. . . not so clumsy

C.W.C., Bloomington

I am writing in regard to the letter that L. Z. of Thousand Oaks wrote in regards to Jim Arness and Clint Walker. As far as I'm concerned neither is clumsy and there is certainly nothing wrong with their acting ability.

J.S., Azusa

I am glad to see "Noah's Ark" back on. In fact my whole family is. We missed it so much.

W.R.S., Ventura

There is no doubt about it. TV-Radio Life is going to gain in popularity. How can it help from getting popular with all the fine coverage it gives about so many different TV personalities. Our family wouldn't have another TV magazine in the house. We, like so many others, enjoy your service tremendously. Keep up the good work.

We love you.

W.S., Ventura

I am not usually one to complain about commercials. In fact I enjoy some if they have any sense or meaning. But there is a certain jingle for a certain cereal that appalls me. If this jingle was sung once it would be permissible. But when it is done over and over, lowering decent programs, it is utterly unpermissible.

Mrs. W. S. quoted the jingle verbatim in her letter. We deleted it but it did prove a point that Ad Men make: she remembered it.

A.P., Los Angeles

Who is the voice of John Beresford Tipton on "The Millionaire?"

Star Maroin Miller and Producer Don Fedderson will tell no one.

M.M., Bell

So many of the best movies are put on late at night. This is fine for those who can stay up late but I cannot do this so I miss many I would enjoy seeing. I do wish something could be done about it.

Your letter – and others with the same complaint – have been brought to the attention of the station personnel who schedule the movies.

M.M., Anaheim

I would like to know if you would do a feature story on Radio Station KFWB. I think that it has a very entertaining format and I would like to know what the people I always listen to look like.

As you've probably noticed, TV-Radio Life has been devoting one issue a month to a local radio station. Next week it'll be KBIG and KFWB is slated for an issue soon after that.

GUY WILLIAMS

. . . just turned 30

S.F., Santa Ana

How old is Guy Williams, star of Zorro?

A.A.J., San Bernardino

A belated congratulation to KTTV and Bill Welsh for their coverage of the Miss Universe Pageant. He sure makes the color blend in whatever he does.

Mr. & Mrs. S., Long Beach

Thanks for putting George Fenneman on your cover. Enjoyed reading about his family also. We have admired George for many years.

NIGHT COURT

. . . not for real

B.F.D., Huntington Park

Will you please clarify for me the following programs: Divorce Court, Night Court, The Verdict Is Yours and Traffic Court. Which are live and which portrayed by actors. Since last night's Night Court I'm more confused than ever. That must have been live!

All of them are live except Night Court but all of them use actors. Look for the story in the November I issue of TV-Radio Life which will give the low down on these shows and the reasons so many people think they are "for real."

Finally Found His 7V Freedom

By Ted Hilgenstuhler

EORGE JESSEL, often called the Toastmaster General of the United States, is admittedly one of the all-time greats in show business. In the eyes of the critics and the public he ranks right along with the likes of Jack Benny, George Burns and Bob Hope.

Within the inner circle of top show biz funnymen, Jessel is looked upon as the king of the comics.

As far as TV is concerned, however, Jessel has been far from sensational. He's done numerous guest spots and even had his own show for a while. While none of these appearances was floperoos, with the exception of several guest spots on Jack Paar and Morey Amsterdam, Jessel's jokes didn't hit the jackpot.

Many people who knew first-hand of George's great gift of gab speculated on why he never came across the TV tube as he did at the banquet table. TV, which thrives on intimacy, would seem to be made to order for Jessel.

Here is truly a warm, compassionate, and very funny guy. George is a product of the lower East Side of New York. He knows what it means to poor and hungry. He's been through the hard times of vaudeville. And he's faced every kind of audience imaginable. As a result, his kind of humor comes from, and belongs to, the people.

His great work raising funds for the state of Israel and for the City of Hope have also marked him as a great hu-manitarian. Annually, Jessel has aver-aged over a hundred speeches at banquets for these two worthwhile causes. His work has been so outstanding and vital to the cause of freedom in Israel, that that government made him an official representative.

The Real George

With all these great and genuine at-tributes—the kind of "sincerity" that made TV heroes out of men like Godfrey, Paar, Como, etc.-why didn't Jessel click?

It's a fair and legitimate speculation. But still a slight insult to ask it of a man of Jessel's stature. Being the man and show business vet that he is, Jessel gives a straight answer.

GEORGE JESSEL EXPECTS TO HAVE LIFETIME FRIENDS like Jack Benny (left) guest on his new Channel 13 program. "The big difference, however," Jessel quickly explains, "is that I will not put the guests on the spot and ask them to perform and take over the show. They are my guests, and I will treat them as such." Jessel is allowed great latitude on this show.

"Up to now no one has ever given me complete freedom on TV. No one has ever let me do the kind of things I want

That's why I'm really excited about doing my new show at KCOP. With Tom Duggan and other personality-type programs, Channel 13 has proven to be a leader in this field.'

On his KCOP program, Jessel, being the entertainer he is, is primarily interested in what the public wants.

"I've never had a meeting with a client and the advertising agency involved during which they showed an interest in what the audience wanted. Never once did I hear them ask: 'Will the audience like it?'
"They were too concerned with their own personal taste.

"I get good money for this program. But that's not the main reason for doing it. I could get far more by doing the banquet circuit.

"I'm tired of traveling so much. I want to stay home more, and this show gives me a chance to do just that and still perform.

Can't Script Him!

"Another thing: every time I did one of those network shows, they checked the script, word for word, weeks in advance. I'm at my best when I can say what's on my mind at the moment. Channel 13 is giving me that chance."

As Amos Barron, KCOP executive, and Ben Oakland, Jessel's producer, explained it: "You can't script Jessel. We are going to let him alone. He'll read the newspaper and comment on current events. He'll get controversial. He'll tell stories, of course. In short, he'll be himself. Something no one else has ever let him be on TV.

"Before you go," Jessel interjected.
"I've got to tell one story." (After all, a Jessel interview would not be complete without at least one joke.)

This one happens to be true and it occurred to me while I was making my last trip through England. A friend of mine told me about a headstone he saw at a cemetery. I didn't believe the man when he told me what was written on that headstone-so I went to look at it myself.

"And sure enough there it was-chiseled neatly in stone. First, the man's name. The date he was born. The date he died. And then underneath, the

''I told you I was sick'."

Here Are Your New Fall Shows

OW THAT the new season is with us, audiences are looking forward hopefully to a bright line-up of new shows. The prospects seem comparatively bright even though of the new offerings, few give indications of being in the highly imaginative class.

Westerns will once again lead the race with no less than eight new entries. Mystery-adventure also comes in for emphasis but there is a refreshing sign that comedies will receive move importance than they had the past season.

Of the comedies, the brightest prospect is the return of Milton Berle to active participation in the TV scene. His NBC-TV show in the old Kraft Theater spot will be watched closely. His show will be covered in more detail in an upcoming issue of TV Radio Life. Jackie Gleason is another who returns via the CBS-TV route and is set for an October 3 opening.

Ed Wynn, a perennial favorite, gets his own show for NBC-TV, a situation comedy type, and viewers will see it

September 25.

Ann Sothern hits the CBS-TV lanes too with her new offering, the details of which are covered in a full story in an early issue. Also Lucy and Desi return with more of their one hour programs.

Here, according to station, is the lineup as of this writing:
From CBS-TV:

Rowhide, starring Eric Fleming and Clint Eastwood is a rousing Western dealing with the cattle drives each year by small ranchers of West Texas.

The Invisible Man and World of Giants will provide a full session of offbeat programming. The Invisible Man is based on the famous H. G. Wells story and revolves around the British scientist who uses the power of invisibility for the good of mankind. World of Giants is a fascinating espionage story dealing with an FBI agent who has the hidden ability to assume smaller physical proportions, a power which helps him to serve his country and fight opposing forces. Edgar Peterson, formerly producer of Climax, is Executive Producer of the series to be filmed in London.

Small World is a new series starring international celebrities and world leaders and is headed by Edward R. Murrow and Fred W. Friendly, co-producers of See It Now. The purpose here is to narrow the distance between the minds of men and women from various continents and by uniting them in direct, unrehearsed, adult and humorous conversation on many topics. This seems to be of special interest in a fall schedule singularly devoid of any kind of informative offerings.

The DuPont Show of the Month opens first with a production of the hit play, "Harvey," and follows with "Count of Monte Cristo," "Victory," "Little World of Don Camillo," "What Every Woman Knows," and the Old Vic's "Hamlet."

Garry Moore is presenting a new pighttime show to be discussed fully.

nighttime show, to be discussed fully in an early issue, and Desilu is doing an anthology dramatic series in the old Studio One time.

Another new action show is Derringer, starring Jock Mahoney. The sponsors were debating between this and Richard Diamond, Private Detective and Derringer got the nod. It had better be good because a lot of Diamond fans will be unhappy to lose their favorite.

From NBC-TV:

In the Western field, Bat Masterson, starring Gene Barry, is the prime offering and this is given full treatment in next week's issue. Steve Canyon, an adventure series based on the noted comic strip and starring Dean Fredericks, is also covered in full in an upcoming issue.

LUCY, DESI, AND MAURICE CHEVALIER will launch the new Desilu show for Westinghouse on October 6.

Cimarron City is the network's newest and most ambitious Western. Starring George Montgomery, it is another hourlong offering and will present many top guest stars in key roles.

Northwest Passage, filmed by MGM-TV, and starring Keith Larsen, Buddy Ebsen, and Don Burnett, is based primarily on the Kenneth Roberts' book and follows the previously made MGM-motion picture. It is best classified as an action series — and looks promising.

Fred Astoire is the most significant new name to hit TV and this long-time hold-out is going to do two one hour live musicals sponsored by Chrysler, the first to be on October 17. The second will be seen in the spring.

In the quiz department Brains and Brawn is the top attraction. It's unique in that it involves both mental agility and physical prowess. In this game, two-man teams will be featured. One member will be a brain, the other a star athlete. The brain who signals first with the correct answer to a question earns for his athlete teammate the chance to try his physical skill in an athletic test.

Peter Gunn is a new entry in the adventure-mystery story line-up and stars Craig Stevens, Lola Albright, Hope Emerson, and Herschel Bernardi. Craig plays a big-city trouble-shooter, Lola a nightclub songstress, the very capable NBC-KRCA PRESENTS Peter Gunn, starring Craig Stevens and Lola Albright with Hope Emerson, Herschel Bernardi also starred.

EDWARD R. MURROW will head a new show for CBS-KNXT called Small World.

Hope a proprietress of an after-hours joint, and Bernardi plays Police Lieutenant Jacoby.

Behind Closed Doors is a counterespionage series starting October 2. Rear Admiral Ellis N. Zacharia, USN (Ret), Deputy Chief of Naval Intelligence during World War II, serves as advisor on the series which is produced by Screen Gems and Jane Gallu Productions.

Not a new show but on a new channel, Omnibus goes on the NBC network this fall, a welcome return for an outstanding program

Another stand-out entry is from Bell Telephone Company which will sponsor eight special one hour colorcasts, four shows devoted to science and four to music and dance. The first program will be shown on October 23 and will be a science program filmed by Warner Brothers. The four music and dance shows will originate live in New York and will feature top classical, popular and folk stars. Donald Vorhees and his orchestra will participate in these programs.

From ABC-TV:

Rifleman and Lawman are two new Westerns, both of which are covered in detail in an early issue.

Mon With A Comera, starring Charles Bronson, is a adventure-mystery series based on the exploits of a free lance photographer, goes October 10. It is produced by Don Sharp and Warren Lewis in cooperation with William Castle who will direct and produce.

ALSO ON NBC is Northwest Passage, a new adventure show. Starring are Keith Larsen, Buddy Ebsen, and Don Burnett.

CBS-TV OFFERS something different in the suspenseful The Invisible Man.

The Donna Reed Show, a situation comedy, is another important addition to the ABC-TV line-up and is given full coverage in next week's issue.

But probably the top news from ABC-TV is the announcement that the network has signed Bing Crosby, long a hold-out, to do two 90 minute live TV shows, which will be produced by Bill Morrow, the first to go on October 1. Bing has actually signed a long term contract with ABC-TV and will be the network's partner in production and development of 10 new TV program series. Bing will be no figurehead but an active participant in this deal.

Disneyland gets a name change to Walt Disney Presents and begins its season October 1 with Nine lives of Elfego Boca, starring Robert Loggia. This is the story of an incredible man and has plenty of action. It may develop into a series. Also on tap from Disney's is John Slaughter, a Western starring Tom Tryon.

Locally speaking, KTTV has the most impressive array of new shows: Adventures of Colonel Flock, starring Alan Mobray; Citizen Soldier; Tugbout Annie; New York Confidential, starring Lee Tracy; Purole, an unusual documentary series, directed by Jackson Hill of Divorce Court fame; How To Marry A Millionaire, starring Lori Nelson, Barbara Eden, and Merry Anders; Mon Without A Gun, and This Is Alice, acclaimed a real sleeper.

KNXT's new offering will be Tales of the Universe, with Dr. Heinz Habe.

ROBERT LOGGIA AND LISA MONTELL play the leading roles in Disney's "The Nine Lives of Elfego Baca." It launches new Walt Disney Presents (new title for Disneyland) show on ABC-TV.

TV and radio stations. It's great to know that shows are being evaluated and fresh approaches tried. At least something is doing and though all the new ideas may not click, change itself is healthy. F'instance: Sedate KFI has hired a Miss KFI, a gal with an alluring voice, who has started to broadcast local weather reports and highway conditions each weekend over an 18-hour period. These five-minute quickies are being inserted within the framework of Monitor.

LAST SATURDAY EVENING at Hollywood Bowl, when KLAC sponsored its charity night, the station's new Big Six line-up was introduced. The new disc jockeys are Bob Hopkins, Nick Paul, Jack Slattery, Claude Stroud, Ron McCoy and Biff Collie.

MOST OF YOU KNOW SLATTERY and Stroud. Bob Hopkins at onetime had his own show on NBC and was with KNX as Steve Allen's replacement when Steverino first went to New York. Nick Paul was radio-TV advertiser for Slenderella in N.Y. Biff Collie has been picked for the past six years, by Billboard, as one of the country's top 10 disc jockeys. Ron McCoy (formerly KLUB, Salt Lake) is new to Los Angeles. This line-up will be on the air seven days a week. In addition, KLAC has expanded its news service, headed by Jim McNamara, with Pat Michaels (formerly with KWIZ) and Alan Mahl (former top TV newsman in Salt Lake City), to include special reports from Sam Benson and Johnny Babcock who'll roam the city for stories.

NEWS IS ALSO BEING ACCENTED at KABC-TV, where Lew Irwin is settling this week upon his return from Europe. Monday through Friday starting Sept. 15 there is a 15-minute news-sports deal with Irwin and Cleve Hermann which should prove more than provocative.

JOE ALLISON'S NEW MORNING program, the Dr. I. Q. series and other additions are in the works at Channel 7 which is on an all-out revamp due to crystallize mid-October.

KTTV HAS ABOUT A DOZEN FRESH filmed series ready to spring. A wholesale re-do. KTLA now telecasts the former Panorama Pacific favorite, Red Rowe and his gang for a 90-minute morning session. News appears to have rated a much heavier scheduling at Channel 5. Like KABC-Radio, KTLA has taken to the air with helicopter. In addition, KNX's Bill Kenneally was scheduled to move over the Channel 5 this week.

BILL WILL BE AN ASSET to the station. Though he hated leaving KNX after 8 pleasant years there, he has been angling for a TV assignment for some time. He likes the medium, hopes someday to cover both radio and television. He is a strong advocate of "news in depth" and feels that there is need for more "reporters" rather than "readers"—his distinction being that the chap who pulls the paper off the teletype and proceeds to read is not a reporter. "I think," Bill observed, "that more and more people working in radio will be reporters and the same will be true in television." A step beyond reporting is editorializing and in this field, claims Kenneally, the local station has the advantage over the network outlet because of quicker clearance of material to be used.

IF ASKED WHAT THE MOST important local trends in radio and TV have been so far this year, I think the greater stress on news, especially local news, would certainly be included. Very few are the stations which have not strengthened their news operations. Radio still leads the pack in its asset of timeliness. People usually receive the news first on radio, tune TV for visual angles, then read the newspapers for more details. Locally, in addition to news emphasis, I think the personality fad has been important. Duggan, Levant, Jessel, Baer, Mae West— and there'll no doubt be more. Not to be overlooked, too, is the Traffic Court type program. In wake of this excellent series have come Night Court, Divorce Court, Juvenile Court, Police Station and others in the blue-print stage.

IT'S CONTRACT-SIGNING TIME

Pick OF THE DIX BY AUBREY DAHL

FTER two more columns, I shall leave this space in other hands and pack myself and family off to the island of Majorca for a year of meditating, writing, drinking gin fizzes (at twenty cents a draught) and just generally living. I shall probably work on a book (I have lots of people to get even with), and my wife, Josephine, will discover what it's like to relax and get to know one's children instead of merely working for them (maids can be acquired for around eighteen dollars a month). And, of course, the nippers will learn to speak another language before they've learned even to read their own. From what I've heard and read, Majorca is still marvelously inexpensive and beautiful, in spite of the recent tourist influx, (villas may be rented for fifty dollars a month), but there is one serious drawback to the whole affair ... THERE IS NO TELEVISION ON MAJORCA...WILL IT BE POSSIBLE TO EXIST? We shall try. I could tell you lots more, but there are movies to be seen. As for instance . . .

"The Fugitive." (9) Beginning Sept. 22, 9:00. 1947. Acclaimed by many as John Ford's finest picture, this Henry Fonda starrer limns the situation in Mexico about thirty years ago, when the government campaigned militantly against the church. Fonda is a priest who returns to his home village in spite of certain death to give his fellows religious guidance. His path is a hard one, as he is persecuted, betrayed and, ultimately, captured, but through it all his humility is the greater victory. Among the supporting cast are J. Carroll Naish, as the informer, Ward Bond, as the American gangster who defends the priest, Dolores Del Rio, as a fallen woman, and Pedro Armendariz, as an anti-Catholic soldier. There are some fine poetic moments in the film, but I offer a small objection in that the real story of the conflict between church and state, at that time isn't told.

"Rififi." (5) Sept. 21, 7:30. 1956. A recent release that caused considerable consternation among censors and various boards of review, this French import relies a great deal on sex and violence to tell its story of Gallic gangsterism ("Rififi" is French slang for gangster), but also offers a robbery sequence that is the epitome of its kind. Four bad guys, headed by Jean Servais and Carl Mohner, decide to pull one last caper in order to retire. They plan carefully and the job itself is shown in a thirty minute section, that contains no dialogue and is really a minor masterpiece of suspense. As for the sex and violence, I suppose most of it will be cut for this version. If it was a matter of choice, I hope they cut the violence.

"Flame of the Islands." (4) Sept. 20, 11:00. 1955. Yvonne de Carlo is the Bahamas representative of a New York ad agency, whose past (hers) includes being bought off by the wealthy family of Howard Duff. When one of her wealthy clients dies, she pretends to be his mistress and is paid off by the wife, Frieda Inescourt. With this money, Yvonne decides to finance recapturing the unworthy Mr. Duff. Everyone falls in love with her and James Arness is in the picture, and Zachary Scott is a New York businessman who loves her in spite of everything and . . . and . . . I love her . . . where is she . . . I don't care what she's done . . . Tramp, tramp, tramp, the boys are marching.

"Between Two Men." "No Leave, No Love." "Romance of Rosy Ridge." "Easy To Wed." "High Barbaree." (11) All week at 10:40. Van Johnson week on KTTV and I'd rather watch test patterns.

"Western Union." (4) Sept. 21, 10:30. You mean . . . Annie Oakley and Matt Dillon?

"Behind Green Lights." (4) Sept. 22, 3:00. Beep, beep!

"House on 92nd St." (4) Sept. 25, 4:30. Hello, Polly? Is it a home?

NXT stuck its collective necks out courageously in taking a stand on the Thou Shalt Not Kill show. This challenging, thought-provoking and stimulating treatise on the pros and cons of capital punishment was certainly a highlight of the TV year. It is good to see a station daring to take sides on a controversial issue, and KNXT displayed the kind of forthright, unafraid thinking that has made it the leader in this city in the public service field. Bill Stout's handling of the show, his excellent moderating, and his authoritative manner stamped him as the Edward R. Morrow of the west. All in all, a big bow to KNXI— and Bill Stout.

On the more entertaining side, NBC-MGM's Northwest Passage has plenty of action to recommend it and some good sense in the treatment of the stories. Here, all villains aren't all black and all heroes aren't all white. And the good get killed along with the bad. In fact, the Rangers disappear very fast. The color is so beautiful in these shows it's a shame everyone can't have a color set.

Notes Here and There: Anna Maria Alberghetti will open October 9 at the Moulin Rouge in Hollywood, following her "Roberta" spectacular with Bob Hope... If some casting director or producer doesn't give Willard Callis a much-deserved break, there is no justice. This young man is now drawing raves for his performance as Will Stockdale in "No Time For Sergeants" at the Music Box—and is one of this town's finest and most versatile talents. In recent months he has played Marcellus in "The Robe," Ensign Players and Mr. Roberts in "Mister Roberts," and now "Sergeants."

Daytime TV finally gets a new kind of show — when NBC-TV launches County Fair beginning September 22. on a five-time-a-week deal. The emphasis here will be a strictly on fun, according to Herb Landon, associate producer. "It will be just like a County Fair," he said, "and what's more fun than that? Bert Parks is our emcee, Bill Gale's band supplies the music. About that music, incidentally—Bill said that 'when we get through we'll make Lawrence Welk sound like Billy May.' At any rate, one of the major instruments in the band is a Calliope."

The show will feature stunts and other acts. When it was on radio a few years ago, it was a top attraction and its stunts made headlines. Once the producers actually changed a molehill into a mountain. There was a town in West Virginia called Molehill. After a lot of negotiation, they got the town changed to Mountain. Another gimmick was in testing old adages, like "Can't punch your way out of a paper bag." This one is to be done — with a prize fighter being put in about an eight foot sack and then told to punch his way out.

"One thing is sure," Herb said, "we have an honest show. No one can point his finger at us." The quiz shows have had a rough time recently and I wouldn't presume to pass any judgment. I do know, though, that both Win With a Winner with Wyn Elliot and Bid 'N' Buy with Bert Parks are on the level — definitely. At one time, Win With A Winner, contestants were put into a room where the questions to be asked had accidentally been left on a table. Wyn Elliot saw them, asked the contestants, if any had seen the questions, and when a few had, he got a whole new set brought on for the show. Oddly enough, with both of these shows, there were no winners the week of the big investigations of quiz programs. Everyone thought this was because the heat was on, but it wasn't so. It was merely coincidence.

"I'm sure glad, though, ours isn't a quizz show." Herb concluded. "We just hope everyone has a ball watching us because we're going to have one doing the program."

DODGERS CELEBRATE KWKW NIGHT

PEOPLE IN THE TRADE are still speculating on the bind into which all quiz shows have been put by reason of the Dotto disgrace. What'll be the next trend? is asked, Jack Barry was really mad the other night when he stated 21's feelings and defended the show's integrity. Did he leave any doubt in viewer's minds about his quizzer?

MAYBE THE VIEWING PUBLIC was fed up with quizzers, anyway. Big money quizzers, that is. Maybe it is time for comedy to come back, though if you mention this to some funnymen, they tell you it has never gone away. George Burns, Jack Benny, Red Skelton and their kind have kept right on making people laugh. Gracie Allen, however, has had it. She's retired and living it up. Shopping, the races, visiting, leisure. The other evening she went to the Huntington Hartford Theater with the Bennys. George couldn't go. He had to stay home and work on his show script!

Braven Dyer Covers SC GRID GAMES WITH

PEN, MIKE

Sports columnist Braven Dyer, in his third year over KNX radio describing the color and between halves commentary of the University of Southern California home and away football games, is a man well qualified for the job.

It also happens to be Dyer's 34th season reporting SC's grid action for the Los Angeles Times. He's no stranger among veteran press box quarterbacks. Some say he was the first to turn the crank which poured out the first batch of concrete for the 100,000 plus seat Memorial Coliseum.

In all those 34 years, here are a few "Dyer's sidebar" items which the writer of Sports Parade has collected while typing results of nearly 400 Trojan contests.

Games played under the coldest conditions: "The 1952 SC game at South Bend which Notre Dame won 9-0, the 1955 Minnesota game at Minneapolis, Minnesota 25-SC 19, and last year's Notre Dame victory at South Bend, 40-12.

Recalling the Minnesota game, Dyer says, "it snowed all through the four quarters. The tuba players in the band at halftime had their work cut out for them. As they marched and tooted, a crosswind blew a blizzard of snow right into the big mouths of the instruments."

Dyers says the foggiest weather for an SC game was the 1936 Washington State meeting at Pullman. "From the press box we couldn't see the palyers nor the other side o fthe field from the bench. It ended

Hottest weather? "Several September aftiernoon Coliseum dates plus the 1956 opener at night in Austin, Texas when the Trojans best Texas 44-20."

Death Valley Days, Thursday, 7 p.m., KRCA, Ch. 4

Death Valley Days is hardly a new show, but that it has survived for so long might offer certain clues for longevity in television.

It might just be a good bit more than accident that Death Valley Days recounts factual stories and has found little need to dress these early western stories in the sophisticated garb of today's version of the west. And I can't help but believe that many of the audience of this show find a delight in the simplicity of these stories. Thus, the story material is fundamentally interesting, and fortunately, the story treatment develops the utmost from the raw ingredients.

There is another important quality that this show possesses, a rather intangible thing, but which over the years has made itself felt with its audience. It possesses none of the "nervousness", the frantic element that dominates so many shows, the hard driving of all concerned, the gimmicks of story and production designed to bat the viewer over the head in the desperate struggle for ratings. Somehow there is a relaxing calm of sound enjoyment, the same comfortable feeling in taking up a favorite book for quiet reading. I'll grant that such is not the goal of today's hard-sell television efforts, but the cumulative effort of such a production as Death Valley Days over the years has a greater potency with audiences than hitting them over the head.

It is interesting to see, too, that ever since its beginnings Death Valley Days has had one sponsor, the Borax soap people, who evidently were careful in their selection of a show and have continued to be identified with it ever since.

Such a relationship is important with the creative personnel producing a show and also with audiences. In the creative area it serves to eliminate the desperate anxieties that beset so many television workers as they labor beneath the everpoised ax of ratings or whims of sponsors. I have the feeling that the general high quality of Death Valley Days perhaps stems from the happy relationship of the creators and the sponsor.

And in the hard facts of advertising, it would seem that the long-term identification of one advertiser with a show serves a greater end in reaching customers than the client who jumps from show to show with the changing seasons.

This may be heretical thinking in advertising circles. I don't know. But the unshakable fact remains that Death Valley Days has survived the ebb and flow of many a short-term high rater.

KEELY WITH GOBEL

Keely Smith, minus husband Louis Prima, will be the guest on the first George Gobel show, of the season, on Channel 4, Sept. 23.

After her TV stint, Keely, and her husband will produce and star in their fea-ture film, "Once Upon A Swinging Time."

As of this date, the popular Smith-Prima duo has made no other TV committments. Every variety-musical show on the air is after them as guests, however, and TV fans should soon be seeing plenty of them on the air waves.

Second thought: why don't they start their own TV show? It would be a natural.

CRAIG STEVENS plays Peter Gunn in the new NBC-KRCA series.

Here's another slam-bang action show with a private eye as a hero, but star Craia Stevens is convinced Peter Gunn is a hot one.

By Jack Holland

HERSCHEL BERNARDI is seen often as Police Lt. Jacoby.

LOLA ALBRIGHT provide: alluring feminine appeal.

RAIG STEVENS and his wife, Alexis Smith, were dining one night when Alexis began doing a rave about one Blake Edwards who had written "This Happy Feeling," a picture she was making at the time.

"Really, Craig," she said enthusiastically, "he is just sensational. The dialogue he writes — it's brilliant!"

Thus began a friendship between the Stevenses and Blake and his wife.

It was shortly after this that Craig and Alexis went to Hawaii on a location. One evening the phone rang and Alexis answered it. The call was from Blake. After he and Alexis exchanged a few bits of conversation, he said, "It's been nice talking to you, Alexis, but where's your old man?

"Right here." she said and put Craig on the phone.

"Will you cut your hair?" asked Blake

A surprised Craig wanted to know why -and Blake said he had a TV series in mind for him in which he'd play a private eye, a gun for hire, but a different type of character from the straight formula type. Craig, already an admirer of young Ewards, said, "Yes."

A few days later a script arrived of Peter Gunn for Craig. He read it, was enthused, wired back approval, and then got ready to leave for Hollywood. When he did return, Blake went with him to the barber to be sure he got the right kind of hair cut.

"I never thought of you for Peter Gunn," Blake told Craig honestly. "It was my wife who thought you'd be good. At first I couldn't see you but I finally came around to my wife's way of thinking.

HOPE EMERSON is "Mother," proprietress of a small night club.

Lola Albright, Hope Emerson, and Herschel Bernardi were cast in regular roles, the pilot was made, and sold in one day to the first person to see it and on a 52 week contract.

Blake Edwards

"It's great to be working with some-one with integrity," Craig remarked. "It's a rare thing these days. But Blake Edwards has every quality as a person and as a crafsman to instill in his actors respect and a desire to do their darn-dest.

"We don't feel Peter Gunn is any formula show. Blake constantly tries to steer away from the obvious. For example, I'm a private eye but I'm not the bum-slouch-hat variety. Gunn can go anywhere – to a swank party on Park Avenue or to Skid Row. This is great - except for my wardrobe. I will have bought about 40 suits before I'm through with this series - and I have to have two of each outfit because I'm engaged in so many fights that there is danger of one suit being torn. I spend my days having fittings.

"Fortunately I'm used to brawls. When I began in pictures I had a roughing-up in my first 18 pictures. I said at the time, 'It's a fight to get into the movies and a fight to stay in.' In Peter Gunn I get clobbered quite

"We also have sex and romance in the show, although Lola will not be Gunn's regular romantic interest. There will be no boy-girl relationship, no team, since Blake wants Gunn to be able to move to any situation. None of this They'll get married next Tuesday and isn't love wonderful' business. Lola and I do have some heavy love scenes

In the case of Hope Emerson, she too, will not be in every show, although it would be nice if she were. She's a fine actress. Actually, Herschel Bernard will be seen more often than anyone else, and what a remarkable performer he is!

There is no telling really who wil get the big play from one show to the next since Blake has several times been so intrigued by a character in a show that he has decided to build a whole new episode around that person,'

Craig is one actor who deserves the break he is getting in this NBC-TV show. He has worked hard and long, he has taken a lot of setbacks, and gone right on trying. None of these disappointments does he regret.

"I'm glad this break didn't come any sooner," he said. "I now have behind me plenty of experiences to help me, to prepare me for this job. I think I can do better now with it than I could have before.

There is an air of optimism around the Peter Gunn set. Everyone feels he has a winner because of the quality involved in production. But, as Blake Edwards said, "If we lay an egg with this one, it will be the most beautiful egg ever laid.'

ANSWER MAN — KTLA's Chief Engineer John Silva weighs in a piece of equipment vital to the Telecopter operation. The total weight of the helicopter load - equipment and personnel — had to fall within CAA requirements. (KTLA photo by David Kovar)

KTLA's Chief Engineer John Silva gives some solid, common language answers to TV-Radio Life's questions.

KTLA's Telecopter has made television history. To better understand the workings of the electronic marvel, TV-Radio Life posed questions to John Silva, Channel 5's Chief Engineer and designer of the Telecopter.

Q. How long has KTLA been working on the Telecopter?

A. It has been a dream of ours for over three years. It is hard to pin point when we first started thinking of televising from a helicopter, or who was the first to get the idea. Physically we started working on the Telecopter in January of this year. (When Jim Schulke was named Vice-President in Charge of KTLA in April, the Telecopter project became a day-and-night proposition.)

Q. What were the biggest problems you had to solve?

There were two. One, to get the weight below the limits set down by the CAA, and two, to transmit a signal to our Mt. Wilson transmitters while in flight.

Why was weight so important? To make this airborne remote unit practical, we had to use a Bell G-2 Helicopter. With this particular copter we were limited to 400 pounds of equipment, plus a cameraman, engineer, pilot and announcer.

Why was it necessary to use this helicopter?

A. Its operating cost was within the bounds of practical application and being a light craft it was not restricted to rigid flight patterns thus affording us complete operational freedom.

Q. How did you solve this weight problem?

A. By using radically new light weight equipment, much of which is not on the open market, and by using a engineer-cameraman and a pilot-observer. We have used a great deal of aluminum and magnesium in the fitting of the Telecopter.

Q. What exactly was your transmitting problem?

A. A television signal follows a direct line, unlike a radio signal. Our transmitter is located on Mt. Wilson. On any remote telecast it is necessary to send direct to Mt. Wilson to be retransmitted to the viewers at home. To do this, and continue to fly in a non-prescribed course, was our major problem.

Q. How did you solve this?

After ruling out radar-controlled homing devices and high-powered transmitters, both because of the weight problem, we hit on a unique type of antenna. Called a Helical, it radiates a signal in a 360° pattern and thus affords us the freedom of movement.

Q. Were weight and transmitting your only problems?

A. No, we also had to fight vibrations, caused by the copter motor, and the center-of-gravity of the copter itself which had to remain constant even after the addition of the TV equipment.

Q. This Telecopter came as a great surprise to the TV industry, how was it kept so secret?

A. Every person working on the Telecopter, and there were very few, was sworn to secrecy. The copter was moved to a private home in North Hollywood so it would not attract the attention of airport personnel. The whole operation was shrouded in mystery much like a dime novel.

Q. Was KTLA responsible for all the work on the Telecopter?

A. Certainly not. True, it was our idea and our design, but without the assistance of many companies it would not have been possible. National Helicopter Service and Engineering provided the copter and flying knowhow. General Electric manufactured most of the equipment and it was their Helical antenna, adapted and redesigned by us, that is the heart of the Telecopter. Our camera, a G.E. Vidicon, uses a Zoomar lens to provide both close-ups and long shots. And Paramount Pictures, our parent company, actually made the antenna and necessary mounts and boxes to house the electronic equipment. It was a combined effort from the very

Q. Will other stations have Telecopters?

A. In other cities, yes. We are in the process now of supplying other stations, in other parts of the country, with Telecopters with the co-operation of General Electric and National Helicop-

Q. Will other stations in Los Angeles have Telecopter?

A. I don't think so. We have the exclusive rights to the Helical antenna and to the name Telecopter so it may be quite a while before any other L.A. station is telecasting from the air.

Q. What is to stop another station from putting a regular remote unit in a giant helicopter and telecasting?

A. Nothing, but it wouldn't be very practical. They would have to follow a rigid flight pattern, it would be a very expensive operation, and besides, nobody likes to be second.

Q. What will be the prime use of Telecopter?

This is a little out of my department, but I think the answer is simple. We have already used the Telecopter to cover news events, show beach safety, and to televise special shows, such as movie premieres. We shall continue in this line with an expanded operation.

Q. With Telecopter a success, are you now working on something new?

A. Yes, we are, but I am afraid I am not at liberty to say what it is. We must keep it a secret.

Cliffie Stone, a man who knows what he's talking about, issues a challenge and asks . . .

Are Networks Ruining TV?

NLESS networks start to develop new personalities for TV, the medium will continue to go downhill as far as viewers are concerned. It will degenerate mainly into re-runs and old movies.

So spoke Cliffie Stone of KTLA's Hometown Jamboree, manager for Tennessee Ernie Ford, discoverer of Tommv Sands and Molly Bee, Capitol Records' artist, and general all-around showman.

Cliffie was not talking through his hat either. As he pointed out, there have been few real stars developed by TV. And outside of a couple of extremely anemic efforts made to unearth new talent, the medium has sat back on its haunches and taken lull-me-to-sleep pills.

"About the only program to try to find new talent is Godfrey's Talent Scouts," Cliffie continued, "and some new stars have been developed there. Yet, CBS doesn't push that show. Ted Mack's Amateur Hour has done some good too - but none of this is enough.

'NBC put on a program supposedly to discover new comedy talent. So it was on at the dinner hour for a fifteen minute spot - and so who watched it? Plus the fact that the material handed these young people was pretty awful.

It takes at least a year of concentrated effort to make a show business personality out of a newcomer. I constantly try to find new talent wherever I can and I'll never give up this search. This is where the star system starts - in the realm of the undiscovered. Eventually, the top names of today will run out and then will come the need for new faces. This is something the networks must face - and now.

Cliffie has, of course, done an amazing job with Ernie Ford whom he discovered. As his manager he has helped zoom the talented and likeable Ern' to a spot where he commands a most impressive salary. Cliffie is now the Executive Producer of his NBC-TV show.

"It's a kind of paper job where I decide on budgets," Cliffie said. Then, with a grin, he added: "And I also attend meetings since no one can get Ernie anywhere near a meeting.

Cliffie gave up the management of Tommy Sands simply because his work with Ernie was so time-consuming he had no choice. His work for Ford has also cut deeply into the time he is able to spend on Hometown Jamboree.

'But it's worth every minute I spend," Cliffie remarked. "There's no one like Cliffie naturally has his views about the success of Tommy Sands and Molly Bee. He has seen them grow up and start building promising careers. But what are their chances for the future?

Tommy and Molly

"I feel that whenever you make it overnight you're in trouble," he said seriously. "Suddenly you're a star and you haven't had the normal growth and experience. I think Tommy is a better actor than Molly is an actress, but Molly may last longer because she has gone through a steady growth in her career. She went from Hometown Jamboree to Ernie's daytime show, to the Pinky Lee show, to playing fairs and she also made two movies. Tommy, on the other hand went from Hometown Jamboree to a national star overnight. It's too big a jump.

Many wonder why, with all he has to do, Cliffie keeps on with Hometown Jamboree. The show is now in its ninth

He has no concrete plans to drop it entirely at this time.

T've kept on with it for nine years partly because it became a habit," Cliffie commented. "It was also a challenge to see how long it could stay on. In addition, I feel that I have a better idea of what Ernie and Molly go through as performers when I'm actively doing a show myself. No manager can sit in an office and manage talent without experiencing the problems of that talent. You have to perform to get the feel of the public, to find out what it wants. By knowing the demands of the audience you can better guide another in his own career.

"I've also enjoyed it because I've been able to present new talent on the show. I admit, however, that it is not as important to me as it used to be. My other affairs have grown so much that Hometown Jamboree often interferes with them. But this program still has something to offer. It is a country music kind of show - and the country offerings have replaced vaudeville as the only places where new talent can go for a showcase. Most of the rock and roll boys came from shows like Hometown - Elvis Presley, for instance. Others who came from this field are Les Paul and Mary Ford, Patti Page, Kay Starr, Rosemary Clooney, and many more. If only to provide a showcase for new talent, I'd be in favor of keeping Hometown on. I just wish I could do more in this direction.

It would be nice if others adopted Cliffie Stone's attitude.

SMART WOMAN can go a long way just looking sexy. Ask Jayne Mansfield or Marilyn Monroe or dozens of other TV and movie stars who have made it th a minimum of talent and a maxiım of measurements.

However, when it comes to selling ngs, sex is not enough. It's far more portant to have a good-sounding pair tonsils than a good-looking pair of s. Doris Drew, Tennessee Ernie rd's singing partner on his CBS radio ow, is a perfect example of what we So'Near, Yet . . .

Ier next radio assignment was on the Carson Show, originating from S Radio in Hollywood.

'The odd thing about that situation,' ris recalls "was the fact that Ernie's o program was right across the hall an us. However, I had to go all the to San Francisco to get the job as vocalist. That's where I was, doing mightclub act, when my agent called said they were looking for a new mer on Ernie's show, and they wanted to try out for it.

FIRST CHOICE ON DORIS DREW'S HIT PARADE is none other than America's numberone peapicker, Tennessee Ernie Ford. Doris, who alternates with Molly Bee as vocalist on Ernie's CBS radio show, has been 0! Ern's singing partner since 1954. "You keep hearing what a wonderful person Ernie is," Doris declares. "Believe me, it's all true. I've worked with Ernie for many hours, sometimes when all of us have been pretty tired, but I have yet to see him lose his temper. It's not just a pleasure to work with him; it's really a privilege."

Doris was also formerly on Ernie's daytime TV program, alternating vocal honors (as she still does on radio) with Molly Bee. Doris, as well as the rest of the Ford daytime and radio gang, were disappointed (and out of jobs) when Ol' Ern was forced, time-wise, to devote all his attention to his nighttime TV show.

Returns to Radio

However, Ernie has always liked to do radio. The pace is easy and the pay is good. Early this year, his sponsor, Ford Motor Company, asked Ernie to return with an across-the-board show on CBS radio. Ernie couldn't turn it down, especially when arrangements were made to tape all five shows on one day (Monday). To do these shows, Ernie merely called back his old radio gang.

"I'll never forget the day when I drove up the driveway and my husband came running out. He told me the news about the show's renewal. You have no idea how thrilled and happy I was." Doris says. "When you work with people like Érnie, and our producer Milt Hoffman, and Molly, and everyone else in the cast and crew, you become very attached to each other. They become like your own family."

In private life, Doris is married to comedian Larry Allen. They have a six-year-old son Danny and live in the San Fernando Valley.

"Doing the Ford show leaves me enough time to take care of my family - and even do a little golfing," the pert vocalist explains. She also has time to answer all of her own fan mail.

The fan mail from the CBS radio show is not quite as prodigious as from the TV show-but it comes from greater distances.

"I just received one this morning from Africa," Doris declares. "It was from a man who said he picks up our program occasionally. I think the man wants to be friendly and is looking for a pen-pal so he can improve his writing.

"Here's the letter he sent me," she said handing it across the table and laughing. It read:

Dear Sir:

I think you are most beautiful
