LOCAL BOY NO. 1 MAKES GOOD

NOT since the first Battle of Bull Run have the quiet folk of Rocky Mount, N. C., succeeded in working themselves up into such a dithering state of excitement as marked the return to this sleepy little city in which he was cradled of Radio's Kay Kyser, musical master of a radio quiz college, where his new motion picture, "That's Right—You're Wrong," was given its first public showing. Everybody—and Aunt Cinthy—turned out at the depot in early morning to greet the "number one local boy who'd made good," and the celebration lasted throughout the day and into the wee sma' hours, winding up finally with a dance in a tobacco warehouse that was still going strong when the sun came up next morning. Right on hand to join in the fun and recapture it all for RADIO GUIDE readers were ace cameramen and reporters, who bring you a grand pictorial review of this glorious preview in next week's RADIO GUIDE.

Perhaps you've met some of the grand women who, in radio's "Gallant American Women" program, have played vital parts in the building of America. But what did they look like? How did they dress? What sort of a person was Margaret Meade, the daring explorer; Frances Willard, ardent suffragist? In thrilling rotogravure, RADIO GUIDE gives a magnificent and epic portrayal of the achievements of these "Gallant American Women."

Also in next week's RADIO GUIDE will be a revealing picture-story of the man behind one of radio's most popular quiz shows. You will meet, face to face, the famous Dr. I. Q., learn who he is in private life, how he conducts his program. These—and hundreds of other interesting facts about radio people you know and love—make next week's RADIO GUIDE a "must buy, must read" number for everyone.

MR. FAIRFAX REPLIES

Mr. Fairfax will give personal answers to all readers who send self-addressed stamped envelopes. Remember that he must confine himself exclusively to network personalities and programs. Address Arthur Fairfax, 731 Plymouth Court, Chicago, Illinois.

Mrs. E. L. Knight, Perrine, Fla.—A novachord is the instrument used on the serial "Life and Love of Dr. Susan" . . . Frank Luther is the singing announcer on this program . . . In "Your Family and Mine" the role of Lem Stacey is portrayed by Parker Fennelly when the part is in the script. Raymond Johnson now portrays Woody Marshall in "Your Family and Mine." A short while back Lem was played by Arthur Allen, Woody by Jack Roseleigh.

Miss Doris Mae Faupel, Maywood, Ill.—The theme song of "Stepmother" is Chopin's "Minute Waltz"; "Scattergood Baines" has an unnamed original composition for its theme; "Londonderry Air" is the theme of "The O'Neills"; the serial "One Man's Family" was "Destiny Waltz" for a theme; an excerpt from Tchaikowsky's "Sixth Symphony" is the theme of "Road of Life"; "Poor Little Cinderella" is heard on "Arnold Grimm's Daughter"; "Ma Perkins" features an original manuscript by Don Marcotte; the "Guiding Light" theme is "Aphrodite," by Goetzl; "Backstage Wife" uses "Stay as Sweet as You Are"; "Chanson Bohemienne," by Boldi, is the theme of "Vic and Sade"; "Mr. Keen, Tracer of Lost Persons" uses "Some Day I'll Find You" for a theme.

Mrs. Lydia S. Miller, Andrews, Ind.—Arlene Francis portrays Betty, and Bob is played by Van Heflin in the daytime serial "Betty and Bob."

Mr. L. J. Crume, Roseburg, Oregon.—The Radio Listeners' Committee for the "We, the People" series is headed by Gabriel Heatter, who acts as chairman. Serving with Heatter is Nancy Bigelow, dress-shop model; Wallace Seymour, businessman; Amato Violetti, tailor, and Mrs. Lena Murphy of Otisville, N. Y., a housewife and mother.

"I Talked with God"

(Yes, I Did—Actually and Literally)

and, as a result of that little talk with God some ten years ago, a strange new Power came into my life. After 43 years of horrible, sickening, dismal failure, this strange Power brought to me a sense of overwhelming victory, and I have been overcoming every undesirable condition of my life ever since. What a change it was. Now—I have credit at more than one bank. I own a beautiful home, drive a lovely car, own a newspaper and a large office building, and my wife and family are amply provided for after I leave for shores unknown. In addition to these material benefits, I have a sweet peace in my life. I am happy as happy can be. No circumstance ever upsets me, for I have learned how to draw upon the invisible God-Law, under any and all circumstances. You, too, may find and use the same staggering Power of the God-Law that I use. It can bring to you, too, whatever things are right and proper for you to have. Do you believe this? It won't cost much to find out—just a penny postcard or a letter, addressed to Dr. Frank B. Robinson, Dept. 39, Moscow, Idaho, will bring you the story of the most fascinating success of the century. And the same Power I use is here for your use, too. I'll be glad to tell you about it. All information about this experience will be sent you free, of course. The address again—Dr. Frank B. Robinson, Dept. 39, Moscow, Idaho. Advt. Copyright 1939 Frank B. Robinson.

MEDAL OF MERIT

Awarded to Edward Johnson

General Manager of the Metropolitan Opera Company

ON APRIL 20, 1931, eight NBC microphones were strung along the stage of the Metropolitan Opera House for the first broadcast of an opera to American radio listeners. The opera, "Oedipus Rex," has since become an important name to thousands of music-lovers, for it was the first opera they had ever heard. It didn't matter that the existing facilities of that day brought a broadcast subject to fading and distortion; that the listeners were numbered in the thousands rather than in the millions. The important thing was that opera—a strange thing to most Americans—had taken its first step towards becoming a beloved institution of all Americans.

"In the brief span of eight years," said Howard Taubman, authority on the history of the opera, "radio has done more to spread a nation-wide familiarity with the lyric theater than the opera house of America had accomplished in a century and a half."

No such claim would have been possible had it not been for the whole-hearted cooperation of one man: Edward Johnson, young general manager of the Metropolitan Opera Company. No one in the musical field is more worthy of being honored than Mr. Johnson. Not only has he established a most brilliant reputation as a former tenor at the Metropolitan, but also during the few years in his present office his record of achievement is phenomenal.

Because of his far-sighted policy of bringing opera into every American home, because of his fine cooperation as generalissimo of the Metropolitan with the National Broadcasting Company, but mostly because of his alertness of outlook and willingness to pioneer in making the Metropolitan Opera everybody's Opera, we are both happy and proud to award RADIO GUIDE's Medal of Merit to Edward Johnson on this Saturday's (NBC) opera broadcast.

THIS WEEK

Saturday, December 9

COL. ROSCOE TURNER, America's dapper demon of speed flying, who this year added another Thompson race trophy to his many honors, will be at the controls as pilot of "Sky Blazers," new CBS show dramatizing the exploits of daring pioneers of aviation. The show premieres this Saturday. CBS.

Eastern 7:30 p.m. Central 6:30 p.m. Mountain 5:30 p.m. Pacific 4:30 p.m.

PICK AND PAT with their old-time blackface minstrelsy are missed from the airlines. The sons of Georgia will revive their rollicking act for a visit to "National Barn Dance." NBC.

Eastern 9:00 p.m. Central 8:00 p.m. Mountain 9:00 p.m. Pacific 8:00 p.m.

DOUBLE FEATURE

You'll find quiz, variety, popular music and comical situations in this two-hour period at your radio this week:

Monday, 8:30 to 10:30 p.m. EST—"Voice of Firestone"; "Dr. I. Q.;" "Alec Templeton Time"; "Guy Lombardo and His Orchestra."

PETER LORRE, screen portrayer of psychopathic roles, made his first radio appearance on the erstwhile "Rudy Vallee Hour" in an Arch Oboler play. This Saturday Lorre will be the star of Oboler's regular drama, "Nobody Died," and will be cast somewhat differently—as a propaganda agent. NBC.

Eastern 9:00 p.m. Central 8:00 p.m. Mountain 7:00 p.m. Pacific 6:00 p.m.

Sunday, December 10

THE BIBLE was one of the bases of the American system of government. That is what the American Bible Society is pointing out this year in the observance of Universal Bible Sunday. Sen. James J. Davis of Pennsylvania will speak over CBS on "What the Bible Means to Me." NBC will headline an address by the Rt. Rev. James C. Freeman, D.D., Protestant Episcopal bishop.

Over CBS Eastern 1:45 p.m. Central 12:45 p.m. Mountain 11:45 a.m. Pacific 10:45 a.m.
Over NBC Eastern 3:45 p.m. Central 2:45 p.m. Mountain 1:45 p.m. Pacific 12:45 p.m.

MOLIERE, the Pagliacci of playwrights, unhappy in his own life but the world's master of comedy, is the author of this week's "Great Plays" offering. It is "Tartufe," one of the Frenchman's great comedies. NBC.

Eastern 2:00 p.m. Central 1:00 p.m. Mountain 12:00 noon Pacific 11:00 a.m.

ELSIE ROBINSON, whose "Listen, World!" column of realistic inspiration is read by thousands, has written the story for this week's episode of "I Want a Divorce." It deals with a man whose wife left him because he was a sissy and who then discovered a new self-reliance when he rescued two people from drowning. NBC.

Eastern 3:00 p.m. Central 2:00 p.m. Mountain 2:00 p.m. Pacific 1:00 p.m.

ROSALIND RUSSELL, whom, of course, you saw or heard about in the hit role of the sniping, catty agitator of domestic troubles in the movie "The Women," will play an entirely different real-life role when she visits the "Nobody's Children" home-finding program Sunday. MBS.

Eastern 4:00 p.m. Central 3:00 p.m. Mountain 2:00 p.m. Pacific 1:00 p.m.

CLARK GABLE, it will be interesting to many lonely hearts, doesn't care whom he marries—as long as she is an heiress! But that's the case only in this week's "Silver Theater" play, "For Richer, For Richer." Anyway this fortune-hunter part is a natural for jaunty Gable. CBS.

Eastern 6:00 p.m. Central 5:00 p.m. Mountain 4:00 p.m. Pacific 3:00 p.m.

GENE KRUPA, thirsting for another kill after a triumphant return engagement in Chicago's Hotel Sherman Panther Room, will bring his jungle-jiving drums, his swing orchestra and his pert songstress Irene Daye to "Show of the Week." MBS.

Eastern 6:30 p.m. Central 5:30 p.m. Mountain 4:30 p.m. Pacific 3:30 p.m.

HELEN HAYES, who was a dramatic star when Orson Welles was more familiar with a pea-shooter than Martian lethal weapons, will again play in Welles' "Campbell Playhouse" drama. This week's offering of the great pair is Hugh Walpole's "Vanessa." CBS.

Eastern 8:00 p.m. Central 9:00 p.m. Mountain 8:00 p.m. Pacific 7:00 p.m.

YOU'LL SOON be pasting on Christmas seals with little crosses on them, and the pennies with which you bought them will help some suffering tuberculosis patient. Meet the woman, Emily P. Bissell, who introduced the humanitarian idea—on "Hour of Charm." NBC.

Eastern 10:00 p.m. Central 9:00 p.m. Mountain 8:00 p.m. Pacific 7:00 p.m.

Monday, December 11

A WOMAN'S MAGAZINE of the air in streamlined form—that's the idea of the new program begun last week, Alma Kitchell's "Streamline Journal." With noted guests, Miss Gadabout and the Bright Idea Box the "magazine" will cover a wide field of women's interests. NBC.

Eastern 1:30 p.m. Central 12:30 p.m. Mountain 11:30 a.m. Pacific 10:30 a.m.

CHRISTMAS SHOPPING!—the boon of women and the bane of men. Women, go ga-ga with Blondie, and men, go batty with Dagwood as the Bumsteads, including especially Baby Dumpling, go on a shopping expedition in the comic-strip sketch, "Blondie." CBS.

Eastern 7:30 p.m. Central 9:30 p.m. Mountain 8:30 p.m. Pacific 7:30 p.m.

THE ANDREWS SISTERS, that trio of sizzling singers, will add their lowdown rhythms to the sprightly tempos of "Alec Templeton Time," along with regulars Templeton and O'Malley. NBC.

Eastern 9:30 p.m. Central 8:30 p.m. Mountain 7:30 p.m. Pacific 6:30 p.m.

Tuesday, December 12

DID YOU HEAR the mother's appeal on "We, the People" for her run-away boy to return to her and the sick father? Did you hear the mother and boy speak the next week after they had been reunited through the appeal? More such experiences await your listening this week—"experiences heard only when 'We, the People' speak." CBS.

Eastern 9:00 p.m. Central 8:00 p.m. Mountain 10:30 p.m. Pacific 9:30 p.m.

Song winner number six in the "National Song Search" will be introduced by Beth Wilson on "Grouch Club"

SNAP SHOT

(Sun., NBC, 6:30 p.m. EST). Number seven will be sung by Conte on "It Happened in Hollywood" (Mon., on CBS, 5:30 p.m. EST)

Thursday, December 14

KAY KYSER and his orchestra, still rosy over the success of his own movie-premiere program a few weeks ago, will broadcast from the "Gone With the Wind" Ball in Atlanta, Ga., the night before the premiere of the long-awaited picture. Clark Gable, Vivien Leigh and others of the cast are expected to be at the ball. NBC.

Eastern 11:30 p.m. Central 10:30 p.m. Mountain 9:30 p.m. Pacific 8:30 p.m.

This Is STELLA DALLAS

Radio's heartbreak heroine, radio's
No. 1 fisherwoman ← Miss Anne Elstner!

BY STEWART STERLING

In a cozy apartment, pricking with sailfish and fish-hooks, Anne loves to tell fish-stories—real ones. One is of this 405-pound tuna landed in 3½ hours off Nova Scotia with aid of guide LeBlanc (r.)

HEARTBREAK heroine of one of radio's most popular serials from Monday to Friday, from Friday to Monday she crowds in a few heart-breaking episodes of her own . . . the times she misses the ones that were so-o-o-o big!

For radio's famous Stella Dallas, in private life, is also radio's first fisherwoman, Anne Elstner. To hear her poignant portrayal of the woman who tragically attempts to conceal her past for the sake of her daughter, you would hardly expect to find in slender, quiet-eyed Anne a rough-and-ready sports-woman who has battled with fighting fish from Nova Scotia to the Gulf of Mexico, taken what has come along in the way of wind and weather (and plenty comes along out there, fifty miles offshore) and held her own with the best of the hairy-chested disciples of old Ike Walton. Yet the word went around that Miss Elstner is tops in those tuna-tackling matches which take place in the roughest water and the wildest winds off our stern and rock-bound coast, and we meant to get at the truth of the matter.

We caught up with Anne in a cozy apartment almost in the shadow of Radio City and only a good surf-cast from the NBC studios, if you can call an apartment cozy in which a sailfish plunges from one wall and deep-sea rods are stacked like golf clubs in one corner and the principal item on the coffee-table is a reel about the size of a kid's velocipede!

"Is this actress-into-angler business something new?" we began, neatly avoiding something which looked like a barbed-wire entanglement, but which turned out to be merely a flock of piano-wire leaders with two-inch hooks, "or have you always—?"

"Always," answered Anne. "Since I was knee-high to a bait can. Down home in Texas, near Port Isobel, that was. Used to go crawfishing in the ditches with a chunk of bacon, a pin and a piece of string. No pole, nothing except an old Negro to pull me out of the mud when I fell in."

"Crawfishing," we murmured dubiously, "doesn't seem so exciting."

"Oh, it was," she smiled. "It's fishing that's thrilling, not what you go after."

"But you wouldn't get much of a kick out of crawfishing today, Miss Elstner?"

"I don't know about that. Maybe I would. I still sneak off, once in a while, with nothing but a bamboo pole, a can of worms and a twenty-five-cent reel.

And have a right good time."

"But somewhere along the road . . . or the bank . . . you yearned for greener pastures, or deeper waters . . ."

"Um-hmm," she came to our rescue. "I graduated to catfish—then perch—eventually to trout."

"Ah," we breathed ecstatically. "A wood fire at dawn, the pungent aroma of coffee, the fragrance of crisp bacon in the pan and brook trout broiled to a golden brown . . ."

"You fry them," she said coldly. "At least, I do. And you ought to mention the icy-cold stream and the black flies that bite like —"

"You're taking all the romance out of it, Anne."

"Not at all. Just keeping it where it belongs. There are a lot of people who are crazy about fishing, and would just as soon eat a hot-dog as what they catch. Myself, I am very unfond of tuna, unless it is properly disguised in a salad, but there are few things I would rather do than catch one of those galloping horse-mackerel."

"Now you're talking," we urged her on. "How come a charming and exceedingly un-Amazonian lady of the stage," we bowed appropriately, "to be a fish fighter on such a large scale?" For this Stella performer weighs only a couple of ounces more than Shirley Temple, so to speak, and her feminine figure shows no tendency toward the brawny-arm business.

"AFTER I'd worked up through blue-fishing in the Chesapeake—that was about the time I played opposite Joseph Schildkraut in 'Liliom' on Broadway—and trolling for striped bass in the Potomac—they call them 'rock' or 'rock-bass' down there—I had my first thrill-of-a-lifetime going after tarpon. That was out in the Gulf of Mexico, fifty miles off Port Isobel, Texas, several years ago, and I've been going back as often as I can ever since. Last year I hooked onto a hundred and ten pounds of silver dynamite down there and after an hour and ten minutes brought him to gaff."

"Since then I've gone after sailfish off Miami," she glanced at the proof mounted on the wall, "swordfish off Montauk, tuna in the tide rips at Wedgeport, Nova Scotia, marlin at Bimini in the Bahamas."

"And made out all right at each of these?"

Anne shook her head. "Never caught a swordfish. Only about a hundred people in the United States have managed to bring in a broadbill on reel and rod; very few women. I'd like to be one of them. I'm going to keep on trying; maybe I'll get lucky some day."

We had been looking at some of the photographs in front of us on the coffee-table. "You seem to have been fairly fortunate to date."

"Oh, that one. That's not really legitimate; that's a hammerhead shark I tangled with out of Manasquan, New Jersey; fought him without a harness or even a fishing-chair, only a stomach pad. He weighed about five hundred pounds, but I was really after school tuna that day. Anyhow, you don't count sharks."

We intimated that we had no deep-seated wish to count sharks.

"Those five small tuna," she explained, pointing to a picture of five fish any two of which could have doubled for Tony Galento, "I got out in the Gulf Stream on the Babe, that time we had the misunderstanding about the pigeons."

"Pigeons?" We must have looked confused; we were confused.

"Oh, you see, in the last couple of years most of the fishing-boats along the Jersey Coast—and Long Island—have ship-to-shore radiophones. But then—this was along about 1937, when I first created the role of Stella Dallas on the airwaves—we had to use carrier pigeons instead of radio. If anything went wrong we'd release one of the pigeons, it would fly to its cote on shore and its keeper would notify the Coast Guard or whoever we wanted to know of a possible delay in getting back to shore. Just before leaving on that particular trip I told Dick Leonard, who was directing our program, that if anything occurred to hold up my return in time for the Monday broadcast, we'd notify him by carrier pigeon. We were delayed by a severe storm; I got to the studio with only seconds to spare and found Dick up on the recreation roof inquiring whether anyone had heard of a stray pigeon's arrival."

"Fifty miles offshore, on a small boat, in a breeze of wind," we mused. "Don't you ever get . . . ah . . . mal de mer?"

"Once in a long while. Last time I remember was the day I caught those three sailfish."

"Three—in one day?" We may have sounded skeptical.

"At West Palm Beach. All properly attested and everything, believe it or not. The odd part of it was, for eleven days preceding not one sailfish had been docked at West Palm Beach, due to a long spell of onshore wind which had driven the sailfish out to deeper water. It was still rough when we went out. But I'd flown down from New York to have my try at sailfish and I couldn't wait any longer. So we went. I remember Lou Gehrig went out from our dock that same day; he didn't have any luck. But I got three of them. That made up for some of the times I've been out and came back with nothing more than blisters and wind-burnt."

Our chivalrous attitude toward this little lady who had been so long in our memory as the famous "Cracker" in "Moonshine and Honeysuckle," and hundreds of other radio roles, began to seem a trifle misplaced. We took a good look at another picture and swallowed hard.

"That," she announced with a touch of pardonable pride, "is a honey."

We turned the photograph over. "Four hundred and five pounds of honey. What did you get this tuna with—the harpoon they used in 'Moby Dick'?"

"Thirty-nine thread Ashaway line,

Slender, quiet-eyed Anne Elstner (right) is a veteran radio actress. Cast in such contrasting roles as society woman and negro domestic, perhaps her most famous character is "Stella Dallas" (NBC, Mon. through Fri.). Listeners, hearing Anne Elstner in this tragic role (left), will get a new picture of her from reading this story

Vom Hofe 0-0 reel, sixteen-ounce hickory tip," she rattled off. "That's the reel there."

We stared at the velocipede thing. "How long did it take you to wrestle this one to a fall?"

Anne sighed. "They tell me it was three and a half hours; it seemed like ten. I felt as if I had been wrung through a mangle. He ran in and out of lobster pots, around other boats that were watching us and walked on his tail half-way to Yarmouth, down the Nova Scotia coast, before I brought him alongside."

"This business," we opined, "looks like a man's job, not a girl's."

"Plenty of men feel that way about it," she admitted. "I've been fishing with a lot of the best of them, too: Van Campen Heilner, who is, I suppose, the best-known writer on big-game fishing; Lynn Bogue Hunt, the famous marine artist; W. Goadby Lawrence, who was on both the 1937 and 1938 International Tuna teams; Bob Edge, who has that swell radio sports program; the one and only Babe Ruth and—lots of others. But once I'm aboard a fishing-boat, nobody pays any attention to whether you're a girl or a man; you're just another deep-sea angler and strictly on your own."

"Must be a lot of radio folk who like game-fishing. You been out with any of the kilocycle kings?"

She grinned. "A few. Carson Robison and his Buckaroos, Ted Husing, Guy Lombardo, but not all the boys prefer the hundred-pound-up class. Al Pearce, for example, is a great fisherman but gets his kick out of small-mouth bass and salmon."

"There's only one more question, Anne. You've caught almost everything outside the whale division. What's left? Must be pretty dismal, no new fields to conquer, eh?"

"I wouldn't know about that," smiled Anne. "I'm too busy getting ready to fly down to Guaymas, off the western coast of Mexico, to try for the monster white marlin. They say that's the gamest thing that wears a dorsal fin."

Anne Elstner may be heard as "Stella Dallas" Monday through Friday over an NBC network at:

EST 4:15 p.m. — CST 3:15 p.m.
MST 2:15 p.m. — PST 1:15 p.m.

AIRIAL TO LOWDOWN

"The Goldbergs'" Rosie
announces engagement;
New Year will usher in new Coast-to-Coast net

By Martin Lewis

—Walter Seigel

NEW YORK.—Roslyn Silber, who plays Rosie on "The Goldbergs," announced her engagement last week. How time flies! She joined the cast in 1929, practically an infant . . . "This is the Trans-Continental Broadcasting System" will come out of your loudspeaker on and after January 1. That's the name of the new Coast-to-Coast network which begins operation on that date and has more than one hundred stations lined up. Elliott Roosevelt, son of the President, is head of the new net . . . Here's a bit of inside info for you: Benny Goodman is not going to be renewed by his current ciggy sponsor. When he leaves the airplanes I'm going to tell you a story about how he snubbed a brother bandleader who came to New York from the West. Today that bandleader is sitting on top of the world and Mr. Goodman's popularity has declined somewhat since that incident. Which reminds me of Sir Walter Winchell's phrase, "Always be nice to the people when you're going up, because you meet the same people on the way down" . . . Bob Crosby may move his show into the spot to be vacated by Walter O'Keefe or else take over Benny Goodman's NBC half-hour on Saturday nights . . . There's going to be some changes made on Milton Berle's "Stop Me If You've Heard This One" show, according to an informant.

Artie Shaw 'Nuff Disappears

A couple of weeks ago you read an item in this department stating that Artie Shaw would probably give up being a bandleader at the end of his current hotel engagement. That issue of RADIO GUIDE just hit the newsstands when the newspapers reported that Artie Shaw was missing and hadn't been leading his band at the hotel for several days.

His press representative informs us that Artie has gone to Mexico on his doctor's orders to convalesce for several months and has severed all connections with his band. Someone in the know claims that the bandleader is suffering from a severe heart-attack, the kind you get when you're in love and can't get the girl you want.

An engraved invitation reached this desk to attend the marriage of Joan Field to Harry Davis on November 29 at 12:15 EST. You were among those present if you tuned in to "When a Girl Marries" over CBS on that date . . . Mentioning invitations reminds me of the remark made by one of the boys at NBC while we were discussing the thousands of requests for invitations to attend the Toscanini symphony concerts. "I'll be glad when that man leaves town; he's caused me a permanent headache" . . . And while on the subject of symphonies, Richard Pheatt reports in his interesting column in the Toledo Blade that a woman called the local radio station to find out if the Rochester Symphony concert is conducted by the same Rochester that is heard on the Jack Benny program.

Glenn Miller Sponsor-wise

Glenn Miller, the up-and-coming bandleader who goes on the air for a ciggy sponsor in a couple of weeks, was offered a cigarette by a song-plugger during their conversation. Glenn refused the cigarette because it wasn't his future sponsor's brand and let the song salesman know it in no uncertain terms . . . At Paul Whiteman's twentieth anniversary celebration, Milton Berle ribs Paul by calling him Glenn Miller, and Whiteman retaliates by calling Berle Henny Youngman. A novel stunt was introduced that night when all congratulatory wires received by Whiteman were run off on a huge tape so that everyone in the room could read them . . . Kay Kyser will be in Atlanta, Georgia, this Thursday for the premiere of "Gone With the Wind." Kay and his band will play at a dance given by the Junior League of Atlanta in honor of all the visiting movie stars . . . When in Rocky Mount, N. C., recently to attend the premiere of Kay's movie, one of the townfolk told me that Kyser contributed five hundred dollars to the local community-chest fund.

Behind the Scenes

NBC press department in New York received an urgent wire from Arch Oboler in Hollywood asking them to contact William Beebe, the deep-sea explorer, and ask him to listen to Oboler's drama, "Bathysphere," which he presented a few weeks ago. NBC called all over town but couldn't locate him. They were just about to give up when someone walked in and advised that Beebe could be located—in HOLLYWOOD . . . I was at the rehearsal for the first Screen Guild show from New York when Bob Benchley and Fred Allen were on the show. Tallulah Bankhead was scheduled to appear on this same show but didn't show up. The announcement to the studio audience that Miss Bankhead was indisposed and wouldn't appear brought forth a loud round of boos and hisses for the actress. Her representative claims she didn't go on because of poor material, but I have it on good authority that Miss Bankhead herself okayed the script the night before. Such actions are inexcusable. During rehearsal everyone was going nuts trying to revamp a show a few hours before it was Pretty Roslyn Silber, who joined "The Goldbergs," CBS serial, as an infant, is now a young lady, last week announced engagement to go on the air. Fortunately Benchley had some scripts with him that he had used before and these were used to good advantage.

Kate Smith's Fireside Chats

Kate Smith now gives her noonday chats from her own apartment—that is, every one but the Friday chat. On Fridays she's rehearsing in CBS Radio Theater 2 for her evening show, and as it approaches noontime the orchestra and the Ted Straeter choir are excused to go get themselves a bite of lunch. A table is set up on stage with a mike on it. Anyone in the theater is cautioned that a show is going on the air, and at the stroke of 12 noon Kate and Ted Collins sit down and take care of the business of the day. When the fifteen minutes are over, Kate goes to her dressing-room and lets out her cocker spaniel, "Freckles," and plays with him. "Freckles" is kept in the dressing-room during the broadcast for fear he'd want to enter into it too.

Swenson Mix-up

Karl Swenson, who plays the lead in NBC's serial, "Lorenzo Jones," was called to the phone while he was in the midst of rehearsal. He asked to have a message taken but the page-boy stated the call was very important. Thus, rehearsal was stopped and Karl answered the phone. "Mr. Swenson," a sweet voice told him, "you're the father of a bouncing baby boy. Congratulations!" Karl assured the sweet voice she must

HOLLYWOOD SHOWDOWN

Don Ameche returns to the air December 17 as Dotty Lamour submits to needed tonsillectomy

By Evans Plummer

Hale and hearty, Don Ameche returns as Chase and Sanborn emcee next Sunday (NBC) after prolonged vacation around Chicago

HOLLYWOOD.—Back from his visit with wife Honore, with Wisconsin and Chicago friends, Don Ameche, looking younger than his little brother, resumes his Chase and Sanborn work December 17, a week later than originally planned . . . And Dorothy Lamour of that cast, after so many movie drenchings in "Hurricane," "Typhoon" and the like, has decided to have her tonsils deleted to avoid more sore throats . . . Clark Gable will rate a five-part life-story shortly on "Hedda Hopper's Hollywood" airing . . . The famed Trocadero, once pet spot of the cinemoguls, may be reopened by Jan Garber with an appeal to Mr. and Mrs. Average Public.

When "Lux Radio Theater" does Warner Brothers' "Four Daughters," the film cast will be intact except that Leota Lane will sub for Gale Page because Gale spends Sundays selling Woodbury soap—a competitor! Be sure to see Gale with the Lane Sisters in "Four Wives," second film sequel to "Four Daughters" . . . "It Happened in Hollywood" has a studio audience Fridays at 2:30 p.m. PST, and if in Glamourtown try to crash the show for a full ad-lib hour of fun, including a mind-reading act by Bud Heistand . . . Jack Benny named his ostrich "Trudy," after Trudy Welman, the script-girl on his Paramount pictures, and was she surprised and fussed when she heard his December 3 airing!

Ram-Antics and Static-stics
Grouch Club's Mary Milford has a new heartbeat—athlete Bill Dye . . . Ex-WHO sportscaster Ronald Regan, now of the flickers, expects to hitch with screen starlet Jane Wyman when the Louella Parsons personal-appearance unit, in which they are appearing, nears Des Moines, Iowa . . . "Dr. Christian" producer, Dorothy Barstow, is now Mrs. Harry K. McCann, wife of her agency boss . . . Penny ("Blondie") Singleton, as forecast here, filed suit for divorce here last week instead of at Reno as first planned . . . And it was no gag when Mrs. Bill Morrow, short-term wife of the chief Jell-O gagman, sued Bill for a decree. She didn't think living with him was a laughing matter. No sensa humor!

Backstage on a Pass

Skinnay Ennis reported for the Bob Hope rehearsals November 26 with seven fractured ribs, suffered a few days before when a horse he was riding at Palm Springs threw the band-leader and rolled on him. Same rehearsals found English Madeleine Carroll having a terrible time pronouncing jallopy and tuxedo. Her tongue wanted to make them "tux-ay-do" and "jal'oppy" . . . Eddie Robinson, another California-cold victim, saved his voice at last "Big Town" rehearsals by having announcer John Conte read his lines, making Conte sort of a voice stand-in.

At Texaco Theater, Moonglow Girl Frances Langford was complaining over her inability to keep her fingernail polish intact and still help hubby Jon Hall scrape and varnish the bottom of their sailboat . . . At "Sherlock Holmes," Basil Rathbone was longingly watching the soundman break panes of glass. Finally he mustered up courage to ask might HE bust a pane or two? He might, the noise department replied. So Rathbone crashed some glass and everyone was very, very happy . . . Fannie Brice, commenting at "Good News" on George Kaufman's play on Alexander Woolcott, remarked, "George should have called it 'The Man Who Came to Dinner and Had Four Helpings!'"

And Now We Have—

JIMMY SHIELDS, new Johnson's Wax tenor. Jimmy is a Canadian—tall, handsome, and allegedly single. Frank Armstrong, who once wrote RADIO GUIDE gossip in Toronto, may be credited with Jimmy's first mentorship . . . ARTHUR LAKE, your radio "Dagwood." Art's home life is not unlike those screamingly funny Monday broadcasts over CBS. His wife watches him safely across busy streets . . . VERA VAGUE, the screwball clubwoman created by Barbara Jo Allen. Miss Allen is also the straight "Beth Holly" in "One Man's Family" and invented "Miss Vague" for laughs at an NBC employe jamboree in 1933.

Fibber Has a Birthday

Jim (Fibber McGee) Jordan, who turned forty-three November 16, had no idea why his wife Marian (Molly) wanted to keep him out of their rumpus room that date—and didn't until his cast's surprise party descended upon him. Fun was had by all—particularly the "entertainers," who comprised Bill Thompson, Harlow Wilcox, producer Cecil Underwood and Hal Peary wearing blond fright-wigs to portray chorus girls, and the star of their "production," orchestra-leader Billy Mills, similarly blond-wigged, who went through a riotous imitation of a fan-dance attired in long winter underwear.

You "Love a Mystery"?

The mystery to Carlton Morse's "I Love a Mystery" cast is simply that the basic characters are played by the members of the likewise Morse-authored "One Man's Family" series. In the five-a-week thrillers, "Jack Packard" is played by Mike Raffetto, who is "Paul Barbour" in "OMF." "Doc Long" comes from Barton Yarborough, known to "Family" fans as "Clifford Barbour," and Walter Paterson, who is "Captain Nick Lacey" in the Barbour circle, becomes "Reggie York" in "I Love a Mystery" . . . There now. The mystery is solved.

Who Wants a Divorce?

The cast who play the emotional upsets weekly for NBC's Sunday aired "I Want a Divorce" don't live their parts. Lee Millar and Verna Felton have been happily wed for sixteen years; Virginia Gordon is the wife of Gale Gordon, and pretty Rosemary DeCamp, who also plays the secretary to "Dr. Christian" over CBS, has never been wed and hence never divorced. Even the producer, Bill Lawrence, is one of Hollywood's most ardent supporters of wedded bliss . . . And now, after playing the various problems that lead to marriage-detour signs, all the cast members say that they've had post-graduate instruction in promoting home happiness.

Tag Lines . . .

Lurene Tuttle, after two weeks off the air for a nose operation, has returned to the studios. She rates as Hollywood's best ingenue . . . Kenny Baker, whose concert tour starts in January, has his picture on the cover of the new tune, "In a Little Street in Singapore," (Continued on Page 44)

BACKSTAGE IN CHICAGO

Betty Arnold is fast-rising young actress; Sherman and Morfit in microphone feud

BY DON MOORE

CHICAGO.—Latest nominations for the Crossroads Court of Honor: Betty Arnold, whose dramatic personality is winning numerous roles, listener applause and many friends, and who is now performing the following parts: Iris Marsh in "Guiding Light," Peggy Steele in "Anne Thomas, Career Wife," reader on the Wayne King program, and special assignments; Jack Baker and Nancy Martin of the "Breakfast Club" for their hand-and-glove harmony in those appealing duets; Henry Burr, Dean of Ballad Singers, whose voice seems to grow sweeter as the years roll by; Harvey Hays, Ruth Lyon, Charles Sears, Edward Davies and Larry Larsen for maintaining a consistently high level of refined entertainment in "Words and Music"; "National Farm and Home Hour" for forty-five minutes of snappy, solid service to America's bed-rock industry.

Wayne King Stubborn?

WAYNE KING: I have heard that you're pretty stubborn. I don't know. Maybe so. And maybe that is often more merit than fault. I'm thinking particularly of the grand and glorious way you battled for a friend as well as your convictions in connection with your program. Your militant faith in that friend is justified. A toast to your so-called "stubbornness," Wayne. I call it backbone.

PARAMOUNT PRODUCERS: We have more talented flowers of femininity like Gale Page and Lillian Cornell here.

RANSOM SHERMAN AND GARRY MORFIT: They tell me you guys have finally sloughed off your sham friendship as rival emcees of "Club Matinee" and fallen into a frenzied feud. Well, you frustrated old fuddy-duddy and addle-pated adolescent, take a kibitzer's advice: Morfit, try dropping a propaganda leaflet on Sherman and he'll crumble under the sheer weight; Sherman, float a red toy observation balloon over Morfit and he'll blow away trying to catch it.

NANCY MARTIN: I thought you'd appreciate knowing that I even heard several men speak in genuine approbation of that cadet-like hat of yours.

DICK TODD: Could you sometime sing "Twilight on the Trail"?

"DEAR DIARY": Your confidante, Evelyn Lynne, stayed up past 10:00 p.m. for the first time since she began her radio career when she went to New York to be guest soloist on Tommy Riggs' show. She has to retire early and rise early, you know, for her seat at the "Breakfast Club" table. This trip to New York was also her first to that city, and marked her first plane ride and first (not last, I'm sure) appearance on a major night-time network show.

New Chicago Show

"Home Town, Unincorporated" is a new show originating in Chicago and being heard at present in the South and Southeast on Sunday night. Beulah, the character creation of Marlin Hurt (of the novelty trio, Tom, Dick and Harry), finally gets her big break. The talented actor-singer also plays Lucifer Hicks, mayor of the town. Virginia Verrill and Wayne Van Dyne are vocal stars . . . A guest exchange took place when Harold Stokes, MBS conductor, went to Wheeling, W. Va., to lead the orchestra on "Musical Steelmakers" and brought

Promising actress Betty Arnold, slender and winsome with dark hair and blue eyes, might easily be called a glamour girl, but she'd rather be complimented for her sense of humor. She came from WLW, Cincinnati back with him Dorothy Ann Crowe and Ardenne White, "Steelmakers" stars, to appear on his "Romance in Rhythm."

Skip Farrell, formerly soloist on the "National Barn Dance," is the young man around the romantic baritone voice that caresses the ears of "Lovely Lady" on the new CBS Sunday program starring Anson Weeks and his orchestra . . . Those of you who don't recognize Franklyn MacCormack's poetry reading voice should know that it is the star of the much-missed "Poetic Melodies" painting poetic pictures on the Wayne King program . . . Oh mytem: Charlie Lyon, NBC announcer, offered to bet a studio associate he could recall phone numbers he hadn't used for five years. To prove it he dialed an almost-forgotten number with dispatch and got—his own home!

Buddy Rogers' orchestra replaces Wayne King's at the Drake Hotel and in the CBS spots this week . . . Joe Sanders, the "Ol' Left-Hander," is at home in the Blackhawk restaurant again—for his thirteenth year there and his thirteenth year broadcasting over WGN. Some years ago Sanders, with Carlton Coon, were making radio history in this spot with their all-request "Knights and Ladies of the Bath" . . . It's true: The story of "Midstream" is built around an ultra-modern household. Yet members of the cast still keep in touch with romance and adventure of the old-fashioned variety. Betty Lou Gerson reads J. M. Barrie; Hugh Studebaker swears by Thackeray; Willard Farnum prefers Dickens; Lenore Kingston is partial to Kit Marlowe and Mercedes McCambridge dotes on Sir Walter Scott.

Bill Bouchey Favorite Host

One of radio's top hosts recently was actor Bill Bouchey when relatives in Aloha, Wash., sent him twenty-four quarts of clam nectar and other relatives in Michigan shortly afterward shipped him a stock of home-made corned beef . . . Gabe "Hoosier Hot Shot" Ward recovering from an emergency appendectomy . . . And MBS singer Edna O'Dell just through throwing off a severe attack of laryngitis . . . Sixteen years ago last month Everett Mitchell got his first announcing job; twelve years ago he was married—it's still "a beautiful day in Chicago."

When a fan offered to give "Step-mother" Sunda Love a saddle-horse, she began figuratively looking the gift horse in the mouth to see if the animal's upkeep would be more expensive than her present practise of hiring riding-horses by the hour . . . Tenor Wayne Van Dyne is the Phil Spitalny of Chicago. He coaches a band of twelve beauties who aspire to become swingstars . . . Stage star Katharine Cornell was a recent interested spectator at a "Kitty Keene" episode. She started Gail Henshaw on the stage.

Dramatis Personae

Here is the personnel of the popular Monday, Wednesday, Friday musical feature, "Hymns of All Churches":

Joe Emerson—Baritone soloist.
Fred Jacky—Choir director.
William Sumner—Organist.
Edna Thompson—Soprano.
Margery Meyer—Contralto.
Friedel Schlippert—Soprano.
Betty Houston Herlocker—Contralto.
John Neher—Bass.
Paul Nettinga—Tenor.
Kenneth Morrow—Tenor.
Wintred John Stracke—Bass.

And since the new comic-strip sketch, "Li'l Abner," has just been launched, the many friends of the Yokum folk may be interested in the names of the real people who will project the cartoon on the air. Li'l Abner, the likable mountain lad with the awkward but honest outlook on human conduct, is portrayed by John Hodiak, a newcomer from Detroit. Daisy Mae, who militantly yearns for the manly love of Li'l Abner, is played by Laurette Fillbrandt, one of our very versatile actresses. Blithe and belligerent Mammy Yokum is interpreted by Hazel Dopheide. Dopey Pappy is played by Clarence Hartzell, who wrote and acted in "Waterloo Junction." Others heard are Allen Franklin as Gregory de Vypr, Cliff Souber as Marryin' Sam, and Ray Suber as Humphry.

Give shut-ins radios for Christmas.

IF YOU found Mrs. Ora Snyder in her kitchen stirring up a batch of fudge for her own children, you'd have a feeling that here was a perfectly natural state of affairs. But when you sit down across a desk from her and try to make yourself realize that this motherly person is America's number one candy-maker and a business woman of no small proportions in the business of satisfying America's sweet tooth, you have to keep pinching yourself to realize it's true.

When you get tired of pinching yourself, you can look up at the walls of her small, unpretentious office and read the heart-given endorsements of famous candy-eaters from all over the world to realize that Mrs. Snyder is more than a name in the world of candy-making and candy-eating. There is, for example, a grand personal tribute, written in the corner of his photograph, from the late President Warren G. Harding; there is a cartoon by the late Sidney Smith, creator of the Gumps, in which the huffy Andy is yelling, "Oh Min, what happened to that box of Mrs. Snyder's candies?" The late Pauline Frederick, noted dramatic actress of stage and screen, admitted that she wouldn't think of going on stage without a box of Mrs. Snyder's chocolates in her dressing-room. Eddie Cantor, May Robson, Paul Whiteman are Snyder enthusiasts. Even Charlie McCarthy is a Mrs. Snyder fan. Which somewhat evens the score. Mrs. Snyder is a number one Charlie McCarthy fan who resented Mortimer Snerd's elbowing him out of the way. A thrill of thrills for Mrs. Snyder came on a recent Hollywood trip when she occupied the sponsor's box at the Chase and Sanborn broadcast and, when the air show was over, bandied words with the imperturbable Charlie.

AS A matter of record, Mrs. Snyder is a number one radio fan, and doubters have but to visit her apartment to be convinced. In a six-room apartment the Snyders have crowded five radio sets, exclusive of the portable set which this busy executive uses to catch news broadcasts in the morning while in her bath.

"You see, I haven't nearly enough time to do the radio listening I'd like to do, so I have to use every opportunity. I'd miss the early news broadcasts if it weren't for the portable, and right at the moment I'm more than passingly interested in war news. Many of our candy ingredients are imported—chocolate, mints, nuts—and the war is making it difficult to get them. Prices have soared skyward, and I follow the war news with an eye to my business."

But any program that presents good music is likely to find Mrs. Snyder on the listening end. On Sunday nights, for example, she follows up the Charlie McCarthy program with the "Ford Sunday Evening Hour," and she has to fight to keep awake during both of these programs. "Sundays are my busiest days," she explained. "I have to make the round of all the shops and prepare for the next week, and by the time I get back home I'm ready for bed. Of course, I never go to bed until I've heard those two programs, though."

"Fibber McGee and Molly" are two other favorites. "I've been quite worried about Molly," she confessed. "I was afraid she was going to die in that sanatorium, and I'm certainly glad that she's

NO. 2

MRS. ORA SNYDER

America's No. 1 candy-maker does her listening with six radios in a six-room apartment

much better." She has followed the Goldbergs from their start ten years ago, and it is easy to understand how this radio family strikes a responsive chord in Mrs. Snyder's breast. Mrs. Goldberg and Mrs. Snyder are made of the same warm, human substance.

She misses the old-time shows which have gone off the air. "I feel sad every time I hear of one of my old favorites leaving the airways," she admits.

As interesting as any of the script-shows she follows so closely is Mrs. Snyder's own life-story. Born Ora Hanson, she was the youngest of twelve children in the family of a seafaring Scandinavian. When Ora was only three years old her mother died, and the elder Hanson, in order to be able to spend more time at home, gave up the sea for the lakes and moved to Chicago. In those days there was one rule with regard to candy in the Hanson household. The children could have all the candy they wanted, but they had to make it themselves.

With this ruling, Ora—who, as the youngest member of the family, had little to do—became the family's best candy-maker. No church bazaar or charity party in those days in Maywood—the suburb in which they lived—was complete without some of Ora's candy. By the time she married, her reputation as a candy-maker was wide-spread. Then disaster in the form of typhoid struck at the Snyders. Mr. Snyder, the breadwinner, had been stricken, and for long weeks he hovered at death's door. What she would do to support herself and her fifteen-year-old daughter in the event of his death became a pressing problem with Mrs. Snyder, and it was in these dark days that her current business was founded. People liked her candy, bought it whenever it was offered for sale. So why not make it commercially?

The Snyders lived near a school, and across from the school was a grocery store that sold candy to the children. Mrs. Snyder made her first deal with this grocer and the first batch of fudge she mixed up and turned over to him for sale was made at a cost of five cents. It sold quickly. Kids tried it, told their friends and the stampede was on. Soon her little business had grown to real proportions and she was beginning to dream now of a candy store downtown. Next to children, she reasoned, men are the biggest candy-eaters, and if she could find a location frequented by men . . .

SHE felt her way cautiously. Mrs. Snyder is an amazingly astute business woman, and from the day she made her first commercial candy at a cost of five cents until the present she has never borrowed money. There was a store near the Hamilton Club in downtown Chicago which she knew was frequented by men. She made a partnership deal with the owner for floor space and opened her candy shop. Her receipts the first day were $2.15. After the first day, they soared by leaps and bounds as word of her tasty candy spread around, and at the close of business that first month her receipts were more than $500. Today she operates seventeen stores in and around Chicago, employs 325 people, and her candy is known all over the world.

Ask Mrs. Snyder how she accounts for her success and she'll tell you: "It's in making consistently good candy at reasonable cost. Our boxes are simple, our wrappings plain. There are no frills to be paid for, but the materials which go into the candies are the best. People find that out after a while." Then she'll show you orders from all over the world, like the one from the large movie executive who orders fifty pounds of it every Christmas as gifts for his stars. Many years ago a large candy manufacturer offered to open Snyder shops from Coast to Coast, but Mrs. Snyder refused the offer. "I couldn't supervise candy-making for such an extensive undertaking, and I prefer to know—at first hand—that the quality of my candy is the best." The words she used in turning down this offer have since been used as a firm motto. "I can't make all the candy in the world," she told him, "so I just make the best."

In Chicago Mrs. Snyder has made countless radio appearances and her voice is well known to homemakers of that area. "At first," she said, "it was hard to talk on the radio. It seemed so cold and empty. Then I began to get the feeling that people were listening at the other end, and suddenly it was all different—warm and responsive."

A good commentary on the esteem in which Mrs. Snyder is held in her home city is the fact that she is one of the few people permitted to talk over WMAQ without providing a written script beforehand.

The NBC Symphony Orchestra, NBC. Desire Defauw, conductor. Le Chasseur Maudit (Franck), Mother Goose Suite (Ravel), Two Nocturnes (Debussy), The Sorcerer's Apprentice (Dukas).

Of these selections, all except one are heard frequently on the air. Most dialers are familiar with Ravel's sensitive and whimsical tone pictures of episodes from the Mother Goose fables. They are equally well acquainted with two of Debussy's nocturnes, entitled "Clouds" and "Festivals." There are three in the set, the third being "Sirens," not so often programmed because the piece requires an incidental chorus.

Need one describe "The Sorcerer's Apprentice," that comic fantasy with its story of magic and the fanciful orchestration? By the way, Walt Disney has taken the subject for one of his inimitable films soon to be exhibited publicly.

Cesar Franck's symphonic poem "The Haunted Huntsman" is the rarely played work I alluded to in the first paragraph. The score dates from 1883 and is based on a ballad by Bueger, describing the wild gallops of a certain mad Count who dwells near the Rhine. On a Sunday morning, unheeded of the Sabbath church bells and chants, he rides impiously over everything in his path, until an unseen force suddenly halts him while he is cursed by a supernatural Voice, condemning him to ride on forever. Pursued by a pack of demons, he resumes his chase endlessly through day and night.

The Ford Sunday Evening Hour, CBS. The Detroit Symphony Orchestra; Wilfred Pelletier, conductor; Oscar Levant, pianist. Roman Carnival Overture (Berlioz), the Orchestra; Finale from Piano Concerto in F (Gershwin), Oscar Levant and Orchestra; Liebestraum (Liszt), the Orchestra; Two Canadian Folk-Songs, Chorus and Orchestra; Scherzo from Piano Concerto in G Minor (Saint-Saens), Oscar Levant and Orchestra; La Plus Que Lente (Debussy), the Orchestra; Islamey (Balakireff), the Orchestra; All Through the Night (Welsh Melody), Chorus, Orchestra and audience.

Oscar Levant, the soloist for this Ford offering, is known to radio listeners through his participation in the program known as "Information, Please." Today he will show that his knowledge of musical history, science and art extends also to brilliant playing of the piano.

He should give an especially authentic account of the Gershwin concerto excerpt, for he was a pal of the late composer.

It is good to hear again the delightfully ebullient scherzo from the best piano concerto by Saint-Saens. It is writing that requires lightness, grace and digital dexterity, all of which Levant possesses in abundance.

The keynote of pianism is also in two other works on this program, for the "Liebestraum" (Love's Dream) and "La Plus Que Lente" (The More Than Slowly) were originally fashioned for the keyboard and then translated into orchestral form. In the Debussy score, use is made of the typical Hungarian instrument known as the tympanon, whose keys the player strikes with small, felt-tipped hammers.

For More Good Music

By Leonard Lieblich

OUR readers continue to complain about the lack of good music and the poor network reception in various parts of the country. This department has editorialized often on the subject and that is all it can do.

However, a letter just received from the Federal Communications Commission (Washington, D. C.) might hold the solution to the problem:

"I presume you are familiar with the feeling of the Federal Communications Commission that the problems of education through radio may best be solved by broadcasters and educators working in cooperation, rather than by the arbitrary imposition of Federal regulations. The Federal Radio Education Committee was formed in 1935 to effect such cooperation, and since that time has been carrying forward a comprehensive program of research and survey in this field."

As music comes very much within the educational field, I suggest that hereafter our complaining correspondents address J. Kenneth Jones, Director of Information, Federal Radio Education Committee, Washington, D. C.

Two other letters to this desk should be mentioned. One said that the writer voted for Kern, Grofe and Friml in our recent immortality poll "because they are easier to spell than the serious composers." The other correspondent asks why "some vocalists close their eyes when they sing and do they do it prompted by genuine feeling or to simulate emotion they do not feel? Did Caruso do it?"

Caruso did not, and the practise is unnecessary, meaning as little as the habit some concert singers have of clenching their fists, rising on their toes and clutching the region of their hearts.

Speaking Up

By V. Vidal

TO FOLLOW Toscanini as conductor of the NBC Symphony is a thankless job at best and one which few conductors relish. Add to that the taxing ordeal of an American debut and you have some idea of what Desire Defauw, Belgian conductor, will be up against when he appears for the first time in America with the NBC Symphony on December 9.

For many years a concert violinist, Defauw is now Director of Concerts of the Royal Conservatory of Music in Brussels. He has led the major European orchestras and is considered one of the outstanding conductors of Europe.

Defauw will conduct four concerts, to be followed by Bernardino Molinari, Italian batonist, who has appeared before with the NBC Symphony. After the four Molinari appearances come four more by Bruno Walter, and on March 16 Toscanini takes over again for the final eight concerts of the season.

For his first broadcast Defauw has chosen an all-French-and-Belgian program, music which will make for striking contrast after six weeks of Beethoven. Knowing the difficulties which face Mr. Defauw, this department wishes him the best of luck.

Any attempt on the part of the networks to give us solo programs is welcomed by The March of Music, which would like to see soloists, particularly instrumentalists, given much more of a chance on the air than they get at present. A step in the right direction is the new CBS series of half-hour piano recitals by Vera Brodsky on Saturday afternoons. She told me that she intends to feature seldom-heard piano works, and she makes a good start this Saturday by programming Ravel's "Le Tombeau de Couperin." A few more half-hours of this kind on the radio would be a boon for listeners as well as performers.

This week RADIO GUIDE presents its Medal of Merit to the Metropolitan's Edward Johnson for his great contribution to good music on the radio. Few persons will deny that the Saturday afternoon broadcasts, heard through the winter season each year, are consistently among the outstanding musical programs on the air. For a more elaborate statement of what opera broadcasts have meant to listeners, read the presentation story on Page 2 of this issue of RADIO GUIDE.

"Boris Godunoff"

This Week's Opera

Saturday, December 9, The Metropolitan Opera Company will present Modeste Moussorgsky's "Boris Godunoff" on NBC at 2:00 p.m. EST, 1:00 p.m. CST, 12:00 noon MST, 11:00 a.m. PST.

THE CAST:

Boris Godunoff.....Ezio Pinza (bass)
Gregory (Dmitri).....
Charles Kullmann (tenor)
Pimon.....Nicola Moscona (bass)
Schouisky.....Alexis de Paolis (tenor)

Theodore.....Irra Petina (mezzo-soprano)
Conductor, Ettore Panizza

IN "BORIS," Modeste Moussorgsky (1835-1881), like Wagner, was his own librettist; and like most Russian composers of opera, he chose historical matter of that country for his subject.

Briefly, the story of "Boris" runs as follows: The people urge Boris Godunoff, Regent of Russia, to seize the empty throne of the Czar. He is unwilling because he was guiltily concerned in the death of the late Czar's son, Dmitri, the heir apparent.

The old monk, Pimon, relates the tale of Dmitri's murder to a novice, Gregory, who is so stirred emotionally that he vows vengeance, leaves the monastery and enters Poland, proclaiming himself to be Dmitri and declaring that the latter was never killed. Meanwhile Boris has finally given in to the wishes of the people and become Czar.

He is with his children in the palace when his accomplice in Dmitri's assassination, Prince Schouisky, bursts in with the information that there is a revolt, brought about by the appearance of the false Dmitri.

Marina, beautiful daughter of the Voyerode of Sandomir, urges Gregory, the pretender, to crown himself Czar so that she may both serve her country's interest and become Czarina.

The people demand Boris' death, who, haunted by terrible, remorseful visions, implores his son Theodore to rule wisely, and dies as Dmitri, the impostor, is defeated.

This is a much clearer narrative than is found in most other Russian historical operas, but even so, the action is episodic and not developed organically—it is a succession of scenes.

However, one does not mind the crevices in the plot, for the music is all-compelling. It is music of intense expression and eloquence, of granitic character and strength, and undeniably Russian in themes and coloring, vastness, brooding melancholy and tragic profundity. There are moments sheerly overpowering, especially in the massive choruses (used much more than the orchestra), whose climax comes with the coronation scene at the end of the first act, when the massed voices and clangorous orchestra join in a paean of utmost might and majesty.

Some other highlights are the affecting music in the domestic scene of Boris and his children, the brilliant dance measures at the palace ball, the comic drunken song of Varlaam, and the great monolog of Boris, when, broken in body and mind, he repents.

Nothing much else counts among the roles except that of Boris. It was first made memorable by the late Feodor Chaliapin, in a physical and psychological portrayal of irresistible intensity and fascination. Ezio Pinza, too, gives a gripping characterization.

—Leonard Lieblich.

Here is basso Ezio Pinza making up for title role of "Boris Godunoff," to be presented by Metropolitan Opera Company Saturday, NBC

As Pinza dons beard, features of Boris, the impostor Czar whom Chaliapin made famous, become apparent. Opera's setting is ancient Russia

Resplendent in jeweled costume and crown, Boris (Pinza) is now ready to sing his story of intrigue, regicide, remorse and retribution

"A MIGHTY FORTRESS"

The text of a recent world broadcast over station WRUL in Boston, which no man or woman can afford to ignore

The man who broadcast this message is founder and leader of the Oxford Group, one of the great religious movements of our time. An American of Swiss descent, Dr. Buchman is an ordained minister of the Lutheran Church, founded the Oxford Group at Oxford University in 1921. In a few years its influence was felt over the whole world. Timed to meet the world-shaking effects of the new World War, Dr. Buchman more recently organized another great "back-to-God" movement: Moral Re-Armament. His plea on this broadcast for Moral Re-Armament as the only way out of a world-wide spiritual blackout is "must" reading for every peace-loving American.—Ed.

I AM speaking today to the millions across the world who in these anxious days are increasingly looking to Moral Re-Armament as the one hope for the future. Especially, as I speak, I am thinking of the men on the front-line trenches, the men faced with the hard realities, the men who know what war is.

Yet where are the front-line trenches today? Today in many countries every civilian carries a gas-mask. Every garden has its air-raid shelter. It is a new phase in war, where everybody is responsible and every home is a front-line trench.

Our arts of reconciliation have not kept pace with the arts of war. The art of destruction is beginning to outpace the art of living. Today we have reached the parting of the ways. Civilization, man-controlled, is faced with collapse. The long-endured cycle of moving from crisis to crisis must end. Nations must move beyond crisis to cure. A new world philosophy is needed, a world philosophy capable of creating a new era of constructive relationships between men and nations. A new statesmanship, a new leadership, will ensue from this heightened quality of thinking and living. A nation's first-line defense is the character of her people. As Maurice Browne, the producer of that war-time drama "Journey's End," so compellingly reminds us, "Never in the known history of mankind has there been such general, clear and instant need for the application by each one of us to our hourly lives of the four cardinal principles—honesty, purity, selflessness and love." Here we have the touchstone of Moral Re-Armament.

This world philosophy will emerge as people begin to get their direction from the living God. It will be within the framework of a hate-free, fear-free, greed-free quality of living.

Think of the cost of hate, fear and greed. Millions of men and women must carry gas-masks today because men the world over have been living behind masks for years. Millions of men and women must grope through darkened cities because the nations have been living in a spiritual blackout. Millions of men and women today must listen to air-raid warnings because nations have not listened to the voice of God in days gone by. Yet dark nights of waiting may prove a blessing in disguise, for guidance is a staple necessity that is not rationed.

Man today is ready to believe that human wisdom has failed. A situation is growing up in which people will want God to speak to them. They will have nothing else between themselves and desperation, as they read the changing chimerical headlines that no one wants. Men need some adequate voice to interpret and mold events. All our values are slipping, as currencies slipped after the last war. As my friend, the great Oxford philosopher, Dr. Streeter, said, "A race that has grown up intellectually must grow up morally or perish." Times of crisis reveal the bankruptcy of our thought and action. Then we resort to feverish improvisation and expediency. Sheer economy of time and energy and ultimate bankruptcy may force us to God-control. Expediency must be supplanted by guidance. These days will see a change in all of us in every nation, a change which will bring a new realization of our need. We cannot permanently go on expecting other nations to repent first.

Moral Re-Armament was never more urgently needed than today. It stands for a prejudice-free level of living. It stands for a common denominator of immediate, constructive action for everyone, above party, class, race, creed, point of view or personal advantage. The morally rearmed have learned to live under a crisis-proof, fear-free discipline. They are a panic-proof, single-minded and intelligent trained force at the disposal of all who put their country before selfish interest. A word of gratitude must go to the men in every nation who have met M. R. A. and for what has been accomplished and for the far-reaching service they have been able to render. These people, far-visioned and sagacious, see that M. R. A. is the highest patriotism. The aim of M. R. A. is two-fold—first, to restore God to leadership as the directing force in the life of nations; and then to work for the strengthening of morale within a country and so build a healthful, national life. In the words of a statement by Lord Baldwin, Lord Salisbury and chiefs of the armed forces, that has become historic: "Were we, together with our fellow men everywhere, to put the energy and resourcefulness into this task that we now find ourselves obliged to expend on national defense, the peace of the world would be assured."

Moral Re-Armament will be the focal point for the new national unity where God is the constant and final arbiter in every conflict. This philosophy will become the mainspring of the spirit of the nation, the magnet that will draw all positive forces together. It will give a new unity to capital and labor, and bring the answer to war in the home and to war in the world. It will train that leadership which is adequate for the gigantic work of reconstruction to rebuild a world on the brink of ruin. As a statesman has said: "What are needed are God-guided personalities to make God-guided nationalities, to make a new world. All other ideas of economic adjustment are too small really to touch the center of the evil."

The chief sin is that we have no adequate philosophy for life. Our conception of living is wrong—easy, soft, protective, indulgent. We need a whole new content and conception of life. The brains, the thinking of the world must have been sabotaged and squandered for a very long time to create such destruction of men and of nations. We need a whole new level of thinking about peace. If peace had demanded as much of us as war, war would have been outlawed long ago.

But someone must always make peace. Peace is not an idea. It is people becoming different. You know what it is like at home when there has been a quarrel. You don't just get the idea that peace would be a good thing. Someone pockets his pride and says, "I'm sorry." But most of us want to make peace by repenting of the other fellow's sins. That is how the world would like to do it. The M. R. A. way is to start by being different yourself. Honest apology is the highroad of lasting peace. An army general said to me recently, "Either I sacrifice my selfishness for the sake of my nation or I sacrifice my nation for the sake of my selfishness. And either we sacrifice our national selfishness for the sake of the world or we sacrifice the world for the sake of our national selfishness." War is the price of the selfishness of nations. Most people are selfish enough to want a peace that permits them to wage their own private wars and foster their own petty indulgences. But we pay heavily for this selfishness. Taxes do and will overtake us. We grumble and pay because we would rather pay than pray. Today men share whether they want to or not. We cannot make peace with the nations when the people in the nations are in a state of permanent personal warfare. Strikes, labor difficulties and wars are inevitable until we change our whole thought and quality of living.

The world must declare a moratorium on hate and fear, personally and nationally. The new peace pact must have as its preamble that all contracting parties, all nations, live on the basis of no hate, no fear, no greed. And the necessary prelude to this happier pact

Dr. F. N. D. Buchman, dynamic founder of Moral Re-Armament

IS OUR GOD"

BY DR. F. N. D. BUCHMAN

is that every individual in every nation begins that new quality of living now, and does not postpone it to some future armistice. Then we shall be true patriots. Then there will be law and order in Europe and the world, within your hearts and within the boundary of your nation. Then we shall be able to say, "Behold how these nations love one another!"

As I am speaking here, within a fraction of a second I can reach my friends in many countries—my friends in the front-line trenches, the men in the lonely outposts whose only touch with the outside world is through the friendly radio beam, which meets alike, and my friends in the far Nordic North, or on the northwest frontier of India, or on the African veld, and in far-off Australia and New Zealand.

We accept as a commonplace a man's voice carried by radio to the uttermost parts of the earth. Why not the voice of the living God as an active, creative force in every home, every business, every parliament?

Men listen to the king when he speaks to his people over the air. Why not also to the King of Kings?

An all-powerful God is the most intelligent source of information in the world today. He has the answer to every problem. Everywhere, when men and nations will let Him, He is teaching them how to live.

The world needs a miracle. Miracles of science have been the wonder of the age. But all those miracles have not brought peace and happiness to our homes and nations. A miracle of the Spirit is what we need.

There must come a spiritual dynamic which will change human nature and remake men and nations. There must come a spiritual authority which will be accepted everywhere, by everyone, the adequate authority that does not have to resort to war. Only so will order come out of chaos in national and world affairs.

This miracle is undoubtedly the divinely appointed destiny of mankind.

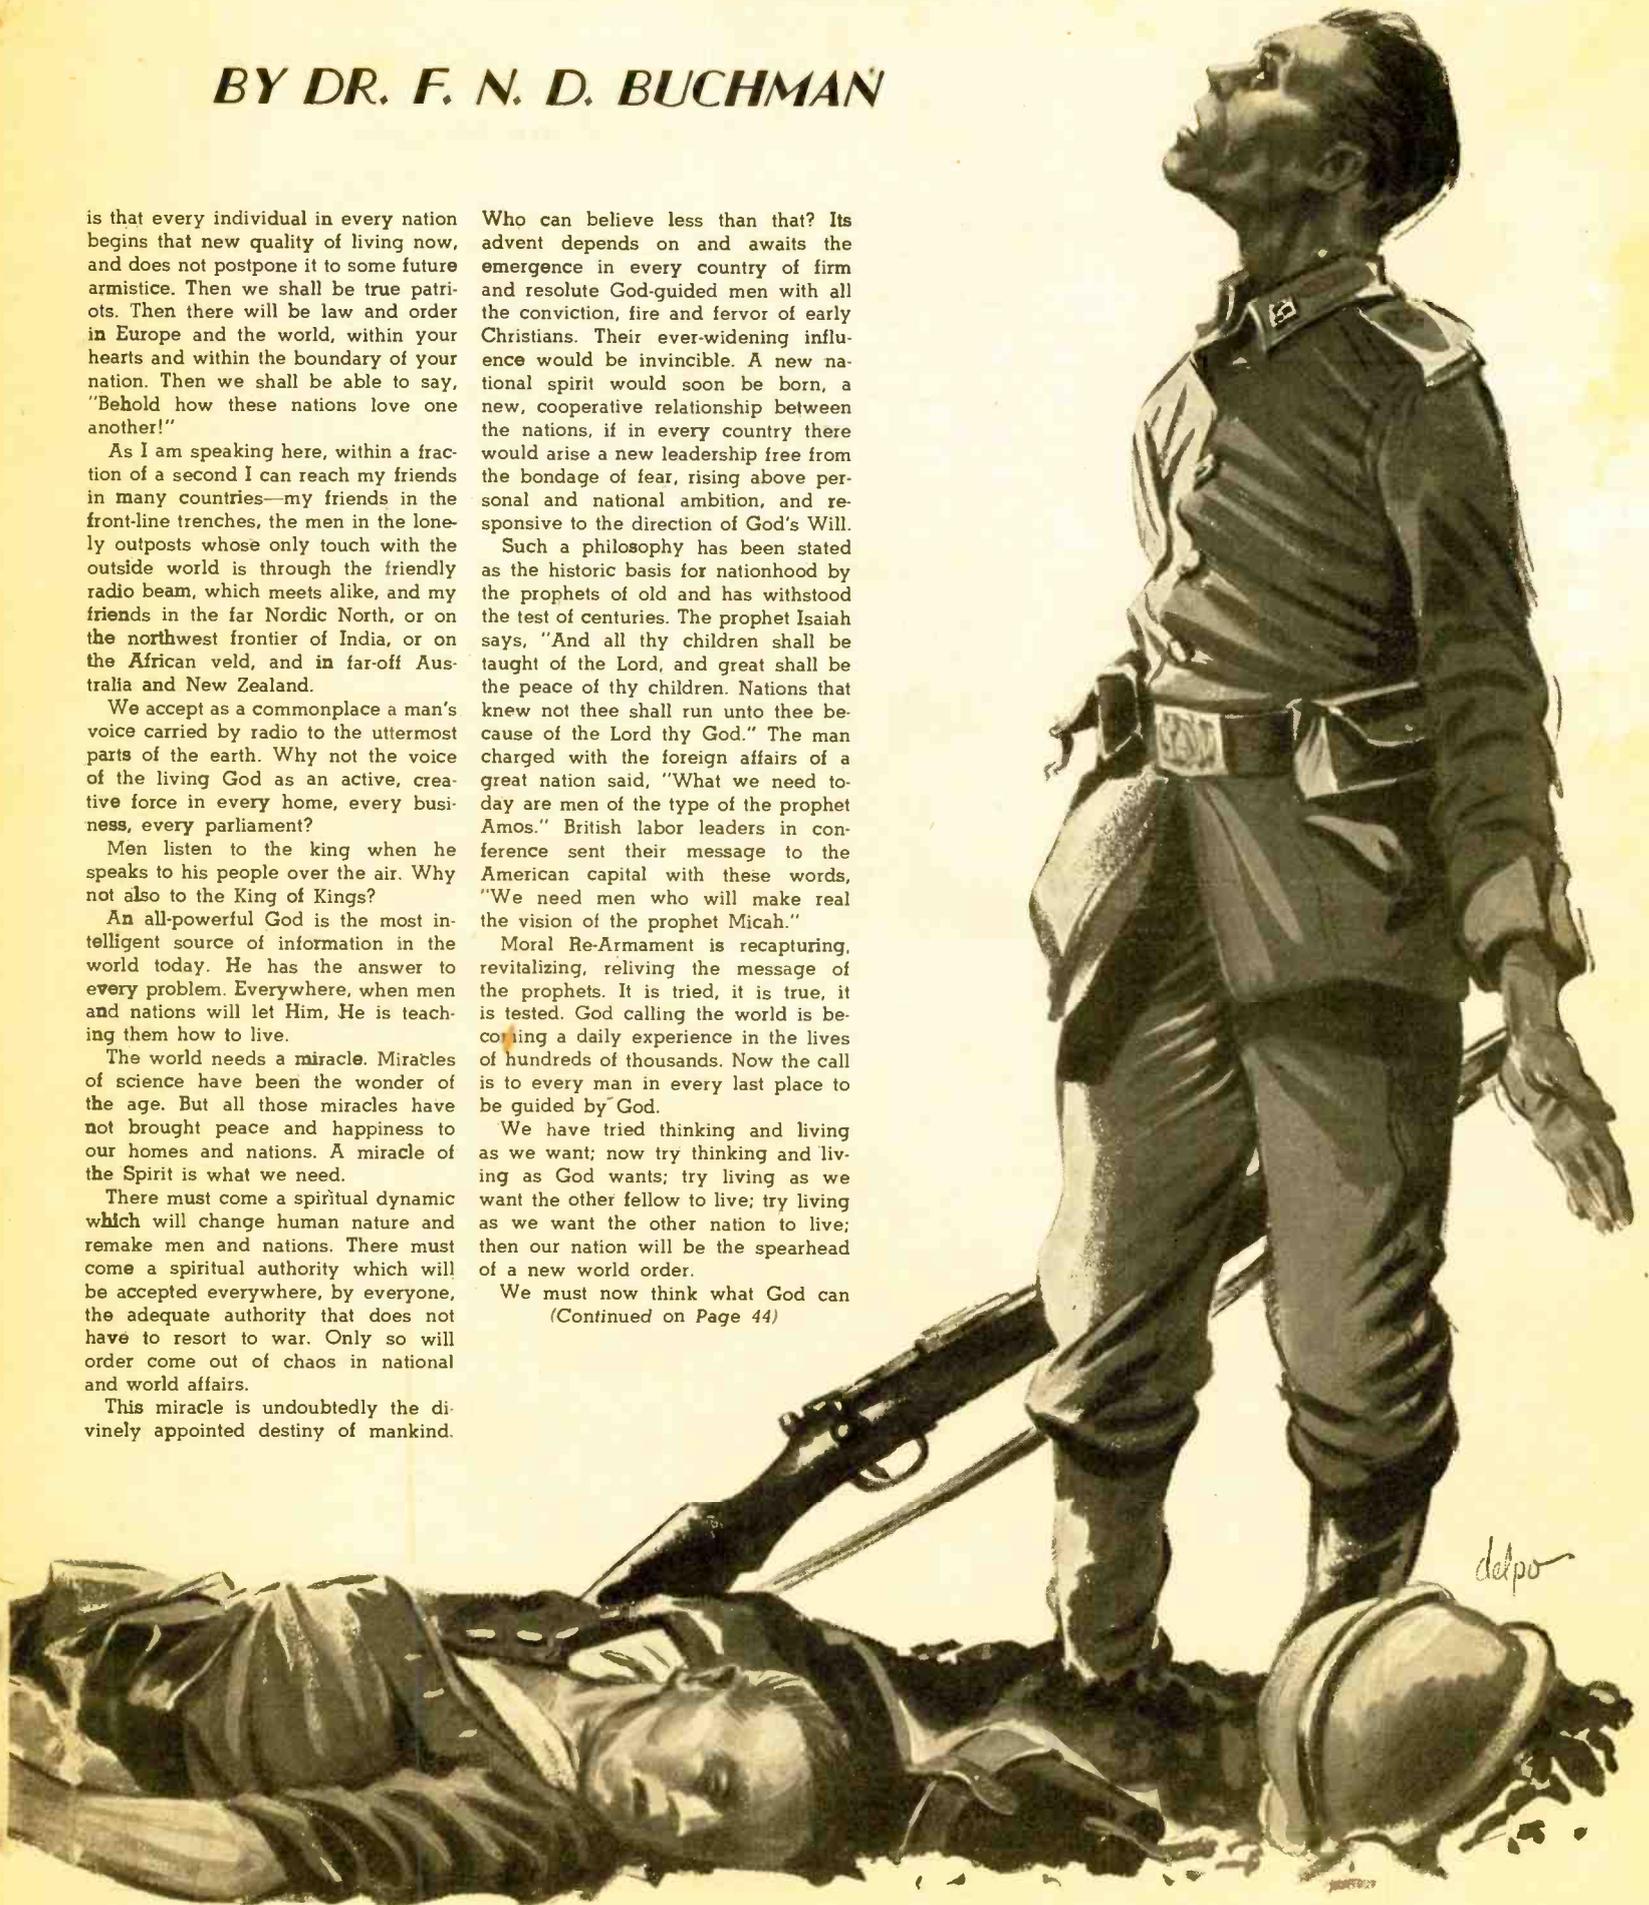

Who can believe less than that? Its advent depends on and awaits the emergence in every country of firm and resolute God-guided men with all the conviction, fire and fervor of early Christians. Their ever-widening influence would be invincible. A new national spirit would soon be born, a new, cooperative relationship between the nations, if in every country there would arise a new leadership free from the bondage of fear, rising above personal and national ambition, and responsive to the direction of God's Will.

Such a philosophy has been stated as the historic basis for nationhood by the prophets of old and has withstood the test of centuries. The prophet Isaiah says, "And all thy children shall be taught of the Lord, and great shall be the peace of thy children. Nations that knew not thee shall run unto thee because of the Lord thy God." The man charged with the foreign affairs of a great nation said, "What we need today are men of the type of the prophet Amos." British labor leaders in conference sent their message to the American capital with these words, "We need men who will make real the vision of the prophet Micah."

Moral Re-Armament is recapturing, revitalizing, reliving the message of the prophets. It is tried, it is true, it is tested. God calling the world is becoming a daily experience in the lives of hundreds of thousands. Now the call is to every man in every last place to be guided by God.

We have tried thinking and living as we want; now try thinking and living as God wants; try living as we want the other fellow to live; try living as we want the other nation to live; then our nation will be the spearhead of a new world order.

We must now think what God can

RADIO GUIDE DAVIS & SCHWEGLER NATIONAL SONG SEARCH WINNER

This week's winner (see reproduction above) by Jack Peslin will be aired on several popular programs

THIS is a gala week for the National Song Search. Mr. Jack Peslin of Los Angeles steps up to receive first prize in Pop-Song Contest No. 7 for his "My Heart Took a Walk"—and he'll spend the week in a round of premiere activities. On Monday, Dec. 11, John Conte will sing the song, as arranged and accompanied by Eddie Dunstedter and his orchestra, on "It Happened in Hollywood," popular musical serial drama (CBS, 5:30 p.m. EST; 4:30 p.m. CST; 3:30 p.m. MST; 2:30 p.m. PST). Jack will appear in person on the show with Conte and Martha Mears. He will be introduced by Bud Heistand. Saturday, Dec. 9, Alvino Rey will present "My Heart Took a Walk," as well as the lucky composer, on a dance broadcast from Pasadena's Civic Auditorium.

Other Winners on the Air

That is the biggest break for a Song Search winner so far. Meanwhile, previous winners continue to become more popular on the air-planes. This Sunday Beth Wilson, charming vocalist of the NBC "Groucho Club" (6:30 p.m. EST; 5:30 p.m. CST; 4:30 p.m. MST; 3:30 p.m. PST), will sing John Carpenter's "I'm Playing 'Hide and Seek' with a Dream" to Leon Leonardi's music. This is the winner of Contest No. 6 for which these stars acted as honorary judges.

Two More Pop Contests

As the National Song Search swings into its twelfth week and only two Pop-Song Contests remain open, judges urge contestants to keep on submitting songs. Remember, the prizes are still the same: (1) $200 in cash; (2) regular song-writers' contract with royalties; (3) immediate publication and distribution as sheet music; (4) immediate recording and distribution as phonograph record; (5) premiere on a Coast-to-Coast broadcast. Contestants will find pictures of honorary judges—Bob Hope, Judy Garland and Skinnay Ennis—of Pop Contest No. 12 on Page 45.

Judges also ask that Song Searchers be patient in awaiting return of rejected entries. Work of returning those to which return postage was attached is now in progress.

Read These Rules Carefully

- Contestants must live in the United States or Canada. Anyone may enter the National Song Search with the exception of employees or members of the families of employees of Radio Guide or the Davis-Schwegler Company.
- Entries must be addressed as follows: National Song Search Headquarters, Radio Guide, 731 Plymouth Court, Chicago, Ill. No manuscripts will be returned unless accompanied by self-addressed stamped envelopes.
- An entry must be written in ink (not pencil) on regularly ruled music copying paper. It may be a full piano arrangement or a simple melody. Words will not be considered in judging.
- No correspondence can be entered into by either Radio Guide or Davis-Schwegler Company regarding individual contributions.
- Contestants may enter any or all contests. Winning any contest prize does not disqualify for other contest prizes. Contestants wishing to enter the same composition in different weekly popular-song contests may do so but must make separate submissions in each case.
- The name and address of contestant must be written in ink or typed in the top margin of page one of each entry submitted. The name of the contest and the number (if entry is in Popular-Song Contest) must also be written in ink or typed on page one.
- A contestant may submit as many entries for any single contest as he may wish—and may win more than one prize provided his entries merit such consideration.
- Each entry shall be judged solely on its musical merit. Judges will be the editorial boards of Radio Guide and Davis-Schwegler Company. Contestants, by entering the contest, agree decisions of judges shall be final.
- The prizes awarded winners of each contest are identical, namely, the song-writer whose song is selected by the judges as best in each contest will receive: (a) $200 in cash; (b) The standard song-writers' contract with Davis-Schwegler Company, music publishers, providing for standard royalties on sheet music and other sales; (c) His song will be published and distributed through Davis-Schwegler Company outlets; (d) His song will be recorded and phonograph records offered for sale through regular D-S outlets; (e) His song will be electrically transcribed and placed in the regular Davis-Schwegler Company library service to more than 200 radio stations. One dozen pieces of sheet music, two records, and one electrical transcription will be given free to the song-writer. The next five songs selected by the judges as being most worthy will win for their writers the sum of $10.00 each. The next six songs selected will be given Honorable Mention Certificates.
- Hymn or sacred music contest entries must be mailed before midnight of Saturday, December 30.
- Semi-classical number contest entries must be mailed before midnight of Saturday, January 6, 1940.

Popular-Song Contest No. 12 (this is the twelfth of a series of 13 weekly contests) entries must be mailed before midnight of Saturday, December 16, 1939. Winners will be announced as soon as possible. In case of ties, duplicate prizes will be awarded.

Announcement

Publication of all Song Search contestants' names has been discontinued. Hereafter, as already announced, contestants will be notified by mail upon the arrival of their entries at Song Search headquarters.

A THRILL YOU'LL NEVER FORGET

You may own

LIKE bargains. This is to tell you about the greatest bargain in broadcasting.

If a man spent about $10,000 in cash for railway and steamer tickets, if he could secure the necessary passports, and if he could get the all-important permissions required to enter public and private art galleries, he might be able to see as many of the world's greatest paintings as are now available to every radio listener in America for almost nothing and in one tidy package.

This story must be about the National Art Society, for it is this organization in collaboration with the National Broadcasting Company which is making a modern listening miracle possible. If you are a regular reader of RADIO GUIDE you are already familiar with the program. We told about it in our issue of November 17. But we did not tell it all.

So we repeat.

We repeat because we know more today than we did then, and because we feel so strongly that one of the essential elements of fruitful radio listening is something to see.

Tune to NBC's "Art for Your Sake" Saturday night, December 9, at 7:30 p.m. EST. In strong and powerful drama you will hear the story of Honore Daumier and how there came to be a great painting in the world named "Third Class Carriage."

Then listen to the announcement of how you may own that picture "Third Class Carriage" in all its brilliant and varied color, and see much more of other masterpieces such as Paul Gauguin's "Tahitian Women" and Frans Hals' "Bohemian Girl" and Peter Paul Rubens' "Fox Hunt." But don't forget that, unless you have "Third Class Carriage" in full color in front of you and have already read the lesson in art appreciation, you won't get the full benefit from the program.

All listeners, like this typical family, may now own and enjoy great paintings, study them while listening to "Art for Your Sake" (NBC, Sat.)

Art was once the precious preserve of those whose money enabled them to buy and sell paintings. Public museums were the first agency that enabled the rest of us to stand and admire. But only so many people can see a painting. There are limits to one's time and one's ability to travel. Michelangelo's works on the ceiling of the Sistine Chapel in Rome have been viewed by several millions of people since he finished them in the sixteenth century, but no American could ever see them unless he had the means to travel abroad. Or unless he could afford expensive reproductions.

Then came radio and its art of spreading a story instantaneously. But a story about a great masterpiece without the picture itself was like a beautiful setting without the precious stone. This year the National Art Society brought to NBC not one but forty-eight precious stones.

This amazing story began several years ago when a man who loved great art decided that he should do what he could to share that enjoyment with others; not just the rich and the fortunate, but the man who jots down figures, and the girl who sells dress goods, and the woman who runs a boarding-house. With the money which was dedicated to this purpose a non-profit organization was formed to supply to everyone interested accurate reproductions of the world's masterpieces at a price all could afford to pay. There was to be no profit. There was to be only the opportunity for everybody to see the world's greatest pictures.

That opportunity is now within the reach of all, but it is more than that because broadcasting has added its voice to this undertaking so that not only may one see, but one may also understand. Sometimes the voice of the artist himself tells us of what he had painted; other times, his letters or his journals or the letters of close friends tell us. The result is that we know far more of art and the meaning of that art than do most of those who have only had the opportunity of seeing the original painting hanging in a dusty museum. Having heard an "Art for Your Sake" program on one of the great masters, you will never forget his personality.

The National Art Society wants everyone to know great art. Men and women in every walk want to know and enjoy great art. They want to talk about it and discuss it intelligently. It is as easy as this:

THE Society offers memberships to those interested. The dues are three dollars per year and entitle the member, among other privileges, to Society publications at great discounts and to compete in a series of nation-wide scholarships. But most important to the radio listener, he receives immediately a portfolio of forty-eight full color reproductions of the world's greatest paintings. These are not mere imitations. We have seen them. These are richly printed color reproductions, averaging eleven by fourteen inches in size, accompanied by the equivalent of a 200-page illustrated history of art: biographical and critical material on each of the forty-eight artists with over 200 black and white reproductions of their work. This material is contained in "Art for Your Sake" portfolios Nos. 1, 2 and 3 and is sent free to those joining the Society now by payment of one year's dues at three dollars. That is the bargain we started out to tell you about. These are the great pictures which the "Art for Your Sake" programs discuss.

How is it possible for the Society to offer such a bargain? First of all, because of the farsightedness of the man who wanted to share the enjoyment of great art with every American, and then because the National Art Society is a non-profit organization whose board of trustees are unselfishly giving of their time and enthusiasm. They include Dr. James Rowland Angell, president emeritus of Yale University; Mr. F. Trubee Davison, president, American Museum of Natural History, and Mr. Herbert E. Winlock, director emeritus of the Metropolitan Museum of Art in New York City.

The coupon here is for your convenience. If you wish further information about these visual "aids" to your pleasure in listening, write to the National Art Society at 30 Broad Street, New York. The director is Mr. Frederick T. Fisher, and he will be glad to answer your questions.

"Art for Your Sake" may be heard Saturday over an NBC network at:

EST 7:30 p.m. — CST 6:30 p.m.
MST 5:30 p.m. — PST 4:30 p.m.

APPLICATION FOR MEMBERSHIP

National Art Society,
30 Broad Street,
New York City.

Gentlemen:

I enclose $3.00 and apply for membership in the National Art Society. I understand that, upon acceptance of my application, I will immediately become entitled to all membership privileges and I will receive without further charge "Art for Your Sake" portfolios Nos. 1, 2 and 3, containing the reproductions of the forty-eight Famous Paintings and all of the illustrated educational material which goes with them.

On Short Waves

Edited by Charles A. Morrison

Programs from foreign countries subject to change without notice

HOW TO LISTEN TO BUDAPEST

HUNGARY, land of Gypsies and legendary home of vampires and werewolves, can be tuned in nightly by short-wave listeners. "Radio Budapest," the 20,000-watt government-owned short-wave transmitter operated by the Royal Hungarian Post (Magyar Kiralyi Posta), is located at Szekesfehervar but all programs originate from studios in near-by Budapest.

As HAS3 (15.37), "Radio Budapest" broadcasts Sundays from 8 to 9 a.m. CST for listeners in Australasia. This transmission is seldom audible in North America.

As HAT4 (9.125), "Radio Budapest" broadcasts nightly except Saturdays from 6 to 7 p.m. CST and on Saturdays from 5 to 6 p.m. CST for listeners in North America. HAT4, considerably lower in frequency than the 31-meter band, should come in a little above the 9-megs mark on your dial. HAT4 does not employ an identifying signal but it comes in loud enough that its Gypsy music and frequent announcements in Hungarian and English make it stand out from the several Spanish stations near by on the dial.

Programs open with a musical selection followed by a station announcement and the news in Hungarian given by a woman announcer. The news bulletin in English, which may be heard almost any time between 6:10 and 6:40 p.m. CST, is read by a man announcer. Musical selections feature Gypsy and Transylvanian music, old Hungarian melodies and folk-songs. News bulletins in Slovakian and Ruthenian given by the woman announcer wind up the program, which then concludes with the playing of the national anthem, "Isten ald meg a Magyarat."

Experimental broadcasts are also being conducted by the research station HAD of the Royal Hungarian Post. These will take place this week as follows: From 11 a.m. to 2 p.m. CST on 21.68 megas; from 5 to 8 p.m. CST on 9.625 megas, and from 8 to 11 p.m. CST on 7.22 megas. Reception reports on these test programs, as well as on the regular daily broadcasts over HAT4, are eagerly welcomed and should be addressed to Radio Labor, Gyali-ut 22, Budapest IX, Hungary. Those sending in correct reports will receive the unusual and decorative pictorial QSL card of "Radio Budapest."

FROM THE EUROPEAN ARENA: Operating from various unknown locations in German-Austria, anti-Nazi station, "Deutsche Freiheits Sender" (10.07), installed in an innocent-looking panel-body truck, may be heard almost daily at 3 p.m. CST. The German language is used exclusively. . . OLR4A (11.84) in Prague, Bohemia, comes on the air with its all-Czech program for North America at 6 p.m. CST, but it is not on the air every night. . . The only short-wave broadcast station in Roumania, a 300-watter at Bucharest, relays 150,000-watt long-wave station "Radio Bucharesti," week-days from 1 to 6 p.m. CST, and on Sundays from 12:15 to 6 p.m. CST, on a frequency of 9.234 megas. A news bulletin in English is broadcast on Tuesdays, Thursdays and Saturdays from 5:45 to 6 p.m. CST. . . Listeners in North America will be able to receive England best according to the following revised schedules: From 6 to 11 a.m. CST, over GSV (17.81); from 12:40 to 2:30 p.m. CST, over GSP (15.31); from 2:50 to 5 p.m. CST, over GSD (11.75); from 5:22 to 8:15 p.m. CST, over GSD (11.75) or GSC (9.58), and from 8:37 to 11:30 p.m. CST, over GSC (9.58) . . . 2R015 (11.76), a new Rome frequency, is in operation daily from 2 to 4 a.m. CST and irregularly from 9 to 11 a.m. CST. . . "Paris Mondial" is now broadcasting an additional program to North America, daily from 11:30 a.m. to 12 noon CST, on the new frequency of 11.845 megas. Don't miss the feature English program conducted by Henri Berger, Saturdays at 8:15 p.m. CST, over "Paris Mondial" (9.68 and 11.885).

YOU WON'T WANT TO MISS THESE: "The Shadow of the Swastika," a dramatized story of the rise to power of the Nazi party, given on Fridays at 7 p.m. CST, over London stations GSD (11.75) and GSC (9.58); "World Affairs," a weekly talk given by distinguished British journalist Wickham Steed, on Fridays at 10:30 p.m. CST over London station GSC (9.58) . . . Performances of New York Metropolitan Opera given over Cincinnati station WLWO (6.06) Saturdays, commencing at 1 p.m. CST.

LISTENING TO LEARN

Background for Listening

Saturday, December 9

Art for Your Sake, NBC.

A mocking caricature of King Louis Philippe caused Honore Daumier, French caricaturist and painter, to be thrown in jail. This, though a sharp rebuke, first drew attention to his work; and as soon as he was released he continued his efforts along the same lines by mercilessly ridiculing the bourgeois class, corrupt practises of the government, the society and manners of the time. His work, however, was not appreciated and he lived a life of bitter struggle with poverty and misunderstanding. As a painter, Daumier may be ranked with the pioneers of the modern trend, particularly in the realm of form and line. He died, blind, in 1879.

Sunday, December 10

Pilgrimage of Poetry, NBC.

Ted Malone broadcasts this Sunday from an apartment at 61 Washington Square in old New York, the only home in America associated with the life of World War poet Alan Seeger. Seeger is the second American poet killed in the World War to be honored in this pilgrimage. Born in 1888, he was killed in 1916 while fighting with the French Foreign Legion in the battle of Belloy-en-Santerre. "I Have a Rendezvous with Death" is the best known of his war verses.

On May 24, 1664, "Tartufe," as a three-act comedy, was performed at Versailles as part of the court festival. Because the character Tartufe gave the impression of being connected with the church, the play was banned by the king for further public production. Author Moliere altered, revised and re-wrote the comedy, finally producing it without interference after five years in a five-act version. "Tartufe" is just one of many masterpieces of dramatic art written by Moliere, whose comedies have been appraised as among the world's greatest examples of the playwright's art.

Machines, besides vastly increasing production and thereby elevating the American standard of living, have also created many serious problems. To many adults the machine is a blessing, to many a curse. But the important aspect of the machine problem to the school child of today is its probable effect upon the future in which that child will play an important role. Should we return to a pre-industrial civilization? Or does the answer lie in learning to use the machine to reduce our working hours and raise our standards of living? These are a few of the questions to be treated in today's broadcast.

American novelist, Ellen Glasgow, author of many distinguished stories of the old and new South. The significant aspect of author Glasgow's early works is that they represent a revolt against the romantic treatment of Southern life so prevalent at the time: "The Descendant" (1897), "The Voice of the People" (1900), "The Battle Ground" (1902). A common theme in her later works is the changing status of women: "Virginia" (1913), "The Sheltered Life" (1932), to mention a few.

Dr. Perrin H. Long on the subject of sulfanilamide is an occasion anticipated with keen interest by American medical men. For sulfanilamide, the drug hailed as "the miracle of the twentieth century," is proving effective in the treatment of childbed fever, gonorrhoea, pneumonia, blood poisoning, erysipelas, gangrene, peritonitis and cerebrospinal meningitis; and Dr. Long is largely responsible for its introduction in American ## Person-to-Person . . .

● For more than ten years the "University of Chicago Round Table" broadcasts have followed the pattern which it originally introduced to radio. The first departure from this traditional form took place last Sunday (December 3) with the introduction of a unique "audience participation by proxy" technique in which a trained newspaperman-layman put questions the public is asking about important, timely problems to the "Round Table" profs. Milton S. Mayer, writer, roving observer and newspaperman, handled the initial assignment. His every-day contacts bring him in touch with persons in all walks of life and enable him to sound out the questions with which people are most concerned. The new technique will be used on the "University of Chicago Round Table" only at irregular intervals.

● It's just a thought—a very selfish thought—but with the approach of the holiday season my mind turns to the many excellent Christmas programs from foreign lands that America enjoys each year. How many of us realized last Christmas, when we heard that superb program of native Christmas music by a boys' choir in Posen, Poland, that there would be no Poland this year? And as I remember Christmas programs from England, they were always so cheerful. But what now? Will Germany pause long enough in war to give us another thirty minutes of German Christmas music by the Rheinischer Saengerbund? It's selfish, I know, to fuss about the Christmas music America's going to miss because Europe's busy at war; but I just can't help it, because Christmas to me has always seemed the one time of the year when radio was fulfilling its greatest mission—spreading the spirit of peace and good-will among men.

● Draw a circle around December 31, the last day on your 1939 calendar. That's to guarantee that you won't miss one of the outstanding programs of the year, "Headlines of 1939." Every year since 1934, NBC presents a cavalcade of the world's most important news stories of the year as chosen by the editors of the Associated Press. Welbourn Kelley, of NBC's script division, will begin working on the dramatic adaptations as soon as the selections have been made.

● Increasing educational activity in radio is noted on the West Coast in an announcement of the inauguration of a "School of the Air" over the Mutual-Don Lee network on November 27. Seven programs a week are presented, embracing history and civics, fairytales, classic literature, geography, industry, books and modern poetry, science, and music appreciation. The Farm Credit Bureau of the University of Southern California, the University of California at Los Angeles, the California State Bureau of Education and other educational institutions are participating. The programs originate in the studios of station KHJ.

Latin America is rich in raw materials, needs manufactured products—the United States has the manufactured products and can use the raw materials. Latin America is militarily weak and needs protection—the United States is capable of furnishing that protection. But the Latin-American countries prize their independence above all else, and therein, prior to the fairly recent switch to the Good Neighbor Policy, lay the main bone of contention between the two. The current unrest in Europe makes U. S.-Latin American relations one of the most pertinent problems of the day, "U. S. as a Good Neighbor" a timely topic for this series.

Thanks

Dear V. O. L.:

I take a number of magazines, but when I wanted help for a Thanksgiving program I couldn't find a poem, editorial or article about our own holiday! There were recipes a-plenty and pictures of loaded tables—inspiration for the stomach only. And then I found an interesting, informative article where I least expected it—in Radio Guide. So I just want to say, "Thank you." Thanksgiving seems to mean only food and football to some. Have they forgotten we are the only nation which celebrates the day and that we STILL have plenty of reason to do so, regardless of the date?

Mrs. W. B. McGee, Atlanta, Ga.

Four Hobbies

Dear V. O. L.:

Do you readers realize what can be done with Radio Guide besides reading its interesting pages? You can make four great hobby collections from it. Save all the crossword puzzles and the answers for collection number one. Save the "Quiz Game" series for a nice party book. Save the articles on "March of Music" for a musical treasure. Save the many fine pictures and you have a radio memoir worth keeping. You'll be as proud of these as I am of mine.

Grace Fox, Fort Dodge, Iowa.

Radio vs. Rain

Dear V. O. L.:

This should settle the question of what's the best on the air: It takes a mighty good program that I won't shut off when it commences to rain on this old tin roof, with a nice fire in the heater and the knowledge I don't have to go out. That's the acme of contentment. Try it sometime. There's plenty of time for radio when the rain stops.

 John Richard, Clinton, Ark.

• Mr. Richard perhaps expected us to rise up in wrath and challenge his preference as an insult to radio. As a matter of fact, we agree that Orson Welles and Arch Oboler can't equal nature's sound-effects. And we even agree that it does sharpen our listening-taste to take a little vacation now and then to appreciate other values. Then it's like meeting an old and honored friend again to return to the dial. We'd even go so far as to say that even rain through the roof beats some programs! —V. O. L.

Shut-In Corner

Dear V. O. L.:

I live with my mother out in the country, where little company comes, and my only entertainment is the radio. I am thirty-two, and I have been a shut-in for six years. We live on a little farm and rent land away and do not know how long we can hang onto the farm. I'd like to hear from listeners, especially if any of them can advise me how to start some kind of little business at home to make a few dollars.

Oscar M. Thompson
 R. F. D. No. 1, Box 88
 Astoria, S. D.

More Carols

Dear V. O. L.:

It is nearing the Christmas season, and I for one would like to hear more carols sung this year on the air. For some reason last year there seemed to be a shortage of Christmas carols. In these times of unrest I believe we need these beautiful, ageless songs to remind us again that "Away in a Manger" in the "Little Town of Bethlehem" the Christ Child was born to bring "peace on earth, good will toward men."

Alberta H. Giffel, Terre Haute, Ind.

• Let "Heaven and nature sing"—and radio sing. We say amen, for what more universal medium can bring the message of "joy to the world"?—V. O. L.

Report on "Studio Applause" Poll

The final tabulation of ballots on the "studio applause" question submitted in this department for voting is as follows:

"All sounds from studio audiences should be prohibited"—61%.

"I approve of studio-audience laughter without other sounds"—24%.

"I approve of laughter and applause without shouting, whistling"—15%.

In the space provided for "remarks" the most frequently voiced opinions were: Applause should be saved for the end of a program; Bing Crosby's pattern of "moderate laughter without applause" is highly favored; many good pieces of programs are lost by intrusive applause; performers should not encourage applause for pantomime and other things which listeners miss; Major Bowes' audiences are offensive, especially breaking into numbers.

Other controversial radio questions will be submitted from time to time. Use this method of expressing your opinion.

5. How many outs in an inning?

Miss Smith Goes to HOLLYWOOD

WOUNDS OF A GREAT radio-film fracas were salved, almost healed, when Kate Smith of radio shook hands with Darryl Zanuck of films, manager Ted Collins looking on. For Mr. Zanuck, much-heralded enemy of radio who only last year yanked Tyrone Power from the air, decreed no film stars in radio, had just paid Kate $15,000 to come to Hollywood to do radio preview (CBS, Fri.) of "Drums Along the Mohawk"

THE FEW DAYS KATE spent in the film capital for that preview were full, but not too full to prevent looking up her favorite movie star, Brenda Joyce. Finding the young star at work with Richard Greene on the set of "Little Old New York," she lunched with them at the Cafe de Paree. Brenda, who is a great admirer of Kate, appeared on a "Kate Smith Speaks" broadcast (CBS, Mon. through Fri.) that week

VISIT WITH VIVACIOUS NANCY KELLY was a particularly interesting part of the Songbird's flying jaunt, for Nancy, seen lunching with Kate and co-actor Henry Stephenson, is one of radio's gifts to Hollywood. An alumna of "Coast to Coast on a Bus" (NBC, Sun.), she played with Gertrude Lawrence in the Broadway hit, "Susan and God," has already done "Jesse James," "Stanley and Livingstone" for 20th Century-Fox

MOST STRIKING MEETING of the week was with Deanna Durbin. Here, said gossip Ed Sullivan, are "two singers, one young, one older, one slim, the other stouter . . . each was born with a great talent for song . . . both were superbly lucky . . . both have been handled excellently, neither has been exposed to the temptations that have shortened the careers of other warblers." Both, it may be added, won fame in radio

STILL AT LA PARSON'S PARTY, Kate made friends with some of Hollywood's real glamour girls. Quite unlike these birds of paradise, in her quiet and practical manner Kate has the rare ability to charm them all (l. to r.): Louella Parsons, Joan Crawford, Merle Oberon, Kate, Claudette Colbert. Before she left Hollywood, Kate was offered the lead in "Moon Over the Mountain" by Zanuck. She turned it down

JOHNNY, the famous call-boy, worked in Hotel New Yorker as a bellhop until his discovery by advertising executive of Phillip Morris. He has a lifetime contract which gives him a car and chauffeur

JOHNNY GREEN, orchestra-leader, started professional career as arranger with Guy Lombardo, later becoming musical advisor for Paramount Pictures. Once arranger for "Johnny Presents," he is now maestro of the show

CHARLES PETER O'CONNOR, announcer, had instinctive flair for talking. At school, was always in demand as orator. His early stage experience led to radio announcing. His swell job on this show led to exclusive contract

GENEVIEVE ROWE, soprano soloist, is no stranger to Radio Guide readers, demonstrating pictorially how cheaply a career-girl could live in New York (May 28, 1938). Successful in radio, she lives now in swank quarters

RAY BLOCH, choral director, was brought over from his native Alsace-Lorraine as a baby, started singing in neighborhood choirs. He gave up singing to conduct choral groups at age of sixteen, has been conducting ever since

JACK JOHNSTONE, dramatic director of the program, super-sedes Phillips Lord and Charles Martin in that post. Skilful direction of "Undercover Squad" and "The Perfect Crime," using fans as detectives, makes them hits

Call for

CHAUNCEY MOREHOUSE (above), drummer, has an important part in the success of this program, for the theme song—which rivals the call-boy signature in its distinctiveness—is "On the Trail," from Ferde Grofe's "Grand Canyon Suite." To this introductory melody, the playing of the temple-blocks gives an exotic and different air. Morehouse plays temple-blocks here to mark start of show

JOHNNY GREEN (right), at piano, is one of radio's finest musicians, and in his early professional days served as accompanist for such well-known stars as Gertrude Lawrence, Bobbe Arnst, Ethel Merman and James Melton. He is the piano soloist heard with his orchestra on this program, has composed such popular songs as "Coquette," "Body and Soul," semi-symphonic "Night Club Suite"

THE SWING FOURTEEN is a talented group of soloists gathered together as a choral group for "Johnny Presents" but heard as individual soloists on many other air shows. Those most familiar to radio listeners from their individual work are Frances Adair, at extreme left in lower row; Genevieve

Philip

JOHNNY GREEN'S orchestra is especially distinguished by its fine string section, a portion of which is shown above. Consisting of eight violins, a viola and a guitar, this section was once featured by Green as "The Sliding Strings," but he no longer singles out any section of his band for the spotlight. The orchestra consists of twenty-one members, is one of radio's best bands and a vital part of this show

"JOHNNY PRESENTS" is perhaps one of radio's best-known shows and its unmistakable signature, "Call for Philip Morris," has become a stock phrase since the program's inception back in 1933. Behind the scenes of this popular musico-dramatic program—rated as one of the most successful on the air—are the flesh-and-blood men and women who make it click. You know the voices well. Now Radio Guide introduces you to the people behind the voices of this Philip Morris show heard each Tuesday night over an NBC-Red network. It is also heard Wednesday nights over an NBC-Blue network, Friday nights on a CBS net.

Photographs by Gustave W. Gale

Morris

"HERE COMES JOHNNY, ladies and gentlemen, in his red coat and brass buttons!" And Johnny, host and master of ceremonies, starts for the microphone, repeating his call as he draws closer. Johnny loves his job, goes everywhere in his uniform. Forty-three inches tall, he weighs only fifty-two pounds, is twenty-nine years old

SLIGHTLY ON THE languorous side is the beauty of Jean Dickenson, soprano star of "American Album of Familiar Music" (NBC, Sunday). Jean has dark hair and eyes, is friendly, fun-loving

BOB CROSBY PICKS A WINNER

BLESSED—or to be more accurate, cursed—with Bing's voice and Bing's name, Bob Crosby managed to arrive, nevertheless. Since 1933, when he took over Ben Pollack's band, his rise to importance in the name-band business has been swift and sure. Today the Crosby Bobcats are in such demand for theater appearances, college dances, and radio that Bob is literally the bandleader of magazine fiction—a glamour boy who works day and night. One big extra job there was, however, which Bob found time to do. That was to act as judge in the first three Pop-Song Contests of Radio Guide's National Song Search, and to premiere his choices on the "Camel Program" (CBS, Tuesday, 9:30 p.m. EST; 8:30 CST; 7:30 MST; 6:30 PST). Why he did it is obvious to all who know him, for it's as natural for Bob to lend a friendly hand to unknown songwriters as to swing "The South American Way." How he did it, in addition to his regular load, is a mystery which intrigued Radio Guide. To clear up that mystery, Radio Guide set its photographer to dog Bob's footsteps. The resulting pictures, shown on these pages, tell how Bob Crosby went about picking the winners in the National Song Search.

Photographs by Gustave W. Gale

HAVING PICKED the winner—this time, Sylvia Seligson's "Good Night, My Lovely Lady"—Bob tells vocalist Helen Ward (left) what part she is to sing, suggests arrangement. Helen, who sings only on Bob's broadcast, talks and knits at same time. Later she runs over vocals with the Crosby band

LAST REHEARSAL at CBS Playhouse No. 3, on broadcast day, is now over and Bob aids handyman prepare instruments for their last trip to the Newark theater. Immediately that is over, the band rushes back to New York for the "Camel Program"—and the premiere of "Good Night, My Lovely Lady"

WAITING IN THE WINGS, at Newark's Adams Theater, Bob doesn't waste any time. In a few minutes he has dressed for stage show, given a couple of autographs, now takes last look at manuscript before going on. After the show is over he will change clothes again, take another peek at songs

IT'S 1:30 A. M. when Bob reaches home at Bronxville, N. Y., and sees his baby for the first time that day. Four-month-old Cathleen Roberta wakes at this hour for feeding. When the baby has been fed, Bob will settle down for a brief rest and read his mail. Mrs. Crosby has waited up for him

NO, THIS ISN'T BREAKFAST. It's two o'clock the same morning and Bob has a snack prepared by his Negro maid. Odd hours and tight schedules are one of the headaches of the band business, which also mean odd eating-times—and a chance for a few more minutes of Song Search Judging

The Woman Behind Mary Marlin

Jane Crusinberry finds a second life in the heroine she created

THE world is full of doubting Thomases who suspect script-writers of being related to their sponsors. The world is also full of wishful thinkers who honestly believe that if they ever sit down to a typewriter for two consecutive hours they will write the best radio show that ever hit the airwaves.

Jane Crusinberry, author of "The Story of Mary Marlin," says it isn't so, and she ought to know.

At exactly nine o'clock every morning, Jane leaves the breakfast-table and starts her daily battle of wits with the characters of Mary Marlin. Tuning in on the smooth, finished product, you would never suspect the daily struggle that goes on behind the closed door of Miss Crusinberry's workshop. To her, writing is a very serious business, a more-than-full-time job. Although she starts her day at the traditional work-hour, she never finishes before midnight. Fifteen hours a day spent in writing a fifteen-minute episode—and some people call writing "easy money."

"The Story of Mary Marlin" is more than a daily episode to Jane; it is a life-work. Far from being a potboiler, it is a sincerely written story of every woman. But to better understand the success of Mary Marlin, it is necessary to look back at the author's life.

Jane Crusinberry, born Harriet Jane McConnell in Grand Rapids, Michigan, came to Chicago at the age of fifteen to begin training for a career as a concert singer. She progressed remarkably and had begun concert work, when marriage and the birth of her daughter, Patricia, ended her career temporarily. But when she separated from her husband a few years later she went to Europe for further voice-training and concert work. For six years she remained abroad working. Upon her return to Chicago disappointment beset her on every side. She found it impossible to get work singing and was untrained for anything else. Riding home on a bus from another turndown, she suddenly conceived the idea of telling her story. Radio seemed the logical place to tell it. When she reached home she outlined "The Story of Mary Marlin."

Sitting in her apartment the other day, talking to smartly dressed Jane Crusinberry, I found it hard to realize that just six years ago this successful woman had overcome seemingly impossible obstacles. She told me the story of a fan who had written to her in black despair three years ago. Her husband, a struggling young lawyer, scarcely made enough to feed the family. The young wife wanted to help but she didn't know what to do. Inspired by the courage of Mary Marlin, she wrote to Jane Crusinberry for advice. In the course of the correspondence, Jane discovered that young woman had a talent for public-speaking. She encouraged her to spend her leisure hours in the local library, doing research on many subjects of general interest. Currently, that young woman is much in demand as a lecturer and book-reviewer in her own and neighboring towns. Although her own success is assured, Jane has not forgotten her frustration. Thus her desire to help others is strong.

Begun as an autobiography, "The Story of Mary Marlin" is far from that today. Now Mary Marlin is no more Jane Crusinberry than it is any other woman.

The scripts are as much a part of contemporary life as a daily newspaper. The characters, never stereotyped, are modern people, living in a modern world. There are no Pollyannas or black-hearted villains in the cast.

Jane Crusinberry doesn't go on the principle that an automobile accident can be stretched into three weeks of copy. She does it the hard way. That's why it takes fifteen hours a day. Mary Marlin is a United States Senator from Iowa. The fact that making her a senator involved lots of research on Iowa problems and governmental procedure didn't stop Jane. She even went to Washington to visit the Senate so that she could get closer to her subject. Joe Marlin is in the Far East, in the midst of a conflict there. It would have been a lot easier to maroon him on a South Sea island, where the thin local color could make up for the lack of real material. But that just isn't the Crusinberry way of doing things.

A handsome woman, tall and dark, Jane is feminine to her well-groomed fingertips. She is neat and orderly at her work in spite of the long hours she frequently spends at her typewriter. Her home is filled with flowers, and there is nearly always a fresh bouquet at her side while she works.

On her days off (she takes two a week), she does the things any other woman does. She likes best to recapture her first love—music—by attending a concert. Sometimes she is a guest at those interesting luncheons and cocktail parties given for and by the writing-craft. Curiously enough, she's afraid of writers. At a luncheon last week in one of Chicago's smart clubs, given for a widely celebrated author of a best-seller, she remained almost shyly in the background until her hostess seized her and insisted that she meet the lion.

"After all," said the hostess, urging her to forget her reluctance, "you two writers must have much in common."

"Oh, but he writes novels," exclaimed Jane.

"Yes, very bad novels, while you write very fine radio programs," her hostess countered.

"My friends and family tease me," she says, "for spending so much of my life at a typewriter. But it's more than a livelihood to me; it's a world of my own. I've spent so much time with the characters in my story that I feel like one of the family. Sometimes I'm amazed at the things they say and do."

There's an old proverb that says, "Go to the ant, thou sluggard, learn his ways and be wise." Or better still, spend a typical Crusinberry day and then listen to one of her polished shows on the air. You will discover that it wasn't done casually by sitting down to a typewriter and dashing just anything off. "The Story of Mary Marlin" will sound like what it is—a labor of love.

—Alice Green.

"The Story of Mary Marlin" may be heard Monday through Friday over an NBC network at:

EST 3:00 p.m. — CST 2:00 p.m.
MST 1:00 p.m. — PST 12:00 noon

DISCARD YOUR OLD AERIAL

It is Most Likely Corroded and Has Poor or Loose Noisy Connections No MORE BUZZES, CLICKS and shorts from summer rains and winter snow and sleet when using an F & H Capacity Aerial Eliminator. Anyone can connect it in a moment's time to the radio set—occupies only 1 1/2 inch by 4 inch space behind the set, yet enables your radio to operate without an aerial and tune in stations over the entire broadcast band (frequencies and short wave channels).

ELIMINATE THE AERIAL FOR GOOD Attach this unit to your radio—make your set complete in itself—forget aerial wires and troubles—move your set anywhere—no more roof climbing, unsightly lead-in or aerial wires.

NOT NEW—VALUE ALREADY PROVED On the market five years! 100,000 customers in U. S. and foreign countries. In use from the Arctic Region of Norway to the Tropics of Africa. Each factory tested on actual long distance reception. Cannot harm set—Easily connected to any radio, including radios having no ground or radios for doublet aerial. Note: It will not operate on battery or automobile radios.

Does away with Aerial entirely—Just place an F & H Capacity Aerial Eliminator (size 1 1/2 in. x 4 in.) within your set. Complete Simple instructions (furnished with unit. Easily connected by anyone to aerial and ground of set. Your radio will then operate and tune in the same manner as if it were connected to an aerial. Operates on both short and long waves.

WHAT USERS SAY LaPorte, Tex. After using the Capacity Aerial Eliminator over a year on my 1935 small 7 tube set can say it brings in reception with fine volume and clarity, pulling in stations from Japan, Europe, South America, and broadcast stations from all over the U. S. Efficiency proven. I took down my old outside aerial. Signatures: Dayton, In. Received Your Radio Aerial Eliminator and it sure works fine. Also works swell on ShortWave band. Wish I had found it long ago. Signed:

do through an army of a hundred million men mobilized, taking their daily orders and direction from Him. God has a program adequate for the world and for each nation. Thus each individual who has enlisted in that program can find a job he can do that will affect the civic, industrial and national welfare. Thus each nation can use all its resources and find its truest security.

M. R. A. has proved itself the greatest constructive force in the world. It has this achievement in its favor: that during this last year it has gone with lightning speed throughout the world. It has made friends everywhere—in every nation, among every class. Think of the vast forces available. It is open to all creeds and bars none. In the words of a miners' leader, "M. R. A. provides all men everywhere with an open line to God for guidance."

The world is awaiting an answer. A hundred million people listening to God can give the answer. We must have some simple, workable basis available for everyone and one that can be applied by all. We need people trained not only to make an adequate peace but also to keep it. The time now is to enlist for the duration of this world war against selfishness. Our program must be, "Fighters ever in the battle for peace." The secret lies in listening to God. A truly united nation comes from a directing God. Man unaided cannot make peace. A nation must be trained to make and maintain peace. We must begin to develop the framers of the just and lasting peace of the future. We need to live a quality of life that will change masses of people. We need a national mobilization for unemployment akin to the plan for evacuees. The united mind of a hundred million people listening to God will give a new fund of information and source of inspiration that will provide the secret of united action. The Oxford Group has been in action since the last war training men for the moral rearmament of the nations. A new force is being brought into play, an indispensable force, necessary for the life-blood of a nation. Through lack of this quality nations sell their birthright.

A general in another army after a disarmament conference sent me this program on a post-card. It was in the form of a picture of a man's face and underneath was written, "God gave man two ears and one mouth. Why doesn't he listen twice as much as he talks?" This is the first step in reorienting our minds to God. Listen twice as much as you talk. This is a simple program of how to begin. Here lies the strategy to win the world from her egocentric ways. Immediately self is the center of the picture, there war has begun—whether in individuals or in nations.

Guidance is when we are in communication with God. Guidance is an absolute necessity and the irreducible minimum to keep millions spiritually and physically alive. It is the nation's life-blood; without it nations perish. Television points to a great truth. The ordinary man, every man, and the statesman, must discover the counterpart on the spiritual plane. Guidance is this counterpart. Just as television is that space-conquering vision on the material plane, guidance is the far-seeing perception on the spiritual.

Fear is another kind of guidance. People are afraid, and so they will not daily fight the battle for peace. I am reminded of Chiang Kai-shek's forceful phrase, "If we perspired more in times of peace, we should bleed less in times of war." We are waging the greatest battle of history in this world war against selfishness. Every man to his guns! We must call out the moral and spiritual forces! It is because we had no such adequate action during the last decades that we are compelled to make the costly sacrifice of war. The way to outlive the forces of destruction is to build better and more wisely than we are building now. "If we are not governed by God we will be ruled by tyrants," said William Penn. The lack of such a program in peacetime has meant that a hundred million and more are engaged in a program of action that no one really wants. M. R. A. is the great central revolutionary force. I was personally at war. An experience of the Cross made me a new type of revolutionary. M. R. A. teaches us to sacrifice for our country. Its immediate aim is a hundred million mobilized in the battle for peace. Everyone disciplined, everyone taking part. A national labor leader in San Francisco had a vision for an American membership of his organization of ten million. Surely the united forces of reconstruction in the world can think in terms of a hundred million taking their orders from the living God. They will be an incomparable, unconquerable, irresistible army, with advanced knowledge of tactics and a program that will change men's hearts and radically alter their thinking and living.

Within the limits of one broadcast it is not possible to give a complete answer convincing and satisfying to everyone. It may, however, cast a light on your path and furnish you with information and direction that will be ready in a time of crisis and put within your grasp the torch that is available.

A world philosophy will be brought to power through the cumulative effect of millions of people beginning the experience of listening to God. True, it may be only an initial experience. Enlistment does not immediately make the trained soldier. But we can all begin. God can communicate with man direct. We stand at zero hour on the threshold of a new world order.

We need unitedly to recapture the world once again for a program of sanity and security. Events are focusing for us the only program of sane control—God control. The only sane people in an insane world are those guided by God. We have not yet tapped the great creative sources in the mind of God. God has a plan, and the combined moral and spiritual forces of the nations can find that philosophy adequate for world crisis.

have made a mistake, as he couldn't possibly have become the father of a child, and asked if she were sure she wanted Karl Swenson. "No, I want Al Swenson." Karl told her to hold the phone, poked his head in another studio, where Al was rehearsing his part in NBC's Chase Twins serial and yelled, "Congratulations, Al, it's a boy, the nurse wants you on the phone." Later Al told Karl he had told the nurse to call him at NBC when the baby arrived but failed to tell her there was more than one Swenson around. Karl is thinking of changing his name, because the shock almost got the best of him.

The Hal Kemps will be in the market for a bassinet in a few months . . . Mary Martin, the songstress on the Walter O'Keefe show, can't seem to make up her mind as to what color hair she likes best. When she first went on the show she was a blonde, two weeks later a brunette, then a chestnut brown, and last week she showed up at the studio a redhead . . . Bess Johnson, star of "Hilltop House," and Donna (Marge of "Myrt and Marge") are taking singing lessons.

Bandnotes

Saxy Dowell, formerly with Hal Kemp, is getting his band in shape after a two-month delay due to a broken arm . . . Eddy Duchin is taking dramatic lessons, to be prepared just in case the movies call him to make the movie based on the life of George Gershwin . . . Ray Bloch, CBS ork pilot, penned a new tune, "Let's Make Up a Little Party." Another new Bloch tune is, "In My Little Red Book" . . . Orrin Tucker's Columbia-recorded version of "Oh Johnny, Oh!" with Bonnie Baker singing the vocal, is on its way to establishing a sales record.

Milwaukee, Wis. — I wouldn't trade my Midwest for any other radio. It is my second Midwest and it is improved a lot, especially the foreign stations like Italy, France, Spain, England and Germany, etc.—S. CAPLAN.

Brings In War News Direct!

Now, you can tune in broadcasts direct from foreign countries. Now, you can hear history in the making before it appears in your local paper and before your local station announces its own version of the news. Listen direct to London, Paris, Rome, Berlin, Moscow, and other foreign stations.

"Voices And Singing Crystal Clear"

Bethlehem, Pa. — So crystal clear and natural that one would think the person speaking or singing was right in the living room. Foreign stations come in so clear, almost like any station in the U.S.A.—MR. AND MRS. W. FRANK.

30 DAYS TRIAL

The Midwest 30 Day Prove-it-Yourself Plan enables you to test the Midwest set you select from the catalog... at your own convenience... under every day and night condition... in good weather or bad... in the privacy of your own home before you make up your mind to keep it!

ORGAN TONE KEY CONTROL (A 12- and 17-tube feature)

To blend harmonies to any desired richness of tone, all you need do is lightly touch any of the Organ Tone Key Controls. You are the absolute master of color-tone changes in music... brass, string, vocal, or orchestra... just as effectively and easily as a great musical director controls his orchestra. Touching any one of four keys enables you to secure fourteen amazingly beautiful tone combinations.

BUILT-IN AERIAL SYSTEM

This new type built-in antenna eliminates the necessity for an outside aerial or ground. No installation! No wires of any kind on your roof or around the room necessary. Makes your Midwest as easy to install as a floor lamp. Just plug in and play.
