Kanata launches Materick promotion

SMALL TO CAPITOL AS NATIONAL PROMO

John Small has been appointed to the post of National Promotion Manager for Capitol Records. The above announcement was made by Dave Evans, Director of Sales and Promotion for Capitol. Small replaces Bill Bannon who assumes the newly created position of Artist Development and Marketing Coordinator.

With this appointment, Capitol leads the way in attempting to arrange a closer rapport between programmers and record people. Small, until recently, served as operations manager and program director of WKNR AM/FM in Detroit and as a radio/music veteran of fourteen years, fathered the birth of Detroit "underground" radio during his tenure as manager of WABX. Moving to WKNR he brought a progressive music format to its FM outlet while retaining a good portion of the Top 40 market with its AM outlet. Small has always been a keen observer of the record scene and was one of a trio that brought about the "Paul McCartney Death" investigation of 1970.

Living in the shadow of the giant CKLW for so many years, Small became intensely interested in the Canadian recording scene. His new post will allow him the advantage of being able to speak to programmers — having a knowledge of their problems. He noted: "Now, more than ever, music buyers and programmers are looking to Canada for new, fresh, innovative product. Nothing will satisfy me more than to forward this vital movement both nationally and internationally."

MAX FERGUSON RETURNS TO CBC RADIO NETWORK

Following a long absence, caused by the CBC technicians' strike and summer vacations, Max Ferguson rides the airwaves again. The "Max Ferguson Show" re-appeared last week, with side-kick Allan McFee in tow. Once again Ferguson is delighting his audience with characterizations of figures in the news. Between the satire, Ferguson plays his own choice of records and engages in banter with McFee.

RAY GRIFF RETURNS TO DOT IN THE U.S.

Ex-Calgarian Ray Griff has rejoined his old label, Dot. His Blue Echo product is distributed in Canada by GRT who recently released "The Entertainer" (9230 1014). Griff was signed to Dot in 1968 and 1969 where he established himself as a country act to watch. He moved over to Royal American Records and hit with "Patches" and "The Morning After Baby Let Me Down".

Griff has however, had much more success as a songwriter, penning compositions for Faron Young, Eddy Arnold, Jim Reeves, Jerry Lee Lewis, Wayne Newton and George Hamilton IV. The latter made a Canadian hit out of his "Canadian Pacific".

Contract negotiations were signed by Carla Scarborough of Blue Echo Music and Frank Ratner, a Nashville attorney.

DON AND JIM HAGGART HAPPENING FOR ARPEGGIO

It hasn't been too many months since Gary Buck and John Arpin bowed their Arpeggio label which chowcases country and MOR Canadian talent. However, the artists signed to Arpeggio are making much of the promotional action on their own. The brother act of Don and Jim Haggart have made impressive gains up the country charts across Canada with their initial release, "I'm Coming Home". The song was written by Jim for his wife, Mary. The flip, "Nashville Girl" has found favour with several stations including CFGM.

Born in New Glasgow, Nova Scotia, the Haggarts have been making it together, professionally, for the past year. Jim, however, has been working the band circuit for several years. He started out as lead guitar with the Blue Cats that made a bit of noise in the Maritimes in the 1960s and finally decided to devote all his time to writing in 1969. At about the same time, younger brother Don was gigging with The Buffalo, a New Glasgow group. The two brothers finally got together and made a bid for the disc race earlier this year. The first time they performed together, aside from practices, was their recording session at RCA's Toronto studios. This session, with Gary Buck producing, resulted in the release of their "Coming Home" deck.

One of the big breaks for the Haggarts was the interest in their writing by George Hamilton IV. Hamilton, who is very popular in the Maritimes, picked up a couple of Don Haggart's compositions which are to be included on his next album release.

RALSTONS CELEBRATE 5th YEAR OF BOOT JAMBOREE

Irene and Dave Ralston, two of the original boosters of Canadian country talent, have just completed five years of hosting the now successful Boot Jamboree. This Sunday evening country concert is held at the Locarno Ballroom in the east end of Toronto and has been the launching pad for many of Canada's young country talent. Several of these people who have been given a hand by the Ralstons return on a regular basis for appearances at the Jamboree.

The Ralstons celebrated their fifth birthday by kicking off their new season - Sept. 24th. In for the opener were: Carroll Baker, Roy McCaull, Gary Hooper and Mike Graham. Upcoming dates will see Marathon Records, through Doug Taylor, present the family of Marathon artists (Oct 8) with Ed LaBuick presenting a Country Gold Night Dec. 3rd.

MURRAY HUNT AGENCY BACKING SCOTT/DOUCETTE

Murray Hunt, who heads up his own booking agency based in St. Catharines, has had much success in the pushing of two local artists. Chris Scott and Gerry Doucette. Scott, now showing with his Boot single, "Now That I'm Back", is a native of Niagara Falls and has been experiencing heavy booking throughout the Niagara Peninsula.

Doucette, a native of the Maritimes is now residing in St. Catharines. His initial album release "Never Ending Song of Love" on the Marathon label has been an excellent promotion vehicle for bookings. Doucette penned two of the compositions: "My Prince Edward Isle" and "Fifi De La Gaspesie" with the remainder being songs popularized by Stompin' Tom Connors and other Canadian artists.

DOMINION OFF WITH HOOPER SINGLE

Al Hooper is off and running with another Dominion single, "Toronto With Milk and Honey", a self penning. Publishing is through Two Brothers Music - BMI. The flip, "To Save Humanity", also written by Hooper is published by Waterless Melon Music-BMI.

Hooper is scheduled for Cy True's "Country-time" (CBC) show Oct. 1st, at which time he will perform his "Toronto" number. Hooper books himself through his own Toronto based agency.

BARRY GREENFIELD OFF WITH SINGLE FOR AXE

Axe Records' Greg Hambleton has acquired North American rights to Barry Greenfield's "Sweet America", according to Skip Fox of Media Man. Greenfield recently hit with his "New York Is Closed Tonight", on the Laurie label.

The Axe release comes about through an agreement between Harvey Lisberg, of Kennedy Street Enterprises and was produced by Graham Gouldman, producer of the Yardbirds' "For Your Love". The single is Cancon.

MOM & DADS LOOK IN ON CJGX

The Mom and Dads are back home in Spokane, Washington taking a short, but well deserved holiday. Just before heading home after their very successful tour of Western Canada, the Mom and Dads stopped for one show with the GX Funtimers of CJGX Radio, Yorkton, Saskatchewan. The show was a great success, with many people driving over a hundred miles to dance to the music of the Mom and Dads.

On the afternoon of the show, the Mom and Dads stopped for a visit and interview on the Ron Waddell Show at CJGX. Mom, Doris Crow, revealed that the Mom and Dads had played at the same place in Spokane for seven years before ever thinking of touring. Quentin Ratliff, the sax playing Dad who wrote "The Ranger's Waltz", admitted that he had no idea the tune would be anywhere as popular as it became. Drummer Harold Hendren can't get over the friendliness and hospitality of the Canadian people, and accordion player, Les Welch, is amazed and thrilled at the acceptance Canada has shown them. One of their proudest accomplishments says the group, was the RPM Gold Leaf Award they received for "Ranger's Waltz".

COLIN BUTLER BIG HIT ON WHEELING WVVA SHOW

Colin Butler, the eleven year old country singer from Ottawa, took Wheeling WVVA and its millions of listeners on a Canadian trip for his Sept. 8th appearance. So successful was his appearance that Glen Reeves, general manager of the show, signed the young Butler for two more appearances — Oct. 7 and Nov. 4th.

Butler returned to Canada to headline the Binbrook Agricultural Fair (15); the Community Club Charity Show in Toronto (16); the Leaside Lions Club Crippled Children's Benefit Show (17); and three dates in Mary's Town in Newfoundland (21 through 23). After his Oct. 7 date in Wheeling he will appear on CFTO's Crippled Children's Telethon with Paul Anka and Lorne Greene (Oct. 8).

Doug Taylor, A&R and promotion for Marathon Records, reports good sales for Butler's recent album release. A single release is expected shortly.

BARBERSHOP HARMONY AT MASSEY HALL

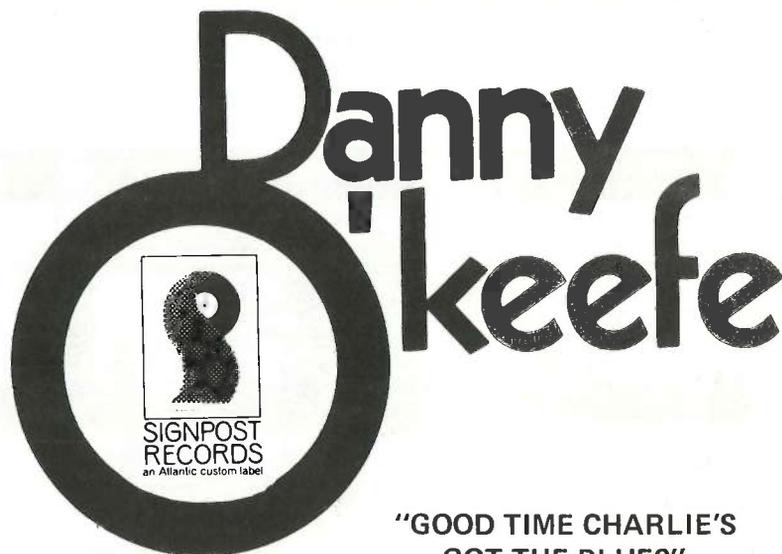

The Toronto chapter of the Society for the Preservation and Encouragement of Barber Shop Quartet Singing in America presented "Onta-Fame '72" September 17 at Massey Hall. The Society was founded to further the cause of barber shop style singing throughout North America. The Society boasts six hundred choruses for a total of forty eight thousand members. The SPEBSQS is a non-profit, educational and charitable foundation.

Part of the proceeds from the Massey Hall show will go to finance treatment for children with speech and hearing defects.

HEAVY ITINERARY FOR ARPEGGIO'S ROSTAD

Wayne Rostad, currently happening with his RCA-distributed Arpeggio single, "November Rain", is inked into a heavy personal appearance schedule. RCA's Scott Richards, touting Rostad single, lists the following dates. Sept. 4th through 9th, Seaway Hotel, Windsor; September 14-16, Burlington Homes Show; September 18 - October 7, Whitehouse Motor Hotel, Renfrew; and October 23 - November 4, Edison Hotel, Toronto.

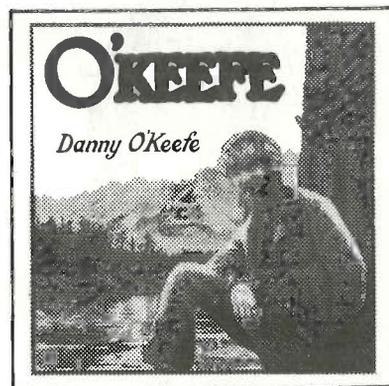

The "November Rain" single is picking up healthy plays from both country and MOR stations and is represented on both the RPM Country 65 and the MOR Playlist. Rostad is also showing well as a composer with recordings of his tunes by Honey West, the Rhythm Pals and Gary Buck.

Hitting 10% of the market

Sitting in on C4, it was obvious there are many young people who have entered the music business and who were taking a great interest in the discussions.

Later, in the halls at the reception and in the hospitality rooms, I had occasion to meet and talk to many of the registrants first hand, and was pleased at their attitude toward this kind of a meet.

Although they didn't take part in the discussions, they were encouraged by the frankness and face to face confrontations allowed in their industry.

The music business isn't just another job. It's not a matter of getting up in the morning and taking on a job that is a mechanical procedure. There is much more to sales, promotion, programming and record product than most people can learn in a lifetime. There are no schools for the record man. There is no text or handbook on the business.

So, although our Communication meetings are meant to be a vent for the industry, they are also very informative to all concerned. Many of the topics discussed were new to me. I think that even the heads of some of the record companies could sit in on one of these meets and walk away with a greater insight of the business than would ever reach them in their ivory tower.

Around RPM, many of the topics discussed at C4 have become the topics discussed at lunch and at coffee breaks.

As for the social aspect of our meetings, what a unique opportunity to mingle, and discuss the industry with some of the people in the other areas of the business and other parts of the country.

So we have whetted the appetite of the industry and we will advance into a new format with the future meets. C5 will introduce a new aspect of the two day meet when it is held in Vancouver.

The fact that 160 people registered for the Montreal meeting indicates that the industry is ready and anxious to discuss some of the problems facing the record industry.

The early enthusiasm being shown toward our Western Canadian meet indicates that we can expect another sellout.

The fact that there are those in the industry anxious to create dialogue is an indication that the industry couldn't be healthier in mind and spirit.

If we have 10% of the population of the U.S. we should be aiming toward 10% of the record sales, and this is the kind of situation that can increase the potential of the business. This is, of course, if we are interested in record sales (and isn't that the name of the game?).

CAPITOL/RUBBER DUCKIE/ ABRAMSON SIGN DEAL

Capitol Records Canada have signed a contract with Rubber Duckie Productions for the services of Ronney Abramson. Through the negotiation, Capitol will release an album by Miss Abramson, with full promotion support.

Miss Abramson, who resides in Montreal, was discovered by local producer and owner of his own studio, Andre Perry. He taped a session by Miss Abramson featuring all her own compositions, which he took to Capitol. It was Capitol's A&R Director Paul White who made the final agreement that brought Miss Abramson into the Capitol fold and the release of her debut album. It's expected that Miss Abramson and her new group will tour the folk circuit across Canada to tie-in with the release of her album.

SUMMERS TO A&M NATIONAL SALES

Joe Summers has been appointed as National Sales Manager for A&M Canada. Summers is a fifteen year veteran of the U.S. music scene which includes positions as salesman, Branch Manager, Sales Director of Independent Division for Motown with complete sales responsibility for Rare Earth, V.I.P. and Chisa labels. Prior to his A&M appointment he was National Sales Manager of Motown Records.

The above announcement was made by Jerry Lacoursiere, Managing Director of A&M Records of Canada who stated: "Only with men of his experience and background can A&M continue the tremendous growth we have experienced in Canada since our inception in February 1969."

Lure back the buyers

Rodney Booth at Kerygma Records inspired this week's harangue by sending me a letter he had received from two young girls in Lytton, B.C. They had written to Kerygma requesting pictures, lyrics and so on of an artist they had heard. According to Marianna and Heather, "Dad taped it from a friend . . ." It's a funny letter, in it's own way, but it's enough to break the heart of the most hardened record man. Perhaps we've overlooked the impact such home recording is having on the sales of legitimate tapes and albums.

The CRMA, and its counterparts in other countries are reasonably active in pursuing pirates, counterfeiters and who have you, but almost as one they neglect the ten-year old girls and fifty year old men in Yourtown, Canada (Oh! That took a will of iron!) fiddling with their twenty nine dollar cassette recorders and one dollar, forty eight hour tapes. I would be willing to bet that such informal piracy is really a greater drain on record industry revenues than any amount of commercial illegal duplication currently occurring. Being on the mailing lists of numerous corporations involved in record manufacturing. I have a reasonably interesting library of albums littering my house. If I had a dollar for every time someone asked to borrow a couple of albums to tape them, I'd buy Columbia and WEA and call the shots myself.

As I sit hunched over this smoking typewriter it occurs to me that the eight track player in my truck (It's good to have something going on the side!) has not been exclusively penetrated by wholesome company-duplicated tapes, that in fact some bastard cartridges, which started life as blank tape have entered the lily white recesses. Holy copyright infringement!!

I can think of numerous justifications for my disgraceful behaviour in this matter, only one of which I will present. It's infinitely more convenient for me to hear music while travelling here and there than at any other time. If companies who want their product heard won't supply it in tape form, for understandable financial reasons, then I, as the great white listener will take it upon myself to convert what is supplied into the acceptable medium. Hopefully, that explanation will convince Bert Betts to call off the hounds of justice which I can hear baying in the distance.

But such fiddling is insignificant, the real problem lies in the very large number of people who borrow an album from a friend to record or record directly from the FM airwaves to avoid shelling out five bucks for an LP or seven bucks for a tape. And, to tell you the truth, I find it difficult to condemn them for that. After all, if I was out there paying for records and tape with hard earned money I'm not entirely sure that I'd buy all that many, and perhaps I too would be tempted to nip out and buy a cassette recorder and a gross of tapes, who knows?

Maybe recorded product is over-priced, in which case the industry must take part of the blame for its own undoing. Perhaps it's the fault of the hardware manufacturers, many of whom unscrupulously invite their customers to tape from the airwaves and so on. I'm not entirely sure that we can pin the blame down all that easily, but I am sure that while the situation exists, the industry will be losing ever increasing amounts of revenue to the home duplicator and that if ways and means can be found to lure Marianna and Heather back into the fold the industry will be the better for it.

to the editor

THE CBC WAS THERE!!!

Just a note to let you know that Ken Dalziel (our Department Supervisor) Jack Budgell and myself as representatives of CBC, found Communications Four most interesting. Even though the record manufacturers and independent station's conflicts in the industry are really an entirely different ball game than CBC's, I could appreciate some problems I never knew existed. One point mentioned by a Montreal programmer was the seemingly negative attitude of RPM magazine. Your response was that there had not been adequate communication and, therefore, a true picture would be hard to paint under such circumstances.

This hit home a very strong problem faced by the CBC, in particular, my Department. There have been in the past, negative remarks made by you concerning CBC and I considered most of them valid until the last few months. Much of the fault again lies with the same situation that we have not made you aware of what we are doing for Canadian talent. On a larger scale, our Promotion Department has not made it clear of the musicians and potential talent in contemporary music that CBC has something to offer and is interested in developing contemporary artists.

CBC is becoming more and more aware of rock music and has much to offer. We have just finished a summer series at Ontario Place that featured artists such as Christopher Kearney, The Poppy Family, and The Stampeders. I am always open to demo tapes as possible transcription records and have held auditions for same.

Our transcription service gives the artist recording experience in an 8-track studio, financial assistance, and a good quality production to hopefully further his or her recording future with a commercial company. If the talent is not quite up to record material, then we are willing to develop the potential through shows such as "The Entertainers" and "Bring Back The Future" which involve national exposure and 4-track studio experience. The biggest problem is to get Canadian talent to send rough audition tapes or inform my office when and where they can be heard. This, of course, is a promotion problem on our part and will be solved soon.

By way of positive things, enclosed are two transcriptions I have produced since my arrival at CBC. One is three Canadian rock Symphonies with the old Tranquillity Base and The Hamilton Philharmonic Orchestra. The other is Greg Adams who, about two months after the record was pressed, signed with A&M Records. I feel with Mr. Adams, CBC has made a successful contribution, something I hope we can do more and more of in the future. I appreciate your concern with Canadian talent and the music industry and will be in touch from time to let you know what is going on, as far as CBC's participation is concerned.

WILL THE REAL CRUD STAND UP AND BE IDENTIFIED?

Being a jock of long standing (17) years I try to keep up with the times by reading all trade publications. I enjoy yours with one exception. It is very annoying to read about Mark Loonman of CDUM or Harry Foonman of CRUD and never able to find out where the hell those stations are. You once printed a page, a year or so ago listing all AM stations which you should update and add FM but when going over your Tribal Drum et al it is still irritating not being able to locate in ones mind.

Just to give you a real example from your CW issue of 26 August....CKWS radio celebrating its 30th birthday etc.... Why can't it be CKWS Kingston Ontario, or just Ontario, celebrating etc?

Just a thought from an American reader.

CAB EXCHANGE OFFERS IVAN REBROFF TAPE

"An Hour With Ivan Rebroff" is now available from the Program Exchange Service of the Canadian Association of Broadcasters. The sixty-minute extravaganza is the result of an interview with the Russian singer by Bob Brown of CHFM FM, Calgary. Topics covered include Rebroff's career and music. POLYDOR BOWS NEW FORMAT HYPE SHEET

Polydor Records, Montreal, has come forth with a new format for its "Motley Record Beefeater Theatre". The weekly hype sheet is now in booklet form and features in depth news, clippings and reviews on Polydor and Polydor distributed acts. The piece is put together by the firm's national promotion department, headquartered in Montreal. The last page of the Theatre features a listing of Polydor's latest releases.

DALLAS HARMS TO REP CANADA IN NASHVILLE

Dallas Harms, currently hitting with "In The Loving Arms" (Columbia C4-3042), has been asked to represent Canada at the Country Music Convention in Nashville. Dates for this year's Convention have been set for Oct. 18 through the 20th.

Harms is currently touring Ontario but leaves shortly for a business/holiday trip to Los Angeles. The lull in booking was partly due to the marriage of two of his group, Donna Ramsay to Lee Roy Anderson (Sept 21).

COVER STORY

THE QUIET ONE

Believe it or not - there are many shy young poets who are searching for the brass ring of the record business. The screamers, and put-ons who make up the major part of the commercial rock business will eventually fade away and leave the way open for those with the real message of what it's all about. One such shy poet is Ray Materick, a "steeltowner" (Hamilton) native who has received his lumps and could be now ready to make it into, at least, the bush league of the recording industry. He knows what it's like out on the streets:

"I spent my morning soft in quiet ponder
Shadowed by confusions of the mind
Searching for a reason why tomorrow might leave me here

Grasping at the empty sleeve of time and change and fear

And I thought it should have rained, but it stayed clear

I don't know exactly where to start Words are building barricades around my heart

And my monument misfortune is a drag for all mankind

Though relatively speaking I am sure it must apply

Though I'm not so sure if I could tell you why."

The above is from Materick's "Sidestreets" and is one of the reasons that he has been so well accepted by the college crowd. He's a natural but gutsy folkster with an exceptional feeling for the acoustic guitar and a vocal command that almost dares you to listen. One cut of Materick isn't enough, nor is a casual one play of his album. The second listening reveals what one listener tagged "an exceptional blend of abrasive human sounds with a smooth and exquisite instrumentation making each unacceptable without the other."

An interview with Materick revealed a ready talker and one who had retained all his experiences, both good and bad in his climb from "a poet of sorts" to "a folk singer of sorts".

Ray, do your songs tell about you, personally?

Most of them do. "Sidestreets" points up some of the problems I've had. Certain lines refer to these problems. People tend to take writers too seriously - like songwriters, and they try to figure out what he meant.

Do you remember writing your first song?

Yes, it happened at the bottom of a bottle of wine. I was about sixteen. I titled it "If There Ever Was A Time", a real tear jerker.

Did you ever have thoughts of recording it?

Not really. I think I've progressed a great deal since then. Even since my signing with Kanata and the release of my album and single, I believe I've improved. I've just written a new song that I think shows this improvement. The line is "Release has never been so well defined" - in the sense that now I know what I'm doing and I've improved in that sense. I find myself in a funny position now, where I'm writing for people.

Did you ever get off on a strange direction in writing?

I wrote "Cherrylee Rose" which was about a hooker. This was after I was at one record company and they told me that I wrote really good lyrics but could I get something with a little bouncier tune and a catchy refrain. I did it and it turned out to be about prostitution, for some strange reason.

What's influenced you most in your song-writing?

Well, I guess it was my father. He was a

AD DEADLINE -- OCTOBER 6TH

Have a gander at a swan song

We are gathered here today for a swan song, an epitaph of sorts. E.K.Roy is to go from whence he came, never to return. In many ways his mission has been accomplished.

Don Quixote galloped into the blades of the windmill, someone said. Not quite rightly

BURN THIS!
e. k. roy richard

so. The Don has simply turned his horse around to tread upon distant horizons. He has heard the calling and now the curtain's drawn. End of act one. From here on, it's ad-lib!

To his eternal memory, we dedicate but one final song. And we thank you for your patronage. May good fortune smile sweetly on you and your children. The northern winds bring the taste of winter and the snows will soon come to cover the land and it won't be lonely anymore.

"No man's a jester playing Shakespeare, Round your throne room floor, While the juggler's act is danced upon, The crown that you once wore.

And sooner or later, Everybody's Kingdom must end, And I'm so afraid your courtiers, Cannot be called best friends.

Caesar's had your troubles,

Widows had to cry,
While mercenaries in cloisters sing,
And the King must die.

Some men are better staying sailors,
Take my word and go,
But tell the ostler that his name was,
The very first they chose.

And if my hands are stained forever,
And the altar should refuse me,
Would you let me in, would you let me in,
Should I cry sanctuary?

GSF INTO CANADA THROUGH GRT

The New York based GSF Records have now been mailed nationally in Canada by GRT. Negotiations for the distribution deal were made by GRT's Canadian president Ross Reynolds and Larry Newton, former president of ABC Records who heads up GSF.

Initial releases include: Garnet Mimms' "Stop & Check Yourself", which should bring listeners back to Mimms & The Enchanters' big hit of "Cry Baby"; Eddie Holman's "My Mind Keeps Telling Me", a reminder of Holman's past hit status with "Hey There Lonely Girl"; and "One Of These Days" by Bruce MacPherson, who brings GSF into the country rock field. Also on tap are product by Lloyd Price and Vancouver's Hans Staymer.

Caesar's had your troubles,
Widows had to cry,
While mercenaries in cloisters sing,
And the King must die.

No man's a jester playing Shakespeare,
Round your throne room floor,
While the juggler's act is danced upon,
The crown that you once wore.

The King is dead
The King is dead
The King is dead
Long live the King."

(Lyrics of The King Must Die by Elton John and Bernie Taupin reprinted by kind permission of Dick James Music Ltd. Copyright 1969/ a very misdirected year.)

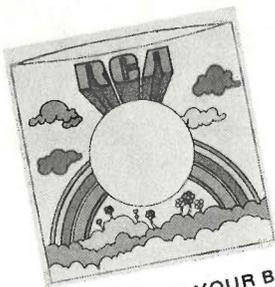

We'd mention all the stations that are currently playing the latest single by THECYCLE, but we might leave someone out, so we'll just remind you that "All I Really Need Is You" is getting air and numbers. Put it on a turntable and test it. We are POSITIVE that it will end up on the air.

minister but he didn't see the light until I was about sixteen. I found it very embarrassing because he hadn't been a minister all my life. He was a bandleader before turning to the ministry. On top of that I was a fat kid, so I took a lot of kidding, which had a great deal of influence on my early youth. Strange though, I allude to religion an awful lot in my songs.

Have you always done the solo bit?

No, I used to play in a lot of bands, but I just couldn't get off on bands, so I guess I prefer being a solo, but I guess I'll get into the band thing again if my record happens.

When did you think about going professional?

I must have been about 23 when I felt I could put my poetry to music. I even went back to University and majored in Philosophy. Lost a lot of my fat, grew my hair longer and got really heavy into the wine thing. But, it was good for me. I wrote a lot of songs and after knocking on several record company doors and getting the usual "don't call us", I stumbled over Kanata and the three guys who put it all together for me.

How about the studio thing? Did it reveal anything?

I was a little apprehensive at first but then I was surprised at my confidence. I guess it was the great professional lineup behind me. We had some of Canada's top musicians in for my Thunder session. You know, it's funny. I've gone through all sorts of trips. I've been through the purist trip where I didn't care if anybody liked my stuff. I was writing and performing for myself. I've been through the trip where I wanted people to like what I was doing and I've been through the trip where I didn't care and now I'm at a point of compromise, where I care about what I'm doing but, I also care if people like it.

Materick's comprise is obviously working. His Kanata album, "Sidestreets" has picked up considerable airplay from college radio stations and several Adult Contemporary stations are experimenting with both sides of the single as well as cuts from the album. Materick is, in many ways, a quiet superstar who will probably bounce out of left field and be up in lights before even he knows that he's made it.

New format for Vancouver C5 meet

Canadian music is moving west and Communication Five will take place in Vancouver on October the 14th. After four successful meets, it's time to take a look at our western provinces and in particular, the Vancouver music scene. The west coast sound is exploding and unfortunately the market of British Columbia may still be a stranger to some of the music industry people in Canada.

This meet will introduce a new format to our Communication series. A morning devoted to authorities on the varied aspects of broadcasting, regulations, record administration, and international experts knowledgeable in their fields. The afternoon will be spent in open forum with the experts. We will limit our panel to assure that the most vital questions can be answered by the top authorities in each field.

COMMUNICATION FIVE

Workshop sessions will be set up for programming music, record promotion, retailing and racking, A&R and record production. Our Communication series is coming of age, and the first four meets have given us a good indication of what the trade would prefer in future meetings. The theme of C5 will be "professionalism". A full weekend will be dedicated to assure that the radio and record industry meet and learn from experts in their fields.

We will also take this opportunity to introduce western Canada to the industry, with an RPM Special Western Canadian Edition.

C4 was completely sold out with standing room only. It is important that you register immediately for C5 to assure a good seat at the sessions. Registration is limited. Be sure to send your cheque with your registration form.

WORKSHOPS & DISCUSSIONS

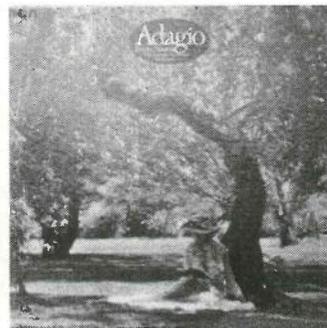

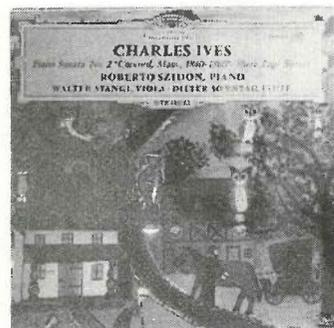

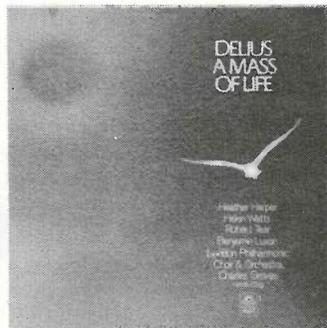

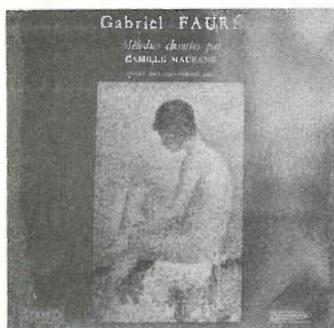

ADAGIO

The Baroque Chamber Orchestra conducted by Ettore Stratta
RCA LSC 3328

A very special and useful record beautifully performed by Ettore Stratta which should help greatly to promote the growing popularity of Baroque music. The opening Adagio in G minor by Albinoni was featured in the popular film "Interlude". Other works include the Siciliana from the Oboe Concerto which Arthur Benjamin arranged from the music of Cimarosa, and the popular Canon in D by Pachelbel. The Adagio from Vivaldi's Guitar Concerto in D receives a sensitive performance by John Varner. An altogether tasteful production which should achieve great popularity.

RECOMMENDATIONS

DELIUS A Mass of Life

London Philharmonic Choir and Orchestra conducted by Charles Groves

Angel SB 3781

First performed in 1909 by Sir Thomas Beecham, this exuberant work for large chorus, soloists and orchestra draws its best from Nietzsche's "Also Sprach Zarathustra". Many consider it Delius' greatest work. The four soloists are Heather Harper, Helen Watts, Robert Tear and Benjamin Luxon. Recorded under the auspices of the Delius Trust, this fine performance insures the survival of Delius' music which many thought would be forgotten after the death of Sir Thomas Beecham.

GABRIEL FAURE Songs

Camille Maurane - Baritone — Pierre Maillard - Verger - Piano
MUSIDISC RC 693

Intimate and sensitive performances of some of Faure's loveliest songs including the cycle "Poeme d'un Jour". Camille Maurane and his fine partner and thoroughly steeped in Faure's style and perfectly capture the essence of each of these fragile masterpieces.

DEBUSSY String Quartet in G minor Op. 10
RAVEL String Quartet in F major

LaSalle Quartet
DGG 2530 235

It is in a way unfortunate that record companies so frequently couple the music of Debussy and Ravel on one side as it creates the impression to the layman that there is some great similarity in their musical outlook. Musically, their aims were poles apart. However, they each wrote one string quartet and the two works have become unquestionably the greatest chamber works in the French literature. Both works are expertly played and recorded.

CHARLES IVES Piano Sonata No. 2 "Concord" Three Page Sonata — Roberto Szidon - Pianist, Walter Stangl, Viola, Dieter Sonntag - Flute.

Roberto Szidon recently gave us the complete sonatas of Scriabin. He now follows up with a fine performance of Charles Ives' massive "Concord" Sonata. Each movement is a musical reflection of people in Concord around the middle of the last century. The first movement is titled "Emerson" and includes a very brief passage for Viola. The second movement is called "Hawthorne" and the third, "The Alcotts". The final movement, "Thoreau" has a fleeting passage toward the end for flute. A complex work which will require several hearings.

HANDEL Four Organ Concert

Ralph Downes — Organ — The London Chamber Orchestra conducted by Anthony Bernard
MUSIDISC RC 736

Lively, musical performances of Concerto Nos. 1, 2 and 4 from Opus 4 and the first concerto from Opus 7. The Organ is not identified in the liner notes but it is sweet toned and is perfectly balanced with Anthony Bernard's excellent chamber orchestra. The Harpsichord continuo is played by Hubert Dawkes.

Let's have the facts !

MICHAEL CHRISTIE
Music Director
CKOM, Saskatoon

It seems that perhaps one of the most important links between record companies and radio stations relies on a good rapport between the record promo man and the music director. The reason is simple.

Without the radio station giving the records their support, the record company is almost completely crippled. No exposure of their product -- no sales. It's that simple. Of course, the reverse is just as devastating to a radio station. With no product, the only stations that could survive would probably be those programming twenty-four hours of religious content.

Since the two industries rely so heavily on one another, it only seems natural that they should try to work with one another as cohesively as possible. What sometimes burns me is the way a few record companies sometimes forget that it is a two-way street. Of course, we need product, but don't they also realize they need exposure of their product?

What I detest is a record rep telling me how I should programme my market, and a super-hype on a record that is happening nowhere, but he needs an opening market. It's quite evident to me that if a Music Director was not doing his job properly for his particular station he wouldn't be employed for too long. Every MD has his own particular reasons for not playlisting a single. What we do need is first of all, and most important, the product itself. Then, not a super-hype, but honest to goodness down to earth facts - sales, reaction to the product in those markets where it is being played, and exactly where it is getting air time. Facts definitely have a greater effect on a MD than pressure and hype.

On the other hand, a record rep is trying to keep his job also. It's his responsibility to get his product played, and of course, there's always times when he's the one getting screwed. Let's face it -everyone makes mistakes, and MD's are no exception. There always has and always will be times when a station is slow on charting a big song, or worse yet, refuses to playlist a song for some reason. That happens. It has also happened that a MD is really hyped on some product, and the thing stiffes immediately.

Let's face it. It's a two-way street. Without each other we're helpless. As a record promo man, give the product and the facts first; then try a little 'nudging'. As a Music Director, give the product a fair shake, and be honest about it. If you don't like the record and you don't plan to go on it, tell them.

There is no room for communication breakdowns in the business of COMMUNICATION.

LONDON GOLD TO CKLC FOR MOUTH & MACNEIL

Vince Lasch, London's Ontario promotion manager, recently presented London Gold to Gary Parr for CKLC's part in breaking the recent Mouth & MacNeil hit "How Do

You Do". Parr, program director at the Kingston station, was one of the first to spot the hit potential of the British single and was instrumental in influencing other stations in Canada. The result was a coast to coast chart item and a large sized hit in the U.S.

CKLC charted the record last winter and it remained on the charts for ten weeks.

RONNIE HAWKINS ON BANKS CBC TVER

Rompin' Ronnie Hawkins, Canada's rock-a-billy transplant appeared on the Tommy Banks CBC television show from Edmonton. Hawkins hit it big in the early sixties with a series of rock and roll smashes. He is widely credited with providing the training ground for The Band and many other acts.

On the Banks show, Hawkins performs what is now being called Canadian country rock. Appearing with him is Evelyn Quaife, recently returned from a year long tour with the original cast of "Jesus Christ Superstar".

I'm not an expert

When this column was launched, we were very emphatic that this was a column by a generalist, and that the author made no claims of being a programming expert.

How does an outsider view the programmers? That's what we answer here, and

The Programmers CROSSTALK

this kind of outlook can be healthy and helpful. I talk to many people, who lay their problems on me. We then do our best to help or at least to make an observation.

Questions asked by programmers with regard to the ruling would indicate that few are really aware of its contents. It's not a ruling that requires too much decoding or "reading into". Sure, it's done up in Civil Service language, which can be confusing, if you really want it to be.

There are programmers who claim the 30% content ruling will not work and should be done away with. There are those however, who are of the opinion the ruling has caused "no hardship". Is it possible that stations and programming can be that different?

We hear two stories. One is that there is a lack of programming material, the other is that there is a great deal of programming

Jay Jeffrie, CHSJ Saint John, New Brunswick, interested in hearing from young announcers wishing to get into programming. Tape and resume should be supplied.

CKRD AM has tightened its format to twenty record chart rotation with a total daytime playlist of thirty records.

CJOC Lethbridge has had a bit of a shake-up. Barry Hegland is now music director. The station is programming almost thirty hours a week of progressive rock and jazz. Station could use better service on this type of album product. The station will kick off a new station in October in the Crow's Nest Pass area of Alberta. New outlet, CJPR, will originate its own programming as well as picking up for re-broadcast, material from CJOC. Basic format will be town and country MOR. Record companies, please put the station on your lists for this type of service.

CHSJ drawing good phones on "Piece of Paper"/Gladstone and "Blue Ridge Mountain Blue"/Blue Ridge Mountain Boys. Johnny Mathis' "Make It Easy On Yourself" stiffed.

Spinner's "How Could I Let You Get Away" number one on CKLW. Raspberries 19 after seven weeks on. Melvin and Blue Notes' "If You Don't Know Me By Now" breaking.

CJOC received an American pressing of "If I Could Reach You" by the Fifth Dimension mastered at the wrong speed??? Canadian pressing is OK.

available and the quality is no problem.

A few programmers have stated they are happy with the 30% ruling.

I often wonder if the librarian or the music director really know what product is available, and exactly what the ruling permits.

Indeed, it is the programmer of the station's music and his knowledge of the product that makes the ruling easy to live with, or impossible.

Perhaps those stations where the 30% is a problem, a system should be started to assure that Canadian records are catalogued carefully.

Programmers have often told us that it is amazing how much good programming is available once the ruling becomes a challenge to fulfil.

In this area, the record company can also be of assistance. More and more detailed information about the 30% Canadian content ruling should be made available to the radio station.

The RPM MAPL logos are available to record companies to use in their catalogue at no cost (if they write to RPM for permission to use), and many a programmer who takes a good look at Cancon might find many records they were not aware of previously, perfectly suited for their format. Many of the programmers at C4 (in conversations after the meeting) said there was no problem meeting the ruling and brought to my attention that the ruling was a challenge to create good programming. That's the spirit!

'LISLE' IMPRESSES LONDON STAFF

The Barrie based rock trio have all London field reps excited about their two sided soft-rocker, "Goin Away"/"You're Why Baby" on BRONCO BR 2703 both AP.

Bud Roberts has personal station plugs available, custom recorded for each C&W jock and his show. If you are interested send name, show time, call letters and frequency to BOOT; Bud will forward the tape within two weeks.

Max D. Barnes is gaining reasonable response with his initial deck of, "Ribbons Of Steel", BT 048 even though our release is way behind the U.S. schedule.

Broomstick Horse Cowboy will soon be riding on the big BOOT. Sharon Lowness' first album release now in production should be right behind her next single "Flying East" BT 052 (AL). Sure to be her biggest yet. Wait and see!

BOLLARD HAS FLIPPED!!

Ace London Sales/Promo rep, Jim Carey re-discovered Bollard BT 044, "I Need Your Love" the flip of "Sunshine In The Morning". He says he won't rest until his market has established this fine record as a hit. And you know what Jim? We believe you because many others have listened again. POP radio are you there?

Ken Lazarus and the Crew are doing the reggae thing for BOOT on many major MOR, AM & FM outlets. Sales are coming along fine. Have you heard them yet?

BEWARE OF THE "BUTTERFLY"

Milestones — the Austrian Eurovision entry of 1972 may have a sleeper for BOOT BT 049. A definite MOR, contemporary winner. You'll get a chance to judge this week.

NOW THAT I'M BACK BT 045

Chris Scott's first Boot release growing rapidly in the Ontario market led by the influential CFGM; CKCM/CKGA and CHAB leading the rest of the country.
