Please include your current mailing address, if not on your check, and your email address, if you have one.

Coming Events

Please note that the following 2 pages contain the essential information for all of the Meets to be presented by the IHRS for the full calendar year. Make note of these now and reserve the dates. In addition, other club's activities have also been posted.

Other clubs in this area should provide any and all information to the president with a copy to the editor so that we may list the dates for your meets in the "Bulletin". We hope by sharing this data, we will all experience even better turnouts for meets, auctions, and seminars. These listings will appear in the coming editions of the "Bulletin". Herman Gross is to be congratulated on organizing and obtaining this information in advance.

Minutes of the Indiana Historical Radio Society

October 14, 2000 - Greenfield, Indiana

The meeting was called to order by IHRS Secretary, Fred Prohl at 12:30 PM. Twenty-eight members were in attendance.

The minutes of the IHRS Elkhart meeting, August 19, 2000 were read and approved. A note of appreciation was given for the written communications to members by Shirley Gross.

Treasurer Dr. Michael Clark reported an IHRS checking account balance of $3800.00.

The following items were discussed under new business.

Election of officers for the year 2001.

Nominating committee co-chairs Marilyn and Don Johnston presented candidates for IHRS offices in the following order:

Museum Curator - Fred Schultz with Marcella Schultz as Co-Curator. Nominations were requested from the floor with no additions given. Fred Schultz and Marcella Schultz received unanimous approval for the office.

Historian - Dr. Ed Taylor. Nominations were requested from the floor with no additions given. Dr. Ed Taylor received unanimous approval for the office.

Editor - Bob O'Friel. Nominations were requested from the floor with no additions given. Bob O'Friel received unanimous approval for the office.

Secretary, Secretary/Treasurer - At the request of incumbent Treasurer Dr. Mike Clark and the stated interest of Secretary Fred Prohl the nominating committee presented Fred Prohl as candidate for the combined responsibility as Secretary/Treasurer. Nominations were requested from the floor with no additions given. Fred Prohl received unanimous approval for the office.

Vice President - George Freeman. Nominations were requested from the floor with no additions given. George Freeman received unanimous approval for the office.

President - Herman Gross. Nominations were requested from the floor with no additions given. Herman Gross received unanimous approval for the office.

Spring meet location.

Glen Fitch presented a case for locating the IHRS June 2001 meeting at the Greenfield Fairgrounds. The site offers a large air conditioned indoor space on ground level, electrical service, a PA system, outdoor set up space on grass, and RV parking space. Many of the attending members had favorable comments to relocating the June meeting to a place like the Greenfield Fairgrounds. The disadvantages of close motel space and food service were discussed. Following a member suggestion, a straw vote was taken on: "The June 2001 IHRS meet should relocate to the Greenfield Fairgrounds? Yes or no." The raise of hands appeared to be a unanimous yes with no desenting vote.

The meeting was adjourned at 1:05 PM.

Message from the President

Herman Gross

I think two records were made at the Fall Foliage Meet in Greenfield this year. This has to be the only annual business meeting where both the President and Vice President were not in attendance. Also Dr. Mike Clark turned over the treasurer's job to the new Secretary/Treasurer, Fred Prohl, ending a 6 year term, 1994 thru 2000, as keeper of the books. Thank you and well done Mike. Fred Prohl's report of the business meeting, including election of officers for 2001, is elsewhere in this Bulletin.

2001 starts a new millennium and our 30th year. We are making some changes. We are publishing all the info we know about the meets in this Bulletin so that all members have as much info as possible up to the time of this printing. There should be no question on where and when the meets will be held, what the contest categories are and local motel info, among other things. You will note that we have five (5) meets this year. It is an experiment. We will have an Operating Radio meet at Noblesville in Sept. Perhaps an unfortunate date, being so close to other meets, but best we could do at last minute. The Spring Festival in June will move 9 miles East from the Signature Inn location to the Hancock County fairgrounds at Greenfield. Yes, two meets in Greenfield in 2001. In 2002 if we decide to keep the Spring meet at Greenfield, and if the Operating Radio meet is successful, we may combine that event with the October Fall Foliage meet. The Fall event would then meet at Noblesville. We would have reverted to four (4) meets. These are some of the issues being considered at this time. Your participation and suggestions will go a long way in shaping the meet situation for 2002.

Sorry Shirley and I missed you at the Fall meet. We plan to be at the Winter meet and hope to see you there. Oh yes, please keep in mind that the February (Winter) meet is a good time to renew your membership.

We were definitely blessed by the weather gods for this meet. As you can tell from the photographs, there was a pretty fair turnout. There were many different radios and similar equipment for sale in the flea market as well as some parts. The contest consisted of 2 categories, 1) Radios made in contiguous states-- --Bob Sands took the First Place ribbon for his excellent Crosley World's Fair Radio with documentation. Crosley, of course, was manufactured in Cincinnati. The second category called for Homebrew Battery sets and Dr. Mike Clark went away with a First Place award with a rather unusual 1 tube device. There were some interesting entries including a large multitube radio with a see through port that was submitted by Bob Avey.

A very nice luncheon was supplied by the attendees and was enjoyed by all who stayed on to eat and to be on hand for the election. It is a great shame that there was a small turnout for the lunch. There was a great deal of the friendship that is always a part of these meets. The meeting was short and to the point and, as was stated elsewhere in this edition, the election officials in Florida could learn a lot.

The wives who put this together deserve multiple rounds of applause. Our thanks too to the men who brought items to share.

The meeting concluded and by a little after 2PM, most of the attendees had packed up and shipped out. This proves the point that not much time is lost in attending the business meetings. This one was special since it involved the election. We understand that not everyone can spend the time requirements of being an officer, but it is important for you to vote if we are to place the ones, who have your interest at heart, in office.

Remember, you can't complain if you didn't vote.

Special thanks too to Glenn and Ramona Fitch who stayed over to clean the meeting room and who helped organize the meet!!!

Vans. Sedans, trucks of all types were on hand to display their wares. A wide diversity of product satisfied many a buyer. Certainly another attraction is the wonderful pitch-in lunch that is always a great treat. We feel that the wives should receive a special night out after attending these shows and serving these meals.

Bob Snively, an expert in cabinet restoration, brought some fine items from Richmond including this Zenith console seen below.

MUSEUM REPORT

MARCELLA SCHULTZ

Can you believe it has been five years since the museum opened its doors in 1995. Even being optimistic, we had no idea the number of visitors we would have. October our last month of summer hours saw between 500 and 600 visitors, half of these being from out of state. November 1st to May 1st, we will only be open on Saturdays from 10AM to 2PM. Many new items have been added. One of the greatest attractions is our working light bulb display with most of the bulbs being over 100 years old. Other new additions include Atwater Kent model 9, (the breadboard), Atwater Kent Radiodyne, an RCA 77 microphone, several crystal sets, Deforest DT600 and a DT700.

The Jennie C. Thompson Foundation of Ligonier recently provided us with a grant to upgrade our security and fire systems.

The Museum will greatly miss Ross Smith. He was not only a good person, but was also a great supporter of the Radio Museum and the IHRS. We would also like to thank those who have made donations to the museum in Ross's memory. These donations are put directly into the museum account at the Noble County Community Foundation and play an important part in keeping us operating.

As we close another season, I would like to thank the wonderful contribution made by our local volunteers. Without their hard work, running this operation would be near impossible. In the beginning, nearly all of them knew nothing about radio. Since then, they have become very knowledgeable and can give a great amount of radio information to our museum visitors. We receive many letters of praise for the great job these people do!

Any one with items to donate or loan for display can contact me at 1-219-894-3779 or you can e-mail me at olradio@ligtel.com. Fred Schultz, IHRS/IHRM curator.

Marcella Schultz

(Note from the editor, notice the new art work sent by Marcella which is being used to introduce this column on a monthly basis. It appears at the top of the preceding page).

Articles wanted!!!! Send us your stories about restoration projects you have been into and share the benefits of your experiences with others who may be just entering this phase of this great hobby. These articles can be based on either the cabinet restoration or the electronic aspect. Help us spread the word and send them to the editor at the address shown on page 2 of this "Bulletin".

Thanks, Bob O'Friel.

Comments From The Editor

Well!!! Many things have taken place since the last "Bulletin". First and foremost, the IHRS held our annual elections at the "Fall Foliage Meet" that took place on Saturday, October 14th at Greenfield. The following were elected. Herman Gross, President; George Freeman continues as vice president, Ed Taylor as Historian, Fred M. Schultz as Museum Curator, and yours truly, Bob O'Friel as Editor of the "Bulletin". This is indeed an honor but there are some limits which are stated later on. The speed at which the election took place should make heads turn in Florida. Now here the flow changes. It was decided and voted on that the office of secretary be combined with the post of treasurer. Fred Prohl was nominated and the vote passed in favor of Fred assuming that post. Dr. Michael Clark has been our treasurer for over 6 years and has ably supported the role. He is to be commended for his great contribution to that post as well as in other phases of the club's operation. He has organized and helped to run many events for the club and will continue to support those functions. Dr. Clark, however, (in order to eliminate any confusion) warns that no funds or payments for membership or any other club functions are to be sent to him. Membership renewals and any other checks should be sent to Fred Prohl at the address shown on page two.

Remember what you read in this column in the last "Bulletin"? Well hold on!!! There have been many changes!!! Stay tuned. To put things in perspective, some major events have taken place making the changes necessary. After the last "Bulletin" was mailed, I became aware of the closing of a fine restaurant which, coincidentally, happened to be The Laughners' cafeteria on Washington Street where we have been having our "Awards Banquets" the last few years. I was about to approach the "Old Country Buffett" in the shopping center on the south side of the street when, past president, Glenn Fitch suggested to Herman that we use the facilities just north of the clubhouse where we have been having our annual "Fall Foliage" meets. There is plenty of room to even hold some of the activity indoors. President Gross has the details in his message so read on. There are a number of details that will need to be resolved such as the location of the Awards Banquet and indeed, whether there will be an "Awards Banquet". What sort of entertainment will be available and other questions. so stay tuned as I mentioned above. There is a listing of Motels in the vicinity although there are none "on campus" or at the gate as the saying goes. However, none are so far away as to provide any hardship as you will see from Herman's writeup.

The subject of Auctions has appeared in this column before and will probably continue but, for now, I wanted to add some comments of my own from recent experiences. Last year, I had the pleasure of attending the Lionel Haid estate auction in Richmond. It was well prepared, organized, advertised and attended. True collectors were on hand to bid on and buy many items of their choice. It seemed to me to be a role model of the action suggested by the AWA Old Timers Bulletin in their November 1999 article written by Robert Lozier. There was a wealth of good items available as could be seen in our review of the event in the Winter 1999 (Vol.28, #4) edition of "The Bulletin". One thing that was evident to me was the fact that Lionel was indeed a collector who was in the hobby to "Preserve Radio History for Posterity" which parallels our club's purpose.

By comparison, I went to a recent auction in Fort Wayne. There were only 4 or 5 true treasures. The most notable shortcoming seemed to be the removal of tubes from the equipment, (probably with the intent to sell the tubes separately). Much of the material on hand showed either poor storage techniques or improper packing etc..

It did not seem as though the material had been collected from the viewpoint of any Historical interest.

Although this auction described was advertised and promoted in a better fashion, the merchandise didn't meet the expectations. Members Bob Shuck and Mike Feldt did encounter a third auction that was held at an old TV Shop in Baker's Corner, just west of SR31 and slightly north of 146th St.. There were some items of interest and Bob bought a set of Rider's manuals at a good price. Bob and Mike avoided bidding conflict by agreeing ahead of time as to what each was hoping to acquire. In this case, the material was there but someone failed to get good advertising out in publication, they had the market to themselves. Now all of this opens up to looking at why our last auction at the "June Spring Fling" was not a success. We took advantage of a number of suggestions and decided to allow free attendance, (only the dealers paid admission), advertising was utilized, and even told the story of what the auction was all about on the radio. Perhaps it would behoove us to not use the regular newspapers and to use The Antique Weekly. We did have the show information available in Antique Radio Classified but there was not the response anticipated or needed. Fred Prohl now has a listing and a site on the NET and perhaps since we hear that so much of our type of trading is now going on via Internet, it may help our cause. May we hear from you on this subject??? (Please!!!).

Now back to the topic of the election and my appointment as editor. I do appreciate it and consider it an honor accordingly, I need to state that my service in this position is to last until the next election in September, 2001. We will need to have located a qualified replacement to be on hand as the nominee in said election. The applicant must be able to correct and maintain good spelling in the articles submitted, have a computer and, if possible, a scanner along with a high quality printer. If you have any interest in this post and have questions, call me. In the meantime, I'll see you wherever radios live. Bob O'Friel, Editor

Indiana Radio History - September 15, 1953

Four Million Model 740-T Radios Now History

Reported in the Arvin Folks, November 1953

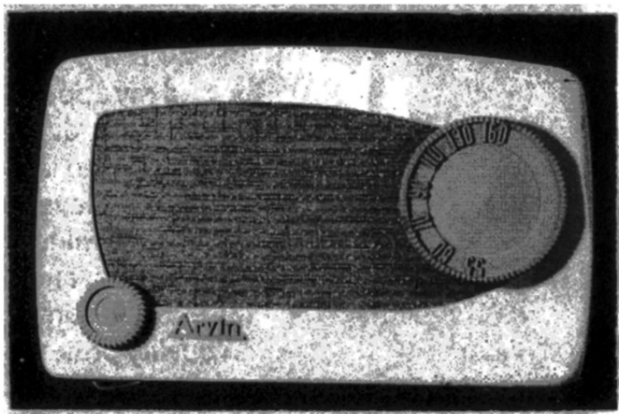

"Four million radios . . . On September 15 the four millionth 4-tube Arvin radio came off the assembly line. Its cabinet was a sparkling bright coral, one of the "Rainbow" series, model 740T.

The four millionth 4-tube radio is a direct descendant of the first one which was made in 1938. Its appearance has changed to keep abreast of changing designs but the cabinet is the shatter-proof type that brought fame to Arvin. There have been engineering changes, too, through the years, to keep the radio among the leaders."

As expected with an employee publication the remainder of the above article profiles sales and assembly employees involved in the 740T production. The title, "Four million Model 740-T Radios . . ." seems to indicate there were four million 740T's assembled. The article clears this up by stating there were 4 million four tube radios assembled by Arvin as of September 15, 1953. Dan Howard wrote in the January 1993 ARC that the 740T was also available in cherry, citron, green, ivory, and tan in addition to coral to complete the rainbow color series. He adds that the 740T is a difficult collectable to find. (Dan's article is a excellent reference on Arvin metal radios.)

Antique Wireless Association Conference

Rochester New York, September 6-9, 2000

Some 981 Antique Radio enthusiasts and collectors attended this annual event which reflects a reduction from last year's total. Fortunately, some of the attendees were IHRS members such as, our president, Herman Gross and his wife, Shirley, along with Ed Taylor, and Pete and Edna Yanczer. Others included Fin and Jeanette Stewart from Australia who won the Tyne Tube Award and Charles Stinger our IHRS representative from Ohio who won the "Best of Show" award. This was for his very excellent presentation on the famed 500 Kilowatt WLW transmitter complete with a lightning riddled top ball for the great Mason Ohio tower. Pete Yanczer participated in one of his favorite topics, mechanical scan TV systems.

There were people from all over the world at the show since this is and has been one of the biggest events of its kind. Size may have some effect on the lower attendance. Some of the parking is over a half mile away and although a shuttle bus is available, its arrival may not coincide with the need when you have just acquired a Zenith Stratosphere or similar large purchase and want to take it to the car. Motel policies may rule some of the procedures here which tends to restrict growth. Registration costs are another factor which could add to this problem, Ed Taylor states however that this is still the Radio event of the year.

The Awards banquet always provides the opportunity to share good food and fellowship. Here, IHRS member Pete Yanczer joins Edison de Freitas and Maria de Oliveira for the repast. Edison and Maria hail from Sao Paulo Brazil. There were people on hand from all over the world.

IHRS's Australian members Fin and Jeanette Stewart join Edison de Oliveira from Sao Paulo Brazil to make the rounds of the dealers at the AWA meet.

times at the IHRS meets.
