CIRPA launches campaign for MIDEM Canada Stand

Fresh from another successful MIDEM Canada Stand at the second Latin American and Caribbean Music Market in Miami (Aug. 25-28), CIRPA is mounting a heavy promotion campaign to signal the importance of MIDEM's upcoming international music trade show to members and hopefully to recruit new members.

MIDEM's 33rd fair and conference will be held in Cannes France from Jan. 24 through 28.

Mary Vratsidis, Canada Stand coordinator, points out that the annual gathering in Cannes "brings together the world's independent music industry to make contacts, license masters, secure international distribution and acquire or sell publishing rights." Last year, MIDEM Europe attracted 11,000 delegates from more than 90

Full Monty Live takes off at Toronto's Yonge St. HMV

"It's going to be outrageous," warns publicist Joanne Smale, "See the final scene of the movie recreated in the window of HMV." Smale was referring to the video release of The Full Monty Live and the release of BMG's CD soundtrack. Following the performance in the window of HMV's 333 Yonge Street store in Toronto, fans were able to compete to do their own "full monty" for a variety of prizes.

On a first come, first served basis, while supplies lasted, each purchaser of the video on Aug. 18, received a complimentary pair of official Full Monty boxer shorts. "And", continues Smale, "each CD purchaser received The Full Monty g-string."

The Full Monty, which stars six middle-aged men who were dramatically effected by Sheffield's closing steel mills and who turned to alternate methods of earning income, was nominated for four Academy Awards for best picture, best director, best screenplay written directly for the screen and best original musical or comedy score.

Lilith Fair to London for first European date

With the initial success of its current North American tour, Lilith Fair organizers have secured a Sept. 23rd date at London's Royal Albert Hall. This one-off show is apparently the first step in Lilith Fair's plans for a full European tour next year.

Lilith Fair founder Sarah McLachlan will be sharing the London stage with Sinéad O'Connor, Alison Moyet, Beth Orton, N'Dea Davenport and Lisa Loeb

The layout of the Royal Albert Hall won't accommodate the fair's three stages, so all the artists will be performing on one stage. And, in keeping with their commitment to charity, £1 from every ticket sold will be donated to a local non-profit organization.

The Fair's 57 date tour closed down with the Aug. 31 show at Vancouver's Thunderbird Stadium.

WALT SAYS . . . !

with Elvira Caprese

If the shoe fits!!! It doesn't matter if the shoe fits, it's amazing how many people will squeeze into it, or convince others that they are the subject matter even if initials aren't mentioned. Over the years, demands for retractions have added to the importance of this little cartoon that we have been doing every week for the past 35 years. To those of you who read it . . . enjoy! But don't read into it! Even I didn't know who the third choice was, he might have been at the top of my list. In the end . . . it will be a business decision. The best guy for the job will win. The best people will stay on and move ahead! Unless this isn't a real business . . . (EC: Don't start!!!) . . . the cream will always rise to the top!

Is DT REALLY retiring??? When news came down the pipe that DT was backing away from the business he was so much a part of for almost 30 years, there was a lot of reading between the lines. He's one of those top bananas who would never fit into a corporate structure where he would be a second banana. So, it would look like the honourable thing to do would be to retire to spend more time with his wife. Yeah! Sure! No matter how it all adds up, he's a chiquita banana man. (EC: Too many bananas, not enough monkeys! He's always spoken very kindly of you!!!)

Nobody asked . . . but!!! Can you name the Canadian singer who starred in a stage production with another Canadian singer who went on to fame and fortune? Well, the star of the show is now starting to make inroads in her writing and singing and performing. Watch for this very talented Canadian to start to show up. Based in Nashville, Joannie Wilson is starting to make a noise! (EC: You ol' starmaker you!!! What other careers have you launched???)

Retail morals??? That big box American we-have-everything chain is displaying a rare morals code, well, rare in record retailing anyway. They won't sell the new Marilyn Manson CD, because of the front cover graphic. Can you imagine . . . morals instead of money? (EC: That leaves more money for the other guys!!! I hope this isn't some foreign directive that has its influence on Canada!!!)

Party! Party! Party!!! That slush fund for employee party events was all blown in one BIG party. It's all gone . . . not a soo left for the final curtain call. Talk about crying in your beer. There wasn't a dry eye in the joint as everybody said their goodbyes, until one guy shouted out "rumours of our demise are greatly exaggerated," and then the party really kicked into gear. (EC: It ain't over until you know who sings!!!) She RSVP's regrets!

Blockbuster midnite madness!!! There's no doubting the power of videos, which has really taken the lead in the entertainment sales field, and if you've got both videos and CDs, you're a big BIG winner. Blockbuster proved that this past week when they were the first to sell the Titanic video with a midnite door-opener promotion. Actually they had been selling the video the week before the street date, reserving copies for customers. The result was having more than 100,000 videos sold that morning in their 325 stores across Canada. Blockbuster's Pat Gibbons was the big star of the campaign, getting lots of media attention and television interviews. By the way, Blockbuster is the big winner in the Premiere Video Awards, winning the award as national retailer of the year. The awards show is scheduled for Sept. 26 at the Regal Constellation Hotel on Toronto's airport strip. (EC: Good looks and marketing smarts pays off!!!)

Is the door closed??? That major operation rumoured to be on the block for more than a few years, has thrown the industry a curve by trying to get back into the business it divested itself of a few years ago. Does that mean there's more money in

Fosse goes to Broadway for Broadhurst opening

Garth Drabinsky's latest theatrical triumph, Fosse: A Celebration In Song and Dance opens on Broadway on Jan. 14 at the Broadhurst Theatre. Previews begin Dec. 26.

Fosse had its world premiere to critical acclaim in Toronto (RPM - Aug. 24/98) at the Ford Centre for the Performing Arts for a six week run (July 16 - Aug. 29), and will begin performances at Boston's Colonial Theatre (Sept. 8-27), followed by the Ahmanson Theatre in Los Angeles (Oct. 9 - Dec. 6) before heading to Broadway.

Featuring a cast of 36 Toronto and Broadway dancers, the Livent production of Fosse includes rarely seen dance and musical numbers from the late choreographer's earliest works as well as many numbers that have never been seen onstage before, including Take Off With Us from the motion picture All That Jazz; Cool Hand Luke, originally performed on the Bob Hope Special in 1987; Alley Dance from the motion picture My Sister Eileen; and Mein Herr from the motion picture Cabaret.

Fosse stars the choreography of Fosse, as choreographed by Tony Award-winner Ann Reinking (Chicago), with choreography recreated by Chet Walker. The production is directed by Richard Maltby Jr. and co-directed by Reinking. Gwen Verdon, Fosse's wife and the legendary Broadway star for whom he created Damn Yankees, Sweet Charity and Chicago, is artistic advisor to the production.

film, and if you have both film and music you can be a winner? So why would one company be trying to get rid of its film division in order to float its music division? (EC: It just takes one guy to show the way! It just takes a little bit of know-how to change everybody's mind!) CDs are flat you know! Everybody thinks they're round!

Filmy festival!!! They're back! That bunch that throws themselves a big party once a year and letting everyone else pay for it are indeed back, and doing it again! I bet it all began with good intentions. Too bad it got taken over by a bunch of groupies! (EC: Obviously you won't be invited back!!!) Don't bet on it! I understand the door is always open! They don't forget where they came from!

A hole in one or all??? A hole in one or all??? There's an interesting promotion going on with celebrity-packaged condoms blanketing the system. On the other hand forget it. What I heard would be a cruel joke. (EC: I can read between the lines on that one!!!)

New Releases

OSCAR LOPEZ - Latin
Seduction
Narada/Virgin-46140-F

Born in Santiago, Chile and now living in Calgary, 44-year old guitarist Lopez stamps his musical signature on this awesome display of Latin-influenced music, Latin-influenced, because even he is reluctant to label what he calls his "hybrid music." That Lopez spin is what adds to the entertainment value of this album which was RPM's "pick" album last week. He masterfully fuses rock and blues with a Latin beat, a very unusual mix, which gives each track an interesting and memorable identification. Although the album is instrumental, there's a bonus track (14) where Lopez shows his vocal side. With Lopez primarily on nylon string guitar, he was joined by an incredible and highly-polished group of professional musicians, including his core ensemble of bassist Brent Gubbels, drummer Randall Stoll and percussionist Raphael Geronimo, with guests Michael Simpson on keys, Qui Xia He on Chinese pipa (flute), accordionist Douglas Schmidt and cellist Eugene Osadchy. Material written by Lopez, who has resided in Canada since 1979. -WG

REGGAE AROUND THE WORLD - Reggae
Various Artists
Putumayo World Music-142

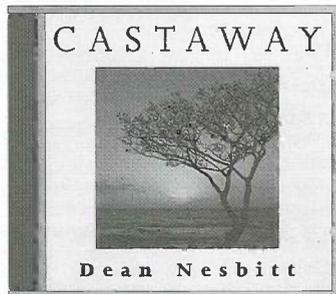

Billed as "a celebration of the global impact of reggae on the soundscape of the globe," this is a priceless collection of Jamaica reggae from artists who obviously were influenced by the music of Bob Marley and Peter Tosh. These aren't copycat artists however, they have a distinctive styling of their own, as with South Africa's Lucky Dube and his original We Love It that links music with music, not drugs. More interesting spins on reggae come by way of Australia's aboriginal band, Blekbalá Mujik, with the wierdly beautiful sound of the didgeridoo; Brazil's Zeca Baleiro; Sudanese native Rasha, now living in Spain, who has an incredible backing of not only the oud as well as violins, saxes and accordions; Nigeria's Majek Fashek; Jamaican guitarist Ernest Ranglin; the creole reggae of Paris-based Kreyol Syndikat; Ghana's Rocky Dawuni; Jamaica's Burning Spear and perhaps the best track, Marley's No Woman, No Cry by Peter

Rowan & Friends, recorded live at Nashville's Music Row Nightclub with Mark O'Connor on fiddle, Jerry Douglas on dobro, Roy Huskey Jr. on upright bass and Kenny Malone on drums. The entertainment value on this release goes without question. -WG

DEAN NESBITT - Instrumental
Castaway
Sagittarius-27362

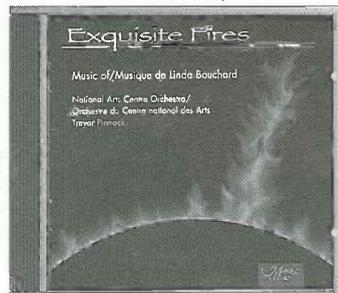

Billed as "a modern renaissance man" Toronto keyboardist Nesbitt is somewhat unique in that he plays keyboard entirely by ear, working out his compositions and recording them without writing down the music." Interesting too is that Nesbitt admits that some of his compositions "don't have a particular story behind them." But he does get inspiration from interesting happenings in his life, like the title track where he conjures up an aural vision of fishing in a quiet lake before dawn with only the occasional sound of the loon as an interruption. Also key is Dayliner, featuring the syncopation of the clickety-click of the train that becomes memorable. Instrumental music, quite often becomes boring and somewhat irritating because of its non-substance approach. Nesbitt's very background and his apparent ability to perceive the interest factor, creates a bonding with his listener. This isn't elevator music, although any one of the tracks would make for an interesting trip. Strawboss, Bittersweet, All Through Time and All That I Love also convey Nesbitt musings that have an immediate impact. The lead piano, keyboard work of Nesbitt and David Nelson (on some tracks), are enhanced by the soprano and alto saxophones of Demo Cates, lead and bass flutes of Susan Piltch, Clare Scholtz on English horn and oboe, drummer Bob Sibony and bassist Lionel Williams. Recorded at various Toronto studios. Call publicist Jane Harbury at 416-466-5020 for more info. -WG

NATIONAL ARTS CENTRE ORCHESTRA - Classical
Exquisite First/Music Of Linda Bouchard
Marquis Classics-77471-81218-F

Here are five symphonic works by a young woman who would seem to be well on her way into the heart of classical music oeuvre. One wishes it were possible to be happy over the prospect. One should encourage young talent but encouragement must not be without suitable admonition. Based upon what's heard here, the compositions of Mlle. Bouchard are not unlike those of another Canadian composer of some years ago. Does anyone recall Neil Chotem? (We're not even sure of our spelling) He used to be big on CBC Radio with fanciful compositions bearing cockamamie titles such as Fuguee Woogie and the like. After listening to them, one wondered just what they were all about. We feel the same about Exquisite Fires et al. It would be pleasant and polite to suggest that there's a certain sound and fury about them but to do so would beg the addenda that they signify nothing. Sorry. -BW

VARIOUS ARTISTS - Jazz
Best Of Smooth Jazz
Vol. 2 Under The Covers, Vol. 3 One-On-One
Vol. 4 For Lovers - Warner Bros-46870-P

To this point there have been four CDs released under the umbrella title of Smooth Jazz. We weren't privileged with Volume One, but the three later ones have been brought to our attention. They're filled with sound musical values by a whole host of artists and, in the main, are uh...satisfactory. But, they're most certainly not jazz, smooth or otherwise. The A&R people seem to have confused smooth with bland and packaged a collection of tracks dangerously close to elevator music. Now, having written that, we draw your attention to track seven of album IV and k.d.lang singing Skylark. It's exquisite and the standard against which all other versions of the Hoagy Carmichael/Johnny Mercer classic must now be measured. Sorry, no Cancon. -BW

RED AUTUMN FALL - Pop Rock
Departure
pop guru sound 50751

Originally from Calgary, the band comprised of Simeon Ross, Rich Ragany, Jackie Duncan and Gail Thompson earned themselves a true western following. Now based in Toronto the band is looking to cultivate that into an entire Canadian following, possibly more. RAF has just released their debut album (Aug. 11) on the pop guru sound label headed up by industry veteran Graham Stairs. Stairs was responsible for the production of the album along with the band. After six years of performing together the band has reached some very impressive marks in their career. RAF had the opportunity to open for Oasis at the Commodore Ballroom in Vancouver, they were the first winners of the MuchMusic Internet Battle Of The Bands at NXNE '97. They will be performing across western Canada to coincide with the album release. The first single, Josephite, now at radio The video was featured Aug. 9th on Terry David Mulligan's MuchWest. The album which is MAPL was recorded at Soundwerx Studios. -JI

RONNIE LAWS - Light Jazz
Portrait Of The Isley Brothers
Harvest For The World
Blue Note-7243-57875-F

As part of Blue Note's continuing Cover Series, Ronnie Laws pays homage to the compositions of the Isley Brothers. His mastery of reeds and woodwinds is much in evidence as he swoops around and soars over melodies transformed by the arrangements of Kevin Flourney into late night de facto disco. And it works, proving once again that musical enjoyment is in the ear and possibly feet of the listener. -BW

ALBUM PICK

GINETTE RENO - Pop
Love Is All
Attic-1513-J

Canada's top pop diva of the late '60s and mid-'70s, Ginette Reno makes her long overdue and a triumphant return to the English Canada market. It was in December of 1969 when Reno had her first chart single on the RPM 100 with Don't Let Me Be Misunderstood, followed by Beautiful Second Hand Man and more and a number of successful albums. Of course she was much bigger in Quebec, and one of the first Quebecers to bridge the English/French gap, even winning Juno Awards (known then as the RPM Gold Leaf Awards), in 1969 as Top Female Vocalist and in 1971 and 1972 as Outstanding Performance by a Female Vocalist. She also won a number of ADISQ Awards and honours in France as well. This package is vintage Reno, and it's like a breath of fresh air to cuddle up to her vocal properties which exude such warmth and genuine emotion. No matter what her subject, Reno sings with conviction, she lives the experience of the song message, particularly on three Shirley Eikhard writings; Once In A While, Cold Enough To Snow and You Keep Me Believing and Dan Hill's Waiting Just For You. Reno also does a masterful job on Heart And Mind, written by Luc Plamondon and Romano Musumarra which was adapted into English by Carol Weisman. But don't overlook the exquisite Reno presentation of Stronger Than Our Blues, which was written by Kit Hain. Most of the album was produced by Steve Skinner. Musumarra produced Heart & Mind and Bernard Estardy produced You Keep Me Believing. -WG

Dean Nesbitt: a modern renaissance man

Dean Nesbitt is described as "a modern renaissance man with interests in music, painting, writing, business and the outdoor life . . . a husband and father, pianist, composer, self-taught painter, author and lawyer."

Nesbitt has a Bachelor of Arts and Bachelor of Civil Law, both from McGill University, he's a Member of the Bar of Quebec and The Law Society of Alberta, a Member of the Canadian Bar Association, a Certificate, Owner-President Management Program, Harvard Business School, not the normal education and qualifications of a songwriter/performer, who, by the way doesn't read music. Add to that past and present directorships of 15 or more corporations, educational, hospital, church and other charitable organizations, and one might ask why would anyone want to enter the stressful world of a songwriter/performer, and why instrumental music?

"I guess it's what I do . . . I love instrumental music," counters Nesbitt, who recently released, Castaway, his third album of instrumental music. He continues, "Years ago I remember reading about a woman who wrote a book who said 'I wrote this book because I wanted to read it.' So, I guess I would say the same about this recording."

Nesbitt plays keyboards (piano, synthesizer, MIDI) by ear. In 1979 when he was living in Montreal, Nesbitt was doing a lot of work with the blind. "My favourite keys are the black or the raised notes. Because of the analogy of the raised keys to Braille, I thought I would be able to teach piano to blind people because they could always find, by the raised keys, the starting chord."

Nesbitt became quite involved with the blind organization, and it was suggested that he produce an album to raise money for the organization. That album was appropriately titled On The Black Keys and By Ear. The album artwork featured a painting by Nesbitt, who happens to be a self-taught painter.

Nesbitt is not visually challenged. "I thought that would be one of the worst afflictions and that's how I got involved in the first place."

Nesbitt recalls that his parents gave him piano lessons at age seven, and perhaps unknowingly offers a bit of advice for parents. "I still have a piece of music from them saying 'please don't play it over for Dean because he just does it by ear and doesn't read this.' They realized that I just wasn't interested in that route for me and I attribute my parents to my still playing today. I think if they had forced it, I might have lost interest, possibly."

To keep it legal, Nesbitt hired a copyright student to print the music so he would have the printed music available for both his first and his second record, Ocean Rain, a commercial album released in 1980.

Nesbitt says "I always have a tune in my head somewhere." He recalls that All That I Love, a track on his new album, "the song that started it all, was literally inspired by a call from out of the country, from a member of my family, and families are important to me, so after the call I had the basics for that tune, sat down at the piano and developed it further."

Castaway, the title track came about through a friend of his who owns Castaway Fishing Expeditions in Toronto who took Nesbitt on a fishing trip. "It was early in the morning and that amazing quiet and the sound of the water and the Loons inspired that tune."

Interesting too is how Nesbitt organized his recording sessions which were recorded at various studios in Toronto. Not having charts for his session musicians, his arranger David Nelson printed out charts on the computer which he was able to give to the musicians who comprised oboist and English horn player Clare Scholtz, Demo Cates on soprano and alto saxophones, bassist Lionel Williams, drummer Bob Sibony, and Nelson who also provided some lead keyboard work.

Most of the recording was done at David Nelson's studio, Orchestral Illusions. "For All That I Love, we needed a concert grand piano, so went around the corner to McClear Pathé." Number 9 Sound Studios were used to lay down the drum and bass tracks.

It took two years to record Castaway. "I wrote

All That I Love in the summer of '96, and there was a little hiatus until I got my executive producer (Gene Evans) and so forth . . . it was over a two year period."

Nesbitt doesn't perform on the concert hall circuit, but he does perform on occasion. He recalls that in 1978 when he was performing as a solo keyboardist in a resort in Switzerland, he met Greta Garbo. "She was in the hotel and requested I play a few of her favourite songs. "I was able to play them for her, which was kind of fun, and I joined her at her table afterwards for an interesting conversation."

Continuing to sing the praises of instrumental music, Nesbitt suggests this type of music is what people "like to listen to at home and relax to in the home environment, rather than going out to see it performed." He credits publicist Jane Harbury for gaining the ear of radio programmers.

Surprisingly, radio has found Castaway to be radio friendly, with several tracks being aired at various radio stations across Canada. The album is released on the Sagittarius label and is available through 1-800-JOE-RADIO and at Toronto's Song & Script and HMV's superstore at 333 Yonge Street. Harbury can be contacted at 416-466-5020, fax 416-466-3424.

EZ Rock 97.3FM scores a first for a Toronto radio station by airing multilingual jingles. The station's general manager Marc Paris explains "in radio terms, these are the short songs that identify and sell the benefits of the station." The series of multilingual jingles in French, Italian, Spanish and Cantonese, were launched on Aug. 26 as part of the station's new fall season. "No other station has done this before," says Paris. "But we felt it was time to recognize the reality of the Toronto marketplace. This is a way to connect with them and acknowledge their culture." The lyrics of the jingles alternate between English and one other language, concluding with the line "The songs keep us together." EZ Rock ranks fourth in Toronto against the key demographic of adults 25-54.

Legendary Max Ferguson has announced his retirement from radio after 52 years as "master satirist, philosopher and prankster." He signs off the air on his Saturday morning show on Sept. 5. "They tell me this show has been on the air longer than any other," says Ferguson. "You know on one hand I feel as though I started yesterday, on the other hand I believe them. It's simply time to relax." Leading up to the last edition of The Max Ferguson Show, Take Five with Shelagh Rogers will honour Ferguson, his career and "diamond-sharp" wit on Friday Sept. 4 during its request hours (10 am to Noon: 10:30 am NT). Ferguson was born on Feb. 10, 1924 in Durham, England but lived most of his life in London, Ontario where he attended the University of Western Ontario. After working at London radio station CFPL, he joined CBC Halifax on Dec. 6, 1946 as an announcer, newscaster and host. He created Old Rawhide among other characters in 1947. Rawhide was so popular that CBC transferred Ferguson to Toronto in 1949 and put it on the national network, where it remained for 17 years. In addition to being a master broadcaster, Ferguson is also a published author. His book, And Now . . . Here's Max, won the Stephen Leacock Medal for Humour in 1968.

Sphere Clown Band back to Asia by popular demand

Pioneering Canadian children's performance/recording group Sphere Clown Band returned to Asia by popular demand for family concerts in Singapore beginning Sept. 2.

The popular Toronto-based group is staged its Ontario send-off concert at Summerfest '98 in Oakville's Nottinghill Park on Aug. 16. Toronto will welcome them back at Canada's top annual literacy event, The Word On The Street on Sept. 27 on the Gap KidStage at Queen Street West at Beverly.

The 1998 tour is being presented by Act 3 Theatrics, Singapore's first professional theatre company, which is renowned for guiding children's theatre in Singapore by producing quality shows in schools and their own in-house theatre, as well as offering training for young artists at the Act 3 Drama Academy.

The band was last in Singapore the summer of 1997 where they drew capacity houses of school children and families in 21 school and public concerts.

The tour is in support of the band's fourth album, Clowntown, distributed in Asia by Ponycanyon Entertainment, the world's largest independent record distributor. Sphere Clown Band is Ponycanyon's first children's act and the only Canadian signing on the label. Clowntown has already garnered critical success, having won the U.S. Parent's Choice Foundation Approval and selection by the Canadian Children's Book Centre 1997 Our Choice Magazine.

The multi-talented band of singers, songwriters and instrumentalists has been criss-crossing Canada and the US since 1977, playing concert halls, festivals, fairs, schools and special events. In 1995, the band was Canada's only representative in Holland's Wereld Kinderfestival and the only Canadian children's act at Scotland's Edinburgh Festival Fringe where it was acclaimed as "dazzling colourful," "a magical experience," and "a cheerful delight."

The band's other albums haven't gone unnoticed. The first, I Can Do Anything, was a finalist for a Juno Award, and the second, Sharing, was certified gold (50,000 units), making the band only the eighth Canadian children's artist in history to achieve that mark.

The Asian tour is assisted by Canadian Heritage/FACTOR and Singapore Airlines.

COUNTRY

Country Hearts will perform live during Canadian Country Music Week at The Dakota Bar & Grill, 310 8th Avenue in Calgary. The Altona, Manitoba sister trio go on stage at 10 pm. The event is part of the Clear Across The Prairies, a night of Manitoba Music. Danny Schur, who heads up Agasea Records, the release label for Country Hearts, cautions that seating is limited for the Dakota showcase, so come early.

George Strait holds at #1 for the second consecutive week with True his latest MCA Nashville single. The track was taken from his album One Step At A Time.

Vince Gill is pushing for the top slot on the RPM Country 100 with his MCA Nashville single If You Ever Have Forever In Mind stalled at #1. Gill was in Toronto this past week for a Molson Amphitheatre date. He also dropped in on the final edition of Craven A Today's Country to pay tribute to the great job the crew of the syndicated series has been doing over the years, particularly Jan Cody, Alison Todd and host Greg Shannon. By the way Shannon is now with CMT doing on-camera work (see separate story on page 13).

Willie Nelson brings his smooth, fan friendly traditional country into the confused country youth-oriented market with the release of Teatro, an exceptional follow-up to his 1996 release of Spirit, his debut for the Island label. Unlike the acoustic-flavoured Spirit, the new album strikes like an electrical storm, utilizing doubled percussion tracks, with Wurliizer keyboards, a vibraphone, slide guitars and "other eclectic instruments." A big plus for this album is Nelson's teaming up with Emmylou Harris who is guest vocalist on 11 of the 14 tracks. "There was talk about getting some backup singers," says Nelson, "And I said, well, there's only one. So if we have to use several backup singers, let's just use Emmylou's voice several times. The fact that she sang on almost everything was just icing on the cake." Producer Daniel Lanois gathered together some pretty impressive guest musicians, including Cyril Neville, drummers Tony Mangurian (Luscious Jackson) and Victor Indrizzio (Scott Weiland Band). As well, Lanois plays on most of the tracks, joining what is described as "the Nelson Family troika" of Willie, his sister Bobbie on piano and keyboards, and mouth harp veteran Mickey Raphael. There isn't an unfriendly radio track on the album, although its expected that retail will be key in informing Nelson's fans that he's back and better than ever.

BMG's Dale Peters and Julie Calebrese dropped by the office, with an impressive packet of country product, particularly special media packages and cool promotions on releases by Alabama and Alan Jackson. Alabama's 41 Number One Hits which sells for $43.99 at retail has a $5.00 rebate coupon attached, which brings the album down to a more reasonable customer-friendly price. More than 500,000 units of the album were shipped in the U.S. and over 30,000 went to retail in Canada. A select number of country radio stations will be mounting contests for trips to Las Vegas where the band will be appearing in a special concert where they will be performing all 41 tracks during which they will be making several costume changes, which includes period costumes. A Limited Edition CD encased in a Harlequin booklet is also available and obviously a collector's item for Alabama fans. Alan Jackson's Canadian dates, Hamilton's Copps Arena (Oct. 3) and Ottawa's Corel Centre (4) heralds the release of his new Arista album, High Mileage. There's an interesting gas station tie-in with the Jackson release. Motorists filling up at one of the selected gas stations across the country will receive a free copy of the CD. For the Hamilton date, which is expected to be a concert in the round, more than 11,000 tickets have already been sold. It's expected that Jackson's current

Lumby and Richards to CISS-FM's morning show

Danny Kingsbury, program director of Toronto's CISS-FM, has announced that Jeff Lumby and Mike Richards will now front the station's morning show. The duo will handle wake-up duties from 5 am to 9 am Monday to Friday beginning Sept. 8.

Kingsbury stresses that listeners "will continue to hear plenty of today's hot new country music and will be treated to the upbeat, intelligent, topical and very humorous conversations and observations of the new hosts."

Changes at the station began last week with the departure of Cliff Dumas, who was part of the morning team with Larry Fedoruk and Jacquie Donaldson (RPM - Aug. 31/98). Dumas goes to air at CHAM on Sept. 8.

The 39-year old Lumby joins CISS after an eight-year association with Y-95 Hamilton where he hosted the morning show. He also held morning show positions in Montreal, Winnipeg and Edmonton over his 21-year radio career. Lumby was also a writer and performer on the children's television series Size Small.

Richards, who is 35, has been teamed with Lumby at Y-95 for the past two years. He is the creator of Headline Comedy, a nationally syndicated morning radio service. He has also held on-air positions on Toronto stations The FAN, CKFM and CHUM.

country hit, I'll Go On Loving You, will crossover. BMG will be targeting the A/C stations with the single next week. Jackson is also rumoured to be in the interview granting mood, which is rare for him. It won't be a one-on-one, more like a select number of radio people from across the country patched into a sort of conference call set-up.

Moncton's Denise Murray has gone through a make-over courtesy of Halifax salon owner Chris Cromwell who took most of a day transforming Murray from the once "easy on the eyes," Loggerhead recording artist, "to a stunning photo subject," says manager Keith Brown. "I always thought that Denise had the look of an indie country artist chic, but now she looks like one who's star is rising." Murray's extremely long hair had become something of a trademark, but because of the mass of hair and uniform darkness, taking a good photo was a big problem. Once the hair was right, the next step was a new wardrobe under the guidance of the Cassidy Group's Lara Cassidy. "The idea was to keep things clean and simple," continues Brown "and thanks to Denise's athletic condition and ideal proportions, it was easy finding plenty of great outfits right off the rack. The next day, Cassidy (doing makeup) and Cindy MacDonald (doing lighting and photography) went to work on Murray resulting in a photo shoot "that should have a major bearing on the singer's fortunes," continues Brown. "I knew she had great features, especially her eyes and mouth," says MacDonald, who makes her living shooting fashion models, "But after an eight-hour shoot, I'd have to say that Denise also is a hard worker with a great attitude. I would love to do more work with her." The new look will be an excellent hook for Murray's next single, I Love You Too Much, expected to go to radio shortly.

Prairie Oyster is in the final stages of getting their new Greatest Hits package ready to ship. One of the tracks features Randy Bachman on guitar. The album will be released on the ViK label.

Joel Feeney has a hit with the release of A Little Bit Of Your Love, the most added single this week, entering the chart at #55. The song was written by Feeney and Nashville writer Chris Farren, who also produced the self-titled Feeney album. Feeney gets half the credits for the lyrics and music, so the single qualifies as two-parts Cancon. The album will be in stores the day after Labour Day.

Tom Jackson is taking his show on the road across Canada in support of the Indigenous News

CMT boosts image with a new look and new hosts

Country Music Television (CMT) has announced a brand new fall line up sporting new programs, new hosts and brand new looks for some of its current shows.

Most notable is the addition to the fall schedule of Austin City Limits, which features the best music from country, blues and folk to rock 'n roll and bluegrass in an intimate concert setting. Since its debut 25 years ago, the show has presented performances by more than 500 of the world's top musicians.

The CMT Request Line will be hosted by Greg Shannon, who was the anchor for the popular Craven A Today's Country national syndicated radio show.

Four hosts have also been hired for its revamped CMT News Beat program.

The Songwriter series has been renamed One on One. CMT's program manager Ted Kennedy explains that this name "is more representative of the intimate style of the program, which takes an in-depth look at this country's most popular music artists and provides a collection of unique performances."

Network's new journalism training program. INN is to be housed at the Southport Centre, which is one hour west of Winnipeg. Training is provided through Media Arts and Education. 120 students per session will spend a total of 30 weeks training with 12 weeks in intensive, six days per week classroom study. The course begins Sept. 28. A further 18 weeks taking part in hands-on work will begin Jan 4 of next year. INN provides ongoing support to graduates of the program as they cover and report community news. Reports, documentaries and programs produced by graduates will be fed into the Indigenous News Network and to broadcasters across North America. "I think this program is a wonderful way for our community to change within and have an impact in the world market," says Jackson, who has already made an impact in St. John's, Haliux, Moncton, Quebec City, Ottawa, Thunder Bay and Winnipeg. He is scheduled to hit Vancouver on Sept. 8, followed by Prince George (9), Edmonton/Prince Albert (10), Whitehorse (11), and Yellowknife (12). Jackson is available for interviews by calling 403-287-2740.

T. Skorman Productions has added to its billing of being "the largest entertainment and event production company in the southeast," with the merger of Nashville's Mascioli Entertainment and Prestige Entertainment. The merger brings three new additions to the sales staff at Skorman: Paul Mascioli, president of the Nashville companies, Mike Mascioli, general manager of Prestige Entertainment and Rhonda Mascioli, executive assistant. Collectively, the Masciolis represent more than 40 years of experience in the entertainment industry. The Orlando-based (Florida) Skorman Productions handles all phases of entertainment, event production and show design, artist management and audio/video production.

Jennifer Johnston makes a bid for chart action with the release of her first single titled 800 Reasons. Johnston is getting a hand with her career from Bill Geffros, who is confident of breaking Johnston into the mainstream. The song was written by Nashville writers Jim Daddario, Thom Hardwell and Clay Davidson. The single was produced by Randall Prescott and Dan Paul Rogers and recorded at Prescott's Lakeside Studio in Clayton, Ontario with Pat McMakin doing board chores. Session musicians included Jon Park Wheeler on acoustic guitars, Mike Severs, electric guitars, fiddlemeister Don Reed, drummer Eddie Bayers, bassist John Dymond, Steve O'Connor on keys and Prescott on mouth harp. Background vocals were supplied by Rogers and Dan Peer. The single qualifies as two-parts Cancon (AP).
