, featuring Fred Waring's orchestra beginning some time after February 1.

* * *

The NBC has appointed Ralph Farnum their representative to secure talent to work with Rudy Vallee on his Fleischmann Hour while the noted masetro is in Southern California working in a picture for Fox.

George Taylor, m. c. of that KTAB Radio Frolic daily at 1 p. m., devotes a portion of his program each day to pay tribute to some celebrity. He dedicates special musical numbers to them.

MUSICIANS and busmen take their holidays seriously; so do singers. That's why, when Harry Stanton, NBC basso, finishes a particularly long and arduous radio program, he hastens away from the studio just as fast as his car can make it through traffic. A few minutes later you're apt to find him rehearsing, with all the enthusiasm of somebody who has just started to work, a rôle in the Chamber Opera Company's next production.

"Relax? Sure I relax," explains Harry. "Singing's fun as well as work—the best fun I know."

He's built for the strenuous round to which he has keyed his life, is the big boy with the ruddy hair, twinkling blue eyes, and deep, rich voice. Several inches over six feet, and broad in proportion, he has a Viking look about him which goes well with stage armor and uniforms, and gives a military touch to the Beau Brummel fit of his clothes.

Stanton came to radio and the National Broadcasting Company in 1928 as a member of a quartet of college men which was known as "The Foursome." He is the basso of the Doric Quartet which is heard on many NBC programs, and featured on the Carefree Carnival, where Harry does a line or two in a speaking part now and then, as well as singing. He has a ten-minute recital on Thursday afternoons over KPO, when he rolls out deep notes and sings folk songs, operatic arias and ballads, all with equal enjoyment to his listeners and himself.

One of those versatile singers whose range of talent is so valuable in radio, Stanton has been singing as long as he remembers, but never expected to make a career of his voice until after he left college. He is a graduate of Washington State College, and his family background is altogether northwestern. His grandfather drove alone across the continent with a gun, camping outfit and four horses, in 1852. Harry lives up to his pioneer stock; as a boy he spent his summer vacations in the wheatfields, and kept fit for football in the autumn, and he manages to get in a good deal of exercise now.

At Washington State, where he studied business administration, he became a member of the varsity quartet, and managed it during the next four years, but when he got his A. B. he believed he was saying farewell to music. For eight months he was a business man, with an office and everything. Then one day three old classmates from Washington State dropped in—the office was in Portland—and the boys started to harmonize. A few days later, without regrets, Harry turned the key in the office door forever, and "The Foursome" went on tour. They sang their way up and down the Pacific Coast in vaudeville and picture houses; then followed an engagement with Paul Ash, in Chicago, and a cross-country tour brought them to San Francisco. Harry decided to remain here and study music seriously, and the National Broadcasting Company signed him.

PHIL BAKER, the Armour Jester heard over NBC networks, spent his childhood running away from home in New York. The third time he ran away, at the age of fifteen, he landed in Boston, broke and hungry . . . and leaped at the chance to make fifty cents in an amateur night show at the Bowdoin Square Theatre . . . audience liked him, so he was booked again, salary one dollar . . . but that was all and he had to work his way back to New York. He became secretary to Carl Laemmle of the old I M P Film Company, handing out salary checks to Mary and Lottie Pickford and King Bagot . . . the pianist at the corner movie became ill one night, and Baker got the job . . . he knew only three tunes, but the boss was tone deaf and didn't know the difference . . . later to vaudeville, joining Ben Bernie in a violin-accordion act . . . afraid to utter a word on the stage before the war, Phil joined the navy and learned to talk, plenty . . . after the war he became the country's first $5000-a-week master of ceremonies and stage star . . . starred in stage revues until 1933, when he finally went into radio . . . now he's rated one of the air's top attractions . . . is married to Peggy Cartwright, the English actress. Entire acting cast of Phil's radio show lives in one house, in Evanston, Ill. There they work together, writing show, rehearsing, polishing up gags. Phil likes kids . . . gives away hundreds of nickels each month to urchins he meets on the street and pitches in and takes part in corner-lot football games and sidewalk marble contests . . . a baby daughter arrived in the Baker family late in November, 1933.

• • • For the most versatile radio star we nominate Captain William H. Royle, "Bill" to you. Erstwhile luminary of the Associated Spotlight Review and now the Muchly-millioned Daddy Warbucks in "Orphan Annie," this alert and widely talented gentleman is simultaneously general manager for the Capitol Speed Lines operating a line of speedy passenger air craft between San Francisco, Sacramento and points north. When you want to get some place quick fly with Captain "Bill."

• • • The prize engineering assignment of the National Broadcasting Company was given to one of the newest members of the company's engineering staff recently. The assignment was that of operating engineer of station KNRA and the lucky engineer was Carey P. Sweeney, who has been with NBC since June, 1933.

When Phillips H. Lord started his cruise around the world in the four-masted schooner Seth Parker, NBC installed the KNRA transmitter aboard and, of course, had to send an operating engineer along to handle the broadcasts from the schooner. Because of his background and experience Sweeney was chosen.

Lord and his crew broadcast each Tuesday from cities along the Atlantic seaboard under the auspices of the Frigidaire Corporation, until the ship clears Miami. After that the broadcasts from points all over the world will be intermittent. Sweeney will handle the technical phase of the broadcasts.

Sweeney, a native Texan, was educated at Texas A. & M. College and worked in the development laboratories of the General Electric Company, RCA Communications and Bell Telephone Company before coming to NBC. He also was for a time a radio operator aboard ship.

• • • Accepting an invitation to bring his orchestra to New Orleans for the spectacular annual Mardi Gras, Tom Gerun will temporarily forsake the western ether lanes for an engagement at Club Forrest, the outstanding night club of New Orleans.

Gerun's great success at the Century of Progress last year was responsible for his securing the New Orleans contract.

• • • Homer Canfield, young radio veteran and newspaperman, has been signed by Van C. Newkirk, program director of KNX, to appear twice weekly in quarter-hour programs on KNX. For several years before going to Los Angeles from San Francisco, Canfield was featured on one of the big stations in the Bay District.

While preparing for a radio career, he returned to the newspaper business in which he started after leaving college for "show business." He writes a radio column for eight newspapers in southern California.

KNX has offered, and Canfield has accepted, a flattering figure for his feature work, and he will devote much of his time to his radio career before the microphone.

• • • Morey Amsterdam and Yogi Yorgeson, driving to Sacramento recently, had a tire blow out on them. They limped into what looked like a garage by the side of the road and spent a couple of hours waiting for it to be fixed. The fixer proved to be quite a comedian. Instead of removing the wheel he pulled the tire off, giving himself a black eye with a screwdriver in doing it. He patched the tire and put it back on the wheel and then discovered the air pump wasn't close by so he had to take it off again. Yogi and Morey got into Sacramento with the tire, after it was finally fixed, but they had to have it pumped up again at every gas station. But it all worked out well because they got enough material from the garage man for a lot of broadcasts.

• • • Six stalwart fishermen from KFRC, all equipped with the latest in tackle and lures (?), invaded Lake County over the week-end intent on cleaning out all the big ones in Lower Lake. They came back early on Monday morning proudly displaying—one can of sardines. Harrison Hollivay says he fished all day Saturday and rowed more miles than he ever had rowed before, and all the fish he saw was one, taken from the lake by a native. The party decided this was just a property fish, that is thrown back after being exhibited to hopeful anglers. In addition to Mr. Hollivay, who, by the way, was really "some" fisherman in his very young days, the group included Ellis Levy, Claude Sweeten, Earl Smith, Arnold Maguire and Jennison Parker.

• • • Ed Fitzgerald, genial master of ceremonies on the Feminine Fancies hour, at 3 every afternoon except Saturdays and Sundays over KFRC, is spending anxious hours trying to raise his fifth Argyle terrier. Four that he has had previously have succumbed to change of environment from the heatherclad hills of Scotland to California. All have been named Mopsy. The present Mopsy shows the characteristics of his predecessors in wanting to eat everything in sight, preferably what is not good for him, and Ed is growing careworn in the struggle to keep him from killing himself.

• • • Gus Arnheim, founder of the "ace band from movieland" heard with Bing Crosby and the Mills Brothers over the Columbia network, is noted not only as a conductor but as a composer, arranger and pianist as well.

Arnheim has been familiar to network audiences since his appearance three years ago at the Winter Garden in Chicago. Prior to that engagement, his orchestra played for many seasons at the Cocoanut Grove of the Ambassador in Los Angeles, succeeding his friend, Abe Lyman. Abe and Gus first met as members of the Syncopated Five in Chicago when Arnheim played the piano, and Lyman, following a livelihood as a taxi driver, played the drums.

The rise of Arnheim goes back to the days when he was vacationing in New York and met Sophie Tucker at Reisenweber's Cafe. Gus summoned up enough courage to attempt a two-piano trial with Miss Tucker's act. The inimitable Sophie promptly "adopted" Gus as her protege and took him on a vaudeville tour to the West Coast.

• • • Having twisted the dials of his radio in vain ever since arriving in Halifax, Leonard Bishop, manager of the Capitol Theater, was delighted last night when he became successful in his hide and seek game with the ether waves. He heard his brother's voice coming in clear and sweet from Station KNX, the Voice of Hollywood. Joe Bishop, who is on the staff of KNX, at the Paramount studios, was singing with the orchestra—"Sitting On a Backyard Fence"—one of the numbers from "Footlight Parade." And that was more than 4,000 miles from his Halifax brother.

• • • Gary Breckner, producer of dramatic programs and sports announcer for KHJ, has assumed duties as program director and production manager of KGB, the Don Lee station at San Diego. He succeeds Robert Bowman, transferred to KFRC, San Francisco, as assistant production manager.

Breckner, a former football star with the University of Iowa, and later a college football coach in Emporia, Kansas, and at Whittier College in California, first entered radio work several years ago as a special feature announcer for KHJ. He later stepped into sports announcing, where he built up a reputation for accurate observation and clear-cut reporting of athletic contests. He has been in charge of dramatic programs at KHJ and conducted the Merrymakers, Globe Headlines, Charlie Lung and his Gang, Conquerors of the Sky, and other features. His first job at KGB will be to arrange live talent programs with talented San Diegans supplying the features. He plans an extensive campaign to uncover new radio talent at the border city.

• • • They started early, most of the Al Pearce Gang members. Jackie Archer could play the piano when she was six; Earl Hatch was playing in an orchestra when he was 12; Mable Todd sang at the Los Angeles Philharmonic Auditorium at the tender age of six; Morey Amsterdam went into vaudeville after leaving high school; Andy Andrews was an entertainer in college and Al himself played the banjo while he was still a grammar school kid.

• • • The Bakers Broadcast with Joe Penner and Ozzie Nelson has shown remarkable progress in the program popularity surveys. The rapidity with which it has reached a high rating is something of a sensation in advertising and broadcasting circles. Joe has accepted theatre dates at the Paramount, New York, and in Cleveland, but they will not interfere with his broadcasting.

• • • Radio engineers, inspecting Colonel Charles A. Lindbergh's big red and black monoplane on exhibition at the American Museum of Natural History in New York, have marvelled at the unprecedented performance of the radio equipment under the capable handling of the Colonel's Lady. The little set, donated to the museum along with the rest of the equipment carried by the Lindberghs on their recent 30,000-mile, four-continent flight, weighs less than seventy pounds and uses less current than the smallest house bulb, yet it has been heard a quarter of the way around the world. Mrs. Lindbergh, who, with her husband, received her schooling in radio from engineers of the Pan-American Airways System, and who holds a third-class commercial license as a radio operator, also came in for high praise for her efficient, business-like operation of the set under conditions varying from Arctic blizzards to equatorial thunder storms. Her signals, listeners reported, came at all times as sharp and clear as a professional operator's.

• • • Bill Carey, snappy singer of "hot" songs for the past year with Ted Fio-Rito, has joined the staff at KFRC and will be heard regularly on several programs there.

Carey, who was born in Hollister in 1915 and is therefore only 18 years old, began his career a year ago when he won an audition conducted by Fio-Rito. Offered a contract by the noted band leader, he quit his work in the San Francisco High School of Commerce to become a professional singer. His work at KFRC will be combined with regular appearances with Hermie King's orchestra at Will King's cafe, through arrangement with the Thomas Lee Artists' Bureau.

• • • Since the Casa Loma boys incorporated themselves in 1931 under the presidency of Glen Gray, it is estimated they have travelled in the vicinity of 130,000 miles. In this period they have played before visible audiences totalling more than two millions . . . Colonel Stoopnagle is trying to forget that he once wrote eight burlesque detective stories and sold them to pulp magazines under his "nom au natural," F. Chase Taylor . . . Vincent Sorey is writing an "Improvisation Sonata" for violin and piano . . . Gertrude Niesen keeps her gloves on when she sings before the microphone to deaden the sound when she slaps her hands together.

• • • Jack Benny often has difficulty in convincing people that Jack Benny is his real name. But the facts are that he was born Jack Benny in Chicago, February 4, 1894, and attended Waukegan High School, Waukegan, Ill.

Benny got his first taste of the show business in vaudeville in a musical act. Later he made the Shubert revues on Broadway and then broke into the pictures with Metro Goldwyn Mayer. His first picture was "Hollywood Review." He made his mark with Earl Carroll's Vanities for two seasons and is today relatively a newcomer to radio.

• • • Johnny Marvin, the lonesome singer of the air, has probably been presented with more guitars and ukuleles than any other living person, but the one he treasures most is a "retired" ukulele which he carried through a landslide, an earthquake and two auto accidents. Nothing ever happened to the uke, although once it flew up into a tree and lodged there.

• • • John McCormack, NBC tenor, is a linguist as well as a singer. This was demonstrated as the noted artist answered a telephone following a recent broadcast from Radio City.

The hostess and page boys who overheard him were amazed when McCormack spoke volubly in Italian to a Latin friend in Chicago.

"Pretty good for an Irishman, eh?" asked the singer, winking as he hung up.

• • • J. Newton Yates, KNX staff organist, who is a daily feature of the 25,000-watt station, is said to hold the record for attendance on the job.

Starting in a Long Beach radio station over ten years ago, J. Newton Yates has missed but one broadcast during his entire career, and that was recently when he had a bad fall, spraining his ankle to the point where it could not be set on the ground.

Although he had four programs to play during the morning and afternoon, and while his fall came as he was leaving his home in Culver City to go to the Hollywood studios, he made three of the programs when he had Mrs. Yates hurry to a Culver City hospital and get a set of crutches, which he rented for the week. Mrs. Yates drove him to and from the station and by playing the organ's base notes on two keyboards with one hand, Yates was able to make his programs and give his usual performances.

• • • Bert Wheeler, the pathetic-eyed member of the great movie comedy team of Wheeler and Woolsey, was heard on the Hinds' Hall of Fame program Sunday, January 21, is one "home town boy who made good" who never under any circumstances will appear in public in his old home town. He claims most of his stage heartbreaks occurred in his birthplace, Paterson, N. J., and so he positively refuses to appear in person in his home town, even though his movies are always huge hits there.

• • • Urbin Hartman and his accompanist, Howard Chandler, both of the "Singing Guardsmen," present their own KNX feature entitled "Bouquet of Memories." Hartman, who has been arranger and director of "The Singing Guardsmen" during the past three years, recently severed his contract with the group to follow a radio career, intermingled with solo work in talking pictures.

"Bouquet of Memories" is a segue program, without talk between musical selections and this method of singing has advanced the popularity of the young tenor.

• • • You may not know that Welcome Lewis, NBC songbird, was born in Hollywood. Miss Lewis is five feet tall, weighs 100 pounds. She is the daughter of Katherine and Julian J. Lewis, professional dancers. Her first public appearance was at the age of 12 in Grauman's Million Dollar Theatre in Los Angeles. She had her first radio audition with NBC in 1929. Before Miss Lewis came to radio she starred in vaudeville, where she was known as "The Vest Pocket Edition of Nora Bayes."
