Top Con and cassettes heat up WEA quarter

WEA's Ontario Branch enters the "fun months" with a well-received spring cassette campaign, a fast moving rock and pop release schedule and a "new look" at country.

Herb Forgie, Branch Manager of the Ontario operation, reports "excellent customer acceptance" of their spring cassette

A&M and Nimbus sign CD distribution deal

A&M Canada Vice President of Sales & Marketing, Bill Ott, has announced the acquisition of distribution rights to the Nimbus Records compact discs catalogue. "We are more than pleased to be associated with this exceptional label," said Ott. "Nimbus boasts the highest quality recording and manufacturing and constitutes one of the industry's most unique stories."

Nimbus was founded in the 1960s as an experimental recording studio. Today, the studio at its Wyastone Leys headquarters inside a restored Georgian mansion on the Welsh-English border, is described as representing "a new science of sound through its digital recording facilities, state-of-the-art CD pressing complex and a classical repertoire featuring the highest calibre of artists."

All Nimbus releases are recorded using the Nimbus-Halliday Surround Sound microphone system.

A&M released 16 Nimbus CDs in mid-March. Included were collections from the masters: Beethoven, Mozart, Schubert, and Chopin, to name a few, with soloists like Perlemuter, Shura Cherkassky, Youra Guller, and Shura Gehrman, and orchestras like the Scottish Chamber Orchestra, The Hanover Band, and the Philharmonia Orchestra.

A question of corporate sponsorship of music

by Warren Cosford

I have some serious reservations about corporate sponsorship of music. First they ruin some of my favourite songs by turning them into jingles, and now they're turning many of my favourite singers into shills for product. Last week I saw my first rock star wearing a sponsor's T-shirt on stage. Of course, it's not rape . . . when the lady says Yes! but then, if you were at the Sponsorship '87 seminar in Toronto last week, you heard me say all this and more.

Don't get me wrong . . . I welcome many of these corporations to our industry. It's just that so much of what is done is short-term and unimaginative. The easy idea.

Labatt's took a pounding at the seminar from some people because of the Platinum Blonde tour they sponsored a couple of years ago. The feeling was that the audience was too young to be targeted by a beer company.

I thought Labatt's had a great idea. What they did was take a band with proven Super Saver Series. The campaign involves their entire $8.98 catalogue which includes higher priced product that has been reduced into it (Wang Chung, INXS, Roger Daltrey, Mike & The Mechanics), and additional titles (Harry Chapin, Frank Sinatra, Bill Cosby). "It's quite an extensive catalogue," says Forgie.

The success WEA has had with country over the last few months, has created a change in attitude toward this music form that is growing in popularity. "We're actually taking our country seriously," says Forgie. "We want to call it Top Con . . . that's my theory. Top Con, it's not country, it belongs in the Top 30 and in the warehouses. So far Trio (Dolly Parton, Linda Ronstadt, Emmylou Harris) has been there, and we're running with a new Randy Travis and a new Dwight Yoakam the first week in May.

"We may be forced to release the new Randy Travis early, based on the fact that he is touring here shortly. He's doing 4 dates in Ontario, and we've got the front window at A&A Records, in downtown Toronto, where we are actually doing a country motif."

Regarding k.d. lang and Blue Rodeo, "What can I say?" says Forgie. "They're chalking up great sales in Ontario, and their dates here will give us a major boost."

Other subjects close to Forgie's heart: "Fleetwood Mac's in the streets and happening; Frozen Ghost: we're getting excellent numbers and excellent sales on the single, LP, and cassette. They'll be on a 40-date North American Howard Jones tour, landing in Canada's Wonderland during the summer, which will be a major boost for sales."

Also priority for Forgie's branch is the new Prince LP. "Being that we are a very careful record company, this time we didn't appeal in Southern Ontario and give them money to tour the rest of Canada. A good investment. It was no accident that, following the tour, the band had a platinum album, and a number one single.

But then it fell apart. The band wasn't able to transfer that momentum to America.

I wonder what would have happened if Labatt's had sponsored a Platinum Blonde tour in the U.S. After all, wasn't the Canadian success really just "research?" And doesn't Labatt's want to sell beer in the U.S.? And if they supported a tour isn't it possible that the U.S. record label might have been a little more excited about the band when they figured out that someone else was going to help pay the bills?

Of course, Labatt's might have had a problem with their U.S. distributor. After all, Platinum Blonde might not be part of their "corporate strategy". If so, simply bring all the corporate strategists to a concert with the band and make sure they bring their kids too. Call it research to make everyone feel better.

So, how about it multinationals? Canada has more than a few gold and even platinum performers that can help you increase your market share outside of Canada while you increase theirs.

do too much loading on the front end with the Prince release . . . and it's selling very well due to the amazing airplay."

In conclusion, Forgie says, "We show no signs of slowing down. Everytime we get a chance to breathe, a Club Nouveau comes along."

CBS Direct joins forces with CBC's Video Hits

Karen Hunter, Manager, CBS Direct Marketing, reports that CBS Direct has "joined forces with Video Hits," with the release of a 2-record set (one cassette), titled The Video Hits Album.

CBS Direct will combine repertoire that is considered "outstanding" with saturation TV on the Video Hits show, and throughout the entire CBC schedule. Additionally, Samantha Taylor, who hosts Video Hits, will be making in-store appearances throughout Canada promoting the album.

It's interesting to note that Vancouver tops the list in weekly audience for Video Hits with a total audience of 280,000 and a teen audience of 140,000. Montreal is next with 240,000 total audience and 110,000 teens; followed by Winnipeg and London, both tied at 215,000 total and 50,000 teens; Toronto with a total audience of 200,000 and 55,000 teens, and Edmonton which has a total audience of 190,000 and a teen audience of 65,000.

"We've all done exceptionally well with CBS Direct's compilation albums," says Hunter, "Rockin' With The Hits & Nothin' But The Hits achieved well above platinum status."

U.S. court reverses action in Beatles' lawsuit

In an opinion issued Apr. 9/87, Justice Michael J. Dontzin of the New York State Supreme Court dismissed 6 of the 9 causes of action in the pending complaint in The Beatles' lawsuit against Capitol Records, Inc. and EMI Records Limited. Among the causes of action dismissed were claims for fraud and conversion which sought punitive damages in the amount of $50 million.

The Capitol-EMI motion had asked for the dismissal of 7 causes of action, including a claim for "breach of fiduciary duty." Justice Dontzin however, did not dismiss that claim, but he did write that "The contract here does not appear to create a technical fiduciary relationship." The Capitol-EMI motion to dismiss did not address the 2 remaining counts for alleged breach of contract.

In commenting on the decision. Chairman and Chief Executive of EMI Music Worldwide and Capitol, Bhaskar Menon, noted: "We are very gratified by Justice Dontzin's decision," continuing with "From the outset of this litigation, we have contended that it was nothing more than an alleged breach of contract case, and the ruling today confirms our view. Plaintiffs are now left with claims for additional royalties under a 1969 recording agreement with Capitol." He concludes with, "It is Capitol's firm position that the royalty claims lack merit, and we will continue to vigorously defend that position in court."

of the tracks were produced by Neil Kernon (Hall & Oates, Dokken, Queensryche), Mixing was done at Yamaha Studios in Los Angeles.

Mike Stone, who has worked with many name groups (Asia, Queen, Journey) is completing all the remaining tracks. He laid down bed tracks with Helix in Canada in early January, but switched to The Manor Studios in England, where it's expected the recording will be finished the end of April. An early summer release date is projected.

k.d. lang - tune into her wave

Sometimes, radio responds to the unexpected. How else can you explain the cross-format success of k.d. lang's first Sire album, Angel With A Lariat. Now, with campus, college and rock radio leading the way, WEA has released the key track, Tune Into My Wave.

Tune Into My Wave was written by k.d.'s sideman, Ben Mink, and like Kathy Dawn herself and several other members of the reclines, he's a CAPAC member. More than 16,000 CAPAC songwriters, composers, lyricists and publishers create music that gives radio and television stations across the country, programming which builds ratings, as well as a Canadian star system.

WHAT SAYS

Gary Slaight has up and done it . . . !!

Gary Slaight has resigned from Q107 to become President of the radio division of Standard Broadcasting. He will also be involved in the day-to-day operation of CKFM. Well . . . is that earth shaking news or is that a major broadcast earthquake? Of course, I've been predicting this move for sometime, haven't I? Watch for more of your better-than-average news from the broadcasting sector . . . particularly from the West Coast, perhaps within the next 3 months.

More from Lutusland . . . !!

I mentioned last week that a once-powerful record exec was moving back to his home turf. Now, I understand he's going to hook up with a well-known manager to form a label . . . and knowing how this manager feels about government handouts, at least they won't be lining up for a grant (EC: I wouldn't want to bet a grant on that one!!!)

Where do these researchers and experts get their figures from? I read with interest in one of the dailies that compact discs accounted for 50 percent of recording industry sales last year. My source, and it's available to anyone interested in getting the straight story, tells " . . . the prophets of doom, the messengers of mediocrity, will be overwhelmed by the new generation of competent, creative, confident artisans and by all those of preceding generations who have already demonstrated their freshness of mind, their talent and their capacity for inspired leadership." - Pierre Juneau me that last year the recording industry chalked up sales of $310 million, out of which $48 million were for CDs . . . a little short of 50 percent, wouldn't you say!!

An expensive lunch . . . or what??

That must have been an expensive lunch for one of two programmers the other day. They were having a friendly bite (EC: An interesting observation. I'll bet you also read lips!!) in the shade of the station from which one recently exited. Did I hear $100,000?

Are the stars out tonight . . . ??

I hear a major voice in broadcasting doesn't move until he checks with his astrologer.

There's a battle brewing . . . !!

There are a couple of giants in the suds business (EC: They're also in the entertainment game!!) both of whom will be mounting huge promotional campaigns this summer. They're obviously after the youth market. We'll see concerts and stars playing major dates across this country, like we've never seen before. One of these giants already has a corner on the market . . . having squeezed the other out of most of the sought-after venues.

Speaking of suds and the youth market!

If one of the brewery giants has a corner on the concert market . . . watch the other move into THE REAL THING. They sent a headhunter out to tap the market, and they're about ready to roll into the label business. I've heard a couple of names that are being considered as part of this multi-million dollar operation . . . and . . . quite frankly, it leaves me devastated. Oh well . . . I guess there's so much money, dropping a couple of million the first year won't make much difference.

Scuttlebutt . . . I can't reveal!!

I'm sometimes floored by the hot tips I receive, but for obvious reasons . . . that's as far as it goes. The people who supply me with the information know it won't go any further. But, boy . . . could I set this industry on its ear. Who's dipping into the till . . . who's making out with who, when the receptionist is out to lunch . . . who jumped ship before

Dixon and Parrish posted to CARAS PR positions

Peter Parrish, Vice President of Marketing for Sound Insight has been appointed Chairman of the Public Relations and Promotion Committee for The Canadian Academy of Recording Arts and Sciences (CARAS).

For the first time, CARAS will maintain an in-house arrangement for publicity and promotion for this year's Juno Awards to be held at Toronto's O'Keefe Centre Nov. 2. Neill Dixon, President of Chart Toppers, recently resigned his position as Chairman of the PR Committee of CARAS, but maintains his position as a member of the Board of Directors, will be handling publicity and promotion for the organization. He will be tendering out certain undertakings to assist him in bringing more consumer awareness to the 1987 Juno Awards, as well as to all areas of the media with a particularly heavy emphasis on retail.

Dixon is open to any proposals or promotion ideas and can be contacted at 416-593-2550.

the Mounties got their case together . . . who's still double billing the company and one of the bills is now in the hands of a close friend of the boss . . . who went on a business trip, but didn't . . . who! who! who!

Are we losing interest in videos??

I haven't received any figures yet, but the record company executives I've talked to lately, are predicting a gloomy future for videos. So . . . whoever's planning expensive video awards shows, better hurry up . . . interest could be waning.

Where have all the hitmakers gone??

While several retail stores are cutting back on their catalogue stocking, preferring to stock only the hits . . . the hitmakers aren't selling as had been predicted. So . . . those stores who still maintain a good variety of catalogue, which is their bread and butter line, will probably be ahead.

The Diamond's getting better!

I'm not too much of a fan of The Diamond, a Toronto club, but now with Ann Hunter's new diner, Heard It Through The Grapevine, offering great food . . . and acts like Carole Pope (EC: Eat your heart out Louie!!) I find the place not too bad. By the way, Carole has never sounded better. A little time away from the pressure groups and more time to determine her career . . . worked wonders.

COVER STORY - by Graeme BoyceThe Chieftains celebrate 25 years in the business

Ireland's traditional folkies, The Chieftains, celebrating their silver anniversary this year, are currently on release with their new RCA Red Seal album titled James Galway And The Chieftains In Ireland. The album is a limited edition green vinyl pressing, and is also released on CD and chrome cassette. They are now touring in support of the album, and Galway will appear with the band at several festivals this summer, including a date at the Hollywood Bowl.

The group is also fondly referred to as Ireland's "good-will ambassadors", and recently appeared in the television special, Glimpses Of Ireland. As well, they wrote the score for and appeared in Three Wishes For Jamies, a Columbia TV Movie of The Week.

The band won an Academy Award for their scoring of the Barry Lyndon soundtrack, and hope for the same with their work on The Grey Fox, "which," says the band's Paddy Moloney, "is terribly popular in Europe, since the film was shown, and still very popular in the States. It's almost becoming as popular as Barry Lyndon."

These tour audiences won't eclipse the numbers when The Chieftains "opened for the Pope" in 1979 at Dublin's Phoenix Park, an event that drew 1.35 million people and broke the world's record for the largest live audience. "But they will be just as much fun," insists Moloney, who late last year recorded several songs with Midge Ure and Gary Moore, ex-members of Ultravox and Thin Lizzy respectively.

"Yes," agrees Moloney, "I did one with Midge Ure, who incidentally was even more responsible for that whole Band-Aid thing than was Bob (Geldof). But Bob got all the limelight and carried it on . . . I mean not taking away from what he's done . . . he's a fellow Dubliner, but Midge is also a fellow Celt.

"So, we all did We All Fall Down, which is an anti-war song, and we appeared on the video as well. It's a charming song, and very, very strong.

"Now, with Gary (Moore), I did some backtracking and some pipe work on Over The Hills. There's a nice little jig in it, in fact, and did the video with him. They dressed me up in leather, leather boots, the works, and my feeling was that I look like Napoleon gone wrong, but everyone has fun, and that's the main thing."

He points out that the reason the band is constantly asked to perform (such as with the Rolling Stones) and record with pop artists

RECORDS TO RADIO - by Randy Wells. . . and you think the Jays have heavy hitters . . . !!

The new season has begun, and here's the lineup:

Herb Alpert - Diamonds

Glenn Medeiros - Nothing's Gonna Change My Love For You

Boy George - Everything I Own

The Other Ones - We Are What We Are

Chris deBurgh - Say Goodbye To It All

T'Pau - Heart And Soul

Veronique Beliveau - I Can't Help It

Cutting Crew - (I Just) Died In Your Arms

Bryan Adams - Heat Of The Night

Ah yes . . . fans, it's a great day to play 'radio' ball.

"Play ball!" the umpire shouts. First up is the veteran Herb Alpert. This man has durability. His new single Diamonds, is taking the country by storm. First week out he has captured the hearts of radio parks like C100, CKOI, FM96 (Montreal), CHUM FM, FM96 (Toronto), CKLC, CFRW and AM106. U.S. stats on this record have bullets covering Pop and R&B on both single and album. Accompanied by Miss Janet Jackson on vocals, Diamonds makes a cross-

(he plays the pipes on Paul McCartney's Pipes Of Peace), is because they're considered "musicians' musicians."

"They do like what we are about," Moloney explains. "And the music that we play is the basis of what they're getting into. They have the rock version, and we have the traditional version of it. Irish music has that charm that it could really be anybody's music."

When asked about their longevity, and whether there are any secrets to their success, he replies: "We just reach out with our music, and it's amazing the places it gets to. It's just limitless," Moloney concludes. "People who hear it might go away for a few years, but they always come back."

demographic crowd pleaser. Here's the pitch . . . SMACK . . . clearly a home run hit!

Stepping into the batter's box is Glenn Medeiros. A rookie, but in a very short period of time he's showing his awesome strength. On both sides of the border, Nothing's Gonna Change My Love For You is exploding. On Canadian soil, Glenn's hit a home run at 46 radio parks including C100, FM96, CFGO, CFTR, CHUM FM, CKOC, CFRW, AM106, CHED and KISS. Every province is well represented with new Glenn Medeiros fans. Other stats listed is a video soon to be released, and an album on its way. Rumour has it this kid will be the leader at the majors. Well Fergie, if I were the opposing pitcher, I think I'd walk Medeiros on base.

If it isn't the constant home run hitter himself approaching the plate. Yes, it's Boy George stepping up with yet another hot one. As he plants for the pitch, banners wave displaying hefty call letters from the Maritimes to Vancouver, and the crowd chants the title of his new single, Everything I Own. Requests at many stations combined with Radio Chart Numbers and retail action on the single put Boy George in great shape for the season. His solo album is due out in June.

In the top of the fourth, the opposition decides to go to the bullpen. It seems that a southpaw is coming in to pitch against The Other Ones' We Are What We Are. The Other Ones are coming into this game with some awfully impressive stats. This rookie has captured No. 1 Top AOR Add, No. 2 AOR Add, and 2nd Most Added at CHR in just three weeks since breaking into the majors. In the FM stadiums, We Are What We Are has earned mass national acceptance. The CHR scouts have discovered that this fresh blood in the game has amazing results. Why bunt when you have a heavy hitter?

Now batting is Chris deBurgh's Say Goodbye To It All. Chris has emerged in prime shape, coming off a grand slam homer. Lady In Red has opened up a much wider audience, pushing his batting average to near 300,000 units. South of the border, Chris is Top 20 CHR and A/C with his Lady hit. Starting early May, a Canadian tour will showcase his talents across the country.

On deck, warming up, is this year's sur-

Dogs and bikinis at London's CJBK

"Every dog has its day," says Wanda Love, Promotions Coordinator at CJBK Radio in London, Ontario, and that day was Apr. 14, when the station presented its Top Dog contest at the White Oaks Mall. Listeners submitted photos of their "best friend" with a 50 word letter explaining why their pet is a member of their family. The winner of the competition, part of the national "Search For The Great Canadian Dog Contest" sponsored by Ralston-Purina, will receive a microwave oven and a family photograph session. CJBK also rushed spring with a parade of bathing beauties at the station's 12th Annual Spring Bikini Pageant. "It was a great way to welcome the people to the opening night of the London International Boat Show," writes Love, "as many spectators stopped to check for tan lines on the girls." CJBK's grand prize winner, Lorraine Green, was awarded $1,000 in "travel bucks" to be used to visit her favourite vacation spot.

Moose On The Loose at CKGB

Art Pultz, Program Director of CKGB Timmins, reports a lot of listener interest in the station's Moose On The Loose promotion. The promotion "serves a twofold purpose," says Art, "giving the listener a chance to have fun and win, and to increase public awareness of a potentially dangerous problem here in the North." He goes on to explain that 3 times daily "we take a caller and they go up against the moose. Either they run into the moose, swerve and avoid it, swerve into the ditch or stop in time." One of the local sporting goods stores sponsors the "Moosepot" which starts at $5.00 and increases by the same amount with each incorrect caller. Says Art, "The jocks love it and the public seems to feel the same."

Bobby Clarke at LA-107 April Fool's Day
Every Wednesday, LA-107 (Lethbridge) morning personality Mark Campbell, broadcasts a portion of his morning drive show from the swimming pool atrium of a Lethbridge Motel. The broadcast always features local tators turned up, all expecting to see and meet Bobby Clarke of the Philadelphia Flyers. The Bobby Clarke the station had however, was a local restaurant bartender, which led to a front-page newspaper story and prime-time TV coverage for the station. True story, says Gary McGowan Program Supervisor for LA-107.

The Search For Rock at HTZ-FM

97.7 HTZ-FM held their first talent showcase for Star Track 1: The Search For Rock, at the Atlas Entertainment Complex in Welland (Mar. 25). The winner was singer/songwriter Ray Lyle from Hamilton. He will receive studio time at Rainbow Studios in Niagara Falls plus 1,000 copies of his first single. Some of his material will be on the new Helix album, and it's quite possible members of Helix will be recording with him at Rainbow. The judges for this showcase, the first of 4 to be conducted in 1987 were: Bob Roper and Bruce Mactavish from WEA, Honeymoon Suite's Derry Grehan and Dave Betts, Steve McAuley and Ron Robles from Capitol, Capitol recording artist Alfie Zappacosta, Dave Deeley from CBS, and HTZ-FM Music Director Paul Morris. A second showcase will take place in early summer.

CFNY's James Scott live from L.A.

Darren Wasyluk, Promotion Director for CFNY-FM Toronto, reports that "Following the success of CFNY's recent Yonge Street Beach Party Broadcasts, station management has arranged a special Live From L.A. satellite broadcast with afternoon drive host James Scott." The show airs daily from 3 to 7 pm the week of Apr. 27 through May 1. The special is being coordinated by the California

Radio Entertainment Group and will feature a star studded lineup of celebrity guests including Alice Cooper, Jerry Mathers, Peter Gabriel, Brandon Tartikoff, Gene Hackman, comedian Jay Leon and more. The station is currently giving away A Trip A Day for Lunch In L.A. to meet the stars and be part of the special.

Barry Bowman butt of April Fool's joke

C-FAX morning personality Barry Bowman had his April Fool's Day trick backfire on him this year. Thanks to Chief Engineer Dan Roach, Barry's feed was re-routed through a production studio, allowing other members of the morning team to intercept Barry's program without his knowledge. While he was trying to convince listeners that Sylvester Stallone was shooting a movie in Victoria that morning, and was looking for people to appear in some scenes, the "off-stage" announcers were giving a completely different message to the audience, and they were told to flood him with calls, asking ridiculous questions. The phones rang constantly and Barry thought his April Fool's promotion was a giant success until half an hour before the end of his program the entire C-FAX staff walked into the control room and told him "on the air" that he had been had.

Pepsi Cruiser back for CFRA

Janet Burns, Promotion Coordinator for Ottawa's CFRA reports that as of May 9th, the Pepsi Community Cruiser will be on the road again for another summer. The cruiser covers non-profit and charitable activities throughout Ottawa and the Valley, supplying basic P.A. services and free ice cold Pepsi-Cola.

Cats Can Fly at Diamond Club

Cats Can Fly took a short break from the business to spend time in the studio, writing and demo'ing new songs for their second album. Wayne Baguley, who handles the management end of the band, reports "the relationship between CBS Records and Cats Can Fly will not continue for the second album." The group recently signed a sub-publishing deal with UFA Music (an RCA/Ariola affiliate) for Germany, Switzerland and Austria, and they are in current negotiations for a European release for their debut album. Coming up is an Apr. 30 date at Toronto's Diamond Club, plus a showcasing in NYC for U.S. record labels this summer. Cats comprise Eddie Zeeman (drums, lead vocals), David Ashley (bass guitar, lead vocals), Peter Alexandre (multi-keyboards/lead vocals), and Mitchell James (guitar/saxophone/lead vocals).

Rhino spearheads Turtles' revival

The Rhino label is releasing a single, Happy Together, and a Best Of The Turtles compilation album as part of the Turtles Revival. The single was No. 1 on the RPM 100 on April 1st. 1967. The single has also been picked as the Theme Song for Making Mr. Right, the new film from Susan Seidelman. A music video featuring the song has been made by Nigel Dick, the director behind the recent videos from such films as Stand By Me and Karate Kid II. David Fishof, who produced the 1986 Monkees 20th Anniversary Tour, is co-headlining The Turtles on Classic Super Fest, a 100-city tour which begins June 5 with The Byrds sharing the billing. There are no Canadian dates at press time.

WEA Toronto Branch appointments

Herb Forgie, WEA Ontario Branch Manager, reports a couple of internal appointments and a new face at the branch. Stewart Clubleby moves from service rep up to full sales, and Mark Frogley comes out of the WEA warehouse to become a service rep. The smiling new face belongs to Sue Willoughby. She is now in place as secretary/receptionist. She was previously with The Bay Buying Office at Eglinton and Victoria Park Avenue in Toronto.

More about Berlin's Own Band (BOB)

As mentioned previously, Berlin's Own Band (BOB) is now in place at Berlin, Toronto's newest showcase club. The band comprises Dave McMorrow (keyboards, vocals), Demo Cates (alto & tenor sax, vocals), Rick Tait (trumpet, keyboards), Mike Konn (bass), Asher Horowitz (guitar), John Panchyshyn (sax), and Gord Neave (drums). The club is open Wednesdays and Thursdays (4 pm to 1 am), and Fridays and Saturdays (4 pm to 3 am). Besides the B.J. Cook night (May 5) guesting for May are Graham Shaw (1 & 2), Arlene Duncan (6 to 9), Brian McKay (8 & 9), Sharon Lee Williams (13 to 16, and 20 to 23).

K.D. LANG BRINGS IT HOME!

K.D. TAKES L.A.

Gary Dunford – Toronto Sun

"The day after K.D. Lang, Canada's singing cowgirl, made her L.A. debut at the Roxy nightclub, the Los Angeles Times began its review simply: "A star is born." The Herald called the concert exhilarating: "She turns already invigorating material into something sublime . . . a joy to watch." Among those who jammed the club were a couple of other made-in-Canada stars – comedienne Catherine O'Hara and actor Michael J. Fox."

Robert Hilburn – L.A. Times

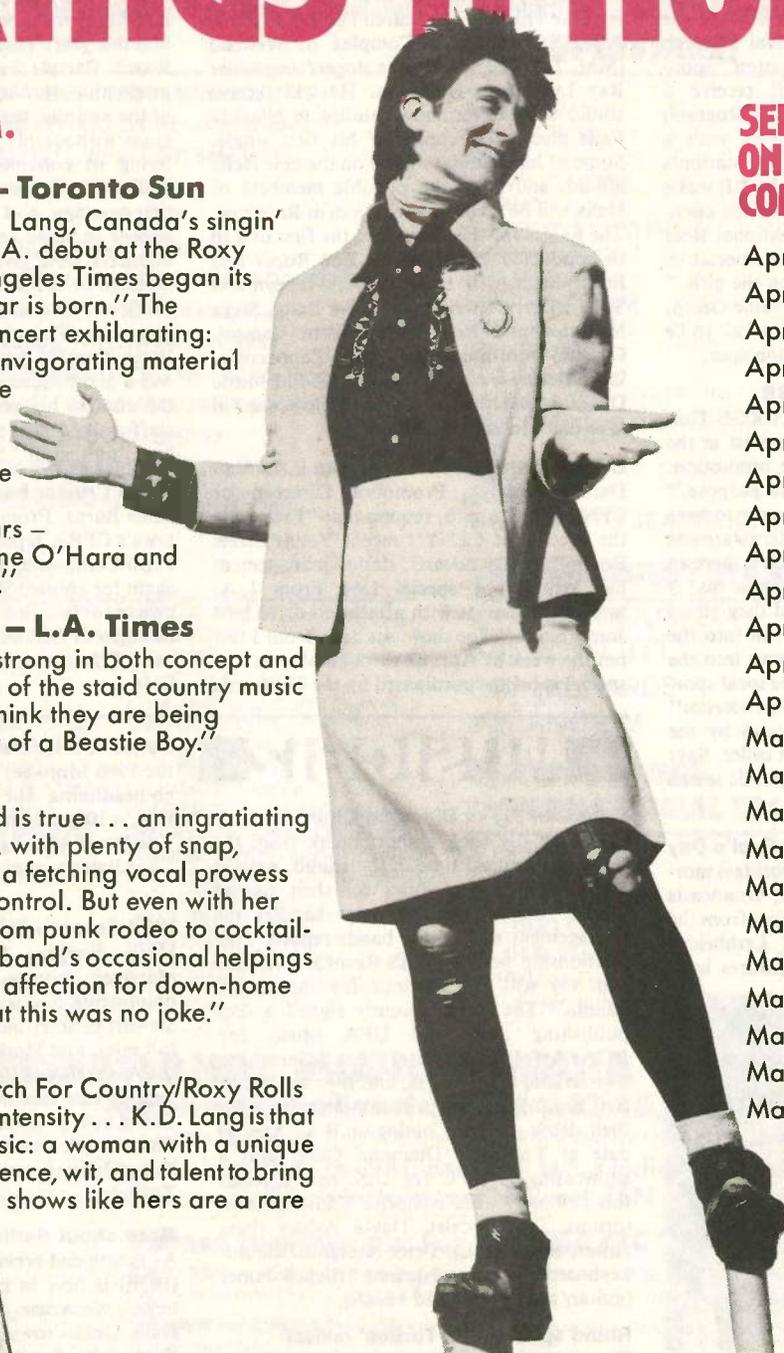

"Lang comes on so strong in both concept and execution, that much of the staid country music Establishment may think they are being invaded by the sister of a Beastie Boy."

L.A. Times

"What you've heard is true . . . an ingratiating and unique artist . . . with plenty of snap, crackle and pop . . . a fetching vocal prowess . . . a cool-headed control. But even with her costume changes (from punk rodeo to cocktail-floozy chic) and the band's occasional helpings of cornpone, Lang's affection for down-home sentiment proved that this was no joke."

L.A. Herald

"Lang Carries A Torch For Country/Roxy Rolls with Singer's Manic Intensity . . . K.D. Lang is that rarity in popular music: a woman with a unique vision and the intelligence, wit, and talent to bring that vision to life . . . shows like hers are a rare thing indeed."

MuchMusic broadcasts from "revolutionary" studio

"I put it this way once," begins MuchMusic President and Executive Producer Moses Znaimer. "I said: 'I don't think we're locked anymore into this notion of studios. I think it should be possible to create a building that can literally shoot itself.'"

"I know that is easy for me to say but it has taken a tremendous amount of application and openmindedness and the genius of our engineering teams."

The MuchMusic (and City-tv) facilities are moving, and basically down the road, to 299 Queen Street West in Toronto, "where music, art and fashion intersect to form a modern day cultural mecca." It was a move made necessary by a period of intensive and explosive growth.

In less than three years, Canada's first satellite video music channel is the first Canadian pay television service to be hooked into over one million households, coast to coast, as of this month. A success story generated from those former cramped, but vibrant, studios.

"We are supremely conscious that the mood we had at 99 Queen Street East is something precious," admits Znaimer, "and very fundamental to the kind of product the public sees." Hence in order to maintain the street-wise and cosmopolitan image their viewers have come to expect, and while resisting all financial temptation to relocate on a suburban piece of land, staying "downtown" was essential.

"The executive committee of the company understood maintaining that mood had a lot to do with being in a core, Znaimer contends. "If you wanted to position yourself as a television station that is accessible to people and that is reflecting a downtown scene. You can't pretend to do that on the end of a superhighway."

Originally built in 1914, the building that now houses the new MuchMusic studios (a term used very loosely - as Znaimer says, "We have no studios left in the conventional sense.) also contains many other media related companies, including the offices of True North Records and VideoFact among others, as well as broadcasting the City-tv and MusiquePlus programs.

"You can either say the building has no studios at all or you can conceivably say this building is one huge studio," Znaimer suggests, and therefore, is believed to be the first broadcast centre of its kind in the world.

The economics, and pressure, of efficiency have displaced the classic structure of "... a building that can literally shoot itself ..."

the studio, "and it has long made me curious why and how it is that the business got into the notion that programs were invented in little boxes called studios.

"I think some of that has to do with the illusion of cost. You have the office in the front and the sound stage in the back. Now that had a lot to do with the technology of the day, where picking up sound was such an awesome technological thing," he explains.

"So difficult, that in those days you did it in a perfect, controllable environment." Creating, in the process, what Znaimer calls artificial television, which was challenged in 1971 with the introduction of his City-tv.

"It costs a lot of money to make artificial television," he continues. "Because you not only have to lock that investment into a certain place but you then need the kinds of staffs required to operate it."

Today, in the new building, cameras are connected to "hydrants" - an extension of Znaimer's "studio in the streets" approach to on-location shooting - of which there are 38 located throughout. Thus dispensing with the need for a "hard wire" studio operation; along with its staffs, lighting structures and

"We have 38 taps but we don't have 38 cameras . . . we just send for those that are necessary for the work," he explains. "The signal is sent to a flexible, assignable control room that is not hard wired to the President's office studio. It's assignable to whatever signal source needs it. The producers can process those signals and take whatever they need. That's a very new concept."

Znaimer hopes this concept will maintain the balance of informal and yet realistic television, something obtained at his former facilities. "This actually suits our economics and allows us, by saving a lot of money in our approach to technology, to redirect that money and pay the extra for us to stay downtown," he concludes.

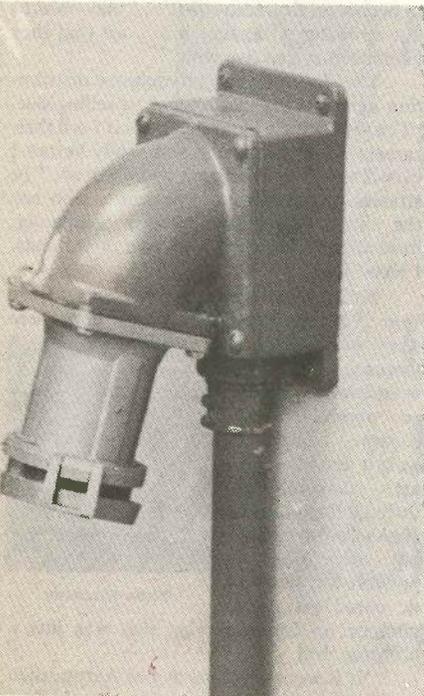

A shot of the new and spacious interior that allows for the full use of the building as one of the most up-to-date and modern studios in the world.

CURRENT RECORDS

Current Entertainment celebrates 5th Anniversary

by Graeme Boyce

This month marks Current Records' fifth year in the business of making music, "of creating art" says label President Gerry Young, and since the release of their first album, success and subsequent growth now necessitate an office move and the hiring of additional staff.

"Another example of belief, expansion and a commitment to continue," boasts Young, whose house has served as office space for those inaugural years of development. Certainly, the moves will come as a great relief to his present staff.

"Because it is such a small office," states Publicity Manager Ellen Woodger, "that has really hindered things. Right now, everyone just grabs for the phone, and does their own typing. I'd like to get more involved in direct publicity, which now, because of the staff shortages, there just hasn't been the time." Young assures that a new secretary will join them in their new offices.

Ellen Woodger

Current Records is actually an amalgamation with Current Management and both lie under the Current Entertainment Corporation banner, which also encompasses the publishing arm: Current Sounds. According to Young future plans include the formation of Current Street, Current Metal and Current Films, "but I think the films will come before the metal," he adds.

The combination of label and management has lessened the friction usually associated with the decisions that surround an artist's career, suggests Velma Buckley, who has assumed the responsibilities of Product Manager, following five years with Attic Records, where she held the position of Production Coordinator. "We have a lot of control," explains Buckley. "We don't have to argue back and forth with managers. We just do what we feel is best for our artists, and if we feel like it's not going to be the most advantageous thing to do for the artists, then we just don't do it."

Those sentiments are echoed by Larry

Fitzpatrick, formerly the road manager for The Parachute Club and M+M. He now tackles the various problems associated with artist relations and tours for Current. "We're an artist oriented company," he begins.

"One of the things that attracted me when I first met Gerry (Young) was his desire to 'go out' for the artists: to give them a better contract, to give them a better piece, to give them control; because they're the reason we're here.

"And we are here between them and their distributor," he elaborates, "which gives them that extra little buffer zone and protection, in terms of what their interests are creatively to those from the business standpoint."

For each record released, Young negotiates individual distribution agreements "to the highest bidder." Yet each day he walks the fine line between his artists' art and what must be considered a "commercial" venture for those several distributors. Over the years, as evidenced by the label's success, Young has done well for both artist and marketer.

Although Young admits an international hit has eluded him so far, no one can accuse him of not trying. The albums he has released are world-class efforts, recorded with internationally respected producers. But when Young speaks of "the bottom line", several factors are considered primary.

One, that he will continue to make "good" records, and two, that he won't "sell out". Thus, his basic philosophy is to combine art with international possibilities.

"When you've got a John Oates or a David Lord involved, you're dealing with the most talented people in the world in pop music," assures Young. "You can't help but to make good records."

However, when asked about sales of such product, he replies: "I don't look at the public as being a bellweather of either talent or art. If I did, if retail was the only angle, then I would sign nothing but heavy metal bands. Because I'd be able to tour the bands and I'd be able to sell records without getting on the radio. But I make records for radio and with international possibilities."

Again, if Young did not have the track record of gold and platinum albums, Juno Awards, and international tours, then future distribution deals would indeed be jeopardized, but they are not. "I don't sign anybody just because I think I'll make money off them. I'm not in the business to make money.

"These are artists I'm dealing with and I want to turn out what is considered good art, . . . hopefully good retail too. But art is important, otherwise there's no point in doing it. I'm an art patron, and I'm sympathetic to their art."

Young's backing investors also agree, says Young. "There are a lot of people who really don't like metal, and they don't want to hear it on the radio either . . . they want to put up better art against it . . . art that they like and they can live with."

The idea of signing an exclusive distribution agreement is tantamount to selling out. "I'm restricting a band's chances if I sell their careers down the tube to somebody before I even know that I'm going to sign them," he stresses. "The other businessmen, who run the other independent record companies, have already sold their souls and their bands. I have not."

Buckley has seen the other side of the coin. "I can quite honestly say that there were a number of times where we would release licensed product from Europe - and it wasn't a major Attic act - it would go through their normal channels at A&M but there was no possible way that Attic could get A&M pumped up for something that was just a licensing deal.

"If it were a Nylons or Lee Aaron, then you'd have their support, but personally I don't feel you can depend on them to do your job for you."

By not putting all his "eggs in one basket", Young has found the majors willing to support his projects on an individual basis, by not only overly taxing their marketing and promotion teams solely with his material. Buckley agrees. "We find that RCA put a lot of effort into both The Parachute Club and M+M albums, and I really think if, at the same time, we were to give them Alta Moda I would be worried about Alta Moda."

Which harkens back to what Young says about signing exclusive deals. "We haven't gone after the cash advance," he declares. "We've been asked many times by many

"... I don't look at the public as being a bellweather of either talent or art ..."

Gerry Young

labels and distributors for production development deals, but the kinds of dollars that are being suggested ... it's like this, if I needed a couple of hundred grand ... but I don't.

"It's not fair and it's not good enough. Now ... if they said a million dollars, I might do it then. Two hundred thousand? That's not going to change the development of this company one way or another. It's not going to make or break a thing.

"But," he concludes, "a million dollars would!"

Alta Moda

Colin Thursten, who has produced albums for Duran Duran and David Bowie, will be recording this duo's debut, expected later this year, to be distributed by CBS. The group comprises Norman Orenstein and Molly Johnson, who appears on the latest Breeding Ground single Happy Now I Know.

Looking ahead with new acts for the future . . .

The closest Gerry Young admits he got to achieving a "big killer hit worldwide" was with M+M's Black Stations White Stations. With The Parachute Club's Rise Up a close second. Both of those acts have had follow-up albums since then, The World Is A Ball and Small Victories respectively, yet both have seemingly "flown the coop".

M+M will be moving to the U.K. later this month "to further their career" but will continue to be managed by Young (Current Management) and appear on Current Records in Canada. While The Parachute Club have since formed their own management firm: The Big Jump Company, headed by Lorraine Segato and Billy Bryans. Current maintains worldwide recording and publishing rights however.

Therefore, several new acts have been introduced to the roster, now numbering seven. They are Strange Advance, Alta Moda, DoubleDare, Mystery Romance, and the most recent acquisition Sandii And The Sunsetz.

Strange Advance

No strangers to the Canadian music scene, Darryl Kromm and Drew Arnott have released the critically and commercially acclaimed albums Worlds Away and 2W0, which featured the hits We Run and Home Of The Brave for the Capitol label. However, the band is now in Toronto recording their third album, for Current, expected this September and perhaps a return to the Capitol label.

Sandii And The Sunsetz

Following a meeting with Gerry Young in Jamaica, where the band had played with The Parachute Club, this Japanese group release their new album, Rhythm Chemistry, in Japan and Australia this month. Current has signed the band worldwide, excluding those two territories, and is now shopping for a distribution deal.

Mystery Romance

This is the first band signed to Current without ever having been seen - just from hearing their demos. Obviously, it was in the grooves, so to speak. This Calgary-based quartet will begin recording their debut this August.

Double Dare

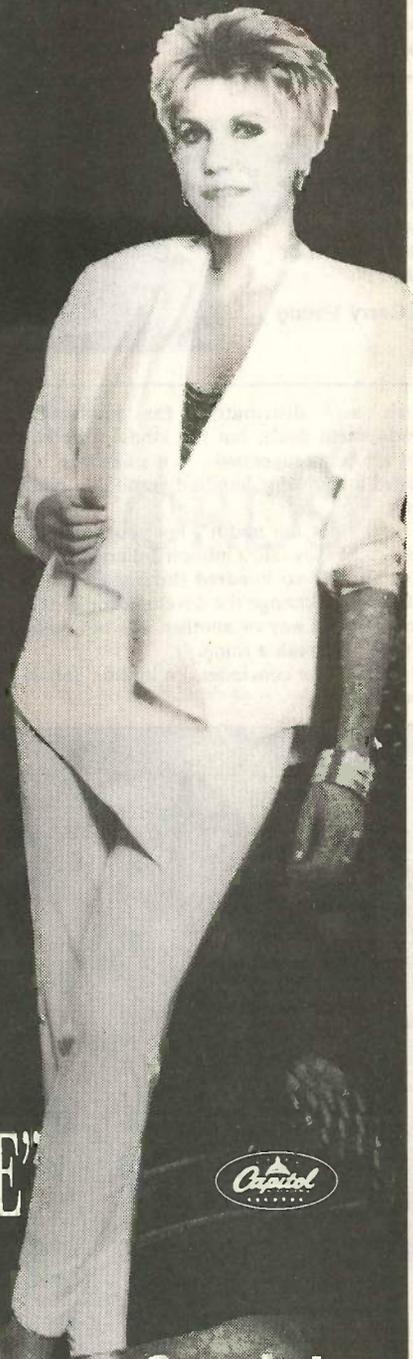

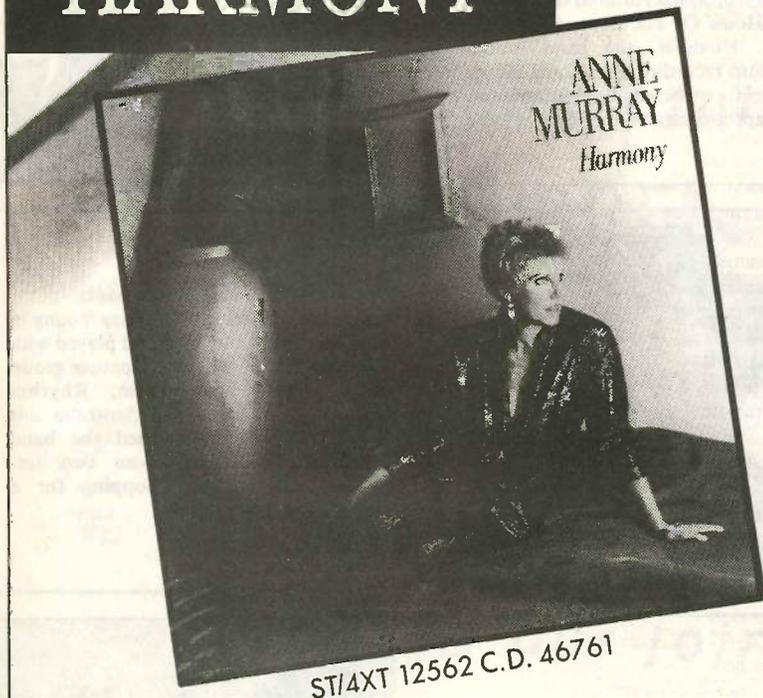

Although their self-titled debut did not fare as commercially well as they, and the label, had hoped, Gerry Young is confident of Andy McLean's songwriting capabilities, who with vocalist Wendy Lands comprise this band. They are presently recording demos for a follow-up album.

Harold MacIntyre with Big Jim of CFGM Radio, at the recent Waylon Jennings and George Jones concert in Toronto. MacIntyre guested on the show.

Good Bros to CFGM playlist

Gary O'Brien reports one of the additions to the CFGM playlist this week is High Rollin' Heart, the Savannah single by The Good Brothers. They're in good company with Forever And Ever by Randy Travis, Tanya Tucker's Somebody To Care, and Chains Of Gold by Sweethearts Of The Rodeo. Gary's Pick this week is Ricky Van Shelton's Crime

COMSTOCK RECORDS

Of Passion. T. Graham Brown's Don't Go To Stangers tops the chart this week with Eddy Raven's You're Never Too Old For Young Love, new to the chart at No. 19, and Forever And Ever by Randy Travis, new at No. 20.

Murray McLauchlan to Newfoundland

Murray McLauchlan, last year's Big Country Male Vocalist, is currently on tour of Newfoundland. He plays Stephenville A&CC (Apr. 27), Corner Brook A&CC (28), Goose Bay (29), Churchill Falls (30), Labrador West A&CC (May 1), Labrador (2), Port Saunders (4), St. Anthony (5), Gander A&CC (7), Grand Falls A&CC (8), Marystown (9), St. John's A&CC (10), and Carbonear (11). There is no news on a record release or label deal for Murray at press time. He is being managed by Joanne Smale Productions.

Dick Damron renews with RCA

Dick Damron reports that he has renewed his contract with RCA through the end of 1989. He has been with RCA since 1977 and previous to that, was with them on a 5-yr. contract from 1963 through 1968. A new single and an instrumental album are in the works.

Last Fairytale released by Al Dupuis

New Brunswick native Al Dupuis is set to release the first of a series of singles which he recorded recently at Nashville's Chelsea Studio. Initial single release is The Last Fairytale. The sessions were produced by Stan Campbell and features work by session leader Jack Eubanks of Alabama fame, saxman Sam Johnson, and strings by the Nashville Symphony Orchestra. All songs are Dupuis originals with release on the Toronto-based Elite label.

CHAM promoting Country Jamboree

The Leman Brothers Muscular Dystrophy Foundation and Hamilton's 820 CHAM are presenting the 6th Annual Country Jamboree at Hamilton's Teamster's Hall on May 3rd. Featured entertainers this year include A.J. Karmen, The Stoker Brothers, Wayne Evans, The Canadian Country Co-Op Band, and more. Proceeds from the event will go to help in the fight against Muscular Dystrophy.

Katty Mattea single not released

Although the U.S. released Katty Mattea single, You're The Power, is climbing major charts across Canada, the Mercury single has yet to be released here. However, her album, Walk The Way The Wind Blows, has been released in Canada. In view of the success of the single in the U.S., Canadian programmers have carted this track from the album, for inclusion in their programming schedule.

prise starter, T'Pau's Heart And Soul. Within two weeks, this kid has garnered base hits at CHOM, CKOI, FM96, CITI, CJAY, CKYX, AND KIK. Both T'Pau's agents, Virgin and A&M see a lot of promise over the season.

The crowd goes wild as hometown favourite, and first female player in the American League, Veronique Beliveau, gets her second single, I Can't Help It, hit. She is batting two for two this game, as her last single, Make A Move On Me, saw tremendous national acceptance, racking up sales in excess of 10,000 units. Adding to Veronique's average is the release of her brand new album, Borderline, which hit the field on Apr. 24.

An incredible smash double play! Cutting Crew's (I Just) Died In Your Arms, ranks in the Top Ten in every Canadian city, and has just reached No. 1 in the U.S.

Anchoring the teA&M is super slugger, Bryan Adams. Into The Fire, and its first single, Heat Of The Night, is one hit that is being felt worldwide. His stats are overwhelming at every format. Radio, retail, and video saturation is continuing the tradition of keeping Bryan Adams the most valuable player in every league.

Before we go to a commercial break, I'd like to take the opportunity to mention that it takes a combination of proven vets, mixed in with fresh new talent to get that winning edge.

Adams Heat clip included in A&M video package

A&M's Video Compilation No. 23, includes the music clip of Heat Of The Night by Bryan Adams. The video is in High Rotation on MuchMusic where it has moved up to the No. 2 position on the Top 30 after 6 weeks of charting.

The complete list of music clips on the A&M compilation are as follows:

Facts And Figures

The Adams album, Into The Fire, which includes the Heat Of The Night single, has made phenomenal moves up the RPM 100, where after only 5 weeks of charting is vying for the top position with U2's The Joshua Tree.
