THE erroneous impression among the advertising fraternity that people do not listen to their radios during the summer months is being knocked into a cocked hat. The chains and many of the independent stations report that more sponsors have signed for air time this summer than ever before in the history of broadcasting.

This showing is a splendid testimonial to the business acumen of the sponsors. They have at last come to realize that they can best put over their programs when the public has the most leisure. With automobile and portable radios now in almost universal use, leisure and listening are synonymous.

Another death blow to the old bugaboo that radio listening is dormant in the summer, lies in the perfection of the sending apparatus and receiving sets, which makes reception during the warm weather as reliable as in the winter months.

We are particularly fortunate on the Pacific Coast in that climatic conditions are conducive to radio listening. Cool evenings enable people to enjoy radio broadcasts throughout the summer months—in contrast to the hot, sticky weather in other parts of the country which forces people, who possess only the livingroom set, out of reach of their radio. Furthermore, the earlier releases on the Coast of national network programs opens opportunities to listen to some of the splendid offerings of independent stations.

THERE are hundreds of persons constantly employed to read the barometer of public approval of the radio entertainment that is offered. A new dramatic serial is put on as a sustaining period. Or a guest star is invited for one performance on a commercial program. Or a remote wire is run into a popular hotel to pick up a promising dance band. And the "clockers" behind the scenes wait for the public's reactions—telegrams, telephone calls, letters, "Open Circuit" criticisms, the sales figures of advertisers. None of these forms an infallible guide by itself. But the sum total presents a picture that no radio executive would attempt to dispute. And the picture outlined one month is reflected with striking clarity in the line-up of the next month's programs.

THERE is every reason to believe that before Congress adjourns some restraining legislation will be enacted upon the broadcasting industry, but not of the nature that would in any way hamstring present program procedure or regulation.

The biggest hurdle was surmounted when the Senate decisively defeated the Wagner-Hatfield amendment, which would have instructed the new commission to cancel all broadcast licenses within six months, and award to educational, religious, labor and other non-profit organizations 25 per cent of all broadcasting facilities.

The amendment was defeated by a 15 to 42 vote. Thirty-one senators were either absent or hid in the cloakroom during the voting, thus again demonstrating that the radio audience is a power to be reckoned with . . . around election time.

AN eastern psychiatrist recently stated that fewer women are being psycho-analyzed than formerly and that he doesn't know the answer. May we suggest that he spend a day at home with the lady of the house and listen to the chummy talks over the radio about the things over which women's hearts beat, the "new freedom" notwithstanding. Fashions, food, fun, beauty, budgets, babies and child training, hobbies, decoration, personalities and news headlines. Therein lies your answer, doctor.

ETHER GLEANINGS

By J. CLARENCE MYERS

ASSUMING that all of our prognostications about forthcoming outstanding events of the ether don't always click with the tuner-inner, we are laboring under the belief that a broadcast on the CBS soon will strike a responsive chord in most of the dialing audience.

It is scheduled to take place on Thursday, June 28, from 4 to 5 o'clock Pacific time and will be released nationwide over CBS stations. The motive of the program carries so much weight that we believe it deserves the lead in our humble scribblings this week.

"Twenty Crowded Years" will be the title of the sixty-minute broadcast. It will be twenty years to the day that Archduke Francis Ferdinand of Austria was assassinated, the torch that set off the start of the great World War.

In dramatized form, a review of the momentous events since that time to the present, will be flashed across the ether highways and by-ways by the actors. A large company of noted radio and stage stars will participate. The script is by Charles Tazewell, CBS continuity writer.

Imagine the fun of the radio listener in Shanghai, China, where there are fifty-eight stations perking in that city alone!

Which brings to mind an incident that occurred in that place just recently.

The Chinese are very ceremonious people. But the height of something or other was reached when a funeral cortege was entertained from the tones of a radio set that was attached to the coffin of the deceased. Press dispatches stated that the long funeral procession wound its way through the streets of the city and as the mourners marched, the radio equipped coffin sent out broadcasts from the local theatres, love songs and dance music.

Helen Troy, the lisping Sally of the international radio hit, Cecil and Sally, has stepped out of character for the first time since she started the rôle five or more years ago, to do a different type act on the NBC's Carefree Carnival. She is teamed up with Barry Hopkins in the latter show. However, Miss Troy continues to appear in the Cecil and Sally episodes, which are broadcast by stations in the four corners of the globe.

* * *

Ralph Brunton, managing director of the Northern California Broadcasting System, which operates KJBS and KQW, has just been named a member of the Press-Radio Bureau, Pacific Coast Division. It is this bureau that furnishes the news bulletins to radio stations.

The stevedores' strike on the Coast caused no little concern to Ed Fitzgerald, KFRC-CBS news commentator. It seems that Fitzgerald made some cracks on the air about the strikers and they took exception to them. He received several threatening telephone calls. So the KFRC mike-man ups and appeals to the police for ample protection. He travels about now with a police escort.

* * *

The unwelcome "blue slip" followed the arrival of Kid Cupid in the Al Pearce and Gang company, as regards two of the most popular members of the troupe. Not so long ago Jackie Archer and Earl Hatch were married. Al Pearce was best man. It wasn't long afterwards that they were missed from the daily matinee broadcast. When queried about them Al is said to have announced that they had been relieved of their "spots" on the broadcast.

* * *

Check and double-check. Gill and Doemling have not split up as joint masters of ceremonies. Previously we reported that such was about to happen and that the latter was going to KMTR as production chief. That is what KMTR had hoped for. But for some reason, in all probability monetary, Doemling is sticking with KHJ.

* * *

Birt Fisher, who has the say of things around KOMO and KJR, tips us off that he has appointed Will Warren as head of the program department for the joint stations. Warren established "Striding Forward," a house organ of KOMO-KJR some time ago.

* * *

Edwina Barry, actress, has been added to KFRC's dramatic staff and is appearing in the Little Theatre of the Air productions.

* * *

Marge Damerel, the Marge of Myrt and Marge, is visiting in Los Angeles, resting up from the winter and spring broadcasts, which are scheduled to resume in fall, probably under the banner of a new sponsor.

Dave Rubinoff, Eddie Cantor's radio playmate, likes Hollywood so much that he has leased a house there. Looks like the East has lost another of its noted dwellers.

Russ Columbo recently rejoined the ranks of crooners on the air. He's appearing in a transcontinental program over NBC stations every Sunday 8:15 to 8:30 p. m. Jimmy Fidler, the movie gossipier of the Hollywood on the Air program, has jumped to the Columbo program with a line of chatter similar to that which he gave on the movie broadcast.

* * *

Wonder if Will Rogers thinks the date is still 1928 or 1929? While in San Francisco starring in a stage play recently, he was sought out by various and sundry radio stations to make an appearance. But the lariat-tossing, wise-cracker said that he would be just tickled pink to do it—for $5,000 a jolt. And he wasn't kiddin' about it either. He didn't go on.

* * *

Rush Hughes and his Langendorf Pictorial retire from the air on June 29—temporarily. The sponsor's contract with NBC terminates on that date and then Rush plans to hie himself off for the East where he will take a summer course at Columbia University. He plans a return to the air with the same program in the fall.

* * *

Brothers figure prominently in the successful roads traveled by some of our outstanding radio personalities today. Ben Bernie's brother handles all the business of the old maestro; David Rubinoff has two brothers who work with him, one as office manager, the other as a press contact man; Gus Arnheim's brother acts as contact man for him and Guy Lombardo has three brothers, two of whom are in his band.

* * *

Added to the NBC artist staff recently was Cliff Nazarro, singing-comedian of vaudeville and films. Monday, Wednesday and Friday at 9:15 p. m. on KPO.

* * *

Having completed the cycle of dramatic episodes, the Bank of America program, Leaders of Tomorrow, has been moved to KHJ for production over the CBS chain in California. It is devoted almost entirely to music now. The dramatic portion of the series was presented in KFRC's studios in San Francisco.

Here's a novel idea for a children's hour. KIEM in Eureka has a broadcast entitled the Tick Tock program. The talent is made up entirely of youngsters, even to the announcers. Needless to say, it has a wide following in the air audience at the top of the state.

Maurice Gunsky, radio balladist, was honored recently when his latest composition, "Because I Care So Much," was given its initial "airing" over a coast to coast NBC wireup by Tom Coakley's Palace Hotel Orchestra. Gunsky sings, over KYA every Friday at 7:15 o'clock.

KTAB is getting drama ambitious.

It now presents a full length play every Sunday afternoon from 2:30 to 3:30 o'clock, staged by the Matinee Players, in addition to the production of a serial-type skit "Blair of the Mounties," on Saturday nights from 8:30 to 9 o'clock. Colonel Rip Davies, formerly a member of the Northwest Mounted Police, writes the scripts and portrays the principal character.

* * *

The Philip Morris program, scheduled to start on a previous date over NBC network, has postponed its opening this season until July 3.

* * *

The Colgate House Party, which stars Donald Novis on NBC, has been switched to Monday nights at 5:30 o'clock. Formerly heard on Saturday.

* * *

Raymond Knight and his Cuckoos will switch to a Saturday night spot beginning June 23. The new hour—6 to 6:15 o'clock. NBC, too.

Looks very much like old times up around the KFRC studios these days, what with the return to the mikes there of Pedro (Eugene Hawes), Madeline de Michel, Mac and a few others.

The announcement that the Happy Go Lucky Hour would be produced in KFRC's studios once again for the whole coast CBS network, was a signal for studio "squatters," amusement seekers and just plain curious ones, to flock to the studios for a free show, lots of laughs and a place to loaf for an hour. They came by the hundreds the first day and each succeeding day there has been a repetition. Jay Brower, a past master in the art of m.c.-ing, is turning out a nice job for the radio program. A lot of the responsibility rests too, on the shoulders of George Whitney, orchestra director.

Yahbut and Cheerily of the Shell Show, "wowed" 'em on the occasion of their personal appearance at the Paramount Theatre in Los Angeles recently.

MICROPHONE GOSSIP

• • • “Happy” Felton, now appearing at the Bal Tabarin in San Francisco with his orchestra, who gained radio fame in the East as master of ceremonies with the renowned Goodrich Silvertown Cord Orchestra, is considered a “discovery” in the entertainment world. He left Alleghany College in Pennsylvania to embark upon a career as a musician. His first engagement of importance was with Roger Wolfe Kahn’s band. Later he appeared in musical productions on Broadway as a singer and comedian. He has also toured in vaudeville. His own orchestra, which he organized several years ago, has played at a number of fashionable southern and eastern hotels and clubs. The group came to the Bal Tabarin direct from the Show Boat Floating Palace at Troy, New York.

• • • Five of Columbia’s announcers are going to be in a movie short together. They are David Ross, Paul Douglas, Kenneth Roberts, Andre Baruch and Harry von Zell. They’ll each introduce a Columbia star—Enoch Light and his orchestra, Gypsy Nina, Edith Murray, or little Lloyd Barry—each of whom will do a specialty in the picture.

• • • Rosaline Greene, NBC dramatic actress who has played thousands of melodramatic rôles on the air, had a real adventure on a recent Sunday. She and her brother were sailing on Great South Bay several miles from their Bayshore, L. I., home when a squall swept down on them. The boat began to leak, they lost sight of land and the two sailors shivered with cold and fear for an hour until they blew ashore ten miles from Bayshore. Clad only in soaked bathing suits, Miss Greene and her brother hitchhiked home.

• • • Not so many years ago Richard Himber, who heads the orchestra on the new CBS auto program on Saturday nights, left a musical conservatory in Newark because he wanted to play popular music rather than adhere to the classics, so he joined Sophie Tucker’s act in vaudeville and since that time has never played classical music on his violin—until a few days ago. The exception occurred when he was invited to address the students of the Newark Conservatory. He cited the value his classical training gave him, and, borrowing a violin to prove he still uses harmonies and chords lifted from the classics, he gave a demonstration.

• • • Adele Hoover, assistant to Program Manager Linn Church at KYA, is a collector of all things miniature. She is the proud possessor of a book the size of a postage stamp which contains all Lincoln’s addresses. It is complete with index, title pages, and is bound with morocco leather. Latest addition to Adele’s collections are two hand woven baskets from Mexico which are about a half-inch in diameter.

• • • Felix Mills, KHJ staff composer and arranger, who can play almost any instrument in the band, came very close Memorial Day to joining a celestial choral society and learning to play a harp. His automobile, in which he and Mrs. Mills were riding, blew a rear tire on a return trip from the Mono Lake country, plowed into the desert and rolled over. Luckily both Felix and his wife escaped with a big scare and a few minor cuts and bruises.

• • • Gene, of the comedy team of Gene and Glenn, heard Mondays through Fridays over a coast-to-coast red network, made his professional debut at the age of seven at the Hull House in Chicago, playing the crown bearer in a Shakespearean drama. Gene, who was working in a drug store at the time for $3 a week, says that he was definitely lost to trade that night. It was the stage or nothing for him from then on!

• • • Lee Cooley, young KNX production man, always stays home to listen to the Admiral Byrd broadcasts, and there’s a reason: He was a member of the crew of the supply vessel which carried foodstuffs, etc., to little America for the first Byrd Expedition. At any rate he visited New Zealand and Australia and is well equipped with facts concerning the locale of the present Byrd explorations.

• • • Four orchestra spots have been closed by the Thomas Lee Artists Bureau in the past few weeks. Jack Souders and his musicians have been booked at the exclusive Del Monte Hotel, Del Monte, California. Orville Knapp and his boys are playing at the Grand Hotel in Santa Monica. The Lou Traveller-Happy Chappies aggregation is holding forth at the Balboa Gardens, Venice. And Merle Carlson is spotted in the Cafe de Patee. The music of all the orchestras is being released over KHJ and affiliated stations of the Columbia-Don Lee network.

• • • Hal Nichols, who hasn't had a vacation for more than ten years, and Alice DeLaVergne, also of KFOX, who has been vacationless for seven years or more, tossed coins recently to see who would leave the station for a couple of weeks' rest. Alice won, three out of four, and is now enjoying an automobile trip through Colorado and to Denver, her home town.

• • • Many people, hearing Kay Kyser's voice on the air, imagine him to be a big, husky brunette, weighing about 180 pounds, taking life easily. In reality he is a blond, with blue eyes, very slender and a human dynamo. To complete a paradoxical combination, he wears glasses that at times make him look like a gentle college professor.

• • • The walls of the study in Casa Mia, Madame Frances Alda's beautiful estate on the shores of Long Island Sound, literally are covered with framed letters and autographed pictures sent her by celebrities. The famous opera star and NBC singer has received written tributes from Theodore Roosevelt, Franklin D. Roosevelt, King George, the Prince of Wales, and from scores of musicians, including Gounod, Bizet, Wagner, Puccini, Caruso, Melba, Verdi, Sembrich, Fremstadt, Nordica, Tosti, Richard Strauss, Patti, Humperdinck and Leoncavallo.

• • • Edson Gilham, vibraphone player, who is a new addition to Paul Martin's program on KPO, is regarded as one of the finest artists on this instrument. Martin, whose unique ability to make his banjo sing like a lute, in a style developed after long study, has hunted for months for a musician and an instrument which would fit into the unusual pattern of the harmonies he and Barbara Merkley, NBC harpist, produce by combining banjo and harp. The addition of Gilham's vibraphone, Martin believes, is exactly the touch he has been seeking.

• • • Uncle Bill Sharples of KNX Breakfast Club fame, is slowly but surely augmenting that ranch of his, particularly where horses are concerned.

Bill was last week the recipient of a gift in the shape of a two months old colt named "Duchess," as well as her mother, from H. F. Canterbury, owner of Sherwood Forest.

The gift was from one good judge of horse-flesh to another.

• • • When Mabel Albertson, heard with Phil Baker on the Armour program, remarked that she liked flowers, Beetle, the villain, offered her a century plant, which had bloomed ten years ago.

• • • Joe Penner ripped his pants during an amateur night contest back in Detroit—as a result his gestures of despair drew thunderous applause—that's why Joe thanks his pants rather than his duck, that he is a big time comic.

• • • An enviable record as master of ceremonies and orchestra leader in important theaters of the Pacific Coast has been hung up by Jay Brower, "Pep's Bad Boy," who was selected as m. c. of the Happy-Go-Lucky Hour, when it returned to KFRC and San Francisco on June 1.

For three and a half years Brower was m. c. at the El Capitan Theater in San Francisco, the longest run ever achieved by any one performer in western show business. For some time he directed the great orchestra at the magnificent Fox Theater in San Francisco. At theaters in Oakland, Sacramento, Fresno, Portland, Seattle and San Diego he has appeared, and before that he was in vaudeville with his own musical act, one of the recognized headliners.

• • • Jack Denny generally uses the longest baton of any orchestra leader in radio—a stick measuring almost a yard, but the other evening he conducted with probably the shortest one ever used. Just as the "Marvelous Melodies" program went on the air, he gave his baton a prodigious beat, signaling the start of the number. But the wand broke off, and seven-eighths of it went sailing into the lap of a young lady in the third row.

• • • Sonia Sapiro, Russian pianist, who is heard on KYA in recital, has a splendid musical background. Miss Sapiro was graduated from the Vienna Conservatory of Music and studied under the tutelage of Emil Sauer, the famous pianist.

• • • Tall as he is, Harry Stanton, NBC basso who measures well over six feet, still likes to look up to his microphone, and technicians usually have to extend the mike as far as it will go to accommodate him.

• • • Jimmy Melton is more convinced than ever that the gods are conspiring against him. Just as sure as the young tenor takes his fifty-foot cruiser, "Melody," out of dry-dock a full schedule of broadcasts pile up and he gets too busy to even put a foot on deck. At present Melton, in addition to his starring spot with the Ward's Family Theater of the Air, Sundays, over CBS, is singing the tenor leads on those Beauty Box Theater operettas Tuesdays, and will pinch-hit for Lanny Ross on "Showboat" on Thursdays when Lanny leaves for the coast in five weeks.

The word "SILHOUETTES" is written in a large, bold, serif font. On either side of the word is a silhouette of a person. On the left, a person is shown from the waist up, holding a musical instrument and a baton, with musical notes floating around them. On the right, a person is shown sitting at a desk, writing with a pen. The entire graphic is framed by decorative flourishes.

SILHOUETTES

“BODY AND SOUL,” the first of the new type “torch songs,” will probably always be Johnny Green’s trade mark, although he has written numerous other hits just as popular. His name was a trade mark in professional circles before he composed his famous number, but since then the public has become definitely “Johnny Green conscious.”

The versatile young composer and conductor, who is musical adviser on programs of the Columbia Broadcasting System, was born and educated in New York.

He attended Horace Mann School and was graduated from Harvard in 1928 with an A.B. degree at the age of twenty. Johnny started studying music when he was eight and at fourteen he was conducting his own orchestra at Horace Mann.

His father, a New York realtor, was very much opposed to Johnny’s selection of music as a career. However, the constant pleading of Mrs. Green, who understood and sympathized with her son’s ambitions, enabled him to study music under several of the outstanding teachers in New York.

While Johnny had been playing, conducting and writing music for some time, he got his first real “break” in 1927 when he acted as arranger for Guy Lombardo’s orchestra. In fact, Johnny said he learned so much that he was able to write four songs that fall which he sold to Gertrude Lawrence.

She took his compositions to England and almost overnight “Body and Soul” swept the island and Johnny was famous. Libby Holman, the famous torch singer, popularized the number in the United States.

After graduation Johnny acted as accompanist for Miss Lawrence and several other well known singers. In 1929 he became the musical director, arranger, composer and conductor for the Paramount studios. In April of the same year he married Caroline Falk. They live in a spacious east side apartment.

Johnny accepted a staff position with CBS last year and soon after became musical consultant on program-building. He also leads his own orchestra on several commercial and sustaining programs.

Johnny is an old-time radio performer, having made his debut with his own band while in high school over a metropolitan station. He first appeared on CBS in 1929 with the Paramount Hour.

Besides radio Johnny has appeared in vaudeville with Jimmy Melton and Joan Blondell. He has made movie shorts with Ethel Merman and Lillian Roth.

He is probably best known as the composer of “Body and Soul,” even though his numbers, “Out of Nowhere,” “Living in a Dream,” “I Cover the Waterfront” and “Easy Come, Easy Go,” have achieved nation-wide popularity.

SIDELIGHTS: He is 5 feet 11 inches tall . . . has brown curly hair, brown eyes and weighs 168 pounds . . . likes to play tennis . . . prefers traveling by boat . . . smokes cigars . . . loves to cook and eat spaghetti . . . spends much time reading and studying, and would probably be a writer if it were not for his special talent in music.

NO MATTER what the financial wizards of the world decide, there’s one person who will always be on the gold standard. Grete Stueckgold couldn’t possibly abandon it. Her name means “piece of gold,” her hair is golden, her complexion is fair with a sparkle like that of the yellow metal, and her voice, too, might be described as golden. The lovely soprano is new to the radio audience. She is singing these Saturday nights with Andre Kostelanetz’ orchestra and chorus over the Columbia network in her first American broadcast series, and she is having a grand time doing it because of the novelty and the excitement surrounding the work.

In 1929 Grete Stueckgold came to America to sing for the Metropolitan Opera Company. She had achieved unusual success in Europe since her concert debut at the age of sixteen and her operatic debut two years later. The American opera patrons welcomed her, too. But once she started touring the country in concert appearances her popularity spread far beyond the confines of the staid old opera house on Broadway. Her concert schedule each season is one of the most extensive of any singer, and between her broadcasts she fills frequent out of town engagements.

When no concert dates are marked on the calendar, Mme. Stueckgold hurries off to Westchester after her broadcasts to spend a quiet week in the country with her husband, Gustav Schuetzendorf, one of the Metropolitan’s leading baritones. When summer comes around she and her husband usually go back to Europe to spend their vacation in the villa at Lake Starnberg in the Bavarian mountains, but her radio work has forced her to alter her plans this year.

Grete Stueckgold is truly an international favorite. She was born in London of an English mother and a German father. She speaks English, German, French and Italian. After her studies in Germany and her operatic debut in Nuremburg, the great conductor, Bruno Walter, heard her sing and immediately engaged her for the Stadtische Opera in Berlin. Throughout her operatic career, however, Mme. Stueckgold never neglected her concert repertoire, and her singing of lieder and light classics has won her equal popularity with the mass of people who prefer lighter and more simple music than the mighty measures of Wagner and Gounod. In her broadcasts with Kostelanetz she features both types of music, occasionally devoting an entire program to the lighter songs, and offering many well loved American tunes.

In her personality Grete Stueckgold adheres to the gold standard as closely as she does in name and appearance. She is prompt to keep rehearsal and consultation appointments; always shows up backstage at the Columbia Radio Playhouse well before broadcast time, and, during rehearsals when she is not needed on the stage sits quietly in the orchestra with her husband watching Kostelanetz direct his orchestra and chorus. At home she has a grand time baking cakes and fussing around like any other housewife. When she goes places an American-made car is her conveyance and she drives it herself. The faster she can make it go, the better she likes it. In Europe a horse, Mailuft (May Wind), fast and fleet as his name, takes the place of the car. Back and forth across the Atlantic with her on every trip goes a pedigree dachshund with the charming name of Lumpi.

Some evenings Mme. Stueckgold goes to the movies. Her favorite screen actress is Marlene Dietrich, but she doesn't approve of the trousers she wears. She thinks a woman should be entirely feminine, except, as she puts it, "when the composer decrees otherwise." By which she probably means when she sings the rôle of Octavian in Strauss' "Rosenkavalier," a part that calls for a soprano to sing a male character. Her own clothes are simple and attractive, and all of them are bought in America. When she sings, a handkerchief held in her hand is almost a requisite of her costume. It contains a small piece of candy which she raises casually to her mouth and puts to her tongue to "give it moistness," if her throat gets dry.

Characteristic of the Late Governor Rolph

I quote from a clipping from the Los Angeles Evening Express of Dec. 18, 1922, which I have preserved for over ten years as follows:

"Into the state of Idaho, 1,200 miles away, the melodious chords played by the fingers of 6-year-old Alice Watson, 1842 North Fair Oaks Avenue, Pasadena, pupil of Henry Foote Perrin, penetrated through the medium of the radio, according to a letter received by Miss Watson today from Lewiston, Idaho."

At that time it seemed a wonderful thing to receive by radio, music from such a distance. I have many postal cards from various stations received during those early years of broadcasting, as we were always asked to report to the stations heard.

When KPO first went on the air, I was one of the listeners, and helped to add to the several thousand dollars that Mayor Rolph was put to the expense for paying for telegrams, etc., which he invited from all parts of the country, and which was the means of pleasant correspondence from him regarding same.

A Boot for the Baton

Have just finished reading "Behind the Baton" for June 3 to 9. I must say you do not show any knowledge of dance bands, at least on the surface.

Why you consider Irving Aaronson's band as the best bet for dance music on the western airplanes at the present time is far beyond my comprehension.

Quoting from your column, "He features a scintillating four-man saxophone section and a bevy of outstanding vocal stars." Who in the — in Aaronson's organization is an outstanding vocal star? There isn't a vocalist in the entire band who has a halfway decent voice for singing popular tunes.

I can't see anything outstanding in his music. His arrangements sound no different from any other ordinary common dance bands.

Why don't you give Tom Coakley's band a good plug in your column? Tom's band is by far the best on the Pacific Coast. He has three fine arrangers who turn out about ten new tunes a week. What other band features that many new numbers a week. His music is smooth and danceable. His vocalists have it all over Aaronson's aggregation. Think it over, and you'll realize Coakley's is by far the best on the Coast.

In the May 5 edition of the New York Times, Orin Dunlap, Jr., radio editor, picked Tom Coakley's band as the best program on the air between 6 and 7 p. m., E. D. S T. I think Dunlap has it all over you as a critic, but perhaps you consider yourself better.

A guy who has some knowledge of good dance bands.

Shades of Our Pilgrim Fathers

I want to "put in" with you in re your editorial, "Let the West Speak Up." Why the powers that be at Washington desire to borrow a foreign set-up for our radio broadcasting is more than any good American can understand. Nowhere in the world has broadcasting been so well received, nowhere has it made such great strides, and nowhere is such fine entertainment given the public at so little cost as in this country. The educational features listed among the programs of the nation are, to my mind, on as high a plane as any in European countries, and they savor less of propaganda.

It is certain that no one will object if there is a concerted movement to give more and better broadcasts of educational value. We shall all be for it. But let it not be made compulsory. We all know what happened to prohibition.

In the last analysis, the sponsors and stations must give the public what it wants. When they cease to do that they will have no public left. At all costs, keep up your agitation against throwing the air open to political spell-binders. Our radio will hit the junk heap if that time ever comes.

K. M. S., San Jose, Calif.

Nothing like reaching for the moon. George Arliss, movieland's most distinguished actor, is said to have told radio people that he wants $100,000 for a series of thirteen broadcasts. And what's more, he won't consider less money or a contract of less time.

Behind the Baton

Headed for the top are Ed Fitzpatrick, Jr., and his orchestra, now playing at the Casa Del Mar Club in Santa Monica. The band, heard over KFWB, is composed of San Francisco boys and was organized about two years ago. The leader is the son of Edward Fitzpatrick, Sr., conductor at the San Francisco studios of the National Broadcasting Company.

Ben Bernie returns to Chicago this week, and it is rumored that he and all the lads will appear at a World's Fair spot this summer. Ben continues on the Pabst Blue Ribbon Tuesday night commercial, having just completed his third year with this popular program.

Rube Wolf, Schnozzle Durante's principal rival for fame of the proboscis, with his noted dance band will go on the air over KFRC beginning June 26. On that date his group opens at the Edgewater Beach Club in San Francisco. Ten years ago Rube played at the same place when it was known as Taits.

George Hall's orchestra, which has been heard over CBS, has left New York's Hotel Taft. And all because the management refused George what he considered a well-earned vacation, after playing there steadily for three years.

Norman Brokenshire, well-known announcer, is now wielding the baton for his own radio band in the East. Brokenshire will be remembered as the announcer on those Chesterfield programs.

Jimmy Grier and his boys made a jump from CBS to NBC when Bing Crosby's Woodbury commercial was discontinued. Grier is now furnishing the music for the General Tire program, which is presented from Hollywood, while Jack Benny, the featured comedian, is making a film.

Staccato.—Anson Weeks is going great in Chicago, and his records furnish the music for the Studebaker program in that city. . . . Victor Young's orchestra will be heard on the new Schlitz Beer commercial. . . . The M. J. B. Demi-Tasse Revue has moved down south to the Cocoanut Grove in Los Angeles with Gus Arnheim's orchestra. . . . Little Jack Little takes his band from New York to Atlantic City for the summer. He will be heard over CBS,

ETHER ETCHINGS

By IOLA McREYNOLDS

WHAT could be more appropriate music for Sunday morning than that of the Cecilians, as the Arion Trio with Eva Gruninger and Barbara Blanchard as vocalists bring a half-hour of true beauty in music.

The tones of the cello are no deeper, nor richer than is the voice of Eva Gruninger as she sings such songs as "Calm Is the Night." Songs that are beautiful and full of the deepest of life's meaning. Barbara Blanchard's voice reminds one of the vibrant tones of a silver bell, putting our most exalted thought into words as she sings. Together their voices blend perfectly, leaving nothing to be desired in purity and beauty of vocal expression.

The music of the Trio on this program is that which calms the soul. It is the living stillness of the mountains; a calm lake reflecting tall trees and dainty flowers in its cool, clear depths; like sitting on a fallen log, or a rock in the sunshine, looking toward the vista of snow-crowned peaks, and blue canyons bathed in the radiant light of the morning sun, the brooding spirit of the mountains all about us, bringing its soothing influence to our tired minds and hearts. The voice of the mountains saying, softly, "Why worry, or hurry? There is plenty of time—there is all eternity. Take time to live—to LIVE!"

Such, to us, is the music of the Cecilians on Sunday morning.

THIS the month of roses, and on the first night, soft as twilight, notes from an organ come stealing as Charles Runyan begins a program with roses as its theme. Roses, roses everywhere! They come vividly to our imagination as Mr. Runyan plays softly while Robert Waldrop announces each number with charming little word pictures, and we add a few of our own.

Roses blooming 'round the door; roses climbing in riotous profusion over a garden wall; neglected roses in a deserted garden, their beauty catching the heart with a little lonesome feeling, just an echo of other days. Roses red and white and pink; roses that have caught the sunshine and hold it in their heart; away on a hillside and in tangled thickets the shyest rose of all lifts its sweet, pink face to the sun and rain.

A program that is as sweet and lovely and fragrant as its theme, The Rose.

CLYDE DOERR'S orchestra swings into the room on an appealing melody and proceeds to entertain us in a companionable sort of way.

We liken it to a friend who comes to visit, fitting right into our regular routine of activities. We can dance with them, dine with them, sit and visit awhile or go about our regular duties without inconvenience to either them or ourselves.

The topics of conversation during this half-hour are varied. Sometimes light and jolly, sometimes in a more serious mood the deeper things of life are touched upon, but always there is that friendly atmosphere. Along with the companionable music of the orchestra there come delightful voices, as different ones are guest artists for particular broadcasts.

As they swing away again, out into the ether, we extend to them as to other departing friends, the invitation to call again. The dial has a way of turning to admit them.

Sparkling notes, like jewels in the sun, assure us that Edna Fisher is at the piano to bring us one of her popular programs.

* * *

What a boon to sleepy heads if every alarm clock had as much consideration for the nerves as has the one that Charles Runyan turns on each Saturday morning!

BRITISH BROADCASTS UNPOPULAR WITH MASSES

Everybody in England who is connected with the radio industry is eagerly awaiting the forthcoming year, when the present charter of the British Broadcasting System will expire and a new one will be issued, according to Joseph Hoffman, of Mills Artists, Inc., who has just returned from an extended trip abroad. "It is expected that with the new charter, a radical change in policy will be introduced," he continued.

"At present the BBC is very unpopular with the masses. It is the target for daily criticisms of the press who seldom have a good word to say for it.

"The BBC enforces a strict censorship upon its speakers which is often the cause for front page newspaper comment and blasts against the network. Recently, while we were still in London, a great ado was raised about a certain speaker who, after his text was censored, went on the air, told about his text being censored, and said he was going to say what he originally intended to anyway. He was cut off as soon as he started.

"The majority of the broadcasts over the BBC are electrical transcriptions. Speakers also predominate. On Sunday, no music is permitted, hence the listeners tune into Continental stations for entertainment.

"In Holland, the radio is progressing rapidly. At present it is supported by contributions from the listeners, there being no taxation upon it at all and no commercial broadcasts. The listeners contribute annually about 1,000,000 guilders (about $700,000) for the support of the station. Shortly, however, the government will introduce a method of radio taxation similar to that in use in England, that is, so much per set."

MRS. ROOSEVELT RESUMES BROADCASTING FOR CHARITY

Paid $3,000 for her initial broadcast on a commercial hour since she entered the White House, Mrs. Franklin D. Roosevelt announced in a recent broadcast that the money was being paid directly to the Friends Service Committee, a Philadelphia Quaker organization, and to other of her charities and rehabilitation interests. The wife of the President was impelled to depart from her previously announced intention not to appear on any commercial programs for charitable reasons.

KFJI COVERS MURDER TRIAL

Probably the most complete coverage ever made of a news story by a radio station is claimed by KFJI, Klamath Falls, Ore. When the murder trial of Horace Manning, prominent criminal lawyer, started KFJI kept several reporters in the courtroom and each night dramatized high spots from the trial. When arguments were started, the station received permission to install a microphone in the jury box, and when the verdict was announced the station got a clear "beat" by broadcasting the "not guilty" verdict as it was announced by the jury foreman.

REPORT STEADY PROGRESS IN TELEVISION RESEARCH

Practical tests with an experimental television system which was used to transmit an outdoor scene from a short distance and from a New York studio to Camden, N. J., using an intermediary radio relay station, were described in a symposium of technical papers on television presented by research engineers of the RCA Victor Company recently before the Institute of Radio Engineers.

These tests were conducted as another stage in the orderly development of television technique by the Camden laboratories to determine the objectives for continued research. Separate papers were presented on the transmitter equipment, the New York to Camden radio relay circuit, and the receiving apparatus.

The television transmission experiments were made with the Iconoscope, an electrical scanning device having no moving parts and whose operation has been likened to the human eye. It includes a photo-sensitive screen composed of millions of photo-electric cells upon which is focussed the picture to be televised. A cathode ray beam traverses the screen 240 times progressively from top to bottom at the rate of 24 frames each second, to present a continuous intelligible image. The use of the Iconoscope in the experiments provided a new degree of flexibility over former methods in that it made it possible for the first time to successfully transmit outdoor scenes and cover greater areas in the studio.

A cathode ray tube, or Kinescope, was used as an integral part of the receiving system. A beam in this tube traverses the surface of the fluorescent screen in synchronism with the Iconoscope on the transmitting end, the intensity of the beam corresponding with the varying light and shadow picked up by the Iconoscope, thus duplicating the appearance of the original image.

The tests indicated the desirability of utilizing two carrier waves, one for picture and synchronization, and the other for the sound associated with the picture. In the Camden experiments the picture carrier was transmitted on 49,000 kilocycles and the sound carrier on 50,000 kilocycles. The two receiving circuits necessary for picking up the picture and the sound carriers, respectively, are electrically tied together so that they operate simultaneously.

In seeking a solution to the problem of linking together a chain of television stations to provide a network service similar to that of ordinary broadcasting, tests were carried on between a studio atop the Empire State building in New York and Camden, using an intermediary radio relay station. The radio relay station picked up the television transmissions at a point between the two cities, reamplified them and successfully transmitted them to the Camden transmitter for retransmission from there.

"Voice of Experience" Remains on Air

"The Voice of Experience," popular broadcaster of counsel on human problems, will continue over the nation-wide Columbia network throughout the summer, on a contract renewal effective Monday, June 11. "The Voice of Experience" started his Columbia network series on April 24, 1933, and has been heard several times each week since then, except for a seven-week vacation last summer. As social worker, lecturer, world-traveler, and student of human nature for more than twenty-five years, he brings a wealth of first-hand knowledge to his task of helping solve life's problems for his listeners. Before he came to Columbia, "The Voice of Experience" had broadcast frequently during the preceding seven years over some fifty local stations throughout the country. As a network attraction, his remarkable success continued, and within a short time he was receiving as many as 10,000 to 18,000 letters a week. Since coming to Columbia he has received as many as 6,500 letters from listeners in one day.

He is assisted in his work by a large staff. His offices occupy almost an entire floor of a New York hotel. There he has on file nearly three million letters, catalogued as to their various problems, which he has received since he started to broadcast.

Wasey Products will continue the sponsorship of his broadcasts.

DX fans are often puzzled by the time difference throughout the world, and have difficulty in computing the time at distant points with respect to the local time. Particularly is this true in the short-wave field, where foreign DX reception is not only possible, but a regular occurrence. For instance, when the Pacific network gives us the London rebroadcasts, no doubt many listeners are puzzled to know the hour in London corresponding to Pacific time. The local time, under the "Pacific" heading, corresponds to the time indicated on the same horizontal line in any other part of the world. It is seen that 2 a. m. here is 10 a. m. in London, 9:30 p. m. in New Zealand, 8 p. m. in Sydney, 7 p. m. in Japan, etc. If you should hear Manila on short waves at 6 a. m., you will know that it is 10 p. m. there. In order to determine whether it is the same day, or the preceding or following day, follow this rule: Crossing from dark to light area at midnight, indicates the following day. Crossing from light to dark area indicates preceding day.
