MORE NEWS

After playing 6 sell-out concerts at Wembley, SPANDAU BALLET is embarking on their big European tour, starting January 19th in Vienna, then onwards to Germany, Belgium, Holland and Scandinavia. 10th of March Spandau will fly to Australia to tour, after that to Southern Europe to continue until the end of April ★ We regret to have heard the news of the death of RAZZLE, drummer of HANOI ROCKS, due to a car-crash in California recently. The band will be issuing a statement shortly on their forthcoming plans ★

COLOURFIELD releases their new single in January, entitled Thinking Of You which will be followed by their album in February ★ ULTRAVOX have sold more than 800.000 copies of their Collection album and are well on the way to receive triple platinum ★

BILLY BRAGG's Eurotour was a great success and finally Billy has won the heart and soul of Europe. The Old Grey Whistle Test team filmed his gig at the Milkyway in Amsterdam for a special of Mr. Bragg on BBC TV ★ And HUEY LEWIS' Dominion gig, last October in London, was recorded and has been broadcasted on Radio 1 on Boxingday. His album Sports has received silver in Norway (took some time though) ★ HIGHWAY CHILE have a new singer. It's SAV PEARSE, formerly with UK band MARSEILLE. Sav met the band for the first time when he was picked up by them at Schiphol Airport, going into the studio straight away to do the lead vocals on 3 songs for their forthcoming album Rockarama which is slated for an early February release. After finishing the vocals, Highway Chile will play some warm-up gigs in Holland and then embark to the States for a short tour. Everyone is very taken by their new singer, (not bad for a blind-date) and what could go wrong with an English vocalist and a Dutch HM band (I am not arrogant or chauvinistic here now, am I?) ★ That's It for this week, bye for now, Love, ALEXANDRA ★★

TURNTABLE TIPS

Don Henley - Building The Perfect Beast - Geffen
 Ex-Eagle Don Henley comes up with a sound that is far more rockier than expected. Produced by Henley, Danny Kortchmar and Greg Ladanyi. Highlights are The Boys Of Summer, Sunset Grill and the titletrack. 7

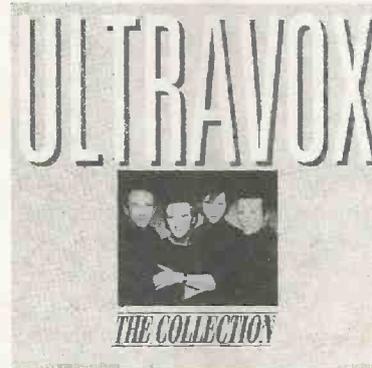

Marc Anthony Thompson - Marc Anthony Thompson - Warner Brothers
 Interesting debut album from an L.A. based singer and multi-instrumentalist, containing a variety of musical styles. Recommended are the uptempo and swinging tracks such as So Fine and Lullaby Drive and the more laid back song Blue With Me. 8

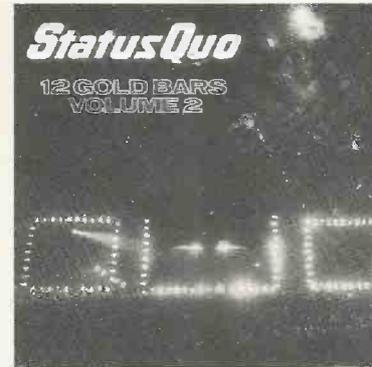

Gino Vanelli - Black Cars - Polydor
 This long awaited album for a new label, sees Vanelli in a bit more restrained direction than earlier hit albums as Powerful People and The Gist Of The Gemini. Best tracks include the sophisticated and synthi-based tracks like: Black Cars, Total Stranger, Just A Motion and Imagination. 8

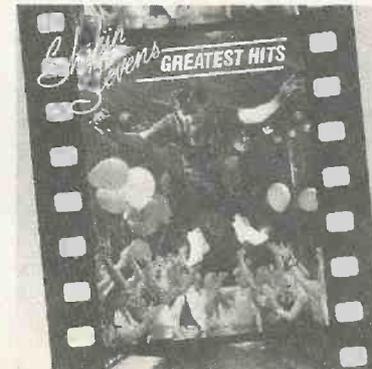

Ultravox - The Collection - Chrysalis
 Only two weeks after its release this compilation album went platinum in the UK. All their hits from 1980 onwards are included and the tracklisting, as well as the package, is impressive. Incl. the Euro-Hits Dancing With Tears In My Eyes, Vienna and Love's Great Adventure. 8

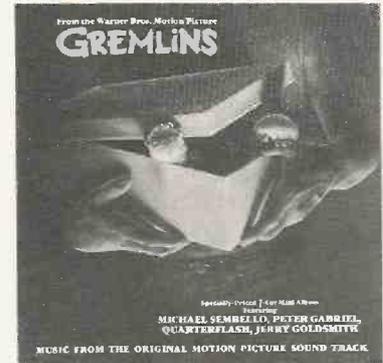

Status Quo - 12 Gold Bars Vol.2 - Vertigo
 After their recent hitsuccess with The Wanderer, another hit compilation from the kings of the 12 bars. It is amazing to hear how they are able to deliver such an amount of classics in this rather restricted genre. Incl. Ol' Rag Blues, Marguerita Time, The Wanderer and Lies. 8

Shakin' Stevens - Greatest Hits - Epic
 The album is subtitled Greatest Hits Vol. 1, meaning Shaky will come up with another string of hitrecords in the future suitable to make up volume 2. The album includes a.o. This Ole House, You Drive Me Crazy, Cry Just A Little Bit and the duet with Bonnie Tyler, A Rockin' Good Way. 8

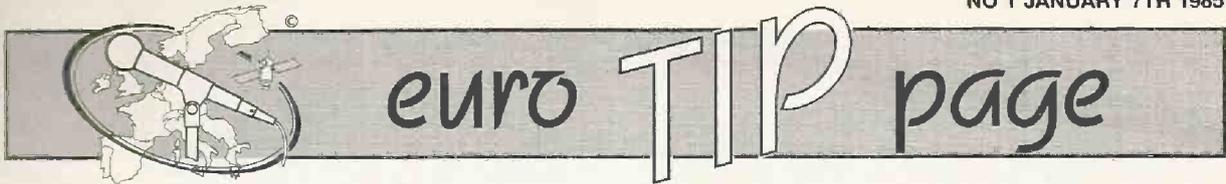

Soundtrack - Dune - Polydor
 Toto wrote and prformed the musical score to the science fiction theme of Dune. Heavy symphonic parts (with the Vienna Symphony Orchestra) are alternated with electronic parts. Brian Eno's contribution, The Prophecy Theme, should have your attention as well. 7

Soundtrack - Gremlins - Geffen
 Music from the original movie about little creatures that duplicate themselves at an amazing rate when being touched with water. Album features Michael Sembello, Peter Gabriel, Quarterflash and Jerry Goldsmith. Sembello's track, Gremlins...Mega Madness, could make chart impact. 8

Soundtrack - Thief Of Hearts - Casablanca
 Soundtrack of the movie to be released in Europe around march '85. See for exact content our last news section of 84. Although the theme from Thief Of Hearts is repeated 3 times on the album, the version by Melissa Manchester is definitely the strongest chart contender. 8

RADIO GUIDE

With this first issue of 1985, we have changed some of the airplay recommendation lists that we always print on this page. The European Crossover list continues to show records produced on the continent that have crossover potential for other markets. The second list now contains those Pop, Rock and Disco dance records which we find suitable for your playlists but which are not yet showing in the European Top 100. We have combined this into one list as it is getting more and more difficult to put records and/or artists in different categories. With the diminishing of musical borders in 1984, we feel it is better to just recommend good music!!! More on this a little later in this article. The third list, the Album Route, will feature weekly recommended albums and is a result of many requests from our correspondents of which quite a few have special album programs. In this first radio guide of the new year we would like to concentrate a bit on the trends and fashions in pop music during 1984. Our last radio guide in 84 talked about the most significant happenings chart wise and in this issue we reserve space for a more general overview. The fusion between black and white music was bigger than ever. American radio stations were specializing themselves in the so called 'urban contemporary music' and the immediate example for Europe in 84 was of course Prince, who was able to score in all categories. When Doves Cry was the fastest moving single in the history of Warner Brothers. And another example, though not so successful, was Peter Wolf, who, after his departure from the J. Geils Band lined up with Michael Jonzun of Jonzun Crew fame and in this way contributed to the decreasing importance of musical borders.

MORE NEW STYLES

The New York ghetto The Bronx was in more than one way important for the rise of dance music. First of all Breakdance, Hip Hop and Rap emerged all from the Bronx and were popularized the last two years. Two movies on this phenomenon came out, Beat Street and Breakin' and some breakdance singles made the charts including Street Dance (Break Machine), Hey You (Rock Steady Crew) and Breakin' (Ollie & Jerry). On top of that, producers coming from the Bronx like Arthur Baker and John 'Jellybean' Benitez were responsible for the 12" mixes of established artists like David Bowie, Bruce Springsteen, Diana Ross and Madonna. 1984 saw also the emerge of the so called 'cocktail pop'. Groups like Sade, Everything But The Girl, Working Week were using cocktail-like jazz music into a pop setting. Joe Jackson was using the jazz as a basis for his album Body And Soul (a tribute to Sonny Rollins) and Paul Wellers' Style Council contained some midnight jazzy tunes (e.a. The Paris Match). Apart from the enormous worldwide success for Sade, the group that exploited this style most successfully was of course Matt Bianco. In fact no musical style was sacred in 1984. Artist like Carmel and Alison Moyet were using gospel elements in their music and one even saw a new wave happening in the country music with artists like Rank & File, Violent Femmes, Jason & The Scorchers, R.E.M., Rubber Rodeo, etc. All mixed country elements into pop music. It is to be expected that this blend of musical styles will become more and more fashionable and that the strict distinction between musical styles will gradually vanish. A lot of soundtracks were released during 1984; soundtracks that yielded hitsingles as well. Obvious examples include Purple Rain, Footloose, The Woman In Red and Ghostbusters. Less successful were (at least in Europe) Beat Street, Up The Creek, Streets Of Fire and Metropolis.

NEW CHART IMPACT

And of course an overview of 84 is not complete without mentioning the impact of F.G.T.H. Since Jerry & The Pacemakers there wasn't any group in the UK able to chart its first 3 singles to the top and the release of their album led to the largest advance order of an album in Englands history. ZTT brought back the beauty of the pop single, according to their own words. And although the local pop scene in European countries did not seem to have the same importance (for instance the German wave of 82/83), 1984 still was a good year for crossover. But enough of that has been said in earlier issues. Artists that made their first chart impact in the past year and who, we think will be able to maximize this success in 1985 include Cyndi Lauper, Madonna, Talk Talk, Bronski Beat, Alison Moyet, Lloyd Cole & The Commotions and Aztec Camera.

ALEXANDRA'S NEWS CORNER

Hello again for the first time this year! Hopefully everyone has recovered from the turkeys and booze and no one is suffering from the dreadful disease called hang-over (by the way, Alka Selzer has known to work miracles!) ★ We hear many of our correspondents will be attending Midem 85. Please make sure you visit our stand in the radio area and we will be most happy to introduce you to your colleagues. One of the first major releases of this year undoubtedly is PHIL COLLINS' new single Susudio, a high energetic song from his forthcoming album called No Jacket Required. Phil chose this album title because he had several bad experiences in restaurants and bars of posh hotels that wouldn't FB80 let him in peace while sitting there without a real jacket. This new Collins single follows closely on the heels of his duet hit with PHILIP BAILEY, a CBS black act produced by an English/wide' superstar, which is quite unique, especially for the American market. The Bailey album and single are on their way to have enormous success and Phil Collins co-wrote the tune. On top of that in some Southern European countries, his Soundtrack Against All Odds is still doing very well. The new album should be out mid February immediately followed by a 5 months long world tour including 5 continents. Collins will be touring extensively through the UK and Europe in February, March and will then go to Australia mid April ★ We hear that FOREIGNER's I Want To Know What Love Is might be on its way to become the biggest single ever for Atlantic Records in the US as the sales are enormous. The group should be in Europe for promotion soon ★ MUSIC BOX, Europe's first and only all music cable and satellite TV channel will be increasing its regular television production by 50% from January 26th 1985 and increasing its transmission hours by more than 11%, bringing it up to 18 hours a day. The total output of the station, from January 26th will now be 126 hours a week. Music Box has just completed its first full week of programming from Holland and today announced that in the coming months it plans to record programs in Finland, Norway, Switzerland, Germany, Belgium and France ★ Good news for European 'hip-hoppers'. The follow-up movie to the very successful Breakin' will be in the European cinemas next month. It is called Electric Boogaloo and contains not only some new OLLIE & JERRY tunes, but also a very commercial single entitled We Believe In

The Beat by beautiful CAROL LYNN TOWNES. This new American singer will be in Europe in February for promotion and is a Polygram US signing. After the success for Electric Boogaloo, which everyone expects, there will also be a Carol Lynn Townes solo album. Watch out for this new pretty star of 85! ★ A new single and album are also expected in the spring from Motown's very promising act DEBARGE, an act that has already broken in the US but is likely to be big in Europe ★ Being at London at X-Mas time, we saw a few great concerts. Here's a short report. HOWARD JONES (with support act STRAWBERRY SWITCHBLADE) played the Royal Albert Hall. And it was an evening we're likely to remember for a long time. If you haven't had the opportunity to see them both in concert don't miss out on the chance of having a wonderful evening ★ On to CULTURE CLUB. Unlike announcements in the press, all 6 gigs at Wembley were sold out. Culture Club played a selection of hits and songs from all their albums. BOY GEORGE dedicated the song Mannequin to those, writing negatively about him. The concert saw the absolute highlight in the song That's The Way when their two backing singers RUBY & MO stepped forward to give the punters a demonstration of their great voices. ★ During X-Mas time everyone is having their X-Mas party, and so did ANY TROUBLE (playing Dingwalls). Their lead (singer, CLIVE GREGSON did a solo set with songs from his forthcoming solo album which will be released in February, containing all self-penned, previously unreleased new songs. Then Any Trouble came on. Two great sets with songs from all their albums including the very new ones which will be on their new album, also planned for a February release. The title to the album has not been decided yet. The punters wouldn't let the band leave before playing quite a lot of encores, which showed once again that Any Trouble are one of Britains better bands! Gigs for their tour in February will be announced soon ★ METALLICA, TANK & TORME played their gig at the Lyceum to an overenthusiastic crowd of headbangers, playing material from their latest albums plus highlights of older songs ★ There's a new band around called SCARY THIEVES. They have supported NIK KERSHAW on his UK tour, including 4 nights at Hammersmith Odeon. Their debut single has just been released, entitled Tell Me Girl. At the end of January the new single will be on the market, called Dying In Vain. Watch out for this new band ★ News about BILLY IDOL. As announced in an earlier issue, he did an interview with Penthouse (which did amuse me during my flight back!). Well, there's news about him again. Billy will be making a movie and besides playing the leading part, is involved in writing the screenplay. In January Billy Idol is in the studio to record a new album. 3 or 4 tracks from the movie will also be on his album, which has the working title King Death (same as the movie). The shooting starts in February ★
