

Musical Express

FRIDAY, AUGUST 12th, 1949

No. 149

PRICE FOURPENCE

ARMADILLO SAMBA... EL CUMBANCHERO... LAYLA-AMERICAN MUSIC PUBLISHING CO., LTD.

OUTSTANDING! TOMMY DORSEY'S "TROMBONAIRS"...

DO NOT COMMERCIAL RADIO

GOVT. ATTITUDE IS REVEALED IN SPEECH BY ASSISTANT P.M.G.

(MUSICAL EXPRESS SPECIAL CORRESPONDENT)

IN THE COMMONS ON SATURDAY, JULY 30, THE ASSISTANT POSTMASTER-GENERAL, MR. HOBSON, DEALT A SLAP IN THE FACE TO ALL WHO WANT COMMERCIAL BROADCASTING FOR BRITAIN.

NOT ONLY THE PRESENT GOVERNMENT BUT A CONSERVATIVE GOVERNMENT HAD DECLARED THEMSELVES AGAINST SPONSORED BROADCASTERS AND MR. HOBSON WAS SURE IT WAS THE OVERWHELMING VIEW OF THE HOUSE THAT SPONSORED PROGRAMMES SHOULD NOT BE FOISTED ON THE COUNTRY.

IF THIS IS THE CASE, IT IS PERTINENT TO ASK WHY THE ROYAL COMMISSION SHOULD BOTHER TO CONSIDER THE PROS AND CONS OF SPONSORED RADIO WHEN IT SITS UNDER THE CHAIRMANSHIP OF LORD REVERIDGE, THIS AUTUMN, TO CONSIDER THE FUTURE OF THE B.B.C. AFTER THE EXPIRATION OF ITS PRESENT CHARTER IN DECEMBER, 1951.

IF THE ISSUE HAS BEEN PRE-JUDGED WHY SHOULD THE COMMITTEE OF INQUIRY HAVE ON ITS AGENDA "TO INQUIRE INTO THE SALE OF TIME ON THE AIR FOR ADVERTISING PURPOSES"?

IT IS INTERESTING TO NOTE THAT ABOUT THE TIME MR. HOBSON WAS DELIVERING HIS LITTLE PLEA... THE STYKES COMMITTEE, SET UP 25 YEARS AGO TO INQUIRE INTO THE VARIOUS ASPECTS OF BROADCASTING...

- (a) The introduction of commercial broadcasting as part of the present B.B.C. programme... (b) The provision of separate programmes... (c) The admission of one or more privately owned stations...

But if the Royal Commission should report in favour of any one of these alternatives the possibility of Government support for its findings seems remote in view of the Assistant Postmaster-General's statement.

THE STRIKE OF PARLIAMENTARY WHIPS WOULD DENY THE SUPPORTERS OF COMMERCIAL RADIO IN THE GOVERNMENT BENCHES AND WITH THE BIRTH OF THE NEW CHAMBER...

SENSELESS MEN DO NOT MAKE DECISIONS UNTIL THEY HAVE SIFTED ALL RELEVANT FACTS... CANADA—Approximately 50 per cent. of population reached by commercial radio which is becoming increasingly popular.

RECORDED—SO FAR—BY ARCHIE LEWIS WITH THE LUTON GIRLS CHOIR... ANNIE SKELTON & FRANK SIN... MARGARET WHITING... JOSEPH DEMOND... JOHNNY LOCKE

WHILE THE ANGELS ARE SINGING... I LOVE YOU SO MUCH... BANDPARTS... BAKED WITH... I LOVE YOU SO MUCH... I LOVE YOU SO MUCH... I LOVE YOU SO MUCH...

MALCOLM MITCHELL TRIO DEBUT AT GRO'S CLUB

The Malcolm Mitchell Trio caught by R.E. photographer Hanson on their opening night at Gro's, while Captain Nathan looks on approvingly.

TEDDY FOSTER IS LEAVING WIMBLEDON

Will take his band on the road

FOLLOWING A VERY SUCCESSFUL RESIDENCE AT THE POPULAR WIMBLEDON PALAIS, WE UNDERSTAND THAT TEDDY FOSTER AND HIS ORCHESTRA WILL LEAVE THAT HALL ON AUGUST 27.

Foster told Musical Express that the management had asked him to end his contract... He says he is sorry to hear that due to leaving Wimbledon, several broadcasts scheduled to be played from the Palais have had to be cancelled.

TEDDY FOSTER

PAUL VAUGHAN FOR FISCHER'S

AFTER A SUCCESSFUL YEAR'S RESIDENT ENGAGEMENT AT FISCHER'S RESTAURANT, POPULAR EDDIE PALMER WILL BE LEAVING THERE ON AUGUST 28.

FENOULHET FOR GREEN'S

PAUL FENOULHET will play his first resident dance hall engagement when he takes his band to Green's, Plymouth, Devon, for two weeks commencing August 22.

RONNIE SELBY IS BACK FROM U.S.A.

GREAT NEWS FOR HIS MANY FRIENDS AND FOLLOWERS IN THE PROFESSION IS THE FACT THAT RONNIE SELBY RETURNED TO ENGLAND LAST WEEK.

Ronnie Selby

It is with deep regret that we have to inform our readers that his early visit was necessitated by the sudden death of his father.

Readers will, however, have the opportunity of hearing his fine piano work when he broadcasts as guest artist with Bert Ambrose on August 23 and again on piano, most of those boys are still with Jack today, incidentally.

At that period, White's outfit was the most advanced band in Liverpool, and every Saturday afternoon... I think you can't be saying that Jack with brothers Tommy and Eugene spent about three years there...

BOB RUSSELL.

A DIXIELANDER RETURNS TO THE FOLD

HARRY BROWN, the trombone soloist with George Webb's Dixielanders and later Humphrey Lyttelton's Band, has now joined the Original Dixielanders making a total of four members of the George Webb's Dixielanders now playing in the band.

Ramon Lopez In Italy

POPULAR Latin-American band leader Ramon Lopez who has been resident at the exclusive Gro's and Embassy Clubs for nearly four years is now in Italy on a tour which may last approximately three months.

SERIES FOR EDDIE CALVERT

Before returning her next March her magic fingers will earn many thousands of well-earned dollars for Britain.

Eddie Calvert

Eddie Calvert and his excellent rumba band who are resident at Fiechter's Restaurant will commence a series of three late night programmes this Friday, August 12, when they play opposite Don Carlos and popular organist Don Lawson.

GOOSSENS RETURNS

EUGENE GOOSSENS arrived back in England last Wednesday after a long stay in Australia. The purpose of his visit is to tour the country with the Philharmonia Orchestra.

Woolwich Jazzmen give a Recital for Patients

LAST Thursday two Woolwich jazzmen, Owen Bryne and Reg Rignold, travelled to Surrey County Sanatorium, Kilford to present some gramophone records to the patients.

Owen Bryne, a director of Pacific Radio Services, is also a leading jazz musician and authority, and Reg Rignold, a research chemist employed in the scientific department of the Original Dixielanders from the Sunday Berberie.

Amru Sani Joins Simpson

Jack Simpson informs us that Amru Sani, who recently left Cardiff, has joined his popular band and will be heard broadcasting with the outfit on August 13 and September 21 when he will sing at 9.30 a.m. The recital will also be heard in future Parlophone recordings.

Heard on the radio... For years I have sung for you sophisticated songs—now at last I feel I have a song I can REALLY sing—it's called "Hutch" said it and "Hutch" sang it! IN ALL THE WORLD... On a moonlit night Down a country lane A wise old owl said "TOO-WHIT, TOO-WHO" and that's the story of two great songs! CALL AT BILLY REID PUBLICATIONS 156, Charing Cross Road, London, W.C.2 Telephone: TEMple Bar 3311

Accordion Times and Musical Express Editorial and Advertising Offices 33, King Street, London, W.C.2

EIGHT BIG PAGES SOON THE VOICE

HIGHER AND GREATER OUR readers will have seen the important announcement in our issue last week that Musical Express is going to be bigger. Until recently we gave you the four biggest pages in British entertainment journalism, with the largest amount of reading matter in the music business.

WHAT YOU WILL GET MUSICAL EXPRESS very shortly be the biggest eight page newspaper in the business. New features and lots of room for the news, pictures and gossip.

WHAT YOU WOULD EXPECT THIS progress is only what you would expect from a great newspaper with such spectacular achievements for its 15 years.

PRODUCTION METHODS FOR nearly three years we have held the enviable reputation of producing the best pictures in the business.

TWO OF THE MOST POPULAR HITS IN THE COUNTRY ALL TILL COME TRUE... JEALOUSY... MY ROSANNA... LAWRENCE WRIGHT

JOIN THE PETER MAURICE ORCH. CLUB... HOW CAN YOU BUY KILLARNEY? IT HAPPENED IN ADANO... COCA ROCA (SAMBA)...

K.P.'s Succession of Hits continues... THE WINDMILL SOGG... ALREADY FEATURED AND RECORDED BY JOE LOSS... PRIMO SCALA... RONALDE... THE CUCKOO WALTZ... IN A SHADY NOOK... BETH POURCE & Co., Ltd.

WATCH THE DISPUTE

LIONEL HAMPTON WITH ILLINOIS JACQUET

ILLINOIS Jacquet, the renowned "Dynamo Of The Saxophone" is finding himself in this highly desirable position of having more offers of top cooking than he can accept.

Jacquet had been hoping to take off on a European jazz concert tour in the fall, but now it looks as though he'll remain on this side of the ocean until at least the early part of 1950.

ALLAN Jones and his wife, Irene Hervey, have clicked so well in their 15-minute, 15-second program for the ABC Network, they're also star in their own weekly series.

SMILING Jack Smith, the singing star, made more than 1,000 war-orphaned Dutch children also smile last week when he personally presented the director of the Foster Parents' Plan for War Children in Holland with sufficient funds to make underclothing for 100 children.

THE International Accordion Championship Contest, held under the auspices of the Confederation Internationale des Accordeonistes, took place at Brussels, Belgium, during the week-end of July 28.

Official welcome by the Mayor of Spa was held in the town hall, where our two representatives were also present to make the well-known personalities, including M. Charles Demassé, President of the C.I.A., and Francis, the Secretary-General.

ON the following day, Saturday, the official meeting of the press was held in the theatre of the Spa Casino.

JUST before dinner on Saturday evening, an all-britain concert was held in the gardens and given a concert. This was composed by members of the Accordion Club, mostly girls and boys.

LESSON IN PRODUCTION

THE irony of it all, "Bill Gang" finished up their present series last week with the broadcast show they have ever done. Brilliant material, worked with a vast and enthusiastic audience heard in radio. My congratulations to Hebe, Ben and Vic for their performance.

THE Drama Department of the B.B.C. has produced some quite indifferent plays lately and I began to think they were lying down on their laurels.

I DEEPY anybody to tell me they cannot recognize the great "Men About Town" as the very first three or four bars of the opening music in "Starlight Hour" and the Moderns.

SPEAKING of the "Men About Town" they have had their back-stage troubles unknown to their radio audience.

POPULAR songwriter, Eddie Heyman, who has been in Vienna writing the score for the United Artists release of "Dough, Sirens," "Two Hearts in Three-Quarter Time," is now motoring to Paris with Maria and Ernest Matray to confer on their Hollywood return.

POPULAR singer, Eddie Heyman, who has been in Vienna writing the score for the United Artists release of "Dough, Sirens," "Two Hearts in Three-Quarter Time," is now motoring to Paris with Maria and Ernest Matray to confer on their Hollywood return.

SECOND THOUGHTS by Steve Race

IT is just beginning to dawn on my normally unexcitable mind that the seemingly casual articles appearing in the "Men About Town" Club go on in its present form.

I do not know Robert Dean (I can't find anybody who does), but wherever he is, he is not doing it for himself. Believe me, if their intensive campaign goes on to paper, we must now the favoured fans of thousands upon thousands of Britons.

ONE or two people, I know, are suggesting that we should do something about it, but I don't see the point in the programme, I

By Lee Conway

"SONGS OF LONDON" is a nice concoction created by the "Men About Town". They are writing a number every week in this interesting idiom, having already done Piccadilly, Bond Street, Hyde Park, King Gardens, etc. It proves that the act has the versatility so necessary for success. They are going places.

ONE of the funniest "Ignorance is Bliss" programmes last week was Jim Henson's "The Show Entitled in an Opera".

A LESSON to all singers and all those who like to perform. The amazingly clear diction of Billy Dee Scott. In the first place, Scott has a particularly pleasing voice with quite a fascinating timbre.

RECORDS IN RETROSPECT

THE record catalogues are rich in near-masterpieces of vocal group singing. One rich that it is hard to single out a mere half-dozen, or so for special mention in this feature.

THE Merry Macs are at their best in "Standin' in the Need of a Prayer".

NEW WORLD Present The Latest Sensation From America

FOUR WINDS AND THE SEVEN SEAS... BOOSEY & HAWKES... BARGAINS

BOOSEY & HAWKES... BARGAINS... CASH ON HAND TERMS

AGAVE FOREVER AND EVER... FRANCIS DAY & HUNTER LTD... 128, 140 Charing Cross Road, W.C.2

VELVET FOG WAIVES

Med Tunes
Blue Moon
You're Getting To Be A Habit With Me
Capitol CL 12122

It is not without good reason that they call Mel Tormé "The Velvet Fog." In his own country, for lack of definition his voice is just about unparalleled. It is also economically distinctive. There could be no question of one mistake Mel Tormé for anyone else.

On the strength of his records already issued, particularly "Gone with the Wind," I think we can now accept the fact that Tormé is a real artist, especially when dealing with the classical type of song with which he has mostly been concerned so far. Especially I don't think that he has any furor into his mind, "Night and Day," but his singing of strange, and numbers usually has charm and always distinction. "Blue Moon" is just such a song, and it seems odd that in the rush to record Rodgers and Hart recently, so many artists should have overlooked one of their loveliest works.

"A remarkably good stylist even though he may never be really a singer in the full meaning of the word" . . . says

STEVE RACE

MEL TORMÉ

But why do so many American Capitol issues sound as though they were recorded in a large hall? We've got used to it. It is not much as that we think of Boston's band as having had that sort of tone always, even outside the studio. According to British musicians who heard it in the past, it didn't. It is this poor quality, recurring which spoils the De Vol "Farewell Blues," a clever and fascinating arrangement if ever there was one. It matters rather less with "Three O'clock In The Morning," because the scoring is so unorthodox that one cannot always sense just how the various passages would have been done. It matters rather less with "Habit," with a Benny Burke arrangement, as quite a nice melody is obscured by the studio's studio, for instance. The recording is also less based on the stage than on the other sessions, and most of this side is taken up by the strings.

probably not notice her tendency to straiten on the high notes. Of the two sides I prefer "Always," a unique idea in that when looking it everyone in your band will try to fill in the 10th bar. These records are the most recent orchestra in the middle of the road and an unsatisfactory modulation into the set half chorus.

Fred Astaire
They Can't Take That Away From Me
My One And Only Highland Fling (with Ginger Rogers)
M.G.M. 212

You'd Be Hard To Replace
My One And Only Highland Fling (with Ginger Rogers)
M.G.M. 211

Even though Fred Astaire is still one of our favorite film stars, it is always something of a shock when, after the colossal Haydn M.G.M. Studio Orchestra has given out with a world-shaking introduction, the tremulous Astaire voice takes over. That what a wonderful number "They Can't Take That Away From Me" is! It is a song of 20 years or so I shall have my grandchildren to death with recollections of Gertrude Astaire heyday, and the time which—maybe because we don't see her—she has never represented the absolute peak in light film entertainment. You can know this song with 1947 and "The Barkleys of Broadway." If you like, for me it will be the most beautiful of the 1930s and the 1940s on the roof of a tiny Manhattan cinema.

"Shoes With Wings On" is a pretty ordinary affair, with a less interesting lyric than we have come to expect from Ira Gershwin. As in so many M.G.M. records there is a peculiar change of rhythm and character in the code. This, I believe, is accounted for by the fact that though the records are not actually dubbed from the sound track of the film, they are, in fact, the arrangements as heard from the film score. A hasty instance is added four bars or so after the vocalist has stepped singing, and insufficient attention is given to whether the resulting record is a satisfactory entity or not. As I remember some before an hour's work split between an arranger and a copyist would ensure that such M.G.M. records had a three-minute slice from a modicum.

RECORD OF THE WEEK
Mel Tormé
Blue Moon
You're Getting To Be A Habit With Me
Cap. CL 12122 Price 3s. 9d.

Harry Warren's "Hard To Replace" is a very good tune, worthy of the charge credit which he shares with Gershwin in the "Barkleys of Broadway." The melody is charming in its simplicity. Unfortunately, the backing, "My One And Only Highland Fling" is quite bad, with the attempt on the part of Astaire and Ginger Rogers to assume Scottish airs. The arrangement is a sorry affair, but the vocal is a gem. As a result, the record is a disappointment. The B.B.C. Rep. Company's apology for Brunswick American agency on occasions is usually a good one. It would be surprising if the good folk north of the Tweed declare war on the gramophone company.

"As Director of Entertainment, I have had great success in securing the services of Miss Tinkabell Tillingworth who plays the musical saw extremely well, also a Mr. Arbutnot Hetherington who tells some very amusing jokes, and a very good four-piece band who play for my local tennis club dances called Charlie Chizzle and his Swingerinos!"

"A BAD ORCHESTRATOR OR A BAD ORCHESTRA?"

Asks Malcolm Rayment

SCHUMANN has often been labelled a bad orchestrator. Often his works are very thickly scored, and sometimes the music seems to melt into the wood instrument. In some of his orchestral works, considerably less than in his symphonies, the texture is so thick that it is difficult to hear the individual players, not to mention the players in their parts solo.

Schumann's first symphony in B flat which has been recorded on Decca A.M. 2314, by the National Symphony Orchestra conducted by Eugene Ormandy, supports this theory. This is not only Schumann's first symphony, but also his first orchestral work of any importance; yet it has none of the faults of orchestration which are usually ascribed to his later works. This, however, may have been the result of Mendelssohn's advice, for it was his brilliant master of the first part who gave the work its first performance in 1811. We do know that the work originally contained a great deal of music for trumpets and horns was in the first place written a third lower. This means that the original natural horns had to be played partly on open notes, and partly on stopped notes. The result must have been unacceptably in the extreme.

This symphony, although not so called, on the other hand, is usually known as "The Spring." Unlike most of such nature this one was not composed himself. The work was written during the happy days of Schumann's courtship of Clara, a struggle of several years, he was beginning to be recognized, and also his first serious work that great pianist Clara Wieck—known to the world, of course, as the wife of Robert Schumann.

The performance on these records leaves little or nothing to be desired. Copolla's treatment is energetic, and his interpretation spacious. If there is any criticism to be made, it is in the third movement. This is a scherzo, with two contrasting parts. When the code is reached no change of tempo is at first indicated, but when the change of time to 2/4 appears, we have the direction "meno mosso," and in the next measure, "meno mosso." Copolla's tempo indications are not always clear, and since there is a variety of interpretations. There is one extraordinary case, where the tempo is given as "Fresco Possibile." A few pages later, comes a 3/4 movement.

This magnificent performance is backed up by brilliant recording, although there is just one or two places where the balance could stand improvement. Highly recommended.

A "DOMINO" Schumann's Fourth Piano Concerto in G major has been recorded by Robert Casadesu, with the Philadelphia Orchestra, on Columbia L.C. 1138-131. When one thinks of this pianist's greatness as a composer, it is not surprising that he should have been so successful as a performer. This new set becomes most interesting because it is the first of its kind, not only in this country, but also some very bad ones; the most notable of these, however, are the recordings of the first and second movements, made by years ago. To anyone well acquainted with the opera, it will seem a pretty awful misapprehension. Not only does everything occur in the wrong order in most

Esquire All-American Award Winners

Featuring Charlie Sharkey, J. J. Johnson, Coleman Hawkins, with Buck Clayton, Harry Carney, Teddy Wilson, John Collins, Shadow Wilson, Chubby Jackson, No. 25. Interscope Winner. ILLINOIS JACQUET (Columbia) 8 5792

Duke Ellington and his Orchestra No. 27. Transcription. No. 28. 1st. Louis Blues 8 5794

His Master's Voice

SMALL BAND ORCHESTRATIONS

1, 2, 3, 4, 5 Piece Arrangements 12 each

1. The Blue Bird
2. The Blue Bird
3. The Blue Bird
4. The Blue Bird
5. The Blue Bird

SMALL BAND BEBOP

1. The Blue Bird
2. The Blue Bird
3. The Blue Bird
4. The Blue Bird
5. The Blue Bird

G. SCARTH LTD.

28, Charing Cross Road, London, W.C.2

BOOSEY & HAWKES

THE HIGH GRADE STRING BASSES

We offer a selection of string basses, 3/4 and 4/4 size, in various finishes, from the finest materials, at very reasonable prices.

PICCADILLY

MUSIC SUPPLIES

THE NEW ORCHESTRAL SERVICE OF MUSICIANS

ALL PUBLISHERS' ORCHESTRATIONS IN STOCK

BARB GARDNER SAUNDERS
BOSTON 1578 POLYART 1578
GAYDOTTEN NAVAL 1578
VICTOR 1578
COTTELLIOTT ST. BERNARD'S
LARGES SQUARE

ACCORDION REPAIRS

Second party service
All types of accordions repaired and tuned

NEW BELLONS MADE TO ORDER

NEW SETS OF HAND-MADE REEDS FITTED.

RECORDS

EXCHANGED - RENTED - SOLD
R.C. VINYL, JAZZ, CLASSIC, ORCHESTRAL

And I do mean rhapsody. A composer who is rhapsodizing the Lawless "High on a Windy Hill" I would somewhat prefer to the more restrained Chamberlain's also "emerging like a far off cry." Unfortunately that rather high-flying rhapsody was marred by the fact that it was a soprano sax, not an alto. It was a stupid slip on the part, and one for which I was taken to task by yet another contemporary critic. I took exception to this time in "The Organophone," made my fowery expression "I like Key Star better when he is in his light mood" (i.e. "Steady, Daddy") than in the intense rhapsody style of "There Ain't No Royal Man." Frankly, she can't hope to compete with the great blue-eyed beauty and Beatrice Smith, and this side has no particular orchestral merit as did one or two of the others for which Dave Cavanaugh supplied the accompaniments.

Key Star
How It's No Royal Man
How It's Blue
Capitol CL 12122

I like Key Star better when he is in his light mood ("Steady, Daddy") than in the intense rhapsody style of "There Ain't No Royal Man." Frankly, she can't hope to compete with the great blue-eyed beauty and Beatrice Smith, and this side has no particular orchestral merit as did one or two of the others for which Dave Cavanaugh supplied the accompaniments.

KATHRYN GRAYSON
play when the record leads its way to Scotland.

Clive Wayne
The Yellow Flute
H.M.V. 21978A

Opportunity, having known of Clive Wayne's studio at Abbey Road studios of E.M.I. and Clive Wayne had the good sense to put out the picture, but grasped the outstretched hand she offered, and settled on the idea of only a few minutes of the record, keeping his hand on the plough, and his eye on the road ahead. If it is an occasional metaphor it is in my delight at observing that an untried artist can still occasionally outguess the recording studio without having to wait for the only it happened with hands as well!

Clive Wayne
The Yellow Flute
H.M.V. 21978A

Opportunity, having known of Clive Wayne's studio at Abbey Road studios of E.M.I. and Clive Wayne had the good sense to put out the picture, but grasped the outstretched hand she offered, and settled on the idea of only a few minutes of the record, keeping his hand on the plough, and his eye on the road ahead. If it is an occasional metaphor it is in my delight at observing that an untried artist can still occasionally outguess the recording studio without having to wait for the only it happened with hands as well!

Kathryn Grayson
Waiting You Always
M.G.M. 212

Kathryn Grayson's still rather childish soprano voice becomes a good deal more enjoyable as it lies to when she thinks of her appearance in films; a mental picture which induces someone anything but childish, at least in me. For that reason I suggest you put out the picture reproduced below this article and allow your eyes to feast on what is a very attractive young woman singing "Waiting You Always." It's quite a pleasant experience, and you will

Clive Wayne
The Yellow Flute
H.M.V. 21978A

Opportunity, having known of Clive Wayne's studio at Abbey Road studios of E.M.I. and Clive Wayne had the good sense to put out the picture, but grasped the outstretched hand she offered, and settled on the idea of only a few minutes of the record, keeping his hand on the plough, and his eye on the road ahead. If it is an occasional metaphor it is in my delight at observing that an untried artist can still occasionally outguess the recording studio without having to wait for the only it happened with hands as well!

Clive Wayne
The Yellow Flute
H.M.V. 21978A

Opportunity, having known of Clive Wayne's studio at Abbey Road studios of E.M.I. and Clive Wayne had the good sense to put out the picture, but grasped the outstretched hand she offered, and settled on the idea of only a few minutes of the record, keeping his hand on the plough, and his eye on the road ahead. If it is an occasional metaphor it is in my delight at observing that an untried artist can still occasionally outguess the recording studio without having to wait for the only it happened with hands as well!

Clive Wayne
The Yellow Flute
H.M.V. 21978A

Opportunity, having known of Clive Wayne's studio at Abbey Road studios of E.M.I. and Clive Wayne had the good sense to put out the picture, but grasped the outstretched hand she offered, and settled on the idea of only a few minutes of the record, keeping his hand on the plough, and his eye on the road ahead. If it is an occasional metaphor it is in my delight at observing that an untried artist can still occasionally outguess the recording studio without having to wait for the only it happened with hands as well!

Clive Wayne
The Yellow Flute
H.M.V. 21978A

Opportunity, having known of Clive Wayne's studio at Abbey Road studios of E.M.I. and Clive Wayne had the good sense to put out the picture, but grasped the outstretched hand she offered, and settled on the idea of only a few minutes of the record, keeping his hand on the plough, and his eye on the road ahead. If it is an occasional metaphor it is in my delight at observing that an untried artist can still occasionally outguess the recording studio without having to wait for the only it happened with hands as well!

Clive Wayne
The Yellow Flute
H.M.V. 21978A

Opportunity, having known of Clive Wayne's studio at Abbey Road studios of E.M.I. and Clive Wayne had the good sense to put out the picture, but grasped the outstretched hand she offered, and settled on the idea of only a few minutes of the record, keeping his hand on the plough, and his eye on the road ahead. If it is an occasional metaphor it is in my delight at observing that an untried artist can still occasionally outguess the recording studio without having to wait for the only it happened with hands as well!

Bron's ORCHESTRAL SERVICE

Complete Ensembles on Request LATEST ORCHS. Also Music Books and Sheet Music

1. The Blue Bird
2. The Blue Bird
3. The Blue Bird
4. The Blue Bird
5. The Blue Bird

CAMPBELL CONNELLY

OUR ORCHESTRAL CLUB OFFER IS HERE FOR 11

"A" YOU'RE ADORABLE

I DON'T SEE ME IN YOUR EYES ANY MORE

PIGALLE

AND NOW THE MERRY-GO-ROUND WALTZ

WRITE NOW FOR FULL DETAILS OF TERMS

THE GUARANTEED STRINGS

FOR ALL STRING PLAYERS

IF YOU EVER FIND A FAULTY "ECHO" STRING IT BACK TO YOUR DEALER FOR REPLACEMENT

TECHO RELATE

TECHO RELATE

FOR ALL STRING PLAYERS

IF YOU EVER FIND A FAULTY "ECHO" STRING IT BACK TO YOUR DEALER FOR REPLACEMENT

TECHO RELATE

