INTRODUCTION

During the last two years many hundreds of new type valves and tubes have been introduced and in order to keep this book within reasonable dimensions only valves that are Octal, Loctal, Miniature (B7G) or Noval (B9A) based are included. Other based types such as B9G, B4 or UX5, etc., are now completely obsolete and deleted from this compilation.

If details of transmitting tubes and semi-conductors equivalents are desired, reference should be made to Bernards Radio Manual No. 158.

To use the table of commercial equivalents, find the valve or tube to be replaced in the index. Against the type there is shown a number denoting the line in the equivalents portion of the book in which this type appears; every other type on this line is a directly interchangeable equivalent.

When replacing a valve in the H.F. stages of a receiver re-alignment is desirable to ensure peak performance.

Attention is drawn to industrial types quoted in the Equivalents Table. These were developed to meet stringent demands where reliability is of the utmost importance. An example is type 6058, for normal working this may be replaced with a 6AL5 or an EB91, but if the equipment is intended for continuous working conditions an industrial long life type should be selected.

Many of the early Octal based valves are now becoming obsolete, and in many cases rather rare equivalents have been shown which are not necessarily identical electrical equivalents, it has been felt that this was necessary so as to enable effective substitution to take place, and it is suggested that with these early types, reference should be made to the five radio valve characteristic manuals published by this Company, so that a check can be effected on the actual operating characteristics and this will enable any minor changing of biasing, etc., to be corrected. The five books in question are:—

- Comprehensive Radio Valve Guide Book 1. (Bernards Radio Manual No. 100). Price 5/—.
- Comprehensive Radio Valve Guide Book 2. (Bernards Radio Manual No. 121). Price 5/—.
- Comprehensive Radio Valve Guide Book 3. (Bernards Radio Manual No. 143). Price 5/—.
- Comprehensive Radio Valve Guide Book 4. (Bernards Radio Manual No. 157). Price 5/—.
- Comprehensive Radio Valve Guide Book 5. (Bernards Radio Manual No. 178). Price 6/—.

The C.V. and Armed Forces sections will be found particularly useful when attempting to identify valves obtained from ex-Government sources.

It should be noted that valves with European type numbers are produced by many British manufacturers including Brimar, G.E.C., Ediswan, etc. Valves with American type numbers are also manufactured by a large number of British makers. Valves with European type numbers are produced in Europe, the Middle East, the Far East and South America and manufactured by a considerable number of different makers.

Australian and Japanese markets mainly utilise U.S.A. designations for their valve types.

We invite all authors, whether new or well established, to submit manuscripts for publication. The manuscripts may deal with any facet of electronics but should always be practical. Any circuit diagrams that may be included should have been thoroughly checked by the author. If you are considering trying your hand at writing this type of book we suggest that you let us have a short summary of the subject you intend to cover. We will then be able to let you know the size of book required and perhaps give you some advice on presentation.
