NO-CAL IS SOLD ON SPOT..

ADVERTISER: How do No-Cal and its agency, Paris & Peart, account for the biggest New York sales jump in No-Cal history? They credit Spot Television on WRCA-TV.

No-Cal Board Chairman Hyman Kirsch says, "Spot TV . . . because its high frequency at low cost makes a full saturation campaign financially feasible. And Spot's selectivity allows us to concentrate on our prime sales target – the figure-conscious housewife."

"WRCA-TV," continues Mr. Kirsch, ". . . first, because it commands such a healthy chunk of the New York audience. Secondly, because it offers an economical saturation schedule of good availabilities. And finally, because the station backs our 30-spots-per-week, around the clock campaign with a complete merchandising and promotion program – the headline-making Miss No-Cal Contest."

Does Spot Television on WRCA-TV deliver? "Actual sales figures are confidential," says Mr. Kirsch, "but No-Cal is devoting a larger share of a larger advertising budget to Spot TV. Not only have we signed for an increased Spot schedule on WRCA-TV, and renewed our sponsorship of the Miss No-Cal Contest for 1958, but we've also expanded our Spot TV campaign into the Philadelphia market."

RETAILER: Joseph Reich, Grand Union Supermarket Manager in White Plains says, "Judging from the additional number of cases we've been moving, No-Cal sales have increased appreciably in recent weeks."

Retailers and advertisers alike are convinced that No-Cal's use of Spot Television pays off right down the line. They know first-hand what adjacencies to the great NBC entertainment lineup and the top local programs can do for advertisers who buy schedules on the television stations represented by NBC Spot Sales.

Foreword

RADIO-TELEVISION DAILY, the daily newspaper of the radio and television industry, once again presents to the world of broadcasting its RADIO ANNUAL and TELEVISION YEAR BOOK. This volume is the twenty-first edition of broadcasting's encyclopedia and is consistently recognized throughout the world as the standard book of reference for the industry.

THE enthusiastic support received from the broadcasting industry in compiling this twenty-first annual edition bespeaks its sustained interest in the volume and its confidence in the future of broadcasting. Here will be found documentation of the untiring creative efforts of all who have contributed so much to the success of this indispensable medium.

AGAIN we are grateful to all who have contributed to the success of this volume. Without their contributions this dramatic story of a growing service could never have been so completely told.

Chas A. Alicoate.

In spots... there's no substitute for experience!

The successful production of TV commercials requires the expertness that comes from years of experience.

In 1948, when Universal-International made a series of spots for Lux, it became the first major film company to use its technical skill and remarkable facilities in the production of TV commercials.

Since then, U-I's roster of clients has grown, and grown, and grown... and now reads like the Blue Book of American Industry.

But — the proof of the spot is in the viewing. What Universal-International has done for other successful advertisers, it will do for you! Why not see?

Financial Data Covering 1955-56 Broadcasting Industry Operations

A continued increase in total revenue for the radio-television industry in 1956 is indicated by financial figures released by the Federal Communications Commission. Combined radio and television income before tax shows an increase of 21.7 per cent over the figures for 1955 (in 1955 this increase was 48.4 per cent over the preceding year). While the four nationwide radio networks and their owned and operated stations show a revenue decrease of 11.7 per cent in 1956, three regional networks and their stations are reported to have a revenue increase of 14.7 per cent. The revenue increase for all other stations is 9.4 per cent.

( ) Denotes loss.

(1) In view of the difficulty in a joint AM-FM operation in allocating FM operation expense separately from AM station operation expense, licensees of such stations were not required to report FM station expense separately. As a result, FM industry totals for expense and income are not available. AM-FM licensees, however, were requested to report separately the revenues, if any, attributable to FM station operation if such data were readily available. In only a few instances did AM-FM licensees state they were unable to segregate the FM revenues.

OWNERSHIP OF TV SETS

A Percentage Study of U. S. Family Television Ownership—by Location and Family Types

• A continued increase in the number of U. S. families owning television sets (five per cent more in January, 1957 than in January, 1956) is indicated by the latest figures made available by the Market Research Corporation of America. This organization, feeling that television ownership has reached a saturation point of about 80 per cent, has ceased to compile current figures.

Radio Receivers — World-Wide Distribution

At the end of 1957, the number of radio receivers and wired speakers in the world, exclusive of the United States, its territories, and Canada, had expanded by 10 per cent and 16 per cent respectively, as compared with February, 1957. Of the approximate increase of 12,800,000 radio receivers (exclusive of wired speakers), the greatest expansion both in absolute numbers and proportionately, took place in the Communist Bloc countries of Eastern Europe (4,500,000—27 per cent), followed by Western European countries (4,000,000—six per cent), the Far East (2,700,000—14 per cent), the Near East, South Asia, and Africa (1,000,000—13 per cent), and Latin America (600,000—*three per cent). The more than 4,000,000 increase in the number of wired speakers took place almost exclusively in Communist Bloc countries. The following tabulation of radio receivers and wired speakers by areas and by countries of the world is as of December 31, 1957.

Accuracy of the material varies with the reliability of the statistics utilized by the sources. In some instances official statistics based upon licensed sets and supplemented by estimates as to the number of unlicensed sets were relied upon. Other sources, in countries where there are no licensing systems, have had to make informed guesses or estimates from import and production statistics. At best, radio set statistics are approximate and should be treated with caution, particularly when they refer to newly-developing countries.

Broadcasting Expansion During 1957 Increased Heavy Burdens On The FCC

JOHN C. DOERFER
Chairman
Federal Communications Commission

THE close of 1957 finds the Commission with about 1,900,000 radio authorizations on its books. This is the largest number in its 23 years of existence.

It is significant that for every broadcast facility there are nearly 50 radio stations of other kinds which serve the public, commerce and individuals. Altogether, about one and a quarter million fixed and mobile transmitters are in use.

Broadcast authorizations collectively now approximate 8,500.

They include:

About 3,300 AM stations.

More than 800 TV stations. Of these, over 650 are commercial, over 100 are translators, and over 50 are educational.

More than 700 FM stations. Nearly 600 of these are commercial and over 150 are educational.

Two stations which send programs overseas.

Auxiliary, remote pickup, studio-transmitter links and other adjuncts account for the remaining 3,600 broadcast authorizations.

The Commission has recommended to Congress that the law be changed to permit licensing broadcast stations for 5 instead of 3 years.

The Commission is studying a special staff report on TV network operations.

"Satellite" and "translator" stations are bringing TV service to smaller communities. In addition, the Commission is proposing "booster" and "repeater" stations to extend TV service to even more isolated places.

Channels reserved for educational TV use now number 256. This is 14 more than allocated originally.

A special industry group known as the Television Allocations Study Organization is completing an engineering review of present and potential UHF and VHF television service.

Commercial FM stations show their first numerical increase in 9 years.

Resolvement of tbe "clear channel" and "daytime skywave" problems affecting AM operations is receiving priority consideration at special meetings of the Commission.

The United States and Mexico have agreed on AM and UHF-TV channel use along the border. The Senate has pending the 1950 North American Regional Broadcasting Agreement on AM operation.

The Commission is re-examining its frequency allocations to radio services throughout most of the radio spectrum in the light of present and future needs and technical developments.

It is dealing with new spectrum-saving techniques such as "offset carrier," "single sideband" and "split channel" transmission, also tropospheric and ionospheric "scatter" techniques, and expanding "microwave" operation.

The growing height of antenna towers requires joint consideration by Federal agencies concerned with hazards to air navigation—especially since the advent of the jet plane. The Commission proposes that towers over 500 feet high be grouped on "antenna farms" away from the air lanes. It also seeks legislation to require the painting and lighting of abandoned towers. About 90 TV towers exceeding 1,000 feet in height are operating authorized or applied for.

The FCC monitoring network helped obtain positioning data on the two Russian earth satellites. This was in addition to its normal around-the-clock patrol of the ether highways, including furnishing bearings on ships and planes in distress, detecting spectrum traffic violators, and determining areas of interference.

Competition and interference considerations now require one-third of all applications for new TV or AM stations to go to hearing. Hard-fought cases take at least a year to go through the prescribed application and hearing procedure, not considering further delays due to crowded dockets and extra time needed to handle the flood of associated pleadings. Many of these filings are repetitious and still further delay final determination.

To sum it up, the Commission is trying to handle an administrative load which has more than doubled in volume and complexities since World War II with little change in amount of appropriations or personnel.

A Growing Industry Meets A Year That Is Filled With New Challenges

By HAROLD E. FELLOWS
President and Chairman of the Board
National Association of Broadcasters

THE responsibilities which have been placed on the radio and television industry in its service to the American people have increased with the years. The great source of satisfaction which I have derived from a lifetime in broadcasting has been the way in which the industry has met those responsibilities. And I can recall no year to compare with the one that has just passed in which the demands made upon broadcasters have been greater or have been met with more imagination and with a deeper awareness of the vital function which broadcasting serves. I should like to review briefly some of the developments in television and radio during 1957 and to mention some of the contributions made by the National Association of Broadcasters.

Just 10 years ago there were 102,000 television sets in the nation, most of them in New York. Today there are 47 million sets in use in nearly 42 million American homes.

Ten years is a very short time for an infant industry to grow to a major one. Television has become a way of life for Americans. It has brought into being new ideas, new ways of acting and thinking, and it is proving to be the most effective means ever devised by which values can be communicated to a mass audience. That television can and does transmit ideas to tens of millions of homes in one instant is perhaps not so significant as that as a medium of instant communication it also creates new ideas.

The proof, if indeed any is needed, of the impact which television may have upon ideas and world developments was given in dramatic terms during 1957.

Public service programming was in fact for many of us the most exciting aspect of television during the past year, remarkable for the high level of responsibility it reached and for the wide scope of its concern.

With all three national TV networks offering memorable programming, the 1957-58 season was the most competitive in television's history.

While television continued its amazing growth, radio dramatically captured attention by demonstrating again that it could sell, inform and entertain in a way no other medium can. Financially 1956 was the best year in radio's history. Estimates indicate that 1957 will be even better. Today radio has the largest potential audience of any mass means of communication, reaching over 98 per cent of American homes and, on a typical day, approximately 70 million people.

With these developments in radio and television broadcasting, the National Association of Broadcasters has been intimately concerned. In 1957 NAB membership reached an all-time high with 2,187 members. This gratifying support has increased along with the activities in which NAB has been involved.

A major development within NAB was the expansion of its Public Relations Service, which has as the underlying theme of its expanded efforts "Broadcasting Serves America." Weekly and monthly publications, television and radio kits, speech materials, brochures and booklets designed for various broadcast purposes, and on-the-air material have been designed to aid the broadcaster and to show the service of broadcasting in its responsible programming, its ability to inform directly and accurately, and its effectiveness as an economic stimulus for selling goods and expanding markets.

Certainly the greatest challenge during the year with which broadcasters, and consequently NAB, was faced was the FCC decision to consider applications for pay-TV on broadcast channels. From its early days the NAB has opposed subscription broadcasting as against the public interest, and at a time when a free and continuous flow of information and ideas is needed as never before it remains in firm opposition.

These and many other vital problems were reviewed at eight NAB regional conferences held in the fall. The results of these meetings were gratifying. The promise for 1958 is great, and I have no doubt that we shall realize it to the fullest.

Electronics Industry Continues Its Growth; 10% Increase Is Forecast

By
JAMES D. SECREST
Executive
Vice President
Electronic Industries
Association

THE radio-TV-electronics industry continued its spectacular growth in 1957 and achieved a new dollar volume record at the factory level of $7.6 billion. This trend will probably continue in 1958 with a rise of eight to 10 per cent.

Factory sales of all types of electronic products rose more than 30 per cent above the 1956 level of $5.9 billion. Military electronics alone increased from $2.7 billion to about $3.9 billion during the past year and this rate of spending is sure to rise further in 1958.

About half of the industry's production revenue now comes from its sales to the Armed Services. Consumer goods, including radio-TV sets and phonographs, which once dominated the industry's output now account for only about 20 per cent.

The television business was the only industry segment which declined in 1957, but balanced inventories made it more stable than in other years when production and sales were higher. Only one manufacturer withdrew from the competition compared with a score in 1956.

While TV set production dropped 12 per cent, compared with 1956, retail sales of about 6.6 million were only three per cent below the previous year. Manufacturers believe television receiver sales and production will bounce back in 1958 close to the seven million mark.

Multiple TV set homes increased to an estimated five million by the end of the year, while total television receivers in use amounted to 46 million.

Radio, which has made a remarkable resurgence during the past few years, continued its advance in 1957. Production of all types of radios rose nine per cent to 15.4 million. One-third of these were auto sets and two-thirds were home and portable receivers.

The trend toward substitution of transistors for tubes turned sharply upward. The production of transistorized auto sets jumped more than 300 per cent, while portables with transistors almost doubled.

National interest was focused during the year on two experiments which may greatly broaden the use of television. The most significant of these was the application of closed circuit TV to the classroom as an aid to teaching. An industry-sponsored program at Hagerstown, Md., now in its second year, drew educators from all parts of the United States.

While subscription TV was still awaiting its chance to test public interest, wired television for the home was inaugurated during the year in Bartlesville, Oklahoma. Whether this form of TV transmission will spread was conjectural at the end of 1957, but several West Coast cities were investigating its potentials and practicality.

While Uncle Sam was the biggest single customer of the electronics industry in 1957, industrial and commercial uses of electronics increased. Sales rose from $950 million to $1.3 billion and ran close to the $1.5 billion return from consumer products.

The manufacture of smaller and less expensive computers opened the market for many new commercial organizations. Further expansions are expected in 1958.

Although still in an experimental stage, electronic controls for traffic and the family car appear just around the corner. Such representative organizations as the American Automobile Association urged that these applications be expedited in the interest of highway safety. Electronic garage door openers already are on the market.

The importance of electronics to our national defense and to space explorations became more obvious as military expenditures on missiles skyrocketed. Electronics will be equally vital to the satellite program. About 23 per cent of defense procurement funds now go to electronic manufacturers.

This Year National Advertisers Will Take A New Look At Syndication

By GEORGE T.
SHUPERT
President
ABC Film Syndication

SOMETIMES familiarity breeds respect, at least it looks that way insofar as the television film industry goes. We have sufficient evidence to predict that this year will be known as the year that national advertisers took a new look at syndication—and liked what they saw.

Until recently national advertisers bought very few syndicated film programs and when they did it was in only a limited number of markets. In January, 1956, ABC Film Syndication's client list included only 10 national advertisers. Two years later the list included thirty-two national sponsors, an increase of 220 per cent. Of equal significance is the fact that these national sponsors contracted for a firm 52 weeks of programming whereas in the past the average contract with a national sponsor was seldom for more than 26 weeks. We are convinced that national advertisers are becoming more and more sold on the values of spot film programming and that their ranks will increase.

Naturally, the paramount question is "What has brought about this change?"

First, let's examine the economic situation. All media costs are high and getting higher and in order to get the maximum mileage from every advertising dollar, advertisers are becoming more critical of their expenditures. Astute TV advertisers recognize that the use of syndicated film to boost sales in weaker areas is more efficient than blanketing the entire country regardless of particular market needs.

National advertisers are able to target their TV with spot film programs and further are able to select the program they want.

Another factor which has arisen to make national advertisers more favorably disposed toward syndication is the response to syndicated film from the field. Many local advertisers (car dealers, electric appliance retailers, etc.) who get co-op money from their national suppliers have used this money successfully by sponsoring syndicated films. Their success stories have been relayed to the national suppliers with increasing frequency. No one can argue with the fact that syndicated film is the only medium which offers high quality production for local use.

Another source of information for national advertisers is the success enjoyed by their regional competitors who are heavy buyers of syndicated film. A regional brewery such as Rheingold in New York and a regional dairy such as H. P. Hood & Sons in New England provide very stiff competition for their national counterparts.

Another important factor which has contributed to the "new look" is in the area of time availabilities. Until recently national advertisers thought that they couldn't get prime time for spot programming. They were reluctant to buy the fringe time in the early or late evenings because they thought that these times couldn't deliver sufficient audience. Both theories are all wrong and national advertisers are beginning to realize this.

Local station support is another important factor which should not be overlooked by the national advertiser in his consideration of TV programming. The amount of promotion and merchandising support which a station will make available to a syndicated film sponsor is greater than that available to a network sponsor. Promotion helps to build audiences, build ratings and increase the sponsor's opportunities to make sales.

Of course, there are many more factors which have helped to raise the stature of syndicated film with national advertisers other than those already mentioned—high standards of production, great variety of programming types, big star names. I would, however, like to close with this prediction:

In the 1958-1959 season, I am confident that 15 to 20 more national advertisers who hitherto have been network users only will turn to syndication as the only answer to their specific sales needs. National advertisers who have "sampled" syndication will be back for bigger portions.

TV Film Looks Bright, But Salesmen Hold Key To Its Future Performance

By
JOHN F. HOWELL
Gen. Sales Manager
CBS Television
Film Sales, Inc.

IN any discussion regarding salesmen it would be unrealistic for me to look at the sales personnel situation without first sending off a salvo in tribute to those "pros" who are currently selling film at a rate far beyond early industry predictions. I have worked with, and against, the best equipped men to be found in any business. They are smart, personable, forceful, and their knowledge of the broadcasting business is far-ranging.

I have a great admiration for my colleagues and our competition and, at the same time, an intense curiosity about who will replace them when they move into administrative work or retirement. Most of the people I know come either from broadcasting or motion pictures. They were the first in a young industry and since everyone was starting at the same time there was tolerance for mistakes and early misconceptions about the selling of television film programs.

Then was then, however, and today there is a great sophistication to be found in the business of selling films for television. The men who are selling know their profession; they know their product so thoroughly they can offer it in a wide variety of appealing manners.

Because the selling of film programs has become so highly developed, it is time for us to let the present take care of itself and expend some thought on the future. And in a business where there is such intense competition for the advertising dollar, the difference between success and failure will rest in the sales department. For that reason, CBS Television Film Sales has embarked on a Sales Training Program.

When we look for a man to go into film sales today, we look for a man who has a proven record of success in this field. If we can't find him, rather than convert someone who has been trained to sell another product, we prefer to take a young man and train him our way. It has been CBS' notion for some time that the best executives are those who have started at an early age and have grown up with our company.

Consequently, in the past few months, when we have increased our sales force 27 per cent, half of the personnel hired have had no previous television experience. They were brought to New York for an intensive training course in the home office and then assigned to their particular offices. They are going to have a rough time of it for awhile. They will be competing in the field with salesmen who have been highly effective for many years. But if they stick with it—and I'm convinced they will—they will be among the key men in CBS Television Film Sales in the years to come.

We have several goals in our training program. First, we teach the man to know his company. He meets the key executives, converses with department heads, spends time in each area of our operation. If he is transferred 3,000 miles away, and a problem arises, he knows whom to call. This is basic, but it serves two important functions. It gives the new account executive a realization of the service staff behind his line operation. Secondly, his indoctrination gives him the feeling that he is a company man, and I mean that in its finest sense. We want the new account executive to realize that he is CBS, and not simply a toiler in a remote outpost of some big New York company. Beyond that we try to instill three cardinal strengths in our account executives: 1) Know your product, 2) Know your client's problems, and 3) Solve your client's problems with our product.

We at CBS Television Film Sales are bullish about the future of television film, at the national, regional, and local levels. In just a few years we have seen it grow from a business where we were offering two obscure musicals to a point where we are now offering one hour originals and the best product ever turned out in Hollywood. The growth in dollars and in the quality of our product has been fantastic.

Independent Operation Puts Mark Upon The Present And Future Of Radio

By DONALD H. McGANNON
President
Westinghouse
Broadcasting Co.

THE shape of the present and immediate future of radio is independent. Our own experience is that since we elected to program our radio stations locally a little over a year ago, these stations have known their greatest year. Ratings are up, sales have increased, and studies show us that the Westinghouse stations, as independents, more closely conform to the audience's conception of the ideal station.

Now, some will counter that all radio is up. True, but independents have shown the most dramatic rate of climb.

Adam Young's recent Pulse examination of the top 25 markets confirms our own findings. This analysis was based upon the ratings from 6:00 a.m. to 6:00 p.m., Monday through Friday. In November of 1952, the number one station in each of these markets was affiliated with a network. Four years later, in 1956, a local independent station was tied or in first place in 13 of these markets and, in the latter part of 1957, the independents occupied first place in 21 of the 25 markets.

However, independent radio takes many different forms. What outline will the long-range successful ones assume?

Music and news are the two key components of independent radio operation. Since they possess these elements in common it might be concluded that all independents would sound alike. We deny that this is an inescapable conclusion. We believe that with the addition of a strong service element and through the use of creative and aggressive methods you can end up having as many differences in quality and acceptance between radio stations in a market as you can among newspapers in the same city, all of whom present the same community news; all use modern printing presses, have access to the same wire services, employ similar distribution services, and make broad use of feature, editorial and supplement services.

We think of the programming of our radio stations as a major effort. Each program is individually produced. Records are carefully selected. We include the top hits of the day, but never exclusively. With them are included many standards, up-and-coming tunes, regional favorites, and others. Extremely important is that difficult-to-define quality we call pacing, that subtle selection that provides a pleasing progression of numbers. Add to all this the effective use of personalities with deep sensitivity for the local touch and you achieve something that is different from the mechanical methods you hear so much about. Programming by rote overlooks the vital factor of local human interest.

Independent radio has a flexibility that lends itself to the immediacy that effective news presentation requires. You can go on the air at once, there is no waiting for the presses to roll with the next edition, nor, in the case of week-ends, any holdover until the Monday morning editions. WBC uses every source of news supply at our command, but mainly we rely upon strong local reportorial staffs. Our Washington Bureau supplies stations with a steady stream of local interpretations of national news, an ingredient that no other news service can supply.

It isn't enough just to entertain. You must enlighten and inform as well. The successful station must be public spirited and this is manifested by an interest in and concern for the community. This creates a chain reaction. The concern is communicated to the community and the station becomes more than a pleasant companion, it grows into a trusted friend as well.

It's the extra something that makes the difference. That's why we say, "Broadcasting is most effective on stations that have won the respect and confidence of the communities they serve."

High Quality Is Essential Basis Seen Sparking Future TV Film Production

By JOHN L. SINN
President
Ziv Television
Programs, Inc.

THE future of television film, from the point of view of film buyers as well as film makers, hinges largely on one question, "How high a level of quality can we achieve?" The effectiveness of film programming has proved itself over and over again; the ranks of its users are constantly growing. The years of "struggle for survival" are long since past. The focus for the future is now concentration on making each series we produce the finest, strongest, most exciting program possible.

Since 1956, Ziv Television Programs, Inc. has increased its budget for development and production from $8,000,000 to $16,000,000. That we have doubled our programming outlay has a significance far greater than that of indicating the growth of our own company. It is the surest sign that the television film industry is now fully geared to provide advertisers and broadcasters with programs that meet the highest standards.

We have seen the costs of creating quality programs mount steadily over the years. We know that the spiral cannot continue upwards to infinity. We must recognize the realistic limits on advertiser appropriations and be prepared to deliver outstanding programs within those limits.

To do this requires great resources on the part of the producer—resources of talent, experience and creativity as much as those of physical facilities and financial solidity.

Now, with such new series as "Target" and "Bat Masterson" before the cameras, and with others in various pre-production stages, we will have an even greater flow of quality product coming from the Ziv studios and from our location sites around the world.

This flow concept, I believe, is vital to our solution of the quality price dilemma. One of the great problems that has perplexed the industry has been the seasonal nature of buying and selling. With a peak of production and selling activity in the summer and spring months, there have been many instances of properties being rushed into the air before they were ready.

The concept that has guided our production and sales planning in the past few years has been to put creative work on a year-round basis. Time is a crucial ingredient in producing outstanding programs. There must be adequate time for the development of the program idea, for testing and experimentation. The search for the right stars, stories, directors; the adequate research and planning that are needed to make a program authentic and exciting; the careful dovetailing of all the many details of creating a series; these vital aspects of production cannot be hurried.

We have now achieved our goal of twelve-months-a-year creative work and have instituted a program of year-round sales efforts.

I can report that these policies have been tremendously successful. Advertisers and agencies have proved to be eager to seriously consider and commit for outstanding new programs, no matter what the month of the year.

I think we can accept this response from advertisers as a sure sign that the seasonal nature of programming needs has been exaggerated. Produce a series whose production values and conception have exceptional audience appeal and advertisers will be interested in any season.

The balancing of production and sales activity throughout the year is, I feel, one of the most important developments in the television film industry's march to maturity.

NBC Radio's new SALESVERTISING plan solves an important problem for national advertisers with moderate budgets. That is, how to activate all units of the distribution pipe-line in a marketing program.

SALESVERTISING magnifies the value and impact of an advertiser's network radio campaign, by getting greater action from his sales forces, wholesalers and retailers—to the point of stimulating local dealer tie-ins at local dealer expense!

PROOF For Waverly Fabric's first campaign, 2,376 stores bought 13,000 spots on NBC Radio affiliates. Waverly had never used network radio before...now slates 80% of its budget to NBC Radio.

PROOF 5,000 local tie-in spots were placed by Evinrude dealers on NBC Radio's affiliated stations. "This year's NBC Radio schedule will be 40% higher," says Evinrude.

PROOF Prior to 1957, only 8% of North American Van Line agents used local radio. Due to NBC Radio's SALESVERTISING, 81% of NAVL's key agents now tie-in locally.

Retail tie-ins are just one phase of the activation generated by SALESVERTISING. Everyone—right down the line—shares the excitement of a close-knit SELLING campaign planned to achieve benefits for all.

SALESVERTISING

SETS MARKETING IN MOTION FOR YOU!

SALESVERTISING plans are custom-designed for each advertiser. Your inquiry is invited for details and success stories in other industries.

SALESVERTISING is an innovation in efficient marketing, developed by the NBC RADIO NETWORK.

New Strides Are Accomplished In the Battle for Equal Access

By ROBERT D. SWEZEY
Chairman
Freedom of Information
Committee, NAB

"WITHIN the past two years every basic premise upon which the press photographer and the broadcaster have been arbitrarily excluded from many of the courtrooms of America has been exploded with such devastating certainty and finality as to be perfectly plain to most discerning minds, unless, to be sure, there is preconceived determination to arrive at the same old result."

These are not the words of a newspaper man or a broadcaster. They were spoken by the Chief Justice of the Supreme Court of Colorado, the Honorable O. Otto Moore, who has held public hearings, taking testimony pro and con on Canon 35, and observed demonstrations of camera, radio and television equipment in operation. Although Colorado is the only state in which such a hearing has been held in the court of last resort, lawyers and judges in other states are also questioning the validity of Canon 35. The Texas Bar Association decided last October that so far as it was concerned, Canon 35 was outmoded, and accepted and approved the report of a committee chaired by Judge Spurgeon Bell of the Houston Court of Civil Appeals, which stated in part as follows:

"We feel that the control of trial coverage by various news media should be left in the trial courts. They have inherent power to exclude or control coverage in the proper case in the interest of justice . . . there is no need nor demand for the adoption of Canon 35 by the bar generally or the public and we recommend against its adoption."

The American Bar Association took extraordinary action in permitting representatives of the newspapers and broadcasting industry to appear before its House of Delegates meeting in Atlanta in February, to debate the proposed adoption of a restatement of Canon 35. The restatement accomplished nothing other than a slight rephrasing of the Canon, which still retained its arbitrary prohibition against the taking of newspaper photographs and the broadcasting by radio and television of court proceedings. The House of Delegates refrained from adopting the restatement and deferred any action with respect to it until its August meeting. There is reason to hope that in its deferred consideration of Canon 35, the House of Delegates may be willing to recommend a serious joint effort of bar and media to test the effect of photographic and broadcasting coverage of court proceedings.

One of our principal deterrents in securing equal access to legislative hearings is the adamant refusal of Speaker Rayburn to permit radio and television coverage of House proceedings and committee hearings. Mr. Rayburn is a powerful man in a position of power, yet his opinion is not shared by many Congressmen. Representative Hugh Scott of Pennsylvania, speaking at our NAB meeting at Asheville, N. C., last September, said that broadcasting of debates from the House of Representatives is certainly going to be done at some future time, and should be given a trial now. He said further, and I quote:

"Although the Speaker of the House and the House Leadership took a dim view of my bill to permit the television and radio broadcasting of House debates, I continue to believe that my proposal has much merit. Granted that radio and television should be limited at least as a starter to coverage of matters of major national interest, I believe the level of debates would be improved because of more careful advance preparation before facing the critical eye of the camera."

I am reminded, in dealing with our freedom of information problems, of that marvelous statement of Reinhold Niebuhr: "God grant me the serenity to accept things I cannot change; courage to change things I can; and wisdom to know the difference." We know that there is not much we can do for the moment with some of our most determined opponents. But they will not be with us forever, and while they are, there are many of their associates who will listen to the logic and justice of our arguments.

The Radio Spot Picture For 1958 Holds Upsurge in Latter Half

By Frank M. HEADLEY
President
Station Representatives Association

THE radio spot prospects for 1958 are excellent. Although it is true that spot billings have not shown a decided increase during the past month or two, I confidently expert a strong rally in the second half of 1958. The first six months will probably continue to run below last year's figures, but a strong upsurge in the latter half of the year will more than compensate for the slow start. It's my strong belief that spot radio in 1958 will be up ten per cent over 1957.

Although there is considerable talk of a business slowdown, consumer dollars are still plentiful. There's nothing the matter with business that more retail sales can't cure—and advertising has become the sole force for sales in the nation because of the decline of personal salesmanship.

During prior periods of business setback, advertising costs were among the first to be pared. During the present slowdown, advertising should be the last to be cut! We are now in an age of super-markets and self-service stores in all lines of business. The fact-to-face salesmanship has all but vanished. What is left? Radio, the medium that combines imagery transfer with strong personal sell is the one last and best retail salesman for any consumer product. Business men who want to move their products off the shelf must not only continue to use radio as before, but should actually increase their schedules in an effort to keep those consumer dollars flowing. Spot radio is particularly well suited for its role of priming the national economy because of its greater flexibility and greater adaptability to any advertiser's special problems. I can safely say that radio is the most economical, and along with TV most effective, advertising medium in the world today.

Spot radio is virtually the only medium which has generally held the line on rate increases. Radio rates have held fairly constant, although the actual value of radio time has sharply increased in the past several years. There are two reasons for this: 1) the sale of radio sets has steadily gone up; 2) tune-ins as reported by the various rating services has shown a consistent increase. As a happy result of these two factors, the cost per commercial to the radio advertiser is constantly going down instead of increasing as it is in almost all of the other media.

Radio announcers and disc jockeys are becoming more and more sophisticated in the techniques of effectively delivering a commercial message. In even the smallest markets, radio talent have become true air salesmen, and take pains to learn the sales points of the products they advertise, and sometimes even the overall marketing strategy of the advertiser.

Radio will deliver the audiences, but agencies can better motivate their delivered listeners by devoting more time and effort to produce commercials with higher conversion efficiency—that is the conversion of audiences into customers. The key is creativity: the creative use of talent and effort to conceive and produce commericals which will utilize to the fullest the numerous advantages of audio presentation.

Not only are radio stations becoming more adept at getting maximum mileage out of the advertisers' commercials, but they have learned how to really get across the value of their facility as an advertising medium to local and regional merchants and manufacturers.

On the national scene as well, spot radio has entered the era of salesmanship. Good salesmanship has been important since the decline of the vast nationwide audiences several years ago, but never has it been so vital as in the present tighter economic situation. In today's increasingly competitive market, representative salesmen more than ever must be thoroughly familiar with all of radio's aspects—from programming to coverage of markets.

It is part of the salesman's job to get across points such as these to buyers of time—but his essential job is still to sell: aggressively, imaginatively, persistently — and harder than ever before.

Ingenuity Must Spark Small Agency In New TV Program Development

By RANSOM P. DUNNELL
Vice President
Director of Radio-TV
Humphrey, Alley & Richards, Inc.

FOR some advertisers and their agencies the year 1958 will mark the cancellation of a western or musical and hopeful launchings of new and (probably) similar type shows. However, I believe that group will be confined to a small nucleus of the biggest multi-million dollar budget clients. In the main, the business of Ingenuity will be a thriving one. Not only will we probably be faced with a certain leveling off of TV set purchases and increased three network competition, but the ever present and mounting pressure of competitive media as well. Also there will be a greater than ever push from that most competitive and revitalized medium . . . radio. Yes, television is going to have to battle hard to maintain its large "share of market" in 1958.

The battle will be just as hard fought and decisive for those of us representing moderate budget sized accounts as it will for the very largest advertisers and their agencies. For despite its generally expensive and often long term commitment aspects, the medium of television continues to fascinate nine out of ten advertisers. And this preoccupation holds true for even the smallest advertiser . . . regardless of whether or not he is actually using the medium. As a matter of fact, I have often found that the smaller the budget, the greater the interest. As a result, it is imperative that the moderate sized agencies keep as fully informed and ready to move, if not more so, than their larger contemporaries.

Before I changed over a while back from many years spent with larger agencies representing like accounts, I had heard and given lip service to the old saw of "the biggest agencies get the biggest attention and concessions from the networks and stations." Without any real thought or knowledge of its possible veracity I had accepted the statement almost completely. Now, with rare exception, I can honestly say that I have seen the myth exploded on many occasions. All of which is a small, but needed tribute to the networks and many stations. Because should the current soft spot in the economy grow any larger, the networks and the stations will need the smaller budget advertisers even more than they do now. These marketers, after all, frequently develop into important national advertisers when their early activities in the medium are given proper and sufficient time and attention.

Our efforts then, as agency people, particularly in behalf of moderate budget clients, should be heavily imbued with an almost relentless determination to follow these principles:

First, to keep continually aware of all availabilities.
Second, to pursue the desired ones as though money, or budget, was of little concern.

Third, once a pattern or program is selected, to then reverse financial strategy so as to arrive at a basis of continual negotiation and counter proposal predicated on the importance of cost efficiency, frequency and coverage for the prospective client.

It all seems pretty basic and obvious, doesn't it? And yet there is evidence in almost any leading magazine or Sunday supplement today that speaks eloquently for the small advertiser who was treated like one on TV by his agency. Properly paraphrased a good motto for moderate budget television advertisers' agencies should read something like:

The smaller the budget, the greater the responsibility.

I also believe the role of the smaller agency in television today should be one of doing it differently wherever and whenever possible. Just because you don't have a four million dollar budget doesn't mean you should not and cannot continually seek new programming and scheduling patterns.

Only with constant determination and Ingenuity can we in agencies fully exploit this most dynamic medium. And, exploit it in terms of our clients' most prevalent interest . . . sales.

"An Advertiser Looks At Radio" (And Documents Its Impact)

By JAMES J. DELANEY
Advertising Manager
Sinclair Refining Co.

WHEN I mentioned to a friend that I was writing this article for the '58 Radio Annual, and told him the title I planned to use, he did a beautiful double-take.

"Look at radio?" he asked. "You mean television, don't you? Radio is something you listen to!"

That, I told him, is exactly why more and more advertisers today are taking a good long look at radio. People listen to radio, and when people listen, it's smart business to see that your advertising messages are among the things they listen to.

That's why in 1958 Sinclair is continuing its amazingly successful "quickie" spot-radio advertising program, broadcasting a very simple but highly effective message over 900 radio stations for a total of more than 10,000 spots each week, every week of the year.

I think I can safely believe that every one of you—in Sinclair's marketing territory, that is—has heard that message:

"Driving today? Remember to—Drive with care—and buy Sinclair—Power-X Gasoline."

Now, why did we use that message, and why did we use it on radio?

Well, the first thing any advertising manager looks at is the sales problem advertising must help to solve. And again I can make a flat statement that every advertising manager is convinced that his problem is different.

Sinclair's is certainly different. First, Sinclair's marketing territory extends over 36 states and the District of Columbia. That's a lot of territory, and it calls for a lot of advertising to cover it effectively. And second, Sinclair's budget for advertising and sales promotion is limited. We advertise in plenty, yes, but our most aggressive competitors can out-spend us, and do, both absolutely and relatively. It's a tough problem.

Morey, Humm & Warwick, Sinclair's advertising agency, has worked with us extremely closely for many years, and has constantly examined and re-examined this puzzle of how to stretch our advertising money over a relatively large area. In this re-examination, radio was looked at again and again.

First: Is radio a "dying" medium? The answer is surprising: More sets are in use today than ever before, and sales of new sets are increasing! Moreover, and most important to a gasoline advertiser, there are 37,500,000 radio sets in cars, in use! What better time and place to reach a customer for gasoline and oil?

Second: How can radio be used most effectively for Sinclair? Well, how about a program? Or one-minute spots? Or—how about some new way to use radio? This latter was explored. And we learned something: Many radio spots are too long-winded, packed with too many ideas, too confusing for the listener to retain. Psychologists say that it is far better to tell one sales point effectively than to shout a dozen, or a hundred, or a thousand.

Now, if one point will get your message across, why waste time (and your budget) in trying to get across a dozen points in each commercial?

Out of all this came a simple idea, the simple and effective phrase I have mentioned and you have all heard: "Driving today? Remember to—Drive with care, and buy Sinclair—Power-X Gasoline." A public service, your company name, your company's leading product, directed towards a particular audience (motorists) all in one simple twelve-word sentence. Air time, 5 or 6 seconds, even with a slowly speaking announcer.

We didn't jump in with both feet, even though we thought we had a winner. We air-tested our campaign in the Fall of '55, using WRCA in New York and WFAS in suburban White Plains. We scheduled 25 spots a week on each station.

The reaction was fast, and favorable. Then in January, 1956, we added five more New York stations, and three suburbans, scheduling about 260 spots a week in the time slots most favorable to auto users: breakfast, driving to work and back, and on weekend afternoons when cars are used more for pleasure driving.

We are now using some 450 cities, with over 900 stations broadcasting our spots at the rate of better than 10,000 spots every week.

Low-Cost TV

The thing to remember about TV costs is: it's not necessarily the cost-per-minute that counts. It's the cost-per-sale. Television may be costly. But it need not be expensive—if you've got good commercials.

"Give to the world
the best you have
...and the best will come back to you."

I don't know the author,
I wish I might have written it.

But Queen For A Day has been doing all right for nearly thirteen years.

Ray Morgan

P.S.: Give us a jingle about the "Block-Buster."
It's our newest—and great!

He who runs...

Each week the editors of Television Digest painstakingly read a formidable tower of publications so that the busy executives of the industry—men-in-a-hurry, usually—may read the essential facts in Television Digest.

Television Digest is considered indispensible by the leaders of the "Electronic Entertainment" industries. It gives them news they need and want in compact, meaty morsels. Its interpretations have a foundation of soundness and reality that only years of specialized interest and experience have made possible.

More detailed treatment of developments in the industry can be read when leisure time permits . . . but for the kernels of facts for the man in a hurry—it's Television Digest.

high fashion parfums

Miahati's famous fashion foursome:
Blue Fox • Audacious • My Fancy • Jaunty

Parfums with fashion flourish. As much a part of the fashion scene as a new Paris edict. How much more meaningful the costume, the occasion keyed to Miahati's fragrance moods!

As shown—

In Bath Powder Sets (left)—cologne ond scented bath powder combination fitted with silky lambs wool puff; in handsomely appointed gift package

In Perf-O-Mist (upper right)—ingenious patented single-motion dispenser—delightful lasting double-strength spray; no cap to remove or replace

In Cologne Foursome (lower right)—welcome all-occasion gift package; entrée to a new world of allure

SELECTIONS AVAILABLE IN ALL FOUR MIAHATI CELEBRATED FRAGRANCES

Commercial Background Music Now A Well-Accepted Service

By
CHARLES C. COWLEY
President of Muzak Corporation

WHEN commercial background music began in 1936 the immediate objectives were to supply the finest specially-arranged and recorded music to public places such as hotels, restaurants and clubs. This was an overnight success and pleasant music was soon being supplied to hundreds of subscribers in New York City. It is interesting to recall this and compare last year with that first year of background music's history.

By 1957 background music had become a busy, well-accepted industry serving millions of people. In every city and town in America some sort of music service was available.

The history of background music is divided into four distinct phases. The first was the pioneering stage when Muzak was establishing acceptance of the concept with merchants for public places, and with businessmen for office and industrial use. This phase extended into the early 1940's.

Then World War II and the successful use of planned background music to stimulate war production gave a boost to the industry and ushered in the second stage—spreading use of background music for work, and establishment of distributors in key cities.

Wartime restrictions on availability of materials held back expansion of the industry until V-J Day. Then the third phase began. It consisted of rapid expansion into all markets of 100,000 or more population. Many broadcasters jumped into the background music field during these stages. It was a natural for them, of course, because they required less capital investment to enter it than did other businessmen. Broadcasters already had sales forces calling on prospects who could use background music as well as radio time; they had engineering staffs to handle sound system installations; they had space to house turntable operations, and technicians trained to operate them; they had an accounting department already functioning to handle subscriber billings, and finally, in himself, his commercial manager and his chief engineer broadcasters had the administrative staff needed.

The fourth, and current phase of background music history, dates from 1954 when a technological breakthrough occurred. Engineers designed and perfected automatic tape transmission equipment in that year, and this changed the entire economic structure of the industry. Where the overhead of turntable operators around the clock made it economically impossible to enter a market of less than 100,000 population, tape operation has made it not only possible but very attractive to go into markets as small as 25,000. Since 1954 when Muzak converted to tape it has more than doubled its franchise holders, and the applications are still flowing in.

The background music future appears unlimited. Businessmen no longer consider planned background music a frivolous adjunct. They now realize it is a pleasant production aid that more than pays for itself in keeping people able and happy to work by reducing worker tensions. The statistics have convinced hard-headed businessmen that the psychological and psysiological effects can and do raise efficiency.

Technical advances in the broadcasting art (I refer to multiplexing and other transmission devices which our engineering department is developing) will mean a more economical and more profitable operation in the background music field.

This, we believe, will make it possible for us to serve many additional business subscribers, as well as the home market, in the near future. Also because of plans which we have for expansion into fields allied to the functional background music business — plans which call for taking our franchisers into "partnership" with us — the value of these franchises in the next few years will be multiplied many fold.

THE FEELING OF CONFIDENCE IS MUTUAL

The policy pays off! Our new, non-TV-competing programming—News, Sports and Special Events – has brought us a landslide of votes of confidence and, better still, a growing group of blue chip advertisers. Smart radio buyers know "more news more often means more listeners consistently . . . to Mutual".

Unique Advertising Traits Marking New Growth Medium: Network Radio

By
ROBERT E. EASTMAN
President of ABN

THE year 1958 will see over-all network radio volume increase by at least 35 per cent. That's my prediction, and it is arrived at from talking to a lot of smart people in strategic positions within the advertising industry.

Such a development should most certainly be in the cards because network radio broadcasting is very much under-subscribed in relation to its basic values. There is lots of room for healthy growth.

This growth will come about largely because of a growing recognition of certain exclusive advertising qualities available only in network radio. These qualities make network radio almost a must buy for any one of the larger advertisers with a multi-media strategy; and frequently, a very desirable buy for the advertiser with a small budget who needs to get long mileage out of every dollar spent.

There are three simple reasons, as I see it, why network radio broadcasting will realize a spurt in prosperity in 1958. They are as follows:

1. Circulation.

The sheer weight of 137 million radio sets in good working condition in the United States represents tremendous mass circulation. This means that network radio can reach people wherever they may be or whatever they may be doing. We at American Broadcasting have named this characteristic "Multi-Access" and "Ambi-Active" and have programmed in keeping with the fact that we realize that most people available to listen are going to be doing something else at the same time. We have felt that there is a niche to be carved out with an exclusive type of programming which is compatible with certain characteristics of our circulation.

It is rather fantastic to realize that our medium has increased in circulation by 80 million sets during the past eleven years. Never in the history of advertising has there been a medium with such rapid growth and, especially, in the face of the severest competition in the way of television, better movies, improved magazines, and even the return of miniature golf courses plus all variety of diversions.

2. Programming Dimensions.

The advertising growth for network radio is assured, in my opinion, because during the past year it has broadened its horizons. All networks have made major improvements in their programming product. This cannot help but add vitality to the medium.

There is no reason why all networks should program in a similar fashion—as a matter of fact, just the contrary should be the case. Some of the networks provide a schedule comprised primarily of dramatic and variety programs. We have chosen a different route of all musical programs of an exclusive character which gives us a format of our own and also adds another basic appeal to the network medium. This will attract more total listeners to network programming.

The audience figures indicate that even though there are 50 per cent more stations in the country without network affiliation than those which do have network affiliation, the network stations hold a larger total share of the listening audience.

3. Creative, Hard Selling.

A truly concentrated sales drive is underway. All of the networks are out ringing door bells in an unprecedented fashion. The selling is hard and the selling is competitive—but most important of all, it is usually creative. There are new ideas, new concepts, for the application of this medium in the most effective fashion to produce sales for advertisers.

Network radio is a good advertising product. Because of its intrinsic values, it deserves to expand, and with the sales energy being thrown into the fray, it will.

So, mark network radio down for a 35 per cent accretion in 1958 over 1957—and I certainly hope that this prognostication proves to be on the conservative side.

Radio Never Made A Comeback; It Never Got Sick, Never Went Away

By
ARTHUR HULL HAYES
President
CBS Radio

AFTER more than 30 years of auditioning every day, radio's found an indisputable place in the big time. And, from all indications, the medium has played its last supporting role.

The only trouble is . . . the loyal group of radio veterans who have always maintained that AM and FM were the backbone of electronic communications now don't have time to broadcast a loud "I told you so." We're just too busy making plans for our precocious ghost.

Radio, the dean and elder statesman of electronic communications, has weathered all the storms and is still on the air. And, for the umpteenth time, there was no miraculous comeback . . . no return . . . no resurgence. We've just plain never been sick!

The combined billings for network, national spot and local business totaled approximately 350 million dollars in 1946, a pre-television year. Ten years later, with the inroads of TV, the figure had grown to 571 million dollars. That was 1956. A fair year.

1957 was a good year. The NAB's business estimate for '57 was 650 million dollars.

In 1948, there existed 37 million radio homes. Today, there are 48 million. And that encompasses 98 per cent of America's homes. There are radio receivers in 54 per cent of the nation's living rooms; 52 per cent of America's bedrooms; 52 per cent of the kitchens and dining rooms; with an additional 21 per cent of all American homes sporting radio sets in other locations.

The auto-plus factor gains import with each passing year. While 70 per cent of the nation's cars have radios, almost 85 per cent of the new-model automobiles have them. And some 59 million American adults use their cars each day.

In addition, while only 82 of our cities contain competing daily newspapers, more than 600 enjoy the broadcasts of competitive radio stations.

Radio is thriving today . . . particularly, the CBS Radio Network. We anticipate the next few years eagerly. Our sponsor list is growing—to include Barbasol, The Mennen Company, Miles Laboratories, A. E. Staley and C. H. Masland & Sons as new business in 1958's opening quarter—and sponsor interest continues on the upgrade.

CBS Radio began the current year with some new programs—including "The Peter and Mary Show," "The Couple Next Door" with Peg Lynch and Alan Bunce, "For You" with Dick Haymes and "Answer, Please!" with Walter Cronkite.

The crack reporting and production unit of the Public Affairs Department of CBS News, Unit One, is also hard at work on a series of Radio Beat exclusives and several actuality reports. The sports schedule will be heavy, beginning with CBS Radio's exclusive broadcast coverage of the Robinson-Basilio fight at Chicago on March 25 under sponsorship of The Mennen Company and Miles Laboratories, Inc. There'll be lots of music, featuring such outstanding orchestras as the New York Philharmonic, the Cleveland Orchestra and the Longines Symphonette. And we expect to expand the network's news coverage.

A particularly encouraging indicator of radio's further progress in 1958 is the increasing display of interest in network radio programs on the part of teachers, students and others in the vast world of education. More time and effort is being devoted, in secondary schools and colleges, to audio-visual aids to education. Radio also provides a unique supplement to in-class and at-home projects, particularly programs in news and public affairs, music, drama, special broadcasts and many other program categories. We at CBS Radio are finding that teachers welcome any pertinent aids to teaching, such as Discussion Guides, in the fields of history and civics, current events, English, music and other subjects.

I hope no one decides to mourn poor old radio in 1958.

She won't have time to lie down.

Service Seen Paramount Note In Network Radio Operation

By
GEORGE VOGEL
Executive
Vice President
Mutual Broadcasting
System

THESE are the days of Service Radio. Network radio today—and naturally I'm referring to Mutual Network radio—is geared directly to the nation's new listening demands. Network radio provides general services—but also probes deeply into subjects for the specifics that age, wage and other environmental groups need at their disposal.

Network radio provides speedy, mobile service for the listener on-the-run—but can and does dedicate service to established listening habits.

Network radio recognizes the worldly ken, the desire to know how and when and why of the average listener. But today it also recognizes its role as companion and liaison with the outside world of the habitual listeners.

Probably the key to network radio's operations today is the fact that it is omnifarious—of all forms, of all varieties—catering to all. This truly is Service Radio.

And Service Radio can only be broadcast by a community station if it is a member of a major network, such as ours.

Broadcast economy as well as service enter the picture at this point, too.

Though every licensed radio station would like to beam Service Radio throughout its broadcast day, such station managements recognize that only network radio can afford all major news services, can afford to maintain extensive news bureaus, can keep constant alerts on world-wide news happenings and reserve costly shortwave circuits to report and explore these events and their impact on the American listener.

He demands today that his radio give him immediacy—plus impact. Only Service Radio can answer that need.

Mutual's news activities, its "Operation Newsbeat," is typical of the philosophy I am expressing in the phrase Service Radio. We could limit ourselves to reporting the news regularly from the four major wire services to which we subscribe, The Associated Press, the United Press, International News Service and Reuters News Agency. But this is not enough.

We assign "stringers," men who know the area intimately where news breaks are occurring, and ask them to give our listeners direct on-the-scene reports of these events—then to follow through with reaction stories showing how these events affect the communities in which they occur and the nation as a whole.

A network has ways and means of finding and absorbing successful merchandising and promotional patterns into its framework. And a Service Radio network such as Mutual passes these on to its affiliates so that they, too, can benefit—and can help their local as well as the network's national clients.

The pulse of American listening—and buying—habits today is measured in multi-millions of responses rather than 2,000-set tallies or 2,000-person interviews. Actually, it is being counted by the 3,000 commercial radio stations dotting the American landscape—stations that are born and thrive only because they serve the listeners in their respective areas.

But stations, however, that truly believe in Service Radio, that wish to provide the ultimate in broadcasting benefits to their listeners and their advertising clients join and maintain their membership in a network. That is why today more and more stations apply for network affiliations—why more and more stations are broadcasting in their area under the Mutual banner—the new Mutual Network.

They believe, as we do, that Service Radio is the key to radio in the future. And we're sure they're right.

Radio Continues In Its Usual Role As Nation's 'Scoop' Medium For News

By MATTHEW J.
CULLIGAN
Vice President
NBC Radio Network

TO what communications medium do people turn when they want to know the latest news? Newspapers? Television? Or do they listen to their radios?

In a 1953 survey by Alfred Politz Research, Inc., people were asked how they would check a rumor that a war had started. A total of 54.8 per cent said that they would turn on the radio. This was a higher percentage than newspapers and TV combined.

That's one of the reasons why network radio's future was never better. Radio is still the "scoop" medium for hot news breaks.

In my office I have a little gray box which is similar to boxes in every NBC Radio Affiliate's control room. It's a Hot Line Control Box which gives a warning of a news flash whenever a button is pushed in Radio Central in New York. When this happens, a sub-audible 200 cycle tone is sent out on network lines, alerting the stations by activating a light and a buzzer. By using this device, any NBC reporter who can get to a telephone can start broadcasting over the entire network within a couple of minutes.

Split-second reporting is a reality by means of radio. During the trial of Colonel Abel, the Soviet spy, an NBC reporter was stationed in the courtroom and another was waiting outside in a phone booth. NBC was on the air with the news 40 seconds after the judge handed down the indictment.

The audience that listens to radio is immense—but it has never been accurately counted because only stationary sets are included by existing polling methods. In my opinion, current radio ratings account for only about 40 per cent of the actual number of listeners.

The number of radio stations in the United States is now at an all-time high—and it will probably continue to grow. But what about the quality of their programming? It seems to me that "jukebox stations," which exist by means of a non-stop disc jockey and "the latest news" (which is read, unedited, as it comes over the press association teletype), will eventually drown out one another. While this takes place—and I think the process has already started—the public will turn more and more to the network-affiliated station which offers world wide news, great special events, top entertainment stars, high quality dramatic shows and fine, listenable music.

What "jukebox station," for example, could offer expert commentary and analysis of current events by such experts as Chet Huntley, David Brinkley, Morgan Beatty, Irving R. Levine, and Joseph C. Harsch—to mention but a few of the authorities who staff NBC News. Such stations could never present prize-winning documentaries such as "Biographies in Sound," live music programs such as "NBC Bandstand," or a weekend feature like "Monitor" which has a world-wide staff to gather feature material. Our listeners know the difference. So do our advertisers, whose net purchases of time in 1957 were 41 per cent higher than the 1956 total.

During the day, radio is still the basic entertainment in the home; housewives have discovered that you can't do the daily chores while reading magazines or looking at TV. That's one factor which assures a permanent future for radio. And since network radio provides the medium's best programming, you can be sure that sponsors will become increasingly aware that network radio will provide maximum mileage for their advertising dollars.

The return to Network Radio of the top fifteen pre-TV spenders has been cited as prime evidence of net radio's revitalization. Less spectacular, but equally meaningful, are the scores of medium budget advertisers who have literally discovered network radio this past year. The NBC Radio Network has developed a secret weapon in the merchandising area which has electrified medium and small budget advertisers' sales departments.

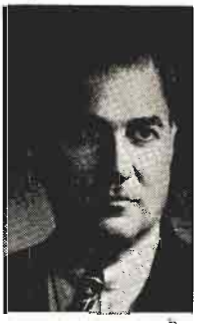
Dynamic Resurgence Of Radio Brought KBS Its 1,000th Affiliate In 1957



By
SIDNEY J. WOLF
President
Keystone Broadcasting System, Inc.

THE dynamic resurgence of radio in 1957 coincided with the acquisition by the Keystone Broadcasting System of its 1,000th affiliate. Inaugurated in 1940, Keystone started out with 66 members. Today we have 1,025 members, an increase of no less than 1,453 per cent! Our 31,144,846 radio homes comprise an audience of 96,549,023 listeners. The majority of these listeners are predominantly loyal to their local radio station and live in the vast areas that constitute the backbone of our country—Home Town and Rural America.

Indeed, the past year was a memorable one, both for radio and KBS, which enjoyed the most successful year in its seventeen-year history. And I would like to add that the prospects for 1958 are even better, as evidenced by the surge of the new Keystone business that heralded in the New Year.

In 1957, 79 national advertisers through their respective advertising agencies used the Keystone facilities, a far cry from the "few and far between" in our pioneering days. Without exception these important advertisers are now staunch advocates of the power of local radio in the small town and rural markets of the U. S. This tremendous power is exemplified by the astonishing growth in local radio billings during the last two years.

The continuing and increasing power of local radio is primarily due to its ability to program according to the predilections of its local audience, whose tastes vary to a surprising degree. The efficient station operator studies these local tastes and caters to them accordingly, thereby ensuring himself consistent high listenership and loyal audiences.

In Home Town and Rural America Keystone is harnessed to this powerful medium by over one thousand affiliates and in effect constitutes itself as local radio on a network basis. The high listenership of local radio is evidenced by the fact that rating studies have shown that listenership in the Keystone single station markets, of which there are over 700, can be as high as 19.1 per cent, an almost unheard-of figure in the multiple station markets.

However, Keystone does much more than bring the national advertiser in direct contact with these vast millions of consumers who are armed with billions of dollars annually in purchasing power.

In addition to the overall facilities provided by the full Keystone Network, our operation enjoys the most effective and intensive coverage of the farm markets of the U. S. In the 14 leading agricultural states with the largest number of farms, each state having 150,000 farms or over, Keystone covers 88.9 per cent of the aggregate and it might be pointed out that the farms in these 14 states constitute 57.1 per cent of the total farms in the country.

Actually, over 80 per cent of our affiliates have special programming directed especially to the local farm audience and the importance of this programming can be gauged by the fact that it is a daily "must" for the farm listener to obtain vital local data necessary for the successful conduct of his farm.

In addition Keystone has a Negro Network Division comprising 350 affiliates with special programs directed to the Negro audience. Also Keystone provides a College Network Division with over 300 affiliated stations located in college towns throughout the country.

May I say in conclusion that the dynamic resurgence of radio is most gratifying to Keystone and its 1,025 affiliates.

famous on the local scene . . .

Spanning the Harbor at San Francisco, the Oakland Bay Bridge is an inspiring symbol of achievement. Storer, too, is recognized for achievement . . . in the world of broadcasting.
This recognition has been earned through consistent sales results on Storer stations in the communities they serve.
These individual achievements prove that a Storer station is a local station.

EXPERIENCE

Behind the brow of the pilot, knowledge won through years of experience... skill born of doing.

In our business, too, 12 years experience have given us a background that makes the time buyer's job easier... lessens the chance of costly errors.

Such experience must be earned. And there's no substitute for it.

COMPETITION IN THE AMERICAN WAY

BMI was founded to create competition. For competition in music is as necessary as in any other field of American endeavor. Competition is the American way!

Because BMI operates as a competitive force in the field of performing rights, the existence of BMI benefits not only the creators of music but all users of music as well.

Today, after 18 years of service, BMI is proud of the fact that so many publishers, composers and writers have found inspiration and success in the open market place, and pleased that its list of satisfied licensees grows larger each year.

When there's Big News Nobody covers it Like KNX Radio

On Friday, January 31 and Saturday, February 1, there were two explosions that shook Los Angeles. One was 2,900 miles away at Cape Canaveral. The other was only 40 minutes away at Norwalk.

CBS Radio, nationally, and KNX Radio, locally, covered both events with the speed, flexibility and depth that only responsible radio — and responsible network radio — can provide.

For what is required is far more than sound effects, a telephone and a couple of news tickers. What's required is a big news staff manned by experienced, aggressive and highly qualified reporters aware of their responsibilities to their listeners. Men like Murrow, Sevareid, Herman, Schorr and Smith nationally. Men like Alcott, Roby, Vaile, Kenneally, McCoy and the many others here at the KNX News Bureau.

That's how, on a weekend that shook Los Angeles, KNX Radio again set the standards against which all other news coverage must be judged.

That's one more reason why KNX advertisers are associated with the very best in radio!

COLOR RADIO

sells the new carriage trade

KFWB

7 CHANNEL 98 1

The new Carriage Trade wheels the market basket, and decides most expenditures. Whether she's on wheels in mobile Los Angeles or at home, she is tuned to KFWB COLOR RADIO, for her seven friendly deejays. Proof of performance: over 50% of all time sold—consistently—is super-market goods. Add motion to promotion on KFWB.

You'd think they'd thrown the keys away...

▶ IN SOUTHERN NEW ENGLAND, Politz studies show that 88 out of every 100 people listen to radio – morning, noon and night – and almost four times as many tune to 1080 on the dial as to any other radio station.

▶ IN WTIC's WIDE COVERAGE AREA, Family Spendable Income is 17% above the U.S. average. You can reach this quality in quantity on the radio station that serves best.

Miamiracle!

—per Hooper, Pulse, Trendex

WQAM's unique showmanship-and-precision blend made a runaway in Miami 1½ years ago . . . and has been dominantly and increasingly on top ever since.

WQAM is 1st in 410 of 432 Pulse quarter-hours. First place Hooper: 37.0%. Trendex confirms. So does a recent Southern Florida Area Pulse which accounts for 31.5% of the state's population. Talk to Blair, or general manager Jack Sandler.

WQAM — Miami

covering all of Southern Florida with 5,000 watts on 560 kc.

"WTIX is getting firster!"

"Right! More than twice the audience of the next two stations combined."

New word from New Orleans: WTIX now enjoys 32.6% of the daytime radio audience. (7 a.m.—6 p.m., Mon.-Fri., December - January Hooper.)

And then, there's Pulse: WTIX is first in 433 quarter - hours, tied for first in 22, second in only 48 and third in only 1 . . . of a total of 504 quarter hours.

So whether you go by Hooper or Pulse . . . you've got yourself the dominant New Orleans station . . . when you buy WTIX.

Chat with Adam Young . . . or WTIX General Manager Fred Berthelson.

WTIX – New Orleans, La.

Now 5,000 watts!—on 690 Kc.

That's why WDGY is *first in the Twin Cities . . . and why WDGY billings are at an all time high. It's Storz Station programming that does it. Talk to Blair or WDGY general manager Jack Thayer.

Month after month, year after year WHB dominates Kansas City. Example: Latest 96-county area Pulse shows WHB first 432 of 432 quarter hours.* Whether it's Metro Pulse, Nielsen, Trendex or Hooper . . . whether it's Area Nielsen or Pulse . . . WHB is the dominant first throughout, with audience shares consistently in the 40% bracket. It's Storz Station programming that does it. Remember: Square miles don't buy your product; people do. For coverage AND audience, talk to Blair, or WHB general manager George W. Armstrong.

Your Omaha money talks biggest . . . where the biggest Pulse is!*

The latest Pulse (Dec.) says what Pulse had been saying for years. First a.m.; first p.m.; first all day! 32 our of 40 first place quarter hours! These are the measures of KOWH's continuing dominance of Omaha's radio day, a dominance extending over 7 years.
The reasons: Programs and personalities that get through to people. Good coverage, too, on 660 kc.
Talk to Adam Young or KOWH General Manager Virgil Sharpe.

For details call any office of Avery - Knodel or station WKBW direct

The most successful advertising technique is "telling your sales story to as many people, as many times as you can, within the limits of a sound budget." This is the WKBW SATURATION FORMULA which is bringing increased sales results for WKBW advertisers; and we have the renewals to prove it. A WKBW saturation campaign gives you more than twice as many listeners for your advertising dollar. That's why your sales results will be more than twice as good . . . that's why WKBW is your most profitable buy in the Buffalo and Western New York market.

The Italian Population Of New York is the Third Largest Market In the Entire U.S.A. . . .

and it's growing . . . growing . . . GROWING! In 1955 and 1956 alone, 47,600 new Italian immigrants settled in the New York area. The net population gain over deaths was 17,100 persons — an important addition to a market already numbering over two million.

In other words — New York, the largest community of this Hemisphere, is "More Italian than Ever Before"!

We have new facts and figures about this vast, responsive market. They're a revelation! Write, wire phone — we'll see that you get them!

Our 1957 list of more than 400 advertisers testifies:

WQXR SELLS

1957 was a record-breaking year for WQXR, America's only 50,000-watt good music station. Its expanding list of advertisers . . . about 100 new this year . . . kept pace with its growing audience. Why? Because WQXR sells. It fills a distinct need and reaches a distinctive part of America's most massive market.

for more than a million New York families, nothing takes the place of

Canadian Broadcasting Hit New Peak in Operation During 1957

By T. J. ALLARD
Executive
Vice President
CARTB

NINETEEN-FIFTY-SEVEN was a boom year for Canada. More babies were born—475,000 of them—than in any previous year in our history. More immigrants arrived—282,164 of them—than in any postwar year. There were more marriages—136,000—than in any year since 1946, when thousands of postponed weddings took place between second world war veterans and their brides.

Not only was Canada's population up, so was our gross national product; our consumer spending; consumer price index; wage index and real income. And the Canadian broadcasting business expanded along with population and production.

Canada's 177 non-government radio stations now provide service for all but a handful of the Dominion's 17,000,000 people, and about 90 per cent of the population is also served by one of the 49 TV stations, 41 of which are non-government. What makes the Canadian television industry different from the U.S. industry, however, is that there are only two networks, one English-language network and one serving the 30 per cent of Canada's population who are French speaking.

But while both networks are owned and operated by the government-owned Canadian Broadcasting Corporation, most of the network shows reach their audience through private stations. Only eight TV stations in six Canadian cities are owned by the CBC. The rest of the stations (41) in the network are privately-owned stations who are required to make a minimum of 10-1/2 hours per week available for CBC programming.

Another unique feature of the Canadian industry is that one out of two Canadian TV areas are captive markets, serviced by only one station. U.S. residents can visualize the Canadian picture if they imagine Dallas or Kansas City or San Diego serviced by only one TV station. Moreover, perhaps because Canadians are a home-staying race or because they were prepared for TV by the U.S. experience, set saturation has been reached remarkably quickly. Canadian TV stations range in age from four years to six months but many areas (London, Ontario, for example or Regina, Saskatchewan) have already achieved set saturation of over 80 per cent, and set saturation in other areas, e.g. Quebec City and Sydney, N.S. is over 90 per cent.

The radio picture is also a bright one. While TV has been backing up into daytime (a process especially encouraged by the fact that "network option time" falls in the Class "A," 8 to 11 p.m., time slot), nighttime radio has been firming up. Whereas advertisers last year were prime time happy with 7:00 to 9:00 a.m.; 12:00 to 1:30 (a good many Canadians still go home for lunch) and 4:30 to 7:00 p.m., virtually sold out on every station.

Now advertisers—national and local—are going into nighttime, sometimes reluctantly—because there isn't enough daytime to buy and sometimes with the feeling that nighttime can deliver a good general audience—at less than daytime rates.

On the political front, the Canadian radio news of 1957 was the report of the Fowler Commission.

The two major policy recommendations of the Commission—the creation of a new broadcast governing body, and licensing of competitive television stations—were welcomed by Canada's private broadcasters since both had been major points in the CARTB brief to the Commission. Due to the unsettled political situation in Canada, however, (Canadian voters go to the polls at the end of March, 1958, for the second time within nine months to elect a new federal parliament) no action has been taken on the Fowler Commission Report.

All Canadian radio and television conventions—regional and national—had their best attendance records in their history last year.

Canada's Buyers Are Tryers!

Canadian buyers are eager—and easy to reach with a sales message. With a total of 4,055,000 households, Canada has over 7 million radio sets and 2,860,000 TV sets. Experienced broadcasting salesmen carry the story of your product's benefits to the farthest reaches of the Dominion.

And the rapid expansion of the Canadian market make it well worth considering:

- In 1956 Canada received 164,857 immigrants —one every three minutes.
- Total postwar immigration stands at more than 1.5 million.
- Annual retail sales have advanced from $4,573,126,000 in 1945 to $14,297,557,000 in 1956.
- Construction in Canada reached a record level in 1957—$6.9 billion.

NEEDED: More cars—more clothes—more food —more of everything!

Whatever the sales message you want to get across, we suggest that you investigate the possibilities of using some of the 146 independent radio stations and 32 independent TV stations represented by the Association. Learn for yourself the selling power of the broadcast word in Canada!

CBC Extending Its Network TV Links To Span Across The Entire Dominion

By A. D. DUNTON
Chairman
Canadian Broadcasting Corp.

THE Canadian Broadcasting Corporation expects to be operating the world's longest television microwave network by the end of this year.

It will stretch some 4,200 miles from St. John's, Newfoundland, in the east to Victoria, B.C., in the west. The microwave system, since the completion on February 2nd this year of the length between Quebec City and the Maritimes, now reaches from Sydney, Nova Scotia, in the east to Calgary, in Alberta, in the west.

Forty-eight television stations are now in operation across the country. Eight are owned and operated by the CBC, six English-language network stations at Halifax, Montreal, Ottawa, Toronto, Winnipeg and Vancouver, and two French-language network stations at Montreal and Ottawa. In addition, two stations licensed to and managed by the CBC are located at Goose Bay, Labrador, and Harmon Field, Newfoundland. These outlets, using U.S. facilities, serve Canadian and American military personnel and civilians in the two areas.

The country's forty privately-owned television stations include thirty-four English-language outlets and six French-language. Five satellite stations are also operated by private interests.

The growth of Canadian television, which started little more than five and one-half years ago, has been at the fastest rate of any country in the world. Television service is now available to about 87 per cent of the population.

Canadians, during the past five and a half years, have spent more than $1.2 billion on the purchase and maintenance of TV receivers, or more per capita than anybody else in the world. An estimated 2.9 million sets are now in use.

Possibly the most distinctive achievement of Canadian television has been the development of two separate program services, each complete in itself, one in French and one in English. The CBC's French-language production constitutes the world's major French television service. In hours per day, the combined program output in English and French of all CBC production centres, is greater than that of any other television organization in the world.

Last year more than 11,000 television programs were seen in Canadian homes.

In terms of live television production Canada ranks next to the United States and Britain, while the CBC production centers at Montreal and Toronto rank next to New York and Hollywood as North America's leading TV centers.

All Canadian television stations, public and private, are part of the national system. The privately-owned stations serve as outlets for a good share of the national network programs produced by or provided through the CBC. When television first began in Canada, the CBC agreed to provide not less than ten and a half hours of network programming a week to the private stations—actually, in the past year, the affiliated stations have been carrying on the average about forty hours a week of such network programming, or some fifty-five per cent of their schedule.

The privately-owned and CBC stations, working together within the national broadcasting system as established by act of Parliament, co-operate to mutual benefit and to a degree greater than is generally thought. The CBC provides the national program service free to the private stations and they, in turn, give it free distribution, while at the same time earning revenue for themselves in the case of sponsored programs on the national service.

We look forward with unbounded confidence and optimism in the future of Canadian television. Specific steps, however, on such things as color TV, extension of TV broadcast hours, and broadening of coverage to areas not now served must await Parliamentary action on the recommendations of the Fowler Royal Commission, which, after an exhaustive public investigation of national broadcasting, submitted its report last spring. One of the main conclusions of the report was that the present system—the uniquely Canadian system of private and public co-operation—be continued.

FOREIGN language radio has new reasons each year to forge ahead and intensify service. The reasons? The steady number of emigres from non-English speaking lands to the United States. When you add steady immigration, year by year, to an already definable segment of population you certainly have something worthy of note, and in many cases really BIG.

It is an odd corollary, however, that except for the newer groups (which often are not the largest) the growth goes on relatively unheralded. In fact it's apt to take a splashing of ice cold statistics and facts to make otherwise informed business minds aware of the value of some foreign language markets.

I'd like to be able to table here figures on some of the major foreign language groups across the nation, but current figures on this scale are not presently available. So I can't do that. But I can give an excellent example, with current figures, of the language situation I know best, having dealt happily with it for years; that is Italian in New York City and its environs.

If you were asked to guess how many people from Italy have settled in New York in the past 10 years would you come close? Well, the 10 year figure is 118,330 with 47,600 of them arriving during the last two years!

Very few would have pegged it. Perhaps it is because it is a characteristic of recent and current Italian immigration that it requires no new social adjustments for the overall community. Italians arriving to become new Americans routinely become part of the largest single foreign language group in the country's largest city. They are not pioneering. They are expanding a community segment that has long numbered over 2,000,000 and has long enjoyed relative prosperity. These figures were revealed by a Pulse study released this winter. It also showed the New York City Italian population gain to be definitely net, with the immigration rate outweighing the death rate.

What does this steady immigration mean to radio? To the economic life of the community?

Well, metaphorically speaking, one of the first things the new arrival does is turn on the radio. When he finds the station that speaks his language and speaks it properly he settles his dial right there. Literally he then stays tuned to "his" station the rest of his life! He'll work at learning the language of the land, and good for him, I say. But . . . he continues to need your language broadcasting. The economic health of the community needs your language broadcasting.

Well handled foreign language radio broadcasting is vital to a region where recent and future immigration is part of the population pattern. This is a case where service offered is service utilized . . . and appreciated. Properly coordinated language broadcasting becomes the voice of ultimate authority as far as its listeners are concerned.

One old rule for successful language operation holds perpetually true. Don't translate, transpose.

An obvious example of where mere translation would fall far short of doing the whole job is news. Your language audience has the normal hunger for news. The listener craves the usual; domestic news, world affairs. But he has an additional yearning, word of the original homeland. Now, I'm sure we all agree that the stress of keeping up with the content of this era's news is tough enough in itself. Your recent newcomer would be sunk if he had to try to cope with it in the language of the land. Even your long resident, foreign-born listener is grateful daily to "his" station for eliminating the extra strain he'd experience trying to cope with the import of the news and the nuances of idiom in his newer language.

Day by day service to groups that grow year by year, through the use of the mother tongue that hits the ears and mind of the language listener as emotionally right—that is foreign language radio's strength. That is how it does its job of serving and entertaining effectively. And that too is how it peps up the economic health of the community.

Today's Community Service Radio Uses Creative Transcription Aids

By
DICK LAWRENCE
General Manager
World Broadcasting
System

RADIO, today, has been through a major creative crisis, and has won its battle. Now, the emphasis has shifted from a sort of detached, "national" approach to high-rated radio programming to one that has its roots in the community, and its emphasis on "community service."

The radio outlets which have been coming to the fore today are those which have been building a unique identity for themselves, both in the way they serve their listeners and their advertisers of all types.

Basically, of course, the shift has been in the direction of the music-and-news format. This would be the simple answer—provided there was only one station in each market. But, a glance through this Annual will show you this is far from the case.

Consequently, stations come to us with a problem which we have now heard repeated many, many times. "What can we do," they ask, "to create something different, something that will give us a style of our own that will attract our share of the audience? And what can we do to help our growing number of local advertisers?"

Since we have been in the radio business for many years now, we saw the trend to localized programming developing, even before it became the dominant factor in national radio advertising.

Our first major step was in the direction of the service which we of World Broadcasting furnish to our station affiliates.

From the ground up, we completely redesigned our "music library" thinking, gradually building it into a creative programming and sales tool. The emphasis then, as it is now, was on selling and production services.

One good example of this is our growing list of open-end jingles, designed to give local advertisers and stations top-quality musical commercials — the kind of unique jingles usually associated only with giant national advertisers who have the full resources of composing, vocal, arranging and lyric talent to draw upon.

These jingles, with sponsor or product names inserted by the local announcer in the jingle lyrics, make for effective, hard-hitting radio selling. And, we have jingles for literally hundreds of products and classifications of advertisers which can be transformed into revenue producers for our station affiliates.

Then there is the realm of "program aids," and other production tools with which a station can add the touch of "big production" to locally produced radio programs. We have developed, and continue to develop, special musical signatures and program lead-ins which deliver production values of the highest calibre. In short, there is not a type of local show you can name — news, weather, sports, music, farm information—for which we cannot deliver a custom-designed series of recorded aids — materials to give a station a special "personality" and identity in its community.

We have created service-type features, ranging from weather jingles to tune-in builders. We have packaged special programs for the seasonal (and sales) highlights of the year, featuring top-name personalities.

And, we've launched — with tremendous response—such sparkling merchandising innovations as our "Sound-O" game, based on radio sound effects and their identification by listeners to win prizes supplied by local merchants.

On top of all this, we continue to provide top-flight musical artists in outstanding transcriptions for local use, including such names as Peggy Lee, Doris Day, David Rose, Harry James, the Sauter-Finnegan and Victor Young Orchestras, and scores of others. Here, again, we are not just delivering "records." We are building production values to add to stations' prestige and personality, providing stations with the tools with which they can build audiences, and attract more and more advertisers.

Local in management . . .
Interrelated in service

The Corinthian stations are first and foremost local in character . . . for great stations must be responsive to the needs and tastes of their individual communities. The Corinthian stations each have their own independent local management teams in Tulsa, Houston, Fort Wayne and Indianapolis.

The Corinthian stations have more than this. They benefit from each other's experience. And have at their disposal the full-time staff services of specialists in the basic areas of broadcasting . . . each outstandingly qualified in his field . . . Corinthian's Director of Programming, Robert H. Salk; Director of Sales, Don L. Kearney; Director of Engineering, George G. Jacobs; and Director of Research, Charles H. Smith.

Clearly, you get something extra when you buy a Corinthian station.

A Lift for Daytime Televiewing Spear-Headed by Strip Schedules

By
DAVID V. SUTTON
Vice President in Charge
MCA-TV Film
Syndication Division

STRONG assists toward revamping and strengthening local daytime programming will be made this year, by new uses of syndicated film programs.

Good quality mystery strips, until now used only in the evening times, will furnish a strip of tangy seasoning between the conventional strips of daytime personality shows, panels, giveaways, and soap operas.

Conversations with key people at networks, agencies, advertising departments, and local stations have fortified our belief that the time is ripe for daytime stripping of good mysteries (preferably with an attractive male star).

MCA TV is backing this belief by making available 82 half-hour films starring Ralph Bellamy in a series called "Follow That Man" (originally titled "Man Against Crime") in its network run.

WCBS-TV in New York will strip "Follow That Man" at 5:00 p.m. daily. Stations in the Storer group will also strip the show in the daytime. These spearheading arrangements have just been set during the first days the show has been offered. The stations, of course, are free to play the show in evening periods as well.

MCA TV has had some enlightening experiences during the past year with mystery strips in early evening times. In the 6:00-7:00 p.m. times (almost always reserved for kid-shows), we assisted in replacing long-standing kid shows in a great many markets with good mystery shows. Ratings were unbelievably good, and in every instance well balanced family audiences, consisting of more than 60 per cent adults, were achieved. The notorious shortage of sponsors for kid products was not a factor here, for there was no shortage of sponsors of adult type products for the early evening mysteries.

Why are mystery shows attractive to viewers in the daytime hours? Because daytime viewers, largely women, are surely surfeited by now with the same monotonous fare of television standbys. They have given dramatic evidence of their desire for programs with more excitement, more suspense. The good mystery show provides just the change of pace they seem to appreciate. We need not go into the psychological backgrounds of this preference; the universal appeal of mystery-suspense-adventure stories is well known in every field of story-telling—in popular novels, on the screen, on the radio, the stage and of course on television.

The importance of the daytime hours in the rating picture is also not to be overlooked. During this time of day the TV advertiser can reach a selective audience—the woman of the household who traditionally controls the family purse-strings. Too, in many TV homes, the female viewer who turns on her television set for a brief respite from her chores is being exposed to the advertiser's message at a more propitious time, from a marketing point of view. She is very likely to complete her viewing, turn off the set, and go out to the stores. Thus the sponsor's message is fresher in her mind than during evening viewing.

Strong adult audience acceptance of mystery strips in early evening times, concurrence of opinion amongst key people, and immediate action to strip "Follow That Man" in the daytime by WCBS-TV (New York) and Storer stations, convince us that mystery strips will provide a much needed lift in daytime fare. We will do what we can to furnish what is needed.

Wide Variety Of Advertisers Find Film Adaptable To Needs

By M. J. RIFKIN
Vice President in Charge of Sales Ziv Television Programs

ONE of the most dramatic developments in the growth of the TV film industry has been the extension of film sponsorship ranks to include every conceivable type of advertiser, representing every category of business enterprise and every size of organization.

At Ziv, we have seen such giants as Bristol-Myers, Procter & Gamble and Reynolds Tobacco, steadily increase their purchases of film series. At the same time, our regional and local clients have been continually expanding their use of film. Each year, we see new advertisers turning to half-hour films. We find advertisers enlarging their TV activities from the use of between-program announcements to alternate sponsorship and then to full, weekly identification with a program series.

As part of this impressive growth of sponsorship, there has been a phenomenon that has developed so naturally that I think many of us have failed to note its significance. We have found that a potent program with universal audience appeal can work equally well for advertisers with vastly different products and problems. The program that seems ideally suited to a baker in the south can be just as effective for an oil company on the West Coast. Our roster of "Sea Hunt" sponsors, for example, includes such widely different advertisers as such major national corporations as Bristol-Myers, Anheuser-Busch, R. J. Reynolds and Schlitz Brewing. It includes large regional companies with such diverse products as those of Heileman Brewing, Standard Oil of California and Dixie Club Coffee. Local advertisers are represented too—P. C. Food Markets in Syracuse; the Louis Shanks Furniture Co. in Austin, Texas; the San Antonio Savings and Loan Association, and so forth. As dissimilar as these companies are, they have one goal in common—to reach the largest number of viewers possible, in the most favorable possible context. And so they seek association with an outstanding program with great rating potential.

To broadcasters, this broad advertiser appeal has meant that the station can move swiftly to guarantee for itself the acquisition of a hot new property, with the assurance that many potential clients will be interested in it.

To advertisers, this has meant in effect a broader choice of quality programming. And for those clients who are interested in alternate sponsorship or the selection of a group of markets for their advertising campaign, this phenomenon of versatility has been of immeasurable benefit. As a result of the Ziv field organization's close contact with national, regional and local advertisers and their agencies, as well as with station programmers throughout the country, we have often been able to arrange a "marriage" between two compatible clients in the sponsorship of a Ziv teleseries. Last year alone, we "wedded" something like 1,200 clients of all types and budget sizes who came to us seeking a top-flight show for alternate-week sponsorship or for multi-market spreads.

In short, the show is the thing. If it has genuine audience appeal, and carefully wrought merchandising support, it will sell effectively for anybody, anyplace. Perhaps the best proof that this thesis works successfully is the tremendously high rate of renewals scored by our advertiser and station clients. We have had renewal rates as high as the 97 per cent earned by "Highway Patrol." We have had individual sponsors staying with a series for as long as seven years. Of all Ziv shows which have been in syndication for more than one season, 68 per cent have had the same sponsor through at least two years.

How can we profile the "typical" film sponsor? He might be someone with a nationally distributed product or he might be a hometown merchant; he might have a multi-million dollar budget or one that is a few thousand a year. The one thing he is sure to have in common with his fellow film users is a desire to reach a great number of people with the power and impact of association with an outstanding program.

New Emphasis Is Now Given Showmanship In Broadcasting

By ELLIOTT W. HENRY, JR.
President Broadcasters' Promotion Assn. Director — Press Information and Promotion, ABC, Central Div., Chicago

IT can be heard or seen in Canton, Cairo or Chicago, but it is going to have a much more difficult time getting off the ground unless it is given a shot of showmanship.

We're talking about that favorite radio or television program which your management knows can succeed yet must have that extra bit of window dressing in order to gain its due audience.

The management turns to the Promotion Department (and this operation can and usually does enclose a lot of territory such as publicity, exploitation, merchandising, advertising, purchase of travel, theatre and track tickets, etc., etc.) and expects it—and rightfully so—to set forth some concrete ideas as to what can be done to secure additional viewers or listeners.

Let's take a quick glance at three basic principles that this department—whether it consists of one person or several individuals—can offer to spell out SHOW MAN SHIP in broadcasting.

Advertise the Show. As Ollie Treyz, ABC-TV President, has so aptly stated, "Today you have to advertise your advertising."

— Where do you advertise? In magazines, newspapers, trade journals, company house organs, on billboards, theatres, street cars, buses, subways, elevated railroads, in the sky, delivery trucks, commuter trains, window displays, and via direct mail. Naturally, any one or more of these outlets cost money. Your budget may be small. Most are. Think. Think of your best medium as it pertains to your program. Among these are one or more that you can use at a cost you can afford. Use it sensibly. Let all concerned know what you are doing. It won't be long before you will have injected the "SHOW" into SHOW MAN SHIP.

Promote the Show. A good Promotion Manager knows there is nothing like his own medium to promote his own product.

— Where do you promote? On every dog-goned show that you have on your air. You have a ready-made audience. It's there ready to receive your message. Here the budget is not a major factor such as it might be in advertising, but you still must think. You must think of the right type of on-the-air promotions. If you are doing the spot announcement type, you must make darn sure that your copy lends itself to the program you are trying to promote. Solid, sock, hard-hitting copy that will catch, interest and hold the listener. Coordinate all your on-the-air promotion ideas, and, as you did with your advertising, know in which direction you are going. You will soon find that you have gained the "MAN" in SHOW MAN SHIP.

Publicize the Show. Be it the program, the personality or the policy you are attempting to publicize, don't irritate the people with whom you are attempting to gain favor.

— Where do you publicize? In every blessed medium that you honestly and sincerely feel that you have a chance to tell your story. Newspapers, magazines, wire services, syndicates, trade journals, house organs, and once again, your own medium through its news and program departments. Remember that you must always observe the rules of being a good publicist (this is another chapter), and chances are you will wind up in "SHIP" shape and you will be the proud master of proving not only to yourself but to your management and your client that SHOW MAN SHIP can be an important and well recognized facet of your organization's operation.

And your SHOW MAN SHIP techniques may be a darn important argument in your behalf the next time you hit the management for a raise!

Television Talks

THE COMPLETE REPORT OF THE FIVE TV PROGRAM CLINICS AS CONDUCTED IN 1957 BY BMI

Published in a limited edition of 1,200 copies by Channel Press

Now in one single volume—the actual experiences of successful TV broadcasters as presented during the five BMI TV Clinics held last year in New York, Chicago, Fort Worth, Atlanta and San Francisco. Includes the question and answer periods following each TV talk as well as the Bull Sessions covering a variety of TV operations. The Governors of five states join the proceedings with pertinent remarks.

"Covering such subjects as the use of color, children's programs, local service programming, station promotion and management and many others, the book provides a report on television's day-to-day problems and also points up some answers to those of tomorrow.

"As a reference for anyone who attended the clinics, and more particularly for those who did not, the volume offers a storehouse of worthwhile information and at the same time is eminently readable."
—Broadcasting-Telecasting

". . . cover every key subject in connection with TV programming, and as such should prove of extreme interest to almost everyone connected with mass communications."
—Radio-Television Daily

"Here is a revealing TV forum with practical viewpoints from five major regions."

Television Has Made America The World's Largest Living Room

By
OLIVER E. TREYZ
President
ABC Television
Network

TELEVISION has assumed the role of adviser, shopping guide and court-jester to King Consumer. The King is a man of many parts. He demands a varied, imaginative diet to sustain him. And each day his palate becomes more educated.

He makes his will known to us through ratings, but even the most carefully compounded statistics can be deceptive. Necessary and useful tools though they are, ratings at best are partial guides to a total picture. If ratings take on a life of their own and parade as the whole truth when actually they are only clues to the mystery of success or failure, then there is chaos and confusion.

As IQ scores tell us relatively little about the personal dynamics of an individual, so ratings leave much to be said about the dynamics of a particular television property as an effective agent to stimulate King Consumer to go out and buy a particular item. In a recent article in Variety, Walter Guild (of Guild, Bascom and Bonfigli) reminds us that circulation and sales effectiveness are sometimes separate entities. He points to medium-rated shows like Bold Journey (for Ralston-Purina, in its third year) and You Asked For it (for Skippy Peanut Butter, celebrating its 7th year) that have boosted sales figures consistently throughout their network lives. Judged by performance, in dollars and cents, Bold Journey and You Asked For It are winners.

We feel that understanding King Consumer's needs is the rule at ABC-TV. We insist on translating audience statistics into human terms, realizing that there is meaning behind numbers just as, in this Mardi-Gras business of ours, we must not forget to look behind the mask.

Ratings do not give us the final insight into King Consumer—so we must take a closer look at the television universe. At the start of 1958 there are 42,400,000 television homes in the United States. The figure is increasing by over 7,000 sets each day! We must realize that we are dealing with the most complex, heterogeneous group of human beings ever to assemble for one purpose—to be entertained and informed.

The audience that confronts us breaks down into innumerable gradations of tastes, preferences, prejudices and taboos. Not only must we appeal to the family unit in the world's largest living room, but we provide specialized shows like Wednesday Night Fights for the sports-minded and the Voice of Firestone for the music-minded.

Television is an old hand at working miracles. Not the least of these has been TV's ability to reconcile mass with class. TV can move soap and cigarettes from retail store counters, and cars off showroom floors—and more importantly, move the minds of men. Research shows us that the higher-income families, and the younger, buying families are television's greatest fans. Examine these daily television viewing figures:

The average home spent 5:39
The highest income homes spent 7:04
The lowest income homes spent 4:09
The youngest family units spent 6:50
The older family units spent 4:56

Here we have a set of numbers that unveil some useful truths. Where there is more money, there is more leisure, and more leisure means more time spent with television. Where there are young families, families in their acquisitive years (when baby needs new shoes and mom a new washing machine) there is more televiewing in the family circle. These are some of the reasons why TV is so effective a salesman: TV reaches everybody, the mass—but it reaches the higher-income and large-family groups more often.

ABC-TV has always taken the time to look behind the ratings at the human beings who make the numbers live. That an ever-expanding national audience has accepted us, and made us welcome, seems to endorse our formula for keeping King Consumer from calling his fiddlers three. He's chosen television for his Number 1 performer!

ABC TELEVISION NETWORK

JAMES G. RIDDELL
Executive Vice President of American Broadcasting Company

James G. Riddell was elected executive vice president of American Broadcasting Company in March, 1958, and will assume his new post July 1. In this capacity he will be in charge of the radio and television networks and the owned and operated stations, with their respective heads reporting to him. Riddell, a native of Glasgow, Scotland, came to the United States at an eariy age and entered broadcasting in 1931 at WXYZ, Detroit. After successive promotions he was named general manager of WXYZ when the station was purchased by ABC in 1946. In 1950 he became president and general manager of WXYZ, Inc. He was instrumental in launching WXYZ-TV, which pioneered in daytime operations. Riddell is married and is the father of two daughters.

WILLIAM P. MULLEN
Vice President in Charge of Sales

William P. Mullen was appointed vice president in charge of television sales in late March, 1958. Formerly head of ABC-TV's Detroit Sales Division, he joined the network's Sales Department in May, 1955. Before joining ABC-TV, Mullen was eastern sales manager for John W. Loveton Productions; account executive with Trans-Film, Inc. and Cappel MacDonald & Co.; and was associated with the William Morris Agency and the CBS Television Network. He served in the U.S. Army during World War II with the rank of lieutenant colonel and was executive officer for the Armed Forces Radio Service. Mullen lives in Port Washington, Long Island with his wife and son.

THOMAS W. MOORE
Vice President in Charge of Programming and Talent

Thomas W. Moore, ABC-TV vice president in charge of programming and talent since March, 1958, was formerly vice president in charge of sales, having resigned his post as general sales manager for CBS-TV Film Sales in 1957. He had been with the CBS film organization for five years, as an account executive on the West Coast since 1952 and as general sales manager in New York since 1956. Moore was born in Meridian, Miss. and was educated at Mississippi State College and the University of Missouri. His communications career started with his post as classified advertising manager with the Meridian Star. After serving as a naval aviator from 1941 to 1945, Moore became vice president in charge of advertising and public relations for the Forest Lawn Memorial Park in Los Angeles. He lives in Darien, Conn. with his wife and two children.

TV: Ten Years Old — And Still The Most Powerful Mass Medium

By
MERLE S. JONES
President
CBS-TV Stations
Division

AFTER ten years of explosive growth, television today is solidly entrenched as the nation's most popular and most powerful medium of mass communications.

This simple fact ought to lay to rest forever the predictions of those "doubting Thomases" who for years have etched a deep groove with their warning, "Wait until the novelty of television wears off, then see how popular the medium will be!"

After ten years, the novelty of television has worn off, and today the medium stands as the favorite dispenser of entertainment and information in 41,800,000 American homes and the focus of the average family's attention for a record-breaking five hours and 27 minutes a day. In fact, last year the total volume of nighttime network viewing increased more than it had in any of the past five years.

These are not the sudden-growth statistics of a product newly introduced on the market. These are the statistics of a communications medium settled in its tenth year of operation. And because television continues to hold this unparalleled fascination for the American people, each of the three nation-wide television networks today delivers larger average nighttime audiences than any of them ever did before. The network which delivers the largest of these audiences is CBS Television, which currently reaches an average of almost 10 million homes per average minute and which in 1957 broadcast the two most popular programs in television history: "Cinderella," seen by 75 million people; and the premiere of "The Lucille Ball-Desi Arnaz Show," watched by 60 million.

As the nation's foremost medium of communications, television has also taken over within the space of one decade, the primary responsibility to provide the clearest, most complete picture of the news developments throughout the world which so profoundly affect the well-being of every American today. At a time when the struggle between free and communist nations has grown so dangerous and so pervasive that it enters into every aspect of daily life, the need for a well-informed, interested and enlightened public opinion is more acute than ever before in history.

One small measure of how well television is discharging its responsibility in this area can be seen from the fact that last year CBS Television's weekday "Douglas Edwards With The News" program became the world's single most popular news vehicle—attaining a circulation larger than that of any newspaper, magazine or other news broadcast, daily or weekly.

Last year too, CBS News not only anticipated this unparalleled need for public enlightenment but it also responded to that need through the presentation of such notable television series as "Face The Nation," "See It Now," "Air Power," "Twentieth Century," "Conquest," and its many outstanding special news programs.

In the coming months, CBS Television's news and public affairs broadcasts will play an increasingly important role in the network's overall program schedule.

Also sparking the network's schedule this year are a generous number of special "one-time" entertainment programs of unusual diversity, interest and quality.

Basic to the success of all these special programs, of course, is the overwhelming popularity of CBS Television's regularly scheduled entertainment series which week in and week out continue to command a most loyal following in television. In the last analysis, it has been the outstanding appeal of television's programs, both regular and special, which accounts for the medium's continually increasing popularity as it enters its second decade. People are finding more to watch on their home screens. They are watching more network programs than ever before, and most of all, they are watching the programs on CBS Television.

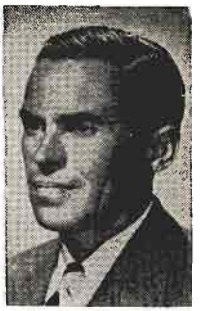
CBS TELEVISION NETWORK

HUBBELL ROBINSON, JR.
Executive Vice President in Charge of Network Programs



Hubbell Robinson, Jr. was named CBS Television executive vice president in charge of network programs on March 19, 1956. Previously he had held the title of vice president in charge of network programs since July, 1951. He joined CBS in 1947 as a vice president in charge of network programs. Prior to his affiliation with CBS, Robinson was vice president and director of radio for Young & Rubicam from 1928 to 1944. He joined the Blue Network, now ABC, in 1944, as vice president and director of programs. Robinson moved to Foote, Cone and Belding as vice president in charge of radio in 1945. A native of Schenectady, N. Y., Robinson was graduated from Brown University. Following graduation he was a reporter on the Schenectady Union Star and the Knickerbocker Press in Albany. In 1928, he moved to New York and entered advertising.

WILLIAM B. LODGE
Vice President of Station Relations and Engineering

William B. Lodge, vice president of station relations and engineering, was appointed to his present post in February, 1957. Previously he had held the title of vice president in charge of engineering since 1951, having joined CBS in 1931 as an engineer. Earlier, in 1929 and 1930, he had engaged in vacuum tube research at the Bell Telephone Laboratories. From 1936 to 1942, Lodge was engineer-in-charge of the Radio Frequency Division of the CBS General Engineering Department. From 1942 to 1944 he was associate director of the Airborne Instruments Laboratory operated by Columbia University for the U. S. Office of Scientific Research and Development. Lodge was appointed director of general engineering for Columbia Broadcasting System in 1944, and in 1948 became vice president in charge of general engineering. A native of Whitemarsh, Pa., he is a Fellow of the IRE, a Fellow and former member of the Board of Governors of the SMPE, a member of the AFCCE, and a member of the Board of Directors of NAB.

WILLIAM H. HYLAN
Vice President of Sales Administration

Associated with CBS for 20 years, William H. Hylan, vice president of sales administration since February, 1957, was named vice president in charge of network sales for CBS television in 1952. He entered military service with the Army after four years as an account executive with CBS Radio Sales from 1937 to 1941. In 1945, he returned to CBS radio and was appointed assistant to the director of station administration. He switched to the network's new TV sales staff as an account executive in 1948. In 1951, he was named assistant sales manager. Early the next year, Hylan was appointed eastern sales manager. He was born in New York City in 1905 and spent a good part of his youth as a resident of the Island of Puerto Rico. Hylan was graduated from Yale University.

The Question in TV Programming Is — Where Do We Go From Here?

By
ROBERT F. LEWINE
Vice President
Television Network
Programs, National Broadcasting Co.

IN the area of television programming, two facts stand out today: First, though there has always been a seller's market in top talent, there is a greater shortage of big name talent now than ever before. Second, the entertainment business has failed to develop box office names fast enough to meet this challenge.

As a result of this situation, we are faced with the serious problem: Where do we go from here?

Several factors are responsible for today's shortage of talent. One is the increased competition on television today. The networks are now finding that they must compete not only with each other but with individual stations whose programming is now bolstered by TV films and Hollywood features of steadily improving quality. With such a wide choice of entertainment the viewing public has become more selective, choosing programs and personalities with greater care than ever before. This has helped kill off many a marquee name.

Then there is the plight of those show-business names not primarily associated with TV but who appear as extra-special guest attractions. Even these entertainers, except for a few of the very top stage and screen stars, have found that after making their highly publicized television debuts and after continued guest appearances, that honeymoons don't last forever.

This growing shortage of talent has had a definite effect on our over-all program operation. The top performers of today usually insist on controlling their own shows, either by owning the package or by having the fullest say in what type of program they appear in. As a result, the network and the packagers have to come up with shows that will keep the stars happy.

The need for building special vehicles for top stars has given greater emphasis to the big talent agencies. To satisfy the particular needs of the talent they represent, they have developed strong programming operations of their own to produce these packages, geared precisely to the capabilities and the preferences of their talent.

I would like to add at this time that the programming these agencies produce is a reliable and saleable product, for these agencies have acquired a high degree of know-how in this field. Moreover, if the show gets into trouble, they move in quickly to put things right. Also, let's not overlook the important sales effort these agencies put behind their packages. They often come to the network with a program and a client all ready to sign for it.

Finally, the shortage of big names increases the fees those few can pick up for guest appearances. As a result, many of these artists refuse to undertake a regular series with all the confinement and risk this means when they can earn handsome fees with just a few guest appearances on big-budget shows. Therefore, we find fewer top names than usual associated with regular series while you find an increase in the number of regularly scheduled variety shows whose formats offer a ready market for guest shots.

Television has not stood idly by in the face of this challenge. It has met the problem head on and has attempted to build its own fresh, big-name entertainers. We haven't done too badly either, considering the great obstacles to developing home-grown talent, including the reluctance of advertisers to risk large outlays on new performers.

Today we are helping to meet the talent shortage by developing programs that depend more on format than on top talent. We also keep in mind talent development needs in casting shows. And we try to develop new performers by exposing them as much as possible on our programs.

The challenges that face our industry today do not discourage me. Rather, they put new emphasis on creativity and originality and this will help make new stars and improved programs.

NBC TELEVISION NETWORK

ROBERT E. KINTNER
Executive Vice President, Television Network

Robert E. Kintner was elected to his present post of executive vice president, TV network, in February, 1958, having been executive VP, TV network programs and sales since February, 1957. Kintner, former president of ABC, is a graduate of Swarthmore College. He joined the editorial staff of the New York Herald Tribune, later becoming Washington correspondent for that paper. With Joseph Alsop, he wrote a nationally syndicated column. Kintner has co-authored several magazine articles and books. In 1941 he joined the Army, serving overseas, and with the War Department Bureau of Public Relations in Washington. He joined ABC as VP in 1944 with supervision of programming, public services, public relations and advertising. In 1946 he was elected executive VP, and president in 1949. He resigned in October, 1956.

DAVID C. ADAMS
Executive Vice President, Corporate Relations

David C. Adams was appointed to his present post as executive vice president, corporate relations in September, 1956. He was elected a staff vice president in March, 1954. Adams joined NBC in December, 1947 as assistant general counsel after six years of government service with the Federal Communications Commission. He served successively as chief of the International Legal Section of the Common Carrier Division, assistant chief of the Common Carrier Division and assistant to the general counsel. In 1943 he joined the Army, serving first with an anti-aircraft battalion and later with Military Intelligence. Adams was born in Buffalo and was graduated from the University of Buffalo and its law school (1937). He practiced law in Buffalo prior to joining the FCC. He and his wife live with their two sons in Croton-on-Hudson, N. Y.

WALTER D. SCOTT
Vice President, Television Network Sales for NBC

Walter D. Scott was placed in charge of sales for the NBC Television Network in January, 1958. Previously he was vice president and national sales manager. Scott joined the NBC Sales Department in 1938. He was named eastern sales manager in 1949, and in February, 1951, was promoted to the new post of administrative sales manager. He held this position until he was elected vice president and national sales manager of NBC-TV in December, 1955. Before coming to NBC Scott served in the sales department of Hearst Radio, Inc., and before that on the advertising staff of The Daily Oklahoman and Times. He is a graduate of the University of Missouri School of Journalism.

NTA Film Network Is Indication That Growth Is Keyword to Future

By RAYMOND E. NELSON
Vice President and General Manager NTA Film Network Inc.

IT is difficult to go into the past history of something with which you have been intimately associated without finding yourself falling into "and then I wrote—" sort of format. Nevertheless, the NTA Film Network, which a relatively short time ago was somewhat of a revolutionary idea, is now a recognized broadcasting entity with not only a future but what is probably more important, both a past and a present, since the Network has progressed from theoretical into actual status.

We did not pretend that the film network, as such, was an original thought. Film networking had been discussed, some brief attempts to get one off the ground had come a resounding cropper, but the fact remained that no such thing as an operating film network had ever been achieved.

We felt that there was a two-fold need for the NTA Film Network, a need on the part of broadcasters and advertisers. We do not quarrel with the principles of wired network operation and, indeed, are exploring coaxial cable facilities ourselves. We did, however, feel that there was a need for a method of networking which provided for a change in either the method or the amount of station compensation, and an abolition of the "must buy" premise which forced network minded TV advertisers to buy markets that they did not necessarily need, accompanied by the financial lost motion of servicing those markets.

When we contemplated the station field, we knew that the time scarcity problem would be our number one obstacle. To put together enough television coverage to interest a national advertiser was a complex problem, since in a great many markets there were too few stations to service the then existing networks without getting into the clearance problems of another. We saw, however, two distinct opportunities; one would involve upgrading the time of the independent station, which had been denied the strength of group programming of its wired network competitors, and in hypoing audiences tuned to marginal time periods on wired network outlets. We saw in this two-fold opportunity a first step towards filling the broadcaster-advertiser need. Even the strongest stations had weak time periods that could be upgraded, and we reasoned that, to the advertiser, audience would be audience regardless of station or time; that if we could deliver sufficient viewer tonnage at a reasonable cost we could more than adequately serve him.

Which brings us to the matter of history. By dint of thousands of miles of travel and extended consultations with stations, we were able to come up with a network that offered both flexibility and potential. To the advertiser who wanted to take advantage of the network's full lineup of 134 stations, we were able to offer potential coverage to over 95 per cent of the country's TV homes. To the advertiser who wanted less, we could tailor-make a station lineup that would directly serve his sales problems and be restricted purely and simply to the areas he wished to reach.

In market after market, the Network's Premiere Performance program has consistently received excellent ratings, showing dominance over such network shows as Jackie Gleason, Lawrence Welk, Disneyland, Steve Allen, Your Hit Parade, Playhouse 90 and others.

And so our brief past has been, we believe, a significant one, not only to ourselves and the stations we serve but to America's advertisers, for whom we have created what is to all intents and purposes a new advertising medium, or at the very least a valuable extension of a relatively circumspect one already in existence. Our first year has been a challenging one, and to us a very rewarding one.

We believe that our future is bright. The NTA Film Network, which was once a train in the blue-print stage, now is definitely on the track. We believe that it has a long and prosperous journey ahead. Based on a busy past and rushed present, we believe that we can expect an accelerated future.

FIRST

—IN AUDIENCE Check share of total tune-in, sign-on to sign-off, Sunday through Saturday, by any measuring authority. WSB Radio and WSB-TV are Atlanta's dominant firsts month after month.

—IN COVERAGE WSB-TV covers 25% more counties than Atlanta's 2nd tv station, 72% more than the third (NCS No. 2). No other Georgia radio station approaches the coverage pattern of 50,000 watt, clear channel WSB Radio.

—IN RETAIL SALES Hundreds of millions of dollars more than is delivered by any other radio or tv station in Georgia. Let your Petry man show you the cold cash facts.

—IN FACILITIES Local programming of nationally recognized caliber. Southern leader in broadcasting and telecasting in the public interest. Affiliated with The Atlanta Journal-Constitution. NBC affiliate. Represented by Edw. Petry & Co.

Where else can you find a universe like this—a big, rich central market with so many important satellite trading centers?

—where satellite markets total 33% richer and 50% bigger than the metropolitan trading zone itself?

—where such a widespread market can be covered from one central point by television . . . with no overlapping penetration by basic affiliates of the same network?

Only here—in Indianapolis on WFBM-TV—can you buy more honest market penetration, consumer influence, for fewer dollars expended than anywhere else. It will pay you well to use us everytime!

Indianapolis

Major retail area for 17 richer than averag counties. A million population—339,100 fam ilies with 90% television ownership!

12 Satellites

Each a recognized marketing area—wit audited WFBM-TV audience of 412,800 mor television sets!

Represented Nationally by the KATZ Agency

The Nation's 14th Television Market

. . . with the only basic NBC coverage of 740,000 TV set owning families.

THE kakeMAN COVERS
almost* ALL OF KANSAS

KAKE-TV, Channel 10 . . . Top-Rated* in Wichita, Kansas, with Associate Station KTVC for Southwest Kansas, proudly announces the addition of a second satellite station . . . KAYS-TV, Channel 7, Hays, Kansas, serving the North Central-Northwest section of the state (on air June 1). Now . . . one KAKE-TV Combination Buy covers almost all of Kansas.

*The February, 1958 ARB again showed KAKE-TV dominating the ratings in every category, as it has by almost the same margin for the last three preceding ratings, covering a full year of surveys.

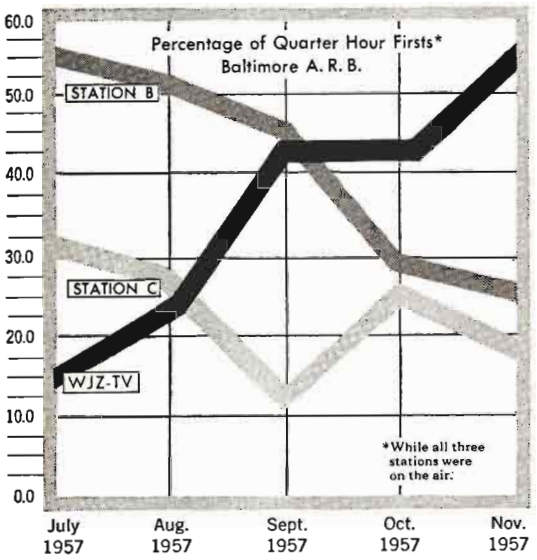
in Baltimore WJZ-TV dominates



A fast picture of the big change in Baltimore TV shows that WJZ-TV, under Westinghouse Broadcasting Company ownership, has moved from 3rd to a dominant 1st place in less than four months!

Like November, the December ARB report on quarter hours shows that WJZ-TV is first in more quarter hours than the other two Baltimore stations COMBINED!

WJZ-TV	(ABC)	233 firsts
Station B	(CBS)	155 "
Station C	(NBC)	75 "

WJZ-TV DOMINATES IN SHARE OF SETS-IN-USE TOO!

Confirming WJZ-TV's dominance in the Baltimore TV picture, the December ARB figures for share of sets-in-use are:

WJZ-TV	(ABC)	39.0
Station B	(CBS)	33.1
Station C	(NBC)	26.8

Now . . . in Baltimore, WJZ-TV dominates. In Baltimore, more and more, no selling campaign is complete without the WBC station. Your Blair-TV man is ready to talk business, and so is Joe Dougherty, WJZ-TV Sales Manager (MOhawk 4-7600, Baltimore).

Here's all you need to know-for sales success in Buffalo!

The second biggest market in the nation's biggest-spending state is defined and digested for you in the new WBEN-TV Coverage Brochure.

This brochure includes market facts of the 14 Western New York and four Northwestern Pennsylvania counties served by WBEN-TV. It also contains a graphic coverage map that pin points your total sales area where 3½ billions are spent annually at the retail level. In all, it presents a clear and concise picture of all you need to know to stimulate sales thinking and sales effort.

And to help you reach and penetrate this huge market the most effective way, you'll find this brochure brimming with facts on facilities and service that have proven to TV advertisers since 1948 that "TV dollars count for more on Channel 4".

We'll be happy to send you a copy of this fact-packed brochure. Just write our Sales Department or HARRINGTON, RIGHTER & PARSONS, Inc.

WFBG-TV is dominant in 15 Central Pennsylvania counties—the only area where it competes alone for the audience with the Johnstown station. Proof from Central Pennsylvania Trendex—the first complete rating study ever made in the area: WFBG-TV delivers 16.7% MORE audience, Monday-Friday. Only CBS station covering the area from Pittsburgh to Harrisburg, WFBG-TV also carries the best of ABC including "American Bandstand," the nation's Number ONE network program from 4-5 PM, Monday-Friday. Call Blair-TV today for rates and availabilities.

"WONDERFUL GOOD" ALL DAY

Latest area survey proves WLBR-TV delivers more audience at lower cost than competition. "Popeye"... 2.5% more audience than Lancaster station; nearly 3 times combined audience of both Harrisburg stations. "American Bandstand"... far 2½ hours daily, 2½ times combined audience of Harrisburg stations.

"WONDERFUL GOOD" ALL NIGHT

"World's Best Movies"... 16.3% more audience than Harrisburg stations combined. WLBR-TV delivers America's Number ONE UHF Market at a fraction of the cost of nearest competitor. Blair-TV Associates has the amazing, dollar-saving facts.

Channel 2 is No. 1 in Pittsburgh!

Day after day, within 38 counties in Pennsylvania, Ohio, West Virginia, and Maryland, more people watch KDKA-TV than any other medium!

Month after month, ARB share-of-audience figures, from sign-on to sign-off, give KDKA-TV an average of almost twice that of the 2nd Pittsburgh station!

There are some 4.5 million TV viewers within range of Channel 2. So, if you want great sales results, remember . . . no selling campaign is complete without the WBC station . . .

We're first, but...

WHO WANTS TO ARGUE ABOUT ~~4½~~ 3½ PER CENT ?

Channel 11®

KFJZ-TV

It seems there's a new champ born with almost every rating book in Dallas/Fort Worth. Only one fact is constant . . . It's the tightest four-station market in America! Right now we're first with 27.7 per cent* share of audience. (Sign on to sign off Sunday through Saturday.) The fourth station trails by a mere 3.4 per cent . . . So who wants to argue?

High-rated nighttime minutes now available delivering a top family audience of 2.84 (average) viewers per set — 12 per cent more than nearest competitor!

First in Houston

radio and television

KPRC and KPRC-TV Dominate the Houston Market

KPRC RADIO has been the first choice of Houston Gulf Coast listeners for more than 30 years. KPRC-TV, now over five years old, is also first choice with these same people. More than a time-honored habit, this loyalty is indisputable proof of KPRC's experienced leadership and consistent fine quality.

Television Stations and Sets Overseas

At the end of 1957 a total of 47 countries had television, excluding the U.S., its territories, and Canada. During the year the number of overseas TV stations (including experimental and satellite stations) increased from 260 to 447. Some five million new receivers were bought, compared with 3.5 million in 1956, to bring the total in 1957 to 16.4 million sets. Estimates indicate there will be over 600 overseas TV stations by the end of 1958.

The U.S. Information Agency, which released the following statistics, cautions that they are subject to the reliability of the various sources involved. Official data are used whenever possible. TV set figures include estimates of unlicensed or "black" sets in some cases. Statistics for Communist Bloc countries are to be viewed with caution, and allowances made for over-enthusiasm in some countries' TV development figures.

CHANNEL UTILIZATION

The following table of assignments contains the channels assigned to the listed communities in the United States, its Territories, and possessions. Channels designated with an asterisk are assigned for use by noncommercial educational broadcast stations only. A station on a channel identified by a plus or minus mark is required to operate with its carrier frequencies offset 10 kc above or below, respectively, the normal carrier frequencies.

Multiple Run Programming of TV Film Has Demonstrated Its Value

By PIERRE WEIS
General Manager
Economee, Division of
Ziv Television
Programs, Inc.

MULTIPLE run programming is exhibiting a new vitality as stations find new ways to harness their audience-building power. The cross-the-board strip program has been widely employed as a daytime vehicle.

Increasingly, stations are discovering that strips provide an effective and economical means of programming on a profitable basis, such periods as early morning, late afternoon and "fringe" evening time.

Indeed, examining the record scored by our various Ziv-Economee shows, it would be hard to find a time period in which the film strip has not done an outstanding job.

In Charleston, W.Va., WCHS-TV has had exceptional success with cross-the-board showings of Boston Blackie at 7:30 in the morning. It has out-rated the Today show opposing it by as much as three to one. In Chicago, on WGN-TV, Blackie has proved invincible as a 1 p.m. entry. In Miami on WTVJ, Mr. District Attorney has been a kingpin entry at 4 p.m. The same show on WFAA-TV in Dallas-Ft. Worth has built up that station's 11:30 a.m. audience to a far stronger position than any of the three programs which it had previously aired in the slot.

So widespread has the use of the strip technique become that we might tend to overlook the power of reruns as weekly entries. The most dramatic example of successful once-a-week showcasing that comes to mind is that of Mr. District Attorney in Washington where it has consistently ranked as the highest-rated of all syndicated shows, out-rating first-run vehicles.

The moral for the station programmer is simply that outstanding star-name programs which demonstrate audience appeal on their first airings can be shown over and over again with undiminished vitality. Their audience-building power means in turn that these offer strong vehicles for spot advertising. With proven track records to guide advertisers' choices, the multiple run program is an outstanding revenue-builder for stations.

The multiple run program is to be found on every type of station, large or small, network or independent. For example, recent purchases of I Led Three Lives have been made by the CBS Television Network flagship station, WCBS-TV in New York, as well as by one of the country's most film-conscious independents, KTTV in Los Angeles. In such giant markets as San Francisco, Houston and Baltimore, I Led Three Lives has been acquired by KPIX-TV, KGUL-TV and WBAL-TV, respectively. The same program has also been bought by stations in moderate-sized markets, such as KELP-TV in El Paso, Texas and WSFA-TV in Montgomery, Alabama. The same is true for other Economee programs—Mr. District Attorney, Corliss Archer, Science Fiction Theatre, Boston Blackie, Favorite Story and Dr. Christian.

If I were asked to offer counsel to station men contemplating purchase of multiple run series, I think the points I would stress would be these: Look for a program that has inherent values—exciting backgrounds, impact themes, star names, fine production. Judge rerun prices and properties with the same care and attention that you give to the selection of a just-produced series. Pick a time period that the film has not previously been aired in. Lastly and perhaps most important, promote your show as fully as possible. Audience promotion, merchandising support, tune-in ads — the full range of exploitation techniques should be employed to get the maximum value from your investment.

Repeat showings have demonstrated their value. All the skill and know-how which you bring to bear on their use will pay off in increased ratings and revenues.

SALES SONG...TRIO STYLE
or HOW TO BEST AIR-EXPRESS YOURSELF

This threesome—Radio Hucksters & Airlifts and Jim Ameche — will contribute mightily toward making 1958 a banner year for the Lang-Worth Station.

"Mr. Huckster" holds the secret to polished, integrated, studio quality commercials for every type of local business, product or service. It's a massive library . . . all new since '55 . . . added to by Lang-Worth at more than 250 per year. "Miss Airlift," on your right, is the L-W twin service of intros, promos, I.D.'s, sound effects and general station production aids.

Mr. Ameche, in turn, brings a dynamic new concept in a dynamic year of broadcasting—THE JIM AMECHE SHOW. Here in top-quality tape is up to 18 hours of programming per week . . . disc jockey chatter by one of the very best, all the music, commercials for your local sponsors . . . all yours, all Ameche at amazingly low cost for a new star on your staff. It's the most saleable and flexible syndicated show in radio! Why not write for facts and demonstration discs. Learn about it—listen to it. You'll buy it.

Services Offered: The Keystone Broadcasting System is a transcription network which services local radio stations in their programming with transcriptions, with KBS making their time available to national advertisers and their agencies at an attractive network package rate.

At the present, there are more than 1020 Keystone affiliates, located in towns with 10,000 to 50,000 population where they reach both the small town and rural markets. For the most part, these Keystone stations serve those areas which are beyond clear reception areas of the large metropolitan radio stations or other high power stations. The number of radio homes in the Keystone Primary Coverage Area total more than 28,000,000 based on Nielsen Reports, or one-half millivolt where the Nielsen Report is not available.

We'll help you.

If the time's ripe for aggressive action... if you want to start a sales campaign that'll wallop your competition, contact us pronto. We are uniquely equipped to custom-produce a hard-hitting sales campaign for you.

We have been starting new television trends for years. We originated the first Western series made for television (Gene Autry); the first Western female star (Annie Oakley); the first "documentary" service show (Navy Log); the first air-age series (Whirlybirds); the first Civil War series (Gray Ghost). And there are more pace-setters in production right now.

Maybe one of our current or upcoming show series will fit your aggressive sales plans. If not, we'll produce one that will. Point is, when you want to start something, start with

John Hancock

IN 1776, fifty-six Americans risked the gallows by signing a declaration that was printed and dispatched throughout the nation they had created with their penstrokes. When a man sets his signature to a document, it is his personal bond. When an advertiser sets his name to a printed message he stands directly behind it. That is why people have confidence in printed advertising. It is also the reason why an advertiser carefully selects the publication media he desires to reflect the integrity of his name and his product.

"Let me know when the show is over.
I want to catch their commercial again!"

It is possible to create commercials that add to the "entertainment" of a program. Commercials that become conversation pieces can sell a lot of product too. Our designs for the animation sequence in "Around the World in 80 Days" have been hailed by critics* as the best part of a great show. The same talent can make your next commercial á standout.

Country Music Rocks the Country, And Rolls Up Station Incomes

By
CHARLES BERNARD
President
Charles Bernard Co.
and Founder of
"CAWMBA"

TWO of the greatest success stories in all of radio's history are centered on Country Music programs which have helped to pioneer this unique showmanship into the better than $100 million-a-year business it is today. Almost 35 years ago, when "National Barn Dance" and "Grand Ole Opry" were infants, back in Chicago and Nashville, respectively, no one would have dared predict this phenomenal success over a third of a century later.

Let's look at the record. "The National Barn Dance" was sponsored by Alka Seltzer for 15 years, Keystone Steel & Wire for 25 years, and Phillips Petroleum Co. for 15 years. The "Grand Ole Opry" has expanded to the point where sponsors are on a waiting list to advertise, and many of their advertisers have been pounding away for over a decade. Easily a quarter of a million people see and enjoy their Opry yearly, with similar jamborees springing up all over the country.

"The Ozark Jubilee," or as it is better known, "Red Foley's Country Music Show," emanating from Springfield, Missouri is another lavish network presentation. Others include "The Jimmy Dean Show" out of Washington, D. C., "The Old Dominion Barn Dance" in Richmond, "The Cowtown Hoedown" in Fort Worth, "The Louisiana Hayride" and many more. However, the big switch has been in independent radio throughout the country, where more and more radio stations are switching their programming formats from pop to Country and Western Music.

Practically every major market has a station featuring this specialized programming, and one of the most successful independent pioneers is WARL, which covers the Washington market with solid Country Music, and has, for the past 10 years. In addition to Dow Chemical, which sponsors "The Red Foley Show" on NBC Radio, other national advertisers include Birstol-Myers, Phillips Petroleum, R. J. Reynolds, R. C. Cola, Philip Morris, General Motors, Miles Laboratories, The Ford Motor Co., Life Magazine, Beechnut Gum and Lydia Pinkham.

This year more than 50 million country music records will be sold, which is 40 per cent of the total sales of all single popular music records. Eddie Arnold alone has sold over 30 million records in 10 years. Many of the performers of top Country Music shows are in demand to make spot commercials. One artist, Arthur Smith, M-G-M recording star whose "Guitar Boogie" sold more than three million records, has done TV commercials for Bristol-Myers' Sal Hepatica, Lever Brothers, Grove Laboratories, Brown & Williamson Tobacco Company, and many others.

One of the reasons why sponsors like to spot their commercials in Country Music shows is that the music has appeal for all age groups. Grandpas and grade shchoolers often tune in the same program. The music is down-to-earth, and is written and performed with sincere emotion. The people who listen to Country Music are much more faithful, and buy something because they believe. The main reason a sponsor gets sales results from Country Music stations is that the listeners are geared to hearing words, not background music. Almost every Country Music song ever written is a story set to music, and when the listeners are trained to hear these musical stories, there is no resentment when a folksy announcer comes in to sell the sponsor's product. They're used to listening to words; consequently, they hear the commercials, and respond.

Country Music is not only sweeping the U. S., but is hungrily consumed throughout the world. When Guy Mitchell's "country" rendition of "Singing the Blues" sold three million copies, it was also big in Canada, Great Britain, Australia, Japan and South Africa. Because Country and Western Music has become so popular, and has had such a tremendous influence on the buying habits of our nation's shoppers, radio stations in major market areas like Los Angeles, Pittsburgh, Minneapolis and Kansas City have converted their programming to C/W, which led to the formation of "CAWMBA" —The Country and Western Music Broadcasters Assn., which is rapidly becoming a network vehicle for national advertising.

PETER DE ROSE MEMORIAL WEEK

April 23 to 30

Tin Pan Alley Pays Tribute to PETER DE ROSE

Fifth Commemorative Anniversary

The music of the composer of "Deep Purple," "Wagon Wheels," "When Your Hair Has Turned To Silver," "Have You Ever Been Lonely," and many other popular song hits will be featured on memorial programs during this week. In addition to the many accomplishments of his career as a broadcast pioneer and the rich heritage of song which he has left his Fellow Americans, he will always be remembered as a beloved figure in his own time.

In a tribute to Peter De Rose, his close friend Otto Harbach, known as the "Dean of American Lyric Writers," said:

"Once in awhile you meet someone so gentle, unselfish, kind and just, that you regain your faith in human nature."

Several Cardinal Principles Apply In Developing Jingles

By LANNY and GINGER GREY
Writers, Producers, Singers of "Jingles that don't Jangle"

PERHAPS our beginning in radio as a singing duo (Ginger & Lanny — Two voices and a pianny) has produced one of our cardinal principles in creating an effective musical commercial — a jingle should be ENTERTAINING.

We therefore try to begin each jingle as though it is a pleasing, popular song. Once the entertaining element has been established, we then try to integrate the name of the product in a subtle but pleasant or amusing manner so that the listener does not tire of the musical message, no matter how often he hears it.

We think it should have a melodic strain or theme and the sponsor's name should fit the theme like the title of the average hit tune. Too many jingles are written like a few "hot licks" containing musical passages, but not in a memorable style so that the music and the message are soon forgotten.

We think, contrary to some, that JINGLES SHOULD NOT JANGLE. True, the irritating style causes a great deal of comment and undoubtedly is very successful for a short run. We still cling, however, to the theory that an old friend wears well, and if a jingle is pleasant and friendly, it may serve its master well for many years just as "Stardust" is always welcome. This reduces the need to start over each year with a new melody or idea. Contrarily, the same tune can go on year after year, building more and new friends but still keeping the old, without costly re-recording fees and the loss of the original good-will already built at considerable expense. In other words, if a client has a good jingle, we don't think it should be changed every year, any more than he should change his trade-mark or product name. But to last, and wear well, it cannot be irritating.

Jingles should be SHORT AND SIMPLE. The most popular standard songs are the ones with few notes and words—easily sung, easily remembered. Who doesn't know the words to "Let Me Call You Sweetheart?" Therefore we feel one or two salient points in 15 seconds or less will sell much better than a whole minute of boring details that obviously is designed to be high pressure selling (with negative results) instead of sincere entertainment with a slight suggestion or tie-in with the product's name which few can resent.

Finally, the PRESENTATION is important. If the jingle is not produced properly, the melody or message may never reach its goal.

The musical background should never overshadow the voices, and in our opinion, except where a choral or group effect is essential to the mood that is being created, the fewer voices, the better.

We sincerely feel that in most cases when you employ more than two voices, the clarity of the message begins to diminish. One voice is very clear—two add more interest because the basis of all life is the couple—boy-girl, husband and wife. These are the two most important people you can reach.

Let us give credit, however, to a few very outstanding cigarette commercials that have proved the exception and are excellent. Still look how simple, successful, and popular boy-girl jingles have been, like: I GO FOR A MAN WHO WEARS AN ADAM HAT, YOU'LL WONDER WHERE THE YELLOW WENT, and the PAPER-MATE PEN jingles. These are further proof that the most effective and least costly, are the boy-girl commercials. Most of the Nation's most popular jingles have few voices. One of the earliest and most successful of all, the PEPSI-COLA JINGLE, started and gained nation-wide popularity with just one male voice.

In conclusion, we feel that the trend is toward the better commercials and we are glad to see that. It is not unusual to hear people say: "The jingle was the best part of that program, last night." Like a picture is worth a thousand words, we feel a jingle is worth a thousand words of commercial copy.

By PAUL CUNNINGHAM
President

THE American Society of Composers, Authors and Publishers serves our nation's television and radio broadcasters in the clearance of music copyrights for the performance of its varied and extensive repertory.

Through the simple machinery of an agreement between the licensee and our society, acting on behalf of the writers and publishers of the nation's outstanding compositions, the licensee obtains complete clearance of the entire catalog of its members' works.

With a membership of more than 5,000, ASCAP is proud of the caliber of music its members make available to the broadcasting industry, as well as every phase of the entertainment world.

The Society maintains headquarters at 575 Madison Avenue, New York City, with 24 branches throughout the country. Officers as of January 1, 1958, are:

Paul Cunningham	President
Louis Bernstein	Vice-President
Otto A. Harbach	Vice-President
John Tasker Howard	Secretary
Frank H. Connor	Treasurer
George W. Meyer	Assistant Secretary
J. J. Bregman	Assistant Treasurer

The Board of Directors is comprised of 12 writers and 12 publisher-members, elected biennially, the writers by writer-members, the publishers by publisher-members, for two-year terms. The directors are: Writers—Stanley Adams, Douglas Moore, Paul Cunningham, L. Wolfe Gilbert, Oscar Hammerstein II, Otto A. Harbach, John Tasker Howard, Alex C. Kramer, Ned Washington, George W. Meyer, Deems Taylor, Jack Yellen. Publishers—Louis Bernstein, Bonnie Bourne, J. J. Bregman, Irving Caesar, Frank H. Connor, Max Dreyfus, John D. Marks, Jack Mills, Gustave Schirmer, Maurice Scopp, Herman Starr, Adolph Vogel.

ASSOCIATED MUSIC PUBLISHERS, INC.

By CHARLES A. WALL
President and Treasurer

ASSOCIATED MUSIC PUBLISHERS, INC., a wholly owned subsidiary of Broadcast Music, Inc., serves the radio and television industry in the field of serious music. It is recognized at the present time as one of the principal publishers and exploiters of contemporary music in the United States and controls a very extensive and expanding catalog of orchestral, band, chamber, instrumental and choral works by the foremost American and foreign composers. In addition AMP also represents exclusively in the United States many of the most famous serious music catalogs of Europe such as Breitkopf & Haertel and Schott of Germany, Schott and Universal Edition of England, Universal Edition of Austria and Switzerland, Eschig of France, Union Musical Espanol of Spain, Suvini Zerboni and Sonzogno of Italy, and many others.

AMP is also the sole selling and exploitation agent in the United States for serious works published by Broadcast Music, Inc., and BMI Canada, Ltd. All performing rights are cleared through BMI.

The Board of Directors of the company are as follows:

Sydney M. Kaye, Chairman of BMI Board, Chairman; Carl Haverlin, President of BMI; William S. Hedges; Paul W. Morency; J. Harold Ryan; Charles A. Wall, President and Treasurer.

Officers of the company are: Charles A. Wall, President and Treasurer; Karl Bauer, Vice President; Richard French, Vice President; Benjamin V. Grasso, Vice President; Robert J. Burton, Secretary.

Foreign and domestic music catalogs represented.

BROADCAST MUSIC, INC.

By CARL HAVERLIN
President

BECAUSE it expresses our philosophy in 1958 just as emphatically as it did in 1957, we are repeating below our statement in last year's RADIO ANNUAL AND TELEVISION YEARBOOK:

During each day of the eighteen years of its existence Broadcast Music, Inc., has adhered steadfastly to one basic principle—competition is healthy and necessary. Because of this credo, BMI operates as a competitive force in the field of performing rights. Because it believes in competition, BMI operates in a manner intended to benefit all composers, all writers, all music publishers, all users of music.

The result has been to establish an open door and an open market place for all creators of music and for all publishers of music. Benefits of the BMI policy continue to flow not only to well established publishers and writers, but to the newcomers who have come into the field since the creation of BMI.

In order to maintain a constantly growing source of music and to provide a steady challenge to the progressive composer, writer, and publisher, BMI has devoted its attention to all types of music. As a result, national, indeed world-wide, interest has been focused on fields of music once considered geographically limited or intellectually esoteric. The resultant democratization of musical elements has developed a truly American music, one which is made up of many forces, popular, country and western rhythm and blues, concert. Because of this, the creators and the developers of these musical forces have found new opportunities.

Today, BMI is proud of the fact that so many publishers, composers and writers have found inspiration and remuneration in the open market place.

BMI begins its nineteenth year of existence as it did its first . . . dedicated to the one basic principle—competition in music is as healthy and necessary as in any other field of American endeavor.

OFFICERS OF BMI: Sydney M. Kaye, Chairman of the Board, Vice-president and General Counsel; Carl Haverlin, President; Robert J. Burton, Vice-president, Domestic Performing Rights Administration, Secretary; Charles A. Wall, Vice-president in charge of Finance; Roy Harlow, Vice-president in charge of Station Service; Glenn Dolberg, Vice-president in charge of Station Relations; Jean Geiringer, Vice-president, Foreign Relations; Harry P. Somerville, Vice-president, Non-Radio Licensing; Robert Sour, Vice-president, Writer Relations; Theodora Zavin, Assistant Vice-president, Publisher Relations; Richard Kirk, Assistant Vice-president, Publisher and Writer Relations (West Coast).

DIRECTORS: (elected annually): Sydney M. Kaye, Chairman; Alfred Beckman, J. F. Brauner, John Elmer, Joseph E. Baudino, Carl Haverlin, William S. Hedges, Herbert Hollister, Leonard Kapner, Paul W. Morency, J. Leonard Reinsch, J. Harold Ryan, G. Richard Shafto and William Regan.

SESAC, INC.

By PAUL HEINECKE
President

THIS past year it occurred to a group of us at SESAC that the time was ripe for a musical renaissance. That there was a great need on the part of most music users—radio and television stations included—for good music in quality performance was as certain as is our being in the midst of an atomic age. SESAC knows it has fulfilled much of the need by sending gratis to the broadcasting industry great quantities of recorded albums, all composed of the SESAC copyrighted repertory. Over 75,000 albums, featuring the finest in popular, jazz, classical, country and western, religious, mood, polka, and band selections, have been released to the radio and television stations of this country and Canada. Each selection in these albums has been chosen with care and discrimination. That the effort was and is successful is a matter of record—over 10,000 comment cards have been received from the broadcasting industry proclaiming the high caliber of these recordings, and telling us that they play an important part in the stations' all-round musical programming. So, by the simple science of numbers and based upon reports from the broadcasting industry itself, SESAC performances for 1957 again spiralled to great heights.

Not only are we at SESAC hopping to keep abreast of daily requests, but, also, as a result of this spotlighting of the SESAC repertory are the record companies, performing artists, orchestral societies, choral groups, dance orchestras and the producers of the country's leading radio and television shows all bolstering their programs with what remains the best music in America—the SESAC repertory.

* * * *

SESAC is proud and happy to start 1958 with the United Nations as its most recent Transcribed Library subscriber. To be sure, this is not just another account nor is it merely the act of a producer supplying a user with a much-needed item; rather is it concrete proof that music remains the international language. Good music knows no barriers, no tonal curtains; and if they be works of value, will continue to live and inspire spiritual, mental and cultural growth.

It is our hope that in some way the care, taste, talent, and repertory that have gone into the production of the SESAC Transcribed Library will not only bring happiness and entertainment to all races and creeds the world over, but, also, will serve as an instrument of peace through which the peoples of the world will come to know and understand each other better. If our music and efforts are instrumental in such an achievement, then the past years have been worth every day of their living and the future holds no challenge that we cannot meet.

Good luck and best wishes for your health and happiness in the year ahead.

INCREASE YOUR AUDIENCE WITH

NEW PUBLIC WARNING SYSTEM!

Sigalert is an instantaneous warning device that brings you confirmed bulletins from a responsible source (normally the Police Department) within minutes of an emergency. The Police radio dispatcher presses a special button at his control panel, which triggers your Sigalert receiver..automatically setting off alarms and recording the message on tape. Any existing police transmitter can be modified to transmit Sigalert bulletins. Your Police Department knows, or soon will know, how simple it is to reach you in a hurry with Sigalert...and through you a grateful listening audience. Write for complete details today. Give PICON (public interest, convenience or necessity) its true voice in your city.

Sigalert receivers are available in desk or rack mounting models (above) or console models (left) with built-in tape recorder.

True Evaluation Of FM Radio Is Gradually Coming To Light

By RAY STONE
Broadcast Supervisor
Maxon, Inc.

BUYING radio time from seven to nine o'clock in the morning is not unusual these days. It now appears that the advantages of early morning radio were concealed for many years. It is probable the present advantages of FM radio are also concealed by various broadcasting industry problems which result in the practical evasion of FM radio by most national advertisers.

It is true much FM radio is duplicated AM radio but it is inconceivable that the average FM set would be purchased either at double or many times the cost of the usual AM set just to obtain the technical benefit of the elimination of interference or static. The considerable additional expenditure appears to be made by persons who expect to hear radio programs not conveniently available or absent from regular AM radio fare and who ultimately realize this expectation through FM. Without this realization, FM receivers would not continue to be sold in increasing quantities.

Contrary to many opinions, FM listeners are not, basically, AM listeners. The competition for audience between the two aural mediums is no greater than that which exists within all advertising media. This belief is substantiated by the fact that not many FM homes are to be found in any area where AM-FM duplication only has occurred. FM homes in any area are in direct proportion to the quantity and quality of the unduplicated FM effort. The FM programs tend to be on the more serious side. The FM audience tends to have more adult characteristics and more disposable income.

Sooner or later, FM stations will be more effectively programmed, researched and promoted on a group basis. Who will get what from such organization? It seems:

1. The public would get a more extensive, different and generally higher level of radio programming with better listening qualities.
2. The station could offer better community service and obtain greatly increased income from clients not now placing business.
3. The advertiser and agency will have a new advertising medium that can deliver a desirable audience at low cost.
4. The manufacturer of sets, transmitters and related products will gain increased demand.
5. Distributors and retailers of sets and related equipment can sell a higher cost product with proportionate higher profit.
6. Service shops will benefit from increased repairs required to maintain performance of FM sets.
7. Record companies and tape manufacturers will acquire greater demand for their products through increased consumer interest brought about by the unique and different FM programs.

These few enumerated advantages of stronger FM organization in the future are only a question of size and not of kind, for they are within FM radio now.

The more direct advantages that FM can presently offer the national advertiser are:

1. An unduplicated, adult audience noticeably free of teenagers and children.
2. An adult listener who has higher income, higher occupational status and more education than the average AM listener or TV viewer.
3. A large, influential and prosperous segment of most major markets. Those people who buy the specialized and more expensive products along with more of most everything else.
4. Constant geographical coverage. No difference in day or night reception such as exists in AM radio. This coverage is also extensive—as extensive as many TV stations.
5. Better reception that is high in quality and free of interference or static.
6. A sizable audience delivered at attractive cost—equal or lower than any other advertising medium.

FM radio offers advantages today. FM tomorrow will offer the then accepted same advantages.

FM radio does exist and can not continue to be ignored by national advertisers. FM already has made its place and has its part to play. Inevitably, the time of complete recognition has to come.

HOW TO APPLY FOR AN FCC LICENSE

Official FCC Procedure for AM, FM and TV Licenses

ANY qualified citizen, firm, or group may apply to the Federal Communications Commission for authority to construct a commercial standard (AM), frequency modulation (FM), or television (TV) broadcast station.

Licensing of these facilities is prescribed by the Communications Act of 1934, as amended, which sets up certain basic requirements. In general, applicants must satisfy the Commission that they are legally, technically and financially qualified, and that operation of the proposed station would serve the public convenience, interest or necessity. The Communications Act also recognizes broadcasting as a competitive industry and invests the Commission with the responsibility of allocating facilities so as to provide a fair, efficient, and equitable distribution of radio service.

The licensing procedure is detailed in Part 1 of the Commission's "Rules Relating to Practice and Procedure," while station operation is covered by Part 3, "Rules Governing Radio Broadcast Services," and "Standards of Good Engineering Practice" for AM stations.

Following is a summary of the consecutive steps required in applying for authorization to build and operate a commercial broadcast station. The application procedure is substantially the same whether the facility sought is for AM, FM, or TV broadcast.

Selecting a Frequency

Standard (AM) broadcast stations operate on "local," "regional," or "clear" channels. Local stations are of 100 to 250 watts power and serve smaller communities; stations of 500 watts to 5 kilowatts power cover larger centers of population and surrounding areas; stations of 10 to 50 kilowatt maximum power are for large area coverage, particularly at night. There is no separate classification for AM operation by educational stations.

To determine whether an AM frequency is available for assignment in a particular area, it is necessary for the applicant to have a frequency search made by a competent engineer. The Commission's engineering personnel cannot undertake to make such studies for prospective applicants.

An applicant for a commercial FM station must specify a frequency available to the area to be served. The Commission has tentatively allocated geographic blocks of frequencies to accommodate Class A stations (community) and Class B stations (metropolitan and rural) throughout the United States. The demand for FM stations has not yet exceeded the supply of available frequencies. (The Noncommercial Educational FM Broadcast Service is a separate category with its own rules.)

An applicant for a new television station must request a channel assigned in the Table of Assignments to the community involved. However, a channel assigned to any community listed in the table can be requested for operation in any unlisted community within 15 miles of the listed community. Commercial TV stations are authorized for unlimited hours of operation and are of a single class with minimum power determined by the size of the principal city and maximum power dependent on antenna height and allocation zone. Channels are reserved for noncommercial educational TV operation.

Applying for a Construction Permit

Once a prospective licensee has decided upon the type of station he wishes to apply for, the next step is to make application for a construction permit. This application must be in writing on a form supplied by the Commission (Form 301, "Application for Authority to Construct a New Broadcast Station or Make Changes in an Existing Broadcast Station," which covers AM, FM, and TV broadcast). This form requires information about the citizenship and character of the applicant, as well as his financial, technical, and other qualifications to construct and operate a station, plus details about the transmitting apparatus to be used, and the proposed new service. Triplicate copies are required, one of which must be executed under oath or affirmation.

Application Processing

Applications for new broadcast stations are twice reported by the Commission—when first tendered, and, again, when accepted for filing. Such an application is not acted upon until at least 30 days after public notice is given of its acceptance.

Applications are reviewed in their engineering, legal, and financial aspects by the Broadcast Bureau, which makes recommendations to the Commission.

Applications are, in general, processed in the order in which accepted for filing. There is a Temporary Processing Procedure for TV applications.

If, upon examination of an application, the Commission determines that there are no engineering conflicts, that the applicant is qualified, and that all other requirements are met, the application is granted without hearing and a construction permit is issued.

Any grant made by the Commission without a hearing is subject to protest within a period of 30 days, during which the protesting party may request a hearing. Within 15 days thereafter the Commission must determine whether the objection merits a hearing.

The law requires that, in general, final decision on noncontested applications be rendered within three months from the date of the original filing, and within six months from the conclusion of a hearing in those cases which go through a hearing.

Hearings

Where it appears that an application violates provisions of the Commission's rules and regulations; that interference would be caused to another AM or FM broadcast station; or that the minimum separation requirements for TV stations are not met; or if other serious questions of a technical, legal, or financial character are involved, a hearing usually is required before a final decision on the application can be made. Often a hearing is necessary because two or more applicants seek to use the same frequency or immediately adjacent frequencies with such a proximity of stations that excessive interference would result. In such instances, the Commission is compelled by law to accord a hearing to the competing applicants and to make a comparative judgment as to which, if either, should be granted.

If unable to grant an application, the Commission is required to notify the applicant and other known parties of interest as to the reason. The applicant usually is given 30 days in which to reply. After that, if the Commission is still unable to make a grant, a hearing is ordered.

In designating an application for hearing, the Commission gives public notice of the issues for the information of the applicant and other parties who may be concerned. The hearing notice generally allows the applicant a period of 60 days or more in which to prepare. Even after being designated for hearing, an applicant may sometimes find it possible to satisfy the issues by amending his application, especially if the apparent deficiencies are of an engineering nature.

Competing applications for the same facility are not considered if filed more than 10 days after public notice designating the prior application or applications for hearing.

Hearings are customarily conducted by an examiner. The hearing examiner has authority to administer oaths, examine witnesses and rule upon the admission of evidence.

Pre-hearing conferences are held both prior to and after an exchange of exhibits by the parties. The latter takes place at least 20 days in advance of the hearing date, the second pre-hearing conference is held at least 10 days before the hearing commences.

Within 20 days after the close of a record by the hearing examiner, each party and the Chief of the Broadcast Bureau of the Commission has the privilege of filing proposed findings of fact and conclusions in support of their contentions. After review of the evidence and statements, the hearing examiner issues an initial decision.

In the event he wishes to contest the initial decision, the applicant or any other interested party has 20 days from the date on which the initial decision was announced to file exceptions and to request oral argument before the Commission. In all cases heard by an examiner, the Commission will hear oral argument on request of either party. After oral argument, the Commission may adopt, modify, or reverse the hearing examiner's initial decision. Within 30 days thereafter, any party involved may petition for rehearing.

If no exceptions are filed, and the Commission does not initiate a review of the hearing examiner's initial decision, the latter becomes effective 40 days after the issuance of the initial decision, unless otherwise ordered by the Commission. Court appeals can be taken within 30 days following announcement of the commission decision.

Construction Permit

When and if an application meets statutory and other requirements, it is granted and a construction permit is issued. A maximum of 60 days from date of grant is provided in which construction shall begin, and a maximum of 6 months thereafter as the time for completion (or 8 months in all). Application to modify a broadcast construction authorization, or to make changes in an existing station, or to modify a license, is made on the same form (301) used in seeking initial construction authorization. If the permittee is unable to build his station within the time specified, he can apply for extension of time on Form 701 ("Application for Additional Time to Construct a Radio Station"), giving the reasons. Upon completion of construction the permittee can engage in equipment tests.

License

The final step is to apply for the actual license. All applicants for broadcast license are required to fill out Form 302 ("Application for New Broadcast Station License"). Applicants must show compliance with all terms, conditions, and obligations set forth in the original application and the construction permit. After applying for a license and receiving authority from the Commission, the holder of a construction permit can conduct program tests. A station license is then issued if no new cause or circumstance has come to the attention of the Commission that would make operation of the station contrary to public interest.

AM, FM and TV broadcast stations are licensed for the statutory limit of three years. Applications for renewal of license are made on Form 303, which is "Application for Renewal of Broadcast Station License."

If the holder of a construction permit or license desires to assign the same to someone else, he makes application on form 314 ("Application for Consent to Assignment of Radio Broadcast Station Construction Permit or License").

Should the permittee or the licensee wish to transfer corporate control, he applies on Form 315 ("Application for Consent to Transfer Control of Corporation Holding Radio Broadcast Station Construction Permit or License").

In certain cases a permittee or licensee can apply for a transfer of corporate control or an assignment of license by using form 316 ("Application for Assignment or Transfer—Short Form"). This form may only be used when the transfer or assignment is pro forma or technical in nature; i.e., where no substantial changes in interest occur.

For people who appreciate the best — it has to be color TV! . . .

Color adds new life to television . . .

it is symbolic of progress

born of the Electronic Age . . .

Now is the time to enjoy Color TV — it is ready — it is right — it is here!
