LAZY DIALS

WE are in receipt of a communication from one of our subscribers to the effect that BROADCAST WEEKLY appears to be partial to Chain stations. The writer states that there are many very excellent programs emanating from the independent stations, and that this magazine could render an even greater service to subscribers if attention were focused on programs that have not enjoyed wide publicity.

To most of our readers, BROADCAST WEEKLY has no need to present a brief of its impartiality. Nevertheless, we reprint herewith an editorial which appeared in this magazine on September 3, 1932, which we believe fully answers the communication referred to above, not in defense, but because it covers an ever-timely subject.

"Radio is power. Power to assuage, encourage, inspire. Power to summon educators, entertainers; ministers, musicians; statesmen, statisticians. Power to feel, think, imagine, laugh, cry, hope, carry on. Replete as is our modern age with marvels and miracles, no other is comparable in scope or human significance with radio. We wonder how many of you have explored in full these many phases and manifestations of this great force, in your search for happiness.

"BROADCAST WEEKLY is dedicated to the pleasurable task of aiding and directing you in this exploration. Leave prejudices and partiality behind. Enter upon your journey as a real explorer seeking true adventure, new acquaintances and experiences, a broader horizon. Radio dials are made to be turned. Not even the company of regular favorites can compete with the thrill of discovery, the spell of the treasure hunt. That treasure is there. Nor need your search be haphazard or fruitless. BROADCAST WEEKLY provides you a weekly "treasure chart." In its news notes and tabulated schedules you will find the X's that mark the spots, augmenting the zest of the hunt with the certainty of award.

"Present-day broadcasting gives expression to talent in every walk of life. Because of the very abundance and diversity of this talent, it cannot be monopolized by any one station or group of stations. In fact, the program end of the business has developed so rapidly the supply of talent and the demand for expression exceeds the combined broadcast facilities at present possible under the "American plan" of independent ownership and commercial operation. Contrary to popular conception, the cost of this talent is not excessive. Any station with sufficient resources to continue operation under Federal supervision, can afford at least a frequent feature program.

"Such programs have real merit. They do exist. With the aid of BROADCAST WEEKLY and a little patience, they can be found. Their search and discovery affords one of the keenest delights radio has to offer. And the programs themselves are ample reward for the effort. Out there in the star-studded ether, new voices are calling, new friends are to be made, new mysteries to be explored, new inspiration to be found. Shall the deserving be encouraged and radio make constant progress toward higher ideals and new fields of usefulness? Or shall they be discouraged and silenced by lazy dials which turn only to favorites—and invite radio stagnation? Stations and artists look to you for the answer, and your own action shall determine the measure of your radio enjoyment, both now and in time to come."

ETHER GLEANINGS

By J. CLARENCE MYERS

THE potentialities of the radio ballyhoo has placed in the discard the colorful and exciting circus parade—once the official notification that the world's wonders were encamped in town.

The microphone has replaced the old steam calliope, swaggering elephants, painted clowns, roaring and grunting beasts of the jungle as they were marched or hauled up the main stem of the metropolis.

This startling change in circus routine came to our attention on a recent visit of the Al G. Barnes tent show to San Francisco.

The fact that the circus had come to town was poured through our loud speakers via the radio daily from a half a dozen different stations in the city. Not with just announcements but specially prepared and rehearsed programs—and interesting ones at that.

The circus has recognized that radio is the most penetrating medium of advertising and can reach more people with one broadcast than their parade could by marching through town ten times.

The Barnes show has appointed Eddie Horton, widely known theatre organist, known to San Francisco movie goers, as the head of their radio activities. It is his job to get the time on the radio stations, arrange the programs, and act as master of ceremonies. He enlists the talent from the circus staff.

Now no longer does the occupant of the circus bleacher have to strain his ears to hear the master of ceremonies under the big top. For the modern circus is equipped with an up-to-the-minute public address system, enabling all to hear the m. c.'s voice with ease.

As one wit put it recently—"One thing about radio humor—it is stuff that has stood the test of time."

Probably so, but dressed up in new clothes and put on with a new slant by a comedian who happens to be a favorite of most of the air audience, makes it forgivable.

We've heard the best of the laugh-makers use trite cracks that first saw the light of day when the Indians surrendered the land to the white men.

But if the narrator happens to be a comedian of the caliber of Eddie Cantor, Joe Penner, Tizzie Lish or Baron Munchausen, nine times out of ten all is forgiven. Because they inject their own individuality into that joke, which, although we've probably heard it before, is funny to us again. Of course there are arguments pro and con on this subject.

Some of the moss-covered jokes should never be resurrected from the graveyard. We've likewise heard some of the country's best radio funny men spill such cracks over the ether that were so stricken with senility that they creaked. Perhaps the comedians' idea is that no matter how old a gag is that there is somebody, somewhere who hasn't heard it.

But let's not be too rough with the comedians. For most of them are not responsible for what they say. By that we mean that very few of them write their own material, but have ghost writers.

Jack Pearl, better known to you as Baron Munchausen never sees his script until he shows up for rehearsal at the studio. Joe Penner doesn't have much to do with the authoring of his funny stuff, either. Strange as it may seem the material for both these ace humorists is written by the same man, Billy K. Wells. He is the man who thought of the gag line "Vas you dere, Sharlie?" for the Baron.

Eddie Cantor writes some of his own stuff, but also has the assistance of gag writers. Fred Allen does most of his own writing. Colonel Stoopnagle pens most of the material for his act with Budd.

Tizzie Lish (Bill Comstock), the M.J.B. Demi-Tasse Revue star, who has climbed to great popularity in the past few months is responsible for all the material he uses in his Monday night broadcasts.

Current rumors are to the effect that two famous movie personalities—Mary Boland and Charlie Ruggles—have been signed for a series of thirteen appearances on that Hall of Fame program, weekly NBC event paid for by Hinds Honey and Almond Cream makers. First broadcast is supposed to start July 8.

Russ Columbo has received notification to be in readiness to appear on an NBC coast to coast program soon, which will originate in Hollywood.

The Bluettes, ex-NBC harmony trio, are now strutting their vocal wares over KFRC and Don Lee stations.

Max Baer, present kingfish of fistiana, may be heard any Monday, Wednesday or Friday at 3:45 p. m., Pacific time over NBC stations. He's appearing in a dramatic series which are centered about him. Incidentally one of the players is Kenneth Daigneau who was a member of the Henry Duffy players some time ago and is known by Pacific Coast theatre-goers. As we chronicled here before, the Baer-Carnera scrap is going to be radio-ed on June 14 beginning at 6 p.m. But Kraft Cheese, the previously announced sponsor, has stepped aside to the Goodrich Rubber Company, inasmuch as the latter is sponsoring the thrice weekly drama skits with Baer.

Dr. Seth C. Maker's dog talks on KQW have attracted no end of attention. As the result of his weekly chats in behalf of the California Citizens Committee for State Humane Pound legislation, he has been made honorary member of the New England Anti-Vivisection Society of Boston and has received a personal invitation from Sue Farrell, president of the New York Vivisection Investigation League to attend the opening of the League's new library.

Dr. Maker is known to NBC dialers as the Philistine and broadcasts over a coast network every week.

"Eight Ball and Mr. Bull," a comedy act, nightly except Saturday on KMTR at 7:30 o'clock, is heading for the big places in the radio sun, my southern California scouts report. The team has been on the station for the past five years with the same sponsor, which is something to brag about in itself. The real life names of the team are Frank Bull and Volney James, James portrays the negro, "Eight Ball." Their programs are all ad-lib.

Tony Romano is convalescing from a tonsil operation in San Francisco. The youthful star of the Al Pearce Gang had to leave the company in the Northwest to come home for the operation.

Maybeth Carr, vocalist with the Williams-Walsh orchestra at the Hotel Mark Hopkins, heard over the NBC wireup these nights, is the daughter of Mary Carr, the movie actress.

Harold Peary has rejoined the NBC artists staff.

Mrs. John P. Medbury, wife of the noted wit, is singing over station KFRD in Hollywood.

western division, now has his own program going coast to coast from Radio City, New York. The noted artist is heard once a week on this nation-girdling radio affair.

Ginger Rogers is saying "you nasty man" to Jack Warner, of Warner Brothers Pictures and the latter tagging her as "naughty-naughty." And all because Ginger failed to show up for a radio broadcast coincident with the premiere of "Twenty Million Sweethearts" in Hollywood recently. Warner had personally requested her to be there and when she didn't show, he ordered her name yanked out of the marquee lights of a Hollywood theatre where the picture was showing.

San Francisco's social elite are going radio. Each day at 5:15 o'clock, members of the Junior League appear in a skit monickered: "Christopher and Friends," over KYA. The skit is authored by H. C. Connette and features as the lead Lovey Fay, prominent society deb.

Millicent Beniof, one of radio's early vocalizers, is back at the mike after several year's absence. She's singing on KYA with Cy Trobbe's orchestra.

Joe Penner and Jessica Dragonette, two outstanding radio folk, have been signed by Paramount Studios to appear in the pictured "The Big Broadcast of 1934," which starts production in July.

Among some of the popular shows on the CBS hook-up are the Elder Michaux and Congregation broadcasts Saturdays from 3 to 3:30 p. m., Pacific time. This negro congregation of Washington, D. C., is presenting a real worthwhile program, unusual from the ordinary run of stuff and has a tremendous following throughout the nation. Lieutenant Francis W. Sutherland and his Seventh Regiment Band, consisting of the Blue Stockings of Boston, do a CBS broadcast every Tuesday from 12 noon to 12:30 o'clock. Likewise, a distinctive program. A program monickered "Readings from Great Literature" launched on CBS stations May 8 at 1:30 p. m. should attract all literary-minded folk. Charlie Knickerbocker, famous fashion expert and social authority, is directing his chats to the ladies over the CBS wire-up Tuesdays from 8:30 to 8:45 p. m.

Incidentally, John Eugene Hasty, who pens the Eb and Zeb act, does all his writing at night-time and works every night on this and half a dozen other dramatic features until 1 a. m.

MICROPHONE GOSSIP

- • • The Max Baer-Primo Carnera fight for the heavyweight championship of the world will be carried to radio listeners from coast to coast over combined NBC networks under the sponsorship of the B. F. Goodrich Rubber Company. Building up to the climax of the big fight in New York's Madison Square Garden Bowl on June 14, the sponsor also is presenting a series of three-a-week radio dramas starring Baer, celebrated screen and ring star, over an NBC nation-wide network, every Monday, Wednesday and Friday, from 3:45 to 4 p. m.
- • • Morton Downey's Filipino valet, D'Tilanosa, drew a lucky ticket in the Irish Sweepstakes that netted him just about $15,000. So, the other day he departed for Ireland on the S. S. Manhattan to collect the prize money, but not before he received the following telegram from his former employer: "Congratulations stop can you use a good Irish valet who also sings stop please advise (signed) Morton Downey."
- • • William ("Bill") Robson, former motion picture scenarist who has for some time past been a writer and producer at KHJ, the Don Lee station in Los Angeles, has resigned his position and moved to the Hixson - O'Donnell - Seymour Advertising Agency as director of radio. The change was effective May 1. Robson was the writer of "Conquerors of the Sky," produced over KHJ last year, "Snug Harbor" and the current dramatic release, "Calling All Cars." He was also the creator of the "Leaders of Tomorrow" program, now being released for the Bank of America over the Columbia-Don Lee network.
- • • Billy Page, youthful NBC star who is Jack Barbour to a nation-wide audience of NBC listeners, celebrated his sixteenth birthday with a real dinner party at the Hotel St. Francis. His father and mother gave him the party for a birthday gift although they did not attend. The guests were fellow students at Lowell High School, where the young actor completes his senior year this spring, and the high spot of the evening was when Gus Arnheim and his orchestra played "Happy Birthday to You."
- • • Admiral Byrd, in his solitary hut near the South Pole, will press a radio telegraph key to open officially the 1934 edition of Chicago's Century of Progress on Saturday, May 26. The electrical impulse will put in motion machinery controlling the giant fireworks display, whose first flash opens the fair. The entire opening day of the fair will be dedicated to Byrd. The opening will take place during the regular Byrd broadcast, 6 to 6:30 p. m., P. S. T., on that date. Rufus Dawes, head of the fair committee, and state and city officials will speak from Chicago during the program, part of which will originate on board the "City of New York," flagship of the first Byrd Expedition, now riding at anchor in the north lagoon of the fair grounds.
- • • When Peggy Allenby, dramatic actress of the Palmolive Beauty Box Theatre, finished an emotional scene during the performance of "The Student Prince," her eyes were bright and her cheeks wet with real honest-to-goodness tears.
- • • Ernie Smith, well-known sports air-caster on KYA, always cups his left hand over his ear while talking into the "mike." Ernie claims by this procedure he can hear his own broadcast.
- • • Mimi, radio's globe-circling cat, has run true to form again. This cherished pet of H. C. Connette, KYA continuity writer, has another family. She made her debut as a kitten in Shanghai, China, and since her arrival in this country has been bestowing kittens upon radio artists. Some sixty-five offsprings are now in the possession of program directors, actors, writers, singers and musicians of the "ether" world and now five solid maltese kittens are ready for KYA artists. Cyrus Trobbe, station musical director, gets "Moussorgsky" and Ruth Rees, who appears in skits with Connette, will receive "Rachmaninoff" into her home. Mama Mimi is a seasoned radio performer and expects to soon "meow" her way into success at so much "purr."
- • • When Jack Pearl appeared at the NBC studios recently his face looked as though he had been using a scrubbing brush. "What's the matter with your face?" asked Charlie. Jack laughed.
- "This morning after I shaved I started to put some shaving lotion on my face. Instead I grabbed the wrong bottle, which turned out to be some of Mrs. Pearl's perfume.

After I had put it on my face I realized my mistake, and it took me an hour to get it off."

Charlie sniffed. "But you didn't," he said.

• • • When Cameron Prud'homme, N B C actor who plays the aristocratic old coffee planter of "In Old Brazil" had to pose for costume pictures of the program the other day, for verisimilitude, the photographer insisted upon a long black cigar of the South American type, and Cameron who can't smoke cigars without getting sick, did both.

• • • Now that she is so well established in radio, Annette Hanshaw, Captain Henry's petite blues singer, has turned again, in her spare moments, to painting and writing. A publishing company has accepted a book of children's stories which Miss Hanshaw wrote and illustrated. The book is called "Twilight Hours." Miss Hanshaw is going to paint a portrait of Lanny Ross as soon as the two can get together. Lanny has promised to sit for her.

• • • Vic and Sade, NBC sketch of family life, ranks as a prime favorite among bridge playing matrons of Chicago. A survey recently conducted at one bridge club revealed that the program was first choice of thirty of the thirty-three women attending.

• • • In Variety this week, J. H. Lubin, veteran booker who has handled more than 10,000 acts, selected Fred Waring's Pennsylvanians as the top stage band of all time. . . . Morton Downey's softly-spoken "Good-night Lover" at the conclusion of his broadcasts is addressed to his wife, the former Barbara Bennett. . . . Isham Jones and his band will play at the "Hollywood" in Atlantic City this summer, broadcasting from the seashore spot three times weekly.

• • • Glen Goff, organist, whose Serenade is heard nightly over KYA, was graduated from the Northwestern Conservatory of Music in Marysville, Missouri, and has played in leading theatres in the West and Middle West. Glen says that he almost became a theatre magnate in Colorado where he owned a "show" house, but the urge to sit at the Console rather than a business desk brought him back into concert work.

• • • "Time Ticks On," a travesty burlesque on "March of Time" is the new program spot on KGGC every Friday evening at 8:15. It's the illegitimate brain child of Andy Potter and Jimmie Newman, however, both child and parents seem to be doing well.

• • • There's a blood relationship between Andre Kostelanetz' Orchestra and three other famous musical organizations. As a matter of fact, it's a brotherly relation, because Andre wields the baton over Martin Ormandy, 'cellist and brother of Eugene Ormandy, conductor of the Minneapolis Symphony; Jacob Altschuler, violist, brother of Modest Altschuler, former conductor of the Russian Symphony, and Al Rich, drummer, whose brother, Freddie, is the leader of his own CBS band.

• • • Two years ago a blind woman wrote Cheri McKay, contralto of the Merry Macs novelty quartet, to learn whether Cheri was not her long-lost daughter, kidnapped many years ago. The daughter's name also had been Cheri. Though the NBC contralto was not the woman's daughter, she paid her a visit, and now the blind woman and her sightless friends are the most devoted fans of the Merry Macs. They write Cheri every week, visit her often at the studios and send her a birthday cake every year. When Cheri joined forces with the McMichael brothers to form the Merry Macs quartet, the blind fans "adopted" the boys, too, and now they receive birthday cakes. Cheri is a sister of Ben McLaughlin (Bennie Walker), NBC star in San Francisco.

• • • When the Spalding-Thibault-Voorhees is broadcast over CBS on Wednesday nights 27 dogs are among its listeners. Don Voorhees has a kennel of 24 Scotch terriers. Conrad Thibault owns a thoroughbred Scotch terrier named Miniver; and Albert Spalding has two canine pets—Androcles, a German police dog, and Chang, an English setter. Miniver stands before the Thibault radio set and barks while his master's voice comes through the loudspeaker; Voorhees' 24 tenants raise pandemonium whenever he announces an orchestra number, and Spalding's dogs perk up their ears at the sound of his violin. Spalding has just taken his two dogs to his summer home at Great Barrington, Mass., and he plans to install a radio set in the kennels to be controlled by a switch from the house, so that Mrs. Spalding can turn the program on and off for the four-legged fans.

• • • The hardest working man during rehearsals of Captain Henry's Show Boat is Gus Haenschen, the orchestra leader. He never has a moment's rest from the time the rehearsal starts until it ends. Singers come up to the mike, go through their routine, and retire, while others take their turn at the "mike." But Gus Haenschen labors continuously.

SILHOUETTES

ONE night in December, 1929, when Ed "Strangler" Lewis unceremoniously treated his opponent, Charlie Hansen, to a nasty old body slam and then, to make it good, ran across the ring, leaped high and landed full force on top of him. Ken Stuart gained nation-wide notoriety. Yes, he's the "radio announcer out in Seattle," mentioned the next day in newspapers the country over, "who got excited and called for an ambulance," thereby literally setting the town wild. From all parts of the city they came, the University District, First Hill, even from far away Ballard. When the traffic jam was finally cleared away, and hospital, police, newspaper office, and radio station telephone switchboards quieted down, young Stuart began to realize the tremendous size of his audience. From that day to this, whenever Ken Stuart is broadcasting a wrestling match, boxing bout, crew race, football game, baseball game, ice hockey match, or greyhound race, the audience is always of capacity size. A past master in the art of ad-libbing, his broadcasts of sporting events, parades, banquets, or civic affairs are not only accurate, but dramatic and colorful as well.

Versatility, thy name is Stuart! Besides his sensational success as a sportscaster, his "Sunshine Program" has made him countless friends also. This broadcast is everything the name implies—cheering philosophy, inspiring poetry, and sweet music, all presented by Ken in his own friendly, intimate style. In fact so popular has this program been ever since its first broadcast the seventh of December, 1928, that he was made the guest-of-honor at the world-famous Calgary Stampede in 1931, as a result of it.

Before a crowd of some 31,000 people, Chief Little Walker, head of the Black Feet Indian Tribe, formally inducted into his clan, Brother Stuart, baptising him "Pe-tor-peia"—Chief Sitting Eagle—and presenting him with a head dress, valued at $300.00, made up of ermine and about fifty eagle feathers. The importance of this honor may be judged by the fact that the year before, 1930, the guest-of-honor was none other than H. R. H., the Prince of Wales.

And then the rude awakening.

Returning from his triumphant tour of Western Canada as the guest of the Canadian Pacific Railway and the Calgary Stampede officials, Stuart was shocked to find his job gone and every dime of his savings lost through the collapse of his bank.

But to one tempered by thirty-five years of life, including the hardships of six months in the trenches, this was merely a challenge to hitch his belt up another notch and begin again at the bottom. Even though the depression was being keenly felt at that time, it wasn't long before the CBS station made room for him, and to this day, KOL has been happy for its decision.

Stuart's the sort of chap who gets a big kick out of everything he does, who makes friends wherever he goes, who enjoys life. He's always looking for thrills—and finding them. For instance, try having a nine-ton fire engine blow up in your face the next time you get slightly bored with life. Stuart recommends it.

Let's get back to that summer day in 1929 when Seattle was celebrating the completion of the extension of Second Avenue. From atop the marquee of a Second Avenue department store, Ken was broadcasting a description of the huge parade fling past him. The climax of the day's events was a demonstration by the Fire Department, and just as the fleet of fire trucks came racing by, one of the nine-ton hook-and-ladders exploded, shooting shattered steel in every direction, killing and wounding several bystanders! Pandemonium reigned! Directly below, Stuart could see three persons lying on the sidewalk, badly hurt and in danger of being crushed by the excited crowd! What a horrible sight! But the worst was yet to be seen, for Mrs. Stuart was one of those hurt! Fortunately, her leg—broken in two places—quickly mended, and the suffering soon forgotten, but the incident—never!

After graduating from Pennsylvania State, he joined the staff of the Philadelphia "Record" where he served until his enlistment in the army. Returning from overseas, he was engaged by the New York "Herald" and "Sun," leaving them to come West two years later. The Seattle "Post-Intelligencer," the Los Angeles "Express," and later the outdoor advertising firm of Foster and Kleiser claimed his services until he finally went radio. It was Captain "Dobbie" who persuaded Ken to enter radio work and who first introduced him to the air audience one morning in 1928 over his Hap-pytime program.

Stuart's favorite expression is "as a matter of fact"; he's five feet, seven inches tall, weighs 170 pounds; has black hair, slightly gray; and, for six years, has worn nothing but red neckties—even with a tuxedo. He is a member of Phi Kappa Psi Fraternity, is married and has one son, Barclay, who is now three years old.

HOW do you become an actress?

Countless girls ask that; few have the experience of Helen Musselman, charming young NBC star. This slim, pretty girl with the blonde locks who appears in "Winning the West," "Death Valley Days" and other dramas broadcast from the National Broadcasting Company's San Francisco studios, crashed the footlights as a rank amateur, but nobody guesses it.

It was all due to Bill McStay, as San Francisco newspaper men affectionately know the big, genial chap who handles publicity for the Dollar Steamship Company. When Helen was still in her early teens her family decided she should be a school teacher, so to the State Teachers' College at San Jose she went. But she had always wanted to go on the stage, and she confided her ambitions to McStay—people are always confiding things to Bill. As a friend of Helen's family, and a former showman himself, McStay did his duty by advising her strongly against the stage; then, Bill-like, he set about to gratify the little girl's wish. There was a vacancy in a Duffy cast, and Bill suggested the little San Jose girl for it.

"Can she act?" the manager asked. "Has she had experience?"

"Can she act and has she had experience—I'll say so!" said Bill.

That night he coached Helen in two rôles; one was her part in the play; the other was her part behind the scenes. He drew a plan of the world which lies between the orchestra pit and the rear wall of the theater; showed her the drops, the wings, even the stage door and the staircase leading to dressing rooms. Showed her how she must look up at the mail box for her mail when she walked in the stage door; how she must address the doorman; replaced her shiny school teacher pencil with an old stub to mark changes in her script.

"She was apt," Bill tells it; "she was a knockout"—and she was. Nobody in the cast ever dreamed she was an absolute newcomer who had never stood on a real stage before. Other parts in other plays followed, and when Helen joined the National Broadcasting Company staff a year later it was as one who had had "long experience in the theater."

SANDRA PHILLIPS is one-half of the red-headed piano team (Keenan and Phillips) that sets the musical mood for Tony Wons, radio's popular Philosopher heard over a coast-to-coast Columbia network.

Sandra was born in Berwick, Pa., and inherited her love of music from her mother who used to play the piano and sing. From earliest childhood, Sandra had ambitions to become a concert artist and her activities have all been undertaken with this aim in view.

Solo work in High School and recitals at State Teachers College gave Sandra her first experiences in playing before an audience. In 1925, she was graduated from the Damosch Institute of Musical Art in New York, and since has continued special instruction.

A year after graduating, she made her debut over stations WGBS in New York City. In 1931, Keenan and Phillips were engaged as sustaining artists by the Columbia Broadcasting System. About a year ago, Tony Wons met the popular team in one of the studios and decided that the musical moods of the gifted pianists would blend well with his own dissertations.

Tony invited the girls to join him and they began a successful vaudeville tour, making a few motion picture shorts between hops. In August, 1933, they returned to the Columbia network where they won unusual response.

Grieg's Concerto in A Minor is Sandra's favorite classical composition. Among the popular tunes she prefers "Night and Day." "Humoresque" is a number which she actually dislikes, just for no good reason. Works of Wagner are her choice among the operas. A serious-minded young woman, Sandra spends much of her free time reading books by Tolstoy, Dumas, Hardy and W. Somerset Maugham.

The girls have amusing and contrasting idiosyncracies. Miss Phillips can't play the piano unless her hands are warm—and Miss Keenan can't play the piano unless her hands are cold. Sandra warms her hands on the radiator before rehearsing.

Behind the Baton

Seymour Simon's orchestra, now heard on those Blackhawk Cafe broadcasts from Chicago, has written a great many song hits, among them "Honey," "All of Me," and Waring's Pennsylvanians' new theme song, "Breezin' Along With the Breeze." Western listeners will remember Simon's band from the Everglades Club broadcasts.

While the Wayne King Orchestra indulges in a six weeks' vacation, Anson Weeks will take over the Trianon Ballroom in Chicago. It is likely that Weeks will remain in the windy city for the duration of the Fair, probably going to the beautiful Aragon Ballroom after leaving the Trianon.

Vic Meyer, who left the dance business to handle the position of Lieutenant-Governor of Washington, has again answered the call of the baton. The very popular Vic and his Club Victor Orchestra are once more heard over NBC from Seattle.

Fred Waring and his Pennsylvanians will continue their two half-hour programs each week until July 1, when the Thursday night program will be dropped. Waring and his agent N. W. Ayer have regained absolute control over the makeup of the shows and Poly McClintock and Johnny Davis, whose styles were a bit too hotcha for the taste of the sponsors are again heard on this Ford commercial.

We hear that Rudy Vallee's very popular Thursday afternoon yeast program will switch networks in June. Incidentally, Rudy's selections for top honors in the modern dance field are Glen Gray and Hal Kemp.

Staccato.—Herbie Kay has left Denver's Cosmopolitan Hotel and his NBC broadcasts to barnstorm. . . . Paul Whiteman refused an offer to appear with his band at the Chicago World's Fair this year. . . . Jimmy Grier is going into Biltmore Hotel in Los Angeles. . . . Ted Fiorito's stay at the Coconut Grove has been extended until July 1. . . . Niles Kinney has taken over the job at Edgewater Beach in San Francisco, which Griff Williams and Jim Walsh vacated to go to the Mark Hopkins.

YOU'RE INVITED TO TUNE IN ON 1ST BIRTHDAY PROGRAM OF THE
 AND
"DEATH VALLEY DAYS"
TUESDAY EVENING, MAY 22ND, 8:30

Tuesday, May 22nd, marks the first anniversary of "Death Valley Days" as a Western radio production. A special birthday party has been planned for the "Old Ranger" . . . with a real birthday cake and a candle. You're invited to tune in and join the fun.

The OPEN CIRCUIT

This department is open to all. Send in your letters. Anonymous letters will not be published. Give full name and address.

"How Dear to Our Hearts . . ."

I wish to commend you most heartily for the improvements inaugurated recently, making your magazine a radio fan's necessity.

As one who has passed life's seventy-fifth milestone, I wish to say that I believe that the pleasure derived from the many excellent programs is just as keen as that experienced at any time in the many years that have passed.

How we all would miss One Man's Family, Memory Lane, Crosscuts of the Day, Voice of Experience, Bible Stories and many others.

I wonder if we of advanced age are alone in our enjoyment in constructing mental stage settings and backgrounds for acts that are presented without suggestion by the artists. I find myself picturing the world renowned and never to be forgotten personalities who graced the stage in opera and drama in the past and applying them to the programs of the present with renewed joy and satisfaction.

I am glad to note that consideration for those who cherish tender memories of the past is given in programs appropriate and inspiring in such as Songs of the Old Church Choir heard over KQW and the grandeur of the music rendered by Paul Carson and Salt Lake City Tabernacle Choir.

With sincere appreciation of the service BROADCAST WEEKLY is rendering and hoping for its continued success, I am

J. W. B., Morgan Hill, Calif.

Gets What She Wants When She Wants It

One should be as ready to "boost" as to "knock"! Hence, this postal. I opened the weekly issue of the little "Helper" this morning for the day's programs. As one who should not perhaps say so, I am a bit particular as to what I take into my mind; rather selective and haven't much time to waste, simply to listen-in for "any-old-thing" (from the M.D.'s latest "cure-all" to the lowest-down-low-down Harlem-jazz program), that comes over the air via the NBC and the CBS air-ownership! Let me congratulate you on this week's arrangement of programs. I think it the best yet and appreciate your effort to make the BROADCAST WEEKLY serve the patronage who are fortunate enough to subscribe to it!

Knowing that good will is as necessary to your success as money, I am, sincerely,

L. M. W., Stockton, Calif.

Are There Any More Nays?

After your having published my last letter telling you how much we appreciated your latest program set-up, it seems rather mean to now sit down and write another letter expressing disapproval!

Your new arrangement seems to me to be inconsistent. Whilst the programs we listen to are probably about 95 per cent over the "chains," we still like to be able to tell at a glance what is on the air over all of the other stations, so that—if we do want to turn the dial beyond the KGO-KFRC radius—that we do not have to turn pages in order to find out what is on the air.

Obviously, your policy must be so framed that it will meet with the approval of the majority of your readers. We sincerely hope, therefore, that the majority will ask you to revert to your previous week's set-up, namely the half-hour schedule for all stations. That, in our opinion, was a very fine arrangement.

W. O. G., Ross, Calif.

Their Program Clicks

We want you to know how much we enjoy your new arrangement. No more do we find we have missed something we would have liked to have heard. It is so easy to turn to the day and the hour and have all the programs before us.

Mr. and Mrs. B. F. N., Seattle, Wash.

Doing It Up Brown

Now you are doing it up brown—segregating the three main stations. One won't have to go nerts, now, turning over and looking at every half hour. Keep up the good work—you may be able to please all the people yet. Yours, for changes at any time.

M. H., Alameda, Calif.

ETHER ETCHINGS

By IOLA McREYNOLDS

LISTENING to the Standard Symphony Hour can be likened to a climb to a mountain top. We have the same uplift of spirit, the same feeling of being in a place apart, with time to think and live! Away, for a time, from the strenuous emotion and "jazz" of life. Not that there are no emotions stirred while listening to a great symphony concert, but it goes deeper than that. Is it depth of feeling which contributes to elevation and growth of character that is brought by this music that satisfies our need for great things.

Unable to see the musicians, our thoughts revert to the composer and the idea in his mind when the composition was written. It almost seems that his spirit is directing the rendition of his music and we faintly grasp the depth of feeling, the ambition that was his at the time of writing.

And speaking of composers, since the sponsors of this program are asking for suggestions from loyal listeners relative to the future broadcasts, we would like, if we may, voice our desire to hear compositions of living West Coast composers upon these programs. It is a West Coast broadcast and Sponsor, so why not some West Coast music.

Beautiful thought has been, and is being put into musical compositions that are just as full of deep feeling and symphonic arrangement as is that of the Masters of other days. Music by composers of our own Pacific Coast, composers of whom we have the right to be proud, and whose music we would like to hear played by this great orchestra while both we and they can hear and appreciate it.

It is too late for many of the composers of much of the wonderful music that comes to us on this program to hear it. Too late for us to express to them our appreciation of their beautiful thought that lifts us to the mountain top in Radioland, where a vision is gained that never quite leaves us.

We like the direct way in which Joseph Henry Jackson places books before us; then leaving the matter of choice entirely with us.

With "Somebody Sweet Is My Darling," the Sweethearts of the Air begin a new day, and a new week for us.

Over My Radio

I heard a voice in the night time
Singing love's lullaby.
I heard the notes of a violin
Come winging across the sky.
I heard the deep tones of an organ
Great waves of melody roll.
From beside the sea, they came to me
And thrilled my very soul.

I heard a note of laughter
In a friendly announcer's voice.
I heard someone say, in a voice so gay,
O, be not downhearted—Rejoice!
I heard a bit of life's drama,
As real as any I know.
They bring me much gladness, with a little of sadness
By way of my radio.

Sade may speak in that calm, unruffled tone of voice, but Son has learned that she means just what she says, and sooner or later he will have to do exactly as she asks.

ALL the traditional romance of the islands of the South Seas is in the program of The Islanders, to be heard over the Columbia Broadcasting System. While listening to them we can easily imagine ourselves riding in lazily gliding boats over smooth seas and lagoons, where time counts not at all.

There are long, dreamy days of sunshine ending with vivid sunsets, and magic nights 'neath starlit skies. Islands bathed in moonlight; air heavily perfumed with exotic blossoms and vibrant with seductive music.

All the romance of the Southern Seas and the Islands that has ever been told in song and story is caught and held in the rich beauty of this program as The Islanders play and sing the haunting melodies of their people. Playing their own instruments with that inimitable rhythm that is their's alone; singing their own songs in soft voices that hold us in a spell, they stir within us an emotion that is hard to define. A haunting "Something" from out the past, away back, eons ago, perhaps, that comes drifting down to us now, like a fragrance; calling us back to something that we once have known, or about which we have been told.

If you are at all romantic (and who isn't?), don't miss hearing this program, at least once.

NEWS and COMMENT

Program Trend Toward Music

The trend in programs according to a survey of more than two hundred stations and three hundred advertising agencies by MacGregor & Sollie Electrical Transcription Studios, of San Francisco, seems to be toward music and musical shows with the exception of large stations, maintaining a big orchestra, the most difficult program problem has been to supply good music without recouring to phonograph records. Between popular, classic and semi-classic music, the latter, according to the survey, is slightly in the greater favor, with dance band music a close second. Variety and revue show programs will probably decrease in number, not, however, because of lack of popularity but because of the ever-mounting increase in the cost of production, and the difficulty in securing comedy material.

Good comedy acts have a stronger appeal than ever before, but stations report that there are only a few such acts available. In popularity, Joe Penner leads the list, while Phil Baker, Jack Benny, The Fire Chief, Olsen and Johnson and Eddie Cantor are among the most popular of chain broadcasts, and "Eb and Zeb," "Fun-Fest," and "Cecil and Sally," among the most popular transcription features. There is also an increasing demand for well-played legitimate drama, and a definite trend away from long, drawn out "talky" serials.

Listening habits have changed considerably. There are probably fewer radios turned on at any given time; but programs are listened to more attentively and followed with a greater degree of interest whereas, in the early days of radio, the listener had his "favorite" station, now he has his "favorite" program, and tunes it in no matter what station is broadcasting it.

Denmark Has Most European Listeners

According to recent statistics, Denmark leads the European nations in number of radio fans with 150 auditors for each 1,000 inhabitants. Other countries rated as follows: England, 129; Holland, 82; Austria, 77; Germany, 76; Iceland, 74; Switzerland, 73; Belgium, 58; Norway, 49; Hungary, 38; Finland, 38; Lettonia, 27; Ireland, 15; Estonia, 13; Poland, 10; Italy, 9; Lithuania, 9; Rumania, 6; Jugoslavia, 4; Portugal, 2; Bulgaria, 1; Greece, 0.5. The average is forty-seven auditors per 1,000 inhabitants.

Function of Music to Create a Mood

"Radio's dramatic programs are inspiring an entirely new school of background music which aims to create a mood but not obtrude."

This analysis comes from William Stickles, who directs the orchestra for those Beatrice Fairfax dramas on the NBC red network Saturday nights and composes original music to illustrate heart problems such as gossiping and polite quarreling that have been neglected by other composers.

"If a fan should write me that he had enjoyed my music on the Beatrice Fairfax show most of all, I would know that my musical program had been a failure," declared Stickles, expounding his novel theory. "The function of the music for a dramatic show is to create a mood—not to be obtrusive. These aims require an entirely different method of musical composition. I find it necessary to make special arrangements of most music I use.

World's Largest Station

President Roosevelt pressed a solid gold telegraph key in Washington May 2, and 700 miles away, in Cincinnati, the world's largest radio station began to function.

The pressing of the key connected by direct wire to the Crosley transmitter plant at Mason, Ohio—by the President inaugurated a six-hour program dedicating WLW, the new 500,000-watt transmitter of the Crosley Radio Corporation, which will be on the air continuously from now on with the most powerful carrier wave ever transmitted through the ether.

They Pay Their Way

"Every year the American public pays for radio sets, tubes and equipment, far more than the cost of all the programs that are being sent out," says R. W. Griggs in Broadcasting. "They are entitled to listen to these programs without any sense of obligation."

"DEATH VALLEY DAYS" CELEBRATES ANNIVERSARY

On Tuesday evening, May 22, "Death Valley Days" starts its second year as a Western radio production. Like many another success, there were those who lacked faith in this series before it was put on the air. "A radio program with the grim name 'Death Valley Days'—why nobody will listen to it." Yet here it is one of the most popular dramatic programs on the ether waves.

One reason for the success of this distinctive program is that lovable character known to all radio fans as the "Old Ranger." Every Tuesday evening, as the old morning bugle call of the covered wagon trains fades away among the echoes, the "Old Ranger" steps to the microphone and spins another of his famous yarns of Death Valley.

And famous they are, too, for within the past year this lovable old character has built up a tremendous audience. For these simple, everyday tales with their homespun atmosphere have a particular charm that appeals to listeners of all ages.

When asked the reasons for the popularity of "Death Valley Days," the "Old Ranger" said: "I think it's because we've kept to simple fare. Nothin' fancy or artificial. Just true stories about honest-to-goodness folks of the desert. Made up of sentiment an' romance—excitement an' disappointment—courage—plenty of laughs—an' not a few tears. That's life in the desert. That's life everywhere. I reckon mebbe that's why the audience likes it, an' comes back for more."

Many people fear that the "Old Ranger" will soon run out of stories, but he assured us that he has hundreds more. He said, "The desert is full of stories—true stories—more colorful and romantic and fabulous than any western fiction ever written."

The "Old Ranger" is assisted on "Death Valley Days" by Charles Marshall, the "Singing Cowboy." Charlie, a big, quiet, slow-speaking westerner, plays the guitar and sings songs of the cattle trail and the early pioneer days. Charlie and some of the other radio stars who dramatize these stories—Barbara Jo Allen, Verna Felton, Bernice Berwin, Cameron Prud-homme, Earl Lee, Bert Horton and Robert Waldrop—have arranged a special birthday program for the "Old Ranger." It will be broadcast over the NBC Pacific network on Tuesday evening, May 22, between 8:30 and 9 o'clock, P.S.T.

New Allocation for Mexico Stations

A complete reallocation of Mexican broadcasting stations, under which sixty stations were assigned to new frequencies—for the most part those on which American stations operate—was promulgated April 7 by the Mexican Ministry of Communications and is now operative, according to official word from Mexico City.

Said to be designed to eliminate interference between Mexican stations and to minimize the confusion which has been caused to the operation of both American and Canadian outlets, the reallocation resulted in the assignment of Mexican stations on nineteen United States clear channels. Altogether thirty-eight channels are being used by the sixty stations. In addition to the United States clear waves, assignments have been made on nine United States regional channels and three United States locals. Only one assignment was made on a Canadian exclusive, but six Canadians shared waves were allowed.

But Now That Insull Is Home

The number of American sets sold in Greece between September and the end of March was between 950 and 1000, representing about 70 per cent of total radio sales in Greece during the period in question.

The price which the public in Greece expects to pay for a radio set, it is said, ranges from $100 to $130. After payment of duty and transportation, an American set retails in Greece for at least twice its list price in the United States.

Million Watt Cuban Station Questioned

The 1,000,000-watt station talked of for Havana is regarded in Washington as largely a stock promotional venture and doubt was expressed as to whether or not it would ever be built.

"Up to now there has never been 'such an animal' as a million-watt station," a Federal official remarked. "Such a station would cost from $750,000 to $1,000,000."
