It's Western for KENWOOD and YAESU

Since we first introduced the "Yaesu Musen" brand name to the UK market in 1970 and more recently the "Kenwood" name for Amateur Radio equipment, you can buy with confidence where experience counts. We maintain links with the factories for spares though we maintain stocks also. We also have extensively equipped service facilities with extensive (and expensive!) test equipment. It's gratifying to hear that more and more discerning prospective customers object to the "knocking and false rumours" put around by our competitors. Remember, Kenwood is THE brand name throughout the world. It's only for UK that Trio is used. At 'WESTERN' we are not part of any illegal price ring and we are pleased to supply KENWOOD brand equipment known and recognised throughout the world.

"W.E." will not be under-cut! Prices forced down by "W.E." from the KENWOOD STABLE FOR... the discerning DX-OPERATOR... or... DX-SWL NOW ONLY £1099 for the TS-930s, ... and ... £279 for R-1000

Since, at 'WESTERN', we sell both Yaesu and Kenwood, we do not try to push a prospective purchaser into a particular brand of equipment... we have no "axe to grind" one way or the other. Our M.D. (He's spoilt! He just takes home what he fancies for a trial evaluation!) thought he'd try the top of ranges FT-1 and TS-930S. He promptly brought the FT-1 back to the stock room. Then he took the TS-930S. He hitched the FT-102 and TS930S up together but brought the FT-102 back. Said he'd got too old and lazy to bother with controls like PA Tune, PA Load, Pre-selection tuning, when the TS-930S does the same job with less knobs. The 'Noise Blanker' really cuts old "Woody Woodpecker" down to size! UA's will have to find something new to annoy a TS-930S owner.

How often have you found a rare DX-station only to discover he has a good pile-up too! With the '930' you just press "M In" and store his frequency in the memory and carry on tuning round or QSO elsewhere. Then to come back smack onto the rare DX you just select 'Memory' instead of the VFO, and up pops your DX station. Since there are 8 memory channels there are more than enough for anyone!

The R-1000 is an un-cluttered simple to use and excellent general coverage receiver. It brings the world to your fingertips in seconds. With its PLL synthesised receiver you get excellent stability and accuracy.
