Family Worship

• I would like to express my appreciation of Dean Goodman's daily broadcasts on CBC radio at 7:54 a.m. (Family Worship, Monday-Saturday). His gift for applying the Eternal Truths to daily life in the 20th century gives fresh courage to many people regardless of denomination. His practical applications and illustrations are particularly welcome in times such as these when so much tension and uneasiness are transmitted on the air waves. I hope and trust these broadcasts will not be crowded out by the pressures for time. . . .

—Mrs. E.J.S., Winnipeg.

The Open Grave

• I can commend the CBC on The Open Grave which I have just watched on Horizon (CBC tv, Wednesday, March 25th).

I cannot understand the objections of church leaders and political leaders to this production, unless of course, they find it too realistic and thus, according to the newspaper report, abhorrent. . . .

I am certain that both church and non-church people would be somewhat startled by the realism of the program which will, I am hopeful, lead them to a fuller understanding of the truth of Christianity. If it was the intention of the producer to present the Crucifixion and Resurrection in a modern, contemporary and relevant way, as I interpret it was, I think he succeeded admirably.

—Rev. D.M.S., Winnipeg.

• Well, like thousands of others I was curious about your play The Open Grave.

I imagine that without the advance and adverse publicity my feelings would be less irate, as I feel now that I have been had.

As an allegorical production you have achieved your aim. However I feel that if the members of the CBC wish to watch this type of production, and you usually achieve three or four of them a year, you and you alone should watch them, and not air them for the thousands who are non-allegorical in taste.

As an offering for Holy Week for the Christians of our country it was indeed in poor taste. As a straight play for non-Christians it leaves nothing to be thought of. I have long suspected that you gear your programs for the morning coffee break crowd to discuss culturally that which you muff the night before. . . .

This play could have been put on in July. You used the Easter season to draw your crowd, not from good material, but by controversy. . . .

—P.R.F., Winnipeg.

• It seems necessary to write in defence of the play The Open Grave since the premature criticism of it was completely unjustified. The thought-provoking nature of the play should be welcomed by all sincere Christians; certainly only the most obtuse could fail to gain something from the resulting introspection.

Congratulations to the playwright and to the CBC staff for a fine production.

The Seven Last Words

• A heartfelt thanks for the wonderful presentation of J. S. Bach's St. Matthew Passion (CBC tv, Friday, March 27th). To hear it sung in German by Canadian soloists and chorus was a real surprise, and since it was such good German, it was a special enjoyment for one who as a child in Basel, Switzerland, heard the St. Matthew Passion for the first time over 40 years ago.

Thank you, one and all.

—Mrs. R.M.H., Jansen, Sask.

Newsmagazine

• Newsmagazine (CBC tv, Tuesdays), always a competent production, has become since last fall, superb television in its field. Its international affairs analyses perform an important function in presenting a viewpoint which is not only a Canadian one, but is independent of those of the major world powers. I have watched similar programs in the U.S. and the U.K., and I am sure that in any competition the CBC would take all the awards.

—D.P.F., Saskatoon.

Mark Twain To His Wife

IN A NEW YORK hotel on December 27th, 1867, Samuel Clemens, known to his readers as Mark Twain, first met "that wonderful miracle of humanity, little Miss Livy," the girl he was to marry. On New Year's Day he dropped in to visit her family, the Langdons, at 10:00 a.m., and stayed for 13 hours! Olivia was 22, 10 years younger than he, a gentle girl still recuperating from partial paralysis resulting from a bad fall six years before. At first she was nervous and shy of this wild writer-humourist with the captivating, lazy drawl, for fear he would be oppressively jokey, or expect her to be funny, too. But his visit was a rousing success. Before long he proposed. Livy turned him down. Undeterred, he whirled off on a lecture tour and courted her by mail. They were married on February 2nd, 1870.

A few weeks later Twain wrote a friend: "If all one's married days are as happy as these new ones have been to me, I have deliberately fooled away 30 years of my life. If it were to do over again I would marry in early infancy instead of wasting time cutting teeth and breaking crockery."

Twain's career took him away from home a good deal, but he shared all his experiences with his wife in witty, exuberant letters, to which she replied with great affection and candor. Some of their letters have been arranged for a CBC Sunday Night program on May 3rd,

On Our Cover . . .

Thirty years ago, the group pictured at top gathered in a radio studio to make the first broadcast of "the down-east music of Don Messer and his Islanders." On May 4th, Don and some of the original radio cast mark the anniversary on CBC tv.

LIGHT, listenable entertainment is featured each week on a new series of programs under a familiar title, Reserved for Music, Fridays at 8:30 p.m., on CBC radio effective May 1st.

Each week the Neil Harris Singers and Orchestra of Winnipeg, will be heard in a program with pace, sparkle and variety. There will be heart songs — old sentimental numbers that many remember but seldom are heard today — folksongs, hits of former years, songs from the movies, and nonsense numbers. A regular feature will be Neil's Song Topic of the Week, a medley of numbers related in topic; and there will be a liberal sprinkling of "sing-song" selections that will tempt the listener to join in.

Arranger-conductor Neil Harris has brought many outstanding musicals to the CBC networks, including Swingalong, that gained an enthusiastic audience on television a couple of years ago.

Reserved for Music is produced by Jack Bingham of CBC Winnipeg.

WINNERS of the Leslie Bell Memorial Choir Competition, heard last April 13th on CBC radio, were the Tudor Singers of Montreal, directed by Wayne Riddell. Second place went to the Prairie Region representatives, the Mennonite Brethren Bible College a capella choir, led by Victor Martens. Other choirs competing were St. George's United Church, Toronto, Bethel Mennonite Choir of Abbotsford, B.C., and the Corriden Choir of St. John, N.B., placing in that order.

NEW THEME of the Winnipeg Pops Concert, now heard on CBC radio, 8:30 p.m. Tuesdays, is the waltz from Offenbach's La Perichole, specially arranged by conductor Eric Wild.

REACH FOR THE TOP (7:00 p.m. Mondays, CBWT), the quiz show for high school students, is in the midst of its annual playoffs. Four teams, winners of the flights run off since last fall, are competing against each other in a four-week series in which two finalists — those collecting the highest aggregate points — will be declared.

The finalists will compete in the grand championship on May 11th, when a Manitoba education department official will present the trophy. The program's sponsors will send a representative to present a $1,000 scholarship award to the school represented by the winning team. A special feature will be a performance by the madrigal choir of Daniel McIntyre Collegiate, Winnipeg.

The playoff contests already held or being held are: April 13th, Churchill High School vs. Elmwood High School; April 20th, Transcona High School vs. Dakota High School; April 27th, Churchill High School vs. Transcona High School; May 4th, Dakota High School vs. Elmwood High School; May 11th, grand championships.

The Reach for the Top series on CBXT, Edmonton, is not as far advanced because it started later last fall. First of the playoff series will be seen on that station May 6th, with Victoria Composite competing with St. Joseph's High School.

FOR JIM GUTHRO's Horizon program commemorating the 20th anniversary of D-Day, George Ronald travelled across Canada and went to Europe, interviewing D-Day veterans. He will interview Germans who defended the Canadian sector of Juno Beach. Field Marshall Viscount Montgomery will sum up the Canadian participation. Both German and Canadian film is being used. Telecast date on CBC tv is May 24th.

THE COONEYS - Count 'Em!

"WHENEVER WE find a child who is unhappy we think of the Cooneys and wish they had more room."

That remark was made nearly 10 years ago by a superintendent of the Catholic Children's Aid Society adoption department. At that time, Dr. and Mrs. Cooney had already adopted seven children. As it turned out, they did have more room, for their children now number 11, every one an adopted child.

Dr. Joseph Cooney and his wife Lillian are often asked why they adopted so many children. They have only one reply: "God's will is to love thy neighbour and help him. We've tried to put this into actual practice."

Telescope recently took its cameras into the Cooney household for a look at daily life in a large family. The Cooneys - Count 'Em will be telecast on CBC tv this Friday, May 8th, at 9:30 p.m.

Being such a large family, the Cooneys do have some problems, but as Dr. Cooney says, "Ask me if I'd do it all over again, and I'd say yes."

Festival: TRIPLE PLAY

MAKING A SLIGHT departure from its usual format, Festival brings together the diverse elements ballet, folk-song, and jazz on this week's program, Triple Play, Wednesday, May 6th, at 9:30 p.m.

The National Ballet Company is represented by five young dancers who perform a ballet devised by choreographer Ray Powell entitled One In Five, which is now in the National Ballet Company's repertoire. Powell describes the ballet, which is set to the music of Johann and Josef Strauss, as "a happy little thing made up of the simplest things that make people laugh." It depicts a clown, alone on an empty stage, who thinks he is the only clown in the world, until he discovers four other clowns, among them a girl. This is a colourful, funny, touching diversion with its roots in the Commedia dell'Arte. One In Five is danced by Jocelyn Terelle, Jeremy Blantin, Colin Worth, Earl Kraul, and Glenn Gilmour.

When Ian Tyson and Sylvia Fricker first teamed up as folk-singers they sang in Toronto's coffee houses for $10 a night. Now, four years and two LPs later, they can count on getting $1,500 for a college concert on the American folk music circuit or a Massey Hall appearance.

Phil Nimmons and his group provide the jazz portion of Triple Play, with such compositions as Autobahn, Steve's Theme, and Asarully. Nimmons, who obtained his education in music at New York's Julliard School, formed his group in 1953. The 10-piece group (Nimmons 'n' Nine) is one of Canada's most versatile and popular.

1. Dancers of the National Ballet,
2. Ian Tyson and Sylvia Fricker,
3. Phil Nimmons 'n' Nine.

THE NATURE OF THINGS returns to CBC tv Tuesday, May 5th, with an interpretation of a great genius' thought process

FOR MILLIONS the name of Einstein represents the ultimate in scientific vision, and his Theory of Relativity represents the ultimate in scientific obscurity! Yet it is the simplicity, rather than the complexity, of his thought that makes it a challenge to much that the rest of the thinking world has taken for granted. And behind the genius of Dr. Albert Einstein's radical discoveries was a shy little man who endeared himself to colleagues and students for his warmth, wisdom and generosity as much as for his luminous intellect.

The impact of Einstein and his ideas on the world of science is the subject of the first program in the series, The Nature of Things, which returns to CBC tv on Tuesday, May 5th, at 10:30 p.m.

"The program won't attempt to explain relativity," says producer James Murray, "but rather to interpret Einstein's thinking processes," and to picture the simple, glowing personality of this quiet little scientist, humanist and philosopher who was neither personally ambitious nor jealous of his colleagues. In spite of his air of detachment, he took immense delight in human relationships and seemed completely unaware of his tremendous charm or of what a comfort and a beacon he was in a confused world.

The program will include film of Einstein's early days in Europe, and of him at work at the

How EINSTEIN Thought

Princeton Institute of Advanced Study in New Jersey. Specially constructed models will demonstrate how great scientists such as Einstein, while seeing what everyone else is seeing, think what nobody else has thought. Host Lister Sinclair will discuss Einstein with Dr. Jacob Bronowski of the Salk Institute, La Jolla, California, whom program organizer John Livingston calls "the most distinguished and most articulate interpreter of Einstein."

Dr. Bronowski says: "What he (Einstein) loved in science was the play of the human mind conforming to no limits except the facts of Nature. To Einstein, science lived by the breath of democracy. . . . All his ideas grew from one conception: that the world is not given to us absolutely, but is something which we actively observe and thereby shape. For Einstein was a practical thinker; to him, truth was that which is experienced in action."

In the May 12th edition of The Nature of Things, the physics and mechanics of size in the animal world will be explained by scientist-broadcaster William Whitehead and Dr. W. E. Swinton, director of the Royal Ontario Museum. Later programs will consider recent attempts to choose atomic standards of mass, length, and time; efforts to find and isolate causes of malaria; the science of sport; hypnosis; the composition and function of blood plasma; and codes and cyphers.

ALMOST EVERYONE, at some time or another, wishes for a life of solitude. "Get away from it all"—isn't that a cry that's being heard more and more nowadays?

Every Sunday afternoon at 2:30, on the CBC radio network, a guest will imagine that he (or she) is about to become a hermit. As company on his retreat, the guest will be allowed to take four books and four musical recordings. The program, which runs for 60 minutes, will include discussion of the reasons for the choice made, readings from the books, and extracts from the records.

The collected works of any single author are forbidden and only standard editions will be allowed. Lister Sinclair's request for one verse of the Rubaiyat printed on Sophia Loren was quickly vetoed. That choice was considered to be of a similar type to that of Joan Crawford, who, when asked with whom she would most like to be shipwrecked, replied: "A personable obstetrician."

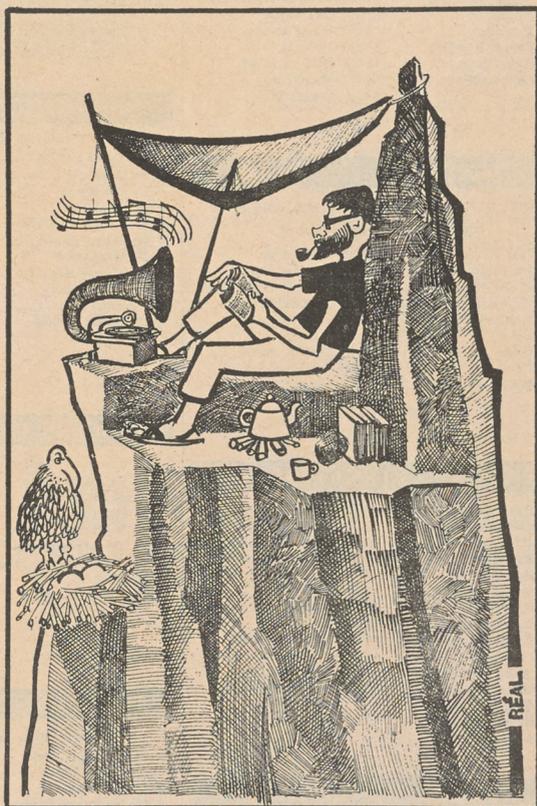

Every occupation and every part of the country will be represented in the guests to be heard. This Sunday, Scott Young, journalist, novelist, film, tv and radio script writer, sports predictor par excellence, becomes the first hermit of the series. He will be followed on subsequent Sunday afternoons by Honest Ed, sometimes known as Edwin Mirvish, proprietor of the Royal Alexandra Theatre, Toronto; Celia Franca, whose name is synonymous with ballet in Canada, and the aforementioned Lister Sinclair.

Most of the guests will probably discover that their choice is not easy. A favourite book or piece of music does not always qualify as a lifetime companion. Not every guest will agree as to the qualities of personality that are most desirable for solitude. Some, no doubt, will find strength in memories of their past life. Others will want to have nothing of the past with them.

Is it a good idea to take a long philosophical novel? Is it entertainment that is needed or inspiration? How quickly would the choice become boring? These are some of the questions that the guests will have to answer. But perhaps the most fascinating aspect of the program for the listener, will be the question: "What would I choose?"

Hermit's Choice

A new program, HERMIT'S CHOICE, begins Sunday, May 3rd, at 2:30 p.m. on CBC radio. The program's host, Henry Comor, here describes the idea behind it.

Program Notes

MAY 2nd

See also page 4 of next week's issue for possible changes in these notes and addit'l program information

Baseball Game of the Week

The Washington Senators play the New York Yankees in Yankee Stadium.

Bowling

Fred Sgambati reports from O'Connor Bowl, Toronto.

Kentucky Derby

Jack Drees describes the 90th running of the Kentucky Derby from Churchill Downs in Louisville, Kentucky. Chris Schenkel handles interviews and colour commentary. The race is for three-year-olds, and is run over a 1¼-mile course.

CBXT—En France

At The Theatre. John is invited to watch the rehearsal of a French cloak and dagger drama, all about a missing letter, poisoned wine and a corpse in the cellar. Dawn Addams is hostess of this learn-to-speak-French series.

Bugs Bunny

The cartoon favourite, Bugs Bunny, in some of his antics.

Countrytime

The Cost of Farming. This is a show in which the mood of the country is made very pleasant as seen through the eyes of hard-worked, hard-pressed towns-people. The program explains, for the benefit of those city people who think they would like to go into farming, what is required of today's farmers — by way of aptitudes, skills, experience, capital, and the prospects of making a living on a farm.

CBXT—Journey of a Lifetime

Shores of Galilee. John and Anne camp by the Sea of Galilee, then travel to the Mount of Beatitudes, Robert Mitchum plays an itinerant sheep drover Saturday at 8:30 p.m., in the Great Movies presentation, The Sundowners.

where they remember Christ's teaching in the Sermon on The Mount.

The Beverly Hillbillies

The Continental Touch. Mrs. Drysdale finds herself in an unusual situation when she throws a lavish party for a "European princess."

The Saint

The Sporting Chance. The Saint comes to Canada for a fishing vacation, but finds himself involved in a plot to lure a German scientist back to his former Russian master.

Great Movies

The Sundowners. Starring Deborah Kerr, Robert Mitchum, and Peter Ustinov. Directed by Fred Zinnemann.

Story: Paddy Carmody is a big, easy-going Irish-Australian who works as a sheep drover, roaming through the bush country on a horse-drawn cart, accompanied by his wife Ida, and 14-year-old son Sean.

They have few possessions and no home, and the very idea of getting stuck in one place horrifies Paddy. He gets a job driving 1,200 head of sheep to Cawndilla, 1,400 miles away. With the family on their many adventures goes Venneker, a footloose but well educated Englishman.

Raymond Bailey of The Beverly Hillbillies, once was fired from a job as a labourer at a film studio for trying to sneak into some mob scenes.

Great Movies:

Robert Mitchum, Deborah Kerr Star in 'The Sundowners'

HE AMBLES through most of his films looking like some amiable bear that's misplaced its hibernating quarters and the season's already half over. The critics notice him only to denigrate him as a Hollywood ham, a beefcake bum with the acting range of a parrot's four-letter word vocabulary. He himself says, "I don't even like acting. I do it for the money."

Those who know him intimately know that what Robert Mitchum says of himself and his career is true: He's far happier raising horses on his 300-acre Maryland farm than practising his lassitude in front of the cameras in Hollywood. Yet the hard core of dedicated professionals in the movie business have great respect for his acting talent—something he isn't altogether sure he possesses. The late Charles Laughton, who directed Mitchum in The Night of the Hunter and managed in that film to elicit from Mitchum one of the few powerful performances he's ever given, has said: "Bob is one of the best actors in the world. He can imitate any accent there is. He has great talent. He'd make the best Macbeth of any actor living. All his tough talk is a blind. He's a literate, gracious, kind man, with wonderful manners . . . a very tender man and a very great gentleman." Laughton is not alone in his estimate of Mitchum as a potential Shakespearean actor. British actors O'Toole, Finney, Burton and Richard Harris have all tried to talk Mitchum into doing a Stratford season. John Huston, who has more than a modicum of talent himself in the acting profession, thinks Mitchum would make a good King Lear.

Outwardly and in the presence of strangers or acquaintances (as distinct from close friends), Mitchum likes to preserve his image as a master of Billingsgate English, the worst kind of oathing in the language.

Despite this public display of boorishness, he is

Learning French The Painless Way

HOW MANY PEOPLE can honestly swear they have never eaves-dropped? Probably very few. It's a very human trait, common to most of us, and one that is subtly exploited to good advantage by two delightful people whose bantering on the CBC radio program Time for French, seems more like a conversation overheard than a lesson in French. Yet the husband and wife raillerie between Gérard and Sheila, now in French, now in English, has probably done more to promote aural comprehension of the French language than any formal text-book approach would have done. Time for French, with Gérard and Sheila Arthur, will in future be heard at a new time on Saturdays. Starting this week, May 2nd, the program will be broadcast at 5:30 p.m.

National School Telecasts in its new series, Visite à Québec also adopts an informal approach to the teaching of French with the purpose of developing aural comprehension of the language. Visite à Québec is a four part series beginning on CBC tv Tuesday, May 5th, at 10:00 a.m., designed for students who may have had little opportunity to gain experience in speaking and listening to conversational French.

The unconventional approach to teaching French probably reaches its peak with CBC tv's Speaking French, Sundays at 1:00 p.m. Professor Jean-Paul Vinay, assisted by Rena Berzin and Jacques Zouvi, shows that learning French can be painless and sometimes fun.

Kentucky Derby On CBC Television

EACH YEAR in the United States more than 25,000 horses compete in various races for purses totalling more than $85,000,000. The most coveted prize of all U.S. horse-racing events is the $125,000-plus purse and the garland of roses awarded the winner of the Kentucky Derby at Churchill Downs, Louisville, Kentucky.

The 1964 Kentucky Derby is the 90th running of this famous race, sometimes called "the run for the roses," and could very well be won by a Canadian horse ridden by a Canadian jockey. The strong favourite this year is E. P. Taylor's three-year-old colt, Northern Dancer, with Bill Hartack in the saddle. Northern Dancer has had 10 wins out of 13 starts and is the all-time Canadian-owned money winner. Known in racing circles as a "come-from-behind" competitor, Northern Dancer was this year's winner of the Florida Derby held last month in Miami, a victory that brought his total earnings to date up to $261,365.

Complete coverage of the 1964 Kentucky Derby will be carried on CBC tv Saturday, May 2nd at 4:00 p.m. CDT; 3:00 p.m. CST

(Please turn to page 31)

Pat Walker is guest Sunday on Some of Those Days, in musical recollections of the early 1900s.

Program Notes

MAY 4th

See also page 4 of next week's issue for possible changes in these notes and addit'l program information

Girl Talk

Guests: Marion Preminger, associate of Dr. Albert Schweitzer; dance director Katherine Murray; and columnist Sylvia Lyons.

Subjects: Dr. Albert Schweitzer; volunteers in both America and Europe to work with the handicapped.

CBXT—Our Miss Brooks

Hobby Show. Everybody decides Miss Brooks is overworked and needs a hobby for relaxation.

Ladies First

Mary Liz Bayer and Ken Dunstan welcome regular home economists Gerdine Crawford and Ruth Dyker who share skills and ideas of value to all homemakers.

Scarlett Hill

The Woods and the Trees. (Episode 3). On a dinner date with Connie, Mike tells her he is in love with Sophie. John catches Mike and Sophie in an embrace, and demands an explanation from Mike. In reply, Sophie announces that she is going to marry Mike. John is astonished, Connie upset, and Les is very jealous. Les tells Connie he is going to leave town if Sophie marries Mike.

Take Thirty

For many years Ivan Romanov has been known for his radio program, Songs of My People, which he and Jan Rubes have presented on the Trans-Canada network. Ivan Romanov brings the flavour of Songs of My People to Take Thirty in the first of a four-part series.

CBXT—Kerry Wood Storybook

The Indian Camp. Kerry Wood tells us what life must have been like hundreds of years ago in an Indian Camp. He also discusses some of the changes made in the Indian way of life when the white man started trading with them. Produced by Keith Newman.

Razzle Dazzle

1. The Turtleshell Players present If At First You Don't Succeed — Quit.

2. A new week of Trans-Canada Teleguiz starts.

3. Percy Q. Kidpester has new ways of pestering the kids of Dazzleville School.

4. The Forest Rangers present a new adventure entitled Dentist's Dilemma.

CBXT—Sports Desk

Glenn Bjarnason is to be seen regularly at this new time with the latest sports stories and scores plus interviews.

CBXT—Gateway

Colin MacLean and Jim Mitchell present a daily 20-minute interview package as they spotlight Edmonton's calendar of coming events, visitors to the city, and film stories of the community at large. This evening they interview Jo Everett on the forthcoming fashion show Crescendo, organized by the Julliard Modelling Club. The proceeds will go to charity.

CBWT—Reach for the Top

The teams appearing this week are Elmwood High School and Dakota Collegiate.

CBXT—Par 27

A new concept in a tv golf series that places a premium on accurate iron play and deadly putting. Ernie Afaganis hosts the weekly half-hour series as two local golf professionals play nine-iron shots from three pre-designated points on a single par three course. Contestants then hole out each single shot. Champ Henry Martell and Billy Wright Jr. meet in game 2 of the series. Produced at the Derrick Golf Club.

Don Messer's Jubilee

This week the show marks Don Messer's 30th anniversary on the national radio network. Some of the members of the earlier radio shows are brought together, such as Ned Landry, George Cromwell and Duke Neilsen.

Wayne and Shuster Hour

This is the fourth and final show of the season, and welcomes as guests Pat Hervey and Pierre Lalonde.

In the opening number the two comedians set out to prove that they are a big hit with the ladies. A skit takes place in a courtroom where a well-known television producer is charged with attempting to murder an actor, and Shuster visits Professor Waynegartner in a Paris cafe where he is one of the world's leading chefs.

In their final sketch, they celebrate the 400th anniversary of Shakespeare by doing Hamlet as a western, The Elsinore Kid.

Playdate

The Front Room, by Robert Storey. Produced by Basil Coleman. Starring Betty Leighton, Gillie Fenwick, Tony van Bridge, and Diana Maddox.

A housewife's preoccupation with the household chores, and a new three-piece suite for her front room, takes precedence over her husband, her happiness and life itself.

Starring Betty Leighton as Mavis; Gillie Fenwick as Wilf.

Explorations

The Outsiders. (Part 3). Looks at the problems that exist at the border towns of Laredo, Texas and Nueva Laredo, Mexico. One of the major problems centres around the thousands of wetbacks who enter the United States to work illegally.

CBWT—Desilu Playhouse

Starring William Bendix, Martin Balsam, Darryl Hickman, and Jesse White.

An unusual and gripping drama revolving about a man who has a fantasy that his country will be attacked.

Ladies First

Co-hosted by Jo Everett and Ernie Poscente. Elsie Kostash's project, patio stools, begins to take shape as the handicrafts expert returns for another visit. Produced by Gloria Germain.

Scarlett Hill

The Woods and the Trees. (Episode 4). John Spice realizes that history is repeating itself and urges Connie to fight for Mike. Connie tells Sophie that she should be careful in case Mike is not in love with her but with the memory of her mother. Connie arranges for Sophie to get stuck in a boat and sends Les to rescue her. Connie takes this chance to talk to Mike.

Take Thirty

1. The last of a four-part decorating series, this one on redecorating your bathroom.

2. Another in Donald Crowdis' series of useful household science items which concerns some of the aspects of alcohol in the home.

CBWT—Pet Show

Dog fancier Frank Wade each week tells a story to a group of children about their pets. Each story is illustrated with drawings by Chris Kristmanson.

John Vernon, who stars in the current story on Scarlett Hill, ending Wednesday, also is seen Thursdays as bank robber Kip Kelly, on More Joy in Heaven, on The Serial.

Razzle Dazzle

1. Mr. Sharpy joins Howard for another Kook's Tour.

2. The Razzle Dazzle Dancers visit Switzerland and Austria.

3. Michele has another game of What's It.

4. Howard has a secret decoder message.

5. Michele and Howard have more Groaners.

CBXT—Gateway

Colin MacLean and Jim Mitchell welcome Dave Cruikshank, CBXT's Outside Broadcasts Producer. He narrates the film he took recently of the Great Slave Lake Railroad, showing what is involved in the building of the railroad to Pine Point, and what it is going to mean to the North. Produced by Dave Smiley.

CBWT—Arthur Haynes

Arthur gets fun out of a visit to the dentist, then in well-meaning form he progresses to a railway station with a zealous desire to help his fellow men. Arthur and Tony are joined by Leslie Noyes in another sketch in which Tony Fayne is a prospective parliamentary candidate. Singers Ken Morris and Joan Savage contribute:

All of Me
Nothing Could Be Finer Than
to be in Carolina

CBXT—Gunsmoke

The Renegades. The bravery of half-breed Quint Asper causes a haughty white girl to change her attitude towards Indians. Starring James Arness as Marshal Matt Dillon.

Front Page Challenge

Toronto mayor Philip Givens is the guest panelist.

Newsmagazine

Brazil. A report on the after-effects of the recent Brazilian revolution by CBC correspondent Tom Gould.

The Nature of Things

Albert Einstein. For millions of people, the name of Einstein represents the ultimate in scientific wisdom. The first program of this fourth series shows the impact of Einstein's ideas and personality on the world of science, and attempts to give some idea of the theory of relativity. There is film of his early days in Europe and of the great man at work in America. Dr. J. Bronowski of the Salk Institute in La Jolla, California, discusses him with Lister Sinclair.

Ed Simmons, head writer on the Red Skelton Hour, seen on CBC tv's Playdate, once earned his living as a photographer of babies in Boston.

Program Notes

MAY 6th

See also page 4 of next week's issue for possible changes in these notes and add'l program information

Girl Talk

Guests: actress Gloria de Haven; singer-actress Patricia Bright; and actress-comedienne Renée Taylor.

Subjects: parties; dress; behaviour.

CBXT—Our Miss Brooks

The Pet Shop. Miss Brooks decides to show Mr. Boynton, from whom she has been trying to extract a marriage proposal, that she can be independent.

Ladies First

1. Fisherman Abe Hyslop continues his lessons in the art of angling, with Mary Liz Bayer trying to learn what every woman should know before the season opens.

2. Mat Gauer shares one of her most delectable recipes.

Scarlett Hill

The Woods and the Trees. (Episode 5). The experience in the boat makes Sophie unsure of her real feelings, and John explains that she should wait. Eventually she agrees, and disenchanted, Mike leaves for the north woods where he realizes it is Connie that he has overlooked for years.

Cast: John Vernon as Mike Bailey; Judith Coates as Sophie Spice; Alan King as John Spice; Anna Reiser as Connie; and Bruce Gray as Les.

Take Thirty

1. An interview with Dr. Yolande O'Neill, a graduate of Canadian Memorial Chiropractic College in Toronto, and a busy member of many organizations in Quebec City. Paul talks to her about her winter trip to Quebec City.

2. Agota Gabor returns to teach Paul the Polka.

CBXT—Teen Tempo

Mike Winlaw and Barbara Krause introduce a show for Edmonton teenagers including 30 minutes of special teen features and the music of the Ron Johnson Trio. A special segment is devoted to something for the girls. Produced by Don McRae.

Razzle Dazzle

1. It turns out that Sherlock House is quite a world traveller.

2. Howard I. Threadneedle has some more poems from Razzle Dazzle members.

CBXT—Gateway

1. Colin MacLean and Jim Mitchell present the regular Wednesday feature, Farm Focus, with CBC farm commentators Al Richardson and Bill Owen.

2. Today's guest is Lloyd Hamilton of Penhold, Alta., who has just returned from Washington, D.C., where he attended the 4-H Conference. Produced by Dave Smiley.

CBWT—Live and Learn

Prehistoric Puzzles: Where and When. Professor William Mayer-Oakes selects some of the many techniques available in finding answers to the basic archaeological questions of: How do you tell Prehistoric time? What was the environment like?

One method of telling time is through the use of radio-active carbon 14 dating, a technique illustrated on film in this program. Under the heading environment, the program shows how archaeologists are concerned with understanding ancient animal and plant life and prehistoric climates, all of which have a bearing on man's cultural development.

CBXT—Reach for the Top

This week Victoria Composite against St. Joseph's High School in the first flight of the playoffs.

Mr. Fix-It

Peter and Rex show how to use trim for decorating purposes.

Red River Jamboree

This week Stu Phillips and the gang sing songs and tell stories centered around the wagon train life on the trail.

Program Notes

MAY 7th

See also page 4 of next week's issue for possible changes in these notes and addit'l program information

National Schools Telecast

Julius Caesar. (Part 2). A BBC production of Shakespeare's drama.

Girl Talk

Guests: art critic Aline Aarinen; writer Toby Stein; and tv personality Jackie Sussan.

Subjects: old and modern architecture; pleasing men.

CBXT—Our Miss Brooks

Cure That Habit. Connie is called to the aid of Madison High's pompous principal when a student's attempt at scientific research backfires.

Ladies First

1. Madeleine Dunkley continues work on her straw hat.

2. A book and a movie are reviewed by June Sheppard.

3. Brian Andrews presents another gardening feature.

Scarlett Hill

Commencing a new serialized drama in five episodes, entitled Reunion.

Episode 1. Three college girls, Claudia, Alice, and Eleanor all love the same man, Mac Farland. Claudia, the college beauty queen, schemes to take Mac from Eleanor, whom he is currently dating.

Take Thirty

1. Madame Benoit has the kitchen floor again.

2. Paul Fox interviews John Morpurgo who has written on such subjects as the History of the United States, and The Last Days of Shelley and Byron.

Razzle Razzle

1. Mandarin Tee Hee comes to the Alley with some special magic tricks.

2. Howard has more secret decoder messages and some groaners too.

Music Hop

Regulars The Girlfriends are joined by Pierre Lalonde, Kip Andre, Duncan White, and The Chum Bugs.

CBXT—Gateway

To spotlight Navy Week, Lt. Comm. Widdows of HMCS Nonsuch, Edmonton, illustrates with slides and film some of the scientific and technical changes which have taken place in the Canadian Navy. Produced by Dave Smiley.

CBWT—Expedition

A filmed story of the BBC Kariba expedition to Northern Rhodesia in 1959. The expedition was led by Tad Edelman, officer of the Northern Rhodesia Game Department.

CBXT—Citizen James

It's Not Cricket. Merriment results when Charlie's contribution toward brighter cricket turns out to be girls in short skirts and an energetic cheerleader. Starring Sid James.

The Serial

More Joy in Heaven. (Episode 3). At the Coronet Hotel's New Year's Eve party, ex-convict Kip Kelly makes his first appearance as the hotel's host. He meets Judge Ford who sentenced him for bank robbery, and he is approached by Foley and Kerman, his old associates in crime. Kip begs Senator Maclean to let him become a member of the parole board.

Cast: John Vernon as Kip; Austin Willis as Senator Maclean; Drew Thompson as Judge Ford; Diane Buchan as Ellen; Jack Creley as Joe Foley; and Bud Knapp as Father Butler.

CBWT—Thriller

What Beckoning Ghost? The story of a wife, who after recovering from a long and critical illness, is led to believe that she is insane by her husband and sister. With the use of props they attempt to create imaginary memory lapses to unbalance her mind so that Lydia, the sister, may benefit from a legal property settlement.

Program Notes

MAY 8th

See also page 4 of next week's issue for possible changes in these notes and add'l program information

Girl Talk

Guests: writer Mary Orr; writer Johnny Lee MacFadden; and actress Anne Jackson.

Subject: actors and acting.

CBXT—Our Miss Brooks

Old Marblehead. With Connie's help, principal Conklin tries to take up a collection to erect a bust of himself, with dire results.

Ladies First

A visit to the Royal Canadian Navy and the shore establishment HMCS Chippawa in Winnipeg. We see her dressed over-all for Navy Week and meet wood-carver Don B. Head, who describes his art and work.

Scarlett Hill

Reunion. (Episode 2). Mac takes Claudia to the college prom and Harold takes Eleanor, who is unhappy but resigned to the fact that she has lost Mac. Suddenly Eleanor realizes that Alice is also in love with Mac.

Take Thirty

Comments by four mothers and two fathers on young couples and their love, courtship, marriage, and the period of the first pregnancy. Rarely are young couples fully prepared for this. The difficulties to overcome are discussed.

CBXT—Tales of the Riverbank

Guinea Races the Wind. A race between Guinea Pig and his aeroplane and the riverbank wind.

CBXT—Stu Davis

Each week Canada's cowboy troubadour Stu Davis, accompanied by his 19-year-old son Duane Davis, weaves a word and music story of the old West.

This week: Pioneer Mother. Stu pays a tribute to the many pioneer mothers who somehow managed to keep refinement alive in a rough and rugged frontier land. Produced by Keith Newman. Stu sings:

Out There On That New Frontier
Between Two
Trees
That Pioneer Mother of Mine

Razzle Dazzle

1. Hiram Korntassle comes to visit Howard, Al, and Michele.
2. Ace Baker runs this week's Field Games.
3. Al Hamel concludes this week's Telegiz.
4. The Razzle Dazzle invention of the week is shown.

Kingfisher Cove

The guest this week is violinist Francis Chaplin, who joins regulars Pat Napier, Clarence Fleiger, Jean Marshall, and Phyllis Ensher, in a program of popular songs and light classical music. Numbers include:

Trees Clarence
Wonderful, Wonderful Day Jean
Get Me To the Church on Time Pat
Endearing Young Charms Phyllis
Theme from Sylvia Francis Chaplain

Telescope

The Cooneys — Count 'Em. A look at the household of Dr. Joseph Cooney and his wife, Lillian, of Etobicoke, Ont. They have adopted children at the rate of one every 18 months for almost the past 20 years. They now have 11 adopted children, and of course, also have all the problems of a large family. They spend over $100 a week on groceries, and must use a station wagon to transport their family. Host is Fletcher Markle. Directed by Gerald Richardson.

at 11:30, by Alan King and Sydney Sturgess, who will be heard playing the parts of Twain and Livy.

"She was slender and beautiful and girlish — and she was both girl and woman," Twain recalled after her death in 1904. "She remained both girl and woman to the last day of her life. Under a grave and gentle exterior burned inextinguishable fires of sympathy, energy, devotion, enthusiasm and absolutely limitless affection. She was always frail in body and she lived upon her spirit, whose hopefulness and courage were indestructible.

"I have compared and contrasted her with hundreds of persons and my conviction remains that hers was the most perfect character I have ever met. And I may add that she was the most winningly dignified person I have ever known. . . . During the nine years that we spent in poverty and debt she was always able to reason me out of my despairs and find a bright side to the clouds and make me see it. In all that time I never knew her to utter a word of regret concerning our altered circumstances. . . . She was the most beautiful spirit, and the highest and the noblest I have known."

Violinist Francis Chaplin pays a visit to Kingfisher Cove Friday at 5:30 p.m.

Program Notes

May 3rd

8:35 a.m.—Postmark U.K.

(8:30 a.m. on CBK and CBX)

Harlow. Twenty miles north of London is a town of some 60,000 people which simply did not exist twenty years ago. It is in every sense of the word a new town, designed by a post-war generation, using landscape and trees and parks almost as architectural features. Tempting a young population into its handsome and healthy environment, and away from the crowded city of London is the town of Harlow. Gordon Snell visits it and speaks to its people, as well as its architect-planner Frederick Gibberd.

9:03 a.m.—Sunday School of the Air

The fifth in the series on the Life of Christ taken from the Gospel according to St. Mark. Moderated by the Rev. Ken Moffatt. Written by the Rev. D. Moore. Storyteller is Norm Micklewright. Hymns sung by the St. Andrew's River Heights Girls' Choir directed by Marie Enns. Produced by W. H. Randall.

Ernest Lapointe:

The Last Lieutenant

DESCRIBING the funeral procession of the Right Honourable Ernest Lapointe on November 29th, 1941, Prime Minister Mackenzie King confided to his diary that he did not think that at "any stage of the visit of the King and Queen to Canada, or at any funeral in Canada heretofore, not excepting Sir Wilfrid Laurier's or Sir John Macdonald's, there was a larger number of people gathered in the buildings and on the streets, or more in the way of genuine expression of affection and reverent remembrance. I felt as we walked along how much one owes it to be true to the people."

If there was a secret to Lapointe's success in keeping Quebec for the Liberals and the Liberals for Quebec, from 1919 to 1941, it was probably that he was content

Get Ye Hence, from The Winter's Tale; Lawne as White, from The Winter's Tale; Satyres Dance, from The Winter's Tale — Robert Johnson
 The Poor Souls sat sighinge, from Othello — Anonymous
 Fantasia (three part) — Thomas Lupe
 Three pieces for harpsichord and/or bass viol:

 The Temporer; The Witty Wanton — Robert Johnson

to remain true not only to his province and its people, but also to his country, his party and his prime minister. Other entries in King's diary just prior to his Quebec lieutenant's death read: "But for him, I would never have been prime minister, nor would I have been able to hold the office, as I had held it through the years," and "... no loss could be greater at this time, not to myself only, but to Canada and the British Empire."

One thing is certain: Ernest Lapointe had no real successor. There are some who feel that the position he held no longer exists to be filled, that Canada no longer enjoys the political climate in which a Quebec lieutenant could play a useful and essential role. Others are more inclined to the view that the absence of such a position is mainly due to a lack of suitable candidates.

Whichever analysis is correct, any attempt to describe the power, perhaps the glory too, of a Quebec lieutenant must reach back to the period between the wars. It must delve into the memories of men who were politically aware in the 1920s and 1930s: journalists such as Bruce Hutchison of the Victoria Times; Georges Langlois, at that time a loyal Liberal correspondent in Ottawa for the Quebec press; Senator Gratton O'Leary, then of the Ottawa Journal; André Laurendeau of Le Devoir; George Ferguson of the Montreal Star; and politicians such as Senator Charles G. Power, Senator T. A. Crerar, the Honourable J. W. Pickersgill, and M. J. Coldwell.

And, for a more personal insight into the character of the man who maintained the lieutenantcy all those years, the sources must include Ernest Lapointe's own family; his son, the Honourable Hugues Lapointe, now agent general for the Quebec government in London; his daughter, Odette; and her husband, Mr. Justice Roger Ouimet.

In all, broadcaster Elspeth Chisholm talked to more than 50 people while gathering material for next Sunday's radio profile of The Last Lieutenant. It will be heard as part of CBC Sunday Night, beginning at 8:35 p.m.

Biculturalism Across Canada

THE THORNY QUESTION of Canada's twin cultures, about which everyone seems to have an opinion, is currently being studied by a Royal Commission in a meet-the-people tour of Canada. Under the joint chairmanship of journalist André Laurendeau and educator Davidson Dunton, the Royal Commission on Bilingualism and Biculturalism has invited anyone with anything to say on the subject to express his views at open hearings to be held in more than 20 regional centres throughout Canada.

The 10-member commission, formed last September, began its work in February of this year and has already visited a number of widely scattered towns and cities across Canada. Fundamentally, the commission aims to search out the average Canadian and elicit his attitudes towards the two cultures. It was hoped that by holding these public meetings, rather than soliciting written briefs, a direct contact between the people and the commission would result in a freer exchange of views and an uninhibited expression of opinion. Already the response has been encouraging in this respect, reflecting a keen interest by Canadians in the topic.

CBC radio and television will report on the progress of the hearings as they move across Canada, presenting interviews with persons involved in the hearings and generally covering all aspects of the commission's work. In a series of three programs to be broadcast Sundays at 7:30 p.m., CBC Montreal reporter Alan Yates will cover the hearings in Vancouver, May 3rd; Winnipeg, May 31st; and Montreal, June 21st.

On CBC television two half-hour programs will be presented on Wednesdays, May 6th and June 3rd, at 10:30 p.m., and a special one-hour program will be telecast on Tuesday, June 23rd, at 10:00 p.m. Ken Mason, on leave from his duties as CBC Ottawa correspondent, reports on the May 6th program from the hearings held at London, Ont., Fredericton, N.B., Sherbrooke, P.Q.; Edmonton, Vancouver, and Regina. The June 3rd program consists of filmed highlights of sessions at Moncton, N.B., Charlottetown, P.E.I., Winnipeg, and various towns in Manitoba. The hour-long program on June 23rd will be a summation of the commission's work to date, filmed in St. John's, Newfoundland, Halifax, and Quebec City. This program also includes interviews with co-chairmen Dunton and Laurendeau, presented live from Quebec City.

Summer Fallow:

Centenary Plans, Fallout, and Farming

IN THE NEXT three broadcasts of CBC radio's Summer Fallow, heard Monday nights at 9:00, Toronto freelance reporter Marjorie McEnaney presents interviews and opinions she recorded on an extensive fact-finding trip. On May 4th she reports on centennial plans in rural Canada. She found that some areas, such as Oshawa, Ontario, and Knowlton and Cowansville, Quebec, have imaginative programs well underway; others have decided only what they would like to do; and many seem to have neither initiative nor ideas. She also talked to Peter Ackroyd, in charge of special projects for the National Centennial Commission, who is worried over the fact that most centennial projects are likely to be city and town-centred, unless rural Canada gets a spur on.

On May 11th Mrs. McEnaney reports on the effects of radioactive fallout on foods, and what measures are being taken to protect Canadians from possible fallout dangers. She found considerable difference of opinion on permissible levels of radiation and what counter-measures are possible.

Among those heard from will be Dr. Peter Bird, of the radiation division of the department of health; Dr. B. V. Mijikovski of the department of agriculture, who has developed a process for removing Strontium 90 from milk; Dr. Joseph Sternberg, of the University of Montreal, the only professor of nuclear medicine in Canada, who will discuss the effects of radiation on the human body; Dr. George Dionne, a professor at Macdonald College; Dr. Ursula Franklin, a physicist with the Ontario Research Department; and farmers and consumers who are concerned about Strontium 90 and other radio-active fission problems.

Farmers in Transition, from rural to city life, will be discussed on May 18th. Some 3,000 farming Canadians leave the land each month. Mrs. McEnaney investigates the four usual stages in the move from full-time farming to full-time city life and employment. Sometimes, she says, when it is obvious that a small farmer can no longer make his farm pay, or is fed up with farm-life difficulties, the community will organize community pastures or a co-operative land bank, to try to keep farmers in the district.

Marjorie McEnaney reports on centennial plans in rural Canada, Monday at 9:00 p.m., on Summer Fallow.

Lettish: Food For Drunken Rabbits

THE BBC'S LITERARY quiz riot, My Word, a delightful combination of wit, light-heartedness, good fun, and information, returns to CBC's Radio International on transcription this Saturday, May 2nd, at 8:30 p.m.

The show's panelists, who all make their living with words, must finish quotations, explain abbreviations, name heroes and heroines of famous novels, and be well equipped with the sort of unusual information which may be useless in most of life's activities, but comes in very handy in programs of this sort. The series affords plenty of opportunities for exchanging comic nonsense, which has made it one of the most popular British shows at home and abroad. "It is the clever, amusing, and imaginative answers and asides which make My Word different from all other panel or quiz shows," comments Dennis Braithwaite, Toronto radio - television columnist. "The well-mannered team-work that makes My Word such a delight to hear is unknown among our professional gabbers. Canadians, alas, are seldom witty, droll, or very civilized."

The two lively quiz teams are composed of Frank Muir and Denis Norden, two of Britain's cleverest and sauciest script-writers for tv and radio; Dilys Powell, long-time film critic, writer, and expert on Greece; and Nancy Spain, journalist, broadcaster and author, who was killed in an air crash on March 21st while en route to cover the Grand National at Aintree. Miss Spain had a vivacious, forceful personality which made her a most welcome panelist. The author of 10 books, she had been literary critic for the London Daily Express, and at the time of her death was a special writer for News of the World, and the magazine She.

On June 13th, just before the opening of the Stratford (Ontario) Festival, My Word will offer a special Shakespearean edition of the game, recorded at Stratford-on-Avon.

My Word is devised by Tony Shryane, for many years a co-producer and co-author of The Archers, a popular BBC farm serial heard on CBC radio week-day mornings at 11:30. Shryane says My Word will, as usual, offer answers ranging from "the eruditely accurate to the hilariously incorrect." For instance, who else but Muir and Norden would define "lettish" as "food for a drunken rabbit"; "kitti wake" as "the end of a cat nap"; "larrikin" as "a relation of Sir Laurence Olivier"; "sorghum" as "what a Yorkshireman complains of to his dentist"; or "shim" as "half-man, half-woman"?

Maybe you know a mamba from a marimba, and a sarong from a sari. But could you tell a debauch from a debouch? That's the sort of challenge that confronts the My Word panel each week. Perhaps you know the meaning of phrases like Playing Gooseberry, Getting the Sack, and Letting the Cat Out of the Bag. But could you say how they originated? Or do you know who first said, "The public be damned!" "Let not poor Nellie starve," or "I think I could eat one of Bellamy's veal pies!" My Word supplies all sorts of fascinating answers to questions like these—factual or ridiculous.

Patty Duke's summer vacation may include a short stay in Japan, where she hopes to say hello to some of her many admirers. The Patty Duke Show, seen on the CBC tv network is a top-rated program in Nippon.

Samuel Hershoren conducts the CBC Strings Wednesday at 9:30 p.m., in works by Harry Somers and Renzo Bossi.

Extremists' Viewpoints

On Segregation

IN THE LAST year or two the CBC has presented several programs about North American racial problems. The principals in race struggles, the liberal-minded, and middle-of-the-roaders have been heard from.

Now some extremists will be given an opportunity to explain themselves, in three programs to be heard on part one of radio's Trans-Canada Matinee, May 6th, 7th, 8th, at 2:03 p.m. (2:33 p.m. on CBX). Listeners may not agree with what these men have to say, but hundreds of thousands of their followers live by the principles they uphold.

On Wednesday, May 6th, Toronto reporter Austin Clarke interviews Malcolm X, a Black Muslim Negro, who says: "We are against segregation, but we are for separation. Segregation is that which is forced upon inferiors by superiors. Separation is done voluntarily by two equals. A segregated neighbourhood is usually deteriorated, economically, politically, intellectually and otherwise. . . . Since the government doesn't want us to leave here and go back home among our own people, and the government can't treat us right here mixed up with them, then this government should separate this country and give us a section where we can live to ourselves.

"We feel that we are living now in the last days of the white man's world or at the end of time for the white man's world. And because we feel religiously that his time is up or that his world is approaching its end, its doom, its disaster or its judgment, we have no desire to accept his belated offers of integration into a corrupt, outdated society that has been sentenced to doom and destruction by the God or Lord of all the worlds whom we refer to as Allah."

On Thursday, May 7th, Governor Wallace of Alabama talks to Gordon Donaldson.

On Friday, May 8th, Dick Gregory will be heard. Described as "the Will Rogers of the Atomic Age," Gregory is a comedian, social satirist and pioneer who believes in telling the truth about segregation so that it brings smiles instead of bitterness, and, more important, makes even the insensitive think. A sample: "I was thinking of taking a bus tour of Alabama, only my Blue Cross has expired . . . then again — better it than me!" Or: "Makes you wonder. When I left St. Louis, I was making five dollars a night. Now I'm getting $5,000 a week — for saying the same things out loud that I used to say under my breath!"

'Opera Time' Returns on Radio

FOR OPERA FANS interested in aspects of production as well as the music of favourite stage works, Opera Time offers informative fare. This weekly radio series returned to the network April 25th, and is heard Saturdays at 1:00 p.m. on CBW, 4:00 p.m. on CBK, and 3:00 p.m. on CBX. The hostess is Ruby Mercer, editor of the quarterly Opera in Canada, who was an opera singer in her youth. The program offers a pleasant combination of excerpts from notable opera recordings and interviews with opera personalities — singers, conductors, producers, designers, translators, and others whose work involves them with opera.

The May 2nd program will be devoted entirely to Sir Ernest MacMillan's colourful reminiscences about early opera performances in Toronto, and to his discussion of the new MacMillan Theatre, the opera workshop of the University of Toronto's Faculty of Music.

The May 9th program offers excerpts from Toscanini recordings, and interviews with violinist Albert Pratz and maestro Ernesto Barbini. On May 16th: excerpts from Rossini's The Barber of Seville, an interview with bass Jan Rubes; and a BBC transcription in which problems of opera translation are discussed by English music critic Arthur Jacob.

Henri Enns is solo vocalist Friday at 8:30 p.m., on Reserved for Music, with the Neil Harris Singers and Orchestra.

said to be a deeply sensitive man. The old saw that "inside every fat man is a thin man trying to get out" could be turned to describe the artist within Mitchum's exterior brute—except the artist doesn't seem to be trying to escape. Laughton is not the only one to attest to Mitchum's innate fineness. Deborah Kerr, who has played opposite him in three films, believes Mitchum would have been perfect for the role of the debauched priest in Tennessee Williams' Night of the Iguana, in which she stars. She has been quoted as saying: "Bob would have understood the role perfectly, especially the moral conflict. He's a marvellous actor, a hundred times better than either he or anyone else thinks. He's a very fine, kind, sensitive man."

Perhaps the closest anyone has come so far to realizing Mitchum's potential is director Fred Zinnemann in his film The Sundowners. What seems on the purely superficial level to be judicious type-casting turns out on close inspection to be a portrayal by Mitchum of a full-fledged, believable character invested with warmth and feeling. In the role of Paddy Carmody, itinerant sheep-drover of the Australian outback, Mitchum brings to life a rootless, shiftless, swaggering johnny-come-lately, redeemed only by his good nature and his constancy to a long-suffering wife weary of his wanderlust.

Deborah Kerr plays the wife, and the supporting cast features Peter Ustinov in one of his delightful character parts as the scion of a noble English family who prefers Australia's great outdoors to grouse-shooting on the moors, possibly because the family prefers it that way too. Chips Rafferty, the Australian star, is also featured in The Sundowners, together with Dina Merrill, and the father and daughter team of Mervyn and Glynis Johns.

The Sundowners will be telecast on CBC tv's Great Movies this Saturday, May 2nd at 8:30 p.m.

This year, Great Movies will present some of the most recent motion pictures released for television showing. Following is a list of the films selected for showing this month:

May 9th. Mervyn Le Roy's East Side West Side: Set in New York city, this is a murder story/love triangle starring James Mason, Ava Gardner, Barbara Stanwyck, Van Heflin and Cyd Charisse.

May 16th. Delbert Mann's Dark at the Top of the Stairs: Based on the Broadway play by William Inge, the film stars Robert Preston and Dorothy McGuire in a touching domestic drama of a family in a small Oklahoma town in the '20s. Eve Arden and Angela Lansbury appear in the chief supporting roles.

May 23rd. Howard Hawks' Rio Bravo: a western starring John Wayne, Dean Martin, Ricky Nelson, Angie Dickinson, Ward Bond and Walter Brennan.

May 30th. George Sidney's Young Bess: starring Jean Simmons, Stewart Granger, Charles Laughton and Deborah Kerr. MGM's screen adaptation of Margaret Irwin's novel about the young Elizabeth I of England. Jean Simmons plays the title role and Charles Laughton repeats a role he created in The Private Lives of Henry VIII. Stewart Granger plays opposite Jean Simmons as Elizabeth's lover, Admiral Thomas Seymour. Catherine, the surviving wife of Henry VIII, is played by Deborah Kerr.

On future Great Movies, Paul Newman stars with Barbara Rush in The Young Philadelphians, a drama of a young man handicapped by poverty and prejudice who becomes wealthy and powerful as a successful lawyer.

20/20:

'Doc' Forbes, Master of the Needle

FORBES HENDRY of Vancouver is a walking advertisement for his skill. He's a tattoo artist.

"Doc" Forbes, as he is popularly known in his profession, has been tattooing people for more than 40 years. He was first tattooed himself at the age of 16 while travelling with a circus in the U.S. Today his arms and legs are covered with many designs, mostly done by himself. The areas he was unable to reach were done by other tattoo artists.

On Sunday, May 3rd at 3:30 p.m. CBC tv's documentary series 20/20 visits with "Doc" Forbes at his home and tattooing studio in Victoria, B.C., for a look at the man, his career and some of his work.

An early talent for drawing, and a great personal satisfaction in doing his own tattoos led "Doc" Forbes to follow this unusual work. But he has other strings to his bow. He has worked in vaudeville as a dancer and magician, he plays the banjo professionally, and has worked in circuses as an acrobat.

Few places in North America have been missed in his travels; from northern British Columbia to Mexico and Cuba his varied talents have supported him. Today he has his tattooing business in Victoria,—the only city in Canada, "Doc" says, with an ordinance on tattooing.

Before the city grants him a license to operate, he must pass inspection from the city medical officer, the health and sanitation department and the medical officer from HMCS Naden.

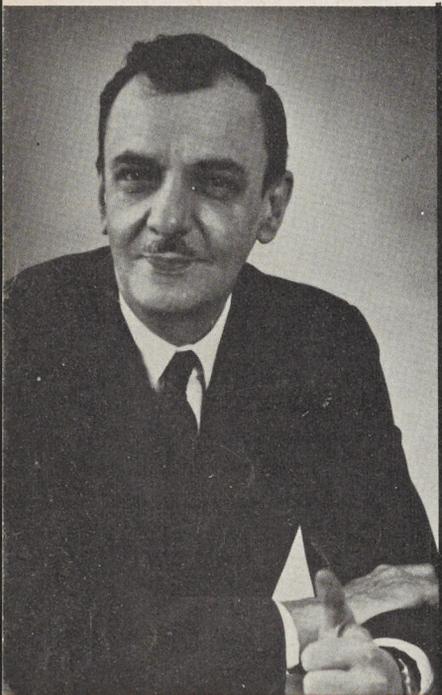

During his career, Doc has worked on men and women from every level of society — sailors, soldiers, and titled people from England.

Estimates on time and cost for an entire body tattooed run to eight months and $2,000.
