FLAN YOUR FOLKS

Mohanish Sharma from Manchester thinks her brother Ashwini (right) looks silly, and would look even sillier if he was flanned. You know Mohanish, we think you're right!

An unusual request comes from Victoria Collins (far right) who would like herself flanned. The reason? She hates this photo that was taken last year at school. And if that's not enough Victoria also says that she absolutely hates her dress as well!

BE A TV STAR!

Announcing a Competition amongst competitions, a Contest to beat all contests — your chance to appear on Tiswas, and have the Show itself built around you (or, to be more precise, fall down around you). Here is your chance to be soaked by gallons of water, fall foul of The Phantom Flan Flinger, and meet the likes of Algernon Razamataz and Spit the Dog — what more could one person ask of Saturday morning?

The winner of our truly fantastic competition will appear on a Tiswas show early in the New Year where all the glories of the Greatest Show In The Universe — or so Chris Tarrant keeps calling it — will be yours to enjoy (or should that be suffer?).

Actually, this really is a super chance for you to appear live on TV, and what you have to do to stand a chance of being on Tiswas is answer the six questions that we've printed on the right — all of which are about the show itself, so you know what you're letting yourself in for!

When you've completed the answers in the spaces provided on the coupon, send your entry — including your name, address and age — on a postcard to: Look-in Tiswas Competition, P.O. Box 141, London, SE6 3HR. The winner's name will be announced on Tiswas on the 20th of December, which means that we have to have your entries in by first post on Monday, December 15th.

So, for one lucky winner it's really going to be an extra special Christmas, as he or she can not only look forward to the seasonal festivities, but also to two hours of Saturday morning mayhem shortly afterwards.

For 25 runners-up, there's some good news, too. Because they'll each be receiving a Four Bucketeers LP as a reward for their efforts. In case you hadn't heard — and if not, go and give your ears a clean — The Four Bucketeers is the 29-track, star-studded LP featuring those wonderful, watery wordsmiths; Chris Tarrant, Sally James, John Gorman and Bob Carolgees. This year has seen the international success of the single The Bucket Of Water Song — so over the next 28 years or so we can expect the other ditties to follow its lead.

Right then, there you are. Remember the closing date of the competition is Monday, December 15th. The sender of the first all-correct entry pulled from the postbag after that date will appear on Tiswas early in the New Year, while the senders of the next 25 correct entries will each receive a copy of The Four Bucketeers LP.

QUESTIONS

1. What is the name of the Phantom Flan Flinger's wife?
2. Which of the Tiswas regulars impersonates David Bellamy?
3. Algernon Razamataz eats what with his brown bread?
4. What is the surname of the hostile studio cleaner?
5. Who is the crazy bearded magician who regularly appears on the show?
6. Does Spit the Dog sit on Bob's left or right arm?

RULES: Entry is free and open to all Look-in readers aged 14 or under living in the United Kingdom with the exception of employees of ITV Publications Ltd., ATV Ltd., and their agents. The editor's decision will be final and no correspondence can be entered into. Closing date for the receipt of entries will be first post on Monday, December 15th, 1980.

Send, on a postcard only, to: Look-in TISWAS Comp.,
P.O. Box 141, London, SE6 3HR.

Christmas Gift Ideas

Did you know that from the date on the cover of this week's Look-in there are just 21 shopping days left to Christmas? That's 21 days of brain-racking and pavement pounding trying to find the right gifts for your family and friends! So, as I've done in previous years, each week up until Christmas I'll be giving you some ideas.

What better to kick off with than Keegan's Kicker soap-on-a-rope (below)? Ideal for the football fan in the family, it is scented with Brut 33 and costs £1.99. You'll find this at all Woolworth and Woolco stores, as you will this Textet 880 calculator (also below). If you know anyone who works with figures this is a useful present as it adds, subtracts, multiplies and divides as well as being able to do all sorts of other clever things. It costs £2.99.

Here's a book that anyone can enjoy: Kidstuff, by Roger. It's a collection of genuine children's sayings cartooned in full colour by Roger Goffe, whose work you may have seen in the Family Scene section of TVTimes.

Published by ITV Books, it is available from most bookshops and can also be obtained by post from: Kidstuff, P.O. Box 50, Market Harborough, Leicestershire. Send the price of the book — £1.95 — plus 40p (postage & packing). Cheques/P.O.s should be made payable to ITV Books.

TVTimes cookery editor
Kathie Webber introduces Look-in's weekly fun food spot...

Home-made gifts for Christmas are often appreciated much more than bought ones — and, of course, they are cheaper. Biscuits make smashing Christmas presents for relatives or friends, especially when packaged in pretty boxes which can also be home-made.

Biscuits in the shapes of Christmas trees, stars and holly can be made by placing a cardboard template on the rolled-out biscuit mixture and cutting around it. Biscuit cutters can be bought in many shapes from department stores and kitchenware shops. There is even a kit of Mr. Men cutters which includes nine different Mr. Men, a gauge to ensure the biscuit mixture is the right thickness, and four McCormick food colours to paint the biscuits. The kit costs £3.99. When I tested these cookie cutters, my favourite was Mr. Greedy with his big tummy!

This biscuit recipe is included in the Mr. Men kit but it can be used with your own shapes and cutters.

COLOURFUL COOKIES

250g (9oz.) butter

200g (7oz.) caster sugar

250g (9oz.) cornflour

350g (12oz.) plain flour

2 eggs, size 3

4 drops vanilla essence

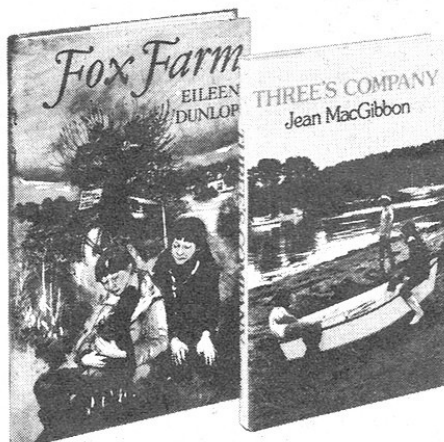

60-75ml (4-5 tablespoons) milk

food colouring

Cream butter and sugar together until soft and fluffy. Gradually mix in the flour, cornflour, eggs and vanilla essence. Add the milk and mix until a firm dough is obtained. Roll out the dough to $\frac{1}{2}$ cm ($\frac{1}{4}$ inch) thick. Flour the moulds or cutters and then cut out the cookies by pressing the cutter firmly into the dough. Paint the biscuits with food colouring by mixing the colouring with a little egg yolk. Place the biscuits on a well greased baking tray. Bake in the oven for 12-15 minutes at 220 deg. C (425 deg. F) or gas mark 7. Allow to cool and store in an airtight container. (Makes 25 approx.)

If you make these as a gift, the packaging for the biscuits must be airtight to stop them from going soft. Put them in a box without a lid so that they can be seen, then wrap in clear plastic film.

Three's Company: Jean MacGibbon*

On holiday with his family, sixteen year old Chris finds himself at odds with his parents and the self-sufficient families who return, summer after summer, to sail the creeks and bays of a remote Cornish estuary. Surprisingly, it is not his dynamic older brother Nick who saves the situation, but a reserved local girl Rowan, in whom he recognises a kindred spirit and whose independent way of life makes Chris's own seem unreal and unimportant. In the company of Rowan and her vulnerable friend Rose, Chris discovers that his own ideas about girls are very different from his experienced brother's and, through his increasing concern for Rose, he learns the distinction between love and friendship.

Fox Farm: Eileen Dunlop*

One March night, Mr. Darke shot the vixen which had been raiding his hen-house and the next day 'Foxy' was found, by the roadside, obviously an orphan. There was no doubt in Adam's mind that he would have to take care of the little animal; and Richard, his foster brother, was equally certain that he would have to help, despite the fact that Adam was far from being his friend. Looking after Foxy brought two kinds of problem into the boys' lives, involved them in a local legend, and completely changed the relationship between them. For Adam, it had the most unforeseen results.

HAMSTERS

A Golden Hamster is just a little bit bigger than a gerbil (you might remember that we talked about them recently), but it has a very short tail. Both hamsters and gerbils hold food in their fore-paws, but hamsters also have cheek pouches. If a hamster wants to save a tasty snack until later it will tuck it into one of its cheek pouches and go about looking as if it had had a bad attack of mumps! The food is then taken back to its nest and emptied out into the hamster's food store.

Buy a pet hamster when it is between five and ten weeks old. At first it may seem rather sleepy, but this is because it is young and also because hamsters are most active in the evening and at night. If you offer it some food when it wakes up it will gradually learn that you are its friend. Talk quietly to your pet hamster and don't frighten it. Pick it up carefully, either by cupping it in both hands, or with one hand over the body so that its head is towards your wrist. A hamster will enjoy a run around the room in the evening but make sure it can't disappear down a hole!

Feed it on a mixture of wheat, barley, crushed oats, sunflower seeds and peanuts from a good pet shop. It should also have some vegetables or fruit such as apple, carrot, lettuce or cucumber. Some hamsters like a little cooked meat, fish, cheese or egg, but remove this kind of food at the end of the meal. Never give them chocolate or oranges. They should always have water available.

Hamsters usually have to live on their own because they fight, but give your pet a roomy, interesting cage with a nest box. A small branch from a non-poisonous tree such as an apple tree will give them something to gnaw and climb.

Keep your hamster's cage indoors, but please don't keep it in a cold room in the winter or your hamster may hibernate! If this does ever happen, however, move the cage into a warmer place where your pet can warm up slowly and be encouraged to come out of hibernation.

A 'How to Care for your Hamster' Wallchart — price 40p — and a 'Hamsters' Leaflet — price 25p — can be obtained from the RSPCA at the address below.

BMX

THE RACE IS ON

BMX is the bike-racing sport that has swept across America. The action-packed event that's tougher, faster and more exciting than anything you've seen before.

Now Puch Murray and Halfords bring BMX to Britain. And there's never been a better time to take off with a brand-new sport.

Bicycle Motocross is no place for toy bikes or tame riding. You race on a dirt-track downhill course that really separates the men from the boys.

-THE HOTTEST THING ON TWO WHEELS!

On the left is an artist's impression of a typical BMX track. It can have as many jumps, bends, hairpins and fast straights as you want.

Thunder down the straights, slam round the bends.

Fly over hair-raising jumps at full speed.

It's a real test of your skill and courage. No other bike ride has the thrills of BMX.

ONLY THE BEST IS GOOD ENOUGH

If you thought any old bike would do for Bicycle Motocross you'd be wrong. Because most BMX courses are enough to shake any ordinary bike to bits.

When you race a motocross course you need a bike that's really hot.

That's why Puch Murray bikes are made for the job. Prices start from £79.95 for the 5310 model shown here. They have 20" wheels with track-grabbing racing tyres. Cross-braced handlebars for extra strength.

Even frames and forks are specially designed for competition riding.

And you'll find that every model is as tough as steel and lightning quick.

ALL GEARED UP

BMX is a hard sport. And a BMX course is no place to take risks.

That's why the top track stars always wear crash helmets and protective clothing when they're racing.

When you get your bike, make absolutely sure you've got the gear to go with it.

Not only will you look good, you'll be a whole lot safer too. There's trousers at £8.95, Jerseys at £7.45, Helmets at £12.50 and protect your bike with Pad sets at £4.15. We're sure you'll agree. If you're going to win at BMX it's best to win in style.

STAY ONE JUMP AHEAD

Don't miss out on the incredible BMX action. Get into Bicycle Motocross today.

Nobody knows more about BMX and the range of Puch Murray bikes than your local branch of Halfords. You'll find they're experts. They'll tell you which BMX bike is the best for you.

And who knows, if you've got what it takes, you could soon be Britain's first BMX star.

Not another wooden egg, surely? See next week!

Ever since they first started publishing them — and it now seems like centuries ago — the top twenties, thirties and forties have seen countless new recording stars come and go. Although some might stand the test of time, names and faces are constantly changing. That's surely part of the fun about the record charts, watching for the new names to appear each week and wondering which of the new sounds will reach the dizzy heights of the top ten, or perhaps even the Number One slot itself! Have you noticed, however, that when things start buzzing in the charts you rarely get just one new name to watch? And that's just what seems to be happening again now; for, in recent weeks, we've been witnessing a whole array of shooting stars fighting it out with each other. No doubt some of them will sink without trace, but others will surely go on to bigger and better things. We wouldn't like to make any predictions here, but Look-in has been taking a close look at just a few of these...

STAR CHARTERS!

ADAM AND THE ANTS

Adam & The Ants' first single, Young Parisians, was launched with the help of a London flyposting poster campaign (very crafty that Adam Ant, getting those flies to work for him; or were they flying ants?) back in October '78.

There were a lot of noises made in the rock press at the time, but apart from starting to build up a following of worker ants, Adam was unable to capitalise on the headlines with real chart success.

The first Adam & The Ants LP, Dirk Wears White Sox — Adam dedicated it to actor Dirk Bogarde — appeared on the Do-It label this January and it was really then that a lot of things started to happen for Adam. First, it was the inevitable band changes — new Ants included Marco Pirroni, whom Adam had approached to be a co-song-writer, the first result of this partnership being Kings Of The Wild Frontier. Other Ants are Kevin Mooney, bass (the youngest member of the band), and Tony Lee Miall and Merrick, drums.

By now, you should all know about Dog Eat Dog, the big hit, but how much is there to know about Mr Ant himself (above right)? Well, for a start, Adam's 26, and his real name is rumoured to be Malcolm Goddard. Until he formed the Original Ants three years ago, Adam was a graphic design student, but, he says, he felt that he wanted to create an audience, not cater for one. He didn't want to compete. He also wanted to keep his Ants as far away from the course of straight "rock 'n' roll" as possible, and concentrate on making progressively good and exciting records. And so "Antmusic" was born.

By the way, Adam is the mastermind behind all "Antgraphics", designing badges, T-shirts, record sleeves, posters and just about everything else to do with promoting his band and we've heard that he even answers all his fan mail personally!

XTC

After a host of singles — Towers of London is their eighth — a series of exhausting world tours and four albums, it seems that XTC have at last begun to gain the kind of recognition which they had threatened for so long. For, unlike the other groups here, they're relatively 'old-hands' in the charts: Generals — Majors — Don't Lose Your Tempers was there a couple of months ago, and Making Plans for Nigel was a big hit for them last year.

Hailing from Swindon in Wiltshire, the present line-up of XTC got together in early 1979 when guitarist Dave Gregory joined. Previously, guitar man Andy Partridge, bassist Colin Moulding and drummer Terry Chambers had worked together, with others, as Star Park, The Helium Kidz, Skyscraper and Snakes before becoming XTC in 1976.

ORCHESTRAL MANOEUVRES IN THE DARK

With a name like Orchestral Manoeuvres In The Dark, it is much easier to say, and write (!), O.M.I.T.D. The band hails from Merseyside and it is the latest in a long line of bands for Paul Humphreys and Andy McClusky (above). Although just in their twenties, Paul and Andy first got together as 16-year-olds, when they were influenced by the likes of Eno and Kraftwerk, in a band called VCL XI. Next they joined up with an assortment of musicians known as Hitlerz Underpants (!), but this was hardly a successful venture for the duo. Following the failure of Underpantz, they formed an eight-piece rock band, the ID, which they left in the summer of '78 because they felt that their songs were not turning out the way they wanted.

O.M.I.T.D. was started with the help of 'Winston', a tape recorder that Paul and Andy used to take on stage to augment their playing, but the band's first headliner meant most of the tapes being replaced by musicians and no more 'Winston'. There was chart success in store with Messages, however, and their highly acclaimed album, Organisation, which includes the chilling Enola Gay. No, it wasn't another love song — Enola Gay was the name given to the B52 bomber which dropped the first Atom bomb on Hiroshima in 1945.

After getting under way in their home town (although Partridge was born in Malta), XTC had developed a substantial local following before arriving in London at the height of '77's punk invasion.

They've come a long way since those early days, being no strangers to Europe, Australia, Japan and America; but, now that their popular appeal is beginning to really take off, it looks as though they are going to go a long way further!

BLACK SLATE

Formed as long ago as the early seventies, when they called themselves Young Ones From Zion, Black Slate really do know just how long the road to chart success can be. But they stuck at it, and even formed their own record label, TCD, as they felt that the established record companies were not interested enough in British reggae to know

That might have been so, but one company, Ensign, had eyed Black Slate after their mid-1979 first time hit in the reggae charts entitled Mind Your Motion. The success of Amigo, the group's first release on their new label, certainly justified the move to Ensign!

So who are Black Slate? They are: Keith Drummond (24), lead vocals; Chris Hanson (23), lead guitar; Anthony Brightly (20), keyboards; Cledwyn Rogers (24), rhythm guitar; Elroy Bailey (22), bass guitar; and Desmond Mahoney (24), drums.

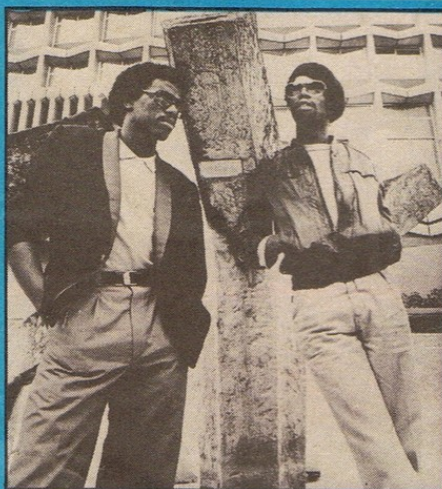

Although a reggae band, Black Slate draw their experience from a quite diverse background. As Desmond explains: "Reggae was always in our minds, but we were into other things too. A couple of the guys were into soul, some were playing jazz, and others were playing calypso. It wasn't until we got together as a band that the reggae thing happened. It wasn't deliberate, it just

LINK

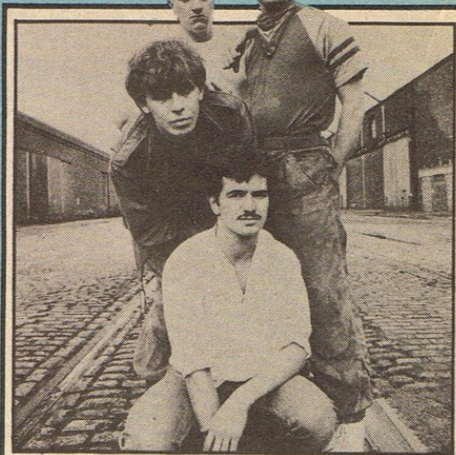

Link was formed when 24-year-old Jamaican born David Grant got together with one Sketch, a 26-year-old Antiguan. The two of them (right) formed their own production and publishing company, The Solid Foundation, and, having recruited drummer Andy Duncan and multi-keyboards man Bob Carter, they went on to write and produce the hit record You're Lying.

As with Black Slate, Link despaired of gaining record company recognition in the more traditional way, so David and Sketch paid for the pressing of 1,000 copies of You're Lying, which then went on sale through the specialist record outlet, City Sounds. Then they made the rounds of the clubs and radio stations to promote their track.

Although they were obviously confident with the finished article, both David and Sketch were taken by surprise by the immediate reaction to their single. City Sounds sold out of the record overnight and it was soon one of the most requested club records around London. As demand for the single spread nationally, it was re-released on the Chrysalis label, and David and Sketch were off on a series of live appearances, eager to prove that the UK can produce funk to compete with the best of what America has to offer.

THE TEARDROP EXPLODES

The charting of When I Dream saw everyone talking and writing about the re-emergence of Liverpool (home of that most famous of groups, the Beatles, of course) as a force to be reckoned with in the music world. However, although they are Liverpool based, with their origins dating back there to 1977, only Alan Gill, recently joined, is, in fact, Liverpudlian.

The name The Teardrop Explodes was taken from a scene in an American Marvel comic (to be precise Daredevil no 77, June 1971!) and, shortly after a debut gig at Eric's in Liverpool in November '78, their first single Sleeping Gas was issued by the then recently formed Zoo label. A second single Bouncing Babies soon followed after the first had won critical acclaim, and the third, Treason, released early this year, was made record of the week in virtually every music paper.

The Teardrop Explodes has gone through the usual personnel changes that most new groups have to face, but they now look set to go far together following the success of When I Dream after signing to the Mercury label.

For the record, The Teardrop Explodes features Julian Cope, vocals and bass — he's from South Wales; Dave Balfe from Carlisle on keyboards; Gary Dwyer from West Virginia on drums and guitarist Alan Gill from Liverpool.

THE MOTELS

A West Coast American group, the Motels originated in Berkley, California, before moving to Los Angeles in the mid-Seventies. There has been a number of changes to the group since then, but, finally, a new look Motels emerged onto the L.A. club circuit early last year. Within five months they had signed a recording contract with Capitol and begun work on their debut album, Motels.

The group by then consisted of lead vocalist and rhythm guitarist Martha

Davis, guitarist Jeff and keyboardist Marty Jourard, bassist Michael Goodroe and drummer Brian Glasscock, but by the time they were to cut their second Capitol album, Careful, earlier this year, a leadership rift had developed and Jeff had left to form his own band. His departure saw guitarist Tim McGovern, ex-member of The Pop, join to make yet another change in the Motel line up.

Martha Davis, who began writing songs at 15, is responsible for much of the group's material, including the recent hit single Whose Problem?

GREAT COMPETITION!

50 Copies Of 'STREET LEVEL' Must Be Won!

We're offering you a rip-roaring and rocking album as a competition prize this week — on the level!

Actually, it's called Street Level, and it's full of chart-busting hits from the recent past — all with a New Wave feel.

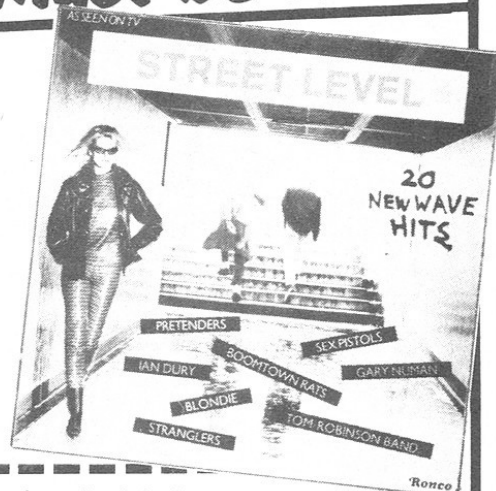

The album, compiled by Ronco, contains no less than 20 songs, including Pretty Vacant by the Sex Pistols (many would call it the original Punk anthem), No More Heroes by the Stranglers, Denis Denis by Blondie, Someone's Looking At You by the Boomtown Rats, and 2, 4, 6, 8 Motorway by The Tom Robinson Band, as well as a host of other smashes by such names as The Pretenders, Ian Dury, XTC and Gary Numan.

We're giving away 50 — yes, 50 — copies of Street Level as prizes in our competition, and we've made it easy for you to enter.

All you have to do is read over the five questions printed on the right, and complete your answers to them in the spaces provided on the coupon, not forgetting to add your name, address and age. Then send it, on a postcard only, to: Look-in Street Level Competition, P.O. Box 141, London, SE6 3HR. CAPTURED BY THE DRACONIAN, BUCK ROGERS, WILMA DEERING AND THE CREW OF A BACK-UP SHIP FROM NEW CHICAGO MAKE A DESPERATE BID FOR FREEDOM. THEY REALISE HOW GREAT THE ODDS ARE - BUT THERE IS ONE HOPE...

THE TWO PRAXONIAN WHO INVADED EARTH, BUCK! THEY WERE ON MY SHIP. THEY SWARE THEY'D GIVEN UP THOUGHTS OF INVASION AND THAT THEY'D HELP!

GREAT GALAXIES! I HOPE YOU'RE RIGHT!

A DOOR AT THE FAR END OF THE CORRIDOR BURSTS OPEN...

LOOK OUT!

HE WHO FIRES FIRST WINS THE POT!

ZEEONK!

GARRGH!

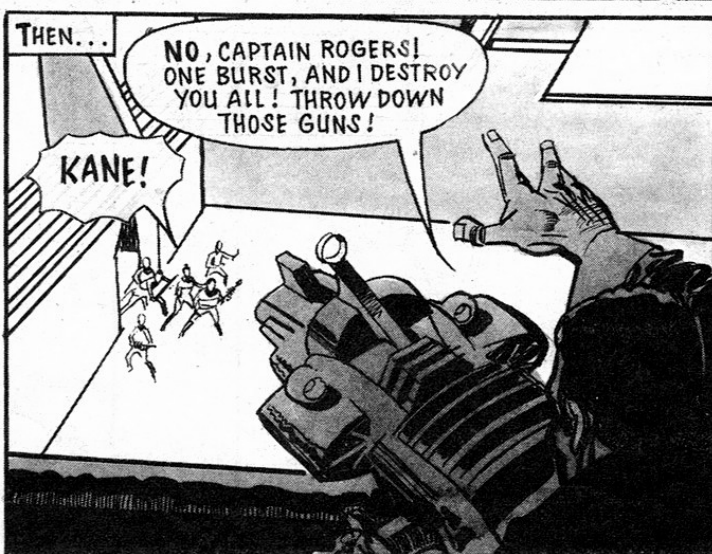

SHREEP!

AAARGH!

YIEEEEE!

WE'VE EITHER GOT TO TAKE OVER COMMAND OR FIND THEIR SHUTTLE BAY! COME ON!

THEN...

NO, CAPTAIN ROGERS! ONE BURST, AND I DESTROY YOU ALL! THROW DOWN THOSE GUNS!

KANE!

FAILURE. OR IS IT? TWO DRIFTS OF SMOKE-LIKE SUBSTANCE SWIRL TOWARDS THE RENEGADE AND HIS DRACONIAN PRINCESS!

THE GUN IS GAS-OPERATED. GO FOR THE INDUCTION VENTS!

I WILL TAKE THE PEOPLE KSPINA! I AM BETTER PLACED!

INCREDIBLY...

URG-URRKKK!

RRRARRGH!

SHUNK!

THERE IS NO TIME TO DEAL DEATH. ONLY UNCONSCIOUSNESS!

STRAIGHT AHEAD THEN LEFT! THAT IS WHERE THEIR LAUNCH-BAY LIES!

YOU LEAD! YOU'RE THE SORT OF ALLIES I LIKE TO HAVE!

UNMOLESTED, THE SHUTTLE GAINS EMERGENCY CLEARANCE AND LANDS AT NEW CHICAGO...

FIVE MINUTES LATER, WITH NEITHER KANE NOR ARDALA IN A POSITION TO ORDER HINDRANCE...

WE MADE IT!

AND THERE'S A FORCE-SHIELD! THEY CAN'T EVEN SHOOT US DOWN!

ALL IS WELL THAT ENDS WELL. SO THE SAYING GOES, DOES IT NOT, DOCTOR THEOPOLIS?

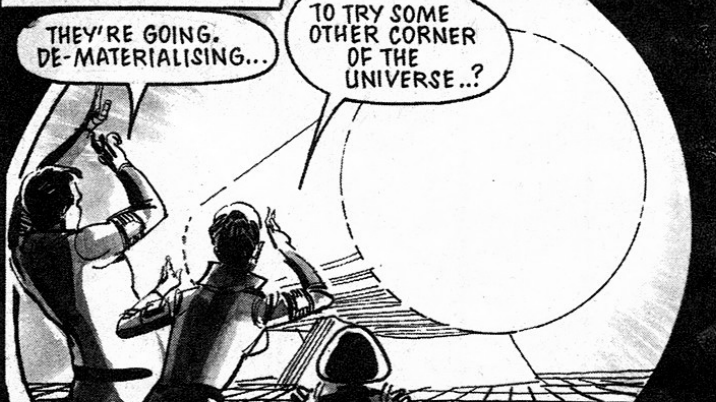

EXACTLY CORRECT, TWIKI. NOW—LET US MEET OUR HEROES...

IT COULD HAVE BEEN VERY DICEY, THEO— BUT FOR OUR RATHER EXOTIC PALS HERE.

WE ONLY DID WHAT WE THOUGHT RIGHT. YOU SEE— WE HAD IMAGINED THIS PLANET TO BE INHABITED ONLY BY SAVAGES... SHOW ME THE GUARD I VANQUISHED AND I WILL REVIVE HIM...

THE PRAXONIANS REVIVE THE FALLEN GUARD THEN RETURN TO THEIR WEIRD CRAFT. IT CLOSES IMPERCEPTIBLY, AND...

THEY'RE GOING. DE-MATERIALISING...

TO TRY SOME OTHER CORNER OF THE UNIVERSE...?

MAYBE THEY'LL FIND ONE OF THE DRACONIAN PLANETS. NOW THAT'D BE A REAL GOOD THING...

SO SAY ALL OF US!

Next week: Buck stars in the first instalment of a new adventure — in full colour!

Since the days of the great Alex James, Scottish Football has produced a conveyor belt of tiny midfield players who have continually dispelled the theory that 'a good big 'un is always better than a good little 'un'. Aberdeen's Gordon Strachan is the latest in a long line of such men...

GREAT SCOT!

In its climb to the top in Scottish soccer Aberdeen has employed some of the game's most colourful characters as manager. Ally McLeod (far left) took the side to a League Cup triumph before his ill-fated decision to manage Scotland. Billy McNeill (left) helped to carry on the team's progress before moving back to manage the club he had skippered, Celtic. Now it's the turn of Alex Ferguson (right) who has already led the side to the League Championship and into Europe.

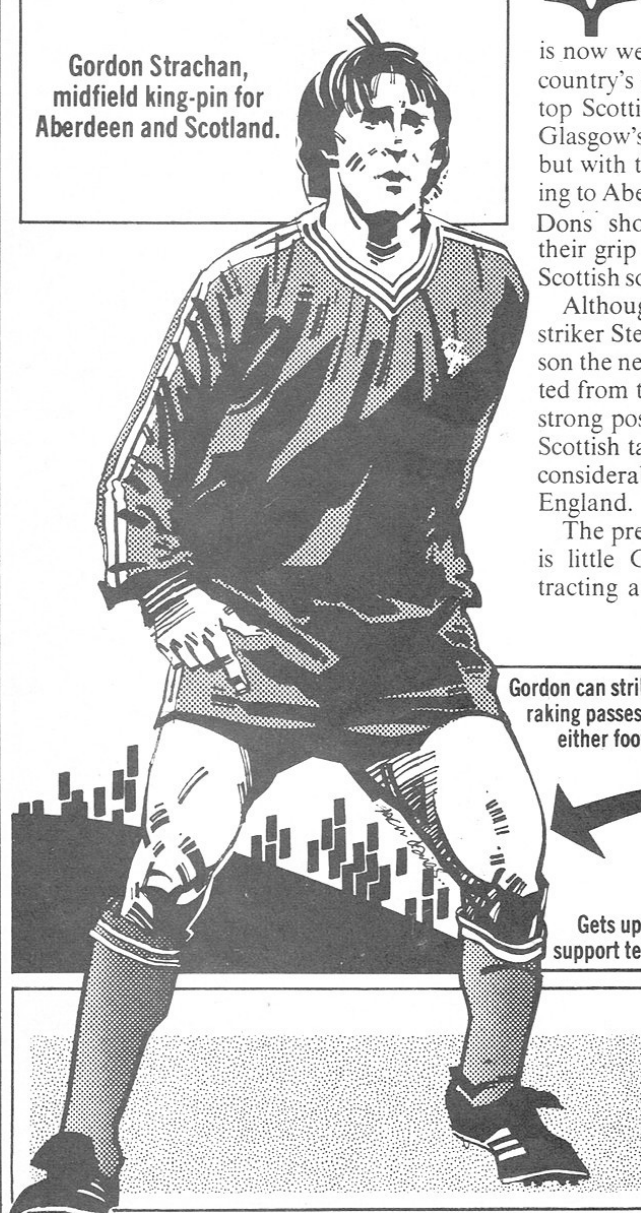

Gordon Strachan, midfield king-pin for Aberdeen and Scotland.

YOU can't question the fact that Aberdeen is Scotland's premier oil boom city, or that it is now well on the way to becoming the country's soccer boom city. For too long top Scottish football was dominated by Glasgow's big two, Celtic and Rangers, but with the Premier Championship going to Aberdeen last season, and with the Dons showing no signs of loosening their grip on the trophy so far this term, Scottish soccer now boasts the Big Three.

Although Aberdeen lost king-pin striker Steve Archibald to Spurs last season the near million pounds the club netted from the deal will put them in a very strong position when it comes to buying Scottish talent, for transfer deals are still considerably lower in Scotland, than in England.

The present gem in the Aberdeen side is little Gordon Strachan, already attracting a lot of attention from English clubs, including Arsenal. Strachan was going nowhere fast with Dundee, a player with great skill but seemingly unable to put his game together out on the park. His transfer to Aberdeen hardly made the headlines, but now he is recognised as one of Scotland's leading players, virtually guaranteed a place in the Scottish squad, especially after scoring the superb goal that gave Scotland that valuable away win against Sweden in a recent World Cup qualifier. So what brought about the transformation? Once he had settled into the first team squad at Pittodrie, boss Alex Ferguson pulled off the masterstroke of giving him a roving responsibility for motivating the entire side. Gordon rose to the challenge and his ceaseless energy sees him covering every blade of grass during a match. Alex Ferguson's biggest problem concerning the red-headed dynamo will be the struggle to keep him at Aberdeen.

Gordon can strike long raking passes with either foot.

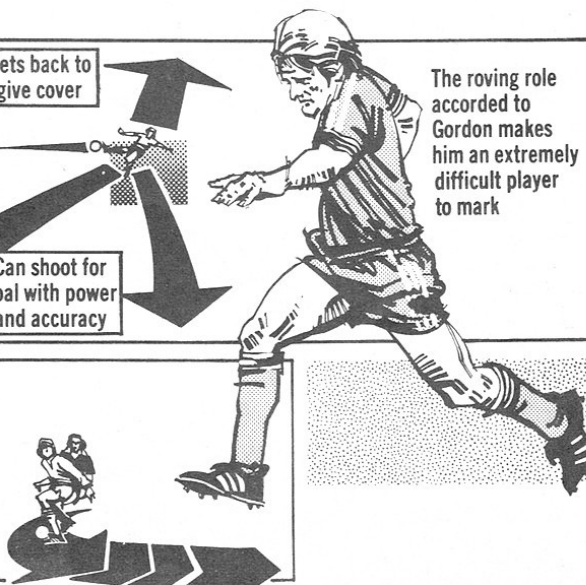

Gets back to give cover

Gets upfield to support teammates.

Can shoot for goal with power and accuracy

The roving role accorded to Gordon makes him an extremely difficult player to mark

His small stature allows him to 'turn' opposing players, getting between them and their goal.

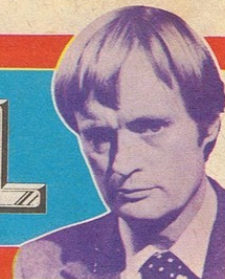

Gordon Strachan

SNAP 'N GLUE!

A great new idea to get you out of the pits in record time.

SCREECH 'N VROOM!!

Faster than a speeding bullet - the new Lamborghini Countach from Airfix.

And it's almost as quick to make as it is on the race-track.

That's because it's a new Snap-n-glue kit.

Simply 'snap' the major parts together and away you go, in lap record time.

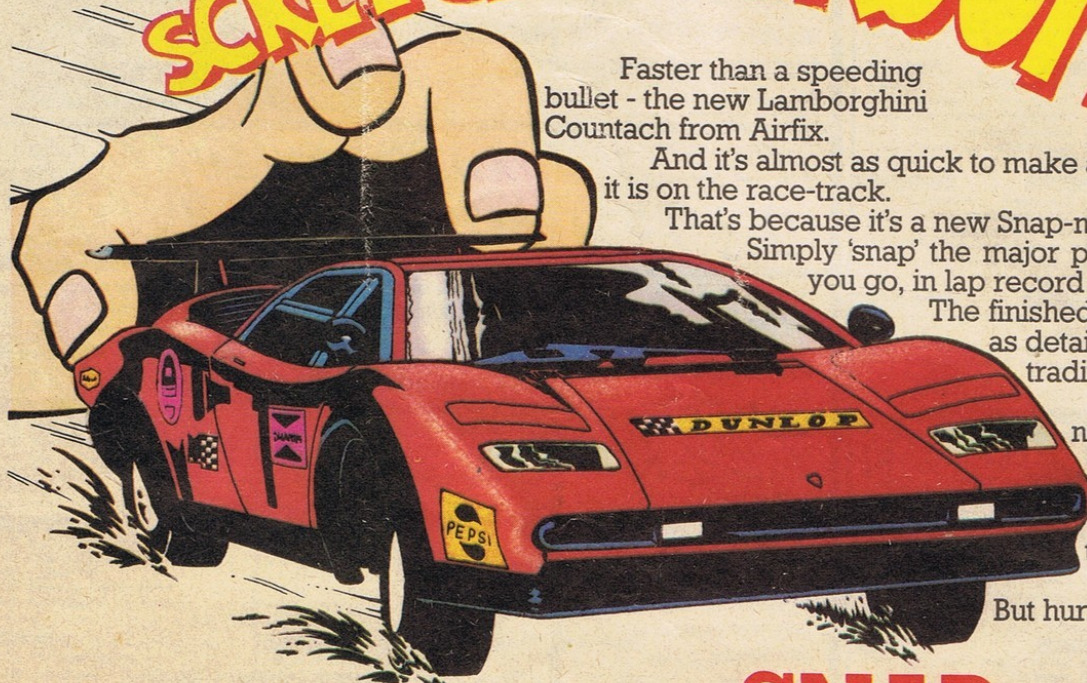

The finished model, however, is just as detailed and accurate as traditional glue-together kits.

And the colourful, new press-on decals add even more realism.

Altogether, there are 12 different models in the Snap-n-glue range.

Take a look at them.

But hurry, they're going fast.

THE FASTEST KIT ON FOUR WHEELS.
