PREFACE

Among the licenses issued by the Federal Communications Commission are those which authorize standard broadcast licensees to operate only during the daytime or for a specified limited time. Section 3.79 of the Commission's Rules and Regulations provides that, "If the licensee of a broadcast station is required to commence or cease operation of the station at the time of sunrise or sunset, the license will specify the hour of the day during each month of the license period when operation of such station will commence or cease." This also applies to changes in operation.

Section 3.8 provides that, "sunrise and sunset mean, for each particular location and during any particular month, the average time of sunrise and sunset as specified in the license of a broadcast station."

The within table contains the average time of sunrise and sunset to the nearest fifteen-minute period for a number of cities and localities in the United States. The times set forth therein are based on exact times of sunrise and sunset which, in turn, are determined in accordance with a standardized procedure described in the Nautical Almanac published by the Almanac Office of the United States Naval Observatory.

From time to time the table will require revision due to the fact that authorizations have been granted by the Commission to stations situated in localities which are not listed in the table.
